Large size bottle 15c.

GULDEN'S SALADRESSING MUSTARD

JEWETT CITY

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hourigan left Sunday for Atlantic City, N. J. Mr. Hourigan is county president of the A. O. H., and is a delegate to the national convention. Miss Josephine, their daughter, will go as far as New York, where she will remain for a week's visit with relatives.

Worshipers at the Baptist church Sunday listened to a convincing and finely presented sermon by Rev. Edward L. Nield, of Palmertown, he preaching in exchange with Rev. Elmer E. Scates. Incidents were explained from the life of Paul, as touching that admirable doctrine set forth in the words of the text, Brethren I count not myself to have apprehended; but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth to those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus. An attractive part of the musical program was the singing of Roosevelt's favorite hymn, Onward Christian Soldiers. Miss Mabel Frink, sang the lighter parts of the new air Verna Tarbox and Winnifred Scates in which the song was rendered. Miss Ellen Prior, the organist, being absent, Mrs. E. E. Gilbert occupied the bench.

Miss S. K. Adams, of Jewett City, and her niece, Mrs. Harry Carlson, of New York, are at Nantucket for a vacation.

The new Economy store opened with a grand record for cash sales Saturday. The manager, Edward Blake, a Jewett City man, was able to report a steady trade all day. Several grocery offerings proved attractive with a fine drive on sugar. Mr. Blake is a popular young native of the borough and will sure make good.

I. O. O. F. Second Wegree work this (Mon.) Eve. Please Attend—Adv.

Edw. Blanchard will let a handy garage new and modern.—Adv.

Friends are enjoying "corn on the cob," the first of the season, from L. Carpenter's Ashland street gardens.

It remains for P. W. Chase, the alert editor of the Acco Smile, to discover the fine points and business possibilities in any enterprise. The current issue of that finely managed publication, put out by the Ashland cuo, for the operatives of the Ashland Cotton Co., contains the following item of business interest: Earl Hiscox, having lost 12 pounds during the "Horribles Parade", is going to have several of his exercises and moves copyrighted and published as his contribution to suffering obese humanity. George Torrey will act as advance agent in distributing these pamphlets.

At the meeting of Pachaug grange, No. 96, held Thursday evening a large degation from Norwich grange, with the officers and degree address by Lewis Aldrich lecturer. The gavel was accepted by Miss Mabel C. Frank, lecturer pro tem of Pachaug grange. Norwich grange also furnished a program of readings and a violin solo. The reading Preparedness by Mrs. Richardson, of Norwich, was especially clever and entertaining. There were remarks by the masters of Norwich and Putnam granges, also by John B. Perry, of North Stonington, the originator of the traveling gavel. The attendance was nearly 200 with visitors from Norwich, North Stonington, Ashaway, Plainfield, Ekonk, Preston, Putnam and Killingly.

Perry and Mugerove are winning compliments for the generally fine appearance they have made in the three store front of their property on Main street.

A man with the general interest of local affairs at heart, read in he Bulletin about the purchase of the Baptist church float enteres in the Fourth of July parade, submits the following logical and well expressed opinion:

Doubtless the impressionable young minds of the children, who are privileged to enjoy life's playtime, within the handsome model of the hallowed walls of this time-honored edifice, will be moulded and influenced by its benign atmosphere, which must work for lasting benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Spicer and two children of Rochester, N. Y., arrived at Charles E. Spicer's Sunday morning, and will visit there and at S. B. Littlefield's. They came by automobile, a distance of five hundred miles, leaving Rochester Saturday morning.

Mrs. F. E. Robinson spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. J. E. Newton, in New Haven.

Mrs. N. B. Parkhurst, with her daughter, Ethelle, Misses Elizabeth McLaughlin, Kathleen and Emma Dearnley, of Jewett City, Miss Frances Heneault, of Norwich, Miss Gretrude Hepburn, of New London, and Miss Pauline King, of Worcester, left Sunday to spend two weeks at a cottage at Atlantic Beach.

Sunday was a day of rare mid-summer beauty. Moderate temperature, bright sunlight with a light cool breeze stirring were the delightful combination that made the weather perfect. During the afternoon everybody enjoyed the out-of-doors. Automobile traffic on the state road kept up at the rate of from five to ten cars a minute until late evening, while woods and country roads claimed their quotas of those who found pleasure in short strolls afield. Many in passing cars carried great bouquets of black eyed Susan daises, now in finest bloom, in company with yellow lilies and brilliant milkweeds.

JOSEPH FOLEY, WORLD WAR SOLDIER, DIES SUNDAY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, July 19—Joseph Foley, 38, died Sunday morning at his home on Lincoln Square, after a brief illness with acute gastritis. He was born in Russia, the son of Adam and Rose Foley. He has lived in Jewett City since he was eight years old. During the World War in which he enlisted he served eighteen months overseas, and held a splendid service record in magnitude, in which he fought. He was the seven battles, all engagements of a member of the local American Legion post, and will be given a military burial. He is survived by his mother and three sisters living in eJwett City, Mrs. Eva Faber, Mrs. Catherine Sadowski, Mrs. Mamie Boroski, a sister, Mrs. Agnes Torrance, of Howard, R. I., and a brother, Stephen Foley of Bromfield, Mass. He leaves four nephews and a niece, also a great-nephew and niece.

GOODYEAR MEN INJURED IN COLLISION NEAR BISHOP'S

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, July 19—Two automobiles collided on the state road above Bishop's Crossing, at a point near Lovers' Lane, one a large touring car was thrown over a wall. Its occupants were Mr. Fournier and his wife and Mr. McGovern and his wife and a child, all of Goodyear. The other car, a Ford, was thrown into the ditch beside the road. The names of the occupants of this car were not disclosed. Laughlin's, in Jewett City. Fournier and McGovern were taken to Dr. J. H. McLaughlin's, in Jewett City. Fournier had a cut on his face, McGovern had two broken ribs, with possible internal injuries. The doctor sent them to their home in Goodyear, where they were cared for by Cliord Langlais. State police took the aair in charge. Traffic was blocked and machines were held up for a half mile on either side.

THE WIDE-AWAKE CIRCLE

Boys' and Girls' Department

RULES FOR YOUNG WRITERS

1.—Write plainly on one side of the paper.

2.—Use pen and ink, not pencil.

3.—Short and pointed articles will be given preference. Do not use over 250 words.

4.—Original stories or letters only will be used.

5.—Write your name, age and address plainly at the bottom of the story.

POETRY FOR WIDE AWAKES

Wishing

Ring-ting! I wish I were a primrose,
A bright, yellow primrose, blooming in the Spring!
The stooping boughs above me,
The wandering bee to love me,
The ferns and moss to creep across,
And the elm tree for our king!

Nay-stay! I wish I were an elm tree,
A great, lofty elm tree, with green leaves gay!
The winds would set them dancing,
The sun and moonshine glance in,
The birds would house among the boughs,
And ever sweetly sing!

O—no! I wish I were a robin,
A robin or a little wren, everywhere to go;
Through forest, field or garden,
And ask no leave or pardon,
Till Winter comes with icy thumbs
To ruffle up our wins!

—By William Allingham.

To the Cuckoo

O blithe newcomer! I have heard,
I hear thee and rejoice.
O Cuckoo! shall I call thee bird,
Or but a wandering voice?

While I am lying on the grass
Thy twofold shout I hear;
From hill to hill it seems to pass
At once far off, and near.

Though babbling only to the vale,
Of sunshine and of flowers,
Thou bringest unto me a tale
Of visionary hours.

Thrice welcome, darling of the Spring!
Even yet thou art to me
No bird, but an invisible thing,
A voice, a mystery!

The same whom in my schoolboy days
I listened to; that cry
Which made me look a thousand ways
In bush, and tree, and sky.

To seek thee did I often rove
Through woods and on the green;
And thou wert still a hope, a love;
Still longed for, never seen.

And I can listen to thee yet
Can lie upon the plain
And listen, till I do beget
That golden time again.

O blessed bird! the earth we pace
Again appears to be
An unsubstantial, faery place.
That is fit home for thee!

—By William Wordsworth.

UNCLE JED'S TALK TO THE WIDE AWAKES

Last week we talked about the nightingale, but this week let us talk about the beautiful blackcap warbler, one of the loveliest of all songbirds. He is a relative of the nightingale and a friend of ours because he eats caterpillars and insects which destroy gardens and flowers.

This bird arrives in April after spending the winter in warmer lands and he has a pretty song of his own, also a pleasing way of imitating other songs and when caged up will learn tunes whistled by its master.

Another songster is the robin and he is also a friend of man and is a friendly bird if one does not try to harm him. Robins are found everywhere about us in the warm months. They are also fighters and young robins when strong enough will try to kill older robins and the older robins will kill the young if their paths should cross.

With all his faults however we love the robin for when he arrives we say that spring has come and therefore he is welcomed in the north.

The thrush, linnets, and blackbirds are also songsters and we love to hear their cheery songs during the summer months. The lark is also a song bird and one that we envy as we watch him sailing high in the air singing in pure happiness. The lark has often thrilled the brain of poets and many beautiful verses have been written about this bird.

There are many other song birds around us and during the months ahead their songs will be heard in the woodlands and each about our homes, one of the things that go to make summer time the best time in the year for nature lovers and bird lovers.

WINNERS OF PRIZE BOOKS

Evelyn Racicot, Willimantic—Betty, the Scribe.

Mildred F. Kinne, Voluntown—The Camp Fire Girls in the Mountains.

Loretta Pion, Taftville. — Elizabeth Hobart.

Martha Thayer, Putnam—Pintail, the Wild Duck.

Mary Pilecka, Norwich Town—Timothy and His Friends.

Mary E. Prunier, Norwich—The Camp Fire Girls on the Farm.

LETTERS OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Virginia Tubbs, Fort Point—I received my prize book, The Camp Fire Girls on the Farm. Thank you very much.

Mary E. Prunier, Norwich—I thank you very much for the prize book I received entitled, The Yellow Violin. I have read it and found it very interesting.

Marjorie Hill, Norwich—Thank you very much for the nice book you gave me. I have read four chapters and like it very much.

Bertha Bourney, Wauregan—I received the prize book you sent me entitled Hilda's Mascot. I thank you very much for it.

Ethel Mitchell, Norwich—I thank you very much for the book, Hilda's Mascot. I have read it many times and do not get tired of it for it is very interesting.

Emma J. Roode, Voluntown—I received the prize book you sent me. I thank you very much for it.

Wanda Kargul, Jewett City—I received your prize book and thank you very much for it.

Vivian Bushnell, North Franklin—I received my last prize book, entitled, The Camp Fire Girls in the Woods. I have read it through and found it very interesting, as your books always are.

Winners of prize books living in Norwich may obtain thm by calling at the Bulletin office after 10 o'clock Monday morning.

LETTERS WRITTEN BY WIDE AWAKES

The following letter will no doubt be interesting to all Wide Awakes

Who Knows This Bird?

Dear Uncle Jed; Not long ago I wrote asking the name of a queer bird. Again I have discovered a strange bird. It is about the size of a sparrow. It has a pure white head and throat, brownish back with a few white feathers. The breast of this creature is very plump. This little bird is a grayish white. I would kindly appreciate any information anyone could give me. I am interested in birds so I would like to know the name of it.

In the trees around my home starling, English robins, orioles, and other summer birds have homes with young ones.

In one of the barns there is a barn swallow's nest with four little eggs. In under another barn there are about 50 bird's nests. In many of these nests there are little birds, while in other nests there are eggs.

I would like to know the name of the bird I have just described if anyone could tell it to me.

MILDRED F. KINNE, Age 12.
Voluntown.

Dogs

Dear Uncle Jed: The dog family is very large, with a great many varieties, both wild and tame. Among well known wild dogs are the wolf, the coyote, and the fox. It is not known for a certainty where the ancestor of our common dogs came from. By careful selection and breeding man has produced many new varieties for his use and pleasure, so that several hundred kinds are listed. Dogs have a very high grade animal intelligence, and can be trained to aid man in numerous ways. The shepherd, the police dog, the St. Bernard are famous for their almost human knowledge. Thousands of dogs of all kinds played their part in the great war, and actually performed countless acts of heroic devotion in saving the lives of their masters. Every dog should be licensed and wear a collar with its owner's name.

From a friend who is always kind to animals.

EMMA L. ROODE.
Voluntown.

The Indians

Dear Uncle Jed: This is my second letter to the Wide Awakes.

I am going to write about the Indians. Uncas was a brave warrior who betrayed the Pequots.

He helped the whites all he could. He would signal and tell them when the Pequots were coming.

One day Miantonomo made a promise to Uncas that he would not kill his men. He broke his promise and started the fighting. Uncas told his men to shoot when he dropped to the ground and they did. They killed Miantonomo and buried him in the place where he was killed. Uncas is known for his braveness and was buried near the Norwich Free academy. I hope the Wide Awakes will like this story.

ETHELYN, Age 12.
Poquanuck.
(Please sign your full name.—Uncle Jed.)

Learning a Lesson

Dear Uncle Jed; This is my second letter to the Wide Awakes so I will write about a woodpecker. One bright sunny day I got tired of staying in our nest high up in the tree and decided to see the world. It did not have all my feathers yet so mamma refused to teach me how to fly, because she said I was too young yet.

When she left I decided to try myself as I felt sure I could do it.

I tried to fly but fell from the nest way down on the hard ground. I could not move at all and suddenly a little girl came near the tree for flowers and saw me. She picked me up and brought me to a small coop because she thought I was one of her brothers young pigeons. I was soon well enough and by this time had all my feathers.

When the boys saw me they were sure that I was a woodpecker and set me free. This was the best lesson in obedience I ever had and will never do wrong again.

LORETTA PION, Age 14.
Taftville.

The Hudson River

Dear Uncle Jed; This is the first time I have written to you and the Wide Awake Circle. I thought I would write a discription about The Hudson River.

The Hudson River lies in the eastern part of New York. It extends from the Adirondack mountains and empties into the New York bay. On it is located the state capital, Albany, Newburgh and Kingston. The seat of the United States Military academy is situated in the heart of the highlands of the Hudson. This famous river was discovered by Henry Hudson and was named in honor of him.

MARY PILECKA, Age 11.
Norwich Town.

Old Glory

Dear Uncle Jed; On June 17, 1777, congress passed a law declaring that the flag of the United States be 13 white stars in a blue field and the stripes alternate red and white. The stripes were also to be 13.

In 1794 congress decreed that after May 1, 1795, the number of stripes be fifteen alternate red and white, and there be fifteen white stars on a blue field. Furthermore a new star and stripe were to be added with the admission of each new state.

It was soon realized that the addition of both a star and stripe for each new state would soon make the flag too large.

Accordingly, congress for the third time, April 4, 1818, passed a resolution reducing the number of stripes to 13—representing the original union—and the number of stars 20, representing the states then in the union. Also that a new star only would be added with the admission of a state.

At the present time Old Glory contains 13 stripes and 48 stars.

MARY E. PRUNIER, Age 14.
Norwich.

A Visit to Slater's Hall

Dear Uncle Jed; I am going to tell you of a visit to Slater's hall. One day last autumn while going to school a woman named, Miss Johnson, took the sixth grade to Slater's hall.

At the time we were studying the History of Greeks and Romans. We also studied the Greek and Roman Gods. In the hall we saw many beautiful statues such as Venus, Apollo, and the god of love.

Slater's hall was given as a gift by Mr. Slater.

DELIA DUGAS, Age 12.
Versailles.

The Glorious Fourth

Dear Uncle Jed: Is not it glorious to think of the Fourth of July. To think of the soldiers who fought for us to have this country of ours.

We shoot and fly flags in the remembrance of those times.

Before our country was free, it was under the hand of England.

But, oh, how that word America thrills me and I hope it does you to.

ETHEL SEIDMAN, Age 9.
Jewett City.

Blackie

Dear Uncle Jed: This is my first story to the Wide Awakes. I have a cat. His name is Blackie. He was given to me quite a while ago. He is black all over except for a white spot under his neck. I like my cat very much. My cat likes my brother, too. I hope the Wide Awakes will enjoy my story.

MARTHA THAYER, Age 9.
Putnam.

COLCHESTER

Mrs. Julia Strong Smith, 76, died at St. Joseph's hospital, Willimantic, Friday evening. Mrs. Smith had been ill from a complication of diseases. She was taken to the hospital about a week ago for treatment. She is survived by a brother, Charles L. Strong, of this place, and a nephew, Stanley Strong, of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. John Powers, of Norwich, were calling on friends in town, Friday.

Executive Secretary Edward L. Kelly, of Bridgeport, was a visitor in town, Friday.

Charles L. Strong, Miss Anna O'Brien and William O'Brien were in Willimantic Friday.

Dr. Edward Munson, of New York, is with his family at their summer home on Upper Broadway.

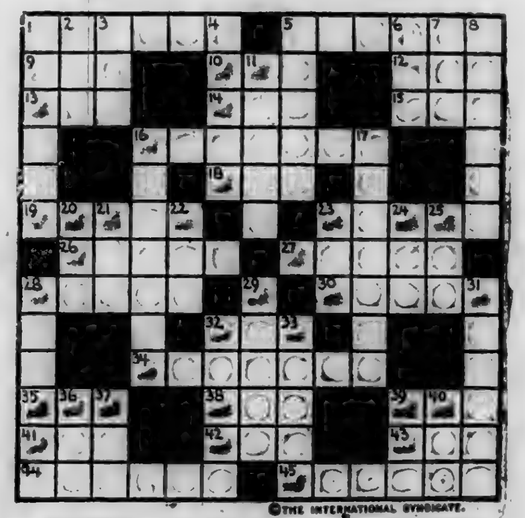
James Horwitz and family, of Hartford, are guests of Mr. Horwitz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Horwitz, on South Main street.

The case of State vs. Joseph Misall, of Middletown, for speeding, was tried before Justice Baker Thursday afternoon. The accused pleaded guilty and was given $25 and costs, which he paid.

The case of State vs. Irving Gustafson for speeding, was tried before Justice Baker Thursday afternoon. The defendant pleaded guilty and was given $25 and costs, which he paid.

The government of Chile has authorized the loan of $25,000,000 to aid in erection of modern dwellings and tenements.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE



©THE INTERNATIONAL SYNDICATE.

HORIZONTAL
1—Rigid
5—To make still
9—Bashful
10—Shoemaker's tool
12—Court
13—Fish eggs
14—Famous American poet
15—And not
16—Smirk
18—Farm pest
19—Lawful
22—A tumble
26—Early Teutonic alphabet
27—Fish net
28—Forward payment
30—Bare
32—Light blow

HORIZONTAL (Cont.)
34—Scholarly
35—Headgear
38—Part of fish
39—Single individual
41—To have obligation
42—Enemy
43—Gained by victory
44—Freshens
45—Sanctified persons

VERTICAL
1—Hasty writing
2—Also
3—A cereal
4—Animal
5—Cry of a sheep
6—Beard of wheat
7—Game of cards
8—Causing death
11—Human being

VERTICAL (Cont.)
16—Hard rock
17—Atone for 20—Previous to
21—Sap of certain trees
22—Settled down upon
25—Member of congress (abbr.)
24—Writing fluid
25—Sheltered side
28—Malice
29—Wireless
31—Blocks of twelve
32—Plaited collar
33—Wastes away from anxiety
36—Amazement
37—Writing implement
39—Concede
40—Used in negation

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

Alaska

Dear Uncle Jed: This is the first time I have written to the Wide Awake Circle. I thought I would write a discription about Alaska.

Alaska, a country on the northwestern peninsula, was bought by the United States. The Japanese current warms the southwestern coast but the northern part is very cold. Indians, Eskimaux, and white people live there. Its products are gold, salmon, fish and coal. Juneau, the capital, is in the southeast. Nome is its seaport. The noted Klondike region, which is noted for gold, is east in Canada.

EUGENIA PILECKI, Age 9.
Norwich Town.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Today officers and men of the Service battery are rolling homeward over the highways from Tobbynanna, Pa. The command should reach here Tuesday night, or early Wednesday morning, after an absence that has extended from July 1. A week end communication from Lieut. Harold E. Greene gives a resume of the battery's activities during its absence.

Lieut. Greene writes:—

Camp Tobbyhanna is situated in the Pocono mountains, about a half mile from the town of Tobyhanna. Surrounding the camp are mountains and the scenery is beautiful. On a clear day one can see the country for miles. The camp is about 2,500 feet above sea level and comprises approximately 7,006 acres. It is about midway between Stroudsburg and Scranton. Fine concrete roads lead to both of these cities.

The climate here is grand; fairly warm in the daytime and quite cool in the evening. It is necessary to use three blankets at night. The water for the camp comes from springs in the mountain and is of the best in quality. There are very few buildings here and the entire regiment is under canvas, making it real field service. This is a change for the boys as in past years the battery has been quartered in barracks. There are about 65 officers and 702 men in camp, also a regiment from Virginia.

Since arriving here the command has been very busy, engaged in purchasing supplies and issuing same, issuing ammunition to the combat trains and numerous other details. About 35 per cent. of the battery are on special duty this year, supply work, administrative paper work at regimental headquarters and orderlies.

The town of Tobyhanna being so small, the boys visit Pocono Park, a summer resort about five miles from camp, also in Scranton. In this city the anthracite coal fields are located. A number of the boys have had an opportunity to go down into the mines. One mine is located in the heart of the city and runs for three and one-half miles at a depth of 300 to 500 feet. In other localities of the city one can observe in a number of places where the streets and houses have caved in.

Most of the boys did not like Tobyhanna at first, but are fast getting accustomed to the place and enjoying it more each day.

The mess this year has excelled previous years. Sgt. Doyen, Cooks Hamilthon and Linder proving themselves very capable chefs.

At the field inspection, the Service battery received highest honors in the display of equipment.

Adjutant Genegal George M. Cole is representing Governor Trumbull this year.

The battery will leave here Saturday for the journey home and will again have an opportunity to see Delaware Water Gap and pass over Bear Mountain bridge. The scenic beauty of the gap and bridge is wonderful. The battery, barring mishaps, will arrive in Danielson Tuesday evening or Wednesday morning.

Following is roster of men in camp: Captain F. O. Armington, regimental supply officer, Lt. Anthony Sunderland, munition officer, Lt. H. E. Greene, personnel adjutant, Lt. Wellington E. Bitgood, mess officer and infantry drill instructor, Lt. Gordon J. Gale, assistant supply officer.

Master sergeant Arthur W. Logee, sergeant, Serge J. Doyen, personnel regimental supply sergeant, master sergeant major, first sergeant, Emile J. Meunier.

Staff sergeants, Albert Birch and Joseph R. Eaton, battalion supply sergeants, supply sergeant, Walter H. Evans, mess sergeant, Raymond H. Doyen, truck master, Donald W. Armington, regimental headquarters, Edgar Meunier.

Corporals, Aldor Madoh, James J. Regnier, Raoul Brouillard, Armand Bishop, Arthur Stockton, Wilmam F. Eaton.

Privates, first class, Phillip W. Armington, Arthur W. J. Bisney, Eli Blanchette, Absolon Boivin, Albert H Closter, Louis N. Cote, Bertram Bodreau, Homer Coulet, William Grenon, Philip W. Keech, Arthur U. Messier, Ernest Opperman, Antonio Poirier, Albert P. Reeves, Jr., Theodore Simoneau, Alexander Socquet, Clinton H. Stevens, Montcalm Thomas.

Provates, John A. Anderson, John E. Armstrong, Charles Barbeau, Fred Bodo, Leo L. Boselle, Francis Bourque, Luther W. Day, Jr., Romeo Deaume, Ferdinand Devillies, Carlton R. Dixon, Edward Frechette, Stanley R. Casorlek, Cassius A. Hamilton, Albert Heard Fordyce F. Hilton, Peter P. Kulo, Joseph J. Lafave, John F. Lafave, Aime Lanzevin, Napoleon A. Laroche, Berthold E. Linder, Douglas Logee, Walter Madon, Joseph Nelson, Francis Socquet.

Mrs. Marie Slater, of Killingly Center, was knocked down and injured during the severe thunderstorm of Friday night when a flash of lightning came as she was about to close a window. Mrs. Slater was given attention by a physician. She will suffer no permanent disablement from the unusual experience.

The death early Saturday evening, on the new concrete highway through Plainfield of Mrs. Annie Arasin, 34, wife of Edward Arasin, of Moosup, was one of the most peculiar that has occurred in an automobile accident in this section. Mr. and Mrs. Arasin and their son, a boy of 11, were coming northward on the highway when Mrs. Arasin decided to go from the front seat of the light touring car in which they were riding, to the rear seat of the machine, where the boy was riding. Mrs. Arasin, not waiting for the stopping of the machine, went out on the running board, closed the door at the front of the car and proceeded to the door in the tonneau, which door opened when she grasped it and allowed her to fall backwards o the running board to the concrete roadway. Her skull was fractured and she died at once. The body was taken in charge by an undertaker, and, with permission of Medical Examiner W. W. Adams, of Moosup, was removed to Central Village and later to her home. Officers from the Danielson barracks investigated the accident.

Telephone service should be largely restored this morning following the disruption it suffered in the terrific thunderstorm Friday evening. This storm, in which nearly an inch of rain fell in less than an hour, was accompanied by lightning destructive to telephone service and scores of instruments went out when cables in this and the Moosup division were damaged. Line forces labored diligently during Saturday to restore service, both in Danielson and in the Moosup divisions.

Mrs. Sarah Malley, 82, many years a resident at Pomfret Landing, died Saturday at th ch ohemehousgdrahtr fi S urday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Fitzgerald, in Hampton. Mrs. Malley, a native of Ireland, was the widow of Patrick Malley and for many years had lived in the town of Pomfret. She leaves a son and three daughters.

KING FARM FLAGRAISING WITH KING GEORGE SPEAKER

(Special to The Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, July 19—There were guests from East Killingly, Elmville, Danielson and Foster, Saturday afternoon at Attorney A. G. Chaffee's King farm, in Clayville, R. I., for the flagraising Attorney Chaffee had arranged and which was attended by upwards of 100 guests.

A beautiful national flag, the gift of the Mason homestead at East Killingly, was flung to the breeze following patriotic exercises and during the singing of the Star Spangled Banner. The flag flies from a pole rising more than 50 feet, this pole for many years located in Trinity Square, Providence, and rich in historical associations.

King George Jacques, of East Killingly, presented to the guests by Attorney Chaffee, made the address incident to the raising of the flag. King George made a deep impression, as, standing bareheaded on the lawn, he said in suostance: "Your kind invitation to be present at the unfurling of Old Glory to the breeze fills my soul with gratitude at the knowledge of your good will and friendship. The stars and stripes—emblem of freedom and happiness, the bulwark of the world—floating at the masthead speaks to those who pass by, saying: 'None can safely molest or make you afraid, for I am the emblem of justice and mercy, the protector of my people, and wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.'"

Guests were splendidly entertained by Attorney Chaffee and shown about the fine old farm place that he is developing as a country estate.

PUTNAM

F. D. Thayer is still at work crating looms and other machines that remain in mill No. 4 of the former Manhasset Co. The present owners, the Putnam Land and Mill Company are desirous of having the floors of this, the largest of the five units of the old plant, cleared of machines at the earliest possible date. It is known that the owners are planning to have these vacant mills occupied and that but for the general depression in the textile industry they would probably have been in operation before this. It is a modern and highly desirable manufacturing plant at the foot of Canal street, including many new and desirable tenements for workmen. Many branches of textile or other manufacturing business could find a desirable location in the mills that are now idle.

W. S. Johnson has returned from Tampa, Florida, where he has been since last fall, is at his home on Church, street.

Richard Brownlie of Bolles street is visiting relatives in Hartford.

Miss Rita Bizaillion of Church street has been the guest of relatives at Sterling for a week.

Mrs. Ernest Morse, Miss Carolyn Morse and Mrs. Edith Cornell of Brooklyn, N. Y., a sister of Mrs. Morse, have returned from an automobile trip to Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Putnam and son Charles of Westboro, Mass., were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Adams.

John Moon of Troy, N. Y., long distance hiker, was in Putnam Saturday morning. He left Troy, N. Y., Saturday, July 11 at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and has passed through Troy, Pittsfield, Great Barrington, Hartford, New London, Norwich, Danielson. He left Putnam for Worcester, Boston, Keene, N. H., Rutland, Vt., Bellows Falls, Vt. and back to Troy. The distance of the trip will be about 600 miles. The longest hike Mr. Moon has ever made was last winter when he walked from Bennington, Vt. to Oakland, California, a distance of 3,111 miles by way of the Lincoln Highway. In June of this year he walked from Troy, N. Y., to Cave City, a distance of 1,050 miles. The trip home was by train and a few days later he started on the trip which brought him through Putnam. Mr. Moon has been hiking for nine years and has covered thousands of miles in his trips. He accepts no rides or gifts on his way and starts his trips with but a dollar. All expenses are met as he goes along and he buys a savings stamp in every city.

Ovid St. Onge is taking the place of Robert Robitaille at LeClairs store while Mr. Robitaille is taking two weeks' vacation at Niantic.

Mrs. J. B. Carlson and family, of Manchester, Conn., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Carlson of Walnut street. They left Sunday for a week at Buttonwoods, R. I.

Cards have been received from Miss Mary McGarry, posted at Cuba. Miss McGarry is making a trip by water to San Francisco to visit her brother, Peter Connell, formerly of this city.

Miss Julia Rawley of School street spent last week visiting friends in Norwich.

Misses Bella and Jeanette LaCroix of Meadow street have returned from a visit with Worcester friends.

Mrs. John Sprague, Mrs. Beaulah Harris and Miss Louise Mahue left Friday for a week's vacation at Echo Lake, Pascoag, R. I.

Maurice Diamond of Hartford has been the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Diamond.

Miss Chrystobel Gifford of Ring street has returned from a week's visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Gifford of Fall River, Mass.

Miss Stella Bowen of Putnam and Miss Eleanor Eganof Wauregan are spending a week at the Lawrence House, Hampton Beach, N. H.

Miss Giselle Tourtelotte has returned from a visit of a week with Providence relatives.

Mrs. Fannie Burton of Woodbury is visiting her son, Rev. N. B. Burton and family on Grove street.

Lucius P. Merriam, bookkeeper at the Citizens National Bank returned Saturday from a visit to relatives at Boston.

W. E. Jackson of Willimantic, detective for Windham County, and a close personal friend of the man he worked under, the late State's Attorney Charles E. Searls, was here Saturday.

Melina Gelanas, 34, wife of Uldric Gelanas, died at her home in Grosvenordale Saturday morning. She was born at St. Julie, Canada but had lived here since a child.

Miss Estelle Benoit spent the week end in Springfield and West Brookfield, Mass.

Morris Bravo has sold his interest in the partnership of Aframe and Bravo to his partner. The sale includes the market on South Main street, opposite the subway, also the building in which it is located. They have been associated in business for eleven years, are well known in Putnam. Mr. Bravo plans to sell his home on Wilkinson street, as he expects to leave Putnam. He is undecided as to where he will locate but thinks he will take his family south.

Miss Hazel Converse, daughter of Henry L. Converse, a teacher in East Bloomfield, N. Y., for the past year, is home for the summer.

DRIVER GAVE NO SIGNAL— REAR END COLLISION

(Special to the Bulletin)

PUTNAM, July 19.—Near the Children's Home Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Rosalie Cellilse of Providence stopped the automobile she was driving and in which her husband and two children were passengers to read the directions on a signpost. Frank Litson and his wife and two children were in a car back of them and could not stop quickly enough to prevent a rear-end collision. Mrs. L. Cellilies was cut about the head, but not seriously. Dr. G. M. Lemarche was called and dressed the injury. The cars were damaged slightly.

MISS BALLARD BREAKS BONE WHILE BLUEBERRYING

(Special to the Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, July 19.—Miss Ella I. Ballard, teacher in the Smith street school, who is at her home in Thompson for the summer, while blueberrying, stepped on a stone and fell, breaking a bone in her left arm and dislocating another. She was taken to the Day Kimball Hospital, where an X-ray was taken and the bone was set. She will be able to return to her home after a few days.

MRS. MORTON OTIS, POMFRET, GRANTED DIVORCE IN FRANCE

(Special to the Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, July 19.—According to despatches from Paris, published in New York papers, a divorce had been granted in the French courts to Mrs. Morton Otis of Pomfret, Conn., and Dinard, France. The news of the divorce does not come as a surprise to the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Otis, who had learned that a suit had been entered by Mrs. Otis some time ago. Mr. and Mrs. Otis have long claimed Pomfret as their American home, and they own a beautiful estate on the Brooklyn road, known as the Bush place. Some time ago they bought a winter home at Dinard. Mrs. Otis who was Miss Helena Gilleat, is a native of Pomfret; her mother was Miss Vinton of a well-known Pomfret family. Mr. Otis was a visitor at Pomfret last year but Mrs. Otis has not been in America for two years. Mrs Otis will return in the fall and be a guest at the Orchard Cottage, Ben Grosvenor Inn.

LEBANON

Mrs. Amos Lillie of Manchester is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bexford Cummings.

Miss Nellie Bell of Bridgeport is visiting Miss Mabel Noyes.

Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald entertained over the holiday their son-in-law and daughter of New York also the son and family from New London. Mrs. Carmen McDonald and three children remained for two weeks.

Jonathan Trumbull chapter D. A. R. met at the War Office Monday afternoon. One new member Mrs. Carrie Payson was received into membership. The hostess at the war office July 13 was Mrs. H. F. Bishop.

Mrs. Pitcher and three daughters of New York have opened their home in Lebanon for the summer.

A successful lawn party was held by the C. E. society of the First Congregational church on the lawn at F. H. Taylor's home, Wednesday evening. The lawn was decorated with electric lights in Japanese lanterns. The booth with ice cream, cake, homemade candy and cold drinks was well patronized. Miss Red Moon spoke for a few moments. She is trying to interest the white people in the needs of the Seminole Indians.

Mrs. George McDonald is entertaining her cousin's son, Harry Sutherland from Boston.

A double birthday surprise party was held Friday afternoon the 10th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Waldo, it being the birthday of Mr. Waldo's mother, who is visiting them from Scotland, also the birthday of Mrs. Fred Madley. Several gifts were received. Between 30 and 40 were present. Mrs. Waldo served cake and ice cream.

Mrs. Pults entertained over the holiday her cousin, Miss Peler and children from Huntington, L. I. The children remained for a few weeks.

Don't Be Misled

No "many purpose" soap can accomplish Palmolive results. Palmolive is made for just one purpose . . . to foster good complexions

MILLIONS of women know that Palmolive has brought them new beauty, new charm. In France, the home of cosmetics, Palmolive Soap is one of the two largest selling toilet soaps. French women find it their ideal of a soap. French soaps are being supplanted by Palmolive.

The reason is this: Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study. It is a scientific soap, made for ONE thing only. To foster good complexions.

In old days, women were told "use no soap on your faces." Soaps were too harsh. Then came Palmolive, a soap made of rare cosmetic oils . . . olive and palm oils, famous since the days of Cleopatra as beautifiers of the skin. And combined in secret blend. A soap to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

Women tried it. And were amazed. Palmolive became the leading toilet soap of the world. It is made in five countries to supply the universal demand. It has brought to millions a beauty no soap had ever brought before.

Don't expect Palmolive results from ordinary soaps. Don't expect them from medicated soaps. Even genuine castile failed in bringing them. Certainly no ordinary soap can. Protect your skin's beauty by using a soap made for that purpose alone.

Palmolive is not intended for laundry work, or for household cleansing. To make it good for those things, its cosmetic qualities would need be much reduced. And good complexions are too precious to be endangered thus.

There are soaps at 25c and over that approach Palmolive in complexion results. We know of two. But Palmolive sells at 10c . . . no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

The fact that one woman in every two today has a clear, fresh skin proves Palmolive results. Would you go back to ordinary soaps and perhaps imperil yours?

Wash, cleanse, launder with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care: Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is Nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

THE PALMOLIVE COMPANY
(Del. Corp.)

French Women

Largely Vote "No" on French Soaps

In France, women smile at the age-old beauty bubble of "French soaps." Palmolive is today one of the two greatest selling toilet soaps in France. Parisian beauties are glad to pay almost twice as much for a cake of Palmolive as American women pay. And, in many cases, three times as much as for their own "French" soaps. Remember this when tempted by costly French soaps, or by "French" claims for soaps.

Soap from Trees

The only oils in Palmolive Soap are the soothing beauty oils from the olive tree, the African palm and the coconut palm—and no other fats whatsoever.

That is why Palmolive Soap is the natural color that it is—for palm and olive oils, nothing else, give Palmolive its green color!

The only secret to Palmolive is its exclusive blend—and that is one of the world's priceless beauty secrets.

Note carefully the name and wrapper. Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

2377-1

1795 1925

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

129 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday.

Subscription price 12c a week; 50c a month; $6.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls:
Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-3.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-3.

Willimantic Office, Main St., Telephone 1121.

Norwich, Monday, July 20, 1925

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

Daily Average Circulation
WEEK ENDING JULY 18, 1925:
12,829

THE THREATENED STRIKE

This part of the country is specially interested in the conference between the coal miners and operators. Much coal is consumed here and shortages may mean much hardship. The feeling has been for sometime that the price of such fuel has long since been too high. It therefore doesn't view with complacency the thoughts of the possibilities of having it boosted still higher. It causes many a coal consumer to give consideration even now to the possibilities of abandoning the use of anthracite and the installation of equipment by which certain substitutes can be utilized. Many have already followed such a policy and their experience has not gone unnoticed. Even though it may not cut down the actual expense it eliminates all of the work and all the worry in connection with the use of anthracite. They have the satisfaction of knowing that the threatened coal strike doesn't concern them. They have put themselves beyond it.

Whether the miners and operators can reach an agreement is decidedly uncertain. There has been nothing thus far in their conferences to indicate it. There have been certain statements made which would create the opposite impression. Much the same tactics that have been employed in the past are being used now, and this in spite of the fact that the last coal strike was thoroughly investigated and the extensive report of the investigators is available for use at this time.

That the government is prepared to take a hand in the interest of bringing about an agreement and in behalf of the public is only what should be expected. It is unfortunate that there isn't some machine that will actually prevent the interruption of the supply of such a commodity.

The jockeying between the interests without regard for the public is what disgusts the coal users. If adjustment according to the facts, is to be made it ought to be brought about without any interruption in the production of coal.

AN INEFFECTIVE PROCESS

Many a community has experienced the situation where those who have violated the law have employed the automobile to do it, and when caught in their operations have relied upon speed to get away. This causes the authorities to use their own facilities or to impress private machines into service to catch the culprits. Sometimes they are successful and sometimes not. In the wild dash there is no small amount of danger to others. The situation is of course created by the law breakers and it is a question whether such violators when caught are given the punishment which such situations deserve or whether they are so lightly dealt with as to actually lend encouragement to such conduct.

Only recently in Washington, D. C. the authorities were chasing a machine which had been ordered to stop. Speed was possessed and it was relied upon to get them out of the clutches of the law. It made no difference whether it was necessary to plunge through a much traveled street, with many cross streets. The law breakers were bent upon getting away. The result was that they plunged into a machine coming out of a cross street and killed a woman occupant. Their capture was accomplished at a terrible price.

In its comment upon the affair the Washington Star says, "In placing the blame for the accident it is futile and unfair to lay it in any degree upon the officers of the law who were seeking to make an arrest. Rather should it be put upon the ineffective judicial process that has in so large a degree for a long time failed to function to insure the punishment of those whom the police do capture."

If it is possible to play horse with the courts or the officers of the law there are plenty who are ready to take advantage of it. When punishment is meted out in a manner that will command respect instead of acting as invitations to go and repeat a greater respect for the courts and for the laws seems likely to be established.

OUR TRADE BALANCE

Another way of judging the business this country has been doing in the past year is furnished by the report of the department of commerce which shows a balance in favor of this country of $1,042,681,497. That means that the United States has sent goods out of the country in excess of what it has brought in to that extent.

This trade balance represents an appreciable gain. It has been a number of years now since the balance stood against us for we have been doing a greatly increased foreign business because of the war. The conflict in Europe not only caused the European nations to turn their attention to the production of war material and putting their dependence upon others for goods which they had formerly produced, but other countries which had looked to Europe for a large part of their imports were forced to turn in this direction also. The result was that our foreign trade responded sharply and even during the year following the war the balance of trade reached the total by more than $3,800,000,000. The next year there was a slight falling off but only a few million, but for the year 1921-22, it dropped to $1,162,077,481. That indicated the fact that Europe was coming back, that it was in a position take care of more of its demands and some from the outside possibly, and this was even more strongly indicated when for 1922-23 it slumped to $175,744,408.

That indicated that we had hit the toboggan as far as our foreign trade was concerned. It didn't offer any prospects of a comeback but the following year it rose to $757,145,472, a substantial gain which continued during the past year. Going over the billion mark for a balance indicates that we are continuing to hold trade lines which have been established through our own efforts or because buyers were obliged to turn this way for their goods. Our foreign trade has been of large proportions in the past several years and there is no reason why we should not continue to supply the world market in as large or even larger degree.

COLLECTING FROM BELGIUM

Belgium continues to feel that this country ought not to expect it to repay the money that was borrowed in this country. It relies upon a provision of the Versailles treaty in taking such an attitude, and its minister of foreign affairs considers that it will be necessary to argue over again the provisions of that treaty in reaching a debt settlement with this country.

According to the provision of the treaty of Versailles which the Belgian ministers of foreign affairs refers to Germany agrees to make reimbursement "of all sums which Belgium has borrowed from the allied and associated governments up to November 11, 1918 together with interest at the rate of five per cent." and this was because of the violation of the treaty of 1839.

Just how that relieves Belgium from its agreement with this country is what Uncle Sam cannot see. This country did not accept the treaty of Versailles. It made loans to Belgium because of the sympathy felt for it in its predicament and now it is ready to take Belgium's capacity to pay into consideration in making an adjustment, but it is not disposed to cancel the debt. Belgium expects Germany to pay and pay interest on the debt. That we have nothing to do with. That arrangement does not concern us but we are not disposed to accept the German promises or notes in lieu of Belgian payment. We are not going to become any greater collector of revenue from Germany than is actually necessary, and in taking this attitude we are doing no different with Belgium than would be done with any other country.

SELF PRESERVATION

In the latest bulletin of the motor vehicle department Deputy Commissioner M. D. Rudd stresses the importance of self preservation in the protection of motorists on the highways. That is of course another way of saying that each and every person who sits at the wheel of a motor vehicle should be interested and active in the prevention of accidents which involve self and others.

Think it over and you will no doubt regard it as pretty good advice. Those who drive have long since come to understand the importance of looking out for the other fellow. If everyone was engaged in the business of self preservation there would not be that same necessity of giving so much attention to the other fellow. It is not conceivable that there could be total relaxation in this respect, but with everyone taking care to see that he was respecting the rules of the road and the rights of others there would certainly disappear the cause for a great many of the accidents and fatalities of the present time.

Prevention can be applied to the safety of the highway quite as well as to other things. Individual responsibility is assumed by some but not by all. It is because of the lack of this that the other fellow too often is forced to bear the burdens and stand the effects of the recklessness of others. A little thinking all the time and a generous observance of the Golden Rule would do more than anything else to eliminate most of the dangers of the highways.

Perhaps it is too much to expect a general observance of such excellent advice but there is certainly no harm in offering it at frequent intervals in the hopes that time will aid in getting supporters.

EDITORIAL NOTES

There are still some who can remember when Sunday was a day of rest.

The man on the corner says: One doesn't have to wonder long over a pleasant week end where the gasoline all goes.

General Humidity doesn't seem to be just as much of a wet this year as he was last.

The consumer has long since come to expect the worse from the coal conferences.

It will be only a few days now before we find out whether dog days have any appreciable effect upon dogmatism.

It seems a little strange that the sighting of one sea serpent this season hasn't been followed by the discovery of others.

Now comes the story that Herrin has reformed. It took a long time but if it is so and a permanent job has been done it will be a blessing.

That street beggar with bankbooks calling for $1,500 who refused to pay a fine of $15 probably goes to jail as a sort of vacation which costs him nothing in the way of expense.

A movie star is now ordered to pay $57,000 to get the jewels she was bringing into the country without paying duty. Such kind of advertising is costly but it seems to be necessary.

Even though it is claimed that there is one chance in 150 to buy a safe drink there are still plenty willing to take that chance.

Cutting the price of gas is something but the users of electricity would like to get the benefit of that $40,000 a year which could be saved by buying the current.

WOMAN IN LIFE AND IN THE KITCHEN

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Don't forget watercress, if you are fond of cream soups. It makes a delicious change.

Crisp bacon or slices of lemon will dress up the spinach, which is valuable for its vitamins and minerals.

Kerosene oil is useful for cleaning polished woods that would be injured by soaps containing alkalies.

To temper new iron vessels, fill them with cold water and heat slowly; then allow the water to remain until cold.

A loin of mutton has far more fat nutriment than any other joint.

A small box of quicklime in the cellar will sweeten the atmosphere.

Never dredge steak with salt and pepper before cooking as the salt will extract the juices.

Small sausages rolled in strips of thin baking powder dough and baked in the oven furnish a delicious breakfast or luncheon dish.

If the clothes you wear are looked over each time before they are put away your wardrobe cannot help but be neat and in good condition at all times.

Use a vegetable grater to prepare the suet for pudding. It will grate the suet for pudding. It will grate the as long as when chopping it.

Chilled cooked asparagus or cauliflower makes a delicious salad if served with French dressing, to which a little chopped pickle and pimento have been added.

If you will comb out long-haired fur occasionally with a very coarse-toothed comb dipped in brilliantine, you can keep the surface lustrous. Be careful to use the liquid very sparingly.

When making custard pies satisfactory results may be obtained if the undercrust is partially cooked before the custard is poured into it. Pastry needs a stronger heat than custard to bake it.

To clean granite ware where mixtures have burned on: Half fill with cold water, add washing soda, heat water gradually to boiling point, then empty, when dish may be easily washed.

KITCHEN TOOL OF MANY USES

A new style broom which is very versatile is being shown in the shops. It can be converted in a short time into a floor polisher or a dust mop, by means of special contrivances. This broom-mop is flexible, light and can reach the most remote corners of the room and under furniture. For walls, woodwork, banisters, etc., it is most serviceable. Another good feature of this new household tool of many uses is that it can be washed easily

BATHROOM ENSEMBLE

The ensemble idea has reached even the bathroom, and now one can purchase bath slippers, bathrobe, face cloth, towel, and bath mat, all made of the same toweling, which has large flowers woven into the material itself.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Do not allow dust to accumulate in the sick room. It is an irritant to the nose and throat and the breeding place of germs.

If the sick-room floor is bare (and it is better so as it can be kept free from dust) use a broom inclosed in a coarse muslin bag, which may be washed after use.

Those who are not naturally fond of athletics but who realize the importance of exercise can gradually train themselves to enjoy indoor calesthenics by starting with a few simple movements and by varying their physical culture program to prevent monotony.

When a child steps on a nail or a pointed instrument that is driven into the flesh, especially if it is rusty or unclean, there is always danger of lockjaw unless the wound is thoroughly cleansed. If no doctor is available, soak the wounded member in hot antiseptic, wash it very clean and apply hot fomentations. Cauterizing is often necessary. Get a doctor's advice as quickly as possible.

EAT FISH FOR IODINE

Lack of iodine in the system of those living in inland sections of the country makes them more subject to goiter than those who live near the sea. As seafood contains iodine doctors are advising people in the mountainous and inland sections to eat more fish and the result that the demand for canned fish and oysters are growing rapidly in popularity throughout the middle states.

LINGERIE DECORATION

Some women are putting rays of dainty flower embroidery in contrasting colors on their silk vests. One should select a good grade of fine, closely knit silk, then buy a transfer pattern of the desired design. A good choice is to select one's birthday flower, or if intended for a gift the birthday flower of the one for whom the lingerie is intended. Stamp the design and embroider in harmonizing colors.

"ELBOWS OUT"

Women who have been wrapping outer coverings closely about them now walk with hands on hips, distending the evening capes to the fullest. One of the most attractive of such garments seen is of black georgette, trimmed with long strands of steel beads, steel bead fringes and a broad collar of ostrich plumes.

NEEDLEWORK ON HATS

The new millinery is a comprehensive topic in itself, but occasional hats are of the type that present examples of needlework. Petit point is much used on the little crepe de chine and satin hats, and a late fancy is for cut-out figures, flowers and leaves appliqued on straw or fabric hats.

BLOTTER ON TABLE

Keep a white blotter under the cover on your dressing table and the top will be preserved against stains from liquids that are frequently spilled on it.

DICTATES OF FASHION

The newest evening slippers are of velvet with applique of silver or gold kid.

Sleeves are often bouffant and full and of sheer fabric, gathered into tight wristbands.

Keep your ferns in a deep container because there roots extend far in the earth.

Bordered bengaline is a novelty fabric this season and is cut to excellent advantage in the modern styles.

Some of the new necklaces of tinted pearls reach almost to the waistline and are finished at the end with a large pear shaped pearl.

Chiffon frocks, very beautifully tailored, and without the frills and fluffs we usually associate with this material is actually used for morning gowns.

The newest scarfs are either short or narrow and worn like a cravat, or very wide and square and arranged in graceful folds over one shoulder.

Many girls now are wearing gunmetal stockings. At recent sporting events the gray shades of hose were nearly as prominently displayed as flesh and white.

The costume which is worn by the smartest women at their country places is a jumper frock of jersey or hand-knitted wools. It is simple to the point of severity but extremely smart and practical.

The combination of black with pink is exceptionally smart this spring. Several of the newest models are of pink chiffon over which is posed a slip of black lace or pink satin veiled with black chiffon.

A boudoir cap of black georgette embroidered in gold and metallic green may be worn with a tea gown.

Embroidered filet insertion trims a two-piece set consisting of chemise and gown of moon green radium. Just as satisfactory sets may be fashioned in flesh pink, blue, green, maise or peach tones.

MAKING PRETTY VESTS

Some of the summer occupational therapy or porch pursuits are the making of pretty vests of velvet satin and brocades, which will prove an essential part of the autumn tailored costume as well as for the ensemble outfit. Some clever women are making sleeves to go with these little vestees.

COTTON'S COMEBACK

French women, as a rule, do not go in enthusiastically for sport, but they have gone in enthusiastically for some of the new sport frocks. These are of cotton, which seems to have fallen into disuse in America. They consist of a pleated skirt, and a jumper blouse cut exactly like a sweater. The lighter, more delicate colors are chosen.

WIRED BOUDOIR CAPS

Boudoir caps are both beautiful and utilitarian, but their main purpose is to hold the hair in place during repose. Since few women have any longer much hair to keep in place in the back, the latest boudoir caps only extend around the front. They consist for the most part in wired wings which bend closely around the front and top of the head.

SEWING HINTS

A convenient place to cut out clothes is the dining room table. But be sure to put on the silence cloth first, so the pins and scissors do not scratch the polished surface.

Put the smallest size white snaps on the two bottom corners of your curtains and about a third of the way up. When cleaning or airing the room, snap up the curtains and they will not get wet or soiled.

When your tablecloths get worn, make napkins out of them: from your long roller towels make dish towels; from the bed sheets make pillow slips; from long curtains make sash curtains.

A tiny magnet kept in the sewing basket will be an aid in picking up a dropped needle or bits of broken needles that are dangerous if left on the floor.

WAYS OF MENDING

There are two ways of dealing with a worn place in a garment. One is to conceal it with all the deftness possible, by tiny stitches and well placed seams. The other is to make the renewed part appear to have some decorative feature. Patches, for instance, can take the disguise of applique embroidery.

It is an attractive method of mending, and that either the same or contrasting material may be employed. In mending the underwear it is sometimes possible to insert net beneath in the manner now seen in some of the most expensive lingerie sets. The edges can be finished with blanket stitch. Rather than detracting from the appearance of lingeries thus mended, such treatment tends to make it more pleasing.

TRIMMING YOUR HAT

Some of the shops sell lengths of maline ready to wrap around the big straw hat. One end of the maline is looped and wired into a big chou or rosette. The maline is then wrapped once or twice around the crown of the hat, a few stitches are taken to hold the chou in place, and lo! your hat is trimmed or retrimmed. If an old hat is the foundation of this arrangement.

Another trick is to buy one of the china ornaments for hats and fasten it on the crown of a straw or felt hat. These ornaments are decidedly smart. So, too, are lacquered metal ornaments. Sometimes the lacquered ornaments are flowers—poppies or roses in good strong shades of yellow and red.

You can produce charming flowers that look lacquered by painting ordinary cotton artificial flowers with melted sealing wax. These are as fresh and smart as you can imagine.

AMATEUR GARDENER AID

To prevent traces of the garden soil from lingering under the fingernails, scrape the nails over a cake of soap just before going out to work among the flowers. This will keep the dirt from working down so far under the nails, and will also make it much easier to clean the nails when the digging is finished.

BREAD UNNECESSARY

Do not feel the bread is needed to complete the dinner if meat-pie is your main dish. Your meal will be better balanced if the bread is omitted.

CONCERNING WOMEN

Women usually are more careful drivers of automobiles than men.

A woman suffrage bill has been presented to the Argentine chamber of deputies.

Miss Mollie P. Downes, 17-year-old English schoolgirl, has just published her second book.

As a reward for her cooking, Madame Yvon of Paris has been awarded the "Merite Agricole."

The English government has ruled that no woman may be employed in connection with aircraft operation.

Mrs. Rebecca L. Felton, first woman to hold office as a U. S. senator, has just celebrated her 90th birthday.

Mme. Minnie Baug, recently appointed minister of commerce in Denmark, has made commerce and political economy her life story.

VELVET-BOUND SHADES

Striking lamp shades are made of georgette in shade of yellow or amber laid in fine plaits and bound at the top and bottom with wide bands of black velvet overlaid with gold galloon.

HOT FOODS

Never put hot foods into your refrigerator. Allow them to cool first, then cover the dishes they are in before putting them into the refrigerator if you wish to save ice and keep the food cold.

RECIPES

Jellied Spring Salad: Soak 1 1-4 tablespoon gelatine in 1-3 cup cold water and then dissolve in 1 cup of boiling water. Add 1-3 cup sugar and the juice of 1 lemon. Chop 6 or 8 slices of canned pineapple and combine with 1-2 cup sliced ripe strawberries and 1-2 cup sliced bananas and 1-2 cup sliced orange pulp. Stir into the gelatine mixture after it has begun to congeal. Then turn into small moulds which have been rinsed with cold water. Unmould on crisp lettuce leaves and serve with cream salad dressing.

Hot Corn Rolls: Sift together one and one-third cups of flour, three-fourths cup of corn meal, four teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt and one or more tablespoons of sugar. With the tips of fingers rub in two tablespoons of shortening, add one egg beaten until thick and lemon-tinted and one-half cup of milk (add a little more if needed.) Mix to a soft dough. Turn on a floured board, knead slightly, roll to one-half inch thickness. Shape with a small biscuit cutter, grease through center of each round with the handle of a silver knife, brush one-half of each round with soft butter and fold as Parker house rolls, press edges lightly together. Arrange on a buttered baking sheet and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven. Serve while piping hot.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

The biennial conference of the World Federation of Education Associations, which meets today in Edinburgh, will have an American as its presiding officer—Dr. A. O. Thomas, who is state superintendent of public instruction of Maine. Born on an Illinois farm in 1864, Dr. Thomas attended school in Iowa and in 1891 began his career as an educator in Nebraska. His work as a school principal led the Nebraska state board of Normal schools to place him at the head of the new normal school at Kearney, where he made such a success, not only as an educator, but as a business man that the people of Nebraska elected him state superintendent. In 1917 he left the west to accept a similar position in Maine. Dr. Thomas was the chief promoter of the World Federation of Education Associations, which was organized in California two years ago and which has as its chief aim the promotion of international good will through the schools and colleges.

Today's Anniversaries

1788—The first sermon to be delivered in the Northwest territory, other than those delivered to Indian audiences, was preached in Marietta.

1860—A remarkable meteor passed over Rhode Island, Connecticut and New York.

1875—Sir Francis Bond Head, a former Governor of Upper Canada, died. Born Jan. 1, 1793.

1888—Thomas L. Young, who succeeded Rutherford B. Hayes as governor of Ohio, died in Cincinnati. Born in County Down, Ireland, Dec. 14, 1832.

1892—California's first special fruit-train for London left Sacramento.

1896—The trial of Dr. Jameson and his fellow raiders in the Transvaal was begun in London.

1903—Pope Leo XIII died in Rome. Born at Carpineto, March 2, 1810.

1923—Gen. "Pancho" Villa and his secretary were assissinated at Parral, Mexico.

1924—Teheran, Persia, was put under martial law, following the assassination of U. S. Vice Consul Imbrie.

Today's Birthdays

Dr. Charles R. Erdman, the new moderator of the Northern Presbyterian General Assembly, born at Fayetteville, N. Y., 59 years ago today.

Bishop Charles L. Mead, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, born at Vienna, N. J., 57 years ago today.

Alberto Santos-Dumont, pioneer aviator, born at Sao Paulo, Brazil, 52 years ago today.

Dr. Josiah H. Penniman, president of the University of Pennsylvania, born at Concord, Mass., 57 years ago today.

Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Davies, Episcopal bishop of Western Massachusetts, born in Philadelphia, 53 years ago today.

Walter F. Lineberger, representative in congress of the Ninth California district, born in Hardeman county, Tenn., 42 years ago today.

Stories That Recall Others

Bare-Headed

Robert has accompanied his mother and father to church. On the seat in front of them sat a woman holding a tiny "bald-headed" baby.

Robert watched the little head bobbing around with great fascination, then pulled mother down to the level of his mouth and whispered in awe-struck tones:

"Mother was I bareheaded like that all the time when I was a baby?"

Thought She Meant It

Buddy and Doris were washing, getting ready for the evening meal. They are five and three respectively. Fearing Doris would not be able to wring the cloth dry, Buddy was told to do it for her.

At the end of half an hour neither of the children had come from the bath-room and on investigation the mother was told by her young son:

"You told me to wring it dry, mother, but I just can't."

Mother says she will never ask a five year old to wring another cloth "dry."

From Small Beginnings

John Covode, the Blacksmith Supporter of Abraham Lincoln

Abraham Lincoln was attacked by ridicule and satire to a degree almost unparalleled. Ridicule was thrown upon his peculiarities of face and figure, and upon his lack of conventional education, and upon the political beliefs that he supported. No other president of the United States was ever more savagely attacked. There were, however, a body of staunch admirers of Abraham Lincoln who upheld him in the face of ridicule, and brought his cause to triumph. Among these sturdy men was John Covode of Pennsylvania, a man who had been a blacksmith, but who had risen to social and political power. John Covode struck out for Abraham Lincoln as he had struck at the iron on his anvil. He made the sparks fly, and he delivered hammer blows that welded people's thoughts.

In 1860, John Covode was 52 years of age, and he was a strong, stalwart, fearless man, a good speaker, a man of convincing logic, and a leader with the strength that we call personality. His rise in life had been typically American. Like Abraham Lincoln, John Covode was a man of the common people.

In his childhood he had worked on the Pennsylvania farm, where he had been born. He went to school very little, and the school that he did go to was only a poor country school. Nevertheless, he gained hard common sense from contact with the farmers and the right-minded men and women of the country districts. It is always true that a man's associates play a large part in giving him character. After a time the youth took up work in a blacksmith shop and became quick and skilful in shaping iron and in shoeing horses. In the shop he came in contact with men of affairs and gained from them a stimulus to rise in life. If others could become prosperous why could not he? He was by nature thrifty and capable. He looked about him for opportunities. As a farmer he was familiar with sheep and with wool, and interested in the prices for both. With others he engaged in manufacturing woolen goods, at first on a small scale, and then as his sagacity and honesty developed his business, on a much larger scale. Ultimately, he became a very rich man. He continued to be conscientious and outspoken, as he had always been, and so at 47 his people of his district sent him to congress. There, from 1855 to 1862, he upheld good causes and found the opportunity to stand out as a strong supporter of Abraham Lincoln.

In 1867 he was again sent to congress, and there, as before, he upheld and attacked like the man of iron that he was. Such men are the real makers of a nation.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

MOTORING IN MOROCCO IN WAR TIME

That the greater part of Morocco is so well under French control that tourists find no difficulties even while the war with Riffs is in progress in the north, is brought out in a letter from Dr. David Fairchild to the National Geographic Society at Washington, D. C.

"With the serious preparations which the French are making here," Dr. Fairchild write from Casablanca, "I think that the war will be over about the first of October, and it will be as safe to come here as it is to go to Baltimore. So far the war has not made the slightest difference in our travel in our automobile anywhere and everywhere we have wanted to go, and we have been out late into the night and feel as safe as we do in the suburbs of Washington.

"Thus is one of the most interesting places I have ever visited. It is an untouched chapter out of the Bible and as simple and unspoiled as though one drifted to a new land in a dream. The climate at this minute is simply perfect and from the time we set foot in the land in April we have had almost perfect weather every day. January, February and March would be a bit too chilly for me, I think, as the thermometer goes to 22 Fahrenheit in Marrakesh.

"I have found many interesting plants for cultivation in America, among which is the Argan tree which is in reality a forage crop standing on end.

"Think of a forest of a million acres of trees which are so spiny that you can't travel through it without puncturing your tire and which bears fruits so acrid that they burn your throat terribly. Yet this tree is the corner stone, so to speak, of the agriculture of more than a half million people who have come down unchanged from Bible times. It really is an amazing thing and somehow I hadn't realized the fact from the descriptions in the books and what others have told me."

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Peter Rabbit's Jumping Cousin

Lead in something. What it be Matters not that I can see.
—Jack Rabbit.

Peter Rabbit pricked up his ears when Digger the Badger said that he had seen Peter's cousin, Jack, out in the Far West where he had come from. Peter was all curiosity at once. Digger had exclaimed, "How that fellow can jump!" Now Peter thinks he is a pretty good jumper himself, and he is at once always interested in any one who jumps. In his own mind, Peter had long been quite certain that his big cousin, Jumper the Hare, was the greatest jumper for his size in all the Great World excepting Timmy the Flying Squirrel. He didn't consider that the latter counted anyway, for he always has to climb a tree before making one of his famous jumps. Of the peoples who jumped on the ground Peter was sure that his big cousin, Jumper the Hare, couldn't be equaled.

"You ought to see Jumper the Hare, who lives in the Green Forest, jump," said Peter.

"I have seen him jump," replied Digger. "He is a very good jumper, but his Cousin Jack out there in the Far West would laugh at him."

"I don't believe it," replied Peter.

"Your honesty must excuse your impoliteness," said Digger. "I am not in the habit of being told that I am not believed."

"I beg your pardon," said Peter hastily. "It slipped out before I thought. I am sorry. Truly I am, Mr. Badger. Of course, if you say that Cousin Jack is a better jumper than Cousin Jumper, it must be so. It is hard to believe, that is all. What does Cousin Jack look like?"

"Oh," replied Digger, "he looks like the rest of the family only he has longer legs and longer ears. Jumper the Hare's ears are short compared with the ears of the Jack Rabbit."

"Really?" exclaimed Peter.

"Really," replied Digger, "And his legs, both his front and his hind legs, are much longer. That is why he can jump so. You ought to see that fellow start off in a hurry. He makes his jump way up in the air to look around, and then it seems as if he hardly touched the ground. He can jump about twice as far as Jumper the Hare. That is because his legs are so much longer. It is a lucky thing for him that he can jump that way, for goodness knows he has enemies enough out there."

"Does he dig holes in the ground?" asked Peter.

"Didn't I tell you that he is really a Hare and not a Rabbit at all?" asked Digger. "You know, or you ought to know, that Hares live on the ground and not in the ground. Jack Rabbit trusts to his long legs in times of danger. He has no use for a hole in the ground. Wolves and coyotes and hawks and eagles and owls are all the time hunting for Jack Rabbit and he has to be everlastingly on the watch. But after they have tried it once or twice they don't spend much time chasing him; he is too fast. They depend more on catching him by surprise."

"Is he much hunted by those two-legged creatures called men?" inquired Peter.

"Indeed he is," declared Digger. "I don't know of any one who is hunted any more. That's because Jack is forever getting into mischief. He is worse than you are. They hunt him out there with the fastest dogs you ever saw. Those dogs don't hunt him with their noses the way Bowser the Hound hunts you, they hunt him by sight and try to run him down. You never in your life have seen such running as when one of those dogs gets after your cousin Jack. My, it's exciting. Well, I guess I've talked long enough. Come see me again some time, Peter." With this Digger the Badger waddled away.

The next story—Peter Hears a Voice.

(Copyright, 1925, by T. W. Burgess)

CHILD TRAINING

CHILDHOOD MEMORIES

Helen Gregg Green

Last summer at a resort I became interested in a mother and her two little daughters, Joy, eight, and Beverly, twelve years old. I was first attracted to the children because of their different types. Joy was pretty and blonde, and Beverly a lovely brunette.

Joy's name was typical of the child. Just a ray of sunshine without a "nerve" in her handsome little body.

But Beverly was moody, temperamental and extremely nervous,—crying at the least pretext, jumping at every little noise, and always restless.

When I knew the mother, who possessed lots of charm, I remarked: "Mrs. Rigby, your daughters are so different."

"Yes," she answered gently, "yes,—but—" and then she looked away, her eyes bright with tears.

I tried to think of something to say, eager to change the subject, wondering why she seemed so sad.

ble study, singing, handwork and re- "You are a writer, and perhaps my story will help some other child to be happy. One of the chief reasons for the difference between my little girls is their childhood memories."

"Childhood memories!" I echoed, a bit stupidly. "Don't they have the same memories, my dear?"

"Indeed not!" she answered. "You see, I have been married twice. This time, oh, so happily," and a glad light seemed to glisten behind her great, dusky eyes. "The first time, we, including Beverly, were all very unhappy. I thought my little girl was so small it wouldn't affect her. But it did! She absorbed a great deal of unhappiness. Her father had a violent temper, and I was young, and, I guess, a bit afraid of him. I should have said, 'Look here, you're not going to have those terrible tantrums. No child of mine shall hear such talk, and be exposed to such an influence!' But I didn't. So now, I'm helping her to forget. I want her to be like Joy, who has nothing but happy memories."

"O, I'm sorry," I apologized, "I shouldn't have spoken." I felt I had caused the heart of the little mother to remember, and no doubt, she, too, needed to forget.

"O, that's all right," and she smiled. "But tell the mothers and fathers to try and give their children happy memories. It means so much!"

Some men can't even do their duty without making a fuss bout it.

Children Cry for

Fletcher's CASTORIA

MOTHER:— Fletcher's Castoria is a pleasant, harmless Substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Teething Drops and Soothing Syrups, especially prepared for Infants in arms and Children all ages.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

NOTICE!

If the owner of car that damaged doors to my garage on Talman street, Saturday noon, wants to avoid trouble, better call around as registration number is known.

GEO. E. HALL.

SKINNY MEN

Thin Men Run Down Men Nervous Men

You probably know that Cod Liver Oil is the greatest flesh producer in the world.

Because it contains more Vitamines than any food you can get.

You'll be glad to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in sugar coated tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of solid healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong—ask Lee & Osgood Co. or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Only 40 cents for 30 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist will hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days.

"Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet."

No More Dandruff

The sure way to abolish dandruff is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly and safely there is nothing so good as Parisian Sage—the best hair and scalp treatment. Stops itching scalp and falling hair. Ask Lee & Osgood Co., or any druggist for Parisian Sage. It's guaranteed.

Piles Disappear

No painful cutting or greasy salves now needed to cure piles in any form. Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID frees the blood circulation in the lower bowel and removes the cause. It's brought quick and lasting relief to thousands—it must do the same for you or money refunded by Lee & Osgood and druggists everywhere.

FRANK FALCONE MAKES ATTACK ON OFFICER

Frank Falcone of North Main street, who is on parole from state's prison, is locked up at the local police station charged with breach of the peace and attacking an officer.

Falcone was bothering women in the neighborhood of Copper street, off Golden street, Sunday night about 8 o'clock and attempted to strike one woman with a club. Officer Peter Vuono was called and placed Falcone under arrest, bringing him to the police station.

Later in the evening Falcone was released on bonds of $100 and returned home, but not for long. About 11 o'clock he again went on a rampage, this time seeking out Officer Vuono, attempting to hit the officer with a club.

Officer Vuono, assisted by Officers Quinn and Patrick Murphy again placed Falcone under arrest and he was brought to the station and locked up for the night.

He will be brought before the court this (Monday) morning to answer for his actions.

People knowing his past history are afraid of the man and believe that a return to prison would be for the benefit of all.

Police Elect Delegates

At a meeting of the Norwich Police association, held recently, Vice President J. H. Casey presided, and delegates were elected to the tsate convention, to be held in New Haven on August 11th.

Officers elected as delegates were Hugh McAvoy and Patrick Shahan, alternates being Patrick Murphy and Frank Gwiczdowski.

Don't let that rash spread

Apply a little Resinol Ointment to the first bit of itching rash or patch of eczema and check it before it develops into a serious or stubborn skin trouble. It's amazing how quickly this soothing ointment stops itching, reduces inflammation and soreness and restores the skin to its normal healthy condition.

Your druggist sells the Resinol products.

Resinol

DIED

FOLEY—In Jewett City, July 19, 1925, Joseph Foley, 38 years old.

TOO LATE FOR CLASSIFICATION

WANTED — Kitchen man, $15 a week, board and room. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield. jy20d

NOTICE

After this date trust nobody in my name but my son, Ban McCrackan.
(Signed) AMY JAMES,
Glasgo, Ct.

Dated in Glasgo, July 17, 1925.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

The school of nursing connected with the William W. Backus Hospital in Norwich, Conn., is now registering students for the September classes. This school is registered in Connecticut and the course of instruction is two years and four months given is a general hospital of 90 beds. Students must be graduates of grammar school and have one year of high school work. A new nurses' residence opened this year affords each student all of the comforts and conveniences of home.

For circular of information address Superintendent of Training School.

Norwich, Monday, July 20, 1925

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7.47 (S. T.) this evening.

There is to be an annular eclipse of the sun today, the 20th, but it is not visible on this continent.

The Crystal Lake property of the late Orline W. Lewis was sold last week at auction, to Steve Pelizari.

Misses Bertha and Dorilla Chapdelaine of Southbridge are in Baltouville visiting Mrs. Etienne Favereau.

Relatives have requested a memorial mass at St. Patrick's church today (Monday) for Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Harriman.

Sunday was a good sample of perfect July weather—afternoon temperature of 86 degrees, but not a trace of sultriness.

D. W. Barney, Mrs. and family of Yonkers, N. Y., have rented the Ranlet house in Main street, Old Lyme, for several months.

Haying at Scotland is said to be progressing rapidly with bright sunshine and breezes to aid. The crop is reported very light there.

Miss Estella Lafrance has returned to Central Village from New York, having been lecturing at Columbia University for several weeks.

Bathers at the beaches Saturday found the water much more agreeable than the air, a chilly wind making lolling about on the sand far from pleasant.

Water Department office open this evening until 8 o'clock, additions will be made after the 20th.—Advt.

At Westchester, Billy Parker was unable to work last week, as he was suffering from a badly infected arm, injured while he was at work in East Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mayo and family returned to their home in Holyoke, Mass., after spending a week recently with Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Potter at South Coventry.

The Liggett stores, with a branch in Norwich, report gross sales for the first half of 1925, $20,422,037, against $18,667,555 last year, a gain of $1,754,482 or 9.7 per cent.

Select dance, Mabrey's, Ocean Beach, every Wed. night, 8.30 to 12.—adv.

Cards received in Norwich by relatives Saturday from Henry J LaFontaine, who was writing from London, stated that he was to be in Munich, Germany, this week.

Captain Elmer E. Gildersleeve, 55, caretaker of the inner light at Fenwick, Saybrook, who was taken to Hartford hospital died there from a complication of diseases.

The message on the wayside pulpit of the Church of the Good Shepherd (Universalist) Sunday read: Jesus said: "Why men of yourselves judge ye not what is right?"

The lower apartment in one of the new houses just completed on Otis Street has been leased by Mrs. Philip Henault, now residing at 77 Church street, the former Steiner home.

Local merchants who deal in men's apparel are well satisfied with their sales of light-weight clothing during July. The continued hot weather has meant gold dollars to their trade.

The Prayer Meeting leaders at the First Baptist church for August will be: August 6, Deacon F. L. Robinson; 13, Deacon J. H. Frink; 20, Deacon C. R. Cross; 27, George H. Amburn.

Four hundred members of the Polish-Falcon Society, which has members in Connecticut, sailed Saturday for Rotterdam on the Holland-American liner Veendam to visit their native land.

Water Department Office open this evening until 8 o'clock, additions will be made after the 20th.—Adv.

More than 300 Americans or Welsh descent sailed from New York Saturday on the Cunarder Laconia to attend the Pwellheli listed for Aug. 3 to 8. The liner will call at Queenstown and Liverpool.

During the past fiscal year the city paid the Norwich Water Department $240 for service to ten watering troughs in town and $10 for the D. A. R. memorial bubble fountain on the Little Plain.

Saturday morning at 8 o'clock, in St. Patrick's church, a month's mind high mass of requiem for Mrs. Mary Malady was sung by the rector, Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. H. May, relatives and friends assisting at the service.

Water Department Office open this evening until 8 o'clock, additions will be made after the 20th.—Adv.

Men's overcoat manufacturers are finding that medium weight garments are figuring more prominently than usual in their fall sales. Some attribute this to the growing use of sedan automobiles in the winter months.

Dealers in laces are looking forward to an active fall business, with the demand thus far running well ahead of last year. This is attributed to the increased use of lace themes in Parisian dresses coming into this country.

At a missionary meeting held recently on Willimantic camp ground at the cottage of Mrs. Ada Burlingham, arrangements were made for filling a Christmas box to be sent to Japan in September. There were eight present.

Of Norwich interest was the New York society item Saturday that Mr. and Mrs. Poultney Bigelow have returned to the Bigelow Homestead, Maiden-on-Hudson, after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Stephen H. P. Pell at Fort Ticonderoga.

The service at the Central Baptist church Thursday evening is to be in charge of Rev. Dr. Pitt. The Pitt family moved out to Pine Lodge, Voluntown, Friday of last week. The pastor plans to spend the next two or three Thursdays in town.

Allen Wade, of East Killingly, whose leg was fractured a few weeks ago by a fall from the Huntington barn in the Sparks district, and who has since been in the Day Kimball hospital, Putnam, has some fever and consequent weakness and is closely confined to his bed.

At the last meeting of Richmond town council the dog officer was instructed to locate dogs which killed 14 sheep belonging to Reynolds L. Card of Wyoming. A bill for $197.50 was presented the council by Mr. Card for damage done by dogs. The two dogs were shot.

There is to be a civil service examination for structural steel draftsman, grade D. Duties involve the compiling of data, computations and design for structural steel and concrete buildings, retaining walls or similar public structures. There are several vacancies at $2,760 per annum.

Fur men have been apprised that a new color novelty is a steel shade of caracul. Squirrel is dyed severe shades, among the favored ones being cocoa and rosewood. Dyed fur trimmings are liked. Included in the best sellers are fitch in a silvery tone and fox in several shades.

PERSONALS

Neil Ladd of Scotland, who has been ill, is slightly improved in health.

Mrs. A. B. Simmons, of Baltouville, has been a visitor in Norwich.

Mrs. Fred Fleming and her son, of Meriden, formerly of this city, were visitors here Sunday.

Miss Grace Perry of Waterbury was the guest of Mrs. Walter DeWolf in Salem, recently.

Miss Catherine Fristeria of Carolina, R. I., is visiting her sister, Mrs. William Manahan, in Norwich.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Herindean and daughter, Jean, of New London, and a friend were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Williams, at Colchester early in the week.

Miss Mary T. Good, of Everett street, Norwich has returned from a brief visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Vincent Weire, of New York.

Mrs. Schaufler of Jamaica, L. I., who was a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Denker of 59 Sturtevant street, returned home Sunday, after a visit of two weeks.

Mrs. Charles W. Corcoran, her daughter, Miss Lila M. and son Charles H. Corcoran, of Fountain street, with their cousin, John P. Corcoran, motored to Crescent Beach Saturday and called on friends.

Miss Julia A. Sullivan and her brother John T., have returned to their home in Naugatuck after spending three weeks vacation in Rhode Island and at the home of their sister Mrs. John S. Hartie of Roath street.

FOUGHT BASEMENT FIRE WITH PAILS OF WATER

Seeing smoke issuing from a window in the basement of the house he lives in shortly after noon, Sunday, Harry Marshall, of Clay avenue, opened up a window, and, finding a fire raging within, fought it until the arrival of the fire department a few minutes later. His work with pails of water held the fire in check and the department used only one tank of chemical to complete the task of extinguishing the fire.

The basement is occupied by the family of Peter Sierpinski, but they had left during the morning to visit with friends. Evidently some member of the family had gone into a clothes press before leaving, dropped a match or lighted cigarette, which later caused the fire.

Practically all the clothing in the closet was destroyed and the flames burned and blistered the paint in the kitchen. The damage was slight however owing to the quick work of Mr. Marshall.

The house is a two and one-half story frame structure and is owned by J. A. Stott.

Engine 1 and Squad A responded to the telephone call for assistance, which was received at 12:33 o'clock.

ITALIANS WILL CELEBRATE FEAST OF ASSUMPTION

Plans are already under way among Italian residents of Norwich for the annual celebration in honor of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary, which falls on Saturday, August 15th. In the preliminary plans the committee has decided to hold the celebration on Monday, August 17th, knowing that a celebration on Saturday would work a hardship on merchants and residents in general, many of whom would be unable to participate.

There will be a regular programme for the day, a partial programme already arranged, including a parade, concert in the evening and fireworks on Hinckley Hill. Rocco Barbetta has been named chairman of arrangements and Ralph DeVito, cashier. Mr. DeVito will be assisted in collection of funds for usual expenses by L. Rinella.

OBITUARY

Albert Arthur Smith

Following an illness of some time the death of Albert Arthur Smith, 54, occurred Saturday morning at 3:45 o'clock. Mr. Smith was born in Norwich, December 5, 1871, the son of the late Sidney C. and Frances E. Smith, and had spent his entire life as a resident of the city.

He was educated in local schools and after graduating from the Norwich Free Academy entered the employ of the silk mill at East Norwich, which was then managed by Edwin Oldfield. At this plant Mr. Smith was engaged as a ribbon finisher and when the plant was moved to the West Side he continued with the company and worked as a loom fixer under the management of James Albertson.

Mr. Smith began to have trouble with one of his eyes, the sight of which had been lost through an accident when he was a boy. A specialist advised his retirement from active work and Mr. Smith then took up gardening, working for various farmers around Norwich. About two years ago health failed him and he gave up active work.

Surviving are three sisters, F. Emma, Mary G., and Harriet R., and one brother, Charles I. Smith, of Norwich.

FUNERALS

Jeremiah Lynch

Funeral services for Jeremiah Lynch were held Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock from the parlors of Shea & Burke, Main street, with requiem mass in St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock. Rev. John Reilly was celebrant of the mass and Frank L. Farrell was at the organ. At the offertory Roderick F. Sullivan sang Pie Jesu and for a waiting hymn, Lead Kindly Light.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends at the service. A number coming from Miami, Fla., Westerly, Providence, Stonington, Noank and other places. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

Burial was in the family lot in St. Mary's cemetery where the committal service was read by Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. H. May. The bearers were Dennis Brennan and Patrick Brennan, of Norwich, Alfred Scott, of Miami, Fla., John, James and Robert Lynch, of Providence.

George N. Stenger.

George N. Stenger died Thursday at Waterford. Funeral services and burial took place Sunday, at Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Miss Elizabeth Gilman, of Baltimore, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gilman, of Washington street.

Miss Helen M. Lathrop, who has been spending some time in Groton, is to return today (Monday) to the Crocker House, New London.

Mrs. Charles W. Coit entertained at tea Friday for Mrs. O. Chester Johnson, of Plainfield, N. J., who is the guest of her father, Rev. Henry T. Arnold of Williams street.

Miss Frances Henseult, of Church street, is a member of a party of seven who are passing a fortnight at Atlantic Beach, chaperoned by Mrs. N. B. Parkhurst, of Jewett City.

B. M. Crosthwaite, of Pelham Manor, spent Sunday as the guest of John Porteous, of Broadway, where Mr. Porteous' daughter, Mrs. Crosthwaite, and daughter Helen are visiting.

Miss Benedict C. Pullen of Linden parkway left Saturday for Camp Kiwanis, South Hanson, Mass., to attend the New England Camp Fire girls' camp sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Massachusetts. Accompanying her were 18 members of Okiya group.

COUNCIL MEMBERS VIEW PROPOSED SITE FOR NEW CITY RESERVOIR

Members of the board of water commissioners with Civil Engineer Shepard E. Palmer were guides Saturday afternoon to Mayor Milo R. Waters and members of the common council on a visit to the site recommended by the water board for the proposed new city reservoir on Deep River brook in the town of Colchester close to the Bozrah line.

The party left the court house at 2 o'clock in four automobiles, Civil Engineer Palmer, Water Commissioner Charles A. Hagberg, Councilman Harold C. Dahl and a public service car driver being at the wheels. Others in the party were Mayor Waters, Water Commissioners Arthur E. Story, John A. Mitchell and Frank H. Quinley, Superintendent William H. Callahan, Alderman Henry Gebrath and Patrick F. Sweeney, Councilman Maurice Looby and City Clerk Weston C. Pullen.

Proceeding up the road through Fitchville on the road to Colchester, they turned to the west on the road that leads past Camp Mowegan and went along a mile or more beyond the Mowegan pond till they came to the Horrowitz farm on which the site of the dam would be located.

As the cars kept climbing steadily up hill all the way, one of the strong points in favor of this location was easily impressed upon the members of the party, viz: the elevation at which the reservoir would be built to insure a pressure that would supply the high spots in Norwich with water at all times.

Upon arriving at the farm the route led down through barways and pastures till close to the site of the dam in a bit of meadow flanked by rising ground, a natural formation admirably suited for the project. The brook winds along the northerly side of the meadow.

Here Mr. Palmer pointed out two test pits that had been dug to ascertain the character of the ground underneath the surface loam. This was shown to be a hard gravel well suited to hold the core wall of concrete that would run down 10 or 12 feet below the surface. When the test pits were dug water came into them at three feet below the surface indicating a springy condition. The flow of the stream was noted as about equal in volume to Pease brook and the clean sandy bottom, with some stone, but without muck or mud was noted. The water was as clear as a crystal and small trout could be seen darting here and there as the approach of the party disturbed them.

Engineer Palmer showed where the 50 foot dam would run for 900 feet across meadow to the hilly land at either side.

All the members of the party expressed their admiration of the site and all the conditions for locating the dam here.

Upon returning to the automobiles, Mr. Palmer led the way along the road again for about a mile to show the location of the basin of the reservoir. This was found to cover three well kept farms, mostly hay and grass land and cultivated fields with comparatively little wood, so that there would be little clearing to be done. The fine, clean looking appearance of the land was most favorably commented on and all were agreed that it would be hard to find a better location for the basin. The brook ran through here under the road and the same condition as to sandy bottom and cleanliness was visible here as was to be seen at the site of the dam.

Mr. Palmer pointed out the three farms upon which options have been secured at $9,000, $7,000 and $6,000. All have buildings upon them that would have to be torn down as the reservoir would flood the site of the houses and other buildings. The road would also be covered by the reservoir and would have to be detoured.

Mr. Palmer stated that the reservoir would cover about 250 acres if the dam were built 50 feet high and about one and one-half billion gallons of water would be impounded.

The water board has secured an option at an acre price on the Horrowitz farm for as much land as would be needed for the dam and the lower part of the basin of the reservoir. Options have also been secured for the pipe line from the dam to the city system.

Deep River brook discharges into the Bozrah brook and through that into the Fitchville pond so that the building of the reservoir there would mean the city would have to make some arrangement about the water privileges of the miles along the stream. These include the Gilman Bros., in Bozrah, Palmer Bros., at Fitchville, the American Woolen Co., at Yantic, the Glen Woolen mill and the Saxton woolen mill at Norwich Town and the Falls Co., in this city.

It was reported that all the members of the party were most favorably impressed with the reservoir site and were satisfied with the apparent fine quality of the water and the clean character of the land that would be the basin of the reservoir.

POIRIER CASE IS CONTINUED TO TUESDAY

Continuance till Tuesday morning, was directed in the city court, Saturday morning, when the case against Philias Poirier, 38, of Taftville, was brought up on the charge of violation of the liquor law. Acting City Attorney Telley E. Babcock asked for the continuance which Judge Libby granted. There are two counts in the charges against the Taftville man, keeping liquor with intent to sell and manufacturing.

He is also charged in the town of Preston with transportation of liquor and is to appear on that charge Tuesday evening, before Justice of the Peace William Mitchell.

Poirier was caught Friday with ten cases of beer in a motor car, below the state hospital, by State Policeman Watson of the Groton barracks, and Poirier was arrested. The beer, alleged to be 2 per cent. alcoholic content, was brought to the Norwich police station and later taken to the Groton barracks.

Poirier implicated himself deeper when he told the officer he would show him where he got it. Taking the officer with him to Taftville he showed Officer Watson where the stuff was made and there, over a dozen bottles, alleged to be just through the works were seized as evidence. It is on this later charge that he is to be tried in the city court.

WOMAN THROWN OUT IN MONTVILLE COLLISION

Mrs. W. Johnson, of Montville, was seriously injured Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock as the result of an almost headon collision between a Ford touring car driven by Edward Edwards of Montville, and a Buick touring car operated by Adolphus Johnson, of Montville, in the vicinity of the Red Mills, Palmertown, Montville. Her injuries include a deep gash on her forehead which required six or seven stitches to close, possible internal injuries and bruises.

Mrs. Johnson, who was riding with her son and his wife, was thrown out of the machine by the force of the collision and was cut in the forehead from the broken glass. Dr. John J. Donohue, Jr., of Montville was called and had Mrs. Johnson taken to her home, where he gave her the necessary medical treatment. The other occupants of the cars were uninjured other than receiving a good shaking up and bumps.

The two machines had broken radiators, two front wheels badly damaged and one of the machines had one side damaged. The damaged automobiles were taken to a garage for repairs.

GARDNER LAKE ROAD ATTRACTING MUCH TRAVEL

The new Gardner Lake road, which is now open for travel, although not entirely completed, has met with instant favor on the part of the riding public and within a few weeks will be used by hundreds of drivers from this city, bound for the Hartford-New London highway.

In many places the new road is at a distance from the old road and practically every one of the old curves has been done away with in laying out the new highway.

The new road will make the lake even more popular than in past years, the trip being less than a half hour from the center of Norwich and over as good a road as could be desired.

FIRST BELOW 70 NET ON NEW GOLF COURSE

With a score of 87 and a handicap of 18, Edward L. McEvoy scored a 69 Sunday at the Norwich Golf club, winning the tournament and also getting the distinction of being the first man to break 70 by net score on the new 18-hole course at the club. Dave Morton with 80 for the course and a handicap of five, scored a net of 75 and took second prize in the tourney.

The lowest gross score for the 18-hole course is held by George Falconer, professional of the club.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC AT GARDNER LAKE

The Sunday school of the First Baptist church held its annual picnic Saturday at Gardner Lake. The trip was made by private automobiles and by bus, leaving Ricker's corner, West Side, about 10 o'clock in the morning.

At the lake, boating, swimming, and various other sports were enjoyed throughout the day, and basket luncheons were served at noon. The return trip was made about 6 o'clock in the evening.

ANNUAL AVERY REUNION ON HOMESTEAD SITE

Gathered about the Avery Memorial monument, that marks the site of the original Avery homestead on Poquonoc road, Groton, members of the Avery Memorial association Friday afternoon observed the 31st anniversary of the burning of the Avery home, and the 25th anniversary of the dedication of the monument. The meeting was attended by 34 members, representing descendants of that distinguished Groton settler, James D. Avery.

The meeting was opened shortly after 3 o'clock with Deacon Cyrus Avery, of Poquonoc Bridge, senior vice-president, as chairman, in the place of President Elroy M. Avery, who is at present in Fort Richmond, Fla. After the reading of the minutes of the previous annual meeting, the reports of Miss Addie A. Thomas, secretary, and Miss Mabel Cassine Holman, of Saybrook, treasurer, were read and accepted. Percy Morgan, chairman of the special committee on restoration of the Avery-Morgan cemetery, situated about a half mile to the south of the monument, gave a report of the work of restoration. Mr. Morgan had charge of the work of restoring the cemetery which was financed by a liberal contribution from John D. Rockefeller and A. W. Pierson, of Niagara Falls. The report was received with much enthusiasm and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Morgan, following which he was voted in as a member of the association.

In his report, Mr. Morgan said that the cemetery is now in excellent repair, all of the stones have been recut and reset in cement foundations.

It was voted that the executive committee be given authority to extend the wall, which bounds the Avery Memorial plot, a distance of 135 feet on the northeast side of the east ground. The expense of constructing the wall will be borne by the association.

The election of officers for the ensuing year followed. A pause in the proceedings was called by the secretary, Miss Thomas, in memory of Mrs. Susan Meech, who died during the past year. Miss Holman placed a bouquet of flowers at the base of the monument in memory of Mrs. Meech. A. W. Pierson, of Niagara Falls, was elected to the executive committee, succeeding Mrs. Meech. All other officers were re-elected as follows: President, Elroy M. Avery; vice-presidents, Frank M. Avery, Cyrus Avery, Christopher L. Avery, W. S. Thomas, Mrs. Pierre L. Schellens, Mrs. Belton A. Copp, Mrs. Archibald M. Main, Harold Chandler Avery, Billings T. Avery; secretary, Miss Addie A. Thomas; treasurer, Miss Mabel Cassine Holman; executive committee, W. S. Thomas, chairman; Elroy M. Avery, Miss Addie A. Thomas, Miss Mabel Cassine Holman, Mrs. Prentice Parke Avery, Miss Nellie Avery, Miss Eliza Avery, Walter C. Morgan, Latham Avery, Mrs. P. L. Schellens, Mrs. Deborah Keene, Miss Nell P. Avery, Mrs. Addie V. Payne and Cyrus Avery.

Upon motion made by Miss Thomas, it was voted that the work of restoration in the Avery-Morgan cemetery be continued and that the association continue to raise funds for that purpose.

Miss Thomas read a communication from Mr. Pierson, in which he stated that owing to plans he had already made, he was unable to attend the annual meeting. Mr. Pierson said in the letter that he plans to come to Groton in the fall. The following were appointed a committee to receive Mr. Pierson: Miss Thomas, chairman; W. S. Thomas, Percy Morgan, Miss Sara Avery, George O. Miner, Latham Avery, Mrs. C. M. Adams, Mrs. John A. Irving.

A letter was also read from Harold Chandler Avery, who is touring in Canada. He sent facsimile reproductions of the original deed transferring the title to the Avery "hive" from James Avery, 1st, to James Avery, 2nd. The deed is dated March 28, 1679.

At the conclusion of the meeting Miss Sara Avery read an historical paper on the dedication of the Avery Memorial monument.

Those who were present at the meeting were:

Mr. and Mrs. George O. Miner, Groton; Latham Avery, Groton Long Point; Mrs. Belton A. Copp, Groton; Cyrus Avery, Poquonoc Bridge; Miss Elizabeth Burrows, Mystic; Mrs. A. O Colby, Mystic; Mrs. Charles M. Adams, Groton; J. Morgan Adams, Groton; Mrs. Adelaide Doolittle, Middletown; Mrs. Mary Doane, Essex; Miss Charlotte Doane, Essex; Mrs. John A. Irving, Groton; Malcolm Irving, Groton; Miss Hazel Schley, Eastern Point; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Avery, Willimantic; W. S. Thomas, Groton; Miss Addie Thomas, Groton; Miss Sara Avery, Groton Long Point; Miss Mabel Cassine Holman, Saybrook; Mr. and Mrs. Billings T. Avery, Ledyard; Percy H. Morgan, Mystic.

INDUSTRIAL REVIEW OF STATE OF CONNECTICUT

A 542 page "Industrial History of Connecticut," written by George B. Chandler, executive vice president of the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce, has just come off the press of its New York publisher. This industrial history is part of a five volume series covering all aspects of Connecticut which will shortly make its appearance. It is under the editorship of Col. Norris G. Osborn of New Haven.

In his preface Mr. Chandler sums up the unique industrial features of Connecticut as follows:

"Connecticut is an industrial prodigy. The romance, tragedy, pathos, humor and glory of its development from the habitat of petty household industries, patiently and arduously carried on in kitchens, barns and door yards, to the present swarming hive of huge, modern manufacturing plants covering acres of ground and employing tens of thousands of people, present one of the most dramatic and informing chapters of modern history. When one views the little rectangle, wedged between Massachusetts and Long Island sound, a mere speck upon the map of the United States, and learns from the following pages the amazing number of industries and inventions, born within its borders, which have been revolutionary in their scope and ministered incalculably to the happiness and well-being of mankind, he feels like exclaiming, as did Morse when he sent his first telegram over the wires, "What Hath God Wrought!"

Mr. Chandler also states in his preface: "This volume is the first attempt to present a connected story of the marvelous growth of manufacturing Connecticut from Colonial days to the present time."

A chapter entitled "Summary of Connecticut Industries" discloses that Connecticut has a total of 3,968 different manufacturers who employ a total of 297,352 persons. New Haven leads the state in the number of manufacturers with 550. Hartford is the close second with 542. Bridgeport is the close third with 523. Waterbury is fourth with 174 different manufacturers.

This chapter also shows that Bridgeport leads the state in the number of employes with a figure of 40,344. Hartford is second with 29,530. New Haven is the close third with 28,839 industrial employes while Waterbury is fourth with 22,896.

The chapter indicates that New Haven leads the state with 250 different kinds of manufacturing. Bridgeport is second with 197. Hartford is third with 171. Waterbury is fourth with 104 different kinds of manufacturing.

"From the standpoint of "Number of Manufacturers" the first fifteen cities of the State are as follows in the order of their size: New Haven 550, Hartford 542, Bridgeport 523, Waterbury 174, New Britain 122, Danbury 118, Stamford 105, Norwich 94, Meriden 95, South Norwalk 88, New London 78, Norwalk 66, Middletown 53, Winsted 42, Bristol 38.

In his chapter on "Power—Its Production, Transmission and Use," Mr. Chandler outlines the most recent developments along the line of superpower in Connecticut as follows:

"The extent to which the superpower dream in its relation to Connecticut has already become an accomplished reality is shown by the fact that the Hartford system is linked up with other systems in the following manner: The Hartford Electric Light Company is connected with the Turner Falls System, which includes the city of Springfield; the Turner Falls plant is connected with the line of the New England Power Company system; the New England Power Company is linked up to the Adirondack Power Company; the Adirondack Power Company is linked up to the Syracuse Light Company, and this company is linked to the Niagara Falls Power Plant. Hartford is connected on the east with the Boston Edison Company through Turner Falls. Commenting upon this situation, Mr. C. L. Campbell of Waterbury, Treasurer of the Connecticut Light & Power Company, recently stated: 'If all stations between Waterbury and Niagara should cease consuming or producing power, we could say positively that Waterbury was receiving from Niagara Falls. Under the circumstances however, with all the stations using and generating, it is impossible to pick out a 'drop,' so to speak, of electricity and label it as coming from Niagara. There are times when there is no actual connection between stations, according to local demands, but it is always available.'"

The history also contains an interesting section on "Transportation" contributed by William A. Countryman of New Haven. It also contains a section on "The Oyster Industry of Connecticut" by Henry C. Rowe. The history is profusely illustrated with pictures of loading factories and manufacturers.

From the standpoint of "Number of Employees," the first fifteen cities of the state are as follows: Bridgeport (40,344); Hartford (28,530); New Haven (28,839); Waterbury (22,896); New Britain (18,519); Meriden (9,136); Stamford (5,002); Bristol (6,908); Torrington (6,370); Danbury (6,075); Ansonia (5,635); Norwich (5,581); Naugatuck (4,644); South Manchester (4,429); Shelton (4,304).

From the standpoint of "Different Kinds of Manufacturing" the leading cities of the state are as follows: New Haven (250); Bridgeport (197); Hartford (171); Waterbury (104); Stamford (77); Meriden (63); New Britain (60); Norwich (57); South Norwalk (55); Danbury (52); New London (51); Middletown (38); Norwalk (36); Derby (33).

The chapter entitled "Summary of Connecticut Industries" sketches a few high spots as follows: "In 1923 Connecticut manufactured products valued at $1,288,293,000. This value represents factory prices and shows an increase of 54.1 per cent. over the value of the 1921 output. Connecticut's leading industry is designated as the manufacture of 'brass, bronze and other non-ferrous alloys' which employ 33,000 wage earners whose output was valued at $164,367,673. This industry's increase in wage earners from 1921 to 1923 was 49.6 per cent. The increase in production was 149.8 per cent. Wage payments made to industrial employees in Connecticut were $314,000,000 in 1923—an advance of 42.4 per cent. in two years."

The opening chapter of the history entitled "The Foundations of Connecticut business"—concludes with the following paragraph:

"Upon the foundations sketched in this chapter was built modern industrial Connecticut. Its character came from race, church and home; its thrift and inventive genius came from necessity and character; its business training came from shipping and commerce; its capital from undissipated shipping profits and the savings of the home; its metal trades from tinware and the contiguity of now deserted mines; its stability from orderly government and generally just laws. No finer foundation could be laid for a noble civilization."

Callouses

Quick, safe, sure relief from painful callouses on the foot.

At drug and shoe stores

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads

THE BOSTON STORE
THE REID & HUGHES COMPANY
NORWICH CONNECTICUT

BUTTERICK PATTERN INCLUDING DELTOR

B'NAI B'RITH LODGES PICNICK AT WATERFORD

Three lodges of the Independent Order of B'nai B'rith, Norwich, New London and Middletown, held an outing Sunday at Woodland Grove, Waterford, over 500 members attending and enjoying a day in the open.

An athletic programme was carried out for the older people as well as the young people, the events including a tug-of-war, high and low hurdles, broad jump, potato race, dashes and three-legged race.

Refreshments were served during the day and in the evening dancing was enjoyed in the pavilion.

NEW YORK POLICE NOT THERE AS BALL PLAYERS

NEW YORK, July 19.—(AP)—New York's "finest" essayed baseball today and proved that while they may be able to stop traffic, a baseball is altogether different. The police team from Norfolk, Va., defeated them, 7 to 5, and that from Baltimore won 10 to 6.

Did you ever hear of a man getting married for the purpose of having some one play the piano for him.

MADE A NEW WOMAN OF HER

That Is What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Jenkins

Middleport, Ohio. — "I am going through the Change of Life and I am taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for the troubles that come at that time. I got so run-down I could scarcely do my work and I keep a rooming house and have a family of eight to take care of. A friend told me about the Vegetable Compound and it has made a new woman of me. I keep it in the house all the time now and won't be without it. My weight got down to 90 pounds and now it is 132½ pounds. I give the Vegetable Compound the praise and hope that women will realize the good in it." — Mrs. MYRA JENKINS, 693 North Front Street, Middleport, Ohio.

Over 200,000 women have so far replied to this question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

98 out of every 100 of the replies say "Yes," and because the Vegetable Compound has been helping other women it should help you. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Copyright 1926 The Picture Advertisers Box 19 Oregon City Oregon

The Picture Tells The Story

Need a Plumber? Tel. 887

J. P. Barstow & Co.

23 Water Street

GLASS — PUTTY — PAINT
HARDWARE—TOOLS—CUTLERY

Examine our line of Aluminum Ware

THE HOUSEHOLD

Bulletin Building, 74 Franklin Street

NORWICH TWILIGHT LEAGUE ENTERS SEVENTH WEEK OF FAST BASEBALL

The Twilight league tonight swings into its final week of the first round. For the past six weeks, the people of Norwich have been treated with real fast baseball and every night found the Duwell field crowded with fans eager to see their favorite teams in action. Every team in the league has tried real hard to give their very best and, win or lose, have earned the approval of everyone. The Centrals, Hallville and the E. C. P. have played real good ball and assisted by some of the breaks have managed to stay on top, only half a game separating the Centrals and Hallville, with the Power Co. trailing by a lone game.

The East Ends, Yantic, Palace, Nuggets and St. Joseph's all have real good teams but, due to a late start in addition to tough breaks, have not done as well as they are capable of doing, but are due to give some real trouble during the second half and it wouldn't be a bit surprising to see an altogether different standing at the end of the season.

The real reason for the success of the league to date has been the real sportsmanship of the different managers who instead of trying to hurt each other have done everything within their power to help each other, which was shown at the last meeting which was held Friday night in regards to a few teams who had slipped and broken a rule. In most cases the opposing managers would be tickled to ride the offenders, but these boys here in Norwich, who had real cause for an argument, instead of taking advantage of it showed the spirit that is bound to make the league a success by wiping the slate clean and starting all over again.

Not only are the various managers pulling together but the players themselves are playing real clean, which has been the cause of cheer after cheer to echo through the surrounding territory of the Duwell field during every game.

While the crowds have been real big the collections have only been fair. Where most people are giving their utmost support there are many who only come over to rag and pick on the players and umpire but have not the least respect for the hat when it is passed to them. It is hoped that during the remainder everyone will do their bit in helping to make the Twilight league of 1925 the biggest sporting venture ever tackled in Norwich. In order to give all the teams something to work for on the last half, provided that all the teams finish, it is said that the Duwell club in addition to the prizes already put up will give a prize worth fifty dollars to the team winning the most games in the second half of the schedule. A prize of this kind would go a long ways towards giving those teams who got away to a poor start during the first half something to work for.

In addition to these prizes it is also rumored that provided that the teams pull together during the remainder of the season and the league proves a success the Duwell club will give a big banquet and regular good time for all the players and managers in the league. The Duwell club is also doing every possible thing for the success of the league and it is hoped that those who have been giving their support and others who have not been doing their bit will also do everything possible to assist.

To give much done on tonight's game would be quite a job as the league was thrown open for two weeks at the last meeting and tonight both George Madden's Nuggets and the Hallville team will contain many new faces. In the past, while the Nuggets have been putting up real good games they have lost most of their games and Mgr. Madden has decided to start winning and claims that he will start on Hallville tonight. Should he do this he will deserve credit as Hallville is almost tied with the Centrals for first place and are a scrappy, heads-up team. Last week Madden's team came within a hair of taking the Centrals in tow and it wouldn't be surprising if his team took a tumble out of Hallville tonight. Manager Madden has been one of the most hard-working managers in the league and has used mostly Academy boys in all of his games. While the breaks have been against him in the first half, great things are expected of his team during the remainder of the season.

Who he will have in his lineup tonight is not known except that there will be many new faces.

The Hallville lineup will be the same as the one that stopped the Centrals and also defeated the Palace last week. They will lineup as follows: Joe McInniss or Gadbois, catch; John McInniss or Zepp, pitch; Red Charron at first, Emory on second, A. Charron at short, Armquist at third, and Bill Smith, Huchie Smith and Sullivan in the outfield.

Yantic Not to Quit.

The report that Yantic was to quit the league has been proven unfounded as Acting Manager Aimsworth in place of Mgr. Lane was interviewed late Saturday afternoon and announced that his team would positively take the field against the Palace team on Tuesday night and if they lose it will be because the other team beats them in a hard game. This is the first time in years that Yantic has been in such fast company as the Twilight league and are playing real good ball. They have as good a team as is in the league but the breaks are against them. Two weeks ago they lost a 1 to 0 game to the East Ends which was no discredit to any team and everyone that saw it was satisfied that it was as good a game as they ever saw. Then last week the breaks again were against them when "Tillie" Daniels, their pitching ace, was driven from the box and lost his first game in twelve starts. Daniels then pitched with practically the same team behind him for the Socony against the Sub Base in the New London league on Friday and held the Sub Base to three lone hits and handed the Base team their first defeat of the season. That's the way things have gone for Yantic and the jinx is bound to be broken soon. Mr. Aimsworth said that Yantic never backed out of anything yet and as long as the people in Yantic support the team they will play hard to uphold the name.

There were several reports also as to why Yantic was to quit the league, some saying that the New London boys playing on the team were disgusted with the decisions handed them in the last game by Umpire Hank Morin. Mr. Aimsworth also put a stop to these rumors, saying that his team had not the least complaint against Mr. Morin's decisions and that the New London boys would play for Yantic as long as they wanted them. These boys, Coullard, Burns, McKernan, Foote, Daniels and others who have come up here are all known to local fans and have earned popularity by their clean sportsmanlike playing. Whatever may happen, Yantic will positively play on Tuesday night and will give the public the best they can.

HORNSBY STILL LEADS MAJOR HOME RUN HITTERS

CHICAGO, July 19—The St. Louis Americans led both major leagues in the race for home run honors during the last week, the Sislermen bagging eleven, which has considerable to do with their ascension to third place in the league standing. Ken Williams, Brown outfielder, banged out two of the four baggers, and took the lead in the American league with a total of 23 for the season.

The St. Louis Cardinals led the National league with a total of six homers for the week. Rogers Hornsby getting two and retaining his undisputed lead of both leagues, with a season's total of 24. Bottomley of the Cardinals, also annexed two four-ply blows, making his total 15.

Graboy Hartnett of the Chicago Nationals and Bob Meusel of the New York Americans failed to add to their last weeks totals of 21, and remained tied for third place honors. Babe Ruth, champion home run hitter, swung back into stride against the Detroit Tigers, and annexed another circuit clout to make his season total nine.

There were 22 homers in the National league while the American league checked in with 31.

The leaders:

National League

Hornsby—St. Louis	24
Hartnett—Chicago	21
Bottomley—St. Louis	15
Fournier—Brooklyn	14
Kelly—New York	14
R. Meusel—New York	13
Wright—Pittsburgh	12
Harper—Philadelphia	12
Cuyler—Pittsburgh	11
Wrightstone—Philadelphia	11

American League

Williams—St. Louis	23
R. Meusel—New York	21
Simmons—Philadelphia	15
Goslin—Washington	11
Cobb—Detroit	11

TIGERS OUTSLUG YANKS AND WIN EASILY

DETROIT, July 19—Detroit fell on four New York pitchers for 22 hits today to win their second straight victory from the Yankees, 18 to 12. Gehrig and Heilmann hit for the circuit.

Holloway and Doyle who relieved Leonard after it appeared he had the game safely tucked away, were prepared spasmodically but the Tiger offensive continued against all Yankee pitchers and New York was unable to whittle down the lead. The score:

New York (A).	ab	h	po	a	e	Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Combs,cf	4	0	3	0	1	Haney,2b	5	2	3	3	0
Ward,2b	4	2	2	2	0	O'Rourke,3b	5	2	1	3	0
Ruth,lf	4	2	1	0	0	Wingo,lf	6	2	2	0	0
Meusel,rf	5	2	0	0	0	Manush,cf	6	2	2	0	0
Merkle,1b	5	1	9	0	0	Heilman,rf	5	2	1	0	0
Gehrig,1b	0	1	4	0	0	Blue,1b	0	0	2	10	0
Dugan,3b	5	2	1	2	0	Tavener,ss	5	2	1	4	1
Bengough,c	3	1	1	0	0	Bassler,c	4	2	4	0	0
Schang,c	2	0	1	0	0	Woodall,c	1	0	0	0	0
Wanner,ss	1	0	2	3	0	Leonard,c	3	1	0	0	0
F. Johnson,ss	3	1	1	5	1	Holloway,p	0	0	0	0	0
Jones,p	0	0	0	0	0	Doyle,p	2	0	0	0	0
R. Johnson,p	0	0	0	0	0
Ferguson,p	1	0	0	0	0	Totals	46	22	27	10	2
Shawkey,p	1	0	0	0	0
xShanks	1	1	0	0	0
xxVeach	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	13	24	8	1

(x) Batted for Wanninger in 4th.
(xx) Batted for Shawkey in 9th.

Score by innings:

New York	1	0	0	2	1	4	1	0	3	—12
Detroit	4	3	1	4	0	5	0	1	x	—18

Two base hits, E. Johnson, Ward, Haney, O'Rourke, Wingo 2, Manush 2, Blue, Bassler. Three base hit, Meusel. Home runs, Gehrig, Heilmann.

TILDEN AND WEINER LOSE THEIR DOUBLES MATCH

ST. LOUIS, July 19.—(AP)—Harvey B. Snodgrass and Walter K. Wesbrook, Los Angeles, won the national clay court tennis tournament doubles event here today, taking their first leg on the United States Lawn Tennis Association's new trophies. The score was 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

They defeated William T. Tilden II, and A. Wiener, his young protege of Philadelphia, who had reached the final round of the doubles by eliminating Robert and Howard Kinsey of San Francisco, defending champion, by a score of 1-6, 5-7, 8-6.

BEARS WIN FROM HILLIES AFTER EIGHT DEFEATS

BRIDGEPORT, July 19—Bridgeport ended its losing streak which had extended over eight games and defeated Pittsfield, 5 to 3 here this afternoon. Both teams staged rallies in the eighth. The hitting of Batch and the fielding of Drew and Henzes stood out. The score;

Pittsfield	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	0	—3
Bridgeport	1	0	0	0	0	0	4	x	—5

Two base hits, Burke, Batch.

BRASSCOS HIT VAN ALSTYNE HARD AND BEAT ALBANY

ALBANY, N. Y., July 19—Waterbury drove Van Alstyne out of the box and beat Albany 9 to 4 today. Fuller held Albany safe. It was the seventh straight defeat for the home team. Score:

Waterbury	0	1	5	1	2	0	0	0	—9
Albany	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	2	—4

Two base hits, Helgeth, Schauffel, Patridge, Uteritz, McCory, Taylor.

PEPPER MARTIN, BOXER, DIES OF PNEUMONIA

NEW YORK, July 19.—(AP)—Vincent (Pepper) Martin of Brooklyn, several times contender for the world featherweight and junior lightweight championships, died of pneumonia today in a Long Island city hospital after an illness of only a few days.

TODAY'S SPORTS

RACING

Meeting of Empire City Racing Association, at Yonkers.
Meeting of Windsor Jockey club opens at Windsor, Ont.
Meeting of Business Men's Racing Association at Chicago.
Meeting of Thistledown Jockey club opens at Cleveland.

TROTTING

Meeting of Grand Circuit opens at Kalamazoo.

GOLF

Scottish amateur championship tournament opens at Muirfield.
South Dakota State championship tournament at Sioux Falls.

TENNIS

Illinois State championship tournament opens at Chicago.
New Hampshire state championship tournament opens at Crawford Notch.
Washington State championship tournament opens at Seattle.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

St. Louis 2, Brooklyn 0.
Cincinnati 6, New York 4.
Only games scheduled.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

Pittsburgh 9-1, Boston 8-2.
Cincinnati 3, New York 0.
St. Louis 4, Brooklyn 1.
Chicago 7, Philadelphia 6.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Pittsburgh	50	32	.610
New York	51	35	.593
Cincinnati	43	43	.500
Brooklyn	42	43	.494
St. Louis	42	44	.488
Philadelphia	40	45	.471
Chicago	38	47	.447
Boston	35	53	.402

GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at New York.
Chicago at Boston.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Washington 4, Cleveland 2.
Detroit 18, New York 12.
Boston-Chicago game postponed, rain.
Philadelphia 12, St. Louis 8.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

St. Louis 6, Philadelphia 2.
Washington 10, Cleveland 6.
Detroit 7, New York 3.
Chicago 10, Boston 2.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Philadelphia	55	30	.647
Washington	56	31	.644
Chicago	45	42	.517
St. Louis	47	43	.522
Detroit	46	48	.517
Cleveland	40	51	.440
New York	36	52	.409
Boston	26	60	.302

GAMES TODAY.

Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Washington at Cleveland.
Boston at Chicago.

EXHIBITION GAMES

BALTIMORE, July 19—
Pittsburgh 9, Baltimore 8.
Collins and Spencer; Ogden and McKee.

EASTERN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Bridgeport 5, Pittsfield 3.
Hartford 3, Springfield 0.
Waterbury 9, Albany 4.
New Haven 4-11, Worcester 0-2.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

Springfield 4, Albany 3.
Worcester 7, New Haven 3.
Hartford 1, Pittsfield 0 (11 innings)
Waterbury 5-7, Bridgeport 0-2.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Reading 7-7, Buffalo 2-4.
Jersey City 5-4, Syracuse 6-5.
Providence 4, Rochester 2.
Providence 6; Rochester 4. (second game.)
Only games scheduled.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS

Rochester 11-3, Jersey City 2-5.
Providence 7, Syracuse 1.
Toronto 8-3, Reading 7-4.
Baltimore 14-7, Buffalo 3-13.

NEW HAVEN WINS TWO GAMES FROM WORCESTER

NEW HAVEN, July 19—New Haven took both games of the double header with Worcester today, the scores being 4 to 0, and 11 to 2. Davies' pitching was the feature of the opening contest, while the heavy hitting of the Profs in the second game stood out. Scores:

First game:

Worcester	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
New Haven	0	0	0	0	0	0	3	1	x	—4

Two base hit, Miller. Three base hit, Hauk.

Second game:

Worcester	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	—2
New Haven	0	4	0	2	0	4	0	1	x	—11

Two base hits, Thomas, Phillips, Sperber, Gleason 2, Runser.

SIXTEEN HORSES ENTERED FOR AM. RACING DERBY

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 19.—(AP)—At least sixteen horses, two more than last year, are likely to start when the $25,000 American pacing derby premier stake event of the grand circuit is called at Recreation Park Tuesday afternoon.

The first running of this event last year brought one of the biggest upsets of the harness season, Margaret Spangler, a doubtful starter, was driven to victory over the favorite Braon Worthy.

The derby will be decided on the two heats in three plan.

RICHARDS WINS LONG ISLAND TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, July 19.—(AP)—Vincent Richards, second in national ranking, had little difficulty in capturing the final round of the Long Island tennis championship at the Woodmere Club today from Jerome Lang of Columbia University 6-2, 6-3, 6-2.

The doubles went to Frederick C. Anderson and Cecil Doraldson, who triumphed over Jerome Lang and Anton F. Von Bernuth, 7-5, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2.

FRENCH TEAM TO PLAY IN AMERICAN ZONE

NOORDWYK, Holland, July 19—(AP)—The French Davis cup doubles team, Rene Lacoste and Jacques Brugnon, today defeated the Dutch pair, M Van Lennep and Diemer Kool 6-1, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4. By taking the two singles matches on Saturday the Frenchmen now have eliminated Holland from the competition and are qualified to meet the victors in the play in the American zone.

LAST WEEK MARKED BY MANY CHANGES IN STANDING OF MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS

NEW YORK, July 19—Champions of 1924 in the major leagues are on the mat but their shoulders are far from pinned, while Pirate and Mackman are clutching desperately for unbreakable holds.

This struggle may last throughout the season, for already it has gone on for weeks, first one and then the other being underneath.

Philadelphia gained an advantage over the Senators only after a long-drawn struggle.

Philadelphia's reign in the American circuit is a matter of three percentage points over Washington while Pittsburgh rules the National ten points above New York. The Athletics, a team of youths, carried the attack to their enemies through seven successive conquests only to be downed by the Browns of St. Louis on Saturday by a 6 to 2 score.

Without Gordon Cochrane's bat as an opening punch, the former university backstop having been called home from the west by the illness of his wife, the terrific hitting ceased for a time and George Sisler's third place St. Louisans cemented their position gained during the week in a sensational drive.

The veteran moundmen of Washington toiled steadily and with an accuracy that presages difficulties for the Quaker City legion and yesterday Van Gregg held the slugging Clevelanders safely while his mates accounted for a 19 to 6 victory.

Both Chicago and Cleveland managed to win half of the contests, maintaining their positions in fourth and sixth places respectively, while the Yankees, their pitching staff crumbling, could gain but two victories in eight opportunities and the Red Sox of Boston were successful only once. Detroit won three out of four.

There was nothing in the national organization to match the American accomplishments in the matter of hits, with Philadelphia totalling 117 and Cleveland 113. Nor could the National meet the Red Sox record of the seven days of 28 errors.

By its showing during the week Pittsburgh deserved to remain in the lead, for the Pirates outhit all the rest and scored more runs. But seventeen errors were turned into the record of four games won and four lost, while the Giants gained a matter of half a game with four victories and three defeats.

Cincinnati, which kept the Giants out of a tie for the leadership when the Cuban, Luque, pitched a clever game, on Saturday, had the largest margin of victories with a record for the seven days of four and two. The Chicago Cubs, in seventh place, were others to show more conquests than defeats four and three.

Philadelphia, with unreborn batting ability, obtained an even break along the leading Pittsburgh, three won and three lost. Brooklyn captured three of seven and Boston the same.

The Browns of the American league took home run honors with 11.

GERMAN PAPER ACCUSES RUNNERS AS PROFESSIONAL

BERLIN, July 19—(AP)—Loren Murchison of the Newark, A. C., and Charles Paddock of California, both famous American runners, are charged by the Neure Berliner Zwolf Urh Zeitung, with having exacted "fees" ranging from 1,500 to 2,000 marks before starting in the recent German sprinting races.

In each case, says the newspaper, the German promoter of the athletic games paid the money, as it was feared the games would suer through loss in the sale of tickets if the Americans failed to participate. It also declares that in the exhibitions in Berlin and Hamburg a short time ago the American runners each received a total of 3,000 marks which it alleges they demanded of the local promoter before appearing at the starting point for the races.

"When Paddock and Murchison first appeared in Germany last year," the newspaper asserts, "they still were members of the American Olympic team and as such were compelled to uphold the principles of amateur athletics. As keen Americans, however, they promptly scented the nnanecat opportunities held out by sport, and therefore this year decided to organize an expedition of their own. It is plain that they found Germany their most remunerative field."

The paper expresses the belief that the Americans also accepted starting fees at Crefeld, Bochum and Breslau, where they entered the local contests. German sporting ire waxes especially warm because the Americans failed to make "any kind of a showing" in competition against the German sprinters.

A demand is made by the paper that the German athletic authorities permanently disbar the two American sprinters from further contests in Germany. It asserts that the promoters of the Stookholm contests flatly refused to meet the demands of Paddock and Murchison and compelled the Americans to run under the conditions imposed by those contests.

RIVERVIEW BEATEN BY NEW DEPARTURE TEAM

For the second time in as many weeks the Riverview team bowed in defeat to a superior team when the New Departure team of Bristol beat the Riverview club Saturday at the State Hospital diamond 3 to 2. The southpaw slants of Goodrich held the locals in submission especially when hits meant runs. Mondi Normandin, who garnered two doubles and a pair of singles in four times up, and Eddie Burns who collected two singles were the only ones who could do anything with the visiting pitcher. Burns' hits followed by Normandin's doubles accounted for Riverview's two tallies, one coming in the fourth inning and one in the seventh.

Riverview collected nine hits all together but they were scattered while the visitors bunched their hits at opportune times. In the very first inning the New Departure team scratched a single through the right side of the diamond, a sacrifice put the runner on second and an infield out sent him to third. West passed the next man who stole second and then a double scored two runs. In the seventh the visitors bunched hits behind errors for three runs. A triple with two on followed by an error did the trick. As the official scorer for the Riverview team had his score book appropriated there is no box score with this game.

HARTFORD BLANKS PONIES IN PITCHING BATTLE

HARTFORD, July 19—(AP)—Hartford extending its new winning streak to five consecutive games here this afternoon defeating Springfield 3 to 0, knocking the Ponies out of a first place tie with the same stroke.

For seven innings the game was a pitchers' battle between Braxton and Dailey until the former was relieved for a pinch hitter. Both team made six hits, Heitman's hitting won the game. Score:

Springfield	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Hartford	0	0	0	0	2	0	0	1	x	—3

Two base hits, Standaert, Heitman, Herrera. Three base hit, Heitman.

PEPIN PITCHES GOOD GAME AGAINST ROSSIE

Pepin, pitching for the J. H. Martin team, let the Rossie Velvet team down with four hits and one run while his teammates by good hitting and baserunning piled up a total of five, Sunday afternoon at the Martin field in Taftville. Pepin was in rare form and should have been given a shut out victory but errors with a man on base allowed the visitors to score. Deeelles led the hitting attack for the losers. The score:

Rossie A. A.	ab	h	po	a	e	J. H. Martin	ab	h	po	a	e
J. Murphy,3b	4	1	1	3	0	J. Joubert,1b	5	2	10	1	1
C. Whalin,rf	4	0	0	0	0	Deelles,ss	4	3	2	4	1
Belair,c	3	0	0	7	1	P. Oler,3b	4	0	2	1	2
Jim McI'is,ss	4	1	0	5	1	J. Murphy,c	4	1	7	5	0
Joe McI's,lf	4	1	3	0	0	Doss,rf	4	2	1	0	0
Foot,2b	4	0	0	3	0	E. Murphy,cf	4	1	0	0	0
Wilson,1b	3	1	11	1	0	W. Oler,lf	4	0	1	0	0
O. Welm,cf	3	0	0	0	0	Kraus,2b	3	0	1	1	1
Chappell,p	2	0	0	1	0	F. Murphy,2b	2	0	3	1	0
						—Pepin,p	2	0	0	2	0
Totals	31	4	24	14	3	Totals	36	11	27	15	4

Score by innings:

Rossie A. A.	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	—1
J. H. Martin	1	0	1	2	0	0	1	0	x	—5

Two base hits, J. Murphy, W. Oler, Deeelles. Three base hits, J. Joubert, Doss. Struck out, by Chappell 5, by Pepin 8.

TAFTVILLE SPLITS EVEN IN WEEK END BALL GAMES

The Taftville A. A. got an even break in the home and home series with Stafford Springs during the week end, Taftville winning Saturday's game at Taftville, 6 to 2, and dropping a close game at Stafford on Sunday 3 to 2.

In Saturday's game Lefty Ducas pitched and was invincible, fanning 12 men and allowing but 6 scattered hits. Taftville won the game in the sixth inning when with three men on base Eccleston hit for two bases which started a rally that did not end until six runs had counted.

Inability to hit with men on base was the cause of the loss of Sunday's game. Taftville's first defeat in 18 games. Although Taftville gathered thirteen hits they were scattered and did not come at the right time. Lloyd Jarvis pitched good ball for Taftville. Pallanck featured for Stafford in the field. The scores:

Taftville A. A.	ab	h	po	a	e	Stafford Springs	ab	h	po	a	e
Verrier,ss,3b	5	0	2	3	0	Scussell,3b	4	1	0	2	0
Cardie,2b	4	3	1	1	0	Pollanck,ss	3	1	3	4	1
L. Dugas,rf	3	0	0	0	0	M. C'hera,cf	4	1	7	0	0
Mills,lf	3	1	3	1	0	Wise,1b	4	2	9	0	0
Stanley,cf	5	1	0	0	0	Baldwin,rf	4	1	1	0	0
A. Dugas,1b	5	1	12	0	1	Jallan,lf	4	2	1	0	0
Lloyd Jarvis,p	4	1	2	3	0	B. C'hera,c	4	1	8	0	0
Eccleston,c	4	2	5	0	0	Patrick,2b	4	0	4	2	0
Gauthier,ss	3	2	1	5	1	Wiber,p	3	1	1	0	1
Totals	37	12	27	13	2	Totals	34	10	27	9	1

Score by innings:

Taftville A. A.	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	—6
Stafford Springs	0	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	x	—3

Two base hit, Jallan. Three base hits, Mills, Stanley, Scussell. Hit by pitcher, L. Dugas by Weber. Struck out, by Jarvis 9, by Weber 4. Bases on balls, off Weber 2.

Taftville A. A.	ab	h	po	a	e	Stafford Springs	ab	h	po	a	e
Houlihan,rf	4	2	0	0	0	Scussell,3b	4	3	2	1	1
Cardie,2b	3	1	1	3	1	Pollanck,ss	3	1	2	4	0
Cardie,3b	3	1	1	3	0	M. C'hera,cf	4	0	4	0	0
L. Dugas,p	4	0	2	4	0	Wise,1b	4	1	0	0	1
A. Dugas,1b	3	2	9	0	0	Baldwin,lf	4	1	1	0	0
Lloyd Jarvis,lf	4	1	1	0	0	Taylor,rf	1	0	0	0	0
Eccleston,c	3	1	12	0	2	Piccin,rf	3	0	1	1	0
Lemieux,rf	3	1	1	0	0	B. C'hera,c	3	0	2	2	0
Verrier,ss,3b	4	1	1	2	0	Patrick,2b	3	0	1	2	0
Gauthier,ss	3	1	1	0	1	Connors,p	4	1	1	1	0
Totals	39	10	27	9	4	Totals	36	6	24	13	2

Score by innings:

Stafford Spring	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2
Taftville A. A.	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	x	—6

Two base hits, Wise, Eccleston. Hit by pitcher, by Dugas (Fitzpatrick). Struck out, by Dugas 12, by Connors 3. Bases on balls, off Dugas 2, off Connors 4.

ATHLETICS TAKE LONG GAME FROM BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, July 19.—(AP)—Fifteen innings of play against Philadelphia shattered the Browns' winning streak of six games by the score of 13 to 8 here today. Manager Sisler ran his total of consecutive hits up to twenty games when he singled in the fifth. He also got a home run.

A single, a walk and Lamotte atoned for his mistake when as scored Rice with a double to tie the score. The ninth inning tie was a result of Summons' drive over the left field fence.

About 28,500 persons attended. Score:

Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Dykes,3b	6	2	1	3	0	Rice,rf	7	2	2	0	0
Lamar,lf	8	1	4	0	0	Lamotte,ss	7	2	2	10	1
Welch,rf	3	1	4	0	0	Sisler,1b	7	3	16	0	1
French,rf	1	1	1	0	0	Williams,lf	5	1	0	0	0
Miller,1b	8	0	17	2	0	McManus,3b	6	1	0	4	0
Simmons,cf	6	2	4	0	0	Jacobson,cf	7	1	7	0	0
Berry,c	5	0	5	0	0	Harrgrave,c	3	0	3	1	0
Galloway,ss	5	0	2	3	0	Roberts,c,2b	3	1	1	3	0
Perkins,c	1	0	5	0	0	VanGilder,p	2	0	0	1	0
Bishop,2b	4	1	1	6	0	Wingard,p	1	0	1	1	0
Rommel,p	3	1	1	2	0	Stauffer,p	0	0	0	0	0
xPoole	1	0	0	0	0	Bennett	1	0	0	0	0
						xxTobin	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	54	11	45	19	0	Totals	56	13	45	17	4

(x) Batted for Berry in 12th.
(x) Batted for VanGilder in 13th.
(xx) Batted for Stauffer in 13th.
Score by innings:
Philadelphia—

	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	0	1	1-0	3	0	0	4—12

St. Louis—

	0	0	2	0	0	0	2	0	1	0	0	0	0	0—8

Two base hits, Lamotte, McManus, Hargrave, Dykes 2, Simmons, French. Three base hit, Rice, Bishop. Home runs, Galloway, Simmons and Sisler.

SHERDEL SHUTS OUT DODGERS WITH 6 HITS

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 19—Sherdel of St. Louis shut out the Dodgers today, 2 to 0, allowing six hits. Grimes pitched winning ball, but lost through Flack's triple in the third followed by Shinners' single and Bottomley's second homer of the series in the fourth. The Dodgers have scored only one run in the three days. Score:

St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Flack,rf	4	1	4	0	0	Cor,rf	4	0	1	0	1
Shinners,cf	3	1	3	0	0	Mock,3b	4	1	2	2	0
Hornsby,2b	3	1	1	3	0	Wheat,lf	4	0	4	0	0
Bottomley,1b	4	1	8	0	0	Wheat,lf	4	0	1	0	0
Hafey,lf	4	0	1	0	0	Fournier,1b	4	1	11	0	0
Toporcer,ss	4	1	1	4	0	Brown,cf	3	0	2	0	0
Bell,3b	2	1	0	1	0	Tierney,3b	4	0	0	2	0
O'Farrell,c	3	1	1	1	0	Ford,ss	3	1	4	5	0
Sherdel,p	3	0	1	2	0	xJohnston	0	0	0	0	0
						Taylor,c	4	0	3	1	0
Totals	33	8	27	8	0	xxMitchell	0	0	0	0	0
						Grimes,p	4	2	0	2	0
						Totals	33	6	27	13	1

(x) Batted for Ford in 9th.
(xx) Ran for Taylor in 9th.
Score by innings:

St. Louis	0	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	—2
Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Two base hits, Grimes. Three base hit, Flack. Home run, Bottomley.

Tenter Room Beats Office 9 to 5

The Tenter Room team of the U. S. F. Co., beat the office aggregation, Saturday, July 18, at Mohegan Park by the score of 9 to 5. Most of the office's runs were scored off LeBlanc who was ineffective and wild. Caron who replaced LeBlanc in the 3rd inning held his rivals in check, while his teammates batted their way to victory. Seed and Starr featured for the victors while Enright and Swanton featured for the losers. Morrison pitched a good game

WESTERLY

Fifty-seven of the sixty members of Battery E, 243rd C. A. (H. D.), stationed at Westerly, left the state armory, Dixon street, Sunday morning to entrain on a special troop train leaving the Westerly station at 10:30 o'clock for New London, where a transport took them to Fort H. D. Wright, Fishers Island, for a fifteen-day tour of duty. Two of the company members are in the hospital and the third guardsman is detained in Westerly where absolute business necessity requires his presence.

The battery left the state armory in heavy marching order, with packs and kits, marching by way of Railroad avenue, Canal street and Railroad aditive across the freight yard to the west-bound train shelter with officers, Captain John F. Datson, First Lieutenant E. Andrews and Second Lieutenant Charles G. Nealy. While waiting for the train, packs were unslung and the soldiers "fell out" to bid good-bye to wives, sweethearts and well wishers. Bugle call from an outpost announced the arrival of the train and the battery did a left face, by twos, to take the rear coach of the ten-car train. The regimental commanding officer, Col. C. L. D. Wells, stood on the platform, watch in hand, to note the alacrity, while the lieutenant called a step lively. During the entrainment the regimental band played a snappy popular air, which continued as the train pulled out of the station. Friday, two of the company privates left the state armory for Fishers Island to prepare equipment, while Saturday Cooks Shortman and Greene and Supply Sergeant Blackburn took their departure for the Island. For the past two days big army trucks loaded with men and equipment have passed through Westerly from the various other units of the regiment for New London, en route to Fort Wright. From many who witnessed the troops' departure was heard the remark that the Battery E boys were a fit and likely looking outfit, which would be able to hold its own with the other battery men.

The circus train of twenty cars of Christy Brothers Big 5-ring wild animal shows arrived in Westerly, Sunday morning about 6:30 o'clock, and under direction of New Haven Trainmaster William Smith was run into the Westerly yard, near the freight house. The circus came to Westerly from Plainfield, Conn., by way of Norwich and Groton. The unloading of horses and wagons was soon under way under the superintendency of a large crowd of circus fans. It was but a short haul through Industrial road to Pleasant street and Rose avenue to Riverside park, where shows were made ready for by the erection of the six-pole big top and the spectacle to precede it, "Noah and the Ark." All day Sunday crowds visited the show grounds and their appetite was whetted for the one-mile parade over the principal business streets of Westerly, to be held at noon today (Monday). Manager Bowman S. Robinson reported that the thunder storm and Friday night broke just as the crowd started to enter the main tent in Putnam so they bolted for home. Fair business was reported for Plainfield. The transfer from the freight yard to the Riverside Park circus lot was conducted without mishap, but in loading at Plainfield for Westerly the smaller of the two calliopes was capsized, resulting in some damage. Sergeant David Ward of the New Haven railroad detectives was present at the Westerly station to look out for any light-fingered gentry, who might follow the show, and will be on duty until relieved by Railroad Detective Montgomery. Following the transfer of equipment to the show ground, droves of elephants, camels, zebras, goats and other animals were dereained to follow. From Westerly the circus is scheduled to jump to Essex, Conn.

Saturday, Salvation Army tag day, held in Westerly under the auspices of the Rhode Island department of the Salvation Army, proved most gratifying to the heads of the organization and the local advisory board. The sum of $652 was collected by the lassies stationed about town; $138 was contributed by the residents of the village of Bradford and employes of the Bradford Dyeing association and $61.15 was given by the employes of the Pawcatuck Woolen company at Potter Hill. The total receipts for the day amounted to $881.15. It was explained by E. Howard Clark, chairman of the local advisory board, that the tag day Saturday was the beginning of a campaign here, which will end next Saturday. Anyone not solicited may send contribution to Chairman E. Howard Clark, or Arthur L. Perry, treasurer.

Axel Nelson, 61, of 57 Cross street, died Sunday morning. Mr. Nelson was born in Sweden but had lived in Westerly the greater part of his life. He is survived by his widow, a married sister in Sweden, four daughters, Ethel, Mrs. O. P. Chiess of Quincy, Mrs. Roland Bourne of Hartford, Selma, and three sons, Walter, Arthur and Lorin, a grandson and a granddaughter. Mr. Nelson was a popular member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and the Loyal Order of Moose.

The funeral of Mrs. Maria Dunn, widow of John Dunn, took place from her home at 150 Granite street on Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock. A high mass of requiem was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 9 o'clock by the Rev. Frederick White. During the mass Martin H. Spellman sang Vale, and Absent was sung by Thomas V. Clancy, following the final absolution. The committal service at the grave at St. Michael's new cemetery was conducted by Rev. Fr. Vincent, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The bearers were Charles and Philip Selly of Providence, Thomas M. Holiday, William E. Lynch, Maurice W. Flynn and Joseph Bray, of Westerly.

Patrolman George H. Champlin of Westerly Saturday night investigated a wrecked Studebaker sedan bigsix, Connecticut registry O-2089, of which Joseph Maresca of 20 Myrtle avenue, New Haven was the owner and operator. The automobile, with the top torn entirely off, a front wheel broken and front spring, with the glass in the windshield and all the windows on one side broken out, was found, on the crossroad from Varietyville to the White School house corner, on the Ashaway highway with two men asleep inside. Their story was to the effect that the sedan, with five passengers, turned over completely twice near Noose Neck Inn that morning about 1 o'clock, when the machine skidded on the wet highway, as it was being driven from Providence back to New Haven. It was reported that none of the occupants were injured. The machine was towed to the place where it was discovered by a passing motorist, when the wheel gave out completely. The damaged automobile was taken to a service station in Pawcatuck where a new wheel was put on and under its own power the car proceeded to New Haven.

It was reported to the Westerly police Saturday night about 10.30 o'clock that the Ford sedan of Alexander Thompson, of Bradford, had stolen from the place where it was parked, near the High school on Broad street.

The death of Frank Blosser, 45, occurred Saturday night at a private hospital in New London, where he was taken Friday, for an operation for ulcers of the stomach. Besides his wife he is survived by four children, a sister, Mrs. David Robertson and a brother, Henry Blosser of Pawcatuck.

HANDCUFFED TO MACHINE— NEW YORK DRIVER CAUGHT

(Special to the Bulletin.)

WESTERLY, July 19—The driver from New York is under $5 ball for his appearance in the Stonington town court July 27 for driving an automobile at a speed greater than was reasonable and proper on the Stonington road. The driver was stopped by a Connecticut state policeman and told to follow the policeman's motorcycle. When the cross road at Wequetequock was reached it is said a companion got out and the driver of the car slipped the motorcycle officer at the cross road which leads to Lower Pawcatuck. When the policeman turned to see if his man was following, and discovered that he was not in sight, he turned back and learned that the machine in question had turned off the main highway and was headed toward Lower Pawcatuck.

The Connecticut policeman came to Westerly, caught his man in Pawcatuck and handcuffed him to the machine. The car is being held at a garage, as security for the man's bail.

ROY LOCKWOOD SHOCKED, FALLS FROM 35-FOOT POLE

(Special to the Bulletin.)

WESTERLY, July 19—Roy Lockwood of the South County public service company was badly injured at the Atlantic Beach casino Sunday morning when he was engaged in changing over a transformer. Lockwood was at the top of a 35-foot pole, when he received a shock from 2300 volts of electricity, and fell to the ground. The wires beneath him served to break his fall somewhat.

His left leg and right arm were badly burned; the right arm skinned and the ligaments of right ankle and chest were badly sprained. A few months ago Lockwood was badly burned about the face by an electrical current.

Lockwood was attended by Dr. M. H. Scanlon at his office.

Mrs. Theresa Gingerella of 55 Pierce street, Westerly, got a broken left arm Saturday morning, when she rolled and fell down the rear back steps at her home. Dr. Michael H. Scanlon was called and attended the injured women.

On Friday, Staff Sergt. Adolph Hirshfield left Westerly where he has been with his wife since returning from Panama in the early summer, to resume his duties at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Moran and children, Florence and LeRoy left Saturday morning on an automobile camping trip, which will take them to the Canadian provinces. Saturday night was passed at Keene, N. H., and the return to Westerly will be made on the first of September.

Federal Inspector Entomologist William Ahern returned to Westerly Friday night from a two weeks' vacation visit to Montreal. In August, Inspector Ahern will make a second visit to the Canadian provinces.

Night Patrolman Vernon A. Burdick of Pawcatuck, is now doing a two weeks' tour of day duty in the absence of the regular day patrolman, C. Wilson Brown, who is enjoying a two weeks' vacation. Constable Kenyon is acting as night patrolman in Pawcatuck.

Miss Helen Gardiner returned to South Manchester, Saturday, after visiting relatives and friends in Pawcatuck. She was accompanied by Miss Gertrude Cella, who will visit Miss Rose Taylor in South Manchester.

Miss Mildred E. Whipple of Sunnyridge farm, Westerly was the week end guest of relatives and friends at the Golden Spur, New London.

Harold Chlapowski, 13, son of Peter and Anna Chlapowski, of Dudley, Mass., who disappeared from home on Friday while picking berries in a pasture with his 10 year old sister, was sought here Sunday night, at a circus, which is playing here. A search revealed no trace of the lad.

NOANK

Word has been received of the marriage of Bernard H. MacDonald and Miss Averil L. Gentry, of West Palm Beach, Fla. The ceremony took place in the Methodist church at that place, Rev. J. W. Broyles officiating. Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald will make their home in Miami, Fla. Mr. MacDonald was a former Noank boy until a few years ago when he went to Florida, where he is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Pelham, of New York, have arrived at their summer home on Riverview avenue.

Mrs. Nancy Dewey Packer, who died at a private sanitarium in New London after a long illness, was the sister of Edgar Dewey, of Front street.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Babcock, their daughter, Mrs. Irving Thompson, and their grandson Irving, have returned from several days' touring in Canada.

Arthur Anderson, of Jewett City, is employed as butcher at the Park Market.

Mrs. Donald Cammerson and Miss May Murray, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McDonald.

John Cammery has returned from Rocky Point after a few days' visit.

People here complain about thefts from their flower gardens.

The largest cottage to be built at Groton Long Point is for Dr. Colver, of New Jersey. It is 70 feet long and is on the Lagoon. It is two stories and has two garages. It is expected to be completed by the first of September.

Robert Palmer is at Block Island over the week-end.

Boat Edna A. has left for the fishing ground.

Capt. Albert Banks spent a day at Poin Judith, last week.

Lewis De Blaisi, after spending a month at the Catskills, has returned home.

Miss Annie Robertson, nurse at the Home Memorial hospital, was home on a visit recently.

Mrs. William Betsher and family, of New Jersey, is visiting in Noank.

James Campbell, after three weeks' vacation, has returned to his home in Newark, N. J.

David Davidson has returned from New Jersey.

D. Lowell spent a day in East Hartford, recently.

Howard Brown was calling on friends in Saybrook, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lockheart, of New York, are visiting the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Brown.

Mrs. Phebe Green, of Wyoming, R. I., is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tourjee.

Boat Baby, Capt. Roscoe Bocchiocci, holds the record for bringing into port the largest sword fish, weighing 450 pounds. The tail of the fish measured four feet three inches from tip to tip. All the old fishermen declare it the largest tail that they can remember. It is on exhibition at Wilbur's Market.

Bernard Carson has returned to Fishers Island after a short visit here.

George E. Main, of New Haven, was at his home, Friday.

Mrs. G. Brewer, of New London, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leapain

MYSTIC

William L. Main last week bought the I. W. Denison and Co. store, the oldest business firm in the village and no doubt in this end of the state. Isaac Wheelet Denison was born here Nov. 20, 1817 and died Nov. 29, 1895. He was educated in Mystic and learned the trade of a carpenter, working at it here and in Pensacola, Fla. He also took some sea voyages with his uncles, Capt. William Clift and Capt. Nathan G. Fish. On his return to Mystic, in 1848, he decided to engage in business and formed a co-partnership with the late Joseph Cottrell and George W. Ashby, in a mercantile business, under the name of I. W. Denison & Co. A sign with that name has been displayed for the past 77 years. Later he was associated with his brother, Daniel Denison, and the firm has been continually in existence since. In 1876 Daniel Denison died and soon after Frederick Denison became his father's partner in business and has maintained the same successful and reputable business enterprises up to the present. Frederick Denison inherited the upright qualities of mind and character which his father had. He has often been called upon to look after and settle estates, for many years. He married Miss Mary Brown in 1882. One daughter was born to them, who married Alpheus Schoonover, of Old Mystic. Some years ago, the latter joined his father-in-law in the business and has taken full charge the past few years, making many improvements and increasing the stock Many will regret to see the business go out of the Denison family but, owing to Mr. Schoonover's health, he decided to retire from business.

Mr. Main is the most prominent business man in Mystic and the largest taxpayer. He has brought up three nephews of his deceased brother and has established the eldest in the business which he carried on and now will start the second one on the road to success, it is hoped. Mr. Main is at present engaged in rebuilding the Gilbert block that stood for many years ruined by fire and that was an eyesore to everybody. He has changed the name on the front to Main and is busy planning apartments, offices and stores and when complete, Mystic will once more have one building to be proud of and the man who had the courage to rebuild it.

At the morning service at the Congregational church Sunday, Dorrance Grimes played a violin solo and Treffly Morin sang a solo.

John Flynn and R. L. Snell returned, Friday evening, from a business trip to New York.

Mrs. Lillie E. Chesebro, wife of George A. Hunt, died at her home in Center Groton, Thursday, after a long illness. She leaves her husband, three children, also seven sisters and one brother. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at her late home, with burial in the Center Groton cemetery.

The primary and kindergarten departments of the Baptist Sunday school have been discontinued until September, owing to alterations being made in the church, necessitating using the room occupied by the primary department for preaching services and the adult classes.

The annual picnic of Mrs. B. F. Davis' Sunday school class is to be held.

WILLINGTON

Mrs. Charles Benton, of West Willington, and Martin Sparrow of Staffordville, were married July, 11.

Miss Pansy Neff, a nurse, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Oscar Hemmeler.

Hazel Hansen is home from Hartford hospital, where she has been for treatment.

Miss Nellie Thrall of Hartford, who has been visiting Miss Genevieve Gardner, has returned home.

Dwight Gardner motored to Hartford and Glastonbury during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Shurling, of New York were guests at Maple Corner Monday and Tuesday.

H. Marbles, Miss Ethel Beaumont and a friend form Coventry visited Sunday Tuesday night.

Attorney William A. King and son of Willimantic were recent guests of Leon Woodworth.

Ellsworth Amidon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Amidon of Abington, who was drowned at Camp Woodstock, Sunday, was a grandson of the late Gilbert Amidon and a nephew of Charles Amidon, of Willington Hollow.

Miss Marie Louise Purssell, executive secretary of the American Orchestral association, of New York City, is visiting Miss Coleman.

George Wraight went to Yantic the past week, to cull the best pullets from a flock of chickens. Mr. Wraight is a poultry expert.

Miss Lucile Reed, of New Haven, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Reed.

George Wraight has 1700 chickens and thrity-three pheasants. His brother, Ted Wraight, has a large pheasant farm in West Hartland. These birds are hard to raise.

A Polish boy who works in Frank Parizek's button factory, was badly injured Thursday, when a shell from which he was cutting buttons, slipped and cut a deep gash in his wrist. He was taken to the Johnson hospital to have the wound dressed.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ruby Clark Ruby, Mrs. Marjorie Bliven, Mrs. Peter Brand and Leon Woodworth motored to Rhode Island and spent the day at the shore.

Mrs. Marjorie Bliven of Michigan has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. C. Ruby.

Mr. Cohn of Buff Cap, who bought 1,000 white leghorn chicks from George Wraight March 7, has pullets laying. Four started to lay when less than four months old.

Prof. Joel N. Eno of New York and Jesse Eno of Mansfield Center were guests Monday of Miss Jennie Church

Joseph Binok, Irving Taylor, William Kelly, Ernest Henry and Michael Civello, of South Manchester, were guests of Joe Kollar, Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Sidlo, Miss Violet Sidlo and Miss Lillian Soukup of New York are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Anton Dvorsky.

The church vacation school, which has been in session two weeks, closed Friday. The average attendance was over 50. The program comprised Bible stories, songs and memory work. "I will tell you," she spoke softly. creation. Rev. E. E. Sundt was director.

RADIO PROGRAMS

WHAM—Boston—250.3

10:20 a. m.—Bible readings, Rev. Don Ivan Patch, Orthodox Congregational church.

10:40 a. m.—WNAC American Women's club talks—Jean Sargeant, Martha Lee.

1 p. m.—Shepard Colonial Concert Orchestra.

3:05 p. m.—Broadcost from Braves Field, Braves vs. Chicago baseball game.

6:30 p. m.—WNAC dinner dance, broadcast from Shepard Colonial Restaurant, Shepard Colonial Orchestra, direction Billy Losses.

7:35 p. m.—Concert, broadcast from Copley-Plaza Hotel, Coply-Plaza Orchestra.

8 p. m.—Concert program.

9:30 p. m.—Program to be announced.

6:45 a. m.—Health exercises.

WEII—Boston—476

6 p. m.—Jack Brown and his orchestra.

7:15 p. m.—Lost and found articles and baseball scores.

7:30 p. m.—Musical.

8:30 p. m.—From New York, health talk.

9 p. m.—Ed Andrews and his orchestra.

10 p. m.—Talk.

WTIC—Hartford, Conn.—348.6

7 p. m.—Dinner music, Emil Heimberger's Trio, assisted by Miss Gertrude Cotter, contralto.

7:50 p. m.—Baseball scores, National American, International and Eastern leagues.

7:40 p. m.—Weather report.

7:55 p. m.—Dinner music continued.

WBZ—Springfield—333.3

7 p. m.—Program by orchestra under the direction of Frederick A. Fullen.

7:30 p. m.—Baseball results of games played by the Eastern, American and National leagues.

7:32 p. m.—Continuation of Capitol Theatre program.

9 p. m.—Aleppo Drum Corps of Shriners' Band, broadcast direct from their band room.

9:30 p. m.—Whistling solos by Althea Tibbetts, accompanied by Gertrude Gibson.

9:43 p. m.—Piano numbers by B. Gasson.

10 p. m.—Concert by Lenox E. Bigelow, baritone.

10:15 p. m.—Soprano recital by Ida Mae Lyons.

10:30 p. m.—Market report as furnished by the United States department of agriculture at Boston.

10:40 p. m.—"At the Theatre" with A. L. S. Wood.

10:50 p. m.—Baseball results of games played in the Eastern, American and National leagues.

10:55 p. m.—Arlington time signals; official United States weather reports, missing persons' descriptions.

1:05 p. m.—Twin Elm Orchestra under the direction of Joseph McNamara.

WJAR—Providence—305.9

7:45 p. m.—"Berry Spring Time."

8:15 p. m.—Musical program.

8:50 p. m.—Joseph M. Tally speaking in behalf of the St. Vincent de Paul Asylum.

9 p. m.—"Block Island Vacation Hour."

WCTS—Worcester—986

10:45 a. m.—Talk by the Sherer staff nurse, Miss Marjorie Woodman, R. N.

11 a. m.—Produce market and weather report.

12 to 2 p. m.—Noonday luncheon music by the WCTS Trio, under the direction of Mr. Benny Resh, and broadcast direct from the Sherer restaurant.

4:15 p. m.—"Canning Hints," by William R. Cole of the Massachusetts Agricultural college, co-operating with the Worcester County Extension service.

7:15 p. m.—"The Twinkle Twinkle Story Teller."

7:30 p. m.—Baseball scores Silent Night.

KICKED BY HORSE HAS LEFT LEG BROKEN

Fred Lewie, 30, of Lebanon is a patient at the Backus hospital with a compound fracture of the left leg below the knee from a kick of a horse Sunday morning. He was sent to the hospital by Dr. C. C. Gilmore after the doctor had been called to the injured man in Lebanon.

Excursion to New York

Round Trip Fare $3.00

Sunday, July 26th

Special Train

Lv. Norwich 6:30 a. m.
Lv. New London 7:00 a. m.
Due New York 10:00 a. m.

Returning

Lv. New York 6:20 p. m.
Due New London 9:15 p. m.
Due Norwich 9:50 p. m.

Eastern Standard Time
Limited number of Tickets at Railroad Station.

The N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. CO.

BROADWAY

TODAY—TUES.—WED.
MAT. 2:15—EVE. 7-8:45

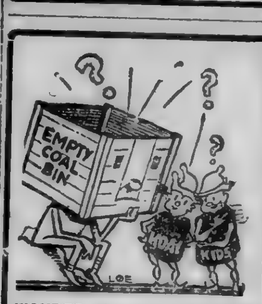
STRIKE UP THE BAND HERE IS A PICTURE!

ADOLPH ZUKOR and JESSE L. LASKY present

THOMAS MEIGHAN in "OLD HOME WEEK"

Grab Your Hat and Get in Line—It's His Latest, Biggest, Best

COMEDY—NEWS



WONDER what a coal bin thinks about? Suppose it says to itself: "Wonder if the folks are going to fill me up this Summer or let me and my pal, the furnace, go on worrying about how high the price will go this winter."

SAFE HEAT

The Edward Chappell Company

Telephone 24

Palace Theatre

DOUBLE FEATURES TODAY

Virginia Valli in "Up The Ladder"

Richard Talmadge in "Tearing Thru"

Matinee: Adults 15c; Children 5c

Evening: Adults 25c; Children 10c

Matinee at 2:15—Evening 7 to 10:30

FORD TOURING CAR

BRAND NEW 1925 MODEL WITH DRIVING LESSONS TO SOME LUCKY PATRON

THURSDAY NIGHT

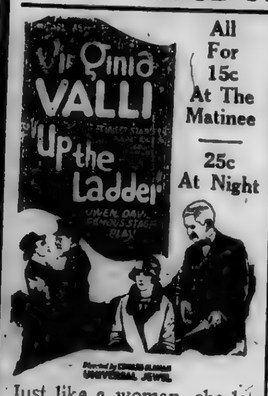
GET COUPONS FROM ANY OF THE STORES LISTED IN THIS AD. WITH EVERY FIFTY CENT PURCHASE.

ASK FOR COUPONS

TODAY—TODAY

THE BIGGEST PICTURE PROGRAM IN TOWN.

2 — GOOD FEATURES — 2



All For 15c At The Matinee

25c At Night

Just like a woman, she let him think his brains had won their success, but when another woman turned up she out-smarted them both. A brilliant clash of love against desire!

5 PARAMOUNT ACTS THURS., FRI. and SAT.

A Rattling Good Speed and Laugh Show!

A daring youth risking his life amid the dens and twisted streets of New York's far-famed Chinatown—where bullets whizz by his head—where dirks flash in the half light — It's a humdinger!

Schwartz Bros.

WE FURNISH HOMES COMPLETE.

"The Big Store With the "Little Prices."

ASK FOR COUPONS.

FOR EXCLUSIVE WEDDING GIFTS GO TO DISCO BROS

255 Main Street Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Savard Bros. Inc.

"THE LEADING MEN'S STORE."

207 Main Street Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

LEROU'S DRUG STORE

289 MAIN STREET

GET THE LUCKY COUPON HERE.

R. F. SMITH

FANCY GROCERIES.

276 Main Street Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

FOOTWEAR The Geo. W. Kies Co.

118 Main Street.

"QUEEN QUALITY" and GROVER SHOES.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

GET THE LUCKY COUPON AT THE LUCKY STORE

And Besides We Sell for Less.

The Pasnik Co.

CHAIN STORES

ASK FOR COUPONS.

White Star Co.

WATCH OUR WINDOW FOR OUR SPECIALS.

LUCKY COUPONS GIVEN HERE

CARON'S SPECIALTY SHOP

140 Main Street

BON TON CORSETS

GOOD SPORT HOSE FOR 50c

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Macpherson's

"Quality Corner"

For Correct Things in Men's Wear.

291 Main Street.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Eagle Clothing Co.

Trachtenberg's.

MEN'S AND LADIES' CLOTHING, FURNISHINGS AND FURS.

Special Prices This Week.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

MOHICAN MARKET

Six Stores Under One Roof

FRESH SEASONABLE FOODS.

GET YOUR LUCKY COUPONS HERE

ANYTHING IN THE LINE OF MUSIC.

The Hanover-Curland Co.

24 Franklin Street, Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Preston Bros. Co.

Franklin Square.

HARDWARE SPORTING GOODS AND RADIOS

ASK FOR COUPONS.

SELF-SERVICE SHOE STORE

Thayer Building.

Where the Dollar Still Buys a Dollar's Worth.

WATCH OUR WINDOW FOR SPECIALS.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

THE BOSTON STORE

WE SERVE YOU ALWAYS

REID & HUGHES

ASK FOR COUPONS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

REVIEW OF BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, July 19—Signs of weariness were evident in last week's bond market, which was marked by colorless trading. With prices drifting irregularly lower despite a relaxation of money rates, investment dealers were inclined to believe that the market has passed its peak for the present and could only be roused to fresh activity through a drastic alteration in the money outlook.

In this connection, prospects for sustained ease were held to be less favorable and Wall street watched closely for any indications of a definite upturn in the trend. Recent recurring periods of temporarily tightened credit convinced financial circles that a broader demand for funds existed in interior manufacturing and agricultural centers, which was likely to turn the flow of funds away from Wall street. For the first time in many weeks, rumors were heard of a prospective increase in the New York federal reserve rediscount rate, but as usual they proved groundless.

Arrangements were completed during the week for the first loan ever floated by the commonwealth of Australia in the United States— a $75,000,000 bond issue underwritten by J. P. Morgan and company. Terms of the financing, which had been eagerly awaited by the financial district during several weeks of negotiations, placed Australia in the same credit ranking with the Dominion of Canada, heretofore the only British colonial borrower in this market. A public offering of thirty year, five-per cent. bonds will be made tomorrow at a price of 99 1-2, simultaneously with the marketing of 5,000,000 pound loan in London at the same price.

Other foreign financing in prospect for this week includes a $10,000,000 25 year 6 1-2 per cent. loan for the city of Cologne, Germany, which will be sold at a price of about 88. Following Berlin, Cologne is the second German city to borrow in New York this year. The award of a new Danish refunding loan, which will scale down present interest charged from 8 to 5 1-2 per cent., is expected at an early date. Several New York banking groups are competing for the business, which probably will total $30,000,000. A rise in Danish kronen to the highest point in several years was linked with the government's financing program.

Offerings already in sight ensure a marked expansion in the volume of business over last week, when the total of new bond issues was only about $41,000,000, a sharp drop from the $112,000,000, of the preceding week. Various complications of capital flotations in the first half of 1925 agreed that all records for this period of the year had been broken. The total, including both new capital and refunding operations, was placed by Dillon, Read and Company at $3,442,000,000. Corporate financing alone was estimated at about $2,762,000,000.

A search for interesting price movements in bond dealings on the stock exchange last week produced few changes of importance. Reorganization developments, including a 40 per cent. cash distribution to holders of 7 per cent. bonds, bolstered up the Virginia-Carolina chemical issues. Some of the oil, copper and rubber issues followed the upward trend of stocks, but daily fluctuations were mainly limited to fractions.

An extension of the time limit for deposit of St. Paul railway bonds and stocks under the reorganization plan was announced last week by the reorganization managers, who stated that holders of over $44,000,000 in bonds and $23,000,000 in stock, or one tenth of the outstanding securities, had signified their assent to the program.

STOCKS.

Sales in hundreds	High.	Low.	Close
2 Abitibi P & P.	68	67¾	68
1 Adv Rumely pr	53½	53½	53½
5 Air Reduct ...105	105	105	105
5 Ajax Rubber . 14	14	14	14¼
7 Alaska J Gold	1¾	1¾	1¾
2 Al Chem & Dye	89½	89½	89½
2 Al Chalmers ..	53½	53½	53½
22 Am Ag Chem .	22¾	20¾	22¾
51 Am Agri Ch pr.	65	62½	63¾
5 Am Bosch Mag.	34¼	34½	34½
109 Am Can 205	206	204¼	107¼
1 Am Car & F ..103	103¾	103¾	103¾
2 Am Chicle	50½	50¾	50¾
19 Am & F Pow.	44½	43½	43¾
1 Am & F P pr	91	91	91
1 Am Hide & L.	12½	12½	12½
9 Am Ice	117¾	116¼	116½
2 Am Inter	37¾	37¼	37¼
11 Am LaF F En	13	13	13
1 Am Linseed ..	28¾	28¾	28¾
1 Am Linseed pr	73	73	73
3 Am Loco 115	115¼	115	115
3 Am Radiator .103	103½	103¼	103¾
97 Am Saf Razor.	64	62¾	63½
7 Am Ship&Com.	7	7	7
3 A Smelt & Ref106	106¼	106	106¼
1 Am Sm&Ref pr110	110¾	110¾	110¾
37 Am St Fdry ..	40	38¼	39¾
12 Am Sug Ref ..	63¾	63¾	63¾
19 Am Sum Tob .	11½	10¾	11¼
4 Am Tel & Tel.	141¾	141	141¼
11 Am Tob	98Z	98¾	98¾
4 Am Tob B	98	97¼	98
1 Am Tob pr ..107	107	107	107
63 Am W W & R	57	56¾	57
1 A WW & E 1 pr	99¾	99¾	99¾
7 AWW&E partg p	109¼	108½	109¾
3 Am Wool	39¼	39¼	39¼
3 Am Wool pr ..	82¼	82¼	82¾
1 Am WrP p ctfs	1½	1⅜6	1½
1 Am Zinc L	30½	30½	30¾
39 Anaconda Cop	43¾	42¾	43¼
2 Ann Arbor	33	33	33
1 Ann Arbo pr ..	56½	56½	56½
5 A Don Mid	37½	37	37½
3 Arm&Co Del .	98	98	98
1 Arm&Co Ill A	23	22¾	23
2 Arnold Consta.	9¼	9¼	9¼
4 Asso Dry Gds .	55	54¾	55
2 Asso Oil	38¾	38¾	38Z
4 Atchison 118	119¾	119¾	119¾
12 Atchison pr ..	97	96¼	96¾
2 Atl Bir & At ..	4¾	4¾	4¾
3 Atl Coast L ..165	164½	164¼	164½
3 Atl Refi 113	113	113¾	113¾
3 Atl Refin 113	113	113¾	113¾
5 Atlas Tack	10¾	10	10¼
3 Austin Nichols	24¾	24¾	24¾
7 Baldwin Loco .115	114¾	114¾	115
3 Balt & Ohio ..	76¾	76	76¼
4 Balt & O pr ..	65¾	65¾	65¾
1 Bang & Aroos.	40¾	40¾	40¾
1 Bang & Aros pr	93	92	93
2 Barnsdall ClassA	24½	24¼	24¼
1 Beechnut Pack	69	69	69
9 Beth Steel	43¾	42¾	43
4 Booth Fish ...	5½	5½	5½
9 Briggs Mfg Co	41¾	41	41
2 Bkyn Edi Inc.	137½	137½	137½
9 Bkyn Man Tran	54¾	53¾	53¾
6 Bkyn Un Gas .	91	89½	91
1 Bruns Bal Col	29½	29	29
2 Burns Bros ...103	103¾	103¾	103¾
1 Burr Ad Mach	88	88	88
1 Bush Term ...	17Z	17¾	17¾
1 Bush Ter deb .	87¾	87¾	87¾
1 Butte Con	6¼	6¼	6¼
8 Butte & Sup ..	12¼	12¼	12¾
1 Calif Pack 115	115¼	115¼	115¼
9 Calif Petrol . ..29	28¾	28¾	28¾
1 Calum & Ariz.	50¼	50¼	50¼
1 Cast Th Mach	80	80	80
6 Cent Leath pr.	64½	63¼	63¾
7 Century Rib Mil	34½	33½	33¾
9 Cerro de Pas Cp	54	54	54
7 Certainteed Pro	52	51¾	51¾
7 Chandler Motor	33	32½	32¾
8 Ches & O	94	93¾	93¾
1 Chi & Alton ..	4¾	4¾	4¾
1 Chi & E Ill pr.	46	46	46
10 Chi Gt West .	12¾	11¾	11¾
4 Chi Gt W pr ..	24½	24½	24½
1 Chi M & St P	8	8	8
12 Chi & N'west.	63¾	63½	63¾
1 Chi & N'w pf.	110	110	110
13 Chi Pneu Tool.	98	97¼	98
13 C R I & P	46¼	45¾	45¾
1 Chi Yel Cab ..	50	50	50
7 Childs Cop ...	58¼	57½	57¾
10 Chrysler Corp .	109½	108¾	109½
5 Chile Copper .	35	35	35
4 Chrysler Cp pr	101	101	101
1 Cluett Peabody	63¾	63¾	63¾
21 Coca Cola . .	132½	121	121½
7 Col Fuel & Ir.	42	41¾	41¾
19 Col Gas & El.	67	66¼	66½
1 Com Solv A ..	90¾	90	90
1 Com Solv B ..	90	90	90
6 Cong Nairn ..	25¾	25¾	25¾
2 Consol Cigar .	36¾	36¾	36¾
1 Consol Cig pr.	84¾	84¾	84¾
23 Consol Dis	5	4¾	5
222 Consol Gas	5	4¾	5
14 Consol Can ..	72¾	71¾	71¾
2 Cont Insur 113	113¾	113¼	113¼
15 Cont Motors ..	10¼	10	10
7 Corn Prod Ref	36½	36	36¼
45 Cruci Steel ...	71	69	70½
12 Cub Cn Sug pr	51¾	50¾	51
2 Cub Am Sug ..	29	28¾	29
5 Cub Dom Sug	3½	3½	3¼
1 Cush Sons Inc .	73½	73½	73½
2 Cudahy Pack .10	102	102	102
1 Cayamel Fruit.	55	55	55
1 Dan Boone WM	1	1¼	1¼
3 Davison Chem.	35¾	35¼	35⅝
3 De Beers Mines	21⅜	21⅜	21⅜
1 Deere & Co pr.	98	98	98
2 Del & Hud ..149	149¼	149	149½
1 Det Edison ...125	125½	125¼	125½
Det Edison odlt	126	126	126
75 Dodge Bros ...	28¾	28¾	28¼
192 Dodge Bros pr	83½	83	83
2 Dome Mines ..	15¼	15¼	15½
3 Doug Pect Corp	20	19¾	20
2 DuP de Nem .180	180¾	180¾	180¾
1 DuP de Nem db	100	100	100
25 East Kod 106	106¾	106	106
27 Eaton Axle&Spr	19¾	18Z	18¾
82 El Pw & Lt ...	39¾	39¼	39½
1 ElP&Lt 40pcpr	110	110	110
22 El Pw & Lt pr	91	90¾	91
5 El Stor Bat ..	63¾	63¼	63¾
5 Endi John	69	68¾	68¾
2 Erie R R	27¾	27	27⅝
4 Erie 1 pr	37¾	37¼	37¼
106 Fairb Morse ..	49¾	49½	49½
7 Fam Play	103¾	103¾	103¾
5 Fam Play	5¾	5¾	5¾
20 Fed Lt & Tr .	32Z	31¾	32
1 Fisher Body .	74¾	74¾	74¾
48 Fisk Rub	21	21¼	21¼
4 Fisk Rub 1 pr	107	106¾	106¾
2 Fleischman Co	91¼	91	91
13 Foundation Co	130¾	129	129⅝
6 Freeport Texas	15¾	15¼	15¾
3 Gen A Tk Car	102	101¼	101¼
6 Gen Asphalt ..	54¼	53¾	53¼
3 Gen Cigar	91	90¾	91
16 Gen Elec 390		386¾	386¾
2 Gen El Spl	11¾	11½	11¾
29 Gen Motors ..	86	85¼	85¾
1 Gen Mot pr ..112		112	112
21 Gen Pet	57¼	556⅞	57
7 Gen Ry Sig ...	202½	198	202¼
1 Gen Ry Sig pr	94¾	94¾	94¾
2 Ginter Co	41	41	41½
79 Glidden Co	22¾	22	22
3 Gold Dust	39¾	39¾	39¾
8 Goodrich Co ..	57¾	57	57
1 Goodrich Co pr	99½	99¼	99¼
4 Gdyr T & R pr	103¾	103¼	103¾
1 Gdyr T&R pr p	105	105	105
4 Gt North pr ..	68¾	68¾	68¾
4 Gt North pr sub	29¾	29¼	29¾
4 Gt West Sug .105		104	106
1 Greene Can Cop	14¾	14¾	14¾
19 Gulf Sts Steel.	85	84½	84¾
9 Havana Elec .189	194	188	189
1 Hartman Corp.	28¾	28¾	28¾
81 Hayes Wheel .	42¼	40¾	42¼
4 Household Prod	43¾	43½	43¾
2 Hud & Manh .	32¾	32⅜	32¾
9 Hudson Motor.	64¾	63¾	63¾
16 Hupp Motor ...	19	18	18⅞
29 Ill Central 114	114½	114¼	114¼
29 Ind Oil & Gas	38¼	37¾	37¾
Ingersol H adl	226	224	226
3 Inland Steel ...	41¾	41¾	41¾
5 Inspir Cop	29	28½	29½
2 Inter Rap Trans	28½	28¼	28¼
8 Int Ag new ...	14½	14¾	14½
2 Int Bus Mach.	129¼	128	128
2 Int Cement	68¾	68¾	68¾
8 Int Comb Eng .	42¼	42¼	42¼
6 Int Har new ..111		110¾	110¾
4 Int Mer Mar ..	8Z	8½	8¾
13 Inter Nickel ..	30	29	29¾
1 Int Nickel pr .	98¾	98¾	98¾
12 Int Paper	66¾	66¼	66¾
1 Int Paper pr ..	89¾	89¾	89¾
6 Int R R Cent A	21¼	20½	21¼
3 Int Shoe 175		175	175
7 Int Tel & Tel.	123	122	123
4 Intertypet Cp .	20¼	20¼	20¼
1 Jones Bros Tea	18¼	18¼	18¾
1 Jordan Motors .	39¾	39¾	39¾
4 Kans City Sou	32¼	32¼	32¼
2 Kayser & Co ..	32½	32½	32½
13 Kelly Sp Tire .	20¼	19¾	20¼
62 Kennecot Cop .	54¼	53¾	53¾
18 Keystone T & R	3	3¼	3¼
1 Kinney & Co pr	97¼	97¾	97¼
3 Kresge Dp Strs	37¾	36½	36¾
2 Lee Rub & Tire	17¼	17¼	17¼
1 Lehigh Valley.	78¼	78¼	78¼
10 Lig & Myers .	66¾	66¾	66¾
10 Lig & My B B.	65¾	64¾	65¾
2 Loew's Inc ...	29	28¾	29
3 Loft Inc	7⅝	7¼	7⅝
9 Lorillard Co .	24¾	24½	24⅝
1 Lorillard Co pr	115	115	115
1 Louisiana Oil .	18	18	18
2 Louis & Nash	110¼	110½	110¼
3 Ludlum Steel.	35¾	34¾	34¾
3 Mer Stores B .	96¾	96¾	96¼
70 Mack Truck ..189		186¾	188½
60 Mack Tr rts ..	15	14⅞	15
6 Macy & Co ...	87½	86	87½
7 Magma Cop ...	42½	52¼	52¼
2 Mallison &o Co	25¼	25¼	25¼
1 Manh Guar ...	97½	97¾	97¼
3 Manh El mtggt	47	46½	46½
3 Maoacai Oil .	27	26½	27
153 Marland O&Ref	45¾	45¾	45¾
2 Mar Rockwell.	24¾	24¾	24¾
21 Martin Parry .	29¾	28	28
1 Math Alkali' ..	81½	81¾	81½
1 Max M Cl Arts	115	115	115
37 Max M ClB ctfs	109¼	108¾	109¼
4 May Rept St.	115½	115½	115½
5 Mid Cont Pet	33¾	32¼	33¼
1 Miami Copp ...	10¾	10¾	10¾
6 Mid Sts Oil ..	2¼	2¼	2¼
13 Mo K & T	33	32¾	32¾
1 Mo K & T pr .	84¾	84¼	84¼
18 Mo Pacific	35	33¾	33¾
13 Mo Pac pr ...	83¼	800	80
24 Mont Power ..	87¾	86½	86¾
3 Moon Motor ..	33¾	33	33¼
130 Montg Ward..	63	61½	63
22 Motor Wheel .	31Z	31¼	31½
10 Nat Acme stp.	7½	7⅝	7¼
8 Nat Biscuit ..	70½	70⅛	70¼
7 Nat Clk & Su	71	71	71
7 Nat Dai Prod .	56¾	55⅝	55⅝
3 Nat Dep Strs .	42¼	42	42¼
1 Nat Dp St 1 pr	96½	96½	96½
67 Nat Dist Prod.	37	36¼	37
5 Nat Dis Pro pr	67¾	67⅝	67⅝
1 Nat Lead 149		149	149
1 Nat Ry Mx pr.	2	2	2
1 Nat Sup Del .	61½	61½	61½
7 Dist Con Cop .	13¾	13¾	13¾
71 N Y Air Brk ...	50¾	49¾	49¾
4 N Y Air Brk A.	55	55	55
10 N Y Canners .	45	44	44¾
4 N Y Central ..117	117½	117¼	117½
3 NY Ch&St L pr	91¾	91¾	91¾
22 N Y N H & H	31¾	31¾	31½
7 NY Ont & West	24¾	24¼	24¼
7 N Y Shiu Bldg	25	25	25
3 Nor Southern.	33¾	33¼	33¾
6 Nor & West ...129		128¾	129
54 Nor American.	57¾	56¾	57
7 North Pacific.	66¼	65¼	66
10 Orpheum Cir .	29	28¾	29
15 Otis Elea 133	133½	130	133½
14 Otis Steel	13½	12¾	13½
6 Owens Bot	54¾	54½	54½
6 Pac Gas & El.115		114	114¾
9 Pac Oil	58	57¾	58
90 Packard M Co ..	34½	33¾	34
3 Paige Detroit .	21	20¾	20¾
7 Pan Am Pet Tr	76¼	76¼	76¾
31 Pan Am PtTr B	76¼	76¼	76¾
1 Park & Tilford	29¾	29¾	29¾
1 Pen & Ford Lt	24¼	24¼	24½
9 Pen R R	46¾	46¾	46¾
19 Penn Seab St	1½	1⅝	1⅝
8 Peop Gas Chi .117		117	117
5 Phila Co	60Z	60¼	60¼
21 P&R C&Ir	41½	40¾	41½
5 Philip Morris .	18¾	18½	18¾
36 Phil Pet	46½	45¾	45¾
12 Phoenix Hois.	33	32½	37¾
45 Pierce Arrow..	32½	31¾	32¼
10 Pierce Ar pr ..	77¼	77	77
1 Pierce A prpr.	155	155	155
2 Pierce Oil	2	1⅝	1⅝
3 Pierce Pet	6¼	6⅛	6¼
1 Pitts Util pr ..	15	15	15
5 Pitts & W Va.	70½	70¾	70¼
2 Postum Cereal	118	118	118
5 Pub Ser N J .	72¾	72	72¾
1 Pub Ser N Jpr	100¾	100Z	100⅝
3 Pullman Co ..140		140	140
11 Punta Al Sug	35¾	35¾	35⅝
12 Pure Oil	29⅝	29½	29½
1 Pure Oil pr ...107		107⅝	107⅝
193 Radio Corp ..	56¼	54½	55
3 Radio Cp pr A	49¾	49¾	49¾
3 Ry Steel Sp ..124		124¼	124¾
63 Ray Consol ..	15¼	14⅝	15⅜
14 Reading	88¼	87	87½
1 Read 1 pr	39¼	39¼	39¼
16 Read 2 pr	41¾	41¾	42¼
4 Rem Type	74¾	73½	74¼
14 Rep Steel	16	15⅝	15⅝
6 Rep I & St	48¼	48¼	48¼
1 Reynolds Sp ..	9¼	9¼	9¼
21 Reyns Tob B ..78		78	78¼
7 Reis Rob & Co	26	25	25
1 Rossia Ins	89½	89½	89½
9 Roy Dutch NY	55¼	55	55¼
11 St Jos Lead ..	42	41¾	42
12 St L San Fr ..	85¾	85	85¾
7 Savage Arms .	58¼	56¾	56¾
1 Seab Air L	33	33	33
9 Seagrave Corp.	15½	15⅜	15⅝
41 Sears Roeb ..181		178¾	181¼
1 Shat F G Co ...	69	69	69
1 Shell Tr & Trad	42¼	42½	42¼
7 Shell Un Oil ..	24Z	24¼	24¾
1 Simmons Co ..	44¼	44¼	44¼
1 Simmons Co pr	101¾	101¾	101¾
93 Sinc Con Oil ..	23	22½	23
1 Sinc Son pr ...	93¾	93¼	93¼
8 Skelly Oil	28	27¾	27¾
1 South Ry pr ..	86½	85¼	86¼
2 Spicer Mfg	23¾	23¼	23¾
50 Stand Gas&E ..	57	56¾	56¾
1 Stand G&E pr.	53¾	53¾	53¾
1 S O of Cal	59	59	59
7 Stand O N J ..	44¾	44¾	44¼
1 Stand O N J pr	116¾	116¾	116¾
3 Stand Pl Glass	10¾	10½	10½
7 Sterling Prod .	73¼	72¾	73
51 Stew War Spd	69¾	67¾	69¼
50 Studebaker ...	48¾	48¼	48¾
1 Sub Boat	8⅝	8⅝	8⅝
2 Sup Oil	4	4	4
4 Symington c .	15¼	14½	15⅛
18 Ten C & C ...	12¼	12	12
15 Tex Gulf Sulp.	111	110¾	110⅝
2 Texas & Pac ..	48¾	48¾	48¾
1 Third Ave	13¾	13¾	13¾
3 Tide Wat Oil n	35¾	35½	35½
29 Timk Roll B ..	45½	44¾	44¾
6 Tob Prod C A	101¾	101Z	101¾
18 Trans Oil	5⅝	4	4⅝
1 Under Type ...	47¼	47¼	47¼
3 Union Oil	⅝	⅝	⅝
1 Un Oil Cal ...	37¾	37¾	37¾
15 Un Pacific 139		139¼	139¼
4 Un Pacific pr ..	76¼	76	76¼
1 Un Tank Car .128		128¾	128¾
17 Unit Al Steel ..	29	28	28¼
66 United Cig Strs	85	84	84¾
2 United Fruit .	218	218	218
1 United Ry Inv .	27¾	27¾	27¾
12 US CIP& Fnd .163		160½	162
1 US CIP&F pr .100		100	100
13 U S Distrib ...	36¾	36¼	36¼
8 U S Hiff Mach	39	38¾	39
29 U S Ind Alco .	87¼	86¼	88¾
1 U S Real & Im	139¼	139¼	139¼
68 U S Rubber ...	63¾	62¼	63¼
6 U S Rub 1 pr .108		108½	108¾
175 U S Steel 119		119¾	119¾
1 U S Tob pr ...111		111	111
1 Univ Pi & Ra.	35	34¼	36
19 Univ P & R pr	73¼	71	73½
17 Vanadium Corp	31¾	30½	30½
50 Va Car Chem .	6	5¾	6
151 Va Car Ch pr.	14¼	13¾	14½
1 Va Ry & Pow .120		120¾	120¾
19 WDabash R R .	32¾	32¾	32½
9 Wabash pr A .	67¾	67¾	67½
1 Ward Bak Co A156		156	156
9 Ward Bak Co B	67¾	67¼	67¼
14 Warren Bros Co	49¾	49	49¼
1 West Penn Co	127	127	127
1 West Penn Pw pf110		110	110
7 West Mary	15	14⅞	14⅞
4 West Mary 2 pr	23	22	22
2 West Pac	34	33⅞	33⅞
5 West Un Tel .132		132½	132½
1 West Air Bk .106		105½	105¾
16 West E & M .	73¾	72¾	73½
21 West Elec Inst	15Z	15	15
5 West El Ins A .	24¾	24½	24¼
31 Wheel & L E .	19½	19	19¼
30 Wh & L E pr .	42	39¼	39¼
8 White Eag Oil.	28¼	28¾	28¾
32 White Motors .	73¾	72¾	73
4 White Rock ctf	41	40½	40¼
1 Wick St ctfs .	8¾	8¾	8¾
44 Willys Over ..	20	19⅝	19⅞
20 Willys Ov pr .104		104	104¼
20 Woolworth Co .168		161	162½
1 Worth Pump ..	41¾	41½	41¼
24 Wright Aero ...	31¾	30¾	31¼
1 Wrigley Jr Co.	52	52	52
5 Yel Cab B	43½	43⅛	43⅛

KILLED IN FALL FROM AUTO NEAR PLAINFIELD

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, July 19.—Mrs. Anna Arosin, 32, wife of Edward Arosin, of Moosup, was killed when she fell from the automobile in which she was a passenger, Saturday evening. The accident happened on the state road, in the town of Plainfield. The woman was a former resident in Jewett City, was an operative in the Ashland mill, and lived with her family on Carey avenue, in the Ashland section of the borough.

Mrs. Arosin had been in Jewett City all the week. Saturday, her husband, a loomfixer in Moosup, came to take her home.

Mrs. Arosin was well known in part of the borough, and is remembered with complimentary mention. Her husband and two children survive.

Saturday evening, many Jewett City people passed the place where the woman met her death, before the body was removed to her home in Moosup. The report was then current, and so reached the borough, that the accident had occurred as the passengers were changing seats, while the machine was in motion.

AMERICAN WOOLEN POSTS WAGE CUT NOTICE

Notices of 10 per cent wage cut effective in all the mills of American Woolen Co., were posted Saturday in the three Norwich mills of the company, two at Thamesville and one at Yantic.

Approximately 600 are at present employed at Thamesville and 400 at Yantic. The cut goes into effect July 27.

Fire in Automobile

Squad A responded to a telephone call from North Main street at 9.39 o'clock Sunday evening for a fire in a Ford runabout, No. 100,110, owned by a J. B. Burns. The fire resulted from a short circuit and had been practically quenched with water when Squad A arrived.

TASTE OF BLUE LAWS FOR PRESIDENT OF NEPTUNE PARK ASS'N. N. LONDON

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 19.—Complaint was made to the police this afternoon by a resident of Neptune park that carpenter work was in progress at the residence of Dr. Thomas C. Woodruff, also of the park. Patrolman Dennis Murphy was sent to the location of the alleged building operations and determined that the work in progress would only occupy a half hour and it was allowed to be completed because of necessity What adds interest to the incident is the fact that Dr. Woodruff is president of the Neptune Park Association and has always been especially active in promoting the care and advantages of the park for his associate stockholders in the exclusive organization.

Edward R. Geer of this city, a large stockholder of the Connecticut Motor Transportation company, caused the arrest of Joseph Casa, Ocean avenue, and operator of a public service automobile Saturday morning, Mr. Geer alleging that Cash solicited patronage, in violation of the rights accorded the motor transportation company by the state and in violation of the city ordinances. Cash was not prosecuted, however, for Mr. Geer did not have witnesses to corroborate his accusation. Cash, it was alleged, solicited patrons of one of the Connecticut Motor Transportation Company's buses on State street, which was about to make a trip to Chesterfield and as a result of the alleged solicitation, Cash received several fares that were intended for the bus line. Cash denied the accusation, stating that he obtained several fares on State street and near one of the buses, but instead of soliciting them, the patrons sought his services to take them to their destination.

Miss Helen Clark, registered nurse at Hartford, is spending a few days as guest of Miss Florence Pendergast, 48 Montauk avenue.

Miss Arline Babson has returned to her home in Danielson, concluding several days' visit with Miss Mary Moriarty.

The condition of Mrs. Michael J. Sullivan, of Alger place, under treatment at Lawrence hospital for some time, is reported as being considerably improved.

Nick Postoinz, 230 Woodbridge street, a patient at Home Memorial hospital, returned to his abode Saturday.

Harold Denison, about 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Denison, 94 Blackhall street, who was taken into custody in Waterford Friday afternoon by State Policeman Bernard Kenerson, after Denison had been in the woodland there four days subsiding on berries and herbs, examined by City Physician George P. Cheney, Saturday, and ordered committed to the Norwich state hospital.

The Mutual Benefit association, comprising employes of the Whiton Machine company, held its annual picnic at Richards Grove, Waterford, on Saturday.

The annual outing of the three orders of Independent Order of B'nai B'rith this city, Norwich and Middletown, was held at Woodland Grove, Waterford, today and was attended by about 250 members. An athletic programme featured the day.

Frank Scales and Miss Carmen Diaz, were married Saturday morning by Justice of the Peace Morris Lubchansky, the ceremony taking place at the office of the attorney, Bank street.

Dr. John N. Dimon, 604 Bank street, was struck and slightly injured by an automobile, owned and driven by Reginald Davison, 77 Cottage street, Groton, on Bank street, near Division street Saturday evening. Davison was operating his machine in a northerly direction and struck the physician as the latter stepped from the curb to cross to the opposite side of the street. Dr. Dimon was knocked to the pavement, but after being taken to his home it was found that he had not been injured more seriously than getting bruises and scratches.

Samuel M. Prentice, Federal street, is spending a few days in New York.

Mrs. Annie Schultz, an aged resident of Miami, Fla., who is spending a few days in this city, was stricken with a heart attack while riding in an automobile on State street, Saturday noon. She was taken to a nearby store where she was attended by a physician and then removed to her room at Ocean Beach. Mrs. Schultz has been a sufferer from 9.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

DUERR—In Mystic, July 16, 1925, a son, to Lillian and the late Ebenezer Duerr, of Godfrey street.

BOURNE—In Hartford, Conn., July 12, 1925, a daughter, Miriam, to Mr. and Mrs. Roland B. Bourne.

SHELDON—In New London, July 17, 1925, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sheldon.

VEERS—In New London, July 18, 1925, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Veers.

DIED

GORDON—In Jerusalem, Palestine, July 14, 1925, Max Gordon, 58, formerly of this city.

SMITH—In Preston, July 18, 1925, A. Arthur Smith, of Norwich.

Funeral services at Gager's parlors, 70 Franklin street, Monday, July 20, at 3:30. Burial in family lot in Yantic cemetery. Please omit flowers.

BLOESER—In New London, July 18, 1925, Frank Bloeser, of Pawcatuck, Conn., aged 45 years.

NELSON—In Westerly, July 19, 1925, Axel Nelson, aged 61 years.

MURPHY—In Ashaway, R. I., July 16, 1925, Sarah Florence, widow of James W. Murphy, aged 71 years.

SPARGO—In Pawtucket, R. I., July 16, 1925, Maria Ann, widow of Hugh Spargo, aged 83 years.

FUNERALS

SHELDON—In Day Kimball hospital, Putnam, Conn., July 17, 1925, Willard W. Sheldon, of Central Village, in his 73rd year.

Funeral services at the home of his son, W. Franklin Sheldon, Mohsup, Conn., Monday, July 20, at 12 o'clock (S. T.). Burial in Evergreen cemetery, Central Village.

HERRICK—In Canterbury, Ct., July 19, 1925, Charles W. Herrick, aged 76 years.

Funeral services will be held at his late home, Canterbury Green, Tuesday, July 21, at 2:30 p. m. (S. T.). Burial at Canterbury Plain cemetery. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Church & Allen
16 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
83 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 410-2
DAVID H. WILSON

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Phone 2729 Providence St., Taftville

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 238-2 Lady Assistant

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

CENTRAL VILLAGE

F. W. Tillinghast & Sons
UNDERTAKERS AND EMBALMERS
CENTRAL VILLAGE, CONN.
Tel Moosup 282-2

WILLIMANTIC

Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding JAY M. SHEPARD
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-Two North Street
Willimantic, Conn.

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
86 Union Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 290 Lady Assistant

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Ford coupe, first class condition. Price right. Address Box 237, Norwich. jy20d

FOR SALE—1924 Dodge business coupe fully equipped. Call 759 Boswel. Ave. jy18d

FOR SALE—1924 Hupp sedan, 1924 Hupp touring, 1923 Hupp 2-pass. coupe, 1922 Hupp touring, 1923 Maxwell touring. C. V. Pendleton, 118 Franklin St. jul16d

FOR SALE—1923 touring car, 1st class condition; will sell cheap. Norwich Auto Radiator Works, 58 Shetucket St. jul14dtf

FOR SALE—1923 Dodge panel delivery, good condition. 189 West Main St. jul13dtf

NEW AND USED Harley-Davidson motorcycles. Easy terms. Prices reasonable. J. P. Donovan, 25 W. Main St. apr10d.

FOR SALE—Indian and Ace motorcycles, 1925 models, now on display; 74 cu. in. $350; Scout $290; Prince $125, delivered. 495 North Main St. feb4d

LAWN MOWERS
WE HAVE THEM.
Good ones at low prices for the quality.
We have handled this make of machine over ten years. Some of the first we sold are still being used.

The HOUSEHOLD
Bulletin Building 74 Franklin St.
Telephone 531-2

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—Work by the hour or day, immediately. Mrs. Kelly, 100 N. Main St. jy20d

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION—Copeland Products, Inc., Detroit, Michigan, are now ready to issue franchises for the distribution of their Electric Household Refrigerating Systems to reliable dealers in towns in Connecticut. The demand for electrical refrigeration is large and the profits are exceedingly attractive. If interested in obtaining a franchise in your locality for the sale of Copeland Refrigerating Systems, write, giving complete details of present lines handled, length of time in business and whether you expect to sell as a side line or to devote your entire time to electrical refrigeration, C. A. Dodge, 193 Church St., Hartford, Connecticut. jy20d

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D. Ward, Box 259, Norwich. Phone 861-13 Norwich, 806 Willimantic. mar7FMW.

WANTED—A team for mowing. 152 Hinckly Hill. Tel. 349-4. jy18d

WANTED—Property owners to know that under my new real estate system I will buy your property direct or will sell for you on a commission basis. For particulars write Wm. M. McNicol, Maynard Bldg. Jewett City. june2d.

WANTED—Tirershrinker; one capable of shrinking 4 and 5 inch tires. Charles H. Parkhurst, Canterbury, Conn. jy18d

WANTED—Second hand antiques furniture. Best prices paid. A. Bruckner, 102 Franklin St. Phone 715-5. nov27d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 48-50 Water St. Tel. 2143. nov27d.

WANTED—Cash paid for old furniture, U. S. Ward, 16 Water St., Tel. 34. TuThSfrapr8

WANTED — Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 32 Market St. Phone 1152. nov27d

WANTED—To buy poultry and calves; highest prices paid. Call 1405. nov27d

FREE HOMES

wanted for 9 year old Catholic girl and 13 year old Catholic boy. Children are not related. Apply to

STATE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE
171 Capitol Ave., Hartford, Conn.

WANTED—Male

WANTED—By young man, 22, position as bookkeeper, or in any other line of business. Will furnish best references. Can also drive any make of car. Box No. 350, Bulletin office. jy20d

WANTED—Man 28-35 years of age for outside work, selling and collecting. Must not be afraid of work and to serve employer who assures promotion and good pay to deserving men. Selling experience not necessary as we train you. We pay salary and commission. Must become bonded. Address Box H. M. L., care of Bulletin. jul14dtf

WANTED—Carpenter work of all kinds. Estimates cheerfully given for large or small jobs. M. Krugman, 97 Mechanic St. Tel. 2660R. jel9d

WANTED, YOUNG MAN—For Norwich, Jewett City, Danielson and Putnam, seeking worth-while connection with established electrical company who has small amount of capital to invest and desires opportunity for highly remunerative position; return of investment with 6 per cent. interest within one year along with income guaranteed by bond. Credit extended to five thousand dollars. Address Box N. C., Bulletin. jy18d

WANTED—By young man, 22, position as bookkeeper, or in any other line of business. Will furnish best references. Can also drive any make of car. Box

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Women to make money at home. Plain home sewing. No canvassing. Send for samples and particulars. Success Sewing System, Box 207, Long Branch, N. J. jy20d

WANTED—Three women for laundry flat work. Ocean House, Watch Hill, R. I. jy18d

WANTED—A practical nurse to take care of an invalid in the country. Write, stating rates, to W. A. L., Box 105, Canterbury, Conn.; R. F. D. No. 1. jul17d

WANTED—Housekeeper. References required. Address P. O. Box 45, South Windham. jul13dtf

WANTED—Good cook for small inn. Tel. 35-4 Willimantic. je29tf

BOOKKEEPER
Experienced — for Retail Dry Goods Store. Apply, mail or personally, THE S. A. GOLDSMITH CO., (The Bee Hive) New London, Conn.

LEGAL NOTICES

THE ANTI-GRAFT ASSOCIATION, U. S. A. Membership: One dollar per year. Purpose: To protest against Congress voting the last dollar of the 70c per day farmers and others, for foreign diplomacy and home talent bunco-steerers operating, almost continuously, at Washington, D. C. This Association is proposed to save the American people billions of dollars! Do your bit and this ad will appear in all U. S. newspapers possible! Wm. Dee, Secretary, R. D. 2, Willimantic, Conn. jul18d

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States, District of Connecticut:

In the matter of Theodore Lowenberger, alleged bankrupt. In Bankruptcy No. 7310.

Notice Is Hereby Given that William P. Goldman Co., Cohen-Goldman Co., and Louis Shapiro & Co., petitioning creditors in an involuntary proceeding pending herein against said Theodore Lowenberger, of Norwich in the County of New London in said District, have filed their petition, dated June 18th, 1925, for an order dismissing the involuntary petition filed herein by them, and that all creditors of said Theodore Lowenberger and other persons interested objecting to such order may attend before Thomas M. Shields, Special Master, at his office in said Norwich on the 28th day of July, 1925 at 1 o'clock P. M. (Standard Time), then and there to show cause, if any they have, why such order dismissing said involuntary petition should not be granted.

THOMAS M. SHIELDS,
Special Master.
Dated at Norwich, Conn., July 18th, 1925. jy20d

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Canterbury, within and for the District of Canterbury, on the 17th day of July, A. D. 1925.

Present—HALE BENNETT, Judge.

Estate of Thomas W. Bradford, late of Canterbury, in said District, deceased.

Edwin St. John, of Canterbury, appeared in Court and filed a petition praying, for the reasons therein set forth, that an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said Thomas W. Bradford, deceased, may be proved, approved, allowed and admitted to probate as per application on file more fully appears.

Whereupon, it is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in Canterbury in said District, on the 23rd day of July, A. D. 1925, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order in the Norwich Bulletin, a newspaper having a circulation in said District, and by posting a copy thereof on the public signpost in the Town of Canterbury, at least five days prior to the date of said hearing and by mailing a copy of this notice to Charles Babson, George Aldrich, Ella M. Gates, Mary Northrup, and that return be made to this Court.

A. HALE BENNETT, Judge.

The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.

Attest: A. HALE BENNETT,
jy20d Judge.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Team wagon; 8 H. P. gasoline engine; power ensilage cutter. Inquire Joe Kaminski, R. D. 4, Norwich. jy20

FOR SALE—Hoosier kitchen cabinet. Room 57, Shannon Bldg. Call evenings. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—A grocery and meat business; one of the best in city of Norwich. A. C. Burdick, Jewett City, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—Two-tenement house. Tel. 339-12. jul15d

FOR SALE—A 12-room house, price $3,800, and 2 new bungalows and 15 acres of land, priced at $6,000. Also several building lots. Benton, Phone 1125.

FOR SALE—Small size upright piano. Just the thing for small child. In fine condition. Only $75. Terms if desired. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

FOR SALE—One 3-burner blue flame oil stove and oven; one Glenwood combination gas and coal range, and other things. Phone 2597-W or call at 115 Broad St. jul17d

FOR SALE—House and store. 41 Thames St. T. E. Babcock, Norwich. jul8d

FOR A LIGHT LUNCH—At The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 24 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—New 6-room bungalow on West Side. Tel. 1162-2. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—One Glenwood gas range; good condition. Phone 2031. jul12tf

FOR SALE—Farm wagons and tools all in good condition. Can be seen by appointment. Telephone 1131 Willimantic. apr18d.

FOR REFRESHMENTS, Call at The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 24 Broadway. jul7dtf

I ESKED A MAN FRUM BALTIC IF he new a man with a wooden leg 'n he ced "no" but he new a woman with a cedar chest. Get in on our Pipe Specials. Havana Spear, mild cigar, 2 for 25—$3.50 a box Special. Our S. & H. Mild 5c cigar is an humdinger. Fagan's Smoke Shop, opp. Woolworth's. jul4d

FOR SALE—A beautiful Brunswick upright Phonograph, guaranteed like new; used only six months. This instrument is the best model in Brunswick catalogue, all metal parts genuine gold plated; cost $275.00. Our Price, $125.00. Cash or Credit. The Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jul1d

FOR SALE—A $650 player piano for $369. Has been slightly used but is in perfect condition. Looks and plays like new. 88-note, mahogany case and guaranteed. Liberal terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

FOR SALE—A fine upright mahogany piano, in first class condition; guaranteed; Kelso make; special at $99.00. The Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jul1d

$5,000 WILL BUY two-tenement house, six rooms each, with bath, gas, electric light; only five minutes walk from Franklin square. For full particulars see A. V. Covello, 198 Cliff St. Tel. 1093-3. je26tf

FOR SALE—Nine-room house and garage, at a low price; in best part of Norwich. Immediate possession. Phone 1431. je11d

FOR SALE—Pianos as low as $10 deposit, and Victrolas as low as $2.00. The Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jul1d

POLICE PUPPIES—Highly pedigreed; ideal farm dogs, playmates for children; come visit the largest German Shepherd Dog Kennels in the world. Phone or write. Palisade Kennels, East Killingly, Conn. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—Kingsbury upright piano with good tone, action and case. A bargain for $139. Convenient payments. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

FOR SALE—A fine summer place, overlooking beautiful lake. $500 cash required; balance easy terms. Wm. M. McNicol, Jewett City. jul8d

FOR SALE—Very desirable place in Waterford; 7-room house with lots, sheds, etc., on the River Road to Uncasville, not far from Eastern Conn. Power Co. plant. For particulars see H. B. [illegible] at Bulletin office. jul9d

STOVE PARTS for all makes of stoves. We are the best equipped place for stove parts in New London. B. Kaplan, 90 Bank St. feb13d

AWAY FROM THE HEAT OF THE CITY
an old New England town, 2 acres, high elevation, conveniently located, with fine old colonial house with gambrel roof, open fireplaces, running water, bath, in best of condition, fine shade, apple orchard, for only $2,200 for a quick sale. Easy terms.
TRYON'S AGENCY, Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
New modern six-room bungalow with about an acre of land, $5,500.
Exceptionally fine new two-story and attic house, tiled bath room, large airy sleeping rooms; in best residential section. Unusual opportunity.
Splendid cottages at Groton Long Point from $3,500 up, and shore lots at attractive prices.
New summer cottage near Niantic for $6,500, with two extra lots.
Archa W. Coit
Telephone 2288-2. Disco Building.

FOR SALE
3-FAMILY HOUSE
LAUREL HILL AVENUE
Price $7,000.
LARGE LOT AND GOOD LOCATION.
James L. Case
Real Estate Department
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE
The following property in the title of M. Klingon, Colchester, Conn., consisting of a parcel of land, with a building on it, located on Broadway, 32-37, opposite the Wauregan Hotel, Norwich, Ct. His home is in Colchester. It's a good Colonial house, a very desirable outplace with all modern conveniences and improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, and all plumbing necessary; A-1 condition. A garage, barn sheds—a large tract of land, lawns, with all kinds of trees, fruit and shade. The house is well furnished, but it can be purchased either furnished or not. To be sold 1-3 below the sound value it is clear and free from all encumbrances, and the owner is also willing to secure terms by mortgage. If interested to investigate this residential section, telephone for an appointment —No. 30, Colchester.
For further particulars inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN
REAL ESTATE BROKER
Norwich, Conn.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Second hand lumber and stones. 473 N. Main St. jul18d

AMONG THE MANY first class investment properties which I offer this one will no doubt attract the most conservative buyer. Take a pencil and paper and figure the profit on sixty acres of land with 1-2 mile frontage on the well known Beach Pond, if subdivided into camp sites or building lots. Price $1,500. Terms may be arranged, if small payment is made. On the tract is located one of the best springs of water in existence. To those who are not acquainted with the location of Beach Pond and the popularity it is gaining as a summer place, I would only be more than pleased to send a complete description and details of same. Don't miss this opportunity. Call William M. McNicol at Phone 166 Maynard Bldg., Jewett City, Conn. Do it today, tomorrow may be too late. jy18d

FOR SALE—A newly built 3-family house and store combination located in borough of Jewett City, Ct. Good opportunity to start a business and get a revenue from rents as well. Easy terms. William M. McNicol, Owner, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City. jy18d

FOR SALE—Newly built 2-family house located on Mt. Pleasant St., in the city of Norwich, known as the Meyers property. Inquire of owner or William M. McNicol, Agent, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—Summer home at Gardner's Lake; new house, new barn, two acres of land. Inquire at Uncasville Shelton Co. for W. H. Ywarsky. jul16d

FOR SALE—3 1-3 acres standing oats. J. H. Rathbone, South Bosrah, Conn. jul15d

FOR SALE—Bargain. Six-room house at Harrison's, west side Thames river; owner must sell. See H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul14d

FOR SALE—While they last—our entire stock of genuine new Victrolas at half price. Now is the time to get your Victrola. Easy payment terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

Ants—Bedbugs—Ants
For a positive exterminator and a sure preventive, why not use the old reliable TURKISH REMEDY? Made since 1878. Best by test.
Buy the Collier Remedies
COLLIER INSECTICIDE CO.
29 Elmwood Ave., Providence, R. I.

Invest Your July Dividends
—and—
Surplus Funds in 6 per cent Guaranteed First Mortgages
Secured by income paying Real Estate.
We can supply you in limited amounts.
Full information upon application.
James L. Case
Investment Broker
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE
The dwelling house, 3 barns, various useful out-buildings and 15 acres of good land known as the Martin Place and is located in Lebanon Center on the highway from Lebanon Village to Willimantic. The house is on a picturesque site and has a beautiful and extensive view of the surrounding country and is about five miles from Willimantic and eleven miles from Norwich over good roads. The property is in a good neighborhood convenient to churches, district and high schools. The property is regarded by all persons as a very attractive and charming home place. The price is low and terms of payment will be made convenient to buyer. For all information apply to
WILLIAM H. SHIELDS of Norwich,
Or To
GEORGE E. MARTIN,
Lebanon Center, Conn.

AUCTIONS.

A. B. PERKINS ..... Auctioneer

AUCTION

I will sell at Public Auction on Monday and Tuesday, July 20 and 21, starting at 10:30 a. m., D. S. T., at the corner of Hempstead and Fremont streets, New London, Conn., the remaining household furniture of the late U. S. Senator F. E. Brandegee, including antique and modern furniture. Antiques will be sold on Monday. Modern things to be sold on Tuesday.

SALE RAIN OR SHINE

STANTON L. BRIGGS ..... Auctioneer

AUCTION

By an order of the Probate Court there will be sold, on the farm of the late Karl Hoffman, situated 1 1-2 miles from Jewett City, 1 1-3 miles from the Newent church in the Town of Lisbon, and one mile from the farm of the late A. F. Read, the following personal property of Karl Hoffman, who was killed on July 4th by a train on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. tracks. This property will be sold for the high dollar, without reserve or limit:

ON FRIDAY, JULY 24th, 1925
At 10 O'clock, A. M., Standard Time

or, if rainy, the next fair week day, and comprises the following articles of an up-to-date poultry farm: 500 March and April hatched White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red pullets; 300 White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red yearling hens; 5 incubators, 2 brooders, 25 egg crates, feeders and other poultry utensils. Also 4 cows, 3 calved in June, 2 due this Fall, all good young family cows; one horse, 8 years old, weighs 1300, sound and a good one; 4 wagons, 1 set double harness, new; one heavy express harness, two gasoline engines in good condition, one 1-horse plow, 1 spring tooth harrow, 1 walking cultivator, 1 riding cultivator, 1 seed planter, one 1-horse mowing machine, rakes, shovels, hoes, tackle blocks and other small tools; a complete line of plumber's and machinist's tools, a few carpenter tools, household furniture and many useful articles not mentioned in this bill. This personal property must be sold to settle the estate and will be sold to the highest bidder.

HARRY L. HULL,
Administrator of Estate, Karl Hoffman

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

Business Notices.

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

OLD CARS BOUGHT in any condition. HODES BROS.
Corner West Main and Mt. Pleasant
Telephone 1291
Automobile parts at one-half price
apr20d.

PARTS THAT ARE STANDARD EQUIPMENT ON THE BEST BUILT CARS IN AMERICA ARE SOLD BY Norwich Auto Parts Co.
43 N. Main St. Phone 2112.

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work
Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 513 NORTH MAIN STREET

Battery Service
The Best 1-Day Battery Charging
Radio Rental Batteries
75c Week.
Capacity, 40 Batteries every 8 to 10 Hours
VULCANIZING
The only shop in the city equipped to repair all sizes of REGULAR and BALLOON Tires.
The KE HAW KE System
ALL REPAIRS GUARANTEED.
Lane Motor Supply
170 Franklin Street.
PHONE 1570.

AUCTIONEERS

PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS
WITTER BROS.,
PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS.
Office 43 Main St., Danielson, Ct.
Eighteen years of practical experience conducting sales of every known description throughout the Eastern United States.
Telephones:—
Office 32-12.
C. WITTER 31-14.
A. WITTER 248
Danielson

BOWLING AND BILLIARDS

BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
AT THE
AETNA BOWLING ALLEYS,
Majestic Bldg. Tel. 1912.

CIGARS

CIGARS
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand
J. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St

CASTINGS
Grey Iron and Semi-Steel Castings
—Also—
Pattern Making and Machine Work.
Daily Trucking Service Between Norwich, New London and Vicinity.
BABCOCK PRINTING PRESS MFG. CO.
NEW LONDON, CONN.
Tel. 1120.

CHIROPODIST

CHIROPODIST
A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8, Allce Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1366-4. nov10d

CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS

LONGO & DUFF CO., General Contractors and Builders. Best workmanship at reasonable prices. Estimates cheerfully given. Phone 1473-3. je30tf

AMBROSE SULLIVAN
Telephone 1873-5
We give estimates on Concrete Foundations and Cellars

Doors, Windows, Frames.
Inside Finish.
Mill Work of All Kinds.
THE PECK-McWILLIAMS COMPANY.
Central Wharf.

NOTICE

WILL BUY OLD GUN CATALOGS Send for circular.
L. D. Satterlee, 453 W. Forest Detroit, Mich.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

Business Notices.

COAL AND WOOD

WOOD—Best quality hard wood and slabs. Tel. 615-4. H. E. Beard & Son. jan31d

COAL, SEASONED WOOD and kindlings delivered anywhere, 6 baskets for $1.00. Phone 739, Park Wood Yard, 301 Franklin St. 23d

COAL, Seasoned Wood and Kindlings in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 594 or 1353-4. R. Shanley Willow St. nov23d

MIRRORS resilvered and glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2462. nov27d

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Nice black mare, saddle and family horse; good, kind and gentle. Also Concord buggy, rubber tires; in fine condition; nearly new harness. James H. Hyde, North Franklin, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—A pair of horses, lumber wagon and express wagon, cheap. Phone 1553-3. jy18d

FOR SALE—Or will exchange for stock, five work horses. O. H. Main. Tel. 489. je20tf

FOR SALE—Three horses. Peter Nawrocki, Yantic. Phone 1704. jy18d

INSURANCE

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire. Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm protection from money loss it affords. Take out a policy today.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
91 MAIN STREET

MONEY TO LOAN

LOANS
to Pay All Those Small Bills That Are Worrying You
WE FURNISH THE CASH
and you repay us in monthly installments to suit your means,—
On $ 50 you pay $ 5 monthly
On $ 75 you pay $ 6 monthly
On $100 you pay $ 8 monthly
On $150 you pay $10 monthly
On $200 you pay $10 monthly
On $300 you pay $20 monthly
plus legal interest on unpaid balance as designated by State law. Loans made to housekeepers on home furniture without removal, and to anyone on guaranteed note. We operate under State's Banking Dept. supervision and are licensed and bonded under State laws. For details, call, write, or phone 1470.
New England Equity Corp.
Members of Chamber of Commerce
ROOM 208 THAYER BLDG.
16 FRANKLIN STREET

PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING

GENERAL PAINTING and Paperhanging. Phone 2388-13. D. Kudlik. je21d

GEORGE NADOLNI, painting, paperhanging; estimates given. 49 Maple St. Tel. dec29d

PAINTING, Housecleaning, Lawns. Handy Man. Jackson Bros. Phone 1261-3. je9d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 65 Franklin Street.

SUMMER RESORTS

THE COLONIAL
Sound View, Conn.
Homelike Hotel—Good Meals
Pleasant Rooms—Reasonable Rates
Sandy Beach—Safe Bathing.
A. T. BUCKLEY, Proprietress.

TRANSPORTATION

MONTAUK STEAMBOAT COMPANY
Between New London, Conn., and Greenport and Sag Harbor, L. I.
Leave New London from wharf foot of State street daily, except Sundays, *10:30 a. m., 2:45 p. m. Leave Sag Harbor 7:00 a. m., Greenport 8:00 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. *Runs to Greenport only.
Delightful one-day excursion. Automobiles accommodated. Send to General Passenger Agent, Montauk Steamboat Co., Pennsylvania Station, New York, for road map of Long Island. tfje15

LONG ISLAND SOUND DAY and NIGHT SERVICE
Round Trip Fare $4.00
Via New London Line
Except Sun. & Mon. Daily
Lv. New London 9:00 A.M. 10:00 P.M.
Due New York 4:30 P.M. 6:00 A.M.
Special Midnight and Daylight Trips from New York
(Eastern Standard Time)
Popular One Day Outings
Table D'hote Meal Service
Music and Dancing on Day Trips
The New England S. S. Co.

TRUCKING

LOCAL, long distance moving and trucking. P. Angelone. Telephone 3089-3. tfapr27d

LONG DISTANCE TRUCKING. Very low rates. S. Blinderman. Phone 1343. tfapr4d.

Established 1872. Telephone 176
ARTHUR H. LATHROP
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving. Shetucket Street.

C. D. JOSLYN, 298 West Main Street. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Telephone 1533-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman, 17 Roswell Ave. Tel. 1341

IT'S YOUR MOVE
When ready, call the Broadway Transfer. Prompt service—low rate. 3 Broadway. Phones 1357-2 or 977-23, over Raphael's Cigar Store. je6d

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

Business Notices.

WALL PAPER

NORWICH CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre. We specialize in 10c, 12c and 15c papers; half usual price. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. feb5d

WELDING

WELDING
Electric and Acetylene.
Frames and Axles welded and straightened. Machine Parts and Farm Machinery. Cylinder Blocs welded on car.
No Pre-Heating or Warping.
General Blacksmithing
Truck Bodies
Spring Work.
NORWICH WELDING CO.
95 North Main St. Phone 214.

TO RENT

FOR RENT—Four-room tenement with bath. Heat furnished for parlor only. Nice location. $25 per month. Inquire 56 Spruce St. Phone 2546-J. jy20d

FOR RENT—Private garage; also furnished room, 74 Summer St. jy20d

TO LET—Three light housekeeping rooms. 42 Union St. Please call evenings. jy20dtf

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms. Tel. 628-3. jy16tf

TO RENT—Rooms by the day, week or month. Bath houses and garage. Phone Chapman 2851-13, 70 Neptune Ave., Ocean Beach. jy20d

TO RENT—Tenements, all improvements. 44 Laurel Hill Ave. jy20dtf

FOR RENT—Two most desirable detached houses. Archa W. Coit, Disco Bldg. jy18d

TO RENT—A modern 7-room apartment. 16 Spalding St. jy18d

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms, centrally located. 376 Main St. Tel. 975-3. jy18d

FOR RENT—Fine offices, 25 to 34 Shetucket St., over Norwich Gas and Electric Dept.; wonderful light and air, janitor service, elevator; strictly office buildings; prices $25, $30, $45 per month. Apply to Janitor or Ailing Rubber Co. jy18d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms in private home; nice quiet location; modern. Phone 870. jy18d

FOR RENT—Furnished flat, 3 rooms and bath; modern improvements. 41 Yerrington Ave. Tel. 412-2. jul17d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, light housekeeping, and garage. 11 Elm St. oct29WFM

TO LET—Two-room office. Inquire 57 Broadway. jul16ThStM

TO RENT—Garage at 229 Broadway. Inquire at Broadway Fish Market. jul16dtf

FOR RENT—A-1 furnished rooms for gents or lady. No. 3 North Main. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Seashore cottage, for rest of July, at Oswegatchie Hills, Niantic, just north of Military Camp grounds; salt water bathing. Inquire C. I. Smith, Boston Store.

TO RENT—Five rooms, all improvements, including heat; with or without garage. Inquire 210 West Main St., from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. jul11tf

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, for gentlemen. 16 Laurel Hill Ave. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Nicely furnished rooms. 170 Broadway. Phone 922. jul12dtf

TO RENT—Apartment, all improvements, at 115 Roath St. Inquire Mrs. Wuttker. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room, 134 Broadway. Ring second bell. jul11dtf

TO RENT—Furnished flat of two rooms and bath. Tel. 628-5. jul6tf

TO RENT—Upper tenement, all improvements, steam heat; with or without a garage; 259 West Main St. jul1tf

TO RENT—Tenement, 6 rooms; fruit and garden; $20. 23 Garfield Ave. je18tf

TO RENT—Apartments and Garages on Broadway; all modern conveniences; best location in city. Enquire of Shea & Burke. Call 896-2. tfJune5.

FOR RENT—Nice little farm. William McNicol, owner. Maynard Bldg., Jewett City. je26tf

TO RENT—Tenements in Greeneville and Franklyn St. Inquire at Goldblatt's Shoe Store, 46 Franklin St. Phone 717-4. may26d.

TO RENT—12-room apartment, 48 Church St. Inquire Charles W. Cassidy, 46 Main St. je26tf

TO RENT—Eight room house, modern conveniences and garage. Phone 259. tfmar31d

TO RENT.
$15 Stores on Shetucket St.; $20 Stores on Shetucket St.; $15 Garage on Shetucket St.; $35 Store on Washington Square; $25 Apartment; $112.50 Store on Main St. PASNIK REALTY Co. Phone 2149 or 298.

FOR SALE
One of the finest bungalows located in an excellent neighborhood in Norwich Town, having all the improvements, including steam heat, electric light, running hot and cold water, excellent sewerage system; there is a garage. This property is in the pink of perfection and must be seen to be appreciated. For full particulars inquire of
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE
Young's Block—Phones—Norwich, Conn.

GIRL IS STRUCK BY MACHINE AT BEAN HILL

At Bean Hill Sunday afternoon a little after 5 o'clock, Dorothy Hill, 5, of West Town street was struck by an automobile driven by Harvey Peplin of 5 North A street, Taftville. The little girl received body bruises, a sprained wrist and a cut in the back of her head, which Dr. Paul F. Gadle who attended her closed with three stitches.

It was reported that the girl ran across the road in front of the machine.

Arrest Made In Preston

Joseph Hastedt, of Preston, was arrested Friday night by State Policeman Giles Watson, charged with violating the liquor law. Hadstedt's home was searched following evidence of a sale and seven cases of beer were found. He will be tried in the Preston court Monday.

FAIR TODAY; PROBABLY SHOWERS TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

1786 1925

NORWICH, CONN. MONDAY JULY 20, 1925

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich Monday, July 20, 1925

THE WEATHER.

Winds north of Sandy Hook: Fresh southwest and weather fair, Monday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh southwest over north portion and moderate to fresh southeast over south portion and weather partly overcast Monday.

Conditions.

The northwestern disturbance has advanced to central Ontario with a crescent shaped trough extending south and southwestward to western Texas. Pressure is relatively high along the Atlantic coast. The outlook is for showers on Tuesday. In the Middle and North Atlantic states and the eastern lower lake region, it will be warmer on Monday in the Middle Atlantic states and cooler in the Ohio valley and the lower lake region.

Forecast.

Eastern New York: Partly cloudy and slightly warmer Monday, followed by showers Monday night and on Tuesday.

Northern New England: Fair Monday, slightly warmer in interior; Tuesday showers.

Southern New England: Fair Monday; Tuesday showers, not much change in temperature.

Observations.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Saturday and Sunday:

Saturday—

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	58	30.00
12 m.	74	30.00
6 p. m.	64	30.00

Highest 74, lowest 58.

Sunday—

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	60	30.00
12 m.	80	30.00
6 p. m.	66	30.00

Highest 80, lowest 60.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Saturday: Partly cloudy.

Saturday's weather: Fair, southwest wind.

Predictions for Sunday: Fair, slightly warmer.

Sunday's weather: Fair, warmer, southwest wind.

SUN, MOON, AND TIDES
(Standard Time)

Day	Sun Rises	Sun Sets	High Water	Moon Sets
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
20	4:17	7:17	9:50	sets
21	4:18	7:16	10:31	7:51
22	4:19	7:15	11:10	8:26
23	4:20	7:15	11:50	8:58
24	4:21	7:14	12:30	9:29
25	4:22	7:13	1:11	9:56
26	4:23	7:12	1:55	10:24

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

Yesterday Faucher Thursday evening, in honor of her 14th birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and refreshments. Among the guests were [illegible] Bernice Burke, Miss Yvonne Bessette, Miss Agnes Poyard, Miss Rita Poyard, Miss Blanche Trudeau, Miss Lucy Parker, Miss Mace Smith, Miss Lucy Lamoureux, Miss Emma Poyard, Miss Doris Faucher, Miss Beatrice Adams, Anthony Caron, Albert Dugas, Charles Dugas, George Lash, Girard Ethier, Lionel Poyard, Armand Bourreau, Arthur Gauthier, Prosper Benoit, Samuel Gelinas, Peter Tremblay, Charles Ile, Alfonso Adams and Henry Proulx.

Miss Rose Hoop of South Second street left Saturday for Beulah, Mich., to spend a two weeks' stay with Mrs. L. Tanner Cook of North Third street, who is spending the summer at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook of Beulah, Mich.

Mrs. Lucy L. Reinhard of Norwich spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Gauthier of Taftville, have returned from Ocean Beach where they have been spending several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burdick of North Brimfield, Mass., who have been spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Lucius N. Morris and the assistant pastor, Miss Elsie Heap were guests during vacation of the members of the Ocean Beach.

Mrs. Isabel Fontaine of South Second street is in Detroit, Mich., spending several weeks as the guest of her son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lemieux.

The regular meeting of the Young People's society of Christian Endeavor Saturday evening in the vestry of the Taftville Congregational church was Miss Selena Adams.

Leopold Morissette has resigned his position with the carding department of the Ponemah company.

Mrs. George Maddeman of South second avenue has returned from a visit with relatives in New York.

Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN

Say "Bayer Aspirin"

INSIST! Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for 24 years.

Safe — Accept only a Bayer package which contains proven directions

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets
Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

NORWICH SOLDIERS ENJOYED BUSY TIMES AT CAMP TOBYHANNA

Battery B and First Combat Train, 192nd F. A., arrived home in Norwich Sunday morning at 5 o'clock, from Tobyhanna, Penn., where they had been in camp for the past 15 days. The men left Tobyhanna by train at 7:40 o'clock Saturday night and after arriving in this city marched to a local restaurant and had coffee and doughnuts before marching to the armory where they were paid off and once again became citizen soldiers. The work of checking off and paying the men was completed by 9 o'clock in the morning.

Battery B, numbering 65 men and two officers, and First Combat Train, numbering 50 men and two officers, left Norwich 15 days ago for their annual encampment, Tobyhanna being the camp selected by the government. In all 13 days were spent in camp and the men thoroughly enjoyed themselves. In past years the men had been quartered in barracks but this year they were quartered in squad tents, similar to the ones used at the camp at Niantic.

While at camp the Battery had two days of firing practice under service conditions. The Battery was put on its own resources this year to care for its own personnel and caring for materials and maintenance and operation of equipment. This was a feature enjoyed by the boys as in past years they were under supervision of others.

The encampment site was a fine one, some 2,000 feet above sea level and the men were in fine condition throughout the 15 days away from home.

Early in the encampment an athletic meet was staged and Battery B won the cup for the regimental tug-of-war, the only event in which it participated.

At a banquet of the officers of the 192nd Field Artillery, which was held last Monday, it was announced that Captain William Clarke, of New London, senior instructor of field artillery, C. N. G., had been commissioned a lieutenant colonel. This is the first case of the senior instructor, in any state in the nation, being promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel under a new provision, recently approved by Congress, effective July 1st.

On Thursday General Gore was at the camp and on Friday he reviewed the troops. With Battery B and First Combat Train was the 111th Field Artillery of Virginia, numbering some 500 men. The 111th had the 75 mm horse drawn guns with them and the Norwich outfit had the 155 mm tractor drawn gun, and both used the pieces in actual firing.

On Saturday, the last day in camp, the noon meal was cooked and served in the open, cooking being done by using the field kitchens. This was made necessary to break camp and make ready for the brigade of Pennsylvania troops which are to occupy the camp for the ensuing two weeks.

On the trip down the men enjoyed the beautiful sight of the Delaware Water Gap. It was moonlight when the boys rode through and a view of the gap was possible for miles. Another view of the water gap was enjoyed on the return trip. The Delaware Water Gap was but 25 miles from camp and many of the boys took an opportunity offered to travel there and see the sight at close view.

Everything during the trip to and from camp went along smoothly and the boys enjoyed the trip.

Upon their return to the local armory a surprise was in store for them, that of finding four new 155mm howitzers with all equipment, new tractors, etc. These pieces will be put into immediate use by the local outfits.

MRS. LEONARD BACON IS KILLED IN VERMONT

Mrs. Leonard W. Bacon, of New Haven, was fatally injured at Orleans, Vt., Friday evening when the automobile driven by her husband, Dr. L. W. Bacon, stalled on the tracks and was struck by the northbound Boston-Montreal express near the railroad station at Parker and Young crossing. She died soon afterward. Dr. Bacon was uninjured.

Mrs. Bacon before her marriage to Dr. Bacon in 1892, was Miss Emma Waleska Schneelock of New Haven. Miss Schneelock had achieved a fine reputation as a soloist prior to her marriage and for some years after was a church and concert singer. She was the mother of two children, Leonard W. Bacon, Jr., now of New York and a daughter, who bore her name. Other relatives are Hugo Schneelock, her father, Mrs. Edward L. Munson, a sister and Ralph and Walter Schneelock, brothers.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP HAVING BIG SEASON

Thirty-four Boy Scouts were at Camp Tippecan, at Beach Pond, Voluntown, last week, 55 tests were passed, the fleet of rowboats put in order and a new motor installed in one of the boats. Several camp improvements are on the way and 60 different boys have been enrolled for the season. This week there will be over 40 scouts in camp. Harry Jordan, Maine scout, will be at camp this week and next to teach woodcraft, etc. The capacity of the camp is filled for the third week and no more applications can be taken care of. The last week has also a large registration and will be nearly equal to the present week's number. Masons have been at work on the chimney of the log cabin and plans are being developed for a permanent dining hall. Everything is being planned for the comforts of the scouts and the regular scout program and discipline is observed in camp. The scout executive and the camp committee are providing one of the finest scout camps in the state of Connecticut, having a site that is not equalled in New England. The scouts going to camp leave this (Monday) morning at 10 o'clock and a number of automobiles are provided by people for transportation.

SECOND MAN DIES FROM ACCIDENT INJURIES

Injuries proved fatal to Henry L'Heureaux, 65, of 36 Worcester street Southbridge, Mass., companion of William Nadeau, 19, of East Main street, Southbridge, in the automobile which was struck by the train at Bishop's Crossing, and his death occurred at 11:37 o'clock Saturday morning at the Backus hospital. Nadeau died Friday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the same institution, of injuries received in the wreck.

Relatives of both men came to Norwich immediately after hearing of the accident and after their death arranged the sad return for home. Nadeau was single but L'Heureaux was married and father of five children.

CONNECTICUT CROPS ARE BELOW AVERAGE

Although combined condition of Connecticut crops on July 1 was slightly below the 10-year average (100 equals average) for that date, crops showed some improvement during June, according to figures issued by the bureau of agricultural economics of the department of agriculture. Connecticut's crops, however, with the exception of Rhode Island's showed the least improvement of any New England state. Connecticut and Massachusetts alone of the six states reported conditions on July, below the 10-year average for that date.

Connecticut crops improved 2.3 per cent., during the month of June, while on July 1, the average for the crops of the state was 99.1 per cent.

WRIST WATCH THEFT AT ASYLUM STREET HOUSE

The theft of a wrist watch and several neckties from the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Bergstresser, 62 Asylum street, was reported to the police Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Bergstresser left the doors locked when she went out, but upon her return found the back door unlocked and the watch and neckties gone.

It was reported that neighbors had observed a colored man around the house while she was away.

Guests From Norwich.

Miss Molla Ryan of New London was given a surprise party at the week end by friends in honor of her birthday at the Venice cottage, Ocean Beach. Those who attended included Misses Jessie and Anna Murphy and Miss Mabel Crawford of Norwich.

For Governor to Sign

There are about 65 private acts enacted at the last session of the general assembly to be passed on by the governor.

GAVE OBLIGATION TO FOUR FORESTER CANDIDATES

Four candidates were obligated at last week's meeting of Court City, of Norwich, No. 63, Foresters of America, at which Chief Ranger Joseph C. Callahan presided. They will be included in a class that will be initiated in the mysteries of the forest during the fall months, when the degree team will add to the impressiveness of the exemplification.

The auditors report for the past quarter was very encouraging and showed an increase in membership and finances which is expected to stimulate the members to new interest during the coming months. Practically every member present took part in a spirited discussion relative to the medical and sick benefits, as well as to the matter of unfinancial and precluded members. It is proposed to read the roll of members at the next meeting and it is hoped that every member will be present to answer to his name as well as to make any payments to the financial secretary that may be necessary. It was voted to hold but one meeting a month during July and August on account of the vacation season. The headquarters committee has appointed several sub-committees and each is hard at work and expect to finish its work before the fall.

A communication was read from the grand court re-appointing Brother William Smith, of Court Wequonnoc, of Taftville, as deputy of Court City, of Norwich. Joseph C. Callehan has received the appointment of Deputy Grand Chief Ranger of Court P. L. Harwood, of New London and Court Wequonnoc, of Taftville, and Edward McNerney has been appointed Deputy Grand Chief Ranger of Court Sprague, of Baltic and Court Griswold of Jewett City. These appointments are meeting with the approval of the members of the different courts.

FORMER NORWICH MAN DIES IN JERUSALEM

Relatives in Norwich received word Saturday, of the death of Max Gordon, 86, in Jerusalem, on July 14th. Mr. Gordon was the founder of the Max Gordon & Son Corp., and will be remembered by many people in this city.

Mr. Gordon was born in Vilna, Russia, in 1840, and came to this country in 1888, locating in Norwich where he continued to reside until 1907, when he returned to the old country and located at Jesusalem.

In 1898 Mr. Gordon founded the Max Gordon company and under his direction the company made a rapid growth, becoming known as a corporation a number of years later. Mr. Gordon withdrew from active business in 1907, living since that time, in Jerusalem, where he had always expressed a desire to make his permanent home.

While in this city he was one of the leading business men and took a prominent part in welfare work among the Jewish residents of the city. He is survived by a son, Aaron Gordon, secretary of the Max Gordon & Son Corp., who lives in Norwich; two daughters, Mrs. Blumie Cotton and Mrs. Bertha Mintz, both of Worcester, seventeen grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren.

LUNCHEON WHIST BY GUILD AT POQUETANUCK

A luncheon and whist, under the auspices of the Woman's Guild of St. James' church, Poquetanuck, was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Harkness, Friday noon. A social afternoon followed and whist prizes were awarded as follows: First and second prizes Miss Gertrude Main, Poquetanuck and Mrs. John Peckham of Norwich. Consolation prizes, Mrs. Blackburn of Willimantic and Charles Harkness of Poquetanuck. The luncheon was well patronized, many being present from out of town and the receipts were correspondingly gratifying.

BODIES ARE SENT TO SOUTHBRIDGE FOR BURIAL

The bodies of William Nadeau, 19, of East Main street, Southbridge, Mass., and Henry L'Heureaux, who died at the Backus hospital in this city Friday and Saturday from injuries in an accident at Bishop's Crossing, on the Norwich-Central Village road, were taken in charge by Cummings & Ring. Relatives came to Norwich and arranged for the sending of the bodies back to Southbridge, Saturday afternoon and evening, accompanying them on the train to Southbridge.

CAME BY AUTO FROM CALIFORNIA TO NORWICH

Rev. and Mrs. Harry C. Pettis of 15 Dunham street have as their guests for several days Mrs. Pettis' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Rathbone of St. Helena, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Rathbone arrived Friday evening in the automobile in which they had made 5,726 miles in a drive across the continent. Mrs. Pettis and Mrs. Rathbone are Mayflower descendants so that today they are all going to Plymouth, Mass., by machine to see the historical ground where their ancestors landed.

STORRS JUNIOR COURSE IS ABOUT TO OPEN

(Special to The Bulletin.)

STORRS, Conn., July 19.—In connection with the junior short course for 4-H club members of the state, which will be held at the Connecticut Agricultural college July 21-29, definite announcement was made that the Hartford Kiwanis club would visit Storrs Thursday, July 23, when they would avail themselves of the opportunity to learn of the state-wide program of Connecticut's 4-H clubs in agriculture and home-making. It is expected that over seventy Hartford Kiwanians, headed by President Clayton Chase, will be in the party to visit the State college. Invitations have also been extended to the New Britain and Manchester Kiwanis clubs to join the Hartford party.

Further announcements were made Friday by A. J. Brundage, state club leader, that registrations for this year's short course have already exceeded those of 1924, and that arrangements have been made for men prominent in agriculture and other lines of work to address the short course students. Registration figures up to Friday afternoon were 218 girls and 113 boys, giving a total of 331 Connecticut 4-H club members already enrolled. A total of 319 boys and girls were enrolled in the short course last year, and it is expected that this year's mark will be between 350 and 375.

Clayton Chase, president of the Hartford Kiwanis club and vice-president of the City Bank & Trust Co. of Hartford, will open the meeting at Storrs this Thursday, which will begin at 12:15 with a luncheon. Following this, the meeting will be turned over to the college authorities. "Your State College," will be the theme of the address of welcome to the Kiwanians by President Charles L. Beach of the Connecticut Agricultural college. Grace Abercrombie, a sixteen-year-old home making club member, will talk on her experiences in 4-H club work for girls. Vito Lucianni, a fifteen-year-old club member in dairying, gardening and poultry keeping will relate some of his experiences in this work. "Boys and Girls' Club Work in Connecticut" will be the subject of the talk which will be given next by A. J. Brundage, state club leader.

Among the more prominent men scheduled to address the short course students during the session at Storrs are the following: Philo T. Platt, commissioner of agriculture in Connecticut, subject to be announced later; A. B. Graham of the U. S. department of agriculture, "Challenge for Leadership in Agriculture"; Miss Gertrude Warren, U. S. department of agriculture, "4-H Club Work in the United States"; William G. Baxter of the state prison board and member of the Hartford Kiwanis club, "Prison Reform"; Doctor Knowlton of the state board of health, "Contagious Diseases"; President Charles L. Beach of the Connecticut Agricultural college; Prof. C. B. Gentry, state supervisor of vocational education; the Rev. Morris E. Alling, pastor of the Storrs community church and secretary of the Connecticut Federation of Churches, and George L. Farley, E. L. Ingalls and Lorenz J. Kinney, state club leaders in Massachusetts, Vermont and Rhode Island respectively.

$85,270 IN FINES FOR MOTOR LAW VIOLATIONS

Connecticut courts imposed fines of $85,270 upon 3,373 offenders against the state motor vehicle laws during the first six months of this year, according to returns made to the motor vehicle department by officials of the courts. In the corresponding period of last year, th ecourts imposed fines of $85,499 on 2,876 offenders. The average fine for a motor vehicle law violation this year, therefore, is $25.28, which is $4.10 less than the average fine for such a violation in the first half of 1924. In both periods covered, some of the offenders were sentenced to jail as well as fined, but the record of jail sentences kept by the department for the past six months is not yet complete, as some courts remain to be heard from.

The fines meted out in the first quarter of this year were considerably heavier than in the second quarter, the average for the months of January, February and March having been $34.35. The average fine dropped to $24.75 for the months of April, May and June, in the face of the fact that there were more than twice as many arrests in the latter quarter. In addition to the fines required by the courts to be paid, the motor vehicle department, upon receiving official reports of convictions for certain offenses suspended the licenses of 3,403 operators during the half year period. Reckless driving, operation while under the influence of liquor and operating without a license were the principal offenses for which licenses were suspended. Conviction of any of those offenses usually results in immediate suspension of the driving right. In the case of an operator convicted of driving while drunk, the state law is mandatory on the department to suspend.

FOUNDATION OF FAITH NO TENOUGH SAYS MSGR. MAY

Noting the seventh Sunday after Pentecost, and in unity with all the Catholics throughout the world, the large congregation at the 7:30 low mass in St. Patrick's church Sunday heard the gospel which was read in every mass, Matthew 7. 15-21. The epistle was Romans 6. 19-23. The rector, Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. H. May, who as usual read this early mass, chose his text from the gospel. "Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them."

The true Christian faith, the preacher said, finds its expression in good works. Faith is the foundation of religion; yet it must have erected upon it worthy deers, or it fails of its purpose. Faith is as the root of the tree, which must grow and expand, but not alone in blossoms and leaves. The test of the tree is its fruit.

There are men who are prompt to defend their faith—would fight for it, die for it. Yet this is not enough. Faith must vitalize, energize action, so as to be essentially practical in its manifestations. It is not sufficient for a Catholic to believe and to profess that Christ is really present in the sacrament of the altar; he must carry his faith into action—be seen frequently at the altar rail, to receive spiritual food in the Body and Blood of Christ.

The true faith which is the basis of the Christian life does not end with profession of belief. The Savior has said this with emphasis in the gospel of Sunday, "Not every one that saith to me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father who is in Heaven, he shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven."

Energized and vitalized, faith makes its manifest in a life of practical Catholicity which is in conformity with the laws of God, of church, of country. The soul of the man who goes through life merely believing, not acting, is spiritually dead—failing to put into practice the truths which he admits. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

In the brief time allotted him, the preacher impressed upon his hearers the deplorable state of the professing Christian whose life is spiritually unproductive, worthless, limited to a foundation of belief, without a superstructure of good deeds, in accord with the Architect's plans and purposes. "Faith without good works is dead."

Evidence of the continuation of the great number of weekly confessions in this parish, there was a large number to receive Holy Communion Monsignor May being assisted in giving the Eucharist by Rev. Myles P. Galvin. The members of the Rosary society received communion in a body, as is the custom each month.

After a rough ile has been polished it is called hyprocrisy.

Automatic Refrigeration with your own ice box
Let us install SERV-EL Automatic Refrigeration in your own ice box.
SERV-EL cooling tank can be installed in the ice compartment with mechanism in basement or other convenient place and it will keep your ice box colder than is possible with ice.
SERV-EL will make plenty of Pure Ice Cubes for table use.
See this wonderful machine in operation at our store.
Automatic Refrigeration costs less than ice
PLAUT-CADDEN COMPANY
135-143 Main St., NORWICH.
SERVEL
ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Ready for Another Busy Week in the

Factory End Sale

The Factory End Sale Will Continue All This Week. Additional bargain offerings have been assembled on all four floors, and whatever you need, chances are that it is waiting for you here, at a small cost.

The Factory End Sale is greater this year than ever before. Manufacturers and jobbers have given us unusual concessions—and we are making larger reductions on our regular stock of merchandise.

McCALL PRINTED PATTERNS

Advance Autumn Styles

Already the fashions for autum nappear—nowhere more brilliantly than in the McCall Quarterly which is just out. Plan now for the days to come and be sure to buy your copy of the Quarterly at once. In our pattern department, 25c.

POETRY

HE SHALL SUBDUE THE NATIONS.
(Psalm 47)

O clap your hands, ye people,
Sing melodies to God;
O fear the Lord of Heaven,
Who reigns upon earth's sod.

God shall subdue the nations,
The foes of Israel;
The Lord exalteth Jacob,
Whose race He loveth well.

God is gone up in triumph
With sound of trumpet's voice;
Sing praise, sing praises to Him,
Sing praises and rejoice!

God reigneth o'er the nations
Upon his holy throne,
Omnipotent, in glory,
Majestic and alone.

—Charles Nevers Holmes.

MY ROSE.

On a green slope, most fragrant with the spring,
One sweet, fair day I planted a red rose,
That grew, beneath my tender nourishing,
So tall, so riotous of bloom, that those
Who passed the little valley where it grew
Smiled at its beauty. All the air was sweet
About it! Still I tended it, and knew
That he would come, e'en as it grew complete.

And a day brought him! Up I led him where
In the warm sun my rose bloomed gloriously—
Smiling and saying, "So, is it not fair?
And all for thee—all thine!" But he passed by Coldly, and answered, "Rose? I see no rose,"
Leaving me standing in the barren vale.

—Hildegarde Hawthorne.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

The boss and I had it out today.
How out?
Out loud!—Good Hardware.

Reformer—Ah wouldn't drink that stuff if ah was yuh, boy! It don't git yuh no place, no time, an' yuh always arrives late.—Judge.

I confided the secret of our engagement to three of my dearest friends," three all told?

Yes, all told!—Progressive Grocer.

First—Why do girls kiss each other, and men do not?

Second—Because girls have nothing better to kiss and men have.—Anapolis Log.

The street-car was crowded. "Look, mummy, look!" squealed little Freddie, as a passenger took a seat opposite. "There's the man who comes every week for the furniture money."—Good Hardware.

An angry father, meeting the minister exclaimed: "That boy of mine ran away and got married."

"Alas, alas!" said the pious one.

"Naturally, it was a lass," said the father peevishly, "what else did you suppose?"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegram.

Visitor—You must be glad to have your daughter home again.

Host—Yes, she's been finishing; she's cost a lot of money, but it ain't been wasted. We're very proud of 'er—she won't 'ardly speak to mother and me, now.—London Opinion.

Mrs. Hippley met her errant husband on the stairs.

"This is a pretty time of the night for you to be getting in?" she stormed.

"Ishn't it, dear?" beamed Mr. Hipley. "I dishtinctly saw two moors myself. Yesh, beau'ful night, my dear."—Men's Wear.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Polar bears are extremely fond of cod liver oil.

The 1,500 miles of cable connecting Cuba with New York weighs approximately 4,500 tons.

The first public reception at the White House was given by Mrs. John Adams on January 1, 1801.

A plantation of mature Manila hemp will yield from 1,000 to 3,000 pounds of fiber to an acre annually.

It was well into the eighteenth century before stage coaches ran regularly between New York and Philadelphia.

At Liverpool and London the range of tides is such that the principal terminal facilities are all in basins behind locks.

Three hundred and eighty thousand American automobiles were exported and only 745 foreign cars imported into the United States in 1924.

Though Japanese prints have been popular in the western world only about half a century, the first full-color Japanese print was produced by Harunobu in 1765.

Gigantic pottery jars, having a circumference of more than six feet, have been discovered in the prehistoric ruins of a city of cliff-dwellers unearthed near Globe, Ariz.

Travelers in the deserts of Jubaland, eastern Africa, carry hollow drinking sticks about two feet long, through which they suck the rainwater which collects in the hollows of yak trees.

The termites or so-called whiteants which attack timber subterraneously and honeycomb wood work with their tunnels have wings at one stage of their life and emerge from the wood as "flying ants."

Ninety per cent of the foreign correspondence clerks employed by big exports firms in Great Britain are foreigners, many of whom work for little or no wages in return for the knowledge and experience they pick up.

The honesty of radio fans in Brazil is the basis used by the principal broadcasting station at Rio de Janerio for obtaining operating funds. Persons with sets who listen in on programs are expected to enroll as members, the fee being $5 a year. There are now 2,000 members.

Lipsticks lure mice as well as men. A Lankershim (Cal.) garage employe had been trying to find a bait that the garage mice would nibble, but without avail. Recently his sister dropped her lipstick in the garage, and the next morning he found that the mice had devoured it. He learned the name of the brand, bought one of the sticks at a drug store and set the traps. In the morning, so he reports, the traps were full of mice.

A striking adventure in American pedagogy is the growth of instruction in swimming and watermanship. High school buildings and playgrounds contain swimming facilities. Many colleges include swimming as a prerequisite for a degree. In military posts and at summer civilian training camps instruction in swimming is given as a matter of course. The American Red Cross has been the most significant factor in promoting water safety. In Chicago, New York, Boston, and Springfield are institutions that produce swimming directors.—School Life.

The wise father always tries to bring up his children in the way he should have gone.

Norwich Bulletin

1796 1925

VOL. LXVII—No. 173. POPULATION 29,865 NORWICH, CONN., TUESDAY, JULY 21, 1925. TEN PAGES—70 COLUMNS PRICE TWO CENTS

BRYAN ON WITNESS STAND IN SCOPES EVOLUTION CASE

Court Was Held on the Lawn Yesterday—With the Jury Absent Mr. Bryan Was Under Cross-Examination of Attorney Darrow When Court Adjourned For the Day — To All Questions Mr. Bryan Avowed His Belief in the Bible—Prosecution May Place Darrow, Malone and Hays on the Stand as State's Witnesses—Arguments Will Be Indefinitely Delayed—Judge Raulston Accepted Apology Made by Mr. Darrow.

DAYTON, Tenn., July 20—(AP)—Court was adjourned in the Scopes case late today with William Jennings Bryan still on the witness stand under examination of Clarence Darrow of defense counsel, who had called Mr. Bryan to testify in the absence of the jury.

The calling of Mr. Bryan, associate counsel for the state, came unexpectedly after the defense had completed reading and placed in the records statements of a group of scientists and Bible scholars whose testimony had been excluded from the jury.

The argument which observers expected to begin today, was indefinitely delayed as prosecution counsel indicated late today they might place Mr. Darrow and his associates, Arthus Garfield Hays and Dudley Field Malone, on the stand as state's witnesses. The prosecution objected but Mr. Bryan said he did "not in the least object to being placed on the stand."

The jury was not in the outdoor court when the former secretary of state responded to questions of Clarence Darrow of defense counsel.

The first question asked Mr. Bryan by the Chicago attorney was:

"Do you believe that everything in the Bible is true."

Mr. Bryan entered into a lengthy explanation, the substance of which was that he had full confidence in the integrity of the scriptures.

"Do you believe that Jonah swallowed the whale?" asked Mr. Darrow.

"I would believe it if the Bible had said it," responded the witness to this trick question.

Mr. Bryan believed that the Bible should be interpreted "as it is there," not necessarily literally "because some of it is figurative language."

Admist applause Bryan faced Judge Raulston and told him that, the defense attorneys had not come to Dayton to try "a lawsuit," but to direct his attack against revealed religion and "I am here to defend it."

Again and again the fundamentalist leader asserted he accepted certain Biblical phases "because the Bible said so."

"Don't you know that there are any number of civilizations that have been traced back five thousand years?" asked Darrow.

"I am not certain that they are right."

"Do you mean that you do not believe that there was any civilization on this earth five thousand years ago?"

"I am not willing to give up my belief in the Bible in preference to the opinions of those who made the estimates."

Mr. Bryan replied to queries which sought his opinions of the comparative elements of Christianity and confusion.

"With word which Confucious chose to express his attitude toward life was 'reciprocity.' Reciprocity is a selfish word. It means do for others just what they do for you.

He had not read a great deal about the origin of religion, Mr. Bryan said. "The Christian religion has satisfied me and I have not felt it necessary to look up any competing religions."

Occasionally the witness refused to be led by the attorney general but expressed his own views without restraint.

He said he had not spent any time in studying antiquity or the ages of man.

Mr. Darrow protested against Mr. Bryan's extended answers. The court ruled again that Mr. Bryan was the defense lawyer's own witness and replies could not be cross examined.

"Are you the only man in the world who knows what the Bible means?" Mr. Darrow said. Mr. Bryan shook his head. The witness frequently referred to the Bible which lay on the Judge's table in replying to questions.

Judge Raulson read a newspaper while the examination went on.

Mr. Bryan said he had never made a special study of the age of the human race or the development of plants and animals. He had made no special study of evolution books, he said.

"I know from the Bible all I want to know and need to know about living and dying," the fundamentalist said.

Mr. Bryan at length expressed resentment at the style of the Chicago lawyer's questions.

"The sole purpose of these questions is the ridicule everybody who believes in the Bible," Mr. Bryan declared with some heat. "I want the world to know that."

"That is exactly the purpose," interrupted the attorney general.

"The purpose of these questions," snapped Mr. Darrow, beating a fist into the other palm, "is to prevent bigots and ignorance from controlling education in Tennessee."

JUDGE ACCEPTS APOLOGY OF ATTORNEY DARROW

DAYTON, Tenn., July 20—(AP)—Summoning of William Jennings Bryan as a witness for the defense in the "Scopes trial" late today marked the climax of a day in which one unexpected event followed another.

Mr. Bryan was questioned at length by Clarence Darrow as to what the witness believed about teachings of the Bible and the liberal truth of statements made therein. The member of the prosecution counsel proved a staunch defender of the Bible.

The first sensation of the seventh court day came when Judge Raulston cited Clarence Darrow for contempt of court as a result of remarks made by the Chicago lawyer Friday. He was ordered to appear before the court to answer tomorrow morning, however, at the opening of the afternoon session, Mr. Darrow gained the floor and extended an apology for his remarks. The overture from the visiting attorney was accepted and judge and lawyer shook hands.

Before the end of the contempt citation incident could be passed as news through the courtroom, Judge Raulston announced that the crowd filling the courtroom was endangering the safety of all and to avoid a possible breakdown of the floor, court would be adjourned to an open air platform on the lawn below. There the court sat for the rest of the afternoon.

Statements of eight scientists and two clergymen were placed in the record of the case by the defense during the day. These set forth what testimony would be given if scientific and expert testimony had been permitted in the case.

The scientists who made statements included Dr. Maynard M. Metcalf, Dr. Fayl Cooper, Charles Hubbard Judd, Dr. Jacob G. Lipman, Wilbur A. Nelson, Dr. Kirtley F. Mather, Dr. H. H. Newman, Dr. Winter C. Curtis. Two clergymen were included in statements submitted, Dr. Walter C. Whitaker, St. John's Episcopal church, Knoxville, and Dr. Shailer Matthews, Divinity School of the University of Chicago. A statement also was inserted by defense attorneys.

UNITED STATES CANCELS CHINA'S DEBT OF $6,137,552

WASHINGTON, July 20—(AP)—China's debt of $6,137,552, the third installment of its indemnity for the Boxer outbreaks, was wiped off the slate today by the United States government.

The money will be used for educational purposes under direction of a board appointed by the Chinese government, made up of American and Chinese citizens.

President Coolidge, in remitting the debt at this time to the troubled nation, acted under authority granted by congress more than a year ago. The Chinese legation, taking note of the action today, declared it would go far toward further cementing the friendship of the two nations.

"The Chinese people," the legation said, "will never forget this extraordinary act of justice and good will on the part of America. It is safe to say that the gratitude of the Chinese people for this generous act will not fail to manifest itself in various ways in the future relations of the countries."

The statement declared that twenty-four years ago, when the powers exacted the indemnity, "the American government protested strenuously against this unjust proceeding but without avail," and that ever since, it had maintained that the indemnity should be returned to China solely for that nation's benefit.

China's indemnity to the United States originally was fixed at $24,000,000, but congress in 1908 ordered a large part of it eliminated.

CONTEST OVER ESTATE OF LATE LOTTA CRABTREE

BOSTON, July 20—(AP)—Three sisters, daughters of the late John Edward Crabtree of Crabtree Ford, Illinois, testified in Suffolk probate court today in support of the claim of Mrs. Ida Manning Blankenburg, of Tulso, Okla., that she is the daughter of Lotta Crabtree, Boston actress, and entitled to share in the latter's $3,000,000 estate, willed to charity.

The witnesses, Mrs. Sarah Hobart, of Rock Island, Ills., Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, of Bloomfield, Iowa, and Mrs. Margaret Anson, of Pine Bluffs, Illinois, agreed that their sister Ida May Crabtree, was deformed and died while an infant and that Mrs. Blankenburg was an adopted child. A brother, Joseph Crabtree, had testified previously that the claimant was his own sister.

Mrs. Hobart said that when she was seven years old a woman came to their home and left a baby to be cared for. Later, the witness said, her father had told her that Lotta Crabtree was the infant's mother. Mrs Brown and Mrs. Anson gave similar testimony.

IMPROVEMENT ALONG THE FRENCH FRONT IN MOROCCO

FEZ, July 20.—(AP)—The situation along the whole French front has improved, the mere presence of Marshal Petain's vigorous personality serving as a stimulus to all ranks. The marshal today held a long council of war with Generals Daugan and Calmel and the commanders of the different groups at which he made a number of suggestions. Later he visited the various military centers.

Marshal Petain has made a round of the front positions, so that he might see for himself the conditions under which the troops are operating.

The French air service has continued ceaseless activity, carrying out daily about 40 bombing expeditions, as well as numerous trips with supplies to the beleaguered posts.

The black cloud of the enemy propaganda among the tribes behind the front, which is being carried on unabated, constitutes a permanent menace from the rear, while Abd-El-Krim's principal forces, which have never yet been engaged, are ready to descend upon some weak point in the French sectors.

DECISION ON BRITISH NAVAL CONSTRUCTION DEFERRED

LONDON, July 20—(AP)—Final decision on naval construction has been deferred until the cabinet council meets Wednesday, when it was expected Premier Baldwin will make a statement in the house of commons explaining the course decided upon and the grounds for his decision.

The government's view is that the whole question is not one of principle, but of expediency. It is believed therefore that the unemployment problem may enter largely into the decision. It is still maintained in authoritative quarters that there will be no question of W. C. Bridgeman's resignation as first lord of admiralty.

German Reply Viewed With Favor In France

Note Dissipates the Fear That the Reich Government Would Hold For the Early Evacuation of Cologne.

PARIS, July 20—(AP)—The German reply to the French observations on Germany's offer of a security pact, which was handed to M. Briand, the French foreign minister, by the German ambassador, Herr Von Hoesch, this evening, has created a favorable impression in official circles.

The note dissipates the fear based on information from Berlin that the Reich government would make the negotiations for a pact dependent upon the early evacuation of Cologne. The only reservation which Dr. Stresemann, the German foreign minister, makes concerns the entry of Germany into the league of nations and the consequent obligation on the part of the reich to participate in league action to protect the frontiers under Article 16 of the covenant.

This reservation is supposed to apply particularly to an eventual demand for the right of play for French forces to cross German territory to go to the aid of Poland or other countries of eastern Europe that might be attacked by the Soviets.

The security negotiations, it is believed in French circles, will go on now seriously and actively. It was said this evening that M. Briand's response may be ready within a fortnight, after which the negotiators will probably get down to a discussion of the details of the guarantee.

The German note evidences a desire to reach an understanding with France. It is couched in terms which lead French officials to suppose that Berlin regards the negotiations for a security pact as really, under way. It omits entirely mention of the evacuation of Cologne.

Dr. Stresemann takes up the points in the French note and replies to each of them in measured terms. His reservation on the entry of Germany into the League of Nations and obligations the Reich would thereby assume, will be, is thought in French official circles, be the principal subject of the discussion.

Contrary to general expectations, the German note fails to suggest a conference between the interested parties, and exchanges of views will consequently continue through the regular diplomatic channels. M. Briand will communicate with the allies before the publication of the note Wednesday.

DISTURBANCE AT MINERS' CONVENTION IN WILKESBARRE

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 20.—(AP)—All available police and detectives were rushed to the Y. M. C. A. building late today, following disturbances among the 600 anthracite miners at the bi-ennial convention of District No. 1, United Mine Workers of America.

Three general melees were reported within a half hour, resulting in a second call to headquarters for reinforcements.

George Isaacs, district vice-president, who is planning to contest the election of Rinaldo Cappellini, was knocked unconscious in one of the mix-ups. Police were compelled to club another delegate into submission and drag him from the hall.

When the delegates were quieted twenty officers were left to patrol the convention hall.

The disturbance followed an address by Mayor Daniel L. Hart in which he pleaded for peace. Thomas Kennedy, international secretary-treasurer, and C. J. Golden, president of District No. 9, were on the platform with President Cappellini during the fights.

CORN BORER IN AREAS NEAR STONINGTON AND MYSTIC

HARTFORD, July 20.—(AP)—State entomologist, W. E. Britton, of the Connecticut Agricultural experiment station at New Haven, said tonight that the European corn borer had appeared this year only in small areas near Stonington and Mystic. He said that infection in these areas was traced to ground that had not been thoroughly cleaned and burned last year after the pest had been discovered. A thorough clean up of the section is to be made, he said, which is expected to practically rid the state of the pest. Similar information regarding the pest in this state was supplied by Leonard H. Healey, deputy secretary of agriculture.

KU KLUX KLAN FUNERAL HELD IN BRIDGEPORT

BRIDGEPORT, July 20.—(AP)—For the first time in Connecticut, a Ku Klux Klan funeral was held here this afternoon for William Wallace Waterman, 69, a brother of Judge Eleozer L. Waterman, chief justice of the superior court of Vermont. Mr. Waterman had requested shortly before his death Thursday that the klansmen officiate.

Twenty-one klan members wore their full regalia as they rode in autos to Mountain Grove cemetery, while crowds gaped and jeered. Each klansman placed a bouquet on the grave, after which their rites were chanted in monotone over the body. Waterman was buried wearing the klan robes. Names of the klan members taking part were kept secret. Members of St. John's lodge, A. F. and A. M., attended the funeral, but the Masonic ritual was not performed.

FRENCH AND BELGIANS EVACUATING THE RUHR

MAYENCE, Germany, July 20.—(AP)—The French and Belgian forces of occupation are rapidly evacuating the rich territory of the Ruhr region in Westphalia.

Already they have left the towns of Bochum, Witten Hattingen, Euer, Sterkrade and Dinslaken. The evacuation represents the second part of the first period of withdrawal as provided for by the London agreement. The expectation is that all the foreign troops will have departed from Westphalia tomorrow.

The territory which is being returned to the Germans comprises some of the business manufacturing towns in the republic. Rich coal and iron mines abound and there are in operation great steel, carpet and paper mills and other manufactories.

On the program of human events women are the consolation race.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

The Belgian garrison evacuated Sterkrade, Russia, by way of Oterhausen for Buisburg.

The American Smelting and Refining company yesterday advanced the price of lead from 8.00 to 8.10 cents per pound.

Two men were drowned in Dudley Pond, at Wayland, Mass., when a rowboat capsized 20 feet from shore. A third passenger swam ashore.

The Goodyear No. 4, one of the four balloons that left Akron, Ohio, on Saturday afternoon, landed at Lyndonville, 45 miles northeast of Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. F. W. French, for five years pastor of the North Baptist church in Brockton, Mass., read his resignation to his parishioners Sunday, to take effect at once.

Joseph Ziobi, 20, of Greenfield, Mass., was given a five-year sentence in state prison by Judge Christopher Callahan in superior court for larceny of an automobile.

Pope Pius leaned with great regret of the death of Cardinal Begin, primate of Canada, and sent his deep condolences to Canada through the apostolic delegate.

Prof. Charles F. Chandler, long associated with Columbia university, underwent a bladder operation at his summer home, the Homestead, in New Hartford, yesterday.

Six bus drivers employed by the American Coach company, which operates between Lawrence and Providence, according to complaints, were fined $50 each in district court, in Lawrence, Mass.

Gov. Alvin T. Fuller, Howard W. Selby, Springfield paper manufacturer and C. Freeman Olsen, Boston investment banker with a home at Winchester, today were elected trustees of Boston university.

Completely exhausted, Ellis Gagne, 8, of Rumford Falls, Me., lost in the woods since Friday, was found asleep under a hollow log by George Bishop, member of the posse which has been searching for the boy.

New Canaan again showed its unwillingness to have the town and borough governments consolidated under one head, when the voters killed the motion yesterday at a special election by a three to one vote.

Louis Rosenberg, of 88 Kensington street, New Haven, notified the detectiville, 45 miles northeast of Buffalo, N. July 15 and the 18th his house had been entered and jewelry valued at $500 had been stolen.

Three men were arrested in Schenectady, N. Y., on charges of first degree grand larceny for theft of radio sets and tubes manufactured for the Radio Corporation of America, by the General Electric company.

The carry-over of old wheat was estimated yesterday by the United States crop reporting board at 87,000,000 bushels, as of July 1, compared with 106,000,000 a year ago and 102,000,000 on the same date in 1923.

Miss Elizabeth Ives, 72 years old, of 20 Howard street, Fair Haven Heights was struck by an automobile at Temple and Chapel streets, and suffered a laceration of the left cheek and possible fracture of the right knee.

Thieves gained entrance to Eagles hall in Lawrence, Mass., through an open window and stole a safe weighing 300 pounds. They moved it across the lodge hall and carried it down a fire escape to a waiting automobile.

A jury was drawn in superior court in Boston for the trial of eleven men indicted in connection with the collapse of the Pickwick club building July 4, with the loss of 44 lives, and the state will open its case today.

Age was but a word to two venerable members of the Union Boat club Boston, who rowed a wherry from the club landing to Boston light and back a distance of 9½ miles, in less than four hours. They were L. Stone King, 83, and T. H. Simmons, 71.

Two hundred members of Rahway's (N. J.) younger set clad in bathing suits rinsed the "old swimming hole" Sunday waiting for their turn while eleven concerts of the Church of the First Born passed through the ordeal of baptism by immersion.

Josephine Koykowiser had a lot to say when she entered a Brooklyn drug store telephone booth on Saturday morning, as the time she had said it all it was Sunday morning, the employes had all gone home and the store was locked up with her in it.

Counsel for minority railroad stockholders fighting the Nickel Plate merger proposal were given the right before the interstate commerce commission to inquire at length into the business affairs of O. P. & M. J. Vansweringen, promoters of the project.

A loan of $30,000,000 for the Kingdom of Denmark has been awarded to a banking syndicate headed by the Guaranty company of New York officials of the banking institution announced yesterday. An early offering of the thirty-year 5 1-2 per cent. bonds is expected.

Although the sermon was omitted from the services in the Rusian Cathedral of St. Nicholas' Sunday to avoid the demonstrations which the last two Sundays necessitated the entrance of the police, there was again a demonstration verging on riot which the police had to quell.

To prevent the spreading of the European corn borer in Maine, the entire force of inspectors was stationed at the bridges of entry to see that no green corn or dahlias are shipped into the state from infested areas in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Hampshire.

Judge Nelson P. Brown of the superior court was yesterday named as third or neutral member of the arbitration board which will act on the wage differences between the Boston Elevated company and the Boston Street Carmen's union. He accepted the position last evening.

Lucen Sagris of Salisbury, Mass., was arraigned before Judge Lowell in federal court in Boston, charged with conspiracy to violate the customs laws in connection with alleged rum running operations at Salisbury Beach in 1920. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $2,000 for trial.

Hearing on Postal Rate Controversy

Too Early For Department to Make Estimate of the Effect of New Rates on Postal Revenue.

WASHINGTON, July 20—(AP)—The special congressional postal commission, re-opening the postal rate controversy today, heard criticisms of some of the new tariffs made effective last April, received a proposal for a one-cent postage on drop letters and entered into a discussion of the methods of the United States Chamber of Commerce in conducting referendums on public questions.

Postmaster General New, the first witness at the opening session of hearings which will take the commission to a score of cities in the next few weeks, frankly told the senators and representatives that it was too early for the postoffice department to make any accurate estimate of the effect of the new rates on postal revenue.

Presenting figures to show a slight decrease in revenue for May as compared to the estimate of what the revenue would have been for the month under the old rates, Mr. New declared he would not say that the postoffice department was disappointed in the outlook.

He forecast a substantial increase in revenue from the two cents special charge on parcel post packages, but said strong protests had been received against the increase in the postage rates on newspapers mailed by individuals and that indications pointed to a falling off of revenue from that source.

The one-half cent increase in the rate of private mailing cards also promises to prove costly to the government, the commission was told, because many private concerns are turning to the use of the government cards which go through the mails at one cent each.

PLANNING TO EXECUTE RUSSELL SCOTT FRIDAY

CHICAGO, July 20.—(A. P.)—Supposed new evidence upon which Russell Scott depended to save his life today dwindled to the doubtful testimony of two women, and officials of the Cook county jail again made plans to hang him next Friday.

Scott, former Canadian financier, was granted a week's reprieve last Thursday night, six hours before he was to have been hanged for the murder of a Chicago drug clerk during a holdup. It was the latest of several reprieves granted the slayer and came after a telegram signed by Robert Scott was sent to Governor Small from Detroit, stating that Robert and not Russell, fired the fatal shot. Robert Scott, Russell's brother, also was indicted, but never apprehended.

The telegram which said Robert expected to surrender, apparently was a hoax as he has not been heard from since.

Scott's attorneys today based most of their hopes on obtaining a commutation on the stories of two women whose names they have never revealed, but who they say were in the drug store when the clerk was killed. The women declare that Robert killed the clerk during a drinking party and not during aholdup. Scott's attorneys explained that the women, both married, were present with men not their husbands and that they have been unable, thus far, to induce them to risk their reputations by making affidavits to be submitted to Gov. Small in a last effort to save the condemned man's life.

COAL SCALE CONFEREES TO RESUME SESSIONS TODAY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 20.—(A. P.)—Anthracite scale conferees began returning to the boardwalk tonight to resume discussion tomorrow afternoon after a three day adjournment.

Such miners as remained here over Sunday appeared tonight to regard less and less as official the long range hint Saturday from Swampscott, of possible intervention about the only development during the week end lull.

Tonight also saw apparently the last rocket fired in the equally long distance discussion between Philip Murray, miners' vice president and Robert G. Binkerd, of the eastern railroads. In final rebuttal against Murray's assertion that hard coal freight rates could take enough of a cut to provide the wage increase the miners are now asking, Binkers wired that freight rates had not advanced as Murray said. Anthracite rates to tidewater as New York had advanced from $1.60 a ton in 1911 to but $2.39 today, according to Binkerd, who observed this was less than 50 per cent. Boston rates had increased approximately 56 per cent., he said.

MRS. BORGLUM TALKS FOR SCULPTOR HUSBAND

HARTFORD, July 20.—(A. P.)—"If the people of Georgia and other former Confederate states, opt of respect for General Robert E. Lee, want Gutzom Borglum to finish his statue in the Stone Mountain Memorial, the Stamford sculptor will gladly complete that figure in the great design," Mrs. Borglum said today following her return Saturday from Raleigh, N. C., according to a special dispatch to The Hartford Courant, from Stamford, Conn.

"Mr. Borglum's respect for General Lee's memory is such that he would not permit the situation that has arisen between him and the local committee which usurped control of the Stone Mountain project to stand in the way of his completing the figure of Lee," said Mrs. Borglum. "The general's head should not be left up in the air, as it were."

AMERICANS TO FINANCE LONDON SUBWAY SYSTEM

LONDON, July 20.—(A. P.)—The Daily Graphic says that American capitalists have just completed preliminary plans for giving London the biggest underground railway system in the history of transportation, involving an outlay of 25,000,000 pounds.

A network of freight railways below the level of the present passenger subway system is planned. The plan needs the sanction of parliament.

ENCOURAGING REPORT OF PROSPECTS OF BIG TAX CUT

Senator Curtis Has Informed President Coolidge That a Reduction of at Least $300,000,000 is Probable—The Chief Executive Had a Busy Day Yesterday, Receiving Callers Morning and Afternoon.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 20—(A. P.)—Plunging into his first real consideration of the administrations legislative program for the next session, President Coolidge today received an encouraging report from Senator Curtis of Kansas, the republican leader on the prospects for a heavy tax cut.

A reduction of at least $200,000,000 is in prospect on the basis of treasury reports he has just gone over, Senator Curtis told the executive. He emphasized, however, that should the program for reorganization of the government departments be enacted a cut of a half billion dollars seems possible. He presented no specific plan for tax reduction.

Senator Curtis, who came here today as the house guest of the president, also gave encouraging reports on the farm outlook. He confirmed Mr. Coolidge's view that no special session of congress is necessary now. He declared against an extended fight to revise the senate rules at the next session, lest it impede the passage of important legislation.

Good prices and good crops are making for satisfaction among the farmers generally, the Kansas senator, who has just visited in the middle west, reported. He believed however, legislation to aid the cooperative marketing system should be enacted.

During the day the president also received Senator Hale, republican, of Maine, chairman of the naval committee, who has just returned from a trip of inspection of the Pacific coast naval defenses. Senator Hale again urged that a naval base be established on the Pacific coast, mentioning Alameda, California, as one location, and suggested that the government go through with its proposed improvements in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

It was a busy day for the executive.

GOOD START MADE BY THE FRENCH GOLD COUPON LOAN

PARIS, July 20—(A. P.)—The four per cent gold coupon loan through which the French government hopes to refund its floating debt and pave the way for general financial equilibrium and settlement of the war debts got a good start today. The bulletins of the new issue had hardly been posted on the walls in public places when lines formed in front of the loan windows of the banks and postoffices.

Several days will pass before figures are available, but M. Caillaux, the finance minister and his aids appear to be well satisfied with the beginning. The fact that non-holders of defence bonds are showing eagerness? to buy them in order to exchange them for the gold coupon loan, the ministry of finance regards as highly significant.

M. Caillaux broadcast his arguments in favor of the loan from the Eiffel Tower. This evening at the same time a large force of financial experts began lectures in all parts of the country.

There is complete absence of speculation as to what portion of the 50,000,000 of francs the national defence bonds represent will be exchanged for the perpetual loan, but confidence is manifested that the floating debt will be reduced below the danger point.

BRITISH MINERS BOYCOTT GOVERNMENT INQUIRY

LONDON, July 20—(A. P.)—The government's efforts to bring the miners and mine owners into a conference to negotiate a new agreement were seconded today by the Rt. Hon. Hugh Pattison MacMill, chairman of the government inquiry board, Who appealed to the owners to withdraw their proposals for a new agreement, which the miners had declared utterly inacceptable. The representatives of the mine owners are not disposed to yield on this point, and Mr. MacMillan expressed the opinion that Punctilio was standing in the way of a conference.

The miners continue to boycott the government inquiry, which today was attended only by representatives of the owners. Meanwhile the negotiations for forming a big combine of unions drag in the same way.

HALE FAVORS STRONG NAVAL BASE ON PACIFIC COAST

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 20—(A. P.)—Senator Hale, chairman of the senate naval committee, told President Coolidge today that he believed immediate steps should be taken to establish a strong naval base on the Pacific coast and to strengthen the Pearl Harbor Hawaii defenses.

Calling at the summer white house to pay his respects, Mr. Hale discussed with the executive the inspection he has just completed of naval establishments on the west coast and in Hawaii.

The senator said the navy would do its utmost to develop its aviation service and declare that while he believed every effort should be made toward economy he thought it would be a great mistake to cut appropriations so low as to weaken its efficiency.

ARMY PURSUIT PLANES LAND AT FORT COOK MAIL FIELD

OMAHA, Nebr., July 20—(A. P.)—The six army pursuit planes flying in three-plane formations, landed at the Fort Crook Air Mail Field here at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, two hours and 18 minutes after they took off from Iowa City.

The planes under command of Major Thomas Lanphier, are flying from Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, Michigan, to the Pacific coast. The outbound trip is made for the inspection of the government air mail route. On the return flight an attempt will be made to fly pursuit planes in formation at night.

The flyers will take off at 8 a. m. tomorrow for Cheyenne and on Wednesday will make the Cheyenne-to-the coast trip.

A divorce has been granted, in Paris, to Mrs. Jules Bache, wife of the New York banker.

FIRE DESTROYED BAPTIST CHURCH IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 20—(A. P.)—The Ruggels Street Baptist Church, one of Boston's religious landmarks was destroyed by fire tonight. Flames that began to have started from defective wires in the organ swept swiftly through the wooden structure, and a score of firemen narrowly escaped injury when a part of the roof fell a few feet from them. The loss was placed at $125,000.

The church, located in the heart of the city's "Black Belt," was established in 1845 and the burned edifice was built in 1848 as the Tremont Baptist Mission. The church took its present name in 1870. Daniel Sharp Ford former editor of the Youth's Companion and the founder of Ford Hall, gave the church a $2,000,000 endowment from which its recent philanthropic and religious activities were developed. The present pastor is the Rev. J. Harrison Thompson.

Even while the embers were cooling Dr. Thompson was making plans for possible restoration or requilding, and announced that the executive and prudential committee of the church would meet Wednesday to decide on the matter. For the present the congregation of 1100 will meet for services in the assembly hall of the chapel adjoining. That building was only scorched by the flames.

WAGE CUTS MADE BY MILLS IN LAWRENCE

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 20—(A. P.)—Further announcements of wage cuts affecting about 4,500 employes were announced here today. This evening, after a two hour conference between mill officials and the shop council a ten per cent reduction in the Worsted department of the Pacific Mills, which employes about 4,000 operatives was announced effective on July 27.

On the same date the Davis and Furber Machine Shop in North Andover, makers of textile machinery and employing about three hundred will put into effect a ten per cent reduction. The Lawrence Duck company, employing two hundred also announced a cut today.

Last week wage reductions were announced in the five local mills of the American Woolen company, the Arlington Mills and several other plants, all effective on July 27. The reduction in most cases was of ten per cent.

PUPIL WAS PERFECT IN ATTENDANCE FOR 12 YEARS

HARTFORD, July 20.—(AP)—Governor Trumbull and Dr. A. B. Meredith, commissioner of education, today signed a certificate of perfect attendance for twelve school years in recognition of the new record established by Miss Drusilla Carlson, of Washington. No absence marks were recorded by Miss Carlson during eight years in the grammar schools and four years in high school. The record, certified by H. M. Jeffords, local supervisor, is the best of which state education officials have knowledge.

WOULD CLEAN LIQUOR OUT OF THE DRUG BUSINESS

BOSTON, July 20—(A. P.)—A suggestion for the passage of legislation authorizing the refusal of state licenses to druggists who would sell liquor under the Volstead Law was made today by Louis K. Liggett head of the United Drug company, in his address to the three thousand delegates attending a drug dealers' convention here. He advised the delegates to "clean up the drug business, not regulate it."

SUMMARY OF YESTERDAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

Hearings were begun by a congressional commission on postal rates.

Chinese Boxer indemnity.

The United States remitted the

The Brookhart-Steck recount was begun by a senate committee.

O. P. Vansweringen resumed testimony before the interstate commerce commission on the Nickel Plate consolidation.

WILLIMANTIC

Miss Elizabeth Florence Uncles, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Uncles of South Coventry, became the bride of Francis Harlow Grady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Grady of 75 Oak street, this city, at a largely attended wedding solemnized at St. Mary's church, South Coventry, at ten o'clock Monday morning by Rev. Dennis F. Moran. The pastor also sang the nuptial high mass. Attending the bride was Miss Veronica P. McQuillan, a cousin of the groom. T. Maxwell Connolly of Boston was best man.

The bride was gowned in white point Venice lace, trimmed with filet and georgette. Her veil was of duchess lace, caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Killarney roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid was attired in Chinese red georgette trimmed with ribbon of the same shade. She wore a picture hat of leghorn with Chinese red velvet and flower trimming. Her bouquet was of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge roses. Little Miss Verna Smith, niece of the bride was flower girl. Her frock was of white lace. She wore a wreath of lilies-of-the-valley and tulle. She carried a basket of sweet peas and bridal daisies.

Miss Cecelia Day was at the organ and was accompanied by Joseph J. Bacchiochi, violinist, playing the Wedding March from Lohengrin as a processional. During the ceremony they rendered, "O Promise Me," which was sung by Master George LeFleur, "Ave Maria" sung by Miss Louise Andrelesky, of Stafford Springs, a former pupil of the bride "LeRouge Gorge," by Odilon Talbot was played as a recessional. A reception was held at the bride's home, with about one hundred guests present, from Boston, Stafford Springs, Hartford, New Haven, New York, Willimantic and South Coventry. The groom gave the bride a sapphire and diamond bracelet. The bride's gift to the groom was a white-gold watch chain. To her bridesmaid the bride gave a necklace of La Tusca pearls and to his best man the groom gave white gold cuff links. The bride received many beautiful presents. Mr. and Mrs. Grady left late in the afternoon on a trip to New York and Atlantic City. Going away, the bride wore an ensemble suit with coat of navy blue tucked georgette, trimmed with moire ribbon and dress of white crepe de chine dotted in red and gold. Her hat was of navy taffeta with trimmings of braided dots and red French coque feathers. Mrs. Grady has been director of the commercial department of the Stafford Springs High School and the groom is employed by Sheppard-Myers Inc., of Hartford. On returning they will occupy a newly furnished home at 45 Buckingham street, Hartford.

Miss Alberta Bernier and Arthur Hurteau, both popular residents of this city, were united in marriage at eight o'clock Monday morning in St. Mary's church, here, by Rev. E. A. Mathieu, who also sang the nuptial high mass. Miss Jeannette Boulain was maid of honor and Dona Bernier, brother of the bride was best man. Special singing was rendered during the ceremony by the St. Cecelia choir, with Mrs. J. P. Gaudreau at the organ. Many friends and relatives gathered later at the wedding breakfast served at the home of the bride on Windham Road.

Funeral services for Triffle Beaudieu were held at 8:30 o'clock from his home, 42 Jackson Place Monday morning. In a solemn mass of requiem at St. Mary's church at nine o'clock, Rev. H. C. Belec was celebrant; Rev. Albert D'Amour deacon and Rev. E. A. Mathieu, sub-deacon. The body was met at the church entrance by a delegation of the Sacred Heart Society and escorted to the sanctuary rail. Beautiful floral tributes were received. The bearers were George Larrock, George Maclure, Ismael Lachance, Edmund Sylvestre, Alexis Caisse and Amidee Belanger. In St. Joseph's cemetery Rev. Father Belec read the committal service. Arrangements were in charge of the Hurteau-Bosse Corp.

The West Ends annexed two more victories over the week-end when they rounded the low down to Lebanon town team in that place, 4 to 3 and victimized the Fitchville team, 11 to 4 at the local park, Sunday. "Cannonball" Jones wielded the slab for both Lebanon and Fitchville. The West Ends served through "Hal" Hawes who only allowed five hits Saturday against Lebanon. "Red" DeMarchi, star hurler for the locals, did himself credit on the mound, against Fitchville, Sunday.

Walter E. Reilly, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reilly, of Church street, Willimantic has been appointed a second lieutenant at the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Fort Adams, R. I., being assigned to Battery B. As a cadet officer he has the responsibility and authority, in drills and ceremonies of officers of the regular army serving in the same grade.

The negotiations by residents of East Hampton to purchase the Spellman property on Lake Pocotopaug for $100,000 is of interest to local people. In 1904 Mr. Spellman purchased the property for $15,000. It is said that the present owner of the property has been already offered a similar price for the property by Mr. Schwartz of New York, in the interest of a proposed colony.

A continuance was granted until Wednesday morning in two cases which were scheduled to come up in police court Monday morning, Frank J. Curley of 951 Great Plains Avenue, Needham, Mass., faces a charge of operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor, Monday, July 13, when his Ford cut capers on the lawn of a local resident. The second case is that of Guy DeMarco charged with breach of the peace. The complainants in the case, relatives of DeMarco, were not present to testify against him.

Sixty-seven members of the Girl Scouts of St. Joseph's parish are encamped at the Holmes Farm, Columbia Lake, occupying the grounds just vacated by the St. Joseph's Boy Scouts who have completed two weeks of camp life. The girls will remain for ten days. They are accompanied by several women as chaperones.

Escaping gas from a loose shut-off in the kitchen of the Hotel Hooker caused a slight explosion, Sunday morning, when the vapor became ignited as it issued from the gas range. Members of Engine Company No. 1, which is located just ca hsorestdkohs, which is located just across the street quickly rectified the trouble.

Christopher M. Case is to be office secretary at the local Y. M. C. A. during the summer months. Acting Physical Instructor Richard Holden leaves this week for Silver Bay, N. Y., where he will take up a course in physical training.

Noted Here and There

Mayor George W. Hickey has resumed his duties at the American Thread Company office, after an extended leave of absence.

St. Mary's Boys' Choir broke camp Saturday and left Columbia Lake, bag and baggage, after the annual outing. The boys are in fine shape after their joyous camp life.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Markham, the former's father, William Markham of East Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Blanchette and the former's father, Eli Blanchette of this city have left to spend two weeks in Maine.

Miss Myrtle Jordan, Miss Clara Holbrook and Mrs. Charles F. Risedorf spent Monday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Jordan at The Wigwam, Pleasant View, R. I.

Miss Helen Bramfield has had as guest, Miss Madeline Walsh, of Portland.

Dr. and Mrs. William E. Hendry and children, Hilda and James, and Miss Anna Dickson left Monday to spend two weeks with friends and relatives in the Catskills.

Mrs. Anna P. Young and daughter, Mrs. Nadhena P. Young stopped in town Sunday on their way home to Hartford, from Weekapaug.

Mrs. Henry R. Linscoln left Monday to spend a week with Mrs. A. R. Diefendorf at her summer home at Compo Beach, Westport.

Miss Marion Ellsworth and Miss C. M. Cartwright are at North Truro, Camp Cod.

Miss Eileen Murphy left Monday to spend a wek with her classmate, Miss Sally Mosher at her country home at Peacedale, Glenmont, N. Y.

Principal George H. Shiafer of the State Normal School, and instructor at the Yale summer school, spent the week-end with his family here.

Miss Bertha Harris has returned from New York, New Haven and Bridgeport, where she spent her vacation.

Attorney Samuel B. Harvey is spending his vacation at his farm in Chaplin.

Miss Laura Cartwright of Providence, R. I. is the guest of her cousin, Miss Walter Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Moon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Fenton and Mrs. J. H. Gray have returned from an automobile trip to Plymouth, Mass.

R. I. WORKERS WANT CONGRESS TO PROBE THREAD STRIKE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 20—Congressional investigation of the methods used by the American Thread Company to reduce the wages of its workers in Willimantic is requested in a resolution adopted Sunday at a meeting of the delegates of the textile centers in Rhode Island, it became known here Monday. The resolution has been sent to the Connecticut State Federation of Labor, to be forwarded by that body to Washington.

In addressing the delegates Thomas F. McMahon, President of the United Textile Workers of America and Theophile Guerin, President of the Rhode Island Textile Association and head of the Guerin Mills, Inc., of Woonsocket, R. I. spoke concerning the action of the American Woolen Company in declaring a reduction of wages with the alleged intention of passing along the reduction in manufacturing costs to the general public.

The forced evacuation of about half a dozen more families of former operatives of the American Thread Company was accomplished without incident, Monday, in charge of Sheriff's John H. Fitts and Tillinghast. The first four families to be evicted were those of Joseph Sewanski, 83 Ives street; Adolpans Rondeau, 32 Ives street; Eugene Bonin, 48 Ives street and Harry Bashura, 36 Ives street. All of these families moved to the Tent City where they will be housed until there is more decisive development in the strike. The sheriffs withheld action in evicting the family of Leon Dubina of 60 Ives street when it was discovered that two of the children were suffering from whooping cough. Medical advice will be secured before the family is forced to leave.

WILLIMANTIC CAMP MEETING PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Under the joint auspices of the Willimantic Camp Meeting association and the Norwich district Epworth League, the Willimantic Camp Meeting and Institute will be held this year, Aug. 15 to 23, on the Camp Grounds at Willimantic. All meetings are held on eastern standard time.

The daily programme will be as follows:

6:30, rising bell; 7, breakfast; 8 to 8:40, morning watch; 8:45 to 9:25, (a) Foreign Missions—Dr. Lipp, (b) Home Missions—Mrs. Stevens; 9:30 to 10:10, (a) Stewardship—Dr. Gornall, (b) Advanced Sunday School Methods—Mrs. Stevens; 10:25 to 11:10, (a) Senior Epworth League Methods—Prof. Foley, (b) Junior Sunday School Methods—Miss Prentis; 11:15 to 12, Bible—Dr. Harold W. Ruopp; 12:15, dinner; 2, inspirational addresses and sermons; 4, recreations; 5:30, supper; 7, messages on Deepening of the Spiritual Life.

Evenings at 7 o'clock, a series on Deeping of the Spiritual Life: Monday, Getting Better Acquainted With God, Rev. J. W. Carter; Tuesday, Giving Jesus a Fair Chance, Rev. W. E. Plaxton; Wednesday, Spiritual Power: How to Get and Use It, Rev. Joseph Cooper; Thursday, Spiritual Passion for Others, Rev. W. D. Dunnack; Friday, illustrated lecture on Mexico and South America, Dr. Spaulding; Saturday we hope to have a Cantata conducted by our musical director, Mr. Sallis.

Sunday Services.

Aug. 16—Missionary Sunday—10, Woman's Home Missionary society; 2, Woman's Foreign Missionary society; 4, Children's Missionary meeting; 7, Union Missionary meeting. Miss Esther V. Thurston of Hakadate, Japan, will speak on Foreign Missions, and has rare charm and power. Another for Home Missions will be announced later.

Camp Meeting Sunday, Aug. 23.

8:30, Love Feast, led by Rev. F. C. Baker; 10, sermon by Rev. Philip L. Frick, D. D.; 2, sermon, preacher to be announced later; 7, sermon by Bishop William F. Anderson.

Three Forest Retreats for Ministers will be conducted by Dr. Charles E. Spaulding, of New London, with a questionnaire at close of each period, in the afternoon of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, at 1 o'clock. He will also give a stereopticon lecture Thursday evening on Mexico and South America.

Two addresses on Civic Christian Relations will be given by Dr. E. V. Claypool on afternoons.

Recreations of various kinds will be announced from time to time by the chairman, Mr. Stimson.

Afternoons at 2 O'clock.

A series on Broadening Our Christian Relations. Monday, The Racial Longing After God, Rev. Jerome Greer; Tuesday, Christian Life a Big Adventure, Rev. George S. Brown; Wednesday, Sure Guidance for the Unknown Future, Rev. H. H. Conklin; Thursday, Christian Civic Relations, Dr. Claypool; Friday, Christian Civic Relations, Dr. Claypool; Saturday, An Incentive Big Enough for All of Life, Rev. J. H. Graham.

Nolles were entered in the case of Joseph Crora, Frenandis Bluger and Tony Catla all of New Britain, who were arraigned in city court there before Judge Hayes. Catla was charged with passing counterfeit money and the other two with being suspicious characters.

WESTMINSTER

The Story of Jonah was the subject at morning worship Sunday the 19th and quotations made from a recent sermon on that topic, recently preached by Rev. Charles E. Jefferson of Broadway Tabernacle, N. Y.

Last week Wednesday, Miss Linnell and Miss Frost attended the funeral of a relative of the former, Mr. Chitter of Moosup.

Fillmore Sage was a week end visitor at J. A. R. Jones.

Among recent holiday guests were Ralph and Harold Olson, now employed at Milford, Pa., at their home Broadview. Miss Anna Olsen, their sister, from East Hartford accompanied by a friend, Miss Bengtson, was also at Salve Olsen's.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbard, Jr., with the mother of Mrs. Hubbard and a niece, on their return trip from a week's visit at the home of the Hubbard's in this place, called on the Coulters, formerly residents here, at Saybrook Ferry, finding them in usual health.

Miss Edith Olsen who since graduation has been with a married sister in Bridgeport, recently has had enjoyable visits in her former home in New Jersey with relatives and friends one of these her brother Oswald.

Miss Lydia Lathrop, R. N., is caring for Mrs. F. S. Linnell.

The many friends of Rev. Mary F. Macomber, for five years pastor at Central Village, were distressed to know of her serious accident last week Friday, in East Taunton, her present parish. she is reported as receiving severe bruises on her face and side, and two or more broken ribs, as a result of being knocked down by an automobile as she stopped from a street car.

Edward Burns of Sleepy Hollow, N. Y., a brother-in-law of Mrs. Frank Linnell, is spending a few days at Rose Cottage.

Mrs. Charles Robbins who is assisting at the Linnell's had a visit over Sunday from her daughter Laura, of Danielson.

The funeral of Thomas Bradford was attended by many of his friends; and others unable to attend the funeral neighbors when he lived in Westminster, were at the burial in Backus cemetery. Among the floral tributes was one inscribed, From Mr. Bradford's old home. The Coffee's, former neighbors returned to town to attend his funeral.

Mrs. Frank Pellet's father, William Inglis, of Plainfield, his two sons and daughter, were recent holiday guests at her home.

Miss Florence Stahnke is at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Wellman in Moosup.

Miss Helen Atwood of Wauregan was a recent caller in Westminster.

Mary here sympathize deeply with Mrs. John R. Pratt in the sudden death of her mother recently. Mrs. Barnum has been here and at other six church feloiwships, making herself greatly beloved and will be missed.

Fred Sacket has been substituting, as for some years, during the vacation of the Canterbury mail-route man, J. S. Ferguson, regular carrier.

Carl Stahnke has been working for some time for Howard A. Rix.

Guests at the home of William E. Davis, Raymond District, last Sunday, were Mrs. G. A. Perry and four children, Mrs. Myra Perry of Scotland; also Joseph Wright, Miss Dezerett and Libby Wright, of Worcester, Mass.

Fred Brown who was ill recently, is now about again.

Mrs. R. B. Kaylor and daughter are leaving for a week in Pittsfield, Mass.

Mrs. Emil Zevingerstein and two children of Massachusetts were guests last week at the Kaylor home.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrey Nash of Darien, Conn., are visiting at Elm Arch farm.

Frost schoolhouse was suffered from lightning's queer pranks during the storm of Tuesday evening. The bolt entered, shattering the outer casing of a window, doing the same to the inside casing of a window, passed through the supply closet boring a hole an inch in diameter, through the supplies, passing out near the floor, ripping out several boards and doing other stunts without setting fire to the building or breaking a pane of glass!

The address by Dr. Claypool, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Connecticut at the Plains was intensely interesting, holding the full attention of his audience.

The Anti-Saloon league is the legal representative of the churches of many denominations, standing for Christian citizenship in action. Some of its objectives were outlined and envelopes with pencils passed, for backing for its work in cash or pledges.

Pastors and members of the churches new holding the union circuit Sunday evening meetings were present this being the turn of the church at the Plains. Churches represented in this way, Rev. Higgins of Packer, Rev. T. D. Childs of Ekonk who offered prayer, Rev. Ralph E. Knight of Canterbury Green who read the Scripture, Rev. and Mrs. Davies of Westminster, Rev. W. C. Prentiss of Plainfield Rev. Edwin St. John, pastor, at the Plains, Rev. Mr. Pratt of Hopkinton was not present because of the recent death in his family. Dr. Claypool was introduced by Mrs. Bliven, president of Canterbury W. C. T. U., (Buell Union) under whose auspices this union meeting was held. He is to speak some Sunday this fall in the church at the Green.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Soderberg this last week were Mrs. Hannah Anderson, Mrs. Amanda Reed, Mrs. Dolan, son and daughter each with a friend, the young folks returning to New York Sunday evening.

The circuit union meeting of neighboring church was appointed at Brooklyn for Sunday evening July 19.

At the meeting at Canterbury Plains George Inglis, sang a solo, appreciatively received.

Fred Wells who has spent sometime in the home of his sister, Mrs. Fannie Brassil has returned to his work in Worcester, Mass., greatly benefited by his stay here.

The pastors will be away the next two Sundays and the pulpit supply will be Mrs. Pierce of Danielson, who has been here once before. For the next two weeks, Mrs. Hubbard will report Westminster news to the Bulletin.

Mrs. Martha Warren now of Bridgeport and her niece Mrs. George Baylis of Stratford are guests at Gen Davis' home.

COLCHESTER

James Sherlock and family of Niantic were guests of rs. Sherlock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Brown over Sunday.

George Draper and daughter, of Vernon Center were callers on Mrs. Mary Baker Sunday.

Leo White of New Haven was a guest of James O'Brien over the week end.

Alden Bunyan and Walter B. Lombard of Hartford, were at their homes in town over Sunday.

Miss Margaret White of New Haven formerly of this place, is visiting at A. H. Chapman's on Norwich avenue for a few days.

The case of the state vs. Paul Herfurth for speeding, was tried before Justice Baker. The accused pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs of $12.72 which he paid. Officer Earlorin of the state police made the arrest.

The case of state vs. Leon Silkowski of Jersey City, N. J., charged with passing an intersecting highway without giving warning was tried before Justice Baker. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs of $12.72, which he paid. Officer Fred Cavan of the state police arrested Silkowski.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Strong of Washington, D. C., are guests of Mr. Strong's father, Charles L. Strong.

The case of state vs. George Crover charged with reckless driving, was tried before Justice Baker. Defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs of $13.77 which he paid. State Police Officer Fred T. Cavon made the arrest. Charles F. Brown appeared for the state on the 3 cases tried.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Strong and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Strong were in Middletown Monday, attending the funeral of Mrs. Julia Smith. Burial was in Indian Hill cemetery in that city.

Edward Driscoll of New Haven was at his home on Windham avenue over Sunday.

Ronald K. Brown returned to New York Monday after a few days at his summer home on Broadway.

HOPKINTON

A special session of the town council was held at the town hall Monday afternoon, July 13th, when the minor officers of the town were appointed. Several changes were made from last year's appointees among the most important of them were A. Lloyd Briggs, succeeding Samuel R. Avery, as moderator of town meetings; Henry H. Crandall, succeeding Frank M. Hill, as auditor and Frank H. Brown, succeeding Elmer C. Smith as chief of police. The four highway districts were made the same as last year with the same supervisors. Two hundred dollars was alotted to each highway district. It was voted to hold meetings the first Monday in every month at one o'clock, P. M., standard time.

Mrs. A. Irene Mills was entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. an dMrs. Arthur Gratz.

The private funeral of Mrs. Sarah F. Murphy, who died Thursday, was held Saturday afternoon at her home on West Street, Ashaway, with burial in Oak Grove Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wright sailed Saturday for a six weeks' visit with friends in England. Mr. Wright has been employed for a number of years as a machinist by the Ashaway Woolen Co. and by faithful application to his duties has earned a vacation.

An interesting denominational conference for young people was held by the First Hopkinton S. D. B. church Thursday.

The engagement of Miss Gladys Baker to R. Merritt Kenyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. C. Kenyon, is announced.

Perry Partlo, of Providence, R. I., has been spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Kenyon.

A severe thunder storm visited this section Friday night but no serious local damage has been reported.

CHESTNUT HILL

Miss Mary Chappell is visiting relatives in Malden, Mass.

Miss Cora Chappell returned home Saturday after spending two weeks in Malden and vicinity.

M. C. Peckham and C. H. Peckham of Manchester were callers here Wednesday.

Richard Dimon who has been ill the past week with pleurisy, is able to be about.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Eugene Tucker and friends from Glastonbury were callers at A. S. Peckham's Sunday afternoon.

Miss Florence Wells of Windham, visited her cousin, Mrs. Mary Cone the past week.

MYSTIC

The funeral services for Nancy E. Dewey, wife of Halsey E. Packer, of Orchard street, were held Monday afternoon in the Methodist church. Rev. J. Garfield Sallis conducted the service. Many relatives and friends were present as well as members of the W. C. T. U., she having been a member for several years. Burial was in the Road church cemetery.

Lewis J. Hill returned to his home from Home Memorial hospital Sunday afternoon having been a patient there since July 3rd, when he was severely injured by the premature discharge of a cannon. The forefinger on his left hand was amputated and his face was injured with powder.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Wilbur, and daughter, Susanne, of Brouxville, N. Y., are visiting Mr. Wilbur's mother, on New London road.

Mrs. E. A. Cady, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting Misses Emeline and Jessie Fish.

Rev. and Mrs. George P. Jones are at their summer home in Quiambaug until Sept. 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, and daughter, Addie, of Sterling, brought Miss Elizabeth Denison to Elwood Lathrop's, Sunday. Miss Denison has visited her uncle and family for two weeks.

Mrs. Mabel Moser returned to Hartford Sunday. Her mother, Mrs. Marion Pomeroy, accompanied her for two weeks' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mitchell, of Glastonbury, spent Sunday here with relatives.

Mrs. Charles F. Congdon and two grandchildren and Miss Callie Chapman spent Saturday at Watch Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pollard, and children, Irene and Junior, spent Sunday with Mr. Pollard's niece, Mrs. Leslie Herrick, in Washington, R. I.

The W. C. T. U. is to meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Byron Billings.

The framework of Charles Barnes' house, on Mystic road, is up and the work is progressing.

Mrs. R. L. Snell and Miss Katherine MacKay, who are at Hyannis, Mass., for the summer, returned here Friday evening for the week-end and motored back Sunday afternoon, to remain for four weeks.

Herbert F. Davis was home from New York for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lewis, of New London, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gracey, of Greenwich, Conn., called on relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. Eliza Mallory Tifft, former resident here, now of Brooklyn, N. Y., is a guest at the Benjamin cottage.

Miss Ellen Watson was home for the week end from Yale summer school.

Wallace Phillips has returned from a visit with friends in West Hartford and Bridgeport.

Mrs. Julius Mallory, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Bloom were visitors in Lyan, Mass., over the week end.

Mrs. Warren Rathbun and daughters, Misses Annie and Edith, and Mrs. Emeline F. Allen, are on a motor trip to Vermont, visiting at Westfield, Punbridge, and Rochester. They will be gone ten days.

Miss Helen Palmer, of Brooklyn, Conn., is visiting relatives in the village.

Mrs. John J. Brooks has returned from a five weeks' stay in Hartford and South Windsor. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Northam and daughter, Elizabeth, from a week's stay at Nantucket. Mr. Northum was returned to Hartford, leaving his wife and daughter for a visit with Mrs. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Paige and daughter, Miss Louise Paige, left Sunday on a motor trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, where they will visit with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. Noyes and Miss Emily B. Noyes, are on a trip to Rangely Lakes, Maine. Mrs. John Wheeler is employed in the store during their absence.

Miss Phebe Stinson, stenographer in J. W. Lathrop's office, is having her vacation, visiting friends in South Windsor, Conn.

Mrs. Fannie Burdick and daughters, Bernice and Antonette Burdick, took a trip over the Mohawk Trail, returning Sunday evening.

Four army trucks and four Red Cross automobiles from Camp Devens, on their way to Niantic, stopped for some supplies here Saturday evening. Several men were in charge of them.

About twenty-five members of Pyramid temple, of Bridgeport, who are residents here went to Bridgeport Saturday and were on the long parade and attended the barbecue and entertainment at Pleasure Beach.

Dr. C. F. Congdon, health officer for the town of Stonington, was in Pawcatuck to quarantine the house of Frank Morey. His little son has infantile paralysis and has been removed to a contagious hospital in Providence.

During the tempest Friday evening lightning struck and killed five cows that were under a tree on the farm of James E. Lord.

The feature of the present week in Methodist circles is the Sunday school picnic announced for Ocean Beach Thursday. Any adult friends of the school who desire to go may obtain particulars by telephoning 607 or 197.

The Epworth League plans a lawn party at the Parsonage Saturday evening.

Pastor, the Rev. J. G. Sallis will conduct the midweek service Wednesday evening and next Sunday will bring his summer ministry to a close. At the morning service he will preach a special old folks' sermon and in the evening the service will consist of informal hymn worship and responsive vespers. Plans are being made for the supply of the pulpit during August.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is bereaved in the death of Mrs. Nancy Dewey Packer Friday. Mrs. Packer became a member of this church, March 31, 1907 by transfer from the church in Old Mystic.

LEDYARD

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Barbara Goodenough Wednesday evening, July 15 at the Congregational parsonage in Ledyard in honor of her approaching marriage with Carl Holmes Holdridge. Both Miss Goodenough and Mr. Holdridge had been invited to supper by a friendly neighbor. After they had partaken of their meal, the telephone rang and they were informed that there was some one at the parsonage, that wished them to return home soon. When they arrived they were surprised to see a large number of automobiles parked about. There were over 100 present. The large number of people showed the high esteem in which the young people are held. Besides the townspople. There were friends present from Mystic, St. Paul, Wis., Franklin, Norwich and Preston. Miss Goodenough's gifts were varied, beautiful and useful, ranging from a rolling pin to beautiful linen, pictures, china, etc. Sandwiches, cake and ice cream were served.

When the advertisement offers a reward for the return of a lost article "and no questions asked," the advertiser is not a woman.

BLACK PT.

FACTS

THE beach front of the state of New Jersey was assessed in 1899 at Fifty-Seven Million Dollars; In 1922, it was assessed at over Three Hundred Million Dollars. This was more than the total assessment for all the farms and farm lands in the whole state.

Sandy Bathing Beaches make Seashore Resorts

Jas. Jay Smith.

BLACK PT. has everything, everything a magnificent shore property could have. Beyond all the necessary improvements, it has a splendid location, far out in the water, high, cool and sightly, it's over 60 feet above the sound. Then, too, there is a good beach, a snug harbor, an attractive Club House, beautiful homes and—well, you must see BLACK PT.—there is nothing like it on the whole Connecticut shore.

A good lot will cost you less than $500 and you have 4 years in which to pay for it.

From Norwich, go west from New London, through Niantic and on to Black Pt.

JAS. JAY SMITH CO.
NIANTIC, CONN.

Children Cry for

Fletcher's CASTORIA

MOTHER:— Fletcher's Castoria is especially prepared to relieve Infants in arms and Children all ages of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and, by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Absolutely Harmless—No Opiates. Physicians everywhere recommend it.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Early Monday morning, the death of Mrs. John S. Westcott, 63, of Wauregan, occurred at the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam, where she had been a patient the past four weeks and apparently was recovering, after having undergone a surgical operation. A few days ago Mrs. Westcott developed pneumonia, which was the direct cause of death. Helen M. Whitmore, wife of John S. Westcott, had been a resident of Wauregan since 1863 and her death will be a cause of regret among the people of that community, where she was a member of the Congregational church and ever interested in the welfare of the village. Mrs. Westcott leaves her husband, a daughter, Mrs. R. N. Griswold, of Salt Lake City, Utah, but at home the past fortnight; a son, John B. Westcott, of Chatham, N. J., and two grandchildren, John B. Westcott, Jr., and Helen Ruth Griswold.

Monday morning, the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Malley, of Pomfret Landing, was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald in Hampton, with services at St. Joseph's church, in Danielson, at 10 o'clock, Rev. Ignatius Kost being celebrant of the requiem mass. The bearers were James J. Fitzgerald, Edgar George, Eugene Alsvad and Frank Noon. L. E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Thirteen motor car drivers—men and women—passing within a period of five minutes over the upper crossing at Central Village, Sunday afternoon about 5:40, were noted by an observer as paying no attention whatever to the possibility of a train's approach. Incidentally the thirteenth driver dashed under the gates as they were being let down ahead of a Norwich-Central Village trolley car. Not a driver in the entire lot slowed down or took any precaution whatever against a grade crossing accident. The gates at this crossing are operated by a gate-man, stationed at the crossing next below.

Consideration is being given by the Danielson and Plainfield Gas and Electric company to running a lighting line to the north shore of Alexander's lake, where a cottage colony is being developed and where more people are spending the summer than ever before. There are more than a score of cottages on the north and on the south shore of Alexander's lake, some of them new this season.

Reports that have come in indicate that highways of the town were damaged more than at any time this season by the exceptionally heavy downpour of Friday evening. This damage to highways is in various parts of the township and even to streets in certain sections of the borough.

St. Jame's school baseball team has made a splendid record to date this season, having won twelve games and lost but one, that to LaSalette college boys, at Hartford. The team has other games scheduled.

Workmen, a staging having been built, were engaged Monday in taking down the top section of a tall brick stack that stands at the power plant of the Main street factory of the Paco Manufacturing company. The top of this stack has been in poor condition and will be rebuilt.

Mrs. Abby Hopkins and Miss Rose LaRoche, operators at the central telephone exchange, are off duty for vacation.

Miss Alice Monohah has been a recent visitor with relatives in Providence.

Charles L. Dolbeare, of Blackstone, has been spending a few days visiting with relatives here.

Edward Caffery, Michael Caffery and Hosea Hopkins, Brooklyn men, were held here for the state police, to be taken to Pomfret, Monday afternoon, to answer to charges growing out of an affair in which their automobile figured Sunday. The trio were apprehended only after a chase through the woods.

Councils of the Union St. John Baptist in eastern Connecticut are electing delegations to attend the convention of the organization to be held at Holyoke, October 13, 14, 15.

Mrs. Marie Slater, of Elmville, continues to show improvement from injuries she received when she was shocked by lightning last Friday evening.

Several thousand fingerling trout will be sent here in about three weeks to be released in trout streams in towns in this vicinity.

Lieut. W. E. Bitgood, of the Service battery, has returned to Danielson, after a period of field service at Tobyhanna, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Jones and children and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Mills and children of Oakland Beach, R. I., made up a camping party that spent the week-end near the Old Furnace.

Now comes a demand for parking regulations between Academy and Reynolds and Spring street, on Main street. The claim is that a double row of parked cars leaves the open way too narrow.

It is possible that the exhibition halls at Brooklyn fair grounds will be lighted by electricity in time for the annual fair in September. The fair society has taken up the matter with the lighting company.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nuttall, of Danielson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lanham, of Wauregan, were members of a party that motored to Groton and beaches in that vicinity, on Sunday.

Mrs. Asphonse Gareau has gone to Canada to spend the remainder of the summer with relatives.

Many gathered at Wood's Hill Farm in Brooklyn, Monday afternoon, for a sale of cattle conducted by Witter brothers.

Frank J. G. Bailey returned Monday to his duties as assistant cashier of the Windham County National bank after a vacation of two weeks.

The excessive volume of motor traffic through Danielson Monday indicated that the tourist season is reaching its peak.

Through a change in arrangements, the field day exhibit at the Lallemand kennels in East Killingly, is to be held August 3, instead of on August 9.

Members of the board of relief of the borough of Danielson have given the usual notices relative to sessions they are to hold to hear appeals from the board of assessors.

In political circles in Windham county just now there is considerable of the matter of a successor to State Attorney Charles E. Searls. Three or four attorneys have been mentioned for the place.

Certain repairs are being made these vacation days to the school building at Goodyear.

Chopmist Hill Inn
(Open All Year)
NORTH SCITUATE, R. I.
12 Miles East of Danielson, Providence Pike.
Chicken, Steak and Lobster Dinners.
Accommodations for Clubs, Lodges, Associations.
Private Dining Rooms on Application.
LARGE DINING HALL
Seating Capacity 400.
The Largest Sport Field in Rhode Island.

PUTNAM

Henry Bugbee, assistant caretaker at the Putnam Country Club, was badly burned Sunday afternoon about six o'clock, by an explosion of gas in the clubhouse. The gas had been turned out in the stove and when he went to light it, the explosion followed. The flames flashed about his face and head and it was feared at first that his sight had been destroyed. He was taken to a hospital at Worcester where it was found that the sight of one eye was not impaired, and it is hoped that the vision of both may be preserved. After the injuries had been dressed he was brought back to Putnam and is now at the home of his father, Bert H. Bugbee in the Manhasset village. For several days the boy will have to remain in a darkened room.

Putnam contributed generously Saturday to the "Heart Tag Day" for the benefit of destitute families and other unfortunates in care of the Volunteers of America. The total amount contributed to this worthy cause was $159.23. The representative of the organization has expressed gratitude for the support given by the people of Putnam in general, as well as to the city officials, the newspapers, the merchants who furnished the incentives for the children's efforts. Mention is also made of the work of the children, who gave of their time to help those less unfortunate than themselves, and of the capable leadership of Miss Clara C. Larned. The first prize was won by Miss Edna Murray who collected $17.73; the second by Arthur Kaminsky with $13.63; the third by Harry Thayer with $10.49 and the fourth by Edna Kent with $10.09. Other children received tickets to the moving pictures.

A movement has been started to save the old frigate Constitution and to do this a fund of $500,000 must be raised. At the invitation of the Secretary of the Navy John G. Price, Grand Exalted Ruler of the B. P. O. E. has promised the support of the subordinate lodges of the United States which number over 1,400 to act as field agents for the campaign. Putnam Lodge of Elks, No. 574 at a meeting voted to enter this campaign 100 per cent. strong and James J. Murray, Exalted Ruler of Putnam lodge will appoint his committees at once. This $500,000 is to be raised by contributions from school children all over the country and when school opens in the fall, printed matter explaining it will be in the hands of the pupils of all schools.

The work of the committee of Putnam Lodge of Elks will be to arrange for the collections of all contributions from school children and to arrange for holding school exercises during the week of October 19 to 24, designated as "Old Ironside Week" (which will be held in every school in the country on these dates). These exercises will give the committee of the Putnam Lodge of Elks the opportunity to emphasize the thrilling exploits of the famous frigate and the early history of the United States Navy. The Order of Elks is a patriotic organization and it is most natural that the secretary of the navy should look to this order for assistance in raising this money. The governors of all states have been asked to sponsor this campaign by organizing honorary state committees. The committee for Putnam Lodge of Elks will have the schools in Putnam, Thompson, Killingly and Plainfield under its supervision. Handsome colored reproductions of the famous frigate, suitable for framing, will be presented by the Elks to every school as the keynote of the patriotic exercises. Buttons are being manufactured, so that each school child who makes a contribution can wear the little emblem bearing the sentence "I Helped Save Old Ironsides."

Mrs. C. B. Bascoigne, Mrs. Frank Thorburn and little daughters, Barbara and Deborah, have gone to Cleveland and Toledo, Ohio, for several weeks' visit with relatives.

William E. Flanagan, of Boston, and John Flanagan of Newark, N. J., have returned to their homes, after a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Flanagan.

Mrs. W. D. Brayton and daughter Eleanor have returned from a visit with relatives and friends at Norwich.

Mrs. Louis Ballargeon and daughter, Bessie of Woonsocket are guests of George L. Madaga and family.

Miss Bessie Sullivan, of Oswega, N. Y., has been the guest of her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Flanagan.

The pension bureau at Washington announces that Mary S. Kenyon of Putnam has been granted a pension of $30 a month.

The 51st annual camp meeting at Douglas opened Friday and will continue until July 27.

Albert Girard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Girard, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bellerose and family, at Hartford.

Mrs. Walter A. Wheaton has returned from a visit with friends at South Willington.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson and Mrs. William H. Mansfield have returned from a motor trip to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Inez Van Iderstine of Worcester has been the guest of her sister, Miss Edith Carpenter of Wilkinson street.

Leroy J. Tripp of the Bugbee and Wulf store, with Mrs. Tripp left Sunday for a two weeks' vacation with friends and relatives at Boston and other places.

L. E. Richardson and family are mowing to Warren, R. I.

Mrs. Perry Wilson has returned from a visit to her son and his family at their summer home at Pleasant View.

Mrs. Mary Johnston of Woodville, Mass., is spending a few weeks at the home of H. W. Thompson of Woodstock avenue.

Stephen Tripp of Arch street will spend the remainder of the summer with relatives in Boston, Apponaug and Manchaug.

Miss Lillian Warren has returned from a two weeks' visit with Mrs. J. J. Russell at Juniper Point, Maine.

Mrs. Florence Bosworth and daughters, Miss Ada and Miss Thelma, are at Manomet, Mass., for a few weeks' vacation.

Miss Gladys Chaffee, student nurse at the Boston City Hospital, is spending a vacation with her mother on School street.

Dewey Tetreault has returned from a visit with friends at Hough's Neck, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. George Annas and family have returned from a visit with Boston friends.

F. W. Hill of Woodstock avenue has sold his property to Mr. Beauregard of Providence and has moved his family to Webster, Mass.

Miss Veronica Coffee of Manchester is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Duffy.

Misses Agnes and Mamie Mason were in Providence attending the funeral of their sister, Miss Eliza Mason, formerly of Putnam.

Leonard Beausoliel is spending two weeks' furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Beausoliel on Harrison street. Mr. Beausoliel is a musician on the U. S. S. Anters which is now at the New York harbor, after a cruise in Pacific waters.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Lillian Levesque of Uxbridge, Mass., to Omer Houle of Mapleville. Miss Levesque is a former resident of Putnam and has many friends here.

Herbert Miles has returned to Putnam, having spent two weeks with his family who are at their cottage at Lake Winnipsaukee, N. H., for the summer.

MRS WESTCOTT MOTHER OF PRES. ROOSEVELT'S NURSE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, July 20.—Mrs. Metcalf of Wauregan, who died early Sunday morning at the Day Kimball hospital, from pneumonia following an operation for appendicitis, had recovered from the effects of the operation, but was unable to withstand the attack of pneumonia.

Her daughter, Mrs. Griswold, of Salt Lake City is east on a visit and was with her mother until the end came. Mrs. Griswold is a nurse, a graduate of the Nurses' School of Roosevelt hospital, New York. She helped to care for ex-President Roosevelt at the time of his last illness.

NORTH STONINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard R. Main gave a shower Saturday evening at their home in this village for their cousin, Miss Gertrude I. Main, of Poquetanuck in honor of her approaching marriage with Allen W. York, of West Hartford. About fifty were present, a number coming from out of town. A fine musicale was given, with Mrs. Herbert Richardson of Norwich, at the piano and Royal R. Babcock, of Poquetanuck, playing the cornet. The gifts included money, checks, linen, china and glass. A Pyrex pie plate from a cousin, Mrs. Richardson, was accompanied by an apt couplet expressing the hope that "Gertrude's pie" would not "make A. York die." Miss Helena F. Crandall, of Norwich, entertained with fancy dancing, in costume, on the lawn. Sandwiches, cake, ice cream and punch were served.

The Women's society of the Baptist church gave a pleasant afternoon tea Thursday of last week, at the home of Mrs. Ernest Gray. Tea was served on the porch, Mrs. Lincoln Drury pouring. Among visitors present were Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Burdick, of Camp Yawgoo, and Mrs. William H. Hartleon, of Faraway farm.

Rev. C. M. Reeves, of Norwich Town, supplied the pulpit of the Congregational church Sunday.

Mrs. F. A. Thompson is visiting Mrs. Ernest Crandall, at Charlestown beach.

Miss Marion White is passing part of her vacation at her home here.

Miss Florence White has entered a Westerly department store as a clerk.

MONTVILLE

The following officers were installed for the new term of Thames lodge, No. 22, I. O. O. F., by District Deputy Grand Master Rufus Church:

Noble Grand—Simon Balkansky; vice noble grand—Truman Keyes; recording secretary—Robert Kenerson; treasurer—Victor Roselund; financial secretary—Dan D. Home; warden—Roger Bullard; conductor—Earl Lathrop; right supporter Noble Grand—Robert Paton; right supporter vice grand—Fred Hubert; left supporter vice grand—Eugene Chapman; right scene supporter—Isadore Horwitz; left scene supporter—David Crosby; inside guardian—Eugene Estasy; outside guardian—Harold Cornet; chaplain—Frank Sawyer.

GERMAN MERCHANT FLEET MAKES SATISFACTORY GAINS

HAMBURG, July 20.—(AP)—The growth of Germany's merchant fleet since the world war is reflected in the usually reliable Danish statistics on the proportionate merchant tonnage of various maritime countries to their population.

In the list Germany is near the bottom with 30 British register tons for each 1,000 inhabitants, but gets some consolation out of its low standing from the fact that what there is of German shipping is of first-class order. Having lost so much of its shipping as a result of war settlements, Germany was obliged to make up these losses with new vessels, so that nearly 53 per cent of the present merchant marine consists of ships less than five years old. The low percentage of the country's merchant fleet was conspicuously shown in 1924 in the port of Hamburg, when the German flag was represented by only 37 per cent of the entire traffic of the harbor.

The Danish statistics on proportionate tonnage places Norway first with 532 tons to each 1,000 inhabitants; England second with 402 tons and Denmark third with 289 tons.

CUBA BARS AMERICAN WOMEN IF UNDER AGE AND FRIENDLESS

HAVANA, July 20.—(AP)—The Immigration Department has issued instructions to steamship companies not to book as passengers unaccompanied American women under age, unless arrangements have been made for their landing in Cuba by relatives or friends here.

Unaccompanied women of age will be allowed to land if they have return tickets, or are residents of Cuba, the statement issued by the department said. These precautions are taken to prevent undesirables from landing here and then be unable to secure return passage or become public dependents.

WOMEN'S SKIMPY DRESSES HURT TEXTILE INDUSTRY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, July 20. — Scanty amounts of material in dresses of today are held by some mill men in this territory as accountable, in some measure, for depression in the textile industry. About one-third the amount of cloth once required to make a dress now suffices for one.

ST. JAMES PARISH BUYS BUILDING FOR SCHOOL

(Special to The Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, July 20.—Announcement was made Monday of the sale of what is known as the nursery, at Connecticut Village, to St. Jame's parish, by the Connecticut Mills company. This property was developed a few years ago by the mill. The building is situated in a pretty grove of pines. It will be used as a parochial school.

For Several years past a St. James' parish school has been conducted on Morin avenue in what is known as The Cloister. There are about 100 pupils attending lower grades in the Connecticut Villars colony.

WESTERLY

July 17—Ella P. Hall sold to Augusta B. Birwdsall of Glen Cove, N. Y., a certain tract or parcel of land conveyed at Avondale.

July 18—Maurice L. Laing to Emily P. Laing an undivided one-half interest in a lot or parcel of land with buildings and improvements on the east side of Chester avenue.

Rev. W. H. Lane of the Baptist denomination, Providence, occupied the pulpit of the First Baptist church in Westerly Sunday morning and evening, Rev. Byron V. Hatfield, the regular pastor, suffering from a sudden indigestion attack Friday at his home in West Mystic. Mr. Hatfield had recovered sufficiently to begin his annual vacation Monday, going to Brockton, Mass., to visit relatives, and then to his former home, in Nova Scotia. Rev. Orlo M. Brass of Bradford, R. I. will supply the First Baptist pulpit July 26 in the morning with Rev. A. L. Davis of Ashaway, in the evening. Rev. F. S. Kinley of Windsor, Nova Scotia, a former pastor of the church, will be the preacher the first two Sundays in August.

The sudden death of Mrs. Louis W. Zangrandi, 77, widow of Fortunato Zangrandi at her home on John street Monday morning at 8 o'clock. She has lived in Westerly for the past 35 years and in her active life was a devoted member and worker in Christ Episcopal church. She is survived by three daughters, Miss J. Emilie Zangrandi of Westerly, Mrs. George S. Holt of Manchester, N. H., and Miss Marie C. Zangrandi of Westerly.

Sunday and Monday in Westerly were unusual periods of vehicular traffic jams. Monday noon, following the mile long Christy Bros., circus parade the Westerly police were confronted by a bad jam, caused by the hundreds of machines which poured into the town in addition to the usual string of cars which operate through the mid-day. This was due to the fact that the parade twice made its appearance in Dixon square, and although the full force of officers and a few specials were on duty, cars piled in from every direction. As the parade passed through the square thousands of people rushed to vantage points and from the corner of Broad and High streets to the Pawcatuck bridge the onlookers packed the street and walks. When the last circus wagon passed and orders came to clear the road there was a stampede for the sidewalks, which proved not of sufficient width to accommodate the crowds. For a time there was a mixup of pedestrians and automobiles. Cars were lined up four abreast from the east end of the Pawtucket bridge to the railroad bridge on the West Side; they stood three deep on Main street and like conditions existed on High and Broad streets. The staff of policemen under Chief Brown had the inlest and outlets cleared within a short time, and bets of all, not one accident was reported.

The beach-bound automobile traffic Sunday morning with the return of the autoists in the evening, together with the through traffic was as heavy as on the two previous Sundays, the only difference being that last Sunday the officers reported it as beginning earlier and finishing later.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Jones and family of Woonsocket, R. I., were Westerly visitors Sunday, en route for a short visit at Watch Hill.

Harry Bliven, George McKinley and Mario DeFanti returned to Westerly the past week from a visit to Elizabeth, N. J., making the return by automobile.

Mrs. Anna M. McGrath of Northampton, Mass., arrived the past week end for a visit at the Pleasant View House, Pleasant View Beach.

William Grant was a week end visitor with relatives in Providence.

Robert F. Cronin of Hartford arrived in Westerly the past week for a visit at t heRhody Jr. cottage, at Pleasant View.

William Fowler and daughter Mary of Millbury, Mass., were automobile guests Saturday and Sunday of Westerly relatives.

Dr. T. J. Foley of Boston is at Pleasant View.

Mrs. A. Michael of Hoboken, N. J. was a Westerly visitor en route to Camp Wa Wog, in North Stonington.

W. Snowden Smith of Syracuse, N. Y., a summer cottager at Watch Hill, has returned from New York.

Charles Champlin of Bridgeport was a week end guest of Westerly relatives and friends.

Frances Coe Reed of Englewood, N. J., is a guest at the Wigwam, Pleasant View.

Harriet Brown of New Haven is the guest of Miss Betty Alger in Westerly.

Miss Elizabeth Welch of Westerly was a passenger on the Red Star steamship, Belgenland, which arrived in New York, having sailed from Cherbourg, France July 10th.

R. J. Sagenhoff of Weehawken, N. J., has arrived in Westerly for a visit to the home of C. Sal Lihme, Morman Hall at Watch Hill.

HARTFORD JUDGE WALKING TO HOMESTEAD IN STERLING

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WESTERLY, R. I., July 20—Judge George B. Thayer of Hartford, 73, on a pedestrian trip from Provincetown, Mass., to Sterling, Conn., to visit the old homeustead of his family Monday morning, left Pawcatuck, where he has been the guest of James W. Shaw since last Friday. Judge Thayer is a well-known author and writer, having been around the world four times and is the author of a number of books on his travels. His walking trip from Pawcatuck to Sterling was by way of Voluntown. During the World War he was a secretary in Y. M. C. A. work.

JOINED CIRCUS IN PUTNAM BOY FOUND IN WESTERLY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WESTERLY, R. I., July 20—Harold Chlapowski, 13 year old son of Peter and Anna Chlapowski, of Dudley, Mass., who joined Christy Bros. circus in Putnam, Conn., last Monday, after he disappeared from his home following his departure to go berrying, was located with the circus in Westerly Monday morning by Patrolman Robert Kessel. The parents of the boy went to Auburn, Mass., to the boy's grandmother seeking to locate him in vain, coming back to Putnam to the Putnam ticket agent, where it was learned that the circus was in Westerly. Arriving in Westerly on Sunday night late, an unsuccessful search of the circus yielded no trace of the boy, until Monday morning.

GALES FERRY

The Operetta, Cinderella in Flowerland, was given by the Girls Cooking Club, under the efficient direction of their instructor, Mrs. Walter T. Clark, Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, on the lawn, at Miss Caroline B. Freeman's. The picturesque grounds, proved a beautiful setting for the play, the sun filting through the foliage, added beauty to the flower-like costumes, of the girls. The operetta, was given to help defray the expense of the four girls, over 12, who have averaged the best attendance during the course in cooking, under Mrs. Clark the past months, which average entitles them to the Junior Short Course at Storrs Agricultural College, opening Tuesday, July 21, and closing July 28. The girls are Em-Beth Bennett, Helen DeRusha, Rose Norcross and Myrtice Coman. About $50 will cover the expense of the four girls and the class has added to its treasury through making and selling home made candy. The program follows:

Violin solo — Miss Jennie Perkins
Accompanied by Mrs. Rufus Hurlbutt

Operetta

Cinderella in Flowerland
Accompanist—Mrs. George S. Brown

Prologue
Fairy — Myrtice Coman
I Prince Sunshine's invitation to the May-day ball. — Helen DeRusha
II Godmother Nature sends Daisy off to the ball. — Viola Illey
III The May-day ball and the shower — Em-Beth Bennett
IV The Princess of Sunbeam Castle. — Rose Norcross

Characters

Cinderella (Daisy)	Marjorie Gates
Proud Isisters
Hollyhock	Myrtice Coman
Tiger Lily	Helen DeRusha
Godmother Nature	Viola Illey
Prince Sunshine	Em-Beth Bennett
Robin Red	Rose Norcross
Bonnie Bee	Anna Mae Duffy
Butterflies	Emid Latimer
	Ruth Hurlbutt
Sunnbeams	Barbara Erwin
	Doris Coman
	May Crandall
Raindrops	Bernice Coman
	Edith Hartung
	Elizabeth Main
Guests at the ball:
Blue Bell	Virginia McLeer
Bettercup	Eleanor Smith
Daffodil	Dorothy Budro
Larkspur	Gladys Russell
Narcissus	Grace Maynard
Pansy	Carol Norman
Poppy	Sarah Hewitt
Sweet Brier	Marjorie Bayles
Sweet Pea	Christing Maynadr
Violet	Peggy Parker

The Cooking club expressed obligations to Miss Caroline Freeman for the use of her lawn for the operetta; to Mrs. Walter W. Buckingham who assisted with the songs; to Mrs. Walter Duffy for teaching the dances; to Mrs. George S. Brown for accompanying at the piano and to Mrs. Elbridge Whiting for supplying most of the costumes.

There was a large attendance of the summer people and local residents. Following the play, the Country Club served a cafeteria supper in the club house, where salads, rolls, cake and coffee were dispensed by Mrs. Walter M. Buckingham, Mrs. Edward H. Latimer, Mrs. J. A. Birch and Mrs. J. DeRusha. Hot dogs, served by Walter M. Buckingham and Fletcher Wilson. Ice cream by Walter T. Clark. The Waitsersses were the popular girls: cashier, Henry McCleer.

Dancing followed in the evening with music by the Milton Osborn orchestra, Norwich.

Gideon, was the bible character taken for the sermon by Rev. George Smith Brown at the morning service, in the Methodist church Sunday, the fourth in the series on Bible characters. The solo There Is a Green Hill Far Away, (Herbert), was sung by C. E. Colver. Notices for the week included Epworth League social, for Tuesday evening, Bible Study class Thursday evening followed by a meeting of the committee, of the community picnic. The altar flowers, were sweet peas anr ferns, arranged by Mrs. Avery Main, in memory of her mother and sister. At the Sunday evening service Rev. Mr. Brown, had the Epworth League topic for his sermon, Isaiah, the Highway Builder. At the social hour following this service the hostesscs Mrs. Latham E Smith, Mrs Eugene LaFontaine and Mrs. Elmer Tubbs, served grape juice and fancy cookies.

Miss Dallas Tyler with The Dramatists Theatre, Inc. New York City, Edward Childs Carpenter, president, who has been the guest of Mrs. Edna Moses of Groton for two weeks, arrived at Gales Ferry, Friday, and has taken the cottage of Mrs. Emma S. Bennett for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mahoney of Revere, Mass., were guests over the week end of the latter's brother, and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Simmons at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Otis Winchester entertained at supper Saturday evening, Mrs. Nathan Brewster, and Mrs. George S. Draper, with Mrs. Charles H. Winchester all of Norwich. Mrs. Winchester remained for the week end and Sunday.

Stanley C. Faford of Van Nest, N. Y. spent the week end with his parents, station agent A. O. Faford and Mrs. Faford. Miss Doris Denison of Mystic, was also a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Faford for the week end.

A. C. Risdon of New York joined Mrs. Risdon and a family party of relatives at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Risdon Friday, remaining until Monday.

Miss Susan Mathewson, returned to her home here Friday, by automobile from St. Raphael's hospital, New Haven, where she underwent a successful surgical operation, four weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Parker were called to West Haven Sunday by the death of Mrs. Parker's brother-in-law, Walter Bushnell, Mrs. Henry W. Hurlbutt and her sister, Mrs. Lucy A. Hurlbutt, with her daughter in-law, Mrs. R. Irving Hurbutt were recent guests of Mrs. Alice Chapman, in Groton.

Invitations are out, for a Silver Tea, at the Public Library, this week.

Mrs. E. H. Bigelow and sister Miss Nellie Wood, of Webster, are making their annual summer visit at the home of Mrs. Lucy B. Hempstead.

Mrs. George H. Wright of Sterling and son, William K. Wright, spent the week end and several days, at their new home in this place.

NOANK

For the safety of children on Groton Long Point, rules have been posted on differents streets that all automobiles must drive on each property 15 miles an hour. This law is to be strictly enforced.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Babcock and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Thompson have moved to Hartford.

Mrs. Nellie Sands has returned to Boston after a visit with Mrs. John Fitzpatrick.

Miss Josephine Morrison and Miss Emma Gauttier were recent callers in New Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Sheffield with their children, of Saybrook were recent callers on the latter's brother-in-law Lourjee.

Edward Schoonmaker has returned from New Haven.

Circus train passed through the village Sunday.

Fred Morgan of Ledyard was a caller in the village recently.

M. Fuller was at Greenport over the week end.

Rollin Rathburn has resigned as mate on the boat Frances.

Miss Virginia Bushy of New Hampshire is visiting Miss Ada Banks.

Bernard Davis, after being ill, has recovered and has returned to work on the boat Ada May.

Kenneth Hill is spending a few days in New York.

The ferry boat Brennan is to be hauled out at the shipyard to have a general overhauling. The ferry boat came from Greenport, L. I. and has been tied up at the dock here for two years.

Frank Bracci has completed a new house at Lighthouse point for Mrs. J. Bumstead of New Haven.

Leon Weaver has resigned at the East Providence shipyard.

Miss Norma McKennery, while bathing at Groton Long Point beach, near Mrs. L. Martin's cottage cut her foot on a glass bottle. It required a doctor to dress the injury which will lay her up several days at her cottage on the Point.

George Deveau spent a day in Colchester during the week.

The condition of Dorothy Baker remains the same.

Lyle Chesebro has returned from New Haven, after a visit.

Captain William Ballestrini is laid up for several days. His place is taken by Captain Lewis Lamb.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Edgar of Stonington were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis Sunday.

William Johnstone has secured work on boat Nimrod.

Mrs. Lois Johnson of New York was home over the week end.

Howard Fitch, of Lynnbrook, L. I., is spending two weeks, vacation in town.

Robert Mayard of Staten Island has been home for a few days.

Frank McDonald of Stamford is visiting at his home.

Arthur Rafure has returned to New Jersey after a visit with his family.

William Plumstead is in New York for a few days.

In response to numerous requests from Methodist worshippers, especially from the younger people, the official board of the local Methodist church have adopted a new schedule of services for the remainder of the summer. There will be no afternoon service. Morning worship will be held at 9 o'clock followed by Sunday school at 10. In the evening the Epworth League will hold a popular Young People's service at 7:30. This arrangement will continue until the end of September.

YANTIC

Ralph Gibbs, Yantic's most ardent juvenile fisherman, hooked a twenty pound turtle last week in the cove near Bentley. William Kempton dressed it and took 7 1-2 pounds of meat from it. Turtle soup has been plentiful as a result.

Howard Lamphere, U. S. Navy is on a 15 days' cruise to the Bermudas.

Augusta Fishbone has returned from a brief stay at the W. W. Backus hospital having undergone a minor operation.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.

They're Going Fast!
GET YOURS NOW

EVERYBODY IS BUYING VICTROLAS NOW AT

Plaut-Cadden's

Because Our Entire Stock of NEW GENUINE

VICTROLAS

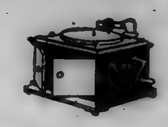
IS NOW ON SALE AT

HALF PRICE

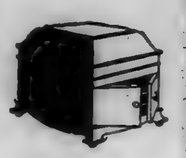
WITH THE ADDED PRIVILEGE OF OUR

EASY TERMS AS USUAL

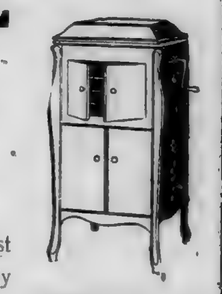
Every Victrola is of The Latest Type, Brand New and Fully Guaranteed. Make Your Selection At Once As the Stock of Some Models Is Limited.



$12.50 WAS $25



$37.50 WAS $75



$55.00 WAS $110

Single Faced Red Seal
Victor Records
3 for $1
Other Records 1-3 Off

$55.00 WAS $110

Used Machines Less Than Half Price

The Plaut-Cadden Co.
The Store of Musical Supremacy
135-143 Main St. (Est. 1872) Norwich, Conn.
PIANOS — FURNITURE — MUSIC — JEWELRY

Children Like
This new summer breakfast
Quick Quaker answers the desire for a new delight . . note the recipe

THIS is a breakfast dish that children like . . . and mothers like to have them eat.

It has a deliciousness that smacks of variety. It fights the dragging-down effect of hot summer days.

Note the recipe. See how it tempts the appetite, and gives the oats-and-milk that doctors urge.

Try this delightful change at breakfast, please.

The Recipe
Ingredients: 2 cups of Quick Quaker, 4 cups of water, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 level tablespoons cocoa and 4 of sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Bring water to a boil. Add cocoa and sugar mixed to a paste with boiling water; then slowly stir in the oats. Cook 3 to 5 minutes. Add vanilla.

Serve hot or cold with cream. Wonderful chilled, molded and served in slices.

Quick Quaker
Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes

1766 1925

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

129 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday.

Subscription price 12c a week; 50c a month; $6.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls:

Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-3.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-2.

Willimantic Office, Main St., Telephone 1131.

Norwich, Tuesday July 21, 1925

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

Daily Average Circulation
WEEK ENDING JULY 18, 1925:

12,829

BEGGING RIDES

A new and interesting development in connection with the practice of stopping and asking motorists for a ride comes from West Springfield. There the habit has gotten to the point where it interferes with traffic to such a degree that the chief of police has given notice that it must stop. Unless it is ended or greatly decreased those engaged in making such appeals are likely to be arrested as traffic obstructors.

It isn't to be supposed that an auto driver cannot pull up to the curb and give a ride to anyone he pleases. That is one of the great American privileges. In all probability there would never have been anything said had the practice been confined to that, but it was when so many persisted in rushing into the streets and importuning drivers for rides, or hailing them from the sidewalks, that action was taken.

Perhaps it is no different for many to congregate in groups to beg rides than for the same number to gather to take public conveyances, but the situation in West Springfield has apparently showed that the results are decidedly different. It can be appreciated that there are drivers who are not disposed to go into the transportation business, and there are plenty of instances to show that not everyone wants to shoulder the responsibility of being held liable for what may happen to those who are given rides or for what they may do. Many a driver who would under ordinary circumstances be perfectly willing to give another a lift have found out through the experiences of others that it is decidedly unwise, quite the same as many who are appealed to to get in and ride know that it is not always safe to accept such invitations.

It doesn't appear that the transportation companies are responsible for the action taken in West Springfield but it is evident that they do not look with satisfaction upon such methods of depriving them of patrons, when they depend upon patronage to maintain service, make ends meet and pay taxes.

BUILDING AUTOS

Are the foreign countries showing a greater interest in the automobiles that are produced in this country?

There can be no doubt over the strides that have been made in the production of automobiles. It has gotten so that there is a machine for every seven persons in the country and the number is steadily increasing. But in addition to the home demand there is a substantial call for our machines from other countries.

According to the department of commerce, which has been making a study of the exportation of the American car, there was a gain of over 50 per cent. in May over the same month last year in the export value of automobiles. This is regarded as meaning that the other nations are showing a steadily increasing interest in this line of manufacture. It is a well known saying that civilization follows the railroad. Perhaps our big gain in automobile exportation will mean that this marketing of one line of American production will have its good and permanent influence upon other goods made here.

There is to be discerned some evidence of an effort to meet American competition on the part of the British. They have established a stiff tariff on imported cars and parts which went into effect this month. This is aimed at the development of home industry that domestic requirements may be more satisfactorily met but also that increased production will permit of a keener competition in other countries with the machines put out by this country. How far this will succeed will be known in time. It promises to have its effects upon the machines that have been going to the United Kingdom under normal conditions, but there is less certainty that it can overcome the desirability of the American type of machine or destroy the markets which are held in other quarters. Much has been done by the American automobile factories in the past. Their record of production grows larger each year and it is not believed that the peak of production has been reached or will be brought about unusually by the British action.

AMUNDSEN AND MACMILLAN

MacMillan hasn't overstayed the limit of his time in the north, and he hasn't gotten to the depths which Amundsen reached, but there is disclosed a marked difference in the trips of the two explorers in whom there could not fail to be much interest from all sections of the globe.

Amundsen went into the north through the air. Nothing was heard from him until he returned. In the meantime he had been faced with grave peril, encountered unexpected difficulties and there was much anxiety manifested in regard to him and his party. There was talk of sending expeditions from various points, and one had been actually started on the first lap of the journey when he returned with a tale of experiences which convinced him of the folly of making such an attempt again.

MacMillan isn't headed for the same territory as Amundsen sought, but he goes where there will be plenty of experiences. But as he proceeds the outside world is kept in touch with his progress. There isn't that uncertainty which surround the Amundsen effort.

The reason for this is that MacMillan has the means of communicating by wireless which Amundsen failed to take. This may not serve to prevent MacMillan meeting with difficulties but it is serving to prevent the world from getting unduly nervous over imagining things without knowing just what the situation is. Perhaps it isn't actually necessary for a polar explorer to be in touch with the rest of the world, but nothing showed better than the Amundsen experience the wisdom of such provision.

HANDLING THE RIFFIANS

Since General Naulin was sent to Morocco by France to speed up the opposition to the Riffians, the troops under Abd-el-Krim have met with some degree of success. It is not to be supposed that the one had any effect upon the other, either as to the accomplishment or the hastening of it.

With the leaving of Marshal Petain for Northern Africa it becomes evident that France is determined to provide the best possible minds for the conduct of the campaign. There are indications that the method of carrying on the struggle against the Riffians is to undergo a change, and instead of leaving the offensive to the latter to make certain drives that will put a quick end to the rebellion.

France has been delayed somewhat by the attitude at home and the fact that it has not desired to wage war. Apparently it has come to recognize the fact that it is not what it likes or wants, but what it is having forced upon it. That must be met promptly and effectively. The desirability of bringing the matter to a quick conclusion cannot be gainsaid. France, standing as it does in the position of authority must suppress the revolt or throw up its hands. Certainly Marshal Petain is not going there for the purpose of directing, encouraging or helping France to surrender. Just as long as the unsettled condition is permitted to exist, with Abd-el-Krim carrying on his activities and stirring up the tribesmen to join in the revolt it can be expected that it will grow worse and the effectiveness of the French control will decrease. France cannot afford to permit its prestige to steadily grow weaker. The situation of Spain prods it to speedy action, while it cannot fail to be aware of the fact that the longer it maintains a losing fight the greater is going to be its task later on.

If the French government has finally decided upon a swift termination of the Moroccan trouble it is a move that serve the most effectively to bring about a restoration of settled conditions in that part of the dark continent.

REGISTRATION NEEDED

"When the country awakens to the situation perhaps we shall have a third army and navy." That is the way the Boston Transcript looks upon the reaction to the disclosures which are being made concerning the great number of aliens who are being smuggled into this country from Canada.

It deplores the fact that the immigration bureau is permitted only a handful of men to guard the boundary between the Atlantic and Pacific against this very violation of the law and insists that it is not large enough "to detect a procession headed by a brass band at most points on the route."

When it is estimated that fully 100,000 have been smuggled across the boundary in the time since the last immigration restriction law went into effect, meaning a loss in revenue of $1,800,000 and the coming into the country of many undesirables, it is clearly evident that the bureau is seriously handicapped for men to meet the situation. But the protection against such smuggling, whether it is from Canada or from other countries, does not lie solely in the maintenance of guards. More immigration agents might reduce the number but till there are steps taken to bring about the registration of aliens in this country it can be expected that there will be resort to smuggling.

Few are actually caught in the process of crawling in under the tent, but most of them would be detected and deported if all aliens were required to register. As it is now there is no way of checking them up. Occasionally they get into trouble and their presence here is disclosed. They can then be sent back but the need is for putting an effective stop to the presence of aliens here who have gotten in illegally and registration is needed for such a purpose.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The man on the corner says: The week end that passes without fatalities deserves more than a black mark.

If only the officeholders in Russia smile how different it must be to satisfy the long line of office seekers.

Perhaps the fact that there were only 2000 supporters in Chicago's anti vice crusade explains why there is so much vice and crime in that city.

America was a great country while it was giving till it hurt to aid others, but when it tries to collect the promises to pay the picture changes.

A South Dakota young man says he killed a girl friend because she asked him to. There's nothing like hastening to accommodate a friend.

According to the decision of the courts the voting machine has beaten out the political machine in New York City.

Think what a lot of advertising Tennessee has already received if it finally decides to introduce a course in evolution.

If there is another resolution brewing in Mexico perhaps the country will seem more like home to its inhabitants than it has for the past year or two.

The only trouble with that announcement of the J. M. Cox candidacy for senator in Ohio is that it wasn't accompanied by a wild, incorrect claim about republican funds.

PAINFUL FIVE MINUTES

"But the way you looked at her?" insisted the cute little thing aggrievedly. "As you say, you danced only with me, but you needn't think for an instant, Waddleigh, that I was ignorant of the manner in which your eyes followed her all over the floor! There are mirrors on the walls, you know!"

"H'm!" breathed the handsome young man, with much discretion. "What if I did look at her? Just admitting it for the sake of argument because you are so foolish, Selina—is a man supposed never to look at another girl when he is engaged?"

"He may just glance at her, I suppose," conceded the cute little thing with some reluctance. "Why, don't you see, he shouldn't even want to look at anybody else when his mind is so taken up with the girl he is in love with—at least if he really loves her! Why, I don't know that any other man exists, Waddleigh, and—"

"Hum," the handsome young man said with apparent skepticism. "I don't know about that!"

"Waddleigh," the cute little thing interrupted at this point with great tact. This is very serious. If you are going to fall into the toils of a man-snatcher like Irma Pretties you might just—"

"I don't see what's got into you!" the handsome young man declared when he realized that he must be up and doing. "I don't understand you at all, Selina! You know I don't give a rap about anybody else on earth but you—"

"Well, what good does knowing it do if you don't act that way?" demanded the cute little thing indignantly. "'Oh, yes,' beams the lady when she sees her husband eloping with somebody else, 'my husband is just crazy about me!' That's the line you want me to take. If you think I am going to sit back sweetly and let you run around with Irma all you want to you are—"

"Who wants to run around with Irma?" the young man protested. "The idea that looking—"

"Then you admit it!" cried the young woman with intense sadness. "Why, I can't trust you at all, Waddleigh! First you say you didn't at all—at least you would have done so if I hadn't warned you about the wall mirrors. I could see it in your eye that you were about to do so—and now you casually allow that you did and it wasn't so bad after all and what am I going to do about it? I never heard anything so cold-blooded in my life, and it is totally—"

"Wait, wait!" the young man interrupted. "In just about a minute you will demonstrate that I have added murder, kidnaping and arson to my crimes! I didn't admit anything. You insisted on it, and I'd like to see any one contradict you and get away with it. Why, Selina, of you stated firmly that I must quit the habit of eating peas with my knife I shouldn't dream of protesting that I was not guilty! You can see how important whatever you say is to me! When you started this Irma thing you confused and bewildered me, and I may have said most anything, but it doesn't mean any—"

"Then now am I to know that rule doesn't apply to everything you tell me!" cried the cute little thing, with a pathetic quiver to her lip. "If you really are tired of me, why didn't you just say so instead of waiting for me to find it out in some roundabout way—"

"I'll say it's roundabout!" exclaimed the bewildered young man. "I don't know how it started or how it got this far, but, anyhow, I'd like to put sand in that Irma Pretties' favorite face powder! Dozgone the girl anyhow! Here we were perfectly happy and then she goes and upsets the applecart like this.

"I wouldn't walk across the street to see Irma and you know it! Maybe some folks think she's pretty, but I'll tell you she's a sight! Gawky and skinny and dumb as well. You'd never guess what I was watching in those mirrors, Selina! I was looking at those dear little curls that grow at the very nape of your neck—"

"Oh, Waddleigh!" murmured the cute little thing, quite cheerfully. "You really must not say such dreadful things about poor Irma! She can't help how she looks and acts and she really is a very nice girl, you know! And you mustn't get the impression that I am the least particle jealous because I wouldn't dream of such a thing. I always want you to feel perfectly free to do as you choose—"

"Why, of course you do!" agreed the handsome young man, who was clever enough to recognize that he had hit upon a very good idea to stow away for future use. "Don't I know it!"—Chicago News.

Stories That Recall Others

Simple Life for Them.

Tom and Mary had lived in a hotel for so long they were both ready to live the simple life. One evening after donning a sleeveless dress, short coat and black tie, the two started down to the dining room for the usual evening meal.

Mary looked at Tom and sheepishly said: "Honey, I'm ready to put on an old fashioned house dress and bake biscuits."

"And I'm ready to don overalls and eat them," came Tom's reply.

A Sure Cure.

Mr. X who was an exceedingly jealous husband over-exerted his weakness when he saw torn bits of notepaper on his wife's desk. Picking up one piece he read: "Dear One," on another was, "I want to be happy," and on a third, "I'll see you in my dreams."

"Ha, ha!" he thought villainously, "I have the proof this time."

Taking the supposedly pieced together letter down stairs, he said: "Who have you been writing to today, dear?"

"Why, no one," answered curious wife.

"Get any mail today?"

"No," snapped wife again. "Why?"

"Well, here is the proof of some devilish letter you forgot to destroy." Dropping the pieces of paper on the table he noticed a twinkle in the eye of his better half. "How funny you are, dear. That was a list of music I bought today." And the storm subsided.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Dr. Walter Leaf, the new president of the International Chamber of Commerce, belongs to that type of man for which England is notable, one equally distinguished in business and scholarship. Dr. Leaf, who is now in his 74th year, had a brilliant career at Cambridge. He had intended entering the profession of law after leaving the university, but a series of domestic misfortunes compelled him to take up a commercial career. In 1891 he was elected a director of one of the great London banking institutions, and soon he became known as a high authority on finance. At the same time he was following his scholarly bent by giving to the literary world some excellent translations from Persian and Russian, as well as from the Greek. Dr. Leaf was one of the founders of the London Chamber of Commerce and is now admittedly among the highest English authorities on national and international finance and economics.

Today's Anniversaries

1609—Rhode Islanders defeated a fleet of five French privateers off Block Island.

1796—Robert Burns, Scotland's famous poet, died at Dumfries. Born near Ayr, Jan. 25, 1759.

1861—Federals defeated at battle of Bull Run, the first important battle in the war between the States.

1865—A. J. Hamilton was elected governor of Texas.

1875—John Lee Carroll was nominated by the Democratic for governor of Maryland.

1893—John Rae, Arctic explorer and the first to discover traces of Sir John Franklin, died in London. Born in the Orkney Islands, Sept. 30, 1813.

1894—Frederick F. Low, ex-Governor of California and U. S. Minister to China, died. Born at Frankford, Maine, in 1828.

1923—Chili and Peru agreed to arbitration of the Tacna-Arica dispute.

1924—The youths Leopold and Loeb pleaded guilty, at Chicago, to the murder of 14-year-old Bobbie Franks.

Today's Birthdays

Dowager Queen Marie Christina, who ruled Spain as Regent during the minority of her son, the present king, born 67 years ago today.

Miss Anna A. Gordon, who has been reelelected president of the World's W. C. T. U., born in Boston, 73 years ago today.

Chauncey Olcott, celebrated as an actor in Irish musical drama, born in Buffalo, 65 years ago today.

Mrs. Frances Folsom Preston (formerly Mrs. Grover Cleveland,) born in Buffalo, 61 years ago today.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Bishop's Crossing.

Mr. Editor: Permit me to voice my protest against some one responsible for the numerous casualties at Bishop's Crossing.

Do not tourists pay taxes on their cars that they cannot safely cross that "man trap?" I do not wish to go into detail and show who is to blame, the driver or the railroad. The fact remains that several people got hurt, and that should be enough to warrant our public officials that some means must be taken to insure the lives of those that might get killed unless some prevention takes place. Perhaps the catastrophe of the 17th at the very crossing will awaken some of our guides at Hartford, for the life of a human is worth a great deal more than the cost of an overhead bridge.

Truly yours,
BEN SCHLEIFER.
Jewett City, July 18, 1925.

From Small Beginnings

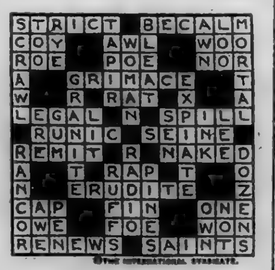
Constant Coquelin, the Baker, a Great French Actor

When Sara Bernhardt, the great French actress, who recently died in Paris was making her triumphant tour in America in 1900, she was accompanied by Constant Coquelin, a man then 56 years of age, one of the most noted figures on the French stage. And now, let us roll back the curtain of time.

"In the name of a pig! Tend to that bread! Stop this buffooneryl How will you ever make a baker!" Coquelin's father wrung his hands, as he rushed excitedly at the boy. As for the lad, Constantin Coquelin, he had forgotten all about the bread, and a great batch of it was beginning to burn. He had been standing before two or three boys of his own age, making them laugh as he mimicked the patrons of the Bakery, now strutting pompously, now limping grotesquely, now moving along with a mincing step, wrinkling his face and screwing his eyes most comically. He was a born mimic, and had the genius to catch the very charactistic that should be mimicked—the caricaturist's gift.

To the stage he went, when he was a little over 17, entering into training with an old actor who had started a school. In no time at all he surpassed everyone in the school. At 19 he was on the stage of the Comedie Francaise making great audiences laugh as he had made boys in the bakeshop laugh. Fun was in his very nature, and mimicry was with him a genius. Year after year he won great successes in Paris and became the most famous of comic actors. Great dramatists begged him to take the part of the comedian in their plays, and when he accepted he made the plays famous. Even now, to speak of some characters in plays is to speak of Coquelin, for he rose superior to all his parts. He was Cyrano de Cergerac—and learned professors lectured about his work. He was Figaro; he was Ccarron. Honors were heaped upon him—among them the Legion of Honor. In whatever part he played he won success. He died in the harness at 68. He had never once regretted that he had let his father's bread burn in the oven.

A woman can be fond of the change in her husband's pocket without being necessarily fickle.



SUMMER COLDS are lingering and annoying. The very first night apply VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

TELEPHONE SUPERVISOR

Tells of the Benefit Received by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leavenworth, Kansas.—"My work was long-distance operating and supervising, and I got into a very nervous state and was all run-down. I was easily annoyed at trifles, was extremely nervous and always had a tired feeling which made me awfully listless. Through a newspaper I learned of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thinking it would help me I tried it. It quieted my nerves, I was less annoyed and more lively. It took away that dragging feeling and improved my health in every way. I was able to continue my work with more vigor than before and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to all young girls. I am married now and have a big baby boy and am in the best of health. If I should ever have any trouble I'll take the Vegetable Compound again, for I know it will help me as it did before."—Mrs. O. W. THIEL, 925 Pawnee St., Leavenworth, Kansas.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

OESEL AND DAGOE

A news dispatch from Stockholm states that the government of Esthonia has leased to Great Britain for a long period the islands of Dagoe and Oesel in the Baltic sea just south of the Gulf of Finland.

"With a combined area of 1,360 square miles, or approximately that of the state of Rhode Island, many miles of coast line fronting on the Baltic sea, and high rocky shores adapted to fortifications, Oesel and Dagoe might well be termed the 'keys to the Gulf of Finland,'" according to a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"During the World war the islands were heavily fortified by the Russians," the bulletin continues, "and, in 1917, were the objectives of a concerted naval attack by the German fleet.

"Oesel, the larger and more important of the two, has an area of 1,010 square miles and 65,000 inhabitants, chiefly Esthonians. Like Gottland, its Swedish neighbor across the Baltic, it consists of a large limestone plateau, covered with a soil layer which, at places, is very thin. The coasts are bold and steep, with many indentations but few good harbors, due to the shoal water off shore. To the north and west there are precipitious limestone cliffs, where a few pine trees battle alone with the bleak winter winds from the tundras of the Far North.

"Yet it is under the cloudy skies and amid the barren rocks of the island that a rich green grass grows, furnishing pasture to the horses of Oesel, which, like those of the Shetland islands, are small but are famed for their spirit and endurance.

"In addition to stock raising the natives of both islands conduct a profitable trade in grain, potatoes, whiskey and fish with the mother country, from which they are separated by narrow channels of water. The chief city of the islands is Arensburg, on the south coast of Oesel. Steamers from Riga, Revel and Petrograd make regular calls here, although the bay is shallow and the larger boats cannot approach the shore because of numerous shifting sandbars and the rocks and shoals. Green meadow lands and little islets covered with trees and grass give the bay a pretty setting, while its smooth sandy beach makes it a favorite summer resort for Esthonians. Bathers do not seem to mind wafer temperatures that would benumb those from regions farther south.

"Inland there is a small lake, Lake Sall, a craterlike basin, with a high margin, formed by volcanic unheaval and now filled with water. In some of the village churches are fine wood carvings and sculptures in Esthonian marble.

"The finest part of the island, however, is the Sworbe Peninsula, a long handlelike projection to the southwest. The greatest width of this peninsula is 6 miles and it is 16 miles long, with a ridge of hills running throughout its length like a backbone. Steep to the east and covered with pines, the west slope is very gradual and is a region of plantations. Due to the abundant rainfall, good crops of grain and vegetables are obtained for the markets of Revel and Riga.

"Dagoe, with an area of about a third of its larger sister, is less visited and consequently little known. The Island of Harry, to the northeast, is its port of call for the steamers from Hapsal on the mainland. There is also a landing place at Nina Point on the north shore, although the shoals prevent large steamers from approaching close to the shore. All the ports of these islands are closed by ice for several weeks during the winter, the length of the closed period depending upon the seasons, which vary.

"The islands have long been considered of military importance, as the remains of hill fortresses and lofty ring-walls of pagan date, found along the coast and in many parts of the interior, give evidence. In the 13th century they were occupied by Waldemar, King of the Danes, and his men, who built a strong fortified castle. This castle was later destroyed by the Esthonians, who followed the conquest of the island by the Knights of the Sword. In 1559 the islands were sold to Denmark, which nation in turn surrendered them to Sweden. They were incorporated with Russia in 1721 and remained under her dominion until after the World war, when they were returned to the Esthonians.

"During the World war the Sworbe peninsula on Oesel embraced a battery of 12-inch naval guns and was often bombed by enemy airplanes. There were fortifications on both islands throughout the war and landings were made by the German forces in the vicinity of Tagga Bay, on the north shore of Oesel, in 1917. The two islands surrendered to the German forces on October 16, 1917. Located at the junction of the Gulf of Finland and the Baltic sea, and not far from the mouth of the Gulf of Bothnia, they are considered of great strategic value."

HAPPINESS depends on how you feel!
If you do not feel good, full of pep and the joy of living—nine times out of ten it's your liver.
CHAMBERLAIN'S TABLETS
Act without making you sick. Take two tonight. Feel good in the morning. Get a package, only 25 cents.
Sold everywhere

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Peter Hears a Voice

Few there are who can refuse
To pass along a bit of news.
—Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit had satisfied a great deal of curiosity up in the Old Pasture. He had found that Digger the Badger was living there, and from Digger he learned a lot about people of whom he had known nothing, little neighbors Digger had known when he had lived in the Far West. Now, Digger had refused to talk any longer and had gone about his business. Peter sat in the bramble-tangle and thought things over. He had found out what he wanted to find out and there was no real reason for staying any longer in the Old Pasture, excepting that it would be safer there until night. But Peter is one of those heedless people who are inclined to do what they want to do rather than what it is wisest to do. He didn't want to say up there in the Old Pasture. Now that Digger had gone about his own business, there was no one to talk to, and Peter felt just like talking to some one. He didn't want to go home to the dear old briar-patch, for he knew that little Mrs. Peter wouldn't be the least interested in what he had learned, but that probably she would scold him vigorously for having been so foolish as to run such great risk just out of curiosity.

For quite a long time Peter sat there. Then there came to him a deep, gruff voice. It was a long way off, but there was no mistaking whose voice it was. "Chub-arum, chug-arum, chug-arum, chung-arum," said the voice, and kept right on saying it.

Peter kicked his long heels together happily. "Grandfather Frog!" he cried. "I'll just run down to the Smiling Pool and pay my respects to Grandfather Frog. Grandfather Frog is old and wise and has told me a great many interesting things, but I don't believe he knows about Yap Yap the Prairie Dog, or Grubby Gopher or my cousin Jack Rabbit. It will be great fun to tell Grandfather Frog something he doesn't know!"

Away started Peter for the Smiling Pool. He took great care to be sure the road was clear. The nearer he got to the Smiling Pool the louder and deeper and gruffer sounded the voice of Grandfather Frog. At last Peter reached the bank of the Smiling Pool and looked down. There, on his big, green lily-pad sat Grandfather Frog in his green coat and white and yellow waistcoat.

"Hello, Grandfather Frog," cried Peter.

Grandfather Frog rolled his great goggly eyes toward Peter, but all he said was "Chug-arum!"

"Did you ever hear of Yap Yap the Prairie Dog?" inquired Peter.

"Chug-arum!" replied Grandfather Frog.

"Do you know anything about Grubby Gopher?" asked Peter.

"Chug-arum!" replied Grandfather Frog.

And that was all that Peter could get from Grandfather Frog. And to this day he isn't sure whether or not Grandfather Frog knows about Yap Yap the Prairie Dog and Grubby Gopher.

(Copyright, 1925, by T. W. Burgess)

The next story—A Loafer and a Worker.

There may be a good deal in a name when it is located in the southeast section of a check.

Summer Colds cause Headache

When you cool off suddenly and when you sleep in a draft, you get a Slight Cold, causing Headache, Neuralgia or Sore Muscles.

To Stop the Headache and Work off the Cold

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine tablets

The box bears this signature E. W. Grove
Price 30c.

THE BOSTON STORE
THE REID & HUGHES COMPANY
NORWICH CONNECTICUT

The Vacation Sale

HAS RESULTED IN A WONDERFUL JULY SELLING of hot weather merchandise. Until Saturday night these prices will be continued.

Every Department Presents Money-Saving Offerings.

Vacation Toggery for Vacation Ways!
In Our Men's Department

MEN'S PAJAMAS—Fine Percales, all plain colors—Blue, Tan, Helio and White. Every Pajama cut generously and trimmed with white silk frogs. Regular $1.75—SALE PRICE, Each $1.39

NAINSOOK UNION SUITS—Men's "Harwood" Nainsook Union Suits, athletic style, all sizes and cut full. Regular value $1.00—SALE PRICE Each 67c

SURPRISE SPECIAL No. 12

Only Exceptional Merchandise Values Featured in These One-Day Specials. To properly identify these unusual values we have named them

SURPRISE SPECIALS.

SEE OUR MAIN STREET WINDOW FOR TODAY'S ITEM.

HEAVY DOUBLE THREAD
BATH TOWELS
FANCY COLORED STRIPES
SIZE 23x45
VALUE 65c.
Surprise Special 39c Each.

An Electric Flat Iron for $2.99!

On Wednesday, July 22nd, we will sell our Reliance Electric Flat Irons for $2.99 and our Domestic Electric Irons for $3.49. Every home should have an Electric Iron. We have reduced the price within the reach of all. Our stock is limited and we will not be able to give you this opportunity again.

Our supply of Fruit Jars is complete. The Canning Season is at hand. Let us assist you to lay-by for the coming Winter months.

EATON CHASE CO.
129 Main Street, Norwich.

Old and young join in praising sparkling root beer—the kind you make with Williams' Root Beer Extract.

80 delicious glasses from a 25-cent bottle. Try it!

WILLIAMS
ROOT BEER EXTRACT

Cases For Preston Justice

A justice's court at which several cases will be presented will be held this (Tuesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Norwich state hospital. Justice of the Peace William Mitchell will preside and Grand Juror Appleton Main will prosecute.

RAMBLER ROSES.
Now is the time to trim your Rambler Roses. Let us do it for you.
Maplewood Nursery Co.
Tel. 986-2. Norwich, Conn.

WONDER what a coal bin thinks about? Suppose it says to itself: "Wonder if the folks are going to fill me up this Summer or let me and my pal, the furnace, go on worrying about how high the price will go this winter."

SAFE HEAT

The Edward Chappell Company
Telephone 24

666
is a prescription for
Colds, Grippe, Flu, Dengue, Bilious Fever and Malaria.
It kills the germs.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

The school of nursing connected with the William W. Backus Hospital in Norwich, Conn., is now registering students for the September classes. This school is registered in Connecticut and the course of instruction is two years and four months given in a general hospital of 90 beds. Students must be graduates of grammar school and have one year of high school work. A new nurses' residence opened this year affords each student all of the comforts and conveniences of home.

For circular of information address Superintendent of Training School.

NOTICE!

If the owner of car that damaged doors to my garage on Talman street, Saturday noon, wants to avoid trouble, better call around as registration number is known.

GEO. E. HALL.

1786 1925

Norwich, Tuesday July 21, 1925

VARIOUS MATTERS

Tides will be high today, the 21st.

Light vehicle lamps at 7:46 (s. t.) this evening.

Monday's weather was a continuation of the fine brand which gave such satisfaction last week.

The Sunday school picnic of Quaker Hill Baptist church is to be held Saturday, July 25, at Richards grove.

Mrs. Emma Ecclestone has returned to New Hampshire having spent a few days at her home in Central Village.

The preacher at Trinity Methodist church, Norwich, Sunday morning was Rev. Marvin S. Hocking, of Westerly.

Christy Brothers' 20-car circus train from Plainfield to Westerly, ran through Norwich early Sunday morning.

Mrs. William C. Riddle of Hartford, is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Lewis A. Storrs, at New London.

A contractor has completed a garage for Selectman P. T. Connell of Norwich on Langworthy avenue, at Lord's Point.

Mrs. Philip Cheney of Hartford and South Manchester has gone to Watch Hill, where she has taken a cottage for the summer.

The families of George Young of Moosup and Raymond Gallup are spending two weeks' vacation camping at Beach pond.

Montville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Allen and Norma Allen are at Mason's island for two weeks.

At Hadlyme, Mr and Mrs. Frank Foreman were both so badly injured by an unly cow that they were taken to the Middlesex hospital.

Stanley T. Wood of South Coventry has left for a few weeks' visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George N. Thompson of Suffield.

Edwin Tracy of Collinsville is spending his vacation with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Twist at their cottage at Crescent Beach.

At the last meeting of East Lyme Grange a discussion on Evolution caused much merriment and many interesting points were brought out.

The dress houses at present are featuring collar and cuff sets, the cuffs being slightly fulled. The collars are V-shaped and comparatively small.

Monday at 8 o'clock, in St. Patrick's church a memorial mass for Dr. and Mrs. Patrick H. Harriman, was sung by the rector, Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. H. May.

Mrs. Charles W. Peabody, who has been staying with her mother, Mrs. James Church, of Hampton, for the past month, has returned to her home in Detroit.

Services of the Baptist church in Flanders Sunday were conducted by the pastor, Rev. P. S. Collins, who has returned from his vacation spent partly at his home in Maine.

Miss Marjorie Moore of Philadelphia and Mrs. Lucile Moore of Vineland, N. J., have come to Somers to spend their vacation in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Anna Pomeroy.

Mrs. James Johnson of Scotland entertained a party of eighteen relatives from out of town the other afternoon, serving luncheon out of doors. Mrs. Earle Rogers assisted in receiving the guests.

Rev. Mr. Eells of Chesterfield, Mass., who recently was called to the Vernon Center Congregational church preached his first sermon Sunday morning. He accepted the pastorate on last Wednesday.

Miss Agnes B. Leahy, of 33 Otis street, Norwich, who has a position on the faculty at Connecticut college, was among patients discharged from Lawrence Hospital, New London, at the week end.

Miss Mary Starr Grimom gave a dinner for twenty-five at Trespasse, Watch Hill, Saturday evening in honor of Miss Anita Lihme and her fiance, Prince Edward Joseph Lobkowitz, of Vienna.

The big swan, which won first prize in the Jewett City float parade Fourth of July, attracted attention when carried through Norwich Monday afternoon. The snowy bird has been bought by a Norwich florist.

Edwin C. Pease of Ellington has received high honors at the University of Pennsylvania where he was a student last year, having been elected to Alpha Beta Chi, the professional fournalistic fraternity of the university.

Senor Conrado Traverso, Secretaire de l'Ambassade Argentine and Senor Felipe A. Espil, Conseiller de l'Ambassade Argentine, have been at Eastern Point spending a few days at the Griswold on their way to Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Bingham from Pennsylvania who are interested in reviving the Bingham genealogy were at Miss Josephine Bingham's in Windham Center last week. Mr. Bingham visited the cemetery and photographed the Bingham stones.

On the daylight excursions on Long Island Sound, the original Norwich Line to New York steamer Richard Peck is running this season between New York and New London. Steamer New Hampshire makes what is called the "midnight trip", due in New London at 6 a. m.

About sixty from Rockville took the excursion to New York Sunday conducted by the New Haven railroad. The party included the members of the Fitch Hose Co., who went to the metropolis to see the baseball game between Cincinnati and New York.

Much work is being done on the state highway between Tolland and Rockville. The road is widende on the curves and at Leonard's corner the roadbed has ben cut out and rocks filled in to avoid the deep mud which makes the road almost impassable at this point every spring.

JUDGE BROWN HEARS BRIDGEPORT INJUNCTION CASE

Before Judge Allyn L. Brown of the superior court a hearing was held in chambers here Monday morning on the application of and Earl Christian and others for an injunction against the Congress Taxi Co., et al., of Bridgeport. The injunction was sought to restrain the defendants from operating, maintaining, or employing any other buses than those specifically mentioned in an agreement between plaintiff and defendant, and in competition with the plaintiff's buses and also restraining the defendant from using terminals and property of the Congress Taxi Co., for other purposes than those specified in the agreement.

It was understood that Judge Brown made suggestions that were instrumental in getting the litigants to agree to certain stipulations and the matter was put over to a hearing in September.

PERSONALS

Mrs. William Eagles, of Norwich, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aldrich, of Niantic.

Misses Margaret and Anna Hallahan, of Baltic street, have been visiting on Fishers Island, N. Y.

Chester A. Ingalls, of Boston, formerly of Greeneville, is calling on his sister and friends in New London.

Miss Henrietta V. Steinkamp, of Norwich, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Agnes Veglard, of Willimantic.

Robert J. James, of Jewett City, spent two days with the family of W. C. James at Tomaquag, R. I., the past week.

Miss Verna Smith, daughter of Mrs. Molly Smith, of South Coventry, has been visiting her grandparents in Norwich.

Miss Mary E. Dodd is spending a few weeks in New London and Ocean Beach, the guest of her cousin, Miss Mary E. O'Sullivan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rosenlund and family and Miss Grace Wood, of Montville, have been at Groton Long Point for a week.

Mrs. J. Wesley Evans, her son, Joseph, have returned to their home at 37 Happy street after spending three weeks at Camp Wanita, Gardners Lake.

Miss Alice M. Ockford and Miss May C. Ockford, of Poquetanuck, are spending their vacation in Vermont, visiting with friends in Northfield and Montpelier.

Miss Mamie Sullivan, of 237 West Thames street, has returned to her home, having spent two weeks with her sister, Mrs. E. F. Comerford, at Kinsmoor cottage, Pleasant View.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick F. Shahan and Miss Nora Bowen, of Norwich, motored to Groton Monday morning to attend the marriage of Miss Bowen's niece, Miss Mary Kilcoham, formerly of Norwich.

Mrs. Alfred Smith, of West Main street, is spending this week at her camp at Gardner Lake, having as her guest her brother, Ralph H. Marsh, who is spending a vacation of a week at the lake.

Mrs. E. A. Geer, of Griswold, and Miss Bertha Geer, of Springfield, Mass., were guests Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Thurston B. Barber, of Peck's Corner. Mrs. Lena Gardner Taylor, of New London, was a recent visitor at Mrs. Barber's home.

Mrs. Frederick Hough, of Collinsville, has been home ill for a few days. She returned to Groton Long Point Saturday with Mr. Hough. Mrs. Ralph Cox and daughter, Miss Sara Cox, of Collinsville, are visiting the Hough family at Groton Long Point.

Miss Grace Carroll, Miss Doris Charron, Edward Winne, Michael Morely, Louis Pereau, Peter Wayne, Edward Wallace, John Nally, William Foley and Roy Duame have returned to their homes in Hartford, having spent a week at the Comerford cottage, Pleasant View.

U. S. LEADS WORLD IN USE OF TELEPHONE

There are nearly twice as many telephones in the United States as in all the rest of the world put together. Out of a total of 24,576,121 telephones in use throughout the world on January 1, 1924, there were 15,369,454 or 63% in the United States of America. Europe had 6,390,765 telephones on that date, or 26% of the world's total. The remaining 2,815,902 telephones, comprising 11% of the whole, were scattered throughout Asia, Africa, Oceania and the Western Hemisphere outside of the United States.

While we had in this country one telephone for every 7 people, in all other countries combined there was but one telephone for every 185 inhabitants. The telephone systems of the world showed net growth of 1,517,291 telephones during 1923. Of these, 873,601, or well over half, were added to the telephone systems of the United States.

These figures are taken from a compilation just made public of the telephone and telegraph statistics of the world. The work of collecting authoritative data from every quarter of the globe has taken considerable time, and the published statistics therefore reflect conditions as of January 1, 1924.

On that wate there were 13.7 telephones for every 100 population in the United States, as compared with 3.8 in Germany, 2.5 in Great Britain, 1.5 in France and 0.4 in Italy. The countries approaching nearest to the American record in this respect were Canada, with 11.0 telephones per 100 people, and Denmark, with 8.7. These when it is recalled that most of the telephones both in Canada and in Denmark are owned and operated by private enterprise, as in the United States, while the relatively underdeveloped telephone service, which is also a government monopoly, showed a development of only 0.8 telephones per 100 population. Many thousands of telephones were destroyed in the earthquake of September, 1923, but even prior to that disaster Japan never attained a development of as much as one telephone for every 100 people.

Telephone development abroad is largely concentrated in the more important cities, London and Paris, for instance, each have over one-third of all the telephones in their respective countries. In comparison with American cities, however, they make a poor showing. On January 1, 1924, London had 5.4 telephones for every 100 people, Paris 7.0 and Berlin 3.6. Stockholm was the only European capital which had attained a telephone development comparable to that of several American cities. Even Stockholm's record of 24.6 telephones per 100 people was surpassed by such cities as San Francisco with 28.8 telephones for every 100 inhabitants, Omaha with 28.3 and Minneapolis with 24.8. New York City alone, with 1,186,573 telephones on January 1, 1924, had more telephones than the whole of Great Britain—more, in fact, than any foreign country except Germany. Yet a comparison of the number of telephones per 100 people in large and small communities shows that in the United States the telephone facilities of the smaller cities and rural districts are much better developed than they are in any European country. Farmers' telephone lines, in fact, are extremely scarce outside of North America.

OBITUARY

Walter H. Bushnell

Following a short illness the death of Walter H. Bushnell, of New Haven, formerly of Norwich, occurred Sunday morning at the Hartford hospital.

Mr. Bushnell was born in Norwich June 21, 1890, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bushnell, and was united in marriage in this city with Miss Nellie Parker. A few years ago he moved to New Haven to reside.

Surviving Mr. Bushnell are his wife and two children, Virginia and Barbara, his mother, now living in Hartford, a brother, Clement C. Bushnell and a sister, Mrs. Edith Bayrer of Hartford.

News of his death will be received with regret by a host of friends in this city and sympathy is expressed for members of his family in the loss of a beloved one.

A novelty designed to do away with the unsightly bathing pack is a doll bag, made of black patent leather, with a cretonne body in which the bathing suit of the transient visitor to the beaches may be placed. The bag comes in various styles.

BOYS AND GIRLS FROM THIS COUNTY ATTENDING STORRS SHORT COURSE

Twenty girls and eighteen boys, members of 4-H clubs of New London county, will go to Storrs today (Tuesday), to attend the seventh annual junior short course at Connecticut Agricultural college.

This course lasts one week and is attended by home-making and agricultural club members from the eight counties of the state. The members derive a great deal of value in educational as well as recreational lines.

Those attending from New London county are as follows: Margaret Whitman, Waterford; Marion Allyn, Waterford; Marjorie Gates, Gales Ferry; Minnie E. Emmet, Wequetequock; France C. Lamb, North Franklin; Ruth Henson, Stonington Road; Sophie Schida, Leonards Bridge; Harriet Manning, Lebanon; Agnes Shaw, Stonington Road; Edna J. Lamb, North Franklin; Mildred Manning, North Franklin; Vera Bushnell, North Franklin; Vivian Bushnell, North Franklin; Evelyn Maynard, North Plain; Dorothy E. Sisson, North Plain; Myrtice Coman, Gales Ferry; Helen DeRusha, Gales Ferry; Rose Norcross, Norwich, R. D. No. 6; Eva Beth Bennett, Gales Ferry; Margaret Shaw, Stonington Road; Charlotte M. Babbitt, Baltic; George E. Wood, Waterford; Raymond Manning, North Franklin; Jason Clark, Lebanon; Lester Yerrington, Lebanon; Jared Hinckley, Leonards Bridge; Charles Hinckley, Leonards Bridge; Bernard G. Crandall, North Franklin; Arnold P. Manning, North Franklin; Stephen Gorski, Leonards Bridge; Stephen Manning, Lebanon; Edwin D. Foster, North Franklin; Everett Wade, Baltic; Sylvester Wade, Baltic; Harold Kneeland, Lebanon; Charles Dimmock, Waterford; Huntington Robinson, North Franklin; A. B. Valleau, Lebanon; Francis Dimmock, Waterford; Harold Dimmock, Waterford.

400 Boys and Girls Expected

(Special to the Bulletin.)

STORRS, July 20—Connecticut boys and girls, 400 strong, will take possession of the state agricultural college tomorrow. The occasion is the opening of the seventh annual short course for members of Connecticut's 4-H Clubs in agriculture and homemaking, which will be in session from July 21-29.

Storrs will present a strange sight tomorrow afternoon. Beginning around one o'clock, the boys and girls from all sections of Connecticut are expected to stream into Storrs, the procession lasting late into the afternoon. And a strange procession it will be, if anything like those seen at the opening of the short courses in past years. Every conceivable kind of conveyance will be used to bring the boys and girls to Storrs. Some of the county delegations will arrive in large jitney busses appropriately decorated for the occasion. Many of the youngsters will come in the family Ford, being driven in by their parents, some of whom will stop here for a short visit of a day or two. Contrasted to this will be the smaller number arriving in limousines. Some of the more adventurous boys will use their bicycles, while several from the nearby towns are planning to hike to Storrs. Horse drawn vehicles will also be seen, but not to the extent of former years.

Registration will be the first duty of the club members on their arrival here, after which they will be assigned to rooms in the college dormitories. Durham pool in Hawley Armory will be open to boys, and this is expected to attract a large number. Bowling alleys will be open to the club members and equipment for baseball is on hand, and it is expected that a game will be underway with the arrival of the eighteenth boy tomorrow afternoon.

That the health of the short course students will be carefully guarded was the statement of State Club Leader Brundage this morning, who said that two trained nurses would be on duty at the college infirmary while the short course was in session.

Among those expected to arrive tomorrow are James Bottomly, a sixteen year old club member from Milford. He is the record holde. in attendance at the Short Course, this year's being the sixth consecutive session he has attended. Bottomly is registered for the dairy courses, and last year was alternate for the State Champion Dairy Judging team that competed at the National Dairy Show at Milwaukee.

Horace Knowles and Theresa Smith, two club members of Rhode Island, will arrive tomorrow to enroll in the short course. They are coming on the invitation of the Connecticut boys and girls, and it is expected that their work here will give them new ideas to carry back to Rhode Island.

Announcement was made today by State Club Leader Brundage that a special animal husbandry course would be given this year. This will be taught by Assistant Professor A. G. Skinner of the animal husbandry department. This will include special work on hogs, sheep and horses, and the livestock in the college barns will be used in the demonstration of this work.

FIND INDUSTRIAL CONDITIONS FAIR IN CONNECTICUT

Norwich and Connecticut generally report better industrial employment conditions than are to be found in most places in New England, according to the indications in the United States employments service's bulletin for June.

The bulletin notes Connecticut conditions as good. "In those sections where some plants are operating part time," it says, "the surplus labor in most cases is absorbed in other local industries. Overtime schedules are in effect in the silk mills in some parts of the state. Increased activity was noted in the metal-working trades during the month of June, with slight shortages of skilled tradesmen reported. The supply of farm labor is adequate for the demand."

Conditions in Eastern Connecticut cities are reported as follows:

Norwich—A slight improvement was noted in the industrial employment situation during June. While part time schedules still obtain in the textile mills, the surplus workers are being cared for in other local industries. Building activities keep resident tradsemen well engaged.

Willimantic—Surplus of workers reported in the cotton and thread industries, due to part-time schedules in effect in most of the mills. One thread mill is entirely closed, affecting 2,500 hands. Building program employs more than 100 tradesmen with the resident supply adequate for the demand. Farm-labor situation described as good.

New London—Industrial employment conditions showed an improvement during the month. All plants are running and resident labor is well employed. Building projects under way include a new school, college dormitory, apartment houses, and garages, employing a large number of men.

BOY SCOUTS REGISTERED AT CAMP TIPPECAN

Scouts at Camp Tippecan, the Norwich Boy Scouts camp at Beach pond, Voluntown, this week are the following:

Troop No. 1.—Cecil Wetherell, Dennis LaVarge, Sidney Thum, John Shields, Frank Jackson.

Troop No. 3.—Lester Pingree, John Wood, Curtice Hedler, H. Airey, A. Airey, Ralph Hunt, John Shutt, Hartwell Zuerner.

Troop No. 7.—Saul Sussman, David Tiger, Hardy Shereshevsky.

Troop No. 12.—Billy Agnew, Hoyt Taylor, John Boynes, Julius Hill.

Troop No. 1.—Willimantic— Lawrence Dyer, Mitchell Haddad, Hadley Williams, Walter Wheaton, Lawrence Copeland.

Troop No. 9.—William Hazard.

Troop No. 1.—Voluntown—Stephen Clark, Wilfred Parry, Joel Bitgood, Armand Dayon, Elside Barre.

Troop No. 1—Jewett City—William Stebbins, Russell Carpenter, Clarence Sweet.

Troop No. 1.—Plainfield—Paul Phillips, Percy Wilcox.

Troop No. 94—Freeport, N. Y.—Charles Mountcastle.

The camp staff includes F. A. Benton, Rev. F. C. Williams, Thomas Baldwin, Jr., Edward Preston, Victor Davis, Irving Manning, Harry Jordan, Reginald Laubin, John Jencks.

SON OF PRESIDENT COMES TO STAFFORD

The Bulletin's Stafford correspondent writes:

President Coolidge's son, John Coolidge, was in Stafford last Tuesday morning.

John Cumming received word of the illness of his wife, who is at the home of her sister, Mrs. Arthur Tetreault, in West Stafford. So they started and arrived in Stafford early Monday morning. They were accompanied by a chauffeur and two secret service men. Mr. Cumming is employed at the home of Col. Coolidge. When he received word of his wife's illness, the president's son volunteered to take him to Stafford that night.

At Shore Hotels

Noted among guests at the Wigwam, Pleasant View, are Dr. and Mrs. Curtis Bernard, of Norwich. At the Plimpton, Watch Hill, Mrs. Fred D. Ballou and Miss Ruth A. Ballou, of Jewett City.

At Weekapaug Inn, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Stanton and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Comstock, Norwich; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lathrop, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Noyes and Angeline D. Lanphere, of Mystic.

APPROVE SALARY BOOSTS FOR 15 STATE OFFICIALS

HARTFORD, July 20.—(AP)—The state board of control today voted salary increases for fifteen state officials, the aggregate advances amounting to $17,500. Increases of $2,000 a year were allowed both Tax Commissioner William H. Blodgett and Bank Commissioner John B. Byrne, the increase in each case being from $6,000 to $8,000. Two increases of $1,500, ten of $1,000, and one of $500 were also allowed.

Those voted increases are as follows: Insurance Commissioner Howard P. Dunham, from $3,500 to $5,000; Labor Commissioner Harry MacKenzie, from $3,500 to $5,000; Deputy Bank Commissioner Lester E. Shippee, from $4,500 to $5,500; Commissioner of Health Stanley H. Osborn, from $5,000 to $6,000; Commissioner on Domestic Animals James M. Whittlesey, from $3,500 to $4,500; Dairy and Food Commissioner Thomas Holt, from $2,500 to 13,500; Deputy Secretary Elmer H. Lounsbury, from $4,000 to $5,000; Deputy Treasurer Thomas H. Judd, from $4,000 to $5,000; Deputy Comptroller E. H. Wilkins, from $4,000 to $5,000; Deputy Food Commissioner W. J. Warner, from $2,000 to $3,000; Deputy Commissioner on Domestic Animals George E. Corwin, from $3,000 to $4,000; State Librarian George S. Godard, from $5,000 to $6,000; State Agent Raymond F. Gates, from $5,000 to $5,500.

The salary of Miss Ellen McLaughlin, secretary to the state boxing commissioner, was set at $2,500 a year by the board.

In increasing the salaries of Tax Commissioner Blodgett and Bank Commissioner Byrne, it was voted that the expense allowance of $2,500 a year which each is allowed be abolished and actual expenses allowed.

SUSPENDED JAIL SENTENCES GIVEN ON TWO COUNTS

Frank Falcone, 49, who got arrested twice Sunday on breach of the peace charges was given jail sentences of 30 days on each count, suspended for one year, when he was before Judge A. F. Libby in the city court Monday morning. Falcone's first offense was chasing women with a blackjack in the neighborhood of Copper street where he has a store. Later, after he had been released on bail, he was accused of attacking Officer Peter Vuono, who arrested him the first time.

Patsy Grillo, 34, a cripple, who lives in New London, was before the court on a charge of peddling without a license. He has been selling pencils on the streets of this city. The case against him was continued for six months and he is to get out of town.

Four men paid $5 each for violations of traffic ordinances, one man paid $5 and costs for intoxication.

NORWICH AERIE ANTICIPATES BIG INITIATON CLASS

At the regular meeting held Monday evening at the Eagles' home, ten applications were received for membership in Norwich aerie, No. 367. It was voted to hold a class initiation at the new home on Sunday August 9th. The lawn festival held Friday and Saturday proved to be a big success. The committee believes from general views that this will be one of the largest class initiations ever held by Norwich aerie.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Gallup are at the Hotel Mohican for two weeks.

Mrs. Frederick T. Sayles, her daughter, Miss Alice, and son, John Sayles have been on a motor trip to Cape Cod.

Master Richard Johnson, of Plainfield, N. J., is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver L. Johnson.

Miss Beatrice Leonard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William W. Leonard, is at Oswegatchie camp, on the Niantic river.

At her cottage on Groton Long Point, Miss Jane Bill has been entertaining Miss Mary E. Richards, of Sachem street.

Miss Ella M. Noxon, of Washington street, is one of the patronesses of a dramatic reading with music, to be given this week at "Seaward," the summer home of Miss Frances Ogden Jones, at The Pequot.

On her way from Nantucket to her home in Chicago, Miss Ruth D. Lester, interested in the Lester family history, was the guest of Mrs. Elisha E. Rogers, of Division street, who is genealogist for the Colonial Dames of Connecticut.

NORWICH "WORST SPOT" FOR BROADCAST RECEPTION

A writer for the radio page of the Hartford Times declares that he has found Norwich the worst spot in his experience for broadcast reception.

In giving Norwich the palm for champion interference he writes as follows:

Amid the peaceful and entrancing environment of Yosemite National Park, "listening in" to far-away organ music was described as "an approach to communion with the Infinite." A month later, we had just the opposite experience, from the standpoint of radio. Our ears were tuned with all the screeches of Hades.

It is an elementary truth of radio that no one may anticipate satisfactory results under certain conditions; for instance, proximity to electric wires, some which might cause disturbances that would put many ordinary bad-behaving summer static to shame. There are other causes of weak and distorted signals which may be found by sad experience but which may be avoided.

On this trans-continental "radio exploration" tour we discovered a place where every factor seemed to count against successful reception, seeing which we provided additional features to aggravate the case, just to perceive how bad it all could be, contrasted with our previous efforts, at all times, to make reception as perfect as possible.

We stopped at the historic town of Norwich, Conn., where antennas are beginning to appear on homes that were established in the seventeenth century and bear famous names—a region rich with the tradition of New England, where now WTIC, WBZ, WJAR and other combinations of three or four letters are included in the daily conversations among the descendants of early patriots whose wildest dreams may have been of horseless carriages.

Our headquarters were in a room on the second floor of the Hotel Wauregan, a brick structure in the business center. Trolley wires and power lines could be noticed on both sides of the building, just under our windows. No one had ever claimed that a good location for radio. Here in Norwich code interference seemed at its zenith. "Bloopers" were there by the scores. We hung an antenna wire over the door to a window, thence to the receiver, a distance of twenty five feet or all. A wire was attached to the radiator for a ground. Rather rundown and badly parred "B" batteries were attached. The whole set-up certainly was conducive to our purpose. Furthermore, being the fourth of July, and very hot, following an early morning storm, it was a sort of field day for static.

No one could hold the headphones more than a minute at a time. Yet WJZ could be noted through the hissing and crackling. But "Mighty Lak a Rose" sounded mighty like a boiler-factory.

It was just what we expected, but let's see!

Disconnecting the little antenna, we listened again. The irritating crackle disappeared, proving that the disturbances were external from the receiver and not due to poor tubes or batteries that were quitting business. By careful tuning, we caught the sound of music, a band playing a medley of light opera numbers—KDKA in Pittsburgh!

That was a pleasant surprise. Now came a greater one. By touching the antenna post with the hand, signals gained immensely in strength, and the strains of "Kiss Me Again" could be heard fifteen feet away. The human antenna system seemed quite effective.

Using the wire brought back the terrific racket; it was next to impossible to bring the music through it. But without wire and particularly by keeping the hand on the binding post, reception, even in that spot, was really enjoyable.

When our experience was described to A. P. Leavitt, a Norwich fan, he invited us to "listen in" on his receiver, after he stated that his locality, just two blocks from the hotel, was even more turbulent. He claimed as an additional disturbance the operation of instruments in the telegraph office underneath. We heard more whistles and clatter in five minutes than in all our previous reception experience put together. Leavitt had all kinds of aerials and loops, but none of them produced good results. We tried the human antenna proposition—and here it did not work either. Yet, ten minutes later, at the hotel, it brought in the National Defense Day program from WGY, WEAF, and four or five other stations. We guess Mr. Leavitt is justified in his peculiar boast that he has the worst receiving spot, certainly for New England and perhaps for even a wider territory. But he is a true devotee. In spite of all the interference, he continues to "listen in" regularly, so as to be able to talk about each night's revelations.

FUNERAL

WESTCOTT—At the Day-Kimball hospital, Putnam, Conn., July 20, 1925, Helen M. Whitmore, wife of John S. Westcott, of Wauregan, Conn., in her 65th year.

Funeral services will be held at her late home in Wauregan, Wednesday July 22, at 2 p. m. (S. T.). Burial in Grove street cemetery, Putnam, Conn.

Cuticura Toilet Trio
Send for Samples
Address: Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. B, Malden, Mass.

He knows

—the candy that's best for him

AND his mother lets him help himself because Life Savers, those delicious little candy mints with the hole, are really the ideal candy for children.

They are made only of purest sugar, deliciously flavored—six flavors to choose from and a package costs only five cents.

Parents can conscientiously be generous with these china-hard circles of pure goodness.

Good for little tummies
Safe for tiny teeth

LIFE SAVERS

and says he will keep it up as long as his ears hold out.

This incident is mentioned in the hope that fans who are interested may experiment with the body induction plan. It is a good "stunt," if nothing else. Try it with the ground connection on, preferably.

COURT EXPENSES ALLOWED BY BOARD OF CONTROL

The following expense allowances for various courts were allowed by the state board of control in its meeting at Hartford Monday: Hartford county superior court, $6,010; New London county superior, $1,500; New Haven county at Waterbury, $3,350; Windham county superior, $2,800; Fairfield common pleas court, $2,530; Fairfield county superior, $9,600; expenses of judges, $275.

PENSION REQUESTS TABLED BY CONTROL BOARD

Pension requests by Dr. William E. Fisher, who is to retire after more than forty years of service at the state hospital in Middletown, and Charles E. Evans, messenger of the superior court of Fairfield county, were tabled Monday at the meeting of the state board of control in Hartford. The request of the state department of agriculture for an appropriation of $2,500 for expenses in connection with an exhibit at the Connecticut state fair was also tabled.

Vim How do they keep so young, these dashing, splashing women of 35?

What is the amazing secret which clever women have—that keeps them young looking, it seems—forever.

"We all keep youth and vigor in our family", writes Mrs. Eileen Maddox of Quebec, "because we've learned the wonderful secret of regularity—and Beecham's".

For 70 years, Beecham's Pills have assisted Nature in the daily work of elimination. For over 70 years millions of women have learned this great secret—Keep clean within, and you retain all the buoyant health and loveliness of your early teens.

Have you tried Beecham's for unruly complexion? If you haven't there's a delightful surprise awaiting you. Get a 25c or a 50c box today at any good druggist.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
Equally good for little folks

Tortured for years by varicose veins
Trouble entirely healed by Resinol

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 23:—"I had suffered from varicose veins for 2½ years and had doctored continuously without results as I could not keep off my feet. The pain was so great that I could not sleep and I cried at night until I was completely exhausted. My hair was turning gray and I thought I would lose my mind. Last summer my son had a sore on his chin and Resinol healed it, so I decided to try it myself. In little less than a week I obtained relief and in six months time the trouble was entirely healed. I cannot tell you how thankful I am—I am the happiest woman in the world and I owe it all to Resinol." (Signed) Mrs. Gussie Newman, 2424 Orchard St.

WE HAVE A FEW
USED GAS STOVES
THAT WE ARE SELLING AT VERY SPECIAL PRICES.
Gas & Electrical Dept.
34 Shetucket Street.

JOHNNEY GREENE HOLDS HALLVILLE TO FIVE HITS AND NUGGETS WIN

George Madden's Nuggets climbed out of the cellar Monday evening when they nosed out Hallville by a 5 to 4 score. Hallville however remains in second place in spite of their defeat, having a record of four wins and two losses.

After a week of heavy hitting, the pitcher's came into their own again last night, when each twirler held the opposition to five hits. Johnny Greene, twirled for the Nuggets and although not hit hard, he had difficulty in getting the ball over the plate, walking five and hitting three.

Bullet Mansfield started on the mound for Hallville and during his four innings in the box held the Nuggets to three hits. Mansfield's support however, was not of the best, and several misplays by his mates enabled Madden's team to score at least four of the five runs that they made while he was in the box. Joe McInniss relieved Mansfield in the fifth and pitched the final frame. Joe was touched up for two hits, and one run.

The Nuggets scored one run in the first without making a hit. Mansfield hit Guillette, the Nuggets lead-off man. Lloyd Jarvis sacrificed Guillette to second and when Joe McInniss fumbled Benjamin's roller to second, the Nuggets little shortstop went to third. At this point, one of Mansfield's shoots got away from Boyd and Guillette scored.

In the second, Hallville tied up the game. Joe McInniss walked, went to second on a sacrifice and scored on Boyd's double to left.

In their half of the second the Nuggets went out in front to the extent of three runs. Ray Jarvis, another of the Jarvis boys from Jewett City, drew a walk as a starter but was forced a moment later on Burke's grounder to second. Johnny Greene shot a grounder to Berberick and when the latter fumbled, Greene was safe and Burke was perched on second. Guillette then singled to left, and Burke scored, Greene going to second, Lloyd Jarvis rolled a grounder to Red Charon and when Red elected to try to get Greene going to third, all hands were safe and the bases were filled. Benjamin came through at this critical time with a single over third, scoring Greene. Guillette, however, was caught at third, Bill Smith to Berberick. At this point Red Charon tried the hidden ball trick in an attempt to fool Benjamin on first, and Lloyd Jarvis, watching his chance, stole home from third while Charon still held the ball.

After the Nuggets had scored another run in the fourth, Hallville threatened to tie up the game in the fifth but fell one run shy. In this frame, Greene's wildness came near losing the game but with none out and one trying run on third, Johnny tightened and retired the side. H. Smith started the trouble by walking. Red Charon was hit by a pitched ball, and when Greene walked Sullivan the bases were full. H. Smith then scored on his brother's single to left, Charon taking third. John McInnis raised a short fly in back of second and when Benjamin dropped the ball, Charon crossed the plate, and Sullivan went to third. Sullivan then tallied when Joe McInnis grounded out to second. With men still on second and third, Greene retired the next two batters, one on a grounder to short, and the other on a strikeout.

In their half of the fifth, the Nuggets made the score 6 to 4 on an error and a single by Lessemen.

Hallville made a final bid for victory in the sixth but did not have the necessary punch to push across the three runs needed. With one away, H. Smith drew a pass and when Red Charon singled to center, went down to second. After Sullivan had fanned, Bill Smith shot a grounder to Guillette and when the latter fumbled, the bases were filled. At this critical stage of the game, Greene retired John McInniss on a pop fly to second.

With Jarvis batting in the last half of the sixth Umpire Morin called the game on account of darkness, and the Nuggets had won their first game in the last six starts.

Hallville	ab	h	po	a	e	Nuggets	ab	h	po	a	e
H Smith,rf	2	0	0	0	0	Guillette,ss	2	1	0	4	1
R Charon,1b	3	1	5	0	0	L Jarvis,rf	1	0	1	0	0
Sullivan,cf	3	1	3	0	0	Benjamin,2b	3	1	2	2	1
S Smith,lf	3	1	0	1	0	Streeter,rf	2	0	1	0	0
Jos McInniss,2b	3	1	0	0	1	Liberty,c	2	0	5	0	0
McInniss,p-2b	2	0	2	1	1	Lesseman,3b	3	1	0	1	0
A Charon,ss	1	0	0	0	1	R Jarvis,lf	2	1	2	1	0
Berberick,3b	2	0	2	0	0	Burke,1b	2	1	6	0	1
Boyd,c	2	1	7	2	1	Greene,p	2	0	0	1	0
Mansfield,p	2	0	0	1	1
Totals	21	5	15	4	5	Totals	21	5	18	7	3

Score by innings:
Hallville ..... 0 1 0 0 3 0—4
Nuggets ..... 1 3 0 1 1 x—6

Two base hits, Boyd, R. Jarvis. Hit by pitcher, by Greene 2, by Mansfield 1. Struck out, by Greene 4, by Mansfield 2, by Joe Mcinnis 2. Bases on balls, off Greene 3, off Mansfield 3.

Tonight's Game

Tonight's game will be between the Yantic Mills and the Palace nine. Both of these teams have strong lineups and should put up a good even battle in this evening's contest. The rumor that Yantic was to drop out of the league was proven as unfounded Manager Ainsworth stating that a stronger team than ever will represent the uptown team in tonight's game. If Yantic should win, they would be in a tie with the East Ends and the Palace for fourth place, while if Mike Morin's team comes out ahead, Yantic will drop into a tie with the Nuggets for seventh place and the Palace will go into a tie with Hallville for the runner up position.

COVELESKIE KEEPS HITS WELL SCATTERED AND WINS

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 20.—(AP)—Stanley Coveleskie held his former teammates to eight scattered hits today and Washington defeated Cleveland 9 to 1. It was Coveleskie's twelfth straight victory and gave Washington a clean sweep of the three game series here. Score:

Washington (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Cleveland (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
McNeely,lf	4	0	0	0	0	Jamieson,lf	3	0	6	0	0
S Harris,3b	3	0	2	4	0	McNulty,rf	4	1	1	3	0
Rice,cf	4	3	4	3	0	Speaker,cf	3	2	2	0	0
J.Harris,rf	3	0	4	1	0	Sewell,ss	4	1	1	6	0
Judge,1b	3	2	10	2	1	Rumn,1b	4	2	17	1	0
Bluege,3b	4	2	1	3	0	Fewster,2b	4	0	0	2	0
Ruel,ss	3	2	2	3	0	Lutzke,3b	4	0	1	5	0
Ruether,p	4	2	2	6	0	Myatt,c	3	1	3	1	0
Coveleskie,p	3	0	0	4	0	Miller,ss	2	1	0	2	0
						Buckeye,p	1	0	0	0	0
						xKnode	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	9	27	26	1	Totals	33	8	27	13	0

(x) Batted for Miller in 9th.

Score by innings:
Washington ..... 0 1 0 1 2 0 1 4 0—9
Cleveland ..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1

Two base hits, Judge. Three base hit, Bluege.

BRIDGEPORT HITS AT RIGHT TIME TO BEAT HILLIES

BRIDGEPORT, July 20.—(AP)—Bridgeport batted timely today and won its second straight game over Pittsfield here today 5 to 3. The playing of Henzes stood out. Runser played his first game at short for the Bears. The score:

Pittsfield	100	200	000—3
Bridgeport	300	100	10x—5

Two base hit, Long, Bedford, Metevier.

Flowers Gets Decision

BOSTON, July 20—(A. P.)—Tiger Flowers of Atlanta, Va., tonight gained a decision in ten rounds over Pat McCarthy of Roxbury here.

DETROIT WINS THIRD STRAIGHT FROM YANKS

DETROIT, July 20.—(AP)—Detroit won its third straight game of the series from New York today, 9 to 5, and extended its winning streak to four consecutive games.

Ruth hit his tenth home run of the season in the seventh inning with Combs on base and one out. O'Rourke of the Tigers hit a home run in the last of the eighth.

Blue, the Tigers first baseman, played an excellent game at that sack, and had six assists.

Collins pitched a good game for Detroit, allowing numerous hits but tightening up when necessary. Pennock was hard hit by the home team, 14 of the Tigers' hits coming from his delivery in the first six innings of the game. Score:

New York (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Combs,cf	4	0	3	0	0	Haney,2b	5	2	1	0	0
Ward,2b	5	2	6	3	0	O'Rourke,2b	4	2	1	2	0
Ruth,lf	5	1	0	0	0	Wingo,lf	5	3	1	0	0
Meusel,rf	3	0	1	0	0	Fothergill,rf	3	1	2	0	0
Gehrig,1b	4	1	7	1	0	Heilmann,rf	3	1	1	0	0
Dugan,3b	4	3	2	2	0	Blue,1b	3	2	10	0	0
Schang,c	3	0	3	1	0	Taveraer,ss	3	0	7	2	0
E.Johnston,ss	4	2	6	1	1	Woodall,c	3	2	2	2	0
Pennock,p	3	2	0	1	0	Collins,p	3	0	2	4	0
Shocker,p	0	0	0	0	0
Jones,p	0	0	0	1	0	Totals	32	15	7	16	0
xYeach	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	11	21	10	1

(x) Batted for Shocker in 8th.

Score by innings:
New York ..... 0 1 0 0 1 1 3 0 0—5
Detroit ..... 0 0 1 2 0 1 2 3 x—9

Two base hits, Dugan 2, Johnson, Pennock. Three base hit, Haney. Home runs, Ruth, O'Rourke.

RING HAS BETTER OF MEADOWS AND PHILLIES WIN

PHILADELPHIA, July 20.—(AP)—Jimmy Ring bested Lee Meadows in a hurling duel here today and Philadelphia took the first game of the series with the Pittsburgh Pirates by a score of 6 to 3. A balk and a wild pitch by Meadows allowed two of the Phillies runs to tally. Score:

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Philadelphia (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Carey,cf	4	0	3	0	0	Sand,ss	3	2	3	6	0
Moore,2b	5	0	2	3	1	Williams,lf	3	0	2	0	0
Carlyle,rf	5	2	1	1	0	Burns,rf	4	1	1	0	0
Barnhart,lf	4	1	2	2	0	xWrightstone	0	0	0	0	0
Traynor,3b	2	1	2	1	0	Betts	0	0	0	0	0
Wright,ss	4	1	1	2	0	Mokan,lf	0	0	1	0	0
Grantham,1b	4	2	6	1	0	Harper,cf	4	1	2	0	0
Smith,c	1	0	3	0	0	Wilson,c	3	1	2	1	0
Gooch,c	0	0	1	0	0	Fonseca,1b	4	1	17	1	0
Meadows,p	3	0	0	2	0	Ruber,2b	4	2	0	1	0
zMiljus	1	0	0	0	0	Ryther,2b	1	0	1	2	0
Adams,p	0	0	0	1	0	King,p	4	1	0	2	0
Totals	35	9	21	13	1	Totals	33	9	27	12	0

(z) Batted for Meadows in 8th.
(x) Batted for Burns in 7th.
(xx) Ran for Wrightstone in 7th.

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh ..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 0—3
Philadelphia ..... 0 0 3 0 0 1 2 1 x—6

Two base hits, Cuyler, Friberg, Grantham, Wilson, Fonseca, Harper. Home runs, Barnhart, Huber.

ONLY ONE UPSET IN WOMEN'S INVITATION PLAY

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 20.—(AP)—The first day of play of the women's invitation singles tennis tournament today at the Essex County Country Club here was marked only by the elimination of one seeded player, Mrs. B. E. Cole, 2nd., of North Andover, in the second round and the withdrawal of Miss Elizabeth Ryan of England, who found she was not conditioned after her Atlantic trip.

The second round was completed today with the exception of the matches of Miss Helen Wills and Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, both of California, present and past national champions. The day saw the elimination of the international phase of the tournament with the withdrawal of Miss Ryan and the defeat of two Canadian players, Miss Gertrude Gallery of Montreal and Miss Phoebe Grierson of Ottawa.

The defeat of Mrs. Cole by Miss Edith Sigourney of Nahant, who is not seeded and who ranks six places below Mrs. Cole, provided some of the best competition of the day, the other seeded players, including six of America's first ten women players, winning their matches handily. The women's doubles begin tomorrow and the mixed doubles on Wednesday.

BENSON WINS THIRD STRAIGHT FOR BRAVES

BOSTON, July 20.—(AP)—Larry Benton won his third straight game for the Boston Braves today against Chicago, 6 to 2. Alexander relieved Jones in the fourth inning and was hit hard. Every Boston player hit safely at least once and Benton was given remarkable support. Score:

Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Adams,2b	3	0	4	0	0	Rancroft,ss	5	2	4	3	0
Maritle,ss	3	1	2	4	0	Gautreau,2b	4	3	1	5	0
Frigeau,2b	4	2	0	4	0	Mann,rf	5	1	3	0	0
Grimsley,cf	4	0	1	1	0	Burrus,1b	4	1	9	0	0
Griffith,rf	4	2	2	0	0	Felix,cf	4	2	2	0	0
Wels,lf	4	0	0	0	0	Padgett,2b	3	2	0	0	1
Grimm,1b	3	0	12	0	0	Harris,lf	4	1	1	0	0
Gonzales,c	4	0	1	0	0	Gibson,c	4	1	3	1	0
Jones,p	1	0	0	0	0	Benton,p	3	1	1	0	0
Alexander,p	1	1	0	0	0
xHeathcote	1	1	0	0	0	Totals	33	14	27	8	1
Bush,p	0	0	1	1	0
Totals	32	7	21	17	3

(x) Batted for Alexander in 8th.

Score by innings:
Chicago ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—2
Boston ..... 0 0 0 2 0 1 3 0 x—6

Two base hits, Freigau, Felix.

ALBANY DROPS EIGHTH STRAIGHT TO BRASSCOS

ALBANY, N. Y., July 20.—(AP)—Albany lost its eighth straight game here this afternoon, when Waterbury rallied in the seventh and eighth innings for a 10 to 3 victory. A catch by Leary and his timely hitting featured. Score:

Waterbury	101 000 360	—10
Albany	100 001 010	—3

Two base hits, Donahue, Leary, Rush, Emmerich. Three base hits, Leary.

East Ends Win Two

The West Ends of Willimantic continued their winning ways, taking two games over the week end. Saturday at Lebanon they took that team into camp 4-3 and Sunday at Willimantic the West Ends defeated the fast Fitchville nine 11-4. "Cannonball Jones" of Hebron was on the mound for both Lebanon and Fitchville, but the West Enders found little trouble in finding him for eight hits Saturday and sixteen hits Sunday. Next Saturday the West Ends play Taftville A. A. in Taftville and Sunday Taftville plays a return game in Willimantic.

J. B. Martin Seconds Win

The J. B. Martin Seconds defeated Joe Kapteina's All Stars, composed mostly of Greeneville Rosedales, Saturday afternoon at J. B. Martin Park by a score of 18-4. Friniski pitching for the Seconds easily held the All Stars in check. He allowed but 4 hits during his stay in the box. Phalen, the utility pitcher, pitched well for the last 3 innings. The hitting of H. Mish and Smith featured for the seconds. Ferguson started for the All Stars but was forced to retire in the 3rd due to the hitting of the Seconds. Tennant who relieved him did not go any better and retired in favor of Lemoureaux, who pitched the rest of the game.

TODAY'S SPORTS

RACING

Meeting of Empire City Racing Association, at Yonkers.
Meeting of Windsor Jockey Club, at Windsor.
Meeting of Business Men's Racing Association, at Chicago.

TROTTING

Meeting of Grand Circuit at Kalamazoo.

GOLF

Scottish amateur championship tournament, at Muirfield.
Pennsylvania open championship opens at Haverford, Pa.
South Dakota State championship, at Sioux Falls.

TENNIS

Pacific Northwest intersectional championships, at Seattle.
Northwestern championship tournament, at Deephaven, Minn.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Chicago 3, Boston 1. (1st game.)
Chicago 7, Boston 10. (2nd game.)
Washington 9, Cleveland 1.
Detroit 9, New York 5.
Philadelphia 8, St. Louis 3.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Philadelphia	56	30	.651
Washington	57	31	.648
Chicago	47	43	.522
Detroit	47	43	.522
St Louis	47	44	.516
Cleveland	40	52	.435
New York	38	53	.404
Boston	27	61	.307

GAMES TODAY.

Philadelphia at St. Louis.
New York at Detroit.
Washington at Cleveland.
Boston at Chicago.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

New York 6, Cincinnati 5.
Philadelphia 6, Pittsburgh 3.
Boston 6, Chicago 3.
Brooklyn 4, St. Louis 3.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Pittsburg	50	32	.602
New York	52	35	.598
Brooklyn	48	43	.500
Cincinnati	42	42	.494
St Louis	42	45	.483
Philadelphia	41	45	.477
Chicago	38	44	.442
Boston	36	52	.409

GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Boston.
Cincinnati at New York.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Only games scheduled.

EASTERN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Bridgeport 5, Pittsfield 3.
Hartford 3, Springfield 0.
Waterbury 10, Albany 3.
Worcester—New Haven game played Sunday.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Yesterday's Results

Jersey City 1, Syracuse 2. (first game)
Jersey City 6, Syracuse 9. (second game)
Providence 1, Rochester 0.
Baltimore 4, Toronto 5.
Reading-Buffalo played as part of a doubleheader yesterday.

ATHLETICS STILL CONTINUE TO POUND THE BALL

ST. LOUIS, July 20.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics retained their narrow lead over Washington in the American League pennant race by defeating the St. Louis Browns today 8 to 3.

Bush was batted out of the box in the ninth. The visitors got 13 hits, including a home run, triple and three two baggers. Walberg allowed only six scattered hits.

Ken Williams ran his string of homers to 23 by hitting into the right-field bleachers in the ninth. No one was on base. Score:

Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Bishop,2b	5	2	1	3	0	Rice,rf	4	2	2	0	0
Lamar,lf	5	1	2	0	0	Lamrin,ss	5	0	4	2	0
Poole,1b	4	3	9	2	0	Risley,1b	5	1	4	1	0
Miller,rf	4	1	4	0	0	Williams,lf	5	1	2	0	0
Simmons,cf	5	0	4	0	0	McManus,3b	4	1	1	1	0
Perkins,c	5	3	1	2	0	Jacobson,cf	4	0	2	0	0
Galloway,ss	4	2	1	5	0	Hargrave,c	3	1	8	1	0
Walberg,p	4	0	3	1	0	Bush,p	3	0	1	2	0
						Stauffer,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	37	12	27	13	1	Totals	32	6	28	10	2

(x) Miller out, hit by batted ball.

Score by innings:
Philadelphia ..... 2 0 0 0 0 1 0 1 x—8
St. Louis ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 0—3

Two base hits, Perkins, Miller, Poole. Three base hits, Lamar, McManus. Home runs, Poole, Williams.

GIANTS CREEP UP ON PIRATES IN LEAGUE RACE

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—The New York Giants crawled to within four percentage points of the Pittsburgh Pirates today when they defeated the Cincinnati Reds 6 to 5 while Pittsburgh was losing a decision to Philadelphia. Snyder, first up for New York in the ninth, was safe on Caveney's fumble. The next two batters were easy, but Frisch's triple scored Southworth, running up for Snyder, and Meusel drove in Frisch with his fourth hit. The score:

Cincinnati (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	New York (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Zitzmann,lf	4	1	2	0	0	Young,rf	4	2	1	0	0
Pinelli,3b	4	2	2	2	1	Frisch,ss	5	2	1	3	0
Roush,cf	4	1	1	0	0	Meusel,lf	5	4	2	0	1
C.Walker,rf	3	2	1	0	0	Kelly,2b	4	0	5	5	0
Rollw,1b	4	0	10	0	0	Terry,1b	4	2	11	1	0
Critz,2b	4	1	2	3	0	F.Walker,cf	4	2	2	0	0
Caveney,ss	3	1	1	5	1	L'dstrom,3b	4	1	1	4	1
Hargrave,c	3	2	4	1	0	Snyder,c	4	0	3	2	0
Ring,p	2	0	0	4	0	Southw'th	4	0	0	3	0
						Dean,p	3	1	0	0	0
Totals	33	10	26	9	3	xxWilson	1	0	0	0	0
						Totals	39	13	27	18	2

(x) Two out when winning run scored.
(xx) Ran for Snyder in 9th.
(xxx) Batted for Dean in 9th.

Score by innings
Cincinnati ..... 0 0 2 0 0 1 2 0 0—5
New York ..... 0 3 0 0 1 0 0 2 x—6

Three base hits, Dean, Caveney, Frisch. Home runs, Meusel, Hargrave.

CHAPIN ELIMINATED IN FIRST ROUND IN MET.

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., suffered defeat in the first round of the Metropolitan Turf Court Tennis championship today at the hands of Hugh Kelleher, 6-4, 8-6.

A large coterie of experts arrived for the tournament today, including Takeichi Harada, Zenzo Shimizu and Masanosuke Fukuda of the Japanese Davis Cup team, and Vincent Richards, Arnold Jones and Chapin. The Springfield man was the only tennis notable to be eliminated in the day's play.

Harada, Shimizu, Fukuda, Richards, Jones and Lang each won two matches in straight sets. Cedric Major advanced to the fourth round by defeating F. P. Ferguson. J. Selingson, a local junior player, forced Lang into a long deuce set, 10-8.

Junior League Schedule.

Week of July 20, Academy Campus. 6:30 p. m. (D. S. T.):
Wednesday—Warriors vs. Crescents.
Friday—Rovers vs. Tigers.

MURPHY DRIVES THREE WINNERS ON OPENING DAY AT KALAMAZOO

KALAMAZOO, Mch, July 20—(AP)—Tommy Murphy helped open Kalamazoo's eighteenth grand circuit meeting this afternoon by taking three of the four events carded. Murphy drove Crawford, the favorite, to victory in the $2,000 Garret Insurance purse, taking the first and third heats in easy fashion and finishing second in the odd mile.

Murphy's Mag Abbe, favorite in the 2:12 pace, had no trouble in disposing of the rest, except in the final mile when Hal Acme, in a whipping finish, came under the wire ahead of the eastern mare. Dr. Strongworthy, Murphy's entrant in the 2:14 trot, won as he pleased in straight heats.

The $25,000 American derby for 2:08 performers, the feature event of Tuesday's card has drawn an entry of 16 pacers.

The summaries:

2:08 Trot, Garrett Insurance Stake; Three Heats, Purse $2,000, Mile Heats

Crawford, bg, by Elwin (Murphy) 1 2 1
Mike Dillon, bg, by Count Daschoff, (McDevitt) 5 1 2
Ted Top, Frances Grimm, Lee Winder, Tempe Harvester, Jim McGowan also started.
Time 2:08 1-4; 2:07 1-4; 2:07 1-2.

2:09 Pace, Three Heats, Purse $1,000, Mile Heats

Por Orphon Pete, bg., by Peter the Great, (Murphy) 3 1 1
Maxime Direct, bm., by Walter Direct (Stokes) 1 3 6
John S., ch g., by Smith Warbie (Plain) 2 2 2
Kazoff, Lily the Great, Twinkle Belle Peter W., also started.
Time 2:06 1-4; 2:07 1-4; 2:06 3-4.

2:12 Pace, Three Heats, Purse $1,000, 1-8 Mile Heats

Mag Abbe, blk m., by the Abbe (Murphy) 1 1 2
Hal Acme br g., by the Acme, (Thomas) 4 3 1
Doct. B., blk g., by Abdel (Walsh) 2 2 2
Cecil Forbes, Owen Direst also started.
Time 2:22 1-2; 2:22 1-4; 2:26 1-2.

2:14 Trot, Three Heats, Purse $1,000, 1 1-8 Mile Heats

Dr. Strongworthy g rg, by Or-Tolan Axworthy (Murphy) . 1 1 1
Gegantle boy, bg, by Gegantle A., (Garrison) 4 2 3
Miss Volo Scott br m., by Peter Volo, (Loomis) 9 3 2
Top O'the Morning, Gray Watts, Mary Wats, Etawise, Frisco Star, Davenport, General 5., also started.
Time 2:21 1-2; 2:23 3-4; 2:24.

VANCE FANS SEVENTEEN IN OVERTIME GAME

BROOKLYN, July 20.—(AP)—Dazzy Vance fanned 17 batters and Brooklyn defeated the Cardinals 4 to 3 in ten innings. The Dodgers' pitching ace was the deciding factor in the game, holding the Cards to nine hits and getting three hits himself, two singles and a home run with Deberry on base. His single in the tenth scored the winning run.

At the end of the ninth inning Vance was credited with fifteen strikeouts, one less than the Major League record for a nine inning game credited by G. E. "Rube" Waddell of the St. Louis Club, July 29, 1908. Every member of the visiting club, with the exception of "Specs" Torporcer, who wears glasses, fanned at least once. Hornsby, Bottomley, O'Farrell and "Duster" Mails expiring three times by this route.

Toporcer's triple and Bell's single in the ninth enabled the Cards to tie the score after which the Dodgers went out and won the game in the tenth, Deberry doubling and Vance sending across the winning run with his single.

By virtue of his work today Vance increased his strikeouts for the season to 137 and surpassed the own mark for strikeouts in a single game, he fanned 15 Cubs in a nine inning game last season. Score:

St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Brooklyn (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Flack,rf	3	2	1	0	0	Ford,ss	3	0	2	0	0
Skinners,cf	3	0	2	0	0	Stock,2b	4	1	2	1	0
Hornsby,2b	5	1	1	2	0	Wheat,lf	4	1	0	0	0
Bottomley,1b	5	1	14	0	0	Fournier,1b	4	1	7	0	0
Hafey,rf	4	0	3	0	0	Cox,rf	4	0	1	0	0
Toporcer,ss	3	1	2	3	0	Brown,cf	4	1	0	0	0
Bell,3b	5	2	2	4	0	Tierney,3b	4	0	0	3	0
O'Farrell,c	5	1	5	1	0	DeBerry,c	4	1	8	2	0
Mails,p	3	0	0	2	0	xMitchell	1	0	0	0	0
						Vance,p	4	0	0	2	0
Totals	34	9	27	13	1	Totals	35	5	28	8	0

(x) None out when winning run was scored.
(z) Ran for DeBerry in 10th.

Score by innings
St. Louis ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3—4
Brooklyn ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 2—3

Two base hits, Stock, Fournier, DeBerry. Three base hit, Toporcer. Home run, Vance.

WHITE SOX AND RED SOX SHARE IN DOUBLE BILL

CHICAGO, July 20.—(AP)—Chicago and Boston divided a double header today, the locals taking the first game 3 to 1, and the visitors the second, 10 to 7. The White Sox bunched hits to win the first game while the visitors did the same in the second game, driving Cvengros off the mound in the second inning and hitting Robertson hard in the fifth and sixth innings. Chicago had numerous opportunities to score in the second game but lost their chances by being nipped off the bases and failing to hit with men on. Score:

(First Game.)

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Fitzstead,cf	5	0	3	0	0	Mostil,rf	4	2	4	0	0
Rgell,2b	4	3	0	2	0	Davis,ss	3	0	2	2	0
Boone,rf	4	0	1	0	0	Collins,2b	4	1	1	1	0
Carlyle,lf	4	1	2	1	0	Sheely,1b	4	1	10	0	1
Tedy,1b	3	2	7	0	0	Falk,lf	3	2	4	0	1
Wamby,2b	3	0	2	1	0	Hooper,rf	3	0	1	0	0
Lee,ss	4	1	2	1	0	Kamm,2b	2	1	1	3	0
Stokes,c	3	0	4	3	0	Schalk,c	2	0	3	1	0
Ehmke,p	3	0	0	5	0	Lyons,p	2	0	0	4	0
xProthro	1	0	0	0	0
xxYache	1	0	0	0	0	Totals	27	8	27	12	2
Totals	33	8	24	11	0

(x) Batted for Stokes in 8th.
(xx) Batted for Ehmke in 9th.

Score by innings:
Boston ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1
Chicago ..... 2 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 x—3

Two base hits, Bheely, Falk, Kamm.

(Second Game.)

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Fitzstead,cf	4	1	3	0	1	Mostil,cf	4	3	5	0	0
Rgell,2b	5	2	1	1	1	Davis,ss	4	0	1	7	0
Boone,rf	5	2	2	0	0	Collins,2b	4	2	3	2	0
Vache,lf	5	2	5	0	0	Sheely,1b	5	1	10	0	0
Todt,1b	5	3	7	2	0	Falk,lf	5	4	4	0	0
Wamby,3b	4	1	3	1	1	Hooper,rf	4	1	0	0	0
Lee,ss	3	0	2	7	1	Kamm,3b	3	0	0	1	0
Bishoff,c	4	2	0	3	0	Crouse,c	5	2	5	3	0
Wingfield,p	4	3	1	3	0	Congros,p	0	0	0	0	0
Zahniser,p	0	0	0	0	0	R'bertson,p	3	2	0	0	0
						Connally,p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	15	27	13	4	xHarris	1	1	0	0	0
						Totals	41	17	21	13	0

(x) Batted for Connally in 9th.

Score by innings
Boston ..... 0 4 0 0 2 0 0 0 1—10
Chicago ..... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—2

Two base hits, Wingfield, Hooper, Boone, Harris. Three base hits, Wingfield, Wamby. Home run, Todt.

Crawford Notch Tourney

CRAWFORD NOTCH, N. H., July 20—(A. P.)—The twentieth annual tournament of the Crawford Notch Lawn Tennis club began here today.

Among the seeded players, Fred H. Harris of Brattleboro, Vt., champion of his state, defeated C.

NEST OF HOBOES CLEANED OUT BY THE POLICE OF NEW LONDON

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 20.—The police cleaned out a gang of hoboes in a lot on Hamilton street, Fort Neck, and ran in half a dozen of them. They were charged with vagrancy and with intoxication, and all the gang was sent to jail or to the workhouse, the sentences in the latter cases being for 30 days. The fines for intoxication were $10 in each case.

In the lot was James Davis, a man with a long court record. He is suffering from tuberculosis and was released from jail last week. He was today sent to the Norwich state hospital for a term of six months. Davis endeavored to show that he was a worker, but as he has three times been convicted of intoxication in the court he was sent up as an inebriate. The others jailed are Tom Fraley, Joseph McCormick, Thomas Wilson, Edward Smith and Daniel McCarthy. They were drinking and sleeping in the open air without a place they could call shelter. One of them admitted that the liquor they were drinking was of the 25 cents a pint stuff. All claimed to be on the way to Fishers Island where there has been considerable work for laborers, but it is doubtful whether the gang meant to get to the island. They were in all degrees of filthy appearance, showing that they gave little or no attention to personal condition. Not one of the gang would admit that he was a vagrant, but all confessed in their pleas that they were drinking.

Herman Beckwith and Timothy Moriarty were fined for intoxication. Both paid, for they had a friend who had the money necessary.

Louis Richmond was charged with having made an indecent assault upon a lad eight years of age, Freddie Nahas. Richmond was sentenced to six months in jail and then the execution of the sentence was suspended and Richmond was turned over to the probation officer. This fellow has been before mixed up in such cases, so it is apparent that he is headed for a reformatory institution unless he shifts his course. He is not regarded as of ordinary intelligence.

Thomas Rogers was fined $5 for failing to obey the signals of a traffic officer, thus endangering the life and limb of persons using the highways.

Tom Economon was fined $3 for operating a car without being in possession of a license.

Joe Verdi was charged with a breach of peace in assaulting his wife. The attorney for the state represented that there was another man mixed up in the affair, so, to permit an investigation of this phase of the trouble, the case was continued until the 22nd.

John Habarek was on a drunk Sunday and attacked a couple of Montville workers who are roomers at the home of Habarek's father. The men he attacked are Leon and Walter Kewshucski. Habarek was fined $10 and went to jail. He denied that he was intoxicated but the testimony of the men attacked and the policeman who made the arrest was that Haberek and the women in the house were all intoxicated.

Miss Agnes B. Leahy, of 33 Otis street, Norwich; Mrs. Michael J. Sullivan, 34 Alger place; Frederick Shontell, 8 Schoolhouse lane; Ernest Eldridge, East Lyme; Mrs. Edward W. Clark and infant daughter, Oswegatchie; William Henry Heppel, Camp Terrahogan, Mystic; Albert Dewire, 31 Georgianna street; Miss Jennie Kilbourne, 146 Ashcraft road; Arthur Perry, Saybrook; Angelo Mandracchia and Clarence Barnard, United States Coast Guard, patients at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, were discharged Sunday and today.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Stoeckel today caused the operators' licenses of John Sullivan, 100 Blinman street, and Philip Garrison, submarine base, to be suspended. The men were prosecuted recently for violations of the automobile laws.

Alice Sinica, 13-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sinica, 93 Potter street, died suddenly late yesterday and without having been attended by a physician. Medical Examiner Charles Kaufman was notified and although that official has not determined the cause of the child's death, it is believed that the malady was tuberculosis, for she had been treated for lung affection a number of weeks ago.

Earl Holland, of New Britain, appeared at the New London police station this afternoon, at the request of the proprietor of a garage in Peacedale, R. I., who is seeking to recover a Ford automobile that a stranger hired Saturday and has not returned. Holland stated that the car was hired with the understanding that it would be returned Sunday, but the driver or the machine did not put in an appearance. However, Sunday afternoon, the garage proprietor received a telephone message and it was from the man who hired the car. The man stated that he was telephoning from a pay booth at the New London railroad station and that the car had become disabled and had been abandoned in a lot somewhere between New London and New Haven.

Mrs. Michael Dorsey and infant son, 322 Montauk avenue; Louis Hall, Mystic; Miss Florence Prendergrast, 60 Montauk avenue; Miss Jean Shor, 22 Easterly place, and Mrs. Mary Pestovolt, 30 Woodbridge street, patients at Home Memorial hospital, were discharged today.

Frederick W. Lyon, of Milford, was a week-end guest at the Hotel Mohican.

Alois F. Grancher, administrator of the estate of Matilda Grancher, has sold a two-family dwelling house on Jay street to Joseph M. and Mary E. Sullivan.

Mrs. C. E. Morgan, 2 Union street, is a patient at a local private hospital, where she is recovering from a serious operation performed last week.

The funeral of Engelbert J. Sauter was held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at Brainard Masonic temple and was attended by a large assemblage. The services were conducted by officers of the lodge and members of the order acted as bearers. Burial was in Cedar Grove cemetery.

Patrolman Edward Daniels is confined to his home on Howard street, suffering from a sprained ankle, the officer having received the injury at his home, following going off duty.

A fight occurred on Blackhall street, near Connecticut avenue, early this morning, and the talk of the brawlers aroused the neighborhood in that section. So great and vulgar was the volume of talk by the fighters that the police were summoned, but before officers arrived there the fighters had dispersed.

S. D. Snedeker, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Zanesville, Ohio, communicated with the New London police today in an endeavor to ascertain the whereabouts of William Beckhart, who claims to be a resident of this city, and who defrauded Snedeker and another resident of Zanesville of a sum of money. According to Snedeker, Beckhart appeared at the Zanesville Y. M. C. A. recently and was in need of funds. He was advanced money for meal tickets by Snedeker until such time as Beckhart received compensation for employment which was provided him through the Y. M. C. A. Instead of paying for the meal tickets, Beckhart, it is alleged, obtained a suit of clothes through promise to pay for them when he received his week's wages. Instead of paying for them, he left the city and is believed to have started for New London. Beckhart is not known in New London, nor does his name appear in the city directory.

Monroe Wallwork, 351 Williams street, complained to the police this afternoon because of the alleged reckless driving on Williams street of an automobile owned by John F. Savage 32 Bellevue place, employed as train dispatcher by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad in this city. Wallwork declared that the machine was driven at an excessive rate of speed, endangered the life and limb of pedestrians and he requested the arrest of the operator.

Christian Salseider, a detective of the New York police department, arrived in New London this afternoon by automobile and was accompanied by his wife. When Salseider operated his car from State street to start for Providence, he passed through Main street to Crystal avenue, to Winthrop street to the approach of the Thames River highway bridge. When Salseider arrived in Groton he discovered that his coat had fallen from the machine and in the garment was a card case, which contained his shield and his wife's purse. Salseider returned to New London and reported his loss at the police station. On returning to the highway bridge he recovered his property, which had been found by a passing automobilist and delivered to an attendant employed on the bridge.

In the Groton town court this morning, the charge of reckless driving against Lee Daniels, of Groton was dismissed, the charge not having been substantiated by evidence. Daniels was arrested two weeks ago, following the machine he was operating being in collision with a car operated by Louis Fisher, chauffeur at Eastern Point.

John Rose, New London truck driver, was given a hearing on a charge of violation of the automobile laws, in overloading his truck. He entered a demurrer, which was overruled and Judge Cornelius C. Costello imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

The case of Leo M. Garrison, of Boston, charged with reckless driving, was continued a week and a bond of $100 was furnished by Garrison for his appearance. The continuance was ordered because Nellie Cafaro, of Poquonoc road, who was struck by Garrison's automobile, is still under treatment at Lawrence hospital. The child was burned about the face and neck by steam and hot water, which issued from a radiator of a car that Garrison's automobile struck almost simultaneously with Garrison's car hitting the child. At the hospital it was stated that the patient remains in a dangerous condition.

Lieut. William O'Reagan, U. S. N., of Boston, arrested a week ago on a charge of speeding, pleaded guilty of the charge and was fined $10 and costs.

The mahogany block and gavel used by the late Senator Frank B. Brandegee as speaker of the house of representatives and general assembly in 1899 was today presented the Waterford town court by Anthony Dixon, superintendent of the Bathgate mill, Jordan. The gavel and block were purchased recently at auction by Mr. Dixon. Both the gavel and block are of carved mahogany and the block bears a carving of the state seal together with a silver plate bearing the inscription, "Presented to Speaker Frank B. Brandegee by Connecticut House of Representatives, 1899."

BATH-HOUSE BARKERS SCORED BY MAYOR CLARK

(Special to the Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 20—The city council this evening determined on two things, viz against the undressing and redressing of bathers in automobiles at Ocean Beach and the soliciting of patronage for private bathhouses there. It was announced by Mayor Clark this evening that last Sunday persons having bathhouses to lease were soliciting patronage on the board walk, on the representation that the public bathhouses were all rented and that double price must be paid if farther accommodations were to be provided. The council amended the ordinance governing the matter, so that no more soliciting will be allowed.

Rules for the government of Riverside park automobile camp were adopted giving control of the camp to the superintendent and making a charge of 50 cents a day to all automobiles parking there.

A rebate of taxes to a man named Joseph, on property at 204 Connecticut avenue, was made for exemption for service in the army as provided by statute.

The city forbade the farther connection of property in the Ridgewood park with the city's sewer and water service.

Members of the council accepted an invitation to a feast at Sea Breeze restaurant at Ocean Beach Thursday, July 23rd.

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN NORWICH

During the past week there were seven building permits granted at the office of Fire Marshal Howard L. Stanton. These permits were for smaller jobs, such as garages, verandas and small additions to present buildings. The total valuation of the work as described in the permits is less than $1,000.

Good progress was made on local buildings and several of the houses now under construction were brought almost to the completing stage. At East Great Plain the garage for Lloyd Jones is practically completed with the exception of some interior work. The garage is 40 x 60 feet with a red stucco front. Two gasoline pumps have been installed under a port cachere.

The new house for Thomas Washburn which he is building himself at East Great Plain has been boarded in and the floors have been laid. The house contains seven rooms and bath.

At Montville (Hilltop) the new bungalow which Fred St. Germain is building for himself is fast nearing completion. The work of plastering is being done and the work of grading will be started within the next few weeks. The bungalow has seven rooms and bath.

Several new houses are being erected on the Gardner Lake road in Lebanon and are almost ready for occupancy. There has been a noticeable increase in the building in this section of the town during the last few months and several stores and filling stations are being erected in anticipation of the travel over the new Norwich-Hadlyme road.

The building permits issued are as follows:

To Peter Lusignan, of Uncasville, to erect a frame shed at 15 Dunham street for himself. The shed will be 13 x 18 feet.

To Charles H. Campbell to build a frame porch on the present house at 15 McKinley avenue. The porch will be 5 x 7 feet.

To William C. Young to build in a dormer window on the house owned by John J. Foley, at 20 Fountain street. The window will be of frame construction.

To Lewis R. Peckham to erect a frame greenhouse on Corning road for himself. The building will have a stone foundation with concrete or brick underpinning. The superstructure will be of frame with glass roof and steel frame. The building will be 24 x 98 feet.

To B. and J. Szypulewski to build a frame garage, 16 x 10 feet, on Bill avenue.

To Robert D. Adams to erect a frame garage at 12 Hedge avenue for himself. The garage will be 12 x 18 feet with cement foundation.

To David Bokoff to erect a frame garage 8 x 15 feet on Colt street.

REAL ESTATE SALES AND MORTGAGE LOANS

During the past week there were 6 sales of real estate in Norwich as compared to 15 sales for the same week in 1924. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $38,633 and $19,150.

In New London there were 15 sales of real estate, an increase of 8 sales over the corresponding week a year ago. The mortgage loans for the respective weeks were $74,550 and $14,275.

State Building Permits

Permits to the number of 284 for new buildings to cost $839,808 were issued this week in the cities of the state reported in the Commercial Record. Last year in the like week 269 permits were issued for construction work to cost $622,954.

New London

The building committee of Brainard Lodge, No. 102, A. F. & A. M., of which George E. Watters, 536 Montauk avenue, is chairman, has been authorized to secure plans for the proposed building changes for the new Masonic Temple on Huntington street. A description of the desired alterations and addition was published in a previous issue. The final date for receiving the plans has been tentatively set for September 1.

The contract has been awarded to The Arthur Jackson Co., 108 State street, for a 500,000-gallon concrete reservoir on Fisher's Island for P. H. Norcross. The work is under the direction of the Fisher's Island Corp.

Work is to be started at once on the garage on North Bank street for the Savings Bank of New London.

H. B. Prentice, 141 Mohegan avenue has the contract for a garage in Waterford for John Mosbroker. The building will be 60x28 feet, of brick and steel construction, one story high. A heating system and other improvements will be provided.

Applications for Building Permits

Lawrence Conti, garage, 833 Bank street, $500.

Ideal Coat and Apron Supply Co. shed roof, 56 Truman street, $300.

Walenty Tomaszen, verandas, 405 Main street, $300.

Chelsea F. Lyons, shed, Harris Court, $300.

G. J. Fox, garage addition, Pierce street, $300.

A. C. Cary, garage, Freemont street, $300.

A. P. Geer, garage additions, 30 and 38 Twelfth street, $200.

Louis and Harry Markow, store alterations, Green and Golden streets $2,000.

Number of permits issued for the week, 9; estimated cost of buildings, $3,750.

Groton

The general contract was awarded to McWalters & Aitchinson, 19 Brooks street, for the addition to Eighth District school in Groton, the successful bid being $29,425. The contract for the plumbing was awarded to Harry J. Kennedy, 21 Howard street for $2,250, and the heating to the Hopson Chapin Co., 231 State street, for $2,250. The plans were prepared by Architect A. Graham Creighton, and, as reported before in these columns, call for a second-story addition, containing four classrooms and an auditorium. Isaac Bromley, of Groton, is chairman of the building committee.

Storrs

The architect has completed plans for the church and community house to be erected at Storrs college, and bids will be taken at once. The building will be of Connecticut hardburned red brick, with white stone trimmings and slate roof. It will contain a large social hall, pastor's office and study, and an auditorium seating 300 persons on the first floor, and a ladies parlor on the second floor.

Willimantic

Contractors are submitting estimates for the proposed hotel building on Main street, which is to cost $400,000. The plans are by the Post Co., 101 Park avenue, New York, and W. P. Jordan is the president of the board of directors of the hotel company.

TO AVOID ON-COMING ENGINE FREIGHT CONDUCTOR JUMPS

(Special to the Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 20—James Kelley, of Boston, employed as freight conductor by the New Haven railroad, sustained a painful injury early this evening when he leaped from the caboose of his train when a light locomotive was about to crash into the caboose. Kelley sustained severe bruises. The caboose was considerably damaged. Kelley was in charge of west-bound freight train, BN-1. The train was approaching the New London station about 6 o'clock when signals set against it were set because of a passenger train being at the station.

A light engine, which was being backed from Groton to New London in charge of Engineer Jeremiah Connors and which was to haul the train scheduled to leave this city for Norwich at 6:15 o'clock, followed the train across the Thames River bridge. When the freight train came to a stop, Kelley went to the rear platform of the caboose and observed the light engine approaching at a fair rate of speed. When the locomotive continued to approach and realizing that a crash would follow, Kelley leaped from the caboose and landed down a rough embankment. He was brought to the union station where he was attended by a physician.

JEWETT CITY

L. D. Howe, besides being a local authority on antiques and souvenirs of ancient times, keeps in touch with current happenings. It was Mr. Howe's pleasure Saturday to attend the church picnic at Mohegan park. While there, he says he secured sufficient evidence, which if it could be admitted in the famous evolution case, now being tried in Tennessee, would swing the twelve good men and true, to a speedy verdict either one way or the other. Mr. Howe included in the pleasures of the day, a visit to the monkey cage. The reports are to the effect that a not too crude chimpanzee love affair was in process. A pair of little monkey lovers were sitting up all close and comfy, over alone in a corner of the big enclosure. On two or three occasions the young jungle swain seemed to whisper soft things into his little sweetheart's ear. There appeared to be no response to his tender words, so again, and even the third time, he attempted to communicate some unknown little message, and still came no answering glance or sign. Then, a heroic method of monkey tactics was adopted, for the young wooer from Borneo, applied his little slender black fingers to his lover's ear. Not harshly, yet his effort was determined to make sure that no obstruction should remain. Then, seemingly softer than before, and closer still he seemed to whisper. The effect was magical, a thin, hairy arm stole around his neck, and Mr. Howe was left in no doubt that the auricular operation had been successful.

The Baptist Sunday school picnic was held at Pachaug Grange fair grounds, Saturday afternoon, about one hundred attending. The committees in charge were: Transportation, E. M. Gray, George Frink and Nelbert Mycott; time and place, J. B. Palmer, Willis Morgan and Mr. Gray; sports, Mrs. G. H. Prior's and Daniel L. Phillips' classes; refreshments, Miss Alice A. Brown's and the Eccleston classes; lemonade, C. F. Gardner. Sandwiches, cake, ice cream and lemonade proved a popular part of the program. The results of the sport contests were: Peanut hunt, Ruth Cathcart; penny hunt, Arthur Gray; football race, (boys') Arthur Gray, (girls') Bessie Price; retracing race, (boys') Arthur Gray, (girls') Ruth Cathcart; cracker race, Ruth Cathcart; 25-yard dashes (boys') Arthur Gray, (smaller boys') Robert Scates, (very small boys') Earle Gilbert, Jr., (girls') Ruth Dawley; Siamese race, 1st prize, William Brewster, Arthur Gray; 2nd prize, Ruth Cathcart, Catherine Jodoin.

Wilfred Duff left Sunday for a short vacation at Fishers Island. While he is there he will visit Fort Wright and other interesting places.

Miss Mabel McBroome spent the week-end with relatives in New York.

Miss Clara Richardson goes to Northfield Thursday. Miss Beatrice Read is there for some time.

Dr. G. H. Jennings has set up a record that few will equal, and none exceed. He is beginning his fifty-first year of the practice of medicine in Jewett City.

No simple word of tongue or pen would be adequate to tell the story of the many kindly deeds, not found in the pharmaceutical lists, that his half century of faithful service has included.

Not only has the span of hundreds of lives been lengthened, but hard places have been made smooth. In snow or rain, heat or cold, the doctor keeps his appointed round, with no appeal ever failing upon a deaf ear. His friends are unanimous in a sincere hope for the doctor's welfare.

Elm beetles have played havoc with a large number of Griswold's beautiful trees. In many streets, and on the lawns, the dried leaves and litter tell of their devastating attacks.

Within the space of three days last week, as many persons met their death in the Bishop's crossing section, six people were more or less injured and three machines put out of business. Try as they may, it seems an impossibility to keep people from disputing the right of way with the engine at this busy and open crossing. Generally the view is clear for hundreds of yards both ways. At the time of last Friday's fatal wreck, some one must explain about the conditions that existed. The owner of the intersected farm at this point may find it necessary to establish signs, —"Throw Wrecked Automobiles Here," and "Bring Injured This Way," or "No Convalescents Allowed on This Side."

Postmaster William T. Crumb is taking a part of his annual leave. Former assistant postmaster E. M. Gray is on duty for him. Mr. and Mrs. William Larcher of Springfield, Mass., are the postmaster's guests, they are Mrs. Crumb's parents.

STOLE CLOTH FROM ASPINOOK, JOHN KLOVEK ARRESTED

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, July 20—Deputy Sheriff John Dolan arrested John Klovek Monday for stealing cloth from Aspinook Bleachery. He found cloth in his dinner pail and pocket and on searching his home found 300 yards of the finest print goods. He was locked up in the local jail and will appear in court Tuesday morning. He has lived here eight months, his home being on the farm at the foot of Hawkins hill.

MILITARY BURIAL PROBABLE FOR ALFRED GAVELIN

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, July 20—Alfred Gravelin, 32, died at Backus hospitln, Norwich, Monday morning. He was a native of Voluntown, where he leaves his wife and child.

Several months ago, he was severely injured in one of the mills of Voluntown. Mr. Gravelin was a veteran of the World war. After leaving Camp Devans he was transferred to a Southern camp, where he was a motor vehicle operator, serving 18 months.

Two sisters who survive him are Miss Annie Gravelin of Voluntown and Mrs. Irene Osga of Pachaug. He also leaves two brothers, Joseph and Peter, and his parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gravelin.

Legion Commander P. W. Cause, of Orville LaFlamme post, was in communication with the family late Monday evening, with regard to a military burial.

Saturday afternoon was ideal for a picnic, as far as weather was concerned. Nearly one hundred members of the Methodist Sunday school went to Mohegan Park, Norwich, prepared to have a splendid time.

The swings and the other sources of amusements, including the inhabitants of the park, amused the children and older people, while those nautically inclined enjoyed bathing and boating.

In several instances there was but little difference in the sport contestants, so evenly matched were they.

The fifty-yard dash for primary girls was won by Ida Arnold. The Junior Girls' race of the same distance was won by Neva Mancini. The sack race for the Junior boys was won by Oliver Carter. In the special sack race, between Norton Gardiner and Howard Arnold, the result was a tie. The girls' three-legged race was won by Misses Arlene and Christine Burdick. The members of the A. A. Gardiner class contested for honors in a potato race. The winner of the first group was Mrs. Irvin M. Thornton, while in the second group Mrs. J. F. Gardiner captured the coveted honor. The two winners were started again and thine final event was taken by Mrs. Thornton. The men of the Sunday school settled the discussion as to the superiority of the older men over the younger by having a real old fashioned tug-of-war.

The older men who tugged were George H. Thornton, Earle Howe, L. D. Howe, A. C. Burdick, M. H. Bartlett, and Wm. McDowell. The younger men on the other end of the rope were Harold Jeffers, Wm. Mansfield, Thomas Gray, Amadee Ndeau, Harold Mell and Frank Mell. The older men won in the two pulls.

The men of the Third Baptist church in Greeneville, who were also having their picnic at the park, challenged the winners, to meet them in a tug, with the result that the Greeneville men won. They were very modest however, and would not give their names for publication.

After the athletic events sandwiches, cake, lemonade and ice cream were disposed of with the usual picnic appetite. Transportation was furnished by the owners of automobiles and a truck.

The committees in charge were: Transportation, L. D. Howe, A. C. Burdick; sports, Misses Edith Howe, Arlene Burdick, David Carter, Irving Thornton; ice cream, Frank A. Mell, Harold Mell; refreshments, A. A. Gardiner Class; lemonade, Mrs. J. W. Carter's class.

The starter of the athletic events was Wm. J. Robertson Jr. the timekeeper was R. W. Robertson.

Workmen's Compensation Agreements

The following workmen's compensation agreements have been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue:

Mystic Oral School, employer, and Palmer G. Whipple, employe, struck arm by beam 21 feet long and injured arm, shoulder and nerves of shoulder and neck, Dec. 23, at rate of $8.41.

B. B. Gardiner Storage Co., New London, employer, and William Cobb, employe, body bruises and left leg bruised, June 2, at rate of $9.

J. A. Fitzgerald, Norwich, employer, and James Crohin, 118 Mt. Pleasant street, employe, sprained left ankle, June 19, at rate of $7.50.

Elected on Board of Governors

At the first meeting of the Giant's Waterford, Henry D. Buckley, of 15 Hamilton street, was elected to the Neck improvement association, of board of governorship.

Off The Beaten Path

The real charm of touring lies in leaving the main-travelled highways and exploring the thousands of alluring side-paths. These dirt roads and trails lead to spots of rare beauty unvisited by the throng—where better camp-sites may be found—finer fishing and lovelier scenery.

In a Ford car, you can enjoy the thrill of exploration and discovery. It is the one satisfactory means of travel for these narrow roads—light—yet so powerful that it will bring you through—easy to handle—sturdy and economical.

It will carry the whole family and the saving in cost often pays for the entire vacation.

Ford

Runabout - - $260 Tudor Sedan - $580
Coupe - - - 520 Fordor Sedan - 660

On open cars demountable rims and starter are $85 extra. Full-size balloon tires $25 extra. All prices f. o. b. Detroit.

Touring Car $290 F. O. B Detroit

SEE ANY AUTHORIZED FORD DEALER OR MAIL THIS COUPON

Please tell me how I can secure a Ford car on easy payments:

Name _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____

Mail this coupon to

Ford Motor Company Detroit

N-11

Economical Because Dependable

The last spoonful in the can is as good as the first—never fails to produce first quality food—

RUMFORD THE WHOLESOME BAKING POWDER

1,000 YARDS

OF GENUINE STRAIGHT LINE INLAID LINOLEUM, REGULAR $1.65 GRADE, TO BE SOLD AT THE EXTREMELY LOW PRICE OF

$1.20 per sq. yd.

A SPECIAL PURCHASE, DIRECT FROM THE MILL, ENABLES US TO OFFER THESE BEAUTIFUL PATTERNS FOR CHAMBER AND KITCHEN AT A GREAT SAVING TO OUR CUSTOMERS. IF YOU NEED LINOLEUM, THIS SALE PRESENTS AN OUTSTANDING OPPORTUNITY.

N. S. Gilbert & Sons

Shetucket Street. Opp. Laurel Hill Bridge.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

COLBERT—In Westerly, R. I., July 15, 1925, a son, Donald, to William and Emma Bryant Colbert.

DIED

RATHBONE—In Preston, July 20, 1925, John Rathbone, aged 78 years. Notice of funeral hereafter.

ZANGRANDI—In Westerly, R. I., July 20, 1925, Louise W., widow of Fortunato Zangrandi, aged 77 years.

SINICA—In New London, July 19, 1925, Alice Sinica, daughter of Benjamin and Annie Sinica, aged 13 months.

MARRIED

GRADY-UNCLES—In South Coventry, July 20, 1925, by Rev. Dennis F. Moran, Francis Harlow Grady, of Hartford, and Miss Elizabeth Florence Uncles, of South Coventry.

HARTEAU-BERNIER—In Willimantic, July 20, 1925, by Rev. Edward A. Mathieu, Arthur Harteau and Miss Alberta Bernier.

FUNERALS

GRAVELIN—In Norwich, July 19, 1925, Alfred Charles Gravelin, aged 29 years. Funeral in Methodist church in Voluntown, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock (D. S. T.). Burial in Robbins cemetery.

PETERSON—In Norwich, Conn., July 19, 1925, Andrew F. Peterson, of Hartford. Burial in South Woodstock, Tuesday, July 21. Hartford papers please copy.

BUSHNELL—In Hartford, July 19, 1925, Walter H. Bushnell, formerly of Norwich, aged 35 years. Funeral service at Marchant Funeral Parlors, 203 Ann street, Hartford, Wednesday, July 22, 1925, 2 p. m., (d. s. t.). Burial in Maplewood cemetery about 4 o'clock.

HERRICK—In Canterbury, Ct., July 19, 1925, Charles W. Herrick, aged 76 years. Funeral services will be held at his late home, Canterbury Green, Tuesday, July 21, at 2:30 p. m. (S. T.). Burial at Canterbury Plain cemetery. Relatives and friends invited to attend.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-2

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
88 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 410-2
DAVID H. WILSON

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 238-2 Lady Assistant

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

DANIELSON

LOUIS E. KENNEDY
DANIELSON
Undertaker and Embalmer
Special Attention to Every Detail.

CENTRAL VILLAGE

F. W. Tillinghast & Sons
UNDERTAKERS AND EMBALMERS
CENTRAL VILLAGE, CONN.
Tel Moosup 282-2

WILLIMANTIC

Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding JAY M. SHEPARD
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-Two North Street
Willimantic, Conn.

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
85 Union Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 290 Lady Assistant

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—1920 Ford touring, many extras, best condition; 1923 Ford closed delivery. West Side Garage, 194 West Main St., Red Front. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—1923 Maxwell touring car, 10 Gear Axle. jy21d

FOR SALE—1924 Ford coupe; excellent condition; equipped. Bulletin Box F-94. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—One late model Ford suburban, $295. Shannon's Auto Sales, Tel. 540, Stonington, Conn. jy21d

FOR SALE—Touring car in first class running order; all tires new, motor just overhauled; will sell cheap for cash. Call 2144 or apply at 239 Laurel Hill Ave. jy21d

FOR SALE—Ford coupe, first class condition. Price right. Address Box 227, Norwich. jy20d

FOR SALE—1924 Hupp sedan, 1924 Hupp touring, 1923 Hupp 2-pass. coupe, 1922 Hupp touring, 1923 Maxwell touring. C. V. Pendleton, 113 Franklin St. jul16d

FOR SALE—1923 touring car, 1st class condition; will sell cheap. Norwich Auto Radiator Works, 58 Shetucket St. jul14dtf

FOR SALE—1923 Dodge panel delivery, good condition. 189 West Main St. jul13dtf

NEW AND USED Harley-Davidson motorcycles. Easy terms. Prices reasonable. J. P. Donovan, 25 W. Main St. apr10d

FOR SALE—Indian and Ace motorcycles, 1925 models, now on display; 74 cu. in. $350; Scout $290; Prince $225, delivered. 625 North Main St feb4d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

LOUIS D. WARD pays big prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 839, Norwich. Phone 861-12, Norwich; 806, Willimantic. TuThSmay16

STORAGE space to rent for household goods, automobile, etc. N. S. Gilbert & Sons, Shetucket St.

WANTED—Work by the hour or day, immediately. Mrs. Kelly, 100 N. Main St. jy20d

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION—Copeland Products, Inc., Detroit, Michigan, are now ready to issue franchises for the distribution of their Electric Household Refrigerating Systems to reliable dealers in towns in Connecticut. The demand for electrical refrigeration is large and the profits are exceedingly attractive. If interested in obtaining a franchise in your locality for the sale of Copeland Refrigerating Systems, write, giving complete details of present lines handled, length of time in business and whether you expect to sell as a side line or to devote your entire time to electrical refrigeration, C. A. Dodge, 152 Church St., Hartford, Connecticut. jy20d

WANTED—Property owners to know that under my new real estate system I will buy your property direct or will sell for you on a commission basis. For particulars write Wm. M. McNicol, Maynard Bldg. Jewett City. june2d.

WANTED—Tireshrinker; one capable of shrinking 4 and 5 inch tires. Charles H. Parkhurst, Canterbury, Conn. jy18d

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture. Best prices paid. A. Druckner, 193 Franklin St. Phone 715-5. nov27d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second hand furniture. H. B. Tiger, 48-50 Water St. Tel. 2142. nov27d

WANTED—Cash paid for old furniture. S. H. Ward, 16 Water St. Tel. 34. TuThSfapr9

WANTED — Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Welsinger, 32 Market St. Phone 2152. nov27d

WANTED—To buy poultry and calves; highest prices paid. Call 1405. nov27d

FREE HOMES

wanted for 9 year old Catholic girl and 12 year old Catholic boy. Children are not related. Apply to

STATE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE
171 Capitol Ave., Hartford, Conn.

WANTED—Male

WANTED — Kitchen man, $15 a week, board and room. Apply Lawton Inn, Plainfield. jy20d

WANTED—Man 28-35 years of age for outside work, selling and collecting. Must not be afraid of work and to serve employer who assures promotion and good pay to deserving men. Selling experience not necessary as we train you. We pay salary and commission. Must become bonded. Address Box H. M. L. care of Bulletin. jul14dtf

WANTED—Carpenter work of all kinds. Estimates cheerfully given for large or small jobs. M. Krugman, 97 Mechanic St. Tel. 2660R. je19d

WANTED, YOUNG MAN—For Norwich, Jewett City, Danielson and Putnam, seeking worth-while connection with established electrical company who has small amount of capital to invest and desires opportunity for highly remunerative position; return of investment with 6 per cent. interest within one year along with income guaranteed by bond. Credit extended to five thousand dollars. Address Box N. C., Bulletin. jy18d

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Young lady to candle eggs. Apply 15 Commerce St. jy21d

WANTED—A woman dish washer. Apply Broadview House, Crescent Beach, Ct. Phone Niantic 113. jy21d

WANTED—A woman cook at once. One who understands pastry for small country boarding house. Apply Broadview House, Crescent Beach, Ct. Phone Niantic 113. jy21d

WANTED—At once, a good and efficient cook; good wages; no laundry. Apply to Matron, 99 Washington St., hours 3-8 p. m. jy21TuThSttf

WANTED—Housekeeper. References required. Address P. O. Box 45, South Windham. jul3dtf

WANTED—Good cook for small inn. Tel. 35-4 Willimantic. je29tf

BOOKKEEPER
Experienced — for Retail Dry Goods Store. Apply, mail or personally, THE S. A. GOLDSMITH CO., (The Bee Hive) New London, Conn.

LEGAL NOTICES

THE ANTI-GRAFT ASSOCIATION, U. S. A. Membership: One dollar per year. Purpose: To protest against Congress voting the last dollar of the 70c per day farmers and others, for foreign diplomacy and home talent bunco-steerers operating, almost continuously, at Washington, D. C. This Association is proposed to save the American people billions of dollars! Do your bit and this ad will appear in all U. S. newspapers possible! Wm. Dee, Secretary, R. D. 2, Willimantic, Conn. jul18d

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HOLDEN at Colchester, within and for the District of Colchester, on the 20th day of July, A. D. 1925.
Present—JOHN CONDREN, Esq., Judge.
On motion of Samuel H. Kellogg of Colchester, Conn., Executor, on the testate estate of Katie A. Talcott, late of Colchester, within said district, deceased.
This Court doth decree that six months from date be allowed and limited for the creditors of said estate to exhibit their claims against the same to the Executor and directs that public notice be given of this order by advertising in a newspaper having a circulation in said district, and by posting a copy thereof on the public sign post in said town of Colchester, nearest the place where the deceased last dwelt.
Certified from Record.
JOHN CONDREN,
jy21d Judge.

DISTRICT OF COLCHESTER, ss. Court of Probate, July 20, 1925.
Estate of Albert Morgan, late of Colchester, in said District, deceased.
Upon the application of Samuel N. Morgan, praying that letters of Administration may be granted on said estate represented intestate as per application on file more fully appears, it is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Office in Colchester in said District, on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1925, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and that notice be given of the pendency of said application and of the time and place of hearing thereon, by publishing the same once in some newspaper having a circulation in said District.
JOHN CONDREN,
jy21d Judge.

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—3 good work horses, at your own price. Frank L. Lathrop, Yantic. Phone 398-14. jy21d

FOR SALE—Nice black mare, saddle and family horse; good, kind and gentle. Also Concord buggy, rubber tires; in fine condition; nearly new harness. James H. Hyde, North Franklin, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—A pair of horses, lumber wagon and express wagon, cheap. Phone 1583-3. jy18d

FOR SALE—Or will exchange for stock. Five work horses. O. H. Main. Tel. 489. je20tf

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Grocery, garage and filling station; excellent location; good reason for selling. Phone 1459. jy21d

FOR SALE—Chamber set and two rugs. 77 Church St. Phone 2614-J. jy21d

FOR SALE—Wassermann 88-note piano carefully used and modern equipment, $450—a very low price—in easy payments. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich, Conn. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Team wagon; 8 H. P. gasoline engine; power ensilage cutter. Inquire Joe Kaminski, R. D. 4, Norwich. jy20

FOR SALE—Hoosier kitchen cabinet. Room 57, Shannon Bldg. Call evenings. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—A grocery and meat business; one of the best in city of Norwich. Al C. Burdick, Jewett City, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—House and store. 41 Thames St. T. E. Babcock, Norwich. jul8d

FOR A LIGHT LUNCH—At The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 24 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—New 6-room bungalow on West Side. Tel. 1162-3. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—One Glenwood gas range, good condition. Phone 2081. jul2tf

FOR SALE—Farm wagons and tools all in good condition. Can be seen by appointment. Telephone 1131 Willimantic. apr13d.

FOR REFRESHMENTS, Call at The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 24 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—A beautiful Brunswick upright Phonograph, guaranteed like new; used only six months. This instrument is the best model in Brunswick catalogue, all metal parts genuine gold plated; cost $275.00. Our Price, $125.00. Cash or Credit. The Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jul1d

FOR SALE—A fine upright mahogany piano, in first class condition; guaranteed; Kelso make; special at $99.00. The Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jul1d

$5,000 WILL BUY two-tenement house, six rooms each, with bath, gas, electric light; only five minutes walk from Franklin square. For full particulars see A. V. Covello, 198 Cliff St. Tel. 1093-3. je26tf

FOR SALE—Nine-room house and garage, at a low price; in best part of Norwich. Immediate possession. Phone 1431. je11tf

FOR SALE—Pianos as low as $10 deposit, and Victrolas as low as $2.00. The Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jul1d

POLICE PUPPIES—Highly pedigreed; ident farm dogs, playmates for children; come visit the largest German Shepherd Dog Kennels in the world. Phone or write. Palisade Kennels, East Killingly, Conn. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—A fine summer place, overlooking beautiful lake. $500 cash required; balance easy terms. Wm. M. McNicol, Jewett City. jul8d

FOR SALE—Very desirable place in Waterford; 7-room house with lots, sheds, etc., on the River Road below Uncasville, not far from Eastern Conn. Power Co. plant. For particulars see H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul9d

STOVE PARTS for all makes of stoves. We are the best equipped place for stove parts in New London. B. Kaplan, 90 Bank St. feb18d

AWAY FROM THE HEAT OF THE CITY
an old New England town, 3 acres, high elevation, conveniently located, with fine old colonial house with gambrel roof, open fireplaces, running water, bath, in best of condition, fine shade, apple orchard, for only $2,200 for a quick sale. Easy terms.
TRYON'S AGENCY, Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
New house of six rooms and bath outside of city; state road; large piece of land; $1,000 down, balance easy terms.
No. 2. A farm of over 15 acres of land on new state road can be bought for a very low price; 3 1-2 miles to city of 30,000 people; good place for gas station and store, etc.
No. 3. Large 10-room house and three acres of land, with store and extra flat. Nice proposition for the right party. Good chance to increase the business; have gas tank and doing a nice business now. Get Busy.
No. 4. A nice six-room cottage with garage, on Greene Ave. Can be bought with $1,000 down, balance easy terms.
NORWICH LAND TITLE & INS. CO.
Sellas Block Franklin Square
Tel. 2272

FOR SALE
New modern six-room bungalow with about an acre of land, $5,500.
Exceptionally fine new two-story and attic house, tiled bath room, large airy sleeping rooms; in best residential section. Unusual opportunity.
Splendid cottages at Groton Long Point from $3,500 up, and shore lots at attractive prices.
New summer cottage near Niantic for $2,500, with two extra lots.
Archa W. Coit
Telephone 2288-2. Disco Building.

FOR SALE
3-FAMILY HOUSE
LAUREL HILL AVENUE
Price $7,000.
LARGE LOT AND GOOD LOCATION.
James L. Case
Real Estate Department
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE
The following property in the title of M. Klingon, Colchester, Conn., consisting of a parcel of land, with a building on it, located on Broadway, 32-37, opposite the Wauregan Hotel, Norwich, Ct. His home is in Colchester. It's a good Colonial house, a very desirable anyplace with all modern conveniences and improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, and all plumbing necessary; A-1 condition. A garage, barn sheds—a large tract of land, lawns, with all kinds of trees, fruit and shade. The house is well furnished, but it can be purchased either furnished or not. To be sold 1-3 below the found value it is clear and free from all encumbrances, and the owner is also willing to secure terms by mortgage. If interested to investigate this residential section, telephone for an appointment to No. 30, Colchester.
For further particulars inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN
REAL ESTATE BROKER
Norwich, Conn.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—For only $83 you can buy a New England upright piano in excellent condition in every way. A real bargain. Terms if desired. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Crawford used upright piano in fine condition, with fine oak case. Only $255 with terms to suit. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—$49 buys a used upright piano in good condition. Easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

A BALD HEADED MAN FROM WEST Mystic sez he's wrote a beautiful song called "There will be no parting there." Who sez cigars went up? Van Der Meer 8c cigar, 3 for 20c; No. 63 Cigar, 4 for 25c; Krohn's Special, 5 for 25c; Lucky Strike cigarettes, 50 in a tin for 35c; Helmar, 20 for 20c. Fagan's Smoke Shop, opp. Woolworth's. jy21d

FOR SALE—Sand, gravel, stone and loam. O. H. Main. Phone 489. eodtf

FOR SALE—A very fine Hallett & Davis piano in perfect condition; will sell very reasonable. Also several talking machines of leading makes, at half price. Easy terms if desired. Schwartz Bros., Inc. 76-82 Main St., Norwich. ThSatTuSje11

FOR SALE—A fine piece of property on Washington square; corner lot; suitable for apartment house, business blocks, hotel or garage. Inquire of F. C. Harwood, at 47 Water St., or of your real estate broker. Jul11SuTuThtf

FOR SALE—Second hand lumber and stones. 473 N. Main St. jul18d

FOR SALE—A newly built 3-family house and store combination located in borough of Jewett City, Ct. Good opportunity to start a business and get a revenue from rents as well. Easy terms. William M. McNicol, Owner, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City. jy18d

FOR SALE—Newly built 2-family house located on Mt. Pleasant St., in the city of Norwich, known as the Meyers property. Inquire of owner or William M. McNicol, Agent, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—Summer home at Gardner's Lake; new house, new barn, two acres of land. Inquire at Uncasville Shelton Co. for W. H. Ywarsky. jul18d

FOR SALE—Bargain. Six-room house at Harrison's, west side Thames river; owner must sell. See H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul11d

FOR SALE—While they last—our entire stock of genuine new Victrolas at half price. Now is the time to get your Victrola. Easy payment terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

Invest Your July Dividends —and— Surplus Funds in 6 per cent Guaranteed First Mortgages Secured by income paying Real Estate.
We can supply you in limited amounts.
Full information upon application.
James L. Case
Investment Broker
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE
The dwelling house, 2 barns, various useful out-buildings and 18 acres of good land known as the Martin Place and is located in Lebanon Center on the highway from Lebanon Village to Willimantic. The house is on a picturesque site and has a beautiful and extensive view of the surrounding country and is about five miles from Willimantic and eleven miles from Norwich over good roads. The property is in a good neighborhood convenient to churches, district and high schools. The property is regarded by all persons as a very attractive and charming home place. The price is low and terms of payment will be made convenient to buyer. For all information apply to
WILLIAM H. SHIELDS of Norwich,
Or To
GEORGE E. MARTIN,
Lebanon Center, Conn.

AUCTIONS.

STANTON L. BRIGGS ..... Auctioneer

AUCTION
By an order of the Probate Court there will be sold, on the farm of the late Karl Hoffman, situated 1 1-2 miles from Jewett City, 1 1-2 miles from the Newent church in the Town of Lisbon, and one mile from the farm of the late A. F. Read, the following personal property of Karl Hoffman, who was killed on July 4th by a train on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. tracks. This property will be sold for the high dollar, without reserve or limit:
ON FRIDAY, JULY 24th, 1925
At 10 O'clock, A. M., Standard Time
or, if rainy, the next fair week day, and comprises the following articles of an up-to-date poultry farm: 500 March and April hatched White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red pullets; 300 White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red yearling hens; 5 incubators, 2 brooders, 25 egg crates, feeders and other poultry utensils. Also 4 cows, 3 calved in June, 2 due this Fall, all good young family cows; one horse, 8 years old, weighs 1300, sound and a good one; 4 wagons, 1 set double harness, new; one heavy express harness, two gasoline engines in good condition, one 1-horse plow, 1 spring tooth harrow, 1 walking cultivator, 1 riding cultivator, 1 seed planter, one 1-horse mowing machine, rakes, shovels, hoes, tackle blocks and other small tools; a complete line of plumber's and machinist's tools, a few carpenter tools, household furniture and many useful articles not mentioned in this bill. This personal property must be sold to settle the estate and will be sold to the highest bidder.
HARRY L. HULL,
Administrator of Estate, Karl Hoffman

WITTER BROS. .....Auctioneers
42 Main St., Danielson Conn.
35 HEAD OF CATTLE 35
—AT—
AUCTION
Sale No. 27
MONDAY, JULY 27, 1925
At 1 p. m., (S. T.), Main or Shiue Rd Cunningham's Farm, Elliott, Conn. I have made a special effort to have on hand for my 27th live Stock Sale, 35 head of extra choice native cows, young and very productive springers, and flush milkers, beef cows, heavy veal, etc. A special point of interest in this sale is the fact that I have a number of tested Guernseys and a young bull as good as grows. Terms positively Cash.
HAROLD CUNNINGHAM, Owner,
Elliott, Conn.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

Business Notices.

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

OLD CARS BOUGHT in any condition. HUDES SEES. Corner West Main and Mt. Pleasant Telephone 1391 Automobile parts at one-half price apr30d.

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

Battery Service
The Best 1-Day Battery Charging
Radio Rental Batteries
75c Week.
Capacity, 40 Batteries every 8 to 10 Hours
VULCANIZING
The only shop in the city equipped to repair all sizes of REGULAR and BALLOON Tires.
The KE HAW KE System
ALL REPAIRS GUARANTEED.

Lane Motor Supply
170 Franklin Street.
PHONE 1570.

BOATS & YACHTS

TWO HOURS TIME will convert your Ford Motor into a Marine Motor; $75 will buy the outfit, including bronze shafting and propellor. Riverside Machine Tool Works, Hartford, Conn. jy21d

CIGARS

Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand J. P. CONANT 11 Franklin St

CASTINGS
Grey Iron and Semi-Steel Castings
—Also—
Pattern Making and Machine Work.
Daily Trucking Service Between Norwich, New London and Vicinity.
BABCOCK PRINTING PRESS MFG. CO.
NEW LONDON, CONN.
Tel. 1120.

ARCHITECTS

FRANCIS DE GANGE, Architect Telephone 1585, New London, Conn. Consult us before doing any building marl1d

CHIROPODIST

CHIROPODIST
A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8, Alice Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1366-4. nov10d

CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS

LONGO & DUFF CO., General Contractors and Builders. Best workmanship at reasonable prices. Estimates cheerfully given. Phone 1473-3. je30tf

AMBROSE SULLIVAN
Telephone 1873-5
We give estimates on Concrete Foundations and Cellars

Doors, Windows, Frames.
Inside Finish.
Mill Work of All Kinds.
THE PECK-McWILLIAMS COMPANY.
Central Wharf.

COAL AND WOOD

WOOD—Best quality hard wood and slabs. Tel. 615-4. H. E. Beard & Son. jan31d

COAL, SEASONED WOOD and kindlings delivered anywhere, 8 baskets for $1.00. Phone 729, Park Wood Yard, 501 Franklin St. 12d.

COAL, Seasoned Wood and Kindlings in large or small quantities delivered anywhere. Phone 504 or 1282-4. R Shapiro Willow St. nov23d

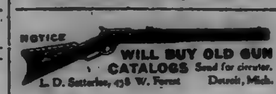
MIRRORS resilvered and glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2463. nov27d

FOR SALE

FOR SALE
One of the finest bungalows located in an excellent neighborhood in Norwich Town, having all the improvements, including steam heat, electric light, running hot and cold water, excellent sewerage system; there is a garage. This property is in the pink of perfection and must be seen to be appreciated. For full particulars inquire of
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE
Young's Block—Phone—Norwich, Conn.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

Business Notices.



INSURANCE

J. L. LATHROP & SONS
28 Shetucket Street
Insurance of All Kinds

MACHINISTS

M. A. BARBER
Machinist and Engineer
Steam Engine Repairs

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 127-4
Bliss Place
I Have a Few Outfits to Lend

PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING

GENERAL PAINTING and Paperhanging. Phone 2388-13. D. Kudlik. je21d

GEORGE NADOLNY, painting, paperhanging; estimates given. 49 Maple St Tel. dec29d

PAINTING, Housecleaning Lawns, Handy Man. Jackson Bros. Phone 1261-2. je9d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 69 Franklin Street

TRANSPORTATION

MONTAUK STEAMBOAT COMPANY
Between New London, Conn., and Greenport and Sag Harbor, L. I.
Leave New London from wharf foot of State street daily, except Sundays, *10:30 a. m., 3:45 p. m. Leave Sag Harbor 7:00 a. m., Greenport 8:00 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. *Runs to Greenport only.
Delightful one-day excursion. Automobiles accommodated. Send to General Passenger Agent, Montauk Steamboat Co., Pennsylvania Station, New York, for road map of Long Island. tfje15,

LONG ISLAND SOUND DAY and NIGHT SERVICE
Round Trip Fare $4.00
Via New London Line
Except Sun. & Mon. Daily
Lv. New London 9:00 A.M. 10:00 P.M.
Due New York 4:30 P.M. 6:00 A.M.
Special Midnight and Daylight Trips from New York
(Eastern Standard Time)
Popular One Day Outings
Table D'hote Meal Service
Music and Dancing on Day Trips
The New England S. S. C

TRUCKING

LOCAL, long distance moving and trucking. P. Angelone. Telephone 2089-3 tfapr27d

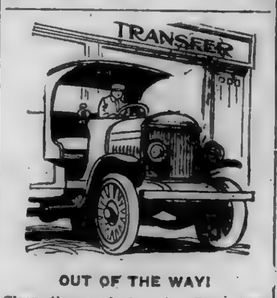
LONG DISTANCE TRUCKING. Very low rates. R. Blinderman. Phone 1342 tfapr4d

Established 1873. Telephone 175
ARTHUR H. LATHROP
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving. Shetucket Street.

C. D. JOSLIN, 293 West Main Street. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Telephone 1583-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman, 17 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1201

IT'S YOUR MOVE
When ready, call the Broadway Transfer. Prompt service—low rate. 3 Broadway. Phones 1357-2 or 977-23 over Raphael's Cigar Store. je6d



OUT OF THE WAY!
Clear the road for the Five Auto Transfer Special, off at a rapid clip, carrying your goods to the destination you name. Old-fashioned delivery methods don't go any more. The modern business world demands real rapid transit. Here it is. Phone us—No. 80—
JOHN H. FORD
DISCO BLDG. PHONE 80

WALL PAPER

NORWICH CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre. We specialize in 10c, 12c and 15c papers; half usual price. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. feb5d

LAWN MOWERS
WE HAVE THEM.
Good ones at low prices for the quality.
We have handled this make of machine over ten years. Some of the first we sold are still being used.
The HOUSEHOLD
Bulletin Building 74 Franklin St.
Telephone 631-4

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

TO RENT

TO RENT—Six-room tenement on Union street, with or without garage. C. Chamberlain, Martin House. jy21d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms. 71 Church St. jy21d

TO RENT—Apartment of five rooms. Rent reasonable. 17 Spruce St. Inquire 136 Washington St. jy21d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms at 41 Boswell Ave. jy21dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room for a trained nurse, near Backus Hospital. Tel. 565-2. jy21d

TO RENT—3 or 4 apartments; good location. Burton. Phone 1135. jy21d

TO RENT—Five-room apartment, all improvements; 3 minutes walk from Franklin square. Phone 2686-M. jy21d

TO RENT—7 room apartment on Raymond Place. tfmar26d

TO RENT—To family of adults, house 7 rooms. 17 Oak St. Phone evenings, 1484. jul11d

FOR RENT—Four-room tenement with bath. Heat furnished for parlor only. Nice location. $25 per month. Inquire 56 Spruce St. Phone 2546-J. jy20d

TO LET—Three light housekeeping rooms. 43 Union St. Please call evenings. jy20dtf

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms. Tel. 628-5. jy16tf

TO RENT—Rooms by the day, week or month. Bath houses and garage. Phone Chapman 2851-13, 70 Neptune Ave., Ocean Beach. jy20d

TO RENT—Tenements, all improvements. 44 Laurel Hill Ave. jy20dtf

TO RENT—A modern 7-room apartment. 16 Spalding St. jy18d

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms, centrally located. 376 Main St. Tel. 975-2. jy18d

FOR RENT—Fine offices, 26 to 34 Shetucket St., over Norwich Gas and Electric Dept.; wonderful light and air, janitor service, elevator; strictly office building; prices $25, $30, $45 per month. Apply to Janitor or Alling Rubber Co. jy15d

TO RENT—Garage at 229 Broadway. Inquire at Broadway Fish Market. jul16dtf

FOR RENT—A-1 furnished rooms for gents or lady. No. 3 North Main. jul15dtf

TO RENT—Seashore cottage, for rest of July, at Oswegatchie Hills, Niantic, just north of Military Camp grounds; salt water bathing. Inquire C. I. Smith, Boston Store.

TO RENT—Five rooms, all improvements, including heat; with or without garage. Inquire 210 West Main St., from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. jul11tf

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, for gentlemen. 16 Laurel Hill Ave. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Nicely furnished rooms, 170 Broadway. Phone 922. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room, 124 Broadway. Ring second bell. jul11dtf

TO RENT—Tenement, 6 rooms; fruit and garden; $20. 23 Garfield Ave. jul10tf

TO RENT—Apartments and Garages on Broadway; all modern conveniences; best location in city. Enquire of Shea & Burke. Call 396-2. tfjune5.

TO RENT—Tenements in Greeneville and Franklyn St. Inquire at Goldblatt's Shoe Store, 46 Franklin St. Phone 717-4. may26d.

TO RENT—12-room apartment, 48 Church St. Inquire Charles W. Cassidy, 46 Main St. je26tf

TO RENT—Eight room house, modern conveniences and garage. Phone 259. tfmar31d

FOR RENT.
Six-Room Apartment at 60 Cedar St.
Seven-Room Apartment with Garage at 119 Williams St.
J. K. PANEK
301-302 Disco Bldg. Tel. 2710

TO RENT.
Four-room Cottage at Pleasant View for month of August.
J. A. CUNNINGHAM
THAYER BUILDING.

EOR RENT
6-room apartment, modern improvements, 95 Cliff St.; rent $30.
5-room apartment, modern improvements, 61 Union St.; rent $30.
5-room apartment, modern improvements, 61 Union St.; rent $16.
5-room apartment, modern improvements, 110 North Main St.; rent $18.
7-room apartment, modern improvements, 110 North Main St.; rent $20.
12-room apartment, modern improvements, 106 North Main St.; rent $35.
6-room apartment, modern improvements, 10 Summer St.; rent $22.
Inquire of
NORWICH LAND TITLE & INS. CO.
Sellas Bldg.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—A brownish black and white heifer from a pasture about two weeks ago. Any one seeing her please notify me. Michael Sill, R. F. D. No. 1, Yantic, Conn., or Phone 46-12, Lebanon. jy21d

MAKE THIRD RAID AT CRESCENT BEACH HOTEL

State police from the Groton barracks raided the Ninigret house at Crescent Beach for the third time Sunday morning, resulting in the arrest of James Serino, proprietor, charged with keeping liquor with intent to sell and with keeping house of ill fame. A sailor, James Feroco, stationed at the Sub Base and a woman, Alice Diana of New London were arrested as frequenters of the house. Serino was released under bonds of $400 and the two frequenters under bonds of $25 each for their appearance in the East Lyme court.

Sergeant Clifford Gorgas and State Policeman Bernard Kennerson, Fred Caron, Henry Albright and Giles Watson participated in the raid. The police had evidence of a sale of liquor at the place, it is understood, and the raid followed.

TWO NORWICH MEN BUY PROPERTY IN WATERFORD

The property of Charles Bliven, situated near Moosbroker's corner, in Waterford, on the New Haven road, was sold by Thomas C. Dillon, a committee of one of the court of common pleas, Saturday afternoon. This was for foreclosure of mortgage in the case of Schleifer vs. Bliven. The property was purchased by Elkin Smith and Jacob Slosberg of Norwich for $5,975. About 25 persons attended the auction. The bidding started at $4,600, four bidders participating.

Given Surprise Party.

A surprise party was given Miss Diane Belisle at her home, Saturday evening. Many guests were present and enjoyed many social games. Refreshments were served by her mother.

Women are strongest when incased in the armor of their weakness.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

New York

Stock firm; mail order issues at new highs.

Bonds steady; $75,000,000 Australian loan oversubscribed.

Foreign exchanges higher; Danish and Norwegian kroner at 1926. Highs.

Cotton, barley steady; hot winds Texas.

Sugar lower; increased offerings of spot.

Coffee higher; setadier Brazilian markets.

Chicago

Wheat lower; larger receipts.

Corn easy; favorable weather.

Cattle steady; demand active.

Hogs lower; shipping demand dull.

MARKET WAS STRONG

NEW YORK, July 20—(AP)—Readjustment of speculative accounts today temporarily retarded but failed to halt the upward movement of stock prices. Undeterred by professional attempts to depress the market leaders, speculators for the rise carried on constructive operations with signal success in many other sections of the list, lifting prices of a score of mail order, motor, rubber, merchandise, food, tobacco and specialty issues to new high levels for the year on gains of 1 to 6 points.

A favorable budget of trade news, including a higher average for general commodity prices, increased earnings by oil, tobacco and automobile accessory companies, coupled with an advance in tire prices, encouraged renewed buying of many of these issues.

Sloss Sheffield Steel gave a spectacular individual performance, spurting up 8 3-4 points to 106, the highest price in twenty years. Improved earnings and reports of buying by interests familiar with the company's strong position as a pig iron producer, accounted for the sharp upturn in price.

Reports of prosperous conditions in the west and an increase in agricultural buying stimulated trading in the mail order issues. Sears-Roebuck soared over six points to a new peak price for the year at 147 3-8, closing 5 1-2 points net higher at 1363-4. At the same time Montgomery Ward moved up more than two points to a new high level at 65 1-2. Brisk advances also took place in various merchandising issues, such as International Shoe, and in food shares, including American Sugar, Great Western Sugar, National Biscuit and Fleischmann.

Bullish demonstrations were resumed with vigor in such speculative favorites as Mack Truck and Havana Electric, both of which broke into new high ground. At 194 3-4 Mack established a record high price but it eased off at the close to 193 1-4, a gain of 4 3-4 points on the day. Havana Electric crossed 192 for the first time but lost its gain later and closed fractionally lower. Burroughs Adding Machine was boosted 7 points to a new top at 95 1-2.

Approach of the heavy freight moving season created more interest in investment railroad shares in the "Nickel Plate" merger would be furearly dealings, but buying later was ther delayed through the Van Swerrestricted by indications that the ingens' abandonment of their attempt to limit the scope of the inquiry. Moderate improvement, however, was registered by Atchison, New York Central, Union Pacific and Baltimore and Ohio, although closing prices were considerably below the high levels of the day. Rock Island and Wheeling and Lake Erie preferred. responded to a revival of merger rumors. Profit stocks had little effect on the trend of prices, although they caused period of hesitation throughout the day. American Can closed 1 1-3 points lower and United States and Baldwin eased off fractionally.

Trading in the foreign exchanges again was featured by rallies in Danish and Norwegian kroner to the highest levels in several years. Demand sterling held firm slightly below $4.86, while French francs and Italian lira were steady.

No change was noted in the prevailing ease in the money situation. Call funds held at 3 3-4 per cent., all day, and time money rates were unchanged.

STOCKS.

Sales in hundreds	High.	Low.	Close
1 Adams Express	93	93	93
14 Adv Rumely	15	14½	15
10 Adv Rum pr	56	54	56
1 Ahum Lead	11	11	11
41 Air Reduct	107⅜	104⅜	107½
5 Ajax Rubber	14½	14¼	14¼
4 Alas Jun Gold	1¾	1¾	1¾
101 Al Chem & Dye	92	89⅞	92
2 Al Chem&Dy pr	119¾	119¾	119¾
13 Allis Chalmer	84	84	84
120 Am Agri Chem	23¼	22¾	23
71 Am Ag Ch pr	66⅞	64¾	66⅞
5 Am Beet Sugar	39½	38¾	38¾
4 Am Bosch ag	34	34	34
1 Am BrSh Fdy	107	107	107
1 Am Br&Fd pr	110	110	110
140 Am Can	208¾	204¾	205¾
1 Am Car & Fdy	103½	103½	103½
1 Am Chain A	29¾	29¾	29¾
1 Am Chicle	51¾	51¾	51¾
4 Am Chicle ctfs	48	47¾	47¾
5 Am Drug Syn	5	5¾	5¾
2 Am Express	139	138	138
43 Am & F P	44⅞	42½	43½
1 Am & F P pr	91	91	91
1 Am & FP 3S p	132½	132½	132½
Am Hide & L	12¾	12½	12¾
3 Am H & L pr	68⅝	67	68⅜
14 Am Ice	116½	115	116¼
2 Am Ice pr	85	85	85
5 Am Int Cp	37⅝	37	37⅝
3 Am La F F Eng	13¾	13	13¼
3 Am Linseed	28⅝	28½	28¾
7 Am Linsee dpr	72	72	72
7 Am Loco	115⅜	114⅞	115½
1 Am Loco pr	121	121	121
7 Am Metals pr	50½	50	50
1 Am Piano pr	95	95	95
1 Am Radiator	103	103	103
87 Am Saf Razor	64⅞	62¼	64
8 Am Ship&Com	7⅝	7⅜	7¼
15 Am Smelt	106½	105⅝	105¾
1 Am Smelt pr	110⅞	110⅞	110⅞
31 Am Steel Fdrs	40⅞	40	40
235 Am Sug Refi	68	65½	67⅝
4 Am Sugar pr	99½	99½	99½
1 Am Sum Tob	11¾	11	11¾
8 Am Tel & Tel	141¾	140⅝	141¼
29 Am Tobacco	99⅝	98¾	99¼
46 Am Tob B	98⅞	98¼	98½
1 Am Tob pr	107¾	107½	107½
3 Am Type Fdr	120	119¾	119¾
53 Am Water Wks	67⅝	66¼	67¼
1 Am W W 7 pr	99⅝	99⅞	99⅝
6 Am WW & pc pr	110	109⅝	110
14 Am Wool	40⅞	39¼	40
10 Am Wool pr	83⅝	82¼	83¾
10 Am Wtr Fx pr	95	94	94
2 Am Zinc L&S	25⅛	24¾	24¾
10 Am Zc L&S pr	87	86¾	87
35 Anaconda Con	43¼	42¾	43
8 Archer Dan M	38⅝	37	38
1 Archer D-M pr	97¼	97¼	97¼
4 Arm&Co Del pr	98¼	97⅝	97⅝
172 Arm&Co Ill	24	23¾	24
8 Arnold Consta	9¾	9¼	9¼
10 Asso D Gds	54¾	53	53
102 Asso Oil	33⅝	32¼	33¾
70 Atchison	120¾	119¾	120
17 Atl B & Atl	4¾	4¾	4¾
1 Atl Coast Line	165¼	165¼	165¼
20 At G & W I	52¾	50	51¾
4 Atl G & WI pr	51¾	50¼	51¾
2 Atl Refin	113½	113½	113½
1 Atlas Powder	50	50	50
3 Austin Nichols	24¾	24¾	24¾
63 Baldwin Loco	115½	114	114¾
1 Bald Loco pr	110¾	110⅝	110¾
36 Balt & Ohio	77⅜	76½	77
4 Balt & O pr	66¼	65½	66½
4 Bang & Aroos	40⅞	40⅝	40¾
8 Barnsdall C A	24⅛	24⅛	24⅜
1 Bayuk Cigars	41¾	41¼	41¼
4 Beechnut Pack	69	68½	68½
53 Beth Steel	43⅝	42⅝	43⅝
1 Beth Fisheries	5½	5⅛	5½
45 Briggs Mfg Co	41¼	40⅝	41
1 Brit Emp St pr	22	22	22
4 Brook Edison	137½	137⅜	137½
117 Bkyn Man Tran	53⅝	53	53
3 Bkyn M Tr pr	80½	80⅛	80½
18 Bkyn Un Gas	91	90	90
3 Brown Shoe	98⅝	98½	98¾
43 Bruns Bal C	29⅛	28	28
15 Burr Add Mch	95½	90	93⅝
1 Bush Term	18½	18½	18½
12 Butte Cop	6⅝	6⅛	6⅝
19 But & Superior	12½	11¾	12⅛
4 Butterick	20¼	19⅞	20¼
4 Calif Pack	116	115½	115½
68 Cal Petrol	29¼	28¾	29
3 Callah Zinc L	2½	2½	2½
4 Calif & Ariz	51¾	49⅝	50⅝
6 Calu & Hec	15⅞	15½	15¾
4 Cana Pacific	142¾	142	142
3 Case Thresh	35	35	35
8 Cent Leather	19⅞	19	19⅝
43 Cent Leath pr	65½	63⅞	65¼
3 Cent of N J	283	282	283
12 Cerro de Pasco	54½	53½	53⅝
44 Certainteed	52	51⅞	51⅞
2 Certainteed xd	88	88	88
60 Chandler Motor	33½	31¾	32½
8 Ches & O	94	93⅝	94
1 Ches & O pr	109⅝	109⅝	109⅝
1 Chi & Alt pr	8¼	8¼	8¼
1 Chic E Ill	48	48	48
3 Chi Gt West	11⅞	11¾	11⅞
1 Chi Gt W pr	24⅜	24⅛	24⅛
6 Chi M & St P	8¼	8	8
9 CM & StP pr	15¾	14½	14⅞
13 Ch & N W	64⅝	62⅝	63⅞
1 Ch & N W pr	110	110	110
12 Chi Pneu Tool	97¼	96⅞	97¼
55 C R I & P	47½	43¾	46⅝
2 CRI & P6pc pr	85	85	85
1 CRI & P 7pc pr	98⅝	98¼	98⅝
6 Childs Co	57½	57	57¼
19 Chile Copper	34⅝	33½	34⅛
1 Cluett Peaby	68	68	68
30 Coca Cola	124	122	123½
10 Col F & Ir	41¾	41	41
128 Col G & E	68½	66¼	68
1 Col G&E pr	110⅛	110⅛	110⅛
12 Cong Nairn	25	24⅝	24⅝
173 Consol Dist	6	5	6
1 Consol Gas	92⅝	90¾	91⅞
8 Consol Text	3¼	3	3⅛
1 Cont Ins	113¾	113¾	113¾
30 Contin Can	72	71	71
12 Cont Motor	10⅛	10	10⅛
6 Corn Prod	36¼	36	36¼
108 Cruci Steel	72	70	72
1 Cruci St pr	96	96	96
3 Cuban C Sug	11⅝	11½	11½
17 Cuba C S pr	51¾	51¾	51¾
45 Cub A Sug	29⅜	29	29⅛
1 Cub A S pr	97	97	97
1 Cub D S	9⅜	9⅜	9⅜
1 Cub D S pr	27¼	25¾	25¾
7 Cush Son Inc	72½	72½	72½
2 Cuyamel Fruits	55⅛	55	55⅛
51 Davison Chem	39	37¾	38½
4 Deere Co pr	100¾	98¾	100¾
1 D Lack & W	141	141	141
3 D R Gr & W pr	40	40	40
5 Det Edison	126½	126	126⅝
81 Dodge Br A	26¾	25¾	26⅜
19 Dodge Bros pr	83½	83	83
1 Dome Mines	15¾	15¾	15¾
2 Duluth S S & A	2½	2½	2½
21 DuP de Nem	161	159½	160
5 Dup Lt I pr	111¾	110¾	111½
12 East Kodak	106½	105¾	106½
7 Eaton Axle	19¼	18⅝	19⅛
136 El Pow&Lt ctfs	39⅞	39⅛	39⅞
3 El P&L 40pc pr	109½	109½	109½
3 Endicot Johns	69	68½	68½
4 Erie R R	28	28	28
10 Erie I pr	38½	37¾	37¾
61 Fairb Morse	45¾	45¾	45¾
48 Fam Pl Lasky	104¾	103¾	104
7 Fed Lt & Tr	32¾	32¼	32½
3 F M & Sm pr	58	58	58
79 Fisher Body	74¾	74¼	74¾
266 Fisk Rubber	21⅝	20⅝	20⅞
8 Fisk Rub 1 pr	107	106	107
65 Fleischman Co	93¾	91	92
29 Foundation Co	131	129½	130½
10 Freeport Texas	16	15⅞	15⅞
1 Gen Am Tank	46½	46½	46½
4 Gen Asphalt	54¼	51	54
1 Gen Asphalt	95½	95½	95½
5 Gen Baking	147	146	147
12 Gen Cigar	91¼	90¾	91¼
44 Gen Elec spl	287½	284½	287
1 Gen Mot 7pc pr	112¼	112¼	112¼
19 Gen Pet	57¾	57¼	57¼
3 Gimbel Bros	56	55¾	55¾
1 Gimbel Bros pr	104	104	104
5 Ginter Co	42¼	41½	41½
21 Glidden Co	22¾	22	22
7 Gold Dust	38¼	38	38
74 Goodrich B F	57¼	56	56
1 Goodrich BF pr	99	99	99
5 Gdyr T&R pr	103¾	103¼	103¾
1 Gdyr T&R pr	105	105	105
1 Granby Min	16¾	15¾	16¼
11 Gt North pr	68¾	68½	68¾
2 Gt Nor Ir O P	29¾	29¾	29¾
31 Gt West Sug	107	105½	105¾
1 Greene Can Cop	14¾	14¾	14¾
2 Gulf Mob & No	28¾	28¾	28¾
1 Gulf Mo & Npr	96¼	96¼	96¼
39 Gulf Sts Steel	85	83½	84½
22 Hayes Wheel	42¾	42¼	42½
1 Homestake xd	44	44	44
16 Household Pr	43½	42¾	42¾
1 Houston Oil	74¼	74¼	74¼
20 Hud & Manh	33⅝	32¾	33
6 Hudson Motor	64	63¾	64
36 Hupp Motor	19½	18¾	19¼
1 Illinois Cent	114½	114½	114½
34 Ind Oil & Gas	38½	37¼	38
1 Indian Motorcy	17	17	17
2 Ind Refining	8⅜	8⅛	8⅛
11 Inland Steel	41½	41¼	41¼
11 Inspir Cop	26⅞	25¾	25¾
42 Interbor R T	29¾	29	29⅝
46 Int Ag Cp	15	14¾	15
3 Int Bus Mach	128	128	128
3 Int Cement	69½	68¾	69½
26 Int Comb Eng	43⅝	42½	43¾
22 Int Harv Co	112⅝	109¾	112
1 Int Merc Mar	8¼	8¼	8¼
36 Int Nickel	30½	29⅝	30
36 Int Nickel	30½	29⅝	30
14 Int Paper	67	66¼	66¾
2 Int Paper pr	79½	79½	79½
1 Int Ry Cent	32¾	32¾	32¾
8 Int Shoe	177	175¾	177
1 Int Shoe pr	116½	116¼	116¾
23 Int Tel & Tel	122⅜	121	121¼
2 Jones Bros Tea	15¼	15	15¼
19 Jordn Motors	40	39	40
2 Kan City Sou	32½	32	32½
6 Kayser J & Co	32	31½	31½
8 Kelly Spg	20⅝	20	20⅛
86 Kennecott Cop	54	53½	53½
13 Keystone Tire	3⅝	3½	3½
11 Kresge Dpt Str	35½	35	35½
1 Laclede Gas	151	151	151
2 Lee Rub & T	16¾	16¾	16¾
1 Lehigh Valley	79¼	79¼	79¼
20 Lig & My Tob	66⅜	66⅜	66⅜
12 Lig&My Tob B	66⅝	65⅞	66⅛
1 Lig & My pr	122¾	122¾	122¾
3 Lima Loco	63	61¾	61¾
28 Loew's Inc	29¾	28⅞	28¾
3 Loft Candy	7⅝	7½	7⅝
2 Long I L A	49¾	49	49¾
1 Loose W Bis	93¼	92¾	93¼
137 Lorillard Co	35⅝	35⅝	35
1 Lorillard pr	115	115	115
12 Louis G&E	18	17⅞	17¾
6 Louis & Nash	111¼	111	111¼
3 Ludlum Steel	35⅜	35	35⅜
232 Mack Truck	194⅜	188	193¼
2 Macy R H Co	87	87	87
15 Magma Cop	42⅜	42	42⅜
7 Mallison & Co	23½	25	25½
1 Manh Ry std	98	98	98
7 Manh R mod std	47	45¼	47
1 Manh Shirt	27¼	27¼	27¼
1 Manila El Corp	41	41	41
1 Mktust fly pr pr	51½	51½	51½
82 Mar Oil	46	45¼	45⅝
5 Mar Rock xd	24⅝	24½	24½
10 Martin Parry	29¼	28½	29
24 Max Mot B ctf	110⅜	109	111½
21 May Dept Strs	117¼	115½	116⅝
2 McCr Sts B	96½	96	96
10 Melnt Porc M	18⅜	18¼	18½
1 Mex Seab Oil	14¼	14¼	14¾
14 Miami Cop	107⅝	107½	107½
132 Mid Cont Pet	32½	32	32
4 Middle Sts Oil	2¼	2¼	2⅛
1 Mlan&St Louis	21½	21½	21¼
8 Mo K & T	33	32¾	33
13 Mo K & T pr	34⅞	34¼	34¾
22 Mo Pacific	34⅝	34¼	34¾
82 Mo Pac pr	80⅝	80½	80½
64 Mont Pow	86⅝	85¼	86⅝
455 Mont W	65½	62½	63⅜
11 Moon Motor	33	32½	32⅝
15 Mother Lode	7⅝	7⅜	7⅝
24 Motor Wheel	32⅝	32	32½
10 Nat Biscuit	71⅞	71⅝	71⅝
2 Nat Clk & Suit	70	70	70
23 Na Dair P ctfs	57	55¾	56⅜
1 Nat Dept St	42	42	42
62 Nat Dis P	37	35¾	36½
17 Nat Dis P pr	70	68	68½
1 Nat En & St	31½	31½	31½
1 National Lead	149	149	149
2 New Con Cop	13⅝	13½	13⅝
1 N Or Tex & M	120⅝	120⅝	120⅝
63 N Y Air Br	52⅞	50½	51¾
31 N Y Canners	44⅞	44	44⅜
78 N Y Cetral	118½	117⅛	117⅝
1 N Y Ch & St L	123	123	123
1 New York Dock	26	26	26
33 N Y N H & H	32	31¼	31⅝
2 N Y Ont & W	4⅝	4¼	4⅜
1 N Y Ry p ctfs	11	10¾	11
1 N Y Steam p	100½	100¼	100½
63 Nor & W	130¾	129¾	129⅞
70 Nor Amer	57⅛	56¾	57
3 North Am pr	49⅝	49¼	49⅝
22 Northn Pac	66⅝	65¾	66
1 Nunally Co	10	10	10
13 Ohpheum Cir	29¼	29	29
3 Otis Elevator	pf11	111	11
13 Otis Steel	13½	13¼	13½
3 Otis Steel pr	76	76	76
33 Owens Bottle	55¼	54½	55¼
1 Pac Gs & El	114	114	114
17 Pacific Oil	58½	57¾	57¾
109 Packard Motor	34⅝	34¼	34½
1 Pack Mtr pr	110⅝	110⅝	110⅝
11 Paige Det Mot	21	20¾	20⅝
8 Pan A Pet	76¾	75½	76⅜
101 Pan Am Pet B	76⅛	75⅝	76⅛
1 Panh Pr & R	38	38	38
3 Par & Blu stpd	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
1 Park & Tilford	29¾	29¾	29¾
4 Penick & Ford	24½	24	24½
12 Penn R R	48¾	46½	46½
20 Pen Sea Stl	18¾	18⅝	18⅝
11 Pco Gas Chi	116⅞	116⅝	116⅞
5 Pere Marq	65½	65	65
19 Phil Co	61	60½	60¾
1 Phil Co 6 p c	49	49	49
7 Phil&R C&Ir	41½	40¾	40¾
104 Phil Mor & Co	20⅝	19⅝	19⅞
56 Phil Pet	46¾	45½	45½
26 Phoe Hois	39	37	38½
156 Pierce Ar	31⅝	30½	31½
4 Pierce Ar pr	76½	75	75½
3 Pierce Oil	1¾		2
7 Pierce Pet	6⅞	6½	6⅝
5 Pitts Util pr	15	14¾	14¾
5 Pitts & W V	71	70½	70½
1 P Ri Am Tob	50	50	50
27 Postum Cereal	120½	118	119¾
4 Pr St Cor	53	52½	53
3 Prod & Ref	19	19	19
2 P S El & G pr	94½	94⅜	94½
23 Pub Ser N J	72½	72	72
2 P S N J S pc pr	115	115	115
11 Pub Ser N J	7⅞	7⅞	7⅞
3 Pullman Co	140¾	140	140¼
12 Punta Al Sug	36	35⅝	35¾
25 Pure Oil	29¾	29¼	29⅝
2 Pure Oil pr	108	108	108
143 Radio Corp	56	54⅝	55¼
1 Radio Corp pr	45¾	49⅞	49⅞
7 Ry Stl Sp	124	124	124
221 Ray Cons Cop	16	15¾	15⅞
50 Reading Co xd	88	85⅞	87
1 Reading 1st	18¾	18¾	18¾
4 Read 2 pr	42¾	42¼	42¾
12 Reis & Co Robt	28¾	28	28½
12 Reis &K Co Robt	25⅝	5	25¼
10 Ren Type	74	73¾	73¾
22 Replogle Steel	15¾	14⅞	15½
14 Rep I & St	49⅝	48¾	48¾
10 Reynolds Spr	9⅞	9½	9½
154 Reyns Tob B	80⅞	78⅝	80¼
2 Rossia Ins Co	89½	89½	89½
1 Roy Dutch NY	55⅝	55⅛	55¼
4 St Jos Lead	42	41½	41½
8 St L & S Fran	86¼	85⅝	85⅝
6 St L Southw	49½	49	49¼
35 Savage Arms	59	55½	59
9 Schult Ret Strs	109½	109¼	109¼
2 Seab A L	33½	32⅝	32⅝
4 Seab A L pr	42¾	42	42
140 Sears Roeb	147⅝	183	185¾
4 Shell Un Oil	24⅞	24½	24½
9 Simmons Co	44⅞	44½	44½
10 Simms Petrol	23½	23¼	23½
80 Sinc Con Oil	22	22¼	22⅝
4 Sinc C Oil pr	92¾	93½	93⅞
5 Sinclr Oil	29⅞	29¾	29¾
150 Sloss Sh St&Ir	106	98½	99½
2 Sloss Sh S&I pr	96	96	96
25 South Pac	99	98½	98⅝
67 South Ry	102⅜	101⅝	101⅝
17 South Ry pr	87	86¾	87
3 S Port Ric Sug	71⅜	70⅝	71⅜
8 Spicer Mfg	23⅝	23¼	23⅜
1 Std Gas&Elec	67⅞	67½	67⅝
23 Std Oil Calif	59¼	58¾	59
49 Std Oil N J	44⅜	37⅞	43⅝
1 Std Oil NJ pr	116⅞	116⅝	116⅝
1 Std Oil Kans	104⅜	104⅜	104⅜
1 Std Oil Neb	72⅝	72⅝	72⅝
1 Std Pl Glass	10½	10¾	10⅝
7 Sterling Prod	73	73½	73½
1 Strew War Spd	70½	69¼	69¼
4 Studeb Carb	71⅝	70	70
59 Studebaker	48⅝	48	48
6 Sub Boat	8¾	8¾	8¾
1 Superior Oil	43	41	43
19 Sundstrnd Corp	16⅞	15¾	16½
1 Sunray Co A	21	21	21
21 Tenn C & Ch	12	12	12
68 Texas Co	52⅝	52	52¼
14 Tex Gulf Sul	111	110¾	111
6 Tex & Pac	49	48¾	48½
25 T & P St&Oil	15½	14¾	15
3 Tex P Ld T	350	320	350
50 Third Av	15⅞	13¾	14⅞
45 Timk Rol Br	45	44⅛	44½
3 Tob Prod	83	82¾	83
21 Trans Oil	4¾	4¾	4¾
7 Under Type	47½	46	46
12 Union Oil of C	27½	27¼	27¼
19 Un Pacific	139¾	139¼	139¾
5 Un Pac pr	77¾	76¾	77
7 Union Tank Car	128⅝	128¾	128⅜
2 United Al Steel	28½	28	28
28 Unit Cig Strs	85½	83½	83¼
21 United Drug	130⅜	129⅝	130⅛
9 United Fruit	222½	218½	222½
1 United Ry Inv p	77	77	77
11 USCIP & F	161⅞	159	159
11 U S Distrib	38¾	35¾	35¾
1 U S Express	8¾	8¾	8¾
1 U S Hof Mach	39	38¾	38¾
20 U S Ind Al	87¾	86¾	87⅜
5 U S Real & Imp	138	138	138
168 U S Rub	64¾	62¾	64¾
8 U S Rub 1nxd	106	106	106
3 U S Sm & Ref	39½	39¼	39½
4 U S Sm & R pr	46½	46½	46½
262 U S Steel	119¾	118¾	119½
4 U S Steel pr	125	124¾	124¾
5 Univ Pi & Ra	34	34	34
5 Univ P & R pr	73¼	71½	72
5 Utah Copper	96½	94⅝	96½
10 Vanadium Corp	31¼	31	31½
100 Va Car Ch	5¼	5¼	5¼
82 Va Car Cm pr	13½	13½	13½
1 Va Car Ch B	2¾	2½	2⅝
3 Va Car Ch ctfs	5	5	5
1 Va Ry & Pow	120½	120½	120½
3 Vivaudou Inc	14⅜	14⅜	14⅜
77 Wabash Ry	33	32¾	32¾
43 Wabash pr A	68½	67¾	67¾
2 Waldorf Sys	15⅞	15⅝	15⅝
1 Ward Bak A	157	157	157
110 Ward Bak B	68⅝	67	68⅛
2 Weh Helib	56⅜	56½	56⅜
3 West Pen Co pr	126	126	126
1 West P Co pr	99½	99½	99½
1 West El pr	115	115	115
3 West Marv	15	14⅝	14⅝
5 West Pacific	34	33¾	33¾
9 West Un Tel	132¼	132¼	132½
1 Westg A B	105	105	105
21 West El & Mfg	73½	72½	73⅝
11 West El Instr	16	15¾	15⅞
12 Wheel & L E	20¾	19⅝	19⅝
48 Wheel & L Epr	42	40¼	40⅝
6 White Eag Oil	29	28½	28⅝
41 White Motor Co	73⅝	72¾	73¾
162 Willys Ov	20¾	19¼	19⅝
7 Willys Ov pr	104½	103¾	103⅝
2 Wor P & Mch	41¾	41	41
6 Wright Aero	31⅝	31	31
4 Yellow Cab Mfg	44	43¾	44
1 Youngs Sh & T	71	71	71

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, July 20—(AP)—Interest in bond trading today was subsecured by the heavy subscription of the $75,000,000 Australian loan, offered by J. P. Morgan and company. While the bankers declined to reveal the amount of total subscriptions, had been twice oversold and reported that they had encountered considerable difficulty in filling orders for the bonds.

The influence of the offering in bond trading was reflected in a variety of "switching" operations. Attracted by the statement of the bankers that the Australian obligations were comparable to those of the Dominion of Canada, holders of the Canadian bonds as well as of several other conservative foreign issues showed a tendency to transfer their funds to the commonwealth loan, which was sold to yield above 5 per cent. Some selling of U. S. treasury and Liberty bonds was also ascribed to a desire to invest in the Australian issue.

Active buying of Danish bonds, which lifted the government's outstanding 6s more than two points and the Copenhagen 5 1-2s A point, was followed by the announcement that a $30,000,000 refunding loan had been awarded to the Guaranty company of New York. The operation will reduce interest charges on one of the Danish issues from 8 to 5 1-2 per cent. An early offering of 30-year bonds is expected.

Domestic corporation liens pursued a downward course today, although losses mainly were confined to fractions. Convertible oil issues were heavy and there was scattered selling of semi-speculative railroad bonds, particularly those mentioned in connection with merger prospects, in view of indications that the "Nickel Plate" consolidation would be further delayed. Changes in the rail group, however, were conflicting and moderate gains were scored by Missouri Pacific,

SHOWERS TODAY AND PROBABLY TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

1795 1925

NORWICH CONN. TUESDAY JULY 21, 1925

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich, Tuesday July 21, 1925

THE WEATHER

Conditions

The western Ontario disturbance has advanced to eastern Ontario with a trough extending southwestward to southeastern New Mexico. Pressure is relatively higher on the north Atlantic coast and over Nova Scotia. During the last 24 hours scattered showers and thunderstorms have occurred in the lake region.

The outlook is for showers on Tuesday in the lower lake region and for showers Tuesday and Wednesday in portions of the Atlantic and east Gulf states. Otherwise the weather will be mostly fair Tuesday and Wednesday in the states east of the Mississippi river. It will be cooler on Wednesday in the lower lake region, and the north and west portion of the middle Atlantic states, and the interior of New England.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook: Moderate southeast and south increasing and shifting weather partly overcast Tuesday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh south winds increasing Tuesday night; weather partly overcast Tuesday.

Forecast

For southern New England: showers Tuesday; Wednesday showers in morning; fair in afternoon; cooler in northwest portion.

Observations.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Monday:

7 a. m.	60	30.00
12 m.	84	30.12
6 p. m.	70	30.10

Highest 84, lowest 60.

Comparisons

Predictions for Monday: Fair.

Monday's weather: Fair, warm, southerly wind.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES
(Standard Time)

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Sets.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
20 ...	4.32	7.17	9.50	sets.
21 ...	4.32	7.16	10.31	7.51
22 ...	4.33	7.15	11.10	8.36
23 ...	4.33	7.15	11.50	8.58
24 ...	4.34	7.14	12.30	9.23
25 ...	4.35	7.13	1.11	9.56
26 ...	4.36	7.13	1.55	10.34

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

The committee in charge of the Pioneer Day celebration have had circulars distributed to the residents of the village, printed in French and English, describing the plans for the affair. In addition to the field day, clam bake and old fashioned dance, there is to be a parade. The collectors are soon to begin the canvass of the town for funds.

Charles T. Webster of North A street is spending this week at the cottage at Poquyogh that he has leased for the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heselton of Ballouville were week end visitors at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Heselton and family of North B street.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilkinson and children Margaret and Lawson have returned to their home in Providence, R. I., after a few days stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hindle and family of North Third avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lambert of North B street have had as recent guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Dubeau of Plainfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Pingree of Goodyear were week end guests of Mr. Pingree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pingree of North Third avenue.

Among the members of Troop 7, Boy Scouts registered at the Boy Scout Camp, Tippecan, at Beach Pond, are Albert Airey and Herbert Airey of North Second avenue and Curtis Hedler of Tecarce avenue.

Mrs. Edwin G. Crowdis of North Third avenue, Miss Mary Taggart and Miss Isabel Barrit of Norwich avenue are spending some time this month at Nantucket, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Newton and family of North A street have been recent visitors at Wekeetong, R. I.

Dr. and Mrs. Martin E. Mullen of Hamilton avenue motored to Rocky Point and Oakland Beach, R. I., Sunday.

Harry Bell is confined to his home in North Fourth avenue by an attack of the mumps.

Joseph Liebel of the Penemah house has resigned his position with the No. 1 weaving department of the Penemah company.

Augustine Dugas and Adolph Dugas of Providence street were Monday visitors in Willimantic.

The Misses Rosalma and Anna Gadbois of South B street are enjoying their annual vacation.

Among local people spending the week at Pleasant View, R. I., are Miss Augusta Thoma and Miss Gladys Thoma of Lisbon, Miss Nellie Unsworth of North B street, Miss Marie Ange Roy of North A street, Miss Loretta Gregory of Hunters avenue, Miss Elsie Heberding of Norwich avenue, Miss Margaret Heibel of Lisbon and the Misses Thoma of Lorenzo street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartley and their daughter Miss Elizabeth Hartley of Penobscot street, Norwich, were Sunday callers in the village.

MYSTIC PRINCIPAL WINS NEW LONDON BRIDE

Miss Hattie E. Lamphere of 9 Hempstead street, New London, and George W. Ingram of Mystic were married at the second church parsonage, New London, Saturday evening by Rev. Dr. J. Beveridge Lee. Miss Madilia Watrous of Mystic, cousin of the bride was maid of honor and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dewey of Groton, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom were witnesses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Ingram left for an automobile trip. On their return they will live in Mystic where Mr. Ingram is principal of the West Mystic school.

Visiting in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Julia Brock and son Arthur, of Washington street, left Sunday for New York. The latter will visit his aunt, Mrs. William Theik, of Mount Vernon. Mrs. Brock, who will proceed to Atlantic City for a week's stay, will upon returning to New York, join her son for two weeks' visit there, when they will be guests of Thomas Brock and Eugene Brock, former Norwich residents.

RHEUMATISM

Rheuma, the marvelous rheumatism remedy, sold on the no-cure-no-pay plan by Lee & Osgood Co. and druggists everywhere, acts quickly, safely, surely. It quickly drives from the system all the poisons that cause stiffness and pain in the joints and muscles.

SUES TO SECURE ESTATE WHICH HE SAYS WAS PROMISED TO HIM

Following disallowance by the administrator of his claim against the estate of the late Catherine M. Sullivan of New London, Frank Sullivan of that city has brought suit in the superior court against the estate for $3000 damages, James Francis McGarity of Norwich, the administrator, is named as the defendant.

The plaintiff makes the claim that Catherine M. Sullivan promised to leave all her estate to him, by will or otherwise, if he would render services to her and her husband as might be required. In pursuance of this agreement, the plaintiff claims that from Feb. 10, 1924, to Jan. 2, 1925, the date of Mrs. Sullivan's death, he performed such services for her and for her husband, whose death occurred before that of his wife. Mrs. Sullivan died intestate leaving an estate consisting wholly of personal property of the value of $3,000.

The plaintiff claims that he paid out the following sums at the request of Mrs. Sullivan: Feb. 10, 1924 to Nov. 6, 1924, medicines and provisions $100; Nov. 6, 1924 to Jan. 2, 1925, house rent, November, $20; cleaning house, $12; cleaning and repairing clothes (suit) $2; taxi hire $3.15; food and provisions, $12; medicines $1; express to Norwich; 37 cents; gas and electric bill, 71 cents; carfare to Norwich, $4; carfare in New London, $3; battery for car, $1; money loaned Mrs. Harrahan, $10; Day Publishing Co., $1.40; oilcloth for bed, 45 cents; cartage $3, a total of $173.

The claim which he presented against the state was disallowed by the administrator on March 25, 1925. The suit which has been brought is returnable before the court in September.

HELEN ROWLAND HITS OFF THE MODERN LEG DISPLAY

The brilliant writer Helen Rowland, wife of Frederick Kinney Noyes of New York and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Noyes, of Lincoln avenue, Norwich, sends the following to the King Feature Syndicate:

Mrs. Solomon says the revolt of man.

Hear now, my daughter, the complaint of a cynic, which every man chanteth in his heart.

Alas, alas said the cynic, I sing not of arms and the man—but of legs and the woman!

For lo, I am weary of beholding them! Yet, wheresoever I go, they smite my eyes and offend my sense of beauty.

I am as an omnibus conductor, unto whom nothing in silk stockings is a treat, and for whom life holdeth no surprises and no thrills.

For, that which was once a privilege hath become an affliction—and that which was a matter of chance, hath become a matter of course.

Yea, verily I am weary of legs and of the sight of legs!

Of piano legs balanced saucily upon high French heels, and crossed coquettishly beneath frivolous skirts.

Of angular legs, in "invisible hosiery" that resemble an apparel for "Starving Armenia."

Of thick ankles adorned with embroidered clocks.

Of tenuous ankles, like "linked sweetness long-drawn out" or broomsticks supporting a barrel.

Of roughed knees, above rolled stockings—and of knotty knees protruding beneath cutey-cutey bathing suits.

Of long, flat feet, camouflaged with glittering buckles—and of stubby feet in brocaded pumps.

Of grotesque legs adorned in ribbons—and of beefy legs painted with butterflies to accentuate their unsightliness.

Of bowed legs that trip jauntily down the avenue—and of knockkneed legs that skim airily upon the dancing floor.

Of fat legs, skinny legs, purple legs, red legs and sunburned legs strewn upon the bathing beach!

Surely, the Venus de Milo was a wise and subtle woman—for neither her legs nor her arms were left visible!

And the more a woman displayeth of her charms, the less hath a man left to dream about!

Verily, a fleeting glimpse of a feminine ankle was once the THRILL of a man's life; but now it hath come to pass that a leg is only a leg!

SELAH!

FELL DOWN ELEVATOR SHAFT INTO CELLAR

While walking along Main street and looking at a window display in Liggett's drug store, in the Shannon building Monday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock, Mrs. Hilma Aarnio, of 693 Forty-first street, Brooklyn, N. Y., a summer boarder at Beach pond, failed to notice an open sidewalk elevator shaft in front of the building, causing her to lose her balance and fell into the shaft, sustaining painful bruises.

The shaft was being used for the unloading of merchandise and boxes were piled around it, but in some manner Mrs. Aarnio walked against the iron chain, holding the doors, losing her balance and falling down the eight foot shaft, the impact causing the doors to close after her.

Mrs. Westerlund, with whom she boards, at Beach pond, realizing what had happened, rushed into the store notifying the clerks as to what had taken place. Mrs. Aarnio was carried upstairs and Dr. E. P. Brewer summoned to render first aid. The woman was taken to the Backus hospital where it was found that no bones were broken and that Mrs. Aarnio was suffering from bruises about the arms and hip, which although not dangerous will cause lameness for some time. After treatment at the hospital she returned to Beach pond.

The truckman engaged in delivering the goods to the Liggett company did not see the accident and had it not been for the woman's companion some time might have passed before she would have been released. Mrs. Aarnio was evidently so occupied with the display in the window that she failed to see the elevator shaft and walked directly against the guard chain which threw her off balance.

LAYING TROLLEY RAILS ON MAIN ST. WORK

As soon as departments at work on Main street have completed their work, and the new rails laid by the Connecticut trolley company are in place, men will start cleaning the old roadbed in preparation for laying the cement.

Main street is now dug up, on both sides, as far as the Dime Savings bank and with favorable conditions the work of laying cement on one side may be started within a week.

The work will be pushed along as rapidly as possible in hopes to have the road opened soon after the first of September and in time for the heavy travel expected during the New London county fair.

EXTINGUISHED BLAZE ON BLACKSMITH SHOP ROOF

The fire department was called out at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon for a blaze on the roof of the blacksmith shop run by William Miller, on Chestnut street. When the firemen arrived the roof was blazing up but quick work soon had the fire extinguished, using but two tanks of chemical.

The damage was slight and the blaze was probably started by sparks from the chimney of the shop.

No man who ignores small things ever accomplishes any very great ones.

PALS STOLE CLOTHES WHILE YOUTH SLEPT

Deserted while he slept by companions with whom he had stolen a car, Delmar Haynes, 15, son of the owner of a chain of Boston restaurants, was found last week by the state police of the Centerbrook barracks, as he was wandering about the countryside, near Deep River, clad in thin summer underwear and a heavy overcoat.

First news of the boy came to the police when travelers along the Lyme road in the Plant estate district reported having seen a strange being flee to cover in the bushes as they passed over the road. His queer actions and costume interested the police and they started an investigation. The boy was located by Officer Henry and taken to headquarters at Centerbrook.

There he seemed entirely rational despite his extraordinary costume. The boy said that Tuesday he and two companions, who he said were Jordan Marsh, 18, and Carlos Boza, left Boston in a car which they had stolen, and drove to Providence. There the car ran out of gasoline and needed repairs, and they abandoned it for a roadster which they found at the curb. They headed for New York, but piled up against stone wall near the Plant estate on the Lyme road when the driver of the machine fell asleep at the wheel.

Haynes overslept Wednesday morning, and when he awoke, found that his companions had taken all his clothing except his underwear and the overcoat. They secured a "hop" on a truck going over the road, according to Haynes who said he watched them from the bushes. He wandered about the district, living on blueberries until found by the police.

Police in Providence where the boys are alleged to have stolen the roadster, said they would not press any charge against the boy on account of his age. The boy's father came down from Boston to take him home. He told the authorities at Deep River that the boy had gotten into trouble before on account of his desire to see the country. It is not known whether the Boston police will move against the boy for the theft of the first car.

UTILITIES COMMISSION MAKES SECURITIES SAFE

Without doubt one of the most important services performed by the Connecticut public utilities commission is that of making the securities of every public service company in the state safe for investment. It has become a settled policy that it is the duty of the commission to protect the rate payer if the corporation is unreasonable and to protect the corporation if the rate payer is unreasonable. It is the functioning of the commission along the latter lines that has been of such service to investors, for by protecting the companies against unreasonable demands on the part of the rate payers, the company has been guaranteed a reasonable return on the value of its property used and useful in public service.

The service rendered by the commission in this respect is of importance to the public at large not only in their capacity as investors, but also in their capacity as consumers, for in order to maintain efficient service by the replacement of worn apparatus and by the installation of new machinery, and in order to extend the various utility services to new customers and new territories, vast amounts of money are necessary each year. It is only because of the fact that their securities possess this element of safety that the utility companies are able to attract the huge sums of new money necessary for efficient operation and constant expansion to meet public requirements.

TREASURE HUNT WAS MOHICAN CAMP FEATURE

One of the features of last weeks activities in Camp Mohican at Gardner Lake was the much looked forward to "Treasure Hunt." After a diligent and enthusiastic search the "Treasure" an overgrown prize watermelon was discovered by one of the boys of keener sight, stuck in the chimney of the mess-hall. After a few real Indian whoops, the melon was operated on and it was with difficulty that the boys managed to keep the melon from getting into their ears.

On Saturday the 18th Camp Laurel, from across the lake very kindly invited the boys over to a dance. After a few lively dances including a revival of the old Virginia reel, both camps joined in a hearty exchange of camp songs. The songs it is reported were heard far across the lake.

Among the visitors of the week was Charles Koegler of Union City, an old friend of the boys who manages to give them a visit every year. Other visitors of the week were Dr. J. J. Keen of Union City, Mr. and Mrs. Klugman of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mrs. K. Klien of North Bergen, N. J., Mr. Luchman of New York, Mrs. M Abrams of New York.

ST. JEAN BAPTISTE SOCIETY CONVENTION AT HOLYOKE

Local sections of St. John the Baptist Society are choosing delegates to the national convention of the society to be held in Holyoke, Mass., October 14. At this national meeting many matters of importance will be discussed and acted upon, among others being the question of sending women, being the question of sending women delegates to the national meetings, as well as men.

These national conventions have been held regularly every three years and the last two have been at Springfield and Biddeford, Me. Upwards of two thousand delegates attend the convention, representing over $2,000 members.

INSTRUCTORS FOR JUNIOR SHORT COURSE AT STORRS

(Special to the Bulletin.)

Storrs, July 20—Instructors for the Junior Short Course at the Connecticut Agricultural College, to be held for 4-H club members at Storrs July 21-29, include professors and department heads of the college, extension workers and members of the county farm bureau staffs, according to the announcement of A. J. Brundage, state club leader. This is in keeping with the policy of the short course directors to provide the best instruction possible for the boys and girls at Connecticut who enroll in this work.

Nature Study a new course added this year consisting of illustrated lectures and field trips to study wild flowers, birds, trees, insects and wild life, will be taught by George H. Lamson jr., professor of zoology and entomology; Dr. E. W. Sinnot, professor of botany and genetics; George S. Torrey, assistant professor of plant pathology; and Jerauld A. Manter, instructor in entomology. This course has been planned with the idea of helping the club members to see more of the beauties that surround them, and it is expected to be popular with the short course students.

A radio course, in which those enrolled will built a Roberts two-tube reflex-receiving set, is expected to attract many of the boys. Daniel E. Noble, lecturer in mechanical engineering will teach this course. Each student enrolled in this course will be allowed to take home the radio set he constructs.

Work in homemaking for the girls will include courses in room improvement, clothing, home nursing, running a food sale, preparations of suppers and luncheons and training in demonstration cookery. These courses will be taught by the following staff: Mrs. Clarence I. Hendrickson, assistant professor of home economics; Lucinda Macdonald, specialist in rural health and sanitation; Elizabeth Hamilton, instructor in home economics; Marion E. Dakin, specialist in nutrition; Miss Shahan, representative of the Russell-Miller Milling Co., of Boston; Sarah W. Idlenck and Ellen Van Cleef, home demonstration agents of the Tolland and New London County Farm Bureau respectively.

A. J. Brundage and Elsie Tribre, state club leader and assistant state club leader respectively, will teach the course in leader training. This is planned to help club leaders and prospective club leaders to more effectively conduct the work of their clubs.

Work in agriculture will include courses in poultry, dairying, animal husbandry feed, farm management farm shop work, floriculture, gardening, farm machinery and concrete. Following is the list of instructors who will teach these courses: poultry, William E. Parkpatrick, professor of poultry husbandry; Judge Paul P. Ives of the New Haven County Farm Bureau; Dr. L. C. Dunn, geneticist of the Storrs Experiment Station; Roy E. Jones, poultry specialist; Walton P. Clark, instructor in poultry husbandry; Carl O. Donsin, assistant poultry specialist.

John A. Sims, animal husbandry specialist, will teach in the dairying course; Linton B. Crandall, professor of agriculture will teach the beekeeping course; and Robert E. Begg, sheep specialist will teach the animal husbandry course. Farm management will be taught by Professor A. W. Manchester and Paul L. Putnam, both of the farm management department of the college. Farm Machinery and Concrete will be taught by Frederick W. Knipe, specialist in farm and home engineering, while farm shop work will be taught by Earl R. Moore, instructor in mechanical engineering. Floriculture will be taught by Roland H. Patch, assistant professor of floriculture.

MIDSUMMER FESTIVAL FOR MAX POLLACK CO. EMPLOYES

A midsummer festival was given by Herman Johl, president of the Max Pollack Co., Inc., for his Groton and Willimantic employes and invited guests Saturday afternoon and evening, in the orchard opposite Mr. Johl's residence in Groton. The grounds were beautifully decorated with colored electric light bulbs, Japanese lanterns, balloons, and food booths with attractive illustrations. One of the first features of the festival was a baseball game between a team of married men and a team of bachelors resulting in a score of 16-1 in favor of the former. Following the game an elaborate luncheon was served by the male employes attired in white uniforms. The diners all donned bright colored paper caps. Mr. Johl welcomed the guests with an appropriate greeting and impromptu speeches were made by Joseph Pollack, vice-president of the company, Charles White, president of the Savings Bank of New London and by the Rev. George R. Atha. A program of games and stunts was conducted by Harry Rafferty, athletic director of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Anna Tiede won the sack race and potato race for girls, the Misses Edith Benson and Ruth Landrum won the three-legged race, Louis Gonnell tied in the boy's potato race. There was a ball game between boys and girls won by the latter with a score of 8-7, and a boxing match between Johnny De Nola and Battling Clayton.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pollack, Max G. Johl, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lowenstein of New York, William W. Johl, Miss Hannah Kock and Miss Bernice Stern, both of Reddina, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, A. C. Woodruff, the Rev. George A. Atha, the Rev. F. W. Hiast, the Rev. William Fox, Henry Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Burrows, Miss Alice Prentice, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gamber, Cornelius Barry, William Thomas, Miss Addie Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Whaley, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brogan, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McCarthy, Mr. Lyman and Mrs. Johnson of Willimantic, Fred Kiess of Waterford, Mr. and Mrs. Neilan, Mr. and Mrs. Jacobus, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Erney, Miss Frances Erney, Clinton Erney, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. McNamara, George R. Hempstead, and Clyde L. Williamson.

COLORADO SCHOLARSHIP FOR CHURCHILL SCOTT

HARTFORD July 20—(AP)—Churchill G. Scott, of Norwich, a graduate of the Norwich Free Academy, has been awarded a four year scholarship at the Colorado School of Mines by Dr. Albert B. Meredith, commissioner of education. He was selected from a list of honor students in the high schools and academies of the state which were submitted at the close of the past school year. The scholarship covers tuition and laboratory fees at the Colorado college and is valued at $1,000.

Mr. Scott has been a student at the Norwich academy for the past two years coming to Connecticut from Fort Worth, Texas.

Scott was graduated this June in the class at the Norwich Free Academy. During his attendance at the academy he maintained a high scholarship stand and was on the football team for two years, playing end and guard. He was also a member of the tennis team.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

EXTRAORDINARY SALE OF

DRESS LINENS

Absolutely Pre-War Prices

Actually Less Than Manufacturers' Cost

2000 yards of 36-inch Dress Linens, unshrinkable and Non-crushable—the very best makes, including such well known and reliable brands as "Royal Irish" and "Non-Krush"—Dress Linens that were made to retail at $1.00 to $1.50 a yard, in this Sale, at .....

38c Yd.

Offered in a splendid assortment of leading Spring shades, including:

White	Pansy
Pink	Henna
Pearl	Copenhagen
Rose	Sprig Green
Peach	Dark Green
Orchid	Pencil Blue
Yellow	Tobacco Brown
Sand	American Beauty

These Six Reasons why this is our greatest Sale of Dress Linens:

1—Goods are the highest type of merchandise
2—Made by the very best manufacturers
3—Perfect throughout in weave and finish
4—Colors are as fast as can be made
5—Shrunk from 46 inches, therefore unshrinkable
6—Practically non-crushable as far as any Linen can be.

On Sale when the Store Opens This Morning at 8.30. As some colors are limited in quantity we advise an early selection.

OTHER LINENS AT SPECIAL PRICES

Dress Linens at 49c

500 yards of 36-inch Dress Linens, the new Broadcloth stripe, in a good selection of colors, thoroughly shrunk—Special price 49c a yard, regular value $1.25.

Dress Linens at 69c

500 yards of 36-inch All White Dress Linens, very best quality, unshinkable and non-crushable—Special price 69c a yard, regular value $1.50.

Tan Linen at 49c

18-inch Tan Linen, ideal for Runners, Scarfs, Center Pieces, Etc.—Special price 49c a yard, regular value 79c.

Art Linen at $1.00

36-inch Tan Art Linen, ideal for fine fancy work purposes—Special price $1.00 a yard, regular value $1.75.

CAME TO NORWICH IN YACHT FOR WEEK END

Mr. and Mrs. James J. McKenzie of Rutherford, N. J., with a party of friends came to Norwich on their yacht the "Lucetta" on Friday of last week for the week end.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. William Neilson of Buffalo, N. Y., former Norwich residents and Mr. and Mrs. John Bell of Rutherford, N. J. Mr. McKenzie is a former Norwich boy, having been born and brought up in the Greeneville section of the city, where he attended school and where he is still remembered by many friends.

He is sole owner and manager of the Standard Bleachery Co., at Carlton Hill, N. J., a business established by his father, William McKenzie, who some years ago was connected with the U. S. Finishing Co. in this city. On Saturday he entertained a party on board the yacht sailing out through Long Island sound to Greenport and from there to Watch Hill.

The guests included Miss Sarah Armstrong, a former school teacher of Mr. McKenzie, Mrs. Agnes Blackburn, Miss Hazel Anderson, Mrs. Janet Lathrop, John Service and Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Fox.

On Saturday night Charles Walker and James Pottinger arrived from New York, joining the party for the return trip on Sunday to Sea Bright, N. J.

While in town they were guests at the Wauregan house.

Double Birthday Party

A double birthday party was celebrated Monday in honor of Carolyne Kudlick and Ruth Mandeville, the former celebrating her 14th birthday and the latter her third birthday. Those present were Edith, Johanna and Marie Hunzinger, Marion and Helen Pendleton, Frank Leonard, John Kudlick, William Mandeville and Florence Kudlick, Violet and Edith Spence, Louise Martin, Margaret Moran and Benjamin Pendleton. Many gifts were received by both children. Mrs. Mandeville was assisted by Mrs. Kudlick and Mrs. Leonard in serving ice cream, cake and punch and in the games that entertained the children.

STONINGTON

The members of Stonington band had a picnic at Barnes pond Sunday, transportation being by auto-truck. A baseball game was a feature of the diversions of the day.

The annual celebration of the Holy Ghost Society began Sunday. The crown will remain at the home of John Maunice in Hancox street, and next Sunday will be moved to the home of Manuel Maderia in Omega street.

The trouble with milk of human kindness is that it's skimmed too often.

Sailing For Europe

Sailing from New York Tuesday morning, for an eight week trip abroad, is Miss Sarah Buckley, of Norwich Town. Accompanying Miss Buckley are Mrs. John W. Buckley, of Paterson, and Miss Alice Buckley, of New York.

NORWICH TOWN

In observance of the sixth birthday of her little daughter, Barbara, Mrs. Roswell J. P. Brown, of Oneco street, recently entertained a company of children at an all-day outing at Atlantic Beach, where bathing and sports were enjoyed.

Mrs. Brown was assisted in caring for the children by Mrs. Albert Johnson. The company was conveyed to the beach in Mrs. Brown's large car, and besides the two chaperones included: Catherine, Kenneth and Barbara Brown, Russell and Rosalie Yerrington, Ruth Vergason, Bessie and Herman Lieberman, and Dorothy Beebe. The luncheon which was eaten at four o'clock, was served at small tables in the pavilion and consisted of sandwiches, pickles, cupcakes, cookies, jelly-tarts, bananas, ice cream and the birthday cake with favors. Lolly-pops and peanuts were provided for the children throughout the day.

Little Miss Brown received some very pretty gifts from her little friends. Among those presented her by members of her family, was a doll-house of four rooms, designed and made by her sister, Miss Catherine Brown, a student at Norwich Free Academy. This wonderful piece of work is complete in every detail, the parlor, dining room, sleeping room and kitchen, all having complete furnishings, every piece of furniture, draperies, rugs, table linen, cooking utensils, even artificial fruit, a sink with faucet, telephone and other realistic items being the handwork of Miss Brown. A feature of the sleeping room, is a dainty little bed in which a doll represents a mother, while in a cradle is a tiny doll to represent an infant. This attractive piece of work has elicited many compliments for Miss Brown's skill, and her little sister entertains herself by the hour in the pleasure it affords her.

Rev. and Mrs. Gurdon F. Bailey and daughters, Misses Marion L. and Louise P. Bailey, have returned to Norwich Town, after several weeks spent at their cottage at Quonochontaug Beach, R. I.

At the Sunday morning worship at the First Congregational church, Rev. Mr. Bailey preached an excellent sermon, "We Only Get Out of Life What We Put Into It," was the central thought of his discourse. The text taken from Matthew 7-2, was—For with what judgement ye judge ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

In the course of his address, Rev. Mr. Bailey emphasized the following: We must cultivate friendship in order to have friends. One cannot sit in the back part of a church and at the conclusion of the service go right out, and yet expect to make friends. If we are kind, we will find people who will be kind to us, but if we are cross, people will be cross to use therefore it behooves us to live right and do right, and thereby follow out the great example we have in Christ, doing all things right. In the evening, the Young People's Christian Endeavor society held an open air service at the rear of the chapel. The leader was Miss Eunice Smith.

"Great Women of the Bible," with Scripture references in Luke and Esther, was the topic considered.

In his sermon at the First Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning, Rev. James B. Aldrich preached from John 6-68. Then Simon Peter answered Him, Lord, to whom shall we go? Thou hast the words of eternal life. Miss Grace Mitchell was the leader of the Young People's Christian Endeavor service in the evening, when the topic was "Great Women of the Bible."

Dwight L. Underwood, of the Uncas National Bank, resumed his duties Monday morning, following a week's vacation spent at Pleasant View, R. I., with his family. Mrs. Underwood and Miss Bernice Underwood are passing a month at Pleasant View.

Mr. and Mrs. Roswell J. P. Brown and children, Miss Catherine, Kenneth and Barbara Brown, motored to Noank Sunday and were guests of Mr. Brown's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Halstead Brown. They were accompanied by Samuel Yerrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kinney, of Providence, were guests over Sunday at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Dean and Mrs. Elizabeth R. Kinney, of Norwich Town, relatives of both. Mrs. Elizabeth Kinney is the mother of Mr. Kinney and Mrs. Dean is a sister of his wife.

Quick Safe Relief

CORNS

In one minute—or less—the pain ends. Dr. Scholl's Zino-pad is the safe, sure, healing treatment for corns. At drug and shoe stores.

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads

Put one on—the pain is gone

Norwich Bulletin

1796 1925

VOL. LXVII—No. 174. POPULATION 29,865 NORWICH, CONN., WEDNESDAY, JULY 22, 1925. TEN PAGES—70 COLUMNS PRICE TWO CENTS

MOVE TO CARRY EVOLUTION CASE TO SUPREME COURT

Jury Returned a Verdict of Guilty Against Scopes in Less Than Ten Minutes After Both Counsel For the Defense and the State Had Agreed That the Accused Should Be Convicted—Bryan's Testimony Had Been Excluded From Records—Judge Raulston Imposed a Fine of $100 and Fixed Bail at $500—Procedure Before the Supreme Court Will Be Heard at Knoxville in September.

DAYTON, Tenn., July 21—(A. P.)—The trial of John Thomas Scopes on a charge of teaching evolution theories in the public schools in violation of the Tennessee law, ended today in a verdict of guilty. The minimum fine of $100 was imposed by the court and bail for an appeal was fixed at $500.

The entire testimony yesterday of William Jennings Bryan was stricken from the record today by Judge John T. Raulston, who held that the cross examination of Clarence Darrow of Mr. Bryan on Bryan's biblical views had nothing to do with the case.

Defense counsel then agreed to have the jury brought back into court, and return its verdict.

The scene of the "evolution test" will be shifted from Dayton to Knoxville, where under the regular order of procedure the Tennessee supreme court will hear cases from this circuit the first Monday in September.

After both defense and state counsel had agreed this morning that the defendant should be convicted, the jury returned a verdict in less than ten minutes.

The minimum fine of $100 was imposed by the court and bail was fixed at $500. The defendant made a surety bond for his appearance in Rhea county circuit court the first Monday in December, when the supreme court is expected to have passed upon the case.

As soon as the verdict was returned the defense moved for a new trial and when this was overruled Scopes' attorneys made the other customary legal motions to complete the record and send the case to the supreme court.

The beginning of the end of the case was noted soon after court convened this morning. Attorneys on the contending sides announced they had decided to forego argument and submit the case at once to the jury.

Judge John T. Raulston, however, before retiring to his chamber to prepare his charge, expunged from the record of the case the testimony of William Jennings Bryan given yesterday afternoon in the absence of the jury.

"I fear that I may have committed error yesterday in my over-zeal to ascertain if there was anything in the proof that was offered that might aid the higher court in determining whether or not I had committed error in my former decrees. I have no disposition to protect any decree that I make from being reversed by a higher court, because, if I am in error I hope that somebody will correct my mistake.

"I feel that the testimony of Mr. Bryan can shed no light upon any issue that will be pending before the higher court.

"The law suit now is whether or not Mr. Scopes taught that man descended from a lower order of animals. It isn't a question of whether God created man all complete at once, or it isn't a question of whether God created man by the process of development and growth.

"As I see it, after due deliberation I feel that Mr. Bryan's testimony cannot aid the higher court in determining that question. If the question before the higher court involved issues as to what evolution was, or how God created man, or created the earth, or the universe, this testimony might be relevent, but these questions are not before the court.

"So, taking this view of it, I am pleased to expunge this testimony given by Mr. Bryan yesterday from the records of this court and it will not be further considered."

The defense entered an exception to the action of the court and announced that application would be made to the higher court for a writ to have this testimony incuded in the record.

Clarence Darrow announced that the defense had no proof to offer on the issues laid down by the court that Scopes taught that man descended from a lower order of animals; that no contradiction would be offered and that the defense was willing to save time by having the jury brought in and instructed to find the defendant guilty.

It was pointed out, however, that an admision of guilty would deprive the defendant of the right to appeal. After conference between attorneys it was decided that the judge should charge the jury and permit statements from defense and state to be made to the jury.

Before Judge Raulston charged the jury, Mr. Darrow submitted the revised form of procedure agreed on, saying: "We claim that the defendant is not guilty, but as the court has excluded any testimony except the one issue as to whether he taught that man descended from a lower order of animals, and we cannot contradict that testimony, there is no logical thing to come, except that the jury find a verdict that we may carry to the higher court, purely as a matter of proper procedure."

Judge Raulston charged the jury reviewing the statute under which the indictment against Scopes was brought and calling attention to the limitations fixed by the court in the admissibility of testimony.

"We came down here to offer evidence in this case and the court has held under the law that the evidence we had is not admissible," said Mr. Darrow addressing the jury.

"All we can do is to take an exception and carry it to a higher court to see whether the evidence is admissible or not.

As far as this case stands before this jury, the court has told you very plainly that if you think my client taught that man descended from a lower order of animals you will find him guilty. You heard the testimony of the boys on that question and heard read the books and there is no dispute about the facts.

"Scopes did not go on the stand because he could not deny the statements made by the boys, I do not know how you may feel, I am especially interested in this, but this case and this law will never be decided until it gets to a higher court, and it cannot get to a higher court properly unless you bring in a verdict.

"I do not want any of you to think we are going to find any fault with you as to your verdict, I am frank to say that while we think it is wrong, and we ought to have been permitted to put in our evidence, the court felt otherwise as he had a right to hold. We cannot argue to you gentlemen under the instructions given by the court—we cannot even explain to you that we think you should return a verdict of not guilty. We do not see how you could. We do not ask it. We think we will save our point and take it to the higher court and settle whether the law is good and also whether he should have permitted the evidence."

"I do not think that there is anything that can be said to the jury, other than what Mr. Darrow has said," said Attorney General Stewart in addressing the jury. "Of course the case in its present attitude is that it will be threshed out by the supreme court. That is what the defense wants and the state wants.

"What Mr. Darrow wanted to say to you was that he wanted you to find his client guilty but did not want to be in the position of pleading guilty, because it would destroy his rights in the supreme court."

The jury retired at 11:30 o'clock and the verdict was read at 11:29.

Before passing sentence, John T. Scopes, the defendant, addressed the court in response to the question from the bench: "Have you anything to say, Mr. Scopes, why the court should not impose punishment upon you?"

"Your Honor, I feel that I have been convicted of violating an unjust statute" Scopes replied.

"I will continue in the future, as I have in the past, to oppose this law in any way I can. Any other action would be in violation of my ideal of academic freedom—that is, teach the truth as guaranteed in our constitution, of personal and religious freedom. I think the fine is unjust."

The fine was then imposed and bond made and the "Scopes Case" was at an end in Dayton.

STRESEMANN EXPLAINS GERMAN REPLY TO FRANCE

BERLIN, July 21—(A. P.)—Three fundamental ideas underlie the German reply to the French note on the proposed security pact, Dr. Stresemann, The foreign minister, explained to the correspondents today. First, the relation of the pact to existing treaties; second, Germany's position on arbitration treaties, including guarantees, and, third, Germany's entry into the league of nations.

Germany does not believe that the peace treaties can be regarded as sacrosanct for all time, but thinks that changes can be effected by peaceful agreement. This is guaranteed by Article XIX of the covenant of the league.

Germany, according to the minister, views with apprehension the French suggestion that a series of exceptions be legalized in connection with arbitration treaties, whereby forcible action can take place without previous judicial action, such as arbitration. Germany fears that this would leave her defenseless against possible military invasi on whenever the allies deemed such invasion justified.

Germany further fears that the system of guarantees suggested by France may cause injustice, as the guarantors could decide for themselves without recourse to law who, in the event of a disturbance of the peace, was in the wrong.

On the question of the league of nations, Germany points out that her disarmament places her at a disadvantage as compared with other members of the league, so that until general disarmament is effected it is essential that an interim solution be found, taking into account Germany's special military economic and geographic position.

The note concludes with the insistence that Germany must be treated on a basis of equality and reciprocity.

POSTAL HEARING IS MOVED TO ATLANTA

WASHINGTON, July 21—(A. P.)—After hearing spokesmen for two national farm organizations urge application of greater economy and efficiency to the postal service, the special congressional postal commission left late today for Atlanta where on Tuesday it will open a series of "field hearings on the matter of new postal rates.

A single day will be spent in Atlanta, and then the commission will retrace its steps, going to Philadelphia where it will be in session from July 28 to August 1. Other hearings will be held at New York city August 3 to 8; Boston, August 10 to 13; Augusta, Maine, August 14 and 15; Buffalo, N. Y., August 17 and 18; Chicago, August 19 to 26, and St. Paul and Minneapolis, August 27 and 29.

SUMMARY OF YESTERDAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

Acceptance of Henry Ford's bid for 200 shipping board ships was recommended.

Farm organization representatives were heard by the senate committee investigating postal rates.

Doubt was expressed that the new prohibition enforcement plan could be put into operation by August 1.

O. P. Van Sweringen continued his testimony before the interstate commerce commission on the Nickel Plate merger.

French Military Leaders in Morocco

Two Marshals and Five Generals Are Leading 150,000 Troops.

PARIS, July 21—(A. P.)—Two marshals of France, Petain and Lyautey, and five generals, Naulin, Colombat, de Chambrun, Heusch, and Bertrand, are leading 150,000 French troops arrayed against Abd-el-Krim, the rebel war lord in Morocco. The offensive across "the land of thirst" of Taza and Ouezzan, with the fertile plains of the sacred city of Fez as the objective, which had been threatening for the past two days, seems momentarily to have been abandoned by the Moors.

Marshal Petain's m[illegible] presence on the Riff is declared to have installed fresh morale into the tired and dejected French troops, and Abd-el-Krim's activities since the arrival of Verdun's reorganizer upon the scene have become largely political.

"However," one correspondent adds, "the Moors have a strong ally in the climate. The Riffians chose the hottest season for the offensive against the French. None but natives can live in the temperature around Taza, which averages a maximum of 108 degrees Fahrenheit and never is lower than 77. The average rainfall for July is three-quarters of an inch, in August two and three quarters, and in September two inches.

COOLIDGE WOULD DISPOSE OF USELESS PROPERTY

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 21—(AP)—Rounding out the first month of his vacation here today President Coolidge let it be known that he believed the absence from Washington of himself and most of the cabinet was giving the public a welcome opportunity to pay needed attention to business, industry and commerce instead of having its attention focused on government activities in the capital. This, in his opinion is proving beneficial to the country at large.

While here the president plans to continue in close touch with government affairs. Cabinet officers have a general invitation to come to White Court whenever business demands or when they desire relief from Washington weather but the executive reiterated to callers today that he thought it was time for nation to keep its attention on industry and let politics fall to the background.

In connection with his determination to watch closely government affairs Mr. Coolidge has requested Senator Hale, republican, Maine, chairman of the naval committee to make an intensive study with a view to locating useless property which might be eliminated so as to meet to some extent the $100,000,000 naval construction program authorized last session. He also continued today discussion with Senator Curtis, the republican leader, with the legislative program forming the topic of conversation.

The president's only engagement today was a conference with newspapermen. He also sat for a painting for E. P. Tarbell, of Boston.

G. G. HAVEN COMMITTED SUICIDE BY SHOOTING

NEW YORK, July 21—(AP)—Depressed by a nervous breakdown from which he had been suffering for 18 months, George G. Haven, 59 years old, president of the Metropolitan Opera and Real Estate company, the corporation owning the ground upon which the Metropolitan Opera House stands, and prominent in New York banking circles, committed suicide today at his home in East 53rd street by shooting himself.

The news of Mr. Haven's death was a shock to his six business partners of the New York Stock Exchange firm of Strong, Sturgis & company. They said he had no business worries. During the past year and a half he has spent little time in the office. His last trip to the office was two weeks ago. Mr. Haven had been a member of this firm, which was established in 1869, for the past 28 years and was senior member for some time.

A graduate of Yale in the class of 1887, Mr. Haven entered Wall street soon afterward. He was a director of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad, the Texas & Pacific railroad and the Southern Porto Rican Sugar company.

Mr. Haven's brother-in-law, J. Nelson Birland, said that the banker appeared in good spirits this morning when he breakfasted with his family. Shortly before noon, one of the maids heard a shot and, hurrying to Mr. Haven's room, found him stretched on the floor, with a bullet wound in his head.

A widower, Mr. Haven was married last February to Miss Dorothy James, daughter of Henry A. James, of New York city, and Easthampton, L. I. Besides the widow, Mr. Haven leaves two daughters and a son by the former marriage.

The banker maintained a residence at Ridgefield, Conn., in addition to his town home.

BITUMINOUS MINERS ASKED TO INTERVENE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 21—(A. P.)—Bituminous coal miners here today asked Herbert Hoover, secretary of commerce, and James J. Davis, secretarry of labor, to intervene in behalf of the government in the northern West Virginia fields to check abrogation of wage agreements which they said would otherwise force a general strike throughout the country.

The anthracite scale parley was resumed after a three day adjournment. Operators reconsidered their decision to open their books to the hard coal men, as announced Friday, and declined to furnish, at this time, data on salaries of company heads and officials as the miners had requested.

The joint telegram of Secretaries Hoover and Davis was sent by Van A. Bittner here, chief union representative in those fields.

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER ON DOMESTIC ANIMALS

HARTFORD, July 21—(A. P.)—James M. Whittlesey, commissioner on domestic animals, today announced the re-appointment of Dr. George E. Corwin, of this city as deputy commissioner. Dr. Corwin who will begin his fifth year as deputy is one of the leading veterinarians of the state. He is state resident secretary of the American Veterinary Medical society and an officer of the United States Live Stock association besides holding office in several other veterinary and stock associations.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Two men, who had been clam digging off Bradley Point, near Savin Rock, at low tide, were saved from drowning by Capt. Henry Smith of the steamer Alice.

A survey of the status of civilian aviation throughout the world has been undertaken by the commerce department jointly with the American Engineering council.

Miss Sadie M. Settle, 37, died at City hospital, Worcester, from injuries received Friday when she was struck by a motorcycle operated by Kenneth James of Shrewsbury.

The state tuberculosis commission yesterday awarded to Charles J. Green, of South Windsor, Conn., contracts for painting the seven water tanks at the sanatoria.

Robert Munger, 7, son of Mrs. Grace E. Munger, was killed in front of his home in Auburn, Mass., when he ran into the path of a truck operated by Gordon Bruns of Worcester.

An art gallery for Smith college, at Northampton, Mass., to be known as the Tryon gallery, was provided for in the will of Dwight William Tryon, artist, filed in New York for probate.

The German ambassador to Italy presented to Premier Mussolini the German government's note regarding the western European security pact, which answers the French note of June 16.

The body of Dr. J. Crosby Chapman, Yale professor, author and lecturer on psychology and education, was recovered from Chautauqua Lake between Chautauqua, N. Y., and Mayville.

George B. Thayer, 73, of Hartford, completed a hike from Provincetown, Mass., to the family homestead in Orleo, Conn. His last stretch was from Westerly, R. I., a distance of 26 miles.

A wage cut of ten per cent. was announced by the management of the Hockanum Mills company in Rockville, yesterday. It will be effective next Monday and will affect from 1,200 to 1,400 persons.

Exports of Candian products for the twelve months ended June 30, were well over the billion dollar mark, an increase in value of more than $16,000,000 above the preceding twelve months' period.

The department of justice has undertaken the difficult task of ascertaining for the first time the exact boundary lines between federal judicial districts, especially those separated by water.

Charles F. Beck, of Stamford, has been reappointed by Governor Trumbull to the Soldiers' Hospital board for a term of two years from July 20. He represents the United Spanish War Veterans on the board.

A recommendation was transmitted to President Palmer of the Fleet corporation to the shipping board for sale of the 200 vessels recently offered for scrapping, but its contents were not revealed.

Captain William Clarke, regular army field artillery, assigned to the 182nd field artillery, C. N. G., as senior instructor has been appointed lieutenant colonel, field artillery, with rank to date from July 3.

Julius West, alias Roy West, 21, arrested for burglary in Fairfield and who later was charged with stealing automobiles and other things in Bridgeport, was turned over to the Fairfield authorities for trial.

The murder of Carminia D'Agenio in a west end pool room in Boston was thought by the police to be an outcropping of gang warfare similar to that which ended a year ago after nearly a dozen men had been shot.

John Heron, 38, of Worcester, died at Burbank hospital, Fitchburg, Mass., from a fracture of the skull recieved several hours earlier when he fell 25 feet from a roof of the Jennison company plant where he was at work.

E. W. Wagner, formerly one of the biggest figures in the Chicago grain trade, whose firm failed for millions a few years ago, plunged to death from the fifteenth story of the Westminster building in the central business district of Chicago.

Paul Novak, 49, of Bridgeport, attempted suicide by turning on three gas jets in the kitchen of his home and then retiring to his bedroom to await the effect of the fumes, which succeeded only in killing a pet canary in its cage by the kitchen stove.

Believing that her first hunband, Harry E. Fairbanks, alleged kidnapper under arrest in Fall River, Mass., was dead, Mrs. Wava Beebe Fairbanks, formerly of Ogdensburk, N. Y. was married January 10, 1925, to Captain Roswell Russell, 32, of Alexandria Bay.

Although action was deferred by the shipping board yesterday, indications were that with little delay it would approve the recommendation of President Palmer of the Fleet corporation, for acceptance of Henry Ford's bid of $1,706,000 for the 200 vessels offered for scrapping.

Milon M. Stone, a former accountant of New Haven, pleaded guilty to two charges of non-support of his wife, Rose, and Judge Walter M. Pickett, who sat on the city court bench, imposed a sentence of 30 days on each charge and suspended the sentence indefinitely.

John Truden of San Diego, Cal., was found dead by his own hand at Jacumba, and beside him a letter telling of a pistol duel in the hills near the city of Imperial, in which he killed H. Kirk, a business man of Imperial. The survivor of the duel, the latter said, agreed to commit suicide.

$1,000 REWARD OFFERED FOR THE ARREST OF MURDERERS

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., July 21—(A. P.)—The Westchester Electric Railway company tonight offered a reward of $1,000 for apprehension of the murderers of Jacob Schumacher, an inspector, and Robert C. Nichols, a conductor, who were shot yesterday in a trolley hold-up.

Schumacher was instantly killed and Nichols died today. Nichols is survived by a widow and daughter who live at Blackstone, L. I. He had been living in Greenwich, Conn.

4,343,000 Gold Marks For the Belgian Debt

Will Be Available August 31 From German Reparations.

BOSTON, July 21—(A. P.)—The Belgian war debt commision will have available 4,343,000 gold marks from German reparations applicable to a portion of her debt to the United States by August 31, it was announced today by world peace foundation through Denys P. Myers, corresponding secretary.

The Belgian debt is divided into two parts. The Belgian war debt, strictly speaking, amounts to approximately $171,000,000 and was passed to Germany along with similar French and British debts as a reparation charge. By article four of the Paris financial agreement of January 14, 1925, there is assigned five per cent. of the total sum available from German reparation payment under the Dawes plan, after deduction of specified charges for service of Belgian war debts.

Agent General Gilbert for reparation payments in his report of May 20, the text of which has just been received, states that this percentage will amount to $8,189,000 gold marks. Of this sum there is to be received by Belgium, by reason of her debt to the United States, 12 per cent. or 4,343,000 gold marks.

The Belgian war debt priority is a permanent charge on reparation payments. It will increase as the payments increase. Though no official allocation of annuities beyond the first has been worked out, the world peace foundation has just published tables indicating that the Belgian war debt priority in the fifth, or standard reparation year, ending August 31, 1929, will amount to more than 193,000,000 gold marks, of which the 12 per cent. allocation to Belgium for the American debt would amount to about $13,000,000 gold marks.

TRIAL OF INJUNCTION AGAINST HATTERS' UNION

BRIDGEPORT, July 21—(A. P.)—For sixty years F. Berg and company, operated a hat shop in Orange, N. J. Because, they say, "of unfair and unbearable conditions imposed by the union," they "were forced" at "great loss and expense," to remove to Norwalk last May.

They started operations as an open shop and within a short time John F. McKnight, secretary of a Norwalk local of the United Hatters of North America, visited the factory with the proposal that the employes be "unionized." "You haven't got a chance," remarked Charles Berg, the company president, mindful of his Orange experience when his factory was closed by the union.

Then "pickets" of the hatters' union surrounded the Berg factory, Belden avenue, Norwalk, daily. The company claims between twenty-five and thirty of its employes quit work during the picketing. Declaring they faced "complete ruin" if not relieved of union molestation, the Berg company obtained a temporary injunction against the hatters union local's in Norwalk enjoining them from picketing.

Judge John J. Walsh, in the court of common pleas, this afternoon, heard evidence on a motion that the injunction be dissolved. The hearing will be continued tomorrow afternoon.

LOVE MISSIVE FOUND IN COAT OF SUICIDE

BRAWLEY, Calif., July 21—(A. P.)—Investigators are making slow progress in the Imperial Valley in tracing the antecedents of John Truden, who killed himself yesterday and of H. Kirk, who was killed in a duel with Truden last Saturday near Jacumba.

In the torn lining of Kirk's coat the police discovered an envelope addressed to a woman in Honolulu which contained no writing from Kirk, but enclosed a letter he had received from Honolulu signed with an "Pet" name.

This missive read in part:

"Our affair can go on no longer. You cannot come up to my level, and I am damned if I will come down to yours."

Police believe that Kirk, after reading the letter, had enclosed it in an envelope for return to Honolulu. The letter was a long one and dealt in detail with a love affair between Kirk and the writer.

Investigators are searching today for a Mexican woman of Imperial, whose name was found scribbled on a memorandum in a bank book in Kirk's pocket.

WOUNDED ACTOR FAILED TO APPEAR AGAINST WIFE

NEW YORK, July 21—(A. P.)—Allen Davis, actor, who was shot in the head and shoulder on the night of July 6 by his chorus girl wife, Mrs. Edith Parker Davis, has disappeared from the hospital in which he was receiving medical attention.

This became known today when the actor failed to appear at the arraignment of Mrs. Davis on charges of felonious assault and violation of the Sullivan law. Magistrate Barrett adjourned the hearing until July 24.

Detective Markkill told the court that he had visited Davis Sunday at the Polyclinic hospital, and was told he would attend the hearing today. Yesterday, hospital authorities said, Davis was taken away by friends.

RESOURCES OF BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES $830,349,939

HARTFORD, July 21—(AP)—The state banking department received today a copy of the statistical report of the banking business of the country prepared by R. N. Sims and read by him this afternoon at the National Association of Bank Supervisors at St. Paul. Connecticut occupies the position of tenth among the states in volume of business, the same position as last year. The resources of the 167 state banks and trust companies of Connecticut were given as $830,349,939.

DESIGN SELECTED FOR HARDING MAUSOLEUM

NEW YORK, July 20—(AP)—The design submitted by Henry Hornbostel and Eric Fiher Wood, of Pittsburgh, for a $500,000 mausoleum to be erected in Marion, Ohio, in memory of the late President Warren G. Harding, was selected today by the jury of award of the Harding Memorial association. Three other architects entered the competition.

YOUNG BOY WAS ABDUCTED AS A "BLIND" FOR RUM RUNNERS

Story of Kidnapping Told by Harry C. Fairbanks—Verner Alexanderson of Schnectady Was Taken to Cottage Used as a Background For Bootlegging—Boy Was Returned Unharmed to His Home Several Days After the Abduction.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., July 21—(AP)—How Verner Alexanderson, young son of E. F. W. Alexanderson, radio engineer, was kidnapped for use as a "blind" in the rum running business was told today by Harry C. Fairbanks, under indictment for the abduction, who was returned here last night from Fall River, Mass., where he was arrested Sunday.

Fairbanks gave the story of his experience since the boy was stolen in April, 1923, during four hours of police questioning early today. Afterwards he was taken to the county jail, where he will be kept until the fall term of county court. His accomplice, Stanley G. Krandall, has been traced to South America, where his arrest is expected soon.

Crandall and Fairbanks met here prior to the kidnapping to plan a rum running scheme. Fairbanks had gone in on a small scale and bought a second hand car. It had broken down and the pair were riding around the city in a borrowed car when they saw the Alexanderson boy on the sidewalk. Neither knew who the boy was, according to Fairbanks, who continued:

"Crandall told the boy we were going to take him for a ride and picked him up. Then with Crandall driving we went to Theresa where we had a cottage as a background for our bootlegging. We left the boy in the cottage. I went to Watertown, where I had left my car, and I saw newspaper accounts of the kidnapping. I decided to flee.

"I got my car and Crandall and I went to Rochester, where we sold it. Then we went to Alexandria Bay, still using the borrowed car, with which we had picked up the boy. We left it there and went to Canada by ferry. Knowing the police were hot on our trail, we jumped from Montreal to Toronto, and thence to Detroit, where we arranged to sell punch boards. We would spend two or three days in the larger cities and maybe only three or four hours in the small towns, just staying long enough to attend to our punch board sales. Finally I went to Boston. I stayed around Boston and other places in New England and then went to Fall River, where, being broke, I passed the bad check which led to my arrest."

The Alexanderson boy was not harmed and was returned to his home several days after the abduction.

STATE TAX BILLS AMOUNTING $7,671,588 HAVE BEEN MAILED

HARTFORD, July 21.—(A. P.)—Tax bills amounting to $7,671,588.95 have been mailed from the office of Tax Commissioner William H. Blodgett during the present month and this amount will be payable to the state treasury before September 1. The aggregate represents taxes to be paid by seven groups which are assessed under the various corporation and franchise tax laws. The groups and the amounts to be paid by each are as follows:

National banks having savings departments, tax payable July 20, $57,-511.39.

Savings banks, tax payable, July 20, $458,664.74.

Trust companies with savings departments, tax payable, July 20, $88,-729.60.

Franchise tax on stock insurance companies, payable July 15, $1,108,-732.33.

Public service corporations, gross earnings tax, payable July 15, $3,487,-295.74.

Miscellaneous corporations, payable on or before September 1, $1,928,945.80.

Assessments on unincorporated business firms, $541,709.35, of this tax, 50 per cent. will be apportioned to the various counties according to population in lieu of the previous apportionment made under the admission tax laws which was repealed by the past session of the general assembly.

PLAN FORMULATED BY THE HEALING ARTS COMMISSION

HARTFORD, July 21.—(AP)—The three members of the new commission on healing arts, appointed by Governor Trumbull under an act passed at the last session of the general assembly, met this afternoon in the state capitol for organization and to formulate plans for the operation of the law. The three members are former Senator Charles M. Bakewell, of New Haven; former Representative Ernest W. Christ, of New Britain, and Judge Rollin U. Tyler, of Haddam.

This forenoon Senator Bakewell conferred with the governor and outlined his views on the scope of the work of the commission. The governor afterwards stated that he was in accord with the views expressed by Senator Bakewell.

After leaving the governor's office, Senator Bakewell said the commission would, before deciding on the examinations to determine the qualifications of applicants for licenses to practice medicine in this state have conferences with the different schools of the healing arts to give them an opportunity to state their views on the subjects on which applicants would be examined and the scope of each subject.

WALLINGFORD CHAUFFEUR RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATH

NEW HAVEN, July 21—(AP)—William P. Wadelton, a chauffeur of Wallingford, is held criminally responsible for the death of Mrs Ella Downes, wife of Judge Michael T. Downes, of Wallingford, by Coroner Eli Mix in a finding handed down here today.

The coroner finds that on the afternoon of July 17, Wandelton was operating an automobile containing Mrs. Downes on Center street, Wallingford. Though having driven cars for two years, Wadelton had no driver's license. He was piloting the machine at a speed of more than forty miles an hour and struck a telegraph pole. The speed of the machine must have been terrific because the pole was split by the impact.

Mrs. Downes was thrown out, sustained a fracture of the skull and died in the Meriden hospital.

TRAINING FOR ATTEMPT TO SWIM ENGLISH CHANNEL

BRIGHTON, England, July 21—(A. P.)—Miss Gertrude Ederle, young American aquatic star, having completed the first stage of her training in England for her attempt to swim the English channel, leaves tomorrow for France.

She will put the finishing touches to her preparation at Cape Gris-Nez, the take-off point for most channel swimmers in recent years.

Miss Ederle's trainer says she is in the finest condition and that her only fault is that she swims too fast. This he hopes to correct before Miss Ederle starts on the swim which she hopes will give her the distinction of being the first woman to stroke her way across the turbulent stretch of water between France and England. Miss Ederle expects to attempt the swim about August 12.

STATUS OF BRICKLAYERS AND PLASTERERS TROUBLE

NEW YORK, July 21.—(A. P.)—New York, Chicago, Detroit and other large cities will not be affected if the dispute between the Bricklayers' and Plasterers' unions results in a widespread tie-up of building construction, George W. Thornton, acting president of the Bricklayers' organization announced today.

The bricklayers' union, Mr. Thornton said, will take no retaliatory steps against the Operative Plasterers' and Cement Finishers' International association in cities which have always been recognozed as territory of the latter organization.

The Plasterers' union recently signed an agreement with some of the largest contractors in the country by which members of this union will be employed to do plastering on buildings which the contractors are erecting. It was feared that the bricklayers might meet this move by a walkout on the buildings, but Mr. Thornton, asserting that the bricklayers' position is purely defensive, said that no such action will be taken.

LAST EFFORT TO SAVE SCOTT FROM EXECUTION

DETROIT, July 21—(A. P.)—Friends of Russell T. Scott, condemned to die on the gallows Friday for the murder of Joseph Maurer, Chicago drug clerk, both in Windsor, Ontario, and this city, today, were actively engaged soliciting men and women for funds to make one last effort in behalf of the former financier and promoter of the Windsor-Detroit bridge.

Funds exceeding $3,500 have been collected by a group of club women to fight the case. It was stated an effort would be made to retain Clarence Darrow, noted Chicago criminal lawyer. Darrow in a statement from Dayton, Tenn., where he is employed in the Scopes trial, denied that an effort had been made to secure his services, but said that he had added his pea to those of thousands who have wired Governor Len Small of Illinois in Scott's behalf.

GOLD COUPON LOAN IS SUCCESSFUL IN FRANCE

PARIS, July 21.—(A. P.)—M. Caullaux, minister of finance, and M. Briand, foreign minister, in view of the unprecedented success of the new French 4 per cent. gold coupon loan, conferred today with experts of both the foreign and finance officers. A conference which, according to official announcement, had as its purpose, "examination of the question of the settlement of inter-allied debts."

The debt problem was taken up from both political and the financial viewpoints, and the determination was expressed that a settlement must be reached before the chamber reconvenes next October. All indications are that a settlement will be ready for ratification at the opening of the congress in Washington in November.

FREIGHTER STRANDED ON BEACH AT CHATHAM, MASS.

CHATHAM, Mass., July 21.—(A. P.)—Failure attended efforts to refloat the Danish freighter Anna Jensen, which went ashore on Chatham Bar early today and tonight the vessel, her crew still aboard and in no danger, was still stranded on the sandy beach.

A revenue cutter which pulled vainly on a tow rope at high tide this afternoon stood by to make another attempt at high water early tomorrow.

BURGLARS ESCAPE WITH LOOT VALUED AT $4,000

WENTHAM, Mass., July 21. — (A. P.)—Windy Knob, the home here of Dr. John C. Phillips, the naturalist, and brother of William Phillips, American ambassador to Belgium, was entered early today by thieves who escaped with loot valued at $4,000, mostly silverware. So quiet were the marauders that neither the family or the servants were awakened. The police were unable to find where the thieves had entered, as no doors or windows bore signs of having been forced.

PARTY IN GROUNDS OF BUCKINGHAM PALACE

LONDON, July 21.—(A. P.)—One of the most successful and colorful garden parties given since the war was held in the beautiful grounds of Buckingham Palace this afternoon.

WILLIMANTIC

John C. Tracy was given a hearty welcome, on his return from several months' tour of the Pacific coast and Middle West states, at the weekly meeting of Willimantic Rotary Club, held in the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday noon. Mr. Tracy missed but two weekly sessions while traveling and on one occasion had to drive about seventy-five miles in order to attend a luncheon and thereby maintain his splendid attendance record. President John F. Ahern was in charge of the meeting which was without a program in accordance to the present summer schedule. The minutes of the previous meeting were accepted as read by Acting Secretary Gerard E. Loiselle. Harry W. Standish was named as song leader for the day and after swinging the members into vocal form with several snappy numbers he enlisted the services of the following to render, "In the Evening:" George W. Hickey, Henry Congdon, John R. Pickett, Ellison S. Smith and John F. Ahern. William A. Dawson gave a summary of his experiences in attending Rotary meetings in New Hampshire, while on his recent trip in that state. Richard E. Dodge, chairman of the program committee announced that the meeting August 20th would be held out of doors and that John Tracy would have charge of the program. Next Tuesday evening the members meet at 6:30 o'clock in the Scotland Grange Hall. The nature of the program which is in charge of a committee consisting of Gerard E. Loiselle, chairman, James P. Bath and Frank H. Foss, is being withheld. President Ahern gave a report of the Eastern Connecticut Rotary outing held at Jewett City last Thursday. Adjournment was taken at 1 o'clock.

Seventeen deaths are recorded at the office of Town Clerk Frank P. Fenton, as having occurred during June. They are:

1—Warren Joseph Tellier, 28 days, bronchial pneumonia.

5—Richard N. Warner, 74, heat prostration. Margaret Jones, 75, pulmonary oedema.

6.—George Lachappelle, 9 months, 14 days, gastro enteritis.

7—Lois Arlena Griggs, 10 months, 8 days, infantile trouble. James Johnson, 80, general weakness.

14—Julia Atkins Cartwright, 76, myocardtis with general oedma. Mary Evelyn young, 31, general septicemia.

18—Margaret V. Quirk, 29, cerebral embolus. Elsie O. Schweitzer, 6, appendicitis-peritonitis. Adelaide Tremblay, 77, pulmonary oedma.

19.—Camilla Marsolise, one hour, premature birth.

21—Frederick A. Hunt, 69, intestinal obstruction. S. Elizabeth Clarke, 64, septicaemia.

23—Mary Grant Martin, 25, general septicaemia.

24—Gathlip Solomon, 45, lobar pneumonia.

25.—Louis Francis Hickey, 27, intestinal obstruction.

Marriages, totalling eleven, recorded during June were:

1—William G. Wenisch, and Ethel V. Regan, by Rev. Joseph Cooper, pastor of the South Methodist Episcopal church at South Manchester.

6—Earl C. Alexander, and Carrie E. St. John, by Justice of the Peace Harry S. Gaucher.

9—Walter Leo Brunelle, (Putnam), and Marie Delima Maclure, by Rev. J. J. Papillon.

13—Harold Hawley Foote and Elinor Kingsbury, (South Coventry) by Rev. Charles G. Johnson at South Coventry.

15—Raymond J. Bates (Pomfret) and Myrtle E. Hawkins, by Rev. Frederick F. Fosnay.

19—Howard S. Garrigus, (Storrs) and Mildred R. K. Atkins, (Brooklyn) by Rev. Andrew S. Muirhead.

20—Carl Victor Olson and Alice Amelia Taylor, by Rev. William D. Lindsay at Samsbury.

23—Walter Hardisty, (Stafford Springs) and Ada Elizabeth Howlett, by Rev. Frederick C. Williams.

27—Theodore Bailey Ladd, and Florence Edna Edwards, (Columbia) by Rev. Andrew S. Muirhead.

29—Emil Baucher, (Southbridge) and Grace Cote, by Rev. H. C. Belec.

30—Clifford Risley, (South Manchester) and Evelyn Martin, by Rev. Charles H. Ricketts, at Norwich.

The stork was a busy bird in Windham during June, there being thirty-seven births recorded. They follow:

3—William Ady, son of Charles A. and Mary Adele Ady Jenkins. Katherine Marie, daughter of William and Bridie Sweet Harold Vanda, daughter of Albert and Mary Cimbel Jackim.

4.—Ethel May, daughter of Harold and Lounette Curtailia Rosebrooks.

5—Salvatore, son of Carlcullo and Rose Campo Tarnalico. Norma Jane, daughter of Roy J. and Annie A. Phillips Gager.

6—Catherine Campbell, daughter of George A. and Berina O. Harkett Mr. Russell William, son of William, Lester and May Ellen Grant Martin. Grace Mary, daughter of Harry D. and Eugene A. Nolan MacWay.

8—Michael Joseph, Jr., son of Michael Joseph and Margaret Klupstein Nortenmer. Bertha May Larine, daughter of Joseph Arthur and Exandra Lena Martin Lisee. Mary Teresa, daughter of Alphonse and Ann Burke Isaacson. John Raymond, Jr., son of John Raymond and Gladys Edna Clark Smith. Helen Pauline, daughter of Pauline Hanson and Florence Maluschak in Kentucky.

9—Norman Joseph, son of Joseph D. and Dena Herveux Vertefeuille.

11—Beatrice Trythena, daughter of Leslie M. and Beatrice Wood King.

12—Dormond Donat, son of Donat and Irene Jillie Lussier. Emily Louisa, daughter of Anton and Eloise Hone Kasacek. William Jordan, son of George Everett and Marion Jordan Harrington.

13.—Mary, daughter of James and Santa Piscitella DeMarco.

15.—Joseph Leo Paul Gedeon, son of George and Bernadette LeBel Cining.

17—Josephine, daughter of Joseph and Nunciatta Piscitella Rampulla. Agnes Irene Eunice, daughter of Samuel O. and Maria Theroux Bacon. Norman Eugene, son of Eugene and Beatrice F. Lefervre Dion.

19—Alma, daughter of Barnard Theodore and Ida Dorothy Goldstein Polman. Camilla, daughter of Luciano and Margaret Pistello Marsalise. June Leone, daughter of Raymond H. and Claire M. Pearl Amidon.

22—George Edward, Jr., son of George Edward and Georgianna Gillow Fox.

24—Jean Baptiste, son of Omer and Eliza Chagnon Lafontaine. Peter, son of Nicholas and Mary Trunchick Piesz.

25.—Jean Boyea, daughter of Austin and Ella Boyea Furlong, Jr. Catherine, daughter of Peter and Georgia Nekos Yonclas. John Edward, son of Joseph and Mary Krozel Kowalski. Charles William, son of Clifford Martin and Mable Keney Moore.

27—Samuel, son of James and Josephine Tusalaco Paria.

30—Michael, son of Charles and May Graca Lombardo. Arthur, son of Cesari and Alice Barrey Carchid.

Antique hunters flocked from this and other cities Tuesday to Ward Brothers' second hand furniture and antique shop, where Auctioneer C. E. Macfarlane, a connoisseur in antique furniture, sold highboys, chair, old etchings, dressers, etc., at high prices to the highest bidder. Much of the furniture was of the Revolutionary period and the early part of the seventeenth century and each piece placed on the block had a history. Two chairs of Spanish foot design, over 200 years old, were sold for $122.

Traveling is poor between Windham and Scotland, via the eBaver Brook while the bridge on the main highway between the two towns is being replaced with a modern structure of concrete piers and steel and iron parts. The old span was built of wood, resting on stone piers.

Willimantic Boy Scouts of the Episcopal parish who are spending the week in camp with other scouts at Camp Tippecan, Beach Pond, Voluntown are; Lawrence Dyer, Mitchell Haddad, Hadley Williams, Walter Wheaton and Lawrence Copeland.

Miss Nellie Twomey of Stonington is a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital here suffering from a fractured ankle sustained at her home, Monday afternoon. She is the sister of Patrick J. and Judge James F. Twomey, of this city.

Vacation Notes.

Attorney and Mrs. Andrew F. Gates of Hartford and this city are entertaining their daughter, Mrs. Frances Creamer of Huntington, Pa., for the summer. Her husband, Rev. Mr. Creamer is with her for the week.

Miss eBatrice Bill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Bill of this city has returned from a visit with friends and relatives in Ohio and Michigan.

Mrs. Harold B. Crowell has returned to Los Angeles, Calif. after spending two months at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hillhouse in this city and at Pleasure Beach.

Attorney Harry S. Gaucher is visiting with Mrs. Gaucher, who is a guest of her brother, Dr. George Cheney and family, at Oswegatche.

Misses Mary Rose Savery, Una LaVoie and Helen Tothler have returned to the Hickey cottage at Niantic, after spending several days with John J. Hickey in Willimantic.

Miss Marguerite Cook of Windham Center has as guest her cousin, Miss Marguerite Baldwin of Milwaukee, Wisc.

Miss Susan Taber, daughter of J. C. Tabor is a visitor in Schenectady, N. Y., for two weeks.

Miss Elsie Barker has returned to her duties in the Boston Store after spending her vacation in Vermont and Canada.

Miss Elizabeth W. Peterson and Mrs. Darius M. Bennett, of The Ridges, were visitors at Giant's Neck Tuesday.

Allen Underwood of St. Johnsbury, Vt., has been the guest of friends in Windham Center for a few days.

Miss Esther Taber has as her guest, Miss Esther Watrous of New Haven.

Miss Dorothy Reynolds of New Haven is the guest of friends in South Coventry.

Guests of Attorney and Mrs. Andrew F. Gates Tuesday were Mrs. W. D. Williams and daughter, Miss Dorothy Williams, of Hartford.

STORK DELAYED EVICTION OF A STRIKER'S FAMILY

(Special to the Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 21.—(AP)—Alleging that threats to burn down the canvas homes of some of the striking families on North Windham road had been received, Deputy Sheriff William D. Kelley, assisted by Joseph Aubin and Della Berard, camp directors, were on guard about the tented city during Monday night, fearing incendiarism.

Seven more families were evicted Tuesday. On the home of Michael Dusga at 11 Ives street the coming of the stork which left a lusty baby boy with Mrs. Dusga, delayed the Sheriffs in charge of the evictions. Families whose furniture was removed from the company tenements, were those of Frank Sagin, Actin Lalacak and Stanley Jezimiak, three of four families occupying tenements at 11 Ives street, the fourth tenement being occupied by the Dusga family. Other families are: Pauline Rusek and Albert Lamont of 29 Ives street and Stanley Tabor of 43 Ives street. It is understood that the Willimantic Elks' Band, Charles N. C. Wheeler, leader, will give a concert at the tented city on some future evening. President Murphy, of the Textiles and Labor Council of New Haven is to be the speaker at the mass meeting here this (Wednesday) morning. A movement was under way Tuesday by the strikers' committee to have the daily parades sometime between five and six o'clock in the afternoon, omitting the morning procession from the vicinity of the mills to the Gem Theatre.

It isn't easy to fool the man who knows himself.

Spring Delight Kidney Bean Salad

One of the finest prize recipes from the recent big Gulden's Saladressing Mustard Recipe Contest, is this delicious Salad.

1 can kidney beans; 1 cucumber, cubed; 1 tomato, cut fine; 1 green pepper chopped fine; 2 stalks celery, cut fine; ½ teaspoon salt ¼ teaspoon pepper; ¼ cup Gulden's Saladressing Mustard; 1 tablespoon sugar.

MIX vegetables and seasoning; add the Saladressing Mustard. Chill thoroughly and serve on lettuce. Delicious!

You'll love this new mustard taste for Salads—15c.

GULDEN'S new SALADRESSING MUSTARD

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

At the annual meeting of the Johnson Memorial hospital, held Monday afternoon the following officers were elected: President, Freeman F. Patten; first vice president, F. G. Sanford; second, William Park; third, Christopher Allen; secretary and treasurer, William H. Heald; auditors, W. C. Rockwell, N. D. O'Connell.

Richard M. Fisk was elected a corporator and trustee, to fill the vacancies in these boards caused by the death of Judge Joel H. Reed. The corporators and trustees were re-elected.

Committees were elected as follows: Executive committe—Freeman F. Patten, F. G. Sanford, William Park, Christopher Allen, William H. Heald; finance committee—Christopher Allen, A. I. Mitchell, R. M. Fisk.

The Medical Board elected comprises the following physicians: Dr. G. P. Bard, Dr. J. P. Hanley, Dr. W. B. Bean, and Dr H. H. Moore of this town, Dr. F. B. Converse, of West Willington, Dr. W. G. Shepherd, Hazardville, and Dr. Ralph B. Thayer, Somers.

Members of the visiting staff of physicians are Dr. C. P. Bard, Dr. H. H. Moore, Dr. W. B. Bean and Dr. J. P. Hanley.

The Consulting Staff of the Hospital was elected as follows: Dr. Ralph H. Seelye, of Springfield, Mass.; Dr. Daniel Sullivan, of New London; Dr. E. Terry Smith, Hartford; Dr. F. B. Batchelder, Boston; Dr. E. K. Root, and Dr. William J. Porter, Hartford; Dr. Thomas G. Alcorn, Thompsonville; Dr. James Stretch, Simsbury; Dr. James B. Comins, Springfield, Mass.; Dr. W. T. Rockwell, Rockville; Dr. Dudley Carleton, Springfield, Mass.; Dr. Wm. Goodell, Dr. Ira N. Kilburn, Dr. H. W. Van Allen and Dr. W. D. Jones, all of Springfield

Dr. F. B. Converse is roentgenologist of the Hospital and Dr. Ralph B. Thayer pathologist.

The report of the Treasurer, William H. Heald, to July 1st, 1925 showed: Cash on hand, last report $352.75; received from dividends and interest $17,159.67; received from patients, $16,867.92; received from town of Stafford, $266.72; received from free bed, $250.00; received from State of Connecticut, $1,500.00; received from Ladies Aid, $11.50; received from estate of Bessie Lillian Slater, $500.00; received from Aetna Insurance Co., refund, $18.00; received from investments, $79,152.60; received from telephone calls, $34.00; received from sundries (supplies sold) $9.72; total $116,123.68. Paid orders and bills of exchange of the Executive Committee, $33,626.26; Refund to patients, $18.00; Stafford Savings Bank, Bessie Lillian Slater fund $500.00; Investments, $81,868.27; Cash on hand, $111.15; total $116,123.68.

The report of Miss Grace B. Beattie, superintendent, was accepted, covering the period from July 1, 1924 to June 30th, 1925. Among the items of especial interest are the following:

Number of patients in hospital, July 1, 1924, 18; number admitted, 676; total number treated, 694; number of Out patients, 62; number of In and Out patients treated, 756.

There were 272 male patients treated during the year, 404 female, totaling 676; of this number 215 were medical patients, 228 surgical, and 132 obstetical. There were 57 female infants born at the hospital and 68 male infants, totaling 125. There were 177 patients in private rooms and 499 ward patients during the year.

Patients discharged included 580 recovered, 24 improved and three unimproved. There were 35 deaths during the term, and 23 patients remaining in the hospital for treatment on June 30th last.

The daily average of patients admitted was 22, and the daily household average of the hospital 39. The average stay of patients was 21.2 day. The average weekly cost per capita was $2006.

Eighty accident cases were treated, and 370 operations performed, 209 of which were major operations and 170 minor operations. There were 95 x-rays made.

The largest number of patients was admitted in January, February and March, the average for these months being 59 daily, with 42 admitted in one day, the largest number during the year. In November the smallest number of patients was admitted, the daily average being 15, with the lowest number admitted in one day totaling 8.

Patients from Stafford Springs admitted totaled 311, with 365 patients admitted from other towns, Somers ranking next to Stafford Springs with 53 patients and Somersville third, with 51 patients. Forty-eight towns were represented, 23 nationalities and 40 occupations. Of the number treated, 241 were housewives, 182 were unoccupied, 59 were mill workers, 40 were school boys and 30 school girls.

WILLIMANTIC MEN PAY FOR HOLIDAY ESCAPADE

(Special to the Bulletin.)

STAFFORD SPRINGS, July 21.—The continued cases of Albert Coutu and Alfred Judge, of Willimantic, the former charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor and both men charged with assault, breach of the peace and intoxication, came up for a hearing before Judge William H. Heald in the borough court Tuesday morning. On the charge of operating while under the influence of liquor, Coutu, through his counsel William A. King pleaded nolo contendre; he was fined $100 and costs of $17.82. The other charges against Coutu were nolled. The case against Alfred Judge was nolled on payment of costs amounting to $14.06. Coutu and Judge, while coming from Orourtville to Stafford Springs, the morning of July 4th in an automobile driven by Coutu, ran into a stone. They had an altercation with F. J. Fitzpatrick who went to tow their car to his garage. An investigation by State Policeman Hulbert and Officer Helm led to their arrest and the subsequent court proceedings.

JEWETT CITY

Miss Margaret Laurie, of Govan Hill, Glasgow, Scotland, Mrs. Celia Geist and Miss Mildred McCarron, of Providence, have been guests at Mr. and Mrs. Francis Campbell's.

Two cases were brought, Monday morning, by Prosecuting Attorney Richard Dudkowski in Judge John T. Barry's court. Napoleon Le Beau was fined two hundred dollars and costs, amounting to $215.67 for driving while his license was suspended, and on another count for driving while under the influence of liquor, he was given six months in jail. The jail sentence was suspended, with the understanding that he sell his automobile. Officer Henry Vegiard made the arrest.

John Kloyek was fined fifteen dollars and costs, amounting to $34, for theft of cloth from Aspinook Bleachery. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff John Dolan.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Anthony are in Boston for a few days.

MILITARY FUNERAL HONORS FOR JOSEPH FOLEY TUESDAY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, July 21.—Funeral services for Joseph Foley were held at St. Mary's church Tuesday morning. Rev. John J. McCabe was the celebrant of the high mass of requiem. Mrs. Noel Garaud sang as the waiting hymn, Land on High. Father McCabe read the committal service at the graves in St. Mary's cemetery. Relatives were present from Brimfield, Mass., Norwich, Conn., and Hopkinton, R. I. There were beautiful flowers. A delegation of Legion men attended in a body. The bearers, all from Orville LaFlamme Post, were Peter Czarnaki, John Cerran, Adrian Maynard, Harvey Maynard, Archie Maynard and John Smith. The color bearer was Alfred Bacon and the guards were J. Edward Wyatt and Etphage Jarvis. A squad at the grave fired three rounds and Bugler William Maynard sounded Taps. Commander P. W. Chase was in charge of the squad, which was: Irving Thornton, George and Napoleon Cyr, Ulysses Guillet, Hazard Aramoney, Victor St. John, Henry Cadieux and Philamon Guillotte.

Hourigan Bros. were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

STONINGTON

Funeral services for Anthony J. De Braga, 43, were held at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning. Rev. James E. O'Brien, the pastor sang the high mass of requiem. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Miss May Smith and a friend from Hartford visited here over the week-end.

Robert Slackley of New York is visiting in Stonington.

Miss Jeanne Gason Colethirst of Brookline, Mass., is visiting Mrs. M. L. Sliney and family.

William Marshall, son of Mr. Joseph Marshall of Stonington was married to a New York girl in Greenwich, Conn., Monday. They are at present on a honeymoon.

The Flavig, owned by Joseph F. Joseph took, a party of friends on a trip to New London Monday afternoon.

Miss Jeanne Colethirst, Mrs. Mary L. Sliney and Miss Marguerite Sliney were in New London Monday.

The sloop Daphene is hauled out at Kenyon's ways for repairs.

Chief Engineer A. P. Woodward of Danielson, recently visited the rooms of the local fire companies and inspected the engines.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tweedell are back from a vacation trip to Maine.

Bathers are to be seen hereabouts in every available water space. The hot weahter is responsible for so many sunburned and tanned complexions. A good proportion of the borough's population visits nearby beaches regularly.

Miss L. Brown was a caller in Norwich Sunday.

The Boston Sunday papers were damaged so as to be useless Sunday when the train they came on ran over them, as they were thrown off the car.

Joseph Coffey of Christy Bros., circus, which was showing in Westerly, Monday, called on relatives here on that day.

Mr. F. D. Stanton and Mr. Warren Perkins sang solos in an anthem at the Second Congregational church Sunday. Mrs. Stanton also sang the offertory.

Dr. Edward M Chapman of New London is to occupy the pulpit at the Second Congregational church during the absence of the pastor, Rev. W. S. Gallup, of New London and Stonington. Dr. Gallup starts on his vacation, to be gone until Sunday, Sept. 13.

The yacht Wiwaka was on a week end cruise

The electric street light at the corner of Main and Elm has been out of commission for a week past.

A meeting of the Stonington fire department officials is to be held this (Wed.) evening to take action on the coming inspection date.

Joseph Schepis of Boston visited relatives here recently.

Miss Dorothy Allen of Westerly was a caller in the borough Tuesday.

Mrs. John Holland, Mrs. Theodore Brown and Mrs. Elsie Bliven of Westerly were here Monday.

A motorcycle bearing Conn., registration number 3434 collided with an automobile, registration unknown, at the corner of Elm and Bay View Sunday. No serious damage was done.

The meeting of Stonington Community Association is to be held Friday evening.

MYSTIC

The Methodist Sunday school picnic is to be held Friday, instead of Thursday and the trip will be made by truck, leaving the church at 9:30 a. m. The Lawn Party to be given by the Epworth League has been postponed to the last of July.

W. Grant Mooney, commander of A. C. Latham camp, No. 19, Sons of Veterans, has been elected district secretary of the New London district of the camp of the Sons of Veterans. This district includes the camps at North Grosvernordale, Danielson, Putnam, Branford, Guilford, New London and Mystic. Meetings are to be held frequently to promote interest in the work of perpetuating the memory of those who served and the many who lost their lives in the Civil War.

Rev. Charles F. Eldredge, of Niantic, and his brother, Herbert Eldredge of Hoosick Halls, N. Y., were in Mystic, Monday, to attend the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Nancy Dewey Packer.

Mr. and Mrs. Werner Hochschild and son, Marvin, and Mr. and Mrs. William Tluuf, of Hartford, spent the week end with Emil Hochschild.

Adolph Kohn, of New York, was a week end visitor here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles La Peters and their daughter and nephew are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sklarew.

A birthday surprise party was given Simon Curleupik, Sunday evening. Guests were present from New York and New London, with a good number from Mystic.

Henry Hammacher is substituting in the postoffice during J. W. Gleason's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hoxie and daughter, of Hartford, were week end guests here.

Mrs. Byron Billings, of 53 Washington street, has invited the W. C. T. U. to meet at her home this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Miss Jessie Barr has returned to her home in Rochester, N. H., after a visit of several weeks with her aunt, Mrs. Daniel Ivers, on High street.

BOLTON

Glena Allen from Avoca, New York, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bentley.

Mr. and Mrs. Griswold from Hartford were at their summer home for the week end.

Mrs. John H. Massey has returned home after spending a few days with her brother, Harry Milburn of Andover.

Miss Lavinia C. Fires and Miss Irene E. Glazier spent the week end with Miss Fires' sister, Mrs. Charles C. Carpenter of Lebanon.

Miss Elizabeth C. Summer of Manchester and Miss Mary Ella Summer of Hartford were at their home for the week end.

Fred D. Finley of Somers was in town recently calling on his mother, Mrs. Finley.

Judge J. White Summer and Mrs. Elsie M. Jones were in Willimantic and Columbia Friday.

Claude Jones, of Hebron, was in town Friday, calling on his sisters, Elsie M. and Ruth Jones.

Albert Hieghton of Holyoke, Mass., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Taylor.

The Ladies' Society met Thursday afternoon at the hall.

Miss Winifred Lee is at the shore with Mrs. Clifford Loomis for a few weeks.

Miss Jeannette Summer spent the week end with Miss Harriet Richmond of Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Hening of Rockville, visited over the week end with their son, Clifford L. Hening.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rich from Manchester spent the week end at their summer home.

Miss Florence Griswold of the Middlesex Hospital has been spending three weeks with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Gowdy.

What some people know about driving an automobile would fill a book—and what they don't know about it helps fill the morgue.

Since this time yesterday nearly 2,000* men have changed to Chesterfield

Daily average computed from U.S.Government Figures.*

SUCH · POPULARITY · MUST · BE · DESERVED

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Make the Road Safe

Getting in a heavy harvest—sometimes under poor weather conditions—is a big enough proposition without meeting obstacles on roads such as uneven roadways and ditches.

Concrete culverts bridge the trouble and also drain wet, marshy places—making the farm more comfortable and healthful.

Your building material dealer will be glad to tell you the many ways you can permanently improve your farm with Atlas Portland Cement.

ATLAS PORTLAND CEMENT

"The Standard by which all other makes are measured"

WESTERLY

The annual picnic and outing of the members and guests of the Westerly Women's Christian Temperance Union, is to be held today (Wednesday) at the home of Mrs. James O. Babcock in Avondale.

Judge William A. Wilcox of Pawcatuck and Representatives Charles Champlin from the town of Stonington, were Westerly business callers in Hartford Tuesday.

A new electrically lighted traffic beacon was placed in commission Tuesday afternoon at the juncture of Elm, Granite and Broad streets, for a trial period. On transparent glass appears arrow heads with directions "Norwich," Providence," "Watch Hill" and "New London" on the sides of the chamber at the top of the standard, set in a cement block. Considerable adverse criticism has been expressed as to the size of the three foot cement block which is claimed to occupy valuable space at this junction, considered one of the most hazardous in Westerly for automobiles.

Narragansett Council, No. 21, Knights of Columbus, of Westerly, opened its carnival Tuesday night at Pleasant View Beach, on the property of James Reale in the business section on Atlantic avenue. The attractions, beside the bazaar, included outdoor dancing in Roche's orchestra.

Christy Bros. 3-Ring Animal show and circus, after playing to an audience of nearly 3,000 which crowded the big tent on Riverside Park, Monday night, left Westerly at 2:28 Tuesday morning on its special 20-car circus train for Essex, Conn., where it was listed to show Tuesday. Albert Lewis, 14, of Beaumont, Texas, who was detained at the Westerly police station, where Dr. M. H. Scanlon dressed a four-inch cut on the top of his head sustained in an argument with other circus employes, was released Tuesday afternoon, to follow the circus.

At the session of Westerly Probate court Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, before Judge Edward M. Burke, matters were disposed of as follows:

Estate of James M. Blake. Will read, proved and admitted to probate. Washington Trust company was confirmed as sole executor of the will. Bond fixed at $6,000 without surety. Herbert P. Clark was named appraiser.

Estate of George W. Timbury. Petition received from Maria Timbury and Jennie Simmons, sisters of the deceased, who died July 6, 1925, intestate, for the probate of the estate, accompanied by a waive of notice. There being no objection, the petition was granted and the Industrial Trust company was appointed administrator with bond of $35,000 without surety. Alexander C. Thompson was named appraiser.

Estate of John H. Turner. Inventory received, allowed and ordered recorded.

Estate of Mabel D. Clapp. Petition received from Alvin W. Clapp of Northampton, Mass., for permission to file an exemplified copy of a foreign will. Petition received and continued to August 4th.

Estate Grace Coe Culver. Petition received from the trust officer of a Torrington, Litchfield county, bank for the filing and recording of an exemplified copy of a foreign will. Notice having been given, the petition was granted.

Estate of Carl Harrid Johnson. Inventory, received, allowed, and ordered recorded.

Estate of John Mariliralla. Inventory received, allowed and ordered recorded.

Estate of John Walter Opie. Petition received from William Veal for the probate of the estate of the deceased, who died August 10, 1921, intestate. There being no objection, William T. Veal was named appraiser. trator, bond $2,500 without surety. William J. Veal was named appraiser.

Estate of Theodore T. Picard. Petition received from the executor of the will for leave to transfer one-half interest in assets to the administrator with will annexed of the estate of Mary E. Picard. Petition received and continued to August 4th with order of notice.

The following court entry was directed, it appearing that Ruth M. Picard having an interest in the estate, the court directs that Samuel H. Davis act as guardian ad litem of the minor, legally incompetent to act.

Direction was also given that in the estate of Matthew McGrath, that an appearance be entered by James J. Sullivan, attorney of Boston, for the interests in the estate of Margaret McGrath Walsh, John J. Walsh and Michael L. Walsh.

ADD WESTERLY

Miss Minnie Haley of South Manchester, is the guest of Mrs. Frank Cella, in Pawcatuck.

Word was received from members of Battery E, 243rd C. A. C. (H. D.), who left Westerly Sunday for a 15-day tour of duty at Fort Wright, Fishers Island, was to the effect that the battery men arrived in New London at 11:30 o'clock and taking the government boat for the island, arrived there about 1 o'clock. A parade was made from the boat to quarters, with Battery E leading. On reaching E street the battery fell out. Tents were pitched in the afternoon and the battery was kept busy policing and arranging tents until 6 p. m., when they had mess.

Battery E was generally commented on as to the officers and men showing up in superior manner. In official bulletin No. 1, by order of Col. C. L. D. Wells, details were given, Lieut. Charles G. Neely, of Westerly, as officer of the day from 7 p. m., July 19, until July 20 at 7 p. m., the guard being selected from the regiment by Adjutant Moore. Guard inspection by Lieut. Neely found Battery E detail 100 per cent. Guard mounting was the only other ceremony of the day.

COLLISION DISCLOSES BOOZE IN A PROVIDENCE CAR

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WESTERLY, July 21.—With the rear end of a nearly new Buick coupe filled with several hundred gallons of alleged alcohol, Giuseppe Boulli, giving his address as 416 Broadway, Providence, was taken into custody, Tuesday morning, about 11:30 o'clock on West Broad street, Pawcatuck, by Patrolman Vernon A. Burdick and locked up in the Liberty street jail. The roadster registered 55-347 R. I., in the name of Ferdinand Simonini of 73 Pemberton street, Providence, was then driven to the lockup and the gallon and 5-gallon tins containing the "alki" were transferred to another cell and placed under lock and key by Officer Burdick.

The arrest of Boulli was brought about in a peculiar way. A Dodge touring car with registration 50-982 R. I., was being driven down West Broad street by Mae F. Crowley, of 40 Tecumseh street, Providence, and as she turned into Hillside avenue the cars collided, resulting in a smashed left fender and running board on the touring car, while the roadster had a twisted front fender and the right forward wheel spokes were scored. The driver of the roadster told the woman who operated the Dodge car to go to a garage and have repairs made and he would pay the bill. This the woman refused to do until she had called an officer.

When Officer Burdick looked over the car he smelled the alki and raising the rear and taking off the newspaper and cardboard covering the bright and shiny sealed cans were discovered by him. One of the cans had the top punched and the little zephyr wafted from it was fatal to the others. Town Solicitor George R. McKenna made an investigation and directed that Boulli, who, it was reported, had the automobile without the owner's knowledge of its mission, be held. Attorney John F. Gallagher was secured to represent Boulli.

In the Stonington town court Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, Boulli will be presented before Judge William A. Wilcox on a possible complaint of transporting the nearly 200 gallons of alleged alcohol contained in the twenty-five 5-gallon and fifteen or twenty gallon cans.

COLCHESTER

Arthur H. Chapman was a visitor in Hartford Monday.

A number from town went to Middletown Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Julia Smith.

Tony Rutka was a caller in Salem Monday.

Timothy O'Connell of East Haddam was in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Nutter, of Whitinsville, Mass., were guests of Mrs. Nutter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Roper, on Amston avenue, over Sunday.

It is expected that the work of putting on the cement on Norwich avenue from Chapman's corner on the corner of Norwich avenue and South Main street will begin the last of this week, as the grading and filling is nearly completed.

Charles Jones of East Hampton was in town Monday.

Supervisor James Frost and family are spending a part of the summer vacation with relatives in Maine.

UNDER BONDS FOR ASSAULT—CART STAKE HIS WEAPON

(Special to the Bulletin.)

COLCHESTER, July 21.

Joseph and Stanley Savitsky were arrested Monday evening by Officer John Riley, for assault with intent to kill on Joseph Havaskiewicz, the assault was committed on the plaintiff's land, and he was badly cut about the head and has numerous bruises on the body, a cart stake was used by Savitsky in the assault. A daughter of Harasklewicz, Julia, was struck on the head and received a bad cut. Dr. Howland was called to dress the wounds. Joseph and Stanley were brought before Justice Baker and were put under $2,000 bonds for their appearance at a hearing to be held Saturday, July 25. Haraskiewicz was so badly injured that he was unable to appear Monday evening.

ROCKVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irish, of Providence, returned home Thursday, after spending a few days with relatives here.

Wilfred E. Baker and Frank M. Hill are taking a vacation motor trip.

Miss Jennie McPherson, of Providence, is the guest of Mrs. Jennie Boss at Ferndale.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Irish were callers at Hillcrest camp, at Tawgoo Pond, Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Annie E. Kenyon and son Leslie called on the former's mother, Mrs. Mary F. Barber at Woody Hill, Friday evening. Miss Barber, who was taken severely ill a few days ago, seems somewhat better.

Mrs. Myrtle Burdick and daughter, Miss Maida Burdick, of Stamford, Conn., who are spending the summer at Quonochontaug beach, were callers at Maple Dell Thursday afternoon.

Palmer Hopkins, the last remaining Civil War veteran, in this vicinity, is seriously ill.

Mrs. Josiah C. Palmer and infant son returned home Sunday night from a two weeks' visit with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren A. Tucker.

Paul B. Irish is very feeble.

Mrs. Diantha Kenyon of Westerly is the guest of Miss Elva Woodmansee.

Mrs. Jennie Boss has returned home from a visit with friends in Westerly.

Arthur G. Burdick, of New London and Edwin Burdick of Westerly were callers Sunday at Elmer E. Kenyon's.

Lucie and Julia Irish have returned home from a visit with Miss Sylvia Lanphear in Westerly.

Mrs. Erlo N. G. Barber spent Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Harry Lewis, at Woody Hill.

Leslie Kenyon was in Westerly, Monday.

Women confess their imperfections to priests. Conceivably that's why they never marry.

"Darwinian Theory As Dead As The Dodo"

So claims George McCready Price, M. A. Professor of Geology at Union College, Nebraska, who claims that the Darwinian Theory of organic evolution is all wrong, and the most hopelessly pessimistic of the world's prophets, were those who had adopted and assimilated it. He is confident that in the year 1925, problems now rising will show the literal truthfulness of the first chapters of Genesis. Professor Price's statements are exceedingly interesting, partly due to his being a noted Geologist, and also the interest in the Scopes trial at Dayton, Tenn.

Warning

to seekers of beauty

When your complexion is at stake, use a soap made solely to foster good complexions

PALMOLIVE Soap is made for ONE purpose only . . . to foster good complexions. It is not intended for laundry work. Not even for fine fabrics. It is a skin soap alone. To protect your skin, that is the only kind of soap that you should use.

In old days, women were told, "use no soap on your faces." For soaps were too harsh. Then Palmolive came. A soap made of cosmetic oils. A soap made to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

Women tried it, and were amazed. They told others—and better complexions resulted. Palmolive soon became the leading toilet soap of the world. In France, home of cosmetics, it became a leader. French women largely discarded French soaps for Palmolive. Today Palmolive Soap is one of the two largest selling toilet soaps in France.

That is because Palmolive is a unique creation, based on 60 years of soap study A soap made solely to guard your youthful charm.

For laundry work, get soap other than Palmolive.

But on your skin, don't expect the cosmetic results of Palmolive from any soap claimed to be good for all purposes . . . No "jack-of-all-trades" soap should be used for your complexion.

Don't let anyone mislead you into believing that ordinary toilet soaps, or cleansing soaps, will bring you Palmolive results. They won't—no ordinary soap can.

There are soaps at 25 cents and over, which approach Palmolive in results. But Palmolive sells for 10 cents . . . no more than ordinary soaps. Enormous production brings you this modest cost.

Wash, launder, cleanse with any soap you wish. But when beauty is at stake, take care. Use Palmolive, a soap you know is safe to use. It is nature's formula to "Keep That Schoolgirl Complexion."

THE PALMOLIVE COMPANY
(Del. Corp.)

For Germs

Soaps to "destroy" germs should be used only by advice of a physician. All soaps "remove" germs to a certain degree. Palmolive will "remove" germs as well as any soap safe for toilet use.

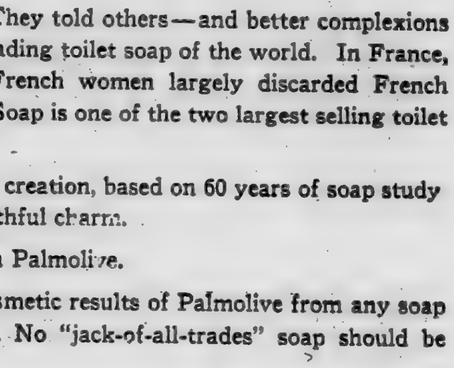
The real difference in soaps is in their action on your skin. Some are too harsh, others crudely blended. Palmolive Soap is a unique creation, a blend of rare cosmetic oils; a soap made for one purpose only, to foster good complexions. Don't expect Palmolive complexion results from any strong "medicated" soap, from any "jack-of-all-trades" soap, from any soap claiming alike for fabric washing and the skin.

Soap from Trees

The only oils in Palmolive Soap are the soothing beauty oils from the olive tree, the African palm and the coconut palm—and no other fats whatsoever.

That is why Palmolive Soap is the natural color that it is—for palm and olive oils, nothing else, give Palmolive its green color!

The only secret to Palmolive is its exclusive blend—and that is one of the world's priceless beauty secrets.



Note carefully the name and wrapper. Palmolive is never sold unwrapped.

2871—I

EAST WOODSTOCK

Mrs. N. T. White entertained her cousins, Miss Gertrude Mofatt and Mrs. Ethel Smith and family of South Hadley, Mass., last week, returning home with them for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Allen of Manchester are guests of L. H. Lindeman and family this week.

Walter and Henry Clemens spent Sunday with relatives in Dayville.

Mrs. Nellie Clemens and son Maurice of Stockbridge, Mass. are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. C. Potter.

Mrs. Sarah Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Osten and Miss Olive Jackson of Norwich, spent Sunday with Harrison Cady and family. Mrs. Cady accompanies them home for a visit of two weeks, the ladies being the mother and sisters respectively of Mrs. Cady.

Mrs. Jennie C. Wood with her son-in-law and daughter and Miss Martha Cutting, of Stirbridge, Mass., recently called on Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Spiess and two sons, of Wallaston, Mass. Mrs. Charles E. Bunce, of South Manchester, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. May Saturday. The Spiess family had been spending a vacation of two weeks in the White Mountains and with relatives in South Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Upham and son, Everett, Jr., returned to West Newton, Mass., Sunday, after spending nearly three weeks at the Upham home, the men assisting with the hay-ing during their stay.

HEBRON

Mr. and Mrs. George Kibbee returned to their home in Somers Friday, having been the guest of the latter's brother, Frank Raymond and Mrs. Raymond.

Fred Brelaut and family have moved into the lower tenement of the house owned by Randall Tennant.

The women's society of the Congregational church has been invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Raymond, Thursday afternoon.

Frank Bissell of East Hampton spent the week end at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. O. Seyms.

The American Legion plans to give a dance in the town hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Raymond spent the week end in Canterbury, guests of Mrs. Raymond's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dean.

Mrs. Roger Porter who is spending the summer at Giant's Neck, left Saturday noon by automobile for a five days' trip to the Adirondacks.

A piano recital was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lord, Friday evening, by Austin Warren Dean of St. Peter's summer school, assisted by James Martin soloist of East Hartford.

The members of the Hebron Fair association met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Daniel Way. Professor Brundage from Storrs College gave an interesting talk on Town Fairs.

Reading becomes a passion with some men—when they read their wife's dressmaker's bills.

MOHEGAN

There was a good attendance at the Sunday morning service.

Miss Elizabeth Eslane Sturgis, of New London, was the guest of Miss Ruth Quidgeon Sunday.

Lemuel M. Fielding and grand son of Norwich, called on friends here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nonsuch of Groton were here Sunday, calling on friends.

American veterans of Lafayette Escadrille, volunteer corps that will fight for France in Morocco, will leave Paris, for Rabat, during the week's end. At the Moroccan port they will be organized into a flying corps nominally under the authority of the [illegible] ton.

1796 1925

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

129 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday.
Subscription price 12c a week; 50c a month; $6.00 a year.
Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.
Telephone Calls:
Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-3.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-2.
Willimantic Office, Main St., Telephone 1131.

Norwich Wednesday, July 22, 1925

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

Daily Average Circulation
WEEK ENDING JULY 18, 1925:
12,829

THE COAL CONTROVERSY

In connection with the coal controversy and the possibilities of a strike the suggestion is made that instead of waiting until the first of September that arbitration be resorted to now.

The aim is, of course, to bring about a peaceful adjustment in accordance with the facts and with some consideration for the consumers, the adjustment to be made while there is still an agreement between miners and operators. This would serve to offset the claim that the mining of coal could not be continued without an agreement, for if the process is under adjustment during the next month and both sides have agreed to abide by the outcome it is perfectly evident that there is no excuse whatever for the stopping of mining the first of September.

When mining is stopped it serves to accentuate the situation. There is an additional lever brought to bear. It is pressure which is intended to accomplish the results aimed at, but without regard for the effect it has upon the consumer except that it is a demonstration of strength and thus open to the interpretation of being an advantage for those who disregard the welfare of the public.

Only one thing would seem to stand in the way of arbitration now, if it were so that both sides would agree to it, and that is that no one knows that some agreement will not be reached within the next month. It is true that the indications do not point that way, but this might be dealt with in future cases by the stipulation that unless a new agreement is reached a month or six weeks before the existing one is about to expire that arbitration be resorted to at that time for the purpose of getting a new agreement under way through arbitration in time to ward off a strike.

It is no secret as to what the past has done for the coal user because of the methods which have been employed either in stopping production or in boosting the price of the fuel. And in spite of that injustice there hasn't as yet been any steps taken that give any assurance that the public will not be subjected to the same treatment within a few weeks. The cards, in fact, seem to be stacked for the continuance of past practices.

USING RIGHT TO VOTE

Frequently the remark is made that if the right to vote is worth having it ought to be exercised, and that those who are made voters should be required to go to the polls and vote. The idea of compulsory voting has its supporters elsewhere and it was given a trial in Argentina where such a law was enacted. In a recent election under this law there were more who failed to vote than cast their ballots for the two leading candidates in a field of five. Compulsory voting did not develop that interest in elections which it was expected to. Neither did it apparently put any fear of being penalized in those who were disposed to remain away from the polls.

Making a person do something of that kind which he does not want to has its difficulties, and while there were many who remained away from the polls in the Argentina election there is never an election held but what large numbers are deprived of their right to vote when if there was an absentee voting law it would be exercised.

While there may be many obstacles in the way of getting a person to the polls and forcing him to vote, the idea of making it possible for all those who want to vote, but for various reasons are prevented from doing so, is entitled to proper consideration.

Numerous states in this country have put into operation an absentee voting law, whereby those who know they cannot be at home on election day need not be deprived of their right to vote. Perhaps no one of them can be regarded as perfect, but the tests which have been made are such as to make it possible to pick out the good points and avoid the bad, to improve the strong and eliminate the weaknesses and provide the means for voters to cast their ballots without sacrificing a whole day's employment, going to large expenses to return to the state or city or abandoning voting because of the inability to be in two places at the same time. There may well be proper encouragement given to all who want to vote.

All voters should vote but there's doubt as to the wisdom of forcing voters to vote.

DEFENSE AGAINST AIRCRAFT

In connection with the discussion that has been waged over aircraft and the claim that it has made the battleship obsolete, attention was directed sometime ago to the fact that increased efforts were being made to increase the efficiency of the weapons which are employed against the aircraft. Thus the reports which the chief of staff, General Hines, has received concerning tests which have been made with anti-aircraft guns at different points adds new interest to the claims for they bolster up what has been persistently maintained that the guns for dealing with the flying machines have been undergoing improvements and that the latest in the way of such equipment is able to deal effectively with enemy aircraft.

According to one test where the target was being towed at a height of 6,000 feet and at the speed of 70 miles an hour the anti-aircraft gunners were able to score 25 hits in less than nine minutes. In another instance the target was at half that elevation and machine guns made 39 hits in about five minutes.

Some question may be raised over the fact that "hits" were regarded as such even though the shells may have burst 50 yards from the target, because of the destructiveness of such shells and this will probably enter into future discussions but the reports of recent tests show a marked difference from the results obtained when the anti-aircraft guns at Fortress Monroe were given a try out in the spring. Then the demonstration seemed to support the contention that the aircraft held naval vessels or fortresses at their mercy, that opposition from the ground was ineffective and that the future efforts should be devoted to the development of greater air forces. The more recent tests seem to uphold the claim that the former test was not made with the latest anti-aircraft guns and that our defense from such guns is better than previously disclosed. While there can be no disposition to minimize the importance of air craft it is also shown that the means of combating such is not being neglected.

THE TENNESSEE CASE

The decision in the Scopes case at Dayton, Tenn., was no more than was expected. It was a direct vication of the law which had been enacted by the legislature of that state. It was deliberately done and the case was brought as a test of the validity of such a law.

Thus it becomes apparent that the verdict in this court is only the beginning of the fight that is to be carried on through the courts which will probably not rest until the opinion of the United States supreme court has been obtained. The contest will hinge of course on the question as to whether Tennessee has the right to pass a law such as forbids the teaching of evolution in the state. It is not a test of evolution, though it can be expected that much will be said in regard to it from both sides, but of the constitutional limitations of a legislature.

The contention of Scopes is that the law interferes with what he regards as his idea of academic freedom. He considers that his liberty is unjustly restricted and the rights of others are denied. There has been a lot of horse play, publicity stunts, playing to the gallery at Dayton which has created disgust.

Much of it amounts to nothing. So far as Scopes violating the law as it stands there is no question. The jury declares him guilty and he has been fined $100. The further question is whether the law is constitutional. If it is, the fine will stand. If it is not, it will be vacated and the law will become null and void. Till the final decision has been obtained it is presumed that Tennessee will insist upon the observance of the law.

A BAD RECORD

When Chicago faces the fact that there have been 400 fatalities from automobile accidents in that city within a period of 200 days, or at the rate of two a day, there is furnished good and sufficient reason why there should be put forth an insistent demand for an end to such slaughter.

Just where all the blame lies in these cases is not easily determined. It is probable that while the motorists may be charged with a good proportion of it there are others who cannot escape. We are living in a time when the easy going customs of pedestrians must be abandoned for more caution, and when there should be such a stand taken against recklessness that it would decrease instead of increase.

That Chicago record stands as a discredit to that city. When it is realized that 121 of those killed were little children it is to be realized that there is a chance for greatly increased parental responsibility. When it is noted that more than two thirds of the list of killed were pedestrians it emphasizes the necessity of giving due weight to street dangers, watching your step and looking well to the matter of self preservation.

It is to be remembered, while attention is being called to the deplorable situation in Chicago, that that city is by no means the only one where similar conditions prevail. The unfortunate part of it all is, however, that unless there is a general improvement in all directions, a concerted effort to strive for prevention instead of the causing of accidents, we can expect that the situation will grow worse instead of better as the years go on. And that is just what humanity should be anxious to avoid.

EDITORIAL NOTES

What goes up must come down. But if rubber drops back will it bound up again?

The man on the corner says: Beautiful weather has a wonderful effect on our temperament.

Lightning rod agents ought to be attracted by the chance to sell shock absorbers to California cities.

Something to worry about: A professor is now making the claim that the world is 1,200,000,000 years old.

Between the locomotive and the auto there is no longer any doubt as to which should get the right of way.

Secretary Work says he has no idea of resigning. That shows how well posted were those who made the prediction.

Those who complain of the cold weather are probably interested in the picture and stories about the trial in Tennessee.

Henry Ford likes to dance but only the old fashioned dances. Does he insist on the Ford rates for the orchestra and prompter?

General Pershing will not shirk a duty but he probably would not be unhappy if someone else was to be the umpire of the Tacna-Arica plebiscite.

DECIDING THE QUESTION

"Where shall we go for dinner before the show?" asked the tall young man who was responsible for the party.

"Oh, are we going to dinner, too?" beamed the fair young creatures, who knew perfectly well the theater included a dinner.

"Oh, anywhere will be just lovely," chortled the sweet young thing, who did not in the least really entertain such a generous sentiment.

"I'd like to find a brand-new place!" declared the particular young man, that when you begin a sentence you would be able to finish it without having a crash of sound blot it out! There is no telling how many budding romances have been squashed just because a fellow begins, 'Darling, I want to tell you,' and is interrupted by six saxophones and two bass drums exploding in one sudden blare.

"The interruption gives him time to think; he gets the sensation of having been rescued from drowning and even if the girl is determined and murmurs sweetly fifteen minutes later when the music stops, "What were you saying to me when they began playing?" just as like as not he is clever enough to insist that what he was saying was that she'd pull her hat down more over one eye—or something like that.

"The majority of men propose in a surge of emotion and it is fatal to run the moff the track because men are by nature cautious and a peculiar thing is that nine-tenths of them are likely to propose in the course of a tete-a-tete dinner—did you know that? Something about the combination of a lovely girl and a perfect meal is positively fatal to any masculine plans for a monastic existence or unhampered devotion to a life work! Of course this being a foursome, and both of you girls having practically turned us down previously we are not much concerned with this side of the question—"

"You can't tell!" said the sweet young thing speculatively. "No law out against repeaters! The Oompah cafe would be grand, only they have two orchestras and one begins as the other leaves off. But they do have a nice dancing floor!"

"And the food is good," said the tall young man.

"The last time I went to the Oompah," said the particular young man, "I was trying to entertain a beautiful cousin of my best friend. I had memorized several bits of repartee and conversational leads designed to cause her to look and listen. 'Er,' I would begin when the orchestra would shriek 'toodle-oo-oo.' 'As I was about to say,' I would recommence, and a rushing waiter would drop a tray of dishes all over the place. In desperation we danced. All that that girl could possibly remember about me was a tuxedo and proper tie all mixed up with steak and mushrooms and what's Become of Sally? and Swallow the Follow.

Th Beeswax is just as bad. In the midst of the most beautiful thought the jazz band begins rioting and the whole place is filled with desperate young men half arisen in their seats yelling things like 'your eyes are like stars,' 'be mine' and 'don't you love me even a little bit' to anxious young women who shriek 'What did you say, Edmund?'

"I don't know of any spot on earth where one can be more assured of being totally alone with his own thoughts than at the Beeswax, the Oompah or the Robin's Return. In the midst of all the cornets and saxophones, drums, dancing feet and crowds there is practically nothing one can do but commune with his inner consciousness, every once in a while coming up to the surface to wish he could say something to the beauteous creature opposite him.

"They are wonderful places for married couples to dine in, because there is no rhyme nor reason for the most unreasonable wife to complain that her husband never talks to her. The man can't. But he gets a little joy out of it because he can't listen to how the dressmaker spoiled her last gown and what shall she get for Annie's wedding present. So let's do something different! Where'll we go?"

Everybody looked expectantly at everybody else.

"Oh, well," the particular young man admitted glumly, "we might as well go to the Oompah—this is a heck of a world so far as restaurants are concerned!"—Exchange.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Present Age

Mr Editor: When any criticism is offered upon the opinions, fashions or follies of the present day, we are met with this apology—"We are now living in a new age!" "The times are different now"—and by these are meant that we are not only in a different age, but in a much superior age. Questioned down to facts we are informed that this new superior age had its beginnnig in the Great World War—(Not so long ago)—and that everything pre-war is to be rated and berated as crude and antiquated; and according to the modern moderns, everything secular and religious has been emancipated from the crude state, and we have entered into a space of clearer light and activity.

The design of this letter is iconoclastic, and is an effort to explode this bubble or to prompt some believer in the bubble to give us a better reason for enduring their explanation or giving homage to the bubble and sparing it.

It is a sad thing for one to get out of sympathy with the age in which he lives, yet this has been the case with greater men than this writer.

Erasmus called the 16th century "That excrement of the times."

Bossuet characterized the 17th century as "A time wicked and small."

Rousseau termed the 18th century "This great rottenness in which we live."

The conceit of the present few years of pride may properly gain for our age the title "The age of presumption and assumption." No former age has felt itself so ardently satisfied as to put everything it had in the superlative degree, as this age has and does.

The assumption consists in rating this not only superior to all that is past, but it is the beginning of an era that is to continue its superiority. A prelate from the old world—Dean Inge—tells us that the world's next prophet will be a dramatist and in this, Dean Inge himself plays the part of prophet. The drama is to give new and forceful impetus to education and religion. Withdrawing its former antipathy to the theatre, we are told, that the church is already in a small way preparing itself with amateur theatricals and that the staid university of Yale is about to erect a building dedicated to dramatic instruction.

Yale has already a chair for biblical interpretation.

With all due respect for this old world prediction, we beg to inform the prophet—if he will receive it, that the "dramatic prophet" has already come and gone—and though we are not a prophet, nor the son of a prophet, we predict that the present, or any age is unlikely to duplicate Shakespeare, let alone surpass him.

With the theatre much more in evidence than in former times, we call attention to the absolute loneliness of the stage, for want of one to interpret Shakespeare. Where now are the Macreadys, the Edwin Forrests and the later Booths? Where are the Charlotte Cushmans and the Laura Keenes?

In poetry, where are the Homers and the Virgils? In eloquence the orations of the ancient Demosthenes are yet our copies.

We are not producing many John Bunyans in our local prisons and as to the pulpit do we find among us many Whitfields and Wesleys?

What, even, are we getting from the stage with four or five times as many theatres as in former days? Flickerings on a screen, in place of real flesh and blood legitimate acting.

"The sudden images of vanished things," as Mrs. Hemans might express it.

Even coming down to fashion, and the exhibition of nude forms. Venus is yet the highest type of the human female, and in every statue of her that is extant, we see a chaste delicacy expressed in attitude and draping, that puts to shame the nude exposures of our modern Naiads.

Yet the theatre today has more performances and attracts a bigger crowd, and receives more plaudit and stamping than ever—and, need we say, sways the popular mind as never before, and we fear not always for good.

But the time would fail us to name the Gideons and Samsons of the past, of David and Samuel and real prophets, who through faith, subdued kingdoms and brought righteousness and left us examples we should profit in following. However, we may rest here, trusting that a word in season may profit.

JOHN TROLAND

Norwich, July 21, 1925.

Who is to Blame?

Mr. Editor: A correspondent is desirous to know who is to blame for the accidents at Bishop's crossing? It is in point to tell him that the blame rests entirely on the drivers of autos who seem incapable of learning the lesson that this and other crossings are trying to teach them almost daily. No legislative provision can protect the roads against the persistent recklessness of drivers who, knowing their own, and the risk of others, disregard both. Neither gate, gate-man nor bridge can avail, when disregard of self-protection, which heretofore has been considered the first law of nature, exerts no influence.

Railroads and trolleys run upon some kind of a published schedule, but the autoist has no schedule but his own convenience. Trains are confined to hours and to rails, but the auto is a flying comet with no orbit nor destination but the will of the party at the wheel. When they don't run into the locomotives they run off a bridge, an embankment or into each other, and who is to blame surely? The courts are mostly busy trying to decide which? Until the autoists themselves learn some common sense, I am afraid we will have to endure the accidents. It is indeed a sad, lamentable prospect, but it is here with us.

A PEDESTRIAN

Norwich, July 21, 1925.

Today's Anniversaries

1704—Gibraltar was taken by an English and Dutch force under Sir George Rooke.
1841—Amherst college conferred the degree of LL. D. on John Tyler, president of the United States.
1846—A regiment of Illinois volunteers embarked at Alton for the war with Mexico.
1862—One hundred and fifty convicts escaped from the California state prison; three killed and 32 wounded in their recapture.
1869—John A. Roebling, designer of the Brooklyn Bridge, died in Brooklyn. Born in Prussia, June 12, 1806.
1878—The Earl of Beaconsfield was invested with the Order of the Garter by Queen Victoria.
1908—Prince of Wales (King George V.) arrived at Quebec to attend the tercentenary celebration.
1923—President Harding and his party arrived at Sitka, Alaska.
1924—Federal Trade Commission ordered the United States Steel Corporation to abandon the Pittsburgh plus system of determining the price of steel.

Today's Birthdays

Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., son of the late President Grant, born at Bethel, Ohio, 73 years ago today.

Rear Armiral Edward R. Stitt, a former surgeon-general of the U. S. Navy, born at Charlotte, N. C., 63 years ago today.

Thomas E. Wilson, a prominent figure in the Chicago packing industry, born at London, Ont., 57 years ago today.

Joseph L. Bristow, former United States senator from Kansas, born in Wolfe county, Ky., 61 years ago today.

Man proposes and the heirs dispose. Some people give advice merely because they wish to get rid of it.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

The Rt. Rev. John T McNicholas, who has been appointed archbishop of Cincinnati, will take rank as one of the youngest members of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in the United States, as he was also one of the youngest bishops in the world when he became head of the Duluth diocese seven years ago. A native of Ireland, the future bishop was brought to America in his infancy and received his early education in various Catholic institutions in Philadelphia, Ohio and Kentucky. Subsequently he went to Rome to complete his theological studies and was ordained in 1901. For some years he served as instructor in various Dominican institutions and for eight years he was engaged in organization work for the Holy Name Society. Being the only Dominican bishop in the United States, he is permitted to wear the pure white robes of his order, instead of the usual purple of episcopacy.

From Small Beginnings

John Hughes, the Irish Lad, Civil War Representative

In the Civil war, it was exceedingly necessary for the United States to maintain friendly relations with the people of Europe. To bring this about various men were sent abroad, as Benjamin Franklin was sent to France at the time of the Revolution. Henry Ward Beecher spoke with great effect in England. A man who did especial service in France, and, incidentally, in Italy and in Ireland, in 1861, was John Hughes, the first Archbishop of New York. With rare personal power and great, good nature, John Hughes, who had come to the United States as a poor immigrant, spoke for the land of his adoption.

"It's poor I am," he had said as a boy in Ireland, "but even a poor man can have learnin'." John Hughes procured every book he could, and studied in the hours when his fellow workers were idly talking and resting. He heard many people talk of success of men who had gone to America, and he resolved to go to that land where, they said, one could find every opportunity. John Hughes was a raw, uncouth boy of 20 when he stood on the steamship and came into the great harbor of the new land. It was the year 1816, and there was work enough then for any man who was willing to work hard. The country was to be developed, cities were to be made and great causes were to be debated. John Hughes had strong arms and a ready tongue. He found work as a common laborer and used his muscles to advantage. At the same time he kept up a lively line of talk and debate. Then, at 23, he went to college and studied for the priesthood. He rose rapidly in the Church and became not only a bishop but also the first Archbishop of New York. He founded colleges and orphan asylums and did much good work. He became a great orator and spoke on public questions.

His energy, his unusual power of speech, his burning patriotism, made him the man to send to France to speak for the United States in her moment of need.

Stories That Recall Others

In Buddy's Family

Buddy is a little boy of three with some very wise sayings. Like many others he is sometimes naughty and he is sometimes punished. A few days ago he was visiting at the home of one of his girl playmates. This girl was an only child and although she was sometimes haughty she was not punished very many times. She was at the time of Buddy's visit, exceptionally bad and her mother wishing to quiet her said to Buddy, "Marjorie is naughty today, isn't she Buddy?"

"Uh huh, if she was one of my mother's children she would get whippin'," said Buddy knowingly.

Hair Lubricants

Things are certainly not what they used to be. One who had left high school behind some years ago was visiting a friend whose greatest possession is a trio of children, all of high school age. The children were on the porch, not finding the conversation of their elders interesting to 16 year olds. All of a sudden there was an increased outburst in the porch hilarity as someone arrived to increase the porch party.

Coincidently with the arrival of the reinforcements the former high school pupil caught a whiff of something that made him think that the family cat had tumbled into a barrel of perfume and come home saturated. It was not like the family to have perfume so conspicuously spread about but it was unmistakable. It was not present until the last of the crowd had arrived. Sniffing the air once more he ventured to change his sniff to a remark in the nature of a question. "What was that smell?"

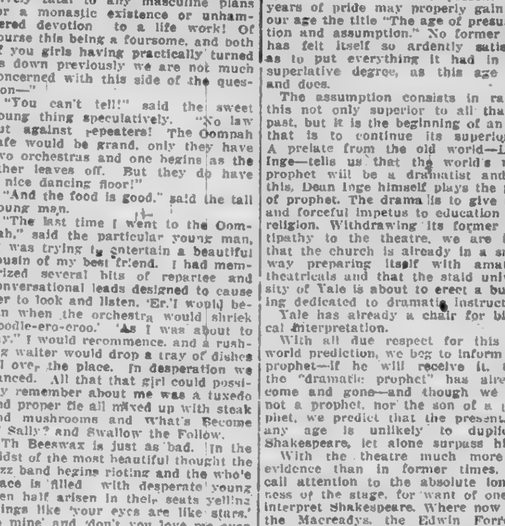
"Oh," said the hostess, "that's just the dope the boys put on their hair. In pioneer days it used to be bear grease, I'm told; not so very, very many years ago it was vaseline; then came the various pomades that varnished the hair, odorless and not greasy; today, it is dressing, which seems to serve the purpose better if it is tinctured with considerable perfume."

Women will never be paid as much for lecturing as men because they do too much of it for nothing.

New Tariff Commissioner

Albertus H. Baldwin, recently appointed as Tariff Commissioner Mr Baldwin has been a public official almost continuously since 1884, when he became connected with the United States Fish Commission. He has also been connected with the Departments of Agriculture, Interior, Commerce and Labor and others. He became chief of the Bureau of Domestic and Foreign Commerce in 1912, and a few years later finds him in London as Commercial Attache. Besides his official duties, he has found time for much scientific research, and was awarded medals at various Expositions for scientific illustrations.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE



© THE INTERNATIONAL SYNDICATE.

HORIZONTAL
1—Illuminant
6—A fruit
10—Preposition
11—Point of compass
14—Article
15—Contraction of even
17—Arm of sea
18—A serpent
20—Move swiftly
21—Every
22—Short stick
23—Gone by
24—A pack
26—Southern State of U. S. (abbr.)
28—Boat propeller
30—Printer's unit
32—Tolerate
34—Pronoun
35—The stoat
38—European country
41—Poem
43—Egyptian sun god
43—Perform
44—Precious stone
45—Vipers
48—Make a mute signal
50—Man's name (familiar)
51—Mischievous sprites
53—Preposition
55—Epoch

HORIZONTAL (Cont.)
57—Consume
58—Stain
60—Black oily liquid
61—Ancient
62—Golf term
63—A sailor
64—Brownish color
66—Turn to the right
68—A horse
70—Preposition
72—Wild animals
74—Topographical Engineer (abbr.)
75—Strip of dried dough
76—Leopard-like animal

VERTICAL
1—Rough
2—One or any
3—Female deer
4—Half an em
5—A notable period
6—Interjection
7—Beast of burden
8—E. State of U. S. (abbr.)
9—Again
12—Flattened at the poles
13—A despot
15—Finish
16—Grab

VERTICAL (Cent.)
18—Bustle
19—Equality of value
25—Part of body
27—Musical note
29—Demand
31—Disk of metal
32—Trap
33—Pope
34—Wild animal
36—A color
37—Anger
39—Fabled bird
40—Self
46—Domestic animal
47—A sled
48—More desirable
49—Operates a lock
50—Achieve
52—S. State of U. S. (abbr.)
54—A lozenge
55—Skill
56—An age
58—Lair
59—Product of barnyard
65—Soccer
67—Sense organ
69—Yes
71—Negative
73—Happen
73—Thus
74—Preposition

Lubricate your Dollars

There are some motorists who attempt to save money by buying cheap oil. They little realize the false economy of such a practice.

Inferior and "doctored" oil may cost you from $50 to $150 a year extra. It costs real money to replace burned-out bearings. It is expensive business re-boring cylinders.

The consistent use of Socony Motor Oil is an investment in motor insurance against future repair bills.

The average consumption of motor oil per car is not over twenty gallons per year. Even if it costs an additional five cents a quart to get the genuine Socony Motor Oil, it would mean only $4 extra a year—and think of the money saved.

Insist upon Socony Motor Oil*; resist spurious and cheap imitations sold for a price.

Chassis Lubrication
Do not fail to lubricate periodically your chassis with Socony Gear Oil or Socony Gear Compound. It gives miles of added power.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY OF NEW YORK
26 Broadway

SOCONY MOTOR OIL

*There's a grade of Socony Motor Oil for every type of motor. Consult the Socony Lubrication Chart at your dealer's.

Remember that SOCONY is "Standard"

Cuticura Soap Is Refreshing After Outdoor Exercise

Warm baths with Cuticura Soap, after outdoor exercise, cleanse, cool and freshen the skin. Assisted by Cuticura Ointment they do much to allay irritation, redness and roughness of the face and hands and keep the skin soft and clear under all conditions of exposure.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 10Z, Malden, Mass." Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Messages from Mrs. Lucius Brown and Miss Alif Stevens are coming to home friends from the Old Waverly Hotel, in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Mrs. William B. May, of Irvington-on-the-Hudson, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Lee, of Broadway.

Miss Elizabeth C. Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Higgins, of Union street, is attending the University of Maine summer school, at Orono, Me.

Miss Carol MacGregory and Master Lester MacGregory, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are spending the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bennett, of Williams street.

Mrs. Joseph Henry Selden has with her at her home on Broadway, her grandchildren, Mary and Jane Selden and Master Joseph Henry Selden, during the absence for a fortnight at Lake Pocono, Penn., of their mother, Mrs. Henry Bill Selden, who is a guest at Manor Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Denison Gallaudet, of Jackson Heights, Long Island, formerly of Norwich, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Suzanne Gallaudet, and Nathan Dumont Potter, the New York sculptor. The wedding took place Saturday, June 27. Mr. and Mrs. Potter are residing in Greenwich, Conn.

HARTFORD MAN HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE

HARTFORD, July 21—(AP)—Raymond Moylan, 23 years old, of 52 Summer street, this city, was arrested here tonight in connection with the burglary and theft of $703 from the safe of the John Irving Shoe company, June 28. Moylan is the fourth man to be implicated in the crime in which Irwin Magee, of Springfield, former manager of the store, Ralph Dickerman, of Glastonbury, and Sven Gustafson, of this city, all of whom have been bound over to the next criminal term of the superior court. Moylan's arrest closes the case, the investigation of which took Detective Sergeant C. F. Koenig of the local police through three states.

INJUNCTION SOUGHT BY THE POSTER ASSOCIATION

Boston, July 21—(AP)—An injunction restraining the state authorities from interfering with the placing of billboards and other advertising devices is asked in a suit in equity filed by member companies in the Poster Advertising association of the United States in the federal court today.

The petitioning agencies, numbering about 20, said that their invested capital amounted to $50,000,000.

CHINESE JUNK AMOY IN PORT AT STRATFORD

STRATFORD, July 21—(AP)—The Chinese junk Amoy, owned by Henry Leroy Lewis, of Stratford, put into port here this afternoon from Bermuda, and was inspected by customs officials, after which she was allowed to go to her mooring off the Pootatuck Yacht club. The Amoy sailed from Bermuda, July 13, and after a voyage with very little rough weather rounded Montauk Point last evening. The junk was held up by the Coast Guard cutter Porter, which after seeing that her papers were all right gave her a clear passage.

BENDER GETS BACK INTO GAME ONCE MORE

CHICAGO, July 21—(AP)—Chief Bender, hero of world series games of the past, while a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, went to the pitching mound for the White Sox today in the ninth inning of the game with Boston. He walked Ruether and after two men had been retired Hayes drove a home run into the right field bleachers. When the third man fouled out, the Chief was given generous applause by the fans.

THE IDEAL WIFE AND MOTHER

She is the one who realizes health and happiness are ready for work or play, and what woman does not want to fill this role? When women are besieged by aches, pains, irregularities and mental depression they not only suffer themselves but create a gloomy atmosphere in the home. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the one dependable remedy to overcome such conditions. For three generations it has been restoring the women of America to health and strength.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

The school of nursing connected with the William W. Backus Hospital in Norwich, Conn., is now registering students for the September classes. This school is registered in Connecticut and the course of instruction is two years and four months given in a general hospital of 90 beds. Students must be graduates of grammar school and have one year of high school work. A new nurses' residence opened this year affords each student all of the comforts and conveniences of home.

For circular of information address Superintendent of Training School.

NOTICE!

If the owner of car that damaged doors to my garage on Talman street, Saturday noon, wants to avoid trouble, better call around as registration number is known.

GEO. E. HALL.

1784 1925

Norwich Wednesday, July 22, 1925

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7:45 (S. T.) this evening.

Saint Mary Magdelene is commemorated in the church calendar today, the 22nd.

The length of the day has decreased an even half hour, since the longest days in June.

It is in the air that Lieutenant C. F. Waters will be the next first lieutenant at the Submarine Base.

Repairs on the road from the Atlantic Beach casino to the bridge at Weekapaug have been completed.

The Babcock library, of Warrenville, in Knowlton Memorial hall, is open Saturdays from 2 to 9 o'clock.

The temperature kept below 72 degrees during Tuesday. The drizzle in the late afternoon was suggestive of dog days.

Former Norwich residents Mr. and Mrs. John McGlone, are building a bungalow on their land at Quonochontaug.

One Norwich millinery window is devoted exclusively to featuring the new shade of purple, which is a rich pansy tint.

At Montville, Miss Helen Lynch is having a two weeks' vacation from her duties at the New London City National bank.

Hope Rebekah Lodge picnic, Thurs. July 23, at Mohegan Park. Basket Lunch. Bus leaves bus terminal, Main street 12:30 d. s. t.—Adv.

Mrs. Edward Thompson and family, of Highland Park, Manchester, have returned from a week's stay at Pine Grove, Niantic.

Haberdashers here get the tip from visiting salesmen that purple is to be a leading tint in men's neckwear in the fall season.

At the mid-week service of the First Baptist church the topic will be, "The Kingdom of God." What is it? Where is it?

Mrs. L. O. Haskins and Miss Arline Haskins, of Scotland, returned recently from a trip of ten days along the Atlantic beaches.

The Connecticut shad catch was a big one this season and the same report comes from Delaware, where the catch was three times that of 1923.

The hay crop at Norwich Almshouse averages from 20 to 25 tons each season. Supt. Charles E. Ellis has stored about one-third of the crop to date.

At South Coventry, Mrs. Frank Williams and daughter, Anna, of Hartford, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene W. Latimer, and family.

Next Sunday the preacher at the Central Baptist church is to be Rev. Eugene C. Carder, associate pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, New York.

Fred Perkins of Uncasville, has commenced work for Victor Rosenlund, remodeling the barn recently purchased from Frank Craig into a seven-room house.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford, who have been spending several weeks at Attawaugan with Mr. and Mrs. William Yeomans, are now at The Weirs, New Hampshire.

Plans for the church school picnic on August 1st., are well under way at Flanders. It is to be held at Gardiner's Grove at Millstone instead of Giant's Neck as usual.

The net proceeds from the Village Junk shop, at Old Lyme, which closed with an auction Saturday, were over $1,000. This amount will be used for the general expenses of the public library.

The current Telephone Bulletin states that, at the New London exchange, before the middle of June toll tickets were up to 868 a day. That is 260 more than ever before at that time of year.

One of the successful growers of sweet peas this season is Mrs. Warren N. Allen, at her home near Poquetanuck, the dark and blended varieties in her garden being especially handsome.

A prominent resident of Portsmouth, Ohio, Alan Jordan, has been in correspondence with Mrs. E. E. Rogers, of Norwich, regarding families in which he is interested in this city, Lebanon and Voluntown.

Since Norwich is a city where velvet manufacturing holds an important place, there is interest in the announcement that velvets are to play a big part in evening wraps and coats, the coming season.

It is necessary in Connecticut to obtain a permit for burning brush from July 1, to Dec. 1. (Next year the law is in effect from March 1 to Dec. 1.) A permit must now be obtained for camp fires, as well as for brush fires.

At a meeting of the Mosup section of the St. John the Baptist society the most important action taken was the election of Rev. Oscar Normand and Joseph Robitaille delegates to the national convention at Holyoke, in October.

Passersby admire the recently completed bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Charbonneau, on West Thames street, where the attractive house is well set off by carefully laid out grounds, where decorative evergreens are most effective.

The W. T. Woodworth house next to Windham Center postoffice, has been sold to Rev. William Sandford, of Landsdowne, Pa., who will occupy it as a summer home after this year and will live there permanently when he retires from the ministry.

The Misses Buckley, Norwich Town residents, with their sister-in-law, Mrs. John Buckley, from Paterson, N. J., were passengers on steamer Martha Washington, which sailed from Brooklyn, N. Y., at 11 o'clock Tuesday for Mediterranean ports.

Authorities are set against "one arm" automobile drivers, but even more dangerous is the man noticed in Norwich Tuesday, who runs through Main street on a motorcycle while engaged in picking his teeth—a breach of etiquette, if nothing worse!

There is to be a civil service examination for assistant engineer, grade D.—Duties are supervision of subordinates in various lines of civil engineering depending upon the branch of the service to which the appointee may be detailed. The salary is $2,760 per annum and upward.

Guests at London Concert.

Norwich relatives of Henry J. LaFontaine received cards from that gifted musician Tuesday, stating that he had had a most unusual experience while in London. Charles J. Dyer and Mr. LaFontaine were guests of Joseph Schwartz, the Russian baritone, of the Chicago Opera company, at his big concert in Covent Garden, when he sang in the opera "Rigoletto." The singer is touring Europe and is meeting with great acclaim. He has his mother with him and she, too, was at the concert when the Verdi opera was given.

A Spaniard believed to be 116 years old who died recently at San Vicente, had never seen an automobile or train.

PERSONALS

George Clune, of Norwich, has been in New York for several days this week, on business.

Don Houghton is the guest of F. Leon Hutchins at his camp at Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grebe of Norwich spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hochschild, of Mystic.

Miss Frieda Thoma of Prospect Park is at the Elberon cottage at Pleasant View, R. I. for a week.

Miss Helen G. Kahn, who is attending Yale summer school in New Haven, spent the week-end at her home in Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carney and son, Goodwin, of 49 Church street, are at Hampton Beach, N. H., to spend two weeks.

Miss Julia C. Stevens of Yantic is spending her vacation with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dawson of Bridgeport.

Ralph P. Stillman, baggagemaster at Saybrook Junction was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Stillman in Norwich Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ennis and son, Sheldon, of Danielson, have been at the home of Mrs. Ennis' father, Charles Turner, in Chaplin.

Cards have been received from Rev. Miss Lydia Hartig, of Goshen, who is in Portland, Ore., attending the Christian Endeavor convention.

Among students from Mansfield at Yale summer school are Miss Hattie Johnson and Miss Marion Cullon. Mrs. Mary T. Allen is also attending lectures there.

Dr. John C. Hinrichs of Norwich Town left Tuesday evening for Davenport, Iowa, where he will spend the next two weeks on business and pleasure combined.

Mrs. Joseph S. Jones, who spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Hayden and family of Norwich, has returned to the home of her brother, Judson Davis in Providence.

Mrs. George W. Hyde, of Shetucket street, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hyde, of Webster, Mass., also visited in Pittsfield and Worcester.

Friends of Superintendent Rev. M. E. Genter from New York, with the Genter children, Paul and Ruth, of Norwich, have been in the Elderage on Norwich avenue at the Camp Ground for a week.

Mrs. Emanuel Anderson, with daughter Elsie, of 49 Sachem street, have been guests for the past week, of Mrs. Aldrich Johnson, at Westview cottage, Groton Long Point. They are now visiting with Mrs. Carl E. Berkoff at No. 13 Fourteenth street.

OBITUARY

John Rathbone.

Following an illness of some duration the death of John Rathbone occurred Monday evening at 7:50 o'clock in Preston. Mr. Rathbone had been in poor health for several years and about six months ago his condition became worse, resulting in his death Monday.

Born in Montville, February 16, 1847, the son of Henry and Emily Benjamin Rathbone, he spent his boyhood in Montville and Colchester, where he received his schooling. For a number of years he followed his trade as a carpenter but after moving to Norwich he conducted a picture framing business for several years, later owning and operating a fruit and confectionery store on Main street. For a number of years past Mr. Rathbone resided in Bozrah, where he owned a fine farm. He had led a retired life during recent years.

Mr. Rathbone was married December 5, 1888, to Miss Emily F. Preston, of Putnam, the wedding taking place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chaffee in this city, Rev. B. Henry Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

He was a member of the Salem Baptist church for many years, later becoming a member of the Leffingwell Baptist church. In both churches he was a tireless worker as long as health permitted. News of his death will be received with sorrow by a host of friends in Norwich and in surrounding towns, where he was well known. Of pleasing disposition he readily made friends and he will be missed by them as well as by members of his family, who will have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

Surviving besides his wife are two sons, John Howard and Charles Loren Rathbone, of Bozrah; a brother, Charles A. Rathbone, of Norwich, and several nieces and nephews of this city.

WEDDING

Donohue-Kilcollum.

Miss Mary J. Kilcollum, daughter of Michael J. Kilcollum, of Norwich, and George Donohue, also of Norwich, were married Monday morning at 6 o'clock at the Sacred Heart church in Groton. Rev. William J. Fox, the pastor, solemnized the marriage, relatives being in attendance.

FUNERAL

Andrew Peterson.

The body of Andrew Peterson, of Hartford, who died Monday in this city, was taken to South Woodstock, Tuesday morning, by Church & Allen, where a committal service was conducted at 11:30 o'clock at the grave in South Woodstock cemetery. Rev. H. D. Baker read the committal service. Relatives and friends attended and there were beautiful floral pieces.

Eighteenth Birthday Party

About thirty friends of Miss Mildred Blake, daughter of Mrs. George Blake of 35 Thames street, gathered at her home Monday evening in honor of her 18th birthday. The evening was pleasantly spent in playing games, with music and stunts. The young hostess received best wishes for many happy birthdays and numerous presents from her guests. Refreshments were served during the evening by Mrs. Blake.

ECUADOREAN POLITICIANS HAVE BEEN EXILED

QUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, July 21.—(AP)—Five prominent Ecuadorean politicians have been exiled by military order.

General Leonidas Plaza, former president of the republic, and his family have departed for San Francisco. Lorenzo Tous has been sent to Spain and Manuel Tama, former minister of the interior, Baquerizo Moreno, former minister to Uruguay, and Gustavo Chanange have left for Callao, Peru.

EMPLOYES AGREE TO WORK OVERTIME WITHOUT PAY

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 21.—(AP)—Employes of James Pender & Co., Ltd., a subsidiary of the British Empire Steel corporation, have agreed to work overtime without pay, to enable the company to compete with foreign manufacturers in export markets.

The condition was made by the workmen that, should profit accrue under the arrangement, it will be shared between the company and the employes on a 75-25 per-cent. basis. The big end of the division going to the men.

A woman's idea of wrong is something a man does that would be a mistake if she did it herself.

COURT DECLINES TO APPROVE SALE OF UNCAS PAPER BOARD

The Uncas Paperboard company plant in Thamesville will be run as usual by Frank W. Browning, receiver, who was recently extended time of receivership until the latter part of October, as Judge Allyn L. Brown stated in superior court here Tuesday morning, that the matter of sale would be held in abeyance until after the court convenes again in September.

This action was taken by the court when creditors of the company, whose claims aggregated $553,000, did not favor the sale under the price offered, feeling that certain eastern paperboard manufacturers wished to buy the Uncas Paperboard company in order to junk the plant and relieve competition in business. The bids were low and would have amounted to about 30 cents on the dollar at the most. It was believed that it would be to the best interests of all that Receiver Frank W. Browning of Montville be allowed to continue running the plant and the two offers made, be turned down at this time.

The first bid read off in the hearing of Judge Brown, by Arthur T. Keefe, counsel for the receiver, was that of the Robert Gair company and associates, whose bid for the plant and equipment, with the inventories of the place and accounts receivable, was $250,000.

This bid would have given creditors exactly 30 cents on the dollar, according to the notice sent out to creditors.

The second bid was for $225,000, submitted Tuesday by C. F. Dalzell, representing the Mary Investment company, of Providence, was also read. The offer of the Robert Gair company and associates was for a cash payment and certain restrictions as to a good and valid deed, etc., were connected with both sides.

Having reference to the balance sheet of June 20 of the company, Attorney Arthur T. Keefe read off the computations by which 30 cents on the dollar could be paid to creditors.

There are $475,000 of common claims against the company. The plant at a recent appraisal was appraised for $1,400,000. The receiver's counsel went into the matter of the largest litigants against the company of which some were the following:

The Norwich Savings society of this city has a claim for $147,000 on a mortgage on the place. The trustees of the old Ironsides Board Corporation have a claim for $50,000, they claiming that James E. Smith did not purchase certain machinery in the plant, and that he, therefore, did not have the right to pass title to the machinery to the Uncas Paperboard company, when the corporation was formed. The Downington Manufacturing Co., of Pennsylvania, has a claim in for $32,000.

There is insurance on the plant for $1,203,800. The receiver assumed his duties on March 14, last, and the first month showed a profit of $10,000, the second month a loss of $2,700, while the third month a profit of $3,800 was shown. By the balance sheet of June 20, a profit of $11,000 was shown. It is expected for the past months accountants will show that the plant operated at a profit of $1,000.

Attorney Frank E. McGuire of New London asked Attorney Arthur T. Keefe if the offer submitted was an adequate one, and it was stated that the bid was not adequate in view of the fact that some of the creditors feel that more money should be got for the plant, and that it has been operating at a profit. Attorney McGuire brought out that a more advantageous time to sell would be in the fall, when the paperboard business was at its height.

There are about 180 claimants of $100 and less. Some of the largest creditors are: the H. G. Craig & Co., Ltd., $250,000; Thames National bank, $50,000; New England Oil and Refining Co., $62,000; Downington Manufacturing Co., of Pennsylvania, $32,000; Kelly and Co., Inc., $20,000. James E. Smith, the president of the Uncas Paperboard Co., claimed $72,000 partly in money invested, and the remainder in back salaries.

But one witness took the stand, Receiver Browning telling the court that the board business had been poor for the past few months and that the demand was small. He stated that overproduction had caused the close down of a number of mills, thus resulting in a drop in the price of paperboard. He looked for better conditions from now on, he said, usual in the fall season.

Appearing as counsel for the Thames National bank, a creditor of the company, Attorney C. V. James cross-examined Mr. Browning, bringing out that the sale of the plant was advertised in but one magazine, this going to a selected class of manufacturers. The sale was not advertised in a regular trade journal. Mr. Browning stated that no results which could be brought before the court were made as a result of this advertising.

During the period you operated the plant there was a period of depression, was a question put by Attorney James, to which he received an assenting answer. Attorney James argued that the receiver should be allowed to continue running the plant for if he could show a profit in bad times, the future should hold out brighter prospects.

Large creditors, when asked to speak on the matter of the sale of the plant, spoke briefly to Judge Brown. Speaking for the Thames National bank, Attorney James said that the offer was inadequate; that the offer of 30 cents on the dollar would result in a 20 per cent payment when various expenditures are taken from the sale price. He closed his remarks by stating that the bank is opposed to the offers, as absurd, and he urged that Receiver Browning be allowed to continue operating the plant.

Mr. Searles of the New England Oil and Refining company stated that the bid was too low and objected on this ground. E. A. Westfall, appearing for the H. G. Craig Co., Ltd., stated that his firm had confidence in the receiver and the counsel for the receiver, suggesting that the bids be turned down and the receiver allowed to continue operation.

Attorney Edmund W. Perkins, counsel for the Downington Manufacturing Co., of Pennsylvania, stated that the bid was inadequate and that the bid was that of a combination of paperboard manufacturers of the east, whose purpose was the junking of the Norwich plant to relieve competition. He opposed the sale.

The law firm of Hull, McGuire & Hull, of New London, appearing for the Kelly company, Mr. Smith and numerous other claimants against the Uncas Paperboard company, through Attorney Frank L. McGuire, stated that the time was not yet ripe for disposal of the plant.

Following these statements by counsel for creditors, Judge Brown stated that the claims aggregated $583,000 and asked if anyone was in favor of the sale. "I take it from the silence that there is no one in favor of the sale," stated Judge Brown. He then stated that the matter would be held in abeyance until the superior court convenes in September.

The hearing of the sale came about when Judge Wolfe authorized Receiver Browning to submit bids for a sale of the property. The hearing was held to act upon the bids received.

N. E. GRANGE LECTURERS ARE TO VISIT NORWICH

The fourteenth annual conference of Grange lecturers in New England will be held at the Connecticut Agricultural college, Storrs, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 24, 25 and 26.

The first event will be the annual field day of Quinebaug Ponoma grange at the college, Monday, August 24 and in the evening, Quinebaug Ponoma will provide an orchestra. The New London County Ponoma grange will furnish an hour's program in the afternoon.

There will be short talks by each of the six New England state lecturers, Monday evening. East state will occupy ninety minutes of the conference. One-half of the time will be given to formal papers and the other half to informal discussion. The program:

Tuesday morning (August 25) Maine and New Hampshire will lead; Tuesday afternoon, Massachusetts, with participation by visiting state lecturers outside New England; Wednesday morning, Rhode Island and Vermont; Wednesday afternoon, Connecticut and an address by Charles M. Gardner, of Massachusetts, high priest of demeter (seventh degree.)

Addresses will be made Tuesday evening by National Master Louis J. Taber, of Ohio and Senator Hiram Bingham, of New Haven.

In the intervals between the sessions there will be opportunity to inspect the college buildings and all the departments and the experimental plots. There will be opportunity for swimming in the college "pond".

An attendance of about 1,000 grange lecturers and other members of the order is expected. Camping outfits for sleeping on free sites near the college dormitories should be brought. Meals may be had on the cafeteria plan. Every New England ponoma and subordinate grange is expected to attend.

Professor Charles A. Wheeler of the college faculty, lecturer of the Connecticut state grange, is giving personal attention to the plans for the conference, and has sent circulars to the granges.

The Maine lecturers will assemble at the State Fair grounds at Lewiston Me., August 21, and be supplied with cots and blankets for the night by the adjutant general. They will spend Saturday night at the state college, Durham, N. H.; Sunday night at the state college, Amherst, Mass., and arrive at Storrs late Monday afternoon.

After the conference the Maine delegation, and such others as wish, will make a tour of the state, stopping at the Cheney silk mills, Manchester, Hartford, for visits to places of interest and dinner; Meriden, with visit to International Silver company plant; New Haven, with trip to East Rock and visit to Yale university on Thursday; leaving New Haven Friday, about noon, for a ride along the shore to Hammonasset park, or to New London for a boat ride to Fishers Island, to Norwich for supper; back to Storrs.

UPHOLSTERERS' UNION ESTABLISHES 44-HOUR WEEK

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—The allied crafts represented in the Upholsterers' International union of North America, have been successful in establishing the forty-four-hour week, William Horn, of New York, president, told the organization at its fourteenth biennial convention here today.

CROSSSED CONTINENT IN TWO MONTHS IN AUTO

Two months of automobile touring which has taken them from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast in a leisurely way with stops to visit friends and points of interest have brought Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Rathbone to be guests of Rev. and Mrs. Harry C. Pettis of 15 Dunham street, Mrs. Pettis and Mrs. Rathbone being sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Rathbone arrived here last Friday night, about midnight, completing 5,753 miles since they left St. Helena, Napa county, California, about 60 miles north of San Francisco, but Monday and Tuesday they added about 300 miles more with Rev. and Mrs. Pettis, in a visit to Plymouth, Mass., which had a special interest for Mrs. Rathbone and Mrs. Pettis as they are Mayflower descendants.

The visitors are to leave here today (Wednesday) to visit friends in Washington, D. C., and will sail the following Wednesday from New York for Jamaica, West Indies, where Mr. Rathbone is to be instructor in science and mathematics at West Indies Training college, which is located in the hills at Mandeville, about 2,000 feet above sea level. The school year opens August 15. The college is an educational institution of the Seventh Day Adventists.

Mr. Rathbone has been connected with Pacific Union college at St. Helena, California. He and Mrs. Rathbone left St. Helena on May 20 in their Chevrolet touring car and made the entire trip without any delays for engine trouble. The first stage was northward along the Pacific coast to Walla Walla, Wash., 1,900 miles of fine boulevard. A visit of a week was made with friends in this city before they started east along the old Oregon trail which follows the route over which 300,000 people penetrated into the northwest after Ezra Meeker led the way in 1847. The route lay up the Columbia river gorge to the Blue Mountains in Eastern Oregon and wound along through Idaho, Utah and Colorado, with snow capped mountains in sight all the way to a point west of Denver. From Dener they went south to Colorado Springs and the Garden of the Gods and then struck east through a corner of Kansas and across Nebraska and Iowa, passing through Des Moines and Davenport.

Travel in these western states, said Mr. Rathbone, has one interesting contrast with travel in the east because fully one-half of the cars that are met are tourist parties from every state in the union. On his trip to Plymouth this week, he said, it seemed a rare thing to see automobiles from any other place than New England.

Coming into Illinois after leaving Iowa, they avoided Chicago in order to save time and passed through into Indiana for a detour into Michigan, Mr. Rathbone's old home, where they spent a week visiting friends in Saginaw, Flint and Detroit. After that they drove to Ohio, visiting Toledo and Cleveland and coming to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, which up to then was the farthest point east Mr. Rathbone had ever been. Through New York state they visited Rochester, Syracuse and Albany, then through Pittsfield, Mass., to Springfield and down through Hartford and Willimantic to Norwich.

Mr. Rathbone will not take his car with him to Jamaica but will leave it in Norwich for Rev. Mr. Pettis to use.

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION IN BRIDGEPORT PAVING CASE

Coming to a preliminary hearing in the case of taxpayers of the city of Bridgeport versus the City of Bridgeport, held in the superior court here Tuesday before Judge Allyn L. Brown, attorneys for the city intending to block an injunction, found themselves willing to accept one shortly after 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, with an understanding that a final hearing be held at the earliest possible date in the superior court and a final interpretation rendered on the case.

The hearing was opened before Judge Brown in the morning session of the court and centered around a reading of a bill passed at the last general assembly, authorizing Bridgeport to issue bonds to the amount of $500,000 for paving contracts, the contracts to be awarded to the lowest bidder. The taxpayers through their representative contended that bids should have been thrown open to reputable bidders and the lowest bid accepted, while the city claimed the right to specify the type of paving to be used in the contract work. The taxpayers claim that specifying the pavement made by Warren Bros., thereby shutting out all other makes, caused a loss to the city of $190,000 and that the three contracts let would go above the $500,000; also that other types of pavement could be laid for 41 cents per square yard less than the type accepted.

At recess Judge Brown accepted papers in the case and at 2 o'clock when court came in, he stated that the legality of the case was very closely one of law, but that in fairness to all present he would allow the hearing to continue.

Attorneys for the city then argued the right of the city to accept the bids received and go on with the work, claiming that the city engineer had the right to select a specified pavement.

Attorney for the plaintiff stated that a compromise would be acceptable providing that the city be willing to reopen the bids for dependable pavement acceptable to the city engineer, but not some one type of patented pavement.

Attorney for the plaintiff went on to state how things were done in 1914 when $169,000 was appropriated for macadam and Warrenite was used with macadam topping. Suit was brought, he said, proving that the work was not macadam; but pavement, thus shifting the matter to another committee. Immediately this committee was declared at an end. It was brought out by counsel for the plaintiff that with the return of the republican administration in Bridgeport, the pavement company also came back.

Argument was getting neither side anywhere and the plaintiff's counsel refused to accept the decision of this court as final. This made it inadvisable for the city to carry on the work, even to carry out the first contract, over which there seemed to be a difficulty, for should the injunction be granted finally a legal tangle would ensue.

Argument hinged on paragraph 5 of the complaint which claims that the call is for pavement of same or equal character, thereby allowing open and fair competition by bid, the counsel for the taxpayers claiming this had not been done, while counsel for the city took exception.

Counsel for the city went on to state that unless work was carried out the situation would be bad, for many important streets were included in the contract, mentioning Water street. The claim was also made that a hue and cry of politics and favoritism had always been raised to block the pavement policy of Bridgeport, which they held, was the best paved city in the state, regardless of claims of those who were against the city policy.

Counsel for the plaintiff then suggested that Former Highway Commissioner Bennett be selected to suggest a number of classes of pavement and that bids be received on these, the contracts to go to the lowest bidder.

Finding themselves unable to settle the question, the city agreed to a temporary injunction and Judge Brown so ordered one, the counsel for the plaintiff and defendant to join in securing the earliest possible date for a full hearing of the matter, in the superior court, thus getting a final interpretation of the case.

INJUNCTION WILL HALT BRIDGEPORT'S PAVING PROGRAM

BRIDGEPORT, July 21.—(AP)—Agreement on the issuance of a temporary injunction by Judge Allyn L. Brown, will hold up Bridgeport's paving program indefinitely, perhaps until next spring. Mayor Behrens and his advisers have practically abandoned hope of starting major work before winter.

Paving of 73 streets is involved in the Warrenite contracts which totalled $710,000, of which $500,000 was in bonds authorized by the last legislature. The city has $200,000 in bonds remaining from the 1919 authorization, which, according to State's Attorney William H. Comley, the city's counsel in the case, will not be tied up by the injunction.

JURY VISITS SCENE OF THE PICKWICK DISASTER

BOSTON, July 21.—(AP)—The jury which will hear the trial of 13 men on charges of manslaughter in connection with the collapse of the Pickwick Club building here July 4, with a loss of 44 lives viewed the scene of the disaster today and heard the reading of the indictment. Presentation of evidence will begin tomorrow in Suffolk superior court.

Herded with their lawyers by court bailiffs on the sidewalk the jurors heard District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien describe the bulge and collapse of the right hand wall of the building which buried the victims to the bottom of a 40 foot excavation next door under tons of debris.

The underlying and foundation piers of the wrecked building were exhibited, while in a nearby restaurant, the same jazz band which played on the night of the collapse, until ordered by the police to stop ground out the same strains.

The visit of the jurors to the scene of the disaster was made over the protest of counsel for the defendants. Defense counsel objected also to the introduction by the state in court of a wooden model of the building because of alleged inaccuracies. Judge Lummus ruled it might be used only as a chart.

K. K. K. GATHERING WAS HELD IN WINDHAM CENTER

WINDHAM, July 21.—(AP)—The first Ku Klux Klan gathering in the town of Windham was held tonight on Mullen Hill, Windham Center, on property owned by J. E. Sherman, Jr. Between 400 and 500 members of the order were present, coming from eastern Connecticut and Rhode Island. It is understood that the meeting was an open one, in that members of the Klan issued invitations to it.

It isn't always to a man's credit when he stops drinking—maybe it's his lack of credit.

DON'T BE BALD

Thin-haired readers should use Parisian Sage hair tonic and scalp treatment at once and escape being bald. It's guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching scalp, banish all dandruff and make hair grow or money refunded. Lee & Osgood Co., and all druggists sell it. Remember the name—Parisian Sage—best for hair and scalp.

Dame Fashion Demands Jewelry

No matter what the time or occasion, good jewelry is always in style. It has been so since jewelry was first known—back in the Egyptian era.

Fashionable brooches, tie pins, cuff links, watch chains and necklaces—all articles that are needed. Of course, you want good jewelry. Continental jewelry is offered to our patrons because it has pleased folks for over twenty years.

Let us show you the entrancing designs and the excellent quality.

Anthony M. Nowakonski

193 Central Ave., Norwich, Conn.

Continental Jewelry Expresses Your Individuality

600 PUNCTURES BUT STILL FULL OF AIR

A new puncture-proof inner tube has been introduced in Chicago which was punctured 600 times without the loss of any air. Motorists can increase their mileage over 12,000 miles by using this tube without removing it from the wheel. It costs no more than the ordinary tube. If interested write the Airlox Tube Co., Dept. 4605K, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, for full information as they want those tubes introduced everywhere. Wonderful opportunity for agents. Simply send name, a postcard will do.

BOY DROWNED IN MILL RIVER, NEW HAVEN

NEW HAVEN, July 21.—(AP)—As a result of going out beyond his depth in Mill River this afternoon, Albert Dichello, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dichello, of Bradley place, was drowned. His body was discovered early tonight, caught in a clump of bushes about 75 feet from where he went under.

Albert was one of a party of boys who went swimming in the river. They had been in the water only a short time when Albert stepped into a deep place. Although the other boys made an effort to save him, it is believed that the current drew him away from them. Toney, Albert's brother and one of the party, went to the Cedar Hill police station and reported the drowning. Men dragged the river in an attempt to discover the body, which was finally found caught near the bushes.

ALLEGED DRUG PEDDLERS ARRESTED IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 21.—(AP)—Daniel Cerardi, of Boston, said to be the leader of a drug peddling ring in Massachusetts, was arrested in the Back Bay district today when federal narcotic agents, riding in three automobiles, crowded his car to the curb after he had sold one of them 40 ounces of morphine for $1,000. Gerardi was held in bail of $15,000 for appearance in federal district court tomorrow.

SHOCK OF BEE STING TO MOTHER KILLS INFANT

PETERBORO, Ont., July 21.—(AP)—The shock of a bee sting transmitted from Mrs. Ethel Chapman, of Chilliwack, B. C., to her three-months-old baby which she was nursing, caused its death, Dr. Cronk, of Belleville, said today.

Immediately after the bee had stung the mother's breast, the child lost consciousness and died within an hour.

INSPECTING THE CITY PARKS IN HARTFORD

HARTFORD, July 21.—(AP)—Twelve city officials of Brockton, Mass., arrived in Hartford tonight preparatory to making a tour of inspection of the city parks to obtain information which may be of assistance to them in making plans for the development of Brockton's parks. The officials are the guests of the Hartford park department while they are in the city.

BOOTLEGGER HAD SOME 20,000 CUSTOMERS AND "PROSPECTS"

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Indictments which may grow out of the discovery here of an alleged bootlegging enterprise with 20,000 customers and "prospects" in all parts of the country, will be asked against individuals or groups without waiting for completion of the investigations, United States Attorney Buckner announced today. The first branch of the investigation may be completed this week, he said, but several weeks may be required to finish the work.

The grand jury continued to hear witnesses today.

"We are making special efforts to discover the sources of supply of liquor in this case," Mr. Buckner said.

Eleven states have enacted teacher tenure laws. These laws generally prescribe a period of probation for teachers before permanent appointment and guarantee security in their position during good behavior and efficiency.

WE HAVE A FEW

USED GAS STOVES

THAT WE ARE SELLING AT VERY SPECIAL PRICES.

Gas & Electrical Dept.

31 Shetucket Street.

TARZAN GRATTAN, AN OUTSIDER, WINS FEATURE RACE OF THE GRAND CIRCUIT

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 21.—(AP)—Tarzan Grattan, a little bay gelding, purchased for less than $10,000 a week ago, won the $25,000 American Racing Derby, richest of all pacing events at the Grand Circuit meeting here today, winning the first and third heats after losing the second to Ribbon Cane, a dangerous contender.

The race was witnessed by a crowd of about 10,000.

The winner, owned by Walter L. Candler, son of the millionaire beverage manufacturer of Atlanta, Ga., and admirably driven by the veteran Nat Ray, captured the classic from a field of 17 of the finest pacers in America. Tarzan Grattan led the field to the wire in the first mile in 2:03 1-2 and stepped the deciding heat in 2:04 1-4. The fractional time for Tarzan Grattan's first mile was: Quarter :32; half 1:02 1-2; three-quarters 1:32.

Ribbon Cane, owned by Edward Peterson, wealthy sportsman of Omaha, Nebraska, captured second place honors, while Grit McKinney, the entry of Halt and Sprow of Sandusky, Ohio, finished third. Theodore Guy, one of the two heavily played favorites, was fourth. Frank Worthy, the other favorite, was outclassed, finishing eighth in the first two heats and seventh in the last.

The summaries:

2:17 Trot, 3 Heats: Purse $1,000 (1 1-8 Mile Heats)

Queen Volo, b m by Binvola. (Murphy) 1 1 1
Peter Speedway (Cox) 2 2 6
Winnie Gwyn, (McDonald)... 4 3 2
Poppy, Ned Hale, Eleanor Worthy, Raven Axoff, David Shaw, Bin Belle also started.
Time 2:24: 2:22 1-4: 2:25 1-2.

2:08 American Pacing Derby, 3 Heats: Purse $25,000, (1 Mile Heats)

Tarzan Grattan, b g by Grattan Joyal-Redwing, (Ray)... 1 3 1
Ribbon Cane, (Cibble) 2 1 2
Grit McKinney, (Morrison)... 2 3 5
Logan Hedgewood, (Fleming).12 14 2
Miss Ellen W., (McMillen) .. 4 4 8
Phil O'Neil, Jean Grattan, Lydia Forbes, El Verso, Frank Worthy, Skeeter W., Theodore Guy, Braden Ruler, Ell Direct, J. W. Mack and Jeanette Royal also started.
Time 2:03 1-2: 2:03 1-2: 2:04 1-4.

2:10 Trot; 3 Heats, Purse $1,000

Clara Dillon, b m by Dillon. (Murphy) 1 1 1
Truax, (McMahon) 2 2 3
Patrick Todd, (Verison) 3 4 2
Woodrow L., (Kelly) 4 3 4
Princess Tia Hanna (McDonald) ..... 5 5 dr
Rex Harvester, Prince Charming also started.
Time 2:06 1-4: 2:07 1-4: 2:03 1-4.

2:05 Pace, 3 Heats, Purse $1,000

Pete Green, b g by Peter Scott. (McKay) 1 2 1
Buddy Mac, (Valentine) 6 1 6
Jane R., (Clark) 2 4 5
War Bride, Miss Belwin also started.

LAKE ST. GIRLS BEAT ELIZABETH ST. MAIDS

Tuesday afternoon fond fortune again smiled on the Lake street contingent. The Streeters contained to stay in the win column by winning two out of three of the events for girls at the Academy Campus yesterday. Elizabeth St. was the victim.

All three games were hotly contested. Miss Shugrue's girls put up a stiff fight for victory in the opening event, field hockey. Lake street's superior team work gave them a 1-0 victory. Dodge ball went to the team from the West End. Clever "ducking" and skilful footwork enabled Instructor Shugrue's charges to claim a win. Rivalry was now keen as it came time for the final match, straddle-ball.

When Elizabeth street had scored one round out of the three it looked as if the greater glory of the afternoon was to be theirs. Miss Wertheiser's aggregation managed, however, to stave off defeat by calling the last two rounds, and incidentally taking their rivals into camp by a total 2 out 3 score.

The lineup:

Elizabeth St.—Marianna Buonannio, Helen Hoffman, Bessie Slanker, Ruth Yollowitz, Elizabeth Gross, Alice La Rochelle, Grace La Rochelle.

Lake St.—Edith Coletti, Mildred Makoski, Mary Smith, Marietta Emilia, Antoinette Ruffo, Irene Bianchette, Violet Bergeron, Mary Ruffo, sub.

Scores: Field Hockey—Lake St. 1, Elizabeth St. 0; Straddle Ball—Lake St. 2, Elizabeth St. 1; Dodge Ball—Elizabeth St.

CUBS POUND OUT VICTORY OVER BRAVES

BOSTON, July 21.—(AP)—The Chicago Cubs batted hard to win their first victory of the season at Boston today, 15 to 3. In the third inning the Cubs went on a rampage, scoring nine times. Maranville had a field day, hitting and fielding in sensational form. The Braves' rookie battery, Vargue and Selmer, accounted for four of the eight hits allowed by Kaufmann. Score:

Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Adams,2b	6	2	3	0
Maranville,ss	4	4	1	6
Hornsby,3b	5	0	2	2
Stephenson,rf	1	0	4	0
Wilson,cf	5	1	1	0
Rooks,1b	5	2	3	0
Gowdy,c	5	1	0	0
Wright,p	3	1	0	0
Kroner,p	1	0	0	0
Grimes,p	0	0	0	0
Totals	43	17	27	12	0

Boston (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Barnes,rf	4	0	2	1
Gibson,c	4	0	8	1
Vargue,p	2	0	0	2
Selmer,p	0	0	0	0
Cunningham	1	0	0	0
Totals	31	8	27	11	3

Score by innings:
Chicago .. .. 0 0 3 2 0 1 0 0 2—15
Boston .. .. 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 2 0— 3
Two base hits, Maranville 2, Brooks, Grimes, Hartnett 2, Feltz. Three base hit, Wright.

RICKARD MUST PRODUCE FIRPO IN THE COURTS

PATERSON, N. J., July 21—(A. P.)—Tex Rickard, fight promoter, must produce Luis Angel Firpo, in Chancery court here on September 23 next or lose $50,000 bail, vice chancellor Vivian M. Lewis, decided today, when the case of Scotty McCorkingdale, of Newark, against Firpo was called for a hearing. Firpo is now in Europe. He is being sued by McCorkingdale for payment claimed to be due for managing Firpo the first year the "Wild Bull of the Pampas" entered the ring in this country. The present action in Chancery court is to compel Firpo to give an accounting of his financial condition.

Shade-Schlaffer Bout Tonight.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 21.—(AP)—Rain today caused the postponement until Wednesday night of the ten-round bout between Dave Shade of California and Morrie Schlaffer of Omaha.

Beresford Wins London Cup

PUTNEY, England, July 21—(A. P.)—Jack Beresford, Jr., winner of the Diamond Sculls in the recent Henley Regatta, today captured the London cup in the Metropolitan Amateur Regatta, which ranks next in importance to the Henley event. It was his fifth victory since 1914 in the event.

WHITE SOX SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER WITH RED SOX

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Chicago and Boston divided a double header today, the visitors winning the first game, 6 to 3, and the locals the second game, 5 to 3. Chicago was unable to hit in the pinches in the initial game, while the visitors made their hits count, Faber being driven off the mound in the sixth inning. Zanhiser, although wild, tightened up in the pinches.

Ross was driven off the hill in the third inning of the second game by the White Sox.

Chief Bender, former star pitcher of the famous Athletics, who has been coaching the White Sox pitchers, was placed on the active list of players by the White Sox today and worked the final inning of the first game.

Ray Schalk, star catcher of the White Sox, established a new lifetime record for all time when he caught both games today, registering his 1,567th game behind the plate. The former record was held by Jim McGuire, who caught 1,574 games in 14 years. Schalk is in his thirteenth year.

(First Game.)

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Fitzgerald,rf	3	0	1	0
Rawlings,2b	4	1	3	1
Bruggy,cf	3	1	2	0
Carlisle,lf	3	1	1	0
Tobin,1b	3	2	12	2
Wambsganss,3b	3	0	4	2
Lee,ss	4	2	1	4
Shibe,c	4	2	2	2
Zahniser,p	4	0	0	1
Totals	33	12	27	12

Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mostil,rf	4	1	0	0
Davis,ss	4	0	2	4
Collins,2b	5	0	2	3
Sheely,1b	3	0	11	2
Falk,lf	3	2	3	0
Hooper,rf	4	1	2	1
Kamm,3b	3	2	1	0
Schalk,c	2	0	2	1
Bender,p	0	0	0	0
Faber,p	2	1	0	3
Connally,p	1	1	0	0
Crouse,c	1	0	1	0
Harris	1	0	0	0
Totals	32	8	27	14	0

(a) Batted for Schalk in 8th.

Score by innings:
Boston .. .. 1 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 3—6
Chicago .. .. 0 1 0 1 0 0 0 1 0—3

Two base hits, Mostil, Carlisle. Three base hit, Carlisle. Home run, Carlisle.

(Second Game.)

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Fitzgerald,rf	4	2	3	0
Rawlings,2b	4	3	6	6
Bruggy,cf	4	3	0	1
Carlisle,lf	3	1	2	0
Tobin,1b	3	1	10	1
Wambsganss,3b	3	1	1	5
Lee,ss	4	1	2	3
Shibe,c	4	1	6	1
Ehmke,p	3	0	0	4
Totals	31	11	27	21	0

Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mostil,rf	3	0	3	0
Davis,ss	4	0	1	3
Collins,2b	3	1	0	2
Sheely,1b	4	1	14	0
Falk,lf	3	1	1	0
Hooper,rf	3	3	3	0
Kamm,3b	2	0	0	2
Schalk,c	4	1	4	0
Blankenship,p	3	1	1	0
Totals	29	7	27	12	0

(a) Batted for Faber in 9th.

Score by innings:
Boston .. .. 0 0 0 3 0 1 0 0 0—3
Chicago .. .. 1 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 x—3

Two base hits, Todt, Lee. Three base hits, Barrett, Bankenship.

YANKS BEAT TIGERS IN OVERTIME GAME

DETROIT, July 21.—(AP)—New York took the last game of the series from Detroit today, 5 to 4, in an eleven-inning contest.

Meusel singled in the eleventh and took second on Haney's wild throw. Meusel went to third on Merkle's long fly to Manush. With two out, Dugan hit an easy grounder to Haney, who made a late throw, Dugan beating the ball by half a step, and Meusel scoring the winning run.

The Yankees knocked Whitehill out of the box in the fifth inning, scoring three runs. Gehrig was hit by a pitched ball. Dugan and Bengough singled, Johnson sacrificed, and Hoyt tripled. Wingo tripled in the ninth inning, after two were out, but was unable to score. The score:

New York (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Combs,cf	5	0	4	0
Ward,2b	5	0	3	4
Ruth,rf	3	1	3	1
Meusel,lf	5	1	4	0
Gehrig,1b	1	0	5	1
Merkle,1b	3	0	6	1
Dugan,ss	4	2	1	3
Bengough,c	1	1	3	1
Severeid,c	1	0	0	0
Hoyt,p	3	2	1	3
Totals	36	5	30	17	2

(a) Ran for Wingo in 3rd.

Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Rapez,2b	6	1	2	2
Burke,2b	5	1	2	3
Wingo,rf	5	3	5	0
Manush,cf	5	2	3	0
Heilmann,rf	5	1	2	0
Falk,lf	3	2	3	0
Tavener,ss	5	2	3	4
Rassler,c	4	2	4	0
Whitehill,p	2	0	0	2
Sorrell,p	0	0	0	0
Nevers,p	1	0	0	0
Totals	42	15	33	13	2

Score by innings:
New York .. .. 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 0 2—5
Detroit .. .. 1 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—4

Two base hit, Rassler. Three base hits, Hoyt, Wingo.

MITCHELL HOLDS PIRATES TO FOUR SCATTERED HITS

PHILADELPHIA, July 21—(AP)—Clarence Mitchell again proved he is the one southpaw in the National league that can beat the Pittsburgh Pirates by holding them to four hits today and beating them 4 to 2, thereby knocking them out of the league lead. Eddie Moore's home run in the seventh was the only earned score the visitors obtained. Score:

Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Carey,cf	4	0	2	1
Moore,2b	4	1	2	2
Cuyler,rf	4	1	2	0
Barbare,lf	4	1	1	0
Rapp,3b	4	1	1	0
Traynor,ss	3	0	1	3
Wheat,c	3	0	6	0
Kremer,p	2	0	0	3
xBrenton	1	0	0	0
Totals	34	4	24	9	2

Philadelphia (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Sand,ss	4	0	1	4
Williams,lf	3	1	1	1
Harris,rf	3	1	1	0
Harper,cf	4	0	3	0
Wilson,c	4	0	3	0
Fonseca,1b	3	0	10	0
Huber,2b	3	1	1	3
Fitzberg,2b	2	1	1	3
Mitchell,p	3	0	0	1
Totals	30	7	27	12	1

(x) Batted for Kremer in 9th

Score by innings:
Pittsburgh .. .. 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1—2
Philadelphia .. .. 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 x—2

Two base hits, Burns, Barbari, Huber. Three base hit, Cuyler. Home runs, Harper, Moore.

LA COSTE AND BOROTRA PICKED FOR DAVIS CUP

PARIS, July 21.—(AP)—Rene La Coste, winner of the St. Cloud and Wimbledon tennis tournaments, and Jean Borotra, ranking number two player in France, were definitely chosen today by the French Tennis federation as members of the Davis Cup team which will go to the United States to meet the winner of the elimination contests in the American zone. A third unnamed man will complete the team, which will be captained by the veteran player, Max Decugis. All will sail for New York from Cherbourg on the steamer Leviathan August 5.

La Coste and Borotra will enter the American championship matches.

SCHALK SETS LIFE-TIME RECORD FOR CATCHERS

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Ray Schalk, star catcher of the Chicago White Sox, today established a new life-time record for catching in the major league when he went to bat in both games of a double header with Boston and caught his 1,575th and 1,567th games.

A previous record was held by Jim McGuire, who caught 1,574 games during his 14 years in the big leagues.

Schalk has been with the White Sox for fifteen years.

Valiant Jrs. Challenge

The Valiant Juniors would like to challenge the Jewett City Skeeters, Tigers or Alter Boys for a game week days or Sundays. The Juniors are going at a fast clip this season having won 6 and lost 1.

English Collegians Lead

RUGBY, England, July 21—(A. P.)—At the close of play today in the cricket match between Rugby school and Haverford College of Haverford, Pa., the English eleven led having 614 runs to 91 by the Americans.

TODAY'S SPORTS

RACING

Meeting of Empire City Racing association, at Yonkers.
Meeting of Windsor Jockey club, at Windsor.
Meeting of Business Men's Racing association, at Chicago.

TROTTING

Meeting of Grand Circuit at Kalamazoo.

GOLF

Annual Isham Cup tournament opens at Manchester, Vt.
New York State amateur championship opens at Long Beach, L. I.
Massachusetts State amateur championship opens at Brookline.
Pennsylvania open championship tournament, at Haverford.
South Dakota State championship tournament, at Sioux Falls.

SHOOTING

Kentucky State trapshooting tournament opens at Louisville.

TENNIS

North Jersey Coast championship opens at Spring Lake, N. J.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Boston 6, Chicago 3. (1st game).
Boston 8, Chicago 5. (2nd game).
New York 5, Detroit 4. (11 innings).
St. Louis 6, Philadelphia 5.
Only games scheduled.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Washington	57	31	.648
Philadelphia	56	31	.644
St. Louis	48	44	.522
Chicago	47	44	.516
Detroit	47	44	.516
Cleveland	40	52	.435
New York	37	53	.411
Boston	28	61	.315

GAMES TODAY.

No games scheduled.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Philadelphia 4, Pittsburgh 2.
Chicago 15, Boston 3.
Cincinnati-New York, postponed; rain.
Only games scheduled.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
New York	52	35	.598
Pittsburgh	50	34	.595
Brooklyn	42	48	.500
Cincinnati	42	43	.494
St. Louis	42	45	.483
Philadelphia	42	45	.483
Chicago	39	48	.448
Boston	36	53	.404

GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Boston.
Pittsburgh at Philadelphia.
Only games scheduled.

EASTERN LEAGUE

All games scheduled for Tuesday in the Eastern league, postponed; rain and wet grounds.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Reading 6, Buffalo 10.
Baltimore 11, Toronto 14 (first game.)
Baltimore 3, Toronto 6 (second game.)
Others not scheduled.

Exhibition Game.

UTICA, N. Y., July 21.—(AP)—
Jersey City ..... 000 000 002—2 6 2
Washington ..... 000 110 001—3 10 1

ATHLETICS LOSE TO BROWNS AND DROP TO SECOND PLACE

ST. LOUIS, July 21—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics dropped to second place in the American league pennant race today by losing to the St. Louis Browns. The score was 6 to 5. The Washington Senators, who were idle today, now lead by four percentage points.

The Athletics rallied in the eighth inning for four runs to tie the score. With two out and the bases filled in the last half of the eighth, Harris walked Robertson, forcing in the winning run.

Ken Williams hit into the right-field bleachers in the first inning for his twenty-fourth home run of the season, scoring behind Sisler. The drive tied Williams with Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals for the major league lead. Score:

Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Dykes,2b	4	3	2	4
Lamar,lf	5	1	2	0
Miller,cf	5	3	3	0
Simmons,rf	5	3	1	0
Perkins,c	3	1	2	0
Galloway,ss	4	1	2	3
Bishop,3b	4	0	1	3
Poole,1b	3	0	11	2
Quinn,p	3	0	0	0
Grove,p	0	0	0	0
Herring,p	0	0	0	0
xFroch	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	11	24	12	1

(x) Batted for Quinn in 9th.
(z) Batted for Dixon in 8th.

St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Rice,rf	4	0	1	0
Lamoute,ss	4	1	3	0
Sisler,1b	4	2	9	0
Williams,lf	4	2	0	1
McManus,2b	4	1	4	2
Jacobson,cf	3	1	7	0
Dixon,z	1	0	0	0
Negro,c	0	0	0	0
Roberts,3b	3	1	2	1
Gerard,p	3	1	1	0
Gaston,p	1	0	0	1
xEvans	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	9	27	10	1

(x) Batted for Gaston in 9th.

Score by innings:
Philadelphia .. .. 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 4—5
St. Louis .. .. 2 0 0 2 0 0 0 1 1—6

Two base hits, Jacobson, Simmons and Perkins. Three base hit, Robertson. Home runs, Williams, Sisler, Galloway.

ROSENBERG DEFENDS TITLE TONIGHT AGAINST SHEA

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Charley (Phil) Rosenberg, world's bantamweight champion, will step into the ring in defense of his title in a 15-round match at the Velodrome A. C., tomorrow night with Eddie Shea of Chicago as his challenger.

While the champion will be the favorite there are many who expect to see Shea win the match, scheduled for last Wednesday, was postponed one week to give Rosenberg more time to train.

The skeptics argue that Rosenberg will have trouble coming in under 118 pounds and will be weakened while Shea, a natural bantamweight, will be able to make the weight without losing strength.

In the eight round semi-final Bushey Graham, Utica, N. Y., bantamweight, will meet the former champion in his division. Abe Goldstein of New York, Bobby Barrett of Philadelphia will meet K. O. Phil Kaplan New York welterweight, in another eight rounder while Mike Dundee of Rock Island, Ill., will face Johnny Drew, Worcester featherweight in the third eight inning fracas.

A Challenge

The Lake St. challenge the Thamesville playground team for some Thursday afternoon for a practice game. If challenge is accepted call Mike Quarto, 1255-12, between 9 and 10 p. m.

Owls Win

On Monday night the Greeneville Owls defeated the Roath Street Eagles by the score of 16 to 1, the Eagles using six pitchers to the Owl's one.

Potatoes, the Eagles' first pitcher, was hit for -0 of the 16 runs.

Miss Collett Returns Home.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., defeated recently by Joyce Wethered of England in the British women's golf championships at Hoylake, was among the passengers returning on the Majestic today.

KAPLAN TO DEFEND TITLE AGAINST HERMAN AT WATERBURY ON AUGUST 27

NEW YORK, July 21—(AP)—Kid Kaplan, of Meriden, Conn., world's featherweight champion, will defend his title in a 15-round decision match against Babe Herman, of California, at Waterbury, Conn., August 27. Articles of agreement for the match were signed by the managers of the two principals at the office of the National Sports Alliance late this afternoon.

The agreement stipulates that neither principal can engage in any matches between August 3 and the date of the title match and forfeit fees of $2,000 for weight and appearance were posted with Promoter George Mulligan of the Independent A. C., who will stage the match at Brasco Park.

Jimmy Kelly, manager of Herman, signed for the challenger while Dennis McMahon and "Scotty" Monteith signed for the champion. According to the terms Kaplan will receive a flat guarantee of $15,000 with a privilege of 40 per cent. of the gate while Herman will receive $5,000 with a privilege of 20 per cent. This will be the first world's championship fight held in Connecticut in 22 years.

DONOHUE PLEASED WITH KAPLAN-HERMAN BOUT

WATERBURY, July 21.—(AP)—Promoter Mulligan returned to his home here late tonight from New York where this afternoon he signed Babe Herman, of California, to meet Louis (Kid) Kaplan, of Meriden, world's featherweight champion, in a 15-round bout for the title at the local baseball park on August 27. "After all this work and worry, it is naturally very gratifying to me to know finally that I am going to have the opportunity of staging Connecticut's first world championship bout in 22 years," said Promoter Mulligan tonight. "It looked for a time as though we could not close the match but everyone was in hearty accord today and the bout was finally clinched. I am certain that the boxing fans of the New England and eastern states will be treated to a wonderful exhibition here on August 27. I want to thank Thomas E. Donohue, of New London, the state athletic commissioner, for his tireless efforts to keep the negotiations alive when it looked as though they had fallen through and for his good offices which influenced the New York boxing commission to allow me to bid on equal terms with New York promoters. I also want to thank the newspapers throughout Connecticut for the very hearty support they have given me in this whole affair."

State Commissioner Donohue, at his home in New London, when read the Associated Press story of the signing of the Kaplan-Herman bout for this city, over the telephone, said: "On behalf of the boxing fans of Connecticut I want to congratulate Promoter Mulligan on finally bringing this important world's featherweight championship to Connecticut. He certainly deserves credit for his unfailing patience and energy and I wish him great success with it. As far as the state athletic commission is concerned, I shall do everything in my power to see that both boxers are given treatment which will bring credit to boxing in this state."

AINSWORTH PITCHES GOOD BALL BUT ERRORS BEAT HIM

In a loosely played contest, the Palace defeated Yantic, 7 to 1, Tuesday evening, at the Duwell field.

Yantic, minus the services of the Socony players from New London, played terrible ball, piling up a total of ten errors behind Harry Ainsworth, the Yantic twirler.

Ainsworth pitched one of the best games in the Twilight league to date. He held the hard-hitting Palace nine to three scattered hits, fanned four, and walked but one. All of the Palace team's seven runs were unearned and had he been given the support that Bugs Shahan, Palace twirler, received, the two twirlers would probably be going yet. Shahan, also, pitched great ball, allowing but five hits, two more than the Palace made off Ainsworth. Bugs, however, took no chances on his support, personally retiring ten of the opposing hitters on strikeouts.

The Palace went into the lead in the very first inning by scoring two runs and were never headed thereafter. After Keenan popped to Smitz, Simcox got a life when Lamphers mussed up his grounder to third. Mike Morin flied out to right, but Chip Dugas with the count at three and two connected for a double to center, the only extra base hit of the game, and Simcox scored. Mulcahy singled over second, and Dugas tallied with the second run in the inning.

In their half of the first, Yantic came up to within one run of their rivals. With one out Burns was safe on Simcox's error, stole second and when Marchand grounded to Mulcahy went to third. Smith came through with a single to right and Burns crossed the plate with the only run the uptown team made during the entire game.

From this inning to the end of the game, Ainsworth turned back the Palace with but one hit, a single to left by Simcox in the third.

As far as the final result was concerned, however, Ainsworth might just as well have allowed a dozen hits. His mates did everything wrong and nothing right. They mussed up easy grounders, and dropped pop-flys and as a result the Palace steadily forged ahead scoring once in each of the second, third and fifth frames while in the fourth, Mike Morin's team tallied twice without the least semblance of a hit.

Yantic's best chance to score after the first came in the third. Burns leading off in this frame was safe on an error by Simcox but was caught stealing second, Dugas to Morin. Marchand singled to right, however, and when Smith shot another single over second, Marchand advanced to the middle bag. Smith and Marchand then worked a pretty double steal, but both were stranded on the paths as the next two men proved easy outs.

The scores

Palace	ab	h	po	a	e
Keenan,rf	4	0	0	0
Simcox,ss	4	1	1	0
M.Morin,3b	4	0	1	0
Dugas,c	3	1	9	2
Mulcahy,1b	3	1	4	0
L.Morin,2b	2	0	2	1
Jackson,cf	3	0	0	0
Shea,lf	3	0	1	0
Shahan,p	2	0	0	1
Totals	27	3	18	4

Yantic	ab	hm	po	a	e
W.Morr,3b,ss	3	0	2	1
J.Burns,ss2b	3	1	2	0
Marchand,lf	3	1	0	0
Smith,c	3	2	5	2
Ainsworth,p	3	1	0	3
Wheeler,rf	3	0	1	0
Sweeney,1b	2	0	7	0
Gibbons,cf	1	0	1	0
Spike,2b	1	0	0	2
W.Burns,2b	1	0	2	0
xGibbs	1	0	0	0
Totals	25	5	18	8

(x) Batted for Gibbons in 6th.

Score by innings:
Palace .. .. 2 1 1 0 1 0—7
Yantic .. .. 1 0 0 0 0 0—1

Two base hits, Dugas. Struck out, by Shahan 10, by Ainsworth 6. Bases on balls, off Shahan 1, off Ainsworth 1.

Miss Ederle Bound for France.

BOULOGNE, France, July 21.—(AP)—French swimming enthusiasts are preparing to welcome Miss Gertrude Ederle, American swimming champion, upon her arrival here tomorrow with her trainer, Jabez Wolffe.

PROVIDENCE CHECKER CABS AT JEWETT CITY SUNDAY

For the attraction at Ashland Park this Sunday, Manager "Bill" Liberty, of the Jewett City Town team, has secured the Checker Cabs, of Providence, R. I. The Checker Cabs are one of the leading semi-pro clubs in New England, holding wins over such teams as Winthrop, Mass., Town Talks of Worcester, Neo club, of Fall River, Mass., North Dighton, Mass., and Woonsocket, R. I.

The club is without a doubt the fastest team that will appear in eastern Connecticut this season. Their lineup includes Cohedo, with Ottawa Canadian league last year and Briggs former Pittsfield Eastern leaguer, c., Peloquin, of Holy Cross, and Fallon, formerly with Milwaukee, of the American association, p., Peloquin is a member of the famous Holy Cross trio sharing the pitching burden this season with Davidson, and the great Ownie Carrol. Carrol having joined the Detroit Tigers this year. Peloquin will no doubt receive the first string assignment next spring. McNamee, 1b., is leading the Providence Twilight league in home runs, with nineteen circuit blows. Potter, of Bates college, ss., Joe McGee, of Providence college, 2b., Burns, of Providence college, 3b., Frank McGee, of Providence college, lf., Morrisey, of Holy Cross, who is slated to go to the Boston Braves next year cf., Dolan, of Providence college, rf., and O'Hara, of the St. Mary's club, of the Providence Twilight league, utility.

Manager Jack Norton, of the Checker Cabs guarantees that every man in this lineup will positively appear at Ashland Park Sunday.

The Jewett City management has gone to no little expense to get this club here and it is hoped that the fans will appreciate the fact that the local management is trying to put Jewett City on the map again and turn out strong.

TILDEN'S AMATEUR STATUS MAY BE DISCUSSED AGAIN

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Charges published today in two Metropolitan newspapers that William T. Tilden violated the spirit if not the letter of the new amateur player-writer rule by giving interviews in connection with his play in the National Clay court tournament at St. Louis threatened to precipitate a new storm in tennis circles.

Although officials of the United Lawn Tennis Association officially declined either to take cognizance of the published stories or to comment upon the situation, it was reported on good authority that fresh consideration may be given in the near future to Tilden's amateur status, arising out of the latest developments.

Technically, in the view of one member of the committee of seven which drafted the new amateur rule, Tilden's course in giving interviews instead of writing articles himself on tournaments in which he competes does not violate the code, providing no compensation is involved.

At the same time, other officials, sharing the opinions published today hold that this amounts to the same thing as an evasion of the rule, offering Tilden, as well as other player-writers in the same category, an opportunity to fulfill, in a measure, their writing contracts without actually infringing upon forbidden ground.

The amateur rule, in this respect, says that a player shall forfeit his amateur standing by writing for pay or for a consideration curent newspaper articles covering a tournament or match in which he is entered as a competitor.

Tilden's contract with a Philadelphia newspaper was in effect prior to the framing of this rule, in which the champion himself participated, but several weeks ago announcement was made that he reached an agreement whereby he would be relieved from an obligation to "cover" the major national and international events in which he was to take part.

His was heralded as settling Tilden's amateur standing and establishing his eligibility for the Davis Cup team again.

At the same time, however, the plan of substituting interviews for articles under Tilden's own name was agreed upon by the champion and the syndicate. Its first test came in the National Clay court event at St. Louis last week, the champion's interview being published in a number of cities throughout the country.

What construction may be placed upon this or whether Tilden will be called upon to explain his share in the arrangements were matters of keen speculation among tennis men but such officials and Julian S. Myrick, chairman of the Davis Cup committee, declined to indicate what interpretation would be placed on the champion's activities.

MISS RYAN'S PLAYING FEATURES TOURNAMENT

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 21.—(AP)—The brilliant playing of Miss Elizabeth Ryan of England in her first American tournament and the defeat of Mrs. May Stutton Bundy of Los Angeles, former National Women's tennis champion, by Mrs. J. B. Corbie of Southboro, were features of the Women's Invitation tournament at the Essex County Country Club here today. Miss Ryan played in the doubles and Mrs. Bundy in the singles, each of which were advanced to the round before the semi-finals.

Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley, present National and Olympic Champion, displayed her best form since the tournament began last Monday, and defeated her second and third round opponents with little difficulty. In the second round Miss Wills, employing a baseline game, won both sets at 6-3, from Miss Margot Blake of Lenox, and vanquished Mrs. W. H. Trumbull, Jr., of Salem in the third round 6-2, 6-0.

Miss Ryan, paired in the second of the doubles with Miss Eleanora Sears of Hamilton, brought forth a powerful serve aided by stinging volleys and cat-like play, and covered her court with lightning speed. Due largely to her endeavors, victory was achieved over Miss Edith Sigourney of Nahant and Miss Martha Eyard of Short Hills, both of them recognized stars in the tennis world. The scores were 6-1, 10-8. Miss Ryan withdrew from the singles yesterday.

Mrs. Bundy, after taking the first set at 6-4, was several times within reach of victory in her second round match with Mrs. Corbiere, but the latter steadied at critical moments and her apparently better physical condition told. The scores were 4-6, 8-6, 6-3. Mrs. Bundy was the second seeded player to be eliminated thus far, Mrs. B. E. Cole of North Andover having dropped out yesterday.

Six national ranking players were among the eight to advance through the third round in the singles, the chief event of the tourney.

Moosup Vs. Mechanicsville

On Saturday afternoon next, the Mechanicsville Sluggers will visit Moosup for their first game of the series, while on Sunday the Woolen boys will try to take their revenge on Sterling at Sterling.

YANTIC TEAM HITS STREAK OF BAD LUCK

Last night the fans witnessed what no doubt to most of them was a farce ball game between Yantic and the Palace and

FARMERS' WEEK PROMISES MUCH AT STORRS TO AGRICULTURIST

Farmers' week, which will be conducted at Connecticut Agricultural college, at Storrs, Aug. 4 to 7, will have sessions beginning promptly at 10 a. m. and 1.30 p. m., standard time, every day except Wednesday.

The early morning and late afternoon hours are reserved for informal visits to the departments. Several departments will have exhibits and demonstrations of interest; all departments will welcome guests and be ready to render any service possible.

The following programme has been arranged:

Tuesday, August 4.

10 a. m.: Treating Brood Diseases of Bees, Dr. Philip Garman. Recent Legislation of Interest to Poultrymen, Professor W. F. Kirkpatrick. The Ethics of Advertising, or Reading Between the Lines, E. Newton Searles. Keeping the Kitchen Cool in Summer, Mrs. M. E. Dakin. Demonstration Talk on How to Use Sewing Machine Attachments, Miss Glynn.11 a. m.: The Differentiation of Bee Diseases, E. G. Carr. Pointers in Nutrition Gained from Recent Experiments, Dr. L. C. Dunn. Power Machinery for the Farm Home, F. W. Knipe. Demonstration Talk on How to Use Sewing Machine Attachments, continued. What Is In an Egg as the Chemist Sees It, H. S. Schwenk. 1.30 p. m.: The Significance of Locality in Beekeeping, E. G. Carr. Feeding for Winter Egg Production, W. H. Allen. Standards of Living in Some Connecticut Farm Homes, Prof. I. G. Davis. Conference Hour for Young Mothers at the Infirmary, Miss L. Macdonald and Mrs. M. E. Dakin. 2.30 p. m.: New Things in Beekeeping, Prof L. B. Crandall. Sanitary Measures That Work, and How to Work Them, Dr. John D. Clark. The 1925 Poultry Tour, Roy E. Jones. Standards for Judging Home Products at Fairs, Miss Lucille Brewer. Some Essentials in Keeping Children Healthy, Miss Dorothy Buckley. 2.30 p. m.: Demonstration at the Apiary, Prof. L. B. Crandall. Dedication of Card Memorial Poultry House, Paul P. Ives. Demonstration at Poultry Plant. 7.45 p. m.: Address by Chas. M. Gardner. Movies.

Wednesday, August 5.

10 a. m.: Demonstration Talk on Growing Young Dairy Stock, Prof. G. C. White. Demonstration Talk on Growing Young Live Stock, Prof. A. G. Skinner, Honey Plants and Honey Bees One Hundred Million Years Ago (illustrated), Prof. G. R. Welland. The Need for Ventilation in Apple Storage. L. M. Marble. How to Make Sunday Really a Day of Rest, Mrs. M. E. Dakin. The Choice and Use of Dress Materials, Miss Mary Walker. 11 a. m.: Principles of Merchandising for New England, E. P. Blanchard. Storage Construction, Prof. H. D. Anthony. Discussion of Home Storage, H. R. Buell, R. C. Gulley, A. R. Smith and J. R. Blanchard. Where Dairying Should Be Most Successful in Connecticut, Prof. I. G. Davis. What Shall I Bring Home in My Market Basket, Miss Dorothy Buckley. The Choice and Use of Dress Materials, continued. Some Reasons Why Food Prices Are High, F. A. Waugh. 1.45 p. m.: Live Stock Parade in front of main building. 2.30 p. m.: Reducing Feed Costs, Philip R. Park. Present Laws Which Affect Packing and Marketing of Fruit, Commissioner Platt. Choosing Floor Coverings, Winter Plants for Farm Homes, Prof. R. H. Patch. Enlisting Boys and Girls for Rural Living, A. J. Brundage. Meeting of executive committee, Connecticut Farm Bureau Federation. (Gulley 3). 3.30 p. m.: Ethics in Business, George H. Cooper. Demonstration Talk on Farm Horses, Professors H. L. Garrigus and A. C. Skinner. Some Results in Sheep Breeding, R. E. Begg. 4.15 p. m.: How Competitors Can Co-operate, Walter E. Crittenden. 7.45 p. m.: Address by George L. Farley. Movies, by courtesy of Connecticut Feed Dealers.

Thursday, August 6.

10 a. m.: The Why of Better Sires, E. W. Sheets. Demonstration Talk on Meat Canning, Miss Linderman. Demonstration Talk on How to Use Sewing Machine Attachments, Miss Glynn. Giving a Child the Right Start, Miss Harriet Leck. 11 a. m.: Experiences in Feeding, Philip R. Park. Demonstration Talks on Meat Canning and on the Use of Sewing Machine Attachments, continued. Conference Hour for Young Mothers at the Infirmary, Miss L. Macdonald and Mrs. M. E. Dakin. Safety in the Home, Mrs. Owen Humphreys. 1.30 p. m.: The Growing of Clover and Alfalfa, Director B. L. Hartwell. The Country Home As I See It, Rev. George B. Gilbert. How to Know When Foods and Drugs Are Pure, Dr. E. M. Bailey. Standards of Living in Some Connecticut Farm Homes, Prof. I. G. Davis. 2.30 p. m.: Alfalfa for Connecticut, J. Stanley Owens. The Country Home As I See It, Miss Marguerite T. Boylan. Planning Ahead for Floral Decorations, Prof. R. H. Patch. Demonstration of Water and Sewage Systems For Farm Homes, F. W. Knipe. How to Measure the Health of Runabout Children, Miss L. Macdonald. Alfalfa in Hartford County, B. G. Southwick. 3.30 p. m.: The Country Home As I See It, Miss Zussman. 3.45 p. m.: Tip to Experiment Fields, B. A. Brown. Inspection of the Young Stock Barn, Prof. G. C. White. Demonstration talks on Choosing a Dairy Sire, Messrs. Simms and Merrill. Demonstration of Milking Machines, R. E. Johnson. 7.45 p. m.: Programme to be announced.

Friday, August 7.

10 a. m.: Co-operative Marketing, R. F. Lewis. How to Guide Children in Forming Habits, Prof. C. B. Gentry. 11 a. m.: Co-operative Marketing of Milk, C. E. Hough. The Story of Life, Dr. Valeria H. Parker. 1.30 p. m.: The Future of the Dairy Business, Dr. G. R. Little. Healthy Boys and Girls, Miss Elizabeth Nickerson. 2.30 p. m.: Quality of Milk, C. A. F. Brandt. The Health of Children as Revealed by Studies Made by the Children's Bureau of New Haven, Dr. Edith Jackson.

Beekeepers' Programme.

Tuesday, August 4, 1925: (Sessions in tent near armory). 10 a. m., Treating Brood Diseases of Bees, Dr. Philip Garman. 11, The Differentiation of Bee Diseases, E. G. Carr. 1.30 p. m., The Significance of Locality in Beekeeping, E. G. Carr. 2.30, Bee Problems in 1925, James I. Hambleton. 2.30, New Things in Beekeeping, Prof. L. B. Crandall. Wednesday, August 5. (Session in Gulley 13). 10 a. m., Honey Plants and Honey Bees One Hundred Million Years Ago (illustrated), Prof. G. R. Welland. 11 a. m., Principles of Merchandising for New England, E. P. Blanchard.

Dairy and Live Stock Programme.

Wednesday: (Morning session in tent near armory). 10 a. m., Demonstration talk on Growing Young Dairy Stock, Prof. G. C. White. Demonstration talk on Growing Young Live Stock, Prof. A. G. Skinner. 11.15 Where Dairying Should Be Most Successful in Connecticut, Prof. I. G. Davis. 1.45 p. m., Live Stock Parade in front of main building. 2.30, Reducing Feed Costs, Philip R. Park, Hawley Armory. 3.30, Demonstration talk on Farm Horses, Professors H. L. Garrigus and A. G. Skinner. South of armory, Some Results in Sheep Breeding, R. E. Begg. Beef barn.

Thursday.

(Sessions in Hawley Armory.)

10 a. m., The Why of Better Sires, E. W. Sheets. 11, Experiences in Feeding, Philip R. Park. 1.30 p. m., The Growing of Clover and Alfalfa, Director B. L. Hartwell. 2.30, Alfalfa For Connecticut, J. Stanley Owens. 3.15, Alfalfa in Hartford County, B. G. Southwick. 3.45, Trip to Experiment Fields, B. A. Brown in charge. Inspection of the young stock barn, Prof. G. C. White. Demonstration talks on Choosing a Dairy Sire, Messrs. Simms and Merrill. Near dairy barn. Demonstration of milking machines, H. E. Johnson, dairy barn.

Friday.

(Sessions in Tent Near Armory.)

10 a. m., Co-operative Marketing, R. F. Lewis. 11, Co-operative Marketing of Milk, C. E. Hough. 1.30 p. m., The Future of the Dairy Business, Dr. G. R. Little. 2.30, Quality Milk, C. A. F. Brandt.

Feed Dealers' Programme.

Wednesday, August 5th. (Sessions in Hawley Armory.)

2.30 p. m., Reducing Feed Costs, Philip R. Park. 3.30, Ethics in Business, George H. Cooper. 4.15, How Competitors Can Co-operate, Walter E. Crittenden.

Thursday, August 6.

The Feed Dealers will attend the Dairy and Live Stock programme in the armory.

Fruit Growers' Programme.

Wednesday, August 5. (Morning Sessions at Horticultural Storage.)

10 a. m., Opening of session by President L. C. Root. The Need of Ventilation in Apple Storage, L. M. Marble. 11, Storage Construction, Prof. R. D. Anthony. 11.30, Discussion of Home Storage, led by Messrs. H. R. Buell, R. C. Gulley, A. B. Smith and J. R. Reinhard. (Afternoon session in tent near armory). 2.30 p. m., Present Laws Which Affect Packing and Marketing of Fruit, Commissioner Philo T. Platt.

Tuesday, August 4.

10 a. m., Keeping the Kitchen Cool in Summer, Mrs. M. E. Dakin. Demonstration Talk on How to Use Sewing Machine Attachments, Miss Glynn. 11, Pointers in Nutrition Gained from Recent Experiments, Dr. L. C. Dunn. Power Machinery for the Home, F. W. Knipe. Demonstration Talk on How to Use Sewing Machine Attachments, continued. 1.30 p. m., Standards of Living in Some Connecticut Farm Homes, Prof. I. G. Davis. Conference Hour for Young Mothers at the Infirmary, Miss L. Macdonald and Mrs. M. E. Dakin. 2.30, Standards for Judging Home Products at Fairs, Miss Lucille Brewer. Some Essentials in Keeping Children Healthy, Miss Dorothy Buckley. 4.30, Informal Tea at Practice house.

Wednesday, August 5th.

10 a. m., How to Make Sunday Really a Day of Rest, Mrs. M. E. Dakin. The Choice and Use of Dress Materials, Miss Mary Walker. (Hawley Armory.) 11, What Shall I Bring Home in My Market Basket, Miss Dorothy Buckley. The Choice and Use of Dress Materials, continued. Some Reasons Why Food Prices Are High, F. A. Waugh. 2.30 p. m., Choosing Floor Coverings. Winter Plants For Farm Homes, Prof. R. H. Patch. (Gulley 13.) Enlisting Boys and Girls for Rural Living, A. J. Brundage. 4.30, Informal tea at practice house.

Thursday, August 6th.

10 a. m., Demonstration Talk on Meat Canning, Miss Linderman. Demonstration Talk on How to Use Sewing Machine Attachments, Miss Glynn. Giving a Child the Right Start, Miss Harriet Leck. 11, Demonstration Talks on Meat Canning and on the Use of Sewing Machine Attachments, continued. Conference hour for young mothers at the infirmary, Miss L. Macdonald, and Mrs. M. E. Dakin. Safety in the Home, Mrs. Owen Humphreys. 1.30 p. m., How to Know When Foods and Drugs Are Pure, Dr. E. M. Bailey. Standards of Living in Some Connecticut Farm Homes, Professor I. G. Davis. 2.30, Planning Ahead For Floral Decorations, Prof. R. H. Patch. (Gulley 13.) Demonstration of Water and Sewage Systems for Farm Homes, F. W. Knipe. (Tent near armory.) How to Measure the Health of Runabout Children, Miss L. Macdonald. 4.30 Informal tea at practice house.

Friday, August 7th.

(Sessions in Hawley Armory.)

10 a. m., How to Guide Children in Forming Habits, Prof. C. B. Gentry. 11, The Story of Life, Dr. Valeria H. Parker. 1.20 p. m., Healthy Boys and Girls, Miss Elizabeth Nickerson. 2.30, The Health of Children as Revealed by Studies Made by the Children's Bureau of New Haven, Dr. Edith Jackson. 4.30, Informal tea at practice house.

Poultry Programme—Monday, Aug. 3.

3 p. m., Meeting of executive committee of Connecticut Poultry Association. 6.30, annual banquet.

Tuesday, August 4th.

(Sessions in Hawley Armory.)

10 a. m., Recent Legislation of Interest to Poultrymen, Prof. W. F. Kirkpatrick. 10.45, The Ethics of Advertising, or Reading Between the Lines, E. Newton Searles. 11.15, What Is In an Egg as the Chemist Sees It, H. S. Schwenk. 1.30 p. m., Feeding for Winter Egg Production, W. H. Allen. 2.30, Sanitary Measures that Work, and How to Work Them, Dr. John D. Clark. The 1925 Poultry Tour, Roy E. Jones. 3.30, Dedication of Card Memorial Poultry House, Paul P. Ives. Demonstrations at poultry plant.

Rural Religious Workers' Programme —Thursday, August 6th.

(Sessions in Tent Near Armory.)

1.30 p. m.: Topic—The Country Home As I See It. Speakers, Rev. Geo. B. Gilbert, Middletown, Miss Marguerite T. Boylan, executive secretary, Diocesan Bureau of Social Service; Miss Zussman, National Council of Jewish Charities.

WAIVED EXAMINATION ON CHARGES OF ARSON

BETHEL, July 21.—(A. P.)—Bernard Isaacson, Alfred Harding and Abraham Friedman, waived examination at a hearing before Justice Arthur E. Taylor tonight on charges of arson and attempted murder growing out of the burning of the Xxclusod Auto Trunk and Specialty Company's factory last April 2, when a watchman was bound and gagged and left in the burning building and were bound over for the next term of the criminal superior court. Bail in each case was fixed at $50,000.

Immediately after the hearing the three men were taken to the county jail in Bridgeport. Isaacson and Friedman had been held in the Bridgeport jail, while Harding was in jail at Danbury. Friedman was extradicted from New York yesterday, after being confined in the Tombs for the past month.

Charles Frost, New York certified public accountant and principal owner of the Xcluso factory, arrested last Saturday, is also being held in $50,000 bail at Bridgeport on similar charges.

The course of the Henley regatta, the greatest rowing event of the world,, is one mile—550 yards. The races are rowed upstream, and the time is close to 7 minutes.

FIRE AT DESTRUCTION OF CONFISCATED LIQUOR

BRIDGEPORT, Juy 21.—(A. P.)—While employes of the customs house here were destroying stocks of confiscated liquor by crashing bottles into a street elevator shaft at the Bridgeport post office, some spectator flickered a lighted match into the alcohol soaked mass of broken glass. A burst of fire resulted which brought out the fire department. The blaze was quenched with no material damage.

A worker who was heaving the bottled liquor into the shaft noted the lighted match come down into the elevator pit from the street level, which was crowded with spectators. He made a brave attempt to retrieve it but was too late and narrowly escaped being burned. After an investigation, Deputy Collector of Port Wallace Smith declared the incident would not check the job of destroying the illicit stores or the method of disposing of it. The match thrower made good his escape in the crowd.

The liquor is being disposed of to make room for newly seized stores. Most of it came from rum running craft seized by the coast guard.

LABOR UNIONS ORGANIZE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

WASHINGTON, July 21—AP)—Organization of the Union Labor Life Insurance company to be capitalized at $2,000,000, was authorized today at a meeting of general officers of all labor unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Matthew Woll, vice president of the federation was appointed president of the organizing committee and George W. Perkins, head of the Cigar Makers' Union was named secretary. They will work with 23 officers of unions in assembling the stock subscriptions and getting the enterprise under way. Headquarters will be in Washington.

E. W. CLARK HAS BOUGHT THE YACHT RESOLUTE

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 21—(A. P.)—The Resolute, victor over the Shamrock IV in the 1920 races for the America's cup, has been bought by E. W. Clark of Philadelphia and will make her next appearance afloat as a schooner. The Resolute is at Bristol, where she has been stored since she was hauled out in 1920. The Herreschoff company, widely known designers of yachts, are now at work on the preliminary designs for her new rig and will begin work on the necessary alterations as soon as the detail work is completed. It is expected that the boat will be put in commission before this season ends.

Sir Thomas Lipton has never succeeded in lifting the America's Cup, notwithstanding that his collection of talismans and luck charms is said to be one of the largest in the world.

POLES DEDICATE MONUMENT AT LEMBERG TO U. S. HEROES

LEMBERG, Poland, July 21—(A. P.)—The recent dedication of the monument to the three American aviators —Kelly, Graves and MacCullum— members of the famous Kosciuszko squadron who were killed during the war against the Soviets in 1919-1920, developed into a great pro-American demonstration.

The monument represents an American aviator with American and Polish arms in the background, and stands in one of the most picturesque parts of Lemberg cemetery. It was erected from funds contributed by a special committee headed by Mme. Ebenberger, patroness of the famous squadron.

Russia Plans Black Sea Oil Port

MOSCOW, July 21—(AP)—Russia has decided to build at Touapse on the Black Sea, a special oil port in order to facilitate the loading of big ocean steamers with oil for export. The bulk of Russian oil for export is now concentrated at Touapse. The long discussed project of building an oil tunnel from Grozny to Touapse an oil tunnel from Grozny to Touapse has been approved by the State Planning Commission. It is expected work will begin this year, and the tunnel will be complete by 1928.

40,000 PIGEONS COMPETE IN ENGLISH HOMING FLIGHTS

HITCHIN, Eng., July 21—(A. P.)—Forty thousand homing pigeons were released here recently for participation in the greatest flight of its kind ever organized in England. The birds flew to their homes in various parts of the north and northeast coast in competitions arranged by 15 federations of fanciers. Forty-two special railway vans, holding approximately 1,600 bird hampers, were required to transport the pigeons to Hitchin for participation in the race.

BRITISH ANXIOUS TO MAKE ANOTHER CLIMB UP EVEREST

LONDON, July 21—(A. P.)—Addressing the Royal Geographical Society's anniversary meeting, the president, the Earl of Ronaldshay, said neither the members of the late Mount Everest committee were prepared to Everest committee were prepred to admit defeat with regard to the conquest of Everest.

The prospect of putting the matter to the final test, he said, depended upon the willingness, or otherwise, of the Tibetan Government to grant permission to another expedition, rather than upon the readiness and ability of the committee to organize and despatch it.

Dog Team Hauls Lumber

CORDOVA, Alaska, Jun —(A. P.)—A team of five Malamute dogs was used successfully last winter to haul lumber from a mill on Grant Lake, west of here, to the Alaska railroad, two miles distant, for transportation to Seward and Anchorage markets.

The shipment of 15,000 feet was made from the mill in loads averaging three-quarters of a ton.

ROSEN RYE FOR GARDENS

With the scarcity of stable manure, home gardeners are employing a scheme practiced by the up-to-date farmer for years, that of green manuring their garden plots. While the planting of clover to be turned under is not practical for the small home garden because a season of vegetables or flowers would have to be sacrificed, the use of Rosen rye is becoming common in small beds and gardens. The rye is sowed early in the fall and turned under the following spring before the vegetables or flowers are put in. This has been found to be a very practical and easy method of keeping the small garden in good tilth and furnishing the needed humus.

This rye was introduced by a Russian student, J. A. Rosen, at the Michigan Agricultural college in 1909. Mr Rosen having been graduated in 1908 and sending the sample from Russia. Not knowing its Russian name it was called Rosen rye and as such has spread over the country and is finding popular use in home gardens as a fertilizer crop, as well as a grain crop. It spread rapidly from Michigan to neighboring states and under the stress of wartime conditions, when the best seeds was demanded, 250,000 acres were sown in Michigan in 1917 and in 1918 the acreage was doubled to 500,000.

Rye is particularly adaptable to light sandy soil, says a Michigan experiment station bulletin, and because of washing and leaching such soils should not be permitted to go through the fall and winter without growing a crop of some kind. Rye can be used to advantage on hundreds of farms to follow crops of corn and beans.

The time to plant for gardeners is the last of September or early in October to secure germination before freezing weather. Suburban gardens in Chicago planted Rosen rye quite extensively last fall on beds where they had grown annuals or vegetables during the season. It is then spaded under the following April as soon as the ground can be worked.

White illiteracy in Alabama has been reduced by 66.5 per cent in 20 years, and negro illiteracy by 55.7 per cent. Education leaders have launched a campaign for equalization of taxes, better roads, more and better school equipment, free textbooks, longer school terms, physical and health education, vocational training, and equal educational opportunity for all the youth of the state.

THE BOSTON STORE
THE REID & HUGHES COMPANY
NORWICH CONNECTICUT

Most Amazing Value Event TODAY FOUR DAYS SALE OF SILKS

A Most Extraordinary Purchase and Sale That Enables You to Buy Finest of Silks at Greatly Lowered Prices. A truly remarkable opportunity for you today. Don't stop to wonder how we sell these finest of silken fabrics at such low prices, but come and get your share of the bargains. We sell as we buy— You get all the advantages we gain by courageous buying and cash purchases.

BENGALINE
"Mallinson's" Black Satin Bengaline, suitable for Coats, Capes, Etc., value $5.98— Sale Price, Yard $1.98

40-inch NEWPORT Crepe, colors black, cocoa and Brown, $2.69 value— Sale Price, Yard $1.49

BROCADED SILKS
36 inches wide, one of the popular silks for early fall and winter wear, seven shades and black, regular $2.49 value— Sale Price, Yard $1.49

TAFFETA
36-inch wide Navy Blue Taffeta, $2.00 value— Sale Price, Yard $1.29

SPORT CREPES
32 inches wide.
A magnificent display of heavy Washable Crepes in plain colors and stripes—silks we have sold all season for $3.00 yard— Sale Price, Yard $1.98

PRINTED CREPE DE CHINES
40-inch Printed Crepe de Chines, Canton Crepes and printed radiums, values $3.00 to $4.00 a yard— Sale Price, Yard $1.98

40-inch Printed Crepe de Chines, our regular $2.50 quality—Sale Price, Yard. $1.49

SHORT LENGTHS
ONE LOT OF HIGH GRADE SILKS, IN SHORT LENGTHS—FINE ALL SILK CREPES, CREPE SATINS, CANTON CREPE, ETC.—LENGTHS RANGING FROM 1 1-4 TO 2 1-4 yards light and dark colors, values $3.00 to $5.00 a yard—
Sale Price $1.98.

CREPE SATIN
400 YARDS OF CREPE SATIN, SATIN-BACK CANTON CREPE AND HEAVY FLAT CREPE, ALL PURE SILK. A LOT OF SILKS IN DRESS LENGTHS BOUGHT FROM ONE OF THE LARGEST AND BEST KNOWN SILK MANUFACTURERS IN THE COUNTRY. ALL NEW FALL SHADES FOR EVENING AND STREET WEAR. PLENTY OF NAVY AND BLACK. VALUES $3.50 to $5.00—
Sale Price $2.69 Yard.

BROCADED RADIUMS
Colors grey, Copen, maize and white, 40 inches wide, $3.00 value— Sale Price, Yard $1.98

GENUINE HONAN PONGEE
32 inches wide, colors grey, cocoa, gold, Burgundy, Copen —Sale Price, Yard, .. $1.19

RADIUM SILK
36 inches wide, 11 colors to select from, $1.50 value— Sale Price, Yard 98c

CREPE DE CHINE.
40 inches wide, fine quality, 9 colors— Sale Price, Yard $1.29

BORDERED CREPES
54-inch Bordered Silk Crepe, formerly $7.00 yard— Sale Price, Yard $3.98

FLAT CREPE
40-inch Flat Crepe, beautiful, lustrous finish, heavy weight, a good assortment of colors, regular $2.00 quality— Sale Price, Yard $1.98

CANTON CREPE
40-inch Satin back Canton Crepe, the popular silk for Fall, eight different shades and black, regular $2.69 value— Sale Price, Yard $1.98

GEORGETTE
40-inch Flowered Georgette, $3.00 value— Sale Price, Yard $2.39

Striped Crepe de Chine and Striped Silk Broadcloths, values ranging from $2.00 to $2.75 a yard— Sale Price $1.39

JERSEY SILK
Dark colors, suitable for Dresses; light colors, suitable for Undervests, values from $1.59 to $5.00— Sale Price, Yard $1.00

SATIN
36-inch wide Navy Blue Satin $2.00 quality— Sale Price, Yard $1.29

Character

To be eligible for sale by a Dodge Brothers Dealer, a product must first prove its competency for exceptional service.

Graham Brothers Trucks proved this competency years ago and are proving it more emphatically than ever today. First in the world in the 1½ ton field, and among the leaders in the 1 ton, these sturdy trucks are capably supporting the priceless reputation of Dodge Brothers Dealers —for selling ONLY products of indisputable merit.

THE JORDAN AUTO CO.,
1029 MAIN ST., WILLIMANTIC

GRAHAM BROTHERS TRUCKS
SOLD BY DODGE BROTHERS DEALERS EVERYWHERE

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

A Danielson man may have to face a charge of reckless driving, for having rushed his automobile over Main street crosing about 9:20 Monday night, ahead of a fast traveling southbound freight. He escaped a crash by inches and witnesses of the incident were shocked to the point of illness. The Main street crossing is unprotected by gate service after 4 p. m. In this particular instance it is declared that there was little excuse for the near accident. The locomotive whistle had sounded the approach of the train. Other drivers had stopped their machines to allow the train to go over the crossing. Then along came the driver in question, speeding blithely into the path of the train, escaping death just missed grabbing him by the coat tail. It was understood Tuesday that the matter will be reported to the proper officials and a request made that a charge of reckless driving be filed against this driver.

Mrs. Ellen H. Codding, 83, widow of Joseph Codding, died early Tuesday morning at her home on Winter street. Mrs. Codding was recovering from an injury that involved breaking her hip in a fall, about three months ago, when her heart weakened, this being the immediate cause leading to death.

Mrs. Codding was born in Coventry, R. I., a daughter of Giles M. and Celia E. Davis Nichols. She had been a resident here for more than half a century and counted among her friends and acquaintances large numbers of the older residents of Danielson. Mrs. Codding leaves two sons, Chester of Danielson and Herbert of Athol, Mass., and three daughters, Mrs. W. Franklin Sheldon of Moosup and Misses Hattie and Myra Codding of Danielson. Mr. Codding died about fifteen years ago. Mrs. Codding was a member of the Danielson Methodist Episcopal church.

Friday evening of this week will bring the first in a series of band concerts to be given on Davis park by St. James' band. It was the intent of the band to begin the concerts earlier in the season, but circumstances prevented. An interesting program has been prepared for the first concert, which is expected to bring out several thousand listeners.

Many in this territory will be fortified against the cold and against higher coal prices in case a coal strike does develop. Buying of the commodity has been liberal for weeks past and continues. Those who are buying feel certain they will not pay less than they are paying now, strike or no strike, and will have little or worry about in case of a tieup in the industry.

Patrick Jones, 65, is dead at the home of his son, Timothy Jones, on Mechanic street. Mr. Jones was a native of Ireland, but had lived the greater part of his life in this country and for years had been engaged in mill work in dyeing departments.

Joseph Allard was reported dangerously ill, Tuesday afternoon, at the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam. Mr. Allard, father of Mrs. Clara Nadeau, of School street, was for years resident here following his trade as a barber and later conducted shops in Putna mand Pomfret.

Following a hearing before Justice Walter Bryden, at Pomfret in which fines totaling $178, with costs, were imposed upon him, Edward Caffery of the town of Brooklyn filed an appeal to the superior court and his bonds were fixed at $500. Michael Caffery of Brooklyn was fined $5 and costs and Hosea Hopkins of Brooklyn $25 and costs by Justice Bryden. All three were in an automobile, Edward Caffery driving, when the machine was in a collision, early Sunday morning, with a machine driven by a Worcester man, the accident in the town of Pomfret.

Where are the successors of the live wire boys who used to get considerable pocket money at this time of year collecting and selling pond lilies in Danielson? It is still done at Jewett City.

One hears of plans of the state highway department, possibly co-operating with interested towns, to develop either the Green Hollow road or the Moosup pond road, leading from South Killingly to Moosup, as auxiliary state highways.

"There will be more rabbits this fall than for several years past," says an old hunter. Large numbers of young rabbits may be seen now, in nearby country districts.

A petty thief has helped himself to a dash clock that was part of the equipment of an automobile left parked in a central section of Danielson.

Owners of radio sets relate that they reception as a general rule for the past have been getting unusually good week, though the weather has been unusually warm. There have been several evenings when static, the bane of radio fans, has been almost entirely absent.

The adoption of Chief A. F. Woodward's suggestion that a two-way hydrant with steamer connection be installed in Salisbury street, assures the borough of more adequate facilities for fighting fire in a congested area as soon as the installation is completed. The advantage will have been made possible through a decision of the Crystal Water company to run a new main through that street, that its patrons in that area get better service.

Rhode Island has a new regulation that many motorists would like to see adopted in Connecticut—a rule that prohibits parking on the traveled surface of a state trunk line, a stunt that has been responsible for numerous accidents and hundreds of traffic tieups. Rhode Island has said that parked machines must be entirely off the improved and traveled section of a state trunk line.

Thursday night dancing has been abandoned for the season at Wildwood park, and Wednesday evening dancing substituted for the mid-week event. This arrangement becomes effective tonight, (Wednesday). Manager E. J. Sheridan said Tuesday that he has found that patrons prefer Wednesday evening to Thursday evening for the mid-week dance.

The Danielson Trust company is considering plans for remodeling the entire lower floor of the structure in order that additional space may be gained for the constantly increasing business of the institution, established in 1924. Nothing definite has been decided as yet as to the exact nature of the alterations, though it is understood that the idea in mind will make the structure something of which Danielson will be proud.

Young people may evolve a swimming pool from a natural lagoon at Old Furnace, just above the falls. Only a small amount of construction work in building a temporary dam would be required to hold back the waters of the brook sufficient to enlarge the pool for an ideal bathing place "in the shade of the sheltering pines." The site is on property owned by the town of Killingly and reserved as a natural park.

L. E. Martin, a Columbus, O., tourist who stopped here with other members of his motoring party, Tuesday morning, declared he found Danielson one of the most attractive places he has visited in a tour of New England. He praised Davis park, mentioned the numbers of beautiful shade trees and the well kept homes. "Danielson is a delight to the eye," he said.

At times this summer it appears to observers, there is a falling off in the amount of heavy motor trucking being done over trunk line causeways operating through Danielson. This is held to be due to a general slackness in business.

POMFRET MAN'S GUEST FISHED WITHOUT LICENSE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, July 21—John Johnson, of Waltham, Mass., was before Judge W. Fenner Woodward in the town court Tuesday afternoon, to answer to a charge of fishing without a license. He was fined $1 and costs, a total of $11.84. Johnson was presented before the court by State Game Warden A. Joseph Williamson and County Game Warden Charles Letters, of Putnam.

Mr. Johnson was a guest of an aged resident of Pomfret when the suggestion was made by his host that they go fishing at Alexander's lake. No thought was given to the fact that Johnson had no license. The wardens came along, however, and discovered the fact. The Pomfret man appeared more upset than did his guest over the arrest and offered to pay the fine and costs, but this offer was declined by Mr. Johnson.

PUTNAM

Leo Reeves, 17, was rendered unconscious when struck by a Ford car Monday evening and at 9 o'clock tonight, was still in that condition. He is believed to be suffering from concussion of the brain and the outcome cannot be determined. He is a stepson of A. R. Saunders, who has a grocery store on School street. About 7 o'clock Monday evening the boy started from the store to deliver a loaf of bread at a residence just across the street. He stepped almost in front of a Ford coupe, driven by Peter La Fontaine. When struck he was thrown forward on his head. He is apparently only slightly bruised and cut other than the injury that has caused him to remain unconscious for more than 24 hours.

La Fontaine tried to avoid striking the boy and in doing so pulled to the left side of the road and was run into by a Dodge car driven by Ralph Leo, of Thompson. His two sisters and Miss Jeannette La Croix, who were riding with him, were bruised somewhat and Miss La Croix was cut on the head but not seriously. The car was badly damaged.

Miss Ellen Dolan has returned from a short visit with Worcester friends.

Miss Miriam Grosvernor, of Boston, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Omer Milot and Miss Josie Grosvernor.

Miss Evelyn Nichols has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Roscie Chase, at Putnam Heights.

Mrs. Anna Houghton and Mr. and Mrs. Winifred Houghton have opened their house at East Putnam.

Miss Gladys Chapman, of Rochdale, Mass., Mrs. Effie Gaskin, of Chicago, Ill., Frank Skinner, and family, of Webster, and Mrs. N. D. Skinner, of North Woodstock have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chapman.

Miss Blanche Stoutenburg has been made assistant field secretary to the League of Women Voters in Windham, and Tolland and the upper part of New London counties, where she will be occupied at present in forming new leagues. Her headquarters will be in Woodstock and all those interested in her work will find her ready to co-operate in every way possible.

Mrs. Frank Beauregard, of North Grosvernordale and her daughter, Isabelle, are on a trip to Canada. While there they will visit St. Anne d'Beaupre and Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleophas Laflamme, Mrs. A. Fontaie and Mrs. P. Croteau, all of North Grosvernordale, are touring Canada.

Robert T. Varnum, of Pomfret, spent last week as the guest of friends at Southampton, Long Island.

Miss Margaret Bayne and Miss Dorothy Morrison, of New York, are at the Orchard house, Pomfret, and will remain until September.

Grosbeck Fowler has gone to New York and will sail shortly for Europe. Mrs. Fowler will remain at the Olive cottage, Pomfret, until August.

Miss Caroline Callendar, of Boston, has arrived at Middlebrook cottage in Pomfret, and will remain for the rest of the summer.

Misses Annie and Bridget Joy and Thomas Hawarth are on an automobile trip through the White Mountains this week.

Edward Randall, who has been at the Memorial hospital, in Worcester, Mass., for almost two years, is now with Mrs. Alfred Griggs, at Abington.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gibson, of New Hampshire, have been recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gibson, of East Putnam.

Mrs. W. H. Cady has returned to her home at East Putnam. Miss Mary Towne is taking her home with her.

STATE TRADE SCHOOL BUSY IN MANY PRACTICAL LINES

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, July 21—Home Economics classes in the special summer course being conducted at the State Trade school are well patronized this year. This work is arranged along the lines of short unit instruction for direct application in the home with the further study of principles involved in the high school course, credit being allowed for high school students taking this work.

The Trade School Athletic association held its annual picnic and outing at Roseland Lake this year and it was an enjoyable affair. Games were arranged and contests held for which prizes were awarded, starting with the fifty yard dash, won by Eddie Anderson, of North Grosvernordale, and ending with the pie-eating instruments, was awarded to Nicholas bee. The first prize, a set of drawing Jeworsk, for highest average in all contests including final honors in pie-eating.

The machine department has completed several small special tools used in the automobile trade. These fixtures are made for the Putnam Buckl company.

The drafting department in co-operation with the carpentry department has completed plans and specifications for a residence now being built by the boys and from present indications the work should be completed before early fall.

The machine department has recently completed a new magnetic chuck which has a lifting capacity of 500 pounds and was ordered by the new State Trade school at Middletown. This chuck was designed and worked out at the school and one has been in use at the Putnam school for some time. Students are justified in being a little proud of their work as it is a very excellent tool and will be used as a medium of instruction in Middletown.

There has developed considerable inquiry for instruction in trades such as plumbing, bricklaying, and automobile work. Whether or not these additional courses can be incorporated will no doubt depend on whether the additional space can be provided. From present indications the present capacity of the school will be overtaxed to take care of the number desirous of instruction in the various trades, the coming fall.

Last year the peak enrollment in all classes passed the 440 mark, including evening classes. The total student hours for the year ending June 30, 1925 was 154,369.

Every year new equipment has been added. Recend additions have been a Pratt and Whitney lathe and 24x24x26 Whitcomb-Blaisdel planer.

The electrical department was enlarged last year by eliminating one textile rom but this department will probably be unable to take care of the students the coming fall. This condition is practically true in all the departments.

Students in the textile course are about to start upon a new project for the Parker Shirt company, New Britain. This work involved the purchase of 5 bales of first grade upland cotton at a cost of $750.

Arthur Johnson, of Woodstock, will be graduated shortly from the carpentry department. He entered that department in June, 1922.

During the summer months vacations are arranged for all students and employes, on such a basis as to keep the school operating throughout the year.

FRESH AIR CHILDREN SURE OF RECEIVING A WELCOME

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, July 21—The New York fresh air children are patiently awaiting the time to start. How many are coming to this vicinity for two weeks away from the hot pavements and crowded, airless tenements of the East Side, depends upon the sacrifice and generosity of the citizens of Putnam, Thompson, Pomfret, Eastford and Woodstock. There are two ways by which a child may enjoy a breathing space in the country—the cyuice may be taken into the home for two weeks free of charge, or $8 may be contributed for a child's support during the two weeks' period.

People willing to take one or more children or to pay the board of one or more are being asked to communicate with Miss Eleanor Mathewson Pomfret; Miss Sylvia Holt, Woodstock; Miss Harriet Lewis, Thompson; Mrs. W. J. Bartlett, or Miss Gertrude Perry, Putnam. Some of those who took children last year have not been paid in full. This is due to the failure of the First National bank, where the money to pay the board was deposited. The fifty-five per cent. paid in dividends by the bank has been apportioned to those to whom it was owed and the committee declares that every cent will eventually be paid.

The purpose of the New York fresh air fund is, as its name implies, to provide vacations for children of the poor.

Its Method—The fund acts as a distributing center—a connecting link between city and country. In the city, more than 200 welfare associations recommend to it their neediest children as fit candidates for a vacation. In the country, "Friendly Towns" form local committees to seek offers of hospitality for these little guests upon arrival. The general public supports the work by contributions. In 1924 contributions of over $120,000 made it possible to give vacations to more than 16,000 children. Of these about 6,000 were entertained in the fund's fresh air camps; the remaining 10,000 were guests in private houses.

The need—There are more than 1,600,000 children in New Yorw city. One-tenth of these live in tenements. In one city block—the one between First and Second avenues and 101st and 102nd streets—dwell 1,600 people, of thirty-two nationalities. Thirty per cent. of these, 1,680, are children.

The value of a fresh air vacation means that it takes the youngster out of the tenements, out of intolerable sleeping places, off unbeatable streets. It gives him three plentiful, wholesome meals a day. It gives him those things unknown in tenement streets, birds, flowers, trees, growing crops, and the thousand beauties of nature. It shows him a new kind of home, different from those of the tenements. It makes friends for him in the country among kind-hearted people who can do much to brighten his life. It shows him, for the first time in most cases, a new America, and by so much increases the possibilities of his becoming a good citizen.

The fund hopes this year to send 18,000 boys and girls from the city furnace to the cool country.

Some of the people who have taken children year after year have grown attached to them. Mrs. Bartlett had a call from Mrs. John Chapman, of Pomfret, who wished to take little Pauline Storkoff, who was Mrs. Chapman's guest last year. She not only wants her for the two weeks, but would like her to remain all summer. little Pauline had a brother whom she wanted to enjoy the country, the member of the committee was requested to send little brother along. It is such generosity that helps relieve the burden the committee has assumed.

STAFFORD

Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Tholen and son, Arthur Tholen, started Monday morning for North Hebron, N. Y., where they will spend their vacation.

Mrs. Findeisen, of Springfield, Mass., is the guest of Mrs. J. P. Brown.

Supt. and Mrs. F. S. Buck left last week for a month's vacation.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Baptist church plans to hold a food sale at the post office.

Miss Dorothy Tholen is at East Northfield, Mass.

Mrs. Chapman, of New York, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Mary Hatch.

Miss Harriet Whiton, of New London, who has been the guest of her niece, Mrs. J. Depeau, for several weeks, has returned home.

The Stafford Golf club defeated the Monsen club last week.

The L. T. L. met at Miss Newton's home, Saturday. Miss McClusky was leader.

LEBANON

At the Baptist church Sunday morning, Rev. A. G. Littlefield took his test from John 5.12.

The C. E. meeting was led by Miss Ida Abel. A duet, Dear to the Heart of the Shepherd, was sung by Miss Cora Chappell and Miss Beatrice Littlefield.

At 3:30 Sunday afternoon, a union open air meeting was held on the lawn of the First Congregational church. Rev. A. G. Littlefield preached from Matt 20:20-21. Rev. Stanley Sellick read the Scripture and offered prayer, also led the singing. Next Sunday, at the same place and hour, Rev. Stanley Sellick will preach the sermon.

At the Congregational church Sunday morning, Rev. Stanley Sellick's subject for the Juniors was Unselfishness. His sermon wa on Can a man believe in Evolution and be a Chritian?

The C. E. meeting was led by Miss Bertha Perry.

Funeral services for Ruth Harriet Foster were held at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Foster, Thursday afternoon at one o'clock. The house was filled with sorrowing relatives and friends. Rev. Stanley Sellick conducted the services. He also sang "Under His Wings." There were beautiful floral pieces. Burial was in the new cemetery, the bearers being Rush Foster, Edwin Foster, Clarence Barry and Charles Brown, uncles of the little girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Fowler with their children, of East Orange, N. J., have been visiting the former's aunt, Mrs. Frank K. Noyes.

Mrs. Herbert C. Goodwin and Miss Margaret Blair, of New Britain, spent Thursday night at C. S. Goodwin's.

Mrs. Gertrude Phelps, of Westchester, was the guest Sunday, of Mrs. O. L. Pultz and called on other friends in town.

Mrs. K. F. Bishop was hostess, at the war office Saturday. There were 27 visitors during the afternoon. Next Saturday, July 25, Mrs. O. L. Pultz is to be hostess.

Rev. and Mrs. Edwin S. Holloway, of New York, who are spending the summer in Hazardville, were recent guests of their daughter, Mrs. G. L. Randall.

Mrs. Annie Martin, of Willimantic, was the guest Sunday, of her brother, C. C. King.

Mrs. William Barrows, of Providence, R. I., is visiting Mrs. L. H. Taylor.

The Ladies' Aid society, of the church parlors Tuesday afternoon. Congregational church, met in the

Mr. and Mrs. William Hahn and daughter, Faith, of Danbury, called on their aunt, Mrs. Lucy King, Sunday.

Alfred Wyman and family spent Saturday at Ocean Beach.

Harold Bruce, of Hartford, is spending some time at L. H. Taylor's.

Dr. Henry Sweet, Dr. John Sweet and son, and Charles Tuttle, of Hartford, spent Sunday with Dr. Henry Sweet's daughter, Mrs. K. F. Bishop.

Mrs. Allen, of Mansfield, Mass., and Mrs. Roy Brown, of Canton, Mass., who have been spending a few days with Mrs. C. H. Foster, returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Pultz and son, Laverne, Miss Beatrice Littlefield, and Mr. and Mrs. K. F. Bishop spent Thursday at Rocky Point and Matunuck Beach, R. I.

Lester Main met with a painful accident while haying, dislocating his ankle. Dr. Henry Sweet attended him.

WESTMINSTER

A party of four men from New Haven are building a summer shack at Little River.

Miss Florence Jones has gone to East Orange, N. J., for an extended visit with relatives.

Nickolas Viatlaz is erecting a new barn in place of one which was burned several years ago.

Mrs. Frank Lennill is improving slowly.

Rev. T. Edward Davies and Mrs. Davies have gone to Douglas to attend camp meeting for a week.

Mrs. John Soderberg has as her guests Mrs. A. Read, Mrs. Thomas Dolan, Miss M. Dolan, from Bay Ridge, N. Y.

Mrs. Jessie A. Meade is visiting relatives in New London.

Mrs. Byron Bingham has joined the church in Scotland.

Miss L. Lathrop, who has been caring for Mrs. Frank Linnell has returned to her home on the Green.

Local residents have been haying A number had hay wet, there have been so many showers this past week.

The new parsonage will soon be completed and ready for occupancy.

William Brown, who has been visiting in New London, has returned home.

Edward Bryne, of Irvington, N. Y., brother-in-law of Mrs. Frank Linnell, is making a visit at her home.

Mrs. W. Anderson, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has returned home, after a visit of several weeks here.

Mrs. Martha Warren, of Bridgeport, and her niece from Stratford, are visiting at the home of Benjamin Davis.

NORTH LYME

Mrs. H. A. Rogers spent Friday her sister, Mrs. William Sisson.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hewitt and Miss Ida Hewitt, of Groton, were callers at W. M. Sisson's and G. H. Strong's Sunday.

H. A. Gate and family were visitors Sunday, at G. H. Strong's.

Misses Evelyn Maynard and Dorothy Sisson are taking the Junior short course at Connecticut Agricultural college, this week.

SOUTH KILLINGLY

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Eldridge were visitors at The Oaks Friday.

Mrs. Albert Grover spent Sunday with Mrs. Herbert Strait, of Danielson.

Harry Clark, of Danielson, is cutting the grass on his farm, formerly known as Meadowbrook Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. John Crowley, of Pawtucket, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Phillips.

Henry Leonard and family, of Valley Falls, spent Sunday at Spaulding cottage, Mrs. Lenard and daughters, Lyra and Helen, will remain for a week.

Berries seem to be plentiful this year. Some people have already sold several dollars' worth.

The Girls' club is planning a social, to be held in the Community House Friday evening.

Blanche White, of Long Island, who has been spending a vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tetreault, returned home Sunday.

Members of Charles Youngs' family spent a day at the beach recently.

George Slater is having a piazza built on his house.

Mrs. Raymond Gates, who has been ill for several days, is able to be up part of the time.

SOMERS

Rev. E. M. Holloway of New York, who is visiting relatives in Hazardville, preached in Somers church on Sunday morning. Mr. Holloway's text was Job. 13-15 "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him." He preached a most impressive sermon and had the closest attention of the audience. The Christian Endeavor service Sunday evening was led by Miss Dorothy Avery.

The Choral society met with Mrs. Gladys Comstock this week. An announcement was read from the pulpit of the Congregational church Sunday morning that Mrs. Ernest Fuller is to have installed in the Congregational church a new organ, electrically equipped, in memory of her grandmother, Mrs. Henry R. Kibbe. This generous act of Mrs. Fuller's is greatly appreciated.

The Sunday school held their annual picnic at Crystal Lake last Wednesday.

The members of the Tobacco Men's association held a picnic at Riverside last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thatcher's son Harold, recently broke his arm. The boy was rolling a barrel by walking on its side, when it slipped from under him.

Rev. Frederick Balcom supplied in the Stafford Springs church Sunday last.

Judge J. White Summer and William R. French, of Bolton, were recent guests of Frederick D. Finley.

Willard Prior of Springfield spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Henry A. Prior.

Mrs. Evans, secretary of the local grange, has received notice of the annual field day and picnic of East Central Pomona Grange, No. 5, to be held at Crystal Lake Wednesday, July 29th. It is to be a basket lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thayer of Springfield were recent guests of the former's parents.

Frederick D. Finley visited relatives in Bolton last week.

Mrs. Abby F. Pease, of Randolph, New Hampshire, and Mrs. Fanny H. Gates, formerly of Sholapur, India, are visiting their sister-in-law and cousin, respectively, Miss Harriet R. Pease.

NORTH STERLING

Miss Susan Legendre has returned to Dudley, Mass., for two weeks' visit with school girl friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fortune have been entertaining friends from Holyoke Mass.

Clinton Coles, of Jewett City, visited H. H. Crowell, over the week end.

Miss Alma Sherman is home for the summer months.

H. H. Crowell, George C. Spooner, Mrs. W. R. Spooner and daughters, Ruth and Irene, motored to East Greenwich, R. I., Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams and son, Elmer, of Clinton, Mass., called on friends here Saturday.

Mrs. Lillian St. John and son, Clarence, of Moosup, visited friends here Sunday.

B. E. Benway and family, of East Killingly, called on local friends Sunday.

Sunday being a perfect summer day, there were many automobiles on the road.

And the woman who looks as though she had a secret sorrow is always interesting—until she begins to turn it loose.

An Opportunity

YES, THIS IS A REAL OPPORTUNITY that should interest every alert homeowner. Especially, if you've put up with gas and dust from your furnace during the past winter or if you groan when you think of your coal bill and the job you had trying to keep the house comfortable during the snappy spells.

Next Week—Sterling Furnace Club Sale

And we are going to sell a lot of furnaces to people who know a good thing when they see it, because—most everybody knows the reputation back of the Sterling and the special terms we are offering from Monday to Saturday next week make a combination offer that can't be beat.

This is

BERT H. LANDERS

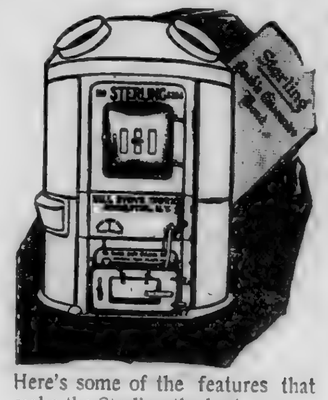
the special factory representative who is going to be at our store next week during the Club Sale. He's a practical furnace man and knows the business from cellar to attic. We're mighty glad to have him with us because we know he can help a good many people who have heating problems to solve. If you're puzzled on any phase of home heating see Mr. Landers before he leaves.

He's at your service—without cost or obligation on your part.

If you buy during the Club you just pay a small membership fee now, the next payment September 1st. You have a year to pay. That's some offer, on a Sterling. But it will give us the work in our slack time and that's when we would rather do it. We take pride in our furnace installations and would always rather take our time than to put in a rush job.

You can't tell a good furnace by looking at the casing. You have to investigate the hidden values You wouldn't buy an automobile without knowing that the engine under the hood was "up to snuff," so look under the casing of the furnace and check against some of Sterling's hidden features.

The Sterling Furnace is installed under a Double Guarantee Bond signed by ourselves and the manufacturers—let us explain some of Sterling's hidden values.



Here's some of the features that make the Sterling the best you can buy in heating equipment.

1. Heavy two piece firepot.
2. Large straight sided combination chamber.
3. Dust-tight square bask ashpit.
4. Sterling triangular cutting grates—shaker bar on outside
5. Gas-tight cup joints.
6. Two-way radiator. Same depth as combustion chamber.
7. Correctly proportioned air spaces.
8. Extra large air moistener.
9. Automatic draft control.
10. Copper bearing steel.

This is the chance of a lifetime to install a warm air heating system that will assure you for years to come of "Summer comfort in Winter."

Club Opens Monday

E. H. Keach Co.

DANIELSON, CONN.

Closes Saturday

JOHN MORROW, NORWICH, ATTEMPTS ROBBERY AT OCEAN BEACH PAVILION

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 21.—John Morrow, giving Norwich as his home and the Mather building as his place of residence, was caught with the goods on him, when he attempted to rob the Clifford pavilion at Ocean Beach at 1.20 this morning. He was crouched under a window where he had broken the glass and slipped a bolt so that he could enter. Policeman E. H. Riordan, making his rounds, saw a dark figure under the window and cast his flash light upon it. It moved and Riordan grabbed it, at the same time warning the young man that he must throw up his hands or take a dose of cold lead from the police revolver. Morrow did as commanded. It proved that he, too, had a revolver in his possession and that he was equipped with a flash light and a burglar's jimmy that might be used for prying open windows or doors. Morrow had only fifty cents in his duds and admitted that he was after more money as the half dollar he had would only get his rats this morning. Locked up, Morrow had no more to say. He was today presented in court, charged with attempting burglary and with carrying a concealed weapon unlawfully. He pleaded guilty of both offenses. On the first count of the complaint he was sentenced to jail for a term of six months and was fined $100. On the charge of carrying the gun he was sent to jail for three months. Morrow said he had been away from Norwich and while he was absent he resided in Akron, Ohio, but he was back in Norwich yesterday. He is believed to be the man who stole more than $150 from one Harvey at the beach and this will be investigated.

There was a scrappy time in the police court this morning, when Peter Albano, his wife, Sophie, her sister Elsie, and the mother of the girls, Mary Bishop, were all charged with a breach of the peace, by offensive conduct, noise and behavior and the assaulting of each other. Albano was the first to testify and he did it with a good deal of energy. Then the wife had her innings and she made the most of them. The trouble is a row between the members of the families. When the young people were married, wedding debts were contracted that have never been paid. That is said not to be an unusual thing but it seems to have annoyed the mother of Albano and she has mentioned the fact in a way that did not please the Bishop family. Albano has been at work in Middletown as an electrician. He came home last week and then some mischief-maker informed him that his wife, a very attractive girl, had been away from home two days and two nights. Mrs. Albano denounced this story as absolutely untrue, but it lingered with the husband. He told the police court today of what he had heard, saying that when he returned home here he entered by greeting his wife with the interrogation, "Pretty soft?" She did not quite understand that sort of greeting, so she was not cordial in her response. Albano wanted her to go out with him, but she declined. Then words were handied and Mrs. Albano called her parents. This call brought sisters too, and there was a lively time, during which, Albano says, he was smashed over the head with a heavy pocketbook that broke his flesh and started the blood flowing from his nose. Miss Elsie Bishop, a girl who has been pictured in the illustrated papers as a dancer as well as a "beauty," denied all that Albano had said. She didn't tell that it was false as a witness in court, but she volunteered the information from her seat among the spectators. It remained for Sophie Bishop Albano to lay out her husband. She declared that he kicked her, although she was in a delicate condition, and that she left the marks of his clutches on her arms and throat. She called Dr. Douglass as a witness to tell of his examination of her bruises and the doctor confirmed what the wife had said. Finally the witnesses were all testifying at once, or at least were volunteering information, while the attorneys, Messrs. Hollandersky and Morgan, disputed also. Judge Prince ordered all connected with the case to an ante-room where he thrashed out the facts quickly. He returned and fined Albano $25, but suspended the execution of judgment for a year, to see whether the couple will follow the advice he gave them. Then he admonished both families to cease to interfere with Albano and his wife and to allow them to conduct their affairs in their own way, saying they would, he was convinced, get along if that course were followed. The two families are of the same religious belief, but they seem to have conflicting ideas in other respects.

Two negroes of the sort that are supposed to be raised in the sun for they appeared to be so lethargic that they did not want to make the effort to talk, were found in a caboose of the New Haven railroad at an early hour this morning by Officer Montgomery. They were sent to jail as trespassers on railroad property, each to stay ten days and to pay the costs of prosecution.

Frank Frauer, suffering from rheumatism, is at Hot Springs. He will return next week.

An automobile truck operated by Louis Richmann, 147 North Bank street, was in collision this forenoon on Williams street, near Main street, with a machine owned and driven by Gunner Fragness, of Riverside house, Niantic. The latter machine was damaged.

Mrs. Anna Street, 72, wife of Jarvis Street, of Jefferson avenue, died this morning at the Norwich State hospital, in which institution Mrs Street had been under treatment for some time. Besides her husband, Mrs. Street is survived by a son, William L. Street, of this city, and a daughter, Mrs. Della Rathbun, of Noank.

George Cook, of 18 Hope street, was committed to the Norwich State hospital, this afternoon. The patient was taken to the institution by Captain of Police Charles A. Finney and Sergeant Samuel Hick.

The New London police this afternoon received a telegram from George E. Kelley, 57 Lake place, New Haven, that while his automobile was parked at the Hotel Griswold annex, Eastern Point, or at the Union station, this city, $170 was stolen from the car. The money was the property of John Cameyer, of Noank.

An Old Town canoe, painted blue, was stolen from a resident of Groton on the 16th inst., but not until this afternoon was any trace of the canoe obtained. The canoe was sighted in the Thames river, about 2 o'clock, when Capt. Andrew McCarthy, of the Groton police, observed two men paddling the canoe at a point between Fort Trumbull and the wharf of the Merritt-Chapman-Scott company, Captain McCarthy identifying the canoe by means of binoculars from the Groton shore. Captain McCarthy communicated with the New London police and Motorcycle Officer William Babcock was assigned to the case. Officer Babcock went to Pequot avenue, where he ordered the canoeists to come ashore. The officer identified the occupants of the canoe as sailors stationed at the United States Coast Guard reservation. The sailors declared that they had found the canoe on rocks close to the reservation and had paddled it to Groton where a woman, who was said to have owned the canoe, failed to identify it as her property. The canoe is now moored at the Coast Guard pier, awaiting identification by the owner.

Thieves operated without detection on Bank street, early this morning, for it was revealed during today that two places were entered and plunder obtained. One of the places visited by the crooks was the meat market at 635, conducted by Nathan Traystman. The crooks entered the market by removing a screen from a rear window. Going to the middle of the market the crooks forced open the cash register and removed its contents, $40. The other place visited was the automobile salesroom at the R. P. Smith garage. Entrance to the garage was obtained in the same manner as was that to the market and the plunder taken was a five-tube radio set.

Anthony Salia, proprietor of the Ideal Rooming house, 43 Bank street, visited Ocean Beach last evening and after he parked his automobile a thief visited the machine and stole a motor meter.

Mrs. Allan Morris, 105 Howard street, reported to the police early this morning that a man had been prowling about the yard of her home nearly a quarter of an hour. Motorcycle Officer Augustus Ray was dispatched to the Morris residence, but when he arrived there a search of the yard and the vicinity of the Howard street house failed to locate the prowler.

John H. and Matilda C. Swanson today sold the property at 259 Bank street, known as the Firemen's restaurant, which Mr. Swanson had conducted a number of years, to Morris Hendel. The price paid was $14,000. Mr. Swanson disposed of the restaurant business several days ago to Mr Hendel for $4,000.

Lewis and Dora Kozlin have sold to Michael and Nastacia Natussewick a house and lot on Belden street.

Rose Devinney, of Groton, has sold a building lot on Cutler street, to Carmella Cascio.

Captain of Police Charles A. Finney resumed his duties at the police station today, having been confined to his home on Howard street for a week by illness.

Three boys, one of them having been implicated in numerous thefts, including thefts from automobiles, were observed in a Massachusetts machine that was parked on State treet, near the Hotel Mohican this evening, by a taxicab driver, who called the attention of Traffic Officer Walter Rehn to the fact. The youths were taken to the police station where it was discovered that they had not stolen articles from the car, so they were sent to their homes.

The partially submerged catboat that was picked up off New Haven lighthouse Sunday by the crew of one of the tugboats of the Merritt-Chapman-Scott company and towed to New Haven harbor, has been identified as the property of Dr. Harry S. Pratt, of Port Jefferson, N. Y. The boat began to founder with Dr. Pratt's two sons as occupants and the young men were taken off by a passing steamer. The catboat floated through the Sound until she was picked up by the tug.

Funeral services for George A. Hill, of 181 Willetts avenue, who dropped dead while marching with the Bedouin patrol, of Pyramid temple, A. & A. O. N. O. M. S., Saturday, were held this morning at 11:30 o'clock at Brainard lodge, Masonic temple, and were attended by a large assemblage. Officers of Brainard lodge officiated. The body was escorted to the Union station by a delegation of members of the patrol and forwarded to Cambridge, Mass., where committal services were conducted this afternoon.

F. A. Gardner, of South Manchester, will be in the Groton town court next Monday on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. The machine he was operating in Groton last night collided with a car owned and driven by Albert Benvenuti, 9 Chelsea street this city. The accident occurred near the approach to the Thames river highway bridge and both automobiles were damaged; the occupants escaped injury. Gardner was arrested by Patrolman Edward Morgan and furnished a bond of $500 for his court appearance.

Mrs. William Starks and infant son, of 42 Tilley street; Miss Gertrude Cottin, Worcester, Mass.; Mrs. Benjamin Hislop and infant daughter, East Lyme; Miss Louise Caplan, Mystic, and Mrs. Samuel Gossett and infant daughter, 21 North Bank street, patients at Home Memorial hospital, were dismissed today.

FALL IN MOUNTAINS HAS SERIOUS RESULT

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Hendel, of Broad street, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hendel, of Linden street, returned to New London last evening, having spent a week in the White Mountains. Just before the return trip was to be started, Philip J. Hendel suffered a fall and injured his right ankle. When the party reached New London, Mr. Hendel was taken to Lawrence-Memorial hospital where it was determined that he had fractured a bone and had ruptured an artery. The injury will incapacitate Mr. Hendel indefinitely.

MONTVILLE FOREMAN TO WED TELEPHONE SUPERVISOR

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 21.—Announcement is made of the approaching marriage of L. Ira Allen, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Ira Allen, of 16 Alger street, and Miss Anna M. McGrath, daughter of Mrs. Mary McGrath, 278 Crystal avenue. The wedding will be solemnized at the rectory of St. Mary's Star of the Sea church the 30th inst. Mr. Allen is employed as foreman at the plant of the Robert Gair company, Montville. Miss McGrath is supervisor in the local exchange of the Southern New England Telephone company.

ESCAPED NORWICH PATIENT FOUND AT UNION STATION

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 21.—Patrick Hynan, a patient at the Norwich State hospital, made his escape from the institution today. Although the New London police were not notified of the escape of Hynan, he was apprehended here late this afternoon. Hynan made his way to this city and proceeded to the Union station where he was observed by a railroad employe, who called the attention of Patrolman William Riordan to the strange actions of Hynan. The officer questioned Hynan and quickly came to the conclusion that he had made a get-away from the Norwich institution. Hynan was escorted to the police station and a telephone message to the hospital made it known that Hynan was missing. This evening John Shoblock, a keeper at the hospital, came to New London and took charge of the patient.

OLD MYSTIC

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Rhodes Green wife of Charles H. Green were held at her home on River road, Sunday afternoon, many relatives and friends attending. The services were conducted by Rev. Lowry B. MacLennen, pastor of the Methodist church. There were beautiful floral emblems. The bearers were William Harvey, Shirley Thompson, Frank Wheeler, and William Wills. Burial was in Plainfield cemetery East Lyme.

Several from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Nancy E. Dewey, wife of Halsey E. Packer, at the Methodist church, Mystic, Monday afternoon. Rev. L. B. MacLennen read the scripture. Rev. J. G. Osborn offered prayer and Rev. J. G. Salls paid a meritous tribute to her exemplary Christian life, speaking of the loss to the church and village in her passing away. He closed the service with prayer.

The floral tributes were beautiful. Burial was in the Road church cemetery, where her parents, Israel and Abbie Eldredge Dewey are buried.

Mrs. Packer united with the Methodist church here in 1882 and after her marriage with Mr. Packer and their removal to Mystic she transferred her membership there. Many are living who went to school to her and now have families. She continued her teaching nearly all her married life, from choice, also because of her proficiency as a teacher. The school committee were anxious to have her continue and she gave up teaching only when her health failed. During her long illness she was cheerful and patient. She was a member of the W. C. T. U.

The Methodist Sunday school had a picnic at Watch Hill Saturday afternoon. Two trucks carried the children and some used their cars for conveyance.

The United Workers are to meet today (Wednesday) for the last time until fall.

Professor and Mrs. DeWitt T. Keach and son Paul, of New Haven and Miss Elizabeth Bentley are spending the summer at White Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Eldridge and Mr. and Mrs. Osmond Eldridge, of Hoosick Falls, were calling on relatives here Sunday.

Claire and Jane Smith, of Waterbury, visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Eldridge.

Mrs. William Holmes and two children, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Swain.

The Ladies' Aid Society is to meet with Mrs. Frank Wheeler this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Whiting is visiting in New Haven.

Miss Emma Williams has been visiting at Groton Long Point.

BALTIC

The following scores were shot on the Baltic Rifle Club range: 50 shots on the one inch ring target 50 yards off hand: Herbert Stewart, 472; Clinton Watson, 461; Otto Froemel, 450; Walter Watson, 459; William Magill, 458; Harry Sargent, 456; George Ashley, 10 shots, 90.

Council No. 188, of U. S. J. B. d'A. held its regular meting recently and during the meeting elected delegates to the convention to be held in Holyoke the coming October.

A. P. Cote and family spent Sunday at Atlantic Beach.

S. P. Pratte who has been ill has been able to return to his duties this week.

Miss Seidal spent Sunday at Atlantic Beach, the guest of Rhode Island friends.

Miss Rose Coulombe and Miss Emma Simoneau are on a leisurely visit in Canada, travelling for their health.

Zoel and Eugene Gaucher were in Holyoke Monday attending the reunion of the alumni of St. Cesaire College, Quebec.

A. J. Baril is attending the Druggists' Convention being held this week at Boston.

Miss Rhea Despathy is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fontaine, at Groton Long Point.

Conseil Ste. Marie No. 187 held its meeting Monday evening and elected a delegate to the National Convention of the order to be held in Holyoke October.

In honor of her seventh birthday, Estelle Cote entertained at Ocean Beach the latter part of last week fifteen young friends. The trip was made by motor.

PROFITEERING GUIDE FINED BY HIGH COURT OF GERMANY

POTSDAM, July 21.—(AP)—Six dollars is too much for any guide in charge for taxing tourists through Sans Souci castle and other sights of Potsdam, in the opinion of the court of appeals. Guides for tourists are not a luxury, as held by the lower court whose decision was reversed, but a daily necessity and therefore cannot command fancy prices.

The case arose out of a difference some months ago between a party of Englishmen and a Potsdam guide named Max Schulz. The guide had charged 25 marks for taking the party around, whereupon the Englishmen appeared to the courts. The lower court believed that anybody who can afford a guide is rich enough to pay whatever the guide may charge. The state's attorney held, however, that Germany and especially Potsdam have every reason to encourage the traveling public, and that overcharges like these were calculated to make people shun Potsdam, thereby ruining its tourist business.

The higher court agreed with the state's attorney, reversed the decision, and assessed a fine of 20 marks.

If a man is a financial success people overlook the means that made him so.

BERLIN ZOO PURCHASES COACH USED BY NAPOLEON'S SON

BERLIN, July 21.—(AP)—The management of the Zoological Garden in Berlin has recently purchased the gala coach of little Napoleon II, the great Napoleon's only son, from the Castans Museum of Wax-Works.

The vehicle is still emblazoned with the imperial French crown surmounting the date, A. D. 1813. The coach takes its place in the "Little Caravan" at the Zoo, a procession of youngsters on the donkeys and camels and in coaches drawn by goats and ponies making hourly rounds of the Zoological Garden.

INSECTS SOLD IN TOKYO FOR MUSICAL QUALITIES

TOKYO, July 21.—(AP)—Singing insects are now on sale by street venders along the Ginza, the gay "Main Street" of Tokio. The principal merchants of the insect variety are cricket and long-horned grasshoppers of the Japanese the "song" of the cricket and the grasshopper lends a peculiar charm to the summer evening.

The diminutive insects are sold in quaint bamboo cages, decorated with silk ribbons. Prices range from fifty sen to as high as twenty-five yen each.

Fresh Seasonable Food Specials for All Day Wednesday and Thursday Morning

THIS STORE WILL CLOSE AT NOON THURSDAYS DURING JULY AND AUGUST.

THE MOHICAN COMPANY

SIRLOIN, ROUND, PORTERHOUSE STEAKS, lb. 27c
Cut from Western Dressed Beef.

LEAN CUTS CORNED BEEF, lb. 9c

ABSOLUTELY FRESH, BROWN EGGS, 2 dozen 79c

FLAKE WHITE SHORTENING, 2 lbs. .. 35c
A Pure Vegetable Product—a Lard Substitute.

Genuine Young Tender SPring Legs LAMB, lb. 33c

Forequarters LAMB, lb. 25c

Freshly Cut LAMB CHOPS, lb. 25-35c

Freshly Chopped Beef Hamburg, lb 12½c

Nicely Cured Sliced DRIED BEEF, lb. 52c

--Direct from Block Island-- Swordfish, lb. . 39c

Fresh Caught Mackerel, lb. . 19c

Freshly Opened Chowder CLAMS, pt. ... 39c

FRESH Halibut, lb. ... 45c

DOMESTIC Sardines, 5 cns 25c

Hire's Root Beer and Ginger Ale Extract, bot. .. 18c

Large Package FAB, 2 for 45c

Kellogg's PEP, pkg. 12c

Mohican 2 pkgs. Macaroni 23c

5 lbs. Granulated Sugar 1 lb. Confectioners' Frosting Sugar Both for 39c

Fresh Crisp 2 for Cucumbers 5c

Large Ripe Bananas, doz. 19c

NEW 1925 APPLES, 4 qts. 25c

Fresh Walnut Halves, lb. ... 59c

Luscious California 3 for Cantaloupes . 25c

8 to 11 A. M. (D. S. T.) 3-Hour Sale Wednesday and Thursday Morning—8 to 11

ALL KINDS STEAKS, lb. 19c

FRESHLY SLICED LIVER, 10c lb; 3 for 25c

Sugar Cured Smoked Shoulders, lb. 19c

CINNAMON BUNS, 2 doz. 35c

GRANULATED SUGAR, 5 lbs. 29c

Fresh Raised Maryland BISCUIT, 2 doz. 25c

Fresh Mohican BREAD, 3 for 20c

Best Long Island Potatoes, 15-lb. pk. .. 55c

Freshest New Grass Creamery BUTTER, lb. 49c

Home Made Sugar COOKIES, 2 doz. ... 25c

TO FAT WOMEN WHO WISH TO SAFELY REDUCE

Beautiful New York Model Tells

HER SECRET

Miss Peg Evans, who is today recognized as one of New York's most beautiful artist's models, tells below of her experience in attaining a figure which everyone admires—ALL FAT WOMEN should read it because it explains how to get slender and possess a beautiful, slim figure without the use of diets—exercises—dangerous drugs or painful reducing systems.

"When I noticed that I was putting on flesh," says this beautiful young lady, "I realized that something had to be done which would take off the excess weight without altering my looks. Diets I knew were too weakening, leaving one wrinkled and old looking after the reducing, exercises had no effect on me, and I had been warned by my physician about dangerous drugs and reducing garments. A friend recommended SAN-GRI-NA with which she, herself had taken off 48 pounds. But before trying it I decided to ask the opinion of a physician-member of my family. He thoroughly investigated SAN-GRI-NA and advised me that it was safe to try it. I used it and by taking only two small tablets a day I am now back to my normal weight. I think SAN-GRI-NA is perfectly wonderful, and why so many fat women choose to remain so now that such a reliable and safe reducer is on the market, I cannot see. I am glad to have my photograph and letter used in connection with this marvelous life saver for FAT PEOPLE."—Peg Evans, N. Y. C.

What this beautiful, young lady says is only one instance of hundreds of similar cases—SAN-GRI-NA does really work wonders and takes off fat safely and quickly when everything else fails! It is recommended by leading physicians and druggists. Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, advises it, and hundreds of patients who have reduced are every day recommending it to their fat friends.

If you are too fat, be it 10 or 100 pounds, make this simple test! Buy a package of SAN-GRI-NA (do not accept any substitute called just as good, as you will be disappointed). Weigh yourself before starting the treatment, then notice how different you feel and how quick you can take off those rolls of fat—SAN-GRI-NA is guaranteed ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS; not only does it eliminate excess fat but it acts as a general tonic on the system of fat people. SAN-GRI-NA is ideal to relieve high blood pressure, puffing, and do away with that horrid "tired feeling" well known to FAT PEOPLE.

On sale at any good drug or department store. If your druggist does not carry San-Gri-Na in stock he can get it from his wholesaler or you can send a money order or check for $1.50 direct to the Scientific Research Laboratories, 1841 Broadway, N. Y. City.

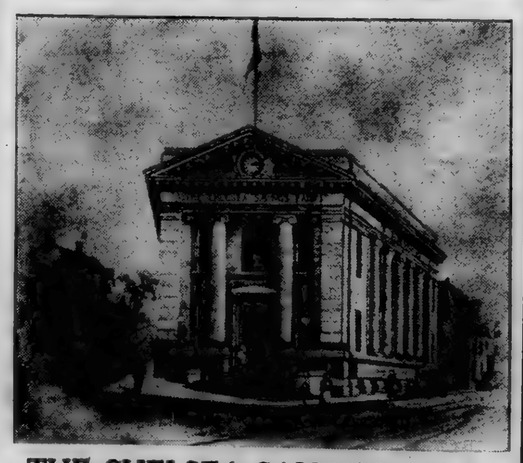
STOP ITCHING SKIN

Zemo the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid, Gives Prompt Relief

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin. Soon after the first application of Zemo you will find that irritations, Pimples, Blackheads, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

Zemo is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy. It is a non-greasy, disappearing liquid that may be applied during the day. Trial bottle 35c, large size $1.00. Zemo Soap, antiseptic and healing, 25c.

SIXTY-SEVEN YEARS OLD—July 1925



THE CHELSEA SAVINGS BANK

Franklin Square Norwich, Conn.

During 1923, 1924 and March 1, 1925, This Bank Paid 4½ Per Cent Dividends

DIVIDEND JUST DECLARED FOR SEPTEMBER 1925

IS AT THE RATE OF 4 PER CENT AND 1-4 OF 1 PER CENT EXTRA, OR

AT THE RATE OF 4½ PER CENT A YEAR

"The Bank of Community Service."

OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS, 6:30 to 8 P. M.

POETRY

EVOLUTION.

Evolution's quite the word.
Seems to bring both fire and sword
To the hearts of those who hate
Folks who always hesitate
To cast off their old beliefs
And accept the newer briefs.

Some folks say the earth was made
Through the ages old and staid,
Others say in lesser time
Was the old globe made quite prime.
Somehow I don't care a bit
Whether God created it
In six days, or sixty-one
Long's the work was so well done;
Still I'm inclined to guess
He could do it in far less,
If it had so suited Him
Man's efficiency to trim.

Now I'm not a monkey fan.
So I don't just like the plan
Of some folks, who say that beast
Was the pattern that God leased
When He made us, you and me,
For time and eternity.
Seems as though that He who made
The universe without a spade
Could, without a monkey's face,
Build both male and female grace.
Yes—the proof is never hid,
He made us as He said He did.

Now the point of view I hold,
In the good old book is told
Every species that you'll find,
He made each a perfect kind,
And dominion over all
Man was given, Divine his call.
In God's image we were made,
So let's just be unafraid
And the Bible still defend.
Keep your faith until the end.

—Anna Snow Fitts in The Penn State Times

A DRIFTING PETAL.

If I, athirst by a stream, should kneel
With never a blossom or bud in sight
Till down on the theme of its liquid night
The moon-white tip of a sudden keel,
A fairy boat,
Should dawn and float
To my hand, as only the Gods deserve,
The cloudlike curve,
The loosened sheaf,
The ineffable pink of a lotus leaf,—
I should know, I should feel, that far away,
On the dimpled rim of a brighter day
A thought had blossomed, and shaken free
One sheath of its innermost soul for me
—Mary McNeil Fenollosa.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Driver—I say, is my back tire flat?
Boy—Yes, but only at the bottom; the other part's all right.—The Progressive Grocer.

Miss Hayseed—I was anchored three times, wasn't I?
Jealous rival—Yes; the audience seemed to realize that you needed practice.—Life.

He—And who made the first cotton gin?
Young Thing—Heavens! Are they making it from that, too?—University of Pennsylvania Punch Bowl.

Irritable Husband (to wife driving a nail)—How do you expect to knock a nail in the wall with a clothes-brush? For goodness' sake use your head dear!—Good Hardware.

Wife—Guess what I have come to ask for?
Husband—Money!
Wife—Oh, what a dear, clever husband you are!—Le Journal Amusant, Paris.

Faith—The young man who sends flowers to a girl who has broken a date on account of illness.
Hope—The man who calls a girl for a date at eight o'clock saturday evening.
Charity—The girl who suggests they go to the movies.—Northwestern University Purple Parrot.

Can you name all the state capitals?
Leon.
What is the capital of the state of matrimony?
Money.—Boston Transcript.

The student was answering questions. Everything was going along fine. Then the professor asked: "What are the properties of heat?"
Heat observes all bodies, while cold contracts them.
That's right—now illustrate.
In the summer the days are longer, while in the winter they are shorter.—Wall Street Journal.

KALEIDOSCOPE

The ancient Egyptians rated silver above gold in value.

The Nile flows for more than 1,600 miles without a tributary.

The United States consumes more than 70 per cent of all the rubber in the world's yearly crop, and about three-fourths of the entire acreage of plantation rubber is under British control.

A research institute is to be established at Johns Hopkins University, where a staff of biologists and biometricians will devote their entire time to "the biology of life duration and its control." Scientists are of the opinion that it will be possible to lengthen the span of life.

After a separation of 30 years, and attempts through all his days of manhood to find her, an English soldier now in Egypt, has been brought in touch once more with his mother, now in Canada. The Salvation Army in Canada accomplished in a few weeks a task that had baffled the soldier for the greater part of the thirty years.

For the first time in the history of Fayette county (Pennsylvania) courts, testimony was taken by telephone recently. Richard Barton, one of the witnesses in an automobile accident case, had just returned home after being a patient in a hospital and was unable to attend court. He was called by telephone, the oath administered and his testimony transmitted and recorded by the court stenographer.

A specially designed seven-story brick structure has been erected in San Francisco for training firemen. It contains a room where the operation of sprinkler systems is demonstrated. Another room is, in effect, a chamber where the men brave smoke and try out various kinds of protective devices. The fire alarm system is studied in another room. The basement is used for instructing recruits how to enter burning cellars. Even the exterior walls are used for training in wall scaling and in fire-escape work.

One of the largest trees in Hutchinson, Kas., has grown from a walking stick. In April 1874, Judge W. R. Brown was walking along East Sherman street, twirling a cottonwood stick. Amos Plank was working in his yard when Judge Brown came along. "Well, I guess I'd better plant you a tree," the judge remarked, and he stuck his cane into the soft ground. Plank was called away from home for the summer. When he returned he found that the cottonwood stick had sprouted. Today it is the largest cottonwood tree in Hutchinson.

Siamese students are coming in increasing numbers to the United States. The brother of the present king is a graduate of Harvard. The assistant director-general of the Royal Siamese railway and a son of the minister of the interior were educated in this country. Associations have been formed in Siam and in America to promote interest in educational institutions in the United States. As foreign-trained Siamese become available, they are gradually supplanting Europeans employed in the various branches of the Siamese government.—School Life.

NORWICH DOINGS 75 YEARS AGO

Norwich seventy-five years ago was pald in mouring because of the death of President Zachary Taylor and plans were made for a fitting observance of the sad event. The annual report of the treasurer of the Norwich and Worcester railroad showed that the net earnings of the road for the year ending May 31, 1850 were over $131,000. The assignment of judges of the superior court for the ensuing year were announced.

Extracts from the files of the Norwich Courier of 1850 follow:

Tuesday, July 16, 1850—On Thursday evening last while the clerk of the steamboat Knickerbocker was at tea, his office was entered with a false key and robbed of about $500. Active but unsuccessful measures were taken to discover the thief and recover the money.

President Fillmore, it is said, will take possession of the White House some day this week. William R. King of Alabama has been elected president of the senate.

The funeral of the late President, Gen. Zachary Taylor, was held at Washington on Saturday last. The ceremony was very impressive. At sunrise a Federal salute was fired from the military stations in the vicinity of Washington. Nearly all the houses on the avenues through which the funeral procession was to pass were draped in mourning while crowds assembled in the neighborhood of the presidential mansion. The funeral pageant was of the most imposing character. All the diplomatic corps, officers of the government, the clergy of the district, with innumerable throngs of visitors from Baltimore and other places added to the effect.

It is with regret that we state that Elder Swain of New London is at a hospital in Hartford. Dr. Butler is attending him.

Thursday, July 18, 1850—The allotment of judges for the superior court for 1850-1851 is as follows: Summer terms—C. J. Church, Litchfield and New London; J. Waite, Middlesex and New Haven; J. Storrs, Windham and Tolland; J. Hinman, Hartford; J. Ellsworth, Fairfield. Winter terms—C. J. Church, Hartford; J. Waite, Fairfield and Tolland; J. Storrs, New Haven; J. Hinman, Windham and Litchfield; J. Ellsworth, Middlesex and New London.

The Excelsior Fire Company of Bridgeport arrived in town today and an excellent band of music to "lead off."

The death of the Siamese Twins in England is announced by a Paris paper. They died says a London medical paper, of maramus. A post mortem examination proved that the two cavities of the abdomen communicated by means of the hollow ligament which united them and that the livers of the twins were connected by a membranous bridle about half an inch thick.

The Washington monument is now over 60 feet in height. Nearly four courses have been added since the resumption of the work on the opening of spring. The receipts for the month of June amount to $3,300.

An attempt was made to burn down the Astor House on Monday evening by firing it in two places. Two persons were arrested upon suspicion.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Norwich and Worcester railroad it was shown that the business of the road has been increasing since the last annual report. The actual amount of receipts for the year ending May 31, 1850, was $246,628.91 an increase over the previous year of $24,980.59. The expenditures for the year have been $115,534.86 which makes the net earnings for the year, $131,094.08.

Saturday, July 20, 1850—The members of the city government are making arrangements for a public and appropriate observance of the event which has clad the land in mourning. The exercises will be held on Saturday next and Hon. Lafayette S. Foster has accepted an invitation to pronounce a funeral discourse on the occasion.

The committee of the executive council on pardons gave a final hearing to the application for commutation of sentence of Prof. Webster on the 18th. Petitions containing 1700 names in behalf of Webster were presented and Rev. Mr. Spear and several other clergymen advocated his case. The sum of the action of the committee was that there is no proper basis for executive interference.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co.

LAST WEEK OF FACTORY END SALE

This is the Last Week of the Factory End Sale—you can visit the Store any day this week and be assured of substantial savings on all your purchases.

If you are in town any day this week, do not think of going home until you have visited this Store and seen for yourself the extraordinary offerings in the Factory End Sale. Remember—on every one of our four floors are genuine Factory End Bargains—all marked with special price tickets—you'll find them everywhere throughout the Store.

Our Men's Store

CONTINUED TODAY

The Special Sale of Men's Genuine Imported English BROADCLOTH SHIRTS At One Amazing Sale Price

$1.89

3 for $5.50.

There is still good choosing in this special offering of Men's Shirts for those who come Today. High grade, English Broadcloth Shirts, in white, tan, blue and gray—at $1.89, 3 for $5.50, actual value $2.50 each.

Continued Today
Extraordinary Sale of Dress Linens

The most remarkable value in Dress Linens we have ever offered. 2,000 yards of finest grade, 36-inch Dress Linen, unshrinkable and non-crushable, in such reliable brands as "Royal Irish" and "Non-Krush". The color assortment includes sixteen of the leading Spring shades, absolutely fast colors—made to retail at $1.50 a yard—While it lasts we offer it at 38c Yd.

REDUCTIONS

Coats — Suits

Women's Spring Coats and Suits, taken from our regular stock of high grade garments and reduced for quick clearance

Now $14.95

For Coats and Suits That Sold Up to $39.75.

THE COATS

There are Coats for Dress, Sport and General Utility wear—Poiret Twill, Covert, Suedine, Diagonal Coating and Imported Plaids — Women's and Misses' sizes.

THE SUITS

These are in the smart double-breasted models, with velvet collar for the Miss—also plain tailored Twill Suits in Women's sizes, all high grade materials.

A Great Special Offering of Women's Hosiery,

$1.00 Phoenix Silk Hosiery at 79c

360 pairs of Women's Silk Hosiery—perfect in every way—a regular Dollar stocking that is noted for its lustrous appearance and splendid wearing qualities, shown in all the leading Spring shades, including black and white—On Sale at 9c a pair, regular $1.00 value.

Special Table, Main Aisle.

RADIO PROGRAMS

WNAC—Boston—280.8

10:00 A. M.—The WNAC American Women's club is having an outing at Sorosis Farms. The regular broadcast will be omitted.
1 P. M.—Shepard Colonial Concert orchestra.
4 P. M.—Shepard Colonial dance orchestra, direction Billy Lossez.
6 P. M.—Children's half-hour stories and music, "Ma" Stewart.
6:30 P. M.—WNAC dinner dance, broadcast from Shepard Colonial restaurant, Shepard Colonial orchestra, direction Billy Lossez.
8 P. M.—Muscial program.

WEEI—Boston—476

6:45 A. M.—Health exercises.
7 P. M.—Big Brother club.
7:45 P. M.—Lost and found articles and baseball scores.
8 P. M.—Concert.
8:30 P. M.—Radio equipment program.
9 P. M.—Musicale.

WTIC—Hartford—348.6

7:30 P. M.—Baseball scores, National, American, International and Eastern Leagues.
7:50 P. M.—Weather report.

WBZ—Springfield—333.3

7 P. M.—Dinner concert by trio, under the direction of Jan Geerts.
7:30 P. M.—Baseball results of games played by the Eastern, American and National League.
7:32 P. M.—Radio nature story by Thornton W. Burgess.
9 P. M.—Piano recital by Lofetta Champagne.
9:15 P. M.—John W. S. Skinner in ten minutes or humor.
9:30 P. M.—Bernice M. Randall, trumpet, Miss Lundsay, cornet.
10 P. M.—Orchestra.
10:30 P. M.—Market report as furnished by the United States department of agriculture at Boston.
10:40 P. M.—Information concerning Civil Service examinations.
10:50 P. M.—Baseball results of games played in the Eastern, American and National Leagues.
10:55 P. M.—Arlington time signals; official United States weather reports; missing persons' descriptions.

WJAR—Providence—305.9

1:05 P. M.—Studio program.
7:30 P. M.—Program from our New York studio, William Tucker, baritone, and Dorothy Hoyle, violinist.
8 P. M.—U. S. Navy Band, under the direction of Lieutenant Charles Benter, direct from Washington, D. C.
9 P. M.—Apollo Concert ensemble, Adam Carroll, pianist and popular singers.

WCTS—Worcester—268

11 A. M.—Produce market and weather report.
12 M. to 2 P. M.—Noon day luncheon music by the WCTS Trio.
7:15 P. M.—The Twinkle-Twinkle story teller.
7:30 P. M.—Baseball scores.
8 P. M.—Speciality.
Silent Night.

Rumania Expects Wheat Surplus

BUCHAREST, July 21.—(A.P.)—A decrease of 3,000,000 acres of grain-sown land in Rumania in the present year is shown by government statistics recently issued. Despite the decreased sowing, the crop conditions are reported as excellent, the weather throughout May having been exceptionally favorable.

Agricultural exports are predicting that the 1925 wheat crop will leave a large exportable surplus.

Cuba Has 511 Newspapers

HAVANA, July 21.—(AP)—There are 511 newspapers in Cuba, or 121 to each million inhabitants, data issued by the National Statistics Bureau revealed. Havana province, in which the capital is situated, leads with 259. News publications in the other five provinces are as follows: Pinar del Rio, 38; Matanzas, 52; Santa Clara, 71; Camaguey, 20, and Oriente, 51.

IRISH FREE STATE TO HOLD FIRST SENATORIAL EIECTION

DUBLIN, July 21.—(AP)—The first elections to the Free State Senate, heretofore an entirely nominated body, of the complicated system of election will take place this autumn. Because tion it is expected to take three months to determine the results. Of the 60 members, 15 are to be elected in addition to four who have been filling vacancies.

The mode of election provides for a panel containing three times as many names as there are seats to be filled. The Senate nominates one-third of the panel and the Dail two-thirds. In addition outgoing Senators may appear on the panel without nomination, so that for the 19 seats the panel will contain 76 names.

The constituency is the whole of the free state, and votes are limited to persons over 30 years of age. The voting is by proportional representation, and the distribution of preferences among 76 names will take many weeks to count. The senate has no real power, the maximum of which is to hold up for 270 days any bill, except a money bill, passed by the Dail.

RUSSIA EXPERIMENTING TO CUT FOREIGN COTTON PURCHASES

MOSCOW, July 21.—(AP)—Russia is now making extensive experiments in cotton growing in several districts of the Soviet Union. The use of cotton in the Soviet textile industry is increasing greatly and the insufficiency of Russian-grown cotton makes it necessary to spend large sums of money for the purchase of cotton abroad. At present there are but a few areas in Turkestan and the Trans-Caucasus which cultivate cotton, and attempts are now being made to raise cotton also in the Kuban district where the climate is specially adapted to it.

New areas also have been selected at the Turkestan and Fereana district where experiments on an extensive scale are now being carried on. Should the experiments prove satisfactory, the Russian authorities hope they will be able to satisfy the country's need for cotton without resorting to purchases abroad.

BRITISH BUSINESS MAN ORDERS BAN ON GIRLS' LIGHT STOCKINGS

CARDIF, July 21.—(AP)—The manager of a large business house has created consternation among his women employes and those of other concerns, by issuing instructions that his staff must not wear champagne-colored or flesh-colored stockings during business hours. This has developed into quite a controversy and the great question of the day is "Are light stockings and abbreviated skirts permissible for business girls?"

One girl has revolted and resigned rather than wear the orthodox black stockings. She says: "My stockings do not interfere with my efficiency and there is no reason why, because I am a business girl, that I should not be smart. Besides, in this hot weather light stockings make one feel cooler. Anyhow they look cooler."

Helsingfors Opera Loses Money

HELSINGFORS, July 21.—(A.P.)—This year's season of the Helsingfors opera has come to an abrupt close because of a deficit of $20,000. Despite an annual government subsidy of 600,000 Finnish francs and generous public support there has been a deficit the last few seasons.

German Emigration Decreases

BERLIN, July 21.—(AP)—Though German emigration during 1924 decreased from the 1923 figure the total is still much larger than the prewar period. Last year 58,087 Germans emigrated; 115,000 in 1923, while the yearly prewar average was 25,000, according to the German Statistical Bureau.

Black walnut seedlings for Arbor day are sent by mail at cost to schools and citizens in the state by the agricultural department of Central Michigan normal school, Mount Pleasant.

VALUABLE JAPANESE ART COLLECTION TO BE SOLD

TOKYO, July 21.—(AP)—The collection of art treasurer in the possession of Marquis Katsunosuke Inouye, former ambassador to the court of St. James, is to be sold at public auction in September. The collection was made by the late Marquis Segai Inouye and is known among connoisseurs as one of the finest in the country. Its estimated value is between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 yen.

Among the many rare articles in the collection is a carving by the celebrated Choin representing "Fudo," the God of Fire. It was to this image, according to the tradition attached to it, that Emperor Kameyama, offered prayers for victory when the land of the Mikado was invaded by the Chinese some 600 years ago. This carving alone is valued at 150,000 yen.

Another rare work of art is a painting by Haku Shi-kei. It is the most valuable work of a Chinese artist in the collection. It is an unusually large picture showing the figure of Buddha mounted on an elephant. There are many other fine paintings by Japanese masters such as Motonobu, Seshu and Tannyu. The collection comprises 2,000 pieces, including paintings, carvings, pottery and laquer work.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM BEING CARRIED OUT IN BRAZIL

BELLE HORIZONTE, Brazil, July 21—(A.P.)—A boom has struck the development of state highways in the state of Minas Geraes. The head of the highway commission reports that public expenditures for 600 contracts during 1924 totalled $350,000 and that improvements planned for 1925 will require an additional $500,000. If completed according to present plans, the state highway system will include 8,500 miles of good roads. The state has a population of 6,000,000.

So few are the good roads in Minas Geraes that it has been impossible to motor from Belle Horizonte, the capital, to any neighboring state. Three roads are being worked at present, one headed towards the cocoa district of Brazil and the other two towards Rio de Janeiro.

Brazil Draws Japanese

TOKYO, July 21—(AP)—Japanese immigration to Brazil is increasing, according to the authorities of the Immigration Company, which announced that 1,300 emigrants would leave for South America soon. It is expected that approximately 3,000 Japanese emigrants will have gone to Brazil by the end of the year.

Japanese Living Cost Drops

TOKYO, July 21.—(AP)—The cost of living in Japan has decreased 7.6 percent, since last January, according to figures recently made public. The drop in prices of food stuffs is said to have been aided considerably by the present financial condition and the improvement in exchange.

ITALIAN DEPUTY AMENDOLA WAS BESIEGED BY FASCISTS

ROME, July 21—(A. P.)—Deputy Amendola, leader of the Aventine opposition in the Italian Chamber of Deputies, which persists in its program of boycotting parliament under the Mussolini government, was besieged last night in a summer resort hotel at Montecatini for five hours by a mob of a thousand Fascists, from whom he was saved by the intervention of police and Fascist authorities.

Later, during the night Amendola was waylaid on a country road by twenty unknown men and beaten so severely that he will not recover for several weeks.

The injured deputy was brought to Rome today and the incident has caused a great impression both in governmental and opposition circles, coming as it does after the opening of a campaign in the Fascist press to destroy the influence of the Aventine group.

Premier Mussolini has issued an official version of the affair in which he asserts that the public authorities and the Fascists tried to protect the Aventine leader.

EXTORTION IS CHARGED AGAINST POLICEMEN

NEW YORK, July 21—(A. P.)—Indictments charging extortion from roadhouse proprietors and Bronx cafe keepers were returned today by a Bronx county grand jury against a special patrolman and two reservists, on eof them a lieutenant, attached to Bronx stations. Ernest Jacobson one of the reservists also charged with felonious assault, was arrested a few days ago in East Hampton, Connecticut, where he fled after holding up at pistol point an officer sent to arrest him.

What Is Going On Tonight

Norwich Radio club meets in May building.

R. E. Hourigan auxiliary, V. F. W., meets at 2 Market street.

Hope Rebekah lodge, No. 21, I. O. O. F., meets in Odd Fellows hall.

Mohegan tribe, No. 64, I. O. R. M., meets in Steiner hall.

Woman's Benefit association, Maccabees meets in Buckingham Memorial.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Sale of Real Estate

The Alling Rubber Company passed title of their building corner of Main and Shetucket streets Tuesday to the Max Gordon Corporation, the sale having been made through the Murphy and McGarry Real Estate Agency.

The property is occupied by the Woolworth Co. and several other tenants and is one of the most valuable pieces of property in the city and one of several pieces of property recently purchased by the Gordon Corporation as investments, showing they have full confidence in the future of Norwich.

A "supervisor of training in service" has been added to the staff of the Cleveland (Ohio) School of Education. The object is to assist teachers of Cleveland by promoting their professional growth.

Bride Of Herbert Hoover, Jr.

Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of Secretary of Commerce, and Mrs. Hoover, of Palo Alto, California, was married June 26 to Miss Margaret Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Watson, of San Francisco. The new Mrs. Hoover, who graduated from Leland Stanford University with her husband, was president of the Women's A. A. and a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, and an honor student. The couple planned a honeymoon motor trip across the country to Harvard University, where young Hoover is to take a post graduate course in mining engineering, his father's profession.

TODAY'S EVENTS

As a part of her centennial celebration, Akron, Ohio, today will unveil a memorial to her industrial pioneers.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes is to begin a Western tour with a speech tonight before the Denver Chamber of Commerce.

The annual convention of the Pacific Coast Aquatic Association will meet in Los Angeles today for a three-day session.

Vancouver, B. C., is to be the meeting place today of the annual session of the Sovereign Grand Orange Lodge of British North America.

The Wagner musical festival of 1925 is to be opened at Bayreuth today with a performance of "The Meistersinger." The festival will continue until Aug. 20.

The three men charged with conspiracy to kidnap Mary Pickford and to hold her for $200,000 ransom will be arraigned in Los Angeles today for trial.

Governor Fuller of Massachusetts has called a conference of official representatives of the six New England states to meet in conference in Boston today to work out a plan for advertising New England products.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Bread Theatre

Mystery and romance are the keynotes of "The Girl On The Stairs," the latest Elmer Harris Production, which heads a double feature program at the Bread, today and Thursday, with charming Patsy Ruth Miller as its star. The story is an original adaptation by Harris of Winston Bouve's magazine tale of the same name but it has been given such a new treatment by Harris that little of the original story but the title is said to remain.

"The Girl On The Stairs" centers around a young girl sleep-walker. In her school days she has written love letters to a married man who lives in the house adjoining hers. On the eve of the announcement of her engagement to a young attorney she is seen descending the stairs from the married man's bed-chamber. Later he is found dead.

The discovery of her love letters and her identification as "the girl on the stairs" leads to her arrest and subsequent indictment. The evidence that piles up against her is said to be absolutely bullet proof against "picture wise" audiences and it is not until the last reel that Harris gives his spectators an inkling of the solution of the mystery.

The unusual situations in the story combined with the cast that surrounds Miss Miller give promise of a most delightful entertainment. In the cast are such well known players as Niles Welch, Freeman Wood, Bertram Grassby, Arline Pretty, Shannon Day and Michael Dark.

"The Girl On The Stairs" was directed by William Worthington, who will be remembered as the director of a number of Sessue Hayakawa's most notable pictures, while Harris personally supervised the entire production.

The second feature on this program is titled "The Salvation Hunters," a Joseph von Sternberg Production with Stuart Holmes, John K. Arthur and others. An Alice Comedy and the Fox News complete this program.

Broadway Theatre

Another excellent combination program of B. F. Keith Vaudeville and Paramount picture opens at the Broadway theatre tomorrow. You'll hear more about the vaudevills program but it suffices to say that it will be on a par with all previous shows.

One of the finest casts ever seen in pictures appears in James Cruze's latest production for Paramount, "The Garden of Weeds," which will be the feature at the Broadway theatre Thursday for a run of 3 days.

Betty Compson, whose recent dramatic successes have won her new laurels, is starred. The story affords Miss Compson a marvelous opportunity for the display of her dramatic ability.

Warner Baxter, who supported Miss Compson in "The Female," comes back to Paramount for a featured role with her in "The Garden of Weeds." He is featured with Rockcliffe Fellows, Charles Ogle and Al St. John, all sterling actors chosen for their ability to portray the characters depicted in the play.

The supporting cast includes Lilyan Tashman, who was the star of the New York stage play from which the photoplay was adapted. Others are King Zany, writer of songs and vaudeville actor, William Austin, Lucille Thorndike, William Turner and Toyo Fujita, who was with Sessue Hayakawa for many years.

Walter Woods and Anthony Coldewey adapted "The Garden of Weeds" for the screen from the stage play by Leon Gordon and Doris Marquette. It's an appealing love drama which brings audiences "back stage" at the theatre.

Palace Theatre

Eighty beautiful women, all accomplished dancers, applied for the role of the "Dancer" in Virginia Valli's latest starring vehicle, "Up the Ladder," the Universal-Jewell adaptation of Owen Davis' stage success now being played at the Palace Theatre.

Although considered a "small" role and of insignificant importance, Edward Sloman, who directed the picture, declared he was anxious to get the best talent available for he was convinced a real terpsichorean artist could raise the part to a very high level.

Of the eighty applicants, thirty of them exhibited their prowess and ballet skill before a group of noted critics. None of them would do—for one reason or another.

Days went by and discouragement seemed to be the only reward for Sloman's diligence. Finally a noted ballet danseuse apeared on the set and, after a three minute exhibition, she was signed up to play the role.

Olive Ann Alcorn, famous from coast to coast as "the woman with the most perfect figure in America," was the successful applicant. According to those who have witnessed the picture, Miss Alcorn's interpretation as an Oriental Dream stood out in contrast to the telling theme of the story as a beautifully set cameo. The setting for Miss Alcorn's dance represented a scene from the life Omar.

The supporting cast include such favorites as Forrest Stanley, Holmes Herbert, Margaret Livingston, George Fawcett, Lydia Yeamans Titus and Baby Priscilla Dean Moran.

The other feature on the bill is Richard Talmadge in Tearing Through one of the fastest pictures Talmadge has been seen in in some time and is a good story all the way through.

Tomorrow night another Ford Car will be given away. Coupons can be found at any of the leading stores by purchasing fifty cents or over. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be five great acts of vaudeville and feature picture. A regular Mid-Summer Show.

Malnourished children in Cleveland (Ohio) public schools are gathered into special classes conducted by the nutrition clinics. They "graduate" when they attain the weight required for their age and height. Last year 118 children passed through these classes.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

A Loafer and a Worker

A worker always finds at hand
Some task his interest to command.
—Old Mother Nature.

Grandfather Frog, sitting on his favorite big green lily-pad, paid no attention whatever to Peter Rabbit. Peter should have known better than try to get Grandfather Frog to talk at that time. You see Grandfather Frog was leading the Frog chorus in the Smiling Pool. He is very proud of that great, big, deep gruff voice of his, and there is nothing that delights him more than to lead that chorus.

Of course, Peter was disappointed. He had come over to the Smiling Pool to talk to somebody. He was fairly bursting with desire to tell some one all that he had learned from Digger the Badger up in the Old Pasture. When he found that Grandfather Frog wouldn't listen, he began to look about for some one else to talk to. He just must tell somebody. What was the good of knowing things that other people didn't know if you couldn't talk about them? He looked around for some one else. Over in the rushes at the other end of the Smiling Pool he heard a splash. It was a very faint splash, but Peter's long ears caught it. "I wonder if it can be Jerry Muskrat?" thought Peter, and hurried up along the bank in that direction.

When he reached a point where he could look down through the rushes he saw that it was Jerry Muskrat. Jerry seemed to be very busy about something. Peter couldn't make out at all what Jerry was doing, excepting that he was making the water very muddy right there.

"Hello, Jerry Muskrat," called Peter. Jerry looked up. "Hello, you long earned loafer," replied Jerry, looking up.

Peter wrinkled up his nose at Jerry. "That wasn't a nice thing to say," said he.

Jerry grinned. "It is the truth, isn't it?" he asked.

"Why shouldn't I loaf when I haven't anything to do?" demanded Peter.

"Do as I do. Find something to do," replied Jerry Muskrat.

"What are you doing now?" Peter asked.

"Working," replied Jerry, and dived out of sight.

When Jerry came up again Peter went right on just as if there hadn't been any interruption. "I know you are working," said he, "but what kind of work is it and what is it for?"

"Oh," said Jerry, "I'm building," and once more disappeared under water.

Peter looked and looked, but he couldn't see anything, but a lot of muddy water. It didn't look to him as if anything was being built there. Besides, Jerry had a perfectly good house out in the Smiling Pool, so why should he be building anything there? "It must be that he is digging a tunnel," thought Peter, and waited for Jerry to appear once more so that he might ask.

But Jerry didn't appear. Peter waited and waited until it became quite clear to him that Jerry had swum off under water. However, Peter was not to be discouraged. It was true that he was a loafer, and as he hadn't anything under the sun to do he might as well loaf there as anywhere else. He knew Jerry Muskrat is a worker, and sooner or later he would return to go on with his work.

(Copyright, 1925, by T. W. Burgess)

The next story—Jerry Builds a Landing.

COMPLETE REVIEW OF CONNECTICUT AGRICULTURE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

STORRS, Conn., July 19—That foreign-born farmers predominate in the regions of poor agricultural development is one of the many interesting facts presented in "A Description of Connecticut Agriculture," a bulletin of the Storrs Agricultural Experiment Station released today. Professor Irving G. Davis and Clarence I. Hendrickson of the economics department of the Connecticut Agricultural College are the authors of this bulletin, which is the first of a series of studies intended to present the facts basic to the development of a sound agricultural program for Connecticut. Agricultural workers will find in this bulletin a more clear cut and detailed picture of certain phases of Connecticut agriculture than has heretofore existed. The bulletin is largely based on the 1920 census figures by towns and according to the foreword is to be immediately followed by a second showing the trends of development between 1920 and 1925.

After presenting a brief summary of the evolution of Connecticut Agriculture, Messrs. Davis and Hendrickson take up a description of the agriculture of the state as a whole, and by towns. This includes types of farming practised; the size and the value of the farms; the nationality and the age of the farmers; the use of land; and the farm enterprises of the state, both from the standpoint of livestock, and of crops.

What is probably the most comprehensive survey of the exact status of agriculture in every county and town in the state is set forth in the appendix of this bulletin. Accurate and detailed figures are presented showing the exact condition, among other things, of the following; area of towns, and farms within the towns, including total crop land, woodland and pasture land; size and value of farms; expenditures for feed, fertilizer and labor; population figures showing the number of foreign and native born persons gainfully employed in agriculture; and production figures on the more important crops and livestock of the state. Through this data, it is possible to get a complete and accurate picture of the agriculture of any town in Connecticut, and it is the first time in the United States that so detailed a study has been made of agriculture by towns for an entire state. For this reason, it is expected that this bulletin will furnish valuable information to not only agricultural workers, but to business men and others who have to deal with farmers and farm conditions as well.

As mentioned before, the regions of poor agricultural development in nearly all cases are the areas where foreign-born farmers predominate. The cheapness of the land in these areas has lured immigrants ignorant of the lack of opportunity there, or who have been willing to accept the low standard of living which these lands afford. Northwestern Windham County and the lower Connecticut Valley are areas of this type.

Connecticut's four main agricultural areas may be described as those devoted to tobacco growing, vegetable and fruit growing, dairy farming, and that which is predominantly woodland.

Tobacco areas are in the Connecticut and Housatonic valleys, occupying much of the best lowland of the state. Here farms are small, values are high, and the agriculture well developed. It is a region of agricultural and industrial activity. Tobacco is the third crop in point of acreage, being grown on 26,930 acres or slightly over five per cent. of the crop area of the state in 1919, the latest figures to be compiled. In the ten year period from 1909-1919 there was an increase of almost sixty eight per cent. in the amount of land in tobacco in Connecticut.

Tobacco Crop Most Valuable

Although only third in acreage, the tobacco crop is by far the most valuable one produced in the state, bringing $15,000,000 in 1919. Hay leads all other crops in acreage in the state, and it occupies ten times the area of tobacco.

Tobacco is produced in the lowland areas of the state, in the alluvial sands of the Connecticut Valley, the larger part of the crop being produced in Hartford county from Portland north on the east side of the river to the Massachusetts line, and from Hartford north on the west side. The tobacco area is about as wide as the valley. Near the river specialized tobacco farming prevails but in the towns more remote tobacco is combined with dairying and some other cash crops in a general farming scheme. There is also considerable tobacco in the upper Housatonic River valley from Danbury to New Milford.

Hartford County is the leading tobacco producing county of the state, producing close to eighty-four per cent. of Connecticut's tobacco crop in 1919. Not only does Hartford County lead in the state as a tobacco producing area, but in the value of this crop it leads all other counties in the United States. The value of the 1919 crop was aproximately $13,000,000.

Suffield is the leading tobacco town of the state with close to four thousand acres or thirty per cent. of its total crop land devoted to this crop. East Hartford has sixty-three per cent. of its 6500 acres of cropland in tobacco, which is a larger percentage than any other town in the state. The yield per acre of tobacco varies according to the type of tobacco grown and the location of the town. An average production of over 1300 pounds to the acre was obtained in the towns located in the tobacco areas.

Fruits and Vegetables

One fairly well defined fruit and vegetable region is found in the state, beginning at Bolton and Marlboro, running in a westerly direction to Wethersfield, thence following the central lowland to New Haven. From there it follows the coast, narrowing, to the New York state line. It is from ten to twenty miles wide, and in this region fruits and vegetables predominate and are combined with dairying. Farms here tend to be small to medium in size and of moderate value, except as influenced by urban development.

Fruit and vegetable growing is also widely scattered throughout the state and these products are grown in some quantity on most general farms. Vegetable growing is somewhat developed around markets outside of this area, and there are also a few other small areas of fruit and vegetable production.

One sixth of the farmers of the state produced vegetables for sale in 1919, utilizing 9000 acres or two per cent. of the crop area of the state for this purpose. The value of the vegetables sold was $1,916,000, and the leading vegetables in order of value were sweet corn, tomatoes, cabbage, onions and beans.

New Haven is the leading vegetable county of the state, producing forty-two per cent. of all vegetables grown in Connecticut. A very important vegetable growing section is found in the area covered by the towns of Cheshire, Hamden, New Haven and adjoining areas in New Haven county extending into Fairfield county through the town of Westport, and into Hartford county in the towns of Southington, Berlin, Rocky Hill and Wethersfield. There is also considerable vegetable growing in the tobacco towns of East Hartford and Windsor. As might be expected, within the possible area of vegetable growing for Connecticut markets, production has become concentrated in this area where soil and topography are particularly favorable. The development of hard roads and motor transportation may cause changes in the location of Connecticut's vegetable garden industry, and also in the extent of vegetable growing in general farming areas of the state, all of which should prove interesting in a future study of this phase of state agriculture.

In fruit production, New Haven, Fairfield and Hartford counties lead the remainder of the state by a wide margin, as the main fruit producing section is located in the central and southwestern part of the state. The most important section begins at Bolton in Tolland County, takes in Glastonbury, Marlboro, Rocky Hill, Berlin, and Southington in Hartford county; Portland, Cromwell and Middlefield in Middlesex county; and Meriden, Cheshire, Wallingford, Hamden, North Branford, and Branford in New Haven county. The town of Oxford in New Haven county, and Newtown, Shelton, Trumbull, Wilton, Westport and Greenwich in Fairfield county have a large amount of fruit also.

Apples

Apples are by far the most important fruit produced in the state, ranking up two thirds of the value of all fruit. Slightly more than one half, or 811,932 bushels, of the apple crop of Connecticut was sold from the general farms in 1919. Most of the bearing trees at that time were in the small farm orchards, being the inheritance of a period when unpruned trees and unsprayed fruit yielded the farmer a profit. Because of the skill and expensive machinery required for modern commercial apple production these small orchards are ceasing to be commercial. They are not large enough to warrant the maintenance of expensive machinery, nor the acquisition of the skill necessary for their care.

Dairying

Connecticut's leading agricultural industry is dairying, which in the last few decades has changed from the production of cheese and butter to the production of whole milk for the cities of the state and neighboring states. The value of the products of Connecticut's dairy industry in 1919 is placed at $19,000,000, which includes besides the dairy products the calves sold or slaughtered, and the cows sold or slaughtered for beef. The value of the milk, butter, butter fat, cream and cheese sold was placed at $14,000,000, which is the second largest source of cash income to the farmers of the state, being exceeded only by tobacco.

Litchfield county is the leading dairy county of the state in the number of dairy cows, total amount of milk produced, and the total value received from the sale of dairy products. New Haven county, with an average production of 4534 pounds of milk per cow, leads in this respect.

Woodland Areas

The predominantly woodland areas include northeastern Litchfield county, southern Middlesex and southwestern New London counties. Also a section comprising northeastern Tolland and northwestern Windham counties, all of which are the most marked areas of the woodland type. In these areas a large portion of the land is not in farms. The acreage per farm is medium to high, but the crop average is low. The farm business is small, total production low, population small, and a large majority of farmers find it impossible or difficult to secure a satisfactory living from farming alone.

Connecticut's area available for the production of forest products has increased nearly a million acres in the past fifty years as a result of the changes in local agriculture wrought by western competition. Land that was formerly used for beef cattle and sheep raising is now going back into woodland because these forms of the livestock industry are no longer able to compete with the stock grown on the cheap western ranges.

CONNECTICUT HENS AT TOP IN 37TH WEEK

For the fourth successive week the curve of egg production in the Storrs contest has turned upward instead of downward as it was expected to do by all the laws of averages. The birds laid 50 eggs more than for last week and relatively 128/eggs more than for the corresponding period a year ago. In the thirty-seventh week of the contest Connecticut breeders supplied the two top notch performers. These were Keewaydin Farm's pen of Barred Rocks from Darien, that scored 64 eggs and Hilltop Farm's pen of Leghorns from Suffield with a tally of 59 eggs. Hanson's Leghorn Farm from Corvallis, Ore., was third best pen for the week with a total of 58 eggs and another pen of Leghorns owned by Ruehle's Sunnyside Farm at Pleasant Valley, N. Y., was in fourth place with a lay of 57 eggs. As a class the Leghorns barely nosed out first, hitting .580, while the Barred Rocks were right on their tails with a percentage of .576 for the week. The White Rocks, White Wyandottes and Rhode Island Reds were all bunched at about 100 points below. The total production for all pens was 5,154 eggs or a yield of nearly fifty-three per cent.

Storrs contestants and their friends will be interested to know that the University of Maryland at College Park, Md., has just announced a brand new egg laying competition under the name of Maryland State Egg Laying Contest. This new laying trial will get under way the first of November next. The rules and regulations are much the same as those under which the Storrs contest has operated for the last fourteen years. Professor Roy B. Waite of the university faculty will supervise these trials. In his first bulletin Professor Waite makes some very pertinent suggestions to prospective contestants regarding the selection of pullets to participate in the laying competition.

The leading pens in each of the principal varieties are as follows:

WHITE ROCKS

Ellen Day Ranken, Huntington, L. I., N. Y.	1342
H. B. Spangler, Matawan, N. J.	1171
Davidson Bros., Upton, Mass.	1146

WHITE WYANDOTTES

Thomas H. Matteson, Davisville, R. I.	1543
Carterloa Farm, Troy, Mo.	1504
Obed G. Knight, Bridgeton, R. I.	1410

BARRED ROCKS

Keewaydin Farm, Darien, Conn.	1451
Merritt M. Clark, Brookfield Center, Conn.	1326
E. C. Foreman, Lansing, Mich.	1305

RHODE ISLAND REDS

D. Hart Horton, Farmingdale, L. I., N. Y.	1457
Deerbrook Poultry Farm, Short Falls, N. H.	1438
Pinecrest Orchards, Groton, Mass.	1351
I. W. Mitchell, Wallingford, Conn.	1326

WHITE LEGHORNS

Meadowedge Farm, Sterling Junction, Mass.	1725
Hanson's Leghorn Farm, Corvallis, Ore.	1716
Hilltop Farm, Suffield, Conn.	1585
Hobart E. Rice, Barre, Mass.	1506
Thomas H. Neill	1479

COLCHESTER OPERATOR PRAISED FOR HER WORK

The July Telephone Bulletin has the following, under its Norwich news:

We have recently received a message from J. Agranovitch, a well known merchant of Colchester and one of the leading men of that town, commending Miss Flora Sadiski, Colchester operator, on her splendid work during an early morning fire in Colchester, April 25, 1925.

Mr. Agranovitch stated that the siren which calls the fire fighters failed to blow. They immediately called the telephone office and stated their trouble to Miss Sadiski. She in turn summoned each of the firemen by telephone.

The manner in which Miss Sadiski handled this emergency was wonderful, for had it not been for her cool, efficient work a great deal more damage might have resulted, not only to property, but to human life.

Shower for Miss Timmins.

A very pretty miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Rose Timmins on Monday evening at the home of Miss Margaret Redden in honor of her approaching marriage to Henry L. Plante. Twenty guests were present.

Schwartz Bros. Inc.

How Well Women Know The Value of Quality

What the price of an article of furniture is, never determines its worth or value! It's the Quality of that article that definitely determines whether it is a good value or not! Our years of experience in the furniture business has proven to us that the great majority of women carefully consider quality, when making a purchase! Only good quality merchandise is offered here—the kind we can conscientiously recommend and guarantee! We know that good furniture is not always expensive. A visit to our store—comparison—shopping around—will convince you that we are right! And with our wonderful, convenient credit accommodations, buying furniture here is indeed a simple matter!

COME

To the Greatest Value-Giving Event of the Year---

Schwartz Bros.' Greatest August Furniture Sale

Starts Saturday, July 25th

EVERYTHING REDUCED FROM 20% TO 50%

Courtesy Day---Today

To know that every suite of furniture, every occasional piece, every odd piece, every rug, every piano is included in this startling August Furniture Sale.

To those in immediate need of furniture we set aside today—Thursday and Friday, as Courtesy Days. Today you may come in ahead of the multitudes and make your selections carefully. Your purchases will be set aside for you and delivered at your convenience. Avoid the confusion of crowds; avoid the big rush—come in early today, Thursday or Friday for the first selections. Never before has such an immense and extensive stock of Furniture and Rugs been thrown upon the market at such tremendous concessions. It will pay you well to take advantage of our Courtesy Days.

EVERYTHING INCLUDED—
PIANOS
TALKING MACHINES
RUGS RANGES BEDDING
REDUCTIONS FROM 20% TO 50%

WHERE YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD
Our Methods Appeal To All Who Like A Square Deal
SCHWARTZ BROS.
The BIG STORE with the LITTLE PRICES
Our Reputation Built On Quality Our Business Built On Value
76-78-80-82 MAIN ST.

NOANK

While the watchman was off duty at the railroad crosing near the station an unidentified automobile got stuck on the track. A train was coming from each direction when the woman in the car started to scream. Neighbors ran from their homes but by that time the automobile got started just in the nick of time.

The boat, Diddy, Capt. Elihu Rathburn went ashore at Lighthouse Point. The Mary came to its assistance and pulled the craft off.

The road on Pearl street is receiving a coat of tar and gravel.

Charles Cox was at Lantern Hill recently.

Wm. Downes has returned to Hartford after a visit at Groton Long Point.

Mrs. W. Newell of Groton Long Point has gone to Hartford for a visit.

Miss Edith Wallace, of New Haven, is spending a few days with Mrs. Prudence Chesebro.

Mrs. Joel Singer is visiting relatives in Middletown.

H. E. McGuire of Norwich is at the park for a week's vacation.

D. T. Thomas has returned from Boston after a visit.

Mrs. Edward Dybbing and daughter Edna are at Block Island for several days.

Mrs. Virginia Pattersen is ill at her home on Main street.

Mrs. E. Swift, of Providence, is visiting Mrs. Etta Crowell.

Willard DeBalsi spent a day this week at North Stonington.

Orrin Oles has resigned at Eugene MacDonald's.

Arthur MacDonald, mate on the boat Kathryn, Capt. Fred Fitzpatrick, was engaged in hauling lobster pots when the boat gave a quick lurch threw him with such force that he fell in the hold of the boat and sprained his ankle. The accident will disable him for a few days. His place is being filled by Clayton Chappel.

Miss Mollie McKight of Groton Long Point is in Springfield for a few days.

Ben. Chappell is in Providence, visiting friends.

Clarence Spink of Fall River is home on a short furlough.

G. Smith spent a day in Jewett City this week.

Mackeral have struck on in the Race. Early this week the boat, Billard came in with 50 and other boats got some good catches.

Kenneth Butson of Watch Hill was home Monday for a visit.

Mrs. Jane Wilbur has returned from Providence after visiting relatives.

O. Jensen has returned to his duties at Watch Hill station after a visit at his home here.

U. S. GIVEN LEAD IN SURVEY OF CIGARETTE SMOKING

Berlin, July 21. (AP)—In a survey of cigarette smoking, the periodical Excelsior, declares that Americans are the greatest short smokers in the world. The publication estimates that an average of 625 cigarettes a year are smoked by every American. This, of course, statistically includes non-cigarette smokers.

The German annual average is 592 cigarettes per capita; Belgium, 513; Italy, 284; France, 247; and Switzerland, 184.

MAIL-AD

FILL OUT AND MAIL TO

THE NORWICH BULLETIN

NORWICH, CONN.

10c a Line, Average 5 Words to a Line — Wants, To Let, For Sale, Etc.

Name..... Classification.....

R. F. D. or Street..... Number of Insertions.....

Post Office..... Am't Enclosed.....

Write complete ad below including name and address
— Or if blind address is wanted mark X here ☐

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

BRIFFIN—In Hebron, July 17, 1925, a son, to Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Griffin.

BARRY—In Norwich, July 19, 1925, a son, Jack, to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Barry (Rose A. Fitzpatrick), of 5a Ward street.

BONVILLE—In Montville, July 19, 1925, a daughter, Shirley Edna, to Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Bonvillc.

HARTERN—In New London, July 21, 1925, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hartern.

MARRIED

DONOHUE-KILCOLLUM — In Groton, July 20, 1925, By Rev. William J. Fox, George Donohue and Miss Mary J. Kilcollum, both of Norwich.

DIED

STREET—In Preston, July 21, 1925, Anna, wife of Jarvis Street, aged 72 years.

FUNERALS

CODDING—In Danielson, July 21, 1925, Ellen H. Codding, 53, widow of Joseph Codding.
Funeral Thursday, June 23, at the Codding home, Winter street, Danielson, at 2 p. m. (S. T.).

BATHBONE—In Preston, July 20, 1925, John Rathbone, aged 78 years.
Funeral services at the Leffingwell Baptist church, Thursday, July 23, at 2 p. m. (D. S. T.). Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
88 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 410-2
DAVID H. WILSON

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Phone 2729 Providence St., Taftville

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 238-2 Lady Assistant

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

DANIELSON

ALBERTUS F. WOOD
Funeral Director and Embalmer
PHONE 147 DANIELSON

Martin T. Burns
Undertaker, Funeral Director
SERVICE DAY OR NIGHT
ACADEMY ST., DANIELSON
TELEPHONE 283

CENTRAL VILLAGE

F. W. Tillinghast & Sons
UNDERTAKERS AND EMBALMERS
CENTRAL VILLAGE, CONN.
Tel Mcscup 282-2

WILLIMANTIC

Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding JAY M. SHEPARD
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-Two North Street
Willimantic, Conn.

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
16 Union Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 290 Lady Assistant

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE — Buick roadster, 1921 model; fine condition; new paint. Box 120, Bulletin. jy22dtf

FOR SALE—1922 Ford, closed delivery. West Side Garage, 194 West Main St., Red Front. jy22dtf

FOR SALE—1920 Ford touring, many extras, best condition; 1922 Ford closed delivery. West Side Garage, 194 West Main St., Red Front. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—1923 Maxwell touring car, 30 Geer Ave. jy21d

FOR SALE—1924 Ford coupe; excellent condition; equipped. Bulletin Box F-96. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—One late model Ford suburban $395. Shannon's Auto Sales. Tel. 560, Stonington, Conn. jy21d

FOR SALE—Touring car in first class running order; all tires new, motor just overhauled; will sell cheap for cash. Call 2144 or apply at 229 Laurel Hill Ave. jy21d

FOR SALE—Ford coupe, first class condition. Price right. Address Box 227, Norwich. jy20d

FOR SALE—1924 Hupp sedan, 1924 Hupp touring, 1923 Hupp 2-pass. coupe, 1922 Hupp touring, 1923 Maxwell touring. C. V. Pendleton, 118 Franklin St. jul16d

FOR SALE—1923 touring car, 1st class condition; will sell cheap. Norwich Auto Radiator Works, 58 Shetucket St. jul14dtf

NEW AND USED Harley-Davidson motorcycles. Easy terms. Prices reasonable. J. P. Donovan, 25 W. Main St. apr10d.

FOR SALE—Indian and Ace motorcycles, 1925 models, now on display; 74 cu. in. $350; Scout $290; Prince $225, delivered. 495 North Main st feb4d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

WANTED—Would like to buy about 50 folding chairs; must be low in price. W. N. Block, Phone 2091. jy22d

FLORIDA PROPERTY WANTED—Acreage Lots, Etc., direct from owner; give location, description, lowest price, terms; quick transaction. P. O. Box 354, Springfield, Mass. jy22dtf

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D Ward, Box 389, Norwich. Phone 361-13 Norwich, 806 Willimantic. mar7PMW

WANTED—Work by the hour or day, immediately. Mrs. Kelly, 100 N. Main St. jy20d

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION—Copeland Products, Inc., Detroit, Michigan, are now ready to issue franchises for the distribution of their Electric Household Refrigerating Systems to reliable dealers in towns in Connecticut. The demand for electrical refrigeration is large and the profits are exceedingly attractive. If interested in obtaining a franchise in your locality for the sale of Copeland Refrigerating Systems, write, giving complete details of present lines handled, length of time in business and whether you expect to sell as a side line or to devote your entire time to electrical refrigeration, C. A. Dodge, 193 Church St., Hartford, Connecticut. jy20d

WANTED—Property owners to know that under my new real estate system I will buy your property direct or will sell for you on a commission basis. For particulars write Wm. M. McNicol, Maynard Bldg. Jewett City. june2d.

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture. Best prices paid. A. Bruckner, 102 Franklin St. Phone 715-5. nov27d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second hand furniture H. B. Tiger, 48-50 Water St. Tel. 2143. nov27d.

WANTED—Cash paid for old furniture R. H. Ward, 16 Water St., Tel. 24. TuThSfapr9

WANTED — Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 22 Market St. Phone 2152. nov27d

WANTED—To buy poultry and calves; highest prices paid. Call 1405. nov27d

FREE HOMES
wanted for 9 year old Catholic girl and 12 year old Catholic boy. Children are not related. Apply to
STATE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE
171 Capitol Ave., Hartford, Conn.

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Wanted for steady position as solicitor and collector, a man residing in Danielson. Write Box 244, Danielson, Conn. jy22d

WANTED—Immediately, one drawer in for worsted and woolens. The Mystic Worsted Mill, Inc., Mystic, Conn. jy22d

WANTED—Man 28-35 years of age for outside work, selling and collecting. Must not be afraid of work and to serve employer who assures promotion and good pay to deserving men. Selling experience not necessary as we train you. We pay salary and commission. Must become bonded. Address Box H. M. L., care of Bulletin. jul14dtf

WANTED—Carpenter work of all kinds. Estimates cheerfully given for large or small jobs. M. Krugman, 97 Mechanic St. Tel. 2660R. je19d

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Nursemaid, experienced, to care for two children; New London summer beach; good wages. Box 100, Danielson. jy22d

WANTED—A woman dish washer. Apply Broadview House, Crescent Beach, Ct. Phone Niantic 113. jy21d

WANTED—A woman cook at once. One who understands pastry for small country boarding house. Apply Broadview House, Crescent Beach, Ct. Phone Niantic 113. jy21d

WANTED—Housekeeper. References required. Address P. O. Box 45, South Windham. jul3dtf

BOOKKEEPER
Experienced — for Retail Dry Goods Store. Apply, mail or personally, THE S. A. GOLDSMITH CO., (The Bee Hive) New London, Conn.

LEGAL NOTICES

THE ANTI-GRAFT ASSOCIATION, U. S. A. Membership: One dollar per year. Purpose: To protest against Congress voting the last dollar of the 70c per day farmers and others, for foreign diplomacy and home talent bunco-steerers operating, almost continuously, at Washington, D. C. This Association is proposed to save the American people billions of dollars! Do your bit and this ad will appear in all U. S. newspapers possible! Wm. Dee, Secretary, R. D. 2, Willimantic, Conn. jul18d

DISTRICT OF COLCHESTER, ss. Court of Probate, July 21, 1925.
Estate of Julie G. Strong late of Colchester, in said District, deceased.
Upon the application of Charles L. Strong, of Colchester, Conn., praying that an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased may be proved, approved, allowed and admitted to probate as per application on file more fully appears; it is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate office in Colchester in said District, on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1925, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and that notice be given of the pendency of said application and of the time and place of hearing thereon, by publishing the same once in some newspaper having a circulation in said District.
JOHN CONDREN,
jy22d Judge.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the District of Connecticut.
In the matter of Thomas K. Hamrah, a Bankrupt. In Bankruptcy No. 7373.
To the Creditors of the above-named Bankrupt, of New London in the County of New London, District aforesaid, Bankrupt.
Notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of July, A. D. 1925, the above-named was duly adjudicated a bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held before the undersigned, at his office, 35 Broadway, Norwich, in said District, on the 31st day of July, A. D. 1925, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at which time said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint trustee, be heard as to orders of Referee for care of property of the estate and disposal thereof, at auction or private sale, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.
THOMAS M. SHIELDS,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
Norwich, Conn., July 21st, 1925.
jy22d

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—8 good work horses, at your own price. Frank L. Lathron, Yantic. Phone 398-14. jy21d

FOR SALE—Nice black mare, saddle and family horse; good, kind and gentle. Also Concord buggy, rubber tires; in fine condition; nearly new harness. James H. Hyde, North Franklin, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—Or will exchange for stock, Five work horses. O. H. Main Tel. 489. je20tf

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—For only $85 you can buy a New England upright piano in excellent condition in every way. A real bargain. Terms if desired. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Two-tenement house. Tel. 339-12. jul15d

FOR SALE—Wassermann 88-note player piano, carefully used and modern equipment, $490—a very low price—in easy payments. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich, Conn. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Grocery, garage and filling station; excellent location; good reason for selling. Phone 1459. jy22d

FOR SALE—Chamber set and two rugs. 77 Church St. Phone 2614-J. jy21d

FOR SALE—Wassermann 88-note piano carefully used and modern equipment, $490—a very low price—in easy payments. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich, Conn. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Team wagon; 8 H. P. gasoline engine; power ensilage cutter. Inquire Joe Kaminski, R. D. 4, Norwich. jy20

FOR SALE—Hoosier kitchen cabinet. Room 57, Shannon Bldg. Call evenings. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—A grocery and meat business; one of the best in city of Norwich. A. C. Burdick, Jewett City, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—House and store. 41 Thames St. T. E. Babcock, Norwich. jul8d

FOR A LIGHT LUNCH—At The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 34 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—New 6-room bungalow on West Side. Tel. 1162-2. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—One Glenwood gas range; good condition. Phone 2081. jul12tf

FOR SALE—Farm wagons and tools All in good condition. Can be seen by appointment. Telephone 1131 Willimantic. apr13d.

FOR REFRESHMENTS, Call at The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 34 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—A beautiful Brunswick upright Phonograph, guaranteed like new; used only six months. This instrument is the best model in Brunswick catalogue, all metal parts genuine gold plated; cost $275.00. Our Price, $125.00. Cash or Credit. The Hanover-Curland Co., 34 Franklin St. jul1d

FOR SALE—A fine upright mahogany piano, in first class condition; guaranteed; Kelso make; special at $99.00. The Hanover-Curland Co., 34 Franklin St. jul1d

$5,000 WILL BUY two-tenement house, six rooms each, with bath, gas, electric light; only five minutes walk from Franklin square. For full particulars see A. V. Covello, 198 Cliff St. Tel. 1093-3. je26tf

FOR SALE—Nine-room house and garage, at a low price; in best part of Norwich. Immediate possession. Phone 1431. je11d

FOR SALE—Pianos as low as $10 deposit, and Victrolas as low as $2.00. The Hanover-Curland Co., 34 Franklin St. jul1d

POLICE PUPPIES—Highly pedigreed; ideal farm dogs, playmates for children; come visit the largest German Shepherd Dog Kennels in the world. Phone or write. Palisade Kennels, East Killingly, Conn. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—A fine summer place, overlooking beautiful lake. $300 cash required; balance easy terms. Wm. M. McNicol, Jewett City. jul8d

FOR SALE—Very desirable place in Waterford; 7-room house with lots, sheds, etc., on the River Road below Uncasville, not far from Eastern Conn. Power Co. plant. For particulars see H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul9d

STOVE PARTS for all makes of stoves. We are the best equipped place for stove parts in New London. B. Kaplan, 90 Bank St. feb13d

AWAY FROM THE HEAT OF THE CITY
an old New England town, 3 acres, high elevation, conveniently located, with fine old colonial house with gambrel roof, open fireplaces, running water, bath, in best of condition, fine shade, apple orchard, for only $2,200 for a quick sale. Easy terms.
TRYON'S AGENCY, Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
New modern six-room bungalow with about an acre of land, $5,500.
Exceptionally fine new two-story and attic house, tiled bath room, large airy sleeping rooms; in best residential section. Unusual opportunity.
Splendid cottages at Groton Long Point from $3,500 up, and shore lots at attractive prices.
New summer cottage near Niantic for $2,500, with two extra lots.
Archa W. Coit
Telephone 2288-2. Disco Building.

FOR SALE
3-FAMILY HOUSE
LAUREL HILL AVENUE
Price $7,000.
LARGE LOT AND GOOD LOCATION.
James L. Case
Real Estate Department
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE
The following property in the title of M. Klingon, Colchester, Conn., consisting of a parcel of land, with a building on it, located on Broadway, 32-37, opposite the Wauregan Hotel, Norwich, Ct. His home is in Colchester. It's a good Colonial house, a very desirable outplace with all modern conveniences and improvements; steam heat, hot and cold water, and all plumbing necessary; A-1 condition. A garage, barn sheds—a large tract of land, lawns, with all kinds of trees, fruit and shade. The house is well furnished, but it can be purchased either furnished or not. To be sold 1-3 below the sound value it is clear and free from all encumbrances, and the owner is also willing to secure terms by mortgage. If interested to investigate this residential section, telephone for an appointment —No. 30, Colchester.
For further particulars inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN
REAL ESTATE BROKER
Norwich, Conn.

FOR SALE
One of the finest bungalows located in an excellent neighborhood in Norwich Town, having all the improvements, including steam heat, electric light, running hot and cold water, excellent sewerage system; there is a garage. This property is in the pink of perfection and must be seen to be appreciated. For full particulars inquire of
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE
Young's Block—Phones—Norwich, Conn.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Are you looking for a real nice ocean front lot in a fine locality, where you can build a comfortable summer cottage? I have such a lot for sale. It is on a good road, with electric lights, telephone and never-failing wonderful force water supply. There is a golf club near. If you care for the game. Francis M. Johnson, Westerly, R. I. jy22d

FOR SALE—8-weeks-old, thoroughbred male Police pups, Wolf grey, $35 each. Earle Hoxie, Tel. 11-23, Lebanon, Ct. jy18StW

FOR SALE—Crawford used upright piano in fine condition, with fine oak case. Only $265 with terms to suit. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—$49 buys a used upright piano in good condition. Easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

A BALD HEADED MAN FROM WEST Mystic sez he's wrote a beautiful song called "There will be no parting tears." Who sez cigars went up? Van Der Meer 8c cigar, 3 for 20c; No. 62 Cigar, 4 for 25c; Krohn's Special, 5 for 25c; Lucky Strike cigarettes, 50 in a tin for 35c; Helmar, 20 for 20c. Fagan's Smoke Shop, opp. Woolworth's. jy21d

FOR SALE—A newly built 3-family house and store combination located in borough of Jewett City, Ct. Good opportunity to start a business and get a revenue from rents as well. Easy terms. William M. McNicol, Owner, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City. jy18d

FOR SALE—Newly built 2-family house located on Mt. Pleasant St., in the city of Norwich, known as the Meyers property. Inquire of owner or William M. McNicol, Agent, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—Summer home at Gardner's Lake; new house, new barn, two acres of land. Inquire at Uncasville Section Co. for W. H. Ywarsky. jul16d

FOR SALE—Bargain. Six-room house at Harrison's, west side Thames river; owner must sell. See H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul14d

FOR SALE—While they last—our entire stock of genuine new Victrolas at half price. Now is the time to get your Victrola. Easy payment terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

Ants—Bedbugs—Ants
For a positive exterminator and a sure preventive, why not use the old reliable TURKISH REMEDY? Made since 1878. Best by test. Buy the Collier Remedies
COLLIER INSECTICIDE CO.
29 Elmwood Ave., Providence, R. I.

Invest Your July Dividends —and— Surplus Funds in 6 per cent Guaranteed First Mortgages Secured by income paying Real Estate.
We can supply you in limited amounts.
Full information upon application.
James L. Case
Investment Broker
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE
The dwelling house, 2 barns, various useful out-buildings and 13 acres of good land known as the Martin Place and is located in Lebanon Center on the highway from Lebanon Village to Willimantic. The house is on a picturesque site and has a beautiful and extensive view of the surrounding country and is about five miles from Willimantic and eleven miles from Norwich over good roads. The property is in a good neighborhood convenient to churches, district and high schools. The property is regarded by all persons as a very attractive and charming home place. The price is low and terms of payment will be made convenient to buyer. For all information apply to
WILLIAM H. SHIELDS of Norwich,
Or To
GEORGE E. MARTIN,
Lebanon Center, Conn.

FOR SALE.
The ten-room house, No. 15 Slater Avenue. May be easily changed to two apartments. Price very low.
Enquire of
Thos. H. Beckley
278 MAIN STREET - PHONES

AUCTION.

STANTON L. BRIGGS ..... Auctioneer

AUCTION
By an order of the Probate Court there will be sold, on the farm of the late Karl Hoffman, situated 1 1-2 miles from Jewett City, 1 1-2 miles from the Newent church in the Town of Lisbon, and one mile from the farm of the late A. F. Read, the following personal property of Karl Hoffman, who was killed on July 4th by a train on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. tracks. This property will be sold for the high dollar, without reserve or limit:
ON FRIDAY, JULY 24th, 1925
At 10 O'clock, A. M., Standard Time
or, if rainy, the next fair week day, and comprises the following articles of an up-to-date poultry farm: 500 March and April hatched White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red pullets; 300 White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red yearling hens; 5 incubators, 2 brooders, 25 egg crates, feeders and other poultry utensils. Also 4 cows, 2 calved in June, 2 due this Fall, all good young family cows; one horse, 8 years old, weighs 1300, sound and a good one; 4 wagons, 1 set double harness, new; one heavy express harness, two gasoline engines in good condition, one 1-horse plow, 1 spring tooth harrow, 1 walking cultivator, 1 riding cultivator, 1 seed planter, one 1-horse mowing machine, rakes, shovels, hoes, tackle blocks and other small tools; a complete line of plumber's and machinist's tools, a few carpenter tools, household furniture and many useful articles not mentioned in this bill. This personal property must be sold to settle the estate and will be sold to the highest bidder.
HARRY L. HULL,
Administrator of Estate, Karl Hoffman

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

TO RENT

FOR RENT — Beautifully furnished room; private garage if desired. Phone 2686-W. jy22dtf

TO RENT—Attractive 8-room cottage with garage; modern. Phone 259. jy22dtf

TO RENT—Six-room apartment, all improvements; also hardwood floors, $28. 330 Franklin St. Inquire 424 Franklin St. jy22dtf

TO RENT—5-room apartment; all improvements. 70 Washington St. jy22d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 28 Union St., Martin House Annex. jy22d

TO RENT—Tenement of 4 rooms, with all improvements, at 92 Union St. jy22d

FOR RENT—3 and 4 room combination apartments and bath, all improvements, centrally located. The Faunis Co. Tel. 2149. tfapr25

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, light housekeeping, and garage. 11 Elm St. oct29WFM

TO RENT—Six-room tenement on Union street, with or without garage. C. Chamberlain, Martin House. jy21d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms. 71 Church St. jy21d

TO RENT—Apartment of five rooms. Rent reasonable. 17 Spruce St. Inquire 136 Washington St. Phone 1152-4. jy21d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms at 41 Boswell Ave. jy21dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room for a trained nurse, near Backus Hospital. Tel. 565-2. jy21d

TO RENT—3 or 3 apartments; good location. Burton. Phone 1125. jy21d

TO RENT—Five-room apartment, all improvements; 3 minutes walk from Franklin square. Phone 2686-M. jy21d

TO LET—Three light housekeeping rooms. 43 Union St. Please call evenings. jy20dtf

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms. Tel. 628-5. jy18tf

TO RENT—Rooms by the day, week or month. Bath houses and garage. Phone Chapman 2851-13, 70 Neptune Ave., Ocean Beach. jy20d

TO RENT—Tenements, all improvements. 44 Laurel Hill Ave. jy20dtf

TO RENT—A modern 7-room apartment. 16 Spalding St. jy18d

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms, centrally located. 376 Main St. Tel. 975-2. jy18d

FOR RENT—Fine offices, 26 to 34 Shetucket St., over Norwich Gas and Electric Dept.; wonderful light and air, janitor service, elevator; strictly office building; prices $25, $30, $45 per month. Apply to Janitor or Alling Rubber Co. jy18d

TO RENT—Garage at 229 Broadway. Inquire at Broadway Fish Market. jul16dtf

FOR RENT—A-1 furnished rooms for gents or lady. No. 3 North Main. jul15dtf

TO RENT—Seashore cottage, for rest of July, at Oswegatchie Hills, Niantic, just north of Military Camp grounds; salt water bathing. Inquire C. I. Smith, Boston Store.

TO RENT—Five rooms, all improvements, including heat; with or without garage. Inquire 210 West Main St., from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. jul11tf

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for gentlemen. 46 Laurel Hill Ave. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Nicely furnished rooms. 170 Broadway. Phone 922. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room. 124 Broadway. Ring second bell. jul11dtf

TO RENT—Tenement, 6 rooms; fruit and garden; $20. 23 Garfield Ave. je18tf

TO RENT—Apartments and Garages on Broadway; all modern conveniences; best location in city. Enquire of Shea & Burke. Call 896-2. tfJune5.

TO RENT—Tenements in Greeneville and Franklyn St. Inquire at Goldblatt's Shoe Store, 46 Franklin St. Phone 517-4 may26d.

TO RENT—12-room apartment, 48 Church St. Inquire Charles W. Cassidy, 46 Main St. je26tf

LOST AND FOUND

FOUND—Came to my place, chestnut mare; white spot on forehead. Owner call at Warren N. Allen's, near Poquetanuck. jy22d

LOST—Between Lebanon and Willimantic. Suitcase marked N. A. M. C. containing clothes, registered Govt. bonds and other valuables. Phone Lebanon 56. Reward. jy22d

LOST—A brownish black and white heifer from a pasture about two weeks ago. Any one seeing her please notify me. Michael Sill, R. F. D.-No. 1, Yantic, Conn., or Phone 48-12, Lebanon. jy21d

Business Notices.

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

THE ROAD HOG
is responsible for a good many dents and jams in cars. If you are one of his victims and the body of your car is dented, fenders bent, lamps crushed, etc., see us. We will straighten and repair these defects and give your car the appearance of having just left the factory.
NORWICH AUTO RADIATOR WORKS 58 Shetucket Street

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All Its Branches.
Scott & Clark Corp.
507 TO 515 NORTH MAIN STREET

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

OLD CARS BOUGHT in any condition. RODES BROS.
Corner West Main and Mt. Pleasant
Telephone 1391
Automobile parts at one-half price
apr29d.

TIRE REPAIRING, batteries charged and repaired, rental batteries, vulcanizing, old autos purchased for wrecking, auto parts for sale, county agents for Zev tires. A. Proulx, Evans block, Danielson, Conn. je25d

PARTS THAT ARE STANDARD EQUIPMENT
ON THE BEST BUILT CARS IN AMERICA ARE SOLD BY Norwich Auto Parts Co.
43 N. Main St. Phone 2118.

Battery Service
The Best 1-Day Battery Charging
Radio Rental Batteries
75c Week.
Capacity, 40 Batteries every 8 to 10 Hours
VULCANIZING
The only shop in the city equipped to repair all sizes of REGULAR and BALLOON Tires.
The KE HAW KE System
ALL REPAIRS GUARANTEED.

Lane Motor Supply
170 Franklin Street
PHONE 1570.

Now is the time to have the radiator put in A-1 shape for spring work. HERE is the place to have it done. We remove scale, sediment, and rust; we stop PERMANENTLY those leaks. We straighten the weak spots against vibration.
We recore or repair ANY TYPE or STYLE.
W. E. SHANLEY
499 MAIN STREET

ARCHITECTS

PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS
WITTER BROS.,
PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS,
Office 42 Main St., Danielson, Ct.
Eighteen years of practical experience conducting sales of every known description throughout the Eastern United States.
Telephones:—
Office 32-12.
I. C. WITTER 31-16.
N. A. WITTER 248
Danielson

BOATS & YACHTS

TWO HOURS TIME will convert your Ford Motor into a Marine Motor; $75 will buy the outfit, including orotte shafting and propellor. Riverside Machine Tool Works, Hartford, Conn. jy21d

BOWLING AND BILLIARDS

BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS AT THE AETNA BOWLING ALLEYS,
Majestic Bldg. Tel. 1918.

CIGARS

CIGARS
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand.
J. F. CONANT 11 Franklin St.

CASTINGS
Grey Iron and Semi-Steel Castings
—Also—
Pattern Making and Machine Work.
Daily Trucking Service Between Norwich, New London and Vicinity.
BABCOCK PRINTING PRESS MFG. CO.
NEW LONDON, CONN.
Tel. 1120.

CHIROPODIST

CHIROPODIST
A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8, Allce Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 1366-4. nov10d

CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS

LONGO & DUFF CO., General Contractors and Builders. Best workmanship at reasonable prices. Estimates cheerfully given. Phone 1473-3. je30tf

AMBROSE SULLIVAN
Telephone 1873-5
We give estimates on Concrete Foundations and Cellars

Doors, Windows, Frames.
Inside Finish.
Mill Work of All Kinds.
THE PECK-McWILLIAMS COMPANY.
Central Wharf.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

Business Notices.

COAL AND WOOD

WOOD—Best quality hard wood and slabs. Tel 615-4. H. E. Beard & Son. jan31d

COAL, SEASONED WOOD and kindlings delivered anywhere, 4 baskets for $1.00. Phone 729. Park Wood Yard, 501 Franklin St. 15d.

COAL Seasoned Wood and Kindlings in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 696 or 1283-4. R. Chapman, Willow St. nov23d

MIRRORS resilvered and glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2462. nov27d

INSURANCE

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire. Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm protection from money loss it affords. Take out a policy today.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
91 MAIN STREET

MONEY TO LOAN

LOANS
to Pay All Those Small Bills That Are Worrying You
WE FURNISH THE CASH
and you repay us in monthly installments to suit your means,—
On $ 50 you pay $ 5 monthly
On $ 75 you pay $ 6 monthly
On $100 you pay $ 8 monthly
On $150 you pay $10 monthly
On $200 you pay $10 monthly
On $300 you pay $20 monthly
plus legal interest on unpaid balance as designated by State law. Loans made to housekeepers on home furniture without removal, and to anyone on guaranteed note. We operate under State Banking Dept. supervision and are licensed and bonded under State laws. For details, call, write, or phone 1470.
New England Equity Corp.
Members of Chamber of Commerce
ROOM 206 THAYER BLDG.
16 FRANKLIN STREET

MUSIC

HELEN L. PERKINS
TEACHER OF SINGING
Phone 552-2 Studio Alice Bldg.

PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING

GENERAL PAINTING and Paperhanging. Phone 2388-13. D. Kudlik. je21d

GEORGE NADOLNY, painting, paperhanging; estimates given. 49 Maple St. Tel. dec29d

PAINTING, Housecleaning. Lawns, Handy Man. Jackson Bros. Phone 1261-2. je3d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 66 Franklin Street.

SUMMER RESORTS

TWO WEEKS VACATION WHOLE Family—Any dates, quaint log cabin cottage camps, comfortably furnished, housekeeping; good beds. Rents $14 weekly up. Ocean Bathing, dancing, refined, references. Hills Colony, Southampton, L. I. jy22d

TRANSPORTATION

MONTAUK STEAMBOAT COMPANY
Between New London, Conn., and Greenport and Sag Harbor, L. I.
Leave New London from wharf foot of State street daily, except Sundays, *10:30 a. m., 3:45 p. m. Leave Sag Harbor 7:00 a. m., Greenport 8:00 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. *Runs to Greenport only.
Delightful one-day excursion. Automobiles accommodated. Send to General Passenger Agent, Montauk Steamboat Co., Pennsylvania Station, New York, for road map of Long Island. tfje16

Excursion to New York
Round Trip Fare $3.00
Sunday, July 26th
Special Train
Lv. Norwich 6:30 a. m.
Lv. New London 7:00 a. m.
Due New York 10:05 a. m.
Returning
Lv. New York 6:20 p. m.
Due New London 9:15 p. m.
Due Norwich 9:50 p. m.
Eastern Standard Time
Limited number of Tickets at Railroad Station.
The N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. CO.

LONG ISLAND SOUND DAY—NIGHT SERVICE
Round Trip Fare $4.00
Via New London Line
Except Sun. & Mon. Daily
Lv. New London 9:00 A. M. 10:00 P. M.
Due New York 4:30 P. M. 6:00 A. M.
Special Midnight and Daylight Trips from New York
(Eastern Standard Time)
Popular One Day Outings
Table D'hote Meal Service
Music and Dancing on Day Trips
The New England S. S. Co.

A Bulletin To Let
Advertisement Will Rent It

Business Notices.

ROOFING

Roll Roofing, $1.00 Per Roll
Slate Surfaced, $2.00 Per Roll
C. A. Ransom, 537 Concord Ave., Cambridge, Mass. Dept. M.

TRUCKING

BROADWAY TRANSFER
Transfers Everything
1357-2—PHONE—977-23

LOCAL, long distance moving and trucking. W. Agrelone. Telephone 2089-3. tfapr27d

LONG DISTANCE TRUCKING. Very low rates. R. Blinderman. Phone 1342. tfapr4d.

Established 1872. Telephone 175
ARTHUR H. LATHROP
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving. Shetucket Street.

C. B. JOSLIN, 338 West Main Street. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Telephone 1522-3.

Long Distance moving and Expressing. Zimmerman 19 Sherwell Ave Tel. 1351

WALL PAPER

NORWICH CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre. We specialize in 10c, 12c and 15c papers; half usual price. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. feb5d

WELDING

WELDING
Electric and Acetylene. Frames and Axles welded and straightened. Machine Parts and Farm Machinery. Cylinder Blocs welded on car. No Pre-Heating or Warping. General Blacksmithing Truck Bodies Spring Work.

NORWICH WELDING CO.
95 North Main St. Phone 214.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Aster plants, 15c doz.; celery plants, $1.25 hundred. Wm. P. Wade, 520 Boswell Ave. Phone 1753-2. jul20WFSt

FOR SALE—Samoyede Puppies (Siberian sled dogs). 1 litter sired by my stud dog Snyeg, son of Champion Nanook, out of Nadja, my prize winning bitch at Atlantic City, Englewood and New Haven. Also a litter sired by Champion Nansen, out of Byelka, daughter of the famous Champion Tobolak. Earle M. Wood, Taftville. jly22d

FOR SALE—Household goods of all descriptions. W. V. Bullard, Elmville, Conn. jly22d

FOR SALE—A 12-room house, price $3,500, and 2 new bungalows and 16 acres of land, priced at $6,000. Also several building lots. Burton, Phone 1225.

CARD OF THANKS

During the time of our bereavement, for the many neighborly acts of kindness, the beautiful flowers and the military service of the Legion post, we wish to sincerely express our thanks.
MRS. ADAM FOLEY and BROTHERS and SISTERS OF JOHN FOLEY.
Jewett City, July 21, 1925.

Norwich Market Letter

Furnished by the Market Reporter of the State Board of Agriculture to The Norwich Bulletin.

Market Conditions

Beets and carrots were liberally supplied to the markets today, values were sustained with very much difficulty. Beans were selling for practically any price obtainable. There were heavier supplies of corn on the markets today, prices maintained were quite firm. Summer squashes declined in price on the markets here, due to the increased supplies. Blueberries were slightly easier in price today, supplies are larger at present. Native egg markets were firmer today, supplies being smaller.

Fruits, Vegetables

Oranges, Fla., box	37.00	9.00
Beets, doz. bunch	.35	.40
Carrots, doz. bunch	.40	.45
Celery, 12 stalk, bunch	1.25	1.50
Lettuce, dozen	.50	1.00
Onions, bushel	3.25	3.50
Potatoes, bbl.	5.25	5.50
Raspberries (pt. bsk.)	.18	.20
Blue berries (qt. bsk.)	.18	.20
Tomatoes, (native lb.)	.31	.35
Peaches (crate)	2.15	3.50
Squashes (doz. bunches)	.75	.85
Corn (100 ears)	3.25	3.50
Peas, bu.	2.75	3.50

Poultry, Dairy

Chickens, dressed, lb.	.35	.40
Live fowl, lb.	.25	.30
Fowl, dressed, lb.	.32	.38
Eggs, Conn., new laid, fan.,	.45	.49
Eggs, Conn., henncry	.44	.45
Eggs, Con., gathered	.43	.44
Eggs, western	.33	.45
Butter, best tub, lb.	.43	.45
Butter, best print, lb.	.46	.48

Meat Products

Calves, best live, lb.	.11	.12
Calves, heavy, lb.	.10	.11
Cows, live, nat. (100 lbs.)	2.00	3.00
Cows, live, nat. com.	3.50	4.50
Cows, dressed, lb.,	.12	.15
Ham, best smoked, lb.,	.28	.35
Lard, pure, lb.,	.20
Beef, prime, lb.,	.20	.21
Beef, medium, lb.,	.16	.18
Lambs, fancy, lb.,	.28	.30
Veal, med., dressed, lb.,	.16	.18
Veal, fan., western, lb.,	.19	.20
Veal, fan., native, lb.,	.31	.32

Grain (Retail) Door

Beef Scraps, 100 lbs.,	$2.75	3.50
Bran, 100 lbs.,	2.00	2.10
Corn, No. 2, 100 lbs.,	2.55	2.65
Cottonseed meal, 100 lbs.,	2.60	2.70
Dry mash, 100 lbs.,	2.80	3.10
Flour, 196 lbs.,	9.50	11.00
Gluten, 100 lbs.,	9.50	11.00
Hominy chop, 100 lbs.,	2.45	2.55
Linseed meal, 100 lbs.,	2.70	2.80
Middlings, 100 lbs.,	2.10	2.20
Oats, No. 1, 80 lbs.,	2.00	2.10
Poultry grain, 100 lbs.,	3.15	3.25
Timothy hay, 100 lbs.,	1.50	1.60
Timothy, loose, 100 lbs.,	1.35	1.45
Wheat, 100 lbs.,	3.50	3.60

Kansas claims the first radio commencement in history. The Kansas agricultural college sent invitations this year to 1,800 "aggies of the air," students enrolled in courses conducted by radio, to attend this notable event in person.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKETS AT A GLANCE.
New York.

Stocks steady; agricultural machinery issues at new top.

Bonds irregular; local traction liens active.

Foreign exchanges firm; Danish koner at year's highest level.

Cotton easy; beneficial rains Mississippi valley.

Sugar featureless.

Coffee lower; increased Brazilian offerings.

Chicago.

Wheat weak; expectation free country selling.

Corn easy good rains.

Cattle dull but steady.

Hogs unevenly lower.

MARKET WAS IRREGULAR.

NEW YORK, July 21.—(A. P.)—Scattered profit taking and short selling inspired by stiffening money rates, imparted considerable irregularity to stock trading today but the market continued to maintain a firm undertone. Bullish activities were confined principally to the high priced industrial specialties, in which gains of 1 to 6 points were registered, while alternate rallies and declines marked dealings in the more representative issues.

Attempts of professional operators to start a reaction made little progress. A jump in the call money rate to 4 1-2 per cent. was used at a pretext for rather general selling in the afternoon, but support was forthcoming for most issues, emphasizing the market's strong absorptive power.

Although its behavior was at times erratic, Geneal Electric held the leadership of the high priced stocks, for which demand was most urgent. After establishing a new high on the current move at 294 3-4 the stock settled back at the close to 292 3-4, a net gain of almost six points for the day. Mack Trucks attained a new peak price at 196, but closed only fractionally higher at 193 1-2. A revival of interest in National Lead lifted that stock 2 1-2 points to 151 1-2.

One of the features of the day's trading was the demand for the agricultural implement shares, based on an expansion of business from the farming districts. International Harvester was lifted to a new high price for the year and Advance Rumely issues scored moderate gains. Reports of better retail trade throughout the west also contributed to the strength of the mail order and chain store stocks. Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Woolworth eclipsed their previous high records, while S. S. Kresge, at 480, sold more than thirty points above its previous sale on a small turnover.

Despite the generally improved earnings indicated in the June reports of the railroads, little interest was shown in the carrier stocks. Independent strength was manifested by some of the western rails including the "Katy" issues, Missouri Pacific common and Frisco, but most of the standard investment issues such as Atchison, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and New York Central lost ground.

Although a good demand developed for some of the low cast pig iron producers, such as Sloss-Sheffield Steel, Gulf States and Iron Products early in the day, they lost ground later in sympathy with the heaviness of United States Steel, which closed fractionally lower.

The small floating supply of iron products, however, was responsible for a run-up of more than 17 points in that stock on light tractions.

Calling of loans by out-of-town banks reduced the supply of call money in this center, bringing about an advance in the rate from 3 3-4 to 4 1-2 percent. Time money rates, however, were unchanged.

Buying of Danish kroner, following the announcement that a new loan for Denmark would be floated here, monopolized interest in foreign exchange trading. The currency today sold at the highest price in several years around 21 3-4 cents. Other European exchanges were firm, with demand sterling holding in the neighborhod of $4.85 3-4.

STOCKS.

Sales in hundreds — High. Low. Close

10 Adv Rumely ..	16	15½	16
17 Adv Rum pr ..	58½	57½	57¾
5 Ahuma Lead ..	11	10¾	10¾
58 Air Reduct ..	108¾	103½	107
18 Ajax Rubber ..	14⅝	14¼	14¼
5 Alas Jun Gold	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
44 Al Chem & Dye	92¾	91½	91½
35 Al Chalmers ..	35	34	34
4 Allis Chalm pr	106¼	106	106½
41 Am Agri Chem.	23¾	22	22½
37 Am Ag Ch pr.	66⅞	64⅜	66
1 Am Bk Notepr	58	58	58
1 Am Beet Sug .	39	39	39
1 Am Beet Sg pr	86¼	86¼	86¼
20 Am Bosch Mag	33⅞	33	33
8 Am Br Ch Fy .	108	107	108
127 Am Can	206¼	203½	202⅝
1 Am Can pr	119	119	119
2 Am Car & Fy.	103	102¾	103
4 Am Chain A ..	23⅝	23⅜	23⅝
4 Am Chicle	51⅝	51¼	51¾
1 Am Drug Syn ..	4¾	4¾	4⅝
22 Am & F P	44⅞	43	43
5 Am & F Pw pr	90⅞	90⅜	90⅝
5 Am & For P pr	90⅞	90½	90⅝
3 Am H & L	12⅝	12½	12½
1 Am H & L pr .	67	67	67
8 Am Ice	118	116⅝	117½
1 Am Ice pr	85	85	85
19 Am Int Corp ..	37½	36¾	36¾
1 Am La France .	13¼	13¼	13¼
7 Am Linseed ..	28⅞	28	28⅝
23 Am Loco	114¾	112⅜	113⅝
3 Am Metals	49⅞	49½	49½
2 Am Metals pr.	115⅛	115	115½
3 Am Radiator .	104½	103	104
37 Am Saf Razor.	64⅞	63½	65¾
2 Am Shiu&com.	7½	7⅜	7½
33 Am Smelting .	105⅞	105	105⅝
2 Am Smelt pr .	110⅞	110½	110½
14 Am Steel Fdry	40¾	39¾	39¾
86 Am Sugar Ref	66½	66¼	66¾
4 Am Suma Tob	11	10¾	10⅝
1 Am Tel & Cable	40	40	40
6 Am Tel & Tel .	141½	141	141
49 Am Tobacco ..	99½	97⅜	97⅞
17 Am Tob B	98⅝	98	98
4 Am Type Fdy	120½	120	120¾
53 Am W Wks ..	68½	67	67⅜
9 A W W 7pc 1 pr	99½	99¼	99⅜
8 A WW 6pc p pr	110¾	109⅞	110¼
55 Am Wool	40⅝	39⅝	40
6 Am Wool pr .	86¼	82½	82½
11 Am Wtg Pa pr	2½	2½	2¼
6 Am Zinc L&S .	8⅞	8¼	8⅛
35 Ana Copper ..	43	41⅞	43⅜
3 Ann Arbor ..	32½	30½	32¼
11 Arch D Mid ..	38	36⅞	36⅞
4 Ar D Midpr xd	97¾	96	96
6 Arm&Co Del pr	97⅜	97¼	97⅜
207 Arm & C Ill ..	24½	23¾	24
98 Arnold Constab	11⅝	8¾	11¼
8 Asso Dry Gds..	54	52½	52⅝
72 Asso Oil	41	39¾	40
26 Atchison	120½	119¾	119⅝
2 Atchison pr ..	96⅜	96¼	96½
9 Atl B & A	5	4⅞	5
11 Atl Coonst Line	165¾	164½	164¾
40 Atl G & W I .	51⅜	49	49¼
3 Atl G&W I pr	52½	51½	52½
3 Austin Nichols	24	23	23
48 Baldw Loco ..	114¾	114½	114½
24 Balt & O	77	76¼	76¼
1 Batt & O pr ..	66¼	66	66¼
16 Bang & Aroos	41⅜	40¾	41
9 Barnsdall Co A	24⅝	24	24
1 Barnsdall Cor B	19	19	19
2 Bayuk Cigar .	41¼	40½	41¼
45 Beth Steel ...	43¾	43	43¾
2 Booth Fisheries	5⅝	5½	5⅝
59 Briggs Mfg Co	41	40	40⅜
16 Bkyn Edison .	138⅜	136⅝	138
46 Bkyn Manh T .	55¾	53⅝	54
15 Bkyn Un Gas .	90	88⅝	85⅜
1 Brown Shoe ...	98	98	98
47 Bruns Bal Col	27⅞	27½	27½
4 Burr Add Mach	94¾	93½	94¼
5 Bush Terminal	18½	18⅛	18⅜
9 Butte & Superior	12½	12	12
1 Butterick	19⅝	19⅜	19⅝
11 Calif Packing .	116	114½	116
26 Cal Petrol ...	29⅛	28½	28⅝
6 Calum & Aris.	51	49⅜	50
3 Calu & Hecla ..	15½	15½	15½
2 Can Pacific ..	142	141⅝	141⅜
3 Case Threshing	35	35	35
26 Central Leather	19⅝	19⅜	19½
22 Cent Leath pr .	65⅜	64	64
1 Cent Rib Mills .	34	34	34
20 Cerro de Pasco	53¾	53¼	53½
118 Certainteed ..	53¾	51⅝	52⅜
31 Chandler Motor	32½	31½	31¾
4 Ches & Ohio .	94	93½	93½
2 Chi & Alt pr ..	8	8	8
8 Chi Gt West ..	12	11¼	11¾
11 Chi Gt West pr	25	24½	24⅝
4 Chi M & St P	8¼	8	8⅛
9 Chi M StP pr .	14⅝	14⅜	14⅜
30 Chi & N W ..	64⅝	64	64
12 Chic Pneu Tool	98	97	98
42 C R I & P	47⅛	46⅛	46¼
3 CRI & P 6pr pr	85	85	85
3 CRI & P 7pcpr	98⅝	96½	96⅜
12 Childs Co	58	57	57
6 Chile Copper .	34⅝	34½	34⅝
3 Cluett Peab xd	62½	61⅜	61¾
73 Coca Cola ...	124¾	124¾	124⅝
44 Colo Fuel & I	42	40	40⅜
3 Colo & Southn	58	57⅛	58
120 Colum Gas&El.	68⅜	67⅜	68⅜
1 Com Inv Tr ..	62	62	62
4 Com Solv A ..	39¼	38¾	39½
4 Com Solv B ..	89¼	88	88¾
15 Cong Naira ...	24⅝	24¼	24⅜
4 Consol Cigar .	37	36⅝	36⅝
1 Cong Cig pr ..	85⅝	85⅜	85⅝
57 Consol Distrib	6¼	5⅝	6
186 Consol Gas ...	91½	90¼	90½
2 Consol Textile .	3⅛	3¼	3⅛
132 Cont Can	74	71⅝	73½
2 Cont Insur ...	112¾	113⅜	112⅝
24 Cont Motors .	10⅛	10	10⅜
17 Corn Prod ...	36	35⅞	36
63 Crucible Steel.	73¾	71⅞	71⅝
1 Crucible St pr .	96	96	96
3 Cuba Cane Sug	11⅜	11⅛	11⅜
7 Cuba C Sug pr	51⅞	51⅛	51⅜
13 Cub Am Sug .	29⅜	29	29
1 Cub Dom Sug.	4	4	4
1 Cub Dom Sugpr	27	27	27
2 Cushm Sons Inc	72	72	72
3 Cuyamel Fruit	55¼	54⅝	54⅝
71 Davison Chem.	40⅞	39⅝	40½
4 Del & Hud ...	148	148	148
1 Del Lk & West	141	141	141
76 Dodge Bros A	28½	28¼	28¼
20 Dodge Bros pr	53¾	52⅞	52⅞
3 Dome Mines ...	16	16	15
16 Doug Pec	19⅝	19½	19⅝
7 DuP de Nem ..	179½	179	179
1 Duq Li 7 pr .	110⅜	110⅛	110⅝
6 East Kodak ..	107½	106⅝	106⅞
3 Eaton Axle	18⅝	18¼	18¼
153 ElPow&Lt ctf .	38⅛	38	38
1 El P&Lt 40 pc.	109½	109½	109½
2 El P&Lt full pd	110½	110½	110½
4 El Stor Bat ..	63⅞	63⅛	62⅞
10 Emer Brant ..	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
1 Em Brandt pr .	9½	9¼	9¼
4 Endi Johns ...	68¼	67½	67½
7 Erie 1 pr	37¼	37¼	37¾
7 Exchange Buff	16	16	16
54 Fairb Morse ...	19¾	18¾	18¾
78 Fam Play Las .	104⅞	104	104⅝
12 Fed Lt & Trac	32	31¾	31¾
2 Fed Lt&Tr pr.	85¼	85¼	85¼
2 Fed Min&Sm pr	56¾	56¾	56¾
1 Fid Phe Fi Ins	165	165	165
17 Fish Bdy xd ..	74¼	73¼	73½
17 Fisher Body ..	74¾	73¼	73¼
75 Fisk Rubber ..	21⅜	20½	20⅞
2 Fisk Rub 1 pr.	107	107	107
71 Fleischman Co	94⅞	93	94⅜
67 Foundation Co	131¼	127¼	130⅛
23 Freep Texas .	15⅞	15⅜	15⅛
1 Gardner Motor	9	9	9
1 Gen Am Tank .	46½	46½	46½
1 Gen Am Tank pf	102	102	102
17 Gen Asphalt ..	54	53	52⅝
24 Gen Bak	152⅛	148½	152½
9 Gen Cigar	91⅛	90½	91
2 Gen Cigar pr .	110	110	110
121 Gen Elec ...	294⅝	287	292⅜
7 Gen Elec spl .	11½	11¾	11⅜
89 Gen Motors ...	85	84⅝	85
2 Gen Mot 7 pr ..	112¼	112	112
58 Gen Pet	57	55⅞	56
2 Ginter Co	41⅝	41	41
32 Glidden Co ...	22	21½	21¼
11 Gold Dust	38	37⅛	38
62 Goodrich B F.	56⅞	55	55⅞
8 Gdy T&R pr.	102¾	102¾	102¾
1 Granby Min	16⅝	16⅝	16⅝
12 Gt Nor pr	68⅜	68⅛	68⅝
13 Gt N I O P	29¾	29½	29½
5 Gt West. Sug .	106⅜	105⅝	105⅝
4 Gulf Mob&Nor	29	28½	28¾
1 Gulf Mo & N pr	96¼	94¾	96⅛
79 Gulf Sts Steel .	86⅛	85¾	85½
1 Hanna Co 1 pr	42½	42½	42½
1 Hartman Corp.	28	28	28
37 Hayes Wheel .	43	42	42
24 Household Prod	42¾	41¾	42¾
2 Houston Oil ..	75	74	74
4 Hud & Manh .	32⅝	32¼	32⅞
48 Hudson Motors	63¼	62⅝	63
34 Hupp Motor ..	19½	18⅝	18⅝
2 Ill Cent pr	116⅝	116¾	116⅜
54 Indep O&Gas.	38	36½	36
1 Indian Motorcy	14⅝	14⅜	14⅝
1 Indian Refining	8¼	8¼	8¼
14 Inland Steel ..	42⅜	41⅞	42½
4 Inspir Cop	29	28½	28½
2 Inter Rap Tran	28¼	28¼	28¼
43 Int Agri Corp.	15¾	14⅞	14⅞
12 Int Bus Mach .	137¾	126¼	126½
8 Int Cement	69⅞	68¾	68¾
54 Int Comb Eng .	43	41⅜	42¼
66 Int Harvester.	115¼	112¾	114
2 Int Mer Mar pr	31½	31½	31½
37 Int Nickel	30	29¾	29¾
66 Int Paper	67⅜	66¼	67⅛
4 Int Rys Cen Am	31⅝	31¾	31⅞
18 Int Tel & Tel .	122	120	121
7 Jones Bros Tea .	18⅛	17⅞	18
10 Jordan Motors.	40	39¾	39¾
1 Kan C P&L pr	107½	107½	107½
1 Kan City Sou .	33¼	32	32
4 Kan & Gulf	½	½	½
6 Kayser J J & Co	31	31	31
43 Kelly Spg	20⅝	20	20¼
2 Kelly Sp 6 pc pr	69	69	69
154 Kennecot Cop .	53¼	53⅛	53⅜
20 Keystone Tire .	3¼	3	3
2 Kinney Co	85½	85½	85½
1 Kinney Co pr .	91½	91½	91½
1 Kresge S S Co	480	480	480
21 Kresge Dpt Strs	38	35⅝	35⅝
1 Lee Rub & Tire	16	15½	16½
1 Lehigh Valley.	78¼	78½	78¼
32 Lig & My Tob	67½	66¾	67¼
Lig & My Tob B	67	66¼	66⅞
5 Loew's Inc ...	28¾	28¾	28⅞
1 Loft Candy ..	7¾	7¾	7⅝
1 Loose Wiles Bis	93	93	93
30 Lorillard Co.	35⅝	35	35⅝
13 Louis Oil&Ref	17¾	17⅝	17½
1 Louis & Nash .	110¾	110¾	110¾
4 Ludlum Steel .	35⅝	35	35
145 Mack Truck ..	196	190½	193½
2 Mack Tr 2 pr .	106	105	106
1 Mackay Cos ..	127	127	127
22 Magma Cop ..	42¼	42¼	41¾
13 Mallison & Co	26⅝	24⅝	26
3 Manh Elec Sup	50⅝	50⅝	50⅝
3 Manh Ry gtd .	99½	96½	96⅜
1 Manh Ry m gtd	46⅞	46⅞	46⅞
1 Manila El Corp	42	42	42
4 Maraca O E ..	26	26	26
1 Mkt St Ry prior	52	52	52
218 Mariand Oil ..	45⅞	44¾	44¾
3 Marlin Rock ..	36⅝	36⅜	36⅜
23 Martin Parry .	28⅜	28¼	28¼
7 Mathieson A W	82⅜	80½	80½
57 Max Mot B ctfs	112½	109¾	110½
15 May Dept Strs	118⅜	117	117⅝
2 McCr Sts B ..	96½	96⅛	96½
6 McInt Porc M .	19	18⅝	18⅝
1 Met Edison pr .	114¼	114¼	114¾
4 Mex Seab Oil.	14¾	14⅜	14⅝
6 Miami Cop	10⅛	10¾	10½
90 Mid Cont Pet .	32⅞	31⅝	32
13 Mid States Oil	2¼	2¼	2¼
1 Mid Stl Prd pr	117¼	117¼	117¼
2 Min & St L ..	2⅜	2⅜	2⅜
1 Min StP & SSM	36	36	36
2 Min StP&SSMH	60	60	60
175 Mo K & T ...	35	33¼	34⅜
62 Mo K & T pr.	87¼	84⅝	86½
23 Mo Pac	34½	33⅛	34
40 Mo Pac pr ..	51	50	50⅛
43 Mont Power ..	86	83½	84¼
20 Montg Ward .	66¼	64¼	65⅛
25 Moon Motors .	32½	32	32
27 Mother Lode .	8	7⅞	8
45 Motor Wheel .	33½	32½	32⅞
1 Munshingwear .	34⅝	34⅝	34⅝
1 Murray Body .	31¾	31⅜	31½
3 Nash Mot A pr	105½	105½	105½
8 Nat Acme stpd	9⅜	8⅝	8⅝
15 Nat Biscuit ..	71½	70½	70½
2 Nat Slk & Suit	70½	69¾	69¾
2 Nat Dair P ctfs	56½	56⅜	56⅝
2 Nat Dist P	36½	35⅝	35⅞
5 Nat Dist P pr	69	68⅝	69
2 Nat Enam&St p	82	82	82
27 Nat Lead	133¼	149	151½
3 Nat Supply ...	62	61¾	62
3 Nev Con Cop.	13¾	13½	13½
34 N Y Air Bk ..	51¾	50½	50½
2 N Y Air Br A .	53¼	53	53
2 N Y Canners .	44¾	44	44
39 N Y Central ..	118	117½	117¾
1 N Y Chi & St L	122	122	122
2 N Y Dock	26½	26½	26½
206 N Y N H & H	33¼	32	32¾
11 N Y Ont & W .	28½	28½	28½
1 Nag Falls Pow	76	76	76
4 Nor South	33	33	33
14 Nor & West .	129¾	129	129
88 North Amer ..	57	56¾	56¾
1 North Amer pr	49¾	49¾	49¾
24 North Pac	66¼	65⅞	66
2 Ont Silv Min .	7	7	7
5 Orpheum Cir ..	29⅝	29	29
10 Otis Elevator .	135	134½	134½
1 Otis Elev pr .	112	112	112
12 Otis Steel	13¾	13½	13½
12 Owens Bottle .	55⅛	54¾	54⅜
1 Pac G & El .	114½	114¼	114½
53 Pacific Oil	58⅜	57½	57⅜
105 Packard Mot .	34⅞	34⅛	34⅛
1 Pack Mot pr .	110⅜	110⅜	110⅜
7 Paige Det Mot .	20½	20¼	20½
15 Pan Am Pet .	75½	74¾	74¾
230 Pan Am Pet B	76¼	74¾	75⅝
1 Pan & Bin stpd	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
2 Park & Til ...	29⅜	29⅜	29⅜
2 Penick & Ford	24½	23½	23½
54 Penn R R	46⅛	46	46
13 Penn Sea Steel	1½	1½	1½
11 Peop Gas Chi.	117½	116⅝	117½
17 Pere Mar	65¼	60⅝	65
13 Phila Co	60⅝	59⅝	60
5 P & R C & I.	40⅜	40	40½
12 Philip Mor Co.	20⅝	19	19¾
78 Phil Petro	46⅛	45¼	45⅜
9 Phoenix Hos ..	38½	37	38⅛
136 Pierce Arrow .	31⅝	29¾	29¾
34 Pierce Ar pr .	76⅝	74¾	74½
1 Pierce Ar pr .	150	150	150
1 Pierce Oil	1⅞	1⅞	1⅞
1 Pierce Petro .	6⅜	6⅜	6½
1 PittsBurgh C .	46¼	46¼	46¼
9 Pitts & W V .	70⅜	70	70
3 Postum Se xd .	119⅞	118¼	118½
4 Press St Car .	53	51½	51½
34 Prd & Ref	20¼	19	19½
1 P S E P pr ..	104	104	104
35 Pub S N J ..	72¼	71⅞	71⅝
1 P S N J 8pc pr	115¼	115¼	115¼
15 P S N J rts ..	1	1⅛	1
7 Pullman Co ..	140¼	140	140
12 Punta Aleg S .	36	35½	35⅝
4 Pure Oil	29¼	29¼	29¾
328 Radio Corp	55⅞	53⅜	53⅞
29 Ry St Steel ...	129⅜	124⅝	124⅝
78 Ray Con Cop .	16	15⅜	15⅝
32 Reading Co	87½	86½	86½
2 Reading rts ..	18⅜	18¼	18¼
8 Reading 1 pr ..	40	39¾	40
1 Reading 2 pr .	41⅜	41⅜	41⅜
1 Reis & Co Robt	26	25½	25½
19 Rem Type	75⅜	74	75½
4 Replogle Steel .	15⅜	15	15
20 Rep Iron & St	49⅝	48½	49
1 Rep Ir & St pr	88	88	88
1 Reyns Spring .	1⅜	1⅜	1⅜
40 Reyns Tob B ..	83	80⅝	82
1 Rossia Ins Co .	89½	89½	89½
32 Roy Dutch NY	55⅜	54¼	55
1 Rutland Ry pr	56½	56½	56½
19 St Joseph Ld .	42	41¼	41¼
37 St I & San F	86½	85⅝	85⅞
3 St L Southw ..	48⅞	48¼	48½
2 St L South pr	71⅝	71⅝	71⅜
17 Savage Arms .	59⅝	57	57
14 Schulte Rt Strs	109⅛	108½	108½
35 Seab Air L ..	33½	32½	32⅜
16 Seab Air L pr	42⅞	41⅝	41⅜
99 Sears Roeb ...	188¼	185⅞	187
8 Shattuck F G .	69⅛	68	68
3 Shell Tran & Tr	43	42¾	42⅝
48 Shell Un Oil ..	25	24⅜	24

SHOWERS TODAY AND TOMORROW MORNING

Norwich Bulletin

1795 1925

NORWICH CONN. WEDNESDAY JULY 22 1925

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich Wednesday, July 22, 1925

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

The Ontario disturbance has moved to western Quebec. Pressure is high from Newfoundland and southward to Bermuda.

During the last 24 hours, showers have occurred in the Atlantic and east Gulf states. It has become cooler in the upper Lake region and over the northern plateau. Elsewhere temperature changes have been unimportant.

In the Atlantic and east Gulf states, the indications are for showers Wednesday and Thursday. It will be cooler on Wednesday in the lower Lake region and portions of the Ohio Valley and cooler on Thursday in the interior of the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook and Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh, possibly strong south and weather overcast and showers Wednesday.

Forecast.

For Eastern New York, Southern New England, and Northern New England: Showers Wednesday and Thursday morning followed by fair and cooler.

Observations.

The Bulletin's observation show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Tuesday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 a. m.	60	30.00
12 m.	74	30 00
6 p. m.	70	30.00

Highest 74, lowest 60.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Tuesday: Showers. Tuesday's weather: Increasing cloudiness, muggy, light showers in late afternoon.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES
(Standard Time)

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Sets.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
21 ...	4 31	7.17	9.50	sets.
22 ...	4.32	7.16	10.51	7.51
23 ...	4.33	7.15	11.19	8.26
23 ...	4.33	7.15	11.50	8.58
24 ...	4.34	7.14	12.30	9.29
25 ...	4.35	7.13	1.11	9.56
26 ...	4.36	7.12	1.55	10.24

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

John Shutt, of Terrace avenue, John Wood, of South Second avenue, and Hartwell Zuerner, of Maennerchor avenue, are at Camp Tippecan, the Boy Scout camp, at Beach Pond. All are members of Troop 3.

Miss Helen C. Aberg has returned to her home on North Third avenue after spending the past week in Portland, Conn., the guest of the Misses Caroline and Dorothy Varley.

Miss Sadie Newton of North A. street, is enjoying a week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Heselton of North B. street, had as guests over the week end, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, of Ballouville.

The residence and business block of Joseph C. Marsan, of Hunters avenue, is being painted.

Mrs. Edmund Hindle and son, Edmund H. Hindle, of North Third avenue, are spending the remainder of the week with friends in Providence, R. I.

Miss Mary McSheffery, R. N., of South A., street and her sister, Miss Jennie McSheffery, of the St. Francis Hospital Training school, Hartford, have returned from a week's stay at Block Island, R. I.

Napoleon T. Parent, of South Second avenue, is spending a few days in Boston, Mass., attending a convention of United Drug Co., druggists.

Miss Louise White, of South A., street, has returned from a short stay in Mechanicsville, Conn., where she was the guest of her cousin, Miss Mary Arthur.

The T. G. A. C. gave an enjoyable social and dance Saturday evening in the Naturalization club. Modern and old fashioned dances were enjoyed.

A meeting of the standing committee of the Taftville Congregational church, was held Tuesday evening in the vestry of the church, with the chairman, George J. Meyer, presiding.

The story of the Pied Piper of Hamlin was surpassed Tuesday morning when the big field of oats on Norwich avenue was harvested. As the harvesters levelled the grain with their scythes, hundreds of rats that had evidently been making their homes in the fields, fled for safety with the mowers in pursuit with their scythes, sickles and clubs. Although most of the rodents got away, about 30 were stretched out stark and cold on the field. One of the spectators remarked that it reminded him of an exciting game of polo.

GOVERNOR WILL OBSERVE MONTAUK TARGET PRACTICE

HARTFORD, July 21.—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander Nelson W. Pickering, of Ansonia, naval aide on Governor Trumbull's staff, has been assigned by Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, commandant of the third naval district, to be in command of the Eagle boat squadron for the third district during the naval reserve annual cruise early in August.

There will be five 220-foot Eagle boats in the squadron, which will travel 700 miles in a two-weeks' cruise from New York to Portland, Me., to Boston, to Vineyard Haven, to Block Island and back to New York. Connecticut naval militia men will be aboard the U. S. S. Eagle 27, in command of Lieutenant Commander Albert Merritt, of Bridgeport, which will be the squadron leader's ship. A few Connecticut men will be on the cruiser U. S. S. Wheeling, which will go as far as Vineyard Haven.

Governor Trumbull and one member of his staff will go aboard the U. S. S. Eagle 27 at New London, August 11, to observe target practice off Montauk Point, Long Island, on the following day and will remain aboard for two and possibly three days, during which Gardiner's bay and Fort Pond bay, at the eastern end of Long Island, will be visited. The governor will be the guest of Commander Pickering.

Bar Association at Eastern Point.

Norwich attorneys who are members of the Connecticut Bar association will attend the day's outing of the association at the Hotel Griswold, Eastern Point, today (Wednesday). The luncheon at noon at the hotel is expected to bring the barristers together, although some may arrive much earlier. There will be golf, tennis, swimming and boating. About 300 lawyers are expected at the luncheon.

Bunions
Quick relief from pain. Prevent shoe pressure.
At drug and shoe stores everywhere
Dr Scholl's Zino-pads
Put one on—the pain is gone

PRESTON JUSTICE'S COURT GIVES SENTENCES IN THREE CASES

Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Norwich state hospital Justice of the Peace William Mitchell held court for the disposal of several cases arising in the town of Preston recently. Grand Juror Appleton Main prosecuted.

John Gromko of this city was before the court on a charge of reckless driving of an automobile. Gromko was in an accident two or three weeks ago on the Preston City road that sent several persons as well as himself to the hospital. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25 and costs.

Howard Eddins of this city pleaded guilty to the charge of driving on the Preston City road with his cutout open. He was given a fine of $5 and costs.

Joseph Hastedt, who conducts a gasoline station on the Military highway, near the drawbridge, pleaded guilty to the charge of keeping liquor with intent to sell. He was fined $50 and costs. He was in court with Earl Mathewson as his attorney, but none of the others presented had counsel. All paid their fines and costs.

The case of Philisa Poirier, 38, of Taftville, accused of transportation of liquor in the town of Preston, was to have come up before the court, but as Poirier had gone to jail Tuesday morning to begin serving a sentence given by the Norwich city court, his case was postponed till July 31 when his jail term will be over.

Fine and Jail Sentence

Poirier was fined $200 and costs and given a jail sentence of 10 days by Judge A. F. Libby in the Norwich city court in the morning. The complaint against him alleged manufacturing and keeping liquor with intent to sell. He paid the fine and costs amounting to $232.88 before he went to jail.

Attorney Earl Mathewson entered a demurrer for Poirier which was overruled by Judge Libby and the attorney's plea for leniency for the Taftville man fell upon deaf ears as far as Judge Libby was concerned. The judge declared that as long as he sat on the bench there was going to be no leniency in liquor law violations and he would give a jail sentence as others have gone to jail on the same charge.

Poirier was arrested last Friday afternoon on the Military highway near the state hospital by State Policeman Giles Watson, when the officer found the Taftville man with a load of ten cases of beer. Later tests of the beer showed two per cent. alcoholic content. After the arrest Poirier took the state policeman to Taftville when he showed the officer where the beer had been made and the officer seized and confiscated 127 dozen bottles of beer as well as the apparatus with which it is made.

FINES FOR AUTO DRIVERS IN WATERFORD COURT

Three automobile cases occupied the session of Waterford town court Monday afternoon.

Daniel J. Flynn, of Hartford, was fined $25 and costs on a charge of reckless driving. Judge Frederick N. Dimmock remitted $20 of the fine. Flynn was arrested Sunday by Constable Herbert W. Davton when he was seen passing a car on Douglas Hill while a third car approached from the opposite direction. Flynn pleaded not guilty and after the testimony of the officer and the defendant was heard, conflicting statements necessitated the calling in of more witnesses. Flynn was found guilty and he paid the fine.

Irving Marder, also of Hartford, was brought in for reckless driving, charged with having passed another machine and a motorcycle while driving up Douglas Hill. The hill is noted for its steep grade and abrupt curve at the top. In his case, however, there was no machine coming from the opposite direction until the driver had regained the right hand side of the highway. Judge Dimmock nolled the case upon payment of court costs which amounted to $11.93. Marder paid the costs.

Barney Zaslow, of New London, whose truck figured in a collison with another truck operated by Socrates Delagorges, of New London, on July 1, was arraigned before Judge Dimmock on two counts, passing an intersecting street without reducing speed and reckless driving. Attorney Morris R. Lubschansky, of New London, counsel for the defendant, demurred to the complaint. The demurrer was overruled. Judge Dimmock granted a complete nolle on the charge of reckless driving and found the defendant guilty of passing an intersection without reducing speed. Zaslow was fined $5 and costs on the second count. He paid.

POLICE DOG PUPPIES MAKE INTERESTING DISPLAY

For the true dog lover, and especially for the shepherd dog fancier, there is an unusual treat in the puppy class in Faton Chase's window on Main street. The puppies which are the property of the Chase Cliff Kennels, are of that rare silver grey, the most popular color in the eastern states.

The blood lines are also of an unusual fine combination in which are Ewald von Gigelberg, Norse von der Kriminalpelizei, Armin von der Baggaalle Ader Bubenberg, and others.

The window is decorated to imitate an up-to-date kennel, giving ample room for the six weeks' old puppies to play and amuse their audiences in bear cub fashion.

Literature on the shepherd dog is also on display in the window, with a picture seldom if ever seen by any person in Norwich, that of Cavalry Captain Von Stephanitz, founder and president for twenty-five years of the German Shepherd Dog club. A four generation certified pedigree of Tiger Tom from the A. K. C., may be seen in the back ground.

MOOSEHEART LEGION HAD ATLANTIC BEACH OUTING

Women of Mooseheart Legion had their annual outing Monday. Leaving Norwich at 9 o'clock (D. S. T.) they were taken to Atlantic Beach in the large white bus, by H. E. Geer, driver for the Connecticut Motor Vehicle Co. Arriving at the beach they enjoyed an hour of bathing. At twelve o'clock they went to Pleasant View where they had dinner at "The Andrea." After dinner they enjoyed the afternoon at cards, in bathing, and other sports, until 8:30, then dancing was enjoyed for an hour, after which they returned to Norwich unanimous in having had a most enjoyable day. The committee having charge of arrangements were Mrs. Teresa Watters, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Irene Burns and Mrs. Vera Sterry.

Workmen's Compensation Agreements.

The following workmen's compensation agreements have been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donohue:

Peck-McWilliams Co., Norwich, employer, and Mike Begdonski, Washington street, employe, injury to right side, June 4, at rate of $18.

New England Collapsible Tube Co., New London, employer, and Richard Esty., employe, iritus of right eye, June 9, at rate of $6.

Reuben Lubchansky, New London, employer, and William Olmstead, employe, fracture of wrist and dislocation of elbow, April 10, at rate of $18.

Max Gordon & Son corporation, Norwich, employer, and John Zahalka, 56 Yantic street, employe, injured right side, June 9, at rate of $8.

Babcock Printing Press Mfg. Co., New London, employer, and Creschenzi Langello, employe, injured big toe, June 8, at rate of $11.92.

Dionigi Arrigoni, Middletown, employer, and Andrew Radigi, Durham, employe, injured left side, April 15, at rate of $16.64.

DIVORCE FOR DESERTION GRANTED NORWICH WOMAN

Josephine H. (Corcoran) Beausoliel of this city was granted a divorce and custody of two minor children from Honorius A. Beausoliel of Pawtucket, R. I., by Judge Allyn L. Brown in the superior court here Tuesday. The divorce was granted on the grounds of desertion alleged by the plaintiff since Jan. 24, 1923. The couple were married on June 29, 1910.

MOOSUP TO HAVE FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

(Special to the Bulletin.)

MOOSUP, July 20—The committee appointed by the local fire department to select a modern fire alarm system made its report at the meeting held in the fire house this evening. They recommended and it was voted to buy the system from the Loper Fire Alarm Co., of Stonington. The master transmitter box will be located in the telephone office, and a street box in the square. An eight-inch diameter by 24-inch fire alarm whistle will be placed on the Aldrich mill. This will be operated automatically by a whistle blowing machine. All that is necessary to send an alarm is to take the receiver down and tell central the box number wanted. She turns to the master box, adjusts the number wanted and pulls the hook. The rest is automatic. The signal repeats four times on the whistle, and is punched out on paper tape in the fire house. To send an alarm from the street box simply open the door and pull the hook. The box will not send its signal if the master box is sending but will wait until the master box has completed its signal and then follow within 12 seconds with its own number. The wiring and battery service is to be supplied by the S. N. E. Telephone Co. It is planned to add a street box or two each year until the village is properly covered. The contract with the Loper co., is for $550.

CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE COAST TO COAST TRIP

Six Connecticut people have thus far made reservations for the coast-to-coast trip that will be made on a private train in September under the auspices of the state Chambers of Commerce of New England.

The Connecticut Chamber of Commerce has received reservations from Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Parker, of Bridgeport, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Chidsey, of Bristol, W. S. Ingraham, of Bristol, and Dr. Philip D. Bunce, of the Howland Dry Goods company; of the Howland Dry Gods company; Mr. Chidsey is the president of the Stoot Manufacturing company; manufacturers of brass hinges and registering machinery; Mr. Ingraham is treasurer of the E. Ingraham company, maker of clocks and watches.

A number of prominent people in various parts of the state have made inquiries regarding details of the trip. Several of these people are making up small groups of personal friends with whom they plan to take the coast-to-coast trip.

The trip will last 31 days and will include a tour of the middle west, far west and the south. It will be a combined business and pleasure trip. A number of special and unique features not available to the ordinary tourist have been planned for the coast to-coast tour. One of the purposes of the trip will be to help sell Connecticut and New England to other sections of the country.

A similar trip was conducted under the auspices of the Massachusetts Chamber of Commerce.

BUILT SAFETY GUARDS AT NORWICH BLEACHERY

The July issue of Finishing Topics gives commendation to Valentine Sebastian and Harold Wickham for the installation of safety guards at the Norwich branch and illustrates the sketch with pictures of the two men.

The article is as follows:

One of the important factors in the reduction of accidents at Norwich branch is the excellent type of machine guards installed throughout the plant.

The men responsible for the making and installing of these guards are Valentine Sebastian and his assistant, Harold Wickham.

Valentine Sebastian, better known as "Val," was born in Germany 73 years ago, where he served his apprenticeship at plumbing and tinning, and came to this country at the age of 28 years. After working in and around New York city for a number of years, he came to Norwich and entered the employ of Norwich branch in 1910. Shortly afterward, he was given charge of the tinsmith work in the plant and is still filling that position faithfully and efficiently. When "Val" was in New York, he had the honor of being a close friend to Theodore Roosevelt when our ex-president was connected with the New York police department.

Harold Wickham, "Val's" assistant, was born in Charleston, Illinois, in 1890. During the war, he served in the U. S. navy at Philadelphia Navy Yard and in New London and was discharged with a rating of first class machinist's mate. He came to Norwich and entered our employ in 1921.

These men show the real Norwich spirit in their interest and co-operation with the safety committee in making our plant a safer place in which to work. Their work has earned many compliments not only from people inside the mill but also from the factory and insurance inspectors.

"American Education week," will be observed again this year. The week of November 16 to 22 has been chosen for it, and once more the American Legion, the National Education Association, and the bureau of education of the interior department are cooperating to promote it.

WET DRIVER SUMMONED BEFORE GROTON COURT

F. A. Gardner of South Manchester is to appear before the Groton town court next Monday evening on the charge of driving under the influence of liquor as the result of an automobile accident on Eastern Point road Monday night about 9:30 when a Velie touring car which he was driving collided with a Buick touring car operated by Albert Benvenuti of 9 Chelsea street, New London. The New London car was headed in a northerly direction, towards the Thames river bridge, when the driver saw the other touring car coming from the opposite direction.

According to reports, the South Manchester man was driving on the crest of the road and bearing to the left. Both drivers became confused, with the result that the right front wheel of the Velie caught the hub of the right front wheel of the other machine. Both cars were traveling at a fair rate of speed and when the vehicles were thrown off their course, the South Manchester car plunged to the left hand side of the road, between two trees, and up a slight embankment, crashing into a wooden fence on what was formerly known as the Theophilus Brown property, now owned by the New London Ship and Engine Co. About 40 feet of fence was ripped away and the car came to a halt near a large tree about 75 feet from the point of the collision. The New London machine swerved to the left in the opposite direction and came to a stop when the front wheels struck a deep ditch at the side of the road.

There were two other passengers in the car with Gardner. The rim and tire of the Buick's left front wheel were torn from the spokes and the entire front end was smashed. Both front wheels of the South Manchester car were shattered. The road was strewn with broken spokes, fragments of headlight lenses, and bits of metal.

Patrolman Edward Morgan of the Groton police appeared on the scene of the accident, and after determining the circumstances, took Gardner into custody. It is reported that Gardner offered some resistance to the officer and appeared very much in an intoxicated condition. Gardner was given a summons to appear in Groton town court Monday morning and was released in $500 bonds.

JUNIOR MECHANICS WILL HOLD STATE COUNCIL

The Junior Order of American Mechanics is to hold its Connecticut state council convention in New London September 21 and 22, in Odd Fellows hall.

This convention promises to be the best session of the Jr. O. U. A. M. ever held in this state. This is assured by the fact that the National Orphans' Home band and the Girls' Glee club, also of the home of Tiffin, Ohio, comprising about 75 members in both units, will be on hand for the entire session. They will probably arrive Sunday, Sept. 20, and rest until Monday evening when they will head a grand parade through the principal streets of the city. Visiting councils are expected to be present and it undoubtedly will be the largest gathering of Jr. O. U. A. M. New London has ever seen.

After the parade, the members of the Orphans Home band and the Girls' Glee club and all national and state officers and visiting delegates will gather at the I. O. O. F. buildings for a reception, supper and entertainment. If possible, an open air concert will be arranged sometime Sept. 21. The band and glee club are known over the country and wherever they play and sing, they are assured of large audiences.

The convention proper will be held on the 22nd at which time the delegates will meet and transact all necessary business which may come before it. National, state and visiting state officers are expected to be present and will be heard in patriotic addresses. On Tuesday, if the weather permits, arrangements will be made to take the band and glee club and visiting officers and delegates on auto rides around the city and suburbs.

DENY PAY RAISE TO NEW HAVEN POLICEMEN

New Haven policemen, who had asked for a raise of $1 a day in their pay and an additional day off each month, had both requests denied this week by the board of police commissioners.

As a compromise, however, the board voted that the men be relieved from paying the two per cent. of their salary toward the pension fund, as they have done in the past, and also that the city pay two-thirds of the policemen's uniform expense instead of the usual one-half.

The New Haven police force includes 11 captains, 31 sergeants and 268 policemen.

The first part of their request concerned that of the increase in pay, necessary, the petitioners claimed, because of the increased cost of commodities. The second part had to do with the additional day off per month, which would make a total of 42 days a year instead of 30. This additional time was asked because of the great strain of directing the heavy traffic which has increased greatly in the last few years.

In recommending that the request for a raise be denied, however, the finance committee called attention to the fact that the proposed increase would cost the taxpayers approximately $145,000, which they considered too great a burden. The report also stated that in the last 12 years the pay of a policeman has increased from $3 to $5.50 a day, an increase of over 83 per cent, while the cost of commodities has gone up but 60 per cent.

Concerning the cost of uniforms, an admittedly large item of expense, the board, on recommendation of the finance committee, voted that the city assume two-thirds of the cost. Previously the men were compelled to pay half. The great cost of outfitting themselves was given as one of the reasons for an increase in pay at the time the petition was presented.

SHOWER WAS GIVEN FOR MRS. ALRIK JOHNSON

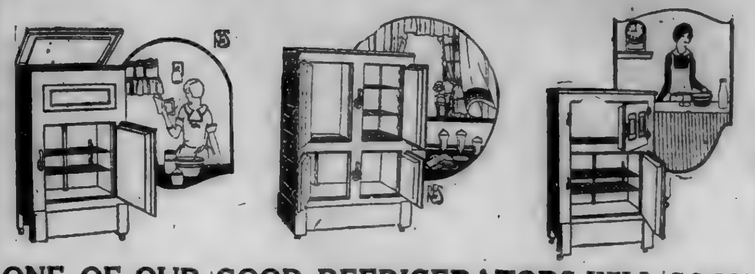
Mrs. Alrik Johnson was given a shower last Thursday night at her home, No. 25 Majorie street, by about 17 girl friends. The bride of a month received numerous gifts which were greatly appreciated.

During the evening games were played, dancing enjoyed and refreshments served. The feature of the evening was the cutting and serving of the wedding cake, which contained numerous luck pieces and prizes. The cake was cut by Mrs. Johnson and the wedding ring was won by Miss Elsie Anderson, the engagement ring by Miss Edna Hanson, the money by Mrs. Johnson and the thimble by Miss Alice Ellison.

Those present were the Misses Signa Carlson, Dorothy Pearson, Anna Johnson, Elsie Anderson, Ruth Erickson, Edna Hanson, Hildergard Johnson, Asteid Benson, Elsie Peterson, Alice Ellison, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Mrs. C. H. Pearson, Mrs. Iver Johnson, Mrs. Walter Pierson, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, Mrs. Henry Wiese and Mrs. Alrik Johnson.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN COMPANY

Save Money Here On These WARM WEATHER HOME NEEDS



ONE OF OUR GOOD REFRIGERATORS WILL SOON PAY FOR ITSELF IN SAVING FOOD AND ICE

THE BOHN SYPHON—IN PARTICULAR—CANNOT BE EQUALLED IN EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY OF UPKEEP.

Your refrigerator is one of the most important articles in your home. Too much care cannot be used in selecting it. You cannot buy a better refrigerator than the BOHN SYPHON. We are exclusive local representatives for this famous make and chose it for the same reason that the Pullman Co. chose it for use on all dining cars and buffet cars, for the reason that Governments, Hospitals and other institutions and better class home owners chose it—BECAUSE it cannot be equalled for refrigeration economy and efficiency.

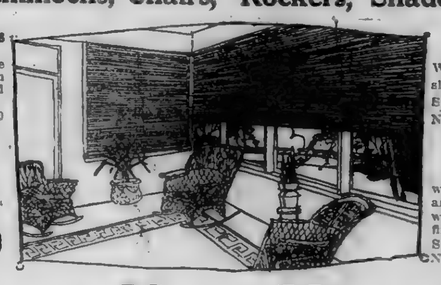
WE HAVE A STYLE AND A SIZE TO SUIT EVERY HOME NEED AT A PRICE RANGE VARIED ENOUGH TO SUIT EVERYONE.

TOP ICER STYLES AT.... $15 | SIDE ICER STYLES AT.... $26 | THREE DOOR STYLES AT.... $33

Porch Hammocks, Chairs, Rockers, Shades, Rugs

Couch Hammocks of fine quality durable heavy gray or brown duck, with chains and hooks— SPECIAL NOW AT.. $12.90

Porch Shades Vudor make — in all sizes and prices. AS LOW AS ONLY $3.90



Porch Chair With cane seat and slat back, walnut finish SPECIAL NOW AT.. $1.90

Porch Rocker with high slat back, and cane seat and wide arms. Natural finish— SPECIAL NOW AT. $4.90

New Victrolas HALF-PRICE

LATEST TYPES—ALL FULLY GUARANTEED

$25 Victrolas—Now ... $12.50
$35 Victrolas—Now ... $17.50
$50 Victrolas—Now ... $25.00
$75 Victrolas—Now ... $37.50
$110 Victrolas—Now .. $55.00
$150 Victrolas—Now .. $75.00
$180 Victrolas—No w... $90.00

With the Added Privilege of Our Unusually EASY TERMS

Single Faced Victor Red Seal Records, 3 for $1

SERVEL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION
The Best Automatic Electric Refrigerator Made.

The Latest Developments in Electric Refrigeration and Oil Heating. Ask About Them.

WILLIAMS OIL-O-MATIC HEATING
A New Type of Oil Burner for Heating Your Home.

NORWICH — Two Big Stores Linking One Big Buying Organization! — NEW LONDON

The Plaut-Cadden Company
EST. 1872
Everything For The Home And Everything In Music

82-143 MAIN ST. — 124-126 BANK ST.

LOCAL INSURANCE MAN SIXTH ON HONOR ROLL

Sixth place on the national honor roll for the month of June was awarded to Louis M. Crandall, local insurance counsellor for the New England Mutual Life Insurance Co. This was in recognition for state leadership which he has maintained with the company for the past two years and for having written, paid for and delivered over one hundred thousand dollars worth of monthly income insurance during the month of June. In the hottest week of June he led the state with a production of over $70,000 of paid for, accepted and delivered business for the week and was requested by the insurance press to write an article on "How to Find Business in Hot Weather." He was one of the speakers at the insurance convention at Bridgeport on June 25 and is to address the Hartford convention Saturday, July 25, at which Vice-President Smith of the company is to be the guest of honor.

His many friends who are watching his work with interest will be glad to know that he is making his million dollar club quota each week and that he is still maintaining his weekly listing on the state honor roll, this being the 146th consecutive week that his name appears on the roll. His record is being watched with a great deal of interest by old policyholders, insurance friends and school friends as it is generally considered that his accomplishments in the insurance work are unusual in view of the fact that his time is largely taken up with his duties at the Norwich Commercial School and his teaching work at the Wheeler School in North Stonington.

Mr. Crandall has promised himself and the home office officials to be winner of the special silver medal offered this year for a half million dollar or more production and he seems very much pleased that he has made his medal quota each week thus far this year.

ELECT CHAS. I. SMITH BUILDING LOAN TREASURER

The vacancy in the office of treasurer of the Norwich Building & Loan association which was occasioned by the death last month of John E. Vaughn was filled at the monthly meeting of the association directors Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms when they elected Charles I. Smith treasurer. He has been assistant treasurer. J. Fred Fleming, who has been an auditor, was elected assistant treasurer, and James E. McComick was elected an auditor.

Prsident E. O. Rodier presided at both the shareholders' meeting and the directors' meeting and Secretary Henry D. Johnson kept the minutes.

Much gratification was expressed at the semi- annual report for the six months ending June 30, 1925, during which a dividend at the rate of 6 per cent. was voted. The following showing of assets and liabilities was made:

Assets: Mortgage loans $225,225, share loans $9,373, cash $1,804.35, petty cash $10, delinquent dues $1,742, total $235,214.35.

Liabilities: Liability install S. H. $162,327, liability S. P. S. H. $21,120 dividends install S. H., $22,234.58, dividends S. P. S. H. $2,670.41, notes payable $15,000, advanced dues $372, forfeited shares $659.77, reserve fund $350, surplus $3,480.59, total $235,214.35.

The evening's account showed the following income: Interest $6,309.45, profit on withdrawals $203.90, fines $70.28, it and loss $4.40, total $6,570.56.

The association now has 5,107 shares out in 20 series and is opening its 21st series which closes at the August meeting. The members are making every effort to bring into the 21st series as many shareholders or more than any other and feel that the successful record which the association has made commends its shares as a very favorable investment.

VISITING AT STORRS AND THE BEACHES

Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Fitts, formerly of Storrs, are spending some time at the beaches and at Storrs in a tour which they are making to Connecticut from Pennsylvania where Mr. Fitts is in charge of dairy extension at Penn state college. At Storrs they are the guests of Dean John Fitts of the mechanical engineering department, who is a brother of Mr. Fitts.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitts went from Storrs to Oregon and from there to Pennsylvania.

Courses on the organization and work of parent-teacher associations will be given in 46 colleges in 22 states during the summer of 1925. These include credit courses in Columbia, Georgia, and Pennsylvania universities.

Learn this Business of Happiness
Refined Profession, Good Salary
Steady Employment

All branches Beauty Culture taught by foremost experts—Day and evening classes; easy terms—phone Chelsea 0080. Call or write for particulars.
Marinello 72 Fifth Avenue, New York

Norwich Bulletin

VOL. LXVII—No. 175. POPULATION 2[illegible] NORWICH, CONN., THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1925. TWELVE PAGES—96 COLUMNS PRICE TWO CENTS

CLOUDBURST WITH TERRIFIC ELECTRICAL STORM IN STATE

At Waterbury Cloudburst Washed Out Streets Flooded Cellars and Hampered Electric Utilities—In Vicinity of Bristol Electrical Storms Put High Tension Wires Out of Commission—Streets in Wallingford Were Flooded—Three Tobacco Barns Were Blown Down Near North Hadfield, Mass.

WATERBURY, July 22.—(AP)—A cloudburst struck this city early this afternoon, resulting in washouts on several streets, hampering and damaging all electric utilities and flooding [illegible]. It is believed that the lightning struck the roof of the First Congregational church while at the home of Richard J. Burns, 24 Beecher avenue, a chimney was knocked down by lightning.

The storm broke in its greatest fury shortly after 2 o'clock. Previously there had been a morning of rain and [illegible] came the storm proper heralded by constant flashes of lightning and the explosive roll of thunder. Water rose to a depth of several feet in the streets, impeding traffic.

Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies reported considerable damage to their equipment and the Connecticut company announced that the water had disabled a number of circuits throughout the Naugatuck [illegible] valley particularly [illegible]. The Connecticut Light and Power company characterized the storm as one of the worst experienced, stopping units in several industrial plants damaged and the usual [illegible] of small damages.

The Connecticut company reported [illegible] hampered by the blowing out of fuses and disabling of cars together with the washing of sand over the tracks at certain places. Considerable work being conducted by the [illegible] the street car company on Meadow street, was delayed and equipment damaged.

CONCRETE WALL DESTROYED BY STORM IN HARTFORD

[illegible]ORD, July 22.—(A. P.)—[illegible] which accompanied the storm this afternoon, the heaviest that has caused the destruction of a reinforced concrete wall for the entire length, about 150 feet, [illegible] erected as part of the work for the new home office of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company on Myrtle street side [illegible].

[illegible] caused the falling of the wall [illegible] and cause the collapse of [illegible] about twenty feet high [illegible] been cut away to make [illegible] the building. The fallen wall [illegible] and two weeks' labor and [illegible] tons. The shock of the [illegible] caused its destruction about [illegible] felt all over the block. [illegible] storm spent its force in [illegible] period between 3 and [illegible] put out of commission 650 [illegible] in Hartford, and vicinity. [illegible] electric service in about [illegible] hours, and retarded the [illegible] in and around Hartford [illegible] different intervals during [illegible] but the climax came at [illegible] In the half hour which followed [illegible] of rain fell. In the technical language of the weather bureau it was excessive precipitation. According to the bureau, it was [illegible] were compared with a similar [illegible] on August 21, 1919, when [illegible] of rain fell.

[illegible] P. Peck, superintendent of [illegible] reported much flooding of [illegible] to the incapacity of the [illegible] to absorb the raging torrents of water. Between fifty and [illegible] cases were so effected. Mr. Peck [illegible] flooding of manholes put [illegible] pair cables in ducts of the Southern New England Telephone company [illegible] commission in the south and [illegible] parts of the city.

[illegible] fuses and transformers and [illegible] caused the interruption in [illegible] electric service, according to the Hartford Electric Light company.

Five Cows Killed Near Meriden.

MERIDEN, July 22.—(AP)—During [illegible] severe electrical storm [illegible] this afternoon, lightning killed [illegible] cows valued at $300 on the farm [illegible] Chauncey Sanford [illegible] Hanover. [illegible] and shrubbery were [illegible] [illegible] were [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WILLIMANTIC

The town of Windham's first open Ku Klux Klan meeting was held on Mullen's Hill in Windham Center Monday night, it became known Wednesday, when rumors spread that the automobiles of many Willimantic and Windham residents had been seen parked near the J. Francis Sherman property on the Hill, and that the occupants were attending a Klan meeting which was closed at eleven o'clock with the burning of a twelve foot fiery cross. Between three and four hundred people, many of whom were not members of the organization and attended in answer to invitations, gathered to hear addresses and witness the regular ceremonies which started at 7:30 o'clock. The owners of cars which were in the vicinity of the meeting place maintained that they were not present at the conclave when questioned; residents of Windham refused to make any statements, although some admitted having seen the cross burning on the knoll.

With eleven eviction writs buldging from their pockets, Deputy Sheriffs John H. Fitts of Hampton and Frank C. Tillinghast of Central Village supervised the removal of the furniture of a number of striking families from American Thread company tenements, Wednesday, in carrying out judgments ordered in summary process cases. Those whose names appeared on the present block of writs are: Stanley Labor 43 B Ives street; Joseph Sedesse, 25 A Carey Hill; Albert Hebert of B Carey Hill; Mike Sygar, 36 A Carey Hill; Szymond Starinezyk, 36 B Carey Hill; Stanley Frenzyol, 40 A Carey Hill; John Syzdek, 40 B Carey Hill; Joan Trascos, 47 Milk street; John Gorick, 47 Milk street; John Lach, 3 Jackson street and Charles Lucas, 7 Jackson street. Due to illness in the family of Stanley Frenzyol, execution of the order of dispossession was postponed one week.

It took Chris Sukow of East Hartford, a visitor at the Frank Givney cottage, at South Coventry Lake, to prove local disciples of Izaak Walton what real fishing was. Mr. Sukow secured the services of a young boy to troll the line while he rowed along and was successful, Tuesday evening, in returning to shore with two salmon trout one of which weighed seven and the other eight and one-half pounds, the largest records so far for Lake Wangum and. The fish were weighed on scales owned by Daniel McCarthy of this city. Within a short time impromptu parties were organized and they scoured the lake for several hours but without success. Mr. Sukow's catch could not be matched and when he was asked where he was fishing when he landed the trout he merely answered, "Up the line," giving the general impression that he had come toward a bend more and planned to come to contests for personal use. The record has been set at the lake for this season so held by Arthur F. Nichols, local fishing enthusiast.

Ralph Collins, who came here re-cently from Lowell, Mass., pleaded guilty to a charge of counterfeiting before the marks, when in police court Wednesday morning. He drew a fine of $25 and costs, amounting to $26.11, which he paid. Collins became intoxicated Monday from a local license and was caught when driving a wheel with cardboard markers. He had no registration nor driver's license when held up, but stated that at the time of the arrest he had applied for each and he produced them in court, causing Judge Hall to exercise a degree of leniency in imposing sentence.

Prosecuting Attorney Harry S. Gau-chat has handed out information as to what is legal and what is wrong, as regards operating motor vehicles on highways when the drivers license or registration numbers do not correspond as to state. A study of the law has disclosed that a driver equipped with a Connecticut operators license can operate in this state, an automobile properly equipped with a registration corresponding and state of the Union. This is real news to many persons who had been under the impression that the law required that the license and registration be of the same state. This phase of the law, however, does not in any way hinder the enforcement of the law that all persons of fifteen years of age or over must have an operator's license in order to operate a motor vehicle on the highways. In the latter respect the law applies to all citizens as are in actual operation. That means that a person from another state is allowed to operate in Connecticut indefinitely provided that he is not employed on highways.

Eighty-seven members of the Girl Scouts of St. Josephs parish and 2 leaders are spending a two weeks' outing at the Hopeville Farm Colony. Each week there are 40 and the camp is conducted by the Boy Scouts. The girls are in charge of Miss Geraldine Hughes, Girl Scout Lieutenant, assisted by Mrs. William A. Costello, Mrs. Thomas Crowley and Miss T. J. Cronin. The daily schedule is arranged so that every minute of work and play is accounted for. The girls are being taught how to swim, how to row, how to paddle a canoe, how to tie knots, how to cook, how to camp out, how to be Girl Scouts. Miss Bessie Sullivan, assistant to the director, is in charge of the camp. Miss Mary Sullivan is the cook. Miss Julia Sullivan is the nurse. Miss Mary Sullivan is the assistant cook. Miss Mary Sullivan is the assistant

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

The Service battery is at home again. Just before two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the motor convoy bearing the soldiers rolled into town. All were happy to be home. The men had been absent since early Wednesday morning, July 1. Not much time was wasted in storing the big motor trucks on their return to the armory and in dismissing the company. Many of the men were back in civies again, within a very short time after their arrival here.

No serious incident marred the trip from Danielson to Tobbyhanna, Pa., where the company performed its field service of the year, nor was there any serious untoward incident on the return trip. The men traveled over 600 miles through Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Not a man was sick nor were there any accidents in which they figured during their absence.

On the return trip the convoy left Tobbyhanna last Saturday afternoon. One of the big trucks "threw" a shoe near Stroudsburg, Pa., about 20 miles distant from Tobbyhanna, this incident necessitating an overnight stop, while another shoe was procured and pressed on the wheel. Sunday night the convoy made camp at Charlottesville, N. J., near the reservoir area of the city of Newark. During Monday the convoy proceeded into New York state, across Bear Mountain bridge and on into Connecticut, making Hartford for camp Tuesday night.

Wednesday's journey from Hartford to Danielson, a distance of about 50 miles, was a leisurely one.

Officers and men are bronzed and physically hardened by their experience. This year's overland journey was something as wfor them. It involved having a field kitchen, making and breaking camp and living generally as do troops in active service in moving from one station to another.

St. James' band will play a program of 14 numbers on Davis Park, Friday evening. This will be the first concert of the season, the first in several seasons in the park, in fact, and it is anticipated that hundreds will enjoy it. The band is playing without compensation, a fact that it is felt mention should be made of, in the interest of community spirit.

The program, to be played under the direction of A. Pellerin, follows:

March, Bay State Cadets (Sargent); Grand Medley, Superba, (Dalbey); Cornet —— Jennie Bolke (Bever); William La Forest and Joseph La Forest; Waltz, Auba Libra (Shaw); Bass solo, My Tuba Solo (Southwell), Philias Tetreault; Fox trot, End of The Road (Stanley) Overture, Symbol Of Honor (Skaggs); Waltz, Let Me Call You Sweetheart (Friedman); Overtude, Adelard-Heinis (Zimmerman); Fox trot, Katrina (Fall); Waltz, Silver Glade (Skaggs); Fox trot, Yearning, (Davis); March, Tremedose (Luse); Star Spangled Banner.

The funeral of Patrick Jones was held from the home of his son, Timothy Jones, on Mechanic street, Wednesday morning with funeral services at St. James' church at 10 o'clock. Rev. Joseph Deschaux, M. S., was celebrant of the high mass of requiem. The body was taken to Greeneville for burial in St. Joseph's cemetery. Relatives acted as bears. L. E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Of local interest is the fact that Attorney George B. Thayer, of Hartford, 78, has completed a pedestrian trip from Provincetown, Mass., to Sterling, Conn., to visit the old homestead of the family. He has been a guest at Pawtucket of James W. Shaw for a few days, making a break in his journey. Attorney Thayer is a well known author and writer. He has made four tours of the world and traversed the principal countries of Europe on foot. During the World War Attorney Thayer went overseas as a Y. M. C. A. secretary. Charles T. Thayer of Putnam, formerly of Danielson, is Attorney Thayer's son.

Of interest to many here is the fact that Rev. John P. Cotter, M. S., a noted member of the Missionary Order of LaSallette, is conducting a novena at the shrine church of Ste. Anne in East 128th street, New York, this week. This year's renewal of the nine days' series of prayer began last Friday and will culminate with a solemn mass next Sunday. There are four daily novena masses, a service at noon and another in the evening. The relic of Ste. Anne is exposed for veneration all day and applied to supplicants for cures, from various afflictions. Worshippers crowd the church at every service and among them are people from all walks of life, from those of abundant wealth to the painfully poor. Father Cotter preaches occasionally at St. James' church in Danielson, which is under the administration of the Order of LaSallette, also has been heard at various other eastern Connecticut churches. The novena he is conducting is attracting pilgrims from all over the country.

Joseph Alylard, father of Mrs. Clara Nadeau, of School street, died about four o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Day Kimball hospital, Putnam, where he had been a patient for some time. Mr. Allard was a master barber and for years conducted shops in Danielson, Putnam and Pomfret. He leaves his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Nadeau, Danielson, Mrs. Laurette Melbert, Pomfret, and a son, Leon, of Fall River.

In Danielson August 12 a United States civil service examination, open to men and women, will be held to fill positions of clerk and city carrier in Danielson. Aspirants for appointment must be citizens of the United States. Full details relative to the examinations are available at the Danielson postoffice. Clerks and carirers in a second class office, like Danielson, receive salaries ranging from $1,700 to $2,100 a year. There are five grades of clerks and the salaries vary accordingly. Applicants entitled to preference by reason of military or naval service should attach their original discharge from the service or a photographic copy thereof.

Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Grover, 64 Reynolds street, their daughter, Marion Elsie, was united in marriage with Nathan W. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Cook, of Ballouville, Conn. Rev. Roger C. Stimson, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church performed the ceremony which was attended by about 75 relatives and friends.

The double ring service was used. The home was very attractively decorated. One end of the living room was banked with ferns, intermingled with pink roses, where the bride and groom stood under a large white wedding bell.

At the foot of the stairs was an arch decorated with apricot roses, under which the bridal procession passed on the way to the living room to the music of the Bridal Chorus from the Lohengrin, rendered by Miss Arline H. Cook, of Meriden, Conn., cousin of the groom. The four ribbon girls were Evelyn Blanchard, of Northbridge, Mass.; Eileen Nichols, of Jewett City; Charlotte Spaulding, of Moosup, and Ruth King, of Danielson. They formed an aisle through which the bride passed. Her father gave her in marriage, and she was attended by Miss Marvina R. Bonham, of Hartford, as bridesmaid. Little Alta King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David King, as flower girl, scattered rose petals before the bride as she entered the room.

The groom was attended by John A. Chadwick, of East Greenwich, R. I. Francis A. Grover and Kenneth C. Warren, brother and cousin of the bride respectively, were the ushers.

The bride wore white satin with shadow lace tunic and trimming of white fair. Her veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaid wore poudre blue georgette and carried a bouquet of pink sweetpeas. The flower girl was all in white, and the ribbon girls were dressed in maize, nile, pink and orchid colored organdy.

Following the ceremony a reception was held and refreshments were served. The bride received many handsome gifts including a chest of silver, cut glass, a substantial sum of money in gold, linen, pictures, china, and furniture.

The groom's gift to the bride was a green gold lavaliere with diamond setting. To his best man, he gave green gold suitlinks. The bride gave her bridesmaid a string of pearls, and to the ribbon girls and flower girl, she gave sterling silver neck chains with pendants. After a short wedding trip to New York state, Mr. and Mrs. Cook will reside in Attawaugan, where Mr. Cook is electrical engineer for the Attawaugan Mills.

Moses H. Berthiaume, Jr., has been in Boston attending a convention of retail druggists.

Remember the 20 per cent., discount sale at the Alice-Eleanor shop ends Saturday evening. Remarkable values are being offered in this sale.—adv.

Miss Evelyn Jette, daughter of Joseph Z. Jette, of Maple street, was reported Wednesday, as critically ill at the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, in Boston.

West Virginia, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinios and Massachusetts were represented in one string of cars passing through Danielson's business center Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bill and their children, of Burlington, Vt., are guests of Attorney and Mrs. A. G. Bill, of Maple street.

Miss Mary Daugherty is very ill at the home of her brother, Alexander Daugherty, in Plainfield.

Danielson friends were at Wauregan Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral of Mrs. John Westcott, who died Monday at the Day Kimball hospital in Putnam.

The new storage and distributing station of the Eastern Dairies, Inc., at the head of Reynolds street, will be ready for occupancy the first of the coming week.

Today (Thursday) brings the third half-holiday of the season for the store forces of Danielson. Stores will close at noon for the day, excepting stores that are regularly open Thursday afternoons.

Jerome Keech and Edward Brown go riding together occasionally these days. There is nothing so unusual about that, but there is in the fact that between the two they have three broken arms, the result of recent injuries. With his one good arm Mr. Keech is able to operate an automobile and that makes it possible for both the young men to have a ride, now and then.

PUTNAM

The following letters have been received from members of Headquarters Co., 43rd Division, National Guard, now in camp at Niantic:

A contest is raging to decide which is the best squad in the company and the time has now come to eliminate all doubt on this issue. A representative of the Sixth squad states the case for his fellows as follows:

The squad with the best record is the Sixth. What makes it the best? It is the men that are in it. They get up in the morning singing and they go to bed the same way. The Sixth has the best daily tent inspection. Sergeant Shirreffs will vouch for this. This squad does not care what names it is called as long as it is not called late for meals. They are in fact the happy squad of the company. The picture of this squad will be on exhibition in some store window in Putnam this week. The members of it and their degrees are as follows:

Labeau, B. S. C, C.; Thibeault, B. M. T.; Brooks, H. W. M.; Dumas, J. J. M. B.; Dupre, R. C. S.; Boulay, C. O. R.; U. Valade, B. S. B.; Twin Labeau, S. T. B.

The Second squad put forth the following claim: The Second will allow that the Sixth is good; they know and admit it themselves. Their leader has written a very fine article about them and their troubles. The Second will not bother their friends in Putnam in this way. They need no write-ups, but when you see a well-groomed and clean-shaven soldier walking down Headquarters street you can make up your mind that he is a member of the Second. When Gen. Payne inquires Who is that fine looking soldier, or who is giving the saxaphone concert you may be sure that he will be told that it is a member of the Second. To make a long story short, watch the Second when it returns to Putnam. Then the boys in the Sixth will take some other ribbon than the one with a blue tinge.

Now that the Sixth and Second have expressed themselves, what about the occupants of the last tent in officers' row? Let's ask a few questions and the answer will occur naturally, the Orderly Tent. Where is the payroll that produces our hardtack made out, where do you go for pencils, paper, postage stamps, call-downs, bad advice, etc.? In front of which tent do you stand when you have pictures taken? Where is the best place to split a quart of "ginger ale"? Where do you go to get your mail from home? Where can you get a nice set of brass buttons? Where can you find an argument? Nuff said; the Orderly Room wins by a knock-out.

It was noticed that Lieut. Beausoliel and Sergt. Leclair had to take turns in entertaining their friends in the guard house.

One of the boys in the Sixth is now doing a stretch of K. P. for preferring to entertain his friends to doing his "stuff" on post.

Those in the sergeant's tent need no alarm clock in the morning. Sergt. Lamondy usually reaches the highest pitch in his "concert" about 4 a. m.

Captain McGarry is certainly enjowing himself and can now truthfully boast of the original "school girl complexion."

"Cue Ball" Phaneuf has annexed a beautiful "shiner" for picking on some one smaller than himself.

Sergt. Davison has found his buried treasure after a stormy evening and reports it well seasoned.

Most of the boys will return with various forms of awnings under their noses.

Some of our "Mamma's Boys" turned out to be "Papa's Scamps" when the boxing gloves had been fastened on their wrists.

Our officer and sergeant of the guard found that boys in the 169th kept their bayonets well sharpened.

In spite of the fact that the men do considerable work during the day, it appears that nearly all have gained in weight. The pallor that was on their faces when they came to camp has entirely disappeared. All are taking advantage of their opportunity, they are usually found at Pine Grove in the evening.

We expect to return by truck and some of the boys are looking for a reception with a brass band to meet them.

The attraction on the North Grosvenordale grounds Sunday is to be the Assawaga Company's fast team. Manager Nicholson will have the following line-up: O'Neil rf, Bibeault ss, R. Foster, 3b, Rivers 2b, Mathew 1b, Gregoire cf, Baker lf, Frappier c, Lavallay p, J. Foster p, and H. Weaver, Russell and D. Weaver as utility. For the "Over the Top" bakers the regular line-up will be used, with A. Blanchette and Coderre slated to do the battery work.

With the schedule of games nearly complete the "Over the Top" baseball team will be opposed as follows: Sunday, July 26, Assawa Mill team; August 2, Southbridge A. O. H.; Aug. 9, Baltic A. A., of Baltic; Aug. 16, Kupper Mfg. Co., of Northbridge, Mass.; Aug. 23, Checker Taxicab Co., of Providence, R. I. on the following Saturday, August 29, the Over the Top will play in Providence against the Taxi Co.'s team. A series with Mechanicsville A. A., will follow these dates.

At a recent meeting of Oscar F. Smanson post, No. 67, American Legion, at North Grosvenordale, delegates were named for the convention of the Legion to be held at New London next month. The delegates are Adjutant John F. Reardon, Jr., and Edward McKeon. The alternates are Frank L. Pelletier and N. Verne Rawson.

A blue hubbard squash, raised by J. H. Geeson is on exhibition in the Gilman window. It is a very unusual thing to see a squash in perfect condition at this time of the year.

Miss Doris E. Pepin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pepin of Providence street, was given a surprise party at the home of her aunt, Miss Blanche LaGrandeur in honor of her seventh birthday. Games were played after which ice cream, soda and candy were served by the hostess. Miss Pepin received many pretty gifts from her playmates as well as a twenty-five dollar gold piece from her father. Among those present were Misses Theresa and Rita Rivers, Bernice Bousquet, Anita and Prosper LaGrandeur and Estelle Pepin.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bugbee, formerly of East Woodstock who have been living in Brooklyn, N. Y., are spending the summer at Alton Bay, N. H.

Frank Gagne of the Bigelow, Kennard Company, jewelers of Boston, and Louis Gagne, superintendent of the Independent Silk Mills, Limited, of Montreal, Canada, have returned to their respective homes, after spending a week with relatives in this city.

At the funeral services of State's Attorney Charles E. Searls, held Friday, at his home in Thompson, a poem by Joaquin Miller, "A Song For Peace," was read by Rev. Mr. Livingston. It was a great favorite of Mr. Searls' and a week before he died, sitting in a chair he called Mrs. Searls and read the poem to her.

James Ryan of Railroad street parked his car on Pomfret street hill Wednesday afternoon. The car started down, gained speed from the grade and brought up against the car owned by E. B. Kent which was standing in front of the Kent Woodworking factory. Both cars were damaged.

Howard C. Bradford is acting state's attorney for Windham county until fall. During the illness of C. E. Searls Mr. Bradford was sworn in as his assistant. The selection of a state's attorney is made by the supreme court judges of the state.

While assisting a veterinary surgeon, who was treating a horse for colic, Wilfred Dumas of Church street was kicked by the horse. Dr. E. F. Perry, after an examination, sent Mr. Dumas to the Day Kimball hospital to be X-rayed and the examination of the pictures showed that he had a commuted fracture of the lower bone of the leg. The fracture was reduced and Mr. Dumas was removed to his home.

Miss Dorothy Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Mansfield, is spending two weeks with Pauline Rawley, at Pleasant View. Miss Doris Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnson is at the same beach the guest of Doris Dean for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster Perkins and family of Pomfret, also Mona Converse of Southbridge, Mass., have returned from a trip to Millen Lake, New Hampshire.

Stanley Dominac of Phoenixville has joined the Christy Bros. circus which was in Putnam last week.

The family of Addison Tourtelotte of Chapman street are at their country home in East Thompson for the summer.

Friends and relatives of Miss Flora Seekins, formerly of Putnam, are glad to know that she has just been graduated from the Concord, Mass., High school at the head fo her class, receiving a commercial diploma, also three medals and an efficiency certificate in typewriting on four different machines. Her early training was in Putnam schools.

Miss Teresa Bayer, whose home was in Thompson is again at the Day Kimball hospital, as head nurse in the operating room.

Charles B. Montgomery of Oneco has been requested to help locate Charles Storrs Johnson, formerly of Brooklyn, who has fallen heir to a considerable sum of money. No one around here has kept in touch with him since he left Brooklyn, twenty years ago.

Herbert Merrill of New York city is at his home in Ashford for his vacation and is calling on frineds in this vicinity.

FATHER OF SIX, GIRL OF 17, SOUGHT BY LATTER'S PARENTS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, July 22—The police of towns in Connecticut and Massachusetts are searching for Laura Choinere, 17, of North Grosvenordale, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Choinere, who disappeared from her home Monday, July 6, at the same time that Octavius Mirandette, father of six children, is reported to have left the same town.

Police are trying to connect the disappearance of the young girl with that of Mirandette as they were exceptionally intimate friends.

Thre eweeks ago, the investigators report, Mirandette drove to Burlington, Vermont with his wife and six children. Mrs. Mirandette was to stay with her children at the home of her parents and the husband would return for them.

Monday night, July 6, neighbors saw the automobile of Mirandette parked along the street and saw a girl get into the car. That is the last anyone has seen of Mirandette and Laura Choinere. The car which Mirandette owned was found last week about three miles from North Grosvernordale in the vicinity of Fabyan, by the police. The car was abandoned with two flat tires.

It is also reported by the police that a sum of money, about $300, is missing from the treasury of Club Garde Martial of which Mirandette was in charge.

Both Mirandette and the girl were employed in the spinning room of the Grosvernordale Mills and employes report that on several occasions they sa wthe couple together. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Choinere, parents fo the missing daughter, cannot account for her sudden disappearance and were the first to notify the police of her absence from home.

The state police of Danielson are working to discover whether Mirandette left with the Choinere girl are searching for some clue as to his whereabouts.

SPECIAL FIRE POLICE WANTED BY CHIEF WOODWARD

(Special to the Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, July 22—Chief A. P. Woodward of the fire department has recommended to borough officials the appointment of Frederick Shippee Sidney P. Marland, Gerald Boulaine and Sidney Perry as fire police. Appointment of such police was authorized at a recent meeting of the warden and court of burgesses. The fire police will do duty at fires, seeing that traffic does not hinder the passage of fire apparatus and that cars or other vehicles do not park near hydrants. The fire police also will have authority to keep spectators at fires out of the zone of operations.

FIRST HOLIDAY IN 7 YEARS FOR CHIEF OF POLICE

(Special to the Bulletin.)

Chief John McFarland is having his first holiday in seven years Thursday and will devote it to visiting with his daughter in Mystic. There is no parallel record of continuous service in the borough's police department to that of Chief McFarland. Until last week's action by the warden and court of burgesses allowing a fortnightly holiday with pay to day and night officers there was no provision for such off time. Chief McFarland has stuck to the job for seven years, week days and Sundays, year in and year out. He rates as an officer of exceptional efficiency and devotion to duty, a fact that the borough thoroughly appreciates. The borough wishes him a happy holiday today and much relaxation and comfort on his holidays that are to follow.

JEWETT CITY

Vital statistics for June show 6 births: Grace Elizabeth to Samuel and Mary Hewton Cathcart, Ernest Hormidas to Hormidas and Marie Fontaine Lamothe, Marie Therese Obeline to Edward and Eva Laliberte Richard, Hugh to Hugh and Theresa Girbitz Marsh, Joseph Rolphis Richard to Hormidas and Dolores Richard Gaudreau, Rita Claire to Joseph Peter and Doris Pariseau Kubia.

There were seven marriages, Walter A. Hyde and Esther C. Frink, Daniel T. Donohue and Irene W. Roberts, Oscar J. Lefevre and Leoza Cyr, Frank H. Wilcox and Bertha I. Montgomery, Verne C. Thornton and Olive A. Stafford, Ovila Belisle and Bernice Dobolek, William J. Dwyer and Mary J. Driscoll.

Three deaths are recorded: Albert Pajak, primary cause, labor pneumonia with edema of lung, secondary or contributary cause, rupture gall bladder, fractured rib wounding lung, probably wounded; Alphonse Derrisha arterio sclerosis; Lydia Madison, chronic nephritis.

Alfred Gravelin a World War veteran of Voluntown, although not a member of Orville LaFlamme American Legion Post, was given a military burial by members of that post Monday afternoon. The colors were carried by Gilbert Miner, Jr. The guards were Albert Dupont and Moses Tatro. The firing squad were Hazard Aramoney, Victor St. John, Philamene Guillotte, Etphage Jarvis, Ulysses Guillett, Napoleon and George Cyr, and Irving Thornton. William Maynard was buglar. The bearers were Harvey, Adrian and William Maynard, Joseph Sadowski, Alfred Dupont and Charles Miller. Commander F. W. Chase was in charge of the firing squad. Rev. J. W. Payne conducted the service, during which Mrs. John Murphy sang.

Rev. J. W. Carter is spending his vacation in New York.

With the first half put away on ice, the Fort Worth Cats appear to have excellent prospects of adding another to their long list of Texas League championships.

Kills Catarrh Germ In Three Minutes

Chronic catarrh, no matter how bad, and cases of bronchial asthma now yield instantly to the amazing discovery of a French scientist. This drugless method called Lavex kills the germ in three minutes, yet it is positively harmless to the most delicate tissues. Your head and lungs are cleared like magic. Sufferers are relieved in a single night.

To prove it and to introduce Lavex to a million sufferers in one month, I offer to send a treatment free and postpaid, to any one who will write for it. No obligation. No cost. If it cures you, you can repay the favor by telling your friends—if not, the loss is mine. No matter what you have tried, just send me your name and address for this generous free treatment and prove that you can be rid of catarrh.

W. R. SMITH, 4096 Lavex Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.

Bulletin's Pattern Service

A PRETTY SUMMER FROCK

5164. Yoke and Flounce effects are among the newest fashion features. The model here portrayed will develop well in printed crepe, combined with plain crepe. It is also attractive in figured silk and crepe de chine.

The Pattern is cut in 5 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size if made as illustrated, will require 2 1-8 yards of figured material and 2 1-8 yards of plain material 32 inches wide. The width of the dress at the foot is 2 1-4 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipts of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A PRACTICAL GROUP OF GARMENTS FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

5172. This makes a splendid set of "first short clothes" comprising three desirable garments. Dress, Petticoat, and Combination—Waist and Bloomers.

The Pattern is cut in 5 Sizes: 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 years. A 2 year size requires 1 1-2 yard of 36 inch material for the Dress, 1 1-8 yard for the Petticoat, and 1 1-4 yard for the Combination.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipts of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A DAINTY FROCK FOR MOTHER'S GIRL

5176. Dimity, dotted Swiss, crepe and crepe de chine are materials attractive for this style. The yoke may be of embroidery or lace.

This Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. A 10 year size requires 1 7-8 yards of 40 inch material with 3-8 yard of contrasting material for the yoke.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipts of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A SIMPLE ATTRACTIVE MORNING OR HOUSE DRESS FOR STOUT FIGURES WITH SLENDER HIPS

5155. Dotted percale, printed crepe or voile, as well as gingham or linen may be used for this design. The panel may be of contrasting material, or the entire dress may be developed in one material.

This Pattern is cut in 9 Sizes: 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52 and 54 inches bust measure. A 42 inch size requires 4 5-8 yards of 36 inch material. For the panel of contrasting material 1-2 yard width cut crosswise is required. The width of the skirt with plaits extended is 2 1-8 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

OPTIMISTIC REVIEW OF THE AGRICULTURAL SITUATION

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(AP)—Agriculture is "safely convalescent" Secretary Jardine declared today in a review of the situation as seen from his eight weeks western tour.

Farmers are getting out of the shadow of bankruptcy," he asserted, and there is a return of confidence. In short, he added, agriculture appears to be "gradually getting its house in order again" after the post-war disruption.

Declaring the farmers themselves were competent to work out their own problems, he said that if he got the right impression there will not be any great demand for farm legislation.

"Cattle and hog men are better off than they have been since 1920 and I didn't see any sheep man down at the mouth," he declared. 'If the wheat men are careful in marketing their crops they will get good prices and they are learning not to flood the markets.

"Conditions in the corn belt are reversed from what they were a year ago when hogs were still cheap and corn a poor and expensive crop. Indications are for a large cotton crop and a favorable income in the belt as a whole.

"There are certain dark spots, however, in the general agriculture picture, it is true. The Southwest is struggling under prolonged and serious drought. The East does not show marked improvement. This region was hit last year by low prices for potatoes, hay and other important crops and the dairy industry has had economic difficulties."

PLATOON SCHOOLS OFFER "SUPER OPPORTUNITIES"

About half of Pittsburgh's elementary school children are enrolled in platoon schools. Introduced nine and a half years ago as an experiment with 1,200 children, about 36,000 are now instructed under the "work-study-play plan," each subject taught by a special teacher in a room specially equipped for the purpose. In a recent pamphlet, "Superopportunities of the Pittsburgh Platoon Schools," the superintendent principals, and teachers describe the enrichment of education opportunities that have come to the pupils with the adoption of this plan.

It's twice as easy to deceive one's mother as it is to deceive any other woman.

THE BOSTON STORE
THE REID & HUGHES COMPANY
NORWICH CONNECTICUT

Specials Values for Thursday Morning and All Day Friday

We Close Thursday Noon, 12 o'Clock During July and August. We have arranged for the most telling reductions on Merchandise of the most staple character. This is the best opportunity of the season to economize on all kinds of seasonable Merchandise.

Costume Slips
Fine Batiste Slips, hip hem, with dainty finish Pecot or Val laces, regular value $1.59, sizes 36 to 44—Special $1.19
No Exchanges, Credits or Refunds.

Men's Union Suits
"Men's Rockingchair Union Suits, the famous athletic union suit with the trouser seat which makes it so comfortable—material fine light weight Madras, regular $1.50—Special.. $1.19

Rack of Dresses, $3.85
Women's Frocks, smart styles for summer time wear, Striped Broadcloths, Voiles and Printed Crepes selected from our regular stock.

Knickers, $2.95
Pure White and Oyster White Linen, also all Wool Tweeds, fine assortment for camp and beach wear, nearly all sizes up to 40-inch band.

Children's Dresses, $1.69
Smart Dresses of Voile and Gingham, sizes 7 to 14, new models, cool looking but dressy; fine assortment of colors.

Men's Golf Hose
Men's English Wool Golf Hose, pure wool and light in weight for summer, $2.00 value— Extra Special, Pair 98c

Boys' Blouses
Boys' Sport Blouses of fine qualities "Kayne" and "Model" makes Mercerized Pongees. Colors tan and white, regular $1.25 and $1.50— Special, Each 98c

Boys' Ties
Boys' Beautiful Cut Silk Ties, regimental stripes and plaids, regular 50c— Special 39c

Collar and Cuff Sets
Women's Collar and Cuff Sets, Jabot collars and panel collars in net with lace trimmings and also organdie and linens, regular $1.25 values— Special, Each 84c

Handkerchiefs
Women's White All Linen Handkerchiefs, 1-16 hem, regular 25c values— 6 for 95c

Silk Hosiery
Women's Silk Hose and Socks, Chiffon and medium weight, $1.00 quality— Special, Pair 87c
Children's Silk Socks, asssorted colors, value 50c—Special, Pair 39c
Children's 75c Silk Socks— Special, Pair 67c
Children's 85c 7-8 Socks— Special, Pair 69c
Children's Cotton Socks 39c and 50c values—Special 3 for $1.00

Notions
Unity Safety Pins, assorted sizes on card— Special, 3 Cards 5c
Sanitary Belts—Regular 39c quality— Special 19c
Hall's 200-yard Machine Thread— Special, 6 Spools 20c
Sanitary Aprons—In white and flesh, 39c to 50c value—Special 25c

Chopmist Hill Inn
(Open All Year)
NORTH SCITUATE, R. I.
12 Miles East of Danielson, Providence Pike.
Chicken, Steak and Lobster Dinners.
Accommodations for Clubs, Lodges, Associations.
Private Dining Rooms on Application.
LARGE DINING HALL
Seating Capacity 400.
The Largest Sport Field in Rhode Island.

REALIZE YOUR AUTO RESPONSIBILITY

You damage the other fellow's car—you'll pay. Damage your own, it'll cost you money. Lose through fire or theft and you'll wish you had auto insurance—NOW.

Reeves' Insurance Agency
Insurance in Any Form.
Exchange Block — Room 1.
DANIELSON, CONN.

EAT A DRINK ON A STICK!
LOL-E-ICE
A FROZEN DELIGHT
5c
Sold At All Dolbey Dealers.

Piles Go Quick
Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent. and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Lee & Osgood today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.

Furniture for the OFFICE
AT UNHEARD OF PRICES.

Have bought the complete and modern equipment of a firm who have moved their offices to New York, and offer, at Cash Prices, this equipment. A Few of the bargains:

MODERN FIREPROOF RECORD SAFES, STEEL FILE CABINETS, DESKS, CHAIRS, TABLES, TYPEWRITERS, CHECK PROTECTORS, ADDING MACHINES, WASTE BASKETS, STOOLS AND STANDS.

W. N. BLOCK
Rose Place. Phone 2081.

1760 1925

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

129 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday.

Subscription price 12c a week; 50c a month; $6.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls:
Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-3.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-2.
Willimantic Office, Main St., Telephone 1131.

Norwich Thursday, July 23, 1925

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

Daily Average Circulation
WEEK ENDING JULY 18, 1925:

12,829

THE NAVY IN THE PACIFIC

When Senator Hale visited the president and told of what he had found relative to the naval situation on the Pacific coast he may not have disclosed anything that had not been known before, but he directed attention to some things which he believes deserve attention.

With the maintenance of the fleet in the Pacific it is to be expected that there will be facilities there to take care care of its requirements. This country isn't anticipating any war or any trouble, but for the same reason that we have a navy, and because there is a naval agreement, it is part of our protection that we should see that the means for efficient operation should be provided.

Senator Hale directs attention to the importance of dredging Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands so that ships of the fleet can enter it as a haven, while he [illegible] the development of the Army in that area for a navy yard. This would not mean the closing of the Mare Island yard but it would greatly curb the activities of the latter.

No doubt there are plenty of [illegible] the Navy Department that [illegible] the expenditure of the money [illegible] Maine [illegible] put in [illegible] and it [illegible] a very [illegible] and always make it [illegible] to [illegible] such a program. As for the use of facilities at Pearl Harbor, a survey of the situation seems to make it clear.

There are, to be sure, [illegible] a lot of needless [illegible] with any [illegible] the government and yet who will say such provision is needless in connection with our defense, the navy [illegible] for our fleet on the Pacific coast [illegible] maintenance [illegible]

Because Senator Hale has pointed out the need of [illegible] does not mean that congress will [illegible] to bring them about. It is a question which must [illegible] and [illegible] ment of [illegible] that will reflect credit upon the country.

TOWN FORESTS

Efforts in behalf of reforestation are not allowed to stop. It would be a [illegible] to the [illegible] time had arrived when [illegible] ent that the [illegible] was [illegible] in mind. [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] Legislature [illegible] Americ[illegible] over the [illegible] of the [illegible] forest, a project to be started and maintained by town and he gives his endorsement to the ideas advanced by Henry A. Reynolds in his book on Town Forests, dealing with that of timber, and commercial [illegible] how to envision and maintain them.

In the town forest it is urged that [illegible] gained from it can in time be used for the alleviation of taxation [illegible] entering into a discussion of town possibilities, with the uncertainties [illegible] often accompany municipal operations, there seems to be good reason for the belief that the [illegible] handled town forest could be made to serve as an ultimate object lesson to all those and others who are getting little or no return from [illegible] land.

The property holder may insist upon being convinced before he launches out into the outlay necessary to turn his waste land into a tract of woodland. There are those who want to see the possibilities actually demonstrated and to be told that certain ones have made good money from just such an undertaking.

Such a visible object lesson would appear to exist in the successfully maintained town forest. Whether it helped to reduce taxation it would stand as an object of discussion and create the impression that if it were possible for the town to accomplish such a thing private capital might well be similarly employed. Demonstration plots have done much in this direction for the farmers and it is quite as certain that the town forests are bound to start thought along such lines. From the stimulation of such ideas much may be expected. The town forests undoubtedly have many possibilities.

OCEAN GRAVEYARDS

Many are the perils of those who follow the sea for a living. When it isn't a storm or the fog, it may be the submerged iceberg or the hidden reef, and when these are encountered in connection with a storm the results are invariably serious.

This is accentuated by the piling up of two ships on Sable Island, off the coast of Nova Scotia, which has claimed bars that are as bothersome and have probably collected as great a toll as have those of Cape Cod. In the past few days the record stands two to one for Sable Island.

Treacherous as the situation is known to be, and in spite of the efforts to establish protection for the mariners, there are ships which seem to be attracted to such shoals as if by a magnet, and when they strike and continue to be driven onto the sand there is very little that can be done for them until the storm abates.

Sable Island is the graveyard for many ships and, unfortunate is captain of a ship who gets within the clutches of its shallow waters, while too frequently it results in the entrapping of vessels which go to the aid of those in distress, as the tests instances shows. With this island stretching out under water about as far again as it does above water it is one of the localities which has long since demonstrated the wisdom of giving it a wide berth. Its dangers are as well known as those of Cape Cod and yet there are those who for one reason or another persist in navigating their ships in such manner or under such conditions as to tempt fate.

It is not improbable that in the guiding of vessels there are those who are not so different from the reckless driver of an automobile, though when it comes to storms and fogs it can be readily appreciated that the responsibility of the man at the wheel of a ship is great and he is forced to deal with conditions where the skillful are caught through wrong calculations.

THE POSTAL RATES

The congressional committee which is making a study of the postal rate changes which were put ito effect by the last congress are of course seeking information. They are bound to get all kinds of it at the hearings which are being held. They are not only finding out how the rates are working but they are being told how the rates ought to be changed. Some of the advice will probably be accepted and followed, some may be partially acted upon while there will be that that will go into the discard.

From such figures as have been put before it the committee is learning that the rates are not getting the results that were expected. Just because they have been boosted has apparently caused those who have been freely using the mails to decide that they can get along without some of the service. Doubling the picture postcard rate hasn't produced double the receipts from that source. Rather has it experienced a reaction which indicates an abandonment of such cards, and it is apparent that those, outside of publishers, who send papers through the mail couldn't have received more effective discouragement than by the rates established.

It was maintained at the time the new rates were being established that they were the result of hasty consideration and were unjust. There was an effort to have such a move delayed that there might be adequate study given to the matter. It was ineffective and yet it is now being demonstrated that those who predicted the results are not so far out of the way. The new rates call for a revision also and they have been in force but a short time. The experience with the new rates proves again the old saying that you can drive a horse to water but you can't make him drink.

DISTRIBUTING HIS FORTUNE

Joseph I. Schepp, a short time ago, distributed a fund of $2,500,000, the income to be used in aiding deserving boys. He has also distributed millions for other worthy purposes, and now at the age of 93 he finds that he still has some money left and he is anxious to know how he can dispose of it in such a way as to do the most good. He believes inasmuch as he has made his money from the public, the public has a right to have its say.

It can be appreciated that all Mr. Schepp meant to do was to ask for suggestions and he was bound to receive them in great numbers. In his plan for public philanthropy he anticipated this for he declares that he doesn't want to hear from those with axes to grind or those connected with established institutions. His purpose is apparently to learn if possible of some new way of aiding the public.

Like those who have suddenly become rich it can be imagined that he will be overwhelmed with petitions by the thousand and one different projects, that he will get responses from those with axes to grind and those who will be urging support for various institutions. Few will lose such an opportunity to get in their appeal whether it does any good or not.

Mr. Schepp is of course the final judge. He may or may not get a suggestion that will impress him, and it may become necessary to devise a method of his own but it is to be feared that this man who has amassed millions purposes to turn them to the welfare of humanity and as is well understood there is plenty of opportunities in any direction in which he may turn. Likewise he is desirous of seeing such work started during his lifetime.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Boosting the price of rubber may in the long run have the effect of increasing the production.

The reckless driver either tries to get away or to blame the effects of his driving on the other fellow.

With congressional committees getting busy it is remembered that congress is only about four months away.

The man on the corner says: Has the talk about a new reservoir caused the weatherman to recognize the shortage in rainfall this year?

With 20,000 tourists visiting Yellowstone park during the last half of June it is evident that some people still believe in seeing America first.

Those who figure the miners' demands could be met by a reduction in freight rates don't seem to think the consumer should get the benefit of any such reduction.

When there is nothing else to do there are those who seem to consider it necessary to "discover" some possible change in the cabinet and put it forth as if about ready to take place.

Perhaps the governor of Pennsylvania will advocate increasing the state tax on anthracite so as to satisfy the miners' demands. Of course the consumer would have to pay.

Go into the country in most any direction and it will be surprising if one or more camps for boys or girls is not found. The attractions of this part of the state are many and are apparently getting to be appreciated.

PERMANENT LESSON

They had been married only a few months when Angus got the surprise of his life. He brought home unannounced to dinner his roommate at college, who had dropped in that day to see him as he was passing through Chicago on his way west. Angus unlocked his own front door with a flourish of pride and ushered Chet in grandly. He really was terribly pleased at this chance to show Chet what a pretty home and marvelous wife he had.

"Ooohoo, Marge!" he called, tramping down the tiny hall kitchenward. Still that silence. Vaguely worried, Angus dashed the door open and discovered Marjorie poised against the enamel sink a picture of despair, biting her lip.

"Angus White!" she whispered fiercely, "Have you got company in there? And never warned me? I've got just an awful dinner because I was out all day—and there's no dessert! I thought we'd get a couple of sundaes when we went to the movies—oh, why didn't you telephone?"

"Gosh," the new husband had gasped, bewildered. "Oh, we can fix up something. There's canned stuff!"

Marjorie tragically waved one hand at the open shelves of the kitchen cabinet. "Peas, tuna fish, pimentos and peanut butter! And even the bread is the last of the loaf. I'd sort of let the supply shelf run down this month!"

It was a subdued husband who went back to his guest.

"Marge will be in in just a second," he said with great carelessness. He hoped it would not take too long for her to powder over the teardrops.

For no reason at all there flashed into his mental turmoil the scene of many years ago when he had been home from boys' school for the holidays and tore in one noon after skating with fifteen boys trailing him. "Oh, mother!" he had called. "Company for lunch! Sall right, isn't it?" And his mother's face when she hastened downstairs and saw the mob! The faint consternation had been at once obliterated by an utterly helpless laugh and she had kept on laughing to herself as though there was a joke somewhere. Telling them to put in table leaves and get out the dishes she had fled to the kitchen and presently there was food borne in by the badly rattled little maid. How they had fallen on those mounds of hot baking powder biscuit, cups of cocoa, jam and cookies! And scalloped salmon!

It was a nervous, uncomfortable evening and he knew Chet had noticed that something was wrong. While they ate the dry bread and the inadequate stew and plain lettuce, Angus' mind kept working. He knew there were eggs left in the icebox. They had had dandy tuna salad somewhere a while ago, and she could have put the remains of the stew into a baking dish and swirled bjscuit dough over the top and had a kind of meat pie—they had done that at home once on a like occasion. If his mother had been there—Angus caught himself sharply in time.

Angus never again brought anyone home unless he phoned and had permission. Secretly he felt injured. Once when he had tried to argue it Marjorie had told him coldly that he need not think a home was a hotel. He could see how culinary emergencies upset her and how nervous it made her.

So when Chet or any of the boys or relatives came to town he took them to a hotel or his one club to dinner and telephoned that he would not be home to dine, Marjorie always whispered over the phone that she should miss him, but he knew that she was vastly relieved.

Sometimes when he could reach her early enough she would come downtown and dine with them and his friends always admired her prettiness and her chic dressing and thought him lucky.

Well, so he was, Angus reminded himself sturdily. Few men had wives as clever and sparkling and attractive as Marjorie and he was still in love with her. But somehow he never again had that surge of pride when he unlocked his front door or that feeling that it was his very own home, where he could do as he chose.

You see, Angus had learned his lesson—that about once in ten thousand times a man has a home such as he had had when a boy and the rest of the time it is the wife's home and there are rules. At middle age Angus is a great clubman.—Chicago News.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Coal Supply.

Mr. Editor: In the war or controversy between capital and labor most persons, through different circumstances probably, are brought into sympathy with one side or the other. When wage-earners band themselves together for mutual benefit and protection they are within their rights as long as their affairs are conducted in a lawful and proper manner, and I think that with each unit or division of the several unions left to work out its own problems without the interference of those parasites known as agitators and organizers, the majority of them would do that. Every honest wage earner is entitled to just compensation for his labor. On the other hand, if a wage earner prefers to earn his living independent of any labor union he has a perfect right to do so and is entitled to protection in the exercise of that right. When a person invests money in any mercantile or manufacturing business he is entitled to a fair rate of interest on all of it, and when those who are capable are selected to conduct the management of capital so invested, those capabilities are entitled to compensation. So much for preliminaries. I am making an earnest appeal in behalf of those in reduced circumstances who, on account of age, infirmities or misfortune cannot furnish either capital or labor. Although in the minority they are entitled to special consideration because they are innocent victims. Anything that causes an increase in the cost of living means extra hardships for them, consequently they consider any interference with the production of those things which go to make up the necessities of life as an abomination. A coal strike they look upon as a high crime and those who would cause it should be incarcerated. The public demands an uninterrupted supply of coal at a reasonable price and that unadulterated.

UNCLE BILLY.

Eagleville, July 21, 1925.

Stories That Recall Others

English as She's Spoken.

Mrs. X was a foreigner. But she soon saw that to be liked by her American friends she not only had to learn their correct language, but she must also learn to use their slang. So when the next door neighbor's house caught fire she said: "They monked around most all morning and they sure did get excity."

He Cured Him, All Right.

The doctor had been away for a short time. While away he got this story concerning another in his profession who was brought before the court for dealing in narcotics. He claimed to have been treating drug addicts. Asked how many cases he had handled in the last year his reply was. "About three."

"And who were those persons?" inquired the prosecutor.

"Well, one was a colored man; another was a man on B— street and—"

"Did you cure them?" the prosecutor interrupted.

"Yes," said the doctor hesitatingly.

"Well, where is this B— street man now?" asked the prosecutor, wondering why the doctor did not have some of his cured patients in court to testify for him.

"He's dead," replied the doctor in solemn tones.

Today's Anniversaries

1775—Eugene Videcq, the famous Franch detective, born. Died in Paris in 1857.

1816—The "Enterprise," from Savannah, was the first steamboat to arrive at Charleston, S. C.

1858—Last civic disability of Jews in Great Britain removed y alteration of the parliamentary oath.

1875—Isaac M. Singer, who made a large fortune as a sewing-machine inventor and manufacturer, died at Torquay, England. Born at Oswego, N. Y., Oct. 27, 1811.

1877—The Vigilance Committee of San Francisco was reorganized.

1885—Gen. U. S. Grant, eighteenth president of the United States, died at Mt. McGregor, N. Y. Born at Point Pleasant, Ohio, April 27, 1822.

1888—The first pneumatic tires were constructed by Dr. John Boyd Dunlop of Belfast, Ireland.

1923—Sir R. A. Squires, the premier of Newfoundland, resigned.

1924—The Eucharistic congress opened at Amsterdam.
Fire and panic killed 20 children at a movie theater in Vera Cruz.

It begins to look as if the total of home runs in either of the major leagues this season will exceed the total made by both leagues in any other year heretofore.

From Small Beginnings

William Lloyd Garrison, the Shoemaker Apostle of Freedom

"I am in earnest—I will not equivocate—I will not excuse—I will not retreat a single inch—and I will be heard." William Lloyd Garrison, then a young man 26 years old, wrote those words in the first number of his anti-slavery paper, The Liberator, in 1831. He had no influential friends; he had no money, he had scores of enemies; he had already been put in jail for his attacks on slavery, and he was threatened with personal violence if he persisted—yet he did persist, and week after week, and year after year he kept on hammering at the thought that there must be no human slavery in the United States. It was a proud day for him when one day over thirty years after that first expression of persistence he printed in his paper Abraham Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation. Persistence is always bound to accomplish something.

In William Lloyd Garrison's boyhood home there was little except poverty and high courage. The mother had been left desolate by the disappearance of her husband. Like many another New England sea captain Abijah Garrison had sailed away and had never returned. From that sturdy mariner the boy may have inherited the tenacity that he showed all through life. Instead of going to school William Lloyd Garrison had to go to work. At an age when other boys are permitted to play freely he was put to work at a shoemaker's bench and made to work for long hours. After a few years of this he was bound out as a cabinetmaker, he was fourteen when he first took up the tasks of a printer. From that day he set forward on the road to fame.

From setting type he went to the writing of articles. Having in his veins the blood of a sea captain he wrote exactly what he thought and paid no attention to whose feelings he hurt, so long as he upheld liberty for all men. He was still under 25 when he began to edit a paper attacking human slavery. He was 26 when he established The Liberator which he carried through thick and thin for 35 years of struggle. There were times when he was in grave danger of his life. Once, even in Boston, he was dragged through the streets by a rope and would have been lynched if he had not been hidden away by friends. All this made not the slightest impression upon William Lloyd Garrison. He had set out to destroy slavery, and nothing on earth could stop him. For 35 years he lectured, wrote and talked anti-slavery, both in the United States and England. His life was a constant turmoil; his days were filled with work; his enemies were numbered by increasing thousands—but he kept on. He had the pleasure of living some 15 years after slavery had been forever abolished from the United States, and of realizing in his old age that the thing he had fought for so stubbornly had come to be a reality.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Sir Henry Thornton, who has been engaged by the Canadian government for a further five-year term as president of the Canadian National Railways, will receive for his services a salary equal to that of the president of the United States. A Philadelphian by birth, Sir Henry learned his profession in the United States, where he acquired a great reputation, especially in connection with the electrification of the Long Island lines. In 1914 he went to England as general manager of the Great Eastern Railway, one of the principal systems of the British Isles. Although he had only held his new post for a few months when war broke out, his ability had already been recognized, with the result that he was given army rank ultimately reaching the rank of major-general in 1919 while holding the post of Inspector General of Transportation. In 1922 he came over to Canada to take charge of the government railways.

Today's Birthdays

Edward T. Sanford, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States born at Knoxville, Tenn., 60 years ago today.

Dr. Albert Shaw, noted editor and publicist, born in Butler county, O., 68 years ago today.

Margaret Illington, until her retirement several years ago one of the most prominent actresses of the American stage, born at Bloomington, Ill., 44 years ago today.

Montague Glass, noted American author and playwright, born at Manchester, England, 48 years ago today.

Major General Willard A. Holbrook, U. S. A. retired, born at Arkansaw Wis., 65 years ago today.

Jerry Builds a Landing

You never greater pride will take
Than in the thing you plan and make.
—Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit is impatient at times, but at other times he is patient, very patient. When his curiosity has been aroused he can be as patient as any one I know. This was the case now as he waited for Jerry Muskrat to return. Jerry had said that he was building something, and Peter knew that he wouldn't be happy until he had found out what it was that Jerry was building. So he waited. Presently Jerry reappeared as unexpectedly as he had disappeared. You see he came under water and Peter didn't see him coming. He popped his head out and looked up at Peter.

"Huh!" exclaimed Jerry. "Are you still loafing here?"

"Yes," replied Peter pleasantly. "Yes, I am still loafing here and I am going to loaf here until I find out what it is that you are building. What is it Jerry?"

"Watch and you'll find out," replied Jerry rather ungraciously. You see Jerry is such a good worker himself that it rather annoyed him to see some one sitting around doing nothing.

So Peter sat on the bank and watched, and down below in the water Jerry Muskrat went and came and came and went, and kept things so stirred up that the water was very, very muddy.

At first Peter could see nothing at all, but after a while he noticed that something very like a little platform of weeds and mud was beginning to grow out from the shore. Jerry would bring up the mud from the bottom and keep adding to it and adding to it. So this little platform kept growing and growing. The foundation of it was of weeds which Jerry brought, and on these weeds he piled mud. When it got a wee bit above the surface of the water, it began to dry out somewhat.

Finally Jerry Muskrat stopped to rest. Peter scratched a long ear with a long hind foot, and then scratched the other long ear with the other long hind foot. Jerry Muskrat watched him and grinned. "What's troubling you now, Peter?" he asked.

"I still cannot make out what you are building," replied Peter. "It looks to me like a little platform."

"It's a landing," explained Jerry.

"A what?" inquired Peter.

"A landing," repeated Jerry. "You see I like to come ashore right in here, but there wasn't a good landing. When I am out of water I want to be where I can dive down into deep enough water to be able to swim under water. I couldn't do that in here, so now I am building this landing. I am using the mud from the bottom and, of course, every time I bring mud up I make the water just so much deeper. When I get this landing all finished I can come in here and sit whenever I please, and if danger comes along can drive in and swim away under water. It is going to be a very handy little landing."

Peter admitted that it was. He said it was very fine. But he couldn't help adding, "But dear me, what a lot of work it costs."

"Nothing is worth having that isn't worth working for," retorted Jerry, and [illegible] more dived.

(Copyright, 1925, by T. W. Burgess)

The next story—Peter Admits That He is Envious.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

SANTA BARBARA

"To most Americans who have not seen California but who have pictured the state's interesting spots in their imaginations, Santa Barbara would come close to meeting specifications," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society in regard to the California city recently damaged by an earthquake.

"On and near the site of Santa Barbara is a medley of meadows teeming with wild flowers, rolling country dotted with groves of noble live oaks like a well kept park, mountains, canyons, flourishing citrus and olive groves, walnut orchards, and the blue Pacific with its sandy beaches and rocky headlands. To this wealth of raw material the hand of man has added much. On a hill at the head of a plain sloping gently to the sea the old Franciscan Fathers planted Santa Barbara Mission, probably the best known of these famous religious edifices that were strung along the 'Camino Real' in Spanish days. On the two-mile slope between the mission and the ocean the city grew up—a sleepy Indian and Mexican village at first, then an American town of typical Californians.

"Thanks to the barrier of the Santa Ynez mountains, which rise to a height of several thousand feet immediately behind the city, Santa Barbara is sheltered from northern winds and has an almost ideal winter climate. Because of this and the large winter colony that has been drawn there, the city has come to be called 'the American Mentone,' after the well-known winter resort on France's sunny Mediterranean coast.

"With the city's growth in popularity, the hand of man added still more to its charms. People of wealth moved to Santa Barbara from all parts of the United States to build handsome residences and develop extensive estates. Until now Santa Barbara has one of the largest 'millionaire colonies' on the west coast. The center of this development, with its lagoons of country clubs and polo fields, is in the suburb of Montecito, in the coastal hills several miles east of Santa Barbara.

"The most famous building in Santa Barbara—and more famous than any of the natural features of the region—is the Santa Barbara Mission, the only twin-towered mission in California. The earthquake history of this mission is interesting in the light of the recent destructive quake. Built in 1786, the original mission was destroyed by an earthquake early in the 19th century. When it was rebuilt between 1815 and 1820 the Franciscan Fathers deliberately made it especially massive in the hope that it would withstand future quakes. Its walls are of stone and mortar six feet thick and are strengthened outside by massive buttresses nine feet square at the base. This heavy construction has withstood the minor disturbances of more than a century but so powerful were the vibrations of the recent earthquake that the towers were shaken down and the front wall was toppled over.

"At the present time, the mission is conducted as a Franciscan college for monks and is a center of Catholic learning in California. One of its more notable features is a wonderful arcade facing the sea from which tourists delight to watch the sunsets over the Pacific.

"The city of Santa Barbara extends from the edge of the Pacific up the foothills of the Santa Ynez mountains. Many of the business buildings are on relatively low ground not far from the Pacific. Residences have been built up the mountain slopes to the north, east and west.

"Because of its mountain barrier Santa Barbara's railways enter the city along the ocean and afford travelers for many miles east and west of the city some of the most interesting ocean views to be found on the west coast. At places the rails are only a few feet above the high water mark, and if large tidal waves had swept inland doubtless much of the track would have been demolished.

"The main highways which connect Santa Barbara with the remainder of the state also parallel the coast. So close do the hills approach the ocean east of the city that at places it has been necessary to drive piles into the beach and construct the road on them around the cliffs. The motorist driving over these 'sea going' stretches of highway often hears the breakers thundering immediately beneath him.

"Santa Barbara is situated on the only extensive section of the coast of California which lies almost directly east and west. It is about 360 miles down the coast from San Francisco and not more than 75 miles from the ports of Los Angeles. Its situation has made it famous as a place for water sports. About 25 miles off shore lies a string of partly submerged mountains, the Santa Barbara Islands, which make Santa Barbara Channel between them and the mainland a yachtsman's paradise. In the Santa Barbara Channel, almost as placid as a lake, the United States naval vessels built on the Pacific coast are given their speed tests.

"It is in winter that Santa Barbara draws its greatest throng of tourists. The city has dozens of hotels. In the green foothills are several of the best country clubs and golf courses to be found in the State."

CITY CHILDREN PROGRESS FURTHER IN SCHOOL

Fewer children from the farm reach high school proportionately, than town or city children. This is especially true of the purely agricultural states. More country boys reach high school than country boys. A study of high school attendance of the farm population is issued as Bulletin No. 8, issued by the department of the interior bureau of education, mentions as the principal cause for this condition the general sentiment [illegible] that boys and the higher money value of a boys work on the farm. Figures that must also be considered are farm ownership or tenancy of parents and the size of the farm from which the children come. The study shows that as a natural consequence, where educational standards in a rural community are high, attendance of both boys and girls in high schools is increased.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR FIELD INSTRUCTION IN SCENCE

A new profession has been created by the demand for leaders in nature study for summer camps and resorts. To help in supplying this need, opportunities for special study are offered in various sections of the country. The Yosemite school for Field Natural History was opened at Yosemite National park this summer. The number of students is limited to 20 and two years of college work is required for entrance. The Museum of Natural History, New York City, has just established in the Palisades Interstate Park a museum of live insects, to offer field instruction in entomology. A course in field biology at Newcomb's Lodge, in the Allegheny Mountains, is conducted this summer by the University of Pennsylvania. The course is promoted by the Pittsburgh Nature study club composed of city school teachers.

EVERY SCHOOL CHILD CARRIES A SAVINGS ACCOUNT

Duluth, Minn., leads the school honor roll of the American Bankers Association in class A school systems—those having an enrollment of more than 10,000 upils. School savings deposits are carried by 29.7 per cent of the pupils of that city. In class B, enrollment 5,000 to 10,000 Evanston, Ill., stands first, with a percentage of 25.3 pupils participating in the school banking system. Pekin Ill., leads in class C, enrollment 2,000 to 5,000, with a percentage of 100; and Albemarle, N. C., also with a full per cent, leads in class D, enrollment under 2,000.

A large auditorium and field house [illegible] will be erected at the University of Nebraska, Lincoln, financed entirely by the athletic board of the university. The athletic board of Leland Stanford University (Calif.) is building and financing three dormitories on the campus for university students.

CANDLE E ORANGE ON O NORTH S AN
A EEN BAY ASP C
RUN ALL ROD AGO
S DAB ALA CAR R
EMR STAND S HE ERMINE TURKEY
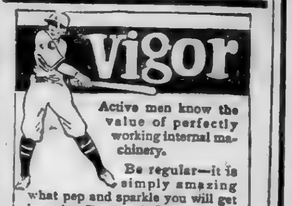
ODE RA DO GEM
ADDERS BECKON
AL O CLIVES E AT
T AGE EAT DYE A
TAR OLD TEE GOB
A TAN GEE NAG L
IN I BEARS Y TE
NOODLE R OCELOT
THE INTERNATIONAL SYNDICATE



Active men know the value of perfectly working internal machinery.

Be regular—it is simply amazing what pep and sparkle you will get by using Beecham's Pills.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
Equally good for little folks.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Extraordinary Morning Specials

This Morning—8:30 to 12 Noon.

As this store closes at 12 o'clock Thursdays during July and August, we are offering a strong list of "Morning Specials" for today—8.30 to 12 o'clock. These offerings comprise new, fresh, seasonable merchandise at prices you cannot afford to miss. Exceptional savings for all who take advantage of this Morning Special Sale—This Morning, 8.30 to 12 o'clock.

SHOP THIS MORNING—STORE CLOSES 12 NOON

MORNING SPECIALS FOR MEN

75c Hosiery at 50c
Men's "Phoenix" Silk Hosiery, in checks and stripes, all colors, all sizes—Morning Sale Price 50c a pair, value 75c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Golf Hosiery, $1.29
Men's Fancy Golf Hosiery, good assortment of styles—Morning Sale Price $1.29 a pair, value $1.69 and $1.95.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Bathing Suits, $2.79
Men's One and Two-Piece Bathing Suits, all wool and worsted—Morning Sale Price $2.79, value $3.50 to $4.50.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Bath Robes, $3.75
Men's Bath Robes, collage stripes, just the thing for beach wear—Morning Sale Price $3.75, regular value $4.95.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Camphor Balls, 10c lb.
Camphor Balls, sell regularly at 15c a lb.—Morning Sale Price for full pound 10c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Toilet Goods, 15c
Choice of the following—Squibb's Talcum Powder, D. & R. Cream, Fenamint, Seidlitz Powders—Morning Sale 15c each, value 25c and 29c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Pearl Buttons, 19c dz.
Pearl Buttons, new shapes and new colors—Morning Sale Price 19c a dozen, value 25c to 50c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Bathing Belts, 15c
25c Bathing Belts, rubber and reversible, all colors, all sizes—Morning Sale Price 15c, value 25c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Bathing Shoes, 37c
Women's Bathing Shoes, black, white, red and blue—Morning Sale Price 37c a pair, value to $1.50.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Hand Bags, $1.98
Women's Leather Hand Bags, in brown, black, tan and gray, Underarm style—Morning Sale Price $1.98, value $2.69 to $3.00.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

MORNING SPECIALS DOMESTIC DEPT.

69c Sheeting at 49c
91-inch Bleached Sheeting, a standard grade—Morning Sale Price 49c a yard, value 69c. Limit 10 yards to a customer.

50c Toweling at 33c
High grade, pure Linen Toweling, glass and roller grade—Morning Sale Price 33c a yard, value 50c. Limit 5 yards to a customer.

$1.50 Flannel at 69c
High Grade Baby Flannel, cream white, absolutely unshrinkable, next to silk and wool quality—Morning Sale Price 69c a yard, value $1.50. Limit 5 yards to a customer.

Comfortables at $3.98
Size 72x76, double-bed size Comfortables, Sateo silk top, silkoline back, pure cotton filling, plain border to match groundwork—Morning Sale Price $3.98. Limit 2 to a customer.

Bed Sets, $5.98
Rayon Silk Bed Sets, in one piece, long enough to cover pillows, scalloped, with cut corners—Morning Sale Price $5.98.

$10.00 Crex Rugs, $5.00
Just 15 size 9x12 Crex Rugs, in blue, green and brown stencil patterns—Morning Sale Price $5.00, value $10.00.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

$2.75 Curtains at $1.49
Quaker Lace Curtains, 2 1-2 yards long, splendid quality—Morning Sale Price $1.49 a pair, value $2.50 and $2.75.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Ruffled Curtains, $1.89
Dotted and Plain Voile and Marquisette Ruffled Curtains, 2 1-4 yards long, with tie-back—Morning Sale $1.89 a pair, value $2.25.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Silk Socks at 32c
Children's Silk Socks (fibre silk) in white, pink, sky, orchid, Palm Beach and peach—Morning Sale Price 33c a pair, value 50c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

59c Union Suits, 39c
Women's Summer Weight Knit Union Suits, cuff and shell knee, sizes 36 and 38—Morning Sale Price 39c a suit, value 59c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

$12.50 Dresses $3.95
100 Women's Summer Dresses, plain and figured voiles, pongee and pure linen dresses, in a variety of styles and colors, all sizes up to extra size 54—Morning Sale Price $3.95, value to $12.50.
(On sale 8.30 to 12)

$7.95 Blouses $3.95
Choice of any Silk Blouse in stock—plain and figured crepe-de-chine, pongee, silk, broadcloth, all styles, all sizes, all colors—Morning Sale Price $3.95, regular prices $5.95 to $7.95.
(On sale 8.30 to 12)

Boys' Suits, 85c
Boys' Khaki Flapper Suits, sizes 3 to 8—Morning Sale Price 85c a suit, value $1.25.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

$1.95 Sweaters at $1.10
Women's and Misses' Slip-on Sweaters—Morning Sale Price $1.10 value $1.95.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

$3.00 Brassieres, $1.39
Women's Rubber Reducing Brassieres, covered with mercerized cotton, hooked back model, sizes 36, 38, 40, 44, 46 and 48—Morning Sale Price $1.39, value $2.50 and $3.00.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

$2.98 Dresses at $2.39
Women's Dresses for porch or street wear, made of linen and voile, in plain colors, dots and stripes—Morning Sale Price $2.39, regular value $2.98.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

$1.25 Play Togs, 95c
Children's Play Togs, made of printed cretonne, with cap to match in tan and blue—Morning Sale Price 95c, regular value $1.25.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

19c Cluny Lace 5c
Cluny Lace Edging, ecru color, 3-inches wide—Morning Sale Price 5c a yard, value 19c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Women's Neckwear, 39c
Women's Neckwear—Sport Ties, Collars, Collar and Cuff Sets in lace and organdie—Morning Sale Price 39c, regular value 50c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Women's Gloves, 5c
Women's 2-clasp White Liste Gloves, excellent for household wear—Morning Sale Price 5c a pair, regular value 25c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Women's Handfs., 3 for 30c
Women's Pure Linen Handkerchiefs, all the wanted colors—Morning Sale Price 11c each, 3 for 30, value 15c each.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

50c Ribbon at 39c
Fine quality Brocaded Satin Ribbon, 5 1-2-inches wide, pink, blue, peach, cascade and orchid—Morning Sale Price 39c a yard, value 50c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Japanese Crepe, 19c
30-inch Japanese Crepe, plain colors in a complete assortment of shades—also 30-inch plain Windsor Crepe in all the wanted plain colors—Morning Sale Price 19c a yard, value 29c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Pongee Silk, 66c
39-inch natural all silk pongee, for Blouse, Dress, Lingerie and Men's Shirts—Morning Sale Price 66c a yard, value $1.00.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Silk Stripes, 88c
Yard-wide, washable Silk Alpaca Stripes, in seven color combinations, for Tub Dresses—Morning Sale Price 88c a yard, value $1.00.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

$1.75 Crepe-de-Chine $1.49
40-inch white Crepe-de-Chine, for Dress, Blouse or Lingerie—Morning Sale Price $1.49 a yard, value $1.75.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Lux at 7c
Small size package of Lux, sells regularly at 10c a package—Morning Sale Price 7c a package.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Lux Soap, 8c
Lux Toilet Soap, sells regularly at 10c a cake—Morning Sale Price 8c a cake.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Welcome Soap
Welcome Soap, sells regularly for 6c a cake—Morning Sale Price 10 cakes for 50c.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

Paper Napkins, 45c box
Tea size, Linen-like Paper Napkins, regular value 75c—Morning Sale Price 45c for box of 100.
(On sale, 8.30 to 12)

FROM THE
"Catcher to Customer"
market this weather. If not Fish then Clams, Lobsters or Crabs. Whatever you order from Powers Bros. will be sure to please. You will find this market at 16 Bath Street or Phone 114.
OPEN ALL DAY THURSDAY.
CLOSED MONDAY AT NOON.

It's Invaluable for Rashes Burns
Chafing Stings
Sunburn Cuts
That's why you need
Resinol

WILL SOON DISTRIBUTE
PHEASANTS AND TROUT
The state fisheries and game department is making ready for the distribution of trout and pheasants. It is expected that the work will begin early next month.
[illegible] 1924 the state liberated [illegible] pheasants, of which [illegible] were released from [illegible] Connecticut. Most of the birds [illegible] 1923 [illegible] 1924 [illegible]
During the four years [illegible] the state [illegible] 6,000 pheasants will be distributed.

Workmen's Compensation.
The workmen's compensation agreement [illegible] has been approved by Commissioner J. J. Donahue. [illegible] Tatnall, New London, employer, and Louis A. Keezer employee, [illegible] partial [illegible] of foot, May 20, at the rate of $[illegible].
Benjamin A. Smith, Putnam, employer, and Louis B. Prentice, employee, [illegible] of left ankle, June 1, at rate of $[illegible].

DEMONSTRATIONS AGAINST HIGH RENTS IN BEIRUT
[illegible] July 22.—(Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—Riots resulting from demonstrations against high rents have occurred in [illegible] of Beirut, Syria, during the past few days, according to reports received here. Many persons have been injured in the disturbances, which have been suppressed by the police.

DIED
CHURCH [illegible] in this city, [illegible] this

Even a bread pudding can be glorified with
WILLIAMS' VANILLA
15 other flavors
The Williams & Carleton Co.
HARTFORD, CONN.

FLY-TOX
Kills Flies

Developed at World's Foremost Scientific Industrial Research Institution. Will not stain. Pleasant odor. Harmless to humans and animals.
If dealer will not supply you, send $1.25 for full quart postpaid.
Your Grocer or Druggist

SCHOOL OF NURSING
The school of nursing connected with the William W. Backus Hospital in Norwich, Conn., is now registering students for the September classes. This school is registered in Connecticut and the course of instruction is two years and four months given in a general hospital of 90 beds. Students must be graduates of grammar school and have one year of high school work. A new nurses' residence opened this year affords each student all of the comforts and conveniences of home.
For circular of information address Superintendent of Training School.

1786 1925
Norwich Thursday, July 23, 1925

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7:45 (s. t.) this evening.

The usual number of picnic parties visit Lantern Hill each week.

Drivers along Preston Plains claim that gardens and fields never looked better.

At Saybrook Point, a temporary keeper has been stationed at the inner lighthouse.

The Plainville Camp Meeting opens its sixtieth annual session Friday, July 24, and continues through August 3d.

In Norwich Wednesday, native peas were bringing 50c for four quarts. Heavy heads of cabbage sold at 6c the pound.

The annual picnic of the Groton Tennis club is to be held at Camp Mohegan, Long Pond, Mystic, Saturday, August 1.

At Willimantic Camp Ground, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boardman and family from Norwich opened their cottage last Sunday.

Norwich merchants always offer a little something special in the way of Thursday morning bargains, before closing their stories at noon.

Hope Valley grange, P. of H., furnished the program at the last meeting of Richmond grange at Usquepaugh. It was Neighbors' night.

Mrs. Frederick Goodrich Crane of Dalton, Mass., and her sister, Mrs. Charles L. Hibbard of Pittsfield, are spending a week at Watch Hill.

Miss Kate Thompson who has been a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, Willimantic for several weeks has returned to her home at Hampton.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hart and son, have returned to their home in Lincoln, L. I., after a week's visit with Mrs. Hart's father, D. B. Richmond, of Flanders.

The rain of Wednesday afternoon queered a number of outing plans, but if it proves pleasant for the clerks' half holiday today (Thursday) all will be forgiven!

It is mentioned that Mrs. Joseph Clark Hoppin of Pomfret Centre, who has been at the Hotel Gladstone, New York, is to sail Saturday on the Vauban, for South America.

The weekly club meetings at Scotland take place Tuesday and Wednesday evening. New features have been added with an extra tennis court, croquet sets and quoits.

Passaquisett group of Camp Fire Girls, Miss Florence Clark, guardian, of Shannock, are anticipating a week or more of camp life in the Massachusetts state camp, beginning Aug. 15.

The Improvement Society of Willimantic Camp Meeting Association held its first meeting in their society house Tuesday, with the president, Mrs. Albert Boardman, of Norwich presiding.

An Lillington resident, Miss Linda B. Morris, who fell and broke her hip more than a year ago, has gone to the Hartford Hospital for observation, the bones having failed to knit properly.

Roscoe Bacciocchi of the fishing boat Baby brought into Noank the [illegible] swordfish of the season. The [illegible] weighed 450 pounds. The tail measures a little over four feet from tip to tip.

Week end automobile traffic at Saybrook is almost continuous. That with the heavy truck travel makes it unpleasant living on the main road. The trucks shake the rafters as they are passing.

The opening of the American Woolen Company's Spring (1926) lines of worsted twills and worsted sheens will take place Tuesday next, a matter of interest in Norwich, where the company has big mills.

Employees at Rockville woolen mills are concerned over the ten per cent. cut in wages which the American Woolen company plans to put into effect July 27 and notice of which was posted at the week end.

The new idea bathing bag comes in the form of the Mammy doll bag, the fish bag and the Duck bag, each provided with a patent closing device. Designed to retail at $3.75, the bag is reported to be selling well.

The Waterford fire department was called out Tuesday morning at about 7 o'clock for a fire in the cellar of the Kenyon cottage near the old car barn. The fire had gained little headway but caused a great deal of smoke.

Miss Minnie E. Emmet of Wequetequock and Misses Ruth Henson, Agnes Shaw and Margaret Shaw of the Stonington road are at Storrs, for the seventh annual junior short course at Connecticut Agricultural college.

Salesmen here say that one of the outstanding features of the business in men's better grade shoes for Fall delivery is the trend it shows away from the heavier models, such as were made up in Scotch grain and other imported leathers.

A man from Colchester has purchased the right to the blueberry picking on Mike Olonik's farm at Leonard Bridge and has a truck load of berry pickers working there daily. It is understood that fifty dollars was paid for the privilege.

At the Water street grade crossing of the New Haven road at Stonington, the officials have arranged for 24-hour service of the gates. Gateman Blayce of Mystic will take the night shift and Anderson V. Hoxie will remain on the day trick.

Norwich merchants who have been at the New York wall paper convention report that floral patterns will continue in popularity. An innovation in American wall paper manufacture is the paneled scenic effect, with Japanese and Chinese treatments.

The planet Mercury will reach its greatest eastern elongation on July 28 when it will be more than 27 degrees east of the sun. This is within a degree of its greatest possible distance from the sun and great enough to enable it to be picked up easily in the twilight after sunset.

SUMMARY OF YESTERDAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGON

Income tax records were ordered opened September 1.

Substantial accord of the powers of the Chinese problem was reached.

The Nickel Plate hearing was continued before the interstate commerce commission.

September was fixed as a time for receiving a debt mission from Czecho-Slovakia.

BUS LINE TO RUN BETWEEN NEW LONDON-WILLIMANTIC

HARTFORD, July 22.—(AP)—The public utilities commission has granted an application of the Connecticut company for a certificate to operate a motorbus passenger line between New London and Willimantic, via Norwich, Yantic, North Franklin and South Windham. The Hartford-Willimantic company also applied for a certificate for that route. It is nearly fifty miles long.

PERSONALS

John M. Lee, of Norwich, has spent part of the week in New York on business.

Miss Josie Shahan has returned to Norwich after a week's stay in Poquonnoc.

Miss Nellie Leary of Taunton, Mass., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Catherine Neibert, of Seventh street.

Miss Ida Petrone, of School street, spent the week-end at South Coventry, visiting Mrs. Austin Furlong, Jr.

Miss Mary McInness, of New York, is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah McInnes, of Union street.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison of New Haven, is visiting her sister, Miss Agnes Brennan of Main street, Norwich.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook and sons, Henry and Melvin, of West Town street, are spending several days at Poquonnoc Beach.

Miss Lucille Drew, of Otis street, has returned home after ten days' stay with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Drew of Hartford.

Mrs. Frank Harwood, of Norwich, has been at her cottage on Willimantic Camp Ground, getting it ready to occupy for the remainder of the season.

Mrs. D. J. Finn, her daughter, Mary, and son, John, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are spending a few weeks with Mrs. Finn's sister, Mrs. Mary McNally, of Main street, Norwich.

Miss Mary Donovan of Main street, Norwich, has returned home after a visit in Hartford and Madison, the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Callahan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Fitts, who are on a camping tour from Pennsylvania to Connecticut, visited Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Savage of Smith avenue. Mr. Savage is Mrs. Fitts' nephew.

Mrs. Fred Friswell and son Frederick, Mrs. Henry Fountaine, of Plainfield, and Miss Agnes Graham have returned from spending a few days at Mrs. James Graham's cottage at Fishers Island.

Mrs. G. M. Smith and son have returned to Waterbury after visiting for the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Nelson of 93 Thames street. Henry Nelson, of Palmer, Mass. brother of Mr. Nelson, also paid them a visit during the week.

RAISED $750 FOR FIRE LOSS SUFFERER

About $750 has been raised for J. Epstein who lost a boarding house and farm buildings at Colchester last week in a fire. A $5,000 insurance policy expired a few days before the fire, and Mr. Epstein did not renew it, because he felt he could not afford continuing payments on it. It was said, his fire insurance, amounting to a little over $2,000 just pays for the mortgage on his place.

The community then came to his rescue. A special meeting was held Saturday night in the meeting rooms of the synagogue and a committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions. The members of the committee are: Mrs. Joseph Agrashovitch, Leon Border, Louis Benson, Max Cohen, Pincus Cutler, Ike Cohen, Julius Fedus, Ben Kahan, Daniel Goldberg, Julius Sultan, Hyman London, Fischel Slobak, Joseph London, S. Stein, David Weinstein.

After the available money is in another meeting will be held, when it will be determined whether new buildings will be built on the old property or another farm bought with the help of the sale price of the old property.

CORN BORER APPEARS IN STONINGTON AND MYSTIC

State Entomologist W. E. Britton of the Connecticut experiment station at New Haven, has reported that the European corn borer had appeared this year only in small areas near Stonington and Mystic. He said that infection in these areas was traced to ground that had not been thoroughly cleaned and burned last year after the pest had been discovered. A thorough cleanup of the section is to be made, he said, which is expected to partially rid the state of the pest.

PORTEOUS AND MITCHELL USING WATER ST. ENTRANCE

Now that Main street is partly torn up for the purpose of putting in an improved road, The Porteous & Mitchell Company is inviting the people, particularly those who come to town by automobiles, to use their wholesale entrance on Water street. Patrons may enter from Water street and an elevator will carry them to any floor. A great many are taking advantage of this convenience since that part of Main street has been closed to vehicular travel.

OBITUARY
Samuel Heckt

Following an illness of about eight days and an operation for gallstones, the death of Samuel Heckt occurred Wednesday morning at 4:30 o'clock at his home at 179 West Main street.

Mr. Heckt was born in Russia in 1877, the son of Israel and Phoebe Heckt. His boyhood was spent in that country and later he moved to England. About eighteen years ago he came to this country, locating in Norwich, where he had since resided.

Twenty-two years ago, in England, he was united in marriage with Miss Esther Brody.

For many years Mr. Heckt has conducted a dry goods store at 179 West Main street and was prominent among the hebrew residents of the city. He was a member of the Hebrew Benevolent association and was affiliated with the High street synagogue.

Surviving him besides his wife are four children, Anna, Isadore, Frank and David Heckt, all of Norwich.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock from the late home on West Main street with burial in O. H. A. cemetery in Brewster Neck, Rabbi Max Stamm conducting the service. In the attendance at the service were friends from Colchester, New London and other places. Hourigan Brothers were in charge of the arrangements.

Henry Lasch.

Word was received in this city Wednesday evening, by Mrs. D. Louisa Atterbury, of Page street, of the death of her uncle, Henry Lasch, about 68, a former Norwich resident, which occurred that evening about 5:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Nora Booth, of New Britain. His death followed an illness which extended over a long period. Besides his wife, Catherine, two daughters, Mrs. Booth, of New Britain, and Mrs. Thomas Mullen, of Willimantic, and two sons, Fred, of New York, and Dr. Henry Lasch of New Britain, he is survived by a brother and two sisters. Another sister, Mrs. Mary E. Wolf, of Cliff street, Norwich, died here about eight months ago. He also leaves two nieces, Mrs. Atterbury, of Page street, and Miss Lillie Wolf, of Cliff street, and a nephew, Charles Wolf, of Jewett City.

Holy Cross college, Worcester, has always been noted for its baseball teams which have furnished more than one star player to the major [illegible]. Probably the strongest nine that ever wore the rooter colors was that of 1917, which went through a schedule of more than 30 games with only one defeat.

NORWICH TOWN WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY IN DOCTOR'S OFFICE

While at the Main street office of Dr. Witter K. Tingley about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ray D. Holridge, of 60 Yerrington avenue, Mrs. William Kinney, 54, of 18 Town street, Norwich Town, was seized with a sudden attack of heart trouble and expired in a few minutes in spite of the heroic work of the physician to save her.

Mrs. Kinney had suffered from heart trouble for several years and had gone to the doctor's office for consultation. This had been concluded and she was seated in a chair while the physician was using the telephone, when the attack came upon her. Dr. Tingley promptly adopted restorative measures but without avail, and after the case had been reported to the medical examiner, Dr. C. C. Gildersleeve, he gave permission for Church & Allen to take charge of the body.

Mrs. Kinney, whose maiden name was Annie Amelia Shepard, was born in Norwich, May 28, 1871, the daughter of Nehemiah and Abby Beebe Shepard. In New London July 12, 1895, she was united in marriage with William Kinney, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Alfred Poole Grint, then pastor of St. James Episcopal church. Mrs. Kinney was the mother of three children, Henry, who died in infancy many years ago; Earle, who died quite suddenly, in 1916, after only about 24 hours illness, and Mildred Amelia Avery, wife of Ray D. Holridge, of Laurel Hill, who survives. Besides her husband and daughter, Mrs. Kinney is survived by two brothers, George Shepard, of Norwich, and Elias Shepard, who resides out of town.

Mrs. Kinney has been a member of Trinity Episcopal church for a number of years. She was a woman specially interested in her home, where she could almost always be found. She was a faithful wife and mother and her sudden death came as a shock to her family and friends.

NEW LONDON POLICEMAN'S WIFE UNDER BIGAMY CHARGE
(Special to the Bulletin)

NEW LONDON, July 23.—Mrs. Agnes L. Murphy, wife of Patrolman Dennis Murphy, was arrested at 2 o'clock this morning charged with bigamy. She is being held in bonds of $1,000 for trial in the police court this morning. Mrs. Murphy, who is 22 years of age, was arrested at her home on Jay street by Lieut. James Gaffney and Patrolman Howard Sloan following Joseph Stone, New York, prominent pugilist, appearing at the police station last night with information divulging that he was the husband of Mrs. Murphy by a prior marriage. Stone submitted a marriage certificate, showing that he was married in New York August 14, 1922 to Agnes Landsberg, that a child was born to the couple in Fordham hospital, New York, October 2, 1922, and that the child was christened Constance Stone. It was also revealed that the baby was placed in the home of Thomas Gilbert Amburn at Ledyard by Mrs. Murphy nearly two years ago.

The revelation of the charge of bigamy resulted when Mr. and Mrs. Murphy visited the Amburn home a week ago today at which time Mrs Murphy demanded to be given the child. Mr. and Mrs. Amburn had been assured, it is claimed, that they could adopt the child and refused to turn the baby over to the mother. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left the home of Amburn with the declaration that they would return and take the baby by force. It was then that Amburn revealed the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Murphy to the Amburn home to Mrs Helen I. Gates, of Norwich, mother-in-law of Amburn. Mrs. Gates obtained knowledge that Stone was the father of the baby and Tuesday she went to New York and locating Stone revealed the story of the attempt of Mrs. Murphy to "steal" the baby of the child. Stone returned to Norwich with Mrs. Gates and accompanied by Amburn went to the police station tonight and made bare the facts which resulted in Acting Prosecuting Attorney Perry J. Hollandersky issuing a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Murphy.

Stone returned to Norwich and will appear in court this morning to substantiate his charges. Stone is a well known pugilist having fought among others Young Stribling. Paul Berlenback and Jack Delaney and has a knockout to his record over Silent Martin.

AWAITING NEXT MOVE ON INCOME TAX RULING

General Manager C. W. Taggart, of the City Gas and Electric department said Wednesday that the department officials had not yet decided what further steps might be taken in view of the recently announced federal decision that employes of the department whose wages brought them into the income tax figures would have to pay income taxes for seven years back. In fact, Mr. Taggart said, there were not many who would be affected by this ruling if it is carired into effect and there are a number of those who were employes in these past years, but who are no longer employed in the department.

Mr. Taggart suggested that the present attitude of the department officials is to wait and see what will be the next move by federal officials, which also seems to be the attitude in Hartford, as indicated by a telephone conversation which Corporation Counsel William H. Shields, Jr., has had with the Hartford corporation counsel upon this matter.

NORWICH MEN OFFICERS OF LORD'S POINT ASS'N. INC.

The first annual meeting of the Lord's Point Association, Inc., was held at the Kemper bungalow, at the week end. Miss R. T. Johns, president of the Lord's Point Community Association, presided. Nearly all the landholders now at the point were in attendance.

Miss Roberta Tener Johns, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was elected president; Mrs. Lena B. Clark, of Springfield, Mass., vice president; James E. Lord, of Lord's Point, treasurer; William R. Jennings, of Deep River, clerk; Ernest L. Davis, of Putnam, Harold W. Branche, of York, Patrick T. Connell and Alfred G. Lillibridge, of Norwich, board of directors.

The act incorporating Lord's Point Association, Inc., was passed by both branches near the closing hours of the legislature and at a largely attended meteing at Lord's Point July 3 the act was ratified by a unanimous vote.

WEDDINGS
Guard-Millard.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew D. Millard, of 134 Pequot avenue, New London, announce the marriage on July 20 of their daughter, Helen Carolyn, and Lieut. Joseph Archibald Guard, U. S. N., son of Mrs. William A. Guard, of Norwich, N. Y.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank M. Goodchild, D. D., pastor of the Central Baptist church, 92nd and Amsterdam avenue, New York city. The attendants were Lieut. Ralph B. Hunt, U. S. N., a former New London resident, and Mrs. Hunt. The bride has been associated with the state bureau of child welfare for three years. Lieut. Guard is stationed on the U. S. S. Smith-Thompson and has recently returned from the Asiatic station.

GIRLS FINED FOR SMOKING IN NEW YORK SUBWAY TRAIN

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—For the first time the ordinance against smoking in the subway was invoked against women today. Two pretty young stenographers arrested last night while taking a hurried puff at the Grand Central station, were fined $5 each in Yorkville court.

They said they did not know they were violating a law.

RHODE ISLAND GUNNERS PRACTICE AT FT. WRIGHT

The Two Hundred and Forty-third Coast Artillery, Rhode Island National Guard, encamped for 15 days at Fort Wright under the command of Col. C. L. D. Wells, spent its first morning this week in artillery drill, with the range and gun sections working independently. For some of the men, it was the first experience in handling big guns. Emplacement officers and regular U. S. army instructors are guiding the men. A government tug steaming up and down the Sound furnished the target for the range section.

In one or two batteries the ramming detail developed so much enthusiasm that the dummy projectiles were rammed home so hard it was necessary to put on a screw extractor to withdraw them.

To stimulate friendly rivalry between batteries, streamers will be awarded daily to the batteries in each battalion having the best policed area. Battery E of Westerly and Battery A of Providence got the awards Tuesday.

Competition is running high. Whitewash and metal polish with plenty of "elbow grease" are brightening the aspect of the camp. The kitchens and mess shacks are inspected daily by Colonel Wells and Lieut. Col. Hammond together with the medical officers.

The officers of the post held a reception Monday evening for the officers of the regiment in the service club. By mutual agreement between Colonel Ferguson of the post and Colonel Wells this reception took the place of the exchange of calls required by military custom.

Dancing followed, the music being furnished by the post orchestra.

NUNS AT SUMMER SCHOOLS STUDYING FOR DEGREES

About 600 nuns of the Mercy Order in Connecticut are following special courses of study in various institutions connected with the order in the diocese and at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., during the summer months. Two hundred and forty sisters are enrolled at Hamilton Heights, Hartford, for courses in biology and medieval history, conducted by Rev. Charles E. Shaffrey, S. J., professor of biology at Boston College, and Rev. Peter H. Masterson, S. J., professor of history at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. Classes are held daily to give the sisters an opportunity to cover the matter leading to college degrees.

A course in pedagogy has begun at the Academy of Our Lady of Mercy, Milford, with 200 of the parochial school teachers of the diocese in attendance. A third summer school to be conducted by the normal school division of supervisors of the Mercy Order will open shortly at St. Augustine's Novitiate, West Hartford. It is expected that about 100 nuns will take this course.

Twenty-eight sisters of the diocese, including two from St. Patrick's school, Norwich, are now at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C., devoting themselves to studies required for A. B. degrees.

NORWICH RECORD BEST IN TRAFFIC REGULATION

Norwich and its traffic regulation under the Norwich police department have a top-notch rating in the state motor vehicle department at Hartford where an every-day record of traffic accidents, fatal and otherwise, is kept for every city on a diagram that shows the plan of the city streets. Small pins, yellow for fatal accidents, and red for other traffic accidents, are stuck into the map as fast as reports are received, indicating just how many and at what points each city has its traffic troubles.

A visitor to the capitol Wednesday, who was shown these traffic accident maps, observed that the Norwich map was without a yellow marker and had but a small proportion of red pins, while New Haven and Bridgeport seemed to be the plague spots for fatal accidents as their maps were dotted with yellow pins, while Hartford was a rival for them in the total number of red pins that indicated traffic accidents of all other kinds.

CADETS AT FORT TERRY RIDDLED "ENEMY" FLEET

Riddled and dispersed by hundreds of shot, the "enemy" was driven from the air Tuesday by the Second battalion, 311 Coast Artillery, First Corps of cadets, which is spending two weeks in intensive training at Fort Terry. Practice on the flying target, towed by an airplane from Mitchell field, began at 10:30 a. m., when a Curtiss bomber, piloted by Lieut. Max Ballfour of New York and Sergt. Daniel Hurley of Revere, Mass., took off from the parade grounds.

For two hours and 30 minutes the plane circled above the post while men from all batteries manned the machine guns and sent steady streams of fire aloft, puncturing the oiled silk sleeve with scores of bullets. At noon Ballfour signalled his intention of descending and released the trip which cut the cable loose, dropping the target to the field. It was recovered and examined.

Exceptionally favorable comment on the work of the men was made by Capt. Joseph W. Barker, federal instructor, who said their work, considering it is the first time that they have ever fired at a "live" target, was very good.

FUNERAL
Walter H. Bushnell

The funeral of Walter H. Bushnell of West Haven was held at funeral parlors in Hartford Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Thomas M. Hodgdon, pastor of the West Hartford Congregational church, conducted the service. Burial was in Maplewood cemetery, this city. The bearers were from the New Haven office of the Southern New England Telephone company.

According to some authorities San Francisco had the first regularly organized golf club in the United States.

FLOOD OF APPLICANTS FOR "DRY" ENFORCEMENT JOBS

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—Officials concerned with the revamping of the federal prohibition enforcement program continued today to give consideration to the election of the men who are to take actual charge of enforcement in the field—the prohibition administrators—but the discussions brought only a reduction in the lists of the hundreds of men who have been put forward, either by themselves or others, as "available."

It had been planned for Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury, to take up today the work of choosing the administrators at a conference with his immediate subordinates. That plan was upset however, by a delayed train and the assistant secretary reached the treasury at five o'clock instead of noon. There have developed several questions, which must be disposed of before the personnel problem can be attacked and these are to be speeded up when Mr. Andrews gets back in the harness again tomorrow after an absence of five days.

The assistant secretary, just back from a tour of half a dozen points on the Canadian border of New York and Vermont, feels that he has profited by it although he was not ready tonight to discuss his plans. He had said previously however, that he desider better co-operation between the field forces of the three government branches engaged in dry law enforcement and it was obvious he had gathered ideas about how the customs service and agents of the prohibition unit along the border can be welded into a better working combination.

Mr. Andrews could not say definitely tonight when he would call his associates into conference on the personnel question. He is anxious to dispose of this phase of the reorganization because he recognized it as the most difficult of all, yet he emphasized that he was not going to be rushed into choosing men with whom he later might not be satisfied.

He added that it would not be absolutely necessary that the administrators be named in advance of August 1, the effective date of the reorganization, and indicated that state directors and other officials of the present system would administer the law as heretofore in event some of the administrators have not been named by that time.

EKONK

Mrs. Maria Adams, of Providence, who has been visiting her niece, Mrs. Annie Congdon, is now staying for a while with her nephew, Walter Frink and family.

Florence Gallup, Lena Sayles and Jennie Walker, who are passing the summer at Pleasant View, were at their homes here one evening, last week.

Mrs. Adella Walker was pleasantly surprised on the evening of her birthday by a party of friends.

Albert Frink, of New London, is spending a few days with his parents here and on Tuesday motored to Danielson with his mother and sister.

Rita Fillmore is visiting relatives in Providence.

Mrs. Emma Love, Mrs. Byron Gallup and Mrs. Clark Gallup attended the W. C. T. U. lawn party in Central Village last week, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Warren Tanner is recovering from her severe illness with rheumatism and is able to ride out.

George H. Gallup sold several cows to Rhode Island parties last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Tanner and Alvin Corey attended the Grange meeting in Pachaug last week.

Bertha Hall visited Mrs. Irene Frink in Plainfield last week and attended the circus.

A troop of soldiers passed over Sterling Hill and Ekonk last week Tuesday and stopped for drill on a large field at Edwin Gallup's; also gave their horses water there.

A temperance meeting was held in Sterling Hill church last week Thursday evening. The members were fortunate to have with them the state president, Mrs. Newton, who had just returned from the convention in Scotland and gave her hearers a very interesting account of her trip, also encouraged all to be loyal and true to the temperance cause. Another speaker was Mrs. Esther Brown, county president, who talked very interestingly and sang several temperance songs, accompanied by a harp. Miss Barr, who was a companion to Mrs. Newton on her trip abroad, talked to the young people about the Loyal Temperance Legion.

James Congdon and Charles Tanner are assisting Harry Maynard with his haying.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Gallup and daughter Shirley and Flora and Albert Gallup were callers at Mrs. Byron Gallup's, Sunday.

All are busy preparing for a lawn party on the lawn of the Sterling Hill Baptist church.

Mrs. Howard Byles sang at the Sunday morning service in the Baptist church at Danielson.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Slocum, of Westerly, were calling on friends here, Tuesday.

The fire which destroyed the house of Joseph Beretti, in Moosup, was plainly seen from here.

ROAD SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. F. Hull, of Oshkosh, Wis., and their niece, Mrs. Davis of New Jersey with a friend from Stonington, were callers at the Denison homestead and at Maple Lawn on Sunday.

Noyes, Herbert and William Palmer are on a fishing cruise.

F. H. Hull and party were at Herbert West's recently. Mr. Hull's grandfather, the late Col. John W. Hull, formerly lived there.

The recent thunder storm put many telephones out of commission.

Mr. and Mrs. William Billings entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hallam Whiting from Springfield over Sunday and when they returned they were accompanied by their two daughters, who have been spending some time here.

Mrs. Seth N. Williams and Mrs. Elliott H. Peabody were at Watch Hill Saturday.

Mrs. Nancy Dewey Packer, wife of Halsey Packer of Mystic, who was buried in the Road cemetery Monday was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Israel Dewey of Old Mystic and was well known in this locality, and highl esteemed.

Mrs. George Tapley and sister, Miss Sheffield, of Springfield, were recent callers at Maple Lawn.

A. G. Wheeler and sister, Miss Dorothy, motored to Peterboro, New Hampshire and spent the week end with their sister, Linda, who is in camp there.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Lincoln and daughter, Marjorie, of Leonia, New Jersey, who are in the houseboat which is anchored off Watch Hill were recent callers here.

Miss Grace D. Wheeler and Gladys M. Sebastian attended the picnic of the Old Mystic Methodist Sunday school at Watch Hill Saturday.

A purse of $10,000 has been guaranteed for the big open golf tournament to be held in Los Angeles next winter.

NORWICH BOY MADE HOLDUP IN HARTFORD

Tuesday night was a night of small returns for highwaymen on Hartford streets, according to reports filed today at police headquarters. One victim yielded up 35 cents, and a second could only furnish a quarter in swag for a gunman.

Barney Kupsmus of Wapping told the police that shortly after midnight he was approached by a colored boy on Grove street, who asked Kupsmus to pay for something to eat. Kupsmus refused, thereupon the boy produced a revolver and demanded Kupsmus to turn over his money. Kupsmus delivered all he had, 25 cents, and then followed the boy down Main street to Buckingham, where a complaint was made to a policeman and the lad was arrested. The boy, 15 years old, was in juvenile court Wednesday. His home is in Norwich.

This is the same boy whose father, Richard Hackley, of 8L8 High street, sent back an insulting message for Capt. Thomas Murphy and Probation Officer Edwin Hill, when a policeman was sent to the Hackley home Sunday night to tell the father that the boy was wanted at police headquarters Monday night by the probation officer. Neither the man nor the boy appeared and the next heard of the boy was the attempted holdup in Hartford. The boy is under suspicion of theft of a wrist watch at the Bergstresser residence last week.

HIT TELEPHONE POLE ON SALEM TURNPIKE

A bakery truck of the General Baking Co., of Springfield, Mass., driven by Fred W. Kingsley, of Yantic, hit a telephone pole on the Salem turnpike early Wednesday evening after striking a machine driven by Raymond L. Clark of 2 Peck street. The bakery wagon driver claimed that in trying to avoid Peck's machine which was coming out of a driveway near Maplewood cemetery, he turned his machine into the pole. The Peck machine had a left front mudguard and hub cap damaged. The bakery car, which was a Reo speed wagon, had the rear end pulled out of line, according to the driver's report, and may have other damage.

Reported Minor Accident

Joseph Muscarella of 110 Shaw street, New London, reported to the police a minor accident to his automobile Wednesday night. It was struck by another machine as he was turning around near Hilltop.

PIGEON RELEASED 1,000 MILES AT SEA RETURNED HOME

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Albert Johnson announced tonight that a pigeon belonging to him which had been released Sunday from the liner Paris, 1,000 miles at sea by friends of his, had arrived back home. He believed this to be the longest pigeon flight on record.

The pigeon seemed untired after its long flight.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Witter Kinney Tingley and traveling party have reached Helsingfors, Finland.

Miss Elizabeth E. Johnson, of Lincoln avenue, has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. B. S. Carrier, of Manchester.

Miss Carol MacGregory, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of her cousin, Miss Esther Gilbert, at Groton Long Point.

John L. Mitchell and son Albert Gibbs Mitchell, of Baltimore, former Norwich residents, have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor Ely.

Mr. and Mrs. Harwood B. Dolbeare have returned to their home in Ithaca, N. Y., after spending several weeks visiting in Norwich and in New York city.

The little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Benedict C. Pullen, Misses Mary Elizabeth and Kate Nima Pullen, are at Keene, N. H., visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Piper.

William C. Ruggles, of Broad street, leaves today (Thursday) for New York, to remain over the week end. Monday next he will meet his sister, Miss Annie L. Ruggles, who is returning on the Atlantic transport Minnetonka, from London. Since early in the year Miss Ruggles has been touring the Continent and in England.

TO FILL GAPS IN ARCTIC COLECTIONS

Dr. Walter N. Koelz, fish and bird expert, who is sailing north on the "Bowdoin" of the MacMillan Arctic expedition to make studies and collect specimens of Arctic land and water fauna for the National Geographic society is one of the leading specialists of the world on the White Fish, important commercial fish of the Great Lakes.

Dr. Koelz was born in Waterloo, Michigan, and after elementary schooling there and preparatory work in the neighboring town of Chelsea, attended the University of Michigan, where he took Bachelor's, Master's and Doctor's degrees. He taught zoology at the University of Michigan until 1917, when, joining the staff of the United States Bureau of Fisheries, he began for that organization a detailed study of the White Fish, the most important commercial fish of the Great Lakes.

When Dr. Koelz began his investigations little was known of the White Fish. Since the days of Linnaeus this family of fishes has constituted a stubborn problem in classification. As a result of Dr. Koelz's seven years of work with the fishing fleets in the commercial fishing ports of the United States and Canada, and in the laboratory, science now for hte first time has practically complete data in regard to the American White Fish.

Dr. Koelz has described the ten species and scores of races of this family in American waters and has collected and preserved 30,000 individual fish, the largest colection of White Fish in the world. This collection is in the museum of the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

In the course of his work Dr. Koelz has discovered and described several entirely new species, one of which was found to be confined to Lakes Winnipegon and Winnipeg in Canada. This discovery was of considerable importance since it supports the theories of glacioligists in regard to the hypothetical ancient body of water called Lake Agassiz. So complex did the classification of White Fish prove to be, due to the bewildering slight differences in individuals, that Dr. Koelz found it necessary to invent a new method of differentiation, a ratio based on nose length, upper jaw length, fin length and head depth. The fish of his huge collection have their relationships indicated, therefore, by decimals, somewhat like those on the filing tags of books in a great library.

When not on the Great lakes with his nets on the trail of fish, Dr. Koelz has spent many hours with trap and gun obtaining specimens of birds. He has gotten together, and owns personally, one of the finest collections of hawks and waders in North America.

Going off to the Arctic to collect fish, birds and mammals is not like an afternoon's jaunt near home with gun or rod and little else. Hundreds of pounds of special supplies and equipment had to be taken along and problems of packing and transportation involved in getting the specimens safely back to the United States had to be worked out. Dr. Koelz took aboard the "Peary," one of the MacMillan Expedition ships, the following formidable supplies; 15 gallons of formaldehyde, 20 gallons of alcohol, 100 pounds of salt, 2,000 feet of gill nets made of linen thread, trammel nets, dozens of thermometers, automatic water sampling bottles, silk bolting cloth to seine up the almost microscopic food of the fish, dredges for creatures living on the sea bottom, insect nets, plant presses and a number of copper tanks for use in preserving fish.

Because space is at a high premium on the "Bowdoin" and "Peary" there will be much improvision. When his fish have been "pickled" in alcohol and formaldehyde, Dr. Koelz plans to commandeer empty gasoline drums in which to bring the specimens back to the United States. The fish are preserved whole, and will eventually repose in glass jars of alcohol.

The preservation of bird specimens is simple. The skins are split and slipped off with the feathers still in place. The neck is then severed so tha tthe head and skin remain. These are generously salted, and after drying, are packed away. Because they can be packed flat the bird skins take up little space. Hundreds of them can be stowed away in an ordinary wooden packing case. Back home these skins will be softened by the washing out of the salt, will be stuffed with excelsior and mounted, being thus brought back to a lifelike appearance.

The skins of land animals will be removed and dressed and numerous photographs of the animals will be brought back to aid taxidermists in giving them a lifelike mounting.

The Lyons Co.
WAUREGAN BLOCK
NORWICH, CONN.

Thursday Morning Specials
Come Down Town and Shop—It Will Pay You.
GIRLS' KHAKI PLAY SUITS, 2 to 6 years, $1.00.
CHILDREN'S BLOOMER DRESSES, 2 to 6 years, 79c.
BOYS' COVER-ALLS $1.00 and $1.25.
2 to 6 years, 79c
SOCKS, 4 pair for $1.00.
These are regular 39c a pair.
Sizes 5½ to 7½.
LADIES' $1.25 PRINCESS SLIP

BERLENBACH WILL MEET DELANEY IN TITLE BOUT ON AUGUST 28

NEW YORK, July 22—(A. P.)—Paul Berlenbach of Astoria, N. Y., world's light heavyweight champion, will meet his ancient enemy, Jack Delaney of Bridgeport, Conn., in a 15-round title match at the Yankee Stadium, August 28, Tex Rickard announced today. Supporting this championship match Rickard is angling to match Mike McTigue, former world's light-heavyweight champion, with Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, N. Y., and Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia with Tiger Flowers of Atlanta, Ga., in two ten rounders.

Delaney is the stumbling block over which Berlenbach tripped when the latter was traveling to the heights of one of the most impressive knockout careers in the history of the fistic game. It was on the night of March 14, 1924, at Madison Square Garden when Berlenbach felt the sting of one of Delaney's rights on his jaw and was knocked out for the first time in his career. Previous to this upset, Berlenbach had piled up a total of 23 consecutive knockouts, numbering among his victims some of the best middleweights outside of the select circle of champions.

Berlenbach entered the ring for his match with Delaney, a top heavy favorite owing to his record but Delaney, backed by hundreds of supporters from Bridgeport who had confidence in his ability to stop Berlenbach, upset the dope and floored the former amateur for the count of ten. Attempts to rematch the two have failed in the past owing to Berlenbach's match with McTigue which resulted in a change of the 175 pound title.

Delaney has fully as impressive a record as his rival. Except for two six round defeats at the hands of Jimmy Slattery of Buffalo, N. Y., Delaney's record is clean since his fight with Berlenbach.

The remainder of the card sought by Rickard will bring together old friends in the middleweight and light-weight divisions, Slattery, who reaches his 31st birthday two days before the scheduled match, will fight his first fight over the ten round route in this state, his age holding him to a six round limit on previous occasions. This will also mark Slattery's first appearance in a New York ring since his defeat at the hands of Dave Shade of California at the Polo Grounds, July 2.

The Loughran-Flowers match will bring together two prominent middleweights who stand out in the outer circle of championship contenders.

RAIN HALTS PLAY IN MANCHESTER TENNIS

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 22—(A. P.)—Rain prevented play in the mixed doubles matches in the Women's invitation tournament at the Essex county country club here this afternoon, six teams were on the courts preparing to start the preliminary round when a heavy shower drove all to the club house. The rain, however, held off until four teams of favorites easily disposed of their opponents to enter the fourth round of doubles play.

Miss Helen Wills and Miss Mary K. Browne, both of California, entered the fourth bracket by defeating Miss Penelope Anderson of Richmond, Va., and Miss Isabella Munford of Cambridge, 6-1, 6-1. Earlier in the day the victors entered the semi-finals of the singles play which takes place tomorrow.

Miss Wills, the present national and olympic champion, defeated Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere of Southboro, 6-0, 6-1, and Miss Browne played one of the hardest matches of her career to defeat Miss Martha Bayard, Short Hills, N. Y. 6-1, 4-6, 8-6.

The semi-final round will bring Miss Wills and Mrs. Marian Z. Jessup, Wilmington, Del., together, and Miss Browne will face Mrs. Molla B. Mallory, New York.

In the other third round doubles matches Mrs. Mary Sutton Boundy and Miss Marian Williams, both of California, defeated Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere, of Southboro, and Mrs. William Endocott of Manchester, 6-4, 4-6, 7-5.

Miss Eleanor Goss of New York and Mrs. Marian Z. Jessup, Wilmington, Deawware, defeated Miss Margaret Blake, Lennox, and Mrs. Charles H. Hubbard of Cambridge, 6-0, 3-6, 6-2.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan of England and Miss Eleanor Sears of Beverely Farms, defeated Mrs. B. E. Cole, 2nd., of North, Andover, and Mrs. F. H. Godfrey of Boston, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

ROSENBERG-SHEA BOUT IS POSTPONED A DAY

NEW YORK, July 22—(A. P.)—The Charley (Phil) Rosenberg-Eddie Shea bantamweight title match, postponed tonight by a series of showers which flooded the wooden saucer of the Velodrome A. C., will be held tomorrow night, weather permitting.

The state athletic commission sanctioned the postponement and gave its approval for the new date after the boxers had all weighed in at the office of the commission.

Rosenberg scaled 118 today hitting the bantamweight limit right on the head. Shea weighed 117 3-4 after a hard struggle with superfluous flesh.

Monday, Shea's handlers said, weighed 125 pounds and was forced to curtail his training and dry out to get down within the limit. Both principals were rejoicing tonight when the commission said they would not be required to weigh in again tomorrow. This means that both the champion and his challenger will enter the ring weighing between 120 and 125 pounds. The remainder of the card will be held tomorrow as previously scheduled.

VICENTINI RETURNS SEEKING BOUTS WITH GOODRICH

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Luis Vicentini, Chilean lightweight, returned to the United States today after a visit to his native land, seeking a bout with Jimmy Goodrich, recently crowned leightweight champion by his victory in the New York state athletic commission's elimination tournament.

Goodrich won his title recognition by defeating another Chilean, Stanislaus Loayza, in the final round of the tourney.

Vicentini's first battle is likely to be against Solly Seaman of New York at the Queensboro Athletic club on August 17. Negotiations were begun today for this bout, and announcement was made that Goodrich had agreed to meet the winner at the same club about the end of August.

"Pepper" Martin's Funeral.

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Well known pugilists and sportsmen were among fifteen hundred persons who filled the Church of Our Lady Lauries, Brooklyn, at funeral services today for Vincent (Pepper) Martin, junior lightweight boxer, who died of pneumonia last Sunday.

Taylor and Graham Matched

CHICAGO, July 22.—(AP)—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., bantamweight, was matched tonight to box Bushy Graham, of Utica, N. Y., in a 10-round contest at Aurora, July 31.

WRIGHT WINS MEDAL IN QUALIFYING ROUND

BROOKLINE, Mass., July 22.—(AP)—Freddie Wright of Albermarle won the prize for the best medal score in the qualifying rounds of the 21st Massachusetts amateur championship golf tournament today at the Brookline Country club. He led the field of 102 starters with a card of 147 strokes for the 36 qualifying holes.

Billy McPhail of Norfolk, was one stroke behind with a card of 148 and Francis Ouimet of Woodland, and Winthrop P. Hersey of Wellesley, were tied for third with cards of 149.

Thirty-one of the 102 starters qualified with rounds of 161 or less. Three golfers, O. Kenny of Weston, Clark Hodder of Commonwealth, and George Styffe, of Green Hill, were tied with 162. They will play a play-off round tomorrow morning and the low scorer will be named the 32nd qualifier.

The heavy downpour which fell late in the afternoon seriously handicapped the golfers. A high wind swept the course and caused well-placed tee and second shots to go astray. At least 25 golfers who were figured to qualify were put off their games by the weather and turned in no-cards.

GOLFERS QUALIFY UNDER ADVERSE CONDITIONS

LONG BEACH, N. Y., July 22.—(AP)—When more than seventy amateur golfers of New York state gathered on the Lido course to qualify in their third annual championship only two, Frank E. Wattlers, Jr., of Buffalo, and Neal Fulkerson of the Belleclaire Club on Long Island were abe to better 80.

Wattles drove through a sandstorm in the morning, registering a 77 against a 60-mile wind that roared across the fairways He was five strokes over par, but four birdies kept his card within reasonable bounds.

Fulkerson was in trouble several times, four sixes and a seven showing in his figures, but his 79 was considered exceptional under the conditions.

The up-state entrants made good another threat when W. Hamilton Gardiner of Buffalo came out of the swirling sand with 80 to assume third position.

The championship field goes into match play tomorrow and Friday with the 36-hole finals on Saturday.

RAIN PREVENTS PIRATES FROM TAKING LEAD

PHILADELPHIA, July 22—(A. P.)—The Pittsburgh Pirates appeared to have victory and the National League lead almost in their grasp today when rain put a stop to the game with the Philadelphia club in the latter half of the fifth inning. The score was 7 to 3 in Pittsburgh's favor when the downpour washed the game from the official records. The Phillies had two men on bases with no one out in the fifth.

As the league leading New York Giants were idle, a victory for the Pirates would have placed them in front and with this object in view they hammered two of the Phillies pitchers hard, accumulating ten hits off Decatur and Pearce in four innings. Traynor and Cuyler for Pittsburgh, had home runs. Aldridge held the Phillies to two hits in four innings, but he was a little wild.

FALLS TEAM SLAUGHTERS HOBART AVE. PLAYERS

In a nine inning slaughter the Falls victimized Hobart Ave. in a 23-0 slugging match at the N. F. A. Campus Wednesday afternoon. After the afternoon exhibition several of the boys from Miss Taft's playground whispered in the ear of a spectator that they had just about decided to take up marathon running in favor of baseball.

The boys from the avenue aren't half bad ball players as they displayed in the last three innings of the game by holding the Falls to a no hit no run session. Lack of a good pitcher contributed a great deal to disaster of the afternoon. "Joe" Burnes work aton the mound for Coach Taft's team was the sensation of the afternoon. In addition to holding his opponents scoreless, "Joe" fanned 12 and allowed but two hits in eight innings. The score:

FLIGHT OF TIME WINS WAKEFIELD HANDICAP

YONKERS, July 22.—(AP)—W. J. Salmon's Flight of Time, running in the mud at Empire City today, easily captured the Wakefield Handicap for two year olds at fifive and one-half furlongs by two lengths. Sea Rocket, in second place, was six lengths ahead of Raeull.

In three furlongs, Flight of Time took mud from the flying heels of Bookbinder and Sea Rocket, but coming into the backstretch the Salmon entry was pushed into the lead by Jockey Maiben. Sea Rocket took second place under the whip as Bookbinder tired.

The winner was a 9 to 20 favorite.

SWEENEY WINS TOURNEY AT WATERBURY CLUB

WATERBURY, July 22.—(AP)—Rain, which caused a postponement of a large number of sporting events in Waterbury today, failed to halt golfers from all parts of the state who traveled over the 18-hole course at the Waterbury Country club in the invitation tournament, Connecticut Golf association, which was won by W. J. Sweeney, of New Britain, who turned in a net score of 135 for 36 holes. The players in the tourney were forced to play under a handicap when heavy showers interrupted their game, forcing them at times to wade through miniature lakes to follow the ball.

WEST ENDS TO PLAY AT TAFTVILLE SATURDAY

Sam Heller, manager of the West Ends, of Willimantic, is bringing a fast bunch of ball players to the Providence street grounds at Taftville, on Saturday, to clash with the fast Taftville A. A. club. Heller is using Lefty Smith, former major leaguer, to hurl against the Taftville youngsters and it looks as though the locals would have a busy afternoon. The West Ends will go to bat in the following order: Flippen 1b., Rabinowitz ss., Haggerty lf., A. Heller cf., H. Heller rf., Warner 2b., S. Heller 3b., Mella c., Lefty Smith p.

Taftville will use the reserve lineup with the exception of Ben Houlihan in right field in place of Gaudette

Turnesa Wins Title.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—(AP)—Playing consistent golf throughout the two-day tournament, Joe Turnesa, youthful professional of the Fairview Country club, Elmsford, L. I., today won the Pennsylvania open championship from a field of nearly seventy-five players. His score for the seventy-two holes was 291; eight strokes better than J. W. Platt, Philadelphia, amateur, who finished second.

TODAY'S SPORTS

RACING

Meeting of Empire City Racing association, at Yonkers.
Meeting of Windsor Jockey club, at Windsor.
Meeting of Business Men's Racing association, at Chicago.

TROTTING

Meeting of Grand Circuit at Kalamazoo.

GOLF

Scottish amateur championship tournament, at Muirfield.
Annual Isham Cup tournament at Manchester, Vt.
New York State amateur championship, at Long Beach, L. I.
Massachusetts State amateur championship, at Brookline.
South Dakota State championship, at Sioux Falls.
New Hampshire State championship opens at Manchester, N. H.

SHOOTING

Great Lakes Zone trapshooting championship opens at Milwaukee.
Kentucky State trapshooting championship, at Louisville.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

All games postponed—rain.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Po
New York	52	35	.598
Pittsburgh	50	34	.595
Brooklyn	43	42	.500
Cincinnati	42	43	.494
St Louis	42	45	.483
Philadelphia	42	45	.483
Chicago	39	48	.448
Boston	36	53	.404

GAMES TODAY.

New York at Boston.
Only games scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

No games scheduled.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Washington	57	31	.648
Philadelphia	56	31	.644
St. Louis	48	44	.522
Chicago	47	44	.516
Detroit	47	44	.516
Cleveland	40	52	.435
New York	37	53	.411
Boston	28	61	.315

GAMES TODAY.

Cleveland at St. Louis.
Chicago at Detroit.
Boston at Philadelphia.
Washington at New York.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Baltimore 1, Toronto 0 (first game).
Baltimore 6, Toronto 3 (called by agreement in 7th—second game).
Providence 8, Rochester 9.
Reading 5, Buffalo 13.
Jersey City-Syracuse game scheduled for today played in doubleheader July 19th.

EASTERN LEAGUE

Pittsfield at Worcester, first game, called off; rain.
Pittsfield 6, Worcester 6. (9 innings, called darkness).
Second game:
Other Eastern games postponed, rain.

SEEDED PLAYERS COME THROUGH WITH VICTORIES

NEW YORK, July 22—(A. P.)—In spite of frequent interruptions by rain, progress in the Metropolitan turf court tennis championship singles today carried seeded favorites into the round before the semi-finals. Vincent Richards, Olympic champion, Takeichi Harada, Japanese star and S. Howard Voshell, veteran left hander, were victors.

Rickards was an easy winner over William T. Einsmann of New York, and Weller B. Evans of Princeton, while Clifford B. Marsh of Williams fell before the severe service and hard driving of Voshell.

Harada was the most impressive of a trio of Japanese stars seeking the title. The fourth player to reach the round before the semi-finals, easily outplayed the Filipino, Manuel Barredo, former Cornell star, 6-1, 6-2. Zenzo Shimizu advanced to the fourth round by eliminating John Van Ryn, 6-3, 6-4, but M. Fukuda succombed to the hard-hitting Elliott Binzen, 6-2, 6-3.

Singles:

Third round: Hugh G. M. Kelleher put out F. W. Barrett, 6-3, 6-1; Elliott H., Binzen defeated M. Fukuda, 6-2, 6-3; Hugh Oakley won from Arnold W. Jones by default, Vincent Richards defeated William V. Eisemann, 6-0, 6-2; Takeichi Harada eliminated Robert Sloman, 6-4, 6-2; Manuel H. Barredo won from Jerome Lang by default; Zenzu Shimizu defeated John Van Ryn, 6-3, 6-4; Dr. Cecil Donaldson defeated Dr. E. F. Drake, 6-3, 6-3; Dr. George King defeated J. G. Hall, 6-4, 6-2; Herbert L. Bowman won from Dr. L. Rosenbaum, 6-3, 6-1.

Fourth round—Cedric A. Major eliminated Oakley, 7-5, 5-7; S. Howard Voshell defeated Clifford B. Marsh, 6-2, 6-3; Richards won over Weller B. Evans, 6-3, 6-2; Harada defeated Barredo, 6-4, 6-2.

SNODGRASS GIVES TILDEN HARD STRUGGLE TO WIN

CHICAGO, July 22—(A. P.)—William T. Tilden II of Philadelphia, national tennis champion, is in the semi-final round of the Illinois state tennis tournament, but only after two points of being defeated today by Harvey Snodgrass of Los Angeles, rated sixth.

Bothered considerably by a sore shoulder, the champion was forced to put everything he had into his game to beat the stolid coast star. The scores were 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

Tilden took the opening set, after prolonged rallies and some clean placements, 6-3, but Snodgrass fought hard to take the second set 6-4. The final set was a thriller. Tilden jumped into the lead 3 to 1 but Snodgrass tied the score at 3-3, and then at 4 all. On Tilden's serve, with the champion faltering on two easy shots, the score was 5-4. Snodgrass had 30-0 within two points of victory. Four prolonged rallies, each of which was ended by Tilden placing the ball out of Snodgrass' reach, or where he made double shots, gave Tilden the game and set was out of danger.

Wray Brown, of St. Louis, was the author of the upset of the day, although it was not unexpected, when he trimmed Wallace F. Johnson, the chop-stroke expert from Philadelphia. Brown played Johnson at his own game, chopping throughout to win in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

Silver Fox Record Broken

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., July 22.—(AP)—"Sheffield Scout," which in scoring 98 points at the Muskegon, Mich., Fox show in 1921 was said to have established a record never equalled by another silver fox, was accidently killed on the Sheffield Farms here today. The fox was whelped in 1920 and won a world's championship title at the Michigan show.

ANOTHER RANK OUTSIDER WINS RICH PURSE AT KALAMAZOO

KALAMAZOO, Mich., July 22.—(AP)—Todd Hart, bred and owned by C. D. Hart, Clinton, Iowa, automobile dealer, toppled over Trumpet and Hollyrood Jessie, the favorites in the 15th renewal of the $10,000 Exchange Club purse here this afternoon by a burst of speed that carried the gelding to victory in the second and third heats after finishing in second place behind Trumpet, the Tommy Murphy entrant, in the first mile.

The victory was a popular one with the crowd, as the victory forced Murphy to finish outside of first position for the first time during the Kalamazoo meet. Trumpet took second money with St. Roberts next.

The time of the three miles averaged 2:06 1-2, which was three and a quarter seconds slower than the record of 2:03 1-4 for the event, hung up by Favonian in 1923 and equalled by Fayette National last year.

Summaries:

2:15 Pace, 3 Heats, Purse $1,000 (1 1-8 Mile Heats)

Norman Grattan, br g by Grattan Royal, (Palin) 1 1 1
Red Herr, (Shively) 6 2 2
Fred R., b g, (Parshall) 2 5 3
Sir Robert Hal, Betty Allen, Helen Direct, Oakland Lad, H. C. Marbal Patch also started.
Time—2:21 3-4; 2:21 1-2; 2:24.

2:08 Trot, 3 Heats, Exchange Club Purse $10,000 (Mile Heats)

Todd Hart, b g by Kentucky Todd, (Putnam) 2 1 2
Trumpet, (Murphy) 1 2 12
St. Roberts, (Willis) 11 4 2
Hollyrood Jessie, Harris Axtien, John Gallagher, Great Bells, Diamond Axworthy, Costa, Jay, Sarah Thomas, Herbelwyn, Prince Loree also started.
Time—2:06 3-4; 2:06 1-4; 2:06 1-2.

2:13 Trot, 3 Heats, Kalamazoo Pant Co. Purse $3,000 (Mile Heats)

Bob Armstrong, ch h by Chestnut Peter, (Tallman).. 1 2 1
Crawford, (Murphy) 2 1 2
Peter Fellows, (Garrison) .. 4 4 3
Thompson Dillon, Toulus Boy, The Great Lullwater, Santax the Great, Southward also started.
Time—2:06 1-4; 2:04 3-4; 2:06 1-4.

2:07 Trot, 3 Heats, Rickman Hotel Purse $1,000 (Mile Heats)

Chrystie Mac, b g by Malcolm Forbes, (Morrow).. 4 4 1 1
Hurry Up White 1 2 2 3
Cupid's Arlingen, (Cox)... 7 1 7 2
Voltage, Peter Coley, Peter A. Montgomery, Gertrude F., Alisal also started.
Time—2:07 1-2; 2:06 1-2; 2:06 1-2; 2:13 1-4.

CENTRALS AND SAINTS CLASH IN TONIGHT'S GAME

The fans received the disappointment of the season last night when the weather took a hand and the E. C. P. East End game was postponed. Without a doubt it would have been one of the best games of the season with both teams using new stars in addition to those already in their lineup.

Provided the weather doesn't interfere tonight the Centrals and the St. Joseph's team will make a go of it and from the time the first ball is thrown out until the last man is out it will be a tough battle, the Centrals fighting grimly to hold their one run lead and Mgr. Oney's team to climb out of the cellar. In most cases where the leading team is playing a tail ender it doesn't mean a thing but in this case it means a whole lot because should the Saints turn the trick tonight the Centrals, Hallville, Palace and E. C. P. will all be practically tied for first place. Mgr. Oney stated last night that his heart has been set since he took hold of the Saints to spill the Centrals and he will feel well repaid if tonight his boys come through. When asked to announce his lineup he said that "Spike" Liberty, "Nap" Liberty, "Tony" West, "Dinty" Moore, Allard, Leclaire and Zempke would be there and a few others that will take Mgr. Hollands breath away. It can be seen that Oney really means business and tonights affair should be good. While Mgr. Oney is making all kinds of predictions and promises the Centrals Mgr. is merely taking it easy and not saying a word and everyone that has seen his team perform knows that he has nothing to worry about as his team is the scrappiest nine in the league. The Centrals will use the same lineup as in previous games: Eccleston catch, Dugas 1st base, Cardie at second, Gauthier on short, Yerrington on third and Murphy, Courbouis and L. Dugas in the outfield. Both managers refused to announce who would be the twirling, both teams have strong pitching staffs and whoever pitches will no doubt have a good deal to say as to how the game shall go.

PLAYGROUNDS TEAM STARTS SERIES WITH PLAINFIELD

The three game series between the Norwich Playgrounds team and the Plainfield team which will be played at Sugar Brook farm in Central Village the last three days of this week starts today. The games are in connection with the mid-summer carnival for the benefit of the organ fund of the Central Village Congregational church. The game is scheduled for 3:30 o'clock The Playgrounds team is made up largely of Academy players or players who will be at the Academy next year. The team will be picked from the following: Lloyd Jarvis, Johnny Greene and Woods, pitchers; Burns, Goldblatt and Mish, catchers; Burke 1b., Carlin and Busch 2b., Tombari ss., Carroll, Marks and Yerrington 3b., Shorty Hamel, Brewer, Greene and Jarvis, outfielders.

DODGERS NOSE OUT COLONIALS IN EXHIBITION

KINGSTON, N. Y., July 22.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Nationals defeated the Colonials here today in an exhibition game by a score of 5 to 4. A home run by Tierney in the sixth with two men on gave the big leaguers the contest. Art Brown, Brooklyn rookie, struck out ten men in the six innings but was found for six hits and four runs during that time. Oeschger relieved him at the start of the seventh. The score.

Brooklyn .... 0 0 2 0 0 3 0 0 0—5 9 1
Colonials .... 0 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 0—4 8 2

Batteries: Brown, Oeschger and Hargraves; Kiney and Robins.

TAFTVILLE-ALL STARS GAME POSTPONED TO FRIDAY

Rain caused the Taftville A. A.-Dugas All-Stars game scheduled for Wednesday night to be postponed until Friday evening. The game was anticipated with much interest as there is keen rivalry between Dugas and Troland. Troland will have Jarvis, Mills, Stanley, Yerrington, Gauthier, Cardie, A. Dugas, Lloyd Jarvis and Eccleston. Dugas will put the following team on the field: Hamel, Mike Morin, Couillard, Jack Murphy, Foote, Chip Dugas, Jim Murphy, Bus Murphy and Lemieux

English Collegians Homeward Bound

NEW YORK July 22.—(AP)—Nine members of the Oxford Cambridge track team, which engaged in meets with athletes of four American universities sailed for home today on the Liner America.

WORCESTER AND PITTSFIELD PLAY TO TIE SCORE

WORCESTER, Mass., July 22—(A. P.)—Worcester and Pittsfield had a double header on today's card. The first game was declared off on account of a light rain, which soon after ceased and the other game was started. They played to a 6 to 6 tie in nine innings when it became so dark from the low hanging clouds that Umpire Brown called the game. Score:

Pittsfield ..... 103 011 100—6
Worcester ..... 001 002 210—6

Two base hits H. Thomas, Eayrs, Rodrigues. Sacrifices Wright, Phillips, Bedford, Gouger. Left on bases Worcester 9; Pittsfield 9. Base on balls, Anderson 3, Mills 3. Struck out by Mills 2. Wild pitch, Anderson. Umpires Brown and McDonald. Time 2:07.

WHITE SOX WIN EASY GAME AT BATTLE CREEK

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 22.—(AP—Exhibition)—"Chief" Bender, restored to the active list by the Chicago White Sox pitched three innings of an exhibition game against Battle Creek. The score:

White Sox .. 4 1 2 0 0 0 0 0 1 — 8 16 1
Battlecreek . 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 — 1 5 5

Faber Cvengros, Bender and Grabowski, Epperson, Claset, Ames, Katz and Goode.

Airlie Vs. Baltic Clerks

Tonight at Airlie field, Hanover, the Baltic Clerks' baseball team will cross bats with the Airlie club in what is expected to be a fast game. The battery for the Clerks will be Ridgeway and Provencher; Red Charon will play first base, Al Caron, 2nd base, Charles Charron, shortstop, Eli Charron, third base, Flynn left field, Butch Cote centerfield, Freddie Charron in right. Manager Harrison of the Airlie team had not decided on his battery and will use his regular team.

Standing of Junior Twi League

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Warriors	2	0	1.000
Tigers	1	1	.500
Rosedales	2	2	.500
Rovers	1	2	.333
Crescents	1	2	.333

Shade Gets Decision.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 22.—Dave Shade of California, was awarded the judges' decision over Morrie Schlaiffer of Omaha, at the end of their ten-round bout at the Wilkesbarre baseball park tonight.

Exhibition Game.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 22. (AP)
Cleveland .....202 210 001—8 14 1
Terre Haute .....001 002 000—3 8 4

Miller, Ruckeye, Speece and Myatt, La Sewell, Walters; Lukanovic and Douglas.

SPORT WORLD BRIEFS

Lane Gore, star pitcher of Baylor university (Texas), has been signed by St. Paul.

Steve Adamson, right-hand pitcher, with Columbus until a short time ago has signed with Springfield of the Western Association.

Kansas City has obtained Pitcher Louis Koupal, a right-hander, from the Pittsburg Pirates, an option. He was a star with Omaha last season.

Billy Bayne, left-handed pitcher, formerly with the St. Louis Browns, has been sent to Tulsa of the Western League, by Toledo. He could not get going.

Jack Finnerman of Rhinelander, Wis., a southpaw pitcher, has been signed by Milwaukee. He was the property of Cleveland this spring, and later shifted to Kansas City.

Tom Moran, a pitcher, and son of Charley Moran, the National League umpire, has been signed by Toledo. He was a star pitcher at Centre college, which institution his dad made famous with his football teams.

Guy Sturdy is back with Muskogee. The first baseman, who played great ball with Tulsa until breaking his leg early in the spring, was a welcome addition to Gabby Street's squad.

Pitcher Hooks Bailey has been returned to Fort Smith by Quincy of the Three-I League. He was immediately turned over to Independence, the Fort Smith staff being well balanced and not in need of a lefthander.

Minneapolis has obtained Ray Francis, left-handed pitcher, from the Cincinnati Reds. The Reds got him via the waiver route from the Boston Red Sox. He was with the Yankees earlier in the season, coming up from Atlanta of the Southern League.

THE SCHELDT

"By one of the most important treaties signed since the group of international agreements that followed the World war, Belgium is again officially given the right of free navigation on the Scheldt river, the European waterway which probably has figured in more treaties and wars than any other," says a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"The Scheldt is the economic jugular vein of Belgium," continues the bulletin. "On it, fifty miles from the sea lies Antwerp, Belgian metropolis, and one of the best equipped and busiest ports in the world. Up and down the stream flows traffic worth tens of millions of dollars; and almost every penny's worth of it goes to or from Antwerp. Yet the river is not under Belgian rule. It reaches the sea through Dutch territory, and so The Netherlands has ultimate control.

"The Dutch acquired the right to close the Scheldt to commerce by the Treaty of Munster in 1648 and continued to exercise the right for more than two centuries. When the territory of the old kingdom of The Netherlands was divided in 1839 and Belgium was formed, The Netherlands held on to the territory on both banks of the Scheldt and had its right to control the river traffic reaffirmed. Tolls were levied against Antwerp shipping until 1863, when Auguste Lambermont, a Belgian statesman, raised a fund of more than $3,000,000 which was paid to The Netherlands to free the river tolls. Lambermont induced a number of countries interested in the Antwerp trade to 'chip in' toward this fund. In appreciation of his labors, Antwerp has erected a fine statue to his memory.

"The portion of The Netherlands that lies on the south bank of the Scheldt and so gives the Dutch control of the mouth of the river, is Dutch Flanders, a strip of territory 40 miles long, varying in width from 10 miles to less than one mile. Belgian territory does not begin until the head of the delta is reached and the estuary narrows down to a width of less than a mile. This is about 12 miles below Antwerp. Heretofore Belgium has had to pay part of the cost of lighting and buoying the entire estuary. Under the most recent treaty each country will be, responsible for marking the river along its territory.

"The Dutch port of Flushing lies at the mouth of the Scheldt. From there through the 50 miles up to Antwerp the navigable channel takes a winding course among sand bars so that careful piloting is necessary. Buoys must be shifted frequently. At Antwerp the river is about 500 yards wide and has a depth at high water of 42 feet. The broad river there forms an admirable port. There are about four miles of quays along the river and good anchoring in midstream. Numerous basins and docks entered from the river by locks furnish additional berths for ships and barges. Railways paralleling the quays and docks, batteries of power cranes, and commodious warehouses help to furnish the modern equipment for which Antwerp is famous.

"Geography often figures in wars, but in the case of the Scheldt the situation has been reversed: a war has affected its geography. So, incidentally, has a severe storm. As early as the 11th century the people of the country bordering the Scheldt began erecting embankments, so reclaiming scores of thousands of acres of rich lands. In 1585, during the bitter siege of Antwerp, the dykes were broken and all the hardly won lowlands were again flooded. Many of the old 'polders' have been again freed from water since, but large areas which were surrendered to the Scheldt 340 years ago still remain submerged.

"A great storm reshaped the Scheldt in 1373. Prior to that time a dyke of sand hills stretched across the present mouth of the river between Dutch Flanders and the island of Walcheren, the river flowing to the sea through the Eastern Scheldt. The mighty waves driven by the storm washed away the sand hills, and ever since the main flow of the river has been through the Western Scheldt, so formed."

Spent Six Years on Novel

Gustave Flaubert, leader of the French realistic school of writers, spent six years in writing his novel "Madame Bovery." Its publication in 1857 laid him open to accusations of immorality, from which he was cleared.

Gender of Sun and Moon

The "moon" is feminine in German because in Latin mythology "Luna" was the goddess of the moon. The sun was masculine because Phoebus was the god of the sun (Sol).

Little Change in Nature

Skeletal remains from the sand pits at Obercassel, on the north bank of the Rhine, dating about 20,000 years ago, were found to be practically modern in their formation.

Force of Habit

Absent-minded Editor (asked to say grace)—We thank Thee for Thy bountiful blessings, but beg to state that they are unavailable for our present purpose.—Boston Transcript.

Mush Football Literature

Football is represented in Great Britain's periodical literature by about fifty publications, some of which are issued the year round and others during the season only.

All Lost Without Pilot

The passions are the winds which urge our vessel forward, and the reason is the pilot which steers it. The vessel could not advance without the winds, and without the pilot if would be lost.

Could Raise Something

"Say," said the nervy young man, entering a barber shop, "is my credit good for a shave?" "Naw," replied the barber, "if you can't raise a quarter keep on raising whiskers."—Boston Transcript.

A False Light

No mind was ever illuminated by reading lurid novels.—Boston Transcript.

Ancient Dispensary

About 4600 B. C., a public dispensary was established in Egypt, the medical attendant for which received the equivalent of $500 a year for his services. This was at that time about five times the amount received by a skilled laborer.

No Alibi in Winter

G. H. L. writes: In the spring it's spring fever; in the summer it's the dog days; in the autumn it's melancholy, but in the winter there is only one name for it and that is laziness.—Boston Transcript.

We'll Tell the World

A light purse is a heavy curse.—Benjamin Franklin.

How this One-Profit Coach is built by Studebaker on the sturdy STANDARD SIX CHASSIS

SUPERFICIALLY other coaches may resemble this Studebaker Standard Six, but the resemblance will not stand analysis.

Only two cars are made on a one-profit basis—Ford in the lowest price field and Studebaker in the fine car field. Only in these two cases are all bodies, engines, clutches, gearsets, springs, differentials, steering gear and axles designed, engineered and manufactured by one company.

Contrast this with the average car, where the extra profits of many outside parts and body makers must be included in the purchase price.

These profits are part of the production cost of the car—the same as the steel and wood of the body. They do not buy materials nor workmanship—they do not make any car one whit better.

Studebaker has achieved one-profit manufacture through years of far-sighted management and through sacrifice on the part of stockholders. Earnings which might have been distributed have been retained in the business to build one of the largest gray iron foundries in the world, to erect stamping mills, forges, etc., to purchase the finest labor-saving machinery, to construct enormous body-building plants.

As a result, resources totaling one hundred million dollars are concentrated upon the production of one-profit automobiles such as this Standard Six Coach.

What does it mean to you?

To you, as an automobile buyer, this means:

1. A Lower Price.
2. A Better Car.

A LOWER PRICE, because Studebaker does not need to pile its profit upon the profits of outside parts manufacturers and body builders.

A BETTER CAR, because it is a thoroughly coordinated, harmonious unit. Every part designed, engineered and manufactured under one management, to work more efficiently with every other part.

$475 Down

And the balance in 12 monthly payments of $86.92. Come in and see how easy it is to buy this Standard Six Coach on our liberal budget payment plan.

A better car because Studebaker can afford to use finer upholstery, better steel, higher grades of lumber, more painstaking workmanship in hundreds of unseen places.

Scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation are built into every Studebaker. When the car which looked like an equal value while it was new, is breaking up, the Studebaker is breaking in.

That is why in Arizona — out where desert heat and rugged mountain trails test automobiles to the utmost—Studebaker sells double its normal proportion of cars. Every county in Arizona which has bought an automobile for its sheriff has bought a Studebaker.

This coach is not a one year car

As a splendid example of the facts stated above, we offer the Standard Six Coach. To appreciate this car you must see it and ride in it. We urge you to do so immediately. It is called a coach, but is in reality a roomy five-passenger coupe.

It is a car that will give you faithful economical service. It is built to yield dependable, comfortable transportation for years and years.

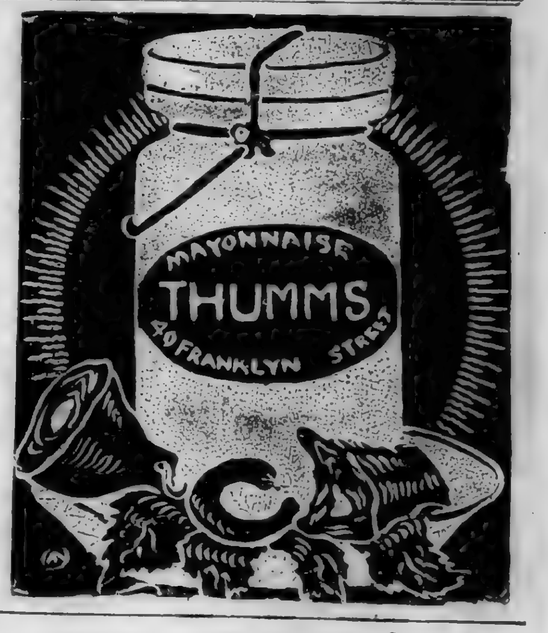
Buy now—no more "yearly models"

This is the time of the year when men have hesitated to purchase an automobile, fearing that the car they bought in July would be made obsolete artificially by the announcement of new yearly models in August or September. Studebaker has discontinued the custom of presenting yearly models. Instead, Studebakers will be kept up to the minute in body styles and chassis design regardless of the calendar.

Come in NOW—and see this sturdy, dependable, one-profit Coach.

T. N. M. LATHROP, INC.,

Phone 2280. 84-86 No. Main St., Norwich, Conn.
New London. Westerly.



Sail from BOSTON
Historic New England's Home Port
Magnificent New 20,000 Ton Steamships to your Vacation Land

THE thrill and joy of sailing time at Boston . . . . . the flurry of "Good-Byes" as the great ship pulls out from her berth . . . . the famous land marks receding . . . . . then the settling down to the sunshine and the bracing salt breezes . . . . and the companionship of those charming people with whom Cunard-Boston service has been popular—Since 1840.

"Samaria" Sails Aug. 2—"Scythia" Aug. 13

CUNARD LINE
126 STATE ST., BOSTON or LOCAL AGENTS

Do they call your child "Spindle-shanks"?

Feed your children Nature's way—for normal weight and healthy growth

Nature will correct most "diet problems"—if you let your children eat her foods as they were intended to be eaten—unrefined, untampered. Authorities agree on this.

And wheat is Nature's best food—whole wheat as it comes from Nature. Mixed with milk it is perfect. As good for growing children as mother's milk for babies.

That is why authorities are proclaiming these new breakfast flakes—Wheaties. Made from the whole of specially selected wheat. They contain the vital body-building elements most "refined" foods lack. More iron, for example, than raisins. More than twice as much natural mineral salts as in corn flakes.

At last—Nature's way to normal weight and healthy growth for your children.

Double nourishment most "refined" foods lack

So many "refined" foods only supply energy. It is not enough. Overweight or underweight may result. Children must have "building" nourishment also.

Wheaties meet this double need. First—they supply both energy and building elements. Second—in the right proportions to keep up normal weight and healthy growth.

Wheaties awaken sluggish appetite. Build strong digestions. Their natural bran prevents constipation. They keep growing bodies healthy and normal.

Test now—at our risk

No need to urge children to eat Wheaties. A tempting new wheaty flavor they all adore. Crisp, sparkling flakes—stay crisp until the bowl is emptied.

Authorities highly recommend this natural food. So for the good of your child try Wheaties. At our risk. If you are not entirely satisfied, your grocer will give back full price you paid.

No mother should miss this opportunity. Phone your grocer for a package today.

The New GOLD MEDAL

WHEATIES

Made by the Millers of Gold Medal Flour

Washburn Crosby Company, Minneapolis, Minn.

POETRY

THE WATCHMAN.

The watchman walked the little streets
With slow and steady tread;
He slunk his lantern as he went—
"All's well," the watchman said.

Behind close blinds a woman sat
Who had no more to sell,
The watchman paused before her door—
"All's well!" he cried, "All's well!"

An old man shivered in the dark
Who had no bread to eat;
Echoed the watchman's cry, "All's well,"
Along the empty street.

The watchman passed a silent house
Wherein a child had died;
A candle burned against the pane—
"All's well," the watchman cried.

And through the night the watchman passed
With slow and steady tread;
And ever to the little streets
"All's well," the watchman said.
—By Miriam Vedder.

A MORAL IN SEVERS.

Upon my mantel-piece they stand,
While all its length between them lies;
He throws a kiss with graceful hand,
She glances back with bashful eyes.

The china Shepherdess is fair,
The Shepherd's face denotes a heart
Burning with ardor and despair,
Alas, they stand so far apart!

And yet, perhaps, if they were moved,
And stood together day by day,
Their love had not so constant proved,
Nor would they still have smiled so gay.

His hand the Shepherd might have kissed
The match-box Angel's heart to win;
The Shepherdess, his love have missed,
And flirted with the Mandarin.

But on my mantel-piece they stand,
While all its length between them lies;
He throws a kiss with graceful hand,
She glances back with bashful eyes.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

The heroine wished for a bob and the curtain came down with a bang.—Yale Record.

Matrimony may prolong life, and then it may just make it seem longer.—Sense and Nonsense.

"What was the result of the flood?" asked the Sunday School teacher.

"Mud," one youngster answered.—Judge.

How do you do, Willie? I've come to stay at your house for a week, and I'm sure you can't even guess who I am.

I'll bet you're no relation of father's. — The Progressive Grocer.

Judge—Well, Rastus, this seems to be a regular stopping place for you!

Rastus—Yes, sir, yo' honor. Ah usually visits her to and from de jail.—Wall Street Journal.

Have all the cows been milked?

All but the American one.

What do you mean—the American one?

The one that's gone dry. — Good Hardware.

Lady—Dear me, I've left my money at home. You'll have to trust me. I'm one of the director's wives.

Conductor—Lady, I couldn't do that, even if you was the director's only wife.—University of Chicago Phoenix.

The following answers to questions were given in a recent school examination:

Q. What did Wolfe do at Quebec? A. The Wolf made war on Little Red Riding Hood.

An Irish bull is a male cow.

Cereals are films shown at the pictures.—The progressive Grocer.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Children in the Irish primary schools are required to study the Irish language.

The temperature of the sun's photosphere, the part that gives the most light, is about 12,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The intensity of the light reaching the earth from all the stars is equal to that of an ordinary 16-candle power lamp at 47 yards distance.

According to a recent French law, city and state officials may condemn private vacant land in order to establish needed athletic fields or playgrounds.

Helium gas, such as is used in the dirigibles, Los Angeles and Shenandoah, has been liquefied at two different laboratories, one in Leyden, Holland and the other in Toronto, Canada, and at no other places in the world.

The South sea islands sell copra, chrome iron, mother of pearl, vanilla beans, cocoanut oil, phosphates, sugar and other tropical products to the United States and buy petroleum, lumber, hardware, iron and steel, flour and leather in return.

To kill cattle painlessly, Mme. Simons, founder of the League for the Protection of Animals in Paris, has invented a weapon for this humane purpose. The muzzle is pressed against the animal's head, a dart pierces the brain and death is said to be quick and absolutely painless.

Professor E. M. Borchard of Yale, recently opened a lecture course at the Berlin University. He said in his opinion his chief task consisted of re-establishing international scientific relations and preparing the way for the resumption of German-American exchange of professorships such as existed before the war.

The widow of Ferruccio Busoni has sent archives comprising all letters autographs, musical scores, pictures and instruments of the master. A special feature of this gift is a rare collection of original Liszt manuscripts and scores which Busoni collected with the utmost pains in the course of many years.

Few people could probably name the leading cities of the United States in the order of their area. New York comes first with an area of 318 square miles; New Orleans is second with 264 square miles; Chicago is third with 200 square miles; Philadelphia is fourth with 129 square miles; Seattle, fifth with 90 square miles; Detroit sixth, with eighty-one square miles, says the New York Times.

William Jeffries of Cedarville, N. J., wanted to profit by the rain which had fallen. His field was all prepared for a heavy planting of sweet potatoes, but the roots were not on hand. He telephoned to Vineland and found that he could obtain plants there. An airplane got the roots and brought them direct to the farm in ten minutes. The pilot did not stop, but dropped his burden unharmed as he circled low over the field. The field was comfortably planted before the ground dried.

What Is Going On Tonight

Norwich Stationary Engineers association, No. 6, meets in Buckingham Memorial.

Palmyra encampment, No. 3, I. O. O. F., meets in Odd Fellows hall.

Lafayette council, No. 1307, L. U. St. J. B., meets in Buckingham Memorial.

Women of Moosehearт Legion, No. 124, meet in Moose home.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Thursday, July 22.

Forty years ago today occurred the death of President Grant.

One hundred and fifty years ago today was born Eugene Vidocq, a thief who became the world's greatest detective.

The annual Powwow and Indian Days' Festival will open at Banff, Alberta, today and continue through tomorrow.

Edward T. Sanford, young justice of the supreme court of the United States in point of service, is 60 years old today.

The Conference of Religious Education, founded by the late Dwight L. Moody, opens its annual session today at East Northfield, Mass.

The Texas State Bar association reaches its fortieth birthday anniversary today, having been organized on this date in 1885.

The United States battle fleet is due to reach Australia today in two sections, one arriving at Melbourne and the other at Sydney.

A new law effective in California today makes it mandatory to revoke the license of any motorist who is convicted three times in one year of reckless driving or speeding.

With a distinguished list of Americans and foreigners scheduled as speakers, the fifth annual Institute of Politics will open at Williams college today and continue for one month.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Broadway Theatre.

Extra fine shows continue to be the rule at the Broadway Theatre and as we see the following lineup we again predict something worth while.

Carmen Dawson and sister, Marika, are assisted by Jean Jackson in the opening stage offering of vaudeville in "Go Into Your Dance."

Jules Bernard & Co. followed in a special comedy offering of decided merit.

Eddie Gaffney & Tess Walton offer "Meat—The Wife," which is described as a dozen minues of fun and song.

Alf Ripon & Jigge in "A Night at Dinty Moore's," is a comedy ventriloquial offering that is a riot of fun.

Defying all the laws of gravitation, the Aerial Smiths present "Pastimes in the Tropics."

"The Garden of Weeds," the new James Cruze production for Paramount starring Betty Compson, which will be shown today at the Broadway Theatre, is an appealing, romantic story of "back-stage" life in the theatre. Betty's role is that of a chorus girl, understudy of the leading woman in a show backed by Phillip Flagg, played by Rockcliffe Fellowes.

The picture is an adaptation of the popular stage play by that name which ran on Broadway. Fellowes is featured with Warner Baxter, Charles Ogle and Al St. John in the cast of the production. Other big names appearing in support of the star are Lilyan Tashman, who has the same role on the screen as she played in the Broadway presentation of the piece; King Zany, popular vaudevillian and composer; William Austin, a past master at English "fop" characters; Lucille Thorndike, William Turner and Toyo Fujita.

Walter Woods and Anthony Coldewey prepared the scenario. Karl Brown, who "shot" "The Covered Wagon," did the photography.

You're sure to like "The Garden of Weeds."

Breed Theater

The Gigi on the Stairs; the great mystery drama based upon Wiston Bouve's magazine story of the same name which heads a big double feature program closes its run at the Breed theater tonight.

Charming Patsy Ruth Miller is the star and her admirable supporting cast includes Niles Welch, as leading man, Arline Pretty, Shannon Day, Freeman Wood, Bertram Grassby, Dark and George Periolat.

This thrilling tale of a girl somnambulist indicted for a murder which occurred during one of her sleep walking expeditions, was directed by William Worthington under the personal supervision of producer Elmer Harris, who also adapted the story for the screen.

Palace Theatre

Another Ford touring car will be given away tonight at the Palace Theatre.

The committee in charge will be selected from the various merchants who have been giving coupons

The evenings entertainment and also for Friday and Saturday, will consist of five Paramount vaudeville acts and a feature picture.

Heading the vaudeville will be Jean Jackson and Troupe, singing bicyclists, Wilson & Keppel a clever pair of snappy singers and steppers, Fernandez, a Mad Musician, Berrick and Hart singers, dancers and comedy.

Benway and Florney, two originators of African golf.

The feature picture will be Bob Custer in the Bear Cat.

CHAPTER TO HONOR GRAVE OF DAUGHTER OF REVOLUTION

SPOKEANE, Wash., July 22—(AP)—The grave of a real daughter of the Revolution, Mrs. Isabell M. Johnson Savage Conday, in a local cemetery, is to be marked by the Erie, Pa., chapter of the D. A. R., relatives here have been informed. Mrs. Conway's grave is one of the only two resting places of daughters of soldiers of the American Revolution of which the Erie chapter has record. The other is that of her sister, Mrs. Eleanor Hoppack, who is buried in Erie.

Mrs. Conway, who died here nine years ago, was th edaughter of Philip Johnson who fought in the Revolution in the command of George Washington.

NEW VARIETY OF CHERRY NAMED FOR KING ALBERT

YAKIMA, Wash., July 22—(AP—A new variety of cherry, as unusual in its origin, as in its appearance, has been developed by Edward Remy, an orchardist residing near here. The cherry is a golden yellow in color and is distinguished by a deep crimson stripe that extends from the base of the fruit to the tip. When the fruit is mature, the same dark coloring runs from the skin to the pit.

Remy, a native of Belgium, has named his new variety "King Albert." "It is like King Albert at Liege," he explained "for it was found where it was not expected."

Remy first noticed the peculiarly marked fruit on a single branch of a tree of Lambert cherries. Undecided whether the light colored cherries bearing the crimson stripe were a true variety, he budded from this branch to an oxhart cherry tree. The branch developed from the bud now loaded with "King Albert."

The Buckeye Jockey Club of Canton, O., will open a ten-day harness meeting on September 23.

The Fall racing season on the Maryland tracks will get under way at Havre de Grace on September 23.

PAIGE Announces— A New De Luxe Sedan

Roomier—Finer—More Beautiful—at Our Lowest Sedan Price $2395

AGAIN! Paige steps out of the beaten path. This time to inaugurate a distinctly new trend in fine car economy. A luxurious big 5-passenger sedan—completely equipped—at a price, considering quality, that neither Paige nor any other builder of big, fine cars has even approached. $2395!

Here is a new note in fine car beauty and finish. Finest mohair upholstery over deep cushion springs. And a permanent lacquer finish of brilliant blue.

You'll like this big car's loungy roominess. There's more leg room, wider windows, greater comfort both front and rear.

And It's Built for Action!

You never drove a car that takes to action as this car does. Keenly alive to the slightest touch of your toe in traffic. And it levels hills as if they didn't exist.

Take any road in this big Paige. The rougher you find them—the greater you appreciate Paige's matchless riding ease. That's because of Paige's long wheelbase—131 inches, new type rear springs—61 inches, snubbers and full size balloon tires—33 x 6.75.

And a chassis that holds five world records—refined! Paige's big 70 h. p. motor now carries a new counterbalanced crankshaft and a new air cleaner. Extreme quiet—greater smoothness—longer life are the results.

Consider the recognized high quality of this big Paige. Then find out what you'll pay to get an equal in looks—in action. This new Sedan is almost at open-car price.

There isn't a luxurious big car built that offers more satisfaction—more economy than Paige's new De Luxe Sedan at $2395. (582-S)

In comparing values consider this necessary equipment included in the Paige price but which you must pay extra elsewhere—five balloon cord tires, trunk, bumpers, ammeter, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror, electric clock, gasoline gauge on dash, combination stop and tail light, heater—all included at $2395 f. o. b. Detroit, tax extra.

Paige-Lockheed 4-wheel brakes standard equipment without extra charge

LOUIS H. MAPLES

30 TALMAN ST. · PHONE 192

RADIO PROGRAMS

WNAC—Boston—280.8

10:30 A. M.—Bible readings, Rev. Don Ivan Patch, Orthodox Congregational church.

10:45 A. M.—WNAC American Women's club talks: Jean Sargent, Martha Lee.

1 P. M.—Shepard Colonial Concert orchestra.

1:30 P. M.—Popular songs. Ted and Dick Waterson, Don Ramsay, accompanist.

3:05 P. M.—Broadcast from Braves Field Braves vs. New York baseball game.

6:30 P. M.—WNAC dinner dance, broadcast from Shepard Colonial restaurant, Shepard Colonial orchesra, direction Billy Lossez.

WEEI—Boston—476

6:45 A. M.—Health exercises.

7:45 P. M.—Lost and found articles and baseball scores.

8 P. M.—From New York; musicale.

9 P. M.—From New York; radio artists.

10 P. M.—From New York; orchestra.

WDWF—Providence—441

7:30 to 9 P. M.—Orchestra.

WTIC—Hartford—348.6

7 P. M.—Dinner music, Emil Heimberger's Trio, assisted by Earl E. Styers, baritone.

7:30 P. M.—Weather report.

7:30 P. M.—Baseball scores, National, International, American and Eastern Leagues.

7:35 P. M.—Dinner music continued.

WBZ—Springfield—333.3

6P. M.—Leo Reisman's ensemble.

6:30 P. M.—Results of baseball games played in the Eastern, American and National Leagues.

7:30 P. M.—Broadcast direct from New York of the concert by the United States Marine band, with stations WRC, WJZ and WGY.

9 P. M.—Clara Hancock, colorature soprano, accompanied by Wilhelmina Wagner.

9:15 P. M.—Pauline Taylor, violinist.

9:30 P. M.—Market reports as furnished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Boston.

9:50 P. M.—Results of baseball games played in the Eastern, American and National Leagues.

9:55 P. M.—Arlington time signals: official U. S. weather reports: missing persons' descriptions.

WJAR—Providence—305.9

1:05 P. M.—Studio program.

6 P. M.—Braemore dance orchestra.

9 P. M.—Radio artists.

10 P. M.—Orchestra, under the direction of Joseph Knecht.

WCTS—Worcester—288

10:45 A. M.—Talk by the Sherer Nurse, Miss Marjorie Woodman, R. N.

11 A. M.—Produce market and weather report.

12 to 2 P. M.—Noon day luncheon music by the WCTS Trio, under the direction of Mr. Benny Resh.

4:30 P. M.—Radio entertainment for members of The Indoor Sports Club.

5:15 P. M.—The Twinkle Twinkle Story Teller.

5:30 P. M.—Baseball scores.

10 to 11 P. M.—Orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Knecht, direct from WEAF, New York.

JAIL DRESS NOT CORRECT FOR COURT, CONVICT HOLDS

BERLIN, July 22—(AP)Pride in his personal attire so dominated Bernard Pulkowsky, a criminal serving a term, that when a new charge was discovered against him before the expiration of his sentence, he escaped from prison to replenish his wardrobe and then later voluntarily returned to court clad with sartorial excellence and carrying himself with jaunty pride.

Before the date fixed for his appearance on the new charge Pulkowsky asked the warden for leave of absence to purchase the proper clothes, saying "It is quite out of the question for me to appear before the high court in this squalid prison dress." When his request was refused he simply made his get-away leaving behind a courteous note to the warden in which he wrote, "My sense of decency simply won't allow me to appear before the court in prison clothes. But don't fear. I shall not fail to be there at the proper time." And he was.

The judge showed he had a sense of humor by his treatment of the fastidious prisoner but as the latter was convicted of having concealed stolen goods he was sentenced to ten months at hard labor.

HARD COAL MINERS WILL NOT JOIN IN A "GENERAL STRIKE"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 22—(AP)—Hard coal fields, so anthracite miners assured mine owners at the scale conference today, would not be included, under present conditions, in any "general strike" such as Van A. Bittner yesterday warned Secretary of Commerce Hoover and secretary of Labor Davis might develop out of the unsatisfactory wage conditions in the bituminous coal fields.

The assurance came from Phillip Murray, miners' international vice president and ranking officer of Mr. Bittner, who is chief union organizer in West Virginia. Mr. Murray said that anthracite miners fully agreed with operators that hard coal and soft coal are to be kept separate and distinct during negotiation of renewal of the wage contract expiring August 31. He added a hope that the understanding would continue.

NEWS RADIOPHONED 9,000 MILES TO CREWS OF AMERICAN FLEET

NEW YORK, July 22—(AP)—A special news service is being sent daily 9,000 miles by radiophone for the crews of the American fleet now visiting Australian waters.

Made up in New York of items culled from the daily grist of the happenings with a view to their particular interest to the "gobs," the report is telegraphed to KDKA, the high-powered Westinghouse station at Pittsburgh, whence it is relayed over a 65-metre wave to Melbourne.

The service was arranged by W. W. Davies, American representative of La Nacion, a leading daily of Buenos Aires, and the publishers of the Melbourne Herald. It is distributed by the latter to a number of associated papers and is printed in distinctive display as "Home News for the Fleet."

Following the initial "dispatch" last night, Mr. Davies received the following message from Melbourne:

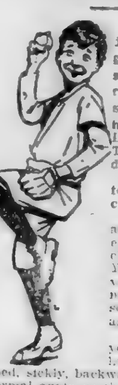
"Broadcasting clearer than before; (referring to previous tests of the transmission) slight variations in strength; closing signal 8:24; good reception probably helped by absence local interference."

The service is to be sent each day at 6 p. m., eastern standard time, corresponding to 8 a. m., in Australia. Its reception there is practically instantaneous.

An appropriation of $150,000 was made by the last session of the Tennessee legislature for additions to the Negro State normal school at Nashville. This appropriation is increased by donations from the general education board and private sources, making $320,000 available for the expansion of that institution.

How Puny Weak Boys Grow Strong

New Way to Take Cod Liver Oil—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets are Sugar Coated and Kids Take Them Like Candy.



Make that underdeveloped boy or girl of yours strong, vigorous and robust in just a short time by giving him McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for thirty days.

It's the new way to take nasty tasting cod liver oil.

You'll be surprised at the results and especially if the child has rickets. Your doctor will tell you that there is nothing in the world so good for rickets as cod liver oil.

So now, Mother, you can help the little under-developed, sickly, backward child to grow normal again so that he can play and romp with other children.

And remember that if you aren't delighted with results after 30 days' trial—why, Lee & Osgood Co. or any druggist will gladly return your money.

Try them on this fair basis, but be sure—very sure—to ask for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—the original and genuine—60 tablets—60 cents.

TESTIMONY IN CASE AGAINST HATTERS' UNION

BRIDGEPORT, July 22.—(AP)—John F. McKnight, secretary of a Norwalk local of the United Hatters of North America, authorized a union picket, patrolling the hat shop of F Berg and company, Belden avenue, Norwalk, to offer $100 to any girl employed in the Berg plant who would persuade all of the hat trimmers to "walk out," it was testified before Judge John J. Walsh at the county court house this afternoon during injunction proceedings brought against the United Hatters by the Berg company, by Ralph R. Genuario, 4 Rowan street, East Norwalk.

Genuario declared that if the trimmers "went out" the Berg shop would have had to close. He said he went to Miss Mary Ross, a Berg trimmer, Union avenue, Norwalk, and made the $100 proposition to her. Miss Ross laughed at him heartily. Genuario admitted, and the trimmers stayed on the job.

Although Genuario is one of the defendants sued with the union by the Berg company, he said he had, despite his holding of a union card, returned to work in the "open" shop.

He is a brother of Salvatore Genuario who was disbarred from practice as an attorney at law after charges were preferred against him to the superior court by the grievance committee of the Fairfield county bar.

Attorney David Fitzgerald, New Haven, counsel for the United Hatters, started a cross examination of Genuario in which he intended, it appeared to bring before Judge Walsh his relationship with the disbarred lawyer. Attorney Paul Connery, Norwalk, objected to the questioning and Judge Walsh sustained him.

Genuario was one of a number of men who quit work last June at the Berg shop because of a disagreement over scales of prices. He and thirteen others went to union headquarters in Norwalk and obtained "cards." Genuario was assigned to picket duty at the shop, and instructed by Secretary McKnight, he said, to ask employes not to work there.

After asking others to quit the shop Genuario, despite his recent affiliation with the union, returned to work in the Berg shop and is now employed there. Peter Ganoik, Cedar street, Norwalk, was another witness who walked out in June, obtained membership in the union and then returned to work. He acknowledged receipt of an advance of $10 from Secretary McKnight, who asked him not to return to work.

Other employes who testified to being approached by union pickets and prevailed upon to leave the Berg company were John J. Finnegan, 8 Riverside avenue, Norwalk, who said a picket told him "let this be a warning to you"; John Kusiick, who declared he "felt hurt" when pickets expressed the opinion he wasn't a "regular guy" any more for going to work in the Berg plant; and Albert Karbowski, who said he was frightened by pickets who called at his home to the extent that he thereafter went to work in the street cars to avoid meeting them.

The hearing will be continued before Judge Walsh next Tuesday.

PROPOSALS MADE FOR SETTLEMENT WITH CHINA

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)—Definite proposals for settlement of pending questions growing out of the recent anti-foreign outbreak in China are expected to be transmitted to the provisional Chinese government by the Peking diplomats in the near future. The basis of these proposals has been worked out in numerous diplomatic exchanges at the various capitals and the powers are now virtually in accord although certain aspects remain to be cleared up.

While details are lacking, it now seems certain that the settlement formula to be presented by the Peking diplomats will embrace two distinct elements. They are:

Convocation of the Chinese customs revision conference with a minimum of delay and creation of a commission to inquire into extra-territorial matters a date still to be fixed.

Reference of the question of responsibility for bloodshed in the recent Shanghai riots to a judicial inquiry with the Chinese government participating and all governments bound to abide by the findings.

Formal expressions from Japan of her desire to strictly carry our the commitments entered into with respect to China at the Washington conference is expected to pave the way for the first step. Similar expressions from other governments are confidently expected as the result of the note proposing this course sent out by Secretary Kellogg.

Even with Japan, however, there remain details of the project to be worked out in conversations here and in Tokio but the preliminary informal exchanges are interpreted here as indicating clearly that the accord in principle has already been arrived at, not only with Japan, but with other protocol powers as well.

DAMAGE SUIT FOR $5,000 FILED AGAINST DR. DEAN FOSTER

BRIDGEPORT, July 22.—(AP)—Dr. Dean Foster, widely known eye, ear, nose and throat specialist of Stamford, is declared to have left in the nose of a patient after an operation a tiny piece of a saw blade, according to a $5,000 damage suit filed against the physician in superior court this afternoon.

Albert Slimak of Stamford, sets forth that Dr. Foster operated upon him for nasal trouble on November 14, 1924. He says there was left inside of his nose a portion of a saw blade, steel nickle plated with rust on one side, approximately 15-16 inches in length and an eighth of an inch thick.

Slimak asserts he told Dr. Foster of the presence of the blade in his nose, but that the physician refused to remove it. Finally, three months later, Slimak says he got the blade position out. When he told Dr. Foster of his removal, he says, the physician "curtly informed the plaintiff that he wished that said blade had remained in the plaintiff's nose for a while longer."

Schools in the United States reporting school savings system increased from 6,865 to 9,080 during the year closing June 30, 1924, according to figures recently compiled by the American Bankers' association. Pupils participating increased from 1,907,351 to 2,236,326 in the same period, and the collections increased from $10,631,538.69 to $14,931,535.46. Bank balances carried on June 30, 1924, amounted to $20,435,144.64.

THREAT BY BRIDGEPORT POLICE COMMISSIONER

BRIDGEPORT, July 22—(AP)—Samuel Dawe, president of the Bridgeport board of police commissioners threatened to "knock that fellow's block off", referring to Jacob S. Hagoban, a dentist and next door neighbor to Dawe, according to allegations in a writ of attachment filed by Hagoban with the town clerk here today. Hagoban seeks an injunction to restrain Dawe from trespassing on his land and $500 damages at the next term of the common pleas court.

WESTERLY

The work of laying the cement binder for the new driveway at the west of the west-bound train shelter, at Westerly station of the New Haven railroad, was completed Wednesday afternoon when the 5-ton concrete roller of the Westerly highway department finished rolling down the surface. A heavy foundation of gravel, with a filling of trap rock to the sub-grade, insured a permanent driveway which circles a grass-seeded oval center. Automobiles with passengers for trains to New London and New York can discharge their occupants at the newly placed cement curbing of the platform and save passing through the subway or up the Canal street stairway as before.

With favorable weather, the Westerly band, Charles O. Gavitt, leader, will give the fifth in the summer series of open air concerts at 8 o'clock this (Thursday) evening in Wilcox Park. The program follows:

March "On the Mall" .....Goldman
Overture, "Lustspiel" .....Keler Bela
Waltzes, "Old Timers" .....Lake
Popular Air, "Waiting for the Moon" .....Berlin
Excerpts from "The Blue Paradise" .....Eysler
Intermezzo, "After Sunset" .....Prior
Popular Air, "Ukele Lady" .....Berlin
Irish Overtures, "Donnybrook" .....Volti
Gavotte, "Castle Chimes" .....Strugel
Popular Airs, a, Listening .....Berlin
b, "O Katherina" .....Feist
Overture, "Victorian" .....Holloway
March, "Ambassador" .....Bagley
Finale, "Star Spangled Banner."

Three aeroplanes circled low over Westerly Wednesday forenoon, about 10:15 o'clock, when one of the planes was observed to leave the other two in the low-hanging mists to disappear in the direction of Norwich, while the other two proceeded in the direction of Providence. The two Providence-bound planes were observed to have U. S. government markings, returned over Westerly to circle back in a short time toward Providence and appeared to be searching for the other airship. A short time after the two planes had made the second start to Providence, the aircraft which had gone toward Norwich came back on a course which would take it to Watch Hill.

Recorded in the office of Westerly town clerk, are the following transfers: July 20, Elizabeth R. Chester to Antonio Azzinnaro et ux, land with buildings and other improvements on the west side of Newton avenue.

July 21, Frank Perre to Peter and Frances Fusaro, four parcels of land, lots Nos. 81, 82, 83 and 84, Washington Park tract, Westerly.

Over one hundred were assembled Tuesday on the beach at Pleasant View when the members of the World Wide guild of Calvary Baptist church were the guests of the Girls' club of the First Baptist church at a weenie roast. Miss Ruth Kennerson was chairman of the committee from the club of the First Baptist church, having charge of the joint outing.

Worthy Matron Eleanor Mitchell and nearly fifty members of Deborah chapter, No. 9, Order of the Eastern Star, Wednesday afternoon and evening had a tea and whist on the Rhode Island hotel veranda in charge of the Brown Betty tea room. The awnings were attractively decorated with Japanese lanterns, while palms, ferns and flowers made a pleasing setting for the gathering.

John Denison Wells, 87, a Civil War veteran, died Tuesday evening on the farm on Pious Hill, North Stonington, where he had resided for many years. On last presidential election day he visited the polls in North Stonington to cast his ballot. He has a son, Frank Wells, who resides in Asaway. Mr. Wells' wife was Eunice A. Burdick.

Joseph Borelli, 20, of 46 Broadway, Providence, represented by Attorneys John F. Gallagher, of Westerly and Anton Romano of Providence, was presented at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning before Judge William A. Wilcox in Stonington town court charged with transporting liquor illegally.

A demurred was entered by Attorney Gallagher, which was overruled by the court. As the accused had no funds nor any money in his possession at the time of his arrest, he had been confined 24 hours in the Pawcatuck lockup, counsel asked the court to impose a substantial fine and a suspended sentence. He told the court that the young man had been recently married, and relatives had come to his assistance.

Dr. James H. Weeks of Stonington was appointed a guardian of the boy. Solicitor McKenna told the court that the defendant was transporting the alcohol against the laws of Connecticut. He presented the court a signed waiver of claims notices, etc., by the young man as the sole owner of the alcohol for its forfeiture by the state.

Attorney McKenna stated that this was the boy's first trip and as he was of limited means, having not even a dollar in his pocket at the time of his arrest, he made this attempt to increase his fortune, and that he was convinced that this was his first and last venture along rum-running lines. The circumstances were mitigating in that he had not conducted a nuisance in the town of Stonington, and if the accidental collision had not occurred, he probably would have taken his load of alcohol into Rhode Island undetected. The rumor is generally prevalent that the cargo of alcohol had not been transported more than 30 miles when the arrest was made by Stonington Police Officer Vernon A. Burdick.

Judge Wilcox imposed a fine of $200 and costs of $19.28, which were paid. The sentence of 30 days in New London County Jail was suspended for 30 days.

Action on the alcohol will be taken later. The defendant went to Providence by automobile.

St. Michael's church and rectory have been given a new coat of gray paint, with dark gray trimmings. The contract of painting the church was completed a short time ago, but the rectory has just been finished.

The church will be further improved by the hanging of new oak doors, larger than the old ones and more in proportion to the size of the edifice.

The parents of George Massey, aged 16, who was reported missing from his home in Pawcatuck the past week received a note from him saying he had joined the army at Fort Slocum, New York. He is one of 13 children and the father is a mason and stone worker in Pawcatuck. In the letter the boy's mother was informed that if she made representation to the proper government official that the "soldier" was under age his release from government service could be obtained. The young man has taken French leave from his West Side home on previous occasions.

Calvert B. Cottrell, 3rd, son of Charles P. Cottrell, president of the C. B. Cottrell Printing Press Works in Pawcatuck, whose home is at 94 High street, was operated on at the Jane Brown Memorial hospital, Tuesday forenoon, for what was said to be a case of appendicitis.

Benjamin A. Peabody of Pawcatuck, for many years in the employ of the Westerly Branch of the American Railway Express Company, suffered a shock at his summer residence at Pleasant View Beach Monday night. He had been about his duties as usual on Monday. At his home in Pawcatuck Wednesday, the condition of Mr. Peabody was reported as a little more comfortable.

At Fort Wright, Fishers Island, Monday, Captain John F. Datson of Battery E of Westerly had charge of the physical drill of the early morning for the second battalion. Afternoon the Westerly battery men went to the guns with Captain Datson as battery commander, and Lieutenant Elvin Andrews as range officer, and Second Lieutenant Nelly with the battery. Part of the time upon his duties as officer of the day for the Two Hundred and Forty-third Regiment. Artillery drill occupied all the morning and after mess Lieutenant Andrews took the battery command for infantry drill until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Evening parade was until 5:20 because of the seniority of officers. Battery E headed the regiment at parade. The medal for inspection went to Battery E of Westerly.

WINDHAM

Deaconess Roberts is to speak on Missions at St. Paul's parish house Friday at 3 p. m. at a public meeting for all the women in the community who are interested.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Prentice and son, of Hartford, and Mrs. Howard S. Fox (Dorothy Prentice) and son, of Detroit, Mich., were at the inn over Sunday.

Mrs. E. K. Leffingwell, Mrs. Catherine Adams and Miss Charlotte Lathrop are in charge of the community dance.

A salad supper under the auspices of the C. E. society was served Friday in charge of Mrs. John Webster, assisted by Mrs. Daniel Triggs, Mrs. Cassius Barstow and Miss Elizabeth Anderson with efficient waiters. A programme which followed included vocal solos by Margaret Bixbey and Elinor Sherman, reading by Miss Bixby, song by Helen Wood and Doris Webster, recitations by Helen Wood and Marian Adams and a song by a group of children. Miss Charlotte Lathrop was the pianist. The proceeds, about $40, go to the C. E. fund for redecorating the chapel.

The committee for the mid-summer fair are: Supper, the officers; programme, Mrs. John Woods, Miss Dorothy Brown; fancy work, Mrs. H. C. Lathrop; decorations, Misses Charlotte Lathrop, Marguerite Cook, Margaret Bixby; table, Mrs. F. E. Guild, Miss Clara Johnson, Mrs. Cassius Barstow, Miss Annie Bates.

Miss Dorothy Brown is visiting her cousin at Pine Orchard.

The W. C. Woodworth house, recently owned by DeWitt Lathrop has been sold to Rev. William Sandford of Landsdowne, Pa.

The Ku Klux Klan held a gathering in the Mullein Hill road late Monday evening with the usual bonfire.

Mrs. J. L. Woods, Miss Marie Rizzo, Mrs. Ada Larrabee, Miss Dorothy Brown and Miss Gertrude Arnold were guests of Miss Elizabeth Abbe, of South Windham, Saturday evening, at a card party given in honor of her guest, Miss Poppy, of Minneapolis.

MYSTIC

The annual picnic of Mrs. Benjamin F. Davis' Sunday school class was held at the cottage of Captain Elias F. Wilcox at Pleasant View, Tuesday. As usual Captain Wilcox furnished a truck for transportation while some went in their automobiles. They were cordially received by Mrs. Wilcox on their arrival, she being a member of the class. At 13 o'clock twenty-five sat down at two tables and were served clam chowder furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox. Other things were brought by the class. In the afternoon some were engaged with fancy work, some went bathing and music was contributed by some. At 5 p. m. the remainder of the food brought was placed on the tables and a bountiful supper served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Davis, Mrs. Wilfred Rollinson, Mrs. C. E. Newbury, Mrs. Alpheus Williams, Mrs. E. C. Hall, Mrs. Palmer Bindloss, Mrs. R. H. Wilcox, Mrs. Gurdon Allyn, Mrs. Albert Wheeler, Mrs. O. G. Buddington, Mrs. John T. Brooks, and sister, Mrs. R. C. Nostham, of Hartford; Mrs. Mary Gordon, Mrs. F. A. Coats, Mrs. William Burrows, Mrs. Jane Lester, Mrs. John Pierson, of Hartford; Mrs. W. A. Phillips, Misses Helen Wilbur, Emeline Fish, Doris Bindloss, Helen Fish, Emily Gates, Harriet Fish, Happie Brown, Elizabeth and Frances Thorp, Betty Wheeler, Ella Burrows, Carelen Buddington, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Batty, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Allyn, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bennett and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Price, Mr. and Mrs. Moses Wilcox, Mrs. Harold Thorp, Mrs. John Bennett and Mrs. Robert Hazard of Westerly.

The State Board of Education of the Blind has arranged to have a sale of articles made by Ira S. Rathbun of Mystic. Mr. Rathbun is both blind and deaf and is making an effort to be self-supporting. He mends shoes and since the state has had home teachers he has been taking lessons from such a teacher and has learned to do reed work which has been sold for him by the state board. The coming sale is for his benefit. A few articles of other blind people will be added in order to give the exhibit variety. Candy made by Miss Lois Palmer of Stonington, who has impaired sight will also be sold. The state board will have charge of the sale giving Mr. Rathbun the sale price.

The following officers of Mystic Encampment, I. O. O. F., were installed at their last meeting by District Deputy Willis H. Chapman of Poquonnoc: Chief patriarch, Ernest Franker; high priest, Carl Melburon; senior warden, Charles Gremley, Jr.; junior warden, Jesse Bennett; scribe, L. F. Doyle; treasurer, William MacDonald; inside sentinel, John Koulbanis; outside sentinel, Chester Morrow; first watch, John Myers; second watch, James McCaffrey; third watch, John Tedford; fourth watch, Robert Turner; first guard of tent, Alfred Osborn; second guard, Palmer Crumb.

Plans are under way for a carnival by the Orientals or the Arab Sanctorum, No. 230, U. O. H., and P.

Abel P. Tanner of New London was here Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Halsey E. Backus. He was accompanied by Mrs. C. N. Browne, his sister-in-law.

Mrs. Edwood Lathrop, Miss Jennie Denison and niece, Elizabeth Denison, spent Monday in Westerly.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Rollinson were recent visitors in Wakefield, R. I.

The hope chest and contents that are to be given away at St. Patrick's lawn fete are on exhibition in a local store window. Some of the articles displayed are beautiful and all are very useful.

Mrs. Mary Judd was a visitor in Westerly Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Rathbun have returned to Pontiac, Mich., after a visit here with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bennett and family are living in Halsey E. Packer's house in Orchard street.

Miss Eva Edwards is visiting in New Haven.

LIBERTY HILL

Visitors at the parsonage Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Nye and son, Roland of New Britain. Mrs. Nye is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Harris.

Allen B. Lincoln of Westford and Hartford called on acquaintances here Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reynolds, their daughter and son, Ralph, Jr., of Oxford, Mass., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Gurley. Miss Evelyn will remain for a few weeks' visit.

Mrs. Albert Harris and son, Colt, and grandson, Donald, Mrs. J. George Clark's cousins, and friends, Mrs. Thompson and David Mitchell, of New London, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. George Clark Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Caples entertained Saturday the former's cousins, Mrs. Thomas Spivery and her daughter and family from Norwich.

Rev. L. L. Harris gave an excellent sermon Sunday morning founded on the 8th verse of the 6th chapter of Michael, "He hath shewed three, O, Man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

A notice is posted on the church door for a meeting this (Thursday) evening before the prayer meeting, to take a vote on selling a part of the parsonage land.

Mr. and Mrs. Saul Wachtel are entertaining Mrs. Wachtel's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lemit, of New York city.

The menu for the variety supper, held at the church rooms Wednesday by the C. E. society, consisted of meat loaf, escalloped potatoes, salads, rolls, raspberry short cake, a variety of cakes and coffee. About 90 were present, a number coming from Willimantic.

Mrs. W. D. Davoll was in Willimantic Tuesday afternoon. As she left the sidewalk to cross the street, a horse that stood near bit her arm, so that she was obliged to go to a physician for treatment.

Miss Bessie Van Loon, of Long Island was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Goodrich last week.

Clara Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Davoll underwent a minor operationon Thursday in a Willimantic hospital.

Mrs. W. Ebenhart of New York who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. Legler for the past two weeks, has returned to her home.

Skunks are devouring chickens in this vicinity.

LYME

Albert Cuningham has purchased the Chapel place on Colonial Corner, Sterling City.

Artist Edward Volkert is entertaining his daughter and her family from Ohio.

Everett Bailey a student at the School for the Blind at Hartford, gave a musicale program at the public hall, Monday evening.

Leon Tiffany of New York spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Tiffany.

Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Gonse of New Haven were entertained by the Boy Scouts at Sandy Point, last Sunday, after church.

Mrs. Harriet Warner and daughter, Miss Musa, are at Indian Neck with Mrs. Wilson Reynolds and family.

Miss Ada Harding was a Hartford visitor the first of the week.

Mrs. Freeman Woodward of New London was a caller here Sunday.

Robert Whitting of Hartford has moved into George Adams' house at Hamburg Center.

Mrs. Harry Clark and daughter, of East Hartford, are visiting Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. Nora Harding.

Grover Dinto of New York spent the week end at J. J. Tiffany's with Mrs. Dinto.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Tisdale left Sterling City Monday for Middletown where they will go to keeping house.

STONINGTON

Misses Ruth Henson and Minnie Emmett, of the Girls' club, Wequetequock, are at Storrs summer school, to remain for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Algernon C. Smith, of West Haven, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cyest, of New Haven, were callers here Wednesday.

Mrs. E. T. Dalrymple, of Providence, was a business caller here, Wednesday.

Douglas Bonner, of Westerly, was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. P. J. Conners underwent an operation Tuesday morning at Home Memorial hospital in New London. She is reported as doing well.

Mrs. J. E. Litchfield and son Harry, of Corning, N. Y., have returned home after a visit of several days with friends at Lord's Point and Stonington.

Mrs. M. A. Englewood, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burgess, of Simsbury, Conn.; Miss Myrtle Mowrie and Miss Helen Risedorf, of Bristol, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Lyndale, of Chicopee Falls, made up two automobile parties which stopped here Wednesday, on their way to New Hampshire for their vacations.

Clarence Way, of East Haddam, was a business caller here Tuesday.

Mrs. Irving Jones spent Wednesday with Wequetequock relatives.

Alexander Loper was in Moosup Monday.

The power boat 159-F is being repaired at Kenyon's ways.

T. J. Syrett, of Springfield, Mass., was a recent guest of Warden and Mrs. Cornelius B. Crandall.

Miss Julia Burns is visiting in Canada.

Scallops were to be found for a short time, Wednesday, at the local market.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Eldredge, of Old Mystic, also Judge Hilton, of Troy, N. Y., were callers here Tuesday.

Flounders and flatfish are still being caught in large quantities by local fishermen. The Avery packing station daily makes large shipments of these fish to Boston and New York markets where they command a fair price.

Miss Catherine Schultz, of Valhalla, N. Y., is visiting at Lord's Point for the season.

Mrs. Jeanne P. Roan, of Rutherford, N. J., and Mrs. Margaret Howes, of Trenton, N. J., were here Wednesday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Holcomb and daughter Janet, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting here.

The borough election is to take place Monday, July 27, at Borough hall. The polls will open at 11 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. (standard time)). Sample ballots have been secured and Clerk C. B. Stales is distributing them among the voters.

The cobble stone gutter on the east side of Main street, at Church street, was laid recently.

Squad No. 4 will hold a drill this (Thursday) evening at 6:30 o'clock, Manuel Sylvia, driver.

Frederick Fairbrother is repainting the signs in this section for the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad.

Elmer Sushman is on a camping trip at Fort Wright.

Edward P. Smith, of Ashaway, is camping at Fort H. G. Wright.

Power boats Virgie, Hell Cat, Annie L. Brown and Bessie B. came in from Block Island, Monday, with forty barrels of fish.

NOANK

Walter Wiffle is working at H. H. Park's for the summer.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Noank Fire Company is to hold its annual picnic on Mystic Island, Sunday. At 9 o'clock the boat, Elise will take them over. The fire company has been invited, also those who took part in the last minstrel show.

Mrs. Charles Rogers was in New London Tuesday.

Mrs. Christine Marti of Springfield is at Groton Long Point to remain through August.

James Raymond has returned from Lowell after a visit with his aunt.

Kenneth Steele has gone to Block Island for a few days.

Automobile parties passing through Noank have inquired their way to the Art Exhibit and it will soon be possible to direct them to the Broadway School Building in Mystic where the exhibition will take place next month. The exhibition this year is arranged by the Society of Mystic Artists who will try to fill the gallery with large pictures. As in previous years a room will be hung with sketches 16 x 20 inches or less.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tourjee and Mrs. Etta Main have returned from a visit with Cuied Ferry friends.

The Silver Link society of the M. E. church is to meet in the church parlors this week, for the purpose of tying quilts.

William Crowell has returned from Providence.

The boat, Edna L. came into port with six large sword fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Hunt, of New York, are spending a few days with Mrs. John Fitzpatrick, of Riverview Ave.

Otto Holden of South Manchester is visiting at Groton Long Point.

Mrs. Ella King is to entertain the True Blue Society today (Thursday.)

Miss Josephine Chester of Boston is visiting Noank relatives.

Charles Rogers is off from his duties at Mystic because of blood poisoning in his hand.

Mr. Oliver of Clark's Studios is entertaining friends from Philadelphia.

Mrs. Dennis Farr, of California, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Walker, at Groton Long Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Partridge of Springfield are visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Osborne.

Miss Annie Sinclair of Holyoke is spending a few days at Groton Long Point.

Mrs. William Gaylord of Holyoke was a recent caller in the village.

Allie Crowell has secured work as mason with Perkins, from Mystic.

Ulman Bunn has been at Kingston, R. I.

Anson Gauthier is visiting in Glasgo.

Arthur DeBlaisl is spending a few days in Voluntown.

Orrin Hodgson is working with The toujee Brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Anderson and family of Springfield have opened their cottage at Groton Long Point.

The work car of the New Haven railroad has been side tracked, while men were engaged in putting a new roof on the small building occupied by the crossing tender, and making other repairs around the station.

Richard Bartlett is visiting in Providence for the remainder of the week.

Judd Adams has gone to Hope Valley for a visit.

Thomas Carey has returned from Edgartown, Mass., after a few days' fishing.

BLACK HILL

George Ide of Brooklyn was a recent caller here.

Stanley Brown and mother were recent callers in Putnam.

Mrs. Mary Medbury and family motored to Mohegan Park the past week.

Miss Helen Brown spent the week end in Boston.

Miss Ruth Moore is visiting her parents at Birchwood.

Eric Falt has been entertaining friends from New Jersey.

Miss Olive Sanger of Cleveland is visiting in this vicinity.

Miss Abbie Medbury has been visiting in Penacook, N. H.

H. Beecher Brown and family motored to Noank and Lord's Point last week.

L. H. Healey and family of Woodstock called at Woodlands recently.

Rev. William Prentiss and family from Plainfield were recent callers on Black Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carpenter and Judge Agard of Tolland and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Carpenter visited Miss Anna Smith.

SPRING HILL

A special feature of the service at the church Sunday evening under the auspices of the C. E. society was the representation of women of the Bible by nine young women and misses in costume and recitation. There was an unusually large number present.

E. P. West and family of Hadley, Mass., were at the Flaherty home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Sawin of Northwood Centre, N. H., who were former residents, spent a couple of days last week with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Walker and son of Hartford were at the Nichols home Sunday.

Miss Marian Storrs is at her old home for the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Storrs are at Groton Long Point for an indefinite stay.

D. C. Flaherty is making some changes in the interior of the Bellows bungalow.

PICTURES SHOW TRICKS OF MADRID BEGGARS

MADRID, July 22—(AP)—Street begging here is on the increase and the efforts of the authorities to suppress it have been frustrated by a too generous public who give liberal alms to the beggars.

The authorities have now, however, issued a photograph in the press which they hope may have the effect of putting an end to what has been described as a nuisance. In this picture a number of beggars are shown before and after their admittance to the asylum reserved for beggars. In one the men are shown in a very pitiable condition, blind, paralytic and one apparently with one leg.

In the other the photograph shows the same men erect and apparently quite normal, the missing leg having been untucked from its hiding place. The pictures, it was pointed out, are merely proof of the case with which the alms-giving persons in Madrid is tricked.

SWEDE TO CUT DOWN IMPORT OF WHEAT

STOCKHOLM, July 22—(AP)—Preliminary reports fro mthe various districts of Sweden received by the agricultural department show that the crop prospect is better than it has been for the last ten years.

The weather has been very favorable and consequently the work in the fields started much earlier than usual. Wheat and rye are very forward.

With the continued favorable weather there is no doubt that it will mean a considerable decrease in the importation of foreign food stuff, especially of American wheat. The importation of American wheat has shown a steady decrease during the last 16 years.

A copy of the Declaration of Independence and of the federal and state constitutions will be presented to every grammar school graduate by the state of New Jersey. Provision for this was made at the last session of the state legislature. Dental clinics in schools, and pensions for school medical inspectors, as well as for janitors injured in service, were also provided. A law was passed prohibiting discrimination on account of sex in the employment of public school teachers.

SALVATION ARMY SEEKS AID FOR INDIA'S NEEDY MILLIONS

LONDON, July 22—(AP)—A scheme for the establishment of hospitals, training garrisons and other institutions for the welfare of the native populations, has been launched in commemoration of the approaching birthday of General Bramwell Booth, of the Salvation Army.

A world-wide appeal has achieved such response as to ensure the erection of buildings costing $1,000,000. Half this amount will be spent in India and Ceylon, and the erection of 100 industrial village homes, a large hospital for lepers, and a central hall in the city of Calcutta is contemplated.

Other countries sharing in the extension are China, Japan, Korea, West Indies, Dutch East Indies, South Africa and Kenya Colony.

VALUABLE STAMP COLLECTION REPOSES FOR YEARS IN ATTIC

LONDON, July 22—(AP)—More than $50,000 worth of unique stamps have been discovered under romantic circumstances in the attic of a titled woman's house in fashionable Mayfair. There are complete sheets of stamps which are of rare value. They were purchased for about $100 in 1864 by the grandfather of the present owner's husband and had lain in the attic ever since.

It was only by chance they were discovered recently when the woman went to the attic and accidentally came across them. They are to be sold by auction.

OXFORD LENDS GROTIUS PORTRAITS TO HOLLAND

OXFORD, Eng., July 22—(A. P.) The Oxford house of congregation has been persuaded to lend to the Dutch government the two supposed portraits of Hugo Grotius, the founder of international law, which have hung in the Bodleian library for 200 years. It has long been the rule that no book may go out of the library, even at the request of the king himself, or on any manner of condition or bond, but while books contained pictures often enough, yet pictures are not books and so have been held to fall without the rule.

These portraits are alike in general features, showing a middle-aged man, ruddy and full-faced with brown hair and mustache and small pointed beard. Both resemble the authentic portraits of the great lawyer, poet and theologian.

The history of the portraits, prior to their coming to the university in 1727, is not clear.

Many a man who is offered the chance of a lifetime for a mere song can't sing.

For Sick Skin

PETERSON'S OINTMENT

BIG BOX 35 CENTS

Don't give up or become discouraged—others may fail—but when skin is fiery and itchy and eczema tortures your body, Peterson's Ointment is sure to give instant relief and quickly heal.

There's something in it that no other ointment has—something that causes rashes, pimples and skin blemishes to go, almost magically. All druggists. Big box 35 cents.

The mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment quickly clears the skin of all rashes, pimples and blemishes. Peterson's soap is a wonderful skin soap—use it daily—25 cents. Peterson Ointment Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

BLACK PT.

FACTS

VALUES in all things are based on the law of supply and demand. Of Shore Property, you have a decreasing supply and increasing demand, so the only possible result is higher prices. That is what makes Shore Property different from other properties from the standpoint of investment.

That is why every man who invests in Shore Property is investing in a monopoly. There is no safer investment on earth.

Jas. Jay Smith.

BLACK PT. is full of glorious spots on which to build your cottage. Velvety green lawns extending to the very water's edge, sunlit woods, the light green of birches, the darker green of oaks, and rolling hills with the cool blue waters of the Sound stretching far away into the distance.

Rebuild your health, spirit and appetite. A plunge in the water in the early morning and then how good the tempting bacon smells! Get out your old clothes and your fishing tackle for the best vacation you ever had. Make your start now—let us help you. Once you have your shore cottage, a vacation costs less than staying at home.

From Norwich, go west from New London, through Niantic and on to Black Pt.

JAS. JAY SMITH CO.
NIANTIC, CONN.

WHY PHYSICIANS RECOMMEND SANGRINA TO FAT PEOPLE

"If I had not carefully analyzed, tested and seen my own sister reduce and improve her health with 'SAN-GRI-NA,'" says Dr. McAlpine, "I would not be recommending it to my patients to-day."

Dr. Jacoby writes: "My wife has about finished the 'SAN-GRI-NA' you sent her. and I wish you could see the wonderful change in her appearance. She never felt better in all her life."

"I have used 'SAN-GRI-NA' for my wife," says Dr. Harris, "and now recommend it to my fat patients."

"I recommended 'SAN-GRI-NA' to my mother," says Dr. Narbonne, because I know, after working at the formula for years, it was absolutely harmless to the health and positive in results. It is the only way I know of to a good figure and perfect health."

REDUCES 63 POUNDS

"I weighed 200 pounds," writes Mrs. M. D. Pasquala, of Worcester, "and lost 63 pounds. . . . I would like to have another box of 'SAN-GRI-NA.'"

Up to now physicians have rarely advised anything to reduce outside of diets or exercises (both tiresome and inconvenient) because they knew of nothing HARMLESS and EFFECTIVE, but to-day in recommending "SAN-GRI-NA" a doctor feels that it is something with real merit, so entirely different from all the advertised fat reducers, that he does not hesitate to advise its use even to his own children. Prominent medical men, such as Dr. Rudolph, former Health Commissioner, soon he knows of,

"SAN-GRI-NA" is the formula of a French physician. It is put up in a small, convenient tablet, to be taken three times a day. Although only recently introduced in America, "SAN-GRI-NA" is now recognized as a most effective treatment for fat people, because:

➡ IT HAS REDUCED MOST OBSTINATE CASES OF OBESITY.
➡ IT DOES AWAY WITH HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, PUFFING, HEADACHES, TIRED FEELING, AND THE FAT MAN OR WOMAN WHO TAKES SAN-GRI-NA ONCE MORE ENJOYS LIFE.
➡ IT IS ENTIRELY DIFFERENT FROM ANYTHING EVER OFFERED.
➡ IT IS GUARANTEED ABSOLUTELY HARMLESS.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC: Beware of worthless imitations. San-Gri-Na is sold with a guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Go to your druggist to-day, be sure to ASK FOR AND GET THE FRENCH BOX MARKED "SAN-GRI-NA TABLETS, TABLETTES SAN-GRI-NA."

On sale at any good drug or department store. If your druggist does not carry San-Gri-Na in stock he can get it from his wholesaler or you can send a money order or check for $1.50 direct to the Scientific Research Laboratories, 1541 Broadway, N. Y. City.

Never Spoils a Baking

Because it is exactly compounded, of exactly the proper ingredients in exactly the right proportions to insure even and complete leavening.

RUMFORD
THE WHOLESOME
BAKING POWDER

Bumsteads Worm Syrup

"To children an object of mercy." When directions are followed. IT NEVER FAILS. Despite scarcity and enormous cost of SANTONIN, it contains full dose "Good sixty years' test. Sold everywhere or by mail, 65c a bottle.

Bumstead, C. S., Voorhees, M. D., Philadelphia.

Yankee Pineapple Cake

SUPREME FOR FLAVOR AND FOOD VALUE!

25c at your Grocer's.

Few home cooks can equal the rare daintiness of this fine Yankee product, and not one can use better, purer, more nourishing ingredients.

A lovely, moist, rich cake with icing piquantly flavored with pineapple.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKETS AT A GLANCE
New York

Stocks lower; public utilities under pressure.
Bonds easy; trading restricted by stiffer money rates.
Foreign exchanges irregular; francs slightly lower.
Cotton lower; Wall Street selling.
Sugar easier European selling.
Coffee firm; higher Brazilian market.
Chicago
Wheat lower; absence foreign demand.
Corn steady; unfavorable southwestern reports.
Cattle firm.
Hogs higher; small receipts.

MARKET WAS REACTIONARY

NEW YORK, July 22—(AP)—Reactionary price movements held away in today's stock market, which encumbered by a top heavy technical position, offered only feeble resistance to selling pressure. Scarcity on call money, resulting in the maintenance of stiffer rates, halted constructive operation and enabled speculators for the decline to extend their activities with little opposition.

Trade developments were mainly favorable, but were ignored in the rush of traders to take profits and in the concentration of professional selling against the standard industrial leaders. Constructive news included the resumption of dividends by the Goodrich Rubber company, another increase in weekly car loadings optimistic reports regarding steel operations and the trend of steel prices and estimates of a further falling off in crude oil production.

While the day's setback embraced all representative departments of the industrial list and most of the leading rails, several stocks moved counter to the general trend and closed the day one to three points higher. International Harvester, responding to better business as a result of the rehabilitated purchasing power of the agricultural communities, crossed 117 to the highest price since the post-war deflation. The stock closed 1 3-4 points higher at 115 3-4.

Restoration of Goodrich common stock to a $4 annual dividend basis caused a rally in that issue, but failed to stimulate buying of the other tire shares. U. S. Rubber, Fisk and Kelly Springfield issues followed the general downward trend. Typewriter stocks gave a good showing of group strength with Underwood and Remington both mounting to new high levels for the year. Other strong spots included American Radiator, Universal Pipe preferred, Tobacco products issues and Continental Can. Fleischmann was pushed up to a new high record in anticipation of a permanent policy regarding the payment of extra dividends.

The success of the bearish element in turning the course of prices downward was reflected in losses of a point or more by market leaders such as American Can, U. S. Steel, Dupont, Mack Trucks and Studebaker. Where realizing sales were invited, as in the case of Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Fairbanks Morse, Woolworth, Foundation Company A, American Sugar and U. S. Industrial Alcohol, the declines ranged from 1 to almost 4 points. Putna Alegre Sugar was hammered down almost two points prior to the omission of common dividends announced at the close of the market.

Public utility shares particularly the Gas Company issues, also found hard sledding. Recessions of a point or more included Consolidated Gas, Standard Gas, Peoples Gas, Laclede Gas, American Water Works common and six per cent. preferred and several of the Electric Power issues.

A shortage of loanable funds was evident in the marking up of the call money renewal to four per cent., and its subsequent advance to four and a half per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates remained unchanged in a quiet market.

Foreign exchange trading was devoid of features. Demand sterling hovered around $4.85 3-4 with slightly lower levels prevailing for French francs, Italian lira and the Scandinavian currencies which reacted after a recent rise to new high levels.

STOCKS.

Sales In hundreds.	High.	Low.	Close.
7 Abitibi P & P. 66	65½	65	65½
1 Adv Rumely ... 15⅝	15⅝	15⅝	15⅝
12 Adv Rum pr .. 58⅜	57½	57	57½
54 Air Reduct ...107½	108⅝	106⅞	106⅞
23 Ajax Rubber .. 14½	13⅞	13⅝	13⅞
17 Al Chem & Dye 91	90¾	90	90⅜
1 Al Ch & D pr..119¾	119⅝	119⅝	119⅝
22 Allis Chalmers 83⅜	83½	82½	82½
24 Am Agri Ch ... 22⅜	21½	21	21½
36 Am Ag Ch pr .. 85	82½	82	82½
23 Am Beet Sugar 38½	38½	38	38½
15 Am Bosch Mag 33¾	32½	32½	32½
40 Am Can 204½	201¾	201	201½
1 Am Can pr ...119½	119½	119½	119½
3 Am Car & Fdy 102¾	102½	102	102½
1 Am Car & pr..126⅝	126⅝	126⅜	126⅜
6 Am Chain A .. 51	50½	50	50½
1 Am Drug Syn. .. 5⅜	5⅜	5⅜	5⅜
1 Am Express ...135½	135½	135	135½
20 Am & F P 42¼	41⅝	42	42
1 Am & F P pr .. 90⅜	90⅜	90	90⅜
8 Am H & L 12⅝	11	11	11½
6 Am H & L pr .. 66⅛	65	65	65⅝
6 Am Ice 118	119	118	118
1 Am Ice pr 85	85	85	85
22 Am Int Corp .. 37	36¼	36	37
1 Am Linseed 28	28	28	28
6 Am Loco 124¼	123	123	123½
5 Am Metals 49½	48⅝	48	49½
24 Am Radiator pr107	104	106	106
1 Am Republic .. 62	62	62	62
33 Am Saf Razor.. 65¼	62½	62	64¼
14 Am Ship&Com .. 7½	7½	7	7⅜
56 Am Smelting ..106⅝	104½	104	104½
1 Am Smelt pr ...110	110	110	110
5 Am St Fdrs 39¾	38⅞	38⅝	38⅝
10 Am Sum Tob .. 10⅜	10	9	9
6 Am Su Tob pr .. 79	77	77	77
1 Am T & C 40	40	40	40
18 Am Tel & Tel.141	140⅞	140	141
31 Am Tob 98	96⅝	97⅝	97⅝
19 Am Tob B 97⅞	97	97	97½
3 Am Type Fdrs.121¾	121	121	121¾
36 Am W W 67½	65⅞	66	66
9 A W W 7 I pr 99⅝	99⅜	99⅜	99⅝
5 A WW S pf pr109¾	109	109	109
10 Am Woolen ... 39⅝	39	39	39
3 Am Wool pr .. 83⅜	82	82	82
4 Am Zinc L&S .. 8¼	8	8	8
3 Am Zc L&S pr.. 29½	28¼	28¼	28¼
87 Anaconda Cop.. 42⅝	42¼	42	42
3 Arm&Co Deip 97¾	97¼	97¼	97¼
29 Arnold Constab 11⅝	10¾	10⅝	10⅝
4 Asso Dry Gds . 54	53	53	53
17 Asso Oil 40¼	39¼	39	39¼
16 Atchison 119⅞	119½	119	119½
3 Atchison pr .. 98⅜	98¼	98	98¼
47 Atl Bir & Atl .. 5⅝	5	5	5⅝
12 Atl Coast Line.165	164	164	164¾
26 Atl Gulf & W I 49	47¼	47	47⅜
1 Atl G & W I pr 50	50	50	50
3 Atl Refining ..111	110¾	110	110¾
1 Austin Nichols. 23½	23½	23	23½
12 Baldwin Loc .114½	112¼	113	113¼
2 Baldwin Lo pr.110¾	109¼	109	109½
15 Balt & Ohio . 76⅛	76⅛	76	76⅝
3 Bang & Aroos 42	40⅝	41	41
1 Barnett Leather 41¼	41½	41	41½
6 Barnsdall Cp A 23¾	23½	23	23½
1 Barnsd Corp B 19	19	19	19
2 Beechnut Pck . 68	68	68	68
36 Bethlehem Steel 43¼	42¾	42	43½
3 Beth Steel 7s pr 97½	97½	97	97½
8 Booth Fisheries 5½	5½	5	5½
1 BMooth Fish 1 p 35	35	35	35
54 Briggs Mfg Co.. 40½	39⅝	40	40
5 Bkyn Edison ... 138½	138¼	138	138¼
37 Bkyn Manh Tr 54	52¾	52	52¾
11 Bkyn Un Gas .. 58½	57½	57	57½
1 Brown Shoe ... 98½	98½	98	98½
25 Bruns Bl Col . 27¼	26½	26	26½
1 Burns Bros A..104¼	104¼	104	104¼
2 Butte Copper . 6	6	6	6
10 Butte & Sup C 11¼	11	11	11
3 Caddo Oil .. .. ⅝	⅝	⅝	⅝
2 Calif Pack 116	115	115	115
53 Cal Pet 28⅝	28¼	28	28¼
3 Calum & Ariz.. 5	5	5	5
1 Cal & Hec 15⅛	15⅛	15	15⅛
3 Cana Pacific .141⅝	141⅜	141	141⅜
6 Cases Thresh .. 35	35	35	35
4 Case Thresh pr 81½	81½	81	81½
8 Cent Leather .. 19¼	18⅝	18	18⅞
20 Cent Leath pr 64¼	63	63	63
2 Cent Rib M .. 33⅞	33½	33	33½
10 Cerro de Pasco 52¼	52½	52	52⅜
38 Certainteed .. 53¼	51½	52	52
21 Chandler Motor 33¼	31¾	32	32½
5 Ches & Ohio . 93½	93	93	93
1 Ches & O pr .108¼	108½	108	108½
2 Chi & Alton .. 4¾	4¾	4	4¾
3 Chi & Alt pr . 8	8	8	8
2 Chi Gt W 11⅞	11½	11	11½
26 Ch Gt W pr . 24⅜	23⅝	23	23⅝
23 Ch M & St P . 8	7⅞	8	8⅛
24 Ch M & StP pr 15¾	14¾	15	15⅜
27 Chi & N W ... 64¾	63¾	63	63¾
4 Chi Pneu Tool . 97½	96¾	96	96¾
56 C R I & P 46½	45⅝	45	45⅝
3 CRI & P 6pcpf 85	84⅜	85	85
2 CRI & P 7pc pr 96	95½	95	95½
7 Childs Co 57	56⅛	56	56½
18 Chile Cop 34⅝	34⅜	34	34⅜
3 Cluett Peaby .. 60⅜	60⅛	60	60⅜
16 Coca Cola 124½	124	124	124
1 Coca Cola pr .100	100	100	100
30 Col Fuel & Ir. 40½	40⅛	40	40⅛
25 Col Gas & El. 67½	67	67	67
1 Com Inv Tr ... 61	61	61	61
21 Congo Nairn . 21⅝	22¾	21	21⅝
5 Consol Cig ... 36⅛	36⅛	36	36¼
2 Con Cig pr ... 85½	85	85	85
12 Con dist 6	5¾	5	5⅞
76 Con Gas 90¾	89⅞	89	89⅞
2 Cont Text 3	3	3	3
16 Cont Can 75⅛	72½	72	75⅝
8 Cont Ins 115⅜	114⅛	113	115⅜
32 Cont Mot 10⅜	10	10	10
34 Corn Prod 35⅞	35¼	35	35¼
1 Corn Prod pr .124¾	124¾	124	124¾
46 Crue Steel 72⅜	71	71	72½
4 Cu Can Sug .. 11⅜	11½	11	11½
3 Cu Can Sugpr. 50⅜	50	50	50
23 Cu Am Sug 28⅜	28¼	28	28¼
14 Cu Dom Sug . 4½	4¼	4	4¼
22 Cu Dom Sugpr 28	28	28	28
2 Cush Sons Inc 74⅜	74⅜	74	74⅜
2 Cuyamel Fruits .546	54	54	54
4 Dan Boone Wool 1¼	1⅛	1	1⅛
45 Daison Chem . 40⅜	37	37	37⅜
1 De Beers Cons 22½	22½	22	22½
2 Deere Co pr ...101	101	101	101
3 Delaware & Hud ..148	148	148	148
2 Del Lk & West139½	139½	139	139½
3 Den RG & W pr 39⅞	39	39	39
116 Dodge Bros A. 28¼	27⅝	27	27⅝
19 Dodge Bros pr. 83	82½	82	82¼
19 Doug Pectin .. 20¼	19½	19	20
25 DuP de Nem .179	177	177	177
1 DuP de N deb 100¼	100¼	100	100¼
2 East Kodak.. 107½	106½	106	106½
13 Eaton Axle ... 18¼	18	18	18
170 El P & Lt ctfs 38	37	37	37
3 El P & Lt40pcp100¾	100¾	100	100¾
11 Electric Stor B 63½	63	63	63
14 Emerson Brant 2¼	2	2	2¼
3 Erie R R 27½	27¼	27	27¼
9 Erie 1 pr 37½	37	37	37½
3 Exchange Buff. 16	15½	15	15½
13 Fairb Morse .. 48¼	46⅝	47	47⅛
81 Fam Play Lsk 105⅞	104	104	107¼
2 Fam Play pr ..116	116	116	116
3 Fed Lt & Tr .. 31⅝	31¾	31	31⅜
3 Fed M & Sm .. 56¾	56½	56	56½
1 Fid Phe F Ins.165	165	165	165
21 Fisher Body .. 73½	71¾	72	72¾
21 Fisher Body .. 73½	71⅞	72	72¾
101 Fisk Rubber .. 20⅝	20¼	20	20⅝
1 Fisk Rub 1 pr.107¼	106	106	106
55 Fleischman Co 93⅝	92⅝	92	93⅜
45 Foundation Co 130½	127	127	127
1 Freen Texas .. 15¼	15½	15	15¼
4 Gardner Motor . 8⅜	8⅜	8	8¼
2 Gen Am Tk pr102	102	102	102
12 Gen Asphalt .. 53	52	52	52
14 Gen Baking ..152	150	152	152
3 Gen Cigar xd.. 88½	88½	88	88½
97 Gen Electric ...294½	290	290	293½
19 Gen Elec spl .. 11¼	11¼	11	11¼
121 Gen Motors .. 84⅞	84	84	84¾
8 Gen Mot 7 pcpr113¼	112½	113	113¼
91 Gen Pet 55⅞	55	55	55⅜
4 Gimbel Bros .. 55¼	55¼	55	55¾
13 Ginter Co 41½	40¾	40	40¾
19 Glidden Co ... 21⅝	21⅝	21	21⅝
102 Goodrich B F. 57⅜	56⅞	56	56⅞
12 Good T&R pr .103½	102½	103	103
5 Gdy T&R p pr105¾	105¾	105	105¾
13 Gt North pr . 68½	67¾	68	68
3 Gt N Ir Ore Pr 29¾	29¼	29	29¾
20 Gt West Sug .105	103½	103	103½
1 Great W Sugar.114	114	114	114
3 Greene Can Cop 14⅜	14⅜	14	14⅜
12 Gulf Mob&No. 29⅝	28⅝	28	29
9 Gulf Mob&N pr 97	96¼	96	97
25 Gulf States St 85½	84½	84	85½
28 Hayes Wheel . 42¾	40⅞	40	40⅞
1 Hoe R & Co . 47	47	47	47
1 Homestake ... 44	44	44	44
33 Household Prod 42¾	41⅜	42	42⅜
5 Houston Oil .. 73½	72⅞	72	72⅞
7 Hudson & Manh 62⅞	62⅜	62	62⅜
95 Hudson Motors 62⅝	63	62	62
64 Hupp Motor .. 18⅜	18¼	18	18¼
2 Illinois Cent .1.14½	114¼	114	114¾
130 Indep Oil&Gas 36⅜	35½	35	35⅝
2 Indian Motorcy. 17	17	17	17
5 Indian Refin ... 8½	8¼	8	8½
8 Inland Steel .. 42¾	42½	42	42½
6 Insp Copper .. 28⅝	28¼	28	28⅜
20 Int Rap Tr 27½	27	27	27½
45 Int Agri Cor .. 15½	15	15	15⅞
6 Int Cement 68⅜	67¾	67	67⅞
82 Int Com Eng . 41⅜	41	41	41
176 Int Har Co ..117¼	114	115	115⅞
1 Int Har pr ...115⅞	115½	115	115½
8 Int Mer Mar .. 8⅜	8	8	8
42 Int Mer Mar pr 31	30	30	30
54 Int Nickel ... 20⅞	20⅝	20	20⅝
8 Int Paper 67¼	67¼	65	65¼
1 Int R of C A. 31¾	31¾	31	31¾
2 I R of C A pr 65	65	65	65
1 Int Shoe pr ...116¼	116½	116	116½
6 Int T & T 121½	120	120	120
20 Jordan Mot ... 40¼	40¾	40	40½
4 K City P&L pr107½	107½	107	107½
13 Kan City Sou. 32½	32	32	32
2 Kayser J & Co 31⅝	30⅝	30	30⅝
50 Kelly Spr 20⅝	20	20	20¼
53 Kennecott Cop 53⅝	53	53	53¼
33 Keystone Tire. 3	2⅞	2	2⅞
2 Kinney Co 84	84	84	84
17 Kresge Dept St 38⅜	37¼	38	38⅜
1 Laclede Gas ...150	150	150	150
1 Lee Rub & T. 16⅝	16⅜	16	16⅜
6 Lehigh Valley. 78	78	78	78
6 Lig & My Tob 67⅜	67½	67	67½
18 Lig & My T B 67½	66½	66	66⅜
178 Loew's Inc ... 30⅝	28⅝	29	29⅜
28 Lorillard Co .. 35¼	35	35	35
46 Louis Oil & Ref 17⅜	17	17	17
4 Louis & Nash .111	110½	110	110½
7 Ludlum Steel . 35	34⅝	34	34⅝
112 Mack Truck ..194⅛	191	192	192½
1 Mack Tk 1 pr.110	110	110	110
1 Mackay pr 68⅜	68⅜	68	68⅜
9 Macy R H Co. 88	86½	87	87¼
1 Magma Cop .. 41¼	41	41	41
35 Mallison & Co 27⅜	26½	26	26½
2 Manati Sugar . 50⅜	50⅜	50	50⅜
3 Manh El Sup. 51½	51½	51	51½
2 Manh Ry m & . 46½	45½	45	45½
2 Manh Shirt .. 27¼	27	27	27
1 Man Elec Corp 41	41	41	41
8 Marao O Ex .. 25⅝	25½	25	25½
2 Mkt St Ry pr. 51	50½	50	50½
116 Mar Oil 45¼	44½	44	44½
1 Marlin Rockw . 24	24	24	24
16 Martin Parry .. 28	27½	27	27½
1 Math Alk Wks 80	80	80	80
1 Max Mot A ct.115	115	115	115
46 Max Mot Bctfs111¼	109½	110	110
6 McCr St B 95½	94	94	94
3 Mcln Por Mn . 18⅝	18½	18	18⅜
3 Metro Edi pr.114½	114½	114	114½
3 Mex Seab Oil . 14¾	14⅛	14	14⅛
6 Mimi Cop 10⅜	10¼	10	10¼
70 Mid Cont Pet . 32	31¾	31	31¾
7 Mid Sts Oil ... 2⅛	2⅛	2	2⅛
1 Midl St Pr pr .117¼	117¼	117	117¼
6 Min & St L .. 2½	2½	2	2¼
124 Mo K & T ... 35⅛	35⅛	35	35⅛
28 Mo K & T pr 86½	85⅝	86	86
20 Mo Pacific 34	33¾	33	33¼
45 Mo Pac pr 80⅞	79	79	79⅝
38 Montana Power 84⅝	83½	84	84⅜
141 Montg Ward . 64⅞	63⅝	63	63⅝
61 Moon Motors . 31⅝	30⅞	31	31⅛
59 Mother Lode .. 8	7⅞	8	8
41 Motor Wheel . 33	32	32	32⅜
1 Munsingwear . 34⅞	34⅞	34	34⅞
3 Murray Bdy Cp 31	31	31	31
1 Nash Ch&St L149	149	149
34 Nat Acme spd 10⅛	9	10
16 Nat Biscuit .. 72	71¼	71	71½
3 Nat Clk & St. 69½	66¼	69	69⅛
3 Nat Dair Prod. 55⅝	55⅝	55	55⅝
26 Nat Dist Prod 35½	35	35	35⅝
4 Nat Prod Pr pr 68⅜	68½	68	68⅛
1 Nat En. & St. 80½	80¼	80	80⅝
Nat Lead 152	151	151	151⅝
4 Nat Lead pr ..118	118	118
1 Nat Rys Mx 2nd 1⅝	1⅝	1⅝	1⅝
3 Nat Supply 63½	61¾	61	61⅝
11 Ne Con Cop ... 13½	13	13	13¼
2 N O T & M ...121½	121¼	121	121⅝
29 N Y Air Bk ... 50½	49	49	49½
1 N Y Air Br A 52	52	52	52
6 N Y Canners . 44⅝	43½	44	44⅜
38 N Y Central .117⅝	116⅝	116	117
1 N Y Chi & St L122	122	122	122
1 N Y C & SL pr 91¾	91¾	91	91¾
2 New York Dock 26½	25½	25	25½
294 N Y N H & H . 36⅛	33⅝	33	33⅝
1 N Y O & West 24½	24	24	24
2 NY Ry pr ctfs. 10½	10½	10	10½
2 Nlag Falls Pw 77	76	76
3 Nor Southn 33¼	33	33
16 Norf & W ...129½	128½	128	128¾
119 North Amer ... 56¼	44¼	56
1 North Am pr. 49⅜	48⅜	48	48⅜
23 North Pac 66	65¼	65	65¼
4 Onyx Hois 28½	28	28
14 Orpheum Cir .. 29⅝	29	29
4 Otis Elevator .131	129	130	130½
12 Otis Steel 13¾	13	13	13⅜
45 Owens Bottle . 55½	54	55	55⅛
1 Owens Bot pr .112	112	112	112
2 Pac Coast 2 pr 41	41	41	41
12 Pac Gas & El.116	116	116	116
51 Pacific Oil 55¼	57½	57	57⅜
171 Packard Motor .34½	33¾	33	34
16 Paige Det Mot 20¼	19½	19	19½
13 Pan Am Pet .. 75	74	74
261 Pan Am Pet B 74⅞	73½	73	73⅝
6 Panh Pr&R 3⅝	3¾	3	3⅝
8 Parish&Bin stp 1⅝	1⅝	1	1⅝
2 Park & Tilford 29¼	28	28	29
22 Penn R R 46⅝	45⅞	46	46¼
11 Pen Seab Stl. 1½	1⅜	1	1½
4 Peo Gas Chi ...117⅞	116⅜	116	116⅝
1 Peo & Eastt 16½	16½	16	16½
8 Pere Marq 65	64¾	65	65
7 Phil Co 60	59½	59	59½
1 Phil Co 6 pc pr 49	49	49	49
4 Phil & Rdg C&I 40	40	40	40
48 Phil Mor&Co .. 19⅞	18¾	19	19⅝
74 Phil Pet 45¾	44¼	44	44½
3 Phoe Hols 37½	37¼	37	37½
176 Pierce Ar 29¾	28⅝	28	28½
21 Pierce Ar pr .. 74⅞	74	74
10 Pierce Oil 17⅞	17⅝	17	17⅝
3 Pierce Oil pr .. 33	33	33
5 Pierce Pet 66½	66¼	66	66½
1 Pitts Coal 46	46	46
1 Pitts St pr ... 95½	95½	95	95½
16 Pitts Term Coal 36	36	36
2 Pit & W V 71⅛	71	71	71⅛
2 Postum Cereal 118	117⅝	117	117⅝
1 Pr & Ref 19	19	19
3 P S S & G pr. 91⅜	94	94
9 Pub S N J 72	71½	71	71⅝
96 P S N J rts .... ⅞	⅞	⅞	⅞
1 Pullman Co ...140	140	140
91 Punta Al Sug..33⅝	33⅝	33	33⅝
10 Pure Oil 29¾	29¾	28	28⅛
114 Radio Corp .. 54⅛	53⅝	54
1 Radio Corp pr. 45⅝	40⅝	42	43⅜
1 Ry S Spring ..125¼	125⅛	125	125⅛
50 Ray Con Cop .. 15⅝	15½	15	15⅝
18 Reading Co 86¼	85⅞	85	85⅞
1 Reading 1st 18¼	18¼	18	18¼
1 Read 1 pr 40	40	40
11 Read 2 pr 41¾	41⅜	41	41⅜
46 Reis & Co Robt 23	23⅞	23	24
49 Rem Type 78½	75	75	76⅛
2 Replogle Steel .15⅛	15	15
11 Rep Ir & St .. 48⅝	48	48
2 Reyns Spring .. 9⅜	9¼	9	9¾
54 Reyns Tob B . 82⅛	81⅝	81	81⅝
1 Rossia Ins Co . 89½	89½	89	89½
31 Roy Dutch NY 54⅞	54⅝	54	54⅝
4 Rutland Ry pr 58½	57⅝	57	58⅛
9 St Jos Lead .. 41¼	40¾	40	40⅝
59 St L & S Fr . 86	84⅝	84	84⅝
10 St L Southw .. 48	47½	48
3 Savage Arms . 56½	56	56	56
30 Schulte R Strs109⅜	107⅝	106	108⅝
15 Seab Air Line 33	32¼	32	32¼
4 Seab A L pr .. 42	41½	41	41½
42 Sears Roeb ...186	184⅛	184	184⅛
6 Shat & Ariz .. 6⅞	6⅞	6	6⅞
2 Shat F G Co .. 66¼	66	66	66
4 Shell Tran & Tr 42⅜	42⅜	42	42⅜
27 Shell Un Oil .. 24⅜	24⅛	24	24⅞
1 Shell Un Oil pr 104	104	104
8 Simmons Co .. 44½	44¼	44	44⅝
1 Simms Petrol . 23	23	23
62 Sinc Con Oil ...22⅝	22	22
22 Sinc Con Oil pr 94½	83¾	83	83½
36 Skelly Oil 27½	26⅞	26	26⅞
13 Sloss Sh S & Ir104	103	103
28 South Pac 98½	98¼	98	98¼
60 South Ry 101⅝	100	100	100½
32 South Ry pr . 87⅞	87	87	87⅝
2 South P Ri S 72	71¾	71	71⅝
52 Spicer Mfg 26¼	24⅞	25
2 Spicer Mfg pr106	106	106
50 Stand Gas & E 55¼	54	54	54½
1 Stand Mill 74½	74½	74	74½
59 Stand O Cal .. 58⅝	58⅜	58	58½
90 Stand Oil N J 63¾	63⅝	63	63⅝
6 Stan O N J pr117	117	117	117
13 Stand Pl Glass 10½	10½	10	10½
4 Sterling Prod . 72	71½	71	71½
21 Stew War Sp .. 68¼	67½	68
2 Stromb Carb .. 69	69	69
132 Studebaker .. 47⅛	46⅝	46	46½
3 Subm Boat .. 5⅝	5¾	5	5¾
6 Superior Oil . 4	4	4
9 Symington Co . 16½	15⅝	15	15⅝
1 Sym Co A 21½	21¼	21	21¼
1 Telauto Corp . 12	12	12
31 Tenn C & Ch.. 11⅞	11⅝	11	11⅞
120 Texas Co 51⅞	51⅜	51	51⅝
23 Texas Gulf Sul110½	109¾	109	109⅝
18 Texas & Pac .. 48¼	47½	48
13 Tex & PacC&O 14⅝	14⅝	14	14⅝
3 Third A Ry .. 14⅝	14	14
43 Timk Rol B .. 43⅜	43	43	43¼
250 Tobacco Prod . 86	84	85	85¼
4 Tob Prod A ..103	102¾	103
8 Trans Oil 1½	4⅝	4	4½
36 Under Type .. 47	47	47	48½
1 U Bag&Paper. 43½	43½	43	43½
21 Union Oil Chi. 27⅞	27½	27	27½
6 Union Pac ...139½	139	139
2 Union Pac pr . 76	76	76
2 Union Pacific pr 76	76	76
1 Union Tank Car127	127	127
1 Union T Car pr116¾	116¾	116	116¾
17 Un Al Steel .. 29	28	28	28¾
59 Un Cigar Stores 83¾	81⅜	83	83⅜
14 United Drug ..128½	127½	127	127½
7 Un Drug 1 pr 54¾	54⅝	54	54⅝
10 United Fruit ..224½	223

WATER RATES INCREASE PROTEST NOT ANSWERED BY N. LONDON COUNCIL

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 23—The city council has not yet decided what its answer will be to the protest of the Manufacturers' association of the city against the increase in the water rates charged to the "big fellows," as the manufacturers are called because they use enormous quantities of water in their plants. It is claimed by the manufacturers that they are charged the same pro rata as the family that uses only the smallest volume of water. It is also claimed that the manufacturers are really an insurance against loss by fire because they have every facility that can be suggested to fight flames. It was represented by President Hasty, of the Robert Gair company, that if the manufacturing establishments did not equip their plants with the facilities afforded by them, the city's fire apparatus would be often called on for protection. President Hasty gave a clear and lucid presentation of the claim of the manufacturers to the city council recently, and the protest was referred to a committee for report. Last Monday evening the members of the council had the city engineer and the director of finance before them in chambers, but what decision was arrived at has not been made known.

The members of the city council and representative citizens are to feast at Ocean Beach tomorrow evening as the guests of Messrs Leverone and Georgia, who have established a new resort there for the public. A band is to be in attendance and an orchestra so that there will be abundant music during the evening. Mr. Georgia came here from Waterbury where he has had experience in the management of such places.

Lieuts. Sweeney and Putts of the New York police department, who came here with a commission from City Manager Holt at the suggestion of the city council to consider facts produced by the recent hearing by council committee and who went home with a commission to report a series of rules and regulations and to recommend a code of discipline that would make our police the equal of "the finest" in the performance of duty, have not yet reported. The delay was so prolonged that City Manager Holt asked the New York officers to get busy and give New London the benefit of their observations. Now the city manager has been informed that the preparation of the rules and regulations is no little task, but that it will be accomplished so that New London will have the recommendations by the first of next month. It is not known here what arrangement was made for compensating the New York officers, but if they have been at work on the rules and regulations since they left New London they have spent the most of two months' time at their duty. At compensation by the day, their bill will amount to something; that will be quite substantial. If they are to favor New London with their advice free they will have conferred no little favor upon this city. It is understood that the police lieutenants are to be paid "to their satisfaction" for their work.

An easterly wind that prevailed all day kept throngs of people away from the seashore today. But the rain held off and gave visitors a chance to pass most of the afternoon out of doors.

The Thames Improvement company has sold a building lot on Oneco avenue to Thomas B. Terson, of Waterford.

Aaron and Marie A. Barbelate, formerly of New London, now of New York, have sold a house and lot on Henry street to Howard B. and Gladys J. Peck.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel today caused the operators' licenses of Jacob Baroty, 114 Hempstead street, and Abraham Shapiro, 109 Montauk avenue to be suspended. Both operators were penalized recently for violation of the automobile law, Baroty drawing a fine in the Norwich city court for operating his machine past a motionless trolley car while passengers were being received and discharged.

The automobile owned and driven by William O. Wheary, stationed at the United States Coast Guard academy, and a car owned and driven by Miss Harriet M. Allyn, of Poughkeepsie, but who is residing temporarily at 264 Jefferson avenue, were in collision this afternoon on Huntington street. Both cars were damaged.

Thomas F. McNamara, a chief petty officer, was drunk and abusive in the street and in the Star restaurant last night. So the police were asked to take care of him. He would not pay for what he had in the restaurant, though he had the money to do so, evidence that he was under the influence of liquor. He said that what he drank was alcohol, but he denied that he was under the influence of it. After he was taken from the restaurant he was given a chance to go to the Salvation Army hotel, where he claimed he had paid for a room, but his condition was such that he would not be admitted there. He became abusive and was locked up. Today he was fined $5. McNamara claimed he had $60 when he came to the city, but he had less than $20 this morning.

Michael O'Neill, a laborer, was fined $5 for intoxication. He has made a precarious living by helping on trucks, etc., but he managed to get money enough to buy liquor that made him intoxicated.

The tall and heavy flagpole that occupied a conspicuous position on the lawn at the Dr. John T. Black house on Montauk avenue has been removed to make way for a dwelling being erected on the lot.

Mrs. Lillian M. Darrow, about 52, wife of William N. Darrow, 191 Lincoln avenue, died this morning at her home after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Darrow who was born in Waterford, besides her husband, is survived by several children.

The automobile, owned and operated by Dr. Charles Kaufman, of Montauk avenue, and a machine owned and driven by George C. Farrell, 345 Williams street, and a third car, the identity of which was not established, were in collision this afternoon, corner of Bank and Howard streets. The machines of Dr. Kaufman and Farrell were damaged. The driver of the third car drove away without stopping to ascertain the extent of the damage occasioned and neither Dr. Kaufman or Farrell was able to obtain the registration of the car.

Another Bank street burglary was committed last night, the break making the third on that business street within 24 hours. The break last night was at Moon's pharmacy, 463, the drug store being owned by Dr. Anthony Crocicchia. Entrance to the pharmacy was gained by forcing a rear door. The plunder obtained consisted of $15, found in the cash register. This afternoon Sergeant Nelson Smith arrested Charles Moore charged with the crime. Moore's residence is in Waterford, but he has resided in New London several years. He has been conspicuous about the streets of the city the past two summers, being attired in a chauffeur's uniform and soliciting jobs polishing automobiles that are parked alongside the curb. Moore is believed to be not mentally sound. He is being held a prisoner at the police station and will be given a hearing in the police court tomorrow morning.

Arthur Plocte and John Luch, of Co. 1, 102nd regiment, Fort Trumbull, Niantic; Miss Constance Dooley, Westerly; Frank Stevens, United States Coast Guard steamer Henley; Roy Fancher, Mitchell court and John Moriarty, rear 50 Howard street, the last named an employe of Palmer Brothers' mill were patients dismissed at Lawrence-Memorial hospital today.

Max Basson, a Bank street merchant dealing in babies' wear, has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court in Hartford.

As a result of the raid at the Ninigret house, Crescent Beach, Waterford, Sunday night, when state police swooped down on the place, James Deptula, who represented himself as the proprietor of the place, was presented before Justice of the Peace Marion R. Davis in East Lyme Monday night. He was convicted of charges of violation of the liquor law and keeping a disorderly house. Deptula was fined $150 on the former charge and $50 on the latter.

The conduct of Nancy Andrews, a woman about 35, residing on Bank street, near Lee avenue, has attracted the attention of the authorities for some time and more especially because the woman is not considered sound mentally and because of her frequent companionship of men. As a result of the watchfulness of the woman, she is prisoner tonight at the police station, together with one of her male acquaintances, Frank Stevens, who resides near the Andrews woman. The charge against both is a serious one.

The Andrews woman and Stevens were taken into custody this evening by Motorcycle Officer Augustus Ray, Patrolman Howard Sloan and Policewoman Jane Cassidy, complaint having been lodged with the police by a neighbor of the Andrews woman that the latter was entertaining a male friend at her house. When arrested both the Andrews woman and Stevens admitted the charge made against them. The couple will be give a hearing in the police court tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Harr N. J. Kennedy and daughter, Miss Florence, of 903 Bank street, are spending a few days in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Brunner, formerly of New London, now of Washington, D. C., were in New London yesterday en route to the residence of Mrs. Brunner's sister, Mrs. Lewis Hammond, of Stonington. Mrs. Brunner was formerly employed in newspaper work in New London.

Miss Yolandi Buchi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buchi of 409 Ocean avenue and Domenic Menghi, son of Mr. and Mrs. Genaro Menghi of 35 Menghi street were united in marriage this morning at St. Joseph's church by the pastor, Rev. William C. Fitzsimons.

The bride wore white crepe de chine trimmed with lace, and had a white hat. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor, Mrs. John D. Epolito, sister of the bride wore a dress of peach colored crepe satin with hat to match and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. John D. Epolito, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Mr. and Mrs Menghi left for a wedding trip to New Haven and New York. Upon their return they will live at 409 Ocean avenue.

The Pittsburgh express, due in New London at 6:30 o'clock was delayed in reaching this city this evening because of the train having struck an automobile with four occupants, two men and two women, at a grade crossing at Wickford Junction. The automobile was wrecked, but the occupants escaped serious injury.

An automobile owned and operated by J. H. Peck, of eKnyon street, Hartford, and a machine operated by Mrs. E. J. Carlson, 507 Ocean avenue, were in collision late this afternoon at the corner of Pequot avenue and Thames street. Both automobiles were damaged, but their occupants escaped injury.

NEW TRAFFIC SIGNAL FOR STATE-BANK STS. CORNER

(Special to the Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 22—The new traffic signal that the city is again to experiment with at the corner of State and Bank streets, was put into position today and will be ready for operation, it is believed, within a few days. The signal, which is erected upon a pole, has been located on the west side of the soldiers' and sailors' monument and will be electrically operated, the officer using a switch to set the signal for and against traffic. The signal is square in shape and has three sets of illuminated signals which will guide traffic from each direction.

HENRY M. SPRAGUE SHOCKED, WHILE WELDING AT S. & E. PLAN

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 22—Henry M. Sprague Jr., 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Sprague, 36 Pleasant street, Groton, and employed as an electrical welder at the plant of the New London Ship & Engine company, Groton, was fatally injured this morning, when he received about 6,000 volts of electricity through his body in an unaccountable manner, while at work in one of the submarines of the United States government, receiving repairs at the Groton plant. Sprague was unconscious when rescuers reached him and he died a few minutes after being admitted at Lawrence-Memorial hospital and while artificial respiration was being tried by a force of physicians in an effort to save the life of the man.

Sprague and other workmen entered the submarine about 8 o'clock. About 11 o'clock while Sprague was operating the welder he was observed to collapse. Other workmen rushed to his assistance, but he was in an unconscious state and breathing with difficulty. A company truck was commandeered and the man was hastened to the hospital where he died five minutes after reaching there.

It is believed that Sprague, in the manipulation of the welder received the voltage either by the welder grounding and forming a short circuit, or through defective wiring of the connection.

BUS LINE MAY PARALLEL NORWICH-WORCESTER ROAD

HARTFORD, June 22—(AP)—Discontinuance of local train service on three divisions of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in Connecticut and the establishment of motor extensive routes aggregating approximately 200 miles is under contemplation by the railroad management, according to a New Haven dispatch to the Hartford Courant.

The motor bus routes projected are the following:

From Danbury over the new Housatonic valley highway to Canaan, 51.5 miles by rail.

From Hartford to Winsted, 35.7 miles by rail.

From Waterbury to Middletown by way of Millidale and Meriden, supplanting miles.

The old Air line, approximately 35

From New London to Putnam, over the route of the old Norwich and Worcester railroad, by way of Norwich, Plainfield and Danielson, about 65 miles.

RIOT BETWEEN WHITES AND NEGROES IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 22—(AP)—Five riot calls were received by police early tonight to quell what was said to be a riot between whites and negroes in an outlying section of the city. Fifteen police sent out on the first call were reinforced by a score of others and detectives.

The fight started, it is said, when a white man and a negro became involved in an argument over a game of ball being played by boys. A crowd gathered and fighting resulted. First reports were that probably 200 men and boys were engaged in the fight, during which bricks and stones were hurled and several shots were fired.

Police Lieutenant Edward Dunn and Wagonman Herbert Rice were badly injured when they fell over a 50-foot cliff near the scene. They were chasing a man armed with a revolver, who later was captured.

PUTNAM YOUNG WOMAN AWARDED SCHOLARSHIP

PUTNAM, July 22—(AP)—Miss Fannie Obletz, of this city, has been awarded a scholarship in the New York Institute of Music by the Juilliard foundation. In the examination in New York city a month ago, Miss Obletz who is 18 years old, was one of the youngest of more than 100 applicants who came from all parts of the United States. She graduated from Putnam high school in June with the highest honors in her class.

ARMY PURSUIT PLANES LAND AT SALT LAKE CITY

SALT LAKE CITY, July 22—(AP)—The six army pursuit planes flying over the air mail route from Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, Michigan, to San Francisco landed at the Woodward air mail field here at 5:00 o'clock this afternoon. They hopped off from Cheyenne, Wyo., at 11:10 this morning.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS

BAD MOWERS MAKE BAD LAWNS

Much of the success in establishing a level, velvety stretch of lawn depends upon the mowing. The main need is a good lawn mower. There are scores of lawn mowers on the market, but it will be economy in the long run to get a good mower. The main factor in selecting a mower is the quality of steel in the blades. Will they stand sharpening? Many of the cheap grades of mowers won't. When the first edge is worn off they never perform up to the mark again, despite earnest sharpening.

The result is a ragged looking lawn after the mower goes over it, and the thicker and more luxuriant the grass, the worse the job. A first-class high-grade mower is rather expensive, but it is better to club with a neighbor and get a good mower than to waste money on a bargain counter machine that won't hold up over summer. Find out what sort of steel is in the blades and get the dealer's word for it before taking it away from the store.

Mowers with good steel blades which will take sharpening run twice as easily as the poorer grades and there is great saving in time, labor and nerves. A cheap mower is poor economy.

A last sprinkling of nitrate will be a help to the grass at this stage, to keep up the spring rush. Sprinkle it sparingly, but as evenly as possible and be sure that all lumps are broken fine. A lump will bring up a heavy growth about it like droppings in a pasture.

The lawn will need no more nitrate until the dry weather hits it and it begins to sere. Then give light dressings before wetting it down with the sprinkler.

If there are a few thin spots, scatter white clover seed. It will make a quick cover and give a green surface in a short time. Grass seed may be sown all this month with certainty of a fine stand by fall.

CAUSE OF APPLE SCALD

Brownish discolorations which some times appear on the skins of some varieties of apples late in the season are scald. It seems to be caused by the death and oxidation of the superficial cells. However, it is confined to the skin, does little harm coming off with the paring; and does not affect the quality of the apple, although the appearance of the fruit is ruined and its commercial value is lowered.

Apples with these brown spots need not be passed by as unfit for use if the market supply is low. If the apple is sound otherwise, these scald spots do not do the slightest harm so far as the cooking value or eating out of hand if pared are concerned. The susceptibility of different varieties of apples to scald differs considerably. It is most frequent on green or yellow fruit and often green-skinned apples showing these brown spots because of their spotted appearance, when as a matter of fact the apples are perfectly sound otherwise and altogether fit for use.

Delayed storage in late warm falls and uneven temperature during storage are contributing causes to scald.

SUDAN GRASS GOOD HAY

Sudan grass is attracting attention in Kansas and neighboring states as a hay crop. It is an annual grass belonging to the sorghum family and came to the United States from South Africa in 1909 being introduced by the Department of Agriculture for test in sections subject to drought and some hot periods. It has proved thoroughly adaptable to drought and is rapidly becoming a staple and dependable crop.

The Kansas Agricultural college reports that sudan grass makes a very palatable hay, richer in protein than prairie hay but not as rich as alfalfa. Feeding results have been uniformly good. It appears to have a limited value for pasture purposes and promises to replace a considerable portion of the millets and sorghums sowed for hay purposes in Kansas and sections " similar climatic condition.

Two or three cuttings of hay or one seed crop should be secured each season, the station reports.

As a native of hot dry climate it is particularly adapted to western Kansas. It is predicted that it will have an important place in drought sections in furnishing grazing for hogs. The station warns that its chief utility is for hay and that, like other members of the sorghum family, it has, under certain conditions, dangerous acids which are poison to live stock but that they appear in much less quantity and show only traces. So far no trouble from this acid has arisen but the station says that when the crop has been checked in its growth or after a period of prolonged drought the acid is likely to develop.

It cannot compete with alfalfa in sections where alfalfa will grow, nor in dry regions, where alfalfa will not flourish, the station says will furnish a fine substitute for hay purposes.

UNIFORM RULES NEEDED FOR ACCREDITING FLOCKS

The poultry-breeding industry of the United States is making a determined effort to bring harmony out of the confusion that now exists because of the differences in the rules and regulations applied to certification and accreditation of flocks in the various states. Under present conditions when a prospective purchaser of hatching eggs, baby chicks, or breeding stock comes across the word "accredited" or "certified" in connection with the advertised flocks, he does not know just what factors were taken into consideration to certify or accredit these flocks, unless he is familiar with the regulations governing such work in each state. The great difference in methods, plans and rules governing the accreditation and certification of poultry in the different states is serving to retard the progressive development of the industry and in unfairly shielding some breeders whose flocks are certified under less strin- " rules than others.

At present there are 22 states which have adopted regulations for certification and accreditation of flocks. The difference that exists between the regulations in these states is seen in the case of baby chicks. In one state chicks are sold by grade based on the production of the parents; in another case two grades of chicks are offered, one grade being from accredited flocks that are not tested for bacillary white diarrhea, and the other grade from flocks that have been tested and are found free from the disease. In another state chicks are sold on a basis of four grades according to the grading of the adult birds, and the grading of the adult birds is based on their general qualities. Still another sells certified as well as two other grades of chicks, the certified chicks being produced from certified males mated to certified females, while of the other two grades the first are chicks produced from old hens mated to certified cockerels and the second grade are chicks produced from certified pullets mated to certified cockerels.

The general committee appointed to cooperate with the poultry office of the United States Department of Agriculture has made a survey in which this same degree of difference in state rules and regulations was found to exist in regard to hatching eggs and breeding stock as well as baby chicks. The committee is of the opinion that if the states can get together to discuss these differences much can be done to stabilize the poultry-breeding industry. Also, from the standpoint of interstate commerce in hatching eggs, baby chicks, and breeding stock, the committee feels that uniformity in the state rules and regulations concerning the accreditation-certification work is necessary if poultrymen are to retain this business.

SUPREME OFFICERS ELECTED BY MACCABEES

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(A. P.)—The Maccabees order in quadrennial convention today elected officers for the ensuing term and adopted a resolution designed to bring about more more complete centralization of the organization's management.

A. W. Frye was re-elected supreme commander, and S. W. Hall of Oakland, Cal., was chosen supreme record keeper to succeed Thomas Watson, who retired after twenty-three years of service in that office.

The resolution provides for placing "all affairs of the order except those purely local in character" under direction of the supreme office of the Maccabees in Detroit. The change will affect several states in which much of the organization's business was handled by sub-divisions known as "great camps."

Speaking of the new plan of administration, Mr. Frye said "greater efficiency and the application of uniform business methods will result from this step."

Among othe officers elected were: R. P. Kuntz, Atchison, Kansas, supreme lieutenant commander; J. E. Turner, Norfolk, Va., supreme chaplain; R. N. Smith, La Porte, Ind., supreme master at arms; F. O. Croy, Birmingham, Ala., supreme sergeant; James S. Green, Toronto, Canada, supreme first master of guards; Jones Parker, St. Louis, Mo., supreme sentinel and R. P. White, Seattle, Washn., supreme picket.

PACKAGE OF MANUSCRIPTS STOLEN FROM AUTOMOBILE

FAIRFIELD, July 22.—(A. P.)—Mrs. G. L. Perrin, of Boston, whose husband was said to be one of the original workers for the establishment of schools for girls throughout the country, reported tonight to the police, that while she was inside the Unquoa hotel during the heavy downpour of rain this afternoon, a package which contained the manuscripts which represented the life work of her late husband, was stolen from her automobile which she had left parked outside of the hotel.

Mrs. Perrin was on her way to her publishers in New York, where she intended to leave the manuscript for publication when the threatening weather caused her to seek shelter inside the hotel. Besides the package containing the manuscript, several grips and parcels, some of which contained money and jewelry, were left in the automobile, but in her report to the police, Mrs. Perrin said that these additional grips and parcels had not been molested.

CHARGED WITH ADMINISTERING DISEASE GERMS TO WIFE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., July 22.—(A. P.)—Although officials refused to comment on results of a mental test to which they tonight subjected Clarence O. Baring, charged with administering disease germs to his wife, Baring was released on $15,500 bond shortly after the test examination. This led friends to believe that he was found sane.

Carlos H. McDonald, New York alienist, conducted the examination. District Attorney Rowland being present with Baring's counsel. Immediately after his release, Baring drove away with his attorneys without making his destination known.

Baring was released from Matteawan State Hospital for the Insane last week, after having been held there since July 7, 1924.

SCOTT PLACES HOPE IN HANDS OF "THE ALMIGHTY"

CHICAGO, July 22—(A. P.)—For the second time within a week Russel Scott tonight stood within the shadow of the gallows and announced that he was placing all hope "in the hands of the Almighty."

Scott, former Canadian financier sentenced to hang for the murder of a drug clerk during a holdup in 1924, was given a week's reprieve by Governor Small last Thursday night. Six hours before he was to have been executed.

The reprieve came after a telegram from Detroit was sent to Governor Small signed Robert Scott, Russell's brother, indicted with him but never found, and stating that Robert was the slayer and would surrender.

Russell, with less than 96 hours separating him from death, tonight said he believed he would escape the gallows if Robert could be found.

From the state's attorneys office came the statement:

"Find Robert and we will hang them both."

Mrs. Catherine Scott, the condemned man's wife, visited him again today shortly before the double watch was placed over him in the death cell. This likewise for the second time within a week.

Except for a last minute dramatic appearance of Robert Scott, or the introduction of new evidence which might cause Governor Small to issue a new reprieve, Scott's attorneys indicated tonight, they had little hope of saving him.

Appeals to President Coolidge, Governor Small and other officials for clemency have been made while friends of Scott's and club women in Windsor, Ont., his former home, and in Detroit, are working to save him.

It is said that the "bunt hit" in baseball was invented by Dickey Pearce of the Atlantics of Brooklyn in 1866.

WAGNER FESTIVAL HAS OPENED IN BAYREUTH

BAYREUTH, Bavaria, July 22—(A. P.)—The Wagner operatic festival opened her this afternoon with the "Meistersinger," with Karl Muck, former leader of the Boston Symphony orchestra, as conductor.

It was a society event, for which all tickets were sold out weeks in advance. The audience included former King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, former Queen Charlotte of Wuttrttemberg and several other members of Germany's former royalty. The festival was well patronized by Americans. Other foreigners in attendance comprise English, Italian and Dutch, but very few French are here.

"Parsifal," which will be performed tomorrow, as well as the subsequent two Nibetungne cycles have been sold out.

The game of lacrosse was given its name by the early French settlers of Canada, suggested by the similarity of the form of the "crosse"—as the stick used in the game is called—to a crosier or bishop's pastoral staff.

TODAY FRIDAY SATURDAY BROADWAY MAT. 2:15 EVENING 7 to 10:30

NO INTRODUCTION IS NEEDED TO A BROADWAY PROGRAM. YOU GET HERE THE CREAM OF THEATRICAL OFFERINGS

JAMES CRUZE presents Betty Compson in The Garden of Weeds

The Play That Electrified Broadway, with Warner Baxter and Rockcliffe Fellowes

2 FOR 1 THIS AD. AND ONE PAID ADMISSION WILL ADMIT 2 PEOPLE. TODAY MAT. BRING THIS AD.

—OUR STAGE ATTRACTIONS—

5 —— PERFECT VAUDEVILLE ACTS —— 5

ENTERTAINMENT FOR EVERYONE

BREED THEATRE

—TODAY—

DOUBLE FEATURE BILL

PATSY RUTH MILLER

—IN—

"THE GIRL ON THE STAIRS"

A Gripping Mystery Drama

"SALVATION HUNTERS"

Comedy — News

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

David Belasco's Stage Success "THE WARRENS OF VIRGINIA" From the Play by William DeMille

DANCE TONIGHT

AT PEARSON'S PINEBROOK FARM

Eggrah Street.

Music by Zim's Novelty Orchestra.

Modern and Old Fashioned Dancing.

FRECKLES

New Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any drug or department store and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine—as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles.

PALACE THEATRE

NOTE:—TONIGHT ONLY—ALL SEATS 50 CENTS—(POSITIVELY NO FREE LIST)

FORD TOURING CAR

Given Away Tonight

Bring All Your Coupons. Your last chance to get Coupons at the stores This Morning.

WINNER MUST BE IN THE AUDIENCE.

PARAMOUNT (5) VAUDEVILLE ACTS.

A REGULAR MID-WINTER PROGRAM.

HERE'S ONE OF VAUDEVILLE'S BEST ATTRACTIONS

JEAN JACKSON TROUPE

Four People——Variety in Every Form.

FERNANDEZ

The Mad Musician.

WILSON&KEPPELL

Sensational Steppers From Australia.

BERRICK & HART

A Man and a Pretty Girl with a Fast Line of Chatter and Songs.

BENWAY & FLORNEY

The Originators of African Golf.

—ON THE SCREEN—

BOB CUSTER in "TEXAS BEARCAT"

Schwartz Bros.

WE FURNISH HOMES COMPLETE.

"The Big Store With the "Little Prices."

ASK FOR COUPONS.

FOR EXCLUSIVE WEDDING GIFTS GO TO DISCO BROS.

255 Main Street Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Savard Bros. Inc.

"THE LEADING MEN'S STORE."

207 Main Street Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

LEROU'S DRUG STORE

289 MAIN STREET

GET THE LUCKY COUPON HERE.

R. F. SMITH

FANCY GROCERIES.

276 Main Street Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

FOOTWEAR The

Geo. W. Kies Co.

118 Main Street.

"QUEEN QUALITY" and GROVER SHOES.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

GET THE LUCKY COUPON AT THE LUCKY STORE

And Besides We Sell for Less.

The Pasnik Co.

CHAIN STORES

ASK FOR COUPONS.

White Star Co.

WATCH OUR WINDOW FOR OUR SPECIALS.

LUCKY COUPONS GIVEN HERE

CARON'S

SPECIALTY SHOP

140 Main Street

BON TON CORSETS

GOOD SPORT HOSE FOR 50c

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Macpherson's

"Quality Corner"

For Correct Things in Men's Wear.

291 Main Street.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Eagle Clothing Co.

Trachtenberg's.

MEN'S AND LADIES' CLOTHING, FURNISHINGS AND FURS.

Special Prices This Week.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

MOHICAN MARKET

Six Stores Under One Roof

FRESH SEASONABLE FOODS.

GET YOUR LUCKY COUPONS HERE

ANYTHING IN THE LINE OF MUSIC.

The Hanover-Curland Co.

24 Franklin Street, Norwich.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

Preston Bros. Co.

Franklin Square.

HARDWARE SPORTING GOODS AND RADIOS

ASK FOR COUPONS.

SELF-SERVICE SHOE STORE

Thayer Building.

Where the Dollar Still Buys a Dollar's Worth.

WATCH OUR WINDOW FOR SPECIALS.

ASK FOR COUPONS.

THE BOSTON STORE

WE SERVE YOU ALWAYS

REID & HUGHES

ASK FOR COUPONS.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

CHARNLEY—In Westerly, R. I., July 20, 1925, a daughter, Jane Lillian, to George Edward and Julia Rosalind Rathbun Charnley.

HOLLAND—In Westerly, R. I., July 20, 1925, a son, Charles Brayton, Jr., to Charles B. and Alice Elizabeth Sullivan Holland.

BROCCOLO—In Westerly, R. I., July 19, 1925, a son, Angelo, to James and Rose Cerra Broccolo, of Bradford, R. I.

MORROW—In Norwich, July 21, 1925, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Morrow (Edith Wilson), of 28 43th street.

HALL—In Cambridge, Mass., July 15, 1925, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Davis Hall (Kathryn Hulbert), of Watertown, Mass. (granddaughter to Rev. and Mrs. Henry W. Hulbert, of the Congregational parsonage, Groton, Conn.).

URSPRUNG—In Waterford, July 20, 1925, a son, to Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ursprung, of Station 7.

SIBSON—In New London, July 21, 1925, a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sisson.

BUELL—In New London, July 22, 1925, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Buell, of Clark lane, Waterford.

RYAN—In Gary, Ind., July 13, 1925, a daughter, Marguerite Helen, to Mr. and Mrs. William E. Ryan, formerly of Norwich.

SCHALLER—July 17, 1925, a daughter, Leanora, to Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Schaller, 117 Broadway.

MARRIED

COOK-GROVER—In Danielson, July 18, 1925, by Rev. Roger C. Stimson, Nathan W. Cook, of Ballouville, and Miss Marion Elsie Grover, of Danielson.

MALLOY-KENYON—In Westerly, R. I., July 20, 1925, by Rev. J. F. Casagane, Joseph Michael Malloy, of Manchester, and Edith Louise Kenyon, of Richmond, R. I.

MENGHI-BURCHI—In New London, July 22, 1925, by Rev. Father Wm. C. Christmmons, Domenic Menghi and Miss Yolanda Burchi.

GUARD-MILLARD—In New York city, July 20, 1925, by Rev. F. M. Goodchild, D. D., Lieut. Joseph Archibald Guard, U. S. N., and Miss Helen Carolyn Millard formerly of Norwich and New London.

DIED

LASCH—In New Britain, July 22, 1925, Henry Lasch, about 68, formerly of Norwich.

KINNEY—In Norwich, suddenly, July 22, 1925, Annie Amelia Shepard, wife of William Kinney, of Norwich Town, aged 54 years.

SPRAGUE—Suddenly, in New London, July 22, 1925, Henry M. Sprague, Jr., aged 31 years.

DARROW—In New London, July 22, 1925, Lillian M., wife of Leroy N. Darrow.

KITCHEN—In Pawcatuck (Stonington), July 20, 1925, Jane Alice Kitchen, aged 65 years.

WELLS—In North Stonington, Conn., July 21, 1925, John Denison Wells, aged 65 years.

FUNERALS

RATHBONE—In Preston, July 20, 1925, John Rathbone, aged 67 years. Funeral services at the Leffingwell Baptist church, Thursday, July 23, at 2 p. m. Standard time. Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
88 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 410-2
DAVID H. WILSON

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 288-2 Lady Assistant

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

CENTRAL VILLAGE
F. W. Tillinghast & Sons
UNDERTAKERS AND EMBALMERS
CENTRAL VILLAGE, CONN.
Tel. Manner 282-2

WILLIMANTIC
Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding JAY M. SHEPARD
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-Two North Street
Willimantic, Conn.

Killourey Bros.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
16 Union Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 290 Lady Assistant

LAWN MOWERS
WE HAVE THEM.
Good ones at low prices for the quality.
We have handled this make of machine over ten years. Some of the first we sold are still being used.

The HOUSEHOLD
Bulletin Building 74 Franklin St.
Telephone 531-4

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

LOUIS D. WARD pays big prices for used furniture and antiques. Box 599, Norwich. Phone 361-13, Norwich; 308, Willimantic. TuThsMay14

WANTED—Would like to buy about 50 folding chairs; must be low in price. W. N. Block, Phone 1291. jy22d

FLORIDA PROPERTY WANTED—Acreage Lots, Etc., direct from owner; give location, description, lowest price, terms; quick transaction. P. O. Box 354, Springfield, Mass. jy22dtf

WANTED—Property owners to know that under my new real estate system I will buy your property direct or will sell for you on a commission basis. For particulars write Wm. M. McNicol, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City. june2d.

WANTED—Second hand antique furniture. Best prices paid. A. Bruckner, 103 Franklin St. Phone 714-5. nov27d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second hand furniture. H. S. Tiner, 48-50 Water St. Tel. 2148. nov27d.

WANTED—Cash paid for old furniture. R. H. Ward, 16 Water St., Tel. 34. TuThSt.fapr9

WANTED — Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 22 Market St. Phone 2152. nov27d

WANTED—To buy poultry and calves; highest prices paid. Call 1405. nov27d

FREE HOMES

wanted for 9 year old Catholic girl and 12 year old Catholic boy. Children are not related. Apply to

STATE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE
171 Capitol Ave., Hartford, Conn.

WANTED
TO BUY USED CARS.
WEST SIDE GARAGE
194 West Main St.—Red Front

WANTED—Male

MAN, energetic and reliable, wanted for factory representative to handle our business in Norwich district; unusual opportunity, with fortune for right man; experience or capital unnecessary; write fully Syncro Motors Co., Battle Creek, Mich. jy25d

WANTED—At once, a good and efficient cook; good wages; no laundry. Apply to Matron, 99 Washington St., hours 8-8 p. m. jy21TuThStf

WANTED—Wanted for steady position as solicitor and collector, a man residing in Danielson. Write Box 344, Danielson, Conn. jy22d

WANTED—Immediately, one drawerin for worsted and woolens. The Mystic Worsted Mill, inc., Mystic, Conn. jy22d

WANTED—Man 25-35 years of age for outside work, selling and collecting. Must not be afraid of work and to serve employer who assures promotion and good pay to deserving man. Selling experience not necessary as we train you. We pay salary and commission. Must become bonded. Address Box H M L, care of Bulletin. jy14d

WANTED—Carpenter work of all kinds. Estimates cheerfully given for large or small jobs. M. Krugman, 97 Mechanic St. Tel. 2060-12. jy14d

Large Manufacturing Company

Opening office in Norwich and vicinity. Local business man with some executive ability and $1,200 capital, will be considered as manager. Investment secured, connection permanent, $400 per month. Strict investigation invited. For personal interview address Box 20B, Bulletin office. Give telephone number.

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Housekeeper in good family. Answer Box 26, Norwich Bulletin. jy23d

WANTED—Position in store or as nurse maid by High school graduate. Write Box S-77, Bulletin. jy23d

WANTED—Nursemaid experienced to care for two children. New York or Boston; good wages. Box [illegible] jy22d

WANTED—A [illegible] Apply Broadview [illegible] Ct. Phone Niantic 197. jy21d

WANTED—A woman, [illegible] who understands [illegible] Crescent Beach Ct. Phone Niantic 61. jy21d

WANTED—Housekeeper. References required. Address P. O. Box 43, South Windham. jy20tf

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE—Ford sedan, 1923. Inquire 228 Main St. Phone [illegible] jy23d

FOR SALE—1923 Gray touring car in perfect condition; has new cord tires; $75. Act quick. Norwich Auto Radiator Works, 58 Shetucket St. Phone 1157-2. jy23d

FOR SALE—1919 Ford [illegible] 1923; 1922 Ford [illegible] Hodges Bros., 581 West Main St., or Mt. Pleasant St. Tel. 1390. jy23dtf

FOR SALE—Chevrolet, 1919 [illegible] painted, all good [illegible] Buick buyer. Apply [illegible] Jewett City. jy23d

FOR SALE—[illegible] 1921 model; fine condition; new paint. Phone 139, Bulletin. jy22d

FOR SALE—1923 Maxwell touring car. 30 Geer Ave. jy21d

FOR SALE—1924 Ford [illegible] excellent condition; equipped. Bulletin Box F-94. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—One late model Ford suburban, $295. Shannon's Auto Sales, Tel. 860, Stonington, Conn. jy21d

FOR SALE—1924 Hupp sedan, 1924 Hupp touring, 1923 Hupp 2-pass. coupe, 1923 Hupp touring, 1923 Maxwell touring. C. V. Pendleton, 118 Franklin St. jul16d

NEW AND USED Harley-Davidson motorcycles. Easy terms. Prices reasonable. J. P. Donovan, 25 W. Main St. apr10d.

FOR SALE—Indian and Ace motorcycles, 1925 models, now on display; 74 cu. in. $350; Scout $290; Prince $225, delivered. 496 North Main St. feb6d

FOR SALE

One of the finest bungalows located in an excellent neighborhood in Norwich Town, having all the improvements, including steam heat, electric light, running hot and cold water, excellent sewerage system; there is a garage. This property is in the pink of perfection and must be seen to be appreciated. For full particulars inquire of

FRANCIS D. DONOHUE
Young's Block—Phones—Norwich, Conn.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Two chamber sets, sofa, desk, chairs, oil stove and oven, and various articles for household use; no antiques. Thursday and Friday. 21 Scott Land Road. jy22d

FOR SALE—Genuine Brewster piano in beautiful mahogany case. In perfect condition, guaranteed for 10 years. Our price $165. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—Thorough bred English Bull pups; pedigreed; prize-winning stock $50 up. Mrs. John Allen, 75 Norwich Ave., Taftville. jy23d

FOR SALE—21 shares, L. A. W. Preferred stock, par value $10 per share; 10 shares L. A. W. Common Class A, no par value. Best offer takes it. Write Box E-36. jy23d

FOR SALE—Genuine brand new Victrola at half regular price. You can join our Christmas Club at these prices. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—For only $53 you can buy a New England upright piano in excellent condition in every way. A real bargain. Terms if desired. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Wassermann 88-note player piano, carefully used and modern equipment, $490—a very low price—in easy payments. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich, Conn. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Grocery, garage and filling station; excellent location; good reason for selling. Phone 1450. jy21d

FOR SALE—Chamber set and two rugs. 77 Church St. Phone 2614-J. jy21d

FOR SALE—Team wagon; 5 H. P. gasoline engine; power ensilage cutter. Inquire Joe Kaminski, R. D. 4, Norwich. jy22d

FOR SALE—Hoosier kitchen cabinet. Road 57, Shannon Bldg. Call evenings. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—A grocery and meat business; one of the best in city of Norwich A. C. Burdick, Jewett City, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. jy20dtf

FOR SALE—House and store. 41 Thames St. T. E. Babcock, Norwich. jul6d

FOR A LIGHT LUNCH—At The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 34 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—New 6-room bungalow on West Side. Tel. 1162-3. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—One Glenwood gas range; good condition. Phone 2081. jul12tf

FOR SALE—Farm wagons and tools all in good condition. Can be seen by appointment. Telephone 1131 Willimantic. apr18d

FOR REFRESHMENTS, Call at The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 34 Broadway. jul7dtf

POLICE PUPPIES—Highly pedigreed; ideal farm dogs, playmates for children; come visit the largest German Shepherd Dog Kennels in the world. Phone or write. Palisade Kennels, East Killingly, Conn. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—A fine summer place, overlooking beautiful lake. $500 cash required; balance easy terms. Wm. M. McNicol, Jewett City. jul3d

FOR SALE—Very desirable place in Waterford; 7-room house with lots, sheds, etc., on the River Road below Uncasville, but far from Eastern Conn. Power Company. For particulars see H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul9d

STOVE PARTS for all makes of stoves. We are the best equipped place for stove parts in New London. B. Kaplan, 90 Bank St. feb13d

AWAY FROM THE HEAT
OF THE CITY
An old New England town, 3 acres, high elevation, conveniently located, with fine old colonial house with gambrel roof, open fireplaces, running water, bath, in best of condition, fine shade, apple orchard, for only $2,200 for a quick sale. Easy terms
TRYON'S AGENCY, Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE

A Very Choice Property, very desirably located in Norwich Town. Must be sold and will be a big bargain for someone.

For further particulars inquire of

JOHN A. MORAN
REAL ESTATE BROKER
Norwich, Conn.

FOR SALE

A COTTAGE HOUSE AND LARGE LOT, ALL IN FIRST CLASS CONDITION WITH IMPROVEMENTS. PRICED VERY LOW FOR A QUICK SALE.
SITUATED IN THE VILLAGE OF PLAINFIELD, ABOUT 5 MINUTES WALK FROM RAILROAD STATION. FOR PARTICULARS,
CALL PHONE 196
MOOSUP DIVISION

FOR SALE

New modern 5-room bungalow with about an acre of land, $5,600.
Exceptionally fine new two-story and attic house, tiled bath room, three sleeping rooms; in best residential section. Unusual opportunity.
Splendid cottages at Groton Long Point from $3,500 up and shore lots at attractive prices.
New summer cottage near Niantic for $2,500, with two extra lots.

Archa W. Coit
Telephone 2288-2. Disco Building.

FOR SALE
3-FAMILY HOUSE
LAUREL HILL AVENUE
Price $7,000.
LARGE LOT AND GOOD LOCATION.

James L. Case
Real Estate Department
40 Shetucket Street.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Brand new Victor single faced Red Seal and double faced Black Label records, 3 for $1.00. A limited quantity at this price. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—Brunswick cabinet phonograph, 29 records and Daily Dozen. Price $50. Phone 1162-12. jy23d

FOR SALE—Almost brand new Wasserman, full 88-note piano, $110. We are offering this instrument at a low price, because we want to sell it quick. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—Candy store near P. O. and Theatre; best stand in town; good reason for selling. Write Box 427, Plainfield. jy23d

FOR SALE—Brand new radio adapted Brunswick Console phonograph, all equipped with compartment for batteries, set, all wiring, aerial posts and loud speaker connected to Brunswick horn; cost $200. Our price $110. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—A 9-room house, garage, hen house and garden, near car line; also house lot near Backus Hospital, car every 15 minutes; and 6-room summer cottage at Lord's Point; all furnished. Adams Tavern. Phone 1065-3. jy23dtf.

FOR SALE—Aster plants, 15c doz.; celery plants, $1.25 hundred. Wm. P. Wade, 320 Boswell Ave. Phone 1758-2. jul26WFSt

FOR SALE—Samoyede Puppies (Siberian sled dogs). 1 litter sired by my stud dog Snyeg, son of Champion Nanook, out of Nadja, my prize winning bitch at Atlantic City, Englewood and New Haven. Also a litter sired by Champion Nansen, out of Byelka, daughter of the famous Champion Tobolsk Earle M. Wood, Taftville. jy22d

FOR SALE—Household goods of all descriptions. W. V. Bullard, Elmville, Conn. jy22d

FOR SALE—A 12-room house, price $5,500, and 2 new bungalows and 16 acres of land, priced at $6,000. Also several building lots. Burton, Phone 1125. jy21d

FOR SALE—Sand, gravel, stone and loam. O. H. Main. Phone 489. eodtf

FOR SALE—A very fine Hallett & Davis piano in perfect condition; will sell very reasonable. Also several talking machines of leading makes, at half price. Easy terms if desired. Schwartz Bros., Inc., 282 Main St., Norwich. ThSatTuejel1

FOR SALE—A fine piece of property on Washington square; corner lot, suitable for apartment house, business blocks, hotel or garage. Inquire of F. C. Harwood, at 47 Water St., or of your real estate broker. jul11StTuThtf

FOR SALE—Are you looking for a real nice ocean front lot in a fine locality, where you can build a comfortable summer cottage? I have such a lot for sale. It is on a good road, with electric lights, telephone and never-failing wonderful force water supply. There is a golf club near, if you care for the game. Francis M. Johnson, Westerly, R. I. jy22d

FOR SALE—Crawford used upright piano in fine condition, with fine oak case. Only $265 with terms to suit. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—$49 buys a used upright piano in good condition. Easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

A BALD HEADED MAN FROM WEST
Mystic sez he's wrote a beautiful song called "There will be no parting tears." Who sez cigars went up? Van Der Meer 5c cigar, 3 for 25c; No. 63 Cigar, 4 for 25c; Krohn's Special, 5 for 33c; Lucky Strike cigarettes, 50 in a tin for 35c; Helmar, 20 for 20c. Fagan's Smoke Shop, opp. Woolworth's. jy21d

FOR SALE—A newly built 3-family house and store combination located in borough of Jewett City, Ct. Good opportunity to start a business and get a revenue from rents as well. Easy terms. William M. McNicol, Owner, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City. jy18d

FOR SALE—Newly built 2-family house located on Mt. Pleasant St., in the city of Norwich, known as the Meyers property. Inquire of owner or William M. McNicol, Agent, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City, Ct. jy15d

FOR SALE—Bargain. Six-room house at Harrison's, west side Thames river; owner must sell. See H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul11d

FOR SALE—While they last—our entire stock of genuine new Victrolas at half price. Now is the time to get your Victrola. Easy payment terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

Invest Your July Dividends —and— Surplus Funds in 6 per cent Guaranteed First Mortgages Secured by income paying Real Estate.
We can supply you in limited amounts.
Full information upon application.

James L. Case
Investment Broker
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE

The dwelling house, 2 barns, various useful out-buildings and 13 acres of good land known as the Martin Place and is located in Lebanon, Conn., on the highway from Lebanon Village to Willimantic. The house is of a picturesque site and has a beautiful and extensive view of the surrounding country and is about five miles from Willimantic and eleven miles from Norwich over good roads. The property is in a good neighborhood convenient to churches, district and high schools. The property is regarded by all persons as a very attractive and charming home place. The price is low and terms of payment will be made convenient to buyer. For all information apply to

WILLIAM H. SHIELDS of Norwich,
Or To
GEORGE E. MARTIN,
Lebanon Center, Conn.

FOR SALE.

The ten-room house, No. 15 Slater Avenue. May be easily changed to two apartments. Price very low.
Enquire of

Thos. H. Beckley
278 MAIN STREET - PHONES

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

TO RENT

TO RENT—In best residential section, apartment, 6 rooms and bath, with garage. 61 Williams St. jy23d

FOR RENT—Five-room flat with all improvements; No. 16 Silver St.; $20 per month. Inquire A. V. Covello, Phone 1093-3. jy23d

FOR RENT—Four furnished rooms with bath; within walking distance of business section. Phone 870. jy23d

TO RENT—7 room apartment on Raymond Place. fmar8d

TO RENT—To family of adults, house 7 rooms, 17 Oak St. Phone evenings, 1484. jul11d

TO RENT — Beautifully furnished room; private garage if desired. Phone 2686-W. jy22dtf

TO RENT—Attractive 8-room cottage with garage; modern. Phone 289. jy22dtf

TO RENT—Six-room apartment, all improvements; also hardwood floors, $28. 330 Franklin St. Inquire 324 Franklin St. jy22dtf

TO RENT—5-room apartment; all improvements. 70 Washington St. jy22d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 38 Union St., Martin House Annex. jy22d

TO RENT—Tenement of 4 rooms, with all improvements, at 65 Union St. jy22d

TO RENT—Six-room tenement on Union street, with or without garage. C. Chamberlain, Martin House. jy21d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, 71 Church St. jy21d

TO RENT—Apartment of five rooms. Rent reasonable. 17 Spruce St. Inquire 136 Washington St. Phone 1162-4. jy21d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms at 41 Boswell Ave. jy21dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room for a trained nurse, near Backus Hospital. Tel. 2002-2. jy21d

TO RENT—2 or 3 apartments; good location. Burton, Phone 1125. jy21d

TO RENT—Five-room apartment, all improvements; 3 minutes walk from Franklin square. Phone 2686-M. jy21d

TO LET—Three light housekeeping rooms. 42 Union St. Please call evenings. jy20dtf

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms. Tel. 686-5. jy16tf

TO RENT—Tenements, all improvements. 44 Laurel Hill Ave. jy20dtf

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms, centrally located. 376 Main St. Tel. 975-2. jy18d

FOR RENT—Fine offices, 26 to 34 Shetucket St., over Norwich Gas and Electric Dept.; wonderful light and air, janitor service, elevator; strictly office building; prices $25, $30, $45 per month. Apply to Janitor or Alling Rubber Co. jy15d

TO RENT—Garage at 229 Broadway. Inquire at Broadway Fish Market. jul16dtf

FOR RENT—A-1 furnished rooms for gents or lady. No. 3 North Main. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Five rooms, all improvements, including heat; with or without garage. Inquire 210 West Main St. from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. jul11tf

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, for gentlemen. 16 Laurel Hill Ave. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Nicely furnished room. 170 Broadway. Phone 922. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room, 124 Broadway. Ring second bell. jul11dtf

TO RENT—Tenement, 6 rooms; fruit and garden; $20. 23 Garfield Ave. je18tf

TO RENT—Apartments and Garages on Broadway; all modern conveniences; best location in city. Enquire of Shea & Burke. Call 896-2. tfjune6.

TO RENT—Tenements in Greeneville and Franklyn St. Inquire at Goldblatt's Shoe Store, 46 Franklin St. Phone 717-4 may26d.

TO RENT—12-room apartment, 48 Church St. Inquire Charles W. Cassidy, 46 Main St. je26tf

TO RENT.

Four-room Cottage at Pleasant View for month of August.

J. A. CUNNINGHAM
THAYER BUILDING.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Between Lebanon and Willimantic, Suitcase marked N. A. M. C. containing clothes, registered Govt. bonds and other valuables. Phone Lebanon 50. Reward jy22d

LOST—A brownish black and white heifer from a pasture about two weeks ago. Any one seeing her please notify me. Michael Sill, R. F. D. No. 1, Yantic, Conn., or Phone 48-13, Lebanon. jy21d

AUCTION.

STANTON L. BRIGGS ..... Auctioneer

AUCTION

By an order of the Probate Court there will be sold, on the farm of the late Karl Hoffman, situated 1 1-2 miles from Jewett City, 1 1-2 miles from the Newent church in the town of Lisbon, and one mile from the farm of the late A. F. Read, the following personal property of Karl Hoffman, who was killed on July 4th by a train on the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co. tracks. This property will be sold for the high dollar, without reserve or limit:

ON FRIDAY, JULY 24th, 1925
At 10 O'clock, S. M., Standard Time

or, if rainy, the next fair week day, and comprises the following articles of an up-to-date poultry farm: 600 March and April hatched White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red pullets; 300 White Leghorn and Rhode Island Red yearling hens; 5 incubators, 3 brooders, 23 coop crates, feeders and other poultry utensils. Also 4 cows 2 calved in June, 2 due this Fall, all good young family cows; one horse, 8 years old, weighs 1300, sound and a good one; 4 wagons, 1 set double harness, new; one heavy express harness, two gasoline engines in good condition, one 1-horse plow, 1 spring tooth harrow, 1 walking cultivator, 1 riding cultivator, 1 seed planter, one 1-horse mowing machine, rakes, shovels, hoes, tackle blocks and other small tools; a complete line of plumber's and machinist's tools, a few carpenter tools, household furniture and many useful articles not mentioned in this bill. This personal property must be sold to settle the estate and will be sold to the highest bidder.

HARRY L. HULL,
Administrator of Estate, Karl Hoffman

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—8 good work horses, at your own price. Frank L. Lathrop, Yantic. Phone 398-14. jy21d

FOR SALE—Nice black mare, saddle and family horse; good, kind and gentle. Also Concord buggy, rubber tires; in fine condition; nearly new harness. James H. Hyde, North Franklin, Ct. jy16d

FOR SALE—Or will exchange for stock. Five work horses. O. H. Main. Tel. 489. je20tf

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

OLD CARS BOUGHT in any condition. RODES BROS.
Corner West Main and Mt. Pleasant
Telephone 1291
Automobile parts at one-half price
apr20d.

Battery Service
The Best 1-Day Battery Charging
Radio Rental Batteries 75c Week.
Capacity, 40 Batteries every 8 to 10 Hours
VULCANIZING
The only shop in the city equipped to repair all sizes of REGULAR and BALLOON Tires.
The KE HAW KE System
ALL REPAIRS GUARANTEED.

Lane Motor Supply
170 Franklin Street.
PHONE 1570.

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs, Painting, Trimming, Upholstering and Wood Work
Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
37 TO 613 NORTH MAIN STREET

BOATS & YACHTS

TWO HOURS TIME will convert your Ford Motor into a Marine Motor; $75 will buy the outfit, including orunte shafting and propellor. Riverside Machine Tool Works, Hartford, Conn. jy21d

CIGARS

Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand. J. F. CONANT, 11 Franklin St.

CASTINGS
Grey Iron and Semi-Steel Castings
—Also—
Pattern Making and Machine Work.
Daily Trucking Service Between Norwich, New London and Vicinity.
BABCOCK PRINTING PRESS MFG. CO.
NEW LONDON, CONN.
Tel. 1120.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, F. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8, Alice Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 733. nov10d

COAL AND WOOD

WOOD—Best quality hard wood and slabs. Tel. 615-4. H. E. Beard & Son. jan31d

COAL, SEASONED WOOD and kindlings delivered anywhere, 5 baskets for $1.00. Phone 729. Park Wood Yard, 301 Franklin St. 23d

COAL, Seasoned Wood and Kindlings in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 504 or 1254-4. R. Shapiro, Willow St. nov22d

MIRRORS resilvered and glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 5 Bath St. Tel. 2103. nov23d

FOR SALE—Brand new 6-room semi-bungalow type of house; close to trolley, factories, stores, school; all improvements, large lot. A bargain at $5,500. Cozzens, 50 Franklin St. jy23TuTh

CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS

IONGO & DUFF CO., General Contractors and Builders. Best workmanship at reasonable prices. Estimates cheerfully given. Phone 1473-3. je30d

AMBROSE SULLIVAN
Telephone 1872-5
We give estimates on Concrete Foundations and Cellars

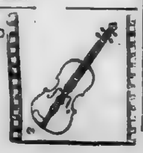
Doors, Windows, Frames.
Inside Finish.
Mill Work of All Kinds.
THE PECK-McWILLIAMS COMPANY.
Central Wharf.

INSURANCE

J. L. LATHROP & SONS
28 Shetucket Street
Insurance of All Kinds

MUSIC

ERNEST E. BULLARD
Teacher of the Violin
Phone 127-4
Bliss Place
I Have a Few Outfits to Lend.



A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

Business Notices.

PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING.

GENERAL PAINTING and Paperhanging. Phone 2388-13. D. Kudlik. jn11d

GEORGE NADOLNY, painting, paperhanging; estimates given. 69 Maple St. Tel. dec29d

PAINTING, Housecleaning, Lawns, Handy Man, Jackson Bros. Phone 1261-2. je9d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 66 Franklin Street.

ROOFING

Roll Roofing, $1.00 Per Roll
Slate Surfaced, $2.00 Per Roll
C. A. Ransom, 527 Concord Ave., Cambridge, Mass. Dept. M.

SUMMER RESORTS

TWO WEEKS VACATION WHOLE Family—Any dates, quaint log cabin cottage camps, comfortably furnished, housekeeping, good beds. Rents $14 weekly up. Ocean Bathing, dancing, refined, references. Hills Colony, Southampton, L. I. jy22d

TRANSPORTATION

MONTAUK STEAMBOAT COMPANY
Between New London, Conn., and Greenport and Sag Harbor, L. I.
Leave New London from wharf foot of State street daily, except Sundays, *10:30 a. m., 2:45 p. m. Leave Sag Harbor 7:00 a. m. Greenport 8:00 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. *Runs to Greenport only.
Delightful one-day excursion. Automobiles accommodated. Send to General Passenger Agent, Montauk Steamboat Co., Pennsylvania Station, New York, for road map of Long Island. tfje15

LONG ISLAND SOUND DAY and NIGHT SERVICE
Round Trip Fare $4.00
Via New London Line
Except Sun. & Mon. Daily
Lv. New London 9:00 A.M. 10:00 P.M.
Due New York 4:30 P.M. 6:00 A.M.
Special Midnight and Daylight Trips from New York (Eastern Standard Time)
Popular One Day Outings
Table D'hote Meal Service
Music and Dancing on Day Trips
The New England S. S. C

TRUCKING

BROADWAY TRANSFER
Transfers Everything
1357-2—PHONE—977-23

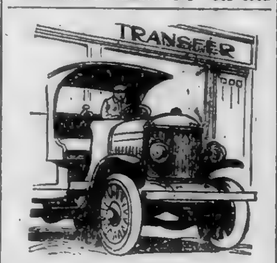
LOCAL long distance moving and trucking. L. Angelone. Telephone 1089-3. tfapr27d

LONG DISTANCE TRUCKING. Very low rates. R. Blinderman. Phone 1342. tfapr4d

Established 1873. Telephone 175
ARTHUR H. LATHROP
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving. 1 Shetucket Street.

O. D. JOSLYN, 393 West Main Street. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Telephone 1583-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman, 19 Boswell Ave. Tel. 1361



OUT OF THE WAY!
Clear the road for the Five Auto Transfer Special, off at a rapid clip, carrying your goods to the destination you name. Old-fashioned delivery methods don't go any more. The modern business world demands real rapid transit. Here it is. Phone us—No. 80—

JOHN H. FORD
DISCO BLDG. PHONE 80

WALL PAPER

NORWICH CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., rear Broadway Theatre. We specialize in 10c, 12c and 15c papers; half usual price. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. feb5d

CONNECTICUT ATTORNEYS AT BAR ASSOCIATION OUTING

About 115 members of the Connecticut Bar association met at the Griswold at Eastern Point Wednesday in a carefree spirit of play purely for a social get-together. Swimming, boating and golf were the chief forms of amusement. The center of interest was the jolly luncheon, minus heavy speeches, in the main dining room of the hotel. All arrangements were made by Attorney Philip Z. Hankey of New London. The president is Lucius F. Robinson of Hartford and the secretary-treasurer is James E. Wheeler of New Haven.

Most of the barristers arrived early Wednesday morning and all were there by noon. Barristers from this vicinity attended the outing were: Judge Arthur B. Calkins, Attorneys Nathan Belcher, Marion R. Davis, Philip B. Hankey, Arthur T. Keefe, Morris Lubchansky, Frank L. McGuire, Charles M. Smiddy, Thomas E. Troland, all of New London; Judges Arthur P. Anderson and Christopher L. Avery, of Groton; Judge Allyn L. Brown, of Norwich; Attorneys John P. Huntington, Arthur F. Libby, Hibberd R. Norman, E. W. Perkins and John M. Walker, of Norwich; Judge Arthur F. Ells, of Waterbury; Judge John W. Banks, of Bridgeport; Mayor David E. Fitz-Gerald, of New Haven; Judge George E. Hinman, of Willimantic; Judge Herbert W. Rathbun, Stonington; Attorney Lucius F. Robinson, Hartford; Judge Edward M. Yeomans, of Andover.

A number of star golfers of England and the United States have entered for the Canadian open championship tournament, which is to be held at the Royal Ottawa Club during the week of September 14.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

LEGAL NOTICES

THE ANTI-GRAFT ASSOCIATION, U. S. A. Membership: One dollar per year. Purpose: To protest against Congress voting the last dollar of the 70c per day farmers and others, for foreign diplomacy and home talent bunco-steerers operating almost continuously, at Washington, D. C. This Association is proposed to save the American people billions of dollars! Do your bit and this ad will appear in all U. S. newspapers possible! Wm. Dee, Secretary, R. D. 2, Willimantic, Conn. jul18d

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 21st day of July, A. D. 1925.
Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Estate of Harvey L. Muzzey, late of Norwich, in said District, deceased.
Ordered, That the Executor cite the creditors of said deceased to bring in their claims against said estate within six months from this date, by posting a notice to that effect, together with a copy of this order on the sign-post nearest to the place where said deceased last dwelt, and in the same town, and by publishing the same once in a newspaper having a circulation in said district, and make return to this Court.
NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.

NOTICE.
All creditors of said deceased are hereby notified to present their claims against said estate to the undersigned at 91 Main St., Norwich, Conn., within the time limited in the above and foregoing order.
ANDREW B. DAVIES, Executor.
jul23d

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD at Norwich, within and for the District of Norwich, on the 21st day of July, A. D. 1925.
Present—NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
Estate of Alfred C. Gravelin, late of Griswold, in said District, deceased.
Charles H. Michaud, of Killingly, Conn., appeared in Court and filed a petition praying, for the reasons therein set forth, that an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said decedent, be admitted to probate.
Whereupon, it is Ordered, That said petition be heard and determined at the Probate Court Room in the City of Norwich, in said District, on the 27th day of July, A. D. 1925, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and that notice of the pendency of said petition, and of said hearing thereon, be given by the publication of this order one time in some newspaper having a circulation in said District at least three days prior to the date of said hearing and that return be made to this Court.
NELSON J. AYLING, Judge.
The above and foregoing is a true copy of record.
Attest: HELEN M. DRESCHER, Clerk.
jy23d

DISTRICT OF COLCHESTER, ss. Court of Probate, July 21, 1925.
Estate of Edwin R. Hills, late of Colchester, in said District, deceased.
Harlan G. Hills, Executor, having made written application to said Court for an order of sale of the real estate of said deceased, as per application on file more fully appears, it is Ordered, That said application be heard and determined at the Probate Office in Colchester, in said District, on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1925, at

PARTLY CLOUDY TODAY; FAIR TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

1736 1925

NORWICH CONN. THURSDAY JULY 23, 1925

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich Thursday, July 23, 1925

THE WEATHER

Conditions

The Quebec disturbance has remained practically stationary during the last 24 hours, its trough extending southward and southwestward to western North Carolina. High pressure prevails in the region of Bermuda and thence northward to Newfoundland.

During the last 24 hours showers and thunderstorms have occurred from the Mississippi river eastward to the Atlantic coast.

The outlook is for general fair weather Thursday and Friday in the states east of the Mississippi river. It will be slightly cooler on Thursday in the middle and north Atlantic states.

Winds

North of Sandy Hook: Fresh to strong south and southwest and weather partly overcast with showers on Thursday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh, possibly strong southwest and west and weather partly overcast with showers Thursday.

Forecast

For Southern New England: partly cloudy Thursday; slightly cooler in interior. Friday fair.

Observations.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Wednesday:

7 a. m.	62	30.00
12 m.	80	30.00
6 p. m.	70	30.03

Highest 80, lowest 62.

Comparisons

Predictions for Wednesday: Showers.

Wednesday's weather: Showers, southerly wind, thunderstorm in evening.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES
(Standard Time)

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Sets.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
20	4 21	7 17	9 50	sets.
21	4 22	7 16	10 21	7 51
22	4 23	7 15	11 10	8 32
23	4 23	7 15		9 16
24	4 24	7 14	1	10 03
25	4 25	7 13	2	10 54
26	4 26	7 12	3	11 51

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

A novena in honor of St. Anne, mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary is being conducted this week at Sacred Heart Church and large crowds are attending the devotions which are being held in the morning and in the evening. Many of the local people who are spending their vacations in Canada, will avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting the basilica at St. Anne de Beaupre this week, and others are to visit the shrines at Easton, Conn., and Fall River, Mass., where relics of the saint are preserved.

Mrs. Phillias Ducharme and her daughter, Miss Georgianna Roegead of Providence, R. I., have returned from Waterloo, Canada, where they have been the guests of friends for the past two weeks.

Mrs. Ellen Moorland of Boswell avenue is spending a month in Florida, visiting her [illegible] Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Carter.

Chairmen of the Pioneer Day fund began their work Tuesday evening, and are receiving a generous response from the citizens who desire to see the [illegible] which is being planned for Taftville, successful.

Mr. and Mrs. Hector [illegible] ly of 24 South A street have moved to Scotland, Conn., where Mr. Snow has accepted a position.

The [illegible] Congregational church [illegible] Sunday upon a [illegible] of the standing committees of the church that the church be closed during the month of August, [illegible] pastor, Rev. Edward [illegible] vacation.

Jack Houston of South Second avenue is spending this week at Camp Tippecan at Beach Pond.

Miss Margaret McHugh has returned to her home in Fall River, Mass., after spending several days with her cousin, Miss Mary Nolan of Providence street.

NORWICH TOWN

Mrs. Bartlett and son from Lebanon are occupying an apartment on Hartland road.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherman and family of Mountain avenue are moving this month to their newly built house, corner of Harland road and Sachem Plain road.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Rice of Asylum street, have built a most attractive house on Lafayette Terrace and are occupying their home there West Side home.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward H. Smith and family who are here on a furlough from China, are at present occupying the Huntington homestead, on Huntington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, of Willimantic, have moved in one of Mrs. Dunderdale's apartments on Harland road, from which Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sage moved in the spring to their newly erected bungalow on Sachem Plain road.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Noyes D. Chase of Otrobando Avenue, were Mr. and Mrs. Archer R. Keables, Mrs. Roarge Fraser and son, of Providence, R. I., Mrs. Eliza J. Chase and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Chase, Jr. and daughter, Bernice, of East Killingly. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Josiyn of Providence, also Mrs. Lyle Cheney of East Orange, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Hayland Cheney, of Newark, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haggerty of Lafayette, R. I.

Adopts Russian Children

An article giving an account of the legal adoption by Admiral McCully, now in the Near East, of seven Russian children made orphans in one of the Russian revolutions was published in the Norwich Bulletin soon after their arrival in Washington, D. C. Rear Admiral Newton McCully, who is a bachelor, has been stationed for two years at Rio de Janeiro and six of the seven children are going to Brazil to be with him there. Nicoli McCully, the oldest of the seven, is now sixteen, and will enter Staunton Military Academy in the fall, staying with friends of the admiral until school opens. Nicoli not liking his Russian governess, ran away last winter, but in a few days was returned home. The admiral is much attached to his children and observers note their fondness for him. He has a home in Brazil where they can again all be together.

SHOWING OUTLINE OF PROPOSED DEEP RIVER RESERVOIR

PROPOSED NEW RESERVOIR FOR NORWICH WOULD EXTEND 2 MILES

The accompanying sketch gives the shape of the new reservoir, which the board of water commissioners has recommended should be built on Deep River brook, which is in the southern part of the town of Colchester on the edge of Bozrah.

As the sketch shows, the dam will be at the easterly end of the reservoir and the body of water will be a long narrow pond extending in a generally east to west direction. The projected dam 50 feet high, will be 300 feet long, while the pond will be about 2,000 feet wide in its widest part and its length will be about two miles.

The pond will cover 250 acres and will impound 1 1-2 billion gallons of water with a dam 50 feet high. For about half the length of the pond back from the dam the depth will be 50 feet, but from about the westerly limit of the widest part of the pond the depth becomes 25 feet and becomes shallower as the head of the pond is reached.

The 24-inch pipe line, which will be run to connect with the city main line at Harland's corner, is shown starting from the northerly end of the dam, while the spillway is at the other end.

The general course of Deep River brook at present is up through the center line of the reservoir and five or six small streams are indicated which flow in along either side of the reservoir. They are largely dry at the season of the year but in the rainy season add their contributions to the general volume of water.

The highway shown crossing the reservoir will have to be detoured around some other way. It is on this road where the three farms with their buildings are located upon which the board of water commissioners have secured options in case the city votes for this site. One of the farm houses is located about where the road touches the southerly side of the pond and the other two are about where the highway touches the northerly side of the pond.

The Bulletin is enabled to present the accompanying sketch through the courtesy of Chandler & Palmer, civil engineers, whose office made the drawing from which the sketch was prepared.

NO STATE AID ALLOTMENTS FOR HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS

The state highway department has notified selectmen of every town in the state that no allotments for state aid road improvements will be made by the state government for the next two-year period. This letter is sent in conformity with a law recently passed by the legislature which requires that notification of the total amount of so-called state aid money be sent to each town within thirty days after the appropriation shall have been made available, including an estimate of the probable allotment to each town.

Inasmuch as the legislature made an appropriation for such improvements of only $10,000, the selectmen [illegible] that it readily will be seen that an apportionment of this small appropriation among the 169 towns in the state would not be practicable. Therefore, no allotments will be made.

In some cases, there remain in the state treasury small amounts of unexpended state aid funds to the credit of certain towns from previous allotments granted by other sessions of the legislature, and on uncompleted contracts still outstanding. The notification to the town officials also indicates the sum available in each case and is expected to give individual towns an accurate understanding of the financial relations between them and the state.

PLAYED 1717 VIOLIN AT EAST HAMPTON CHURCH

An East Hampton correspondent writes: The fine solo work of Mrs. Anna Schwagerl of Elmhurst, L. I., who is at the Edgemere hotel greatly impressed the large number who heard her at the Congregational church Sunday. Mrs. Schwagerl sang, "Ave Maria," by Gounod and was in beautiful voice.

Mrs. Lydia Schwagerl also of Elmhurst, played the violin obligato and the solo Largo by Handel. She used a genuine Guarnerius violin nearly two centuries old, which is owned by Dr. Hubert Stafford, the pastor. The violin, which was probably made in 1717 by the famous Italian violin maker, Guiseppe Guarneri, was presented the present owner's grandfather, Rev. Samuel Stafford, by some Benedictine monks about a hundred years ago in return for his kindness to them. The violin has been played by some of the world's most famous violinists who used the instrument in their world travels.

The violin has been used by Maud Powell, Sigurd Gran Risbond, Norway's best, and many others. The instrument when was safeguarded in the vault at the East Hampton Bank and Trust Co., has now been returned to its place of keeping in Hartford.

NORWICH GIRLS SOUGHT BY ANXIOUS MOTHERS

(Special to the Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 22.—Frances Geer, 14, and Florence Morgan, 16, both colored and residing in Norwich, were taken into custody in this city early this morning at the request of the Norwich police, who stated that the girls were wanted home by their mothers.

The girls in company with William Carter, about 40, also colored, came to New London about Tuesday midnight, and in an automobile on the representation that they were to attend a colored dance. The mothers of the girls requested the Norwich police to apprehend the girls, who were attired in knickers and middy blouses. About 2 o'clock this morning Patrolman Howard Sloan observed the girls on State street, and escorted them to the police station where they were detained until 4 o'clock when their mothers appeared and took charge of the pair, returning to Norwich with them.

Canary birds that sing "Yankee Doodle" and other songs, are being reared and sold by a western woman.

NEW BRITAIN HAD TWO SEVERE RAINSTORMS

NEW BRITAIN, July 22—(A. P.)—Two intensive rainstorms hit New Britain this afternoon, causing considerable damage and almost taking the life of a 10 year old boy. Seven hundred telephones were reported out of commission by the telephone company, with a total of 1,000 expected to be out by morning.

The first storm arrived around 4 o'clock, the second at 6. Under the heavy downpour of the storm, sewers were unable to take care of the water and streets and railroad tracks were covered. Lightning added to the damage, putting several automatic signals of the Connecticut company out of commission between here and Plainville. Many cellars were flooded.

Harry Satilino, 10, of Chapman street, watched the water rise in the street and in an old storm sewer near his home, shortly after the height of the first storm had abated he jumped into what he believed to be shallow water in the sewer. It was 9 feet deep, however, and Harry couldn't swim. His cries brought help and he was pulled out. He was taken to the New Britain hospital, but he is expected to be out within a day or two.

NORWICH ANGLERS WILL CONGREGATE AT LAKE

Norwich fish and game association day a day always looked forward to with great interest by anglers of this section of the state, falls on Sunday August 23rd, at the usual place of meeting at Gardner Lake.

The regular contests will be run off during the afternoon, at the lakeshore in front of the pavilion, and will be divided into two classes, one for beginners and the other for seniors. Prizes are offered in each group and will be hotly contested for during the meet. Events will include bait casting for distance and accuracy, fly casting for distance and accuracy, and [illegible] of fly casting. The usual prize for the biggest small mouth bass taken by a member during the day is also offered.

With the coming of good roads to the lake the number of members who will attend the outing will be increased and Secretary William W. Ives is anticipating a big attendance.

TWO DIPHTHERIA CASES REPORTED FROM NORWICH

Two cases of diphtheria were reported from Norwich during the past week, according to the report of the department of health. Communicable diseases reported from all eastern Connecticut towns were as follows: Diphtheria, Norwich (C), 2; Ellington, 1. Scarlet fever, Groton (B), 1, Rockville, 1; Willimantic, 1. Whooping cough, Colchester, 1; Jewett City, 4; Groton (B), 4; Lisbon, 3; Lyme, 6, New London, 4. Measles, New London, 1; Brooklyn, 1; Danielson, 2.

The number of typhoid cases reported in the state in the past week increased one, from three to four, two reported from Hamden, and one each from New Haven and West Haven.

The report showed increases, in the state during the past week, for all diseases except measles, this report dropping from 86 to 58, increases noted were: Diphtheria, 17 to 25; scarlet fever 14 to 21; whooping cough, 202 to 106 and typhoid fever, 3 to 4.

PLAN GOVERNOR'S DAY AT CAMP AT NIANTIC

The entire governor's staff has been ordered to report to Brigadier-General George M. Cole, chief-of-staff, at Camp Trumbull, Niantic on Friday, July 31, at 10 a. m. for one day's duty in attendance upon Governor Trumbull. Colonel Field has designated that day as Governor's day at the 102nd infantry encampment and has arranged a program of demonstrations in the morning and a regimental review in the afternoon. An invitation is extended to the public to be present at the camp on that day.

Brevity may be either the soul of wit or the poverty thereof.

SUNLIGHT IN MODERATION FOR VACATION PERIODS

While sunlight is a therapeutic agent and as such is claimed by the housekeeper as her most important ally in ridding her house of disease germs, it must be remembered that, being powerful, it may play havoc with delicate skins if its direct contact covers long periods of time, says the weekly bulletin of the state board of health.

The sunlight cure at sanitoria for tuberculosis of the bones and joints, and for rickets is an accepted fact. Day by day the affected parts become normal under the influence of direct sunlight whose ultra-violet rays favor the deposition of lime, or destroys the action of the germs. It has been demonstrated that these rays are absorbed by glass, so they are of most benefit only when the body is directly exposed to the sun. When a patient is first subjected to this treatment small portions of the body are first exposed for short periods only. Gradually the time is lengthened, and a greater area of body surface is exposed until it becomes adjusted to the powerful treatment.

Sunburn. There's a lesson in this for those who would sun themselves for a day, or a week. Spending a day at the shore, for the most part in a bathing suit whose abbreviated costume leaves a large share of the skin surface exposed to the sun may prove disastrous to those who have not yet hardened themselves to the sun's rays. Such treatment should be gradual, the time of exposure being limited early in the season, later to be increased as the skin becomes better able to withstand the powerful effect of the sun's rays. A little forethought will accomplish this. Even during the pleasure of the moment when "Old Sol" seems very friendly, a decision not to prolong the pleasure will often save one from a painful burn which might not only give great discomfort but result in serious consequences.

To those who live a life in the open taking every opportunity for camping, sleeping and playing out of doors, even during the winter months, no such precautions are needed. Such people, like the little patients at the sanatorium have so hardened themselves to the elements that the sun has no deleterious effect on them.

Protecting the Eyes. The sun also affects the eyes. Facing the sun at any time is an unsafe practice, but during the summer when the light is more powerful, and one is spending a greater portion of time in contact with it, greater precautions should be taken. When reading one should seek the shade, where the sunlight cannot strike the book directly and so create a glare. As in doors, one should not face the light when using the eyes, but allow it to come from the rear. When boating or indulging in some sport in the bright sunlight, a hat which shades the eyes is a good plan.

The eyes of some are very sensitive to an intense light, and they can find relief in glasses which are so constructed as to absorb some of the brilliance. Glasses need not necessarily be of the black variety since they are now available in lighter shades, graduated according to the need. These serve their purpose by softening the sharp outlines of light and shade without blotting out the natural colors of the scenery. Such glasses relieve eye strain in bright light.

Sunstroke. Exposure to the heat of the sun, for prolonged periods without protection may lead to sunstroke. Such a condition is induced by vigorous exercise in direct sunlight, especially if little drinking water is available. While the body is so exposed and losing water rapidly by evaporation through excessive activity, water should be frequently taken to make good this loss. This should not be ice water.

So, while sunlight in moderation is beneficial, prolonged sunlight or in excess may be harmful unless one takes some protective measures to lessen its effect.

FINED FOR HIS NOVEL METHOD OF PARKING

In the city court Wednesday morning there were several cases for violation of local ordinances.

The first case was that of William M. Rollins, charged with violating the parking ordinance on Main street. His case was nolled on payment of $5. Mr. Rollins drove into Main street Tuesday, in the block between Shetucket and Market streets, and seeing No Parking signs on the right side of the street and the 40 minute parking signs on the left side, he swung his car around and parked it at the left curb, headed east. As Main street is one way going west at this point, with parking on the left side only, Mr. Rollins was "all wet" as the saying goes and an officer tagged his car.

Mr. Rollins received instructions relative to one way streets and left hand parking and will likely remember the system another time.

A Waterbury man, who came to this city Tuesday, left $5 with the court to pay his bill for violating a parking ordinance. He parked within five feet of a corner.

Two men charged with intoxication were given fines and costs, thus bringing court to a close.

Wa-Wog Camp Arrivals.

Arrivals this week at Wa-Wog camp in North Stonington were the following: Miss Henrietta A. Ruehl, New York, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. C. Willard Cleveland, East Orange, N. J.; Miss Margaret and Junior Cleveland, East Orange, N. J.; Miss Lillie M. Decker, Jersey City, N. J.; Miss Florence E. Reich, Jersey City, N. J.; Miss Viola Birkhofer, West Orange, N. J.; Miss Betty Hay, Orange, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hitchcock, Bloomfield, N. J.; James H. Hitchcock, Jr., Bloomfield, N. J.; Val Beeken, Bloomfield, N. J.; Miss Matilde Skelson, Staten Island, N. Y.; Mrs. Gladys Thorp, New York, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. August Michel, Jersey City, N. J.; Emil Hock, Newark, N. J.; Alfred Koehler, New York, N. Y.; Arthur H. Hayes, Bergenfield, N. J.

GOOD BASS CATCHES REPORTED AT JACK'S

Fishing for small mouth bass in this section has been a success thus far this season and numerous large catches have been reported (and seen). A local party at Gardner lake last week brought home a string of twelve fine bass, averaging about one pound, one of the best catches made this season.

The prize so far for the biggest small mouth bass landed, however, belongs to Charles E. Brush, who made his catch at Long Pond by using a plug. The bass was 21 inches in length and 13 inches around, tipping the scales at 4 1-2 pounds. This catch was made on July 15th and beat out the previous best catch made by Henry Bamber, Jr., at Gardner lake, on July 6th. Young Bamber, using worms, hooked into a small mouth bass that measured 20 1-2 inches in length, was 13 inches around and tipped the scales at 4 pounds.

Both catches have been recorded at Jack's Sport shop, official store for the Norwich Fish & Game Association for weighing in small mouth bass caught during the season, in competition for the yearly prize offered by the association.

NEWBURYPORT SECRETARY VISITS ROTARY CLUB

Monthly business occupied the attention of the meeting of the Norwich Rotary club held Wednesday noon at the Wauregan hotel. There were reports from the various standing committees, the majority being very brief owing to the summer inactivity. Alex McNicol, chairman of the program committee, announced that Joseph C. Worth would be the song leader for August and that the five-minute speakers would be John J. O'Rourke for the first meeting, Frank H. Pullen for the second meeting, James J. Madden for the third and William G. Park for the fourth meeting.

President Weymouth presided at the meeting and E. LaRue Bliven acted as song leader. Among the guests was J. Holland Larrabee, formerly of this city, who is now secretary of the Newburyport club. President Weymouth read a communication from District Governor Alison regarding club policies and congratulating the 30th district on having Don A. Adams of New Haven as international president of Rotary.

The five minute speaker of the day was Charles J. Twist who spoke on increased rates of service taking the the postal increase as an example. Mr. Twist said:

"I am led up to this fact by virtue of an editorial in the papers in reference to the recent increase in postal rates. You are all aware that in order to increase the revenue of the postal department, to cover increased expenses for salaries, etc., the rates on certain classes of mail was increased, which was intended to create greater revenue. Did, or did not, this increase have the desired effect? It seems that it did not, as in line with the editorial the post office department has found that there has been a considerable falling off in the classes of mail matter on which they had figured to receive their greatest revenue. Take the case of the private mailing card. The previous rate was doubled, but has this advance from one to two cents increased the revenue? No, it has diminished it. In making the change in the rates it was simply a matter that if the rate was doubled it would mean just double the income therefrom. It is needless for me to state that many other changes in rates were formulated on the one and one make two basis, which have worked out in the same way as the private post card, and the income derived therefrom has met the same fate. I tell you, men, that you are tampering with a delicate piece of machinery when a radical change is made that will affect the public in this manner. We all at times strain our minds in an endeavor to increase our income, but before we make any changes let us consider how the method will affect the source from which our income is derived."

Mayor Milo R. Waters, chairman of the Public Affairs committee, spoke of the necessity of more adequate water supply and urged the support of the proposed Deep River project which is to be reported at a city meeting some time in August.

It was announced that the fall convocation would be at The Griswold at Eastern Point during the week of September 13th, one week later than originally planned.

SUIT TO TEST RIGHT TO RUN TROLLEY BUSES

A $100,000 suit, designed to test the validity of a law passed at the recent session of the legislature, giving the New Haven and Shore Line Railway Co. authority to operate motor buses between New Haven and Saybrook, has been filed in Waterbury by the Waterbury Jitney and Taxis, Inc., and property of the Shore Line to the value of $200,000 has been attached.

It is contended by the jitney company that the general assembly had no right to grant authority to the railway company to operate buses over a route for which it, the jitney company, held a license from the public utilities commission. The jitney company says it has been operating on the described route under permission from the public utilities commission since June 30, 1921 on a regular schedule and that as a result of the commission's certificate it has invested several thousands of dollars and has been carrying on business at a profit.

The jitney company claims that the railway company has been operating buses on the same route without a certificate from the public utilities commission and contrary to the public acts of 1921. It is further alleged that the railway company is operating its buses with "O" markers instead of the "J" markers which are required under the jitney law. It is still further contended that the railway company is violating the law by operating leased buses.

It is claimed by the jitney company that it warned the railway company that it should regard its operation of motor buses over the specified route as an infringement of its own rights and that the trolley company replied that it should continue to operate without obtaining a certificate from the public utilities commission.

Attorney Clayton L. Klein represents the jitney company. Application for an injunction to restrain the trolley company from operating its buses has been made to Judge Leonard J. Nickerson and has been set for a hearing before Judge John W. Banks at Bridgeport, July 28.

COLCHESTER MEN ACCUSED OF USING BIG CLUB

Joseph and Stanley Savitsky of Colchester were arrested by Policeman John Riley Monday night charged with murderous assault on Joseph Havasklewicz and his daughter, Julia, and are under bonds of $2,000 for their appearance in the Colchester court Saturday.

It is alleged that the two brothers attacked Havasklewicz with a big club, beating him unmercifully and when the daughter attempted to interfere, the two men hit her on the head, causing a bad wound.

ANGUS PARK FINDS ENGLISH BUSINESS SPOTTY

(Special to the Bulletin)

NEW YORK, July 21—Angus Park, woolen manufacturer of Hanover, Conn., arrived here today accompanied by his wife aboard the White Star lines Majestic following a combined business and pleasure trip through Europe.

General business conditions in England are rather depressed and spotty, Mr. Park declared. The woolen business, however, is somewhat spirited largely due to sales to European countries. In spite of the demand for woolen goods on the continent, the prices are not much higher, Mr. Park found.

All three plants operated by Mr. Park at Hanover, Dayville and East Glastonbury, are busy and running at full capacity, the owner stated. The woolen mills controlled are the Airlie mills, the Assawaga Co., and the Angus Park Manufacturing Co.

CAMP TIPPECAN IN ITS BUSIEST WEEK

The Norwich Boy Scouts' camp at Beach pond, Voluntown, Camp Tippecan, is again strong this week, the largest week of the season in enrollment.

Reginald Lambain gave an interesting Indian dance in full costume at the camp fire Tuesday night and sang a number of Indian songs.

Scout Executive Benton told ghost stories and Mr. Williams read other enjoyable stories.

Tests in scout progress are passed daily and improvements in camp site, clearing out dead trees and cutting a wider trail through the woods.

The motor boat will meet visiting parents at the foot of the lake at 11 a. m. Mondays, Thursdays and Sundays and take them to camp, allowing autos to be parked while they are in camp, thus avoiding the long trail through the woods.

Henry Jordan, the Maine guide, will be here the latter part of this week and next week. The food is plentiful and well cooked by our old chef, John Jenks.

Rev. W. C. Prentiss will be down from Plainfield to give his interesting talks on birds with stereopticon pictures. Official inspectors have been in camp and pronounced conditions excellent. Medical attendance by Dr. R. S. Agnew and the camp first aid corps take care of the health of the Scouts. Victor Davis, in charge of the water activities, is putting over the swimming tests.

The scout executive has introduced a checking up system to determine the whereabouts of any scout who is not on the camp ground.

Rev. F. C. Williams, Thomas Baldwin, John Shields and Dennis LeClaire have each installed a radio set and concerts are enjoyed by the camp each night.

Saturday night a minstrel show is to be held at the camp fire Thursday night an Indian ceremony will be conducted.

Another Thursday Half Holiday

Norwich store proprietors and clerks will enjoy another Thursday half holiday today, the third this summer.

When it comes to raising vegetables the amateur gardener isn't in it with an old hen.

World's Greatest Buy

$1250

Freight and Tax Extra

for the HUDSON COACH

The Great and Genuine Economy Its Owners Know

The good-will and satisfaction so evident throughout Hudson's enormous ownership results simply from the conviction of hundreds of thousands of individuals that they have the "World's Greatest Buy". The economy Hudson owners praise is not only in the big saving of first cost; they know, also, the greatest of all operating economies—faultless service for months on end with rarely any need whatever for attention and at a minimum expense for service.

Throughout Hudson's long-time policy of giving greatest value for the money, this is the lowest price, the finest Hudson, the greatest value Hudson ever offered. Only Hudson's exclusive advantages of the famous patented Super-Six principle combined with the world's largest production of 6-cylinder cars make it possible. By greater margins than ever before it is today the "World's Greatest Buy."

Hudson-Essex World's Largest Selling 6-Cylinder Cars

THE NORWICH MOTOR SALES COMPANY

394-400 North Main Street. Telephone 1780.

Norwich Bulletin

1796 1925

VOL. LXVII—No. 176. POPULATION 29,865 NORWICH, CONN., FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1925. FOURTEEN PAGES—112 COLUMNS PRICE TWO CENTS

FURTHER REPRIEVE DENIED; SCOTT TO PAY DEATH PENALITY

To Be Hanged in Chicago At 6 A. M. Today For Murder Committed During His Attempt at Hold-Up in Drug Store in Chicago—Condemned Man Formerly Was Head of a $10,000,000 Canadian Corporation—Had Career as Salesman, Actor, Bootlegger and Dope Peddler—Attributes His Plight to Affairs With Women.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., July 23.—(By The Associated Press)—Russell Scott, sentenced to hang in Chicago tomorrow morning, tonight was refused a further reprieve by Governor Small and the state board of pardons and paroles.

With the action of the pardon board, Scott apparently lost his last chance for his life unless Governor Small should act independently of the board before 6 o'clock tomorrow morning, the hour fixed for his execution.

The action of the board followed a desperate last minute attempt on the part of friends, relatives and sympathizers, to save the life of the condemned man, centering not only in Springfield, but in Chicago, Detroit and Windsor, Ontario, his former home.

The governor's decision was announced after the state board of pardons and paroles had spent five hours in taking evidence and in deliberation. The governor's decision was based on the recommendation of the board.

Mrs. Scott, torn between hope, and a fear that she would be unable to reach Chicago before the hour of her husband's hearing, in case of an adverse decision, was in the state house when the announcement was made, but would not see reporters.

The last train that would have arrived in Chicago before the hour of execution left Springfield at 3:30 this afternoon and Mrs. Scott intended to go north on it. After she had boarded the train, however, the suspense became too great and she decided to remain until the decision was made. Her attorneys were with her when the news came, and they, too, refused to make a statement.

The text of the governor's decision follows:

"The appeal of Russell Scott for executive clemency has carefully been considered by the division of pardons and paroles, and members of the division sitting with me in the hearing today.

"This case was tried by a jury which fixed the penalty. The verdict of the jury was affirmed by the supreme court of the state. Two reprieves have heretofore been granted in this case.

"As is always the case, the dependents of a man convicted of crime are the real sufferers. Personally, I have the deepest sympathy for those, who, in this case, must suffer.

"It is the opinion of the division of pardons and paroles that nothing has been submitted which would justify the executive in interfering with the verdict of the jury which was affirmed by the court."

FROM SOCIAL EMINENCE TO A MURDERER'S CELL

CHICAGO, July 23.—(AP)—Russell T. Scott, at 30, was head of a $10,000,000 Canadian corporation organized to build a $20,000,000 international bridge between Detroit, Michigan, and Windsor, Ontario. A few years later, after a career as salesman, actor, bootlegger and dope peddler, he was sentenced to hang for murder in Chicago, for the death of a drug clerk killed in a robbery.

In jail awaiting the hangman, Scott devoted much of his time to writing books on how to succeed. Before his 30th birthday overwhelmed him he produced a dozen books on business problems and commercial ethics. His volumes "Humanity and Business," and "Mind Your Mind," were considered tomes of more than mediocre worth.

With some 80 branch offices of the bonding corporation in operation throughout Canada, Scott's first descent came, when disagreement developed among associates over his business methods. Forced to leave the company, he parted with a personal fortune of $2,000,000 in settling his affairs. Penniless, a few months later, he faced a $10,000 breach of promise suit verdict obtained by a young woman formerly employed in his office. Unable to satisfy the judgment, he fled Canada to launch upon a varied career in the States.

On April 2 1924, he was arrested for the murder of Joseph Mariner, 19-year-old clerk in the City Hall pharmacy opposite the Chicago city hall.

Scott admitted, the police said, he had turned hold-up man under the persuasion of Underworld and had taken part in 21 robberies. In his trial he sought to throw the blame upon his brother, Robert, who was indicted with him but never apprehended. He insisted Robert shot the clerk in an altercation over an attempted liquor purchase.

State witnesses refuted the story, declaring Scott and a second man, presumably his brother held up the store and herded the employes and visitors in the basement. After being sentenced to hang on a plea of guilty, Scott petitioned for a new trial, changed his plea, and was again sentenced to the gallows.

A heroic fight was made by his father to save him from the scaffold. Actuated by an abiding faith in his son, Thomas H. Scott, pauperized himself in an effort to raise funds for a third trial.

SCOTT IN DEATH CELL RESIGNED TO HIS FATE

CHICAGO, July 23.—(AP)—Resigned to his fate, Russell Scott sat tonight in the death cell of the Cook county jail waiting the coming of sunrise and death.

The former Canadian financier, snatched from the shadow of the gallows a week ago tonight, by a week's reprieve from Governor Small, abandoned all hope tonight when informed that the governor and the state board of pardons and paroles had refused further clemency.

"I don't want to see anybody," he informed his guards when told that reporters were waiting with "news" for him, and a moment later, when told it was "bad news" he became very angry and shouted, "I want to be left alone, and if I'm not, I'm going to raise trouble."

The verdict sealing Scott's fate came from the governor after friends relatives and sympathizers of the condemned man in Chicago, Detroit and Windsor, Ontario, his former home, had made desperate efforts to unearth additional evidence which might have been considered sufficient to warrant a further stay or a commutation of sentence.

Scott will walk to the gallows in the morning without having said a final good-bye to his wife, Mrs. Catherine Scott, who was in Springfield to appear before the governor and the pardon board and missed the last train for Chicago. Thomas Scott, his father, was in Chicago, however.

Scott's case has aroused nation-wide interest during the last few weeks although he lay in jail for nearly fifteen months without any particular interest in his fate being manifested.

Sentenced to be hanged in April, Scott was given a ninety-day reprieve by Governor Small while his case was being investigated further and an effort was made to find his brother. Meanwhile, friends of Scott in Windsor and Detroit interested themselves in his behalf. His wife, mother of Scott's three children, the eldest of which celebrated his seventh birthday in Rochester, N. Y., last Friday, the day he was to have been executed, came here to aid him, as did his father.

All efforts to help the thirty-year-old slayer, however, apparently had failed, and both his wife and father bade him good-bye a week ago tonight when a telegram from Scott came to Governor Small, signed Robert Scott and stating that he and not Russell, did the shooting, and would surrender.

This telegram later was proven to be a hoax.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE DECLINED TO INTERVENE

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 23.—(AP)—President Coolidge steadfastly declined tonight to take a hand in the case of Russell Scott, sentenced to hang tomorrow in Chicago, despite petitions received here that he intercede in behalf of the condemned man.

A plea for mercy has been received from Scott's wife, also from a group of Windsor, Ontario citizens and, it is understood, various women and women's organizations have appealed to Mrs. Coolidge to make some move to prevent the execution.

All communications directed to the president have been turned over to the department of justice and tonight no recommendation had been received that the president intercede. It is the opinion of officials here that state of Illinois is carrying out one of its own laws and that the president is without authority to prevent the execution.

10 MINERS ENTRAPPED IN TENNESSEE MINE

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 23.—(A.P.)—A special dispatch to the Chattanooga News from Rockwood late this afternoon says:

"The first rescue party headed by W. H. Elliott and made up of a big force of veteran miners resumed to the surface at the Roane Mining company mine here this afternoon and reported that little hope was held for the safety of ten miners entrapped by an explosion in the mine this morning at 5:10 o'clock. It had been reported at first that seven men were entombed in the mine, but later checks showed that Sam Givins, Tom Sullivan, Sam Watkins and a man named Davis were caught in the blast.

"The rescue party reported that they had reached the 4,000 foot level and found the air heavily charged with gas. Another explosion was feared at any time. W. C. Taylor left another party into the mine trap at 10:15 and J. W. Webb of the United States Mine Bureau stationed at Knoxville, will arrive soon with mine rescue equipment to assist in the work."

CLAIMS AGAINST U. S. GOV'T. NOW AGGREGATE $1,602,000,000

WASHINGTON, July 23.—(A. P.)—Suits in which the federal government is defendant in the court of claims reached a new high record today when the aggregate of claims showed a total of $1,602,000,000. More than 2,000 cases are awaiting consideration of the court which now is in recess until early fall.

In announcing the status of the cases against the government, Assistant Attorney General Galloway declared there was no prospect of the number of cases diminishing. While there had been some diminution of war claims, others had more than offset the slight decrease in that kind of suits.

Income tax cases are conspicuous on the court's docket. Mr. Galloway described this phase of the work as requiring increased attention from the Department of Justice and he expected department of justice and he expected even more suits by taxpayers who have remitted to the government under protest and now are going into the court of claims to get back money they believe represents over payments.

NINE AUTO DEATHS IN THE STATE LAST WEEK

HARTFORD, July 23.—(AP)—Nine deaths resulted in 456 automobile accidents in the state last week according to reports made to the motor vehicle department. The fatalities occurred at Waterbury, Manchester, Milford, Wallingford, Hartford, Plainfield, Bridgeport and two at Jewett City. Of the total number of accidents, 255 were reported from fourteen cities. Hartford led all cities with 52, New Haven was second with 42 and Bridgeport, third, with 32. Reports from other cities were as follows: Waterbury 25, New Britain 14; New London 10; Stamford, 9; Norwich 12; Meriden 9; Middletown 7; Winsted 3; Norwalk 6; Greenwich 12; Danbury 6.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Two Drowned While Bathing.

BIARRITZ, France, July 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Williams, an American woman whose address is not yet available, and James Hett, an English artist, were drowned while sea bathing near here today. Hett lost his life attempting to rescue Mrs. Williams.

COURT UPHOLDS AWARD OF COMPENSATION COMMISSIONER

BRIDGEPORT, July 23—(A. P.)—One of the largest compensation awards ever granted in Fairfield county to an injured workman, the sum of $10.45 weekly for 520 weeks made in favor of John Tomchik, Bridgeport, by Compensation Commissioner Edward T. Buckingham, is confirmed in a memorandum of decision filed in superior court this afternoon by Judge Arthur F. Ells.

Tomchik, employed by the Frank Miller Lumber company, fell 12 feet from a lumber pile on July 16, 1924. His injuries brought about an abnormal mental state and he developed a paranoid condition. He suffers now from delusions of persecution and hallucinations during which he imagines awesome voices threaten him. Several times he has leaped from windows, believing enemies were pursuing him.

Commissioner Buckingham, after hearing evidence from several of the best known alienists in the east, found that Tomchik prior to being injured, had a dormant paranoid condition, but that it was accelerated by the injuries and attendant mental stress. He ruled in his favor and made a large award of compensation.

Insurance companies appealed, holding the commissioner had erred in holding that the accident in the lumber yard was the direct cause of Tomchik's mental state. Judge Ells upholds the commissioner and dismisses the insurance companies' appeal.

AMERICAN RANCHMAN KILLED IN MANCHURIA

HARBIN, Manchuria, July 23—(A. P.)—While assisting the inhabitants of a village near his ranch on the Sungari river to repulse an attack of brigands on July 20, Morgan Palmer, a native of the state of New York, but long a resident of the Far East was killed.

A friend of Mr. Palmer's, Dr. Harvey J. Howard, a specialist in eye diseases attached to the Rochefeller hospital at Peking, who was visiting the ranch, was taken prisoner by the brigands, and since then no trace of him has been found. It is supposed that Dr. Howard also was engaged in repelling the attack.

Mr. Palmer's mother, Dr. Howard's son and Harold Baldwin, formerly of Derby, Connecticut, and his wife and child made their escape.

The body of the murdered American was buried on Tuesday night in accordance with his mother's wishes. Mrs. Pamer at the present time is being cared for by American Customs Officer Peterson station at Fuching Hsien, not far distant from the ranch.

Couriers have been sent out in search of Dr. Howard, but have not yet reported back. The danger of further outrages of the same nature is not past, and measures are being taken so far as possible to protect other foreigners living in this district.

SHIPPING BOARD AWAITS LEGAL OPINION ON SALE

WASHINGTON, July 23—(A. P.)—The shipping board marked time today pending an opinion by Attorney General Sargent on the method to destroy government ships through their sale for scrapping where the vessels are neither obsolete nor damaged.

At the suggestion of Commissioners Benson and Thompson, Chairman O'Connor has requested President Coolidge to instruct the attorney general to prepare such an opinion, although counsel for the board has rules that under the merchant marine act the board has the necessary power to dispose of its vessels for junking.

The position of the two commissioners is represented as being a desire to clear up beyond any question the authority of the board in a matter involving destruction of government property in good condition and in its custody.

Indications are that if the attorney general rules that sale for scrapping is legal, the bid of $1,700,000 by Henry Ford for 200 vessels for junking will be accepted.

SEEKING TO FORESTALL AN EVOLUTION TRIAL

WASHINGTON, July 23—(A. P.)—Counsel for the federal government and the District of Columbia will seek to forestall any evolution trial in Washington similar to that at Dayton, Tenn., at least until Congress has had opportunity to determine whether that theory of the origin of species should not be taught in the Washington schools.

Loren H. Wittner, a government employe, has sought to throw the whole question of such teachings into the federal courts by seeking an injunction to stop payment of teachers' salaries on the ground that they were violating a provision of the current District of Columbia appropriation bill against the teaching of "disrespect for the holy bible."

A study of the petition in this case has led Corporation Counsel Francis H. Stephens to the opinion that the case can be stopped in its initial stages by reason of flaws in the bills filed with Justice Siddons, a preliminary hearing on which is set for next Tuesday.

TWO BODIES RECOVERED FROM TENNESSEE MINE

ROCKWOOD, Tenn., July 23.—(AP)—The bodies of Claude Findell and Raymond Watkins have been brought to the surface from the Roane Iron company mine at Bryson Dip. The bodies were horribly mangled and were only recognized by their clothing. Another rescue party has just entered the mine. Hope of finding the other entombed men alive has been abandoned.

The two bodies were found more than a mile from the entrance to the mine. Rescue workers said they had been blown eight hundred feet by the force of the blast. They had no hope, they said, of finding the other men alive.

182 ACRES PURCHASED TO ADD TO PEOPLE'S FOREST

HARTFORD, July 23.—(AP)—Four pieces of land totalling 182 acres have been added by purchase to the People's forest at Barkhamsted. State Forester Austin F. Hawes announced today. This state forest now comprises 917 acres acquired largely through public subscription and the efforts of the Connecticut Forestry association.

Two Army Aviators Killed, Three Injured

When Three Army Airplanes Crashed on Oahu Island—Fourth Crash This Week.

HONOLULU, July 23—(AP)—Three army airplanes crashed on Oahu Island today killing two aviators and injuring three others, one seriously. This made four crashes in the last week with a total of three pilots killed.

The dead: First Lieutenant Charles L. Morse, Lancaster, N. H., First Lieutenant John A. Wyatt, Hampton, Va.

Injured: Staff Sergeant Prosper Ter Moullen, Second Lieutenant John F. McBlain, District of Columbia, Private Hanks, acting observer, Sergeant Ter Moullen is the most seriously hurt of the injured.

The three accidents occurred within less than three hours. Lieutenant Morse took off from Luke field, on the army end of Ford Island, at almost the same time that a navy plane piloted by Chief Petty Officer Froslo arose at the other end of the island.

The two pilots evidently did not see each other until their planes were near collision.

Eye-witnesses said both were circling trying to obtain "ceiling" and that Morse apparently glimpsed the navy plane and tried to pull away. As he did so the tail surfaces and control wires of Morse' plane came in contact with the surface of the navy plane, throwing the army plane, which was heavily loaded, out of control. The army plane pulled away, then crashed to the earth, striking on the left wing and turning upside down.

Lieutenant Morse was dead when the ambulance arrived.

Lieutenant Wyatt, accompanied by Sergeant Ter Moullen, was piloting a large De Haviland plane when his engine started to give trouble. Forced to land, he made for a small field on the Dillingham plantation, 14 miles from here. He overlooked however, a high tension electric wire which caught the plane, and sent it crashing to the ground.

The pilot was killed instantly. Sergeant Ter Moullen was taken to Tripler General hospital, where his injuries were declared serious.

Both of these accidents happened within an hour. The third occurred when Lieutenant McBlain, with Private Hanks as observer, went up in another De Haviland to search for Wyatt's plane.

They located the plane, but in landing hit the same wire that caused the Wyatt accident. McBlain received a gash in his neck and other external and possible internal injuries. Private Hanks was cut and bruised.

Both McBain and Wyatt were attached to the Fourth Observation group, while Lieutenant Morse was with the 19th Pursuit Squadron.

Wyatt was 32 years old. He enlisted in March, 1917 and received a regular commission in July, 1920. He had been in Hawaii two years. His wife and four year old daughter reside here. Lieutenant Morse enlisted in 1917. He leaves a wife and two small children here.

ELDERLY MAIDEN SISTERS WERE BEATEN TO DEATH

HUDSON, N. H., July 23—(AP)—Two elderly maiden sisters were found beaten to death late this afternoon in the home they occupied alone here. They were Iss G. Georgianna Gillis, and Miss Helen Ellis, 80.

Although the crime had apparently been committed yesterday, it was only late today that the bodies were found by neighbors. The body of Miss Georgianna was crumpled in the pantry among broken dishes, her skull crushed by blows from a club.

Her sister had apparently been struck down in the kitchen, for blood had pattered the floor and her torn cape was found near the sink. The body, however, was found on a couch in the living room.

No instrument that had caused the deaths was found in the house by the police. A hammer was reported seen in the vicinity. The house at a cursory glance appeared not to have been robbed or ransacked.

Miss Ada Locke, a neighbor said she went to the house yesterday as had been her custom during the 25 years the sisters had lived there. When they failed to answer her knock she returned home. Today another neighbor, Mrs. Eugene Center, likewise failed of response. She sought Mrs. Locke, the spinsters' best friend and together they entered the house and found the bodies. The doors were open although the screens were closed.

WILL OF FORMER GOV. LOUNSBURY IN PROBATE

RIDGEFIELD, July 23—(AP)—The will of Former Governor Phineas C. Lounsbury was admitted to probate by Judge George C. Scott today, and as objection to this action had been offered by counsel for several heirs an appeal within ten days if possible.

The hearing upon the probating of the will, which had been twice postponed, was attended by several of those interested in the document. The details of the will and the bequests made under it have already been made public. William H. Griffiths, of Bridgeport, a nephew, stated that the estate probably will show a value of about $1,000,000.

The estate was represented by David S. Day, of Bridgeport, while Homer S. Cummings, of Stamford, represented Frederick H. Quintard, a nephew, of Norwalk, and others who had objected to the document being admitted. Among those at the hearing were Mr. and Mrs. Griffith.

ARRESTED SECOND TIME FOR OPERATING A STILL

NEW HAVEN, July 23.—(AP)—Michael Giaquinto, of this city, arrested yesterday for the second time in a week for operating a still, was held by the federal commissioner for a hearing today. He was arrested a few days ago and was released on bonds. He went to Wallingford and in a shack he went to work and was found there with a still in operation by federal officers yesterday.

REICHSTAG SUPPORTS THE FOREIGN POLICY

BERLIN, July 23.—(AP)—The Reichstag today approved the government's foreign policy by a vote of 235 to 138, with 13 members absent.

Jumped or Fell From Sixth Story Window

Mrs. Peyton Van Rensselaer of Newport Was Killed in New York Yesterday.

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Mrs. Peyton Van Rensselaer, of Newport, R. I., was killed this afternoon when she jumped or fell from the sixth floor of a building at 9 East 40th street.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer, who was 56 years old and prominent socially, went to the building to undergo an X-ray examination by Dr. R. K. Johnson, whose office is on the sixth floor. According to Dr. Johnson, she was suffering from mental depression and had been in a private sanitorium since Monday.

Reaching the suite of offices occupied by Dr. Johnson and other physicians, Mrs. Van Rensselaer walked through the reception room to an unoccupied office facing on the street, raised a window and jumped.

A telephone operator in the reception room heard Mrs. Van Rensselaer raise the window, but did not attribute any significance to the window. The disappearance was discovered when an attendant entered the room to ask her to enter Dr. Johnson's office.

A clerk in a cigar store on the ground floor of the building saw Mrs. Van Rensselaer fall to the pavement and he notified the traffic policeman, who called an ambulance.

Dr. Johnson said that Mrs. Van Rensselaer had been suffering from stomach trouble for many years and had made an appointment to make an X-ray photograph to assist in the diagnosis of her illness. Since she entered the sanatorium on Monday, he said, she had visited his offices daily for examinations.

*FRANCE TO IGNORE TERMS OF MOROCCAN WAR LORD

PARIS, July 23—(AP)—The French government, it was asserted today, will take no official cognizance of the alleged peace terms of Abd-El-Krim the Moroccan war lord, as published in a London newspaper and the Paris Quotidien, organ of the parliamentary majority in the chamber of deputies, this morning.

At the foreign office today the comment on what was termed Abd-El-Krim's "peace drive" in both London and Paris was that France cannot entertain any propositions tending toward a cessation of hostilities in Morocco unless they are transmitted through the proper diplomatic channels; that the Riffian chieftain was aware what peace terms France would accept, as he had been officially informed on this point through Spanish official channels ten days ago.

Much suspicion was evinced in French official circles today as to the alleged peace terms published in London and Paris. Recent reports of a weakening among Abd-El-Krim's supporters and the reports that the French army in Morocco soon will be sufficiently strong to start an offensive to crush the rebels caused the belief in these circles that the Riffian leader might be ready to talk peace. But it was asserted that any proposals on the subject must bear the stamp of genuineness; that they could not be broadcast through newspapers but must reach the Quai D'Orsay through accredited channels.

There is a feeling in parliamentary circles that the publication of the peace terms originated with the extreme socialists and communists of the French parliament with the purpose of placing France in a bad light by refusing to negotiate with the Moors.

Conditions on the battle front in Morocco today were reported as calm. Abd-El-Krim is reported as beginning to feel the effects of the blockade.

The initative in the operations, which has been in Abd-El-Krim's hands since April, is now declared to have passed into the hands of Marshal Petain and General Naulin, who are conferring on plans for an offensive against the Moors.

TO PERPETUATE MEMORY OF SENATOR LAFOLLETTE

MADISON, Wis., July 23—(A. P.)—Formation of a National Memorial Association, the purpose of which would be to perpetuate the memory of the late Senator Robert M. LaFollette and convert the LaFollette farm in Maple Bluff, near here, into a Memorial Park similar to that at Mount Vernon, in the district of Columbia, was favored at a meeting here.

A committe ewas appointed to confer with the LaFollette family on the question of memorializing ten homestead of the late senator.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Lavina Moseman Lyon

PORT CHESTER, N. Y., July 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Lavina Moseman Lyon, whose parents for many years conducted the De Soto house, one of the stopping places for stage coaches, died at her home here early this afternoon in her 95th year. Her marriage to David M. Lyon, who died in July, 1891, was the first one to take place in the Port Chester Episcopal church, since burned down.

A descendent of some of the oldest settlers in this section, she was born in May 11, 1831, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Moseman. Her grandfather served as a captain in the American army in the war of 1812. She is survived by two sons, Clarence S. Lyon, who made his home with his mother, and J. Hermoin Lyon, of 57 Locust avenue, Greenwich.

Mrs. Cora Victoria Witherspoon

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Mrs. Cora Victoria Witherspoon, 86, widow of the Rev. Orlando Witherspoon and mother of Herbert Witherspoon, the singer, died of paralysis today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wallace M. Scudder.

Mrs. Witherspoon was born at Santa Amelia Plantation, Cuba, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Taylor. She came to this country to be educated and met Mr. Witherspoon while both were in school in Middletown, Conn. After her marriage she lived in Buffalo, Cincinnati and in Derby, Conn. Her husband was archdeacon of the Episcopal diocese of New Haven at the time of his death thirty years ago.

Besides Herbert Witherspoon and Mrs. Scudder, who is traveling with Mr. Scudder in England, Mrs. Witherspoon is survived by Mrs. George Pratt Ingersoll, of Stamford, Conn., and Mrs. Edward Shelton Cornell, of Derby, Conn., daughters, and Captain Edward T. Witherspoon, U. S. N., retired, and Arthur Story Witherspoon, of Englewood, N. J., sons.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Wednesday's torrential rainstorm caused damage amounting to $100,000 in Waterbury.

The explosion of a still in Milford, Mass., resulted in the death of Mrs. Rose Perrelli, wife of John Perrelli.

Edward Williams, 21, of Stamford and Lewis Mola, 15, of Rowayton, were arrested in Stamford on a burglary charge.

Class One railroads placed 83,291 freight cars in service during the first six months this year, the greatest number for any corresponding period on record.

Four armed men in a touring car held up the payroll car of the Mills-Fox Baking company in Detroit and robbed two employees of the firm of $5,000 in cash.

Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers, who was elected to Congress in the Fifth Massachusetts district recently, received her certificate of election at the hands of Governor Fuller.

Rep. Raylor, Republican, of Tennessee, who was asked recently to introduce an anti-evolution bill in congress said he would not do so, although he was a fundamentalist.

The steamship Coamo, being built by the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company for the New York and Porto Rico steamship company, was launched Wednesday.

Mrs. Miriam T. Hilgartner, daughter of Madame Schumann-Heink, had an attachment in circuit court, Baltimore against the estate of her late husband, Charles E. Hilgartner.

Charles Sigeway, 44, of West avenue, South Norwalk, is in the hospital in Stamford, at point of death, from burns received in a fire which destroyed Circle Inn in Darien.

Edward Williams, 20, of Stamford, and Louis Mola, of Norwalk, were each fined $50 and costs by Judge Mead today for theft of inner tubes from a gas station in Greenwich.

Notices of a ten per cent wage reduction effective July 27 were posted yesterday in Suttons Mills in North Andover, Mass. Three hundred textile operatives will be affected by the reduction.

About 25 persons were injured, none seriously, when a sixty foot section of the wooden bleachers collapsed at Frontier park, Cheyenne, Wyo., during the frontier days wild west celebration.

Net income of the Bethlehem Steel corporation for the second quarter of 1925 amounted to $5,423,191, compared with $1,071,316 in the first quarter of the year and $1,278,277 in the corresponding period of 1924.

Unless tourists observe the rules of dress, head-gear and conduct, and desecration of church property by souvenir-hunters ceases, the historic Notre Dame cathedral, Montreal, will be closed to visitors.

Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur, during a brief stop at Salem requested the associated press to emphasize strongly that no change is pending in the naval policy relative to the Pacific fleet.

Returning from an errand to find her Brooklyn home afire with her two small children in bed on the top floor, Mrs. Esther Smalowitz, 29, dashed into the flaming structure, and carried both children out, the street.

Five men are held in the Harford county jail, Belair Md., for questioning in connection with the death of County Commissioner Charles P. Clark, 69 whose body was found in woods near VanEsher, Md.

A warrant charging Elmer C. Smith with the murder of his wife Josephine was served on Smith yesterday at the Charles street jail, Boston, where he was held for assault and battery.

John C. Varanelli, who is held at New Haven county jail charged with robbery of parole from Sing Sing prison, has appealed to Governor Trumbull for a hearing at which he will oppose extradition to New York.

Assistant Secretary Robinson of the navy, plans to meet the Pacific fleet upon its return from Australia off San Pedro, Calif., September 26, in the course of an inspection trip of west coast and Hawaiian naval stations.

The estate of Hugh Kelley, worth several thousand dollars, awaits distribution in the probate court in New Haven, but this cannot be done because under the will the sole residuary legatee, a daughter Margaret, cannot be found.

James E. Gilmore, teacher in the high school, in Peabody, Mass., was held in district court by Judge Stevens for Grand Jury in $5,000 bonds, on a charge of criminal assault on Celia Rosenthal, a variety store keeper some weeks ago.

While work was being pushed yesterday to repair the damage wrought by the rainstorm and lightning in Hartford, Wednesday, it was discovered that a lightning bolt had damaged the Thomas Snell Weaver high school on Ridgefield street.

Charged by the police with being "a confidence man de luxe" who swindled governesses out of their life savings, George Hamilton alias Dr. A. C. le Grande, alias Carl Weaver, alias Emil Holden, was arrested in New York on a charge of grand larceny.

Postmaster Baker of Boston received from the postmaster general's department at Washington copies of eight contracts covering a transcontinental air mail service with Boston as eastern terminus to be inaugurated in September.

Suffering from delirium tremens, George E. Boyer, 22, of 14 Franklin street, Taunton, broke through a second story window of the New Bedford House of Correction hospital and in a scuffle with a trusty who tried to restrain him, fell from a fire escape to the ground, where he died a few minutes later.

Frank J. Batcheller of this city chairman of the National committee of the American Minute Men, Somerville, Mass., announced that that organization had no connection with the "Minute Men of America," a body formed by a section of the Ku Klux Klan of Colorado.

STRIKE OF BRITISH UNION COAL MINERS IS IMPENDING

Miners' Executive Board Has Decided to Call a General Strike to Begin July 31—The Government is Endeavoring to Bring About Negotiations Between the Miners and Mine Owners—Workers in Other Great Industries Are Angered by What They Regard as an Attempt of Employers Generally to Reduce Wages.

LONDON, July 23—(A. P.)—Great Britain is menaced with a general strike of all the British coal miners on July 31, the miners' executive having decided this evening to instruct the workers to quit work on that date.

In the meantime the government is bending every effort to bring about negotiations between the contending parties, and W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the admiralty, having won his battle in behalf of the admiralty cruiser construction program, can now continue his efforts as mediator.

This action is considered a counter to the owners' refusal to withdraw their notices of the termination of the present agreement which expires July 31, as a necessary preliminary to a conference to discuss a new agreement.

The workers not only in the mines, but on the railways and in many great industries are all seething at what they regard as an organized attempt on the part of employers generally to reduce wages.

Since its reversion to the gold standard the government has been persistently assailed by a powerful section of the press, which blames its predilection in this matter and argues that the rise of ten per cent in the value of the pound sterling has resulted in foreign buying British goods, and so has partly destroyed British export trade.

The government commands a powerful majority in parliament, but cannot afford to ignore these attacks, which are aimed at showing that the ministers themselves are largely responsible for unemployment.

The deadlock continued today and, so far from any sign of a conference both sides are preparing for warfare.

The Transport Workers' union has unanimously approved the plan for an alliance of millions of workers in all branches of industry. A full draft of a tentative constitution of such an alliance has been printed, and all the unions concerned are preparing to take a ballot of their membership.

The government's court of inquiry has concluded its hearings and will present a report soon.

The trade union congress today requested Premier Baldwin to meet a special committee of that body, appointed to deal with the miners' dispute.

The ministry of labor has been engaged for a week in trying to arrange a wage dispute in the Yorkshire and Lancashire Textile industry, but all efforts to bring the disputants together have failed, and it was stated tonight that 135,000 of those workers will stop work tomorrow.

DEDICATORY EXERCISES AT AN EARLY TRADING POST

FORT UNION, Mont., July 23.—With a camp of 50 tepees pitched on the bank of the Missouri river, a colorful picture was presented here, where the Upper Missouri Historical Expedition met the representatives of twenty tribes of American Indians. The dedicatory exercises here marked the site of one of the earliest trading posts on the upper Missouri.

Gen. Hugh Scott, United States army, retired, the most distinguished of the old Indian fighters left, delivered the address to the Indians in the universal sign language and it was the most picturesque spectacle ever presented in this frontier section.

Mountain Chief, of the Glacier National Park reservation, who was Gen. Scott's chief scout in the early days, was present and spoke for the Indians.

The dedicatory ceremonies followed by the Indian contests took place on the bank of the Missouri river at the exact site where Old Fort Union stood, which now is on the boundary line between North Dakota and Montana, near the confluence of the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers.

Governor Sorlie of North Dakota and Governor Erickson of Montana also took part in the flag raising ceremony and memorial dedicatory program.

There were 20,000 people present. They came from a radius of 150 miles and there were 3,000 automobiles parked on the prairie near the Fort Union site.

MEMBERS OF INSTITUTE OF POLITICS ASSEMBLING

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., July 23—(AP)—Most of the members of the Institute of Politics and two lecturers who will address the fifth annual session arrived here today and this evening the registration of the 224 specially completed.

Among today's arrivals were Count Antonio Cippico, Italian former senator, and Major General Sir Frederick Maurice, of England, chief of operations on the British general staff in the war. Count Cippico will give a series of lectures on the Mediterranean area and Italy and Sir Frederick will lead a round table discussion of the problems of armaments. The opening tomorrow with addresses by President Harry A. Garfield of Williams College, founder of the institute and Lionel Curtis of London, founder of the British institute of international affairs. Dr. Garfield will welcome the institute members and Mr. Curtis will speak on "The British commonwealth of nations." In the afternoon President and Mrs. Garfield will hold a reception at their home, and tomorrow evening Count Cippico will give the first of his lectures in Chapin hall.

LEAKY SCHOONER WAS KEPT AFLOAT BY LUMBER

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP)—Kept afloat by her cargo of lumber, the four-masted schooner Sally Wren run down by the tanker Edward Luckenbach early today in a fog 16 miles south of Ambrose lightship, was towed into the harbor late today by the coast guard cutter Seneca. Her decks were awash when she reached port. Seamen said only her floating cargo had kept her from sinking.

The Sally Wren was proceeding from Savannah when the Luckenbach, an 8,500-ton steel ship, struck her in the darkness and fog. After the impact, which did little damage to the tanker, the vessels drifted out of sight.

At daybreak the Seneca put a line on the Sally Wren to tow her, while the Luckenbach proceeded to Los Angeles.

SUMMARY OF YESTERDAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

The government was sued for $65,707,343 in an Indian land case.

An investigation of the Indian situation in Oklahoma was ordered.

A program designed to prevent an evolution trial in Washington was outlined.

A cotton drop of 13,388,000 bales was forcast by the department of agriculture.

The Van Sweringen threw open part of their records at the Nickel Plate hearings.

A big increase in the value of grain exports was shown for the last fiscal year.

AVIATOR AND PASSENGER WERE KILLED IN BOSTON

BOSTON, July 23.—(AP)—Mark C. Hogue of Boston, formerly a lieutenant in the army air service, and George Burroughs of Topsfield, a passenger in his plane, were killed today when the machine went into a nose dive after taking off from the Boston airport and crashed to the tracks of the Boston, Revere Beach and Lynn railroad in Lake Lo—. Hogue, piloting the plane, was a veteran of the army and Burroughs died on his way to the East Boston Relief station.

The plane, owned by Hogue, who conducted an aviation school here, was flying about 500 feet above the airport when it was seen to swoop downward, taking directly from the tracks of the "narrow gauge" railroad where a trestle connects World Memorial Park and Maverick street. The machine was smashed to pieces. Firemen summoned by an alarm turned in by an excited spectator pulled the bodies from the debris. The plane was wrecked so completely that the cause of the accident could not be determined.

Lieut. Hogue, who was 29 years old, joined the air service in 1917 and was assigned to instruction work. Since the war he had been engaged almost continuously in commercial flying, but in 1919 acted as a pilot in the air mail service. He specialized in aerial photography and had photographed many of the large estates on Long Island and on the north and south shores.

Burroughs was 30 years old, married and engaged in the real estate business.

SUPPORTERS OF BRITISH ADMIRALTY TRIUMPH

LONDON, July 24.—(AP)—The long drawn struggle within the cabinet between the supporters of the admiralty and the economy party has ended in the triumph for the admiralty. The decision of the cabinet, announced in the house of commons by Premier Baldwin today is that four new cruisers shall be laid down in the current financial year, which terminates the end of next March, and after that three cruisers yearly during the life of the present parliament.

There will be, in addition, an annual construction of nine destroyers, six submarines and other auxiliaries. The government party claims that this is a compromise, and doubtless, as compared with the admiralty's full demands, it may be so regarded, for it is understood that the full demands were for at least five cruisers yearly.

The Churchill party, however, was opposed to committing the country to a building program in future years.

PRATT & WHITNEY FORM SUBSIDIARY COMPANY

HARTFORD, July 23.—(AP)—The Pratt & Whitney Manufacturing company, of this city, announced today the organization of a subsidiary company to be located in Hartford and owned jointly by the Pratt and Whitney company, and experienced personnel of the aeronautical industry and other manufacturing interests, for the designing and manufacture of aeronautical engines. Offices and factories formerly occupied by the Pope Manufacturing company on Capitol avenue and now owned by the Pratt and Whitney company, will be used by the new company. A charter application Wednesday for incorporation under laws of the state of Delaware. The corporation papers provide for the issuance of $2,000,000 of preferred stock with a par value of $100 and of 20,000 shares of common stock with no par value.

CONDITION OF NEW YORK FEDERAL RESERVE BANK

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP)—The statement of the condition of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York at the close of business July 22, shows:

Total gold reserves $962,515,000.

Total reserves $982,735,000.

Bills discounted secured by government war obligations $59,295,000.

All other $31,595,000.

Bills bought in open market $33,916,000.

Total earnings assets $223,410,000.

Uncollected items $148,616,000.

Due to members: Reserve account $528,216,000.

Total deposits $546,196,000.

F. R. notes in actual circulation $330,705,000.

Ratio of total reserves to deposit and F. R. note liabilities combined 83.5 per cent.

WILLIMANTIC

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Burdette and daughter, Miss Marie Burdette, of Winfield, Kansas, returned home recently after a tour of the East, which included a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Hills, of The Ridges. Their motor car covered 5,215 miles and it was only necessary for them to change a tire once. According to Mr. Burdette, who writes an interesting letter to Mr. Hill, he, his wife and daughter were very much impressed by the hospitality of the Easterners, and they enjoyed the trip immensely.

The third and deciding game between the St. Mary's choir boys and St. Joseph's Boy Scouts has been postponed, this time to Sunday morning at Windham field. The first two games were played while the two rivals were at camp in Columbia.

Miss Dora Blanchette, of 26 Union street, has a position with the Turnbull-Weldon company.

Robert S. Archibald, who got a broken leg on the evening of June 13, in an automobile accident, has recovered and is now at his home in New York, having been discharged from St. Joseph's hospital.

The Sewing Circle of the Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. John James, on Columbia avenue, with a good attendance. Sewing was accomplished and a luncheon was served. Mrs. F. F. Foshay was presented a lustre tea set by the members of the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

State Policeman Elmer D. Wall, of the Stafford Springs barracks, was at the local police station conducting examinations for the licensing of motor vehicle applicants, one of the successful candidates being Alderman William A. Buck.

Funeral services for Albert C. Adams were held at 62 North street Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. Frederic P. Foshay officiated. The services were largely attended. Burial was in the new Willimantic cemetery. Avery and Ben Zandt were in charge of the arrangements.

In the vital statistics for June, published in these columns Wednesday morning, the marriage of Doris Phelps and Walter Grant, both of Willimantic, was missing. The return for the marriage ceremony was apparently not made by the officiating clergyman.

Engine Company No. 1 was called out at 1:07 Thursday afternoon for a chimney fire in the boarding house at 830 Main street, conducted by Fannie Gordon. Some grains of chemicals were used. The property is owned by James Mercer, of Providence, R. I. This was the first time in several weeks that the local fire company was called for a chimney fire.

Richard Holden, acting physical director at the Willimantic Y. M. C. A., is visiting at his home in Norwich, preparatory to his departure for Silver Bay, N. Y., where he will take a course in physical training with the approval of the Board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. Holden leaves this city for Silver Bay next Tuesday.

The repairs to the interior of the First Congregational church, including colors, which was set in the concrete about nineteen thousand dollars, are progressing very favorably, and according to the committee in charge, the church is expected that the edifice will be ready for weekly services in September, as planned.

James Keating, of Philadelphia, is visiting relatives in this city for a few days. Mr. Keating was a favorite baseball player, "Jimmie," as he is familiarly known, is now in the employ of a leading perfume concern in the Quaker Town.

Mrs. Michael P. Cronin, of 10 Ann street, is visiting for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Palmer of Worcester, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer figured in a collision on the highway between Pomfret and Putnam Sunday night, when they were returning home from this city, their car being sideswiped. Mr. Palmer was absolved from any blame in the mishap, as the operator of the other car was engaged responsible for the crash.

Among the members of Troop 1, Boy Scouts of America, who are at Camp Tapaguan, the official Boy Scout camp of the Norwich district, on the shores of Beach Pond, are Lawrence Dyer, Mitchell Dyer, Raymond Copeland, Walter Willington, Hunter Williams and Stanley Wade. Rev. H. C. Williams, the scoutmaster, Scoutmaster assistant camp director. The boys will return to their homes next week.

Archibald W. Buchanan, of Mansfield Center, agent for the state board of education was at the Normal school building, Thursday forenoon. Several children were given the examination for employment certificates.

Guests and Tourists.

Mrs. Esther Cadieux and daughter, Mrs. Arthur Bonin of Marlboro, Mass., and Mrs. Frederick Moreau and daughters, Etta and Elizabeth, of New York, are guests of Mrs. Virginia Moreau.

Mrs. Herbert T. Clark, who has spent the winter, spring and so far, this summer, in Miami, Fla., returned to her home Thursday evening.

Miss Lucille Harroun, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harroun, returned Wednesday to Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade U. Webster, their son, Roy, and Mrs. Elizabeth Webster, of North street, and Mr. and Mrs. George K. Allen are spending two weeks' vacation at Pleasure Beach.

Herbert Merrill, of New York, is spending his vacation at his home in Ashford.

J. W. Snow has returned to New Jersey after a visit with his sister, Mrs. C. D. Maine.

Mrs. Frederick Hornberger is spending a week with W. B. Sweeney at Crescent Beach.

Mrs. Frederick Volk, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Russ, Wednesday.

James P. Mustard left Monday for Seattle Wash., where he is to attend the national convention of the Knights Templar as a delegate.

Mrs. Susan Sullivan and daughters, Louise and Lucy A. Murphy, of this city, are spending a week with Mrs. Coffee, in New Jersey.

Miss Harriet Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Mitchell, is visiting her aunts, Misses Ellen and Harriet Mitchell, of Bridgeport.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Bowen, Miss Jennie Albro and Gilbert Blackburn motored to Rocky Point Thursday.

Mrs. M. M. Hazen, of Colchester, is the guest of Mrs. Charles B. Lamb, of 83 Church street.

Dr. and Mrs. R. C. White left Thursday for a few days' motor trip in Maine.

Mrs. Harry Green, of Worcester, is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. Louis H Arnold.

Miss Lillian Ottenheimer left Thursday to spend her vacation with her sister, Mrs. Robert Blight, of Long Beach, L. I.

Mrs. David J. Purdie and sons, David, Jr., and Otis, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., are visiting the family of N. D. Webster.

FAMILIES MOVE OUT OF THREAD CO. HOUSES

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 23.—Of the eleven dispossession writs against former employees of the American Thread company which were placed in the hands of the two deputy sheriffs in charge yesterday all had been served before noon.

Two families at 37 Milk street and one on Cross Hill moved out this morning, while Charles Lucas moved his family and belongings from 7 Main street. It was stated that one family was not called upon to vacate for the reason that the head of the family had returned to work in the local plant.

BANKS MAKE FINE SHOWING IN SPITE OF DEPRESSION

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 23.—In spite of local industrial conditions, Willimantic's banking institutions are making a fine showing and their financial resources are second to none in the state, in comparison with the population. The Windham National bank with deposits of $3,057,614.93, resources of $3,[illegible] surplus and undivided profits of $292,123.45; the Willimantic Trust company with deposits of $1,[illegible] resources of $1,857,140.95, surplus and undivided profits of $141,[illegible] and the Willimantic Savings Institute with deposits of $1,614,517.61, resources of $1,758,938.80, surplus and undivided profits of $124,846.31 prove this assertion.

WILSONVILLE

Miss Shields, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ed Keegan returned to her home Wednesday. Her daughter Margaret and son returned with her.

Mrs. Sullivan, who has been with her sister in Webster has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Handy had for week end visitors their son and his family, of Worcester, also Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore of New Bedford and Mr. and Mrs. William Hanley and her daughter, May, of Webster.

UNION

Miss Flora Martincsak of Newark, N. J., is spending a week with her cousin, Miss Julia Heck.

Miss Elizabeth Henderson, who has been the guest of Mrs. Howard G. Barbar, has returned to Newburyport, Mass.

Mrs. Thomas Hayes and daughter, Mrs. Howard Cox, of Stafford Springs were recent guests of Mrs. Alva Sands.

Misses Emily and Gladys Ryder of West Dudley, Mass., are spending their vacation with their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Thompson.

Arnold Burnham had a throat operation at a private hospital in Willimantic, last Friday, and returned home Saturday.

Miss Evangeline Lawson is spending this week with her mother on Bald Hill.

Mrs. Harry Bush of New Haven is spending the summer with Mrs. H. M. Lawson.

State Forester Austin F. Hawes and Fish and Game Commissioner John Titcomb were in town recently.

Clarence Booth and family, of Wethersfield, were guests at H. G. Barber's, last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John McCrea who has been science teacher in the high school at Toms River, New Jersey, is spending her vacation with her brother, Rev. H. M. Lawson, at the Lawson homestead.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turning made a short visit with Mrs. Turning's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Barber on their return from Nantic. They left for Hartford, their future home, last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bradway, who have been guests at George Bradway's, returned to Boston and were accompanied by Miss Mary Bradway. Saturday the three started for a vacation motor trip to Nova Scotia.

Mrs. George Kostur is spending a few days with her brother Andrew Rizner, and family at Gildersleeve.

Frank Ballou has been doing the haying on his Hampden, Mass., farm. Adelbert Agard and sons have been cutting the grass on their farm at Wales, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Howard and Fairman Howard were guests Sunday of Mrs. Howard's mother, Mrs. Mary Soule, in Hydeville.

Mrs. Frank Durfee and Mrs. Harry Ryder of West Dudley, Mass., are spending a few days at Mashapaug.

Leroy Eaton of Watertown, Mass., spent the week end at his summer home at Mashapaug.

Mrs. James Crowe has returned to her home in Springfield, Mass., after visiting her sister, Mrs. Raiza Hopton, for a week. The little niece, Esther Deacon of Holyoke, returned with Mrs. Crowe, after spending several weeks with Mrs. Horton.

Mrs. Forrest May of Shrewsbury, Mass., accompanied by her three children, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Hannah Horton.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baker of New Rochelle, N. Y., were guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Baker from Friday to Monday.

Andrew Dionisio has been recommended by the civil Service Commission for the position of Assistant Postmaster at Middletown.

L. M. Reed and Mrs. Mary Reed were guests last Sunday afternoon, of relatives at the F. W. Moore cottage.

Peter Orcutt and Miss Helen Orcutt, of Rockville, were recent guests of The Gazette.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kunhardt with their two sons, accompanied by Mrs. Kunhardt's brother, Oscar Kolodiej, all of Staffordville, were guests at William Kunhardt's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Gaudette and family were entertained Sunday, by Albert Vinton at Alum Pond, Stubbridge, Mass.

Fred Aldrich of Uxbridge, Mass., Mr. and Mrs. Bert Corbin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Newell and son, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Cobbs, all of Springfield, Mass., were guests Sunday at Myra Heck's.

The following were guests at Samuel Hecks Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Oliver and children, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Oliver and daughter, Elizabeth of Thompsonville, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Cushman and son, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilson and children of Wilington Mr. and Mrs. George Webster and family of Scotch, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hayden and three friends of Enfield.

Rev. Lincoln [illegible] next Sunday, at 5 o'clock (standard time) Prof. Alexander Meiklejohn, dean of the college of Massachusetts Institute of Technology is to give an address on Science and Life.

Dr. Herbert W. Mason of Belmont, Mass., occupied the pulpit at the morning service Sunday. The Junior Choir had met with Mrs. Lindsay for rehearsal and 20 or more boys and girls sang at the morning service. Dr. Mason gave a very interesting address on Scientific Confirmation of Bible Truth at the vesper service. Dr. Mason and his son Prof. Alexander Mason also sang a duet.

STAFFORDVILLE

Miss Ethel Woodward, of Storrs, was home with her parents at the parsonage the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sawick and two children, of Chaplin were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Philo West recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ransom and daughter of Millville called at the parsonage recently. Mr. Ransom's father, Rev. Merrick Ransom was pastor of the Methodist church here in 1871-2.

Martin Sparrow of this place, and Mrs. Benton, of West Willington were married July 11th. After a brief wedding trip they returned to the home of the bride. Mr. Sarrow is employed in the Hydeville mill but will the reside in West Willington, making the trip back and forth with his automobile.

The pastor's subject next Sunday morning in the Federated church is to be Thunder or an Angel?

Mr. and Mrs. Benedict Schwanda, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schwanda and family of New York recently moved into the house of the late Mr. Lina Booth.

Leon Cooley is in the Fabyan Woolen Co.'s mill at the New City as boss weaver, to succeed Sanford Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kology and family moved last Friday from one of H. A. Bosworth's tenements into the new house which they have had built at Stafford Holow.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bosworth and daughter Ethel moved Wednesday into the house vacated by John Kology and family.

MYSTIC

At the meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. Byron Billings Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. W. H. Lamb, the president, presided. The meeting opened by singing Blessed Assurance. The devotional exercises were in charge of Mrs. Newbury. Items of business were discussed and it was voted to omit the parlor meeting next week. Clippings from the world's convention held in Scotland, were read, as follows: Record-breaking Attendance at the World's Convention, Mrs. Billings; Women of 50 Lands to Insist on World's Freedom from Liquor, Mrs. Brown; One-Half Million Women Combat the Liquor Traffic, Mrs. Newbury; Bible Temperance Teaching, Happie Brown. The date and place of the picnic are to be given later.

The Mystic Country club met Thursday evening in the club rooms in Jackson avenue. The committee in charge of the evening's program was Miss Joanna Burnette, Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. George, Mrs. Harry F. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Gray, Miss Rachel Burnett, and John B. Grinnell.

The Sunday school of the Congregational church had a picnic that all enjoyed at Wheeler's Grove, Thursday. An appetizing clam chowder at noon with other good things were provided. A busy afternoon, with games adapted for all classes, and a supper in the grove ended a day of much pleasure. The new pastor is making many friends and aiding in every department of the church work.

Those living in the West Mystic district were interested in the recent marriage of George W. Ingram, principal of the school, and Hattie E. Lamphere.

Mrs. Lucy Boyle, of Houston, Texas, and Mrs. Fannie Mason called on Mrs. Annie Lathrop and Miss Jennie Denison Wednesday.

Mrs. Annie Sheridan and son, of New York, are visiting Miss Margaret McCabe.

Miss Wilhelmina Schroder returned Wednesday evening from attending the national convention of Young People's society, of Christian Endeavor held in Portland, Oregon. She left June 29, with about thirty-five others from Connecticut. Many stops were made to visit interesting places and she had a very enjoyable trip.

Miss Hutchins, of New York, was here Tuesday evening, to meet those appointed from the church, at a meeting in the Community House, to arrange to have the Fresh Air children placed in homes for two weeks. Some unable to take children pay autos, one to board them, in this good work no doubt. Mystic will do her share, as formerly.

Arenzo Schmidt, a farmer over the line in Ledyard, fell from a load of hay and fractured a rib, and was badly shaken up.

Elmer C. Bill has sold the Lydia Morgan place, to Pequonnock to Clarence J. Bissell of New London.

Miss Elizabeth Denison, of Albany, Ga., who has been visiting her aunts, Mrs. Elwood Lathrop and Miss Jennie Denison, on Pearl street, went to Philadelphia Wednesday, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Welch until Oct. 1st, when she will return to her home in the south.

A new Homestead has moved from Latham street to Industrial place.

Miss Evelyn Thompson is visiting relatives in New London.

Mrs. Walter Capwell, and daughter, of New London, were visiting friends here.

Mrs. Edgar Whiting is improving from an attack of neuritis that confined her just after her return from California.

SALEM

Miss John Rathburn and daughter were at Ocean Beach Monday.

Carl Rogers and family, of Ellington, and Ray Bliven and family, spent Sunday at Leon Bliven's, in Westerly, R. I.

Louis Chapman was a caller in Hartford Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ide's, Mrs. Wakefield Little and daughter, Miss Jennie Hulburt and Miss Gladys Chapman were at Crescent Beach Wednesday.

Mrs. William Howard, of Lake's Pond, visited Mrs. Charles Malone Sunday.

Miss Daisy Moore and daughter were in New London Tuesday.

Lawrence Spencer was a Colchester caller Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie were in New London Tuesday.

BALTIC

St. Jean's Band is to give a public concert tonight, July 24, at 7:15 (Standard time) at the North end of Main street, opposite the Grist mills. Prof. Joe. Bergalingo is band leader, and the manager is Eugene Girard.

Goes To Jail To Get Idea

NEW YORK VIEW CO., NEW YORK

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck daughter of the late Congressman Wm. S. Mason, and herself a former Congresswoman from Illinois who incognito, went to jail, for petty theft, came out, and worked as a hotel chambermaid, cook, factory employee, etc., getting different "points of view" which she claims are indispensible, and recommends them to all. She said it creates a strong spirit of helpfulness and sympathy for mankind.

SEASONABLE PURE FOODS FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY THAT WILL SAVE YOU SOME MONEY.
SHOP EARLY FRIDAY AND SATURDAY MORNING AND TAKE ADVANTAGE OF 3 HOUR SALE—8 to 11.

Sirloin, Round, Porterhouse STEAKS, lb. 27c
CUT FROM WESTERN DRESSED BEEF.

PRIME RIB ROAST BEEF, lb. 29-32c
BONELESS—ROLLED—READY FOR THE OVEN.

THE MOHICAN COMPANY

BOILED OR LIVE LOBSTERS, lb. 39c

ABSOLUTELY FRESH EGGS, 2 doz. 79c

Fine Cuts Chuck Roast BEEF, lb. .. 15-19c

Lean Pot Roast BEEF, lb. .. 12½c

Freshly Chopped Beef Hamburg, lb. 12½c

Lean Cuts Nicely Cured CORNED BEEF, lb. 9c

Swift's Genuine Small, Tidy Spring LAMB, lb. 31c
SHORT CUT LEGS

Freshly Cut LAMB CHOPS, lb. 25-39c

Loin Tender Young LAMB, lb. 29c
TO ROAST.

Fresh Milk-Fed VEAL, lb. . 15-19c
TO ROAST.

Garden Packed Spinach 49c
3 LARGE CANS.

2 packages Macaroni 23c

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR $1.33
24½-lb. BAG.

5 lbs. Granulated Sugar
1 lb. Confectioners' Sugar
Both for 39c.

Juicy Thin Skin LEMONS, doz. 25c

FRESH NATIVE SQUASH.. ea. 5c

Fresh Native String BEANS, 3 qts. 10c

NATIVE BEETS, 3 bu.. 10c

Sunkist Oranges, doz.. 33c

3 Hour Sale—Friday and Saturday Morning — 3 Hour Sale
8 to 11 D. S. T.—All Items Listed Below On Sale at Specified Time—8 to 11 D. S. T.

Armour's Sugar-Cured Smoked SHOULDERS, lb. .. 19c

ALL KINDS STEAKS, lb. 19c

FRESH KILLED FOWL, lb. 19c
FOR FRICASSEE.

5 lbs. Granulated SUGAR 28c

Best Long Island 15-lb. pk. POTATOES 49c

GOBEL'S PURE LARD, 2 lbs. 39c

Fresh New Grass Creamery BUTTER, 2 lbs. 97c

Hot From Our Ovens——2 doz. Cinnamon BUNS ... 35c

Maryland Raised BISCUIT, 2 doz. 25c

ANDOVER

Visitors, Sunday, at Mr. and Mrs. William B. Thompson's were their son, Frank E. Thompson and family, of Springfield, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pelton and Wilfred Williams, all of the same city.

Repairs have commenced on the interior of the town hall, with some changes to be made before putting in electric lights.

Miss Helen Jewett, employed by the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, of Hartford, is spending two weeks' vacation at the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Jewett.

Tuesday, the following members of the Girls' league went to Rocky Point, R. I.: Clara Thompson, Nera Stanley, Marion Stanley, Ila Hamilton, Helen Hamilton, Beatrice Hamilton, Katherine Newton, Dorothy Cook, Evelyn White, Myrtice Mathewson, Sara Rosenblum, Olga Lindholm, Anna Lindholm and Olive Hutchinson, also Mrs. E. B. Hyde. The following accompanied the league members: John Hutchinson, John Yeomans, Mr. Heron, Charles White and wife and daughter Carolyn; also Miss Mildred Post, a visitor at Mrs. E. B. Hyde's, and Miss Bensola, of Bolton. All made the trip by automobile. An ideal day helped make the outing most enjoyable.

Miss Sadie Miller and Miss Muriel Miller, of South Manchester, were calling on friends here Monday.

Miss Olga Lindholm is having two weeks' vacation at her home, from her work for the Aetna Life Insurance company in Hartford.

Edward Yeomans, who has been ill at his home, is able to be out.

Miss Evelyn White is having a vacation of two weeks from the Travelers Insurance company in Hartford, where she is employed.

Mrs. Harry Milliken was a visitor in Willimantic Tuesday.

Mrs. C. A. Faulkner spent a couple of days last week in New York and New Jersey.

LEFFINGWELL

Joseph A. Elliott, of Taunton Mass., spent the week-end at his home here.

Miss Margaret Bedot was a recent guest of Miss Pearl Murphy, of Waweeus Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Willard and Mrs. Carrie Gardner, of Groton, were guests, Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beebe.

Miss Mildred Murray has returned to Hartford after spending some time with her mother, Mrs. William Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leffingwell Beard are living in their new home, which is completed except the grading of the grounds.

Miss Mary Turner, of Taunton, Mass., is staying with Mrs. Joseph A. Elliott.

Recent guests at the parsonage were Mr. and Mrs. George R. Marsh and daughter, Marion, of Ashaway, R. I., and Mr. and Mrs. William Shelly, of Central Village.

Mrs. R. Trafford Mowrey and daughter, Beaulah, were recent visitors with Miss Josephine Rogers, of Norwich Town.

Wednesday, an all-day Missionary meeting was held in Groton, at the home of Mrs. Charles B. Willard. Sixteen were present and sewed on rags to make rugs. Mrs. O. B. Leffingwell led the missionary meeting; the subject was "Foreign Missions." Readings were given by Mrs. S. W. Billingwell, Mrs. Charles E. Ellis, Mrs. S. Clinton Rogers, Mrs. Harry E. Bedat, Miss Carolyn L. Beebe and Miss Lois M. Leffingwell. The menu for dinner was cold sliced meat, salad, coffee, cake, cookies and pie. Ice cream was served by the hostess, during the afternoon.

The neighbors and friends of Mrs. John Rathbone and her sons, John and Charles, have expressed much sympathy for them, in the loss of their husband and father, John Rathbone. Mr. Kathbone was a member of the First Bozrah Baptist church in Leffingwell and will be greatly missed

COLCHESTER

In the case of the State vs. Victoria Burba for assault and interfering with an officer while in the performance of his duties, Mrs. Burba pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty and fined $1 and costs of $17.37. Officer John M. Riley was serving attachment papers on Mr. Burba. Mrs. Burba was very abusive and interfered with Riley. Charles F. Brown appeared for the state.

Although the day was not favorable for holding picnics, Wooster chapter, O. E. S., held their picnic at Giant's Neck, Wednesday. The number that attended was smaller than it would have been if the day were pleasant.

Arthur Holmes, of New London, was a visitor in town Wednesday.

Charles Daniels, of North Stonington, was a guest of John Higgins on Main avenue, Wednesday.

Frederick Rogers, of New London, was a caller here Wednesday.

Miss Lottie Gates and Miss Lottie Destin returned to their home in Orange, N. J., Tuesday, after a few days' stay at Miss Destin's summer home on South Main street.

Charles F. Brown was a Norwich visitor, Wednesday.

Joseph M. London, who was taken to the Hartford hospital two weeks ago for treatment for pleurisy, is reported as being on the road to recovery and will be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

A very hard thunder shower passed over the village Wednesday afternoon. The rain fell in torrents for a few minutes, the thunder was heavy and the lightning sharp.

NIANTIC

The ladies' Aid society of Pine Grove held an entertainment Thursday evening in the pavilion.

William Henry Harrison Smith occupied the pulpit at the Congregational church, Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. Ernest M. Ligon, is having his vacation. He expects to return to the church August 1.

Mrs. James Metcalf, of the Pine Grove farm, has been ill for several days. Mrs. Mary Holmes was in attendance.

Major and Mrs. Arthur D. MacIntyre, of Putnam, are guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. MacIntyre, of Broadway.

Miss Sylvia Dellbridge and sister, of Bridgeport, are spending several days at the Fairfield cottage on Broadway, Pine Grove.

Man is made of dust but some women expect him to be made of gold dust to supply their demands.

HANOVER

Rev. Dwight C. Stone continued his discourses on Temptation, Sunday morning.

Miss Dorothy Lee and Jean Peck spent last week at Camp Aloha, East Northfield, Mass., attending conference.

Mrs. Arthur Lathrop with her two sons, Harold and Lester spent the week end on Lee Hill.

The Church school picnic is scheduled for next Saturday at Ocean Beach, New London. The executive committee is aiming to make this the most successful one ever held by the school.

William Price is visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. Hoadley is the guest of Rev. and Mrs. D. C. Stone.

Miss Margaret Eadie is at Bethlehem, N. H.

Sunday, July twelfth, the Merry Maids went on an excursion to New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Park, who have been spending several weeks abroad are expected to arrive in New York Tuesday.

Miss Ellen Peck is the guest of Mrs. Roger Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Donald, of Lebanon, spent the week-end at Mrs. Myron Allen's.

GOSHEN

Ralph Kenyon was given a surprise party on his recent twentieth birthday, at Fairview farm. He received twenty gifts. The evening was very pleasantly spent socially.

Arthur W. Lathrop and brother Andrew C. Lathrop are on an automobile trip to Niagara Falls this week.

A unique method in haying was recently noted when a Goshen farmer, had his mowing machine hitched up to his tractor for the motive power.

A neighboring farmer while carting hay was surprised to find under a heap of hay a family of seven black skunk kittens; they all got into a nearby stone wall before one of them could be captured. The same farmer also found while mowing a black snake-skin 6 feet in length.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight W. Avery and Mrs. John Browning, of Norwich Town, were recent visitors here.

A popular dessert now on the country bill of fare is blueberry pie or shortcake.

Among the many places of interest in New England which Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Randall recently visited were the Old New England Homestead of Queen Anne's architecture, the Manning manse, built in 1636, 220 years ago in Billerica, Mass., with the great fireplaces and swinging cranes, the old ovens, the low studded rooms, the rafters hewn from hardwood logs and the wooden latches of the doors lifted by latchstrings. It is one of the few old landmarks that remain to tell of earlier days. The house is a fine example of the plain, substantial Colonial architecture of the seventeenth century.

It has been preserved intact by eight generations of Mannings, who have occupied it since 1636.

The Union Sunday school picnic of the four Sunday schools in Lebanon is to be held at Mohegan park, Norwich, Wednesday, July 29. This will be the third annual gathering that will seem like one big family reunion, and Old Home Day.

Handicapped by Height

As a rule, very tall persons are said to be over-sensitive about their height to such a degree that it often proves a handicap in the way of their success in life. A notable instance of this character was the 9-foot giant of Russia, Machnow, who made a fine living by exhibiting himself, yet he was a most miserable person on account of his height.

Frankie Genaro, the American flyweight champion, who is looked upon as the legitimate successor to the world's title as a result of the death of Pancho Villa, has arrived at the top in just five years from the start of his professional career. Genaro is of Italian-American parentage and will be 24 years old next month.

ACT AT ONCE or be too late to profit by our AUGUST SALE!

COUCH HAMMOCKS
At $8.50.
REFRIGERATORS
At $19.00.
LAWN SWINGS
Four Passengers
At $10.00.
PORCH ROCKERS
At $2.75.
CAMP CHAIRS
with backs
At 98c.
CANVAS COTS
At $4.25.

HOURIGAN BROS.
HOME FURNISHERS. 62-66 MAIN ST.

Salads are health foods

SALADS are health foods, and scientists tell us they should be part of our daily menus. To give them rich zest and appetite-provoking flavor, add a measure of the delicious, new Gulden's Saladressing Mustard, specially made by the makers of the famous Gulden's Mustard, for salads and entrees.

This wonderful new [illegible] mustard is a moderated blend of [illegible] mustard seeds, rich olive oils [illegible] pungent vinegar and spices. It enhances the flavor of all mild-flavored foods. Good cooks now use it regularly. Try it today.

Your grocer has it in generous sized bottles. 15c

GULDEN'S SALADRESSING MUSTARD

Women are Right

Stopping kitchen mussing on hot mornings

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes
The right summer breakfast . . . no hot kitchens

HEATING your kitchen on summer mornings is a folly. Cook now the vigor food men like and children need without fuss or bother.

Oats and milk . . . that's the right hot day starter.

Quick Quaker makes it easy.

Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. Doesn't heat the kitchen. Keeps the family well protected against hot weather drain . . . and you against its bothers.

All that rich flavor of Quaker Oats is there. Quick Quaker cooks faster. That's the only difference.

Quick Quaker
Cooks in 3 to 5 minutes

The Manhattan

TEN DAYS SALE
MEN'S FURNISHINGS
All Men's Furnishings Reduced for This 10 Days' Sale.

$2.00 SHIRTS—Reduced $1.65
$2.50 SHIRTS—Reduced $1.95
$3 and $3.50 SHIRTS Reduced $2.35
$4 and $5 SHIRTS—Reduced $3.15
$1.00 ATHLETIC UNION SUITS—Reduced 75c
$1.50 ATHLETIC UNION SUITS—Reduced $1.15
$2 ATHLETIC UNION SUITS—Reduced $1.35
75c BALBRIGGAN SHIRTS AND DRAWERS—Reduced 59c
$2.50 PAJAMAS—Reduced $1.79
$1.25 NIGHT SHIRTS—REDUCED 79c
$1.00 WORK SHIRTS—Reduced 75c
25c COTTON HOSE—6 for $1.00
65c Fancy Hose—Reduced 45c
75c Fine Silk Hose—Reduced 50c
$1.50 FINE SILK HOSE—Reduced 95c
$1.50 GOLF HOSE—Reduced $1.15
$2.00 GOLF HOSE—Reduced $1.45
$2.50 GOLF HOSE—Reduced $1.95
$1.50 WOOL CAPS—Reduced 95c
$2.00 WOOL CAPS—Reduced $1.59
$1.00 SILK TIES—Reduced 79c
$1.50 SILK TIES—Reduced $1.19
$2.00 SILK TIES—Reduced $1.35
25c SOFT COLLARS—6 for $1.00
50c SOFT COLLARS, Manhattan make—2 for $1.00
$3.00, $4.00 and $5.00 STRAW HATS $1.95

Remember These Prices are for Ten Days Only.

The Manhattan
MEN'S FURNISHING DEP'T.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Subscriber—Say, operator, you gave me the right number the first time I asked for it.

Operator—Excuse it, please.—Life.

Is that cup over there sanitary?

It must be—everyone is using it.—University of West Virginia Moonshine.

It has been estimated that if all the hand-shaking of the last election could be put to milking cows, all the cows of the nation would be milked for a week.—Good Hardware.

Dumb—You certainly sling a terrible lingo. You ought to go to London and learn the King's English.

Dumber—Oh, I know he's English.—University of Kansas Sour Owl.

Mother—You kept baby out in his carriage longer than I told you to, Norah.

The Nurse—But he wanted a long ride, ma'am. Every time I came to a corner he had his arm out signaling for a turn.—The Progressive Grocer.

Johnny—Ma, would it kill the baby if he fell out of bed?

Mamma—Of course it would!

Johnny—Naw, it wouldn't. Go in an' see for yourself.—Denver Parrakeet.

With a single stroke of a camel's hair brush, Sargeant the painter, could change a smiling face into a frowning one.

That's nothing. My mother can do that with the back of a hair brush.—Twice Told Tales.

Brown's play had run only two weeks, it was then shelved. A friend of the playwright who did not know this met him at the club and said cordially: "Well, old man, how are the royalties?"

They've abdicated," said Brown glumly.—Exchange.

KALEIDOSCOPE

Two sleeping cars were run on the Erie railroad in 1843.

Abnormal length of forearm, and of the leg, from the knee downward, is characteristic of the native savage race of Australia.

The water-strider, a common aquatic insect, does not swim, but actually stands and runs on the surface of the water.

The American Philosophical Society at Philadelphia, still meets in the building it occupied when Benjamin Franklin was its president.

Edwin L. Littlefield picked up a cent minted in 1825 on the top of a hill of cucumbers at his Wells (Me.) home. The coin was corroded and had evidently worked up through the ground with the cucumber plant.

Barley produced in the world last year outside of Russia and China amounted to 1,215,000,000 bushels, which is a decrease of 114,000,000 bushels from the preceding year and of 180,000,000 from a four-year prewar average.

The Osaka Asahi and the Osaka Mainichi, Japanese newspapers, have agreed to limit the Chinese characters in use to 2,490 instead of the 6,000 odd formerly drawn upon by the compositors. Exceptions are to be made in the cases of imperial edicts, laws and proper names.

The sun's rays shining on a shaving mirror caused a fire in a Berlin home recently. A concave mirror left standing near a window caught up the sun's rays and reflected them upon the curtains, which became ignited. In a few minutes the entire room was aflame.

The longest railroad in the world is not in the United States. By the recent completion of a connecting link there is now a continuous line of track from Meekatharra, in West Australia to Dajarra, in Queensland, a distance of 5,434 miles. The line from Vancouver to Halifax is 3,622 miles long. San Francisco to New York, 3,102.

The Bulgarian government is preparing to celebrate the 1000th anniversary of the founding of the kingdom and the fiftieth anniversary of Bulgaria's liberation from Turkish rule. A series of brilliant festivities and historical exhibitions will be planned. Representatives of all foreign powers will be invited by the Bulgarian government.

Shoe strings made of a rubber composition, recently introduced by an English manufacturer, are said to stretch so easily that shoes can be taken off and put on without unlacing them. The strings are fastened at the top on the inside, thus eliminating the need for tying or knotting, says Popular Mechanics. They can not work loose. In games or on hikes, the elastic laces are said to relieve the pressure of the shoe on the foot. They are made in different colors.

Vacation study combined with foreign travel is offered by the International Federation of Trade-Unions. In Sweden the National Trade-Union Center has tendered to the traveling students the use of the peoples' high school at Brunnsvig, delightfully situated on a lakeside and convenient to centers of labor activity in Copenhagen and Stockholm. In Prague, Czechoslovakia, the students will be housed in the university buildings.

Mine Strike Threatens

COPYRIGHT KEYSTONE VIEW CO., NEW YORK

John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers Union, who at the meeting in Scranton, Pa. charged the existence of a conspiracy to wreck the union, involving John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Andrew W. Mellon, Chas. M. Schwab and the Pennsylvania Railroad. He says that if the "conspirators" try to put through a "lower wage scale, in repudiation of the Jacksonville wage agreement, he will call a nation-wide strike in the mines, necessitating Government intervention.

A NEW IDEA IN Shortening

TO BE INTRODUCED AT YOUR GROCER'S NEXT WEEK

Housewives will want to read these Fourteen Questions and Answers

1 What is this new idea?

This new idea is the application of the principle of fat crystals to shortening. Compare this with any other shortening you are now using.

2 Why is this a new idea?

Because The Best Foods Company has discovered a way to produce fat crystals from a pure vegetable oil. Compare with any other shortening.

3 What is meant by "fat crystals"?

Fat crystals are the sweet and delicious globular crystals gathered from this pure vegetable oil by the new and exclusive Best Foods process. They are tiny, non-greasy and palatable. Compare with any other shortening.

4 Why is Best Foods Shortning harder than other shortenings?

Because it is a different kind of shortening from the "greasy type." The crisp and delicious fat crystals naturally tend to hardness—and for this same reason are sweeter and keep longer. Compare with any other shortening.

5 Does Best Foods Shortning keep longer?

Yes. These pure fat crystals keep three or four times longer than any other shortening. Think what this means in the light of all the variations in American climate. Compare with any other shortening.

6 Does Best Foods Shortning have to be kept on ice?

No—it does not. It works best when the shortening is at the temperature of the kitchen itself. Think of the refrigerator room you save by using Best Foods Shortning, which keeps best on the pantry shelf. Compare with any other shortening.

7 Is there any odor to Best Foods Shortning?

No. These fat crystals are both odorless and tasteless. And when we say "odorless and tasteless" we mean absolutely free from odor, and absolutely free from taste. Best Foods Shortning is palatable—good to eat just as it comes from the container. Compare with any other shortening.

8 What difference does being palatable make?

Its palatable quality gives Best Foods Shortning many uses besides just shortening. It makes delicious Cream Fillings, Cake Icings and Candies. Compare with any other shortening.

9 Is Best Foods Shortning really "neutral"?

Yes, it is. Many other shortenings have claimed to be "neutral," too—but compare them with Best Foods Shortning.

10 What is meant by "neutral"?

Just this—no taste of the Shortning whatsoever remains in the food. All you taste is the food itself. Compare with any other shortening.

11 Is Best Foods Shortning economical?

Yes—most of all in frying. It can be used over and over again. Fat crystals will not absorb any flavors of foods fried in them. Compare with any other shortening.

12 What is the price of Best Foods Shortning?

Best Foods Shortning costs a little more than old-type shortenings. Best Foods is the new fat crystal shortening—a finer product in every way—well worth the difference in price.

13 Where can I get Best Foods Shortning?

Best Foods Shortning can be had from any grocer who carries first-quality food products.

14 When you say "Compare with any other shortening," what do you mean?

Exactly what we say. Compare Best Foods Shortning on any point you wish. And if you are not pleased with Best Foods Shortning as against any other shortening, return the can to your grocer and get your money back.

THE BEST FOODS, INC.
New York . Chicago . San Francisco

Distributor: P. Berry & Sons, Inc., 400 Windsor Street, Hartford, Conn.

1766 1925

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

129 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday.

Subscription price 12c a week; 50c a month; $6.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls:

Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-2.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-2.
Willimantic Office, Main St., Telephone 1131.

Norwich Friday, July 24, 1925

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

Daily Average Circulation
WEEK ENDING JULY 18, 1925:
12,829

MEETING PUBLIC DEMANDS

A few days ago Senator Curtis of Kansas was quoted as urging a large cut in federal taxation and stating that it would be possible to effect a saving of something like a quarter of a billion or more through a reorganization of the government departments.

In the tone of Senator Aldrich it was intimated that a similar saving could be made through the practice of economy and efficiency in the various departments. Since that time there have been changes in conditions which make in departments. Without a doubt there is an opportunity for the elimination of much needless work, duplication and much expensive [illegible]. There is no reason to suppose that the government department would profit from a sensible reorganization quite the same as such results are obtained by similar attempts in corporations. What is called for is business methods. Because it is the government there is no reason why there should be a toleration of old methods which stand in the way of efficiency, and yet because it is the government there is more or less difficulty in getting away from them. Partly because it has been so, or because certain policies have been followed for the past, there is bound to be a [illegible] until the bull is taken by the horns and reforms instituted.

That is what is needed now and has been needed for a considerable time. Through such reformation the republican leader in the senate believes that large savings could be made and those savings can and should be devoted to the lowering of the tax levy.

Tax reduction has long been the aim of the president. It is in keeping with the desires of the people and it is evident that the time is ripe for bringing to bear all the efforts that will help to reach the goal. If congress is awakened to the necessity of such action it is clear that its members are not keeping their ears to the ground while studying the desires of their constituents. The next session of congress is expected to deal with this subject and deal with it right.

LEAVING THE RUHR

Thoroughly justified are the people of Germany in rejoicing over the promise that is being made in the evacuation of the Ruhr. It means the release of those who haven't been [illegible] the resumption of [illegible] former ownership. It [illegible] an end of an [illegible] a time [illegible] that [illegible] of [illegible] undertakings instead of each state striving for the same goal in its own way. What a strong civic organization is for any community an organization representing the New England states should be for this part of the country.

What is more desirable than that there should be an organization to devise ways and means to increase the sale and consumption of New England goods and service including railroads and other transportation, resorts, schools and colleges? New England always has needed it and it needs it now. There have been various co-operative efforts among the New England states within the past decade and such movements have opened the way for doing bigger things and getting bigger results.

Booming the products of New England simply means the creation of a bigger market for them and when that is done it means increased production. That means a greater industrial activity, or a further development of those very enterprises for which it is so well known. Development of an interest in New England products within New England as well as outside is open to large possibilities. Whatever is done in such a direction deserves the heartiest support and a bountiful measure of success.

AN ENFORCEMENT TEST

From time to time new methods have been employed in the enforcement of the prohibition law for the purpose of correcting recognized evils and an apparent laxity. In spite of contentions to the contrary there are those who continue to insist that there is plenty of liquor to be had, though opinions may vary as regards the quality and the advisability of drinking it.

Following the employment of new tactics in dealing with rum row interest is now directed to the reorganization of the field forces in charge of the enforcement work now under the guidance of Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury department. A new drive under this reorganiaztion will be started next month. The shake-up has been far reaching. Districts are no longer confined to states but correspond with those of the federal courts and General Andrews is apparently out to demonstrate whether enforcement such as is expected to bring compliance with the law is actually possible.

It has always been strongly contended that the dry law could never be enforced. There has been much to support such an attitude in the manner in which enforcement has been undertaken. Much that has gone under the name of enforcement has been most anything but that. Enforcement in too many instances has been in the hands of its enemies instead of its friends. Whether General Andrews can bring about a change in the situation remains to be seen. He is being given the chance and is devoting sincere and undiscouraged efforts to his work. He has a large task before him but that of course simply permits of a greater measure of success if he is able to carry out his plans. The greatest test of enforcement since the dry law went into effect seems about to be made.

VALUABLE PUBLIC SERVICE

It is possible for the impression to be gained in connection with the efforts which Registrar Goodwin of the motor vehicles department of Massachusetts is making for the safety of the highways that he is antagonistic to the courts, and that he might get better results in the way of enforcement through the use of different methods. And yet it is not improbable that he has gone all through that and has found that the only way in which to bring about a proper enforcement of the regulations and the proper protection of the public is through calling a spade a spade and putting forth the facts in the respective cases as they appear.

This he has done in connection with many cases that have been disposed with what is regarded as undue leniency by the courts. His latest criticism concerns his brother-in-law, who was let off lightly with a second offender.

The record of highway accidents and fatalities may be no larger in Massachusetts than in some other states but it is apparent that they are not going to be decreased if the enforcement authorities do not do their part in giving the public the protection which the laws are expected to provide and which they have a right to expect.

It is because leniency is too frequently interpreted as a license that there is so little respect for laws of all kinds, but the records of deaths and injuries have reached that stage where fines only serve to increase them. It is in putting an end to such conditions that men with the courage of their convictions like the Massachusetts registrar are rendering a valuable public service.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Auto output gains," says a headline. And so do the automobile "putouts."

The man on the corner says: It is about time for someone to ask what a hatpin is.

It is going to be hard for Dayton, Tenn., to sink back into the inconspicuousness of the past.

Just how much garden cultivation there would be if the weeds did not command attention is one of the big uncertainties.

The only trouble with the claim that the fight against the boll weevil has been won is that the cotton production estimates do not show it.

The decision at Dayton doesn't mean the end of the discussion about evolution, and it doesn't mean the disappearance of Bryan and Darrow.

France hastens to deny it plans to use gas against the Riffians. France is about the last nation that should want to be responsible for anything of that kind.

If congress will authorize reorganization of the government departments a tax cut of a half billion can be made, according to Senator Curtis. Will congress do its duty?

The New York millionaire who wanted suggestions as to how to distribute his millions has been swamped with replies. Did he expect anything different, or has he discovered more deserving individuals than he anticipated?

BOOMING NEW ENGLAND

New England may be confident and it may be modest, but there are those within its midst who believe that it should recognize the importance and come down to the task of proclaiming to the rest of the country the [illegible] of its products and special advantages and attractions and encourage a wholesome and profitable [illegible] of publicity.

For the purpose of putting their views into action state leaders of New England have been busy with preliminary details this week looking to the organization of an interstate co-operative movement for the industrial and commercial welfare of this section of the country.

There is much in common for the New England states in such an effort, and the advantage of combining their

PERMANENT LESSON

"The blues has me, Gladys — the blues," said Tessie of the bargain counter. "I'd go home and stay there if I only dared to."

"What's the painful idea now, little joy spreader?" asked Gladys. "Been told your work on the remnants is no good? Or did yuh come away in such a hurry you forgot to kiss the pet cat good-by?"

"Glad, do you know that an awful lot of the girls working here smoke?"

"Do I know it? I sure do!"

"A girl was just telling me she was deathly sick when learning, time after time, but she stuck and stuck and suffered, and stuck until she learned it."

"Which girl was that?"

"That pretty chunky one with the classical fingernails," said Tessie. "The one who is leaving this evening, fired because she didn't keep her stock tidy. I hear she didn't sell a dollar's worth of goods the whole week she was here, and I had to make her checks out for her every time she made a sale. She told me she is a shimmy addick also, and is known in dancing circles as 'Sugar Foot Suke.'"

"She looks it," remarked Gladys.

"She says it is the fashion for women to be like men."

"Men! If it was like men they were tryin' to be it wouldn't be so bad. But tryin' to copy an imitation of the cheapest grade of the male article the world has yet manufactured is another and more thrillin' tale. Instead of bein' females, they are now she males, not only smokin' but tipplin', swearin', shootin' craps, as they call it, but chasin' out nights with their feet stickin' out of a taxi window—smilin' and gigglin' and perkin', yet ready to throw a plate at you if you dare hint they are not perfect ladies. Cheapy birds they are, I'll say. And the way our floorwomen dance around after them when they work here in the store, eh?"

"Of course. Why not?" asked Tess. Birds of a feather shows which way the wind blows, as the book says. A bunch of 'em go into a caffay or a cabbray and begin throwin' bread and shovin' spoons and ice down one another's backs and fronts before the soup is served.

"And the scornful laugh they give you when you ask them where they expect to be when they arrive. Who wants to be like a gone-wronger, anyhow? It just seems as if 'home' and 'your own folks' had gone out of fashion and the words 'pa' and 'ma' didn't mean nothin' but 'oh, mud!' 'ush away the slush.'

"Gladys, I been so rushed and busy I forgot to tell you. I saw two of them in the midst of their capers the other evening get nabbed by a policeman."

"You did! Nice lookin' girls?"

"Two elegant little prattling petties they were, young and all to the good. And the way they laughed at him!"

"What'd he do?"

"It seems he was a friend of their families or a friend of a friend of their families, a great big man and not a bit hard-boiled. He starts to shoosh 'em out sort of quiet-like.

"It was just saintlike the way he acted at first," Tess explained, "as if it was all he could do to keep from breaking down and crying right there before us all. And we all liked him for it of course and knew he did it only because he had to do it. But these girls got funnier every minute and took to raggin' and razzin' him along lines only such girls dare to until he was blue in the face and he breaks loose, takes 'em one by each at the back of their collars, holdin' 'em in one hand up high and danglin' on the tip toes awkward-like until the wagon got there. And then with one of the worst smashes you ever saw he slams 'em into the wagon sayin', 'You're poison! Poison to yourself and every one else! Our orders is to treat 'um rough and I'm here to do that same.'"

"Did they have the immortal gall to sass him back after that?"

"They tried to, but the way that fire-spittin' cop changed their minds for them was a credit to him."—Chicago News.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Motor Vehicle Accidents

Mr. Editor: "A Pedestrian" in Wednesday's Bulletin in speaking of the many accidents at, or near, Bishop's crossing puts the blame entirely up to the motor vehicle drivers. For one think he is wrong.

The trouble starts at the motor vehicle department in Hartford where licenses are passed out as fast as written with no regard whatever as to whether the applicant is worthy of receiving such an important trust. Then down the line including various officers, who are not strict enough in enforcing the law. Not long ago two cars ran together not far from here. An officer after saying emphatically to one driver "you are entirely to blame" told the men to get together and settle it among themselves. That man once to blame can go ahead and do it again possibly kill some one next time.

Not long ago a man very drunk smashed his car into tooth picks, was arrested, brought before me and fined $100.

The last I heard he had been trying for a year to find out who reported the case, as two grand jurors lived within 200 yards of the wreck and neither reported it to the police. At least so they said at the time. A score or more of his friends expressed themselves very plainly that "he was a good fellow and should have been let go."

Another accident of a minor nature has occurred in this section of Windham county and have been "patched up" between the parties, the one to blame going free to cut up again. The accidents at Bishop's crossing and everywhere else will continue as long as motor vehicle licenses are handed out to every Tom, Dick and Harry, yes, and Kate, Ann, or Mary, that can operate a car.

Many of the autoists injured have plenty of common sense but no matter how careful a driver a man may be he is not protected at the present time from rattle headed incompetent drivers who have only to show now to step on the gas to get a license.

Trucks go flying through villages and towns from 30 miles an hour up. No one objects. They simply laugh at it and then wonder, why?

The courts have no need to worry over the matter, just put the screws on issuing licenses and the trouble except in rare cases is ended.

A reckless driver can easily be spotted and his license taken away. A drunken driver the same and any man or woman about to operate a motor vehicle with one drink of moonshine under his or her skin is drunk.

C. B. MONTGOMERY

Oneco, July 23, 1925.

From Small Beginnings

Will Thorne, the Ropemaker, Member of Parliament

The customer in the barber's chair turned his head and looked at the small boy who was working in the shop. "Why don't you feed the boy?" he asked.

The barber laughed. "Feed him! Why should I feed him? Can't he feed himself?" Then he added, "He isn't so very fat, is he? Here!" He turned to the boy. "Step lively now, I say! No more of that sleeping, the way you did last week! Step lively, or out you go!"

The boy was a thin, pale little fellow, with a haggard expression. He glanced at the barber, answered, "Yes, sir," and went on with his work.

"I don't have him here all the time," the barber explained. "He comes in only on busy days. You see he works making rope over yonder."

The barber nodded his head in the direction of the ropewalk, with which the customer was familiar. "Makes rope to hang himself with," joked the customer. The boy turned his head with an angry look and went on with his work. Neither the barber nor the customer could look ahead some 40 years and see the boy grown then into a man, a Member of the British Parliament and a power in the land. It is never safe to joke at a boy, for every boy has a thousand opportunities to a man's one of becoming successful in life.

All that Will Thorne knew was that he must work, and work hard. So the years went on, and he found himself a complete slave of labor. When he grew older and gained strength he went into work that called for muscles and brawn. He covered himself with coal dust and dirt-working among the rough men in the gasworks. Rather bitterly he looked about him and saw the condition into which fate had thrown him, and the condition of his fellow workers. He talked with the men; spoke angrily and vehemently, and urged them into a union. Naturally his leadership led him into authority in the union. Like a Napoleon of the workingmen, he led, until he had developed a nation-wide union. At 49 he was sent to Parliament, where he again worked with a will and made himself felt. He won confidence and respect, and in 1917, at 60, was made Mayor of his town. The barber's boy had made himself the hero of real romance.

Today's Anniversaries

1783—Simon Bolivar, the great leader in the struggle for South American independence, born at Caracas. Died Dec. 17, 1830.

1870—The first through car from the Pacific arrived at New York.

1892—Two stage robbers and murderers were lynched by a mob at Redding, Calif.

1895—Fifteen persons, including eight Federal employes, were indicted in Oregon for smuggling Chinese into the United States.

1894—A monument to Field Marshal von Blucher was dedicated near the village where he crossed the Rhine into France on the New Year's night of 1812.

1905—The remains of John Paul Jones, brought to America from Paris, were deposited in a temporary vault at Annapolis.

1915—More than 800 lives lost by the upsetting of the excursion steamer Eastland in the Chicago river.

1916—Credit asked in House of Commons for $2,250,000,000, which brought Great Britain's total war credits up to $14,160,000,000.

1924—Marriage in London of Miss Alice Astor, daughter of the late Col. John Jacob Astor, to the Russian Prince Serge P. Obeiensky.

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Dr. Warren K. Lewis, whose notable achievements in chemical engineering have been recognized in his election as an honorary member of the British Institution of Chemical Engineers, has been at the head of the department of chemical engineering of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology since it was established five years ago. Dr. Lewis was graduated from Massachusetts Technology in 1905, and received the degree of doctor of philosophy from Breslau University in 1908. He joined the faculty of Technology in 1910. During the war he was a civilian expert in the United states Chemical Warfare Service. He is prominent in the membership of many of the prominent scientific societies. The British Institution of Chemical Engineers has during its existence elected only five honorary members, of which Dr. Lewis and Prince Conti of Italy are the only ones living outside England.

Today's Birthdays

Norman E. Mack, Buffalo newspaper publisher and New York member of the Democratic National Committee, born 67 years ago today.

William Gillette, celebrated actor and playwright, born at Hartford, Ct., 70 years ago today.

Emery J. San Souci, former governor of Rhode Island, born at Saco Maine 68 years ago today.

Lord Dunsany, one of the most successful of present-day dramatists, in England, 47 years ago today.

Frederick Law Olmstead, noted born in England, 47 years ago today, landscape architect and city planner, ago today.

Stories That Recall Others

Didn't Know About the Tub

He was visiting in the country near where some small boys had an excellent swimming place. The lads, in friendly fashion, invited him in one afternoon.

"Oh," replied the man, "I may not be able to swim now, for it has been years since I was in the creek."

One lad looked at him with a puzzled expression and then asked: "Haven't you washed off since then?"

Raining All Around.

Two policemen had been sent to a house to arrest a man on a warrant during a downpour of rain. As he was standing in a drenching rain, there being no covering over the door, policeman No. 1 kicked the door with his foot to arouse those within. A sleepy fellow stuck his head out of a window upstairs and said: "What do you want?"

"Let me in quick, it's raining," was the answer and he was admitted. As he went in the hall a similar kicking was heard at the back door, where the other policeman had gone.

"I guess it must be raining out there, too," the fellow remarked as he ambled toward the door where the other policeman stood.

IN THE DAY'S NEWS

ROME

To the Holy Year pilgrims, as well as to many thousands of American tourists, all roads again lead to Rome, the eternal city, which is the subject of a bulletin from the Washington, D. C., headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"Rome, the cradle of our civilization, offers more to the sightseer, the religious devotee, the archaeologist, the historian or the esthete, than any other city, and perhaps more than all of them together," the bulletin states. "Like its inception, Rome cannot be seen or learned in a day. The remark of the French historian, Taine, who said that a 'superficial knowledge' of Rome could be acquired in a ten years' visit, gives an idea of the vast number and variety of its attractions.

"Even the casual or hurried tourists and pilgrims, however, cannot fail to be impressed with what little they see or learn of the mother city of our languages, laws, religions, and many of our customs. Rome links us with all other cities. In its prime the long arms of the Empire stretched far to the east and west and brought the highest civilization of the time to the rude tribes beyond the Alps and the Mediterranean, and, through them, to the rest of the known world.

"But the Rome of today is not that Rome. At first it is very disappointing, with its conventional, smooth-paved, sunny streets, monotonous houses, trolley cars, electric lights and hotels, all of them very much like those of other modern cities. There is little trace of the famed seven hills or the temples and ruins of the history books.

"This is because the visitor enters the city at its newest side. A great, busy modern city has been built over a greater ancient one, and the latter is exposed only in a few places. To get a romantic picture of Rome one must walk by the colosseum in the moonlight or loiter on the bridge of angels when the star reflections dimple the sullen Tiber, or sit by a fountain in a rose-scented garden when the nightingales are singing.

"Perhaps the most vivid first-hand impressions of Rome today are of the modernness of its hotels and business houses, the number of its churches and the beauty of its many fountains. No one expects the latter, but no one forgets them once seen. Their rushing waters is one of the few characteristics of the ancient city that has been carried into the modern one. The flash and glitter of their high-tossed spray, and the rush and plunge of their heavy streams is a refreshing note in a city which knows no half-tones. For in Rome everything is bare to the pitiless glare of the sun or cowers in the deepest shade.

"The seven hills are still there, but the intervening centuries have greatly modified them. The modern city is rolling, for the ancient hilltops have been largely shaved off and the valleys filled in to suit the exigencies of the trolley car and automobile.

"Palatine hill with its ruins and cypress trees is visible; as is the Capitoline hill, which rises somewhat abruptly from the center of the city, crowned with churches and other buildings, and the Monte Quirinal, with its royal palace and the Trajan column. But the Monte Celio or Caelius which was never high, has hardly any slope and would be indistinguishable but for the church of San Giovanni in Laterno. The Esquiline hill shows the two domes of Santa Maria Maggiore; the Aventine hill, the home of the 'opposition' since Remus fled there from his brother, drops rather sharply toward the river but is smooth and rolling in the other directions. There is nothing today to distinguish the Monte Viminale, near the railroad station.

"It is only in the Roman and Trajan forums, and in such isolated buildings as the Castle of St. Angelo, which Trajan's successor, Hadrian, erected as a suitable mausoleum for himself; the Colosseum; the Baths of Caracalla, etc., mutilated, defaced, robbed, and scorned, that one is able to get some conception of the grandeur of Rome in the days when the will of its ruler was law for the known world.

"Rome today is a city of 664,000 people and the capital of united Italy. But a united Italy is such a comparatively recent phenomenon that, in the minds of most people, the city still stands for two things,—the remains of antiquity and the seat of Catholicism. In St. Peter's and the adjoining Vatican, Rome has the largest continuous series of buildings in the world. The vatican, residence of the pope contains about seven thousand rooms though some say eleven thousand, 20 courts and more than 200 staircases.

"In addition there are scores of other churches throughout the city, embracing every religion and every type of service. The five patriarchial churches of the Catholic faith, to whose congregations all Christians throughout the world were once accredited, are also located in Rome. They are magnificent edifices, and, in their exquisite paintings, mosaics, and other works of art, reveal the spendthrift days of the middle ages and the renaissance, when pope and patrician rivaled each other in adorning their city.

"But aside from the railroad terminal and several up-to-date hotels, Rome today has only a single contribution to its former glory—the massive monument to Victor Emmanuel II, uniter of modern Italy. Before it is the tomb of Italy's Unknown Soldier. However, in its Piazzo delle Finanze, the treasury of the country, modern Rome has a building covering 30,000 square yards, the largest treasury building in Europe."

Transplanting Eyes

The science of the eye has also recently been the subject of discussion on account of reports of extraordinary experiments in Vienna in connection with the transplanting of eyes. Walter Finder has actually claimed that he has been able successfully to exchange the entire heads of various insects. Dr. Koppanyi of the Biological institute at Vienna is more modest and confines his claims to the successful transplanting of eyes.

The whole subject deserves mention in view of the fact that similar claims are bound to be made again. It is worth while, therefore, to make certain of what has and what has not been achieved in the experiments which have been carried out. Undoubtedly eyes have been transplanted, but they are useless for purposes of seeing. Dr. Blatt has made eye transplantation experiments upon 400 fresh-water fish, 40 chickens and 80 rabbits. Needless to say, anesthetics were used in every case. Anatomical healing took place in the case of 26 fish and 2 rabbits, but not in a single chicken.

A wise word to the foolish is sometimes sufficient.

Compensation

In that new world toward which our feet are set,
Shall we find aught to make our hearts forget
Earth's homely joys and her bright hours of bliss?
Has heaven a spell divine enough for this?
For who the pleasure of the spring shall tell
When on the leafless stalk the brown buds swell,
When the grass brightens and the days grow long,
When little birds break out in rippling song?

O sweet the dropping eve, the blush of morn,
The starlit sky, the rustling fields of corn,
The soft airs blowing from the freshening seas,
The sunflecked shadow of the stately trees,
The mellow thunder and the lulling rain,
The warm, delicious, happy summer rain,
When the grass brightens and the days grow long,
And little birds break out in rippling song.

O beauty manifold, from morn till night,
Dawn's flush, noon's blaze and sunset's tender light!
O fair, familiar features, changes sweet
Of her revolving seasons, storm and sleet
And golden calm, as slow she wheels through space.
From snow to roses—and how dear her face,
When the grass brightens, when the days grow long,
And little birds break out in rippling song!

Oh happy earth! O home so well beloved!
What recompense have we, from thee removed?
One hope we have that overtops the whole—
The hope of finding every vanished soul,
We love and long for daily, and for this
Gladly we turn from thee, and all thy bliss.
Even at thy loveliest, when the days are long,
And little birds break out in rippling song.

—Celia Thaxter.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.

Now You Can Have Music

In Your Home at Lower Cost Than Ever Before

$110 Model Shown Here Now $55

New Victor Victrolas

LATEST TYPE—ALL FULLY GUARANTEED
NOW ON SALE AT

HALF PRICE

$75 Was $150

$55 Was $110

You Must Hurry As They Are Going Rapidly. Tomorrow May Be Too Late — Come In Today If You Can.

New $25 Victrolas—Now on Sale at $12.50
New $35 Victrolas—Now on Sale at $17.50
New $75 Victrolas—Now on Sale at $37.50
New $160 Victrolas—Now on Sale at $80.00
New $180 Victrolas—Now on Sale at $90.00

Easy Weekly Payments.
Small Deposit Delivers Any Model At Once.

Single Faced Red Seal VICTOR RECORDS ..... 3 for $1

Big Savings on Used Pianos and Players

A wonderful opportunity is offered right now to get a good Upright or Player Piano at a remarkably low price. All of these instruments are in good condition—some of them having been used only for demonstrating—and others are none the worse for careful use in private homes.

YOU DON'T GET BARGAINS LIKE THESE VERY OFTEN. GET ONE NOW AT A BIG SAVING.

NEW ENGLAND UPRIGHT	$45
COLUMBUS SMALL UPRIGHT	$55
NEW ENGLAND UPRIGHT	$79
J. & C. FISCHER UPRIGHT	$139
NEW ENGLAND UPRIGHT	$145
CRAWFORD UPRIGHT	$265
STEINWAY UPRIGHT	$390

EASY WEEKLY TERMS.

Four Remarkable Values in Good Used 88 Note Players

GULBRANSEN PLAYER	$175
GEO. BENT PLAYER	$369
CRAWFORD PLAYER	$485
WASSERMANN PLAYER	$490

EASY WEEKLY TERMS
NO INTEREST TO PAY

The Plaut-Cadden Co.

The Store of Musical Supremacy
135-143 Main St. (Est. 1872) Norwich, Conn.
PIANOS — FURNITURE — MUSIC — JEWELRY

WORTH

"THE SHOP OF NEWEST CREATIONS."

MID-SUMMER REDUCTIONS

Entire stock of Summer Fashions Drastically Reduced to the Lowest Prices at Which Such Fine Apparel Has Ever Been Sold.

FROCKS

Charming Models for all occasions will be found in these groups—fashioned of the season's favored fabrics.

Group 1 ..... $6.95
Group 2 ..... $10.75

Original Prices $16.75 to $35.00.

COATS

Coats for now and early Fall, specially arranged in three groups—finest fabrics—beautiful colors—some fur-trimmed

Group 1 ..... $10.75
Group 2 ..... $16.75
Group 3 ..... $19.75

Original Prices $29.50 to $55.00.

74 Main Street. Phone 2239 Norwich
Opp. New Merchants Bank.

—THE—
Porteous & Mitchell
COMPANY

TWO MORE DAYS OF THE
FACTORY END SALE
FRIDAY—SATURDAY

There are only two more days of the Factory End Sale—it will end when the Store Closes on Saturday night.

The Factory End Sale is the big Mid-Summer event that brings crowds of buyers from far and near. On every one of our four floors are genuine Factory End Bargains—all marked with special price tickets.

Then make it a point to attend the Factory End Sale Today or Tomorrow. It is an opportunity to economize on your Summer needs that will not occur again this season.

Remember—the Factory End Sale ends when the Store Closes on Saturday night.

The Porteous & Mitchell Co.

WORKED FOR GALES FERRY MAN BACK IN THE "60's"

The Middletown Press says: Edward E. Eaton of Brooklyn, N. Y., a former resident of Middletown, visited this city Wednesday and called on many acquaintances. Mr. Eaton was born and brought up here. As a boy he was employed in the grocery store of Allyn and Meech in what is now the store of A. M. Bidwell on Main street. This was back in the 60's, when basement stores flourished in Middletown. Mr. Allyn finally gave up the business and returned to his home in Gales Ferry, where he still lives in the house in which he was born. He is in the eighties now.

George T. Meech of this city was a partner in the business which was previous to his entering the grain trade here. Mr. Eaton has an intimate recollection of Middletown in those days. He is now a foreman of a metal working plant in Brooklyn, N. Y., and has been with them for 18 years.

IN WATERFORD COURT AFTER 5 MILE CHASE

Jack Hoch, a Hartford young man, was presented in Waterford town court Wednesday afternoon on charges of reckless driving following his arrest Sunday by Constable Herbert Dayton. Hoch pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25 and costs, making a total payment of $37.75.

The driver was taken into custody after a chase of nearly five miles during which the defendant, according to the constable, darted in and out between cars on Douglas Hill and the long north of it. Pending the hearing Hoch furnished a bond of $50.

Owing to the absence of Judge Fredrick N. Dimmock, who was unable to preside owing to illness, Deputy Judge Frederick W. Jacques heard the case.

Damaged in Collision

A motor truck belonging to the Eaton-Chase Co., which was driven by George H. Amburn, and the Buick sedan owned and driven by Viola E. Nelson of Baltic were in collision Thursday afternoon at Market and Water streets. The truck was not damaged but the Baltic car had a mudguard and tire dambaged.

Strikes have become frequent in Chile, both laboring and salaried classes being dissatisfied.

ALL WOMEN WHO WORK

Whether in the home, store, shop, mill or office, they alone know how often they are really unfit for work. It may be a headache, backache, pain in the side, nervous depression, cramps or those dreadful dragging-down pains, all of which symptoms have their origin in some feminine ailment that is making life a burden. In almost every such case these ailments will yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For a great many years this simple root and herb remedy has been restoring women to health and strength and it will pay every suffering woman to try it.

6 6 6
is a prescription for
Colds, Grippe, Flu, Dengue, Bilious Fever and Malaria.
It kills the germs.

SCHOOL OF NURSING

The school of nursing connected with the William W. Backus Hospital in Norwich, Conn., is now registering students for the September classes. This school is registered in Connecticut and the course of instruction is two years and four months given in a general hospital of 96 beds. Students must be graduates of grammar school and have one year of high school work. A new nurses' residence opened this year affords each student all of the comforts and conveniences of home.

For circular of information address Superintendent of Training School.

Cuticura Soap
Best for Baby
Soap, Ointment, Talcum and everywhere. Samples free of Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. B, Malden, Mass.

1760 1925
Norwich Friday, July 24, 1925

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7:44 (S. T.) this evening.

Dog Days begin Saturday, the 25th and continue until September 5th.

Visit Mme. Fournier for the newest velvet and sport hats. 161 Main St., up-stairs.—adv.

Once again the Thursday half holiday weather could not be improved upon.

There are sixty cottages occupied in Willimantic camp ground at the present.

The length of the day has now been reduced to fourteen and three-quarters hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Beach and children of New Haven, are at the inn in Old Lyme for a stay.

J. George Sheffield gave a total of $500, to the free library at Gales Ferry, not $5, as stated Thursday.

The coming Sunday is the Communion Sunday for the Holy Name Society of St. Patrick's parish.

Plans are under way to have more bus trips from Westerly to Weekapaug. At present four trips are made each day.

The Submarine Base newspaper mentions that Chaplain Dittmar has reported at the Base for duty aboard the Camden.

Nine girls from East Hampton, members of 4-H Clubs, left Tuesday afternoon for Storrs, to attend the junior short courses.

Superintendent of Schools of Stafford Springs Francis S. Brick and Mrs. Brick are spending a month at Poquyogh.

Edward Price, or Westford, has a badly lacerated finger, the result of getting his hand on the planer knives at Barlow's mill.

5 per cent has been added to all unpaid water bills.—Adv.

The Carolina Woolen company has installed a deep well pump in its newly drilled artesian well, which is 120 feet in depth.

Those who put their faith in Daboll's Almanac have noted that it predicted the thunder showers which caused so much havoc this week.

From Chester, Miss Louva Parker and Miss Florence Berg are at Storrs where they will take the short summer course at Connecticut Agricultural College.

Plans are being completed for the annual clambake of Rockville, Conn., Lodge, No. 1359, B. P. O. Elks, which will be held at Liedertafel Grove Sunday, August 23.

Mrs. George W. Tryon has been taking a few days' vacation from her duties in Wheeler library, North Stonington. Her place has been taken by Edgar Harland.

Youthful visitors to Mohegan Park these days get many a thrill from watching the wild cat, which is just as ferocious as ever their fancy paints such a captured beast.

The Men's Club of Scotland has the following officers elected: President, C. F. Brenn; vice president, A. H. Gallup; secretary, Charles Perry, treasurer, Harry Moseley.

The Peck McWilliams Co., of Norwich, the Manchester town hall contractors, had a force of men at work Thursday erecting an office and toolhouse on the Center street lot.

This summer there are four cows at the Norwich Almshouse and Supt. Charles E. Ellis gets about 40 quarts of milk, daily. On an average, 15 lbs. of butter are made each week.

Local Catholics, especially those of French descent, are preparing to note Sunday the feast of St. Anne, mother of the Blessed Virgin and venerated as the type of the model mother.

Use of marabou feathers for border effects on dresses and coats is forecast for the fall in dress trimming circles. These feathers are dyed to imitate chinchilla, silver fox and beaver furs, which cost much more.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chittenden and daughter of New London, Alfred Stone of Wapping, and Mrs. and Mrs. John Spencer of Putnam, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stone, in Abington.

The early fall showings of children's and juniors' dresses include many novelties. Crepe de chine is frequently seen in the dressy models, while in the woolen dresses many plaids and combinations of materials and colors are used.

Bracelets with stones of a color to match the gown are well-favored in Paris, according to information that has reached jewelers here, as are imitation butterflies made of white seed pearls. These are on the right side of the gown, just below the shoulder.

Herbert West, proprietor of the West farms, about a mile and a half north of Stonington borough, has sold the farm to Peter Martin, an artist residing in New York and the new owner will take possession of the property this fall.

At Ellington, C. E. Sikes & Son who for two years and a half have been proprietors of the general store owned for many years by H. C. Aborn & Son, have sold the business to Norwitz & Cooper, who formerly conducted a business in Granby.

Playmates of Master D. Goodwin Carney, little son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carney, are receiving postcards from him from Hampton Beach, N. H., where Mr. and Mrs. Carney are spending the former's vacation from his duties with the S. N. E. Telephone Company.

The following certificate of organization has been filed: Lem's Realty Company, Inc., of New London. Officers: President, Leopold Schaller; vice-president, Edna Schaller; secretary and treasurer, C. Washburn, all of New London. The officers compose the board of directors.

A former rector of Christ church, Norwich, Bishop Thomas Frederick Davies was the guest of honor at a birthday party given Wednesday by Berkshire Episcopal clergy and guests at the Washington Mountain villa of George F. Crane of New York. The cake had fifty-three candles.

Will Locate Here

Within the next two weeks the W. & H. Walker Household Products Corporation is to open an office in this city. The company is to hire men locally and make the Norwich office a permanent one, according to Frank Charest, who is in Norwich to select the site for the Norwich office.

PERSONALS

Willis B. Rogers, of Norwich, has been in New York on business this week.

Mrs. Lucia Kellner of 321 Main street is visiting with relatives in Springfield, Vt., for two weeks.

Miss Irene Lanphere, has returned to Carolina, R. I., after two weeks' vacation in Norwich and Mystic.

Mrs. Fred L. Swift and Miss Lucy Hyde, of Norwich, are spending the summer at Pleasure Hill, Franklin.

Mrs. Everett Payson, of Liberty Hill, was received into membership at the meeting of Lebanon D. A. R. chapter this week.

Rev. John J. Walsh has returned to bridgeport after spending his vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Walsh of 57 Prospect St.

Mme. R. L. Fournier, of 161 Main St., has returned from a two weeks' pleasure and trip by auto through the Berkshire hills, down the Hudson to New York.

Mrs. Charles S. Sands and Mrs. Hortense I. Sands of Boswell avenue, have returned from spending a few days at the Sands Cottage, Fishers Island, N. Y.

Albert Freeman has returned to his home in Detroit, after a visit of two weeks at the home of his mother, Mrs. Frances Freeman of Hickory street. On his return trip Mr. Freeman stopped at points of interest along the route.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Harris, Mrs. Walter A. Washburn and Mrs. Washburn's sister, Mrs. Grace Mitchell, of Springfield, Mass., have returned to South Coventry, after a week's stay at Groton Long Point. Mr. Washburn joined the party for the week end.

Mrs. Frances Freeman, her daughter, May Young, and the latter's little daughter, Frances Young, have left Norwich for a visit with Mrs. Freeman's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Freeman of Detroit, formerly of Norwich.

DRENCHING RAIN HIT TELEPHONES LINES HARD

The storm of Wednesday gave the Southern New England Telephone company a heavy jolt. Its operating side gave out figures Thursday at New Haven showing that approximately 5,000 instruments were put out of commission, largely through water getting into the man-holes and putting cables out of order, this latter condition being generally in the larger cities.

The New London district was most severely affected. In Putnam and Willimantic 400 instruments were out of order in each place, 250 at Danielson and 150 at New London. In Stamford there was interruption on 200 lines; in New Britain 275; in Hartford area 600; Ridgefield 150; Danbury 125; Waterbury 350 and Seymour 100. The Naugatuck valley was more thoroughly drenched than other places. New Haven exchange escaped lightly with only 150 telephones damaged.

The company sent out a notice on Thursday asking subscribers to themselves report instruments out of order as on party lines it is impossible to know of trouble unless it is so reported.

NORWICH TRUCK DRIVER IN MERIDEN COLLISION

MERIDEN, July 23—(A. P.)—Shortly before eleven o'clock tonight, a trolley car of the Connecticut company, bound from Wallingford to New Haven, crashed into the rear of a five and a half ton truck which had been disabled in a collision with a small truck, and was standing on the trolley tracks at Toelles crossing on the state highway a short distance south of Wallingford.

The drivers and occupants of both trucks were standing in front of the larger of the two vehicles arguing about the accident, and then the trolley car struck the truck in the rear, the truck was pushed ahead onto the group, with the result that a boy named Walter Righetio, of Wallingford and a man named William Butler, of Hartford were injured. The report from the Meriden hospital was that both have fractured legs.

The five and a half ton truck, owned by the Woodlawn Transportation company of Hartford was proceeding in a southerly direction and driven by Bronislaw Kosiowski, of Norwich, when it collided with the other truck going north.

FLED IN HIS TAXI AFTER BEATING WIFE

A warrant was issued Thursday night for the arrest of Thomas J. Shahan of 325 Main street, who is charged with beating his wife, at their home early in the evening.

It is alleged that Shahan was intoxicated and tried to seize his wife and later tried to take the baby, but was forstalled by Mrs. Shahan, who seized the child and ran from the house.

The police were notified immediately by telephone and as soon as the patrol and officers could be summoned they went to the Shahan house. In the meantime, it is alleged, Shahan went to his taxi office on Ferry street, obtained one of his Luxor cabs and escaped the city via Franklin street. A search was kept throughout the night but at an early hour Friday morning Shahan had not been found by the police.

WEDDING
Sawyer-Morgan

Miss Mary Virginia Morgan of Poquonoc Bridge and Roswell Palmer Sawyer of Noank, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock in the presence of a few relatives and friends at the home of the bride, Morgan's corner, Poquonoc Bridge. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles A. Merrill, pastor of the Noank Baptist church.

Miss Morgan is the daughter of Harriet Story and the late John Albert Morgan. Both Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer are well known throughout the town, Mr. Sawyer having been for many years postmaster at Noank. The bride has taught at the Groton Heights school for several years. She is a graduate of Williams Memorial Institute at New London and was a student at Connecticut College for Women in New London. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer will reside in Noank.

Boy Sent to Reform School.

The fourteen-year-old colored boy who lives on the West Side and who got 24 cents from a man in Hartford Monday night when he produced a revolver in sight of the man, was presented before the juvenile court in this city, Thursday. He was sent to the Norwich state hospital for examination. From there he was taken to the state reform school, as the hospital examination disclosed he was not mentally responsible for his acts.

Recovering After Operation

Peter P. Bush of Versailles, is at the Backus hospital recovering from a recent operation for appendicitis. His many friends will be pleased to learn that his dismissal from the hospital is expected the latter part of the week.

Second-hand men's clothing sent from this country to Turkey each year is valued at nearly $100,000.

FIRST SLAB OF CONCRETE LAID IN MAKING MAIN STREET IMPROVEMENT

Street Commissioner John C. Donovan's force of men is making fast time on the Main street improvement from Market street to the first West Side bridge and on Thursday was able to lay the first 20-foot slab of concrete on the Market street end of the work. This was laid on the north side of the trolley tracks where the way is all clear now to carry the concrete work right along to near Trinity Episcopal church. That side of the highway has been excavated to the required depth to lay the 8 inches of concrete and the space between the trolley rails is similarly excavated and ready for the concrete. The old rails have been replaced by heavy new rails by the trolley company.

For laying the concrete, Commissioner Donovan is using the steam mixer, which ambled deliberately down Franklin street late Wednesday afternoon and threaded its way through traffic in Franklin square and Main street to its position to do the work on the Main street job. The mixer is an effective worker in several different lines. The steam engine which is mounted on it furnished the power to move it from place to place, though its engineer runs little risk of being arrested for speeding, while the steam power also turns the cylinder in which the sand, water and concrete are mixed. When ready for delivery, the mixture is discharged into a big iron bucket that travels along a swinging crane which delivers the load wherever it is wanted. As the bucket is poised over the right spot, the engineer pulls a lever which opens the bottom of the bucket and dumps the load of concrete to be spread by several men with shovels. As soon as the mixer lays concrete for a complete slab, it backs farther up the hill and takes up a new position to lay another slab.

At the point where the concrete is now being laid, the surface is being roughened, as this is the beginning of the slope of the Main street hill.

After the workmen have quit at night a watchman is kept at the Market street end of the work to direct automobiles down through Market into Water street. At the Washington square end of Main street, where there is a sign directing traffic not to enter there, machines drive in every night but get only as far as the place where the Belgian blocks are torn up. Then the drivers find that they have to turn around or back out again to go around through Water street.

PROHIBITION MEN TRY TO RETAIN THEIR JOBS

Pressure continues to be brought to bear to save the positions of the federal prohibition officers on duty in this state, many of whom are scheduled to go in accordance with the general reorganization plans effective next month, but so far as can be learned the efforts to save the sentenced dry officers, have to date been of little avail. It has already been announced that it is likely that only A. B. Stoup, chief of New England division of general agents, State Director Potter of Massachusetts and State Director Harry Sheldon of Rhode Island will remain in office after the general shakeup. Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont have joined with Connecticut in raising a howl in official dry circles in the interests of their present state directors and subordinates.

Chief Stroup of the present New England districts is said to be slated to head the district under the new plan, which "New England" district he will head if two are decided upon has not been determined, but it seems likely that he will remain at Boston and take over the northern district.

Decision regarding the plan to divide New England into two complete districts for prohibition enforcement and appointment of the principal officers in the reorganized prohibition enforcement organization are expected to be made some time this week. This prophecy is made by good authority and it is expected to be fulfilled shortly after the return of Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews from his Canadian border inspection trip.

One of the reasons for General Andrews' trip to the border north of New England, it is understood, was to determine the advisability of dividing New England into two districts. It was previously pointed out to him, it is said, that their proximity to the Canadian border makes the prohibition enforcement problems of Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont entirely different from those of the other three New England states, where the big problems deal with internal activities of bootleggers. If this is made clear to General Andrews, it is believed, he will be inclined to comply with the two district suggestions.

The naming of district chiefs, according to the best information obtainable, has been held up for some time for lack of selections for the New York and Philadelphia offices. All the other big offices whose locations have been determined, it is said, have had their chiefs already selected.

For the present, at least, the reorganization situation is quite on the surface. General Andrews' trip to Vermont and New York has left politicians and other interested parties in a watchful frame of mind. There is any quantity of conjecture regarding what the new dry head is likely to do and even some wonder as to how long he is likely to remain in office.

The general's mail bag, it is understood, gets heavier every day with letters from various persons interested in the appointment of new dry officials. It is also the report that he is getting telegrams at the rate of about 100 a day from the same sort of people.

COUNCIL MAY ACT ON RESERVOIR REPORT

Of water commissioners that the city build a reservoir at the site on Deep River Brook in the town of Colchester will be up for consideration by the common council at the adjourned meeting to be held this (Friday) evening.

The council has had a week to think the report over since it was presented and several of them have been to visit the proposed site in the meantime.

FUNERAL
John Rathbone.

Funeral services for John Rathbone were held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Leffingwell Baptist church, Rev. William B. Oakley, pastor of the church, conducting the service. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and many beautiful floral pieces.

Burial was in Maplewood cemetery, where the committal service was read by Rev. Mr. Oakley. Friends acted as bearers. Arrangements were by Church & Allen.

Bids on Gallows Hill Road.

The state highway commissioner has notified First Selectman William S. Murray that bids will be received at Hartford up to and including July 30 on the proposed macadamizing of the Gallows Hill road. This runs from Norwich Town to Taftville and is a poor stretch of country road that would be used much more if it were in good condition.

MRS BURGY WAS HEARD OVER PHILADELPHIA RADIO

Norwich friends of Mrs. W. Clayton Burgy of Lincoln avenue, gifted soprano of the Park Congregational church, will learn with pleasure that she is to broadcast this (Friday) evening between the hours of 8 and 8:30 o'clock, from the Universal Broadcasting station WCAU, 278 meters.

Mrs. Burgy was heard over the radio Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from WFI, 395 meters, Strawbridge & Clothier, Philadelphia. Her numbers were well chosen and delivered in a delightful manner.

Mrs. Burgy has been visiting in Philadelphia and the two opportunities to hear her by radio have been welcomed by her many friends in Norwich.

As winter approaches in Australia, 10,000 hot water bottles made in this country were sent there recently.

RETURNING TO AMERICA FROM THE NEAR EAST

Dr. John H. Evans, accompanied by Mrs. Evans, is en route to America after more than three years spent in Armenia, where they have been engaged in Near East Relief work.

Word has been received in Norwich by Dr. Evans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron H. Evans, that the doctor and his wife were expecting to leave Alexanderipol, July 16th, where they have been located for the past year, for Erivan, one of the first posts assigned them, from which place they will continue to Moscow, Russia. They plan to tour France and visit the battlefields, where Dr. Evans was active in service during the World war, reaching home about September. They will visit in Norwich for several months with Dr. Evans' parents.

Dr. and Mrs. Evans sailed from New York, February 16, 1922, reaching Armenia in the spring, after a delightful trip. There were five others in the Near East Relief party, Dr. Evans being commissioned to have full charge. The trip was via the Azores, Strait of Gibraltar, Naples, Athens and Constantinople.

Dr. and Mrs. Evans will be cordially welcomed home by their relatives and friends, who have followed them through the past few years in their work with their prayers and well wishes, some of the time having been caused anxious forbodings, when months at a time no home letters were received, although Dr. and Mrs. Evans had fulfilled their duty in sending messages as often as possible. When mail was received often several letters would come at one time. The same condition was experienced by them at their location because of the mails being so irregular.

CONNECTICUT BANKING DROPS OFF IN WEEK

The three Connecticut reporting centers—Hartford, New Haven and Waterbury—included in the Boston federal reserve district, reported total debits to individual accounts as out ($64,771,000 for the week ending July 15, as compared with $66,154,000 for the preceding week. The figures are from the federal reserve board. Hartford, alone, of the three centers, reported an increase in banking activity, $143,000.

Hartford's debits to individual accounts rose from $32,645,000 for the week ending July 8, to $32,788,000 for the following week; in New Haven the figure dropped from $24,593,000 to $23,629,000, respectively, while in Waterbury there was a decrease from $8,016,000 to $8,344,000.

The total debits to individual accounts for the 16 New England centers included in the Boston federal reserve district amounted to $546,248,000 for the week of July 15, whereas, the preceding week the total was $609,818,000. This brought the New England states from fifth to sixth position among the 12 federal districts of the country. Philadelphia federal reserve district displaced the Boston district for fifth place the week of July 15.

The total for the country—$11,364,000,000—was 2.2 per cent above the preceding week's figures, which were $11,144,000,000.

CHARGED WITH SETTING FIRE O A THEATRE

PORTLAND, Maine, July 23—(P)—Nicholas Kasaris and Henry Morin of Lewiston, were arrested in that city today at the request of Sheriff King F. Graham of this county, on the charge of arson, for a fire in the Nordica theatre building in Freeport early Tuesday morning. The police also were seeking Lewis Kesaris. They were to be brought here.

Gasoline blaze found four jugs filled with gasoline, the contents partly spilled on the floor, it was alleged by the authorities, who said the Kasaris brothers had a $10,000 insurance policy written a week after they purchased a bowling and pool room for about $3,000.

HELD FOR CONSPIRACY TO PROCURE FALSE ESTIMONY

GREENFIELD, Mass., July 23—(AP)—Orrenby L. Court and William H. Mills, indicted by the grand jury for conspiracy to procure false testimony and of acting as private detectives without a license, were found guilty of the latter offense by a jury in the superior court here. Judge Christopher T. Callahan sentenced Court to one year in the house of correction and Mills to three months in the same institution. Both men are married and Mills, who lives in Roxbury, has nine children, according to a statement in court today. On the charge of conspiracy Judge Callahan yesterday afternoon ordered the jury to return a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the commonwealth had not made out a case.

CAPTAIN INJURED BY FALL FROM MIZZEN MAST

VINEYARD HAVEN, Mass., July 23—(AP)—The British schooner C. Maude Gaskill put in here today on its way from Grand Manan, N. B., to Turks Island, and landed Captain Jed Hamilton at the Marine hospital. Captain Hamilton fell from the saddle of the mizzen mast to the main deck of the vessel July 4, when about a week out of port, sustaining a broken ankle. The schooner will resume its voyage upon the arrival of another captain.

All leading bakers of Porto Alegre, Brazil, have consolidated to establish a bakery on the most modern lines.

POWER AND COURAGE BIBLE STUDY TOPIC

The Men's Bible Study class met in the weekly session Wednesday evening and studied from Acts 16:16-40, the topic being "Power and Courage."

Among other points the following were brought out in the interesting discussion: The tendency of a man who has power is to use it for his own personal interest, rather than for the good of others; Jesus Christ always used His marvelous power for the good of others and never for himself. A girl possessed of an evil spirit troubled Paul and Silas as they were pursuing their service for Christ, and the great Apostle by the power of God cast the devil out of her. Immediately certain men who had used the unfortunate girl for making money, now that the source of their gain had been taken away, proceeded to oppose Paul and Silas, even to the extent of inciting the populace against them, and finally they were arrested and sent to an inner dungeon. In contrast with the fear that most men have in such cases, Paul and Silas literally sang and prayed in the dungeon. Something unusual happened, according to the scriptures, an earthquake occurred and loused all the prisoners and the jailer, about to kill himself, was quickly assured that all the prisoners were there, and he was so deeply impressed that he with great earnestness asked, "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Paul answered him by telling him of the only possible way to be saved, "believe in the Lord, Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." The jailer became a follower of the Christ and also his whole household. Paul might have easily escaped, but he was not in it for self interest, but for service for Christ, and he certainly demonstrated his absolute consecration to the great cause.

OBITUARY
Mrs. Fred Lamb

Word was received by telegram about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Patridge of Norwich, of the sudden death, about 10 o'clock in the morning, at Woodland, Calif., of their daughter, Ella May Patridge, wife of Fred Lamb, formerly of Norwich. No particulars were given in the telegram and the cause of her sudden death is not known.

Mrs. Lamb was born in Preston, June 21, 1850, the daughter of George H. and Ella Jane Carpenter Partridge, receiving her early education in the schools of Preston and Norwich. For a number of years she taught school in Norwich and on October 4, 1898 was united in marriage with Fred Lamb, the service being performed by Rev. A. S. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which she was a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamb made their home in Norwich for a number of years following their marriage, but about 15 years ago they moved to Woodland, Calif., where Mr. Lamb engaged in the lumber business. Mrs. Lamb entered a Woodland Nurses' Training school and after her graduation opened a private maternity hospital in Woodland. Her name gained prominence and several years ago she was offered the position of matron in Yolo County hospital, Woodland. She accepted the position and served in a most capable manner until her sudden death Thursday.

Mrs. Lamb was also a prominent musician and for a number of years was organist for the Woodland Baptist church.

Her work among the patients at the Woodland hospital gained her hundreds of friends in her home city, for by her cheerful manner, kindness to patients and readiness to go to any trouble to give them every comfort, she became beloved by all with whom she associated. Her work attracted the attention of Woodland papers and her "ginger bread men" and various other food and candy treats to patients at Christmas time were mentioned as worth while and worthy of the Christmastide spirit.

She will be greatly missed in Woodland not only by members of her family but by hundreds of her former patients and friends. In Norwich her friends will learn of her death with sorrow and sympathy is expressed for her family in their sudden bereavement.

Mrs. Lamb is survived by her husband, one daughter, Miss Nellie May Lamb of Woodland, Calif.; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Patridge of Norwich; four sisters, Mrs. James Sistare of Lords' Point, Stonington; Mrs. Willard Palmer, Groton; Miss Ely Patridge and Miss Eva Patridge of Norwich and two brothers Ernest Patridge of New London and Abner Patridge of Stamford.

Mrs. Albert D. Smith

Following a long illness the death of Mary J. Herrick, beloved wife of Albert D. Smith, occurred Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William R. Perkins of 142 McKinley avenue, with whom Mrs. Smith had resided for a number of years. News of the death of Mrs. Smith will be received with sorrow by her wide circle of friends in this city.

Mrs. Smith was born in Griswold, March 13, 1841, the youngest of four daughters, in the family of 11 children of Robert and Mary Herrick. She came to Norwich to live when but four years of age and had always made her home in this city since then.

On December 7, 1859, at the age of 18 years, she was united in marriage with Albert D Smith, the service taking place in the parsonage of the Central Baptist church, the home now occupied by William H. Cruickshank of 121 Broadway. After their marriage the couple moved to Worcester, remaining there only a few months, then returning to Norwich. Mr. and Mrs. Smith joined the Central Baptist church over 65 years ago, the church then being on Broadway, where the Central building now stands. This was during the pastorate of Rev. Frederick Dennison. They were the first couple married by Dr. Graves, who came to Norwich in September, 1859.

Three children were born to them, one of whom passed away at the age of 5 years. The life of Captain and Mrs. Smith was one of happiness and on December 7, 1909 they observed their golden wedding anniversary at their home at 17 Huntington place. Mrs. Smith was a woman very active in her younger years and had gained a wide circle of fast friends during her life in this city. An active church worker and ever willing to assist her friends, she was true to her beliefs as a Christian. In her death her family has sustained a great loss and they will have the sympathy of many friends during their day of sorrow.

Mrs. Smith is survived by one daughter, Mrs. William R. Perkins of Norwich, with whom she resided; one son, Albert D. Smith, Jr., of Hartford; two grandchildren, Lucille and John Wilbert Perkins of Norwich and several nieces.

Alonzo L. Beckwith

Alonzo L. Beckwith, 85, lifelong resident of Waterford, died at his home near the Golden Spur Wednesday afternoon after an extended illness due to infirmities attending old age. Mr. Beckwith was a farmer by occupation and was occupied in that business until failing health compelled him to retire. His wife died several years ago. He leaves a son, Fred S. Beckwith of Oswegatchie Road, and a daughter.

MADE 2,045 TESTS OF FOOD AND DRUGS

The annual report of the Connecticut agricultural experiment station, which has just been issued, shows that a total of 2,045 samples of drugs and foods were analyzed by the station during 1924. The report, which is the twenty-ninth on food products and the seventeenth on drug products, brings out many interesting facts regarding infringement of the pure food and drug laws of the state. It shows that 340 samples tested were found to be adulterated below standard or otherwise illegal.

Four hundred and seventy-three official samples of milk have been examined for the dairy and food commissioner and the number is much smaller than for some years past due to the increased amount of testing done by licensed operators attached to the commissioner's office. Of the total number examined fifty per cent. were watered or skimmed, and 40 per cent. were sub-standard in, two or more items of fat, solids and non-fat solids.

Thirty-four samples of frankfurts were submitted and examined of which fifteen contained undeclared, or excess starch, or undeclared color.

Sixty-two samples of hamburg steak were examined and twenty-two were found to contain sulphites, the use of which is illegal under the general provisions of the food law and in violation of a specific state regulation.

Of the 272 official samples of ice cream submitted only five were found to contain less than 8 per cent. of fat; one of these was sold under a sign or label which declared not less than 4 per cent. and was, therefore, within the provisions of the law, while another was but slightly under 8 per cent. and was passed. Three samples, reported from Derby, New Britain and New Haven were found deficient by substantial amounts.

Thirty-one samples of butter examined disclosed that most of the sweet butter found to contain excess water was sold to various dealers under the representation that it was packed for the Farmington creamery, "a concern which has not been in existence for a number of years." Two samples of olive oil were found to be adulterated with cottonseed oil.

Twelve samples of so-called "fresh" eggs were examined and of these four were passed as fresh or reasonably fresh.

Six samples of maple sugar that were collected disclosed one that had an excess of water.

Of 172 samples of soft drinks submitted only three were found to contain saccharin, the use of which as a sweetening agent in soft drinks is prohibited in this state.

The bulletin explains the distinction between "Graham" and "whole wheat" flour in telling of the twelve samples of flour that were examined. "There seems to be no uniform opinion in the trade or at least among retailers, as to the distinction between these two types of flour. Dr. Sylvester Graham, in his crusade against alcoholism advocated rearrangement of diet as a remedy for this form of intemperance, and emphasized particularly abstinence from meat, and the use of bread made from unbolted wheat meal. This unbolted wheat meal became known as "Graham flour."

GAVE CONVENTION REPORT TO UNIVERSALIST Y. P.

Members of Y. P. S. C., of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Universalist, met at the home of Miss Virginia Disque, 50 Hedge avenue, on Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, where basket lunch and lemonade was served. Following the luncheon William S. Huber, who has just returned from the 37th annual convention of the Y. P. C. U., gave a very interesting report.

Mystic Community House Closed

Because of the lack of financial support, it has been found necessary to close the community house at Mystic. The directors hope that it will be possible to reopen in the fall if the people respond financially by that time.

New London Clothier Bankrupt.

Among voluntary bankruptcy petitions filed Thursday in New Haven was that of Max Basson, a New London clothier. He showed liabilities of $13,783 and assets of $10,000.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Miss Abby Oliver, of Boston, is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bennett, of Williams street.

Miss Marion Brewer Briggs reached Venice Thursday and is leaving soon for Luzerne and a tour of Switzerland.

L. Goffe Briggs returned Tuesday evening, after several days' visit with Davies Rowlston, at Huntington, Long Island.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Ingalls and children, who have been at their cottage at Crescent Beach, have gone to Hampton for a brief visit at the Fuller homestead.

S. S. Reliance, on which Mr. and Mrs. Willis Austin and their sons, Willis Phipps and Malcolm Austin are passengers, reached Southampton Wednesday.

The Cunarder Lancastria, on which Mrs. H. D. Rallion and her daughter Miss Harriet E. Rallion, are on a European cruise, was reported at Genoa Wednesday.

Mrs. Elida A. Worth entertained the Monday Auction Bridge club at lunch at her cottage in Neptune Park, Tuesday afternoon. The prize was won by Miss Mary Porteous.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Briggs and son, L. Goffe Briggs, of Broadway, leave town today (Friday) to pass three weeks at the Mononotto Inn, Fishers Island. Mr. and Mrs. Briggs returned early in the week, after several days' visit at Eastern Point with Dr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Heublein, of Hartford, at their cottage.

The Tuesday Afternoon Auction Bridge club was entertained at luncheon Thursday, by Mrs. Adams Pe Carroll, at her summer home, The Antler Cottage, at Crescent Beach. After the luncheon auction was played, the prize being won by Miss Annie E. Naughton. During the afternoon Mrs. Carroll served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Lester of Norwich with their daughters, Mrs. John W. Barrows, Rochester, N. Y., and Mrs. G. Carleton Carpenter of Westfield, N. Y., are spending two weeks at the residence of Nathan A. Gibbs, at Gales Ferry during the absence of Mr. Gibbs and his daughter, Miss Natalie K. Gibbs, at Cape Cod.

Rheumatic Pains Go Quickly With Old Time Remedy

First Day's Treatment in Many Cases Relieves All Pain

New remedies spring up every day, but most of them do not last long and it is the old-time remedies that have stood the test of long trial which are the best in the end.

For rheumatic pains there is nothing that makes them disappear more quickly than the old-time scientific combination called Rheuma. Thousands have given grateful testimony to the almost instant relief which Rheuma has given them from the torturing pains, in many cases after the very first treatment.

Rheuma is known everywhere for its wonderful effects and if you suffer from rheumatism in any form, you owe it to yourself to try it. Rheuma is sold by Lee & Osgood and other good druggists with a guarantee of absolute satisfaction or your money refunded.

Only an old-time remedy that has been successful over a period of years could make such a liberal guarantee. Don't suffer any longer, get a bottle of Rheuma today.

THE ORCHARD INN AND TEA ROOM
On Norwich-Westerly Road
One Mile from Westerly.
Specials for Sunday
Native Chicken and Lobster Dinners.
We Serve the Best Food Obtainable.
DURKIN & CHAPMAN,
Proprietors.
Telephone Connection.

Rays of Light
BY C. A. SPEAR

YES, NATURE IS GRAND

If you look out upon the beauties of Nature with a vision that is unobscured, then you know the joy of living. If not let us examine your eyes and make the proper glasses for you.

C. A. SPEAR
OPTOMETRIST
Franklin Square Norwich, Conn.

Free to Asthma and Hay Fever Sufferers

Free Trial of Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time

We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Chronic Asthma, or Hay Fever, you should send for a free Trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with Asthma or Hay Fever, our method should relieve you promptly.

We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumes, "patent smokes," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our expense, that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms.

This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do it Today—you even do not pay postage.

FREE TRIAL COUPON
FRONTIER ASTHMA CO., Room 18C Niagara and Hudson Sts., Buffalo, N. Y.: Send free trial of your method to:
.....
.....
.....

BITES-STINGS
Apply wet baking soda or household ammonia, followed by
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Quick Safe Relief
CORNS
In one minute—just that quick—the pain is gone. No treatment so safe, sure, healing, thoroughly antiseptic and scientific in every way as Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads. The results are a revelation. At your druggist's or shoe dealer's. Cost but a trifle.
Three Sizes—for corns, callouses, bunions
Dr Scholl's Zino-pads
"Put one on—the pain is gone"

PLAINFIELD HIGH POUNDS OUT EASY VICTORY OVER NORWICH PLAYGROUNDS

Plainfield pounded out a 16 to 5 victory over the Norwich Playgrounds team Thursday afternoon at Sugar Brook Farm, the country estate of Norman H. White of Boston, in the first game of three which are being played for a gold cup offered by Mr. White. The three game series between these two teams is one of the feature attractions of the garden party which is being held for the benefit of the Central Village Congregational church organ fund.

The game on Thursday afternoon was one marked by hard hitting, especially on the part of the Plainfield team. The Plainfield boys had their batting eye on the ball from the first to the last inning and during the nine innings of play collected seventeen hits. Errors behind the bat for the Norwich team permitted the Plainfield boys to score four runs in one inning and four in another. In fairness to both teams it must be said that the playing field is rather rough in spots which no doubt accounted for the large score.

Lloyd Jarvis started on the mound for Norwich and was hit freely and his support was not of the best. He retired in the fifth inning in favor of Johnny Green who developed a wild streak that filled the bases and then hits brought the runs across. "Horse" Gallup lead the hitting attack for Plainfield getting five hits in six times at bat. He was closely followed by French who poled out two doubles and a pair of singles in his six times up. Johnny Greene led the attack for the Norwich team getting three hits, one a double, in three times up.

Mercier pitched for Plainfield and held the Norwich hitters well in hand allowing nine hits and fanning five. His support was good, Gallup playing an exceptionally brilliant game in the outfield.

The second game of the series will be played this afternoon and the Norwich team, which is made up almost entirely of Academy players, will step out and try to even up matters so that the deciding contest will be played Saturday afternoon. The score:

Plainfield	ab	h	po	a	e	Norwich	ab	h	po	a	e
Bennett,3b	4	1	0	3	0	Hazell,rf	5	1	3	1	0
French,c	6	4	6	0	2	Burns,c	5	0	7	3	0
Reed,ss	5	2	0	1	0	Derring,2b	5	1	2	1	1
Warner,rf	3	0	1	0	0	Gerrity,lf	5	1	2	0	0
Mercier,p	4	1	0	2	0	Tombari,ss	5	1	2	3	0
Thomas,1b	5	1	9	0	1	Burke,1b	5	0	9	1	0
Gallup,lf	5	3	12	1	0	Marki,3b	5	1	1	2	1
Brown,2b	5	2	2	3	0	Burch,cf	4	0	1	0	0
						Greene,cf,p	3	3	0	0	0
Totals	43	17	30	10	4	Totals	38	9	27	10	1

Score by innings:
Plainfield	2	0	0	8	4	3	0	0	4	16
Norwich	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	1	0	5

Two base hits, French 2, Allard, Gallup, Brown, Jarvis, Greene. Struck out, by Mercier 6, by Jarvis 6, by Greene 1. Bases on balls, off Mercier 3, off Greene 6, off Jarvis 1.

BROWN FURNISHES UPSET IN ILLINOIS TENNIS

CHICAGO, July 23.—(AP)—Wray Brown a stolid, quiet tennis player from St. Louis with a national ranking of —, for the second successive day upset a first ten player in the Illinois state singles today when he won a victory that was as hollow as it was unexpected over the sensational George M. Lott, Jr., of Chicago, 6-1, 6-2.

The victory put Brown in the semi-finals where he is arrayed against William M. Johnston of San Francisco, who won his fifth round match over Brian I. C. Norton of St. Louis in straight sets 6-4, 6-2.

In the upper half Howard Kinsey is in the semi-finals by virtue of a fifth round victory over the veteran baseliner, Walter T. Hayes of Chicago, who ran him to a corner to the other in a futile attempt to [illegible] the [illegible] which rolled over him 6-4, 6-2. The win puts Kinsey in the round with Tilden who did not play singles today.

William Johnston and Clarence Griffin of San Francisco won their way to the semi-finals of the men's doubles along with William T. Tilden and A. C. L. "Sandy" Wiener, of Philadelphia.

GREB MAY FIGHT DEMPSEY SOME TIME IN SEPTEMBER

CHICAGO, July 23.—(AP)—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, may be matched with Jack Dempsey in a ten round no-decision contest at the open air arena at Michigan City, Indiana, on the afternoon of September 19 or 25.

Greb, at a meeting of Chicago sports writers with Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons tonight, was chosen as the best opponent for Dempsey in view of the fact that the heavyweight champion said that he could not be ready for an engagement with Gene Tunney or Harry Wills this year.

Promoter Fitzsimmons said that he had received assurance from Dempsey over long distance telephone from Salt Lake City that the champion would box Greb and that he would post forfeits as soon as the match was closed.

Promoter Fitzsimmons said he would post $50,000 guaranteeing to stage the contest as soon as Dempsey signed the articles.

Before leaving for the coast, Dempsey said that he would return to Chicago within two weeks to start training for the bout if arranged.

Greb always has believed that he could outbox the heavyweight champion and outspeed him in a short contest. The middleweight titleholder tossed Dempsey two or three times at training camps and Dempsey was unable to do much with him.

SHEIK LEONARD GETS VERDICT OVER SMITH

NEW HAVEN, July 23.—(AP)—Young Leonard, of Wallingford, was given the referee's decision over Rocky Smith, of Battle Creek, Mich., in the final bout at the Nutmeg A. C. here tonight. The fight went 12 rounds, Leonard taking the majority of the rounds.

In the semi-final bout Georgie Day, of New Haven, was given the referee's decision in a 10-round bout over Larry Roach, of Newark.

Phil Mercurio, of New Rochelle, and Murray Gittlitz, of New Haven, fought a six round draw.

Eddy Doll, of Waterbury, was given the decision over Tommy Jarrett, of New Haven, in a six round bout.

Athletic Commissioner Thomas Donohue ordered the athletic club to turn up Rocky Smith's purse, pending investigation into his unsatisfactory showing in the main bout.

VELVETMEN TO PLAY DIXIE A. C. TEAM SUNDAY

The J. B. Martin team will have two hard games this week end, playing the Riverview club at the State capital on Saturday and clashing with the fast Dixie A. C. team at Martin field on Sunday. The Dixie A. C. is a fast semi-pro club hailing from Hartford, with a reputation of having a strong ball club. This team includes many of the players of the famous Dixie basketball team which made such an enviable reputation on the chalked court last season.

LEBANON AND FITCHVILLE GET KICK OUT OF WEST ENDS

Sports Editor: A statement in Tuesday's Bulletin which stated that the West Ends of Willimantic won two games during the past week-end has caused considerable amusement in Lebanon and Fitchville, the two towns which, so the note said, bowed to the mighty players of the strike center nine. A brief comment on each game is pertinent and will show the cause of the amusement in each village. Saturday's game in Lebanon was lost by the team of that town because four of Mgr. Jones' regular players were out of town. The loss of four heavy hitters plus terrible umpiring gave the Willimantic team the glorious victory. Sunday's game at Recreation Park went to the West Ends because a hanger-on or satellite of that team by the name of "Hosie" Smith, at least he was familiarly called by that title by the Willimantic team, was allowed to officiate with the indicator. Balls and strikes were the same to this important official while his work at bases was far from impartial. Fitchville with two men called out at first, one at second and a fourth at third, who were obviously safe, have reason to be amused at the bombastic claims of the great West End outfit. The note also stated that sixteen hits were garnered off the delivery of "Cannonball" Jones. Since 13 is the true number the statement of the West End scorer can be taken at a discount. Fitchville hanged DeMarchi's offerings for a count of eight, two more than the Willimantic scribe gave credit for. An extra run was also chalked up for the locals but that fits in with Heller's scheme to take all he can get, fairly or otherwise.

Apparently teams playing the West Ends should supply competent umpires and also stuff the ears of players, officials and spectators with wax so that the needless chatter of that team would be unheard. No team in Conn., has so much advice to offer the umpires as the West Ends has. If that team would emulate the action of Flippen, their first baseman, who keeps his mouth shut and plays real baseball, perhaps the Willimantic fans would not be so hostile to their own team.

Lebanon or Fitchville on a neutral field with competent umpires would give the West Ends the drubbing they deserve.

Yours in Sports,
FAIR PLAY.

YANKS PULL SENATORS OUT OF TOP PLACE

NEW YORK, July 23.—(A. P.)—The New York Yankees knocked Washington off the top perch of the American League today by defeating the champions, 11 to 10. Gehrig's hit brought New York victory. He hit two home runs and a single and drove in seven runs, one less than the American League record. The indefinite suspension of Outfielder Goslin of Washington was lifted before the game and he hit a triple, a double and a single. Score:

Washington (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	New York (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
McNeely,rf	4	1	4	0	0	Combs,rf	5	2	2	0	0
S Harris,2b	6	1	4	4	0	Ward,2b	4	0	2	4	1
Rice,cf	5	2	2	0	0	Ruth,rf	4	1	3	0	0
Goslin,lf	5	1	1	0	0	Meusel,lf	5	1	2	0	0
Judge,1b	4	1	1	11	0	Gehrig,1b	3	3	5	1	0
Bluege,3b	4	2	0	1	1	Dugan,3b	4	2	1	2	0
Peckinpaugh,ss	4	1	2	3	0	Mangum,c	4	1	5	1	0
Ruel,c	4	1	8	0	0	Johnson,ss	4	2	4	3	0
Zachary,p	2	1	0	0	0	Shocker,p	0	0	0	0	0
xHeilmann	1	0	0	0	0	Shawkey,p	0	0	0	0	0
Marberry,p	0	0	0	0	0
Gray,p	0	0	0	0	0	Totals	36	11	27	11	1
Ogden,p	0	0	0	0	0
xxHuther	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	39	10	24	12	1

(x) Batted for Zachary in 6th.
(xx) Batted for Gray in the 9th.

Score by innings:
Washington	0	3	1	0	2	0	0	0	1	—7
New York	0	0	3	0	2	0	5	0	x	—10

Two base hits, Dugan, Bluege, Ruel, Goslin, Ruth. Three base hits, Shawkey, Goslin. Home runs, Gehrig 2.

NINTH INNING RALLY PUTS PIRATES IN LEAD

PITTSBURGH, July 23.—(A. P.)—A ninth inning rally gave Pittsburgh a 3 to 2 decision over St. Louis today, the victory placing the Pirates in the National League leadership once again. With the count 2 to 1 in the ninth, Cuyler tripled, Traynor doubled and Wright singled for a pair of runs. Score:

St. Louis (N)	ab	h	po	a	e	Pittsburgh (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Fisher,rf	4	0	0	0	0	Carey,rf	4	1	1	0	0
Bottomley,cf	4	0	1	0	0	Highbee,cf	4	0	1	0	0
Hornsby,2b	4	2	1	2	0	Moore,2b	4	1	2	5	0
Stansbury,lf	4	2	11	0	0	Cuyler,rf	4	1	2	1	0
Taylor,1b	4	2	8	1	0	Traynor,ss	4	1	2	3	0
Toporcer,ss	3	0	2	3	0	Wright,ss	4	3	1	5	0
Bell,3b	4	1	0	1	0	Grantham,1b	3	0	11	1	0
O Farrell,c	4	0	3	0	0	Gooch,c	3	0	3	0	0
Haines,p	3	0	0	1	0	xxRawlings	0	0	0	0	0
						xRamsdell	1	1	0	0	0
Totals	36	8	23	8	1	Smith,p	3	1	0	2	0
						Yde,p	1	0	0	2	0
						Totals	37	9	27	15	1

(x) One out when winning run scored.
(xx) Batted for Gooch in 9th.
(xxx) Ran for Ramsdell in 9th.

Score by innings:
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	2
Pittsburgh	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	2	3

Two base hits, Hornsby, Bell, Traynor. Three base hit, Cuyler.

ROMMEL PITCHES ATHLETICS TO VICTORY OVER RED SOX

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—(A. P.)—The Athletics took the opening game of the series with Boston here today, 5 to 4. The triumph was Rommel's seventeenth of the season and his sixth victory in as many games with the Red Sox, Foole's timely hitting was largely responsible for Boston's downfall. Score:

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e	Philadelphia (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Fagan,lf	4	1	2	1	0	Lehrman,c	4	2	5	1	0
Regan,3b	5	1	1	1	0	Lamar,lf	4	3	4	1	0
Bonner,rf	4	1	1	0	0	Poole,1b	4	3	9	0	0
Carlisle,lf	4	1	4	0	1	Miller,rf	3	0	2	0	0
Todd,1b	4	2	4	1	0	Simmons,cf	4	1	2	0	0
Wambsganss,2b	3	0	3	3	0	Bishop,2b	3	0	0	3	0
Lee,ss	3	1	2	3	0	Dykes,3b	4	0	2	1	0
xVache	1	0	0	0	0	Galloway,ss	4	2	0	4	0
Rogell,ss	0	0	1	0	0	Rommel,p	3	0	2	4	0
Ferrell,c	3	1	7	0	0
Ruffing,p	0	1	0	2	0	Totals	36	11	27	14	1
xxFrehrer	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	36	10	30	14	1

(x) Batted for Lee in 8th.
(xx) Batted for Ruffing in 9th.

Score by innings:
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	3	0	—4
Philadelphia	0	0	0	2	0	1	0	2	0	x—5

Two base hits, Poole 2, Boone, Hesing

Tigers Win

In a seven inning game the Roath St. Tigers defeated the Eagles 17 to 4. Joe Devlin, the winning pitcher was in fine form allowing his rivals 3 scattered hits. Bruso, Devlin's battery mate also did his share to win, getting a homer and 2 singles out of 4 times at bat. Reynolds also featured. J. Riley umpired on strikes and J. Wall on bases.

Myatt Hit by Pitched Ball

ST. LOUIS, July 23.—(A. P.)—Glenn Myatt, catcher of the Cleveland Indians, was forced out of the game with the St. Louis Browns today when hit by a pitched ball in the back of the head while at bat in the second inning. After receiving medical attention he was able to walk off the field without assistance.

TODAY'S SPORTS

RACING

Meeting of Empire City Racing association, at Yonkers.
Meeting of Windsor Jockey club, at Windsor.
Meeting of Business Men's Racing association, at Chicago.

TROTTING

Meeting of Grand Circuit at Kalamazoo.

GOLF

Scottish amateur championship tournament, at Muirfield.
Annual Isham Cup tournament at Manchester, Vt.
Massachusetts State amateur championship, at Brookline.
New York State amateur championship, at Long Beach, L. I.
New Hampshire State championship opens at Manchester, N. H.
South Dakota State championship, at Sioux Falls.

TENNIS

Oxford-Cambridge vs. Rockway Hunt Club, at Rockaway.

ROWING

Northwestern international regatta opens at Duluth.

SHOOTING

Great Lakes Zone trapshooting championship opens at Milwaukee.

CANOEING

Annual camp of American Canoe Assn., Eastern Division, at Onset, Mass.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Boston 6, New York 3. (1st game.)
Boston 3, New York 5. (2nd game).
Pittsburgh 3, St. Louis 2.
Only games scheduled.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Pittsburgh	51	34	.600
New York	53	36	.596
Brooklyn	43	43	.500
Cincinnati	42	43	.494
St. Louis	42	46	.477
Philadelphia	42	45	.483
Chicago	39	48	.448
Boston	37	51	.457

GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis at Pittsburgh.
Cincinnati at Chicago.
New York at Boston.
Only games scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

New York 13, Washington 7.
Philadelphia 5, Boston 4.
Chicago 6, Detroit 4.
Cleveland 10, St. Louis 1.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Philadelphia	57	31	.648
Washington	57	32	.640
Chicago	49	44	.527
St. Louis	48	45	.516
New York	48	48	.516
Detroit	47	45	.511
Cleveland	41	52	.441
Boston	28	63	.308

GAMES TODAY.

Chicago at Detroit.
Boston at Philadelphia.
Only games scheduled.

EASTERN LEAGUE

Albany 7, Bridgeport 3 (1st game).
Albany 3, Bridgeport 7 (2nd game).
Springfield 3, New Haven 0 (1st game).
Springfield 3, New Haven 2 (2nd game).
Pittsfield 10, Worcester 3 (1st game)
Pittsfield 10, Worcester 11 (2nd game).
Waterbury 5, Hartford 1 (1st game).
Waterbury 1, Hartford 2 (2nd game).

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Baltimore 9, Jersey City 7.
Syracuse 5, Buffalo 6.
Toronto 4, Rochester 5.
Only games scheduled.

EAST VS. WEST IN DOUBLES TENNIS FINALS

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 23—(AP)—As a result of semi-final matches played this afternoon in the women's invitation doubles tournament at the Essex County Country club here, East and West will contest the finals tomorrow afternoon. Miss Helen Wills of Berkeley, Calif., national champion, and Miss Mary K. Browne, Santa Monica, Calif., will represent the West against Mrs. J. R. Jessup, Wilmington, Del., and Miss Eleanor Goss, New York.

In the semi-finals Miss Wills and Miss Browne defeated Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Miss Marion Williams of Catalina, 7-5, 6-3 and Mrs. Jessup and Miss Goss defeated Miss Elizabeth Ryan of England, formerly of California and Miss Eleanor Sears, Beverly Farms, 6-2, 6-3.

The winning combinations won by using the same brand of strategy. Each piled up early leads and achieved victory without difficulty in straight sets.

EAST AND WEST SPLIT EVEN IN RECENT SERIES

NEW YORK, July 23—(A. P.)—East and West have divided honors in the intersectional major league play, an analysis of the conflict up to date reveals.

Western clubs in the National League, the tabulation shows, have won three more games than their eastern rivals while in the American circuit, the easterners hold a one-game margin in the standing individually, however, the east sets the pace, with the Philadelphia Athletics having the best average of any of the thirteen clubs—.674. The New York Giants and Washington Senators, 1924 world's series rivals, are next in line, but this prestige for the eastern side of the major league picture is partially offset by the fact that the Boston Red Sox have the lowest intersectional standing—.319.

HARTFORD AND BRASSCOS GET EVEN BREAK IN DOUBLE

HARTFORD, July 23.—Hartford remained right at the heels of Waterbury by staging a thrilling ninth inning spurt to win the second game of today's double header, with the champions, 2 to 1, after losing the first game, 5 to 1. The Brasscos obtained an early lead off Enzmann in the first game. The visitors in the ninth inning of the twilight made the first run of the game but a home run by Frazer and single by Durocher with the bases full in the locals' half, gave the Senators victory. Score:

First game:

Waterbury	3	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	—5
Hartford	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

Two base hit, Johnson.

Second game:

Waterbury	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	—1
Hartford	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	x	—2

Two base hits, Durocher, Bishop, Helgeth. Home run, Frazer.

Carr Ties Brush

Manchester, Vt., July 23.—(AP)—Donald Carr of Siwanoy and George Brush of West Chester Hills tied for the medal with 75 in the qualifying round of the annual Isham cup competition at the Ekwanok Country Club here today.

CENTRALS TAKE FINAL GAME IN FIRST ROUND OF TWILIGHT LEAGUE

A large crowd of interested fans saw the Centrals defeat St. Joseph's, Thursday evening in the Twilight league, by a 9 to 3 score. The game marked the Centrals sixth win out of seven starts and gives them undisputed possession of first place at the end of the first round in the Twilight league. The Saints are at the opposite end of the standings with but one victory out of seven starts.

With one away in the Saints' half of the seventh, and the Centrals leading 9 to 5, Umpire Morin called the game on account of darkness. At the time the Polish team was in the midst of a promising batting rally and the decision caused considerable excitement. Manager Oney of the Saints later stated that he intended to protest the game, but as the umpire has the right to call a game whenever he considers it too dark to play, it looks as if Oney has little chance in having his protest upheld. As a result of the umpire's decision, the game reverts to the end of the sixth inning, and all plays occurring in the seventh frame do not go into the records.

Gaudette pitched for the Centrals and for six innings held his rivals to four hits and three runs. Kozlowski started for the Saints but gave way at the end of the fifth in favor of Zemke who finished the game. Kozlowski allowed only four hits, but three of these came in the fourth, enabling the Centrals to score four runs. Zemke pitched the fifth and sixth and was touched up for four more hits and a like number of runs.

The Centrals scored in the initial inning after two were out. A. Dugas doubled to right. Eddie Murphy hit a grounder to Moore and when Hoffman dropped Dinty's throw to first, Dugas scored. Murphy stole second but was caught going to third, N. Liberty to Zemke.

Neither team scored again until the first of the fourth, when the Centrals put the game on ice. In this frame, every man in the Centrals' lineup went to bat, and a single by Yerrington following doubles by Dugas and Eccleston, and two walks scored four runs. Not satisfied with this, however, the league leaders continued the attack against Zemke in the next frame, tallying four more times. A. Dugas led off by hitting a brisk grounder to Oney. The rotund manager of the Saints, after making a nice stop, threw wild to first. Dugas going down to second. Hoffman's throw to second got away from Moore, and Dugas dashed for third. The Polish leftfielder then threw wild over third and the Centrals' first baseman scored, making the complete circuit without even a hit. Singles by Eccleston and Gaudette and a double by Courbois followed and the Centrals were leading, 9 to 0.

After four scoreless innings, the Saints bunched two hits in the fifth for two runs. Kozlowski doubled to left with one out. Hoffman flied out to right, but Nap Liberty walked, and when Moore doubled to right, Kozlowski scored and Liberty went to third. Moore's hit struck a stone in right field, bounded into the air and then into the swamp. Manager Oney contended that the hit was good for all the batter could make, but the umpire ruled that it was good for two bases only, as it went into the swamp before any player had touched it. The decision made little difference, however, as Liberty scored a moment later when Eccleston's throw to catch him off third got away from Yerrington. In the sixth, the Saints counted one more run on two errors on the part of the Central infield. At the end of the sixth the crowd started to leave the field, thinking the game was over, but Umpire Morin ordered the game to be continued. The Centrals failed to score in their half, but the Saints threatened to make trouble before the game was called. With one out, Nap Liberty singled and Moore and Spike Liberty doubled in quick succession, scoring two runs. To continue the contest further would have been useless as well as dangerous to the players and Umpire Morin was forced to call the game, the score reverting to the sixth inning with the Centrals at the long end of a 9 to 3 score. The score:

Centrals	ab	h	po	a	e	St. Joseph's	ab	h	po	a	e
Yerring'n,3b	4	2	1	0	0	Hoffman,3b	3	1	2	1	0
Cardie,2b	4	0	3	1	0	xN Liberty	0	0	1	0	0
A Dugas,lb	4	2	8	0	0	Moore,ss	3	1	3	2	0
Murphy,lf	3	1	1	0	0	S Liberty,lf,2b	3	2	0	1	0
Schaufler,cf	3	1	4	0	0	Oney,2b	2	1	0	2	1
Eccleston,c	2	2	3	1	1	F Bush,rf	2	0	1	0	0
Gaudette,p	3	1	0	4	0	Zemke,2b,p	2	0	1	0	0
Gauthier,ss	1	0	0	3	0	xxGilbert,rf,lf	2	0	1	0	0
Courbois,rf	2	1	1	0	0	Kozlowski,p,cf	3	1	1	1	0
Totals	27	9	18	9	1	Totals	21	4	18	5	1

Score by innings:
Centrals	0	0	0	4	4	1	0	0	x	—9
St. Joseph's	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	—3

Two base hits, A. Dugas 2, Eccleston, Kozlowski, Moore, Oney, Kozlowski. Hit by pitcher, by Gaudette 1. Struck out by Gaudette 7, by Kozlowski 4, by Zemke 1. Bases on balls off Gaudette 1, off Kozlowski 3, by Zemke 1.

Tonight's Game.

After a short delay the league again resumed activities last night, much to the delight of close to thousand fans, every one of them hungry for baseball. There is no use talking, Norwich is certainly building up a great baseball crowd and every night new faces can be seen at the Duwell field. Many a real fan has hustled over to the field nights without his supper and before the season is over it's safe to say that Norwich will be classed as one of the best baseball towns in Eastern Connecticut.

Although the score of last night's game of 9 to 3 doesn't sound very good, every fan present got a great kick out of the game and hardly a fan left the field until the umpire called the game in the last of the seventh. Before the game the odds were against the Centrals but, as usual, the boys from Taftville came through and retained their one-game lead over Hallville, the E. C. P. and Palace, who are practically tied for second place.

Tonight the Yantic and Hallville teams will play off one of the postponed games. This game was called about three weeks ago in the fourth inning with Yantic leading by a two to one score in what was due to be one of the games of the season. Since then, Hallville has strengthened considerably and has fought its way into second place, only one game behind the Centrals, and is the only team in the league which has defeated the league leaders. While Hallville has done well and managed to stay on top the Yantic team has been followed by a jinx all through the season, losing many hard games. Monday's game with the Palace came near being the last straw for them but since then the crowd from Yantic has decided to back their team to the limit and tonight will find an entirely new team on the field for Yantic, led by "Cannonball" Jones of Fitchville, who last year twirled for the American Thread of Willimantic. This is the first opportunity that the fans of Norwich have ever had to see Jones in action and without a doubt the fans will back tonight to see Jones work. Behind him will be a team picked from the Fitchville and South Windham nines. Tonight Yantic will struggle hard to stage a come-back and it is hoped that the crowd will support them in every way.

The fans will also see a new battery in action for Hallville as Mgr. Taylor has signed up Zepp and Gadbois of New London, with practically the same team that defeated the Centrals behind them. Tonight's game will be the last of the first half of the league schedule which has furnished some great baseball for Norwich.

DAVIS CUP TRIALS START ON AUGUST 3

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP)—The first move toward selection of the American Tennis team which will defend the Davis Cup this year has been taken with the decision to hold informal tryouts for leading team candidates at Forest Hills the week of August 3.

Since all of the outstanding stars of the East and West will be on hand at that time, preparing for the annual intersectional tournament August 7 and 8, the Davis Cup selection committee decided to seize an early opportunity to inspect its material for the challenge matches, September 10, 11 and 12, at Philadelphia.

Little doubt exists over the selections to be made for the singles with William T. Tilden slated for the No. 1 position and either William M. Johnston or Vincent Richards standing out as candidates for the other place, so that the committee will concentrate its efforts on forming an effective doubles combination.

Besides the "Big Three" the committee will have an opportunity to pass on the abilities of such other stars as the Kinsey Brothers, present National Doubles Champions: R. Norris Williams and Watson Washburn, a former cup combination: Ray Casey and John Hennessey, the Wimbledon runners-up this year; George Lott and others.

SPRINGFIELD WINS BOTH ENDS OF DOUBLE BILL

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., July 23.—(AP)—Springfield won both games of a double header with New Haven, here today, 3 to 0 and 7 to 2, the winners playing errorless ball all the afternoon. Fortune was invincible in the opener, in which Herrera and Standgert hit home runs. Lehr relieved Vines in the fourth inning of the second game and blanked the visitors for six innings. Post hit a home run inside the grounds in the seventh and Lehr fanned three pinch hitters in a row in the ninth. Score:

First game:

New Haven	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Springfield	0	0	0	1	1	0	1	0	x—3

Two base hits, Niederkorn, Lebeau. Home runs, Standgert, Herrera.

Second game:

New Haven	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	—2
Springfield	0	1	1	0	1	0	2	2	x	—7

Two base hits, Martin, Miller, Vines, O'Neil, Lebeau. Three base hits, Moore, Niederkorn. Home run, Post.

WORCESTER DIVIDES HONORS WITH PITTSFIELD CLUB

WORCESTER, July 23.—(AP)—Worcester and Pittsfield split a double header today, the Hillies taking the first game, 10 to 2, and the Panthers, the second, 11 to 10. The first game was easily Pittsfield's by superior batting and fielding. In the second the Hillies made three runs in the ninth breaking a 7 to 7 tie. Worcester finished with a four-run rally in the same inning, winning the game with two gone. Scores:

First game:

Pittsfield	0	0	0	2	1	0	1	6	0	—10
Worcester	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	x	—2

Two base hits, Purcell, Jamieson. Three base hit, Long. Home run, Bedford.

Second game:

Pittsfield	0	0	2	3	0	1	0	0	2	—10
Worcester	4	0	0	0	0	1	1	1	4	—11

Two base hits, Wilson, Wight, Sperber, Stengel.

SMITH ALLOWS 4 HITS AND CLEVELAND WINS

ST. LOUIS, July 23—(AP)—Sherrod Smith, veteran left hander, allowed only four hits and the Cleveland Indians overwhelmed the St. Louis Browns today, 10 to 1. The Browns, as a result of their defeat dropped to fourth place from a tie for third. George Sisler went hitless after getting at least one safety in twenty-two consecutive games. Score:

Cleveland (A	ab	h	po	a	e	St. Louis (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Jamieson,lf	5	2	3	0	0	Rice,rf	3	1	1	0	0
Speaker,cf	5	2	3	0	0	Lamaster,ss	3	0	4	2	1
McNeely,rf	5	2	4	0	0	Sisler,1b	4	0	8	2	1
J Sewell,ss	5	1	2	3	0	Williams,lf	4	0	2	0	0
Reynolds,1b	5	1	5	1	0	McMahon,2b	3	0	2	2	0
Myatt,c	5	2	7	1	0	Bassler,c	3	0	7	0	0
Lutzke,2b	4	2	0	2	0	Dixon,cf	3	0	2	0	0
Myatt,c	0	0	0	0	0	Berson,3b	3	0	2	2	0
Smith,p	4	1	2	3	0	Gaston,p	0	0	0	0	0
						VanGilder,p	2	0	1	1	0
Totals	38	11	27	9	0	Stauffer,p	2	0	0	0	0
						xEvans	1	0	0	0	0
						Totals	30	1	27	11	4

(x) Batted for VanGilder in 9th.

Score by innings:
Cleveland	1	3	0	0	0	1	0	1	3	—10
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	—1

Two base hits, J. Sewell 2, McNally. Three base hits, Jamieson, Rice. Home runs, Smith, Speaker.

BEARS DIVIDE DOUBLE HEADER WITH ALBANY

BRIDGEPORT, July 23.—(AP)—Bridgeport and Albany divided a double header here today. The Hawks won the first game, 7 to 3, due to Bridgeport's mixplays while Hearne held the visitors to four hits in the second contest and the locals won by a 7 to 3 tally.

Fernie Starr, who caught both games, had a perfect day at bat, getting a single, double, two triples and a homer. Scores:

First game:

Albany	1	3	0	0	0	2	0	0	—7
Bridgeport	0	0	2	1	0	0	0	0	—3

Two base hits Butler, Runser, Starr, Mun

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney P. Marland are en route east from Kent, O., Mr. Barnett driving a large new motor bus that is to be put in operation on Mr. Barnett's Providence-Danielson line. The party will make stops at various interesting points on the way home.

There is a constantly repeated request from people using Furnace street between Main and Cottage street and Cottage street from Furnace to Water street for repairs that will make travel through the sections referred to safer than it is at present. This is a section through which the trolley line passes and the streets are in poor condition, principally on the parts of the street that are between the trolley rails.

Of interest is the manner in which motor tourists from middle western states search for antiques while in this territory. They are interested in old furniture vases, pewter and other china pieces, and pay fancy prices when they find such articles as they desire.

Good progress has been made to date this summer in constructing new sidewalks. The work has come on in various residential streets and is now proceeding in the business section. Many more are to be built in Main and other adjoining streets before the cold weather season is at hand.

Some one has discovered another reason why circuses keep Danielson off their schedule. It is because about every publication giving population returns lists Danielson as having just over 3,100 people. This is very misleading, because that is, or was in 1920, the population inside the actual borough lines. It takes no account of the West Side of Connecticut Village and other areas adding upwards of 2,000 more people to the Danielson total, and takes no account at all of the remainder of the town of Killingly, one of which Danielson is the principal community. If the listing were Danielson (Killingly), 10,000, it would more accurately represent things as they are. Not that Danielson is the whole show in Killingly, but because it is the chief center of the town.

Because of its freedom from industrial strife, there is a prospect that Danielson will benefit very materially in a manufacturing way in the not distant future.

As was the case when other parts of the line were taken up, much of the material that went into the construction of the trolley line—The Providence and Danielson, now being removed between North Scituate and the Providence city line is being disposed of for junk.

Miss Grace Wheatley and Miss Frances P. Wheatley of Hawkins street and Miss Gladys Wheatley of Boston are at Sunapee, N. H., for a vacation.

About 70 shares of the current issue of the Danielson Building and Loan association have been subscribed.

This (Friday) evening's band concert by St. James' band on Davis park will be such a treat as hundreds here have been asking for all season.

Vegetables coming into Danielson from farms in the surrounding country are being sold direct to the consumer are being disposed of at very moderate prices this season.

T. Collector James R. Walsh re-ports the continued receipt of town taxes all to be applied to the town's account prior to the end of the financial year on July 31.

A pure bred Holstein cow at the sheperd Hill farm of W. S. Brown—a two year old—has made an exceptional period of milk production in a period of twelve months.

Automobiles are not so expensive. One sold Thursday in this town for $4—a machine actually in running order.

Forthcoming reports will show that the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company, of which the Goodyear Mills, Inc., is a subsidiary, had a prosperous six months during the period ending June 30.

William C. DeVere of Fall River is in town to spend the week end with friends.

Miss Mary Maher and Edward Ma-her of Dyer street are at Fall River attended the funeral of a relative.

Sale at East Killingly August 2, sever-

At the field day at the Palisade ken-nels hundred visitors are expected. At the last field day held there, visitors came from several states.

Arthur C. Benjamin of Bridgeport was a visitor with friends in Danielson on Thursday.

Judge Sabin S. Russell and Judge W. Fenner Woodward were at the Griswold at Eastern Point to attend a dinner and meeting of the State Bar association.

Rhode Island state police are now making occasional patrols of the Danielson-Providence highway to the state line at Little Rest.

A north-westerly wind during the greater part of Thursday brought cooler weather and welcome relief from the heat and humidity of the previous days.

Miss Mae Bailey has been visiting friends in New Bedford.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Litch and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Reed are at Plymouth beach for a fortnight's stay.

Francis Jeegar, veteran of the Civil war, recently observed his 84th birthday.

Special Officer Christopher Andrews was on day duty Thursday, in the absence of Chief John McFarland.

A number from Danielson attended the garden party at Sugar Brook farm near Central Village, Thursday.

Golf on the links of the Putnam country club furnished diversion for a number from Danielson who had a half-holiday on Thursday.

Another considerable gain in the surplus water supply for Danielson was made from the heavy rain of Wednesday afternoon.

Recounting their experiences at camp and on the trip to and from the camp was a diversion of members of the Service battery Thursday.

Michael Daneau has plans for erect-ing a two-family house on one of two lots he recently acquired on Prospect street, in the Riverview section.

Line crews of the telephone and electric lightning companies were engaged Thursday in repairing damage to lines caused by the electrical disturbance of Wednesday evening.

Mrs. John E. Young is in charge of staging a pageant, The Great Ladies of The Land, which is to be presented in August by the Killingly Woman's club.

Transformers were damaged on Main street lines near the Heneault building during Wednesday night's storm and were repaired during Thursday.

PUTNAM

The announcement in Thursday morning's Bulletin that the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad Co., was considering the substitution of motor buses for local passenger traffic between Putnam and New London was read with interest here, but it caused no surprise to those who have followed the transportation situation.

For the past four months there has been motor bus service between this city and Webster furnished by a Webster company. The busses are run at two hour intervals and have undoubtedly taken one-half of the passenger traffic of the New Haven road. A month ago, the same company put on busses between Putnam and New London, and the traffic has been gradually diverted from the train to the busses. The latter are large and comfortable. They cover the distance in practically the same time as the trains, but they arrive and leave here every two hours, and the traveling public was quick to avail itself of the improved service.

For a few weeks the New Haven tried to operate a gasoline-driven motor coach between Putnam and Worcester, but although the same kind of locomotion is in successful use on the other roads, and on some of the New Haven lines, it did not give satisfaction on this run.

Railroad officials have insisted for a long time that the revenue derived from passenger traffic between New London and Worcester did not meet the cost of operation. With half of this revenue taken away by the busses and no decrease in the cost of running the trains some such step as has been announced has been looked for.

At the annual meeting of the Put-nam Savings Bank the following new incorporators were elected:

From Putnam, Mrs. Anne C. Child, J. Otis Fox, Jr., George W. Perry, Karl T. Phillips, M. D., Clarence E. Pierce, Herbert J. Smith, Newton A. Ballard, Adelmace A. Brodeur; from Woodstock, George N. Sampson, Gardiner H. Summer, Bert J. Johnson; from Pomfret, Fitz Henry Paine, John Frederick Ash, Joseph E. Stoddard; from Thompson, Judge Fred A. Munyan, Thomas Ryan. The executive officers and trustees were reelected as follows: Ernest E. Kent, president; John F. Reardon, vice-president; Daniel J. Bryne, treasurer; trustees, Alfred L. Bonin, Ray C. Bosworth, George E. Brousseau, Daniel J. Bryne, Henry T. Child, George D. Clark, John P. Grosvenor, Claus A. Hagstrom, Luther M. Keith, Ernest E. Kent, John F. Reardon, Samuel P. Reynolds, Melancthon Riddick.

Leo Reaves, seventeen, who was rendered unconscious by being struck by an automobile Monday evening remains in that condition. He is at the home of his step-father, A. R. Saunders on School street.

Deputy Great Sachem of the state of Connecticut, William Schleidge, of Miantonomoh tribe, South Manchester, and chiefs will install the officers of Wappaquasset tribe, No. 63, at their roms on Front street, Saturday evening, July 25, at 8 o'clock. There will be speaking, refreshments will be served and it is expected that this will be the largest meeting of Red Men ever held in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bolderson and two children, of Greenwood, R. I., are spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marlow, of Farrow street.

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Jackson, 55, widow of John Jackson, were held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Dr. James Hutchins, in Abington. Burial was in Abington cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williams, of Woodstock avenue, are entertaining relatives from Fitchville.

Miss Josie Parker, of Norwich Town, and Mrs. Mabel Rice, of Washington, D. C., have been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Marlow.

Miss Clara Kellar, of Harrisburg, Penn., is visiting friends and relatives in the city.

Mrs. Ernest Tetreault is spending her vacation at Quadic Pond.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cokell have returned to their home in Framingham, Mass., after a visit with Mr. Cokell's parents on Grove street.

C. D. Sharpe has brought the res-idence property of Morris Bravo on Wilkinson street. His own residence adjoins the one owned by Mr. Bravo.

Tuesday afternoon, July 28, at 2:30 o'clock, the Pomfret league of Women Voters is to hold a meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles O. Thompson. Prof. Marion Whitney, of Vassar College will speak on "The International Council of Women."

Mrs. Goggins, Miss Curran, Miss Elfrieda Swanson and Leroy Tripp, of the Bugbee and Wulf department store are having two weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Manson is seriously ill at her home on Walnut street.

R. S. Emery, of New York city, de-livered a very fine address at Odd Fellow's hall, his subject being "The World Shall be Established." These meetings are financed by the International Bible Students association.

Joseph Bove, of the Cargill Trust company and Ralph Strout, of the H. K. H. Silk company have returned from a visit with friends in Hartford.

Following a hearing before Judge Walter Bryden, at Pomfret, in which fines totaling $178, with costs, were imposed upon him, Edward Caffery of the town of Brooklyn, filed an appeal to the superior court and his bonds were fixed at $500. Michael Caffery, of Brooklyn, was fined $5 and costs and Hosea Hopkins, of Brooklyn, $25 and costs by Judge Bryden. All three were in an automobile, Edward Caffery driving, when the machine was in a collision with a machine driven by a Worcester man, the accident occurring in the town of Pomfret.

MISS OBLETZ, 16, WINNER OF N. Y. MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP

(Special to the Bulletin)

Miss Fannie Obletz, sixteen, of Providence street, has been offered and accepted a scholarship in the New York Institute of Music, and will go there in September to begin her studies on the piano.

The scholarship is given by the Juilliard foundation. This society was formed to assist students of music who gave promise of unusual ability. It is the most influential organization of its kind in the country and its scholarships are eagerly sought for. Miss Obletz went to New York about a month ago and played before the committee of the society. She was the youngest of more than one hundred applicants, who came from all parts of the country.

After her return Miss Obletz received a letter saying that, in the judgment of those who heard her play, her proficiency justified an award, but that because of her youth they thought she should not enter the advanced course for the students at the Juilliard foundation but offering her a year's scholarship at the New York Institute of Music, which ranks very high, but is for younger students.

Miss Obletz was the honor graduate of this year's senior class of Putnam High school. Her paper on music was illustrated by piano selections and her unusual ability was commented on by all who heard her.

BLOOM CO., PREPARING TO SET 250 SILK LOOMS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM JULY 23—The cotton machinery of the Putnam Mfg. Co. is being moved out of the mills on Providence street as rapidly as possible, to make room for the new owners, the Edward Bloom Silk company.

The Boston Transcript is authority for the following regarding the plans of the Bloom company:

"The recent announcement of the purchase by Edward Bloom, president of the Edward Bloom Silk Company, and owner of the Keystone Silk Dyeing company, of the cotton mill plant of the Putnam Mfg. Co., of Putnam, Conn., for approximately $500,000 is followed by the announcement that 250 seventy-inch looms have been purchased, to be installed immediately in what has been known as the weaving shed, a two-story building of brick construction, 250 feet long."

Mr. Bloom will specialize on dress silks for the cutting-up trade, although he will also sell to the jobbers and retailers from his New York headquarters.

WAUREGAN

The Young People of Wauregan Congregational church held an open forum on evolution Wednesday evening. Rev. William Fryling, the pastor, presided.

ALARM FAILED TO WORK WHEN RUNG FOR AUTO BLAZE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

JEWETT CITY, July 23—An automobile standing at the rear of the Jewett City restaurant and owned by one of the cooks was partly burned, about 1 o'clock Thursday night. Some one attempted to give the alarm on the box on Main street, but it failed to work. Chemicals were used and the blaze was extinguished. After it was out, the chemical truck was driven to the restaurant and the fire chief was notified by the men who went after the truck. After driving all over the town trying to locate the fire Foreman Wakely came to the place and tested the alarm which blew fine, but not the right number. The night telephone operator was not asked to pull in any alarm, for the extinguishers were all that was necessary. A few bystanders thoughtlessly laughed at a foreman who had chased all over town through no fault of his own. They showed little regard for the fact that he is willing to get out at any hour of the night or day, rain or shine ruin his clothes, go into any danger to save the property of the town and has done it over and over again. No one offered to stop him as he drove down Main street or tell him where the fire ad been and then the crowd laughed when the the foreman of the volunteer fire company finally found the place.

The substantial citizens of the borough expressed disgust at the all manners of the smart alecks in the crowd.

GOVERNOR SAW PARADE OF STRIKERS THURSDAY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 23 — By chance, Gov. John H. Trumbull viewed a demonstration here Thursday afternoon by the former operatives of the American Thread company, who are on strike in protest against the imposition of the 10 per cent reduction in wages.

Passing through the city on his way to Hartford after the annual inspection of Camp Woodstock, the chief executive automobile, with members of his staff, witnessed a large parade of the strikers held for the purpose of displaying their strength and unity.

The parade, although not as large as that which preceding the opening exercises of the Tented City some weeks ago when William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor was guest of honor, contained the majority of the strikers who are at present residing in the city.

APPENDICITIS ASCRIBED TO BRISTLE OF TOOTH BRUSH

MANCHESTER, Conn., July 23.—(AP)—Henry Coleman, 30, World War veteran, is at the Manchester Memorial hospital, being observed for appendicitis which is thought to have been brought about in a peculiar manner. While brushing his teeth Monday, a bristle of the brush settled behind one of Coleman's tonsils, causing an infection which made an operation necessary to remove the bristle.

Coleman expected to return to work today, but instead went to the hospital when he became subject to pains. At the hospital it was thought that other bristles might have settled in the appendix, and an X-ray was taken.

ACTRESS TAKEN ILL OF PTOMAINE POISONING

BRIDGEPORT, July 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Fay Mason, 24, of New York City, playing at Poli's Palace theater, here, this week, with her husband billed as Mason and Coles, was taken ill of ptomaine poisoning at the theater tonight about 9 o'clock, just before her act was scheduled to go on. Her husband, claims the attack was caused by some food both had for supper, and that he was also somewhat ill. Mrs. Mason is reported not in a serious condition at St. Vincent's hospital where she was taken.

The Latest Need

Now is the time for somebody to step up and invent a permanent shave.

LETTERS CONTINUE TO POUR INTO PHILANTHROPIST

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP)—Thousands of letters continued today to pour into the "philanthropy headquarters" of Leopold Schepp, the aged millionaire cocoanut magnate who recently asked the public for suggestions as to how he could best distribute the remainder of his fortune.

The mailbags, which on the first day contained 3,000 letters, were bulked today, and Mr. Schepp left the task of reading the letters to a large office staff while he rested in his country home in New Canaan, Conn., to escape the deluge of mail. The strain of the correspondence, he said, was too much for his 83 years.

FIRST TEST OF STRENGTH AT MINERS' CONVENTION

WILKES BARRE, PA., July 23.—(AP)—The first real test of strength in the biennial convention of district 1, United Mine Workers of America, came today and it showed an overwhelming majority for the Cappellini administration. The test came in the form of a roll call, demanded by the Drennan faction on the adoption of the vote at the recent district election in the first inspection district. The demand was granted and the roll call showed 405 1-2 votes for the adoption of the report and 160 1-2 against it.

CAR HAS BEEN FOUND BUT OWNER IS MISSING

SALEM, Mass., July 23.—(AP)—Local police this afternoon discovered that a small sedan which has been parked in the rear of 175 Essex street for a week, is registered to Charles Dosdero of 215 Leyden street, East Boston, who, according to his family, has been missing for a week. He has a wife and three children. There is nothing about the car to indicate what has happened to the owner. The car was driven to the spot where it was found, through an alleyway alongside the police station.

70-YEAR-OLD WOMAN WAS IN GAMBLING RESORT

BOSTON, July 23.—(AP)—A 70-year-old woman was arrested for being present where gaming instruments were found tonight when police raided the apartment of Thomas Garrity, former president of the Boston Bartenders' Union, in the Back Bay district of Boston. Garrity, two other men and three other women were also arrested on the same charge.

TWO MEN KILLED IN AUTO BEING PURSUED BY POLICE

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 23.—(AP)—The death of two men and injury to seven others when an automobile containing ten men was wrecked here last night in an attempt to elude a pursuing police patrol was not caused by policemen's bullets, Medical Examiner Dow said tonight after making an autopsy on the body of Charles Bayliss, driver of the wrecked machine.

WATERBURY MAN HELD FOR THEFT IN NEW HAVEN

NEW HAVEN, July 23.—(AP)—A man giving his name as Ralph Esposito, and his address, as Waterbury, is being held by the police here, in connection with the theft of $138 and three checks from Hyman Schechter, produce man, while he was sleeping in his truck at the public market on July 2.

SHOT HIMSELF WHILE CLEANING REVOLVER

NEW HAVEN, July 23.—(AP)—While cleaning a revolver early today, John King, 33, of Tryon street, Westville, shot himself through the thigh and was taken to the Grace hospital. An X-ray will be taken tomorrow.

FAVOR PERMISSION OF LIGHT WINE AND BEER

ATLANTIC CITY, July 23.—(AP)—Delegates who for many years have been identified with total abstinence organizations engaged with a group that urged the passage of a resolution urging modification of the Volstead Act, at least as to permitting light wines and beer, at the national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians this afternoon. Debate was intense and would have gone on interminably had not the national president, Michael Donohue, of Philadelphia, a former member of congress, put an end to the animated discussion. The resolution was adopted.

Twenty Wisconsin cities have entered a "better cities contest," and they will be judged in relation to public education, health, location, playgrounds, libraries, parks, and other activities which make the life of the community worth while. At the request of Dr. John C. Callahan, State Superintendent of Public Instruction for Wisconsin, Dr. Jno J. Tigert, Commissioner of Education of the Interior Department, has designated Walter S. Deffenbaugh, Chief Division of City Schools of the Bureau of Education, to be one of the judges.

BUILDING COLLAPSED DURING A MEETING

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 23—(A. P.)—About fifty Italians, members of an Italian socialistic society, attending a meeting at nine o'clock last night in a two-story wooden building in the Italian section of the city, narrowly escaped death when the roof and side walls of the building collapsed.

Forcing their way to the street down debris-cluttered stairways, the members of the society gathered on the street and watched the building rock and finally crash to the ground. A close check-up by the police resulted in the discovery that several of the members had sustained minor bruises from the flying plaster and wood, but none of the injured are in a serious condition.

Engineers stated this noon that the heavy rainstorm of last night undermined the structure.

BYRD TELLS OF FLIGHT PLANS

Lieutenant Commander R. E. Byrd, U. S. N., in command of the naval detachment of the MacMillan Arctic Expedition under the auspices of the National Geographic Society, has forwarded to the Navy department a definite plan of operations with the three navy amphibian planes in exploring the Polar Regions, plans for the establishment of bases and the difficulties and precautions necessary in airplane expeditions in that climate.

Spectacular dashes will be avoided and the unit will feel its way as it goes as the difficulties facing it are unknown, but as far as possible emergencies will be provided for.

"The base on the Polar Sea will be either at Cape Columbia, Grant Land, or Cape Thomas Hubbard, Axel Heiberg Land, depending upon which seems to afford the best landing places enroute. It is known that there are landing facilities at the two above mentioned Capes," the communication says.

"To load an airplane to the limit is hard on its engine as too many revolutions per minute are required to get the proper speed of the plane, causing lessened reliability of engine performance.

"Therefore an intermediate base will be formed between the main base at or near Etah and the base on the Polar Sea. This base should be midway between the two bases, or about 150 miles from Etah. Ammunition, firearms, engine fuel and food will be put at both bases and in addition the base on the Polar Sea will have a small tent, some food and spare parts, a radio opefator and a radio set, smoke bombs, field glasses, a Primus (a blow torch) stove, kerosene, planes' stakes and lashing for bad weather and one Eskimo and dog. The Eskimo and dog are taken along as an emergency measure in case it becomes necessary to live on the country. At least two months' supply of food will be taken to the base on the Polar Sea.

"If the Polar Sea base is put at Cape Thomas Hubbard the first long flight over the Polar Sea will probably be 319 degrees true course.

"All compasses will be checked by the sun compass and when the sun is bright this compass may be used entirely as the other compasses are subject to the errors of the theoretical veriation which will be aut as much as 5 or 10 degrees from the actual variation.

"At Etah the wings cannot be put on two of the planes on the steamship 'Peary' on account of lack of space. Erecting the planes will therefore be a major operation. Approximately ten days of steady work will be required to erect planes, make test radio flights, reconnoitering flights, etc. Another week (if everything goes well) will be required to form the advanced base. It will therefore be past the middle of August when the veriation which will be out as much first flight is made out over the Polar seas. The return to the main base should be about September first.

"No long flight over the Polar sea will be attempted until short flights have been made to ascertain Polar sea conditions.

"All three planes will be used to form the base on the Polar Sea. The planes will go together on flights from the base and the third plane will remain at the base as a reserve plane. All three planes will be equipped with radio."

"At least one of the two planes flying over the Polar Sea must have a mechanic on board to repair the engine if possible in case of a forced landing.

"All members of the Naval unit are being required to learn to send and receive radio.

"The plane left at the base should have assigned to it a competent navigator and before each flight he will be given all details relating to the course to be steered so that rescue work can be competently carried out.

"Only two persons can go in each plane in the Polar Sea flight. On account of the extra gasoline tanks necessary there will not be room for navigation carrying a third person. Also a third person would cut down too much radius of action of the plane."

So It's Not Reformed

It is the young who want to reform the world, but don't know how; and it is the old who know how, but are too indifferent to do it.—Exchange.

FARM POPULATION DECLINED DURING 1925

The farm population of the United States decreased approximately 182,000 during 1924, according to estimates based on a survey of 25,000 representative farms made recently by the United States department of agriculture. This is a drop of .6 per cent. during that year, the estimated farm population on January 1, 1925, being 31,134,000 compared with 31,316,000 on January 1, 1924. This estimate includes not only the agricultural workers, but all men, women and children living on the farms on that date.

The movement from farms to cities, towns and villages in 1924 is estimated at 2,075,000; the movement to farms was 1,896,000, making a net movement from the farm population of 679,000 persons, or 2.2 per cent. Births among the farm population during 1924 are estimated at 763,000 and deaths at 266,000 leaving a natural increase of 497,000 which reduced the loss due to the cityward movement to 182,000 or .6 per cent.

A similar estimate made in 1922 showed a loss in farm population of 460,000 as against 182,000 in 1924. The gross movement from farms to cities in 1922 was 2,000,000 compared to 2,075,000 in 1924, a slight increase. The gross movement back to the farms in 1922 was 880,000 compared to 1,396,000 in 1924, a very decided increase. The net movement from farms to cities in 1922 was 1,120,000 or 3.6 per cent and in 1924, 679,000 or 2.2 per cent.

Two geographic divisions, the New England and South Atlantic states, showed a net increase in farm population for the year 1924, of .9 per cent. and .2 per cent., respectively. All other divisions showed decreases, the Mountain states leading with a loss of 2.8 per cent.

The decrease in farm population due to the cityward movement, not taking into account births or deaths, was highest in the Mountain states, 4.3 per cent., followed by the Pacific and West South Central states. In all other divisions, except New England, the percentage of decrease due to the cityward movement was equal to or less than the average for the whole United States, 2.2 per cent. New England alone showed a gain of .3 per cent., since more people moved from cities to New England farms than left farms for cities.

The movement from farms to cities was found to be at the highest rate in the Mountain states, 13.8 per cent., followed by the Pacific, New England, Middle Atlantic and East North Central states in order. In the movement to farms from cities, the Mountain states again lead, with 9.5 per cent., followed by the New England, Pacific, Middle Atlantic and East North Central states.

Always Fool Friends

A woman never really knows a man until after she has applied for a divorce; then her fool friends begin to drop in and tell her things.—Exchange.

HAVE YOU TAKEN FULL ADVANTAGE OF THE GREAT MONEY-SAVING OPPORTUNITY OFFERED AT

Macpherson's

SEMI-ANNUAL CLEANUP SALE

Our Entire Stock of High Quality Merchandise, consisting of the Best Grades of Men's Suits, Keep Kool Suits, Top Coats, Gabardine Suits, Knickers, Sweaters, Silk Shirts, Madras Shirts, Pajamas, Night Shirts, Ladies' Summer Furs in beautiful grades, Straw Hats, Felt Hats, Silk, Lisle or Cotton Hosiery, Rain Coats for Ladies and Men, Bathing Suits, Underwear of every description, Bath Robes, Beach Robes, House Coats, Gloves, Caps, Umbrellas for Ladies and Men and a complete line of the better grades of Men's wearables of every other kind not mentioned.

"GENUINE PRICE REDUCTIONS AND ALL MERCHANDISE GUARANTEED"

We wish everybody to share in our semi-annual bargain event—so get busy and anticipate your wants for future.

Macpherson's

291 MAIN STREET.

QUALITY CORNER. QUALITY CORNER.

Bugbee and Wulf
DEPARTMENT STORE
PUTNAM, CONN.

Women's Ready-to-Wear Balbriggan

Ideal for Motoring, Cool Evenings, Seashore, Etc.
One and two-piece Dresses in new shades of Pansy, Rose, Blue, Green and Navy Mixtures.
Sizes 18 to 46

$10.75 $13.75

Replenish Your Supply of

Wash Dresses

—Mark Down Prices—

$5.75 DRESSES—NOW $3.95
$7.50 DRESSES—NOW $5.75
$9.75 DRESSES—NOW $6.75
$13.75 TUB SILK DRESSES—NOW $10.00
LINEN KNICKERS $2.95
SPORT SWEATERS $6.75

Friday and Saturday Specials

LADIES' GINGHAM APRONS—Reinforced front, 45c value—Each 33c
LADIES' SLIP-ON SWEATERS—$2.50 value—Each $1.50

EAT A DRINK ON A STICK!
LOL-E-ICE
A FROZEN DELIGHT
5c
Sold At All Dolbey Dealers.

MAIL-AD

FILL OUT AND MAIL TO

THE NORWICH BULLETIN

NORWICH, CONN.

10c a Line, Average 5 Words to a Line — Wants, To Let, For Sale, Etc.

Name..... Classification.....
R. F. D. or Street..... Number of Insertions.....
Post Office..... Am't Enclosed.....

Write complete ad below including name and address — Or if blind address is wanted mark X here ☐

DEMAND GOVERNS THE SUPPLY

(Specially for The Bulletin.)

I have talked, several times, ... in which the rush of ... to the cities handi... Several times?" ... times that perhaps ... bit sick of it. In that ... same satisfaction to ... affects city peo... when they come out ... to rusticate with ... good thing now ... eyes away from ... take a glimpse ...

... Herald-Tribune, ... tells what they ... unvarnished tale' ... present-day ru... the comfort, hap... those city ... somewhere ... summer, and ... into the town dur...

... all-the-year-round countrymen ... don't need to be ... the city has left ... our backs. But ... have ever gone ... that it has put ... on our sum... I confess that Hil... Sabathan diffi... me a new view ... much comfort in ... showing that we ... ons in our mis... the thought ... as she paints ... her neighbors of ... they will begin ... sooner than we ... there's nothing like ... of your own to ... your toothachy ... But let Hilde... to you in her own ... writes:—

... part of the country only ... from the Grand ... shipped about ... been bought for ... made ... with ... developed ... and ... abandoning ... hedged.

... in this neighbor... Smith who lives a ... and he explained ... this noise: ... left to work, Ma'am. ... chauffers, but dey ... dey can't af... with scythe. Ay ... and cows ban de ... mice, an' de folks. ... in the fall, so Ay ... my cows trough ...

After, she characterizes as ... she at last in... farmer of ... to cut the grass ... her a quart ... and an occasional doz... that she native... of her lawn ... for her table. If ... that she's thorough... what ought ...

... the various delivery ... once, the mail... the baker's and ... They all have differ... hours for ap... Not one of them will climb ... them the high... so she has to watch ... all the time, five ... down and ... worst of all — ... week's supply ... she waits pa... such animal. The ... that the ice-chest ... farmers."

... vegetables are worth their ... she goes on. There's ... not in reachable ra... and he can't raise ... could find ready ... under the ... can find no ... them, but must tend ... farm and peddle ... And he's get... intolerable drudg... hours invol... to sell out and ...

... another long quotation. ... it or don't it down," ... the whole of it to ... understanding of just ... country is to a city ... Snapper times:— ... answer? Goodness ... farm, as our ... You have to stay on ... year to work it, to ... to keep cows and ... country is returning ... except in the imme... of our early American ... are growing up to ... and sweetcorn; ... what once ... lies rank under ... will soon be one ... The orchards, ... bear none or bit... land that should be rich ... farms is lying waste. ... have disappeared, ... and the pheas... partridge cry where a ... the hen cackled com... ... Wea... one wakes and in the ... to forgotten wood... ... to glance at ... a curious, even an alarm... ...

... prices are far in ad... the city, and fruit and veg... in comparison. Country ... becoming the most ... and expensive of ... are not only three miles ... but fifty miles from ... supposed to be grown in ...

There you have it, hot off the bat. ... do you think of it, Brother ... there anything like me ... two things,—two perfect... things, i. e. that you're ... some of the city people ... to find the stew they're ... as uncomfortable as that they've ... and that their ... comfort in their predicament may ... hasten the day when they too ... that this world isn't sole... chiefly one of sewgaws ... but one calling for ... solely to some honorably ... end.

When the time comes that we all ... that fundamental fact, ... there'll be more farmers and gardeners and fewer "summer visitors" from town. More people will live in the country, as nature intended, not merely in summer when woods are green and meadows gay, but in winter when woods are bare and meadows sere or snow-covered.

It will mean that production of essentials such as food stuffs will again rise to a volume and value beyond that of gimcracks. It will mean plenty and low prices,—low prices all around, and not merely for farm-products.

What does the farmer care how low prices are for what he sells, IF prices for what he buys are comparably low? It's the fact that he has to sell for almost nothing yet pay exorbitant and sky-rocketing prices for his supplies that drives him off the farm. The more gold you dig the poorer you are if its costs you two dollars for every dollar's worth of the metal you get out. The more potatoes and cabbages and apples and beef you raise the poorer you are if it costs you two dollars for every dollar your stuff will sell for.

In the old days when hay sold for $3 a ton and potatoes for 25 cents a bushel, and pork for three cents a pound and butter for ten cents and eggs for six cents a dozen,—in those days the farmers of this one-time Happy Valley in which my father and grandfather lived and farmed were prosperous. They owned their farms and worked them to the last available acre. They lived wholesomely and laid by something for old age or the proverbial "rainy day."

Why?

Simply because they could buy such things as they needed, outside of home production, at prices vastly lower, in comparison with prices they received, than they can today. Of course they were economical and thrifty as every intelligent human being who has his or her own way to make should be. But the main cause for the decadence of farming is that a bushel of potatoes or a pound of butter won't buy anywhere near as much in the way needed farm tools and supplies as it would 50 or 75 years ago.

The farmer gets "duffie" tired of this. So wouldn't? He can't make a living by paying out more than he takes in. Who could?

Capital demands unfair profits and labor demands unearned wages and both can secure them most surely by supplying the great consuming public with gimcracks and gewgaws, —which it absorbs eagerly at high prices,—rather than with essentials which it won't take except at "starvation" rates. You can't blame either capital or labor for going where they can get the most for the least return. That's "business," as modernly construed. And farming is something different.

I haven't a single ill wish about me for the Hildegarde Hawthornes of the cities. At the same time, I can't help feeling that the sooner a big lot of them discover what a miserable mess their city-living propensities have got us into, the sooner they'll join hands in cleaning out the pot and filling it with a more natural and more savory concoction.

It seems to be a law of nature that you can't be in two different places and two different things at once. In other words, you can't sit on the fence and whittle gimcracks out of pine splinters and hoe corn at the same time.

When that great truth sinks into the minds of us all, city as well as country, we shall have made a long start towards solving the problem which, at present, is bothering the lives out of farmers and the wits out of city "summer people."

And, as I think I've said before, the first essential step towards this recrudescence of gumption and common sense will have to be taken by the great body of consumers.

For, eventually and in the end, it is demand which governs supply. What the consumer demands most insistently the producer will supply most liberally. If the consumer wants gimcracks more than beef and bread he will get the gimcracks. When he changes his mind the supply will change its character. It's really up to him. First of all, anyway.

THE FARMER.

State Latin contests are held annually in Indiana. They are the outgrowth of interschool contests held for a number of years, then county contests, and district meets, finally resulting in a state contest with a definite program for a series of contests for each of the four years of Latin.

Still Aspires To Dempsey's Crown

COPYRIGHT KEYSTONE VIEW CO., NEW YORK.

Harry Wills, negro heavyweight who has waited long for a chance at Dempsey's crown. He recently knocked out Charlie Weinert in the second round of a scheduled fifteen round affair.

EVERYTHING REDUCED FROM 20% TO 50%

SCHWARTZ BROS., Inc.

Greatest August FURNITURE SALE

SALE STARTS SATURDAY, JULY 25th, at 9 A. M.

THE GREAT EVENT IS HERE! NEVER BEFORE IN OUR HISTORY HAVE WE OFFERED SUCH VAST STOCKS OF QUALITY FURNISHINGS AT PRICES SO AMAZINGLY LOW! PRICES HAVE BEEN CUT, REGARDLESS OF COST OR REPLACEMENT VALUE! THE SAVINGS ARE TREMENDOUS. COME AND PROFIT BY THIS MOST SENSATIONAL SALE OF THE YEAR. ANTICIPATE YOUR NEEDS FOR RIGHT NOW AS WELL AS FOR FALL AND WINTER. THERE'S A BIG SAVING ON EVERY PURCHASE.

3-Piece Living Room Suite in Richly Figured Velours

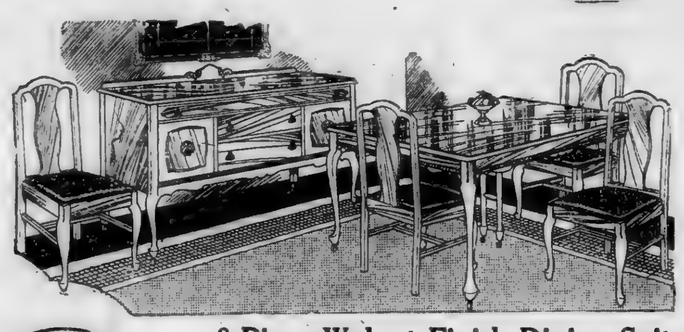
SPECIAL — TOMORROW!

This is far and away, the greatest merchandising triumph in all our career! It's an offer that is positively thrilling! The three pieces are yours, not only for $99, but on terms that you'll never once realize you are paying, they're so downright easy! Compare this suite with others selling for as much as $150!

$99

EXACTLY AS PICTURED

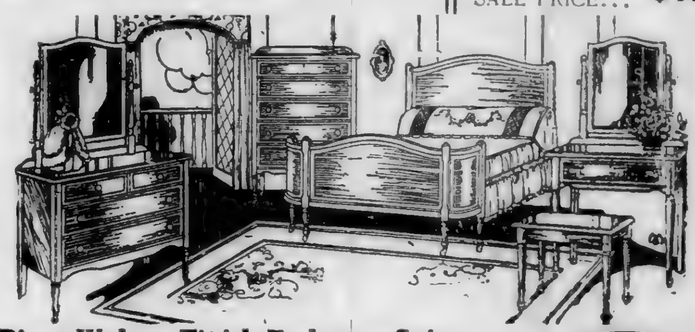
Note particularly the exquisite proportions of each piece! The davenport is large and extremely comfortable! Outside backs and sides of each piece covered in velous to match! Spring-filled loose cushions — new style roll arms—welted seams—Queen Anne frames! Remember, all three pieces for $99 tomorrow! Hurry!



8-Piece Walnut Finish Dining Suite— Queen Anne Design

$99

Another extraordinary $99 value! This suite includes the splendidly designed buffet — extension table and 5 chairs, 1 arm chair. Select cabinet wood construction, finished in a dark brown walnut color! New beauty for your dining room at a remarkable saving tomorrow!



5-Piece Walnut Finish Bedroom Suite In Popular Tudor Period

Of all the bedroom suite bargains we ever offered, this is the most sensational! It includes a full-size bow-end bed —a dainty dressing table—a chiffonier—and a dresser and bench! The beauty of this suite lies in its distinctive style and in the rich duo-tone, walnut finish! See it tomorrow!

$99

Lamp Reductions!

Table Lamps, polychrome bases, beautiful silk shades— As Low as $4.75

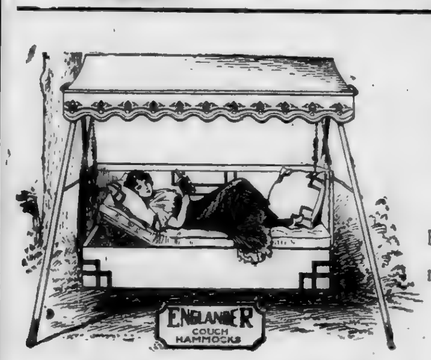
Attractive Boudoir Lamps, finished in ivory, with art glass shades, at $1.65

Wrought Iron Bridge Lamps, with delicately tinted parchment shades, at $2.45

Beautiful polychrome Bridge Lamps, with shades of fringed Georgette, at just $7.85

Polychrome finish junior size Floor Lamps, fringed Georgette shades, at..... $10.75

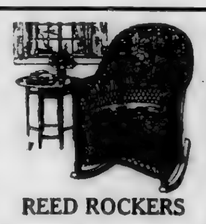
27x54 AXMINSTER RUGS —AUGUST SALE PRICE.:. $1.95



Couch Hammocks Reduced 33 1-3%

Buy your Hammock now and save.

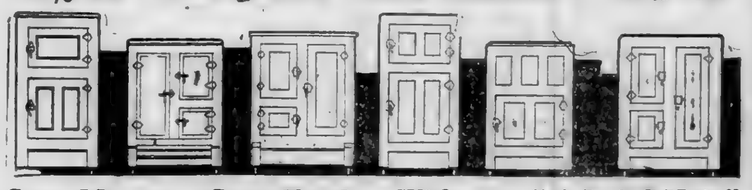
Prices as low as $10.45



REED ROCKERS Are Now.... $6.95

During this sale we're closing out many odd upholstered fibre rockers, bringing savings you would hardly believe possible.

25% Off—Refrigerator Prices Reduced — 25% Off



Save Money—Save Food— With an "ALASKA" Cork Insulated Refrigerator

We are exclusive local distributors for these famous national advertised Refrigerators. You will find the largest selection here. All sizes—all styles — all prices — from ..... $9.50 UP

WITH LOOSE CUSHIONS

Three beautiful reed pieces—large settee, arm chair and rocker—at an astoundingly low price! Loose cushion seats and covered in floral patterned cretonnes! $49.50

ANY PURCHASE WILL BE HELD FREE UNTIL WANTED. FREE DELIVERY IN NEW ENGLAND.

Our Methods Appeal To All Who Like A Square Deal

WHERE YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD

SCHWARTZ BROS.

"The BIG STORE with the LITTLE PRICES"

76-78-80-82 MAIN ST.

Our Reputation Built On Quality Our Business Built On Value

"LANE" CEDAR CHESTS

AS LOW AS $9.45

FREE — A miniature Cedar Chest with every "LANE" Chest sold during this sale.

Buy now and save your furs and woolens.

SCHWARTZ BROS., Inc.

Greatest August FURNITURE SALE

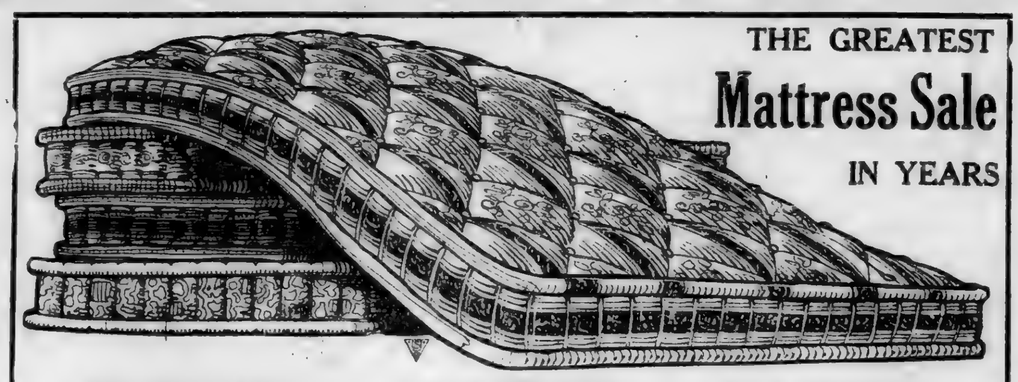
SALE STARTS SATURDAY, JULY 25th, at 9 A. M.

A SALE THAT IS A SALE! ORIGINAL COST AND PRESENT DAY REPLACEMENT VALUES HAVE BEEN FORGOTTEN ENTIRELY! DETERMINED TO MAKE THIS AN EVENT LONG TO BE REMEMBERED, WE HAVE GONE THROUGH OUR STOCKS AND CUT PRICES RIGHT AND LEFT! AMAZING REDUCTIONS BRING THE MOST SUBSTANTIAL SAVINGS IN YEARS! BY ALL MEANS VISIT OUR STORE DURING THIS SALE AND SHARE IN THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITIES.

20% TO 50% OFF ON EVERYTHING.

BOUDOIR LAMPS
finished in Ivory and gold, with silk shades—While the lot lasts $1.00

DINING TABLE
$16.85
Here's a Colonial dining table of the kind that will add distinction to your dining room. Attractively finished in golden oak, it represents a startling value at the low price we're quoting.



THE GREATEST Mattress Sale IN YEARS

50 LB. ALL-COTTON MATTRESSES
Roll edge, covered with beautiful art ticking—August Sale Price $8.95

KAPOCK MATTRESSES
Known as "Silk Floss"
Roll edge construction. Your choice of beautiful tickings—Sale Price. $16.95

45 LB. GENUINE HAIR MATTRESSES
Covered with A. C. A. tickings. All sizes, one or two parts — Sale Price. $22.45

SPECIAL FOR OUR GREAT AUGUST SALE
BEAUTIFUL METAL SMOKING STANDS in several finishes—While they last
$1.65

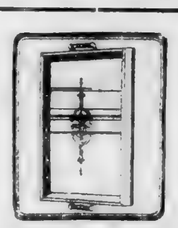
GENUINE LEATHER SEAT DINING CHAIRS
A great special in our August Sale. Solid Oak throughout. Golden Oak finish. Buy as many as you want at—
$2.90

Look Over These Great Money-Saving Specials!
Never Before Have We Offered Such Great Values

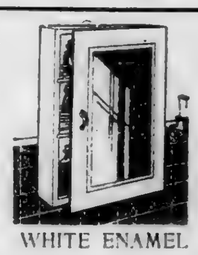
CARD TABLES!
A NEW LOW PRICE. $1.89
Anticipate your fall and winter parties by getting these handy card tables now when you can get several of them at a substantial saving.

LARGE SIZED BROOMS
FOR SATURDAY ONLY 29c
Limited quantity on hand. While the lot lasts, one to a customer.

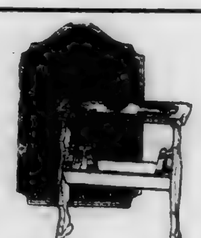
SAVE ON AN END TABLE . $3.45
You'll find one of these very desirable end tables at an unusually convenient price to fit beside your easy chair or at the end of the davenport.



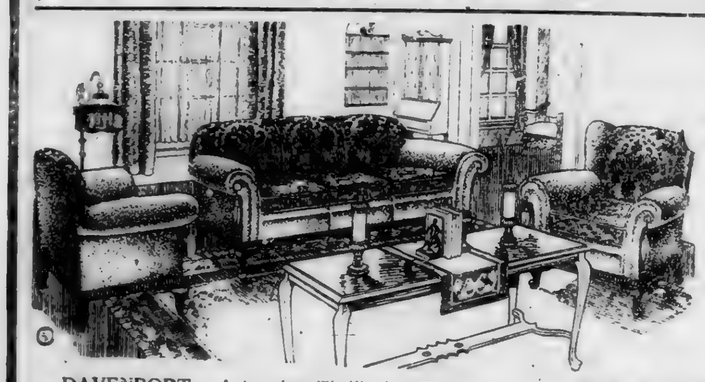
MAHOGANY FINISH SERVING TRAYS 59c
These Trays will be snapped up quickly, so we advise you to come early.



WHITE ENAMEL MEDICINE CABINET . . . $1.00
These cabinets have mirrors on door and are good size with shelves.



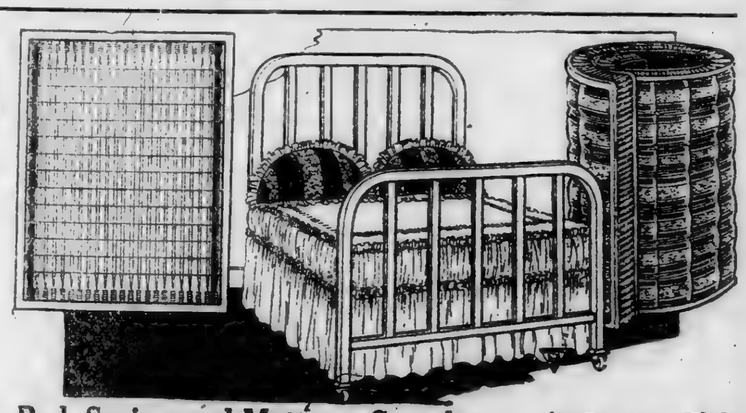
Book Trough End Table $4.95
One of these beautiful, practical tables on sale at this special price tomorrow! Just as pictured—finished in a rich, two-tone walnut effect!



DAVENPORT TABLE
As illustrated — mahogany finish, 45 inches long—
SPECIAL $13.95

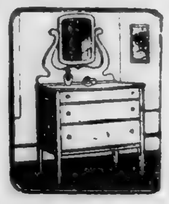
Another Thriller! Three-Piece MOHAIR SUITES Reduced to.... $135.00
If you want something unusually fine for your living room: here's just the chance you have been waiting for! Even at the regular low price, these suites were astonishing values. Imagine, therefore, what wonderful "buys" they represent at the greatly reduced price for this sale! You'll have to act quickly if you want one of these fine suites.

SAVE ON YOUR DINNER SETS NOW.
SPECIAL 42-PIECE DINNER SETS FINE WARE
$6.45



Bed, Spring and Mattress Complete
This bedroom outfit will be the talk of this sale. Handsome bed, complete with specially perfected set of springs and a mattress of real quality—all three pieces comprising a complete bed outfit at this sensationally low sale price..
$23.50

Extension Couch Bed
Complete with Mattress
Grey enameled steel frame, extension couch bed with guaranteed spring fabric, fitted with two boxed edge mattresses; covered in figured cretonne; deep valance around the front and sides of the couch bed. An excellent couch by day, easily made into a bed at night. Limit one couch bed and mattress to a purchaser. While the lot lasts $13.75



DRESSERS
For as little as $12.45

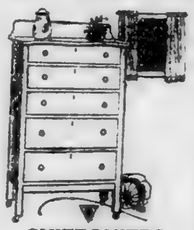
Clothes Basket
88c
We bought a large quantity of these large capacity wicker baskets at a special price and that accounts for the saving.



CHIFFONIERS
Sacrified at $11.45

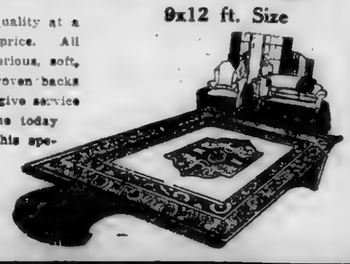
25% Off on Entire Stock of Rugs, including Wiltons, Velvets and Tapestries —Stock Up Now and Save 25%.
Tapestry Rugs, 9x12 ..... $19.50

Axminster Rugs
Here are rugs of quality at a never-to-be-forgotten price. All are rugs with a luxurious, soft, deep nap and closely woven backs—the kind that should give service for years! If you come today you can have one at this special price.
9x12 ft. Size
$39.50



WHERE YOUR CREDIT IS GOOD
OUR METHODS APPEAL TO ALL WHO LIKE A SQUARE DEAL
SCHWARTZ BROS.
The BIG STORE with the LITTLE PRICES
OUR REPUTATION BUILT ON QUALITY OUR BUSINESS BUILT ON VALUE
75-78-80-82 MAIN ST.

Peter Admits That He Is Envious

Envy is at best not nice;
At its worst it is a vice.
—Old Mother Nature.

Peter Rabbit watched Jerry Muskrat until he had his landing in the rushes near the head of the Smiling Pool completed. Then as Peter watched Jerry sitting on that little landing resting and eating a piece of flagroot, he began to grow envious. Yes, sir, he began to grow envious. It seemed to Peter that Jerry had everything that any one could desire. Finally he said so right out.

"You sound as if you are envious," said Jerry between bites.

"I am," admitted Peter very frankly.

"Just what do you envy me?" inquired Jerry.

"I envy your safety," replied Peter. "Here I have to always be watching out for enemies and you don't have to watch out at all."

"Is that so?" exclaimed Jerry. "I want to know. Peter, how under the sun do you get that way? Suppose you tell me what animals you have to watch out for."

"Reddy Fox and old Man Coyote," replied Peter promptly.

"I never go ashore without having to watch out for those two devils," replied Jerry. "Go on, Peter."

"Hoot the Owl at night, and some of the big members of the Hawk family in the daytime," said Peter.

"They keep me looking up in the air just as much as they do you, Peter Rabbit," declared Jerry.

"Shadow the Weasel and hunters with terrible guns," continued Peter.

Again Jerry nodded. "I have to watch out for both," said he, "though probably shadow the Weasel is more dangerous to you than to me. But hunters with terrible guns are not the only two-legged creatures I have to be watching out for all the time. There are those others who set dreadful traps. You see, Peter, I am no better off than you are when it comes to enemies."

"But you have the water in which to get away from them," replied Peter.

"And you have the bramble-tangles which no one can follow you excepting Shadow the Weasel," replied Jerry Muskrat. "What's more, I have two other enemies that you seldom have to think about."

"Who are they?" demanded Peter.

"Little Joe Otter and Billy Mink," replied Jerry. "Water is no protection from them. Both are better swimmers than I."

Peter looked as surprised as he felt, and that was very much surprised indeed. "I thought that Little Joe Otter and Billy Mink were friends of yours," he said.

"It all depends on how hungry they are and how scarce food is," replied Jerry. "Little Joe Otter I can get away from in my burrows, but Billy Mink can follow me wherever I can go. Are you still envious, Peter?"

"No-o," replied Peter, slowly. "No, I guess I'm not envious any more, Jerry. I never have thought of you as having any enemies from whom you couldn't get away by just diving into the Smiling Pool. I guess envy is foolishness. I guess none of us know just what our friends and neighbors have to face every day. No, I'm not envious any more, Jerry."

"Excuse me, Peter. Here comes Billy Mink now, and he may be hungry," said Jerry, and dived into the water and disappeared.

(Copyright 1925, by T. W. Burgess)

The next story—Billy Mink Pays a Tribute.

RADIO PROGRAMS

WNAC—Boston—280.8

10:30 A. M.—Bible readings Rev. Dan Ivan Patch, Orthodox Congregational church.
10:40 A. M.—WNAC American Women's Club Talks—Jean Sargent, Martha Lee.
1 P. M.—Shepard Colonial Concert orchestra.
3:30 P. M.—Jimmie Gallagher and orchestra and McPeake's Shore Garden Revue, direction Clyde McKenzie.
4:30 P. M.—Theme of the series of broadcasts by players of The American Theater Inc., now playing at the Empire Theater, Salem.
6:30 P. M.—WNAC Dinner Dance—Broadcast from Shepard Colonial restaurant Shepard Colonial orchestra direction Billy Logez.
7:35 P. M.—Road Conditions, D. S. Hickey, Boston Motor Club.
8 P. M.—Musical program.

WEEI—Boston—476

6:35 A. M.—Health exercises.
5:30 P. M.—Frankie Ward and His orchestra.
7:15 P. M.—Lost and found articles and Baseball scores.
7:30 P. M.—Program feature.
8 P. M.—Concert.
9 P. M.—Ed Andrews and His orchestra.

WTIC—Hartford—348.6

7 P. M.—Travelers Jungmats.
7:30 P. M.—Weather report.
7:50 P. M.—Baseball scores.
7:55 P. M.—Road report.
8:10 P. M.—David J. Greer, reader.
8:55 P. M.—Miss Sadie Vokin, dramatic soprano.
9:05 P. M. Talk, Trap Up Maine Coast.
9:30 P. M.—Dance music—Emil Heimberger's orchestra, assisted by Josephine Blackmer, popular songs.

WBZ—Springfield—333.3

7 P. M.—Dinner concert by trio, under direction of Jan Geerts.
7:30 P. M. — Baseball results of games played by the Eastern, American and National Leagues.
8:45 P. M.—Poultry Flock Management, by Professor William C. Moranan of Massachusetts Agricultural college.
9 P. M.—Henry G. Bacon, baritone, accompanied by Miss Synder.
9:15 P. M.—Readings by Gladys Ruth Bridgham.
9:30 P. M.—Bill Boyle's entertainers.
10 P. M.—Concert by Marbelle E. Gray, contralto, accompanied by Mrs. Burton R. Rogers.
10:45 A. M.—Musical selections.
10:30 P. M.—Market report as furnished by the United States department of agriculture at Boston.
10:30 P. M.—Results of baseball games played in the Eastern, American and National Leagues.
10:55 P. M.—Arlington time signals; official United States weather reports; missing persons' descriptions.

WJAR—Providence—305.9

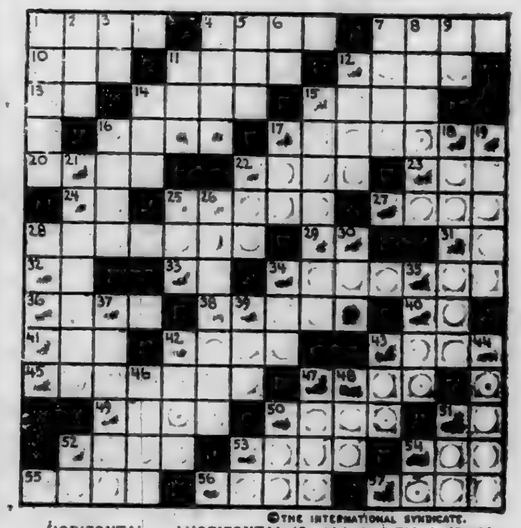
1:03 P. M.—Orchestra under the direction of Martin J. Casey.
5 P. M.—Miss Margaret Reid, children's librarian, Elmwood Public library.
5:15 P. M.—Ray Chanfry.
5:30 P. M.—Tommy Martin and assisting artists in a program of popular songs.
9 P. M.—Maine Creamery Hour.
11 Dance orchestra under the direction of Edwin White.

WCTS—Worcester—268

10:45 A. M.—Musical selections.
11 A. M.—Produce Market and Weather report.
12 to 2 P. M.—Noon day luncheon music by the WCTS Trio.
7:15 P. M.—The Twinkle Twinkle Story Teller.
7:30 P. M.—Baseball scores.
Silent night.

Humorists generally write in their shirt sleeves probably because that is where their funny bone is located.

CROSS-WORD PUZZLE



©THE INTERNATIONAL SYNDICATE.

HORIZONTAL
1-A shellfish
4-Lament
7-Fungous disease of grain
10-Pork
11-Homeless wanderer
12-Band
13-Prefix meaning out of
14-Cultivated area
15-Bucket
16-Portion
17-Rough, improvised beds
20-Eye closely
22-Seek
23-Popular name Great Lakes canal
24-One, or any
25-Swoon
27-Celestial body
28-Ecclesiastical dignitary
29-Unit of energy (abbr.)
31-Sanctified person (abbr.)
32-Pronoun
33-Preposition
34-Little balls

HORIZONTAL (Cont.)
36-Fine cambric
38-Wed
40-Pronoun
41-To grow old
42-Covered with deep mud
43-Grant
45-Appreciate fully
47-Rush tumultuously
48-Well balanced mentally
50-Malleable
51-Preposition
52-Closely confined
53-Fog
54-Single thing
55-Hearty
56-Period of fasting
57-Burn

VERTICAL
1-A game
2-Resinous substance
3-Part of verb "to be"
4-Excrescence
5-Aspiration
6-Conjunction
7-Stain
8-Interfere with
9-Risen from bed

VERTICAL (Cont.)
11-Conflict
12-Step
14-Winnow, as grain
15-Wild animal
16-Sheet of glass
17-Play upon words
18-Browned
19-Varieties
21-Charge for hauling
22-Hasten
26-Corpulent
26-Spray
26-Pertaining to hair
30-Layer
34-Bar used as lever
35-Water jug
37-Small carnivorous animal
38-Part of verb "to be"
42-Place of coinage
43-Cleave
44-Proceed within
46-Narrow roadway
47-Situation
48-Frequently
50-Evil act
51-Collection of sayings
53-Keystone State (abbr.)
55-Pronoun
56-Exclamation

NEW LONDON WOMAN BIGAMIST HELD FOR THE SUPERIOR COURT

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 23—Agnes Landsberg Murphy, the wife of Dennis Murphy, a policeman in this city, was today held for trial in the superior court to answer to a complaint for bigamy because she married Murphy while she was the wife of Joseph Stone, a New York pugilist. She was represented by an attorney and he demurred to the complaint, preferring to disclose his defense when he had to do so before the superior court. Mrs. Murphy's bond was fixed at $1,000 and she secured a surety in the person of Charles Bloeser, of Groton a real estate owner in that town. Mrs. Murphy's attorney represented that the purpose of the case in hand today was that Stone might get possession of a 2-year old child of which he and Mrs. Murphy are the parents. She made no defense of the charge alleged in the complaint—that she was a bigamist, and that she had married Murphy while she had a husband living from whom she had not been divorced. That was the complaint before the court so, naturally, the allegations as to the child were not allowed to enter into the matter. The child is in the custody of people at Ledyard, where it will remain until the case is disposed of in the superior court.

Floyd Mitchell was fined $25 in the police court this morning for operating and maintaining a place on Atlantic street reputed to be a gambling place. It became known after Herbert Merritt, a colored man who is the master of a Keeler line barge had visited the place, probably for the purpose of making a few dollars by his deftness in handling playing cards, had dropped, as he claimed $51 to a fellow who was handier with the cards than he was. Merritt declared that Mitchell "gyped" him with cards that were marked, but this Mitch denied with a good deal of vigor when he found his voice and told the court that he never played a game of cards with "that darkey" in all his life. "Why" said Mitchell, "I am employed at the state military encampment, at Niantic and did not come into town till late in the evening. Then I went to the place and found Merritt there. He was playing black jack with patrons of the place but he did not play with me and I Mitchell added, as if to clinch the matMitchell adde, as if to clinch the matter, that Merritt was in this port some two years ago when he claimed he was robbed of $200 and he then said he would get square with someone. But the court was not influenced by that sort of statement, for it was not relevant to the matter in hand. The court listened to the testimony of Merritt which was to the effect that he and Mitch sat down for a quiet game and that they played along till Merritt was so constantly a loser that he became suspicious and asked to see the cards that were being used. He was told that he could not see them with a view to examining them with a critical eye. He might have waited until he should have the opportunity to deal them, but he didn't do that. Instead Merritt claimed that Mitchell wanted to fight. Merritt was certain that he was being cheated, so he started right for the police station and made a complaint that led to the arrest of Mitchell. Mitchell was disposed to appeal the case, but he accepted better judgment and took his medicine, which entailed the payment of costs as well as the fine. He said he had witnesses to prove the statement he had made but that they were not forthcoming.

Sailors and soldiers were before the court for intoxication and they all drew fines. A couple of them were arrested at Ocean beach, which seems to be a place they resort to in order to drink or to which they go and take liquor or alcohol with them and there drink it.

Charles H. Hewitt of Montville was fined $25 for driving an automobile at a speed that was manifestly reckless. He came down the Norwich turnpike at a 40-mile pace because, as he said, he had received a call from a fellow who wanted to see him in a hurry. On the road he met another fellow whom he didn't want to see in a hurry or any other way. That fellow was State Policeman Albright and the latter ordered Hewitt into court. He had no reasonable excuse for his reckless driving, so he got the fine fixed by law for such offenses.

Robert Nelson, formerly of New London, now located in Boston, concluded a brief visit with relatives in Norwich yesterday and is spending the week-end in this city.

Misses Annie and Frances Mella, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are spending a fortnight in New London, guests of their cousin, Anthony Mella, proprietor of 43 Bank street.

John Maria, 867 Bank street, reported to the police this afternoon that while his automobile was parked at the corner of Colman and Bank streets last night, a thief stole a combination and stop light and markers, the latter being N-7151.

Mrs. Stephen Preston, 226 Munsell place, Greenport, L. I., came to New London today to spend the day. While dining in a State street restaurant, the woman mislaid her pocketbook containing $8 and her return ticket to Greenport. Mrs. Preston reported her loss to the police, but the purse was not recovered.

Another woman and her husband dined at another State street restaurant and as the couple were about to leave the place the woman discovered that her pocketbook, which had contained $200 and valuable papers was missing. The woman reported her loss to John Clifford, but a search did not result in the pocketbook being found in the place. The officer then accompanied the man and woman to the ladies' room at the Groton ferry, where the woman had been prior to entering the restaurant and there found the money and papers intact.

The funeral of Mrs. Annie Street, wife of Jarvis Street, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at 48 Shapley street, the services being conducted by Rev. Joseph A. Elder, pastor of Huntington Street Baptist church. Burial was in Jordan cemetery.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel today caused the operator's license of Socrate Deligoarge, 341 Bank street, to be suspended.

Michael Locker, a lodger at the Y. M. C. A., reported to the police this forenoon that while his automobile was parked on Meridian street last night a thief stole a spare tire from the rear of the car.

Patrick Mulkern, John Talbot and Robert Graham, South Boston youths, who were taken into custody, yesterday by Sergeant Nelson Smith and who, it developed, had run away from home, were delivered to the custody of Martin Gordon, of South Boston, who came to New London during the day and escorted the runaways back home.

W. C. Dryden, of the United States Coast Guard steamer McCall, was arrested this evening by Sergeant Frank Howard charged with violation of the automobile law in running his automobile without having an operator's license in his possession. He will be presented in the police court tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Arthur Zondiros and infant daughter, of 19 Tilley street; and Mrs. Eliza Musitzaga, New York, patients at Home Memorial hospital, were dismissed today.

Alonzo L. Beckwith, 85, died late Wednesday at his residence in Waterford, death being caused by infirmities attending age. Mr. Beckwith was born in Waterford and had been a farmer all his life and until his health became impaired several months ago. He is survived by a son and daughter.

It developed this evening that the Coca Cola Bottling Works, 25 Hamilton street, has been given the attention of juvenile crooks of late, for Tuesday and Wednesday nights the place was entered by means of a rear window and plunder of a trivial nature obtained. The plunder consisted of silver and pennies that was left in the cash register at the closing of business, also a small quantity of soda.

The condition of Charles Vose, room clerk at the Hotel Mohican, who is a patient at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital where he underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis a week ago, has so far improved that he will be able to return to his home on Pearl strete, Saturday.

Samuel Siller, of 41 Belden street, a peddler in this city, was this afternoon ordered to appear in the police court tomorrow morning on command of Acting Prosecuting Attorney Perry J. Hollandersky. Siller was arrested a fornight ago charged with the nonsupport of his wife and child. He was at that time ordered to pay his wife a stipulated sum every week and was also ordered to permit his wife to obtain a divorce according to her faith in the Hebrew religion. It is now contended that Siller has not carried out the orders of the court. This afternoon following Siller being summoned to appear in court he was observed at the railroad station, Sergeant Nelson Smith and Patrolman George Perkins ordered Siller to accompany them to the police station where he was interviewed by his attorney, who became responsible for Siller's appearance in court tomorrow and he was allowed his liberty.

Mrs. Robert Donohue, 209 Pequot avenue, corner of School street, complained to the police this afternoon because of the numerous parking of automobiles in front of her residence late at night.

Michael Rowley, of Camp Trumbull, Niantic; Miss Katherine Prindiville, Framingham, Mass.; Mrs. John Purcell, Colchester, and Miss Mary Frentis, 72 Woodbridge street, patients at Lawrence-Memorial hospital, were discharged today.

SUSPECTED DRUG STORE THIEF SENT TO NOWICH HOSPITAL

(Special to the Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 23.—Charlie Moore, a little fellow with a weakness for uniforms, who is a familiar figure about the city, was charged in the city court today with being a person without means of support—a vagrant. He was suspected of knowing about the robbery of a down town drug store, where $15 in cash was taken from the cash register at night. Indeed the admissions that the suspected man made left no doubt in the minds of police officers who quizzed him that he knew about the robbery. Later he denied what he had admitted. Today his case was continued for two weeks and he was sent to the state hospital at Norwich that it may be established whether his brain is registering accurately. Charlie is wasp-waisted, but he wears overalls large enough for a 250 pounder and carried rags enough in his pockets to serve him in cleaning automobiles, an occupation he has recently adopted, for a long time.

TREATMENT AT MANSFIELD PLANNED FOR NANCY ANDREWS

(Special to the Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 23.—Nancy Andrews, a woman 42, was, with Frank Stevens, a brick mason, before the police court today charged with fornication. Each pleaded guilty. Stevens was fined $25 and the woman was committed to jail for six months, with the understanding that her jail sentence would be suspended in execution if she would go to the House of the Good Shepherd in Hartford until such time as she would be placed in the Mansfield Reformatory.

Miss Andrews is not believed to be sound enough mentally to be allowed absolute freedom.

She inherited a half-interest in a small estate some time ago and a conservator was placed over her. She complained to relatives in Mt. Vernon, N. Y., that she was not treated as she should be and they came to New London to get the facts first hand. The relatives are young girls and they were asleep when Stevens appeared at a window at the Andrews' homeand sought admission. He frightened the relatives so that they made an outcry, with the result that the matter was placed in police hands and Stevens was sought and arrested. The whole story came to the surface then and it was to the effect that Stevens had been to the Andrews' house on prior occasions and was admitted. He is the owner of a small automobile and this is said to have figured in the attentions shown by Stevens to the woman. Friends of the Andrews woman have interested themselves in her welfare and she will now be placed where she will be cared for and where she will lead a different life.

HARTFORD DRIVER ARRESTED TRIED TO PICK UP PASSENGERS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

New London, July 23—Max Freiman, 133 Martin street, Hartford, attempted to operate his pleasure car for revenue this evening, when he sought to use the machine as a public service car. As a result he was taken into custody charged with violation of the motor vehicle law. He furnished a cash bond of $25 for his appearance in the police court tomorrow morning.

Freiman drove to New London today and when he was about ready to start for home he decided that he would attempt to secure several passengers. Freiman parked his car in front of the Crown theatre, on State street, and approached several men, offering to convey them to Hartford for $1.75, which is 25 cents less than the fare which is charged by the buses. After he had solicited passengers sometime, Freiman was taken into custody by Patrolman William Riordan. The specific charges against Freiman were, operating a public service car without having the machine equipped with public service markers and for failing to provide himself with a public service operator's license.

COAL MAGNATES PAUSE ON CHALLENGE FROM MINERS

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 23.—(AP)—Anthracite operators paused today in deliberations with the miners on the latter's demands for adoption of the check-off to answer what they deemed a challenge of their authority to negotiate renewal of the contract expiring August 31.

Major W. W. Inglis, chairman of the operators' delegation on the joint scale sub-committee, made public a statement to be published tomorrow in the bulletin of the Anthracite Bureau of Information, issued for private circulation among the members of the bureau. The statement said:

"The industry is, of course, fully aware that the negotiating committee consisting of Major Inglis and Messrs. Thomas, George B. Hardesy, J. B. Warriner, A. M. Fine and E. H. Suender, is clothed with full authority to negotiate and agree upon a new contract.

Discussion became so earnest at the noon hour that luncheon was omitted, and the debate was continued unbroken on into the afternoon.

The check-off was recalled today as having been the rock upon which the 1922 wage conference split. The controversy kept the parties divided until scarcely forty-eight hours before Governor Pinchot finally brought the two sides together by shelving the question entirely, and securing agreement upon the different basis of a ten per cent. increase in wages.

The interest both mine owners and mine workers showed in the question on its revival left the impression among some observers that the disputants might be taking up where they left off two years ago. However, the official word at the end of the day was cheering: "A little progress."

Operators dealt today with a feeling reported abroad in some parts of the coal fields that they were not in earnest about their demand for a wage cut this year.

AMERICAN AVIATORS PILOT PLANES TO MOROCCO

PARIS, July 23.—(AP)—The American aviators who have volunteered for service for France against Abd-El-Krim in Morocco have decided to leave Le Bourget airdrome near Paris on Tuesday, piloting their own planes to Morocco instead of using the French commercial line to Rabat. The unit, which is under command of Col. Charles Sweeney of Seattle, Wash., will include seven or eight aviators and several newspaper correspondents.

The delay in starting for the scene of operations is understood to be the reported lack of pursuit planes on the Moroccan front, the Americans demanding if they are obliged to go up in heavy bombing planes, there should be ample protection for them to carry out their bombing operations without useless losses.

Reports that there are 30 well-equipped German manned planes with Abd-El-Krim, nearly all of them of the pursuit class, caused the Americans to reflect prior to starting for Africa. It is understood among flyers here that 1,000 men go from Germany to Morocco each month for aviation training.

The Americans are amused by the sultan of Morocco's orders for their full dress uniforms. It appears that they must wear red fezes, blue tunics, bagny red trousers and hip boots of Moroccan leather when attending formal ceremonies, but when flying they will don khaki such as used by the French colonial troops.

The pay given the American volunteers will be one franc daily regardless of rank and previous service, but the pecuniary question is not worrying the majority of the would-be flyers of the sultan's service now gathered in Paris.

MAN FATALLY INJURED IN FALL OF THREE FEET

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., July 23—(A. P.)—William R. Rich, for 30 years a circulation agent for Boston newspapers in Haverhill, Mass., died today from a fractured skull received in a three foot fall from the porch of his summer cottage here.

Mr. Rich was working on the porch yesterday when he was seized with a fainting spell and fell. It was believed his head struck a stone. He is survived by his wife and a step son.

If your new suit doesn't wear well do not get angry at the tailor. "Judge not a man by his clothing."

TEST OF CABLE-CUTTING DEVICE WAS SATISFACTORY

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 23—(A. P.)—Tests of a new cable-cutting device carried out in the harbor here yesterday by the Navy were entirely satisfactory, officers engaged in the test said today. The device, attached to the submarine S-49, cut several cables which had been laid in the harbor, fastened to buoys. Information as to the mechanism of the device was withheld.

Bulletin's Pattern Service

A POPULAR STYLE WITH NEW FEATURES

5177. This attractive little play dress has the bloomers with straight lower edges, and a smart toy pocket on the front of the dress. Gingham, percale, crepe or linen could be used for this model.

The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: 2, 3, 4 and 5 years. A 3 year size requires 2 1-4 yards of 36 inch material. If pocket is made of contrasting material it will require 1-4 yard 9 inches wide.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A PRACTICAL UNDERGARMENT

5168. Cambric, crepe, nainsook, as well as silk and crepe de chine may be used for this design.

The Pattern may be finished with shaped shoulder or camisole top. It is cut in 4 Sizes: Small, 34-36; Medium, 38-40; Large, 42-44; Extra Large, 46-48 inches, bust measure. A Medium size requires 2 3-8 yards of 36 inch material, if made with shaped shoulders. If made with camisole top 2 1-8 yards are required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Sent 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A PRETTY FROCK IN SUSPENDER STYLE

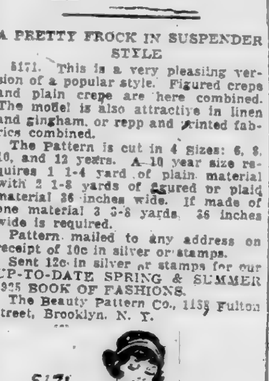
5171. This is a very pleasing version of a popular style. Figured crepe and plain crepe are here combined. The model is also attractive in linen and gingham, or repp and printed fabrics combined.

The Pattern is cut in 4 Sizes: 6, 8, 10, and 12 years. A 10 year size requires 1 1-4 yard of plain material with 2 1-8 yards of figured or plaid material 36 inches wide. If made of one material 3 3-8 yards 36 inches wide is required.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Sent 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.



A PRACTICAL GARMENT FOR YOUNG CHILDREN

4568. Here is a style that will appeal to the busy mother of little children, especially those of little children, especially those of the "creeper" age. This design provides a convenient closing at the inner seam, which is very practical for children below 2 years of age. The garment may also be made with this seam closed, for the back is in drop style.

The pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 6 months, 1 and 2 years. A 6 months size requires 1 3-8 yards of 36 inch material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO-DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A DAINTY SUMMER FROCK

5161. Figured silk and crepe de chine are combined in this pretty model. It is also good for printed crepe, for batiste or handkerchief linen.

The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. An 18 year size requires 1 1-2 yard of plain material 32 inches wide for flounce and cascade and 2 1-4 yards of figured material for the dress portions, if made as illustrated in the large view. Without the cascade 1 1-3 yard of plain material is required. The width at the foot is 2 1-4 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Send 12c in silver or stamps for our UP-TO DATE SPRING & SUMMER 1925 BOOK OF FASHIONS.

The Beauty Pattern Co., 1188 Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

MAN FATALLY BURNED IN ROADHOUSE NEAR DARIEN

STAMFORD, July 23—(A. P.)—Charles Sigsway, fifty five, 44 West avenue, South Norwalk, died at 9:47 o'clock tonight in Stamford hospital, from burns received in a fire this afternoon, which entirely destroyed the Circle inn, a road house on the New Canaan highway near Darien, of which he was the owner.

A few hours before Sigsway died, he told Chief of Police Harry Smith, of Darien, that he was not in the inn at all, only on the premises. Sigsway declared he smelled smoke, and decending to investigate, pushed open a door when flames burst out and enveloped his clothes with fire.

Several cases of gingerale and one case of vermouth were found by police on the premises. A more thorough search will be made tomorrow. Chief Smith found what appeared to be the metal parts of two stills among the ruins this afternoon. The loss is estimated at $30,000.

Sigsway is survived by three children, three step children and his wife.

The vacancy in the western court district in Tennessee was the subject of a conference at Swampscott between President Coolidge and Rep. Taylor, Republican, of Tennessee.

A FRENCH DIVISION HAS ARRIVED AT TAZA

MELILLA, Spanish Morocco, July 23.—(AP)—Reports received today from the French zone in Morocco say that the first contingents of the famous French Moroccan division have arrived at Taza, northeast of Fez, from Ueda.

Travellers arriving here from Oran, Algeria, assert that 40,000 men, most of them Europeans, were landed there from transports and were immediately sent forward by trains and lorries toward Taza and Fez to join the French army.

Various Sengalese battalions, sharpshooters from Madagascar, contingents from Annam, the French protectorate in Indo-China, and various heavy artillery regiments from France are expected shortly in the French zone.

THREE STATE POLICEMEN DISMISSED FROM DEPOT

HARTFORD, July 23.—(AP)—State Policemen William J. Kirschner, William E. Nielson and Henry Malbuisson, of the Ridgefield barracks, were dismissed from the department today by state police commissioners at a meeting at the capitol. The men were suspended last month following charges that they appropriated seized liquor for their own use.

FINED FOR OPERATING PLANE WITHOUT LICENSE

STRATFORD, July 23—(A. P.)—The long continued case of two aviators who were arrested in Stratford several weeks ago came to a head today when William Jennings was found guilty of operating an airplane without a license. He was fined $25 and costs, the fine being remitted. Edward Conkling, was found guilty of allowing Jennings to operate te plane in violation of an order of the airplane inspector. He was fined $10 and costs. Both men are of Noble avenue, Bridgeport, and it is expected that they are going to file notice of appeal with Judge H. C. Ilmford, of the Stratford town court.

HELD IN $1,500 BONDS FOR ATTEMPTED BURGLARY

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., July 23—(AP)—While Patrolman George Collins was making his rounds at 2:30 this morning, he saw a man run away from the rear of Walsh and Holfeder's store at 462 Main street. He gave chase, caught Costie Fredericks hiding in an alley nearby and placed him under arrest. Judge J. A. Alling bound Fredericks over to superior court under bonds of $1,500 on a charge of attempted burglary. The prisoner is said to have admitted that he was trying to break into the store.

THRICE MISTAKEN FOR ALLEGED MURDERER KNAPP

NEW YORK, July 23—(AP)—Jean Collinore of Fairfield Conn., rues the fate which gave him a striking resemblance to Philip Knapp, army deserter and alleged murderer.

Today, for the third time in as many days, hawkeyed policemen pounced on Collinore, believing him to be the fugitive. Brooklyn police are the latest to admit their mistake. Collinore was similarly held in Bridgeport, Conn., and Rochester, N. Y., during a trip from Fairfield to New York.

BODY OF A BABY GIRL WAS FOUND IN SWAMP

MIDDLETOWN, July 23—(AP)—Boys rambling through a swamp near this city today found the body of a baby girl, less than three years old, wrapped in papers. An autopsy performed by Medical Examiner J. Francis Calef tonight disclosed that the child had been strangled and also showed a hemorrhage of the brain. He believed that the baby had been dead two or three days. State and local police are investigating.

The ticket office of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad in Bridgeport has not received notification of the 20 per cent. increase authorized by the interstate commerce commission to the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

BEIT BROS.' MARKET

Free Delivery — Phone 454 — 35 Franklin Street.

We sell more Meat because we sell the Choicest and Best Cuts of Beef at Reasonable Prices. Expert knowledge and care in selecting and buying Beef in large quantities tends to economy and lower prices. Buy here and save!

SPECIALS FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Legs Genuine Baby Spring LAMB, lb. 36c

Sugar Cured Boneless HAMS, lb. 29c

Extra Fancy Pot ROASTS, lb. . 25c Boned and Rolled.

Strictly Fresh EGGS, 2 doz. . . 80c

Extra Fancy Native Roasting Chickens, lb . . 50c

Best Print BUTTER, 2 lbs 99c Cloverbloom, Wedgwood, Brookfield, Gold Medal.

Fresh Killed Native FOWL, lb. 35c

Meaty Fores Spring LAMB, lb. 24c

Extra Fancy Cuts of Milk-Fed Native Veal ROASTS, lb 14-25c

Choice Cuts Boneless CORNED BEEF, lb. 14c

Small Sugar-Cured HAMS, lb. ... 30c 8-10-lb. average.

FRESH EASTERN CUT PORK LOINS AND SHOULDERS.

Little Pig Smoked Shoulders, lb.. 18c While they last.

Native Milk-Fed Broilers, lb. . . 55c

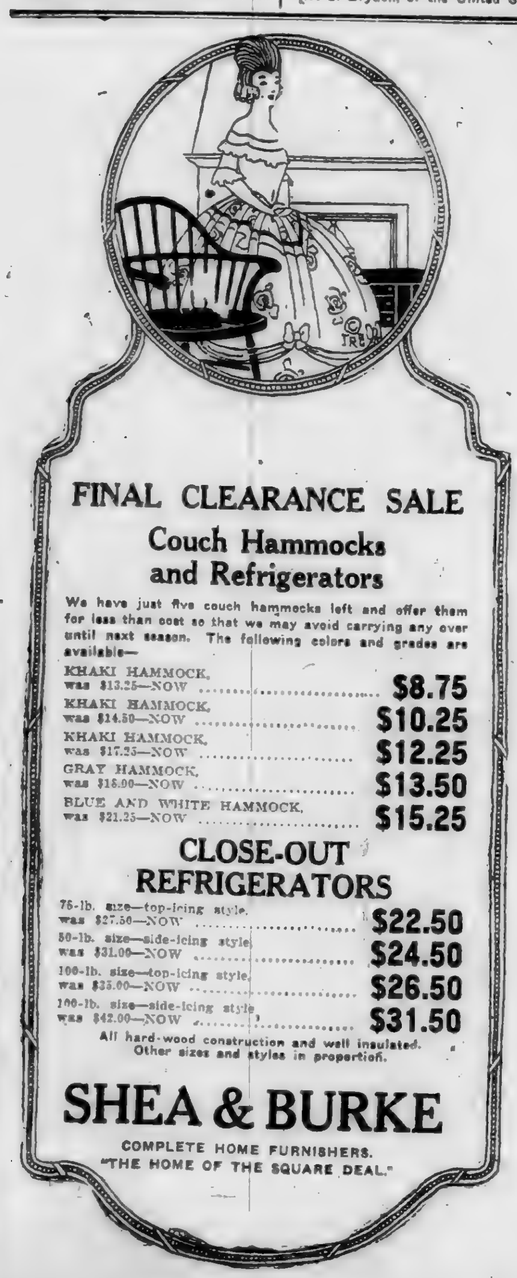
Sugar Cured BACON, lb. . . 35c By the piece.

Scotch Cure Boneless HAMS, lb. . . . 40c

Boneless Rolled Roast BEEF, lb. 30c

SCOTCH HAM, lb. 48c

SIRLOIN, PORTER-HOUSE AND SHORT STEAKS.



FINAL CLEARANCE SALE

Couch Hammocks and Refrigerators

We have just five couch hammocks left and offer them for less than cost so that we may avoid carrying any over until next season. The following colors and grades are available—

KHAKI HAMMOCK, was $13.25—NOW $8.75

KHAKI HAMMOCK, was $14.50—NOW $10.25

KHAKI HAMMOCK, was $17.25—NOW $12.25

GRAY HAMMOCK, was $16.00—NOW $13.50

BLUE AND WHITE HAMMOCK, was $21.25—NOW $15.25

CLOSE-OUT REFRIGERATORS

75-lb. size—top-icing style, was $27.50—NOW $22.50

50-lb. size—side-icing style, was $31.00—NOW $24.50

100-lb. size—top-icing style, was $35.00—NOW $26.50

100-lb. size—side-icing style, was $42.00—NOW $31.50

All hard-wood construction and well insulated. Other sizes and styles in proportion.

SHEA & BURKE

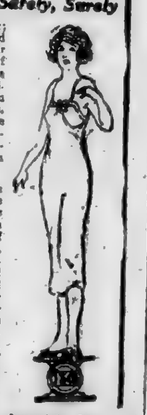
COMPLETE HOME FURNISHERS. "THE HOME OF THE SQUARE DEAL."

TO TAKE OFF FAT

New French Formula Reduces Pleasantly, Safely, Surely

If you are suffering from excess fat; if your heart, lungs and liver are affected by the burden you are carrying; if your joints are stiffened with rheumatism, or if you are a victim of high blood pressure due to obesity, you can now be relieved. No matter how little or how much you want to lose, and no matter all the pills, creams, diets and exercises you have tried before, SAN-GRI-NA, a new discovery of a French scientist, is guaranteed to relieve any fat man or woman or your money is refunded.

SAN-GRI-NA is the formula of a French physician. It has been used in Europe by millionaires, actresses and hundreds of fat men and women, because it is simple, easy, pleasant and harmless. If you are burdened with rolls of ugly fat, make this test to-day. First, weigh yourself, then go to any good drug store and get a box of SAN-GRI-NA, take two small tablets before each meal, and watch your fat disappear. One French woman, now in America, states that she reduced 50 pounds in eight weeks with this marvelous discovery, and has never regained one pound since. You do not have to follow any diets or exercises, but be sure and get the right tablets called SAN-GRI-NA, as nothing like it has ever before been offered to the American public.



On sale at any good drug or department store. If your druggist does not carry San-Gri-Na in stock he can get it from his wholesaler or you can send a money order or check for $1.50 direct to the Scientific Research Laboratories, 1841 Broadway, N. Y. City.

BREED THEATRE

TODAY AND SATURDAY

David Belasco's Stage Success

"The Warrens Of Virginia"

From the Play by Wm. C. DeMille —WITH— ROBERT E. LEE and U. S. GRANT as the Central Figures.

"SUNKEN SILVER" Comedy — News

—COMING SUNDAY— MARSHALL NEILAN'S THE SPORTING VENUS With BLANCHE SWEET, RONALD COLMAN and LEW CODY

FOOD SALE

Arranged by Ladies of St. Mary's Memorial Church and C. C. of Catholic Women

SATURDAY AFTERNOON JULY 25th

BOSTON STORE.

PALACE

—NOW PLAYING—

5—Corking Good Acts—5

Another Mid-Winter Bill

—On the Screen—

"Texas Bearcat"

With BOB CUSTER

Continuous Performance Tomorrow—1.30 to 10.30.

BROADWAY

Mat. 2:15——Eve. 7 to 10:30

ENTERTAINMENT PLUS!

5—FINE ACTS—5 VAUDEVILLE

BETTY COMPSON in "GARDEN OF WEEDS"

SUNDAY—A FUN RIOT "40 WINKS"

EXCURSIONS TO BLOCK ISLAND

STEAMER NELSECO II.

Daily Round Trips Between Norwich, New London and Block Island—June 26th to Sept. 9th. One way fare $1.50. Round trip on same day $2.00. Children under 12, half fare. Special rate excursions every Tuesday and Thursday, $1.50. Fare between Norwich and New London Only 35c.

Eastern Standard Time Schedule

TO BLOCK ISLAND	FROM BLOCK ISLAND
Lv. Norwich, 8:00 A. M., Mon. to Fri.	Due Norwich ..... 5:30 P. M.
Lv. Norwich.... 10 A. M., Sat. Only	Due Norwich ..... 7:30 P. M.
Lv. Norwich.. 9:15 A. M. Sun. Only	Due Norwich..... 6:30 P. M.

For Daylight Saving Time add one hour.

WESTERLY

With Battery E, 243rd, coast Artillerymen of Westerly at Fort H. G. Wright, Fishers Island, every man was reported to date as happy in camp. Tuesday morning artillery drill was held with Capt. John F. Datson as battery commander, with Lieut. Andrews with the range section as range officer and Lieut. Neely manning the gun with the gun crew as emplacement officer. At the 11:50 officer call, Battery E, of Westerly, was again awarded the banner by Col. Wells. In the afternoon, Lieuts. Andrews and Neely led the battery out for infantry drill, Capt. John Datson, of the Westerly battery, was officer of the day, from 7 o'clock Tuesday night until 7 o'clock Wednesday night.

Tuesday night a dance was held by the enlisted men of the regiment while the bachelor officers of the regiment were making plans for a moonlight party on the beach when each officer will have a young lady as guest. The firing of the big guns at Fort Wright is plainly felt and heard at Watch Hill and even in Westerly, it being generally observed that the Westerly batterymen are frequently heard from."

While workmen in the employ of the Westerly highway department are repairing and building the shoulders along each side of the highway leading from Westerly to Watch Hill, the location of the removed tracks and ties of the former electric car line to Watch Hill is being filled in, the surface rolled with a steam roller and the top filling packed down by the smaller town roller, the surface having been oiled. Along the narrow stretch of highway near No-Bottom pond, between the pond on one side and the Pawcatuck river (Babcock cove) on the other, fence posts have been set on which will be stratched a heavy wire fencing, thus eliminating a bad hazard for motorists.

Under direction of the Westerly police department, Thursday, the street crosswalk markings in Dixon Square were again outlined with white paint.

Miss Agnes Nelson, 16, and her brother, Edward, 19, of Wood River Junction, R. I., had a narrow escape from sudden death Wednesday night shortly before 6 o'clock. Miss Nelson was driving a Ford touring car accompanied by her brother, across the New Haven railroad crossing and had almost made the crossing when the east-bound Pittsburgh express, due in Westerly from Providence at 6 o'clock struck the rear end of the automobile demolishing it. Both occupants were thrown out, receiving scratches and bruises and the boy was cut about the head and face. Dr. Milton Duckworth, of Carolina, was called to attend them, and on Thursday they were reported as comfortable. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nelson, of Charlestown, R. I.

At her home, 30 John street, Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, the funeral services were held for Mrs. Zangrandi, Rev. G. Edgar Tobin, rector of Christ church, Westerly, and Rev. William F. Williams, rector of Calvary church, Stonington, officiated. Many friends were present and the floral offerings were beautiful. Burial was in the family lot in River Bend cemetery, the bearers being George S. Holt, of Manchester, N. H., a son-in-law; Eugene Clark and Robert Valentine, of Westerly; Frank F. Dodge, of Stonington, and Basil B. Wood, of Amherst, Mass. Mrs. Zangrandi was born in Gehren Thuringia, Germany, and lived 25 years of her life in London, England, before coming to Westerly.

Asa O. Jewett, grand commander of the Knights Templar, of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, whose death occurred Thursday morning in Glacier National Park, while en route to the 36th triennial grand encampment of Knights Templar from his home in Newton, Mass., was well known in Westerly, where he has visited several times.

Early visitors to the beaches of Weekapaug, Pleasant View and Watch Hill, had an opportunity Thursday morning to view a high and heavy surf which followed the severe storm of Wednesday night. The wind swung from the south to west and northwest so that it was of short duration. The acting of the storm caused thousands of tons of sands to be dragged seaward from the East Beach, extending from Watch Hill to Weekapaug beachway, leaving exposed to view many tons of small stones where there had formerly been a smooth expanse of sandy beach.

Word received Wednesday by Westerly relatives reported Edward J. Fenelon and daughters, Bessie and Mildred, as arriving in Paris, where all were in good health and having a pleasant trip. Before moving to Yonkers, N. Y., Mr. Fenelon and family resided in Westerly.

Judge and Mrs. John W. Sweeney, of Providence and Watch Hill, on an automobile trip in Canada, a letter received by Westerly friends stated Tuesday, were in Quebec, where the high temperature found caused them to return to the cooling breezes of Watch Hill.

Miss Ellen Gilmore, of Providence, has been the guest of Miss Betty C. Chapman at her home in Avondale, R. I.

Miss Ruth Gardiner has returned to her home in Gardiner, Mass., after being the guest in Westerly of Miss Lois Babcock.

STONINGTON

Misses Margarite Brooks, Frances Joseph, Hilda Gaynoe, Mary Kelley, Helen Chesebro, Olive Delagrange and Elizabeth Browning arrived home Wednesday evening, after a week's visit as church delegates to the Northfield, Mass., convention.

Mrs. Helen M. Zinger and family, of New York, will be at the Gilmer's house during August.

Mrs. Mary L. Sliney, Miss Margarite Sliney and Miss Jeanne Colethurst were in New London Thursday.

H. C. Gorman, of Providence, was a business caller in Stonington, Tuesday.

Rev. Albany J. Smith left Wednesday on a trip to Block Island in the Sea Gull. A number of friends accompanied him.

Eugene Rose, of Water street, injured his right foot Tuesday by stepping on a pitchfork in the feed yard.

Master John W. Shields, of East Providence, is visiting his cousin, Miss Kathleen Gallant.

Misses Ellen Faust and Alice Matson, of Pomeroy, St. Louis, are visiting at Lord's Point.

Mr. Edwin G. Hollister, of Chicago, was a business caller here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman H. Carstairs and son Philip, of London, England, have arrived at their summer home at Weekapaug.

Mrs. John Humes and daughter of Quiambaug, are in Easton, Pa., for two weeks' visit.

The July covenant meeting of the First Baptist church was held Wednesday evening.

Herbert West, a local farmer, has sold to Peter Martin, a New York artist, his farm lands and house, known as the Jesse Y. Hull place. The farm is situated about a mile and a half north of Stonington borough and commands a magnificent view. Mr. West and his sister have resided there for the past nineteen years. The artist plans to take possession this Fall and Mr. West is to retire from farming and take a rest. He has sold milk around Stonington borough for thirty-three years, and his customers are sorry to see him go.

Miss Ellen Twomey, of Summit street, fractured her ankle Monday. She was taken to St. Joseph's hospital at Willimantic, in the ambulance.

Schooner Altana M. Jegger was in port Wednesday.

Misses Frances and May Blair, of East Providence, have returned home after a visit with Miss Kathleen Gallant.

Miss McCarthy, of Providence, was a business caller here Tuesday.

The cradle roll of the First Baptist church held a social Thursday afternoon in the church parlors. Both children and grownups were invited.

William Green, of Westerly, was a caller here Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Nugent, Misses Katheryn Phebe and Edith Nugent, of Westerly, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Lear, Wednesday evening.

The S. C. B. A. held its July meeting in the K. of C. home Wednesday evening. Mrs. Catherine Coffey gave a report on last week's convention. Other important business was transacted.

A few from Stonington attended the try-out of the 250-gallon pumper made by the Buckeye Co., of Ohio, at New London, Monday evening. The truck cost the government $3,750 when it was purchased for Fort H. G. Wright, several years ago, but was recently sold at a great scaling down in price.

STAFFORD SPRINGS

At the recent annual meeting of the Stafford Savings bank the following trustees were elected: Christopher Allen, Charles B. Pinney, Hannibal Alden, Robert W. Smith, A. T. Mitchell, E. E. Penny, Richard W. Ellis, Charles F. Chandler, Richard M. Fisk, Charles H. Moore, Fred Wildey, Hannibal Alden was elected second vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Kinsman have returned from a two weeks' vacation spent at Greenwich and Newport, R. I., and Atlantic and Sterling, Mass.

The Stafford Springs Agricultural society is erecting a new 24-stall steel stable on the fair grounds. Hereafter, there will be no horses stabled under the grand stand.

Harold Graves, of Springfield, Ill., is visiting his cousin, Cyril Bradway, in West Stafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Engly and children, of Le Roy, N. Y., are visiting relatives in Stafford Hollow.

Miss Harriet Page, of Chicago, is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Roberts.

Lees Furness, Jr., is visiting Torrington relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Logan expect to sail, Sunday, for a visit to Scotland.

Alexander Peppin, 68, of Hydeville, died at his home Wednesday, after a brief illness. He was a native of Canada and is survived by several sons and daughters.

Mrs. Alphonse Garvais is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Nadeau, at Indian Neck.

An increase of about 20,000 school children each year has strained the school facilities of Los Angeles. In 1923 the increase was nearly 28,000. A bond issue in 1920 of $9,500,000 for school buildings proved insufficient to meet the need, and the city last year voted an additional $24,640,000 for new school buildings, land, and equipment.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH OR PLATES

FOR JULY ONLY—20 PER CENT. DISCOUNT ON ALL PLATES.

What is more disagreeable than an ill-fitting plate?

The proof of a good plate is the FIT. No matter how good the material used, or the price of the work, if it does not fit perfectly it is no use to you.

Our artificial teeth are the best in the world. No money can buy better. Our prices are the lowest quoted on this class of work. In times of soaring prices it is worth your while to call and investigate before going elsewhere. It will cost you nothing.

Thousands of people wear artificial teeth. In many cases you could tell they were false a block away. Our plates are made with teeth so near like your own natural teeth as to color, making and shape that you cannot tell them from nature's own.

All of our impressions are perfect before we try to build; without that it would be useless to finish the plate.

We try all plates in the mouth before they are finished, so that they can be altered if necessary.

When we get a perfect impression, and expression, we go ahead and finish the work.

DR. D. J. COYLE, DENTIST,

208 MAIN STREET. NORWICH.

Over Cosgrove's Shoe Store.

HOURS: 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. PHONE 512.

JEWETT CITY

Mrs. B. R. Gardiner and Misses May and Bessie Blake are spending a week at Beach Pond, in one of the Briggs cottages.

Mrs. Edward J. Farrell, of Wauregan, spent Thursday at Mrs. E. H. Hiscox's.

Mrs. Annie L. Frost, of Poquetanuck, has been a guest at Mrs. E. B. Cheney's.

Miss Kate McElligott came home from Uncas-on-Thames, Thursday, to spend a week.

Arthur J. LeClaair and Edward Blanchard have returned, after spending a few days' vacation at Camp Riverdale, on the Connecticut river.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Babcock, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gray, Mrs. Earle E. Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Eli Nicols and family attended the Grover-Cook wedding in Danielson, Saturday. John A. Chadwick was the best man.

Mrs. Charles Langbehn and son, of Norwich, spent Wednesday at Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gray's, to celebrate her father's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Gray entertained, Wednesday, Mrs. Albert Woodmansee, Mrs. Jennie Dawley and Mrs. Jessie Bitgood, of South Manchester.

Mrs. John Blake went, Thursday, to visit her daughter in Providence.

A little girl on Slater avenue picked up a check book on the Plainfield bank Thursday, and brought it to the Bulletin correspondent.

W. A. Noonan, of Boston, was in town Thursday, looking up the possibility of establishing a public accountant's office.

Mrs. F. E. Robinson is entertaining her father, O. M. Harvey, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson and son Earl start for Charleston, West Virginia. They will be accompanied by Abraham Zegzer, who will visit his brother. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ricketts and son Jay will return with Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, after the middle of August.

CLARK'S CORNER

Mrs. P. J. Hassey and daughters of Springfield, Mass., are visiting relatives in town.

Mrs. Jeremiah McCarthy and Miss Mary Leary, of Willimantic, visited Mrs. Hassey recently.

Miss Marion McCarthy of Willimantic, has been visiting her cousin, Viola J. Navin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bates of New Haven were recent guests of Mrs. P. J. Navin.

Moses Balcom is critically ill at Austin Wade's.

Mrs. Louis Barbero and son, were at Amos Stone's last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Palmer, Philip J. Palmer and Mrs. Louise Palmer called at Allen Hewett's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gourdon Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Putnam and daughter of New London, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Murray, of Springfield, have been guests of Mrs. John Hammond.

William H. Scott, having completed his training after four years at Fort Wright, has taken a position in Springfield, Mass.

Funeral services for Mr. Voght, were held at his home here Thursday at ten a. m. Rev. John H. Knott conducted the services. Burial was on the Burnham cemetery. The floral pieces were beautiful.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight of Norwich called at Mrs. Amos Stone's on Tuesday of last week.

Master Roger S. Moran has been spending the week with Mrs. Ida Harvey, at Hampton.

CENTRAL VILLAGE

Leslie Gauthier, a lad of twelve, has a badly sprained ankle from jumping. Dr. Gardner placed the leg in a plaster cast.

H. L. Knox, of Norwich, was a visitor here Thursday.

Several cases were tried in town court this week.

Work on W. Hall's new building goes steadily on.

PUNISHMENT FOR CRIME IN CHILE IS MODIFIED

Punishment for crime in Chile has been much modified through recent penallegislation inspired by groups of sentimentalists. In the first application of the new penal code recently 10 inmates of the prison in Valparaiso were granted provisional liberty by the ministers of the court of appeal. Under the law these court officials will make half yearly visits to the penal institutions, go over the record of every prisoner who has served half of the period of his sentence. If the record shows exemplary conduct the prisoner may be granted provisional liberty if the prison head approves. The newspapers of Chile hail the penal code as a step toward modernization, but suggest that it would have been well to draw up the law so that the character of the offense would be given consideration in the pardon board in its consideration of applications for parole.

Caged With Flowers

In the great plum-growing districts of Northern California bees are being caged with the trees to insure pollenization of the blossoms with pollen only from other trees of equal quality, says Popular Mechanics. Much loss has been occasioned to growers in the past due to cross-fertilization of their pure-bred plums with pollen from wild species and inferior varieties of the domestic fruit, resulting in crops of poorer grade and smaller size. A framework covered with strong mosquite net is built around each tree and a hive of bees in installed in the inclosure when the blossoms begin to appear. Freshly cut flowers from plum trees of equally good grade with the one caged are supplied to the insects each day and from these blossoms the little workers carry the pollen to their home tree. Cages have also been equipped with wheels so that an entire orchard can be covered with only a few of the inclosures in a short time.

When a man begins to remember many incidents of his boyhood days that never happened he is in his second childhood.

THE PLAUT-CADDEN CO.

2 day BARGAIN SALE

TODAY and TOMORROW

of Summer Furniture and Other Home and Personal Necessities

Wicker Chairs and Rockers

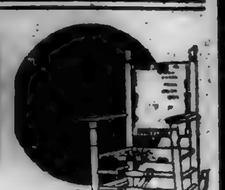
Upholstered Seats and Backs

Splendid choice of styles and colors with backs and spring seats upholstered in cretonne or tapestry. See the very special value we are offering for only $12.50

Fine 3-Door Refrigerators

$33.00

A popular refrigerator for the average home. Has white enamel steel lining with seamless rounded corners. Very well built. In Golden oak finish.



Porch Rockers

or Chairs with cane or slat backer and cane seats. Strong, large and comfortable. Natural finish. $6.50 value— Now $4.90

Upholstered Wicker Suite $58

Of closely woven willow construction, finished in choice of colors. Comprises settee, arm chair and arm rocker with upholstered backs and loose spring cushions developed in pretty cretonne. Exceptional value at this price.

Fibre Tables With Wood Tops and Shelves

Handsome well made tables with 16x24-inch oval tops. Finished in gray and brown. $25 values— SPECIAL $17.50

Couch Hammocks

of heavy brown or gray duck with upholstered spring seats. Furnished with chains and hooks only. SPECIAL $12.90

WHITE WICKER WARDROBES

Handsomely finished in white enamel with cameo decorations, 32 inches high, 16 inches square, with four storage compartments— Our Very Special Price $14.50

Willow Round Top Tables.. $7

Odd Wicker Settees

Here is a chance to get a bargain in a settee. Finished in ivory or brown, with cretonne upholstered backs, and spring seats. Values to $50— SPECIAL $29

$75 Longues

of close fibre construction, finished in brown and ivory. Splendidly upholstered over fine springs. One is slightly storeworn but in perfect condition— VERY SPECIAL ... $49

Whittall Rugs of Lifetime Quality at 20% Off.

An opportunity you don't often get. Take advantage of it now while you can. You can get no finer rugs than WHITTALL'S.

Their beauty and quality are unsurpassed. In 9x12 sizes.

Reg. $70 WHITTALL Peerless Body Brussels— Now $56

Reg. $105 WHITTALL Teprac Wiltons— Now $84

$132.50 WHITTALL Anglo Kirmans Now .. $106

$150 WHITTALL Anglo Persians $120

SERV-EL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATION

Electric Refrigeration Is Cheaper and Better.

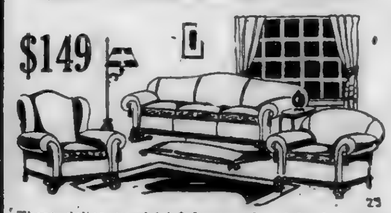
Investigate the many money-saving advantages of SERV-EL. See it in operation here.

The Perfect Oil Burner for Heating Your Home

WILLIAMS OILOMATIC HEATING

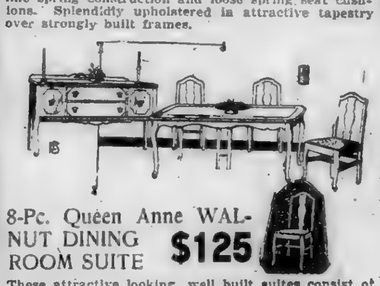
Install One in Your Home for Next Winter. Investigate it Today.

$225 Overstuffed Suites



$149

These suites consist of large sofa, club chair and fireside wingback chair with seats, backs, edges of fine spring construction and loose spring seat cushions. Splendidly upholstered in attractive tapestry over strongly built frames.



8-Pc. Queen Anne WALNUT DINING ROOM SUITE $125

These attractive looking well built suites consist of Oblong Extension Table, good size Buffet, Arm Chair and five Side Chairs with genuine leather seats.

Regular $2.50 UKULELES

Well made of birch in brown mahogany finish. Perfect scale. Cedar Pegs .. $1.84

Two Fine Values in 26 Pc. Sets

23 Piece Set Community Par Plate Guaranteed for 20 years. Chest FREE. $12.00

26 Piece Set Rogers 1847 Guaranteed for 50 years Chest FREE. $22.40

Buy On Our Club Plan—Pay $1 Weekly

15 Jewel Wrist Watches

Fully Guaranteed

Ribbon bracelet style, with beautiful 14k solid gold cases in choice of popular styles. Regular $30 value. $19.50 Pay Little As $1 Week

Men's High Grade 17 & 19 Jewel Watches

20 and 25-year thin model white, green or yellow gold filled cases. Adjusted and guaranteed. Reg. $40 value. $29.50 Pay Little As $1 Week

24-INCH PEARL NECKLACES

Indestructible Pearls of a color closely resembling the oriental. Regular $10 value— EXTRA SPECIAL .. $3.90

Libbey Cut Glass Bowls

A timely special in 8-inch genuine Libbey bowl of great beauty. Reg. $5.00 value—Now $3.90

NORWICH — Two Big Stores Under One Big Service Organization! — NEW LONDON

The Plaut-Cadden Company

EST. 1872

Liggett's The Safe Drug Stores

MAIN AND SHETUCKET STREETS

More for Less

Buy all your Drug Store needs at Liggett's—and SAVE!

Size
$1.25 Coty's Face Powder	75c
60c Mulsified Cocoanut Oil	35c
50c Pepsodent Tooth Paste	29c
50c Pebeco Tooth Paste	29c
50c Ipana Tooth Paste	39c
25c Kolynos Tooth Paste	19c
50c Squibb's Dental Cream	35c
65c Kotex	49c
25c Syke's Comfort Powder	23c
50c D. & R. Cold Cream	43c
25c Mavis Talcum Powder	19c
25c Cuticura Soap, 3 for	55c
$1.00 Three Flowers Face Powder	75c
15c Lux	10c
$1.00 size Gillette Blades, 10's	77c
10c Jontcel Hair Net, 3 for	25c
35c Palmolive Shaving Cream	29c
$1.25 Father John's	87c
$1.50 Mary T. Goldman Hair Color Restorer	$1.14
25c Atwood's Bitters	23c
$1.50 Maltine Combination	$1.00
75c Mellen's Food	59c
$1.50 Scott's Emulsion	75c
40c Castoria	25c
$1.00 Waterbury Compound	69c
$1.20 Syrup of Pepsin	79c
$1.00 Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound	79c
$1.00 Beef, Iron & Wine	79c
10c Rexolive Soap 3 for	25c
15c Rexall Toilet Soap—Friday and Saturday 2 for	16c
Thermos Lunch Kit	$1.98

LUNCH AT OUR FOUNTAIN

Brick Ice Cream 20c Pint—40c Quart

—CANDY—

Liggett's Little Bits from the East, lb... $1.50
Billie Burke's Chocolates, lb. 80c
Saturday Cherries ... 39c
Jordan Almonds, lb.. 59c
Canada Mints, lb.... 29c
Salted Peanuts, lb.... 39c
Old Fashioned Gum Drops, lb. 49c
Liggett's Times Square, lb. box 79c
Orange Slices, lb..... 29c

BRING YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS TO LIGGETT'S

Your Favorite Snapshot Enlarged, Colored and Framed, $1.62.

—Week-End Cigar Specials—

15c LA ROSA AROMATICA
5 for 60c—10 for $1.20.
13c FLOR DE MURAT
5 for 50c—10 for $1.00.
13c MAJOR PERFECTO
5 for 50c—10 for 98c.
10c MAJOR MAJOR
5 for 45c—10 for 86c.
10c LA PROVIDENCIA EPICURE
5 for 45c—10 for 86c.

40c First Aid Adhesive Plaster—One inch by 5 yards. Protects cuts, bruises, scratches and skin abrasions. Special During July 33c

Big Stationery Value—One pound (about 80 sheets) of fine fabric finish Lord Baltimore Writing Paper and 50 envelopes. Regular at 90c Special During July 79c

The Swimming Season is Here You Will Want One of These

Athletic Swim Kaps

Made of pure gum rubber, strong and serviceable. Tight fitting diving style for men and women.

Regular at 65c Special During July 49c

Pantry Needs at Sale Prices

Pure Foods at Money-Saving Prices

Regularly	Week-Ends	Regularly	Week-Ends
30c Coffee (1 lb.)	2 for 76c	35c Pure Grape Jelly	2 for 36c
50c Opeko Tea (½ lb.)	2 for 66c	35c Lemon Extract	2 for 41c
25c PureCocoa (½ lb.)	2 for 26c	40c Salad Dressing	2 for 41c
82c Pure Olive Oil	2 for 1.19	30c Beef Cubes	2 for 31c
45c Jam	2 for 49c	35c Peanut Butter	2 for 40c
33c Orange Marmalade	2 for 46c	25c Cake Chocolate	2 for 26c

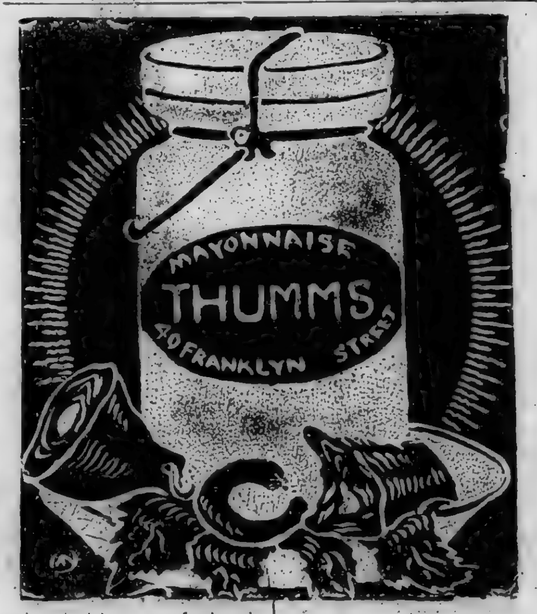
USE YOUR DOUBLE ROASTER

or broiler to cook one of our roasts or thick steaks and if it is properly seasoned you will truly have a "dainty dish to set before a king." We warrant the quality of our meats. They never disappoint.

NATIVE BROILERS
NATIVE FOWL
GENUINE SPRING LAMB
HEAVY BOSTON BEEF
HOME MADE CHICKEN SALAD

Goff's Specialty Market

Tel. 2010. 18 Bath Street. Free Delivery.



A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

BORN

WILLIAMS—In Los Angeles, Calif., July 8, 1925, a daughter, Lois Jean, to Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Williams (Jean Kellas), formerly of Norwich.

DIED

BIGELOW—In New York city, July 20, 1925, Edward Payson Bigelow, husband of Mary Francis Ashley and son of the late Edward Bigelow and Caroline Boles, of Malden-on-the-Hudson.

HOPKINS—In Rockville, R. I., July 22, 1925, Palmer L. Hopkins, aged 56 years.

LAMB—In Woodland, Calif., July 23, 1925, suddenly, Ella May Patridge, wife of Fred Lamb, formerly of Norwich, aged 45 years.

BECKWITH—In Waterford, July 22, 1925, Alonzo L. Beckwith, aged 85.

MARRIED

EHRLER—In Westerly, R. I., July 22, 1925, a son, Walter F. Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ehrlef, of Watch Hill.

CRANDALL—In Ashaway, R. I., July 22, 1925, a son, Lloyd Robert, to Mr. and Mrs. Julian T. Crandall.

FUNERALS

KERR—In Norwich, July 22, 1925, Miss Sarah Kerr, aged 81 years.
Funeral services Saturday, July 25, at 2 o'clock (S. T.), at Wood's funeral parlors, Danielson.

SMITH—In Norwich, July 23, 1925, Mary J. Herrick, wife of Albert D. Smith, in her 85th year.
Funeral services at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William R. Perkins, No. 143 McKinley avenue, Saturday, July 25, at 2:30 (D. S. T.). Burial private at convenience of family.

KINNEY—In Norwich, suddenly, July 22, 1925, Annie Amelia Shepard, wife of William Kinney, of Norwich Town, aged 54 years.
Funeral services at her late home, 18 Town street, Saturday, July 25, at 2:30 p. m. (D. S. T.). Burial in Maplewood cemetery.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Church & Allen
15 MAIN STREET
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
Lady Assistant
HENRY E. CHURCH
WM. SMITH ALLEN
Telephone 328-3

GAGER
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER
PROMPT SERVICE—DAY OR NIGHT

Shea & Burke
Funeral Directors
41 Main Street

The Henry Allen & Son Co.
38 MAIN STREET
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
Lady Assistant Telephone 410-2
DAVID H. WILSON

GEORGE G. GRANT
UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER
Phone 2729 Providence St., Taftville

CUMMINGS & RING
Funeral Directors and Embalmers
322 Main Street
Phone 238-2 Lady Assistant

HOURIGAN BROS.
FUNERAL DIRECTORS
Norwich and Jewett City

DANIELSON

LOUIS E. KENNEDY
DANIELSON
Undertaker and Embalmer
Special Attention to Every Detail.

CENTRAL VILLAGE

F. W. Tillinghast & Sons
UNDERTAKERS AND EMBALMERS
CENTRAL VILLAGE, CONN.
Tel Moosup 282-2

WILLIMANTIC

Avery & Van Zandt
Succeeding JAY M. SHEPARD
Established 1870
Funeral Directors, Embalmers
Sixty and Sixty-Two North Street
Willimantic, Conn.

Killourey Bros,
FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS
16 Union Street, Willimantic, Conn.
Phone 290 Lady Assistant

LAWN MOWERS
WE HAVE THEM.
Good ones at low prices for the quality.
We have handled this make of machine over ten years. Some of the first we sold are still being used.

The HOUSEHOLD
Bulletin Building 74 Franklin St.
Telephone 531-4

WANTED—Female

WANTED—Refined young lady, neat appearance, to work in vaudeville act. Experience unnecessary. Must be strong and healthy. Standard family act. See Mrs. Jackson, Palace Theatre, before Saturday night. jy24d

WANTED—Housekeeper in good family. Answer Box 25, Norwich Bulletin. jy23d

WANTED—Position in store or as nurse maid by High school graduate. Write Box S-77, Bulletin. jy23d

WANTED—Nursemaid, experienced, to care for two children; New London near beach; good wages, Box 100, Bulletin. jy22d

WANTED—Housekeeper. References required. Address P. O. Box 45, South Windham. jul3dtf

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

WANTED—Miscellaneous

HIGHEST prices paid for used furniture and antiques. Louis D. Ward, Box 389, Norwich. Phone 861-13 Norwich, 806 Willimantic. mar17FMW.

MIRRORS resilvered and glass for every purpose. Norwich Glass Co., 9 Bath St. Tel. 1463. nov21d

WANTED—Would like to buy about 50 folding chairs; must be low in price. W. N. Block, Phone 2291. jy22d

FLORIDA PROPERTY WANTED—Acreage Lots, Etc., direct from owner; give location, description, lowest price, terms; quick transaction. P. O. Box 854, Springfield, Mass. jy22dtf

WANTED—Property owners to know that under my new real estate system I will buy your property direct or will sell for you on a commission basis. For particulars write Wm. M. McNicol, Maynard Bldg, Jewett City. jun22d.

WANTED—second hand antique furniture. Best prices paid. A. Bruckner, 101 Franklin St. Phone 712-4. nov27d

WANTED—Antiques, tools and second hand furniture. H. S. Tiger, 48-50 Water St. Tel. 2143. nov27d.

WANTED—Cash paid for old furniture. H. H. Ward, 16 Water St., Tel. 36. TuThStfapr9

WANTED — Highest cash prices paid for second hand furniture, household goods, antiques, store fixtures and tools; try me before selling. N. Weisinger, 32 Market St. Phone 2152. nov27d

WANTED—To buy poultry and calves; highest prices paid. Call 1405. nov27d

FREE HOMES

wanted for 9 year old Catholic girl and 13 year old Catholic boy. Children are not related. Apply to

STATE BUREAU OF CHILD WELFARE
171 Capitol Ave., Hartford, Conn.

WANTED
TO BUY USED CARS.
WEST SIDE GARAGE
194 West Main St.—Red Front

WANTED—Male

WANTED—Neat appearing men to represent the largest direct selling organization in America. Experience unnecessary. Apply between 8 to 9 a. m. and 7 to 7:30 p. m. Mrs. S. Chapman Bldg. jy24d

WANTED—Salesmen, Dist. Mgrs. 60 per cent. Profit. 125 varieties brushes, mops, etc. Exclusive rights. Neway Brush Co., Hartford, Conn. jy24d

WANTED—Retired middle aged man for outdoor position. Good opportunity for right party in New London county and adjoining counties. No investment. Write Heath Nurseries, Manchester, Conn. jul1d

WANTED—Wanted for steady position as solicitor and collector, a man residing in Danielson. Write Box 344, Danielson, Conn. jy22d

WANTED—Immediately, one drawerin for worsted and woolens. The Mystic Worsted Mill, Inc., Mystic Conn. jy22d

WANTED—Man 28-35 years of age for outside work, selling and collecting. Must not be afraid of work and to serve employer who assures promotion and good pay to deserving men. Selling experience not necessary as we train you. We pay salary and commission. Must become bonded. Address Box H. M. L. care of Bulletin. jul14dtf

WANTED—Carpenter work of all kinds. Estimates cheerfully given for large or small jobs. M. Krugman, 97 Mechanic St. Tel. 2660R. je19d

Large Manufacturing Company
Opening office in Norwich and vicinity. Local business man with some executive ability and $1,200 capital, will be considered as manager. Investment secured, connection permanent, $400 per month. Strict investigation invited. For personal interview address Box 208, Bulletin office. Give telephone number.

WANTED
Firemen and Coal Passers.
AMERICAN WOOLEN CO.
Norwich Mill
Thamesville.

ASHLAND CASINO
JEWETT CITY
DANCE TONIGHT
Every Friday Until Further Notice.

WANTED.
THREE MEN
Energetic and Trustworthy, good pay and steady work, for the largest company of its kind in the world for Norwich and surroundings
APPLY AT AUDITORIUM HOTEL
Between 7.00 and 8.00 p. m. (D. S. T.)
Ask for Mr. Charest

AUCTION

AUCTION NOTICE
BY WITTER BROS.,
Auctioneers
Office 42 Main St., Danielson, Conn.
We will sell at Public Sale for Mrs. Leon P. Franklin at her residence at Hope Valley, R. I., on the Escoheag Road, on WEDNESDAY, JULY 29
At 10 O'clock, A. M. (S. T.)
a choice lot of antique and modern furniture of practically every known description. If stormy next fair day.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin To Let Advertisement Will Rent It

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—8-room house with garage, 5 minutes walk from center of city; 7-room cottage with garage, in best residential section; new 6-room cottage on West Side; 6-room tenement for rent on Laurel Hill avenue. Inquire of Grace E. Parkhurst, 57 Cliff St. Phone 1460. jy24d

FOR SALE—Brand new 6-room semi-bungalow type of house; close to trolley, factories, stores, school; all improvements; large lot. A bargain at $5,500. Coates, 50 Franklin St. jy23Thstfn

FOR SALE—Two chamber sets, sofa, desk, chairs, oil stove and oven, and various articles for household use, as antiques. Thursday and Friday, 21 Scotland Road. jy23d

FOR SALE—Genuine Brewster piano in beautiful mahogany case, in perfect condition, guaranteed for 10 years. Our price $165. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—Thorough bred English Bull pups; pedigreed; prize-winning stock $60 up. Mrs. John Howard, 75 Norwich Ave., Taftville. jy24d

FOR SALE—21 shares, L. A. W. Preferred stock, par value $10 per share; 10 shares L. A. W. Common Class B, no par value. Best offer takes it. Write Box B-36, Bulletin. jy23d

FOR SALE—Genuine brand new Victrola at half regular price. You can join our Christmas Club at these prices. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—For only $88 you can buy a New England upright piano in excellent condition in every way. A real bargain. Terms if desired. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Wassermann 88-note player piano, carefully used and modern equipment, $490—a very low price—in easy payments. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich, Conn. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—Team wagon; 8 H. P. gasoline engine; power ensilage cutter. Inquire Joe Kaminski, R. D. 4, Norwich. jy22o

FOR SALE—A grocery and meat business; one of the best in city of Norwich A. C. Burdick, Jewett City, Thayer Bldg., Norwich. jy22dtf

FOR SALE—House and store. 41 Thames St. T. E. Babcock, Norwich. jul8d

FOR A LIGHT LUNCH—At The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 34 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—New 6-room bungalow on West Side. Tel. 1162-2. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—One Glenwood gas range; good condition. Phone 2091. jul13dtf

FOR SALE—Farm wagons and tools all in good condition. Can be seen by appointment. Telephone 1131 Willimantic. apr13d.

FOR REFRESHMENTS, Call at The Broadway Soda Shoppe, 34 Broadway. jul7dtf

FOR SALE—Nine-room house and garage, at a low price; in best part of Norwich. Immediate possession. Phone 1431. jul1d

POLICE PUPPIES—Highly pedigreed; ideal farm dogs, playmates for children; come visit the largest German Shepherd Dog Kennels in the world. Phone or write. Palisade Kennels, East Killingly, Conn. jul3dtf

FOR SALE—A fine summer place, overlooking beautiful lake. $500 cash required; balance easy terms. Wm. M. McNicol, Jewett City. jul8d

FOR SALE—Very desirable place in Waterford; 7-room house with lots, sheds, etc., on the River Road below Uncasville, not far from Eastern Conn. Power Co. plant. For particulars see H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul9d

STOVE PARTS for all makes of stoves. We are the best equipped place for stove parts in New London. S. Kaplan, 90 Bank St. feb12d

AWAY FROM THE HEAT OF THE CITY
an old New England town, 3 acres, high elevation, conveniently located, with fine old colonial house with gambrel roof, open fireplaces, running water, bath, in best of condition, fine shade, apple orchard, for only $2,200 for a quick sale. Easy terms.
TRYON'S AGENCY, Willimantic, Conn.

FOR SALE
A Very Choice Property, very desirably located in Norwich Town. Must be sold and will be a big bargain for someone.
For further particulars inquire of
JOHN A. MORAN
REAL ESTATE BROKER
Norwich, Conn.

FOR SALE
A COTTAGE HOUSE AND LARGE LOT, ALL IN FIRST CLASS CONDITION WITH IMPROVEMENTS. PRICED VERY LOW FOR A QUICK SALE.
SITUATED IN THE VILLAGE OF PLAINFIELD, ABOUT 5 MINUTES WALK FROM RAILROAD STATION. FOR PARTICULARS,
CALL PHONE 196
MOOSUP DIVISION

FOR SALE
New modern six-room bungalow with about an acre of land, $5,500.
Exceptionally fine new two-story and attic house, tiled bath room, large airy sleeping rooms; in best residential section. Unusual opportunity.
Splendid cottages at Groton Long Point from $3,500 up, and shore lots at attractive prices.
New summer cottage near Niantic for $2,500, with two extra lots.
Archa W. Coit
Telephone 2288-2. Disco Building.

FOR SALE
3-FAMILY HOUSE
LAUREL HILL AVENUE
Price $7,000.
LARGE LOT AND GOOD LOCATION.
James L. Case
Real Estate Department
40 Shetucket Street.

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin For Sale Advertisement Will Sell It

FOR SALE

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 37 Division St. jy24dtf

FOR SALE—A new milch Jersey cow. John Cubanski, R. D. 6, Poquonnock. jy24d

FOR SALE—Square piano in fine condition. Price very reasonable. Phone Willimantic Div. 1405-4. jy24d

FOR SALE—Four shares of Common, 3 shares Preferred L. A. W. Finance Corp. stock. Louis E. Simpson, 82 W. Main St. jy24d

FOR SALE—Brand new Victor single faced Red Seal and double faced Black Label records, $ for $1.00. A limited quantity at this price. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d

FOR SALE—Brunswick cabinet phonograph, 29 records and Daily Dozen. Price $60. Phone 1162-13. jy23d

FOR SALE—Almost brand new Wasserman, full 88-note piano, $110. We are offering this instrument at a new price, because we want to sell it quick. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin st. jy23d

FOR SALE—Brand new radio adapted Brunswick Console phonograph, all equipped with compartment for batteries, set, all wiring, aerial posts and loud speaker connected to Brunswick horn; cost $200. Our price $110. Hanover-Curland Co., 24 Franklin St. jy23d,

FOR SALE—A 9-room house, garage, hen house and garden, near car line; also house lot near Backus Hospital, car every 15 minutes; and 6-room summer cottage at Lord's Point; all furnished. Adams Tavern, Phone 1063-2. jy23dtf

FOR SALE—Aster plants, 15c doz.; celery plants, $1.25 hundred. Wm. F. Wade, 520 Boswell Ave. Phone 1708-2. jul20WFSt

FOR SALE—Household goods of all descriptions. W. V. Bullard, Elmville, Conn. jy22d

FOR SALE—Crawford used upright piano in fine condition, with fine oak case. Only $265 with terms to suit. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—$49 buys a used upright piano in good condition. Easy terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jy21dtf

A BALD HEADED MAN FROM WEST Mystic says he's wrote a beautiful song called "There will be no parting tacks." Who sez cigars went up? Van Der Meer 8c cigar, 3 for 20c; No. 63 Cigar, 4 for 35c; Krohn's Special, 5 for 35c; Lucky Strike cigarettes, 50 in a tin for 85c; Helmar, 50 for 90c. Fagan's Smoke Shop, opp. Woolworth's. jy21d

FOR SALE—A newly built 3-family house and store combination located in borough of Jewett City, Ct. Good opportunity to start a business and get a revenue from rents as well. Easy terms. William M. McNicol, Owner, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City. jy18d

FOR SALE—Newly built 3-family house located on Mt. Pleasant St., in the city of Norwich, known as the Meyers property. Inquire of owner or William M. McNicol, Agent, Maynard Bldg., Jewett City, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—Bargain. Six-room house at Harrison's, west side Thames river; owner must sell. See H. B. M., at Bulletin office. jul14d

FOR SALE—While they last—our entire stock of genuine new Victrolas at half price. Now is the time to get your Victrola. Easy payment terms. Plaut-Cadden Co., Main St., Norwich. jul17dtf

Invest Your July Dividends —and— Surplus Funds in 6 per cent Guaranteed First Mortgages Secured by income paying Real Estate.
We can supply you in limited amounts.
Full information upon application.
James L. Case
Investment Broker
40 Shetucket Street.

FOR SALE
The dwelling house, 2 barns, various useful out-buildings and 13 acres of good land known as the Martin Place and is located in Lebanon Center on the highway from Lebanon Village to Willimantic. The house is on a picturesque site and has a beautiful and extensive view of the surrounding country and is about five miles from Willimantic and eleven miles from Norwich over good roads. The property is in a good neighborhood convenient to churches, district and high schools. The property is regarded by all persons as a very attractive and charming home place. The price is low and terms of payment will be made convenient to buyer. For all information apply to
WILLIAM H. SHIELDS of Norwich,
Or To
GEORGE E. MARTIN,
Lebanon Center, Conn.

RAMBLER ROSES.
Now is the time to trim your Rambler Roses. Let us do it for you.
Maplewood Nursery Co.
Tel. 986-2. Norwich, Conn.

FOR SALE
One of the finest bungalows located in an excellent neighborhood in Norwich Town, having all the improvements, including steam heat, electric light, running hot and cold water, excellent sewerage system; there is a garage. This property is in the pink of perfection and must be seen to be appreciated. For full particulars inquire of
FRANCIS D. DONOHUE
Young's Block—Phones—Norwich, Conn.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST—Between Lebanon and Willimantic. Suitcase marked N. A. M. C., containing clothes, registered Govt. bonds and other valuables. Phone Lebanon 50. Reward. jy23d

FOR SALE—Horses

FOR SALE—Nice black mare, saddle and family horse; good, kind and gentle. Also Concord buggy, rubber tires; in fine condition; nearly new harness. James H. Hyde, North Franklin, Ct. jy18d

FOR SALE—Or will exchange for stock. Five work horses. O. H. Main Tel. 489. je20tf

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

TO RENT

FOR RENT—7-room tenement, 37 Happy St.; improvements; $20 per month. Inquire Barber Shop, 11 Main St. jy24FMW

TO RENT—A modern 7-room apartment. 15 Spalding St. jy24d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Tel. 1341-2, or inquire Disco Bros. jy24dtf

TO RENT—Upper tenement, five rooms with improvements. 14 Church St. jy24dtf

FOR RENT—Six-room flat, gas and electric light; 117 Franklin St.; price $20. Tel. 1092-3. jy24d

TO RENT—Cottage at Lord's Point for two weeks in April. Nellie York, Plainfield, Conn. jy24d

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, light housekeeping, and garage. 11 Elm St. oct29WFM

TO RENT—In best residential section, apartment, 6 rooms and bath; with garage. 61 Williams St. jy23d

TO RENT—Four furnished rooms with bath; within walking distance of business section. Phone 870. jy23d

TO RENT—Attractive 8-room cottage with garage; modern. Phone 759. jy22dtf

TO RENT—Six-room apartment, all improvements; also hardwood floors, $25. 330 Franklin St. Inquire 314 Franklin St. jy22dtf

TO RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. 38 Union St., Martin House Annex. jy22d

TO RENT—Tenement of 4 rooms, with all improvements, at 56 Union St. jy22d

TO RENT—Apartment of five rooms. Rent reasonable. 17 Spruce St. Inquire 136 Washington St. Phone 1153-4. jy21d

TO RENT—Two light housekeeping rooms at 41 Boswell Ave. jy21dtf

TO LET—Three light housekeeping rooms. 43 Union St. Please call evenings. jy20dtf

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms. Tel. 628-5. jy16tf

TO RENT—Tenements, all improvements. 44 Laurel Hill Ave. jy20dtf

TO RENT—Two furnished rooms, centrally located. 376 Main St. Tel. 975-2. jy18d

TO RENT—Garage at 339 Broadway. Inquire at Broadway Fish Market. jul16dtf

FOR RENT—A-1 furnished rooms for gents or lady. No. 8 North Main. jul15dtf

TO RENT—Five rooms, all improvements, including heat; with or without garage. Inquire 210 West Main St., from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. jul11tf

TO RENT—Furnished rooms, for gentlemen. 16 Laurel Hill Ave. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Nicely furnished rooms, 170 Broadway. Phone 923. jul13dtf

TO RENT—Furnished room, 124 Broadway. Ring second bell. jul11dtf

TO RENT—Apartments and Garages on Broadway; all modern conveniences; best location in city. Enquire of Shea & Burke. Call 896-2. tfjune5

TO RENT—Tenements in Greeneville and Franklyn St. Inquire at Goldstein's Shoe Store, 46 Franklin St. Phone 717-4 may26d.

TO RENT—12-room apartment, 48 Church St. Inquire Charles W. Cassidy, 46 Main St. je26tf

TO RENT.
$15 Stores on Shetucket St.; $20 Stores on Shetucket St.; $15 Garage on Shetucket St.; $35 Store on Washington Square; $25 Apartment; $112.50 Store on Main St. PASNIK REALTY Co. Phone 2149 or 298.

FOR RENT.
Six-Room Apartment at 60 Cedar St.
Seven-Room Apartment with Garage at 119 Williams St.
J. K. PANEK
301-302 Disco Bldg. Tel. 2736

FOR SALE—Automobiles

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE—1924 Lexington touring, a real automobile; 1924 Chevrolet touring, $300, been privately owned, over-size cords and many extras; 1923 Maxwell, newly painted, good tires, with new motor, $325; 1921 Dodge touring in good condition, bargain $200; 1919 Cadillac, just overhauled throughout, bargain $325; 1923 Ford coupe, perfect condition, $140. The above cars are reconditioned cars and will never be offered at these low prices again. Small payment down, balance in 10 months. 62 Shetucket St. jy24d

FOR SALE—Ford sedan, 1923. Inquire 226 High St., Baltic. jy23d

FOR SALE—1923 Gray touring car in perfect condition; has new cord tires; $75. Act quick. Norwich Auto Radiator Works, 58 Shetucket St. Phone 1137-5. jy23d

FOR SALE—1918 Ford touring car, $35; 1922 Ford roadster, $70. Hodes Bros., 381 West Main St., cor. Mt. Pleasant St. Tel. 1391. jy23dtf

FOR SALE—Chevrolet sedan, 1919; newly painted; all good tires; cheap to quick buyer. Apply 15 Carley Ave., Jewett City. jy23d

FOR SALE—Buick roadster, 1921 model; fine condition; new paint. Box 120, Bulletin. jy22dtf

FOR SALE—1922 Ford, closed delivery. West Side Garage, 194 West Main St., Red Front. jy22dtf

FOR SALE—1924 Ford coupe; excellent condition; equipped. Bulletin Box F-94. jy21dtf

FOR SALE—One late model Ford suburban, $295. Shannon's Auto Sales, Tel 560, Stonington, Conn. jy21d

FOR SALE—1924 Hupp sedan, 1924 Hupp touring, 1923 Hupp 5-pass. coupe, 1922 Hupp touring, 1923 Maxwell touring. C. V. Pendleton, 118 Franklin St. jul16d

NEW AND USED Harley-Davidson motorcycles. Easy terms. Prices reasonable. J. P. Donovan, 25 W. Main St. apr10d.

FOR SALE—Indian and Ace motorcycles, 1925 models, now on display; 74 cu. in. $350; Scout $290; Prince $235, delivered 496 North Main St. feb4d

Business Notices.

AUCTIONEERS

PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS
WITTER BROS.,
PUBLIC AUCTIONEERS,
Office 42 Main St., Danielson, Ct.
Eighteen years of practical experience conducting sales of every known description throughout the Eastern United States.
Telephones:—
Office 32-12.
C. WITTER 31-14.
A. WITTER 248
Danielson

ARCHITECTS

FRANCIS DE GANGE, Architect
Telephone 1585, New London, Conn.
Consult us before doing any building
mar11d

WHEN YOU WANT to put your business before the public, there is no medium better than through the advertising columns of The Bulletin.

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

AUTOMOBILE ACCESSORIES

OLD CARS BOUGHT in any condition. HODGE BROS.
Corner West Main and Mt. Pleasant
Telephone 1394
Automobile parts at one-half Price
apr20d.

PARTS THAT ARE STANDARD EQUIPMENT
ON THE BEST BUILT CARS IN AMERICA ARE SOLD BY Norwich Auto Parts Co.
43 N. Main St. Phone 2118.

Battery Service
The Best 1-Day Battery Charging
Radio Rental Batteries 75c Week.
Capacity, 40 Batteries every 8 to 10 Hours
VULCANIZING
The only shop in the city equipped to repair all sizes of REGULAR and BALLOON Tires.
The KE HAW KE System
ALL REPAIRS GUARANTEED.

Lane Motor Supply
170 Franklin Street.
PHONE 1570.

OVERHAULING AND REPAIR WORK
OF ALL KINDS
Automobiles, Carriages, Wagons, Trucks and Carts
Mechanical Repairs. Painting. Trimming. Upholstering and Wood Work. Blacksmithing in All Its Branches
Scott & Clark Corp.
67 TO 613 NORTH MAIN STREET

BOWLING AND BILLIARDS

BOWLING AND POCKET BILLIARDS
AT THE
AETNA BOWLING ALLEYS,
Majestic Bldg. Tel. 1918

CIGARS

CIGARS
Whitestone Cigars are $70 per thousand.
J. F. CONANT, 13 Franklin St.

CASTINGS
Gray Iron and Semi-Steel Castings
—Also—
Pattern Making and Machine Work.
Daily Trucking Service Between Norwich, New London and Vicinity.
BABCOCK PRINTING PRESS MFG. CO.
NEW LONDON, CONN.
Tel. 1120.

CHIROPODIST

A. G. THOMPSON, P. S., Chiropodist, Foot Specialist (protect your feet). Suite 7-8, Alice Bldg., 321 Main St., Norwich, Conn. Phone 735. nov10d

COAL AND WOOD

WOOD—Best quality hard wood and slabs. Tel. 615-4. H. E. Beard & Son. jan31d

COAL, SEASONED WOOD and kindlings delivered anywhere, 6 baskets for $1.00. Phone 729. Park Wood Yard, 301 Franklin St. 93d

COAL, Seasoned Wood and Kindlings in large or small quantities, delivered anywhere. Phone 504 or 1282-4. R. Shapiro, 9 Willow St. nov22d

CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS

LONGO & DUFF CO., General Contractors and Builders. Best workmanship at reasonable prices. Estimates cheerfully given. Phone 1473-3. je30tf

AMBROSE SULLIVAN
Telephone 1874-5
We give estimates on Concrete Foundations and Cellars

Doors, Windows, Frames.
Inside Finish.
Mill Work of All Kinds.
THE PECK-McWILLIAMS COMPANY.
Central Wharf.

INSURANCE

IT MAY MEAN YOU
You may be the next victim of a fire. Don't take chances. The small annual premium is negligible to the firm protection from money loss it affords. Take out a policy today.
Isaac S. Jones
INSURANCE AND REAL ESTATE AGENT
RICHARDS BUILDING
91 MAIN STREET

A Bulletin Want Advertisement Will Get It

Business Notices.

MONEY TO LOAN

LOANS
to Pay All Those Small Bills That Are Worrying You
WE FURNISH THE CASH
and you repay us in monthly installments to suit your means.—
On $ 50 you pay $ 5 monthly
On $ 75 you pay $ 6 monthly
On $100 you pay $ 8 monthly
On $150 you pay $10 monthly
On $200 you pay $10 monthly
On $300 you pay $20 monthly
plus legal interest on unpaid balance as designated by State law. Loans made to housekeepers on home furniture without removal, and to anyone on guaranteed note. We operate under State Banking Dept. supervision and are licensed and bonded under State laws. For details, call, write, or phone 1470.
New England Equity Corp.
Members of Chamber of Commerce
ROOM 206 THAYER BLDG.
16 FRANKLIN STREET

PAINTING AND PAPERHANGING

GENERAL PAINTING and Paperhanging. Phone 2388-13. D. Kudlik. je21d

GEORGE NADOLNY, painting, paperhanging; estimates given. 19 Maple St. Tel dec29d

PAINTING, Housecleaning, Lawns. Handy Man. Jackson Bros. Phone 1361-2. je3d

PRINTING

PRINTING of all kinds promptly and neatly done. Estimates promptly and cheerfully given. The Bulletin Co., 69 Franklin Street.

ROOFING

Roll Roofing, $1.00 Per Roll
Slate Surfaced, $2.00 Per Roll
C. A. Ransom, 527 Concord Ave., Cambridge, Mass. Dept. M.

SUMMER RESORTS

TWO WEEKS VACATION WHOLE Family—Any dates, quaint log cabin cottage camps, comfortably furnished, housekeeping, good beds. Rents $14 weekly up. Ocean Bathing, dancing, refined, references. Hills Colony, Southampton, L. I. jy22d

THE COLONIAL
Sound View, Conn.
Homelike Hotel—Good Meals
Pleasant Rooms—Reasonable Rates
Sandy Beach—Safe Bathing.
A. T. BUCKLEY, Proprietress.

TRANSPORTATION

MONTAUK STEAMBOAT COMPANY
Between New London, Conn., and Greenport and Sag Harbor, L. I.
Leave New London from wharf foot of State street daily, except Sundays, *10:30 a. m., 3:45 p. m. | Leave Sag Harbor 7:00 a. m., Greenport 8:00 a. m. and 1:15 p. m. *Runs to Greenport only.
Delightful one-day excursion. Automobiles accommodated. Send to General Passenger Agent, Montauk Steamboat Co., Pennsylvania Station, New York, for road map of Long Island. tfje15

LONG ISLAND SOUND DAY and NIGHT SERVICE
Round Trip Fare $4.00
Via New London Line
Except Sun. & Mon. Daily
Lv. New London 9:00 A.M. 10:00 P.M.
Due New York 4:30 P.M. 6:00 A.M.
Special Midnight and Daylight Trips from New York
(Eastern Standard Time)
Popular One Day Outings
Table D'hote Meal Service
Music and Dancing on Day Trips
The New England S. S. Co

TRUCKING

BROADWAY TRANSFER
Transfers Everything
1357-2—PHONE—977-23

LOCAL, long distance moving and trucking. P. Angelone. Telephone 2059-3 tfapr27d

LONG DISTANCE TRUCKING. Very low rates. R. Blinderman. Phone 1342. tfapr4d

Established 1872. Telephone 115
ARTHUR H. LATHROP
Auto Trucking, Teaming and Expressing. Furniture and Piano Moving.
Shetucket Street.

C. D. JOSLYN, 293 West Main Street. We move everything anywhere. Special attention given to moving boilers and machinery. Telephone 1583-3.

Long Distance Moving and Expressing. Zimmerman 17 Roswell Ave. Tel 1361

WELDING

WELDING
Electric and Acetylene.
Frames and Axles welded and straightened. Machine Parts and Farm Machinery. Cylinder Blocs welded on car.
No Pre-Heating or Warping.
General Blacksmithing
Truck Bodies
Spring Work.
NORWICH WELDING CO.
95 North Main St. Phone 214.

WALL PAPER

NORWICH CHAIN WALLPAPER CO., 21 Willow St., near Broadway Theatre. We specialize in 10c, 12c and 15c papers; half usual price. T. E. McClenathan, Mgr. feb5d

Connecticut College

The remembrances for the Backus hospital have been many and varied this past month.

On Flag day, ice cream, fancy wafers and one hundred small flags were furnished for the hospital people by the Elks.

Three course tickets for Chautauqua were provided for the nurses by Dr. Gildersleeve.

On June 22, ice cream was furnished by the ladies of the Central Baptist church.

The three flower beds in front of the hospital were very beautifully filled with flowering plants by Otto Ernst of Gedulding. These beds are a source of pleasure to the patients and their arrangement was greatly appreciated by the management.

July Fourth was made very pleasant at the hospital. The holiday committee furnished pretty favors of red, white and blue baskets, filled with candy for the trays. Ice cream was provided by the Rotary club, and the donation committee solicited 13 loaves of home-made cake from the ladies of the Greeneville Congregational and St. Andrew's Episcopal churches.

A large basket of cherries from a friend and five dollars for ice cream from a grateful patient have been appreciated by the nurses.

Frequent gifts of fresh flowers to brighten the wards, magazines and old linen have been received.

The members of the production committee have met weekly at the hospital and thus far have made four hundred and eighty-nine surgical dressings.

The committees for the month comprised Miss Hannah Crowell, chairman; Mrs. Frederick T. Sayles, Miss Helen Williams, Miss Annie Williams, Miss Jane Bill, Mrs. Walter T. Camp and Mrs. Ralph Miner.

Substitutes for the month were Miss Ella Norton, Miss Margaret Sayles and Miss Zenia Trumbull.

During the month seventy-two silver dessert dishes of the new silver service furnished by the Auxiliary were brought into use.

At a meeting of the finance committee it was voted to complete the new silver service for the 26 private trays. The silver in use at the hospital has already proven its worth. The trays now present dainty, attractive service so necessary to tempt appetites this weather.

Mrs. Allyn L. Brown, chairman of the membership drive committee, reports an enrollment of thirteen hundred and sixty members with more to be heard from.

Fresh vegetables are coming in daily from the hospital farm. Haying is not completed but seven tons have been put in.

Vacations for the nurses are arranged so that four nurses are absent at one time. This means an added burden for the ones still on duty and the hospital work does not lessen and must be done. Very willingly the nurses assume their tasks, cheered by the thoughtfulness and loyalty of a grateful public.

The present personnel of the training school will be augmented by the entrance of the fall class. Applications are being received from those who are eager to take advantage of the training offered. This class will enjoy the comfortable quarters of the new nurses' home.

Care of Leather

That leather or good quality kept for ten years, under ordinary conditions, does not lose more than 15 per cent of its strength was shown by experiments of the Bureau of Standards. Belting stored in the laboratory for a decade was found to be only slightly weaker than new material of the same grade, indicating that articles made from it would be preserved for an indefinite period if subjected to normal atmosphere, ventilation and light, while dampness and sunlight appear to have a harmful effect on the leather. It is believed the results of the studies will enable manufacturers of shoes, luggage and similar goods to alter shipping and storage practices, since such articles may be capable of many years of service even though they might not reach the user until one to three years after they are made.

Quick Auto Work

From Poland recently came word of an astonishing sort of automobile, according to Popular Science. It is the invention of an engineer named Kernowski, and he calls it the "Polonia," after his native land. It is designed to bring about the utmost simplicity and speed in making repairs and replacements of parts.

In a recent public test two machinists and a helper took down the motor, gear set, universal and rear axle in 14 minutes, and had the car completely reassembled in 36 minutes additional. The car has a 6-cylinder motor, develops 45 horsepower and is said to be capable of a speed of more than a mile a minute.

End of Tuberculosis

Twenty-five years from now tuberculosis will be as uncommon in the British dominion as leprosy is today, according to Dr. C. W. Saleeby of the London Medical Institute. He also predicts that infant mortality will be reduced to almost nothing and that successful ways will be discovered to combat cancer. Largely through preventive methods the death rate from tuberculosis has steadily decreased in the United States. In 1910 the fatalities from this affliction of the lungs were nearly 140 each 100,000 population and in 1923 less than 100.

Rare Exhibits of Pearls

In a shop in Regent street, London, is being shown a remarkable collection of pearls gathered from fisheries all over the world. There are white Australian pearls with their silver sheen very beautiful, but cold in color, that can be worn triumphantly by the pale blond. The warm magnolia-tinted pearls from Ceylon, of the golden and brown pearls found in the depths of the Red Sea, are ideal for darker women, as are the rare black pearls found only in the gulf of Mexico by pearl fishers searching for black mother of pearl.

Monument to Burro

Members of a Colorado mining association have decided to erect a stone or bronze monument to the burro in recognition of the help the animal has given in the development of the West, according to Popular Mechanics. Although the butt of jests and sometimes the victim of ill treatment, the burro's good qualities, dependability, strength and endurance long have been appreciated by pioneers, prospectors and adventurers who have been seeking fame and fortune off the beaten trails.

At the International Amateur Radio Congress in Paris recently, Esperanto was adopted as the official international radio language. It furnishes the medium for addresses and special courses broadcast from numerous European stations. Esperanto has a place in the curriculum of schools in many of the cities of Europe. Courses are frequently conducted for policemen post-office, hotel, and industrial employees, and for Boy Scouts.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MARKETS AT A GLANCE.

New York.

Stocks strong; American Can at record high leads upturn.

Bonds irregular; trading interest lags.

Foreign exchanges steady; Danish kroner soars to new high.

Cotton strong; bullish bureau report.

Sugar lower; increased offerings of duty free.

Coffee higher; better spot demand.

Chicago.

Wheat barely steady; damage reports northwest.

Corn steady; sympathy with wheat.

Cattle dull.

Hogs higher and active.

MARKET WAS STRONG.

NEW YORK, July 23.—(A. P.)—Stock prices resumed their upward movement with fresh vigor today with correction on the market's technical position brought about by yesterday's reaction laying the ground work for constructive operations. High priced industrials assumed the leadership of the advance, many of the active issues scoring gains of 1 to 6 points.

The pivotal industries and standard rails joining in the recovery, general short covering was induced, accentuating the rally which began in a moderate way in the early dealings. As many rates were lowered late in the day, speculators for the decline abandoned all attempts to prolong recent depression and prices bounded upward in all sections of the list.

American Can, responding to reports of consistently improving earnings and intimations that a long awaited recapitalization plan was nearing completion, was the most spectacular performer of the day. Soaring more than eight points, it crossed 210 to the highest price in its history and closed [illegible] six points net higher at [illegible].

Under the impetus of this movement, [illegible] demonstrations were registered in other volatile issues such as Mack Trucks, United States Cast Iron Pipe, Havana Electric Railway, General Electric, Savage Arms, the Commercial 5 cents issues and General Baking which jumped 15 points. Fleischmann, Ward Baking "B" and Coleman shared in the unrestrained interest in these issues scoring 1 to 3 points.

Demand for the merchandising issues [illegible] today with buying ordered on an assessment of the [illegible] and chain store issues. [illegible] was lifted more than [illegible] to a new top at 159 1-2 and advances of 2 to 4 points each [illegible] Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, Department Stores [illegible].

Oil and coal shares were stimulated by expectations that Bethlehem will report satisfactory earnings for the second quarter. The [illegible] public after the market closed showed that earnings on [illegible] shares were only about [illegible] less than in the preceding [illegible] while [illegible] during the [illegible] twenty percent above [illegible].

Operating profits in June earnings reported [illegible] buying interest in the railroad shares. Atchison, Atlantic Coast Line and [illegible] issues scoring modest [illegible] while forward movement [illegible] Ann Arbor, Kansas, Wheeling and Lake Erie [illegible] that merger possibilities [illegible] various ways [illegible] unchanged.

[illegible] new high price [illegible] [illegible] above 22 cents [illegible] in the foreign exchanges. [illegible] cents of other [illegible] were in [illegible] with demand [illegible] Canadian francs [illegible] 2-4 [illegible] Belgian francs [illegible] Italian lire [illegible] Swiss francs [illegible] Spanish pesetas [illegible] Greek exchange [illegible] Norwegian krone [illegible] Swedish krone [illegible] Danish krone [illegible] Argentine pesos [illegible] Brazilian milreis [illegible] Japanese yen [illegible] unchanged.

STOCKS.

	High.	Low.	Close
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	67¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	99
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	159½
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	37¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	10¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	105¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	45¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	99¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	110¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	84
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	23¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	64½
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	135
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	30
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	86
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	92¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	208
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	102¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	23¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	52¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	44¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	5¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	138
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	42
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	90¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	28
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	12
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	67¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	118
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	117¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	84¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	33
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	77¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	28¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	118¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	111
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	92¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	57¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	25¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	24
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	49¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	13¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	141¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	37
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	82
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	18¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	15¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	63½
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	52¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	51¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	33¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	93¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	8
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	36
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	11¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	24
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	8
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	3¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	75
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	117
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	115
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	10
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	37¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	74½
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	11¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	49¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	34¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	39¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	24
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	18
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	111
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	106¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	18
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	15¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	37
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	141¾
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	37
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	82
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	18¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	15¼
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	63¼

PARTLY CLOUDY TODAY: AND TOMORROW

Norwich Bulletin

1796 1925

NORWICH CONN. FRIDAY JULY 24, 1925

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS DESPATCHES

The Bulletin.

Norwich Friday, July 24, 1925

THE WEATHER.

Conditions.

Pressure continues low over Quebec and the St. Lawrence valley while the northwestern disturbance has advanced to South Dakota.

The outlook is for showers on Saturday in the Ohio valley, the lower lake region and the interior of the Middle Atlantic states. It will be slightly warmer on Saturday in the lower lake region and the Middle Atlantic states.

Winds.

North of Sandy Hook: Fresh southwest and west weather partly overcast Friday.

Sandy Hook to Hatteras: Fresh west and northwest and weather partly overcast Friday.

Forecast.

For northern and southern New England: Partly cloudy Friday and Saturday, not much change in temperature.

Observations.

The Bulletin's observations show the following changes in temperature and barometric changes Thursday:

	Ther.	Bar.
7 p. m.	64	30.00
12 m.	78	30.10
6 p. m.	66	30.10

Highest 78, lowest 66.

Comparisons.

Predictions for Thursday: Partly cloudy.

Thursday's weather: Generally fair, southwest wind.

SUN, MOON AND TIDES
(Standard Time)

Day.	Sun Rises.	Sun Sets.	High Water.	Moon Sets.
	a. m.	p. m.	a. m.	p. m.
20	4.31	7.17	9.50	sets.
21	4.32	7.16	10.31	7.51
22	4.32	7.15	11.10	8.58
23	4.33	7.15	11.50	9.53
24	4.34	7.14	12.30	9.55
25	4.35	7.13	1.11	9.56
26	4.36	7.13	1.50	10.54

Six hours after high water it is low water, which is followed by flood tide.

TAFTVILLE

The local postoffice was flooded Thursday morning with requests for residents of the village to make a statement of their 1922 income and forward it to the collector of internal revenue. There are very few people now in town who have been slighted by the government. In most cases, taxpayers have forgotten what their 1922 income was, but whether they are liable for the return or not they must dig up the information and send a statement of the same to the collector. No doubt in this sort of a check-up, some names are revealed who have not paid their tax nor made their return, but it seems that if every little hamlet in the United States is being combed in the manner that Taftville is, the expenditure of time and money must be enormous.

Miss Blanche Molleur of Providence street is spending several days with friends in Hartford.

Miss Roberta Crowe of South A street is enjoying an automobile trip through New York.

Many of the members of Loyal Victory Lodge, I. O. O. L. M. U. are to attend the second anniversary of Royal Liberty Lodge of Baltic, which is to be held next Sunday at Rocky Point, R. I.

Miss Isabel Barritt of Norwich avenue has returned from a stay of several days at Northfield, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Radke and family of Hunters avenue have moved to the house in Greeneville, which they recently purchased.

Louis Labrie of the Ponemah house is spending a month with relatives in Canada.

Cards received in town from Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse White and their son, James White of Pratt avenue, who are enjoying a motor trip to points of interest in Canada, locate them at Durham, P. Q.

Miss Jennie McSheffery has returned to St. Francis Hospital training school, after spending her vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McSheffery and family of South A street, and at Block Island, R. I.

Luther D. Packer and daughter, Miss Dorothy Packer of North A street are spending several days with relatives in West Redding, Conn.

Onesime Dorron of South A street is spending his vacation with relatives in Canada.

Napoleon Phaneuf of South Second avenue, is a patient at a Hartford hospital, suffering from eye trouble.

Miss Bernadette Dugas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prime Dugas of South A street is in Montreal P. Q., Canada, for a few days' stay.

Richard Proulx of Hunters avenue has resigned his position with the spinning department of the Ponemah company.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Oullet and family of Norwich avenue are now making their home with Mrs. Oullet's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Girard of North A street.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Pepin who recently returned from their wedding trip to points of interest in the Province of Quebec, Canada, are occupying their newly furnished home on North A street.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fournier have taken a house on Norwich avenue.

Miss Blanche Lucier of North A street, Miss Gertrude Watson, Miss Muriel Watson and Miss Lillian McGuire of Providence, R. I., are spending the summer at Mrs. Grace Lucier's cottage at Pleasant View, R. I., where Mrs. Lucier joins them for the weekends. Edward Lucier is also spending the summer at the cottage, making the trip to his work in his automobile.

The old chimneys on some of the houses on North B street, are being replaced by new ones.

Napoleon T. Parent of South Second avenue has returned from Boston, Mass., where he has been attending a convention of the Rexall druggists. On Wednesday, the convention had as its guests at Pemberton, President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and their son, John Coolidge, who visited the gathering at the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. Louis K. Liggitt. Mr. Liggitt is president of the United Drug Company.

John K. Olsen of Bridgeport, Conn., was a business caller in the village Thursday.

After spending the past week in town, the guests of Mr. and Mrs George J. Meyer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kendall and family of Lisbon, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burdick have returned to their home in New Bedford, Mass.

THEY WORK

WATSON STABILATORS

ASK YOUR DEALER OR GARAGE

TIPPECAN SCOUTS FIND WOMAN WHO STRAYED FROM PICNICKERS

A party of picnickers from Providence in a half dozen motor cars, requested the Scouts at Camp Tippecan at Beach Pond, Voluntown, to look for a woman who had wandered away from the picnic camp and was lost in the woods.

Scout Executive Benton assembled all the Scouts with the bugle call and organized them for the search. All shelters and possible hiding places were thoroughly searched and the motor boat cruised along shore and across the lake in a heavy rain storm.

After several hours hunting in a heavy rain the missing woman was located, relieving the anxiety of the picnickers. The rain did not quench the happiness of the Scouts who felt that a good turn had been accomplished. Henry Jordan is in camp already making targets and bows and arrows. An Indian ceremony will be held Thursday night and a minstrel show Saturday.

COLLEGE'S NEW DORMITORY SOON TO BE READY

Connecticut college's new dormitory, which is to be known as Colonial House, has reached the stage of near completion, except for a few minor details and the furnishings.

Stone from the quarry near the college at New London has furnished the material for the exterior, which has a portico of Doric columns accentuating the main entrance that leads into a wide hall dividing the building equally. The lounge occupies the entire south portion with an outlook on the east toward the Thames, the south towards the Sound, and the west over the hills. This room is intended to be used for dances, receptions and informal assemblies and can hold between 400 and 500 persons. The woodwork and walls are painted a pale drab green and contrasting notes are obtained through the use of yellow Sienna marble around the fireplace and gold and green brocade window hangings.

Opposite the entrance to the lounge is a corridor leading to the dining room. On either side of this corridor and opening on the hall are a reception room and a house fellow's suite consisting of sitting room, bedroom and bath. Two parlors precede the entrance into the dining room. The walls of these are covered with a toile de jouy landscape paper in sepia and ivory. The furniture is lacquered in black with touches of gold and red.

The dining room is done in Nile green with window hangings of chintz, having rather pronounced floral patterns on alternate stripes of tan and light Venetian red. The furniture is finished in a grayish walnut. The light fixtures are in pewter and brass. The main stairs start up opposite the entrance and stop at a landing opening on a balcony overlooking the hall and then divide and reuniting reach the second floor in front of a sitting room furnished with wicker and chintz. A corridor eight feet wide extends the entire length of the building. From this open 24 student's rooms each ten by 14 feet, lavatories and kitchenette. The architecture, decorations and furnishings follow the Colonial traditions. A number of pieces of antique furniture have been given to the building towards its furnishings.

PLACING MUSHROOM AT EIGHTH STREET CORNER

Employes of the street department were at work Thursday installing the mushroom traffic signal at the corner of North Main and Eighth streets, the first of this type to be used in this city. The signal is set where it will spread the north and south bound traffic on North Main street at this point and also those machines coming in from the railroad tracks to round the mushroom if they are to turn to the south. This will prevent them cutting the corner when making a left turn which was a practice that was all too prevalent on the part of drivers and was always likely to result in collisions with machines northbound on North Main street.

EAGLES PLAY PINOCHLE IN THEIR NEW HOME

The first of the weekly pinochle tournaments held by the Eagles in their new home on Cliff St. resulted in the following prize winners.

First, Henry Congdon 7340, second, Thos. Fields 7265, third, Hugo Feliciano 7265, fourth, E. J. Mullins 7110.

NOMAD GIVES IMPRESSIONS OF NORWICH TOWN

The contrasts presented by two week-end trips, one at Norwich Town and the other at a lake in New Hampshire, made the subject for a large part of The Nomad's column in The Boston Transcript on Wednesday this week.

The Nomad writes:

Lately the Nomad has passed two delightful week-ends in two very unlike places and under very diverse circumstances. Diversity, for that matter, is a desirable quality in week-ends. The Nomad does not, to be sure, agree with the vivacious Frenchman who said that there is no pleasure without variety. There is a great deal of solid pleasure in the world without variety; otherwise we should all go crazy. Nevertheless variety is a pleasing adjunct in most forms of human enjoyment and the Nomad confesses to a liking for week-ends that are different. All Boston week-enders are favored in this respect. They may go this week to the mountains and next week to the seashore. One may have a gorge of golf this week from Saturday morning to Sunday night at any one of a score of inland courses, and the next week he may be hanging blue sharks with a club off Sankaty Head. Seven days after that, he may be thrillingly, delightfully lost in the gorges and among the defiles of the White Mountains but with plenty of time left in the summer for disporting himself among mermaids in the softly lapping breakerlets of Falmouth. The only trouble is that it is impossible for any one season for one person to get around to all the widely diverse enjoyments with which our summer paradises supply him.

This brings us at last to the matter that the Nomad began to talk about, which was that of two particular week-ends that he lately enjoyed, namely, one at New Found Lake in New Hampshire and one at Norwich Town, Conn. One is a mountain and forest place, far from literature and colonial society, and the other a far-down-country village where most of the dwellings are pre-Revolutionary and are largely inhabited by the descendants of Colonial governors and of college presidents, as well as by authors and professors. The surroundings of New Found Lake are wild and romantic; those of Norwich Town are perhaps Arcadian, but in the sense that one lives there among green meadows and in old-fashioned gardens and beneath the shade of giant trees, while the atmosphere is that of the past, and of perfect gentility. The name of New Found Lake suggests recent discovery. The Nomad inquired how it came about, but could only learn that some remote time the lake was far aside from the avenues of travel, and came upon a later generation with the sense of discovery. Most people have not discovered it yet. There are few more romantic lakes in New England. The Nomad's old mountain friend, Cardigan, looms on the western shore, his dome-like head dreaming, seeming almost to nod, over a far-reaching landscape of shining blue waters and solemn forests. Such summer villages and cottages as there are hide themselves among the foliage. Motor boats are rare things; the silence of the nights is not broken, and the few canoes glide in the moonlight very much as the Indians' cockle-shells must have glided about long before the white man invaded the lovely region. Great pines climb the mountain sides, and beeches and poplars lean far out over the water. There is nothing noisy in the region except here and there a brook which comes tumbling down over the rocks—and the mountain torrent has immemorial license to be noisy.

But at New Found Lake life nature is at a discount, whereas at Norwich Town it is a large concern. Even on their gardens, and in the very midst of weeding, pruning and twining and training, the people discuss the latest book, and weigh philosophical questions. One could not imagine a place more favorable to meditation. To sit beneath a wide-spreading oak on a garden bench, overlooking a lovely meadow which is a gift to the people of the town for their perpetual enjoyment, while the cat-bird and the thrush or the didactic vireo warble and preach in the overhanging branches, must be of deepest advantage to any thinker. The maddening crowd is far away, but the near manufacturing city, with its seething mass of recently arrived immigrants, affords material for sociological study and suggestion for noteworthy essays. In the intervals of serious literary production or constructive polemics one may calm one's mind by climbing the hills and gazing down into the placid valley, or even by visiting the strange, weird, moving seventeenth-century burying-ground, whose undulating surfaces, devoid of trees, bare to the sun and the breeze, seem to carry the graves and their ancient stones up to the cloud-flecked sky. New Found Lake is nature at her purest, with man scarcely thought of at all. Norwich Town is nature as very much affected by man, tamed and humanized, but beautiful still, with thoughts of the future as well as the past drifting in upon the consciousness with the sound of the evening church bells.

BEAUTIFUL BANTAMS PRESENTED TO PARK

Mohegan Park has an added attraction for children, having received from James E. Ringland, Norwich Town, poultry fancier and breeder, a trio of Golden Sebright bantams, a breed which all poultry judges and breeders declare to be the most beautiful of all domestic fowl, and the crowning triumph of the fancier's skill. Mr. Ringland has bred these birds along well defined rules as described in the Standard of Perfection, and has no hesitation in saying, "They rival the lilies of the field in beauty of raiment."

Passed State Examination

Charles Turetsky, of this city, who took the state board examinations for assistant pharmacist licence on June 9, received a report stating that he successfully passed the examination.

NORWICH TOWN

Clyde M. Beebe of East Town street is to conduct a religious service at the Scotland Road hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock (daylight saving time). It is expected that there will be special singing during the service.

Miss Elizabeth Olaf, of New York, formerly of Norwich, was a visitor in Norwich for a brief time Friday, July 17th. Miss Olaf and a friend, Miss Pritschel, have been guests at the Mabrey house, Ocean Beach, New London.

Mrs. Edward A. Simms of Central Park, Long Island, and Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived Wednesday evening to be the guest for the next few weeks of Miss Etta Walker and Miss Rose Matassa, of Town street.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin L. Kennedy and daughter, Miss Alice H. Kennedy of Town street, took the sail to Greenport and Sag Harbor Wednesday.

Several Norwich Town families assembled at the rear of David M. Deans, property, Tuesday evening and held a frankfurt roast with rolls and doughnuts. This is the third gathering of its kind this summer, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean.

John Denker has returned to Brooklyn, N. Y., after passing a week's vacation at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Denker of Otrobando avenue, where Mr. Denker's family is remaining for the summer.

London Papers Received.

The Bulletin is in receipt of London papers from Emil M. Fox who with Mrs. Fox is spending the summer in Europe.

The next Olympic rowing regatta will be held at Amsterdam in 1928.

ROAD CONDITIONS AND DETOURS ARE REPORTED

Road conditions where highway work is in progress in eastern Connecticut are reported by the state highway department as follows:

Portland, Glastonbury-Portland road is under construction, road is open but is very rough.

East Hampton, Portland-East Hampton road is under construction but is open for traffic.

Stafford and Union, Stafford-Union turnpike is under construction, road closed, fair detour.

Glastonbury, New London turnpike is under construction, but is open for traffic, also short detour via River road.

Montville, Norwich-Hadlyme road is under construction. Open to traffic, shoulders incomplete.

Plainfield, Putnam-Norwich road, section is under construction. Open to traffic, shoulders incomplete. There are several points on this section where half width of the pavement is being used temporarily.

Lyme-East Haddam, Norwich-Hadlyme road, section is under construction. Detour over unimproved road around a section of the work.

East Lyme-Shore road, construction work is underway. Traffic going east from Old Lyme will use detour; traffic going west of Niantic will pass through the work.

Colchester-Hebron, Amston road is under construction. Detour over unimproved road.

Montville-Raymond Hill road, grading is being done, detour posted via Dolbeare Hill road.

Windham, Windham-North Windham road is under construction; open to traffic.

Bozrah, Norwich-Colchester road, section being paved with concrete in village of Fitchville. Traffic going from Norwich to Colchester will pass through the work; traffic from Colchester to Norwich will use detour as posted.

Chaplin, Willimantic-Hampton road grading is being done. Open to traffic.

Eastford-Phoenixville road, traffic being taken care of on the road. Proceed with care.

Colchester, Colchester-Norwich road is under construction. Detours posted.

CONNECTICUT HEADQUARTERS FOR MEMORIAL MONUMENT

Seth Low Pierrepont, state chairman of the navy and marine memorial association, has announced that Connecticut headquarters for the movement, which has as its purpose the erection of a monument in Washington to all Americans lost at sea, have been established in the navy recruiting office at 968 Chapel street in New Haven.

Mr. Pierrepont also announced that he has added four new members to his state committee. They are Mrs. William Sheffield Cowles, of Farmington, who has been appointed honorary chairman of the women's committee; Lieut. Commander T. M. Shock, of New Haven, who has been named secretary of the state committee; Henry M. Shartenberg, of New Haven, who has been appointed chairman of the merchants' committee, and Osborne A. Day, of New Haven, who has been named chairman of the bankers' committee. Governor Trumbull is honorary chairman of the state organization, Col. Charles W. Burpee is chairman of the Hartford county committee and Dr. Raynham Townshend is chairman of the New Haven county committee.

The Connecticut campaign is to be formally inaugurated on the 4th of August at a luncheon to be held in Hartford at which Governor Trumbull, and Admiral Bradley A. Fiske, national chairman of the Navy and Marine Memorial association, will be the principle speakers. Mr. Pierrepont hopes to close his campaign by September 30th. The campaign will not be conducted on a drive basis, Mr. Pierrepont explained, nor will paid collectors be employed. The quota to be raised in Connecticut is only $17,000 and approximately ten per cent. of this amount has already been solicited without any intense campaign work being done.

The memorial is to be built on a site, donated by congress, on the banks of the Potomac in Washington. It will cost $500,000 and one-fourth of this has been raised to date, by popular subscription. The national depository of funds is the Bankers Trust company of New York.

CORPORAL CITED FOR BRAVERY AT FORT TERRY

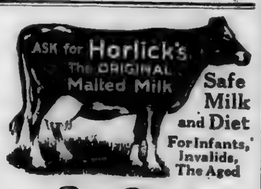
His hands bearing severe cuts, received while holding the cable of a De Havilland plane traveling 90 miles an hour towing a target, Corporal Daniel Hurley of Revere, Mass., was called before 100 guests and the staff of the first corps of cadets of Boston in training at Fort Terry, Wednesday and received citation for his "valor and bravery."

Corporal Hurley on his own initiative grasped the thin steel cable as it slipped at high speed through his fingers when the brake on the wind lass refused to function. His action probably saved the plane from being wrecked and the lives of both Hurley and his pilot, Lieut. Max Balfour, who knew nothing of the incident until the ship landed.

Wednesday was gala day for the friends of the veterans and friends of the unit, their guests for the day, arrived shortly after noon, headed by General G. D. Barrett, commanding the first coast artillery district, comprising the first corps area, and his staff. The delegation was met at the parade ground by a salute of 11 guns to General Barrett. Accompanying the veteran was Capt. E. J. King of the submarine base at New London and his staff.

Corporal Daniel Hurley, who is 42 and single, makes his home in the rare instances that he is out of the service or on furlough, with his brother, Edward J. Hurley, 80 Fenwood avenue Revere, Mass. He was born in Revere, and has been in the army or navy for 29 years.

His career started when he went to the Mexican border with the old 9th Massachusetts infantry, and he followed this with service in the Spanish war. He was in Italy at the time of the great Messina earthquake, and is now with the 5th aviation squadron at Mitchell field. He has been cited and commended for bravery on several previous occasions.



Safe Milk and Diet For Infants, Invalids, The Aged

Best Diet for Invalids

A well-balanced, palatable, easily assimilated food that nourishes and up-builds. Use at meals, between meals, or upon retiring, and when faint or hungry.

Prepared at home by stirring the powder in hot or cold water. No cooking.

STARTING SURVEY OF CONNECTICUT'S APPLES

(Special to the Bulletin.)

STORRS, July 23.—A state-wide survey of Connecticut's apple industry will be started this week under the direction of Prof. Irving G. Davis, head of the economics department of Connecticut Agricultural College. This is a part of a bigger New England-wide study of the apple industry being conducted by the experiment stations of the respective states, the purpose of which is to determine the position which the New England apple industry holds with relation to its competitors, and to get a better basis for forecasting and predicting production of the different varieties and grades of apples.

Professor Davis is meeting with members of the Connecticut Pomological Society today for the purpose of laying before them the plans of the survey. The whole study will include: (1) Studies on the farms to determine the varieties, age and condition of trees, methods of growing and selling; (2) Studies of competition to determine the regions which are competing with Connecticut orchardists for their markets, the extent of their competition, and to determine how strong their competition is likely to be in future years; (3) Studies of marketing to include an analysis of prices, methods of sale, costs of marketing, storage, a study of co-operative marketing organizations and the possibilities of marketing.

Assisting Professor Davis in this work is Summer A. Dole, formerly county agent in New Haven County, who will supervise the field work, Clemens J. Diemand of New Britain, and Harold O. Woodward of Columbia, both of whom will gather data on the farms, Jesse W. Tapp of the New England Research Council, Boston and V. A. Sanders of the New England Crop Reporting Service, Wakefield, Mass., will interpret the material for New England. All individual records gathered from the Connecticut fruit growers will be considered confidential.

Returns to Worcester.

Mrs. Rebecca Morarty, who recently spent the week end at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Byron H. Evans of Court street, has returned to her home in Worcester, Mass. In coming to Norwich, Mrs. Morarty accompanied her grandson, Edward Vander Pyl of Worcester, who with his family motored to a site near Ocean Beach, New London, and camped over the week end.

PROMISE FINE PROGRAM FOR BEEKEEPERS OF STATE

(Special to the Bulletin.)

STORRS, July 23.—Beekeepers of Connecticut who attend Farmer's Week at the Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs, August 4-7, will find much of interest and value in the program arranged for their benefit. This was the statement made today by L. B. Crandall, professor of apiculture at the state college, and the one in charge of the program for the beekeepers.

Tuesday and Wednesday, August 4 and 5, have been set aside for the beekeepers according to Mr. Crandall and at that time men prominent in the industry will give lectures. Among those taking part are Dr. George R. Wieland, noted paleobotanist of Yale University; Elmer G. Carr, deputy bee inspector in New Jersey; E. Payson Blanchard, advertising and assistant sales manager of the Bullard Machine Tool Co., of Bridgeport, James I. Hambleton and Professor L. B. Crandall. Plans have also been made for a series of demonstrations covering various phases of the beekeeper's work, which will be given in the college apiary.

"Honey Plants and Honey Bees One Hundred Million Years Ago," will be the subject of an illustrated lecture by Dr. George R. Wieland, Yale paleobotanist, to be given at 10 a. m., Wednesday, August 4. Dr. Wieland has been studying this subject for many years, and is reputed to be the best informed man in the world on fossil flowers. He made some of his most important discoveries in the Black Hills of South Dakota, and was responsible for having this section set apart as the Cycad National Monument by th elate President Harding. His talk will be illustrated by slides made from very thin layers of rock cut from these fossil flowers, and colored so as to bring out the arrangement of the different parts of the flowers. The method for cutting these sections and mounting them has largely been worked out by Dr. Wieland, as well as the facts regarding the existence of flowers bearing pollen at such a remote time in the history of the world.

Dr. Wieland has also uncovered in the ancient rocks wings of insects and other evidences which makes him firmly believe that honey bees were in existence at that early day, and that they gathered nectar and pollen from the flowers at that time in much the same way that they do from the flowers of our day.

"The Differentiation of Bee Diseases" and "Locality" will be the subjects of the two addresses to be given by Elmer G. Carr, deputy bee inspector of New Jersey. Mr. Carr, in addition to his official duties, is a prominent beekeeper and queen breeder, and one who understands his problems thoroughly.

"Principles of Merchandising for New England" will be the subject of an address by E. Payson Blanchard of Bridgeport, who is particularly well fitted to discuss how the beekeeper can find a profitable and dependable market for his products.

"Methods of Treating Combs from Diseased Colonies" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. Phillip Garman, who will speak Tuesday morning, August 4. Dr. Garman has been making some careful tests with the alcohol-formalin solution and will be prepared to show what it will do in sterilizing combs so affected. He will also demonstrate how the work can be done on a small scale, and how the brood develops in treated combs by exhibiting a nucleus built up on treated combs.

Professor L. B. Crandall of the college staff will tell of some of the new developments in bee keeping, which have been brought out by the bee culture laboratory at Washington and state experiment stations. Much important work is being carried on by these agencies, and it will have an important bearing on the future of the beekeeping industry in this, and other states.

Demonstrations in extracting, straining and bottling honey will be given on Tuesday afternoon, August 4. These are planned to give the small producer a first hand opportunity to learn how to do this work in a practical manner.

SPEEDING TO SEE THEIR DYING SON

On the last leg of a desperate race against the grim reaper, Mr. and Mrs. Rody B. Marshall of Pittsburgh, Pa., late Thursday afternoon were reported speeding through Connecticut in a high powered automobile, enroute from New York to Wakefield, R. I. The objective of the grim rush that had its start in Europe, is teir 15-year-old son, Rody Marshall, Jr., who lies at death's door at the South County hospital in Wakefield, with apparently the hope of seeing his parents being the only thing keeping him alive.

In a dive from the sea wall at Narragansett Pier last Wednesday into five feet of water Young Marshall broke his spinal cord, besides fracturing the fifth and sixth cervical vertebrae. Doctors who were called into consultation found his condition hopeless.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall who were abroad were notified of the accident, and took passage aboard the Aquitania, the first vessel to leave for the United States. The ship made Quarantine at New York at 8 o'clock Thursday morning, from whence Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were rushed via speed boat to a wharf in New York city where the automobile was awaiting them. Then began the mad dash along the Connecticut shore.

It was stated at the hospital Thursday afternoon that the boy was gradually "wearing himself out." Mrs. Charles Herz of New York and the boy's sister are at his bedside.

BANK BUSINESS IN STATE STANDS TENTH

The state bank and trust companies of Connecticut, with total resources of $830,343,928.18, stand tenth among the states in volume of banking business, according to a report received by Deputy Bank Commissioner Lester E. Shippee from R. N. Sims, secretary of the national association of state bank supervisors, which is now in convention at St. Paul, Minn. The report shows that the capital, surplus and undivided profits of the 167 trust companies and savings banks here are $63,674,886.43, deposits are $744,490,470.03, loans and discounts $394,097,364.51, and holdings of bonds, and other securities $284,144,664.61.

There were 23,138 banks in the United States on April 6, of which 21,123 were state banks and 8,016 national banks. Surplus and undivided profits on that date amounted to $6,987,839,000, total deposits to $50,497,308,000, and total resources to $60,311,845,000. The deposits were $4,450,850,000 above the previous high record of March 31, 1924, and total resources $4,567,787,000 above resources of that date.

The capital, surplus and undivided profits of state banks on April 6 were $4,029,394,000, and of national banks $2,958,445,000. Deposits of state banks were $31,114,361,000 and of the national banks $19,382,947,000. Resources of state banks amounted to $36,677,382,000 and of national banks $23,634,463,000.

The increase in all banks since 1920 is as follows: Capital surplus and undivided profits, $1,246,000,000 or 32 per cent.; deposits, $12,530,000,000 or 34 per cent.; resources, $13,746,000,000 or 29 per cent.; number of banks, 3.5.

WAS OBLIGED TO SHOOT INJURED DOG

A shepherd dog had its leg broken and had to be killed when it was run over on North Main street early Thursday morning by an automobile driven by Walter Benjamin of 41 Mohegan street. Jewett City. Humane agent F. H. Wyant, who says he had, found it necessary to shoot the dog.

Presented at Buckingham Palace

Of local interest is the fact that Mrs. Nathaniel T. Bacon of Pelham Dale, R. I., was presented to King George and Queen Mary at a garden party given on the Buckingham Palace grounds Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Bacon is known as a prominent member of the Colonial Dames, and is chairman of the committee for the preservation of historic houses in this organization.

The street car strike in Santiago, Chile, has caused a boom in the automobile and tire business there.

Hundreds of Shoe Shoppers

Crowded Our Store Last Saturday, Celebrating the Opening of the Gigantic

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

The Self Service Shoe Store

BARGAIN

WILL BE THE BUSIEST SPOT IN TOWN TOMORROW

Join the Crowds Tomorrow and Get Your Share of the Shoe Bargains

96c

HERE TOMORROW WILL BUY

Women's 1-strap House Slippers
Men's and Boys' Tennis Shoes—Better Grade
Men's House Slippers, Leather and Felt
Children's Patent and Tan Pumps
Women's White Canvas Oxfords and Pumps
AND MORE THAN THAT IF YOU GET HERE ON TIME.

FREE!

A 25c Bottle of Cleanser with every pair of White and Blonde Kid Pumps Tomorrow.

WOMEN'S FINE FIBRE SILK HOSE to match any pair of pumps or oxfords you select—

SALE PRICE 79c

BOYS' AND GIRLS' PLAY OXFORDS AND SANDALS 56c

WOMEN'S PUMPS AND OXFORDS—High and Low Heels, Tans, Blacks and Satins $1.96

MEN'S OXFORDS

Step into a pair of these and you will find something worth while $2.50

Women's New Pumps

SELLING FAST

WHY NOT?

LOOK AT THE STYLES

Blonde Kid
Black Satin and Patents
Black and Blonde Satin

$2.96 PAIR.

WHERE ELSE CAN YOU BUY THEM?

SALE LASTS 30 DAYS

Norwich Bulletin

VOL. LXVII—No. 177. POPULATION 29,865 NORWICH, CONN., SATURDAY, JULY 25, 1925. TWELVE PAGES—96 COLUMNS PRICE TWO CENTS

COOLIDGE ON VACATION DEALS WITH RUM, COAL, SHIPPING AND TARIFF PROBLEMS

President is To Maintain Hands Off Policy on the Anthracite Situation—Will Give Assistance to Assistant Secretary Andrews in Efforts to Enforce Prohibition—Sees No Reason Why Shipping Board Should Not Sell Surplus Ships For Junking—Feels That Any Attempt to Revise the Tariff Act at Next Session of Congress Would Be Harmful to Business.

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 24—(A. P.)—President Coolidge is determined to give Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury a free hand in his efforts to enforce prohibition.

Indications were given today at the summer White House here that Secretary Andrews would be given wide latitude in the selection of regional enforcement officers, the president believing that politics had been practically eliminated from the prohibition service and properly should cut no figure.

Before leaving Washington, it was disclosed, the president assured Mr. Andrews that he would have a free hand in making appointments and carrying on his warfare against bootleggers and rum runners and that he could count at all times on wholehearted support from the executive.

Not only is the president satisfied with the efforts made by Mr. Andrews to keep politics in the background but he believes Prohibition Commissioner Haynes has succeeded in keeping his bureau practically free of political influence. In his efforts to bring about enforcement of the Volstead law Commissioner Haynes, according to Mr. Coolidge's belief, has been prompted only by a desire to have an efficient force of agents regardless of their political affiliation or the requests of political office holders for favorable treatment.

Although there have been indications from Washington that Mr. Andrews is having difficulty in making up the personnel of his regional enforcement staff, President Coolidge apparently is convinced he will make wise selections and is in no way apprehensive that there will be any great delay in putting the new enforcement plan into operation. No arrangement has been made for Mr. Andrews to come here for a conference with the president although he like other high government officials has a general invitation to come to Swampscott at any time he feels in need of the executive's advice.

WOULD BE UNWISE TO ENTER HARD COAL CONTROVERSY

Swampscott, Mass., July 24—(A. P.)—The administration intends to maintain a hands off policy in the anthracite situation, President Coolidge believing that any interference on the part of the government would do more to prevent an agreement between operators and miners than to facilitate one.

It was reiterated today at the summer White House that the president believes an agreement will be reached on a new wage scale and that a suspension of operations in the hard coal fields Sept. 1 is only a remote possibility.

"Although the operators and miners are still far apart in their discussion of the new wage scale there is no occasion whatever," President Coolidge holds, "for the government to assert itself at this time and his belief that an agreement will be reached precludes in his mind any necessity for future action.

The president not only deems it inadvisable for him, any government official, or any governmental agent to make any move but he believes that he and his subordinates should refrain from discussing the situation for fear of doing harm.

NO REASON WHY SURPLUS SHIPS SHOULD NOT BE SOLD

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 24—(A. P.)—President Coolidge sees no reason why the shipping board should not sell surplus ships for junking although he realizes that there may be a legal obstacle with which he is not familiar.

The president who has been requested by the shipping board to obtain from the department of justice an opinion as to its sales authority, has advised Chairman O'Connor to formulate his request in more definite form, so that he and Attorney General Sargeant may determine whether a ruling is needed.

The powers of the board, in Mr. Coolidge's opinion, are expressly limited by the Merchant Marine act. It was pointed out today that the president has no access here to the statue for study of its provisions but by his recollection she is almost certain that the board can accept the bid of Henry Ford or any other party for the 200 vessels which would be consigned to the junk heap.

It is the contention of a majority of the shipping board and its counsel that there is authority under the law to sell surplus ships for junking although Commissioners Benson and Thompson have expressed the view that the Merchant Marine law restricts sales to prospective operators. Their dissension from the majority prompted Chairman O'Connor to make his request for a department of justice opinion.

While the president appears satisfied that the sale of ships for scrapping is permissable the statement was again made today on his behalf that he does not believe it a good policy to sell machinery at junk prices for use in competition with manufacturers of the same kind of equipment. If any parts of vessels sold for scrapping are to be used again it is his opinion that they should be sold at market rather than junk prices.

WILL NOT SANCTION ANY ATTEMPT TO REVISE TARIFF

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass., July 24—(AP)—President Coolidge will not sanction any attempt to revise the tariff act at the next congress.

It was reiterated here today that the executive feels that any meddling with this act will create general uncertainty and react unfavorably on business.

Mr. Coolidge also believes that practically the same trade and business conditions now exist between this country and foreign nations as prevailed when the present act was created. Imports are increasing and exports are continuing along satisfactory lines and he feels it will be wise to see how the law works out.

The president is particularly averse to reopening the whole tariff system at this time because of the effect he fears it would have on business by bring about a situation of uncertainty.

It was stated at the summer house that no serious proposals for revising the tariff have been received and it was emphasized that the president would make no such recommendations to congress.

The flexible provisions of the present act permitting a revision of duties up to 50 per cent. gives the president opportunity to sanction such changes as he feels are necessary. The changes under this provision must be made up on the recommendation of the tariff commission. Three of the six members of the commission have been appointed by Mr. Coolidge. Despite a lack of agreement and virtual deadlock in the former commission, tariff duties in several instances have been revised, notably an increase of 50 per cent. in the duty on wheat which was ordered by Mr. Coolidge.

The executive's ultimatum against tariff legislation leaves the way open for the next congress to center its attention on the matter of revenue work to tax reduction. The president has proposed a cut in taxes and Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee has called the committee to assemble in October to frame a tax bill.

While no definite reduction plan has yet been proposed, Mr. Coolidge does not feel that a scheme should be formulated with a view to obtaining funds for a tax cut through a prospective surplus which might be available as a result of reorganization of the government departments. Senator Curtis from Kansas, the republican leader, who conferred here this week with the president estimated that $200,000,000 additional would be available for tax reduction if the reorganization of the government departments was brought about. The president is of the opinion that this amount is perhaps excessive although he is without definite figures as to the sum which might be saved through the elimination of duplication by enactment of te reorganization plan.

CONGRESS IS LIKELY TO DISCUSS EVOLUTION

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(A. P.)—Whatever may be the outcome of the effort of Loren H. Wittner to throw the evolution question into the federal courts, members of congress now in Washington feel certain that the subject will have full discussion in the house and senate at the coming session.

The rider to the District of Columbia appropriation bill which Witner seized upon to bring his action in the District of Columbia supreme court is certain to be reported in the new supply measure for the Washington government and so will form the vehicle for congressional debate.

The view of some congressmen is that both the evolutionists and fundamentalists will marshal forces for congressional discussion. Should such be the case the issue would be fairly joined in congress, which will be called upon to determine whether the teaching of evolution theory is in fact inconflict with the teachings of the Bible.

HOW LIVING COSTS HAVE VARIED SINCE 1913

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(A. P.)—The cost of living in the United States increased 73.5 percent from 1913 to 1925.

The figures, made public tonight by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the labor department, showed that the greatest percentage of increase was in house furnishing goods, the prices of which this year averaged 114.3 per cent. higher than in 1913.

The bureau's figures cover a survey of living costs in 32 representative cities and take in all the important items of living costs.

Since 1920 the figures revealed, there has been a decrease in the cost of living in the 32 cities amounting to 19.9 per cent. although a 2.6 per cent. increase was shown during the year ending in June.

FLOOD OF PROFITS FROM HIGH PRICES FOR RUBBER

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(A. P.)—High prices for rubber, besides bringing a flood of profits to English and Dutch plantation owners in Malaysia are turning a high tide of prosperity upon northern Brazil, reports to the commerce department show. In Para, and the Amazon basin, where was once wrung from the forests or prepared for export, but where the entire trade has since fallen off from plantation competition, there is now life and activity unthought of for many yeares.

TO SELL PAINTINGS OF JOHN SINGER SARGENT

LONDON, July 24.—(AP)—Art dealers, critics and collectors from all parts of the world crowded the Christis auction rooms today for the start of the sale of 240 paintings by the late John Singer Sargent, famous American painter who died here in April. The sale today realised £145,984 sterling or about $730,000, one of the largest sums ever realised at Christie's in a single day for one artist's work.

CABLED PARAGRAPHS

Dinner for Naval Officers.

MELBOURNE, July 24.—(AP)—Similarity of political aims of Australia and the United States was stressed by speakers tonight at a dinner tendered to Admiral Robert E. Coontz, of the United States navy, and his staff officers, by the Commercial Travelers club.

REPRIEVE FOR SCOTT; TO TEST HIS SANITY

CHICAGO, July 24.—(AP)—Russell Scott, saved from the gallows twice in eight days almost at the hour set for his execution, today lost his comfortable death cell and mattress, after a stay had been granted to inquire into his sanity.

Late today the former Canadian financier who has spent ten days in the death cell, twice coming within half a dozen hours of the death march, was moved from the cell into regular quarters with less comfortable accommodations.

The condemned man, saved from hanging this morning less than four hours before the trap was to be sprung, by a stay of execution to test his sanity, gave up his cell willingly enough, however.

Those who have worked desperately to save Scott's life, including Thomas Scott, his aged and crippled father, Mrs. Catherine Scott, his wife who was racing here from Springfield to bid him farewell when he was snatched from the gallows this morning and Detroit and Windsor-Ontario, club women and his attorneys, today took a much needed rest and breathing spell while planning moves of the newest plan to prevent his execution.

NEW "DRY" ENFORCEMENT ORGANIZATION POSTPONED

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—Inability to draw able and efficient men quickly into his new prohibition enforcement organization has forced Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury, to delay the date when the revamped enforcement system was to become operative.

The reorganization which was to have been made effective gradually beginning August 1, therefore has been indefinitely postponed in order that Mr. Andrews may comb the nation for men of the calibre he wants and to permit the working out of countless administrative details necessary to the new programs.

In announcing this decision Mr. Andrews declared today that he felt more optimistic regarding the program's probable success than at any time since taking the job as prohibition field marshal.

MINERS HAVE RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT CAPPELLINI

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 24.—(AP)—The re-election of Rinaldo Cappellini as president of District No. 1, United Mine Workers, was ratified today by the biennial convention which adopted the report of the tellers of the vote cast at the recent election by an overwhelming majority. Cappellini's majority, as shown by the report, was 18,408 over William J. Brennan, a former district president. Similar majorities were returned for the other administration candidates for district offices.

The reading of the tellers' report was marked by continuous debate in which the vote was challenged and defended. Mr. Brennan, who had protested Cappellini's election on the ground of fraud, served notice that the matter would be taken to court.

After the election had been disposed of good feeling prevailed in the convention. Mr. Cappellini made a plea for harmony among the mine workers.

PROCESS OF EVOLUTION TO OVERCOME CHESTNUT BLIGHT

HARTFORD, July 24.—(AP)—A prediction that chestnut growth will be confined to shrubs within a score of years in this state has been made to Walter O. Filley of the state park and forest commission by farmers who have watched the action of the chestnut blight during recent years. Mr. Filley, at the capito today, explained that while the blight destroys mature trees it does not affect the roots and that now there is much shrub growth here although practically all full grown trees have been destroyed.

The theory advanced is that the blight will fasten to the growth when it becomes materially larger and that the destruction and new growth process will continue until the plant, in its process of evolution, will adopt a sturdy shrub growth in self protection.

FARMERS FAIL TO GET FAIR RETURN ON INVESTMENT

WASHINGTON, July 24.—(AP)—Farmers failed to earn a fair return on the capital invested and a fair wage last year, although they fared better financially than in the preceding year, the department of agriculture declared today in an analysis of the agricultural balance sheet.

On the total capital invested in agriculture, the return for the year was estimated at 4.6 per cent. compared with 3.3 the year before. In round figures the net income for the 1924-25 season, the department said, was $3,712,000,000 compared with $1,992,000,000 for 1923-24.

Farmers, however, own only 79 per cent. of the total capital and pay interest on the balance.

$2,500 OFFERED FOR ARREST OF THE GILLIS MURDERERS

HUDSON, N. H., July 24.—(AP)—Rewards totalling $2,500 were announced tonight by Acting Gov. Charles W. Tobey for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of the elderly sisters, Miss Helen and H. Georgianna Gillis after more than 24 hours investigation by state, county and local officials had made no definite progress. Of the total, the state offered $2,000, Hillsborough county $250 and Hudson $250.

The bodies were found here yesterday by neighbors in the house the spinsters, 77 and 80 years of age, occupied alone. They had apparently been struck down and killed the day before with a club.

No Headway Made In the Coal Parley

Miners Are Continuing to Press the Owners For Adoption of Check-Off System After August 31.

NEW YORK, July 24—(AP)—By liner, cutter, motor and train, Mr. and Mrs. Roby B. Marshall, of Pittsburgh, aided by Joe Parks, their loyal and expert chauffeur, raced today to the bedside of their 15-year-old son, Rody, Jr.

While abroad the Marshalls were notified by cable that their boy was dying, his neck broken when he dived from a pier at Narragansett a week ago last Wednesday.

As soon as the Marshalls received word of their son's accident a race against death began. They caught the Aquitania just as she was leaving for America. It was arranged that a custom's cutter should be employed to aid in the race. Radio messages flashed between New York and the Aquitania as the liner's turbines thrust her through the foam toward America. An airplane company offered a plane to pick up the Marshalls when they landed and take them to Wakefield where their son was waiting.

And then Joe Parks stepped in. Joe has driven the Marshalls for years. He taught young Rody how to drive a car it was he who drove Rody to Narragansett Pier shortly before the boy was injured.

"Airplanes nothing," Joe Parks said "There's nothing like a flat road and a good six."

So Joe was at the barge office to meet the custom's cutter when it arrived at 10:40 o'clock this morning.

"The Boston express leaves Grand Central at 11:30," said Joe, "if we don't make that we'll drive through."

The Marshalls entered the car and Joe started the car on a perilous race through the city's congested traffic. After forty-five minutes of furious driving which made hardened taxicab drivers stare in amazement and patrolmen wave their arms menacingly, often unavoidably detained by cross traffic Joe swung the car through the pillars of the station with five minutes to spare for the Boston express.

The Marshalls rushed down the platform and caught the train while Joe Parks turned the car and started off for the Boston Post road to run a race of his own with the Boston Express and himself reached the side of his young friend Rody.

IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF YOUNG RODY MARSHALL

WAKEFIELD, R. I., July 24—(AP)—"Considerable improvement" in the condition of Rody Marshall of Pittsburgh, was noted by his physicians here this evening after his parents, Mr and Mrs. Roby B. Marshall, who landed in New York today from Europe and raced to his bedside, had visited the boy late this afternoon.

Young Marshall struck bottom in a dive from the Narragansett Pier seawall on July 15. Examintions by X-ray have established that his spinal cord is very nearly if not quite severed and that two vertebrae are fractured. Since that day the 17 year old boy has lain conscious, the lower part of his body paralyzed and his arms raised horizontal to his shoulders by muscle contraction. His parents cut short their Europeon tour.

While the specialists who were called in had said that Rody was living by will power alone and that the end might came any time, his family physician, Dr. Rawlings, of Pittsburgh, held to the hope that Rody might live, although he agreed he would be crippled for life.

Apparently the brief visit of his parents, who reached the South County hospital here shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon, revived his waning strength a little later his physicians reported "considerable improvement". Hope of ultimate recovery is still slim, they said, but at least it seems possible. he boy of course cannot be moved for a long time to come and his parents are making plans to remain in this time.

FIRE LOSS AT HARBOR OF ODENSE, DENMARK

LONDON, July 24.—(A. P.)—An Exchange Telegraph Agency from Copenhagen says the whole eastern side of the barbor of Odense, Denmark, was destroyed by fire today. The damage is estimated at 10,000,000 kronen. Some large warehouses were burned to the ground.

The despatch adds that one fireman, ten soldiers and many other persons were injured and taken to hospitals. Many onlookers were overcome by the heat. Most of the ships in harbor, however succeeded in escaping.

COURT BARS OPIUM BOWLS FROM IMPORT

NEW YORK, July 24—(A. P.)—Opium pipe bowls can no longer be imported into this country, under a ruling of the Board of United States Appraisers sitting in the customs court today. The action was said by Dr. Carlton Simon, deputy police commissioner in charge of narcotics, to be an important anti-drug move.

Under Your Fingers.

Daily through the advertising columns of The Bulletin you can view the gleaming counters and show windows of world marts. Without effort you can pass from one display to another without lifting an article, be certain of its worth.

If you read the adventisements, you read of goods worthy of a nation's notice—goods held up for a nation to examine. You read of dependable goods that give solid value, that help you save.

You can put your confidence into the widely advertised, for they carry their own degree of satisfaction.

Read the advertisements to spend safely—to be sure of goods that please. Take advantage of these daily displays. Advertisements bring to your home news of the comforts and conveniences of proven worth.

During the past week the following news matter has appeared in The Bulletin's columns:

Bulletin	Telegraph	Local	General	Total
Saturday,	July 18.....130	145	400	675
Monday,	July 20.....134	106	290	530
Tuesday,	July 21.....137	132	360	629
Wednesday,	July 22.....152	120	393	665
Thursday,	July 23.....135	136	406	677
Friday,	July 24.....130	129	390	669
Totals	 838	768	2289	3845

IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF YOUNG RODY MARSHALL

WAKEFIELD, R. I., July 24—(AP)—"Considerable improvement" in the condition of Rody Marshall of Pittsburgh, was noted by his physicians here this evening after his parents, Mr and Mrs. Rody B. Marshall, who landed in New York today from Europe and raced to his bedside, had visited the boy late this afternoon.

Young Marshall struck bottom in a dive from the Narragansett Pier seawall on July 15. Examintions by X-ray have established that his spinal cord is very nearly if not quite severed and that two vertebrae are fractured. Since that day the 17 year old boy has lain conscious, the lower part of his body paralyzed and his arms raised horizontal to his shoulders by muscle contraction. His parents cut short their Europeon tour.

While the specialists who were called in had said that Rody was living by will power alone and that the end might came any time, his family physician, Dr. Rawlings, of Pittsburgh, held to the hope that Rody might live, although he agreed he would be crippled for life.

Apparently the brief visit of his parents, who reached the South County hospital here shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon, revived his waning strength a little later his physicians reported "considerable improvement". Hope of ultimate recovery is still slim, they said, but at least it seems possible. he boy of course cannot be moved for a long time to come and his parents are making plans to remain in this time.

FIRE LOSS AT HARBOR OF ODENSE, DENMARK

LONDON, July 24.—(A. P.)—An Exchange Telegraph Agency from Copenhagen says the whole eastern side of the barbor of Odense, Denmark, was destroyed by fire today. The damage is estimated at 10,000,000 kronen. Some large warehouses were burned to the ground.

The despatch adds that one fireman, ten soldiers and many other persons were injured and taken to hospitals. Many onlookers were overcome by the heat. Most of the ships in harbor, however succeeded in escaping.

COURT BARS OPIUM BOWLS FROM IMPORT

NEW YORK, July 24—(A. P.)—Opium pipe bowls can no longer be imported into this country, under a ruling of the Board of United States Appraisers sitting in the customs court today. The action was said by Dr. Carlton Simon, deputy police commissioner in charge of narcotics, to be an important anti-drug move.

Won Race With Death To Narrangasett Pier

Mr. and Mrs. Roby B. Marshall Reached Bedside of Their Son Late Yesterday Afternoon.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 24.—(A. P.)—Anthracite miners continued today to press mine owners for adoption of the check-off after August 31. They showed a renewed vim which might have come from official assurance that 500,000 members of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor stood ready to back them to the limit, whatever the outcome of the present wage negotiations.

The conference adjourned over the week end until Tuesday afternoon with the miners making no appreciable headway in winning the operators over. They promised to renew their check-off arguments when sessions were resumed next week.

President James H. Maurer brought the word that the state federation of Pennsylvania had pledged to the hard coal diggers "full moral and material support, if and as it becomes necessary."

Philip Murray, international vice president of the miners, took exception today to claims advanced by operators that successive wage increases since pre-war days had given the miners 68 per cent. greater purchasing power than in 1914.

Mr. Murray used the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, upon which the operators had drawn for evidence, to show that the cost of living from May, 1924 to May, 1925, in fifty-one great American cities had increased 7.2 per cent. In Scranton, heart of the coal mining belt, the increase had been 7.6 per cent., he said.

"We fully expect to demonstrate," said Mr. Murray, "before the close of the present negotiations that the increased cost of living since our agreement of 1923 exceeds by substantial amount the increased wages that we are demanding in this joint conference."

NEW HAVEN ROAD COMMUTERS AO FIGHT INCREASED RATES

NEW YORK, July 24—(AP)—Commuters on the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad prepared today for an attack on the commutation increase of 20 to 40 percent., which becomes effective August 1. Commuters' organizations in New Rochelle, Port Chester, Mount Vernon and Harrison, N. Y., are expected to take the lead in the fight, as they will be most affected by the increase.

The first action came from Corporation Counsel Van Auken, of New Rochelle, who appeared at the offices of the New York state public service commission today to discuss their decision granting the 40 per cent., increase in this state.

Mr. Van Auken said that he was undecided which of three methods of attack he will adopt. He may ask for a court review of the decision, ask for an injunction to bar the increase, or petition the commission for a hearing.

ANOTHER APPLICATION FOR BUS LINE IN STATE

HARTFORD, July 24.—(A. P.)—Another development in the fight for motor transportation control in Connecticut came today in the filing with the public utilities commission by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company, through the New England Transportation company, of an applicatation to open a bus line between Ridgefield and Georgetown. The proposed route is the fifth contemplated by the railroad and if the required certificate for it is granted by the public untilities commission the company would discontinue two local trains daily on the Branchville-Ridgefield line, and possibly more.

THEATRICAL MANAGER MAX HIRSCH DIED SUDDENLY

NEW YORK, July 24.—(A. P.)—Max Hirsch, 61, one of the most widely known of theatrical managers on Broadway, died suddenly today while boating in Sheepshead Bay.

For twenty-five years Hirsch had been treasurer of the Metropolitan Opera company. About eight years ago he was manager of Pavlowa, the dancer. For the last four years he had been manager of The Music Box Review.

He was known as "the man who never signed a contract" and had been been connected with the theatre since he was twelve.

FELL THREE STORIES HANGING OUT CLOTHES

HARTFORD, July 24.—(A. P.)—While hanging out clothes early this evening Millie Brancado, 2 years old, of 475 Front street, fell three stories to the ground, fracturing her skull. The child was taken to St. Francis' hospital in a critical condition.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS

Four persons were killed by lightning in Metropolita New York and South New Jersey Wednesday.

The new German tariff bill proposes an import duty of 90 marks per double hundred weight upon raw tobacco.

A canvass by agents of the internal revenue bureau to collect unpaid special taxes on industries is to be made next week.

Six children and a woman companion are held by the Federal authorities at Buffalo on a charge of passing counterfeit silver pieces.

Dr. Herman H. Rubin of New York believes rejuvenation through stimulation of the ductless glands through radium emanations is a possibility.

An engineering apprentice named Delmos, attached to the American Steamer Egremont, was drowned while swimming in the harbor at Madras.

Curtailment of weaving production at the Butler Mill, New Bedford, by 50 per cent has gone into effect, due to present conditions in the fine goods market.

Seven hundred members of the New England Street Railway Club participated in the annual outing at Holyoke, coming from all parts of New England.

The transport workers' Union of London has approved the scheme recently announced for an alliance of millions of workers in all branches of British industry.

Bernard Remaki, for driving an automobile in Stamford, while under the influence of liquor, according to evidence given, was fined $100 and given 10 days in jail.

Mrs. Anna Van Everd, 65, was almost instantly killed by a bolt of lightning while she was sitting at a sewing machine at her home in Somers Point, N. J.

A crop of about 13,588,00 equivalent 500 pound bales of cotton this year was forecast by the department of agriculture in its second production report of the season.

The interstate commerce commission refused to alter existing rail rates on coal moving from eastern mines to Lake Erie ports for trans-shipment to the north and west.

The condition of Edward J. McClellan, of Ansonia, national guardsman, hurt in an automobile accident at Westbrook Sunday, was reported to be worse, at the Guilford sanitarium.

A Messiah chorus of 1,000 voices will be a feature of the musical festival at the Chautauqua assembly at Chautauqua, N. Y., on Saturday evening July 25.

An announcement that the wages of 2,000 employes of the Pacific Mills Print Works will be readjusted on August 3 was posted in the plant at Lawrence, Mass.

A flow of ashes and mud originating approximately 8,000 feet up the side of Mount Shasta, is causing the rivers of the Sacramento and the McCloud rivers to run muddy in Redding, Calif.

Officials of the National City bank, New York, and President Jonathan Warner of the Trumbull Steel company are negotiating the terms of a $20,000,000 bond issue by the steel company.

British treasury officials are pleased at what they regard as the evident desire of the French government to open debt negotiations simultaneously with Great Britain and the United States.

Plans for the observance of Saturday and Sunday, July 25-26 as "law-no-war days" in many communities throughout the country were announced by the National Council for prevention of war.

W. Irving Glover was appointed second assistant postmaster general succeeding Paul Henderson resigned, and Robert S. Regar was named as Mr. Glover's successor as third assistant postmaster general.

The Danish government is understood to be prepared to consider proposals from the United States for a most favored nation treaty with regard to Greenland, such as was negotiated recently with Great Britain.

A report is current in Mexico City, that the treasury department will declare the Lamont-De La Huerta agreement, providing for the payment of the outstanding debts of the republic of Mexico, null and void on August 1.

The body of a man believed by the police to be Charles Lawrence, 40 years old, of Tuxedo Park, N. Y., was found on a bench in Central Park, New York, with a bullet wound in the head. A revolver was clutched in the right hand.

Gloria Gould, daughter of George J. and Edith Kingdon Gould and granddaughter of Jay Gould, has signed a contract to become the managing directress of the Embassy theatre, which will open in New York next month.

One child was instantly killed, and two others were slightly injured shortly before noon at Natural History Park Worcester, when a half-ton log rolled down a four foot platform where the children were at play near a temporary sawmill.

Her eyes affected, she says, because of injuries suffered in an automobile accident, requiring her to wear spectacles, Esther Hoyt, Stamford, brought a damage suit for $1,000 against Jacob Garrecht, Stamford, in the court of common pleas in Bridgeport.

Lester Norris, whose cartoons on the margins of the letters he wrote to his school day sweetheart, Deliora Angell, $38,000,000 heiress, won her for his wife, has purchased the St. Charles Illinois, Chronicle from Miss Lina Paschal, its owner and publisher for 22 years.

Colonel Robert F. Ewing, publisher of the New Orleans states told the joint congressional committee investigating postal rates that many newspapers in Louisiana and Texas have been considering plans by which they might take all their mailing out of government hands.

FRANCE AND SPAIN TO WAGE JOINT WARFARE ON RIFFIANS

Marshal Petian of France and General Primo De Rivera Are to Meet Monday to Confer Regarding Combined Operations Against the Riffians—Spanish Airmen Have Destroyed a Large Portion of Crops and Leveled Several Houses.

RABAT, French Morocco, July 24.—(AP)—Marshal Petain of France, and General Primo De Rivera, head of the Spanish military directorate, will meet Monday at Ceutra or Tetuan, to confer regarding joint Franco-Spanish military operations against Abd-El-Krim's warring Riffians in Morocco.

SPANISH AIRMEN BOMB CROPS AND LEVEL HOUSES

MELILLA, Spanish Morocco, July 24.—(AP)—Spanish airmen today flew over Anual Sididris, dropping incendiary bombs, which destroyed a large portion of the crops and levelled several houses.

Spanish troops from Axdir Azus carried out an extensive reconnaissance through the hills of Arkab and along the Ardana river. Another Spanish expedition left Azib and scouted on the mountain of Bucherif and between Mejala and Memilla and as far as Sidi Yaoub, with developments.

French officers today visited Cabila Beni Buyahi and urged the non-combatant Riffians in the district to remain loyal to the Moroccan government.

Advices reaching here from rebel sources tell of a coming operation by the well known Riffian leaders Chengutti and Roguil. It is reported that Abd-El-Krim intends to ask Chengutti to form a military expedition and move on Beni Quezzan.

Armored Vessels Await Orders.

GIBRALTAR, July 24.—(AP)—Preparations for the announced operations by the combined Spanish and French forces against the seaport of Alhucemas have not been interrupted, although there has been a postponement while the Franco-Spanish conference continues at Madrid. Alhucemas lies on the Mediterranean coast of Morocco, near Adjir, headquarters of Abd-El-Krim, the Moroccan war lord.

All the troops which have been disembarked in north Africa to participate in the attempt at a landing in front of rebel headquarters are maneuvering regularly every day in the vicinity of Restinga. The armored vessels which are to be utilized in the landing operation at Alhucemas are anchored in the port of Melilla, awaiting orders from the high command.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL OF CARDINAL BEGIN

QUEBEC, July 24—(AP)—Under an overcast sky and in the presence of practically the entire population of Quebec and of thousands of visitors from all parts of the continent, the body of Louis Nazaire, Cardinal Begin, was transferred today from the archbishop's palace to the Quebec basilica. The sombre weather added to the general air of mourning as the body was borne through the streets between two lines of guards. Final interment will take place Saturday.

All traffic in the upper town was suspended, and men, women and children, irrespective of race or creed, knelt or stood bareheaded as the body of the late prelate passed. There was a continuous ceremony from the time the body was lifted in the private chapel until it was placed in the basilica.

At the basilica Mgr. Marois received the body officially and recited the prayers for the dead. The presence of a brilliantly gowned ambassador from the vatican, Mgr. Pietro de Maria, and a large number of vested archbishops and bishops, added to the impressiveness of the occasion.

STRIKE OF BRICK MAKERS OF STATE THREATENED

NEW HAVEN, July 24—(A. P.)—A general strike of brick makers all over the state may be called following the declaration today of brick manufacturers that they refuse to recognize the United Brick and Clay Makers union. Representatives of the union from Chicago have organized Connecticut workers who have demanded recognition by the manufacturers.

After efforts of several months it is said that 95 per cent. of all workers in the state have ben organized by the representatives of the union. During the past week it is understood that the manufacturers have been approached and asked to recognize the union. This they have refused to do.

When several manufacturers about Berlin failed to recognize the union, their employes went on strike. At a meeting in Berlin today, it is understood the manufacturers agreed to operate on the principal of the open shop. It is believed that the Chicago workers of the union will call a strike in view of the manufacturers' refusal to recognize the union.

SENATOR BROOKHART HAS GAINED 300 VOTES IN RECOUNT

WASHINGTON, July 24—(AP)—Senator Brookhart of Iowa, registered a net gain of 300 votes over Daniel F. Steck, his democratic opponent, in a recount today by a senate sub-committee of uncontested ballots of several Iowa townships.

At the outset of today's court, Steck showed a gain of thirty votes in the tabulation of uncontested ballots but this was wiped out as the work progressed.

The largest discrepancy was found in one township, where the official state reports gave Brookhart 91 and Steck 312. On the recount by the sub-committee tellers, this township gave Brookhart 275 and Steck 295.

After the sub-committee tellers had finished the work for the day, supporters of Brookhart charged the errors discovered were not due to clerical computations and predicted further gains.

INDIANS NAME DAWES WHITE FEATHER NUMBER 2

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 24.—(AP)—Vice-President Charles G. Dawes was named "White Feather Number Two," by the Red men.

Picturesque tribal rites, in which Chief Red Feather of the tribe, assisted by medicine men, all wearing the vari-colored feathered war headdresses and their bodies covered with gaudy paint, surrounded the ceremony of Mr. Dawes' induction into the tribe.

After the vice-president's adoption Governor Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming was made an honorary member of the tribe, being given the tribal cognomen of "Princess Nellie Taylor."

SUMMARY OF YESTERDAY'S EVENTS IN WASHINGTON

The new prohibition enforcement plan was postponed indefinitely.

Senator Brookhart gained in the recount of Iowa election returns.

Nicaraguan advices pictured a serious situation affecting American missionaries.

The Nickel Plate hearings turned to the question of outlets for coal shipments.

The employment status of Loren H. Wittner, who precipitated the evolution issue, came under scrutiny at the treasury.

Interstate commerce commission refused to alter rates on lake coal.

RECEIVED GIFTS FROM PHINEAS C. LOUNSBURY

BRIDGEPORT, July 24.—(AP)—That William H. Griffith, of this city, the principal heir under the will of the late Governor Phineas C. Lounsbury, of Ridgefield, had received many valuable gifts, for a number of years prior to the death of Governor Lounsbury, is was definitely learned here today. Mr. Griffith received at one time a number of years ago, $25,000 as an outright gift, and since that time 100 shares of the Kensico Cemetery association, of White Plains; 100 shares of the preferred stock of the American Bank Note company; 200 shares of the preferred stock of the Remington Typewriter company; 800 shares of the common stock of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper company, and a large tract of land in Florida, upon which Mr. Lounsbury erected a $40,000 home a year ago. These gifts were outright and are not included in the residue of the estate. Mrs. William H. Griffith is a niece of the late ex-governor.

HEIRS TO GET CROCKER PALM BEACH ESTATES

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 24.—(AP)—Actions by the late Richard Crocker, former Tammany Hall leader, conveying his Palm Beach estates, valued at several million dollars, during his life time to J. B. McDonald and the Palm Beach estates, a corporation, were declared null and void in a decision handed down in federal court here today by Judge Rhydon M. Call.

The effect of Judge Call's ruling is that the title to the property which comprises the Crocker homestead at Palm Beach is vested in the widow and the heirs of Crocker by his first wife despite the series of contracts and conveyances between Crocker and McDonald during the life time of the former.

LEDOIYT SURRENDERED ON STATUTORY WARRANT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—(AP)—Willard J. Ledoiyt, 45, treasurer of an eastern radio company, surrendered today on a statutory warrant sworn out by Miss Edith Randolph, also known as Edith Ransom, late star of the play "White Cargo." Miss Randolph said that the conduct excepted to came during a party in a downtown hotel Tuesday night. Ledoiyt was released on $2,500 cash bail and directed to appear in police court tomorrow.

Recently Miss Randolph brought a damage suit for $120,000 damages against Thomas Wilkes, theatrical magnate, on the ground that he violated a contract and insulted her in dismissing her from the cast of "White Cargo."

EXPERTS WORKING ON FRENCH DEBT TO BRITAIN

PARIS, July 24—(AP)—The experts who have been working on the French debt to Great Britain are continuing their consultations with the British experts. Finance Minister Caillaux today informed the cabinet that M. Caillaux will go to London early in September to take up the matter with Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer.

The commission to consider the funding of the American debt will then, it is thought, also be ready to start for the United States and, unless the situation then seems such that M. Caillaux cannot be absent from France for three or four weeks, he will head the commission.

GERTRUDE EDERLE TOOK THREE HOUR SWIM

BOULOGNE, France, April 24.—(A. P.)—Gertrude Ederle, the American girl who is shortly to attempt to swim the English Channel from Cape Gris-Nez, France, to the English side, today had a three hours' practice swim outside the Boulogne breakwater and into the channel.

Miss Ederle, experienced channel men said, showed more speed for a short distance than anyone who ever has tried to negotiate the channel. She fought for a full hour gainst a strong incoming tide and made good headway.

POLICE INVESTIGATING STABBING IN NEW HAVEN

NEW HAVEN, July 24—(A. P.)—Police are investigating a stabbing in Dow street here tonight, during which Roy White, 42, negro, was cut on the left arm. He was taken to the Grace hospital for treatment.

WILLIMANTIC

The new golf course at the Willimantic Country club links on the North Windham road will be officially opened August 13 when the new layout will be completed. The course will be of nine holes, has four new greens, additional bunkers and traps and other general equipment. There are one hundred and fifty members in the club at present. A match game will be played against Putnam on August 27.

In the Mansfield town court Friday morning, Joseph J. Grimes pleaded not guilty to a charge of reckless driving on July 1, in Mansfield. He was halted at that time by State Policeman Sergeant Boucher, of Hartford, and received notification to appear in court Thursday night. Sergeant Boucher testified that Grimes was driving between 55 and 60 miles an hour. Grimes said that he could not say that he was driving recklessly. He did not endanger his own life or the lives of others, in his estimation. As to the speed, he did not think that he was driving so rapidly, but had no proof to offer because the speedometer was not working at the time. Justice of the Peace George H. Andrews imposed a fine of $25 and costs, amounting to $40.20.

The resignation of Rev. Frederic F. Foshay as pastor of the First Baptist church was accepted with regret, at a meeting of the church members Thursday night. The resignation was tendered some time ago and becomes effective August 31, when Mr. Foshay leaves to take the pastorate of a Baptist church at Rockville Center, Long Island. The resignation was accepted with the "keenest regret," in a resolution adopted by the parishioners, which also embodied a clause which read, "That our prayers shall follow him and that the best wishes of this people shall ever go out to him and to his family and that Heaven's blessings may ever be theirs."

The home of Thomas Cohen on Pine street, Columbia, was destroyed by fire, causing an estimated damage of $2,000, about 2:30 o'clock, Friday. The fire was of unknown origin, the building being unoccupied at the time. Smoke was issuing in volumes from the house when the blaze was discovered by Harold Berman, a neighbor. He notified the residents of the vicinity and a brigade was formed but the flames had made such rapid headway that the volunteers could do nothing more than look on in regret. The property is known as the old Champlin place, and was a one-story wooden structure. Mr. Cohen was in this city visiting at the time of the fire and Mrs. Cohen was calling on a neighbor. The members of the household are of the opinion that possibly an oil stove exploded while they were absent. A call for assistance was sent in to the Bank street engine house.

William Bonin, 18, of Birch street, was arrested by Officer Arthur Hurley Thursday night at a local motion picture theatre when detected carrying a thirty-two calibre loaded revolver. The case was heard in chambers Friday morning before Judge Frank H. Foss. Prosecuting Attorney Harry S. Gaucher, Chief of Police Allan McArthur and Probation Officer S. Arnold Peckham. The young man said that he secured the revolver from his uncle who had left the city some time ago. He is employed at the American Thread company plant and he believed that he needed protection. Bonin was given a reprimand and the case against him was discharged. The revolver and bullets were confiscated by the police.

Friends of Miss Irene Mathieu, of Columbia, gathered at the home of Mrs. Florimond Mathieu, of this city, recently and gave her a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage with Joseph Larrow, of North Windham. Miss Mathieu received many useful and beautiful gifts. Present were: Misses Lillienne and Laura Mathieu, Bertha Daniels, Blanche and Helen Potter, Laura and Lucy Greene Ruth Salter, Grace Lowman, of Columbia, Rose Bergeron, Rose Gingras, Laura Greene, Viola Greene, Helen Greene of Willimantic, Mrs. Racicot and Mrs. Scoville of Columbia, Mrs. Florimond Mathieu, Mrs. Kirby Potter, Mrs. John Hoey, Mrs. Alphonse Bergeron, Mrs. Alfred Mathewson, Mrs. Albert Lapan of Willimantic, Mrs Peter Tatro and Mrs. Dennis Marrotte of South Coventry, Mrs. Charles Larrow, Miss Grace Larrow of North Windham, Miss Blanche Houle and Miss Bertha Houle o Danielson, Miss Blanche and Miss Zelina Rocheleau of Baltic, Mrs. Joseph Carter of Norwich, William Mathieu, Columbia, Florimond Mathieu and Kirby Potter, Willimantic, Joseph and Charles Larrow, of North Windham.

Arthur Racicot got a severe gash on the head and Seigfried Peterson, of this city, is suffering from a wrenched arm, as the result of a collision in which the Ford car which Racicot was demonstrating to Peterson was struck by a Cadillac car owned and operated by Fred Cloch, of Amston, when at the junction of Windham and Main street. Racicot had the right of way and was coming out of Windham street, when the Ford was rammed by the heavier machine which was being driven in a westerly direction on the main thoroughfare. The Cadillac was not damaged. Racicot was taken to a physician's office where four stitches were required to close the wound on his head. The accident happened about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Chief of Police Allan McArthur despatched Motorcycle Officer Bombria to conduct an investigation. The parties could not come to an agreement as to settlement for the damages, so both drivers were notified to appear in police court this (Saturday) morning to answer to charges of reckless driving.

Mrs. Maud S. Deming, president of the Connecticut department of the Woman's Relief corps, gave an address at the Plainville Camp Meeting Thursday. The date was Veterans' day and many prominent Grand Army men were present. Last Tuesday, President Deming attended an all-day outing given by Elias Howe, Jr., W. R. C. No. 53, at the home of Mrs. Helen Goodsell, at Laurel Beach in honor of Rev. James W. Davis, department commander of the G. A. R., and his staff and the department president and her staff.

Dave Keminski, of Brick Top road, was thrown from his wagon, but escaped injury, when the team was struck by a Ford car, operated by Fred Mott, of Summit street, this city, while traveling up Dugway Hill, South Windham road, shortly before 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mott was driving around one of the curves in the hill when he met another machine coming down the grade. At this point he was confronted with the wagon. The horse started to run away, but was stopped at the top of the grade. The matter was reported to Chief of Police Allan McArthur.

A Ford touring car driven by Raymond Brown, of Columbia, and a Studebaker touring car operated by David Ahern, of this city, figured in a slight collision at the junction of North and Main streets, at 5:45 Friday evening. The drivers notified Officer Orlando, who investigated, that they would settle the matter between themselves.

Miss Marion I. McKernan, clerk at the local commercial office of the Western Union Telegraph company, is resting comfortbaly after an operation at St. Joseph's hospital for an acute case of appendicitis. Her duties are being performed by Miss Elizabeth McIntish.

Miss Mary Hamlin, of the camp ground, entertained a group of local women at an outing and supper at Bailey's Ravine, Franklin, Thursday afternoon, in honor of her guest, Mrs. Harry Sawin, of Southboro, Mass. Mrs. Sawin is a former resident of this city and a graduate of Windham High school.

Everett J. Pottar, of Windham Center, reported to the police department that while he was driving his Ford touring car on Walnut street, Thursday night, he struck and killed a three year old dog owned by William Trudeau, of Strong's Court. The dog ran out from behind another car.

A joint concert of the Willimantic B. P. O. E. band and the Boy Scout band, of St. Joseph's parish will be given at the Tent City of the former operatives of the American Thread company at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Bandmaster C. N. C. Wheeler is arranging the program. The concert will be public.

Mr. and Mrs. David Nichols, of Springfield, Mass., formerly of this city, announce the marriage of their daughter, Alma Louise Nichols and George Boardman Perry, June 17, in Brattleboro, Vt.

The recent rain and thunder storm which swept this section, put over three hundred stations, situated on 75 lines, out of commission, it was stated at the office of the Southern New England Telephone company, Friday.

News in General.

Arthur H. Arnold was taken to St. Joseph's hospital and operated on for appendicitis Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Costello and daughter Alice recently visited relatives in Northampton and Hatfield, Mass. Mr. Costello remained there to recuperate from an attack of grip. Mrs. Costello has returned with her daughter and Miss Sarah Kiley and Mrs. Alice Kiley.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Rosenberg, who are soon to leave the city, were tendered a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Milevitz Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard H. Smith returned Friday, after spending two weeks at Sunapee Lake, N. H.

Miss Alice Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sweeney, of this city, returned Friday from a short stay with Miss Mabel E. Jenkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Jenkins, of Holyoke, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Prag have as their guests, the Misses Annie and Dorothy Prag and Lee Robinson, of Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. French and son Harland, of Holyoke, Mass., are guests of Mr. French's parents, Mr and Mrs. A. L. French.

Miss Esther Taber and her guest, Miss Esther Watrous, spent Thursday at Pleasant View, R. I.

Mrs. Frederick A. Cook has gone to spend a few days in Manchester.

Judge Frank H. Foss is spending the week-end in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon VanZandt and daughter, Barbara, motored to Groton Long Point, Friday.

Everett J. Potter of Windham Center was the driver of a Ford touring car which struck and killed a three year old dog on Walnut street, Thursday evening at 5:40. The dog was owned by William Trudeau of Strong's court and suddenly appeared from the rear of another automobile, which was preceding in an opposite direction. Mr. Potter reported the accident to the police.

NATIVE OF NORWICH DIES AT MASONIC HOME

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 24.—Miss Gertrude R. Larkin, 70, died at the Masonic home in Wallingford Thursday night. She was born in Norwich, August, 1854, a daughter of Phineas and Martha Barstow Larkin. Surviving her is a brother, Henry A. Larkin of Willimantic.

GETTING 1,100 LOAVES OF BREAD FROM HARTFORD FOR STRIKERS

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 24.—Wolfe Rosen, of this city, district deputy for the Workingmen's Circle, R. A., a Jewish organization with state headquarters in Hartford, made the announcement Friday that eleven hundred loaves of bread would be shipped from a Hartford bakery Saturday to be delivered at the local headquarters of the Willimantic Textile union, also at the tented city, as a donation of the organization to the former operatives of the American Thread company who are now out on strike. This is a total of 2,500 loaves of bread that Mr. Rosen has been instrumental in bringing to this city.

Salads are health foods

SALADS are health foods; and scientists tell us they should be part of our daily menus. To give them rich zest and appetite-provoking flavor, add a measure of the delicious, new Gulden's Saladressing Mustard, specially made by the makers of the famous Gulden's Mustard, for salads and entrees.

This wonderful new salad mustard is a moderated blend of the finest mustard seeds, rich olive oils and pungent vinegar and spices. It enhances the flavor of all mild-flavored foods. Good cooks now use it regularly. Try it today.

Your grocer has it in generous sized bottles. 15c

GULDEN'S SALADRESSING MUSTARD

GURLEYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Morse, of Pawtucket, R. I., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Morse.

The rain here Wednesday afternoon was so heavy it raised the streams considerably. The new dam between Gurleyville and Storrs, built a few weeks ago by Mr. Oafrosky, was washed away.

Joseph Snow and family motored to New Hampshire last week on a camping trip. They returned home the first of this week.

Many a sick man has forgiven his enemies with the understanding that it wouldn't hold good if he got well.

MYSTIC

The board of directors of the Mystic Community house met Tuesday evening and decided to close the house, instead of incurring indebtedness that they had no way of paying. The people have failed to support it as well the past year although the work of Miss Corrine Paine was satisfactory. When it was opened if an endowment fund could have been raised the work would have continued. The young people will miss it, as they have found recreation and instruction there. Some have given liberally and worked hard since the house was started. The directors are hoping a way may be found in the fall to raise money sufficient to open it for the winter.

The Old Mystic Social Circle, composed of Grange members, P. of H., repeated the entertainment given by them at the last Grange meeting in the Methodist parish house, Old Mystic, Friday evening. The members from here attended and Mrs. C. F. Congdon recited her original poem. Those outside the membership had an opportunity of hearing it and enjoying many hearty laughs. The costumes are worth seeing. The circle has been invited to give the entertainment at other places.

A small picnic was held at Alvah Chapman's cottage on Masons Island, Tuesday, by Mrs. Edward Crandall and daughter Louise, Mrs. Martin and son Jack, of New York, Mrs. Tait Hope and Miss Doris Hope, Potter Hill, Wallace and James Burns, of Wauregan, Thomas Mercer and Mrs. Jessie Ivers.

Mrs. William MacMullen is visiting Mrs. Charles Vinal in Milford.

Mrs. Elsie Barraclough and daughter Mildred, of Philadelphia, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Cooper.

Mrs. Albert Wheeler visited her sister in Ledyard recently.

Mrs. George Pendleton has spent this week with her son, Morris Pendleton and family, on Denison avenue.

Mrs. Thomas Pollard and daughter Irene and son Junior spent Thursday in Noank.

Mrs. L. C. Whitney, of Brooklyn, visited friends at Groton Long Point, Thursday.

Mrs. Nathan Steadman, of Dedham, Mass., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Dudley T. Bindloss.

Rev J. G. Osborn will preach in the Baptist church Sunday and leaves early in the week for a vacation during August.

Thomas Mercer, of Laporte, Ind., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Jessie Mercer Ivers.

Helen Starkey chapter of St. Mark's church held a cake sale in the office of the Mystic Power company.

Miss Josephine Foote, who is attending Yale summer school, spends the week-ends with her uncle, Jerry Holmes and his family, in Bridgeport.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pollard entertained the Fitch family Friday, seventeen in number.

Mrs. Warren Rathbun and daughters Annie and Edith and Mrs. Emeline F. Allen have returned from a motor trip to Vermont.

Wilhelmena D. Schroder has just returned from the thirtieth international Christian Endeavor convention held at Portland, Ore., from July 4th to 10th. C. E. members from all parts of U. S., Canada and foreign lands were in attendance. C. E. is growing; 9,733 new societies were formed in the last two years. The event of great interest was the retirement, after a life service, of Dr. Francis E. Clark. Forty-four years ago he established the Christian Endeavor society at Portland, Ore.; 40 years ago, was elected president of the United Christian Endeavor society throughout the world. In honor of Dr. Clark's long service on a non-salary basis, a fund of $100,000 is to be raised and called the Francis E. Clark Recognition fund, the income to be used by the Clark family as long as they live, then the income to be devoted to Christian Endeavor all over the world. The membership throughout the world is now 4,000,000 in 80,000 societies.

VOLUNTOWN

A party of twenty-two children gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Fletcher Saturday afternoon to assist their daughter Marion in celebrating her ninth birthday. An appetizing lunch was served under the trees on the lawn and consisted of sandwiches, cake, fruit, ice cream and iced drinks, with a big birthday cake as the feature. Various sports and games provided amusement. The young celebrant received gifts of money and other presents. Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher were assisted in serving the children and supervising their games by Mrs. Edna Dupont.

Sunday afternoon, about forty-five Boy Scouts from Moosup went through the village on their way to Beach Pond, where they established camp for a week's outing.

Monday morning, Alfred C. Gravelin, 32, a well-known local young man, died at Norwich after an illness of several months. Mr. Gravelin was a World war veteran and a member of Court Liberty, No. 132, Foresters of America, of this village. He leaves his wife and daughter, his parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gravelin, and several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon from the M. E. church. Rev. J. W. Payne, of Jewett City, officiating. Mrs. John B. Murphy sang "Lead Kindly Light" and "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," accompanied on the organ by Miss Ethel Popple. Military honors were paid by a squad of sixteen soldiers and sailors, in command of P. W. Chase, of Jewett City, who escorted the body of the veteran from his home to the church, thence to Robbins cemetery, where final military honors were paid, a salute being fired by a squad and Taps sounded by Bugler William Maynard. Rev. Mr. Payne read the committal service. The bearers, all former service men, were Alfred T. Dupont and Charles Miller, of Voluntown, Harvey, Adrian and William Maynard and Joseph Sadowski, of Jewett City. Color bearer, Gilbert Miner, Jewett City; guards, Albert Dupont and Moses Tatro, Voluntown; firing squad, Hazard Aramooney, Victor St. John, Philamene Guillotte, Esphage Jarvis, Ulysses Guillet, Napoleon and George Cyr and Irving Thornton, of Jewett City. Court Liberty, No. 132, F. of A., was represented by Chief Ranger Alfred T. Dupont, Treasurer L. H. Ritchotte and F. Secretary Thomas McDonald.

Local people appreciate the splendid spirit shown by Orville La Flamme post of the American Legion, of Jewett City, in sending over such large squads to pay their last tribute to former service men, even though they do not belong to their organization.

GALES FERRY

Under the auspices of the department of recreation and culture of the Epworth league of the Methodist Episcopal church, Mrs. Nelson Parker chairman an entertainment and social was given in the vestry Tuesday evening, by entertainers from neighboring granges, Nelson Parker as chairman announcing the following program, March Waldmere, Ledyard grange, orchestra, Harry Hanks, Miss Phyllis Hanks, Frederick Allyn and Fred Doolittle, violins, Mrs. William L. Allyn at the piano, encore, Bohemian Girl; solo, Sing Me to Sleep, Miss Hanks; Mrs. Allyn at the piano, Mr. Hanks, violin, reading, Maggie Doolay's First Philosophy Ride, Mrs. Ellery Burdick of Mystic Grange, encore My Sister's Best Fellow; overture, Poet and Peasant, orchestra, solo, MacCushnet, Mrs. Walter Duffey, Allyn's Point, encore, Annie Laurie; Mrs. Rufus W. Hurlbutt, at the piano; Welcome and thanks to the entertainers, Rev. George Smith Brown, pastor of the church. The chairman Mr. Parker, expressed a welcome to all, including Rev. and Mrs. George H. Wright and son, William K. Wright, who were present from Sterling, Rev. Mr. Wright a former pastor of this church, responded in a pleasing manner to the welcome. Selection, Cup Winner, orchestra. Rev. Mr. Wright here expressed appreciation of the excellent music given by the Ledyard orchestra, Rev. Mr. Brown, extended informally to the Grangers and all from out of the place present an invitation to attend the community picnic next week. Solo, Dreaming of You, Harry Hanks; reading, My Baby Brother, Mrs. Burdick; encores, Mary Had a Little Lamb and the Italian Vender; waltz, Falling Leaves, orchestra; duet, Sleepy Hollow Tune; Mrs. Allyn, Mr. Hanks; encore the Love Dream, quartette, Good Night. Good Night Beloved, Mrs. Allyn, Miss Hanks, Frederic Allyn, Harry Hanks, March, Volcano, orchestra. There was a good attendance and the entertainment received hearty applause, both orchestra and reader. Ice cream and cake was served at the close of the program.

Miss Nellie Gallup of St. Paul, Minn., who is spending the summer with her uncle and aunt, Deacon and Mrs. Isaac S. Geer of Geer Hill Ledyard and was the guest of Mrs. William S. Allyn for a week was one of the Ledyard party present at the Tuesday entertainment at the M. E. vestry.

Owing to a typographical error the gift of the late George St. John Sheffield to the Gales Ferry Free Public Library for four years read $5 in the Nowich Bulletin of Thursday July 23, when it should have read five hundred dollars.

STONINGTON

Miss Mae Rix is employed in the bobbin department of the Atwood Machine company.

L. E. Kenniff, of Providence, was in town on business, Thursday.

Misses Elizabeth, Dorothy and Cecelia Muse, of Boston, are visiting in the borough.

Through an error, it was stated recently in The Bulletin that Peter Martin of New York, purchased the West farm. Peter Marcus is the new owner.

Many Stonington people attended the concert in Wilcox park, Westerly, Thursday evening.

Miss Mazie Burns is visiting relatives here.

Jack Winthrop, of New Haven, was here Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Cotter and son Ralph and daughter Evelyn are visiting at Lord's Point.

Miss Elsie Willis, of New London, called here Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Stalling and three daughters, of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting Mr. James Comstock and daughters, Miss Cathryn and Mrs. Irving Maxson.

A business meeting of Stonington lodge, No. 150, A. O. U. W., was held in Muller's hall, Thursday evening.

Miss Margaret Vargas is visiting in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Shugrue, of Hartford, and Mrs. Caroline Johnston, of New Bedford, Mass., are visiting at Lord's Point and Stonington.

Capt. Oscine Gavitt has completed redecorating the Neptune and Pioneer engine companies' rooms. The apparatus rooms will next be attended to.

C. A. Bleasdale, of Westerly, was in town on business Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Edgar and son Robert Jr., are spending the week-end at the home of Mrs. Edgar's mother, Mrs. Fred Nugent, of Westerly.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Silver have returned to New York, following a lengthy visit with F. A. Vargas and family.

Mrs. Jones spent Friday in Wequetequock visiting friends.

Miss Kathryn Staplin, of New London, returned home Thursday evening, after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Staplin, of Water street.

The First Baptist church picnic is to be held the first week in August.

Miss Doris Dowd and Miss Ethel Dowd, of Uncasville, were callers here Thursday evening.

Mrs. Lillian Kichen was a caller in Westerly Thursday.

Agnes and Pearl Jolly, of East Greenwich, R. I., were visitors here Friday.

George Walthers, of Troy, N. Y., is visiting in the borough.

Herman Gray, of Fall River, Mass., was here on business Friday.

The railroad company is to have a 24-hour protection service at the Main street crossing. Traffic is heavy over this particular crossing.

The date set for the annual inspection and parade of the fire companies of Stonington is August 3, Saturday. The warden and burgesses will inspect the companies' quarters at 1:30 p. m.

Capt. Ed Clark brought in 186 pounds of mackerel, Wednesday, from Montauk Point.

Miss Paulette Caron, of Peacedale, R. I., was a caller here Friday.

CENTRAL VILLAGE

Willard W. Sheldon, 72, of Central Village, a resident of the town of Plainfield nearly half a century, died at the Day Kimball hospital, Putnam, Friday, the 17th.

Following his removal to the hospital four weeks previous to his death it was found that a surgical operation was necessary. Complications arising thereafter occasioned his death.

He was born in Voluntown, May 10, 1853, the son of George Thurston and Eliza Maria (Hazard) Sheldon, the youngest of the family of eight children, all now dead. In 1876 he came to the town of Plainfield, a greater part of the years since having been spent in Central Village. He followed the trade of carpenter, and in early life worked as a wheel-wright. Recently he had built a new bungalow on Palmer avenue, Central Village, where he had made his home.

In 1875 he married Estella E., daughter of Erza Lee and Dorcas Palmer at Voluntown. They had two children, L. Minnie, wife of H. Leland Sanger of South Woodstock, and W. Franklin, postmaster at Moosup. There are four grandchildren: Mrs. Lester R. Craig of Moosup, Mrs. Gilman L. Graves of Worcester, Mass., Hobert L. Sanger, an accountant at Whittall Associates, Worcester, and Quentin M. Sanger, a student at Clark University, Worcester. He leaves three great grandchildren: Robert and Russell Craig, twin brothers, and Gilman Luther Graves, Jr.

Mr. Sheldon was married for his second time to Fenella T. Aldrich, daughter of the late Stephen Aldrich of Central Village.

Funeral services were held Monday at 12 o'clock at the home of his son at Moosup, Rev. G. Leon Wells pastor of the Methodist church officiating. The bearers were Everett and William Sheldon of Westerly, R. I., J. Byron Sheldon of Voluntown and Hobart L. Sanger. Burial was in Evergreen cemetery, Central Village.

If a man is bent on committing suicide he can afford to be familiar with a mule.

THE BOSTON STORE
THE REID & HUGHES COMPANY
NORWICH CONNECTICUT

Saturday the Last Day of the Vacation Sale and Special Sale of Silks

This is a ringing call to the hundreds who will want to fill their last minute vacation needs quickly—and economically. Remember, this is standard Boston Store merchandise at prices that mean welcome savings for you.

Underpriced Summer Frocks

SILK DRESSES, $14.95

Every one up to the minute, smart looking, in the most wanted colors, former values up to $35.00—SATURDAY $14.95.

SILK AND VOILE DRESSES, $8.95

These are remarkable values and offer a wide variety of models. We suggest early choosing—SATURDAY $8.95.

SILK AND COTTON DRESSES, $3.95

A wide assortment of smart styles, in almost all sizes. These are exceptional values. Good assortment of colors.

UNUSUAL SALE OF SILKS

Ends Today

Those silks in their varied designs and charming combination of colors have made a strong appeal to the women of discriminating taste—Today you will have your last chance to secure some of these remarkable values—Advance showing and sale of new Fall Silks, the most popular of these are Crepe Back Satin, the values range from $3.00 to $5.00 per yard. Grouped in two lots—

$1.98 and $2.69 Yd.

Silk Hosiery

WOMEN'S SILK HOSE — Black and colors, all sizes, reinforced heel and toe, irregulars of the $1.00 grade—SATURDAY ONLY

59c

Balbriggan Underwear

MEN'S GOVERNMENT BALBRIGGAN SHIRTS AND DRAWERS—Very good quality, $1.00 value—SATURDAY

59c Each

Men's Furnishings

MEN'S FINE PERCALE COLLARS—Attached Shirts, all new patterns, sizes 14 to 16, regular $1.50 grade—SATURDAY

98c Each

Men's Silk Socks

LION BRAND PURE THREAD SILK SOCKS—Plain colors, high spliced heel and toe, regular 75c grade—SATURDAY

59c Pair

MILLINERY

New Arrivals for Summer Wear

NEW FELT SPORT HATS—In white and black colors. They are so popular because they are suitable with all colors and costumes—SATURDAY ONLY

$1.98

Boys' Shop

BOYS' KHAKI KNICKERS—8 to 16—SATURDAY SPECIAL

85c

BOYS' BASEBALL SUITS—Our entire stock of Baseball Suits to close—at $1.00 Suit

Leather Goods

UNDERARM AND POUCH BAGS—Silk lined, all leather, value $3.75 to $4.25—SATURDAY

$2.45

Toilets

BATH SALTS—Large glass bottle, with screw top, in all the wanted odors, value 25c—SATURDAY

10c

PALMOLIVE SOAP—SATURDAY

4 Cakes 24c

FOOD SALE

CONNECTICUT COUNCIL OF CATHOLIC WOMEN, ST. MARY'S PARISH, SATURDAY, JULY 25th AT 1 O'CLOCK.

BOLTON

Joseph Haley, while walking from his store to the house Friday evening, was struck by an automobile. He was severely bruised and cut on his head, but is able to be around.

Donald W. Massey is at Camp Jewel, New Hampshire, for a month.

Mrs. John Conklin, of Hartford, spent Tuesday with her daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Sumner.

Mrs. Eva Warfield and daughter, Doris, were calling on Mrs. Jennie L. Bolton, Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Ruth Hilton, of Hartford, spent Tuesday with her cousin, Miss Jeannette Sumner.

Miss Ruth Jones spent a couple of days with Miss Louise Phelps.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie S. Bolton, Howard Sumner and Miss Lila Warner motored to Crescent Beach Sunday.

Mrs. Carl Ruggles, of Springfield, Mass., was in town Tuesday calling on Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sumner.

Miss Lila Warner and Howard Sumner, of Hartford, spent the week end with Mr. Sumner's aunt, Mrs. Jennie L. Bolton.

Charles N. Loomis, Jr., of Pawtucket, spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Charles N. Loomis.

Norman Loomis has returned to his home in Pawtucket, after spending one week with his grandmother, Mrs. Charles N. Loomis.

Miss Elisabeth Rose and Ruth Jones spent Wednesday afternoon with Miss Louise Phelps.

The farmers are not having very good weather to cure their hay this season.

Miss Annie M. Alvord and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Alvord motored to Branford, Sunday, calling on Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alvord.

Miss Florence Loomis is visiting at the home of Mrs. Charles N. Loomis.

Mrs. John Wittman and friends, from Hartford, motored to Ocean Beach Sunday.

The thunder shower Wednesday afternoon was the hardest of the season and put lots of telephones out of order.

LEONARD BRIDGE

County Agent Walter T. Clark, of Norwich, Clarence I. Hendrickson, of Storrs and others, were callers at James A. Thoenes' recently.

Mr. Clark, of New London, representing the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, was calling on local farmers Wednesday, inducing them to join in an effort to better conditions for farmers.

Mrs. Charles L. Hinckley, and son, Ralph, have returned from a visit at Point O'Woods Beach, with the former's sister, Mrs. Oliver L. Willard.

A few from here attended the Social Corner picnic at Mrs. Fred Madley's, at Lebanon, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Walsh, Charles M. Geer, and daughter, Miss Myra Geer, were in Norwich, Tuesday evening.

Cards have been received announcing the opening of a garage at Salem, owned by Mrs. Edward H. McCall, of this place, and to be in charge of her son, Calvin H. McCall, of Colchester. Mr. McCall has been employed at a garage in Colchester for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Swan, of Rockville, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Humiston, of South Windham, spent Sunday at George Watrous'.

Miss Lizzie Newberry has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jarsius Case, at Hartford.

Howard B. Williams, of Springfield, Mass., was a recent local caller.

EXCHANGE RATES ENABLE SWISS TO ENJOY PARIS SHOW

PARIS, July 24—(AP)—Profiting by the height of the Swiss franc as compared with the French, entire clubs, chambers of commerce and other bodies of Swiss, with their families, have come over the border to attend the exposition of decorative arts in numbers that compare favorably with the English and American visitors.

Switzerland's contribution to the exposition is one of the most important, considering the size of the country, at the Grand Palais. All the old historic cities have sent imposing displays of their burghers' handicraft.

POETRY

MISTS OF THE MORNING.

Dawn, magician of the morning,
Did some tricks for me today,
Used the Sun as foil, and fellow
In a mystifying way.
For his stage, a valley by-road
Just emerging from the night,
Served to make of his performance
Sorcery of rare delight.

First this crafty wonder-worker
Veiled the trees in mists of gray,
Made of them a magic curtain,
Held in talismanic sway.
Next he made my startled fancies
Picture ghosts behind the screen;
Gnomes and goblins without number
Danced across the hazy scene.

I was in a mood for fleeing,
When, as all magicians do,
Dawn said: "Wait, the show's not over—
I've another trick or two!"
Now he called for Sun to aid him
In illusions that would be
Just as thrilling in their beauty
As the tricks that startled me.

Mists once gray became as silver,
Mists all spectral turned to gold;
No great rainbow, arching heaven,
Could more brilliancy unfold.
Sun, now seeing Dawn's deft wanding
Made the Mists of Morning go;
Presto! Yes, tomorrow morning
Dawn will give another show!

—William Herschell,
In Indianapolis News.

PRELUDE

Words, words,
Ye are like birds.
Would I might fold you,
In my hands hold you
Till ye were warm and your feathers
a-flutter;
Till, in your throats,
Tremulous notes
Foretold the songs ye would utter.

Words, words,
Ye are all birds!
Would ye might linger
Here on my finger,
Till I kissed each, and then sent you
a-winging
Wild, perfect flight,
Through morn to night,
Singing and singing and singing!

—Josephine Preston Peabody.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

Ferdy tells me he has never kissed his fiancee.

Is she so old-fashioned at that?

No; she won't stop smoking cigarettes long enough.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Sunday-school teacher had been telling her pupils of the good habit of saying grace at the table.

Now, can any of you tell me what your father says before he eats?" she asked.

Go easy on the butter, kids, it's 50 cents a pound, piped a small voice, from the rear.—The Progressive Grocer.

May—What would you do if you were in my shoes?

June—Get a pair about four sizes smaller!—The Progressive Grocer.

English Teacher—What is the opposite of "woe?"

Smart Frosh—Giddap, madam.—Washington State College Cougr's Paw.

Oh, mummy, that man's bald!

Hush, dear, or he will hear you!

But he knows already, doesn't he?—Good Hardware.

Little Percy (to school teacher)—Father sez you're to learn me only dry measure, seein' 'as 'ow 'e's signed the pledge.—Kansas City Star.

"Madam," said the doctor, "I shall have to paint your husband's throat with nitrate of silver."

"Please use nitrate of gold, doctor," exclaimed Mrs. Moneybags. "The expense is quite immaterial."—Illinois Wesleyan Argus.

Asylum Visitor—The patient in the padded cell has a most remarkable vocabulary. Most of the words he uses are marked rare or obsolete in the dictionaries.

Doctor—Poor fellow! He got that way trying to solve cross word puzzles.—Answers, London.

Pa, what's the difference between a luxury and a necessity?

You can do without a necessity, my son with out losing the respect of the neighbors.—Punch.

Newedd—What's wrong with the pie crust? It doesn't half cover the pie.

Mrs. Newedd—Why, dearest, I asked your mother how to make them to suit you and she said to make the crust very short.—Stray Stories.

KALEIDOSCOPE

During the last year the United States National Museum acquired more than a third of a million new specimens.

The United States imported 1,800,000 bushels of onions in 1924 and expects to exceed this quantity this year.

In spite of local high prices, the people of Penang, Straits Settlement, are enjoying American grapefruit, oranges and apples.

Photographs have been made from Mt. Hamilton, in California, near San Jose, which show the Sierra Nevada mountains, more than 300 miles away.

The United States has a large slice of South Sea island trade, for in 1924 it supplied 21 per cent of the volume of imports into the islands and took 35 per cent of the exports.

Sweden, the world's largest exporter of softwoods, has only two important woods, pine and spruce, while the United States has nearly a hundred varieties.

The faintest stars visible to the naked eye are of the fifth magnitude, while with the largest telescopes photographs may be made of stars as faint as the 21st magnitude.

Grouped around the present active crater of Old Faithful geyser are four extinct geyser cones. It is estimated that old faithful has been doing business at the same stand for 50,000 years.

Fresh eggs laid by Peruvian hens sell at 10 cents to 12 cents each in Lima, and a large shipment of eggs from the United States has caused a stir of interest in view of a possibility for unscrambling the situation.

Millions of 1-cent and 5-cent pieces are defaced in the United States annually, and the number of those coins returned to be remelted at the Philadelphia mint in five years would fill five trains of 60 cars each, holding 50,000 pounds to the car.

Public health officials report that safe drinking water on ships within the United States is a problem of increasing importance and difficulty, owing to the increasing contamination of lakes, rivers and coastal waters and to the growth of transportation by water.

One hundred million passengers rode on the Italian state railways during last year, according to statistics recently issued. They paid an aggregate fare of 1,400,000,000 lire. Eighty-six per cent of the passengers traveled third class, 12 per cent second class and only 2 per cent first class.

The United States imported 2,233,276 pairs of lenthen gloves during the first four months of this year, an increase of 7.6 per cent over the corresponding period last year, according to the department of commerce. France supplied 49 per cent of the imports, Germany 32, Italy 5, United Kingdom 1 and other countries 12.

If a girl doesn't like flattery it's because she doesn't get enough to spoil her.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

What of the trolley line in all this establishment of parallel bus lines and talk of establishing them? A bus line is already in actual operation between Webster and New London. The Bulletin related Thursday morning that the N. Y., N. H. and H. R. R. company contemplates taking off trains between New London and Putnam and substituting bus lines running over the state highways and touching the principal centers of population from which the trolley road gets such business as remains for it.

Several years ago, the public utilities commission, following a hearing that attracted representatives of communities in Plainfield, Killingly, Putnam and Thompson to Putnam, ruled against further operation of a well functioning bus line that had been established between Putnam and Danielson by the late C. H. Pellett, who also operated busses out of Danielson to Brooklyn and to Wauregan and Central Village. It was virtually held at that time that the trolley line should not be subjected to competition from bus lines in this area—and the busses were taken off their routes. This followed a winter in which the trolley line between Dayville and Putnam became frozen in and service abandoned for months, the bus line meanwhile supplying the only regular, frequent public service transportation between Putnam and Danielson.

It is to be assumed that the ruling made by the public utilities commission at that time and applying to this particular area still stands. Yet here is a bus line in actual operation in competition with the trolley and another one forecasted as about to operate. The trolley company appears to be getting little consideration these hot summer days. Possibly the trolley road may go into bus line operation. It does not appear that the trolley road can successfully contend in this state against the operation of an inter-state line, like the Webster-New London line. This is one place where the shoe pinches. The fact remains that this inter-state line is not greatly concerned at present with what might be described as strictly local traffic. It is engaged in making what may be termed long hauls of passengers.

At a meeting that the Captain Put engine company is to hold next week delegates will be elected to attend the state Firemen's convention to be held at West Haven in August.

Sergeant George Farron, U. S. A., is making his first visit to Danielson in 20 years, and plans to remain for two or three months visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farron. Sergeant Farron has just been placed on the retired list, with three-quarters pay. He rates a staff sergeant. Sergeant Farron is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, in which he served as a member of F. company, Danielson, of the Third Connecticut Infantry and a veteran of the Philippine campaign. He has been continuously in the service for 27 years, but has a service record of something over 30 years, with extra time allowed for Philippine service, and earned the right of retirement during the present month. He has been stationed at San Francisco for years and came east from that city. Many and hearty are the greetings in which he participates these days, from his old-time friends and associates in Danielson.

The concert by St. James' band at Davis park Friday evening was the treat anticipated. Hundreds availed themselves of the opportunity to hear a concert at the park on a delightful evening for the first time in several years. The appreciation of the public of the band's generosity in giving the concert is general. If it were not like looking a gift horse in the mouth, the public would clamor for many more concerts. In any event, the band will play again, before the summer is over.

Louis Roberge, 74, many years resident in Danielson, died early Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Amadee Proulx, of Mechanic street. He had been in poor health a long time and passed away following a severe attack of heart trouble. Mr. Roberge was a native of Canada, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Roberge. During his active years in Danielson he had been in the employ of the Danielson Cotton company, being with the outside force as a driver for a long time. Mr. Roberge was a man of splendid Christian character and ever devoted to his family. Mr. Roberge leaves two sons, Philip Roberge, of West Somerville, Mass., Edward, of Rockville, and five daughters, Mrs. Amadee Proulx, Mrs. Luther Day, Mrs. Alphonse Frasier, Mrs. Frank Mailhot and Mrs. John Breayea, all of Danielson. Mrs. Proulx died a number of years ago.

At her home on Winter street, at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, funeral services for Mrs. Ellen H. Codding were conducted by Rev. Roger C. Stimson, of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which Mrs. Codding had been a member for years. Burial was in Westfield cemetery. The bearers were Mrs. Codding's sons, Herbert and Chester, her son-in-law, W. Franklin Sheldon, of Moosup, her grand-son, Floyd Codding, and Nathan D. Prince and Sidney S. Stone, representing the Methodist church. A. F. Wood was in charge of the arrangements.

Here is a date that many have been watching for—the date of the annual Old Home day—at East Killingly. It is August 6. Rev. James F. English, of Putnam, will deliver the address. Features of the program of the day as arranged include readings by Miss Helen Heath and vocal numbers by Mrs. Albert Bernier, of Danielson, and Harry Beaman, of East Killingly. Music for the day will be by the East Killingly band.

There is a hint that fall is not so far ahead in the legal announcement by the registrars of the town of Killingly of a meeting they will hold during August to making an enrollment and the usual revision of the voting list, preparatory to the annual town election and the caucuses preceding it in late September and October.

Recent visitors to the Kent reservoir, the giant new project for supplying water to Providence, report that the vast basin is filling so slowly since the gates were closed that it appears it will require several years to reach high water mark near the top of the 100 foot dam.

A party of Danielson men will be guests of Dr. George M. Burroughs at Eastern Point Sunday.

Lady's Elgin gold bracelet watch with monogram on back, lost. Finder return to H. W. Chapin, jeweler, 7 Center St., and receive reward.—adv.

The annual outing of the Sunday school of the Congregational church at Dayville is to be held at Roseland lake, Woodstock, this (Saturday) afternoon.

C. W. CHAMPION, OF LYME, TO TAKE LOCAL BRIDE

At Trinity church, Brooklyn, this (Saturday) afternoon the marriage of Miss Elsa Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Anderson, and Clifford V. Champion of Lyme, Conn., will take place.

CORONER FREES RAILROAD OF BLAME FOR LESBER DEATH

(Special to the Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, July 24—Coroner Arthur G. Bill, following an inquest conducted Friday, finds that there was no evidence of carelessness or negligence on the part of the railroad company, in the accident that caused the death of Morris Lesber, of Putnam, at a grade crossing in Moosup, July 10.

The inquest developed the strange fact that Romeo Ouilette saw the train approaching the crossing, that the fireman of the locomotive saw Lesber driving toward the crossing, but was confident Lesber would stop his machine and Lesber must have seen the approaching train, yet did not stop.

Lesber had been making one of his periodic business calls at the Ouilette house, Romeo Ouilette testified that it was Lesber's custom to ask before leaving as to whether it was about train time and that he appeared to be concerned about the carefulness as to his safety when going over this particular crossing, which is near the Cranka mills.

On the day of the accident Lesber did not happen to inquire as to a train being due, as he was about to drive away from the Ouilette place. He drove off with the train approaching in full sight. There was no accounting for his not stopping. The hearing developed that the train was not proceeding at high speed, probably at not more than 20 miles an hour. The situation was such as Lesber's machine approached the crossing, for which the whistle of the locomotive had been duly sounded that those who watched Lesber were certain he must have seen the train and are certain that he would stop just before reaching the crossing. Why he did not do so must ever remain a mystery, for only Lesber could tell.

dLqbeOoT.hninglbl

LEDYARD

The teachers for all of the schools in Ledyard have been secured. The schools will open for the fall term Tuesday, Sept. 1st. There are several changes in the teaching force for the school year. At a recent meeting of the town school committee it was voted to close the Center school, there being only three of school age in that district, and to re-open Unionville school, which has been closed for a number of years. The following teachers have been engaged: Long Cove, Miss Bela Rifkind; re-engaged; Gales Ferry Primary, Mrs. Rufus Hurlbutt; Gales Ferry Grammar, Miss Emelyn Whipple; Geer, Miss Bertha Ahlemann; Church Hill, Mrs. Carrie Mansfield; Cider Hill, Vinton O. Ackley; Gallup, Leslie R. Holdridge; Unionville, Miss Helen Thompson; Lamb, Miss Gertrude A. Watrous; Lantern Hill, Miss Ruby Swain.

The families of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Allyn, Mrs. Charles Geer and family, and Mr. and Mrs. George Garrapye had a picnic at Crescent Beach, on Thursday.

A missionary meeting was held at the parsonage Friday afternoon. Miss Nellie Geer, the president, presided.

George Owen Geer is employed in the Merchants National Bank of Norwich, during his vacation from Yale University.

Rev. G. F. Goodenough held a Christian Endeavor meeting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Avery, Sunday evening, July 19.

CANTERBURY GREEN

A midsummer gathering of the Whist club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Wilson, last Thursday evening. Several guests were invited and five tables of whist were played. The first prize was won by Mrs. Wilson. Mr. Hawes won first prize for the gents. An appetizing supper was served by the committee. Mrs. Lillian Frink, Mrs. Keach, Mrs. Tracy and Mrs Ralph Lovell. Elaborate table decorations of pink and green were arranged, by Mrs. Wright, with dainty place cards and favors attached to ribbons of those colors. A pyramid of sweet peas and pansies was the centerpiece on the table which was laid for twenty-four people.

Mrs. Milo Apply is spending a vacation with friends at Groton Long Point.

Guests at Mrs. James Lathrop's are Mrs. Idler and children, of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. Brown and daughter, who recently returned from a world tour.

Mr. and Mrs. George King, of Brooklyn, recently visited their sister, Mrs. Frank Nelson.

Mrs. Krouse and children are at their summer home at Elmdale.

PENDLETON HILL

Mrs. C. Dwight Thompson and granddaughter, Miss Lucille A. Wheeler, are visiting Mrs. Harris Boardman.

Mrs. James M. Cook is the guest of her son, J. Morton Cook, at Farm Holm Stonington.

Miss Cecile Palmer is being entertained by Miss Bertha Lewis, of Voluntown.

Mrs. Charles E. North, Misses Anna, Pean, Amelia Charlotte North and Master Charles Edward North, with their guests Miss Bernice Alexander, of Montclair, N. J., and Miss Margaret Napier, of East Orange, N. J., spent Sunday at the Palmer Homestead.

Mr. Putker is painting the house at Ferndale.

Mrs. Robert Milne entertained the Ladies' Aid society at her home, Bonnie Brae, Wednesday, here were twenty-six present.

Some improvement is reported in Richard Palmer, who has been seriously ill for the past three weeks.

SOUTH GRISWOLD

There will be no service at the Bethel M. E. church Sunday, July 26th as the pastor Rev. J. W. Carter is away on his vacation.

Capt A. P. Culver, Stanley H. Winroth, N. A. Brand and E. O. Burdick were visitors at Quiambaug Sunday.

Mrs. M. L. Chizzola has returned to Montreal, Canada, after spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Luther.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd K. Young of Westerly, R. I., were recent callers in South Griswold.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver M. Young and family of New Haven, are spending the week in South Griswold.

Local friends of Mrs. S. M. North are saddened to learn of her illness.

Mrs. E. O. Burdick and sons were visitors in Plainfield Saturday and attended the circus.

Don't despise the little things. The mosquito is more bother than the elephant.

PUTNAM

Boy Scout Troop No. 1 is being reorganized in Putnam. The troop committee has been selected and Jerome W. Andrews, former second assistant scoutmaster, has been appointed first assistant scoutmaster. One patrol (eight boys) has been signed up to help the new recruits who may come into the organization. These eight boys were all members of the old troop. The troop is limited to thirty-two and boys wishing to become members are to notify Neal J. Bulger, secretary of Patrol No. 1 or Russell W. Sherman, assistant secretary of Patrol No. 2, Troop No. 2. The troop committeemen are George Lemis Jr., chairman, Stanley F. Bacon and Samuel Rich.

Dwight Chappell of Middletown, Ohio, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Frost at their home on Sunnyside. Mr. Chapple spends his summers at Pleasant View.

Morris Bravo has gone to Virginia, but his family will remain here for the present. Mr. Bravo sold his interest in the firm of Afraim and Bravo to his partner, James Afraime.

D. S. Gilbert, Mrs. Stanley Shaw and little daughter, Martha Elizabeth, Evelyn Shaw and Mildred Torrey have returned from an automobile trip through the White Mountains and left early this (Saturday) morning for a trip over King's Highway, as far north as Lake George.

Mrs. Henry Maynard and son Lester of Woodstock avenue and Miss Jeanie Perrin of Woodstock left Friday by automobile for Englewood, Colorado, fifteen miles west of Denver. They expect to camp on the way and be gone until September.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Bayce have returned from a short visit to Falmouth and Onset, Mass., making the trip by automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Guertin of Montreal, have been visiting friends and relatives in this city.

Fred Platt, who has been a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Willimantic, has resumed his work at the H. K. Silk mill this week.

Miss Sadie Zarris and her brother, Abraham, are at Ocean Beach, visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Rosegrail have been visitors at Providence and Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Elliott and son, Leonard Elliott, have returned after a two weeks' camping at Cornfield Point, near Saybrook.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry W. Thompson have returned from a visit with Mrs. Thompson's sister, Mrs. E. G. Child at Palmer, Mass.

Miss Ethel Wolfe, Miss Rose Wolfe and Mrs Max Levine have been at Ocean Beach.

Miss Anna Quinnquist of New Haven is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry Lyon of Center street.

At Christ Episcopal church, Pomfret, Sunday, July 26, Right Rev. Dr. Samuel Bishop of Arizona will conduct the morning service which will be held at eleven o'clock. During the summer the church school meetings will be at 9:30 Friday at 2 p. m.

A meeting of St. Philip's Guild is to be held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. A. Morrill.

Alpha Delta class of the Second Congregational church was entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grace Nicholl. There was a large attendance.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church is raising $25 to help pay for the repairs at the District parsonage, the home of Rev. M. E. Center, at Norwich.

Miss Bertha Quinn and Isaac Champeau, both from the Bigelow & Wolf department store, have returned from their vacations. Mr. Champeau spent his vacation at Hartford and Sound View.

Miss Edna Moriarty and Cyril Remillard of the People's Store are on their vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Newton Vaughn have returned from a two weeks' trip to Elgay, Nova Scotia.

Herbert Fitzroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fitzroy, formerly of this city, has graduated with honors from the University of Pennsylvania, and won The Rhodes Scholarship which entitles him to enter Cambridge University, England, in the fall.

Alice Fell Searls has been appointed executrix of the estate of the late Charles E. Searls, state attorney for Windham county.

Fernando C. Ross has been appointed administrator of the estate of Josephine Kroll, late of Worcester, Mass.

DARTMOUTH FRAT PIN, 1859, FOUND AT QUONOCHONTAUG

(Special to The Bulletin.)

PUTNAM, July 24—On Quonochontaug, R. I., beach two years ago Representative Samuel Rich of this city found a Greek Letter frat pin. He has just succeeded in learning that the owner of it died fifteen years ago and he has sent it to his nearest surviving relative, Mrs. William P. Frink, of Greenland, N. H., a niece by marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich were taking a walk at the shore resort after dinner when the former caught sight of something that glittered like tinfoil." He walked idly by but the thought kept recurring to him to investigate and he finally went back and from a little sand covered crevice in the rock picked up what proved to be a diamond-shaped pin. After burnishing it a little the gold showed plainly as well as a little diamond in the center. On the back was the name Charles Walker Pickering. Mr. Rich made inquiries at the hotels at the beach, but there had been no guests of that name. Further inquiries when he reached his home here failed to elicit any information about the pin. Several months ago his nephew, who is employed with the General Electric Co., at Schenectady, visited here and Mr. Rich showed him the pin. The nephew told Mr. Rich that among the thousands of employes of the G. E. company were graduates of every college and that if he would let him take the pin he could probably find out for what college or university it was made. A little later he returned it with the information that it was a Dartmouth Psi Upsilon pin.

Mr. Rich wrote to Prof. Malcolm Willey at Dartmouth, telling him the circumstances, and this resulted in a letter from the Council of Administration at Dartmouth to the effect that the only person named Charles Walker Pickering on the college rolls was graduated in 1859 and that his home was at Greenland, N. H. Writing to that address at Greenland, Mr. Rich received a letter from Mrs. Frink. She said that Mr. Pickering had attended Phillips Exeter Academy and then had entered Dartmouth from which he was graduated in 1859. He became a lawyer prominent in state as well as local affairs and was at one time a member of the Governor's Council. She referred to him as Colonel Pickering.

He died in 1910, a bachelor. His sister Lucretia married Mr. Frink and their son, William P. Frink, had married the writer.

Col. Pickering's sister died in 1913 and the latter's son in 1923. From a family as well as a sentimental interest she told Mr. Rich she would be glad to accept his offer to send her the pin. He forwarded it to her recently and has just received a letter acknowledging its arrival and thanking him for the interest he had taken in tracing the owner of the pin. She has no idea of how the pin came to be on the beach at Quonochontaug or how long it had been there. High tide covered the spot where it was found and it might have been washed ashore only a short time before Mr. Rich found it and the next high tide might have carried it back into the ocean.

NOANK

Boat Mary Anna, Captain Eugene Mullett capsized out at the fishing ground, Wednesday, and lost a barrel of fish. He was towed home by a boat from Mystic.

Charles Ellis is in New York for a visit.

Till Jowell has been a caller in Montville.

Mrs. Aldrich Johnson entertained for the week, Mrs. Emmanuel Anderson and daughter, Elise of Norwich.

Miss Rhea Despathy, of Baltic, is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. LL. J. Fontaine, at Groton Long Point.

Captain Charles Potter of Norwich was calling on friends in the village Wednesday.

Mrs. Leon Weaver is visiting in Westerly.

Mrs. Byron Whitney of Norwich is at Bonsaida cottage for a few days.

Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Gates and daughter Elizabeth have gone to Halifax for a visit.

George W. Brown and son Malcolm were recent callers in Greenport, L. I.

Washington Council No. 7, Jr. O. U. A. M. held a regular meeting this week. The election resulted as follows: Councilor, Charles Oles, vice councilor, Lloyd Brown, secretary and treasurer, W. H. Wolverton, financial secretary, John G. Bentley, treasurer, Charles P. Fitch, conductor, Keith Ebbetts, warden, Robert Palmer, inside sentinel, J. H. Brown, outside sentinel, George A. Spicer, junior past councilor, C. D. Wolverton, trustees F. W. Buddington and J. H. Brown, chaplain, Frank Schoonmaker. Deputy State Councilor Marsdale of Roosevelt Council of New London installed the officers.

George E. Main has returned to his duties in New Haven after a visit with his family on Spicer avenue.

Robert Lowell while working at the Sea Sled Co. in West View fell off a roof and received a bad cut on his arm.

Dominica Club had a straw ride to Atlantic beach Friday night where roller skating was the amusement. The members returned at midnight. In the party were A. Banks, Alden Bocky, Ed. Schoolmaker, Lewis Lamb, Phillip Steele, George Adains and Carl Ascruft.

Leo Harris is visiting friends in New York.

Raymond Sistaire has returned from New Jersey.

Lloyd Brown was four hours and one-half coming from Hartford by train because of the electrical storm in that part of the state Wednesday night.

John Carmeyer has returned from New Haven.

Donald Lang of Norwich is visiting at Charles I. Potter cottage, on Riverside avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hayes of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting Mrs Charles Palmer.

Miss Mellie Jones has returned from Springfield.

Walter Buddington was a recent caller at Point Judith.

E. Davis of Fisher Island was in town Thursday.

Albert Banks of Taunton, Mass., is visiting his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Banks.

Earl Bogue celebrated his twentieth birthday at West View by a party. Games and dancing provided entertainment. E. Privy gave a saxophone solo. A prize was awarded in a guessing game to D. Breed who received a fountain pen. There was music by G. Smith's orchestra. The birthday cake with 20 candles was in the center of the table. The cake was made by Miss Emma Jones.

Ralph Sherman of Providence is visiting E. Sherman.

Raymond Resseignol of Providence is spending two weeks' vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Clark were recent callers in New Haven.

Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Fitch and family are occupying their cottage at Lantern Hill for a few days.

Reeves and Tryon have completed a large well on the property of Gordon Allen.

The road from W. C. Rathbur- store to Groton Long Point bridge is receiving a coat of tarvia and sand from the state department.

Mrs. Henry Heuritt of Lighthouse Point was a recent caller in Hartford.

Mrs. Ralph Wheeler of Stonington is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tourjee.

Mrs. Charles Jensen has gone to Rochelle, N. J. for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Genevieve Porter is having her residence on Smith Court renovated and painted.

Miss Ann Robertson was operated on at Home Memorial Hospital for appendicitis, Tuesday.

John Robertson employed in Providence is spending a few days at his home on Pearl street.

Mrs. Ella Porter entertained the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, Thursday.

Mizpah Class of Noank Baptist church held the annual picnic on the lawn of one of the members, Mrs. Stella Rathburn. The dance given by the Daughters of America was largely attended. Noyes orchestra, of Mystic played.

Police Commissioner Enright of New York denied that Miss Ethel Shutta, actress, was receiving police favor in the matter of traffic regulations in her nightly trips between two theaters.

CHAPLIN

Attorney Edward Cunningham, his wife and daughters of New York and Rev. Edward Cunningham father of Lawyer Cunningham are staying at the Hamilton House for a number of days. Lawyer Cunningham is looking after the settlement of the estate of the late John Irwin.

The Endeavor society is to go to Eastford next Sunday evening to attend the meeting of the Eastford Y. P. S. C. E.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Streeter were at L. Wilbur Lanphear's over the week end.

Mrs. Rosilio of Florence, Mass., and Miss Vera Back, of New York, were visitors with their aunt, Carrie Hemingway, over Sunday.

Rev. John H. Knott gave his attentive congregation Sunday a strong sermon from the theme, The Essentials' Religion.

Mrs. Lucy P. Russ is with her mother, who is ill and lives near Willimantic Camp Ground.

A state wide campaign among Oklahoma Indians to urge the removal of Charles H. Burke as commissioner of Indian affairs in Washington has been launched in Ottawa county and a petition urging President Coolidge to oust Burke from the office has been signed by approximately 600 Indians.

Save $13.75

The only chance you will probably ever have to buy a brand new 1925 EUREKA VACUUM CLEANER complete with all attachments, fully guaranteed — regularly advertised price $53.50

Now $39.75

Compare this price anywhere. Act quickly. Only a limited number of these cleaners to be sold under this offer.

The Danielson & Plainfield Gas & Electric Company

Chopmist Hill Inn
(Open All Year)
NORTH SCITUATE, R. I.
12 Miles East of Danielson, Providence Pike.
Chicken, Steak and Lobster Dinners.
Accommodations for Clubs, Lodges, Associations.
Private Dining Rooms on Application.
LARGE DINING HALL
Seating Capacity 400.
The Largest Sport Field in Rhode Island.

Guarding Your Earnings.

There is no necessity, these modern days, for standing guard over your money with "pistol and sword." There is a better—yes and a safer way—A GOOD BANK.

You, however, can still "guard" your savings against the desire to spend recklessly. But instead of doing it with ancient weapons you must do it with the WILL TO SAVE.

YOU supply the WILL and Our Bank will stand guard.

Don't Spend It All——Don't Spend It All.

The Brocklyn Savings Bank
DANIELSON, CONN.

PRESERVING
(Putting Away for Future Use)

——JARS——

MASON PINTS, doz.	80c
MASON QUARTS, doz.	95c
IDEAL PINTS, doz.	95c
IDEAL QUARTS, doz.	95c
WIRE CANNING RACKS	$1.10
PRESERVING BOILERS, complete with rack	69c
BOILERS ONLY, copper bottom	$3.00
BOILERS ONLY, all copper, No. 8	$2.95
BOILERS ONLY, all copper, No. 9	$4.73
	$5.23

——KEGS——

5, 10 25 and 50-gallon capacity at the lowest prices

PORCELAIN BOTTLE STOPPERS, white doz.	27c
PORCELAIN BOTTLE STOPPERS, black, doz.	23c
BOTTLE CAPS, gross	29c

A FULL LINE OF BOTTLE CAPPERS.

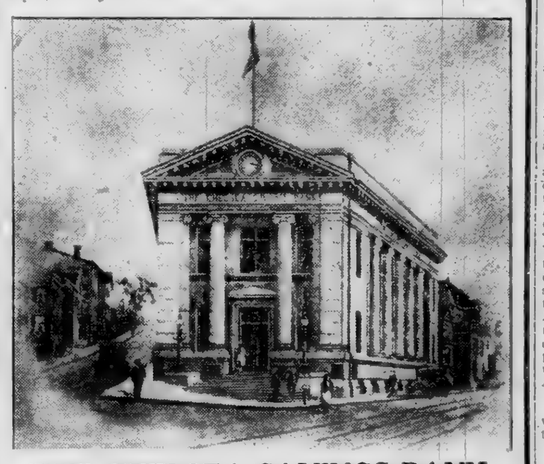
——STONE JARS——

2 GALLON	81c
4 GALLON	$1.49
5 GALLON	$1.89
8 GALLON	$2.16
8 GALLON	$3.30

HARDWARE — PAINTS — SPORTING GOODS — RADIOS

D. BLUMENTHAL
SUCCESSOR TO N. A. JORDAN.
Town Hall Building. Danielson.

SIXTY-SEVEN YEARS OLD—July 1925



THE CHELSEA SAVINGS BANK
Franklin Square Norwich, Conn.

During 1923, 1924 and March 1, 1925, This Bank Paid 4½ Per Cent Dividends

DIVIDEND JUST DECLARED FOR SEPTEMBER 1925
IS AT THE RATE OF 4 PER CENT AND 1-4 OF 1 PER CENT EXTRA, OR
AT THE RATE OF 4½ PER CENT A YEAR

"The Bank of Community Service."
OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS, 6:30 to 8 P. M.

EAT A DRINK ON A STICK!
LOL-E-ICE
A FROZEN DELIGHT
5c
Sold At All Dolbey Dealers.

TODAY'S EVENTS

Centenary of the birth of George H. Pendleton, U. S. senator from Ohio and democratic nominee for vice president in 1864.

One hundred and seventy-five years ago today was born Gen. Henry Knox, Revolutionary commander and first secretary of war under the Constitution.

The Rt. Rev. A. F. Schinner, bishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Spokane, today celebrates his twentieth anniversary in the episcopate.

The third annual Northwestern Sportsman's Show and Outdoor Exposition will be opened in Seattle today and continue for one week.

The 500,000 Polish citizens of Chicago have prepared a great welcome for Count Alexander Skrzynski, the Polish foreign minister, on his arrival there today.

Economic problems confronting Mexico are to be considered at a general conference of representatives of chambers of commerce from all parts of the republic, beginning in the City of Mexico today.

Newport society is all agog over the wedding of Miss Muriel Vanderbilt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, and Frederick Cameron Church, Jr., of Boston, which is to take place in the Rhode Island city today.

Dressed in gala attire, Seattle today will open her gates to an invading army of Knights of Templar, who will gather from all sections of the country to attend the 35th triennial conclave of the Grand Encampment of their order.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Breed Theater

The real atmosphere of Scotland London, Deauville and Paris is contained in Marshall Neilan's picturization of The Sporting Venus, which comes to the Breed theater on Sunday for a run of three days.

At least it is as real as Neilan could make it, for he packed up his company, cameraman, actors and all, and went to those very spots to film scenes for his production.

A real castle in Scotland—Craigash by name—the races at Epsom Downs, the smart resort of Deauville, and various street scenes in London and Paris were transferred to celluloid on Neilan's "longest location trip."

Neilan and the executives of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer decided to take advantage of the fact that the director was forced to go to London for an operation by a noted surgeon there and so was able to film the exteriors for his picture right on the spot.

So accompanying him on the trip were his wife, Blanche Sweet, who plays the titular character of the "sporting venus;" Lew Cody, who plays a sophisticated "heavy," several other players, Dan Neilan's own cameraman.

The story of The Sporting Venus is an old mixture of light comedy and melodrama, written by Gerald Beaumont, and adapted by Tom Geraghty. Ronald Colman plays opposite Miss Sweet, and the supporting cast includes Kate Price, Josephine Crowell, Edward Martindel, Hank Mann and others.

Broadway Theater

Funnier than changing Husbands—That's what Paramount claims for Forty Winks, the latest production by Paul Iribe and Frank Urson, the screen's only directorial "team."

Viola Dana, Theodore Roberts and Raymond Griffith are featured in the leading roles of the picture which was adapted for the screen by Bertram Millhauser from the unusually popular stage play, Lord Chumley, by David Belasco and Henry C. DeMille.

The story is a melodramatic comedy with no small amount of mystery tossed in for good measure and tells of a jilted Englishman, engaged to marry a beautiful American girl. Her brother, a lieutenant in the navy, loses some valuable papers and Lord Algernon Chidmonde-ley, called Chumley for short, goes about retrieving them, thus winning the girl and saving the family name.

Cyril Chadwick, William Boyd and Anna May Wong are included in the supporting cast of Forty Winks which opens at the Broadway on Sunday.

Moving Pictures at Y. M. C. A. Sunday

The public is cordially invited to sit under the cooling breezes of electric fans and enjoy beautiful moving pictures at the local Y. M. C. A., Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The following films will be shown: New England Historic scenes, including "Our Forefather's Rock," of sacred significance "Burial Hill of the Pilgrims," "Boston the Hub of the Universe," Lexington and Concord, famous buildings and monuments, etc. Reels on Panama and its people showing native life and dwellings in the Panama Canal region, many fine views of the old city of Panama and its harbor on the Pacific is a revelation to Northerners. Two reels entitled, "A Day at Mount Tom," portrays a trip to the peak of the mountain through the scenic paradise of New England, magnificent scenery greets one on all sides, and telescope open us vistas of rugged New England fifty miles away. Unusual geological formations and peculiar stratifications abound. These pictures are well worth seeing and will be both inspiring and instructive. A brief talk will be given.

The more man has the more he wants—with the possible exception of the father of twins.

Represents Chile

KEYSTONE VIEW CO., NEW YORK

Augustin Edwards, representative of Chile in the Tacna-Arica dispute.

1830 1925

Norwich Bulletin and Courier

129 YEARS OLD

Printed every day in the year except Sunday.

Subscription price 12c a week; 50c a month; $6.00 a year.

Entered at the Postoffice at Norwich, Conn., as second-class matter.

Telephone Calls:

Bulletin Business Office, 480.
Bulletin Editorial Rooms, 35-2.
Bulletin Job Room, 35-3.

Willimantic Office, Main St., Telephone 1131.

Norwich Saturday, July 25, 1925

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special despatches herein are also reserved.

Daily Average Circulation
WEEK ENDING JULY 18, 1925:

12,829

TAX EXEMPTS

In connection with the collection of the income taxes and the efforts made to bring about a reduction therein much has been said against the tax exempt securities. Efforts have even been made to have the issuance of such made illegal and they have always been pointed to as one of the avenues for capital to escape the payment of the high surtaxes. Likewise it has been contended with much force that the lowering of the surtaxes would result in much capital being withdrawn from the tax exempts and returned to industry.

As the result of a survey made by the National Industrial Conference board it has been shown that the total amount of wholly tax-exempt securities in the hands of the public on July 1 of this year was approximately 143 per cent. greater than it was on December 31, 1912, and 13.6 per cent. greater than on December 31, 1923.

The reason for this is plain when it is figured out that a tax-free bond that yields 3 1-2 per cent. interest returns approximately as much as a 4 per cent. bond to one whose taxable net income is $24,000, the same as a 5 per cent. bond to one whose taxable net income is $68,000 and the same as a 6 per cent. bond to one whose taxable net income ranges around $100,000.

Tax exempts continue to interest those with large incomes and it is not strange that they do so when the large surtaxes take away so much from the taxpayers that they can realize more for themselves by putting their money into tax-exempts. Investment in tax exempts is bound to continue while surtaxes remain high, and nothing is more convincing than the increase in such securities since the close of 1923. It is a substantiation of the position that was taken by Secretary Mellon in his effort to get a reduction of the surtaxes, and the additional support which is being given such a step in anticipation of action by the next congress indicates that many have brought to see the logic of the secretary's contention.

Cutting the surtaxes is not for the purpose of helping the rich fellow but to get his money away from tax exempts and into industry from which the country will benefit even though he may do so also.

FIRE SWEPT FORESTS

While better means of getting and keeping the records of forest fires throughout the country may be responsible for some of the increase noted in such fires for the past year, a point which Chief Greeley of the forest service makes in a report of the 1924 fires just completed, it is impossible to dodge the fact that forest fires are serious, that they are making deplorable inroads into the woodlands of the country and that too much attention cannot be directed toward the changing of such a condition.

When it is realized that there were 72,000 forest fires which burned over 18,000,000 acres of public and private lands during the twelve months of 1924, causing money damage of $33,-000,000 exclusive of damage to young growth it discloses a situation which it may not be possible to entirely overcome, but one which should be made to move in the other direction.

Forest fires are by no means new. They have taken lives and created large property damage for a long time, even when there was more forest land than there is today, but when 1924 shows an increase of nearly 100 per cent. over the nine year average for the number of fires and an increase of $18,000,000 last year over that same average, it discloses not only a serious situation but makes it clear that much more attention needs to be given to the work of prevention.

The forests of the country are going before the axe and the flames too rapidly. There is a depletion of such natural resources much faster than most people realize, and yet when efforts are being made to increase an interest in reforestation work and the elimination of waste in the use of forest products it is to be remembered that huge savings can be made by reducing the forest fires.

We cannot remain unmindful of the importance of the forests to the lumber industry, to watershed protection and to wild life. Cutting down the number of forest fires frequently means only the exercises of a little forethought and care. It is certainly not a high price to pay for the purpose of preventing large losses.

BABY FARMERS

Much has been said concerning the deaths of infants at her baby farm, a New York woman charged with the deaths of infants at her baby farm, the substitution of children and other crimes connected with the conduct of a home for children. Now it appears that despite many sensational statements concerning the manner in which the home was carried on and the treatment given the children it was impossible to produce sufficient testimony to warrant trial on the charge of manslaughter. The authorities considered that their case was too weak to undertake such a trial, so she was charged with and put to plea on the charge of substitution. She tried to make parents believe that some other child was theirs. Perhaps she had been successful in this trick with some but in the instance which brought about the revelation of the situation at this place it failed, and through that failure there's no telling what effect was had upon the lives of other children some of whom might have been farmed out there.

That the woman should lead guilty to the charge was logical. She received the maximum sentence and was referred to by the judge as a "fiend incarnate." Had it been possible to have made a stiffer sentence it seems probable that he would have done so but he had gone the limit under the charge. She received three and a half to seven years in prison, but in view of the possibility of being paroled within an even shorter time it doesn't mean that the public is going to get protection very long from such an individual if she is going to be permitted to resume her business after she serves her time.

It is a most unfortunate fact that any child has to be trusted to the mercies of any such institution, even though there are plenty of institutions where they receive good and careful treatment. But the disclosure of the existence of such a baby farm where the aim seemed to be to mistreat rather than care for the children seems to impose greater responsibility upon the communities or the authorities which permit them to start and continue in business without more careful inspection.

AUTO LAW UNIFORMITY

Properly directed are the efforts which are being made in behalf of uniformity in state highway laws by the Eastern Motor Vehicle Administrative conference made up of representatives of automobile departments of ten eastern states, District of Columbia and the province of Ontario. It is a case today where many automobile drivers are spending much time in other than their own states. The consequence is that where all states have different regulations it keeps such drivers, and especially tourists, constantly studying laws or taking chances when nothing is gained by such differences and it would be much better if the laws of all states were alike insofar as it is possible.

Good progress has been made in that direction. The gatherings of the heads of motor vehicle departments indicate the endorsement of the idea and the desire to see that it is accomplished. Drivers from states which are backward in the establishment and enforcement of regulations find themselves in hot water when they go visiting. Their conduct in most instances is unintentional. They do as they do at home but if all state motor vehicle laws were more nearly alike in the way of important requirements that home policy would come much nearer satisfying the demands of neighboring states.

It is unfortunate for some states that they are more backward than others in dealing with the automobile problems and the safety of the highways, but such strides as can be made in behalf of uniformity will hasten the end of that state of affairs, create better conditions at home and make compliance with rules and regulations elsewhere much easier.

REPLACING THE TREES

Many a sunbaked community and many cities which suffer from the lack of trees to make their streets attractive will applaud the attitude of the New Jersey highway commission in requiring that whenever a shade tree is removed two must be set in its place.

It is not to be supposed that the commission insists upon two trees being set in the hole where the stump of a shade tree was removed, but that for every tree that is cut down there must be two trees set out somewhere. In other words the loss of a tree means the actual increase of the total number of trees on the street, in the highway or in the city by one. Instead of decreasing its trees the commission is in that way actually increasing them, if it is necessary for any reason to remove 25 trees there will be 50 new ones set out.

The idea is one that has merit. Most every community has localities where trees have been sacrificed, where they have become dangerous or broken and have had to be cut down. The losses are steadily going on, but there are too few instances where provision is made for the replacement of such losses. This means the depletion of attractive streets and shady sidewalks even where business has not encroached upon residential districts.

The New Jersey requirement is based upon much the same idea as that carried out in some cities where each year sees a certain number of new trees set out whether it is a case of actual replacement or not. It is in such ways that nice looking highways are developed and maintained which prove to be a much greater asset than most people stop to realize.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Worcester claims a population of 192,242. Who remembers when Worcester was the size of Norwich?

Rumania is the latest country to want to settle its debt to this country. That desire seems to be contagious recently.

In spite of the dry enforcement efforts Chatham bar is still doing business. A Danish freighter was the last to be caught there.

The man on the corner says: That fellow who fell off a 120 foot cliff and was uninjured has nothing to fear from aviation.

That California man who is having a radio installed in his casket is apparently planning to keep in touch with friends in both places.

If repairs at the white house make it necessary for the president to remain at Swampscott [illegible] September, New England will have no complaint.

Henceforth of course Dayton is going to be too small a place for John T. Scopes. But he can't expect Mr. Bryan's endorsement for the Chautauqua circuit.

THE MAN WHO TALKS

It seems that something might be said, and ought to be said vigorously, about loose thinking. Loose thinking, in so far as it is careless thinking is dishonest thinking. Of course one may have such a limited vocabulary as to use words that do not exactly express the thought intended. That is an entirely different matter. I mean, however, that false thinking in which we imagine that we are deceiving ourselves. "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God," while in his mind he knows perfectly well there is a God. But it is a still bigger fool who tries to deceive himself about the reality of pain when he is driven nearly distracted with—let us say—a jumping toothache. Now all the friends in perdition cannot persuade that man that he hasn't something that is mighty uncomfortable. If he says it isn't pain he is merely quibbling with words. Now pain is never pleasure, wrong is never right, sin is never holiness.

"Lord, what is man that Thou art mindful of him? and the son of man that Thou visitest him?" thus asks the psalmist. Those words were spoken by one who felt how much had come to man from the bounty of his Creator. Earth sea, sky, air were contributing to his comfort and happiness for which he could not return an adequate recompense. At least by his thinking and living he could magnify the great and holy name of this Benefactor. But there are ways, not of this character, in which the Almighty visits man. And we ask why is it? Does it not apparently contradict his kind and beneficent care? Take for illustration the recent Santa Barbara earthquake, in which there was great property damage, and what was a thousand times worse, precious lives were lost. Of course we recognize that there is a scientific cause for earthquakes, but back of these is the Supreme Hand. God is in His Universe, and whatever happens, God is Love.

The shortness of life comes impressively to us all. Not merely the life of man, but all life that has material structure. Why is it that the things we love; the things that enter into the very fiber of our being cannot last longer? Why must pansies and peonies fade so soon while noxious weeds last into late autumn? Why must the lavish splendor of the rambler rose as seen in Elizabeth park and our own Mohegan park have only its little day? Why does God call little Jamie home at five, while his great-grandfather, blind and deaf, still lingers at 95? We only know that it is "not in words, but in results" that the Reaper comes" to take the flowers and leave the "bearded grain." Why do the flames sweep that splendid orphanage and leave the old ramshackle block that has been an eyesore for years? Many attempts have been made to answer these questions that are more or less adequate, but Dr Watts was the nearest right when he said, 'God is his own interpreter and He will make it plain."

Why we should worry over things that we can never settle definitely? God works in a realm that will always baffle the finite mind. As the finite can never become the infinite there must always be limits to the finite understanding. Who will ever be able to determine absolutely whether this world has been in existence 6,000 years or 600,000? If the bulk of intelligent people believe that the latter is nearer the mark, don't call them infidels who are attempting to overthrow the "word of God," for that will show your ignorance of a scholarly exegesis. Bear in mind that a literal interpretation of the Bible is open to a much greater objection. On the other hand we cannot be sure of the age of the world, or how long the expanding process has been going on. Isn't it better for all the contending parties to recognize that each has some truth, but none all of it?

If we are somewhat conjectural in dealing with the past are we not equally uncertain about the details of the future? There is more or less of hypothesis in both. While writing the above sentence, my morning's mail arrived. Among other papers and pamphlets was a catalogue of the extension service of the Connecticut Agricultural college. I noticed that on Wednesday, August 5, the following topic is to be presented by one of the professors: "Honey Plants and Honey Bees One Hundred Million Years Ago (Illustrated)." It did not state whether the illustrations were made then or more recently. Without calling in question the ability and learning of this professor, I merely ask if there is not room for considerable conjecture in this statement? But not a bit more than in the prophet who tells me that there are 144,000 persons now living who will not see death? Do we not take a little liberty with time both past and present?

At this same convention, in the afternoon of that day, this topic is to be considered: "What Shall I Bring Home in my Market Basket?". This to be discussed by a lady, not however, by the same lady, who in the western part of this state, had something in her basket that didn't get there, neither did the lady herself, for that matter. At first though you may say that she was kidnapped. But she was hit by something that she was carrying in her basket. As she transferred some of the contents of that basket to her stomach, and incidentally to her brain, she invited the attention of a state cop, who asked the privilege of examining the basket. Like a true American, stung by this incivility she grabbed one of the bottles, not the one containing peppers, and whacked him over the head. That was the reason why she and her basket were late to dinner. Be careful about the contents of the market basket!

July has no other day that can compare with the Fourth in national importance. Neither can any nation furnish a day that is its equal in the history of democracy. But July has other days that we ought not to forget. We must always remember the 1, 2, and 3 in relation to the battle of Gettysburg. But special notice ought to be taken of the 25th as on this day in 1914 Germany saw fit to move troops to the French frontier. As one takes a retrospect at the last 11 years, he is inclined to regard the moral damage even greater than the political. To be sure, the nations of Europe are intact, but there is a dry rot in the heart of every one of them, and we ask again and again, what did the world gain by that awful conflict? Hatred, jealousy, suspicion, and nervous unrest. No argument on the utter futility of war is equal to this backward glance.

One week from today will be August first. This marks for many people the beginning of vacation—that is for those that have any regular vacation at all. May the time come, in the providence of God, when every real worker shall have a regular season of rest! Does not this suggest that all men and women who have regular work to do owe it to themselves to have a season of change? There are few occupations so strenuous these days that will not allow a period of rest and change. It is on this theory that the average boy and girl in the long vacation after the months when labor has been mostly mental should have regular work to do in vacation. Not hard work, but enough to satisfy the demands of the teen age. Play ought to be relieved by light work.

CREATING GOOD WILL WITH SOUTH AMERICANS

Better understanding between the men and women of the United States and the people of Latin American countries is an absolute necessity if goodwill is to exist between the nations on the American continent, said Methodist Bishop F. J. McConnell of the Pittsburgh area in addressing church leaders attending the Chautauqua conference on international relations from the Christian point of view being held under the auspices of the commission on international justice and goodwill of the Federal Council of Churches.

"Americans are often surprised," he explained, "at the unfriendly view taken of the United States by nations to the south of us, when we have no hostile intentions and do not desire a foot of their territory. Official highhandedness against Mexico, the treatment of Hayti and Santo Domingo and the manner of the acquisition of the Panama Canal Zone are the acts that they judge us by," he declared.

"American tourists oftimes unthinkingly offend natives of South America," he declared, "by making careless remarks which are misunderstood.

"The first step toward bringing the United States and the Latin American countries into closer interdependence, said Bishop McConnell, "will be taken when larger numbers of our citizens deliberately make up their minds to seek to understand the peoples to the south of us. No one in his right mind would expect to understand foreign speech at first hearing. It is just as foolish to expect to understand the foreign thought, out of which the speech of the foreigner comes, without determined attempt to master that thought.

"It would be just as reasonable to smile at, or openly ridicule, foreign speech because it sounds queer as to ridicule foreign ways of life because they seem queer. Customs full of meaning to the people using them of course seem devoid of meaning to those who do not have the requisite key to translation or interpretation.

People of Many Types

"This attempt at understanding must take account of the complexity of the Latin American situation. Latin America is not at all a simple term. South America is divided among nations so diverse that hardly any one group will recognize much kinship of spirit with any other group. If a Chilean writes a book he is likely to get a publishing house in Spain to publish it, for the educated classes of the various nations look to Spain or France for intellectual leadership rather than to any South American nation other than their own.

"Lines of cleavage between classes run deeper than in Anglo-Saxon countries. The racial intricacy is beyond description; interminglings of Spanish, Portuguese, Indian, Negro, Italian —and to a less extent of English and American stocks—make a tangled skein of racial characteristics which beggars statement. The types of 'culture'—using the word in its broad sense—are equally diverse.

Given to Courtesy and Artistry

"Yet these various intermingled groups have certain traits in common. They are all alike remarkable, maybe. The matter courtesies of life seem to weigh more heavily in their consideration. They seem also to have a more widely developed sense of the beautiful than do those of us of the North.

"We criticize their legislative and executive bodies for extravagance in public buildings and monuments, when the money might better go to more practical enterprizes, in this criticism, however, we forget that the Latin American legislator is quite as skilled in giving his constituency what they want as is the North American—and in South America the popular desire is for public works of beauty.

"The public admiration goes to him who works artistically, no matter in what field, whether of literature or professional practice, or even of manual labor, while the man who from our point of view, is practically more successful is at a discount if he has not the touch of high style.

"All of this lends itself to disparagement on our part. The politeness seems to us insincere. The artistry savors of dawdling ineffectiveness.

They Criticize Themselves.

"There are darker charges against our Southern neighbors—the proneness to revolution, the callousness to human suffering,—the inert acceptance of the creed of fatalism. We need to remember however that the fiercest critics of these weaknesses come from the South Americans themselves. It was Alberto Pani, a Mexican, who first scientifically disclosed the facts as to Mexico's terrible death rate because of poor sanitation. Unas Bunges an Argentinian, who in 'Our America' most unsparingly rebuked his countrymen for the peculiarities which thwart their social progress. More and more Latin-Americans are showing themselves able to set their own houses in order. We can be perfectly sure that their own criticism of themselves will do them much more good than any criticism which we can give them.

"But why do they take such unfriendly views of the United States? Surely they must know that the main mass of the people of the United States have no hostile intentions toward Latin America. We don't want a foot of their soil. So runs our rather querulous protest against Latin-American hostility.

They Judge Us By Our Acts

"The only way the South Americans can judge us is by the way we act. They see our official high-handedness against Mexico. They know about Hayti and Santo Domingo. They have not forgotten how we acquired the Panama Canal Zone. If we have to do a deal of explaining to satisfy ourselves as to these affairs, how can we expect our explanations to satisfy them?

"There are many, many noble Americans at work in Latin America—business and professional men of high type, but much good that these do is undone by another type of Americans—frequently tourists. Sao Paulo, a Brazilian city of three-quarters of a million population, is a capital of surprising beauty. Two or three months ago a drove of American tourists, traveling to get away from the rigor of the northern winter and of prohibition, landed at Santos and took the two-hour railroad journey up to Sao Paulo. Swarming through the streets like a host of Tahoon they kept calling to one another: "What's the name of this burg?" It was, of course, not intentional insult.

"For the most part it was crass ignorance. Many of them literally did not know where they were. The effect on the friendliness of South Americans toward North Americans for the time being, at least, was deadly. How long will it take for some American tourists to learn that they are the cause of much foreign ill-feeling toward the United States?"

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

Dr. Jacob [illegible]Brown Scott, who has been appointed a commander of the Netherlands order of Orange-Nassau, is president of the American Institute of International Law and secretary of the Carnegie endowment of international peace. Dr. Scott is probably as expert and thoroughly informed a student of international law as the United States has among its citizens. From the days while in Harvard, Berlin and Heidelberg universities, back in the 90s, down to the present time he has been mastering the data and technique of his calling and doing this even when practicing law and organizing and administering law schools. As solicitor of the state department at Washington for five years he learned much. As secretary of the Carnegie endowment of international peace, he has carried through its correspondence with the ends of the earth and has supervised the publication of its literature.

Today's Anniversaries

1805—William Clark and Meriwether Lewis discovered the three forks of the Missouri river.

1840—Rev. Francis N. Blanchett was consecrated first vicar apostolic of Oregon Territory.

1846—Louis Bonaparte, ex-King of Holland and father of Napoleon III., died at Leghorn, Italy. Born at Ajaccio in 1778.

1861—R. M. T. Hunter became secretary of state in the confederate state cabinet.

1863—Sam Houston, the "father of the State of Texas," died at Huntsville, Texas. Born in Virginia March 2, 1763.

1891—A fire in the business section of Dallas, Texas, resulted in a property loss of about $2,000,000.

1900—Robert W. Barnwell was consecrated Protestant Episcopal bishop of Alabama.

1923—President Harding and his party landed in British Columbia.

1924—Official announcement from the Vatican at Rome that cracks in the dome of St. Peter's are not serious.

Today's Birthdays

Earl of Balfour, former premier and new president of the council in the British Cabinet, born in Scotland, 77 years ago today.

Lt. Gen. Sir Richard Turner, Dominion president of the Great War Veterans' Association, born in Quebec, 54 years ago today.

John K. Tener, former governor of Pennsylvania, born in County Tyrone, Ireland, 62 years ago today.

David Belasco, one of the most prominent of American dramatists and play producers, born in San Francisco, 68 years ago today.

George C. Pardee, former governor of California, born in San Francisco, 68 years ago today.

A census taken this spring in Sweden's northernmost department disclosed that the nomadic Lapps possess 182,623 reindeer. The animals have increased 57 per cent. since 1921, when the last census showed 116,979. The present reindeer population is greater than is consistent with the amount of pasturage available.

SUNDAY MORNING TALK

GOD'S COVENANT.

"I do set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token of a covenant between me and the earth and it shall come to pass, when I bring a cloud over the earth that the bow shall be seen in the cloud: and the bow shall be in the cloud; and I will look upon it, that I may remember the everlasting covenant between God and every living creature of all flesh that is upon the earth," Genesis, 9, 13, 14, 16.

Away back in Genesis the Lord said: "And it shall come to pass when I bring a cloud over the earth, then shall the bow be seen in the cloud." This has a spiritual significance. We never saw a rainbow painted upon the blue sky. The cloud must first arise and cover the heavens, and then the hand of God paints upon this dark background the bow in all its radiant beauty. Without the cloud we could not see the bow. The cloud is necessary to the fulfillment of the promise. It is so spiritually. The dark background of a lion's den and a fiery furnace had to come before the bow of promise of deliverance from fire and beasts could be proved in all its glorious fullness.

A tired faith that proves the truthfulness of God's promises will always be followed by an increase of faith. I have no doubt but that the faith of Daniel and the three Hebrews was much stronger after their experience than it was before. Previous to their trial it might be called determinate faith, but afterward it was a confident faith. They had proved the power of God to deliver. In the case of Lazarus, Christ said to His disciples: "I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye might believe." And how their faith was strengthened when they saw the dead come forth at the word of the Son of God.

In writing an account Stanley said: "You, who throughout your long and varied life have steadfastly believed in the Christian's God and before men have professed your devout thankfulness for many mercies vouchsafed to you, will better understand than many others, the feelings which animate me when I find myself back in civilization unimpaired in life or health, after passing through so many stormy and distressed periods.

"Constrained at the darkest hour to humbly confess that without God's help I was helpless, I vowed a vow in the forest solitude that I would confess His aid before men. Silence, as of death, was round about me; it was midnight. I was awakened by illness prostrated by fatigue, and wan with anxiety for my white and black companions, whose fate was a mystery.

"In this physical and mental distress I besought God to give me back my people. Nine hours later we were exulting with a rapturous joy. In full view of all was the crimson flag with the crescent, and beneath its waving folds was the long lost rear column."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Genesis and Evolution.

Mr. Editor: Mr. Bryan, in a lecture in New Haven, says he plants himself on the first chapter of Genesis. But the first chapter of Genesis, Gen. 1-12, 20, 21, describes an evolution broad enough to satisfy even extreme evolutionists, as to the origin and development of plant and animal life. "And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth. And the earth brought forth grass, etc. And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life and fowl that may fly above the earth. And the waters brought forth abundantly every living creature that moveth which the waters brought forth abundantly after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind. And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast, after his kind: and it was so." There is no indication in the above quotations that there was any interference, supernatural or others, with the process after it was once started.

J. N. ENO, A. M.

New Haven, July 23, 1925.

Stories That Recall Others

But He Will Learn.

Jack was an enthusiastic member of a Bible school and took pride in telling his parents of biblical facts.

This particular evening the family had a guest at dinner. Jack was telling what he had learned at the Bible school. The visitor, who was an interested listener, thought he would draw out Jack.

"Well, son, who was Adam?"

Jack's face clouded and then he thought a while and then this bright answer:

"We haven't got that far yet."

He Didn't Do It.

The school board was visiting the district schools. The teacher, in an effort to exhibit to the committee how well trained the pupils were, called one of the small boys to the front of the room and asked who signed the Magna Charta.

"I don't know," said the youth, as he broke into tears. "I didn't do it."

One of the committee, an old man, stroked his chin for a few minutes after the teacher had sent the boy back to his seat, leaned over in his chair and whispered to the teacher:

"Better call him back again. From the way he acts I believe he did."

From Small Beginnings

Henry H. Rogers, the Newsboy, the Great Capitalist

Who that passes a newsboy, his papers under his arm, his eyes raised in expectation, would expect to see that that boy grow up into one of the greatest of millionaires and the friend and adviser of a great literary man? Henry H. Rogers, the Standard Oil and copper magnate, and the warm friend of Mark Twain, was once only on the street or in the trains who cannot be energetic, honest and ambitious if he wishes. It was those characteristics that changed Henry Rogers, the newsboy, into H. H. Rogers, the millionaire.

Although Henry H. ogers had the opportunity to gain a high school education he did not have the opportunity to go to college. Thrown very largely upon his own resources, he sold papers and then became a clerk in working cmfwyp cmfwyp mfwcypp After that he found employment in working in a most humble position for a railroad. He was willing to do anything and to do it with a will.

Looking for further opportunities, he drifted into the oil region of Pennsylvania and there set to work. In those days oil was a new thing, and gave men as great opportunities as automobiles, moving pictures and electricity give today. Young Rogers worked with a zest that brought results. At 30 he came to New York City and became associated with some of the oil kings who saw that the energetic young man had knowledge, adaptibility and keen foresight. All his natural ability he used to advantage and so he was one of the men who helped to make the Standard Oil Company. In fact, it is said that his ability was so great that he was, in a sense, the brain of that wonderful organization.

Henry H. Rogers by aiding in the development of natural resources, aided in enriching the country. He himself made a huge fortune. In spite of great wealth he continued active and used his keen brain in developing railroads, steel and copper mines and other factors of wealth.

As in his youth, he always worked hard. Taught by early experience, he Mark Twain he found a friend whom he loved and it was his delight to advise that great American writer.

When Henry H. Rogers died in 1909 it was reported that he left over $100,000,000, a sum so great that in his newsboy days, he might have doubted that there was so much money in the world.

Billy Mink Pays a Tribute

Tribute always will be paid
To one who fights though sore afraid.
Old Mother Nature.

Moving swiftly across the Smiling Pool came a small brown head. Peter Rabbit, sitting on the bank, just had to admire the speed with which that brown head approached. It was the head of Billy Mink. Peter realized more than ever what a fine swimmer Billy is. Billy came straight over to Jerry Muskrat's new landing and climbed out on it. As he did so he saw Peter Rabbit.

"Hello, Peter!" exclaimed Billy. "Were you talking with Jerry Muskrat? You must have been, because I can smell the musk Jerry so delights in. This must be a new landing of his. It wasn't here the last time I was along this way. Jerry certainly is a hard worker. I know of no one more industrious, excepting Paddy the Beaver. Did Jerry see me coming?"

Peter nodded. "Yes," he admitted.

Billy Mink grinned. "He needn't have feared me," said he, "there really was nothing to be afraid of. Fish are too plentiful and too easily caught to make it worth while fighting for a dinner. Besides, Jerry is too old and tough now."

"Do you mean, Billy Mink, that you really would kill Jerry Muskrat!" demanded Peter, looking very much shocked.

"Of course I would if I had to," replied Billy, grinning more broadly than ever. "You know in hard times it is every one for himself. Well, I can tell you one thing, Peter, and that is that I would look around quite a bit before I undertook to make a dinner of Jerry Muskrat. Of course, with one of Jerry's babies it would be different. Jerry himself is too good a fighter to take any unnecessary chances with. I really wouldn't care to face Jerry unless I had to. You know, there isn't a cowardly hair on him when he is in a tight place. Get Jerry where he feels that he must fight and he'll do it as long as there is a kick in him."

"Of course," said Peter, quite as if that were the thing he would do under the same circumstances.

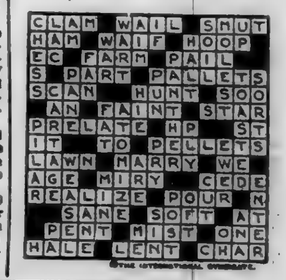
Billy Mink laughed right out. "To hear you talk, Peter," said he, "one would think that is just what you would dunder the circumstances, and you know very well that all you would do would be to squeal as kick. Jerry Muskrat doesn't look for trouble, but when he meets it he stands up of it. He may be frightened half to death, but no one would know it from watching him. I have seen him scare people much bigger than himself. No Peter, I certainly am not looking for a fight with Jerry Muskrat!"

"I'm glad to hear it," said Peter. "Jerry admitted to me that you are the one he fears most because you can follow him wherever he goes. I guess he feels about you the way I feel about your cousin Shadow the Weasel. Just thinking of Shadow takes all the fight out of me."

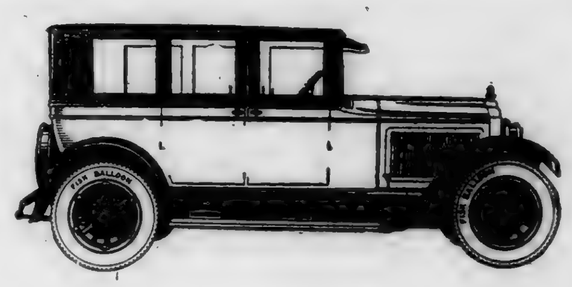
Again Billy Mink chuckled. "Well, you can be pretty sure, Peter," said he, "that thinking about me doesn't take the fight out of Jerry Muskrat. It put fight in him. No, as I said before, Jerry needn't be afraid of me now. I haven't the smallest desire in the world to bother him. There are plenty of fish and if one is spry there is a young bird now and then for a change of bare. That reminds me, Rattles the Kingfisher should have a family by this time. Tender young Kingfisher would be an agreeable change. I believe I'll have a look and see what the changes are. Goodbye, Peter."

(Copyright, 1925, by T. W. Burgess)

The next story: A Lost Appetite.



WILLYS-OVERLAND · FINE · MOTOR · CARS



Announcing The New

Willys-Knight Six

For those who want the finest—brilliantly conceived, beautifully designed, wonderfully engineered and regally luxurious—the new Willys-Knight Six abundantly fulfills the wishes of thousands of people who have said, "When Willys-Knight builds a Six, I want one." It is a very different Six with a patented engine—the world's only type of six-cylinder engine that grows more powerful and quieter with use.—"THE SMOOTHEST THING ON WHEELS."

WILLYS KNIGHT

Willys-Knight Six-Cylinder Models: Touring $1845; Roadster $1845; Coupe-Sedan $2145; 4-Pass. Coupe $2345; Sedan $2495; Brougham $2295.

ON TUESDAY, JULY 28
THIS CAR WILL BE AVAILABLE FOR DEMONSTRATION
AT THE SHOWROOMS OF

Star Garage Company

175 NORTH MAIN STREET.

ITCHY ECZEMA ALL OVER BODY

In Red Rash. Aggravated by Clothing. Cuticura Heals.

"Eczema broke out all over my body in a red rash which itched and burned, especially at night. The irritation caused me to scratch the affected parts, and my clothing aggravated the breaking out. I did not enjoy going anywhere because of the torture.

"A friend recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. After three days' treatment the trouble started to go away. I purchased more and within a fortnight I was healed." (Signed) Mrs. C. M. Eddy, Jr., 152 Early St., Providence, R. I., Jan. 30, 1925.

Prevent pimples by daily use of Cuticura Soap, assisted by touches of Cuticura Ointment as needed to soothe and heal.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each, free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. 27, Malden, Mass." Cuticura Shaving Stick 25c.

INCIDENTS IN SOCIETY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tyler Bard have taken the cottage of Dr. Peter C. Wright, on the Bluff, Gales Ferry, for a month.

Miss Ruth N. Kinney, of Huntington place, is with her mother, Mrs. C. Newcomb Kinney at the latter's cottage at Crescent Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Briggs, whose home is in Paris, sailed from France July 22nd. On their arrival in New York they will go to Fishers Island, for a visit with Mr. Briggs' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Briggs of Broadway, who are guests for three weeks at the Mondotto Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Smith and Miss Myra Fitch Parker, of Lincoln avenue motored last week to the White Mountains, remaining over night at Hanover, N. H., before locating at Bethlehem. Mr. Smith has returned to Norwich, but will motor back later for another week's stay in Bethlehem.

Charles D. Noyes has accompanied his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison G. Noyes of Williams street, on a motor trip to visit his little granddaughters, Elizabeth and Caroline Noyes, who are at the Teela-Wooket Camp, at Roxbury, Vt. He will also visit his granddaughter, Miss Lorna Noyes, daughter of Charles F. Noyes, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who is at Camp Buelo, North Sutton, Vermont, for the season.

SUSPENDED JAIL SENTENCE ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Thomas J. Shahan of 323 Main street was given a 30-day jail sentence, suspended for one year, when he was before the city court Friday morning on the charge of breach of the peace in making an attack upon his wife Thursday evening at their home. She ran from the house to summon police aid and her husband made his escape in an automobile which is used in the coal business.

Friday morning, he gave himself up to Chief George Linton at police headquarters before court time, coming there with his attorney, V. P. A. Winn.

ENFORCEMENT AGENTS TO HAVE USE OF SEIZED CARS

NEW YORK, July 24—(A. P.)—As a beginning of the use of confiscated bootlegger cars in prohibition enforcement, Divisional Chief Merrick returned from Syracuse and Albany today with three large, high-powered touring cars which had been seized. Authority for their use recently was granted under a treasury decision.

GENERAL PERSHING HAS ARRIVED AT CRISTOBAL

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone, July 24—(A. P.)—General John J. Pershing, president of the Tacna-Arica plebiscitary commission, and his party arrived at Cristobal this morning. General Pershing immediately entrained for Panama. This afternoon General Pershing called informally upon President Chiari at Panama.

NEW HAVEN ROAD SHOWS INCREASE IN EARNINGS

NEW YORK, July 24.—(AP)—The steady progress of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad is reflected in the earnings report for June showing an increase of $557,869 in gross contrast to $65,224 a year ago. Net income for the first half of 1925 reached $662,575, gain of $2,190,160 over the corresponding period of 1924. Railway operating expenses for the half year were cut $1,407,285.

DIED

JETTE—In Boston, July 24, 1925, Miss Evelyn E. Jette, of Danielson, aged 19 years.
Notice of funeral hereafter.

Don't be discouraged by that facial eruption

Whether it's just stubborn pimples or a case of eczema that has resisted various treatments, you can usually rely on Resinol to set it right. This soothing, healing ointment contains nothing that could injure the tenderest skin, but it does clear away pimples and roughness and help to make the skin healthier. Sold by all druggists.

Resinol

SCHOOL OF NURSING

The school of nursing connected with the William W Backus Hospital in Norwich, Conn., is now registering students for the September classes. This school is registered in Connecticut and the course of instruction is two years and four months given in a general hospital of 90 beds. Students must be graduates of grammar school and have one year of high school work. A new nurses residence opened this year affords each student all of the comforts and conveniences of home.

For circular of information address Superintendent of Training School.

1786 1925

Norwich Saturday, July 25, 1925

VARIOUS MATTERS

Light vehicle lamps at 7:43 (S. T.) this evening.

"Picnic pickles" is an enticing sign displayed in a local display window.

It is announced from Oneco that there will be no Old Home day there this year.

The Women's Peace society has designated today (Saturday), as "No More War Day."

July 25th, St. James the Greater and St. Christopher are honored in the church calendar.

Davison chapter, O. E. S., of Old Lyme, held its annual picnic at Nonsuch Friday afternoon.

The D. A. R. hostess at Lebanon War Office this (Saturday) afternoon will be Mrs. Otto L. Fuller.

This is the last Saturday of July and Norwich merchants will signalize it by offering special bargains.

While working in a field for Henry Hewitt, at Lebanon recently, Charles Geer mowed very close to a baby deer.

It was only 54 degrees at East Great Plain, early Friday morning. By 4 p. m., the mercury had risen to 80 degrees.

Clarence Francis, of Central Village, is clearing part of the swamp side of the Plainfield road below his house there.

An Ellington girl, Miss Mildred Tilden, expects to enter the Fifth Avenue hospital of New York in the fall as a student nurse.

Inns and tea rooms throughout the country benefit by the automobile parties who are out every pleasant afternoon and evening.

Allen Wade, who has been under treatment for a broken leg at the Day Kimball hospital, has returned to his home in East Killingly.

Native eggs were selling at 50c in Norwich Friday.

At Ellington, William Davis has thrifty crops. He has an acre and a half of corn, and expects to harvest 150 bushels of potatoes.

Moodus residents, Mrs. Lois Kimball and Miss Nellie E. Chaffee, who have been spending two weeks in Enfield, N. H., have returned home.

At Scotland, Mrs. Horace Main has as boarders, Anna and Bella Lipsepp, Sallie and James Pringle, of New York city, and Charles Ferguson, of Norwich.

J. R. Smith, of Poquonoc road, Groton, left this week for a two weeks' trip to Baltimore and Philadelphia and on returning will visit friends in Hoboken.

During the month, one more of the Willimantic camp ground family has passed on. Mrs. Richard Currier, of Chelsea, Mass., who owned a cottage on Wesley Circle.

Alive or fresh boiled crabs, shrimp, lobsters, long and round clams at Powers Bros., 16 Bath street.—Adv.

John W. Lord and Thomas P. Wilcox have finished cleaning the Lord's Point beaches of sea-weed, putting the tennis court in order, and cutting over the Athletic grounds.

Connecticut State hospital employes and patients at Middletown will hold their annual field day Wednesday, July 29. Dr. C. A. Van Cor is general chairman of the committee.

Going from their summer home on Fishers Island, Mr. and Mrs. Efrem Zimbalist, (Alma Gluck), are to be week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav J. S. White at Newport.

A Greene, R. I., correspondent states that Mrs. Agnes A. Hutchins has returned from Danielson, where she has been for the past two weeks visiting with her son, Charles B. Hutchins.

The engagement is announced of Miss Irene Mathieu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mathieu, of Columbia, to Joseph Larrow, Jr., son of Mr and Mrs. Joseph Larrow, of North Windham.

Food sale by Catholic Council under auspices of St. Mary's parish, 1 p. m., today at Boston Store.—Adv.

Dealers in fabric gloves report good demands for the Fall season. Styles are much the same as in the Spring merchandise, the cuff being retained but lessened in size and generally refined. The large flare is gone.

Registered at Camp Palmer, the Knights of Columbus summer camp for boys, conducted by the New Haven councils, at Oxford, Conn., are Woodruff Pinkham, John Ferguson and Kenneth Pinkham, of Mystic.

After spending a week as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Belknap, in Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Belknap have returned to their home in Wakefield, R. I.; Master James Belknap accompanied them for a week's vacation.

Former Norwich residents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer D Kinsman, have returned to Stafford Springs, after a two weeks vacation spent at East Greenwich Newport, in Rhode Island, and at Atlantic and Sterling, in Massachusetts.

A large tract of 130 acres on the west side of the Bolton lake owned by Miss Gertrude Herskill was recently purchased by Patrick J. O'Leary, of South Manchester, for the purposes of development. In the tract sold is included the Herskill homestead.

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Wright, wife of Dr. H. B. Wright, of Stafford Springs, has been informed that she has passed the state examination for dental hygienists, which she took at Hartford recently. There were 101 who took the examination and of that number only 22 passed.

The selectmen of Saybrook are looking up boys who destroyed the new walks before they had time to settle, Saturday night. Contractor Charles Reed and men, on arrival Monday, noticed the sides of the squares they put in late Saturday, dug out, defacing ten of them on Main street.

Prominent clergymen listed to attend the dedication Sunday of the costly new church of Our Lady of Sorrows, Hartford, erected by La Salette Fathers, include Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. H. May, of Norwich. The preacher will be Rev. Frewer Ledwith, M. S. who has given a mission in Norwich.

Marshall Hinckley, in the merchant marine service aboard the Atlas, sailing out of Portland, is spending a few days at the home of his uncle, Frank Stone, at Moosup. Mr. Hinckley had his eye injured while in the fire room of the Atlas and is taking a vacation while the injured member improves.

The annual convention of the National Council of the Traveling Salesmen's association is to be held in New York the first three days in September. It was announced Friday at the executive offices of the organization at the Hotel Pennsylvania. Spokesmen for 312,000 traveling salesmen will attend.

Patent to Old Lyme Man

New patents granted include one to Nathaniel C. Hall, of Old Lyme, for a Toy table.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Earl Fitzgerald, of Norwich, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Laine, of Brooklyn, Conn.

Mrs. Walter Evans and daughter Olive, of Brooklyn, Conn., visited recently in Norwich with Mrs. Evans' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Miss Elizabeth Stetson has returned to Central Village from a few days' visit with her relatives, Miss Lillian and Miss Lucille Stetson, in Norwich.

Miss Miriam Sullivan and Miss Carol Kane, of Roath street, are members of a group of Junior League girls who are at Pleasant View for a week.

Mrs. Edna P. Raynes and children, of Sumner Terrace, Springfield, are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hanks, of "Hanks Hill," Mansfield.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Casey, of Division street, leave today (Saturday) for Truxton, N. Y., to spend two weeks as the guests of Mr. Casey's uncle, John T. Casey.

Mrs. Charles F. Geer, of West Town street, had as callers Friday afternoon, Mrs. Albert T. Geer, of New London; Mrs. Albert Smith, of New York, and Lawrence Chandler and son Lawrence, of Illinois.

Miss Julia A. Skelly, from the office of the Aetna Insurance company, Hartford, who is passing part of her vacation in Norwich, spent Friday with her uncle, former Postmaster John P. Murphy, at his summer home at Massapeag.

BURGLAR SCARED AWAY FROM FRANKLIN ST. STORE

Another of the series of breaks which have been made on Franklin street during recent months was made Friday evening between 10 o'clock and 10:30 o'clock, when the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea company, 36 Franklin street, was broken into and about $1.00 in pennies stolen from the cash register.

Entrance to the building was gained through a narrow window in the closet at the rear of the store, a skid having been taken from the alleway next to Thumm's Delicatessen store, and used as a ladder to reach the window which is some ten feet from the ground. Entering the closet the burglar found the door locked from the outside and a jimmy was used to force the door.

While rifling the cash register of the pennies the thief was evidently startled for he failed to notice $1.55 in cash on top of the register. Going to the window he dropped to the ground and knowing that he had been detected made a dash for the street, making a beeline for the alleyway next to Johnson's Tire shop, slipped under a wire fence on the bank at the rear of the building and made for the old City cemetery.

Officer Patrick Shahan had covered the beat about 9:30 o'clock and when the alarm was given Officer Shahan and Officer Hugh McAvoy trailed the burglar to the cemetery but his headstart was too great and he made good his escape.

Returning to the scene of the break, Officer Shahan found 32 pennies on the ground outside the window and Officer McAvoy picked up the flashlight that had been dropped by the man in making his escape.

William B. Jones, manager of the A. & P. store, was called from his home and stated the loss at not more than a dollar in pennies. Nothing else in the store had been disturbed and a glass cutter was found in the toilet, evidently dropped by the thief in his haste to get away, while more pennies were found on the floor in the store.

The break was evidently made shortly after 10 o'clock, for Fred Thumm, proprietor of Thumm's Delicatessen store, located next door to the A. & P. store, was in the store at 10 o'clock and saw a flashlight in the alleyway next to his store. Believing it belonged to Officer Shahan, and that the officer was making his round, Mr. Thumm paid no attention to it.

It is believed that the man who made the break is the same one who has made attempts in several Franklin street stores. A good description of the man was given the police by several people who saw him running up Franklin street, but were unaware that he had made a break.

OBITUARY

John Parfitt

John Parfitt, 79, died at 27 Granite street, Groton, the residence of his son, John A. Parfitt, with whom he made his home, Friday morning after a lingering illness from infirmities due to advanced age. His condition had been considered critical during the last two months.

Mr. Parfitt was born in Leeds, England, May 9, 1846. When he was 19 years of age he married Emma Hey and in 1873 he came to this country, making his home in Providence, R. I. He was employed for 44 years as a measurer in the finishing department of the Wanskuck woolen mills. He was one of the founders of the Roger Williams Baptist church, Providence, in 1876. Mr. Parfitt retired from the woolen industry in 1916 and a year later he came to Groton where he has since lived with his son. He was a member of the Groton Heights Baptist church of Groton. His wife, Emma Parfitt, died in 1912 while they were living in Providence.

He is survived by his son, John A. Parfitt, owner of the Parfitt pattern manufacturing plant in Poquonoc road, a brother, Samuel Parfitt of California, a nephew and five grandchildren.

FUNERAL
Leo Pappas.

Funeral services for Leo Pappas, 14 months old son of Louis Pappas, of 54 Lake street, who died Thursday at his home following a short illness, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial was in Maplewood cemetery where a committal service was conducted by the rector of the Greek Orthodox church. Relatives and friends attended the service. Arrangements were by Hourigan Bros.

To Preach in His Former Pulpit.

Norwich friends will appreciate the opportunity Sunday of hearing Rev. Dr. Edward S. Worcester preach in his old pulpit at the United Congregational church for the union service of Park and the United Congregational churches. Rev. Dr. Worcester is now professor of theology at the Dutch Reformed University of New Brunswick, N. J.

Backus Hospital Auxiliary.

Members of the Backus Hospital auxiliary were somewhat confused Friday morning to see a Connecticut college headline over the monthly notes referring to the hospital and the auxiliary. A typographical error accounted for the misplaced head.

PLEADED GUILTY TO SMUGGLING ALIENS

BOSTON, July 24.—(AP)—Arthur Samuel negro steward on a steamship operating between Boston and St. John, N. B. pleaded guilty in federal court today to a charge of smuggling aliens into the United States and was sentenced to two months in the Cambridge house of correction. A United States inspector at St. John discovered an alien negro, a native of the West Indies, on board the ship, and turned him over to the immigration authorities here.

CLAIMS COLCHESTER MAN MADE PROMISE TO DEED HOMESTEAD

Alleging that she took care of the late Edwin R. Hills of Colchester on his promise that he would deed her his homestead place in his will, Beatrice A. Lester Watrous of Colchester has brought suit against his estate for $3,000 damages. The only mention that was made of the plaintiff in the Hills will was to leave her $300 on condition that she should present no bills against the estate.

John D. Watrous, also of Colchester, is suing the Hills estate for $1,500 for services. Papers in both suits, in which Harlan G. Hill of East Hampton, executor of the will is defendant, were filed Friday with clerk George E. Parsons, of the superior court. The suits are returnable in September.

In the Beatrice Watrous suit the complaint reads in part as follows:

On or about Labor Day, 1919, Edwin R. Hills who was then ailing and suffering from a cancer, requested the plaintiff to go and reside with him and take care of him in his declining years at his home in Colchester. The plaintiff thereupon at the special instance and request of Edwin R. Hills went to and resided with him at his residence and thereafter from Labor Day, 1919, to Sept. 27 1924, the time of the death of Edwin R. Hills, except as hereinafter stated, resided with him and took care of him, as requested by him.

The services so performed by the plaintiff were reasonably worth the sum, of $2,500.

It was mutually and orally agreed between the plaintiff and said deceased that the plaintiff would render said services in return for and that the deceased should make compensation thereof by a provision in his last will and testament by devising to the plaintiff his homestead place in Colchester.

It is alleged that Edwin R. Hills provided for the plaintiff in the first paragraph of his will only as follows:

"I will, devise and bequeath to Beatrice A. Lester $300 on condition that she shall not bring any bill or bills against my estate. In case the said Beatrice A. Lester shall present any claims against my estate, the the legacy shall be null and void."

In October, 1923, while the plaintiff was performing the agreement on her part, the deceased for no reason ordered the plaintiff out of his said house, and refused to permit her to return again to perform the services as agreed until March 26, 1923, at which time she returned and rendered services as agreed without interruption until July 7, 1924, when for the second time the deceased unreasonably and without cause ordered her to go away from the house, and the plaintiff did not return to perform said services until Aug. 21, 1924, after which time she remained until the death of the deceased, as above stated. During the times that her service was interrupted, as herein stated the palintiff was at all times ready and willing and desirous of performing the services on her part to be performed.

During the time limited for presentation of claims against estate the plaintiff presented her claim for $2,500 and on Apr. 4, 1925 the defendant disallowed same in writing, and this suit is brought within four months after said disallowance.

Claims $1,500 For Services

In his suit, John D. Watrous claims that between March 26, 1923 and Sept. 27, 1924, at the special instance and request of Edwin R. Hills, he rendered services in dressing, bandaging and cleaning an affliction on the hand of said deceased, and in caring for and attending the deceased during the daytime and nighttime and rendering services in caring for property of the deceased in Colchester, as shown by the following statement:

To services rendered from March 26, 1923, to Sept. 27, 1924, in dressing bandaging and cleaning the affliction on the hand of the deceased, and in attending the deceased during the night, including the use of bed and table linen and kitchen utensils, $700.

To services in repairing and caring for property of the deceased in Colchester and furnishing of materials, as follows: papering kitchen $2.34, paint for floor $1.20, lower floor $10, 6 boxes of wax, $1.25, 3 coats of paint, floor, $4.05, 2 coats of white enamel $1.80, laying floor $10, building steps $5.00, cleaning wells, 3 times $3.00, painting and repairing gutters $1.00, work on toilet, laying floor, building steps, shingling and making seat covers, $5.00, hinges 30c, varnishing doors and graining floor, four coats and crack filling $10, work on electric lights and caring for same $10, making 3 screens $3.25, putting wire on fence $3.75, work on fence $4, two weeks labor about place $60, total $227.94.

Said services were reasonably worth the aggregate sum of $227.94, but on April 18, 1924, the executor of the estate rejected the claim in its entirety, and the plaintiff has never been paid for his services.

FIFTY ADDITIONAL NUNS TAKING SUMMER COURSES

In addition to the Sisters of Mercy, mentioned recently, who are following courses at the Catholic University and various institutions of learning connected with the order in this diocese, about fifty more have been assigned to other schools.

Thirty are in New York at the Pius X School of Liturgical Music, studying the Gregorian method under the direction of the famous Benedictine, Dom Ferretti. Ten others have been at Fordham University, New York, for some time attending classes in English, Latin and higher mathematics and ten have been sent to Boston and New York to receive individual instruction in art and drawing.

These appointments give the Sisters an opportunity to consult competent instructors in the arts for which they have developed a special aptitude in their work during the school year.

The eight Sisters from the convent of St. Mary's Memorial church, Norwich, are with others utilizing their school vacation for summer study.

RECRUITING OFFICER IN WILLIMANTIC IN TROUBLE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

WILLIMANTIC, July 24.—John J. Burke, an army recruiting officer, was placed under arrest tonight by Officer Lariviere and booked for a hearing in police court Saturday morning on a charge of breach of peace. Burke arrived here a few days ago and quickly struck up an acquaintance with some of the state police officers stationed in one of the American Thread company tenements in the midst of the strike at the plant. The army man in some manner secured a billy from the temporary barracks and began to do police duty on his own initiative. He represented himself as a state police officer and a soldier and with this formidable array of titles notified the young women brought here to replace the striking operatives that he would protect them. He was seen to escort two girls up to the business section of the city from lower village. He made the veranda steps of the Elms, the company's girls' boarding house his headquarters.

PLEASURE SEEKERS THRONG SUGAR BROOK FARM

The second day of the garden party at Sugar Brook Farm, near Central Village, the country house of Norman H. White, was even a greater success than on the opening day. The beautiful estate with its handsomely decorated grounds was thronged with pleasure seekers on Friday afternoon and evening. The booths at which attractive novelties were sold did a thriving business as well as all the other attractions on the grounds.

Swahn's band gave a delightful program during the afternoon and evening the program being: Daughters of America, (Lampe); Poet and Peasant, (Suppe); Let It Rain, Let It Pour, (Donaldson); Sonya, (Schafer and Fisher); Medley, Fond Recollections, (Menges); When I Think of You, (Rose, Quer); Waiting for The Moon, (Brown, Lerner). During the baseball game the band played between innings.

RECEIVED EIGHT FRACTURES WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Joseph Stankewich, of 241 North Main street, who has been a patient at the Backus hospital since Thursday June 25, probably holds the record at the hospital for a case of fractured bones.

He was struck by an automobile as he jumped off an express wagon on North Main street and was sent to the hospital by Dr. E. J. Brophy, who has had charge of the case. The man was found to have eight fractures, two in his lower right leg, three in his lower left leg, two broken ribs and a broken wrist.

Dr. Brophy has called in a Hartford specialist in the course of taking care of the case and the man has so far recovered that he is able to sit up, although at the time he was injured, it was feared that the case would be a fatal one.

Restoring Old Town Mill

City Engineer George E. Watters of New London has put a force of men at work restoring the flume at the Old Town Mill and within a very short time the old mill wheel will again be turning and something of the conditions of Colonial days will again be noted in that section.

JUDGE BROWN OVERRULES TROLLEY CO. DEMURRER

Demurrer by the Connecticut company to the complaint in the city of Hartford's suit to recover under the so-called Tucker grant two per cent. of the gross receipts from street railway fares within the city of Hartford for the year 1923, has been over-ruled by Judge Allyn L. Brown, of the superior court, and the case which carries a claim for $100,000 damages will apparently go to a decision after a hearing upon the merits.

The suit was brought by the city in May, 1924, and followed some warm controversy between the parties as to the payment of what is popularly called the two per cent. street railway francise tax, although Judge Brown points out it is not a tax. The complaint goes into the history of the street railway company contract from 1894 when the trolley company, then the Hartford Street Railway company, accepted the conditions and terms for putting in the overhead trolley system.

The Connecticut company became the successor in February, 1910, and succeeded to the grants and privileges and also the obligations of the Hartford company.

In its demurrer the Connecticut company questioned the validity of the alleged agreement.

NORWICH EAGLES LED IN MEMBERSHIP GAIN

Norwich aerie, No 367, F. O. E., held its regular session this week at the new home on Cliff street, Worthy President George H. Nadolny presiding, with a large attendance.

The aerie is making preparations for a large class initiation on Sunday, August 9th, at which time a large delegation is expected from the aeries all over the state.

An interesting report on the state convention was made by Past Worthy President Timothy Fields, who was a delegate from the local aerie. In his report Brother Fields stated that the Norwich aerie made the largest gain in membership, by per cent., of any aerie in the state, during the past year, a record of which the local body may well be proud.

Following the meeting a social time was enjoyed, the members finding the new home most comfortable.

MATASSA'S TRUCK BURNED ON FITCH HILL ROAD

James Matassa, who lives at Trading Cove, had the bad luck late Friday afternoon to have his Ford truck with which he does a peddling business in vegetables, ice cream, etc., catch fire and burn up. Matassa was driving along the Fitch Hill road in the town of Montville when the truck suddenly blazed up under him. The blast of flame, he said, gave him only time to jump out in a hurry, letting the truck go and it crashed into a wall, where it was completely destroyed by the fire.

His loss was over $300 in the value of the truck, and about $150 worth of goods that he had on it.

In jumping out he sprained his ankle slightly. He said he had no idea what caused the truck to catch fire.

DANIELSON WOMAN DIES IN BOSTON HOSPITAL

(Special to The Bulletin.)

DANIELSON, July 24—At the Peter Bent Brigham hospital, in Boston, just before midnight Friday, the death of Miss Evelyn E. Jette occurred. Miss Jette has been a patient at the hospital for some time past and very critically ill for the past two or three weeks. Miss Jette, a graduate of Killingly High school, was born in Wauregan, Oct. 19, 1905, the daughter of Joseph Z., and Lellie W. Williams Jette. The body will be brought to Danielson today.

Recovering After Operation

William R. Perkins, of 142 McKinley avenue, the well known confectioner, is recovering from an appendicitis operation performed at a New London hospital the latter part of last week. He is convalescing rapidly and it is expected that he will be able to return to his home in about a fortnight.

Eccleston Family Reunion.

The twenty-fifth annual reunion of the descendants of the late Avery Nelson Eccleston, and his wife, Sally Burton Ray Eccleston, of North Stonington, will be held Sunday, Aug. 2, 1925 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Burdick at Chase Hill (near Ashaway, R. I.). All members are expected to attend.

GRANTS CONNECTICUT CO. RIGHT TO RUN BUSSES

The right to operate a motor bus line from New London through Norwich to Willimantic over the regular trunk line highway route, with stops at Montville station and Hyde's corner in the town of Franklin, has been granted to the Connecticut company by the public utilities commission. A hearing was held here July 1, by the commission when the Willimantic and Hartford Jitney association was also an applicant for the right to operate motor busses between the two cities, but their application was denied.

The following was the memorandum of decision by the public utilities commission:

The Willimantic and Hartford Jitney association filed with the commission on May 12, 1925, an application for a certificate of public convenience, and necessary to operate a jitney service between Willimantic and Norwich, via South Windham, North Franklin, and Yantic, and also via an alternative route, namely, South Windham, Norrn Franklin, Lebanon and Yantic. The Connecticut company filed on May 21, 1925, an application to operate a jitney service between New London, Norwich and Willimantic, via the trunk line highway connecting said cities. Said applications were assigned for a hearing to be held at the city hall in Norwich on Wednesday, July 1, 1925, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon (standard time) due and legal notice being given of the pendency of the applications and of the time and place of hearing same to the applicants, to the proper municipal officers of the cities and towns in and through which the applicants proposed to operate, and to all common carriers operating over a part of the proposed route or routes substantially parallel thereto. At said time and place the applicants, and the municipalities interested appeared and were fully heard.

At the present time public transportation service between Willimantic and Norwich is supplied in a limited degree by the Central Vermont railway company. The chief means of through transportation is that afforded by the Connecticut company which operates an hourly service between these cities on a running time of about an hour and twenty minutes, and at a token fare of forty-two cents. Public transportation service between Norwich and New London is also supplied by the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company and the Central Vermont railway company in a similar limited degree, and by the Connecticut company, on a half hourly headway with a running time of about one hour and at a token rate of fare of thirty-three cents. The line of its railway is on the western bank of the Thames river. On the eastern bank of said river, Michele Baldelli operates a bus line between New London and Submarine Base and between the latter point and Norwich under originally two certificates which have since been consolidated. While at the present time said Baldelli supplies a through service between New London and Norwich via the Submarine Base, it was his and the commission's intention, originally that local traffic be primarily served and not through traffic, which was found adequate.

The Hartford and Willimantic Jitney association, which now operates a jitney service over part of the route applied for, to wit, between Willimantic and Lebanon, under a certificate granted about March 1, 1925, proposed to supply five round trips daily between Willimantic and Norwich, some of which would be via the trunk line highway and the other via Lebanon Center, and North Franklin. Some of the testimony of public convenience and necessity came from residents of Lebanon, which was stated to have a population of about thirteen hundred and fifty, to the effect that Lebanon needs some public transportation service to Norwich which it does not now possess. The rest of the testimony came from residents of Norwich and Willimantic who stated that a faster running time is needed between those two cities than is now afforded by street railway.

The Connecticut company operated a street railway service in the eastern part of Connecticut, known as its New London division, commencing at New London and running northerly to Norwich ad Taffts and then northwesterly to Willimantic from Taffts, and northeasterly to East Thompson from the same junction point. These lines serving New London, Norwich, and Willimantic comprise the larger part of the division and produce the greater part of its revenues. The entire outlying territory served by the division is sparsely settled and has not, in recent years at least, been a paying one. This company proposed to operate an express jitney service between New London, Norwich and Willimantic, to consist of, at the start, two round trips daily each way on a running time of about two hours and at a fare of sixty cents between New London and Norwich, and seventy-five cents between Norwich and Willimantic with transfers from and to the bus at either of these three points. Subsequently, said company changed its application so as to provide for a stop at Montville Station between New London and Norwich and at Hyde's Corner between Norwich and Willimantic; the latter stop affording an opportunity to residents of Lebanon to use the service.

The proposed service of the Hartford and Willimantic Jitney association contains the advantage that it would afford the residents of South Windham an outlet to Norwich and residents of Lebanon more frequent and direct transportation to the same place. However, the limited traffic that would be derived from residents of Lebanon would, admittedly, be insufficient to pay for even a part of the service, and it would only be cared for by the revenues from the through riders between Willimantic and Norwich. The application of the Connecticut company contains the advantage of offering a shorter running time between New London, Norwich and Willimantic than exists by its trolley. As stated, there was some testimony that the street railway is not well patronized for a through service because of the slow running time and circuitous route. Under these circumstances it is necessary to choose one of the two applicants.

The street railway service of this company between New London, Norwich, Willimantic and the rest of the New London division serves chiefly industrial workers residing along and adjacent to its lines. They have an interest in the continuance of the service which is supplied them at a cost and without a profit to the carrier. Any diminuation of traffic imperils the continuance of that service at its present frequency. The application of the Connecticut company may, therefore, be regarded as a recognition that the trend of its transportation service in such thin territory is toward the supplementing if not the substitution, of its street railway service by the motor bus. During such transitional period it would appear that the public interest is best safeguarded by permitting the existing service to continue and afford the carrier an opportunity to meet changing conditions.

While the institution of a motor bus service between New London and Norwich will be serving the same termini as Michele Baldelli now serves, it will, nevertheless, be by a different route and as a supplement to the existing street railway service of said company.

From the evidence and for the reason stated, the commission is of the opinion and finds that public convenience and necessity require the operation of a jitney service between New London and Willimantic via the route as described above in the application of the Connecticut company, and including stops at Montville Station and Hyde's Corner in the town of Franklin. A certificate to operate such service will accordingly be issued, subject to the maintenance of a schedule that will meet traffic conditions and care for such additional communities between New London and Willimantic along the route as public convenience and necessity may later require. The service shall further be installed on or before August 10, 1925. The application of the Hartford and Willimantic Jitney association is therefore denied.

We hereby determine and direct that notice of the foregoing Memorandum of Decision be given to the parties in interest by Henry F. Billings, secretary of the commission, by forwarding by mail, true and attested copies thereof, addressed one to each of the following: Willimantic-Stafford Springs Black & White Bus Line, 5 Main St., Stafford Springs, Conn.; Willimantic-Hartford Jitney association, Inc., Bondmore Hotel, Hartford, Connecticut; Connecticut Motor Transportation company, 64 Brainerd street, New London, Connecticut; Edward T. Chapman, secretary, the Connecticut company, New Haven, Connecticut; Arthur E. Clark, secretary, the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad company, New Haven, Connecticut; Michele Baldelli, 34 Stuart street, New London Connecticut; mayor and common council city of Willimantic, Willimantic, Connecticut; mayor and common council city of New London, New London, Connecticut; board of selectmen, town of Windham, Windham, Connecticut; board of selectmen, town of Lebanon, Lebanon, Connecticut; board of selectmen, town of Franklin, Franklin Connecticut; board of selectmen, town of Bozrah, Bozrah, Connecticut; board of selectmen, town of Norwich, Norwich, Connecticut; board of selectmen, town of Montville, Montville, Connecticut board of selectmen, town of Waterford, Waterford, Connecticut; J. W. Wardlaw, general manager, Central Vermont Railway company, St. Albans, Vermont, and due return make hereon.

Dated at Hartford, Connecticut, this 23rd day of July, 1925.

LAKE ST. PLAYGROUNDS STAGE FINE VAUDEVILLE

When it comes to doing the original and showing real dramatic talent, Lake Street Playgrounds takes first place. Friday afternoon at three o'clock, one of the best original amateur performances staged by the playcenters, was held on the Lake St. grounds. The "show," which was in the nature of a vaudeville performance, was gotten up, directed and staged practically entirely by the children themselves with but a few suggestions from Miss Irene Werth, the entertaining instructor of this active play-center. Te Miss Mary Smith, who was general chairman, director, and stage-manager, belongs a great deal of credit for the success of the affair. Miss Smith will be remembered for her dainty acting as the Fairy Queen of "Dream Needles, the Lake St., play of last season. The real star of the afternoon was little Miss Mary Coletti, of Quincy, Mass., who charmed the large audience by her graceful toe-dancing. Little Miss Coletti who is only six years old, has appeared on the stage in Quincy and Lake St., feels very fortunate in having the services of this little dancer for the summer. Miss Bertha Angeloni was heard in several vocal solos and although but a child, shows more than ordinary talent in handling her sweet soprano voice. Rosa Perroni recited pleasingly in costume and two original playlets were given in which Violet Bergeron, Amelia Marzarelli, Margaret Delaney, Mary Ruffo, Virginia Coletti, Helen Angeloni, and the little three-year old Coletti twins took their parts remarkably well. The entertainment had all the ear-marks of a Keith performance from the printed programs to the reserved seats for the invited guests which included Supt. Earle E. Erigham, Mrs. Clarence D. Smith, Industrial supervisor, and Miss Catherine Dodd, dramatic supervisor. It is hoped by the officials that the other playgrounds will follow Lake street's leaf and stage these original performances frequently as it is the intention of the dramatic department to offer a prize for the best original effort along these lines.

The program follows: Chorus of patriotic selections and salute to flag, by entire cast; duet, Two Little Playmates, Misses Helen and Bertha Angeloni; duet, Nursery Days, Miss Donata and Loretta Coletti; solo dance, Miss Mary Coletti; play, The Indian Maiden; solo, Popular Vocal Selections; Miss Bertha Angeloni; poem, Rosa Perroni; Italian dance, Amelia Marzarelli, Mary Ruffo; toe dance, Mary Coletti; playlet, Colonial Days; grand finale, entire cast. Between acts music was furnished on a victrola lent for the occasion.

Norwich Family at Mystic

The household goods of James Hempstead have been moved from a tenement on Latham street, Mystic, to the Industrial place. The tenement vacated by Mr. Hempstead is now occupied by the Vandebelta family, of Norwich.

MRS. WILHELMY SAVED BY FRIEND

Doctor Advised Operation Friend Said Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound First

St. Paul, Minn. — "I was all run-down from overwork and worry, had no appetite, could not sleep at night, and looked like a corpse. I have six children (five boys and one girl) and did not get any strength after my last baby was born. I was getting worse and thinner every day. The doctor said I had to go to the hospital, but this I could not do on account of my family. So I went to a friend of mine and told her what the doctor had told me and she said, 'Now do as I tell you. Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as I have done. It helped me.' So I started taking the Vegetable Compound and I noticed after the first few bottles that I felt considerably better. After taking 9 or 10 bottles I got over my fainting spells. Everybody who sees me now notices the great improvement in my health. I am gaining in weight and strength and am feeling fine. Eat well and sleep good nights."—Mrs. Mary Wilhelmy, 309 Duke Street, St. Paul, Minnesota.

The Lyons Co.

WAUREGAN BLOCK
NORWICH, CONN.

Shadow Proof Muslin Slip, $1.25.

Trimmed with narrow lace at top, with the strap and also built-up neck; sizes 34 to 44.

Shadow Proof Crepe Slips at $1.50

Size 36 to 42.
Others at $1.95 $2.98 to $5.98.

Rayon Silk Shirts at $1.00

in white, pink and peach; also Bloomers and Step-ins to match at $1.50

Ladies' Silk Hosiery at $1.00 (Special).

Also THE GORDON SILK HOSE at $2.00, in all the latest shades.

CHILDREN'S OVERALLS in Chambray. Sizes 3 to 6 years—2 Pair for $1.00.

Overalls for the larger boys, 3 to 10 years, at 79c and $1.

New Printed Bloomer Dresses At $1.95

Sizes 2 to 6 years.

PRINTED BLOOMER DRESSES, from 7 to

MARGARET DILLON DEFEATS SINGLE G IN FASTEST RACE OF THE SEASON

Kalamazoo, Mich., July 24.—(AP)—The fastest mile of the year on the Grand Circuit was reeled off here this afternoon when Margaret Dillon travelled the last heat on the free-for-all pace in 1:59 3-4 to remain in front of the on-rushing Single G.

The time hung up in this heat also clipped a quarter of a second off the Kalamazoo track record of two minutes flat, made nine years ago in the same event by Single G., at the 1916 meeting.

Margaret Dillon, which had been forced to finish second to Single G., in three other starts on the circuit this year, was able to make the aged campaigner take her dust in straight heats. The first mile was traveled in 2:02 3-4, while the second was considerably slower, being clocked in 2:02 1-4.

Tommy Murphy annexed his daily race by taking the 2:30 trot with straight heats, ahead of Queen Volo, the favorite.

Bob Seymour, the Michigan pacer, upset the dope in the three year old pace by defeating Callie Direct, the favorite.

The 2:18 pace went to Louis Direct. The crowd was the next to the largest of the week, being second only to the $25,000 derby day gathering Tuesday. A new local attendance record was hung up for the five day meeting.

The summaries:

2:18 pace, 3 heats, purse $1,000, (1 1-8 mile heats):

Louisville Direct, Blk H., by Braden Direct (Wolverton) 1 1 6.
Petrie, Grattan, (Lindburg) 2 3 1.
Myrtle Baxter, (Fleming) 3 2 5.
Tolley, M. C. B., Happy Axworthy, Alvin Bedford, Spud also started.
Time 2:01 1-4; 2:00 1-4; 2:26 1-4.
2:30 trot; 3 heats, purse $1,000 (1 1-8 mile heats):
Queen Volo, B., by Banvolo, (Murphy) 1 1 1.
Joan Poote (Erskine) 2 2 5.
Dorothy Gish (Jolly) 6 3 2.
Lady Alethaine, Marion Guy, Prince of Dawson, Exie Mac, Peter Flash also started.
Time 2:04 3-4; 2:02 1-4; 1:59 3-4.
Three year old pace, 3 heats, Battick Hotel Purse $2,000 (mile heats):
Bob Seymour, ER H by Lord Seymour (McDonald) 6 1 1.
Callie Direct, (Egan) 1 2 5.
Peter Mann, Hollycrod Abigail, Little Eleanor, the Last Deforest, Ruban Direct, Zonite also started.
Time 2:05 1-2; 2:05 1-2; 2:07 1-2.

DEMPSEY SLIPS AWAY TO HIS OWN HOME

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey gave everybody, including his bewildered manager, Jack Kearns, the slip, and left the train on which he was scheduled to arrive here today at Pomona, about thirty miles from Los Angeles.

Dempsey is motoring to Hollywood with his wife, Estelle Taylor.

Kearns, however, professes to see nothing ahead but a quick and satisfactory understanding with the man for whom he is empowered by contract to make ring engagements until September, 1926.

TOUCHSTONE IS SIGNED BY THE CHICAGO CUBS

CHICAGO, July 24.—(AP)—Clayton Touchstone, righthand pitcher of the Waterbury Eastern League Club today was signed by the Chicago Cubs. Touchstone, who is one of the leading twirlers in the league, will report to Chicago at the close of the season.

Walter Brown, semi-pro player of Stockton, Mass., was signed by the Cubs. Brown, who is 19 years old is an outfielder.

BASEBALL

TODAY—Saturday, July 25

Providence St. Grounds; Taftville, at 3:30 (D. S. T.)

WEST ENDS of Willimantic

Lefty Smith, p; Meila, c

vs. TAFTVILLE A. A.

Lloyd Jarvis, p; Eccleston c.

BASEBALL

SUNDAY

ASHLAND PARK.

JEWETT CITY vs. CHECKER CABS

of Providence, R. I.

GAME AT 3:30 (D. S. T.)

Batteries—Checker Cabs, Peloquin, Holy Cross, Fallon, Milwaukee A. A., p; Colehs, Ottawa, c; L. Briggs, Pittsfield, E. L., c. Jewett City: "Spike" Liberty p; "Bill" Liberty, c.

BASEBALL

TODAY—STATE HOSPITAL DIAMOND

RIVERVIEW vs.

J. B. MARTIN CLUB

FIRST GAME OF SERIES.

BATTERIES—West and Belair for Riverview; Buckland and Murphy for J. B. Martin.

GAME CALLED AT 2:45 (D. S. T.)

BASEBALL—SUNDAY

J. B. MARTIN DIAMOND, TAFTVILLE

J. B. MARTIN

vs.

DIXIE A.C. of Hartford

Game Called at 3:15 (D. S. T.)

MR. HELLER ANSWERS TO FAIR PLAY'S ACCUSATIONS

Sports Editor: In answer to the anonymous letter signed "Fair Play" in Friday's Bulletin pertaining to the West Ends of Willimantic, we wish to say a few words. First of all, in our opinion, anyone who has not the backbone and sporting blood to sign his name to his own article is a coward and a sneak. It is very obvious, not only to the West End team but to the Willimantic fans in general who these backbiters really are. To pick this article to pieces we might cite Lebanon's case. Last Saturday the West Ends played Lebanon on Lebanon's own diamond with Lebanon's own umpires. To quote from "Fair Play" in Friday's Bulletin, how could Lebanon receive such terrible umpiring from their "umps" on their own diamond? It is true that Hosey Smith umpired in Lebanon, but he did so at the request of Manager Jones of Lebanon. At the time being his umpiring and that of the umpire on bases was satisfactory to both players and fans. How then come this late awakening? As for calling Mr. Smith a Satellite it seems fitting that we should mention this here—that the writer of the article should apologize to Mr. Smith through these columns. "Fair Play" says that Lebanon had four regulars missing. Three of the substitutes were Cannonball Jones, who received $10 and expenses for his services (of course we realize that Cannonball can hardly measure up to Lebanon's native twirlers); the other two players being Percy Scribner and Toby Kegler, who are leading hitters on the South Windham All-Stars. This team has also beaten Lebanon twice. Of course these men also failed to measure up to Manager Jones' heavy hitters—? "Fair Play" also fails to mention that Manager Jones in person umpired the first game in Lebanon between the West Ends and Lebanon. We suppose that "Fair Play" has an alibi for this also. Seeing as how the West Ends have already beaten Lebanon twice on their own field, we fail to see where "Fair Play" gets the idea of trouncing us on a neutral diamond. Nuff Said. Now to take up Fitchville's supposed grievance. The West Ends in that town received, in their opinion, one of the rawest deals ever handed out to us in the seven-year career. Yet we said nothing. This deal was handed out by no one else but Manager Jones, of Lebanon, personally, and Hosey Smith, the alleged West End Satellite. Hosey Smith's umpiring was so satisfactory to Manager Sullivan, of Fitchville, at that time that the latter asked Manager Heller to use Smith in the Sunday game, with Fitchville in Willimantic.

It is not our fault if the Fitchville and Lebanon teams mistake West End pep for crabbing. Concerning the hits garnered off of Jones and DeMarchi in Sunday's encounter, it is our opinion that Fitchville's scorer does not know a hit from a hole in the ground. Our score book is always open for inspection. In playing games all over Connecticut and Rhode Island the West Ends have yet to run across a team which shows such striking lack of knowledge of our national pastime as Lebanon and Fitchville. We recommend a book of rules to "Fair Play," Manager Jones, Manager Sullivan, et al. In closing this article let us say that we realize that the West Ends went below their class in playing these two rural aggregations. But we only did so at the urgent request of the two managers.

(Signed) MANAGER S. HELLER.
West End A. C.

TIGERS BEAT WHITE SOX AND TIE FOR 4TH PLACE

DETROIT, July 24.—(AP)—Detroit defeated Chicago today, 6 to 4, and went into a tie with St. Louis for fourth place in the American League. Chicago still is in third place, although their lead was cut to five points today, by the Tigers.

The fast-climbing Detroit team took an early lead in the game, scoring two runs in the first inning. Sceptins victory and a possible chance of slipping nearer the coveted third place in the league standing, the Tigers ninned rallies before they started.

Good fielding in the pinches, aided by excellent pitching from W. Collins and Doyle, caused Chicago's defeat. Lyons, pitching for the White Sox, was hit often and effectively by the victors though he had perfect support. Score:

Chicago (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Mostil,rf	1	0	4	0	0
Durst,cf	5	0	3	2	0
Falk,lf	5	2	2	0	0
Sheely,1b	4	2	8	0	0
Kamm,3b	4	2	1	2	0
Hooper,cf	2	1	2	0	0
Schalk,c	3	1	7	2	0
Lyons,p	4	0	1	3	0
xHarris	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	35	8	27	9	0

Detroit (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Rigney,2b	4	0	2	5	0
Bush,ss	4	0	2	3	0
Heilmann,rf	4	2	2	0	0
Blue,1b	1	1	15	2	1
Taylor,3b	2	0	1	2	0
Doyle,p	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	26	11	27	12	1

(x) Batted for Lyons in 7th.

Score by innings:
Chicago	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	1—4
Detroit	2	0	0	1	0	1	0	1	x	—6

Two base hits, Heeper. Three base hits, O'Rourke, Tavener.

A Challenge

The Baltic Sluggers have organized a baseball team and are looking for games with surrounding teams between the ages of 13-16. Write to Ernest Douville, Box 218, Baltic, Conn. If challenge is accepted. Will play on Saturdays and Sundays.

TODAY'S SPORTS

RACING

Meeting of Empire City Racing Association, at Yonkers.

Meeting of Windsor Jockey Club closes at Windsor, Ont.

Meeting of Business Men's Racing Association, at Chicago.

Meeting of Back River Jockey Club opens at Montreal.

TROTTING

Meeting of Grand Circuit closes at Kalamazoo.

GOLF

Annual Isham Cup tournament closes at Manchester, Vt.

Scottish amateur championship tournament closes at Muirfield.

New York amateur championship tournament closes at Long Beach.

Massachusetts amateur championship tournament closes at Brookline.

New Hampshire amateur championship tournament closes at Manchester.

ROWING

Northwestern International regatta closes at Duluth.

SWIMMING

Southern A. A. U. championships, at New Orleans.

SHOOTING

Great Lakes Zone trapshooting tournament closes at Milwaukee.

TENNIS

Oxford-Cambridge vs. Rockaway Hunt Club, at Rockaway.

North Shore championship tournament, at Swampscott, Mass.

Southern Michigan championship tournament, at Detroit.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Boston 3, New York 1.
Pittsburgh 5, St. Louis 3.
Cincinnati 3, Chicago 1.
Only games scheduled.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Pittsburgh	52	34	.605
New York	53	37	.590
Brooklyn	43	43	.500
Cincinnati	43	43	.500
Philadelphia	42	45	.483
St. Louis	42	47	.472
Chicago	39	49	.443
Boston	38	54	.413

GAMES TODAY.

St. Louis at Pittsburgh.
Cincinnati at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Brooklyn.
New York at Boston.

SUNDAY GAMES.

St. Louis at Cincinnati.
Pittsburgh at Chicago.
New York at Brooklyn.
Only games scheduled.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Philadelphia 6, Boston 0.
Detroit 6, Chicago 4.
Only games scheduled.

THE STANDING

	Won	Lost	Pc
Philadelphia	58	31	.652
Washington	57	32	.640
Chicago	49	45	.521
St. Louis	48	45	.516
Detroit	48	45	.516
Cleveland	41	52	.441
New York	38	53	.418
Boston	26	64	.304

GAMES TODAY.

Cleveland at St. Louis.
Chicago at Detroit.
Boston at Philadelphia.
Washington at New York.

SUNDAY GAMES.

Cleveland at St. Louis.
Chicago at Detroit.
Washington at New York.
Only games scheduled.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

Baltimore 3, Jersey City 2.
Syracuse 1, Buffalo 4.
Toronto 0, Rochester 3.
Providence 8, Reading 14 first game.
Providence 1, Reading 5, second game.

HARRISS SHUTS OUT RED SOX WITH 2 HITS

PHILADELPHIA, July 24 (A. P.)—Slim Harriss held the Boston Red Sox to two singles today, the Athletics winning by a score of 6 to 0 and increasing their league lead. Todt's single in the second inning and one by Wamby in the fifth were the only Boston safeties and neither man reached further than second base.

Ehmke hurled well until the eighth inging when he was touched up for five hits and as many runs. Simmons home run climaxed this rally and came with one on base. It was his sixteenth circuit drive of the season.

Boys' day was celebrated prior to the game, 15,000 youngsters watching two junior nines battle for the city title and remaining as guests for the big league game. Score:

Boston (A)	ab	h	po	a	e
Flagstead,rf	4	0	2	0	0
Ezzell,3b	3	0	3	0	0
Boone,rf	2	0	0	0	0
Carlyle,lf	2	0	3	0	0
Todt,1b	3	1	10	0	0
Wamby,2b	3	1	2	3	0
Legge,ss	3	0	0	2	0
Bischoff,c	3	0	3	2	0
Ehmke,p	2	0	0	2	0
xJacobs	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	29	2	27	11	0

(x) Batted for Ehmke in 9th.

(z) Harris out, eighth inning, hit by own batted ball.

Score by innings:
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—0
Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	5 x—6

Two base hit, Lamar. Home run, Simmons.

REDS TAKE TIGHT GAME FROM CUBS

CHICAGO, July 24, (A P)—Cincinnati defeated Chicago 3 to 1 today by bunching hits off Cooper, one of which was a home run by Pinelli in the first inning. Luque allowed Chicago seven hits and tightened up in the pinches. Chicago's lone run was plied across the plate by an error by Caveney. This was Maranville's first appearance before the home fans as manager. A one-hand catch by Wein was the feature of the game. Score:

Cincinnati (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Holke,1b	4	0	8	1	0
Critz,2b	4	2	2	0	0
Ziemann,cf	3	1	2	0	0
Pinelli,3b	5	1	1	5	0
Roush,rf	4	1	1	0	0
Wilson,lf	5	2	1	0	0
Critz,2b	3	2	7	2	0
Cooper,c	4	1	7	1	0
Hargrave,c	3	1	4	1	0
Luque,p	4	1	1	4	0
Totals	38	13	27	16	2

Chicago (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Adams,2b	3	1	4	4	0
Maranville,ss	3	0	3	4	0
Fonseca,1b	4	1	12	0	0
Hendrick,rf	3	1	2	0	0
Wein,lf	4	0	2	0	0
xGriffith,cf	3	1	5	0	0
zGrimes,1b	2	0	6	0	0
Gonzales,c	4	1	2	1	0
Cooper,p	2	0	0	2	0
xxHornsby	1	0	0	0	0
Bush,p	0	0	0	0	0
xxxGrigsby	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	7	27	11	0

(x) Batted for Cooper in 7th.

(xx) Batted for Bush in 9th.

Score by innings:
Cincinnati	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0—3
Chicago	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0—1

Home run, Pinelli.

Herman Kayoes Henry

NEW YORK, July 24—(A. P.)—Babe Herman, contender for the featherweight championship, tonight knocked out Kid Henry, Canadian champion, in the seventh round of a scheduled 12 round contest.

CHECKER CAB CLUB AT JEWETT CITY SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon at Ashland Park the Jewett City Town Team will take on the fast Checker Cab of Providence one of the leading semi professional ball clubs in New England. Pelequin of Holy Cross or Fallon, formerly with Milwaukee American Association will pitch with Coleha, with Ottawa Canadian League last year, or Briggs former Pittsfield Eastern leaguer, behind the bat. The rest of the lineup will be Babe Ruth of the Providence Twilight league 1 b, Potter of Bates College s s, Joe McGee of Providence College 2 b, Burns of Providence College 3 b, Frank McGee of Providence College l f, Morrissey of Holy Cross c f, Dolan of Providence College r f, and O'Hara of the St. Mary's Club of the Providence Twilight league utility.

Jewett City lineup: Spike Liberty who defeated the Sub Base team last week will toe the hubber with "Bill" Liberty on the receiving end, Roberts on 1 b, Guillett s s, Rainey 2 b, Capt. "Nap" Liberty 3 b, Gilbert l f, Raill c f, and Benjamin, hero of the Sub Base game r f.

Tommy Corcoran, former International league umpire will hold the indicator.

The management wishes to announce that some of the best ball teams in the state have been booked to appear at Ashland Park during the month of August so it is up to the fans to support the team and make these games possible.

TILDEN TO BE CALLED BEFORE TENNIS BODY

NEW YORK, July 24. (A P)— William T. Tilden faces a new trial on the issue of his amateur status as a result of his practice of giving interviews on current tennis tournaments for newspaper syndication, it was learned today.

Published reports today that the national champion would be called within a fortnight for a hearing before the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis Association met with official silence.

Tilden's interviews, it is pointed out, are distributed by the syndicate to which he is under contract in the same manner as the articles under the champion's own name. Since Tilden receives compensation as a whole under this contract these officials profess to see a violation on the rule which specifically provides no consideration may be reached for current articles.

Whether Tilden's course is held to violate the rule or not, officials are anxious to settle the issue to avoid international complications. It is felt that should Tilden be selected for the Davis cup team with his amateur status open to any question, the situation might result in grounds for protest by either Australia or France, the outstanding two challenging possibilities.

Other nations, such as Australia, have adopted stringent rules to prevent their players from posing in any way as newspaper writers or correspondents.

RICHARDS ADVANCES TO SEMI-FINAL ROUND

NEW YORK, July 24, (A P)—Vincent Richards overwhelmed Takeiichi Harada in the fifth round of the Metropolitan Turf Court tennis championship today, crushing the Japanese Davis cup race with a superb net attack that kept him almost entirely on the defensive. The score was 6-3, 6-0, the contest lasting only twenty-eight minutes.

The victory advanced Richards to the semi-final round, in which he will meet Dr. George King tomorrow. In the other semi-final, Elliott Binzen will oppose S. Howard Voshell.

The doubles play also narrowed to the semi-finals, the surviving teams being Vincent Richards and Ray Casey, Alfred H. Chapin and S. Howard Voshell, Cecil Donaldson and Kenneth Fisher, and Taikichi Harada and Renzo Shimizu.

Chapin and Voshell won from Broadhurst and Fitch 6-3, 6-3.

FIRST GAME OF MARTIN AND RIVERVIEW SERIES TODAY

The J. B. Martin Club of Taftville will be the opponents of the Riverview Club this afternoon on the hospital grounds. This Taftville Club has been defeated only once this season and are out to take the measure of the Riverview Club. The Taftville Club has benched Lemieux and Pepin its two premier twirlers, and has signed up Lefty Buckland, leading southpaw of the Hartford Industrial league. The remainder of the lineup will be J. Murphy c, J. Joubert 1 b, Krouse 2 b, deselles s s, F. Gley 3 b, W. Gley l f, E. Murphy c f, and Dona r f.

The Riverview Club will go to bat in the following order: Moore 3 b, Noell l f, Mills 1 b, Bosse c f, Normandin s s, Hamel 2 b, Allard r f, Belair c, West p.

Morin and Curran will officiate.

Game will start at 2.45 Daylight Time.

BENTON PROVES TO BE TOO STRONG FOR GIANTS

BOSTON, Mass., July 24—(A. P.)—Larry Benton held the Giants to seven scattered hits today and Boston defeated the champions, 3 to 1. The veteran Jack Scott started for the Giants but was removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth, Wisner taking up the pitching burden at this point. Terry was credited with three of the Giants hits while Young contributed two. Score:

New York (N)	ab	h	po	a	e
Young,rf	4	2	2	0	0
Frisch,ss	4	0	2	2	0
Meusel,lf	4	0	2	0	0
Kelly,2b	3	1	2	3	1
Terry,3b	4	3	12	0	0
Stengel,cf	3	1	3	0	0
Gibson,1b	3	0	8	2	0
Snyder,c	3	0	2	2	0
Scott,p	2	0	0	4	0
aGrob	1	0	0	0	0
Wisner,p	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	33	7	33	14	1

(a) Batted for Scott in 8th

Score by innings:
New York	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0—1
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	2	1	0	0	x—3

Two base hits, Burns, Kelly, Young. Three base hit Bancroft.

WORCESTER RALLIES IN 8TH TO BEAT BEARS

WORCESTER, July 24 (A P)—A four-run rally in the eighth inning broke the tie and gave Worcester a 10 to 6 victory over Bridgeport today, the Hatters bunching hits off Caffyn. Wells went to the mound in the seventh with the bags filled and fanned out. He held the Bears to a single run and blanked them in the remaining two innings. Score:

Bridgeport	1	0	2	0	2	0	1	0	0—6
Worcester	0	1	2	2	0	0	1	4	x—10

Two base hits, Wilson, Drew, Batch, Wotell. Three base hit, Klubis.

Flowers Beats Bogash.

AURORA, Ills., July 24.—(A. P.)—Tiger Flowers of Atlanta, won a newspaper decision tonight in a ten round bout with Lou Gogash of Bridgeport, Conn. Flowers had an easy time in every round. Both weighed 165.

PLAINFIELD BEATS PLAYGROUNDS AND WINS THE WHITE SILVER CUP

A rally in the eighth inning that netted six runs put the Plainfield High team in position to win out in the ninth inning over the Norwich Playgrounds team, 12 to 11, in the second game of the series being played at Sugar Brook farm for the Norman H White cup. The victory Friday afternoon gives the Plainfield team the cup as Thursday's game was an overwhelming victory for the upstate team. The teams will play a third game this (Saturday) afternoon and consolation prizes will be given to the teams.

Friday's game was a slam-bang affair in which the Playgrounds outhit the Plainfield team but errors played a large part in the scoring for the Plainfield team. Baker started on the mound for Plainfield but was replaced by Balknap after four successive hits had been made off his delivery in the third inning before there was a man retired. Belknap was hit freely, 10 hits being made off him in the seven innings he pitched.

For the Norwich team Edwards started on the mound and pitched good ball until the eighth inning when he passed two men and allowed three hits, one a triple. Lloyd Jarvis was sent into the box but was unable to stem the tide as three consecutive errors brought the score up to 10 runs one short of the Playgrounds team which had piled up eleven runs earlier in the game.

With a lead of one run the Playgrounds outfit was unable to increase their margin in their half of the ninth. In the last half of the ninth French, first man to face Jarvis in the inning, singled to left. Jarvis passed Allard. French stole third and when he attempted to score on Gallups roller to Tombari he was cut down at the plate, Allard going to third on the play. Gallup stole second, Maggia popped out to Jarvis. Then came Wallace who smashed a sharp single to right field sending Allard home with the tying run and Gallup chasing him over the plate with the counter that meant the game and the silver cup.

Jack Hinricks, catching for the Playgrounds team had a field day at bat, getting two doubles and two singles in six tries. He was closely followed by Lloyd Jarvis who collected two doubles and a single in six times, at bat. Jack Marks also played a nice hitting game getting three singles in four times up. French was the leading hitter for the Plainfield aggregation. The score:

Norwich	ab	h	po	a	e
Carroll,3b	5	1	3	0	0
Tombari,ss	6	0	1	4	0
Jarvis,lf,p	6	3	4	0	0
Hinrichs,c	5	4	6	2	0
Edwards,prf	5	2	1	2	1
Marks,2b	5	3	2	3	1
Kampff,cf,rf	5	2	0	0	0
Burke,1b	3	1	8	0	0
Greene,cf,lf	5	2	1	0	0
Totals	49	18	25	9	2

(z) Two out when winning run scored

Plainfield	ab	h	po	a	e
5Rogers,3b	6	2	0	2	1
3French,ss	6	3	1	0	1
4Allard,c	4	1	17	1	0
2Gallup,lf	4	2	2	1	0
1Maggia,1b	4	2	9	0	0
0Wallace,rf	5	1	1	1	0
0Browne,2b	5	2	2	5	0
0Shipper,cf	5	0	1	0	0
0Baker,p	1	0	0	0	0
—Belknap,p	2	0	0	0	0
Totals	42	11	27	6	2

Score by innings:
Norwich	3	0	2	1	1	2	1	0	0	—11
Plainfield	0	1	0	0	2	0	0	6	3	—12

Two base hits, Jarvis 2, Hinrichs 2, Edwards, Kampff, Browne. Three base hits, French. Struck out, by Edwards 4, by Jarvis 2, by Baker 3, by Belknap 3. Bases on balls, off Edwards 3, off Jarvis 1, off Belknap 1.

YANTIC TEAM OVERWHELMS HALLVILLE CLUB, 15 TO 2

Gil "Cannonball" Jones, speed ball twirler from Fitchville, pitched the rejuvenated Yantic Mills team to an overwhelming victory over Hallville Friday evening, by the score of 15 to 2. Gil held Hallville to three scattered hits during the seven innings of play. He mixed a fast-breaking curve and a tantalizing slow ball with his speed and held his rivals in the palm of his hand at all times. Gil turned back six of the Hallville batsmen via the strike-out route, and gave only one free ticket to first.

While Jones was tufning back Hallville, his mates pounded the offerings of Zepp, New London Twilight league hurler, all over the lot, piling up a total of 15 safe hits for the same number of runs. In justice to Zepp, however, it should be noted that Hallville made ten errors behind him which had considerable to do with the large score.

Since their misarable showing against the Palace last week, the Yantic team underwent a severe shakeup and many new faces were seen in last night's game. Among the newcomers to night's game. Among the newcomers the two Hoxie boys Sweet, who hails from Franklin, showed the fans his ability in playing the initial sack, having a total of thirteen putouts to his credit. H. Hoxie starred at second with several stops of the sensational variety, while his brother shone with the stick, driving out two long hits, the first of which started the downfall of Zepp.

After a scoreless first inning, Yantic counted four runs in the second when nine men went to bat. In the third, they added three more on a double by Smith, a single by Cummings, and several errors by the Hallville infield. The fourth, however, was Yantic's big inning. In this frame, twelve men stepped to the plate, and after the smoke had cleared, six runs had crossed the plate.

Hallville's only scoring came in the second when they tallied twice, on an infield single by Gadbois, a walk and two errors.

The score:

Hallville	ab	h	po	a	e
Caulkins,lf	3	0	1	0	1
A.Charco,1b	3	1	8	1	1
Sullivan,rf	3	0	1	0	0
Gadbois,c	3	2	7	1	0
Almquist,2b	3	0	0	0	2
Bodell,3b	3	0	2	1	1
Fuller,cf	1	0	2	1	0
A.Charco,ss	3	1	2	2	0
Herberich,ss	1	0	1	0	0
Zepp,p	2	0	0	4	1
Totals	29	4	24	10	6

Yantic	ab	h	po	a	e
Burns,rf	2	2	1	0	0
1Ainsworth,ss	4	1	0	2	0
2R.Hoxie,2b	5	1	4	2	0
3Sweet,1b	5	1	12	0	0
4Smith,c	4	2	6	1	0
5Cummings,3b	3	2	1	1	0
6Marchand,lf	4	1	0	0	0
7F.Hoxie,cf	4	2	1	1	0
8Jones,p	4	3	0	4	0
Totals	35	15	25	10	1

Score by innings:
Hallville	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	2
Yantic	0	4	3	0	0	2	2	x	—15

Two base hits, Smith, E. Hoxie, Jones, Gadbois. Three base hit, R. Charco. Struck out, by Jones 6, by Zepp 3. Bases on balls, off Jones 1, off Zepp 2.

KINSEY BROTHERS DEFAULT MATCH TO TILDEN-WIENER

Skokie Country Club, Glen Cove, Ill., July 24.—(AP)—Leading two sets to one, three games to two and 3-6 in the fourth set, Howard and Robert Kinsey of San Francisco, had to default their semi-final match in the Illinois state doubles tournament today to W. T. Tilden, 2nd, and A. L. Wiener of Philadelphia, when Robert Kinsey's leg went bad and failed to respond to treatment. Tilden offered to default to the Kinseys instead, stating that he and Wiener were practically beaten, but the officials gave the match to Tilden and Wiener.

STRONG DIXIE TEAM PLAYS AT TAFTVILLE SUNDAY

The attraction at the J. B. Martin diamond on Sunday will be the fast Dixie A. C. of Hartford a team that has a record of wins over some of the fastest teams in the state. Included in the Dixie lineup are several players who are known in baseball circles all over the state. The lineup for the Dixie team will be: Barry c; Flynn p; Quinn 1b; Foley 2b; Donohue ss; Quigley 3b; Bailey lf; Alexander cf; Yates rf.

The J. B. Martin team will use the same lineup that will oppose the Riverview club this afternoon with the exception of Buckland.

CALIFORNIA WOMEN WIN IN MANCHESTER DOUBLES

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 24.—(A. P.)—Two daughters of California, Miss Helen Wills, national woman's champion, and Miss Mary K. Browne, made a clean sweep of the final round matches of the invitation tennis tournament at the Essex Country club here today.

Miss Wills, facing Miss Browne, her doubles partner, won the final singles match.

The singles over, Miss Wills and Miss Browne joined hands at doubles and defeated Miss Eleanor Goss, New York, and Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup, Wilmington, Del., 6-2, 6-3.

Paired with another Californian, Cranston Holman, Miss Browne entered her third final match of the day, the mixed doubles, against Miss Elizabeth Ryan of England, and N. W. Niles, of Boston. The far-western tennis stars won the match 6-2, 6-4.

By defeating Miss Browne, second ranking American woman tennis player, Miss Wills convincingly demonstrated her superiority in the women's ranks of tennis. The titlist, by her impressive victory, widened the gap between the first and second ranking players.

TAFTVILLE A. A. TRIMS TAFTVILLE ALL STAR TEAM

As Chip Dugas' All-Stars were unable to play on Friday evening the Taftville A. A. took on the Taftville All-Stars and trimmed them 7 to 6 in a game that was replete with action. Lemon and Mills led the hitting for Taftville while Eddie Joubert collected two bingles for the Stars. Speed Gaudette's sensational one hand catch off the right field ledges was a feature of the game. The score:

Taftville A. A.	ab	h	po	a	e
Lloydarris,lf	4	0	2	0	0
Carrile,2b	4	1	0	1	0
Mills,p	3	2	1	3	0
A.Dugas,1b	2	1	9	0	0
Eccleston,c	3	0	7	0	0
Tertigni,ss	3	1	0	0	0
Lemieux,rf	3	2	2	0	0
Gaudette,cf	3	0	1	0	0
Totals	27	7	21	4	0

All Stars	ab	h	po	a	e
J.Joubert,1b	4	2	8	0	0
Noel,3b	4	1	0	1	2
Bassel,ss	2	0	3	2	1
Murphy,rf,2b	4	1	2	0	0
Glanville,2b	4	1	1	3	0
J.Joubert,cf	4	2	2	0	0
Clark,rf	3	0	0	0	0
Leblanc,c	1	0	4	2	0
Armour,lf	3	0	1	0	0
Totals	32	7	21	8	3

Score by innings:
All Stars	0	2	0	3	0	0	0	1	—6
Taftville A. A.	1	0	2	1	0	0	3	x	—7

Two base hits, E. Joubert 2. Mills, Gaudette, Lemieux. Hit by pitcher, Leblanc, Eccleston. Struck out, by Mills 3, by Gaudette 2, Bases on balls, off Mills 5, off Murphy 1, off Gaudette 2.

TILDEN SAYS HE HAS VIOLATED NO U. S. L. T. A. RULE

SKOKIE COUNTRY CLUB, GLENCOE, Ills., July 24.—(A. P.)—William T. Tilden, 2nd, of Philadelphia, national tennis champion, and the center of the recent controversy over the question of a tennis champion writing for the press, stated today that he has violated no rule

WESTERLY

Judge Michael J. Turano at the Friday session of third district court heard the case of Charles P. Acolina, who on July 21st., was charged with running the delivery wagon of Stillman's Bazaar without an operator's license. He entered a plea of guilty. Solicitor Ferguson told the court that the Stillman Bazaar proprietor was more guilty than the defendant, who had operated the automobile as directed Acolina stated that his license had expired and that on a Wednesday afternoon he had called at the district court rooms in the Westerly town hall at a time between 2 and 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and not finding any one had gone away and then was too busy on following days. Judge Turano imposed a fine of $5 and costs.

David A. Roscow, 51, of 72 Colbrook street, Hartford, was presented on complaint of Westerly Chief of Police Thomas E. Brown, for operating an automobile on the 18th of July at Bay street, Watch Hill, at a rate greater than reasonable and proper. He first entered a plea of not guilty and the case was continued. After a little consideration he announced "I'll plead guilty." The judge said "You don't have to unless you want to," but the respondent said that he did not want to go to the trouble and expense of coming to Westerly again on this account from Hartford. Solicitor Ferguson stated that on the day in question he was proceeding down Bay street at a rate of 30 miles per hour, which was increased to 35 on the Fort road and that he had been warned a number of times and had taken an arbitrary position. Rossow told the court that he had never been stopped by an officer and that he had been coming from Hartford to Watch Hill for the past four or five years and had been owner and operator of an automobile for eighteen years and never violated automobile laws. "That's the honest truth, Judge," Solicitor Ferguson responded. "What the defendant says is right; I was interviewed." He explained to the court that the defendant had been complained of to officers, who had received several complaints. Judge Turano imposed a fine of $25 and costs.

The action of John Panora et al vs. Rosie Palazzolo, was called. Mr. Palazzolo told the judge that he did not see his lawyer, John J. Dunn, in the court room. Attorney John F. Gallagher, when he found that Mr Dunn was not in court exclaimed "My time is as valuable as his," and intimated that Dunn's absence was intentional.

Judge Turano addressing Mr. Palazzolo, referring to the defendant's attorney, Mr. Dunn, said "If he isn't here next week, tell him I am going to enter up an order for you to pay so much a week." Mr. Palazzolo stated that he had seen Mr Dunn two weeks ago, and that the previous week the death of Mr Dunn's mother had prevented him from attending court, but defendant knew of no reason why he was not there for this last Friday court session. The case was continued one week

The cases of the state vs. the Fiores, involving violations of automobile laws were continued one week and the case of the state vs. Frank H. Brown, complainant, was continued to August 7th

The case of Bertha M. Cook, represented by Attorney John Ferguson, Jr. vs. L. Aaron Blackler, represented by Attorney S. H. Davis involving the denting of a hearse on East avenue, took up the remainder of the morning session of court Besides the parties to the suit Leo C. Nye, a local, painter and contractor was called as a witness. The case began several weeks ago and concerned the painting job begun in Bradford last April and which had been completed by Mr. Nye. Judge Turano decided that there existed no contract between Blackler and the complainant and award was made to Blackler of $21.25 for work done by him, also there was taken into consideration the $2.50 returned by Bleckler to the plaintiff.

The death of Florence Watrous Currier, formerly of Westerly, wife of William B. Currier, occurred at 7 o'clock Thursday evening at the Lynn, Mass., Union hospital, where she has been since June 15. Mrs. Currier was the daughter of Samuel D., and Mary A. Watrous, of Granite street, Westerly. She was born in Pawcatuck, Stonington, and was educated in the public schools of Stonington and attended the Stonington High. Mrs. Currier was an accomplished piano player and before her marriage with William V. Currier, who was generally known here among his friends as Robert, when he was manager of the Woolworth store on High street, she was a piano instructor, played in the local theatres and was accompanist at several plays given by Westerly societies and clubs Mr. and Mrs. Currier moved to Lynn, Mass., some time ago and Mr. Currier became manager of the new Kresge store in that city. On June 15, twins a boy and girl, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Currier at the Lynn Union hospital. The girl died soon after birth. Besides her husband and son, Mrs. Currier is survived by her parents, and a brother, H. Clifford Watrous, piano player at the Central theatre in Westerly. Mrs. Currier possessed a very pleasing disposition which won her many friends in Lynn as well as in her town town.

Funeral services for Frank B. Bloser were held Wednesday afternoon at his home, 81 Mechanic street. Rev. A. L. Schoning, pastor of Broad street Christian church, officiated. During the service Mrs. Jessie Davidson sang Lead, Kindly Light, and Evening. There were beautiful floral offerings. Burial was in the Road church cemetery. The bearers were Thomas Sutcliffe. Wilfred Frechette, William Schackner, Alexander Greig, John Johnson and Harry Anderson. Mr. Bloeser was employed at the Lorraine Mills Community club. Prior to that he was employed for years by the Cowan and Novogrod interests in local theatres and at the Atlantic Beach casino.

Dr. John Gordon Anderson left Friday afternoon for a short stay in New York city, before returning to take up his work in connection with the new Westerly hospital.

Patrolman Fred Ferraro reported to the police department Friday afternoon the discovery of a hole in the surface of Railroad avenue, near the entrance to the Westerly station yard, near the baggage room at Westerly depot. Insufficient filling from a recent excavation had settled and a six-inch hole, a foot deep, was left marked by the patrolman, to receive proper attention later.

Miss Mary T. Thorp, a teacher in the graded school of Westerly the past year, returns to her home in Westerly today (Saturday) from seven weeks visit at the Girls' Friendly camp, at New Canaan, Conn. This fall Miss Thorp will take up her duties as critic teacher in Jamestown, R. I

SWEDISH FLEET TO ENGAGE IN MANEUVERS IN BALTIC

STOCKHOLM, July 24—(AP)—As a preliminary to plans for reorganizing the navy, there will be held in the Baltic this summer the most extensive Swedish naval maneuvers since 1914. The king will be in command.

The Swedish fleet at present consists of 111 vessels, of which 42 belong to the coast defense; 37 to local units, and 32 to the reserve. Included in the main fleet, designed entirely for defensive purposes, are 12 battleships, 10 destroyers, one armored cruiser and a number of torpedo boats and submarines.

In view of the impending reorganization, appropriations for this year were limited to the continuation of the building program decided upon last year. The future policy will depend partly on the political developments abroad and partly on the experience to be gained during the maneuvers.

Offers Prize For Trans-Atlantic Flight

COPYRIGHT KEYSTONE VIEW CO. NEW YORK.

Raymond Orteig, New York hotelman, sails from New York on S. S. Paris to witness the start of the trans-Atlantic flight, for which he is offering $25,000 for the first successful crossing. The first to attempt it are Lieutenants Tarascon and Coli, French war aces.

U. S. FLEET TO DISBURSE $2,000,000 IN AUSTRALIA

HONOLULU, July 24—(AP)—The cargo of $2,000,000 in gold which the United States fleet has taken to Australia, to pay the men and defray some of the expenses of re-fueling and re-provisioning, will be transferred bodily to the Australian government in return for Australian gold coinage at an ounce-for-ounce rate.

The American money then will be melted down and transformed into Austrian coinage. The American government will pay a minimage fee of three pence an ounce, but will save $30,000 in exchange on the deal, naval officers estimate. If American dollars were exchanged for Australian currency, the rate would be approximately $4.91 to the pound, while the present ounce-for-ounce arrangement plus the small minmage charge results in a saving both to Australia and the United States, it was pointed out.

The gold moved from the mainland aboard the transport Chaumont, and $1,200,000 was transferred to the flagship California of the battle fleet, squadrons.

It is expected that the disbursements of the American fleet in both Sydney and payment for supplies will exceed the $2,000,000 considerable, but such excess will be covered in the usual manner of exchange.

RUSSIA EXPECTS BAKU OIL FIELDS TO INCREASE YIELD

BAKU, July 24—(AP)—On the occasion of the fifth anniversary of the nationalization of the Baku oil fields, the Soviet press gave some details of the present state and productivity of the oil fields and outlined the program of their future development.

The Baku oil fields, which before the revolution belonged to 270 different owners, are now united under one management. The yield of oil which the remaining $800,000 to the U. S. S. Omaha, flagship of the destroyer in 1920 was as low as 10,000,000 poods a month, has now been brought up to nearly 20,000,000 poods, which is approximately the pre-war standard. There are now in exploitation 21,000 wells.

Last year Russia exported from Baku 32,000,000 poods of oil. It is expected that during the coming year not less than 340,000,000 will be obtained.

New equipment and machinery were bought in America this year, and the methods of obtaining oil have been entirely revolutionized.

At present the government is embarking upon a costly program of building an additional oil pipe line connecting Baku with Batum, on which it will spend more than $10,000,000. Part of the order for pipes is expected to be placed abroad, probably in America. The scheme will be financed by the State Oil Trust itself without any subsidy from the government.

COMMISSION URGES SELECTED IMMIGRATION FOR QUEENSLAND

BRISBANE July 24—(AP)—The need for the selection of immigrants, deportation of convicted aliens and the keeping of a record of all aliens in the commonwealth is stressed in a report by T. A. Ferry, under-chief secretary and commissioner of prices, who, was recently appointed head of a Royal Commission to inquire into the social and economic effect of the increase in number of aliens in North Queensland.

Mr. Ferry suggests a stricter medical examination and expresses the view that the existence of foreign clubs is undesirable. The present alien influx is largely from Sicily and Northern Italy, the emigrants going into the sugar industry.

REHEARSED FOR CAMERON-VANDERBILT MARRIAGE

NEWPORT, R. I., July 24—(A. P.)—Miss Muriel Vanderbilt, daughter of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt 2nd, and Frederick Cameron Church, Boston insurance broker, rehearsed today for their wedding ceremony tomorrow at Beaulmound, the palatial Benjamin Lewis estate at the end of Bellevue in Newport's society colony.

Taking part in the rehearsal was Robert G. Payne of New York who will be Mr. Church's best man and who hurriedly ended a visit in the Orient to return for his friend's wedding. Mr. Payne was in Japan when he received word from Mr. Church that he wanted him for best man. He left immediately for America and made the 11,000 miles journey with one day to spare. He reached New York yesterday, was met by Lawrence Van Ingin, who will be an usher, and they arrived here together today.

Newport, or that part of it known as the "millionaire's colony" was alive with activity today. Scores of guests arrived for the reception that will follow the wedding, although only a few members of the Vanderbilt and Church families and a few intimate friends will see the ceremony. Bailey's Beach and the casino drew many from the colony and a holiday spirit prevailed.

TO CONTROL DIARRHEA IN POULTRY FLOCKS

HARTFORD, July 24—(A. P.)—Governor Trumbull today approved rules and regulations for the eradication and control of bacillery white diarrhea in poultry flocks which are to be issued by Commissioner on Domestic Animals James M. Whittlesey in accordance with the control act adopted by the 1925 session of the general assembly. An appropriation of $12,000 was made for the eradication work and it is expected that arrangements will be complete so that the work will start about August 1.

Harold O. Woodward, of Pomfret and Tracy M. Swem, of Simsbury, have been engaged by Commissioner Whittlesey to make field inspections Both are graduates of the Connecticut Agricultural college and have had considerable experience in making the blood tests which are a part of the work toward control of the disease.

NEW FIRE PROTECTION AT MIDDLETOWN HOSPITAL

HARTFORD, July 24—(A. P.)—A new fire protection system is being installed at the Connecticut state hospital, Middletown, which will allow a 125 pound pressure on any part of the grounds and ample protection for the highest buildings of the institution. Secretary Charles P. Kellogg of the state department of public welfare reported today. He has recently completed the quarterly inspection of the institution i .de with Mrs. Frank A. Mitchell, of the department.

He said that about 60 per cent of the patients at the hospital are now employed in various ways about the buildings and grounds. A field day is to be held next Wednesday which will include a baseball game between members of the New Haven police department and the hospital team.

SELECTING JURY IN MARY PICKFORD KIDNAP CASE

LOS ANGELES, July 24—(A. P.)—After nearly three days had been consumed in selecting a jury, nine men and three women were impanelled here late today to hear evidence concerning the alleged plot of three men to kidnap Mary Pickford, screen star, and hold her for $200,000 ransom. Court adjourned until next Monday when testimony will begin.

After the jury was impanelled the members listened to the reading of an indictment charging Charles Z. Stevenes, Claude A. Holcombe and Adrian J. Wood with a "criminal conspiracy in May, 1925, to forcibly and fraudulently entice and take away one Mary Pickford, a human being," who is the wife of Douglas Fairbanks, also of screen fame.

OFFERS TO DIE IN THE PLACE OF RUSSELL SCOTT

WASHINGTON, July 24—(A. P.)—G. P. McGraws of this city has written Governor Small of Illinois offering to die in the place of Russell Scott.

The offer is made upon condition that Scott's sentence to hang for the murder of a Chicago drug clerk be commuted to life imprisonment, and that the District of Columbia refuses to accept his (McGraw's) offer to die in the electric chair to be installed here.

"The Prison Relief Society of Washington," McGraws wrote, "is seeking to get permission for my execution, and, if granted, I will have to withdraw this offer to die in place of Scott, because the offer to the District was made first."

McGraws said he was once sentenced to die by the state of Ohio, but cleared, and that later the "man who committed the crime was caught, so I am naturally opposed to capital punishment."

Both offers to die, he explained, are in an effort to bring about abolition of capital punishment. His letter to Gov. Small presumably was mailed prior to the stay of execution granted Scott early today by a Chicago judge.

First diner—Macauley used to eat at this inn.

Second diner—It must have been eggs like these that inspired his Lays of Ancient Rome.—Rutgers Chanticleer.

List of Depositors with The Norwich Savings Society, Norwich, Connecticut, who have not added to, or withdrawn from their account or presented book to have interest credited for a period of twenty years or more next preceding the date hereof:

Awizyes, Stanislas	$338.01
Babbitt, John F.	93.93
Bias, Henrietta and Rebecca (Mrs. Mary E. Jones, Trustee)	269.74
Bias, Mary	520.07
Bowen Emma F.	224.31
Boyle, Estate Arthur (E. Y. Thomas, Administrator)	764.20
Burr, Dimmis W. (Elizabeth Eells, Administratrix)	238.99
Clark, Eliza Esther	255.28
Clark, Lizzie L.	22.38
Conroy, Daniel	99.15
Cook, Miss Addie	464.58
Crowley, Cornelius	1,803.05
Davis, William J.	13.69
Doyle, William F.	117.49
Gery, Mary E.	24.30
Graves David	175.76
Hanley, James E.	44.51
Higgin, John	5,427.36
Hynes, James	921.75
Kierman, William	223.71
McMullen, Lucinda	474.75
Norton, Helen (Mrs. Nellie Norton, Guardian)	21.56
Orrfelt, Karl	21.31
Patneude, Dona	354.21
Smith, Annie Louise	17.42
Strickland, Lucy J.	11.16
Tanstberger, Nicholas	178.20
Taylor Truman	382.23
Walker, Nicholas	101.63
Watkins, Mrs. (Anna P. Griswold)	31.09
Williams, Mary	121.76
Wood, George (Gurdon Harvey, Trustee)	236.56

Norwich, Conn., July 16, 1925.

THIRD FLOOR SPECIALS

Dress Cretonnes, 25c

A fine selection of Coat and Dress Cretonnes—Special price 25c a yard, value 29c to 39c.

$2.25 Curtains, $1.89

Ruffled Voile and Dotted Marquisette Curtains, 2 1-4 yards long, with tie-backs to match—Special price $1.89 a pair, value $2.25.

Rag Rugs, $1.00

Rag Rugs, size 27x54 inches, with plain borders—Special price $1.00, value $1.50.

Couch Hammocks, $14.95

Couch Hammocks of Striped Duck and plain Khaki, with upholstered back and headrest (just 4 left)—Special price $14.95, value to $25.00.

THE PORTEOUS & MITCHELL CO.

Today Will be the Last Day of the FACTORY END SALE

The Factory End Sale brings great value-giving while there is yet time to get use and pleasure from goods purchasd.

You have all day and this evening to take advantage of the emphatically reduced prices on Factory end lots. The last day will be the biggest saving day of the sale. Some of the best values are in lots too small to be advertised—but they will be displayed on our counters and marked at prices which will insure quick clearance.

Then make it a point to attend this sale today—it is an opportunity to economize which will not occur again this season.

Patrons who find it inconvenient, on account of laying new street, to enter our store from Main street, may use the wholesale entrance on Water street and elevator will carry them to any floor.

BOYS' WEAR

Boys' Middy Hats, white and khaki, value 59c, at 45c

Boys' Silk lined Golf Caps, value, $1.50, at 95c

Boys' Sport Blouses, white, tan and khaki, value $1.00, at 85c

Boys' Overalls, red-trimmed, value $1.25, at 85c

Boys' Khaki Union-Alls, red trimmed, value $1.25, at 95c

Boys' Wash Suits, long or short sleeves, sizes 3 to 8, value $1.39 at 95c

Boys' Khaki Flapper Suits sizes 5 to 9, value $1.95, at $1.55

SWEATER SPECIALS

Boys' and Girls' Fancy Sport Sweaters, at $4.95, $3.95 and $2.95

Children's Sweaters, small sizes value $3.00, at $2.45

Women's and Misses' Slip-On Sweaters, value to $3.00, at .. $1.85

Women's Tuxedo Sweaters, black, navy, brown and buff, value $8.50, at $6.85

Our Men's Store

Extraordinary Reductions in Men's Clothing—Our Entire Stock in Three Price Groups

GROUP 1—MEN'S SUITS AT $19.50

Men's Suits, new Spring styles, some with two pairs of Trousers, principally small sizes—34, 35 and 36—Sale prices $19.50, formerly $24.50 and $29.50.

GROUP 2—MEN'S SUITS AT $29.50

Men's Suits, some with two pairs of Trousers, light and dark effects, including plain blue Serge Suits, a complete range of sizes, 34 to 46, including stouts—Sale prices $29.50, formerly $34.50 and $39.50.

GROUP 3—KUPPENHEIMER SUITS, $39.50

In this group are all our finer Suits, including "Kuppenheimer" Suits. A big range of styles, single and double-breasted coats, light and dark effects, size range 34 to 44, including stouts—all at $39.50, formerly $44.50, $49.50 and $54.50.

Today—Special Sale of Women's Full-Fashioned Silk Hosiery

A Sale planned in cooperation with the manufacturer in which we offer Women's High Grade, Full-Fashioned Silk Hosiery, a good service weight, at a very special price, namely—

$1.39 A PAIR

BEAUTIFUL FINISH—EVERY PAIR PERFECT
ALL THE LEADING SPRING COLORS

BLACK	FRENCH NUDE	MODE	SAND
WHITE	HAZEL	NUDE	SUNSET
AIRDALE	JACK RABBIT	PEACH	THRUSH
BEIGE	LARIAT	PEBBLE	ETC., ETC.

Take Advantage of this Offering Today

SOCKS AT 25c

Children. Socks, fine, mercerized quality, with fibre silk fancy tops, in all the wanted colors, sizes 5 to 9 1-2—Special value at 25c a pair.

3-4 SOCKS AT 25c

Children's Three-quarter Socks, a sample line in well assorted styles—Special price 25c a pair, value up to 59c.

Women's Knit Union Suits, 44c

Women's Summer-weight Knit Union Suits, knee length, shell bottom, regular and extra sizes—Sale Price 44c a Suit, regular values 50c and 59c.

Women's Summer Weight Vests and Bodices, regular and extra sizes, our entire stock of the underwear ... Sale price 29c

Women's Silk Stripe Summer Weight Vests and Bodices, regular and extra sizes, our regular grade—Sale Price 39c

Women's extra large size vests for women who require large sizes—46, 48 and 50—regular 50c value ..... Sale price 39c

A lot of Women's Nainsook Union Suits, white and flesh color, regular $1.00 value—Sale price a suit 59c

SILK SPECIALS
For Last Day of Sale

33-inch Silk Pongee, natural color, value $1.00 yard, at 88c

Yard-wide Stripe Rayon Tub Silk, in seven colors—also light and dark Figured Crepes, value $1.25 a yard, at 88c

40-inch All Silk Radium for slips and lingerie, white, black, light and dark colors, value $2.00 a yard, at $1.39

40-inch Sport Satin for slips or dresses, in white and black only, value $2.00 a yard, at $1.39

Yard-wide Silk Stripe Broadcloth, for dresses, in four colors, value $2.00 a yard, at $1.48

40-inch Crepe-de-Chine, for blouse or dress, light and dark shades, value $2.00, at $1.68

40-inch Printed Crepes, dots and figures, mostly light shades, value $2.50 a yard, at $1.59

42-inch Silk Stripe Poplar in Copenhagen, rose, tan, green and tangerine, value $3.50 a yard, at $2.69

40-inch Satin-face Crepe for blouse or dress, in tan, cocoa, poudre blue, wood brown, navy, value $3.50, at $2.98

SATURDAY CANDY

Licorice Gum Drops 19c
Spiced Gum Drops 29c
50c Hand-dipped Chocolates .. 29c
Jumbo Nougatines and Peppermint Patties, heavy chocolate coating 39c
Cocoanut Caramels 49c

Ice Cream Sandwiches, made from New Haven Dairy Ice Cream 10c

TOILET GOODS SPECIALS

25c Squibbs Talcum 17c
35c Cascara Tablets (100) 27c
50c Philips Magnesia 35c
50c Miro Dena Face Powder .. 35c
50c Nonspi 37c
60c Cream Elcaya 45c
65c Kotex 49c
65c Nujol 49c
89c Waterbury's Compound ... 59c
$1.00 Tokalon 69c
$1.00 Feenamint 69c

BATHING NEEDS

Kleinert's Bathing Caps, every style and color:
AT 19c — VALUE 25c
AT 45c — VALUE 59c
50c Ayriad's Water Wings 39c
Rubber Bathing Shoes, in green, blue, red, black, at 89c

HAND BAGS, $2.98

Women's Hand Bags, some wonderful values, all underarm bags, in black and colors, regular values $4.00 to $6.50, all at $2.98

UMBRELLA SPECIALS

Women's Imported Silk Gloria Umbrellas, with amber trimmings, regular value to $4.00 at $2.98

Women's Silk Umbrellas, with colored borders, all colors, 8, 10, 12 and 16 ribs, value $5.98 to $6.98, at $4.69

KITCHENWARE DEPARTMENT

Bevel-edge Glasses, Colonial design, 6-ounce, value $1.00 a dozen, each 5c

Ice Tea Glasses, Colonial design, value $2.50 a dozen, each 15c

Perfection Garment Hanger Bracket, will take 5 coat hangers, value 25c, at 15c

Imported Decorated Bowls, regular value 25c to 50c, at 19c to 44c

Tea Pot Stands, Bavarian China blue floral design, value 35c, at 20c

Set of 6 Imported Nappies, floral design, value $2.49 a set, at $2.19

WASH GOODS SATURDAY SPECIALS

1000 yards of brand new styles in 36-inch Dress Percales, newest designs and colorings, value 25c a yard, at 19c

36-inch English Prints, newest designs and colors, value 29c a yard, at 22c

32-inch Woven Flaxon, in even and broken checks, brand new assortment, value 69c a yard, at 39c

This Season's GREATEST DRESS SALE
GENUINE CLEAN-CUT, IMMEDIATE CLEARANCE OF ALL SUMMER DRESSES

Forceful Reductions on Our Entire Stock of Fashionable, Lovely Summer Dresses—Women's and Misses'

190 Dresses Taken From Our Stock and Offered in THREE EXTRAORDINARY PRICE GROUPS

$5.00 | $10.00 | $15.00

Actual savings of $10.00, $15.00 and $20.00 absolutely guaranteed in this Sale—emphasizing our determined effort for an immediate and positive clearance. The reductions are drastic and mean tremendous losses for us—and almost unheard of savings for you. But that is our policy, to close out, each season, all merchandise in which style is a factor.

ON SALE BEGINNING THIS MORNING
BUY NOW! BUY QUICK!

GROUP 1 AT $5.00
VALUE TO $15.00
50 Dresses in this group, some of the season's newest styles in Printed Crepes, Figured Roshanara, Striped Tub Silks and Plain Silk Crepes—all at $5.00.

GROUP 2 AT $10.00
VALUE TO $25.00
95 Dresses in this group, including Plain Canton Crepes, Printed Crepe-de-Chine, Washable Floreswah, Fine Tub Silks, and Stunning Two piece Sports Dresses—all at $10.00.

GROUP 3 AT $15.00
VALUE TO $35.00
45 Dresses in this group the finest Dresses in our store, including Flat Crepes, Georgettes, Satins, Finest of Silk Prints and Stunning Party Dresses—all at $15.00.

Women's White Lisle Gloves, 1c

Today—About 300 pairs of Women's 2-Clasp White Lisle Gloves, excellent for household wear—buy one pair at 5c and you may have the second pair at 1c. (We reserve the right to limit quantity sold to any one person).

Extraordinary Specials From DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT
ON SALE ALL DAY TODAY

90-inch Brown and Bleached "Pequot" Sheeting, regular value 79c a yard, at 59c
(Limit 5 Yards to a Customer)

Today will be the last day of the Special Sale of Colored Dress Linens, actual value $1.00 to $1.50 a yard, at 38c

36-inch All White "Shrunk" Dress Linen, perfect in weave and finish (limited quantity), value $1.00 a yard, at 49c

25 size 54x54, strictly all linen Squares, white damask with rose and tulip designs, value $4.00, at $2.49

Bungalow and Breakfast Sets, Cloth size 54x54 and half dozen Napkins to match, absolutely pure linen, value $4.98, at $2.98

Size 70x70 all linen Pattern Cloths, mostly soiled—Cloths that formerly sold as high as $10.00—price to close $4.98

15 "Betty Bates" Bed Sets, blue, rose and gold crinkled stripe effects, value $6.98 a set, at $4.98

THE SOCIAL CORNER

THOSE WHO MAKE FAIR PROMISES SHOULD HAVE GOOD MEMORIES

PRIZE WINNERS FOR JULY
$1.00 Each

To MA OF GREEN GABLES for letter entitled, Guard Well the Tongue.

To GUSTA for letter entitled, The New Gardner Lake Road.

To EVELINE BURR for letter entitled, Trials With Figs.

To ETHELYN for letter entitled How to Make an American Flag.

To HEPATICA for letter entitled, Care of Kitchen Range.

SOCIAL CORNER POETRY

An Old Fashioned Picture

An old fashioned picture stears into my dreaming,
A picture so soothingly sweet;
A little, low cottage with roses half hiding
The window that looks on the street.

And a woman, within, has a smile for my coming,
(Oh, none were so happy as we!)
While the baby she holds in her arms at the window
Is waving his kisses to me.

All day at the forge and the anvil I toisted.
The song she had taught me to sing,
And the words she had sweetened and softened in speaking,
Were timed to my hammar's loud ring.

And on my way home how my heart leaped when reaching
A bend in the street I could see
The baby she held in her arms at the window
A waving his kisses to me.

Not gone, but asleep in the churchyard, together,
Where old fashioned roses entwine.
A wreath for the mossy old stone they are waiting.
Those God-given treasures of mine.

And though far away from their rest I have wondered,
That old fashioned picture I see,
And the lady she held in her arms at the window
Is waving his kisses at me.

Selected.

Sent in by CATNIP.

Obstacles

Now thank the Lord for obstacles, which teach us how to climb.
Which make our hearts and muscles strong and prove the worth of time,
Which train us how to perservere great objects to attain.
Which build in us the stamina none
could without them gain,
Which force us to abandon the dull road in which we plod
And thus discover heights of dream lit
by the smiles of God.
Which show us how the hearts of men
all beat in brotherhood,
So all are glad to help along a man of purpose good.
And give us that most godlike gift of all which bless the soul—
The wish to help a brother who is weaker to his goal.

Now thank the Lord for obstacles from which we learn to live,
Not selfishly, but worthily, to conquer but to give,
To gain that sturdy courage which deserves respect of men
And that diviner kindness which deserves affection. When We look upon life's smoothest ways serene and sweet they seem—
But smoothed and curbed and leveled ways are never paths of dream.
They build no strength, they never give the vision of the height,
The height where one has climbed with faith and won a place by right.
It's only obstacles which thrill and make our hearts respond—
It's looking up at obstacles we find the skies beyond!

—Lee Shippey, in Los Angeles Times.

Sent in by ARIES.

Let Us Laugh on the Way

Let us laugh while we may
For we know not how soon,
May sickness or sorrow
Surround us with gloom.
Though the sun may shine bright
When first seen in the morn,
It, by noon may be clouded.
Be faded, and gone!

Soon enough will our pathway
Now happy and light
Be darkened by trouble
Our day turned to night.
Soon enough will the cup
Of anguish be tasted
Then why, if so few, should
Our bright days be wasted?

Our lives—like the ship's
On the broad, trackless ocean
Are often in danger—
In fearful commotion;
We may now have fair winds,
And the sky bright appear,
But we know not how soon,
We may tremble with fear!

We well know that our lives
Are as flowers, that bloom
The brightest in sunshine,
The dullest in gloom;
We well know there's a time
We should sing, and should pray,
And a time we should laugh;
Let us laugh while we may.

BY Charles C. Sawyer.

Sent in by JENNIE.

Perfect Peace

A mind at perfect peace with God
O! What a word is this
A sinner reconciled through blood
This, this, indeed is peace.

By nature and by practice far
How very far from God,
But now by grace brought near to Him
Through faith in Jesus blood.

So near, so very near to God
I cannot nearer be,
For in the person of His son.
I am as near as He.

So dear, so very dear to God
I cannot dearer be.
The love wherewith, He loves His son
Such is His love to me.

Why should I ever anxious be
Since such a God is mine
He watches o'er me night and day
And tells me "Mine in Thine."

Best wishes to all.

HARK.

SOCIAL CORNER EVENTS

August 5—Picnic at Ocean beach.

ANSWERS AND INQUIRIES

HOPE COBWEB: An unexpected and delightful surprise. Many thanks.

GREETINGS FROM SISTER SLOW

Dear Social Corner Editor: As I have been on the sick list since the first part of June have failed to write for a pin. Hope the editor will let me have a pin for I will be pleased with it. I was in hopes to attend some of the picnics, but just could not.

Great G.: I received your card and I thank you very much for remembering me. I certainly would call if I knew where you lived.

Yes, Auntie Bee, I have mastered that tatting problem and I do enjoy making it. Thank you for your kind invitation to come over for I would love to come.

I was intending to go over to Bumble Bee's picnic, but did not feel very good. I thought of youu all, and read what good times you did have.

Heloi, Red Rose, I see you sitting by your window once in awhile. I am looking for my daughter from Detroit this week.

So sorry for the sister whose husband broke his leg Sunday. If there's anything I can do for you, sister, let me know. Well I must close with best wishes for every one of the sisters.

SISTER SLOW.

DAHLIAS ALL IN BLOOM

Dear Social Corner Sisters: I must write just a few likes and help to fill up our Corner page.

Was glad to see more letters last week and I have enjoyed reading them all.

I was very much interested in the letter from Balsam Fir. It seemed almost like a visit home, as South Portland was my home for many years and all the places that Balsam Fir spoke of I have seen, and been to both theaters many times. I can imagine what a wonderful time she did have on her trip to Portland.

Maine is a lovely place in summer but the winters are long and so cold.

I am so sorry I didn't go to the picnic at Twice Twenty's. I hear they had a wonderful time, but I just couldn't seem to go alone, and it rained so hard I thought they wouldn't have it that day. But it was a lovelly day after all, and I am so glad the sisters all had such a nice time, and only wish I had been there too.

I have been picking beans and summer squash today from the garden. The gardens look so nice now after the rains. My dahlia bed is just lovely and most of them are blossomed. I picked a lovely bouquet today of dark red, pink and harender. The yellow and white ones are always later blooming than the other colors. I have other plants and flowers of different kinds.

I think we are all interested in flowers of every kind.

Ma of Greene Gable's letter was very interesting and very true and that little piece, "Wait a minute before we speak," is a good one to remember.

Well my letter is getting long, so I must close now and get dinner going. Best wishes to all.

FAN TAN.

Putnam.

LAUGH WHILE WE MAY

Dear Sisters of the Social Corner: I am enclosing a poem entiled, Le: Us Laugh While We May." I have copied this from an old scrap book that was my mothers. She probably pasted this selection on the page, during the period of the Civil war, as I find numerous subjects in prose and poetry pertaining to those days of anxiety and sadness. However, the sentiment of these lines are acceptable in times of peace as well as strife. I believe a good hearty laugh is more helpful than any thing else, at certain times, when we feel depressed and "blue," as we call it. A good joke told by cheerful friend, is most helpful. To attend a good entertainment that brings forth the laugh, not only for the time being but later on, to think it over, fulfills a good purpose. Some author has quoted, "When you laugh, the world laughs with you, but when you weep, you weep alone." This may be true in some instances but not always. There are some people who laugh at most anything in times when it would be better to be more serious especially where it wounds anothers feelings—the laugh of ridicule! To laugh, like many other features, can be utilized for its harmful effects, as well, as for good intentions. We all admire a cheerful, sunny disposition, where the smile or the laugh is genuine. At the suggestion of our poem, we should laugh while we have opportunity when conditions can really uphold it, for we know not how soon or to what extent our laughter may be turned to tears.

JENNIE.

CARE OF KITCHEN RANGE

Dear Editor and Corner People: A good way to keep the underside of covers on the kitchen range free from soot is to frequently move the back covers (where most of the soot accumulates) to the front where the blaze will soon burn it off. With the front covers removed to the back, all will be clean. This applies to a range in which wood is used for fuel.

Quite often the stove needs all soot cleaned out from pipe and all through the inside, especially under the oven. If this is done the fire should burn nicely without smoke escaping.

Those who do not care for stove blacking will find a newspaper dampened in soapy water, very good to wash off the top of range. Polish with a dry newspaper and you will have a nice, shiny surface.

It is much more pleasant cooking and working in the kitchen when the stove does good work and is kept nice and clean.

HEPATICA.

AN EXPLORATION

Oh Cornerites: Esmeralda's afraid I'll turn into a hermit just cause I don't go as much as some. So semi-frequently she hales me forth, to go somewhere. Just recently she (and incidentally the dominie) took me to see the Buffalo and I had a great time exploring the outside domain: upstairways and down cleated slopes. I lost count of the tenements for fowls. There's a dove cote, and a sheep fold, stalls for horses and cattle, boxes and pens for colts and calves and pigs, and there was a whole army of R. I. Red chicks. Believe me, she has some entourage. I kinder half way planned to go to the picnic at Twice Twenty's but I had an opportunity to go blueberrying that Tuesday and that was irresistible. So my spare time was spent in the congenial environment of berry bushes.

ALWILDA.

SOME FINE TRIPS

Dear Corner Pals: Am glad to read so many like the pins which our editor so kindly has provided us. Wouldn't it be a real thanks for each one whom has received a pin to show it by an extra letter to the Corner. This is only a suggestion as it's up to you one and all.

I have had many delightful and interesting trips since my last letter. In April I went to Worcester for two days and one night where I enjoyed the college play Three Wise Fools given entirely by the boys at tech. I think you would all scream with one look at the young ladie's (??) garters. In June with three friends I took a trip to Lewiston, Me., where we attended Bates college commencement. A very inspiring spectacle. There were many funny and never to be forgotten incidents going, coming and during the trip of 600 miles or more. We arrived home safely a day ahead of our schedule. On June 5th my fine son left for his trip to Oakland, Cal., where he will spend several months with Rev. H. S. McCready our former believed pastor and friend. I've had many letters about his wonderful trip and stay which I may relate sometime. On June 26 young daughter and I went to Groton Long Point for a stay of a few days. On July 15th I went to New London, New Haven and Bridgeport as companion with a friend, returning July 18th—a most enjoyable trip of over 200 miles. The only exciting, or real serious incident on this trip was when we parted in Bridgeport and were to meet in front of a certain bank at a certain time and I returned first, in fact, waited about an hour when she came in sight and upon asking the traffic cop if the car might be parked longer than 20 minutes or time to eat (the lomit) was told if she had not come when she did her friend (?) might have been taken by him to the home for lost children. Little did I think the care I was getting in my anxiety. Hope you all enjoy this beautiful world and weather.

HOPE COBWEB.

PICNICS THAT PLEASED

Dear Editor and Social Cornerites: Well, here I am again. Just had to tell you what a fine time I had at the picnic at Twice Twenty's home on the 16th. Foxglove and I started Thursday morning at 6-30 daylight time and I arrived at Twice Twenty's at 11-30. It was a wonderful drive and the scenery was beautiful. Betty behaved nicely and ran along fine. Arriving found a few sisters there ahead of us and in a short time the house was well as the yard was full. There were 41 of us by actual count, and what a good time we did have. We enjoyed the dinner which was abundant, one had all they could eat. We stayed all night and returned the next day all O. K.

On July the 11th we (Foxglove with Mr. Whirlwind) attended Maple Leaf's birthday picnic and while there were not as many there we certainly had one fine time. The/hostess did everything to make it pleasant, assisted by her daughter and her friend with the uke and songs. We were tired when we arrived home but it was worth it. We thank Maple Leaf for the invitation.

California Girl: I am glad you like California, so much but I think Connecticut pretty nice myself.

Airy: What's the matter, are you lost, strayed, or stolen? Send me your birth date.

Joan: Letter received. I sent you one about the same time they must have passed on the road.

Balsam Fir: Card received. Thanks. Will answer soon.

Twice Twenty: Are you and Zany still alive after the picnic. Didn't we have a fine time and a nice large crowd? I'll say so!

Maple Leaf: Thanks for the letter with the address. Will do as much for you some day. Hope you are well.

Wurdy Belle: Will send in the poetry you asked for as soon as I have time to copy it.

Will say tra lee for this time.

WHIRLWIND.

A WAY TO CLEAN WINDOWS

Dear Social Corner Sisters and Editor: I just want to tell the sisters that could not meet last week at the home of Twice Twenty and Zany that they missed a good time but I know we can not always attend all of the gatherings.

I was very much pleased to meet Foxglove and Whirlwind and Ma of Greene Gables as I have read their letters for a long time and thought that I would like to meet them.

Was glad so many Willimantic sisters could come, for the time Twice Twenty, auto and I attended their meeting they gave us such a good time. Missed Effie M. Hoped she would be there.

White Dawn: Come un some time to Club No. 4 and you will be surprised to know Cenzi. Maybe if I inquire after Hilda you can guess, and also Chocolate. You and your family and Chocolate and her family have been here. If you can not guess maybe Mr. White Down can and I, if you can't guess, will tell you more next time.

Lilac Lady: Missed you last week.

Honorayfykaytinebusqui: I heard a lot of inquiries for you at last Thursday's meeting.

Daisy Dean and Kentucky Wonder: Looked for you at Twice Twenty's.

Keziah Doolittle: I don't want to tell about you in the paper so they will have to guess, won't they?

Olga: The next time they have a grand march be sure and march with me.

Just want to tell the sisters that when they wash windows if they will use clear water with some bluing in it that the windows will clean easy and shine with a little work.

If I am not too late would like a pin and thank the editor for it now. Think that they are nice.

CENZI.

ICES AND SHERBETS

Dear Sisters: Frozen desserts were used to some extent in the 16th century but they tell me that it wasn't until the 19th century that they were made commercially. Since that time they have become increasingly popular until today hundred of thousands of gallons of frozen desserts are eaten each year by the American people.

Ice cream because of its easy digestibility and high food value holds first place in favor but the water ices, sherbets, mousses, and frappes are all well liked and afford a change from the more ordinary ice cream.

Freezing ice cream is the only tedious part in making ice cream at home. I find that the work can be greatly shortened by going about it properly. Eight pound of ice to one of salt has been found to be a very satisfactory mixture. One spell I used three parts of ice to one of salt. While with this stronger mixture the freezing process is slightly lessened, the texture of the ice cream seems to be less smooth and fine and the expense because of the extra salt is greater.

It is not economy to mix the ice with the salt in the begining. I find that the salt did not dissolve quickly and when I emptied the tub I found that the salt had filtered through the ice to the bottom and was of little use there.

In reading Emma Holloway's advice concerning the use of ice and salt I noted she said, "it is better to pack the tub one third or one half full of ice, before beginning to add the salt. Enough salt will slip down through the ice to become effective and less will be lost."

The way I fix the ice and salt mixture is to pack it solid around the freezer using the handle of a broom stick.

I pour cold water in the can just a small quantity as cold as can be had. In this way the freezing mixture comes in contact with every part of the can and the freezing is greatly hastened. Turn slowly and evenly and remove the paddle before the ice cream becomes to hard.

My freezer holds three quarts and requires anywhere from 12 to 15 minutes to freeze it.

Now remove all salt and ice that seems to be on the top of the can, take off the cover, and pack the mixture down in the can. Put a layer of vegetable paper over the can, replace the cover and stop the opening securely with a cork. Drain off the water that has collected in the freezer from the melted ice. Replace the tub with ice and salt. I always let the mixture stand about two hours, three is better. Cover the freezer entirely with ice and newspapers outsides of that. Throw a piece of burlap over this if you have it. Old carpet is good. In fact any thing to keep the warm air from the tub.

There is one thing you will notice that the frozen mixture increases in volume during the freezing process.

Mixtures containing cream will increase more than those without. An uncooked mixture will swell more than a cooked mixture. I count about one-third increase in volume so I fill my freezer only about 2-3 full.

Another thing cream that is cooked is smoother. With custard ice cream, of course, I cook the custard and pour it to the cream. The plain ice cream is improved if part of the milk is scalded.

I have tried to send all the knowledge I can about cream. One summer I made it every two weeks, but have not made any yet this summer.

I haven't an ice crusher but find you can buy them and I shall have one of them. I use a heavy canvas bag and a mallet.

I use coarse rock salt for the freezing. I find it is much quicker than the fine salt.

Here are a few recipes.

Vanilla Ice Cream: 8 cups of milk, 4 tablespoons flour, 4 teaspoons vanilla, 2 cups cream, 1 1-2 cups sugar.

Make a smooth paste of flour and a little milk. Add remainder of milk and sugar and cook, talking care, if not made in double boiler not to scorch. When cold add flavoring and two cups of cream.

I do not think you can make ice cream where you use flour without a double boiler, for the flour should steam cook 30 minutes. Then it is not noticeable and is really better than without it. One reason I like this recipe there are no eggs and you don't have that taste of the eggs.

Here is an un cooked ice cream recipe: 4 cups milk, 2 scant cups maple syrup, 1 cup butternut meats, 2 cups cream, 3 eggs.

Scald milk with maple syrup add beaten eggs. Let cool then add cream and butternut meats ground fine and freeze.

Grape Juice Ice Cream: So many have grape juice and perhaps don't know that it makes delicious ice cream.

3 eggs separated, 1 cup cream, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup grape juice, 2 1-2 cups milk.

Beat yolks of eggs with sugar until light, then fold in the beaten whites of eggs. Heat milk and cream, then pour it gradually over the eggs, beating all the time, and when cool add grape juice. When cold pour into freezer.

Coffee Ice Cream: 1 1-2 cups of milk 2 cups cream, 1 1-4 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup strong coffee, 1 tablespoon flour, 1-8 teaspoon salt.

Mix sugar, flour, salt, add beaten eggs and milk. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly 20 minutes. Add coffee strain, set aside to cool, then whip cream and add.

UNCLE SAM'S DAUGHTER.

CINNAMON ROLLS

Dear Social Corner Members: No doubt all are enjoying this nice and wonderful summer. Pleasure cars, trolleys, boats and all means of travel are busy going in every direction to the different beaches parks, etc., so some one is surely enjoying the season's pleasures.

Summer with its gardens of nice vegetables and pretty flowers is at its best now, and the showers keep everything looking bright and green.

It is some little time since I have written to the Corner. So just thought I would send a recipe for making something nice for lunches or with the coffee for breakfast.

Cinnamon Rolls: Take what would be a large sized loaf of bread dough, work into that fresh lard or butter, then put to rise again, after which you roll to about 1-4 inch thick, then spread thickly with a mixture of sugar and butter (that has previously been creamed.) Sprinkle thickly with cinnamon. Roll it up as you would jelly cake, then slice in sizes wanted, place in a dripping pan, let rise once more until very light and then when done turn face downward on glazed paper to cool.

They are splendid when made by this recipe.

Wishing all the Corner sisters a pleasant summer, will close and give some one else a chance.

ECLIPSE.

BUSY AS A BEE

Hello Sisters: Just to say, I am busy as a bee. Canning, company, and gardening take most of my time.

Father hasn't been very well since April. Just now feeling some better.

Miss meetings at hall for our elder members and am sure they would appreciate a good meeting on the ground floor.

Twice Twenty and Harrietta: How I would have liked to been there.

Don't Worry: So sorry for you in your sorrow. Sister and I wanted to have come to funeral, but her little boy was sick.

Yours for the Corner.

NEIGHBAR EVEREADY.

A HOME MADE AMERICAN FLAG

Dear Corner Members: A medium sized flag is about six feet in length, and the stripes three inches wide.

You can purchase the bunting for the stripes and field at any dry goods store and make the stars of white muslin. After cutting the stripes sew them neatly together, turning in the edge just enough to make a neat finish. I would suggest a double row of stitching. Cut the bottom, also the top from the selvidge of the cloth, so the outer edge will not need to be hemmed.

The blue field can be joined to the stripes the same way as you joined the stripes. I would also cut the long edge with a selvidge.

After joining the field and stripes make a binding of canvas for the staff edge, doubling this over the end of the stripes and field turning it in with double row of stitching.

Take two large iron washers—for grommets—and sew these in doubled binding edge—one at each corner, to tie ropes to for fastening the flag to the pole.

Cutting and sewing on the stars will be the hardest task. There are 48 stars but you will be obliged to cut twice as many because they must be fastened upon both sides of the field.

To cut a star first cut a circle four inches in diameter upon a piece of cardboard, and divide the circumference into five equal parts—then connect the five division points with straight lines. Cut out the piece and carefully mark out the 96 stars upon muslin.

Locate the center for the stars by ruling lines horizontally and vertically across the field, which is 20 inches long and 38 inches wide and the stars should be in six rows with eight stars in each row of stars starting between the two on the end.

Perhaps you can buy a flag pole but if that isn't in your reach take a round rug pole, paint it nicely then have some kind of a pretty brass ball on the end. You could substitute a brass curtain pole ball. Put screw eyes into it and through these you can run the rope for hoisting the flag. There should be another screw eye a little below and then there are three other screw eyes quite large at the bottom. Of course I haven't written this as plainly as I would like to but you can get an idea by going to some friend's house who makes a business of hoisting their flag on various days.

I had a friend and neighbor who during the war used to hoist the flag every morning and take it in every night. We also had a service flag together. She and I had sons overseas. This flag had two stars and used to be floating in the breeze every day. She was certainly faithful to her trust.

ETHELYN.

SUPERNATURAL

Dear Sisters: Since the dawn of conscious life a belief in the supernatural, or in ghosts has had more or lets hold on the human imagination. In very early times, occurences were ascribed to the superhuman which were really due to the operation of natural laws, not yet understood. As civilization advanced many of the mysteries became thus explainable, but into all our lives, doubtless, come experiences for the understanding for which we want the key.

Scientists are searching for explanations of these things and it is not thought beneath the dignity of learned societies to seriously challenge the shadow world—making every allowance for imagination and the effects of distorted vision due to nervousness or fright, unusual instances are never the less heard from time to time.

I have a story in mind that may be possible interest to persons giving thought to the subject and sounds quite reasonable, it was written to me from Orange, N. J.

She says. "Mother was very ill, a bursting vessel, and consequently loss of blood, made her recovery very doubtful, and on this particular evening I slipped out to telephone my husband then hurried back to send my young sister for the prescription I had left to be filled.

Years would come as I bent over mother for she seemed momentarily to be slipping away and I found myself wishing, oh, so hard that Dr. Jack, a beloved playmate of my younger days, could see her. But his boat was somewhere on the Pacific, and I was still crying, and preparing a cordial to be given her. When the door opened and in walked, "Jack" in tropical attire. I was too astonished to speak, as he seated himself on a chair at the bedside brushing to the floor, in doing so, a card on which I had been keeping notes of her condition. He bent over her, picked up and slightly shook the bottle of medicine as if looking through it, then said with a smile, "Don't worry girlie, she will get well, and was gone. Mother seem to gain from that hour, but a cablegram next day told us that Jack had been dead 36 hours. I had not been sleeping and my sister coming in almost immediately found me standing in the center of the room with the glass in my hand wondering why the doctor left so quickly.

Some time since some one wrote me about putting quicksilver on a mirror.

Pour upon a sheet of tinfoil 3 drams of quicksilver (poison) to the square foot tinfoil. Rub hard with a piece of buckskin until the foil becomes brilliant. Lay the glass upon a table face downward. Place the foil upon the glass with a sheet of paper over it and place it upon a block of wood or flat marble. Put upon it sufficient weight to press it down tight. Let it remain in this position a few hours and the foil will remain upon the glass.

KITTY LOU.

ANOTHER TREATMENT FOR ANTS

Dear Editor: It is so long since I've written I'm afraid I don't deserve a pin; but may I have one?

Have been interested in the discussion on ants. I wish that Don't Worry would try my remedy for awhile. There may be nothing in it, but it works with me and I'd like to know if it does with any one else. I lived for a number of years in a house that had always been overrun with ants from early spring to cold weather. I kept close watch for the first appearance of the pests. When they came I would kill every one I could, by putting a finger on the ant and crushing it. Go over infested places several times a day killing all you see. Three or four days is generally enough to drive them away, finish them or something. I don't know what it is, unless it is the odor from the crushed ants that discourages the rest but I never have ants for but a few days when they first come.

I have picked quantities of both pink and white lady slippers in Massachusetts, but never saw a yellow one until I came to Connecticut. They are rare. If you know where one grows keep it "under your hat." I know several places where the pink slippers grow, near Willimantic, but have never seen a white one in this state. Have found the aterhusa and calopolgon or chid in Lebanon, the shown orchid in Willimantic and North Coventry, and last year found lots of the lady slippers in Bolton, but do not know what color they are as the buds were not large enough to show any color, perhaps some of the sisters up that way can inform me.

BETSY BOBBET.

THE SIGN LEO

Dear Editor and Social Corner Members: As I have been requested to write of the sign Leo, will do so now. Leo (the lion) is the fifth sign of the zodiac and begins July 23rd and ends August 23rd, any year. All persons born in the period of time are Leo subjects. The ruling star is the sun, and the planet is our earth. The sign Leo corresponds to the heart of human kind; it also rules the blood and nerves; prosperity and losses. Leo people like to walk in the country or anywhere that they may examine the wonders of nature. Leo is masculine barren and maternal. Its colors are yellow, red and green. Its gems, ruby and deadwood. The natural profession is the ministry, political leader, or physician. Its tribe is Joseph meaning, increase, judgment, luminous, perfect. There are two types of Leo people. One generous, magnanimouse, benevolent, the other lazy, selfish, prejudiced. As the sun rules sign Leo, he retains and transmits an electrical, commanding force, which expresses dignity, and self-reliance and vibrates to the orange ray. The trees ruled by sun are laurel, maple palm, ash and ivy. Leo is a fire sign. The important day of the week is Sunday. Favorable time of the year is from Jan. 27th to Feb. 3rd, and from July 23 to August 23rd.

Effie M: Have had 12 good laughs over your offering at Versailles. It was a champion. We had a wonderful time at Twice Twenties, July 16th. Sorry you missed it. Glad to see the Social page full.

Theodas: Your sign was printed Saturday, June 20th.

Aunt Jerusha: Sorry you did not get to the meeting. The slips have rooted nicely all but the begonias and ivy geraniums. I have rooted a pink and a white Martha Washington for you.

Shrimpo: Try camphorated oil, for bathing rash, or listerine. To exterminate ants mix together tartar emetic, sugar, and water to make a syrup and place where ants will get it.

Tomato soup is especially good if a few slices of orange is added just before serving.

To clean brown shoes take a pint of skimmed milk, 1-2 ounce spirits of salts, 1-2 ounce spirits of lavender, 1 ounce gum arabic and the juice of 2 lemons. Mix all together and keep in a bottle closely corked. Rub the shoes with a sponge dipped in the preparation and when they are dry polish them with clean flannel.

Ma of Greene Gables: I say "Amen" to your sentiments. If people would state only facts that they could prove in a court of law, slander would be at an end. We may not agree with everybody's views of life and progress, but we can be genuine and true blue, and keep silent. "Hear no evil, speak no evil, see no evil."

Best wishes to all from

ARIES.

THE PICNIC AT TWICE TWENTY'S

Dear Social Corner Friends: As I think of our gathering last week at the hospitable home of Twice Twenty and Zany I am reminded of the following verse written by a cousin of mine (well know to May B.) in an autograph album I had when a girl.

"People come from all quarters, bashful sons and modest daughters.
What for! Now don't laugh, just to write in your autograph."

True, the sons were few in number but the daughters came from every direction, all goads that day leading to Dayville Four Corners; and many were the autographs written in the little books which have become an important part of the Social Corner sister's outfit when she goes to a picnic.

The weather did not regard us favorably in the morning but evidently repented later in the day and gave us an afternoon of sunshine which caused one sister, at least, to forget to take her umbrella home with her. Sociability reigned supreme until the dinner hour when the greater part of the company was seated at two long tables in the barn spread with food of every description, sandwiches, baked beans, salads, olives, pies, cookies and cakes. After all had eaten their fill and the tables were cleared we were seated out doors and the roll was called. This was very interesting and if I mistake not we are indebted to Sister Jennie for telling us about such a roll call and sincerely wish she might have been with us to help carry it out. Each one told something about the town or city where she was born and the following states were claimed as birthplaces, Connecticut Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maine, New York, Ohio, New Jersey besides England and Canada. Connecticut the land of steady habits taking the lead.

Just as we were becoming a little weary because of the heat and our strenuous literary efforts we were treated to watermelon. The generous slices went right to the spot and so refreshed us that when the program was ended the sisters were loath to leave and dividing themelves into groups here and there enjoyed another social hour. Thus one more picnic came to an end as all good times do and our thanks are due our host and hostess for their untiring efforts to give to Club No. 4 and its guests, nearly 50 in all, a day of pleasure to be long remembered.

PRIMOSE.

OCEAN BEACH PICNIC AUG. 5

Dear Social Corner Members: There will be a Social Corner picnic at Ocean beach, Wednesday, Aug. 5 for all members and friends of the Social Corner. Those that want a seat in the bus from Club No. 1 please notify me, as the capacity is limited. If rainy, (not cloudy) the next day. We will meet at Ocean Beach New London.

Yours for a good day and time.

THEODA.

AN INQUIRY

Editor of Social Corner: I don't belong to the Social Corner but would like to ask the sister who wrote that wild indigo was good for varicose veins how to tell the herb when growing and when to pick it.

A READER OF THE SOCIAL CORNER.

CONTROLLING OUR TONGUES

Dear Social Corner Friend; That was a good letter last week from the pen of Ma of Greene Gables. Most of us do need to watch our tongues. The unkind saying cannot be recalled and no apology can quite undo the harm done or quite remove the sting. The thoughtlessness of youth may be excused however when there is generally no excuse for us older ones.

I received a severe lesson once when I was about 20 that I remember distinctly now. I was attending Commencement exercises at a college where I had been a special student a short time before and was seated beside a girl friend who had been very chummy with me in my student days and I was inquiring about all the old classmates and at last I happened to think of a young man whom I remembered as having been the butt of lots of ridicule from us, he being very bushful and awkward, in fact, just the right type of youth for school girls to have sport with. So I said something like this to her. "Oh, what has become of that gawky "...." that we girls used to jolly so? Is he as green as ever?" She didn't answer and thinking she didn't understand I repeated my question a little louder. She was still silent, and looked very queer and so I said a bit impatiently, "What is the matter and why don't you say something?" Just then a very kindly looking lady on my other side, whom I had never seen before, quietly remarked, "She doesn't answer you, young lady, because I am that young man's mother." If the floor could have opened beneath me and let me down out of sight what a great relief it would have been to me but no opening appeared. Wasn't I ashamed! I hadn't really meant any harm and I hadn't said anything that wasn't true but! The exercises began, I had looked forward eagerly to this occasion, I was wearing a very pretty and stylish new dress and hat, my fiance was a member of the graduating class, old friends were all about me, but for me and the pleasure of the long anticipated occasion was gone. I heard the voices of those on the platform as something afar off. In spite of my thoughtlessness I had a New England conscience and it was cutting me like a knife. I guess my countenance showed my state of mind for presently the motherly lady turned to me again and whispered, "Now, my dear don't let your thoughtless words spoil the day for you. I know you didn't mean my boy any harm and it is all right, Now, cheerup and have a good time." But I just couldn't have a good time. The coals of fire she heaped upon my head soothed my feelings some but at the same time they made me more than ever ashamed of myself. I never saw the mother or the son again but I feel sure that with such a mother he has made good in some life work.

Kingston Brown: Glad to see a letter from you again.

Calla Lily: It is a long time since I have been able to attend a meeting of Club No. 2 but I have confidence in your judgment in regard to new meeting place. Let us remember last week's motto.

With sympathy for those in trouble and with best wishes to you all.

EVELINE BURR.

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Dear Editor and Social Corner Sisters: It is some time since I have written to the Corner but I read the letters and enjoy them as much as ever.

We are having very warm weather but I'm not expect it this time of the year. The haymakers are making good use of it and the gardens seems just so you can see them grow.

Bon Ami: Wish is taking her after dinner nap. It is hard for her to keep still long enough to go to sleep.

We have taken quite a few long auto rides this summer.

Last Sunday we spent a very enjoyable day with cousins in Norwich.

Coming home we called on my uncle and found Bon Ami had a surprise birthday for my 13 year old daughter. There were among the relatives and friends present five who were also celebrating their birthday. The combined ages of the six was 173. Music was enjoyed by all and a nice buffet lunch was served consisting of sandwiches cake pickles cake fancy cookies, candy, peaches, watermellon and fruit punch.

There were four elaborately trimmed birthday cakes, the decorations were pretty, pink and yellow. We all had a very enjoyable time and we hope that Bon Ami will not be too tired to write some more of her interesting letters to the Corner. She is always thinking and doing to make others happy.

I have just been out and picked a large mess of string beans. They are coming on fast now and we enjoy them so much also all the other vegetables as they come along.

I must ring off now or the editor will think I have written enough for two letters.

Best wishes to the Corner.

SWEET WILLIAM.

PASSING ALONG A HELP

Dear Corner Sisters: Well we have had one more delightful gathering. Dear Twice Twenty and Zany opened their house and grounds to the Social Corner the 16th and O how pleasant it is to grasp a sister by the hand. It certainly makes us younger in feeling and may be looks, too. It creates a feeling of unity and fellowship and we all feel better. We each told where we were born and when one sister said she was born in the Garden of Eden, I must confess for a moment I was surprised and if our learned brother Scopes could have heard her there would have been no need of the recent famous trial in Dayton, Tenn.

I have something to pass on to others and I hope it will please some one as it has me.

Not long ago I had some false teeth and when eating they would slip occasionally and it made me nervous. A friend told me to get at the drug store some powder and sprinkle over the plate after washing it and that would make them stay in place and I find it so. I was glad I knew it before the 16th. Best wishes to all.

LORETTA.

A NAME AND WHAT IT LEAD TO

Dear Social Corner: I attended my first Corner picnic last week at Twice Twenty's and enjoyed it very much.

I though I would tell you how I selected my pen name. Six years ago at the place where I worked there was a young man that always called me Harrietta instead of Etta. I didn't like it very well at first but soon got used to it and finally the name was shortened to Harry. When I selected Harry E. for a pen name I didn't know that the one that gave it to me was to be my husband as he now is and he still calls me Harry.

Here is the cake recipe that Primrose asked me to send into our Corner.

Fudge Cake: Melt together 1 cup milk with beaten egg yolk and two squares of chocolate. Put into mixing bowl 1 1-2 cups flour and 1 cup sugar. Pour the hot melted mixture on to the flour and sugar and stir well. Then add butter, melted, size of an egg, 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in a little hot water and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

The raspberry filling was made from the stiffly beaten white of egg left from the cake and the juice from a cup of fresh raspberries and confectionary sugar to make thick enough to spread.

Guess this will be all for this time except to thank the editor for my pin received some time ago.

HARRY E.

REMINDERS

Dear Editor and Sisters: Although I have only written once, and that a long time ago, I always read the letters and have tried some of the recipes.

My name was called last summer during the roll call. I failed to answer as I was caring for my mother during her last illness. So I can truly extend sympathy to all who have lost loved ones.

I don't know many of the sisters by their pen names. Am acquainted with Dearie. Hope Mr. Dearie will enjoy his vacation. I also think Scottie and Dearie are slightly related. I also know who Paula and Crimson Rambler are, although I'm not acquainted with them.

I think reminders are a great help to the busy housekeeper. I always have a little slip of paper tacked up and as I think of groceries needed, jot them down; also find it handy to write down the little tasks I hope to do when I can find time. The little, though important, things to do, are what we forget. Then, as each task is done, cross it off the list. When I am ready to wash my sink after washing greasy dishes, I crumple an old newspaper and wipe out most of the grease and then burn it. Then with the sink cloth and soap and some scouring powder the task is soon finished.

Best wishes to all.

SISTER LEA.

NO TROUBLE KEEPING BUSY

Dear Corner Sisters: It is a long time since I have written. I had planned to go to the May meeting but got disappointed at the last minute and could not go and the picnics have been so far away I could not go. I hope there will be one near enough so I can attend. I must thank the editor for the pin I received so long ago. But I think it is better late than never. I have been canning raspberries and making currant and raspberry jelly. It all came out fine. It seems as if there is always plenty to keep one busy. My flowers are looking well now. I will say good bye.

DOUBLE FUCHIA, July 23

BUS WILL CUT DOWN DISTANCE

Dear Editor and Sisters: Sorry I could not go to Bumble Bee's picnic. Someday we'll have a bus on this Gardner Lake road, think Gusta must know the way. Don't you think a large maple tree far better than a wall and an up-to-date railing when the sun is good and hot? The up-to-dute bus for me. Think we can take in the picnic all right then.

They all say how much better it looks. I liked it much better as it was. I want to ask the editor for a pin if I am not too late. Yours for the Corner.

WILD FLOWER.

PERFECT PEACE

Dear Social Corner Sisters: I wrote once to the Corner under my pen name, I have been sick a long time and my health is still poor.

The following lines were sent by a New London man to his cousin. She let me copy them 20 years ago and I have since enjoyed reading them many times. I thought the Corner members might like to have them. I think they are beautiful.

RED CLOVER GAINING SLOWLY

Dear Editor and Sisters of the Corner: Just a few lines to thank Olga, Whirlwind, True and Catnip for the pretty birthday cards; also Student.

To the sister who inquired about Red Clover will say she is out of the hospital and at her own home and gaining very slowly.

Would like a pin if there are any left. Thank you.

RED ROSE.

BURNS-SCALDS

Dear Social Corner Sisters: Never pull the clothing off of a burn or a scalded part of the body. Cut off all the cloth you can with scissors and soak what remains stuck to the wound with olive oil or castor oil, vaseline, fresh lard or cream. Remove only when it comes readily.

For burns, baking soda made into a thin paste with water may be smeared over the surface to keep the air from it.

PAULA.

CONSIDERING BUS LINE ROUTE TO PUTNAM

Bus lines are to be established by the New England Transportation company, a subsidiary of the New Haven railroad when the new Massachusetts jitney law takes effect, it was officially stated from the office of the company at New Haven, Thursday. Most of the lines are in Massachusetts and Rhode Island and only one so far has been definitely located in Connecticut, this being between Middletown and Waterbury via Meriden.

"The route between Danbury and Canaan and the route between New London and Putnam are under consideration as well as a number of other routes in Connecticut, but have not yet been determined upon. The fourth route from Hartford to Win

LASKEY CORPORATION PICTURE HOUSE TO BE ERECTED AT NEW LONDON

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 24—It was disclosed today that the famous Laskey Players Corporation intend to have a modern motion picture house erected in New London. Representatives of the picture producing corporation, have obtained an option on property owned by Walter S. Garde and Sidney Sulman, Church and Meredian streets. The price of the property agreed upon is $140,000 and the playhouse it is intended to erect will entail an expenditure of probably $500,000. Deeds transferring title in the property, it is expected, will be filed at the office of the city clerk within a few days and work on the erection of the playhouse, it is planned, will be started within a few weeks. The property acquired is a portion of the former C. Augustus Williams property and was purchased two years ago by Frederick W. Mercer. Mr. Garde purchased two tracts and Mr. Sulman purchased another brace of lots. It is the intention of the purchasing corporation to produce only such photoplays as are enacted by the Laskey players.

Judge Prince, in the police court today, served notice upon automobilists who were before him for violation of the parking ordinance that prohibits leaving of automobiles parked at the curbing an unlimited time, that they had experienced leniency for the last time, if they were convicted in his court. He suspended judgment today in the cases of three offenders, with an admonition that they would be wise to steer clear of the law. The parties arraigned today are A. Graham Creighton, Craston B. Harden and Theodore L. Peterson. Each admitted that he was guilty of leaving his auto in the restricted section on the west side of Bank street.

William Murray, colored, a waiter at a hotel here, was fined $10 for striking his superior, when the latter gave him some instructions as to his duties today. Murray was considered on the evidence of three men who were witnesses of what he did to cause his arrest, but he struggled to escape penalty making excuses and finally admitting that threats were made. His purpose seemed to be to convince the court that he was not the aggressor, rather than to show that he was not guilty.

Woich Ustach was fined $5 for intoxication. That fine took him to jail, for he could not pay it. Woich was doing a snake dance on North Bank street after he loaded up with diluted alcohol that is said for whiskey.

Joseph Jardine, a tramp, was found asleep in a caboose of the New Haven roadroad and was arrested as a trespasser. He admitted his offense and claimed that circumstances forced him to sleep where he was found in the open air, for he had no money and preferred to get under cover. He was told to get out of town and hastened to do so.

W. C. Dryden, a sailor at the Submarine Base, was fined for operating an automobile without possessing a license. Dryden claimed he had taken out a license in Wisconsin, but he could not produce it, nor could he show registration for a car in Connecticut. He was advised what to do.

The funeral of Mrs. Lillian M. Darrow, wife of Leroy N. Darrow, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the family home, 191 Lincoln avenue, the services being conducted by Rev. Chester H. Howe, pastor of the First Baptist church. Relatives were in charge. Burial was in the family plot in Jordan cemetery.

Joseph Pekornicky, a boy residing at 195 North Bank street, in riding his bicycle from the driveway leading from the rear of the Hotel Mohican to Bank street, this forenoon, was struck by an automobile operated by Mrs. C. W. Hinks, 168 Ledyard street. The lad was knocked from the cycle but decreed that he had not suffered injury, nor would he permit Mrs. Hinks to take him to the office of a physician and submit to an examination.

An automobile owned by the Connecticut Power company, and driven by L. A. Swain, 56 Brainard street, was in collision with an automobile bearing registration N-5469 this morning at the corner of Bank and Water streets. Both machines were damaged.

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Lorraine B. Stoddard today caused the operator's license of Abraham Shapiro of Montauk avenue to be returned to the owner. The license was suspended earlier in the week following Shapiro's conviction in police court on a charge of reckless driving. The automobile was driven by Shapiro's brother-in-law.

The trolley car that arrived in New London this afternoon was derailed on Montauk avenue while en route to Ocean Beach. The derailment occurred when the car was passing through the switch near the corner of Thames street and caused a slight interruption to traffic on the main line.

Mrs. Lillian Saunders, of Lyme, complained to the police late last night that a Ford truck collided with her machine near Niantic, and that one wheel of her car was wrecked and the machine ditched in the collision. Mrs. Saunders stated that the driver of the truck, which was headed towards New London, failed to stop to determine the extent of the damage occasioned. Motorcycle Officer Augustus Ray was stationed near the corner of Ocean avenue and Bank street an hour in an endeavor to apprehend the driver of the colliding car, but the truck failed to put in an appearance.

Former Mayor E. Frank Morgan complained to the police this afternoon because of the dangerous condition of the sidewalk, corner of Hallam and Main streets; Mr. Morgan declared that he had fallen on the danger spot earlier in the afternoon. The condition of the sidewalk was reported to the highway department.

Louis Schensky, a local young man, was taken into custody this afternoon by Sergeant John Cavanaugh, charged with negotiating a worthless check upon Morris Socol, Bank street merchant. He will be given a hearing in the police court tomorrow morning. Schensky went to the Socol store several days ago and tendered a check to Socol with the request that it be cashed. Socol declared that the face of the check called for the payment of seven cents, but Schensky stated that the amount written was intended for $7. Schensky was given the latter amount and Thursday Socol deposited the check only to receive it back from the bank this morning as being worthless. Socol lodged complaint with the authorities and Schensky's arrest followed.

When Meyer Hollandersky erected the two new brick buildings opposite the customs house on Bank street, he came out to the sidewalk one laid down in the Myers survey of that highway, which was made nearly 100 years ago. He stirred up a hornet's nest by so doing, for the city council had long disputed with him his right to rebuild the Rodewald building that a few months before that time had been burned. Mr. Hollandersky accepted the inevitable and erected a new building, but he put the front line of it several feet to the eastward of other buildings except the Schwaner block next north. That left the building owned by the estate of Alexander Fournier some three feet to the westward of the Hollandersky building on the south and south. Now it is declared that Mrs. Fournier is to rebuild the front of her building, which is three inches back against the Hollandersky structures on either side of her being two stories. The change will be an improvement to the street, for it will bring a uniformity of building line there. New London people do not seem to have taken kindly to the innovation of Mr. Hollandersky and the remodeled building that was the Rodewald structure site has not been rented though it has been completed and offered for rent for the past six months. The fact that it is vacant may not be associated with the feeling that the residents did not take kindly to the changing of the street lines of the buildings, but the fact remains that the new building is tenantless.

The most important cases to come before the September term of the superior court are likely to emanate in the southern section of the county or New London and vicinity.

Work will be started Monday on the erection of a business block on Meridian street, the property being that which Joseph E. Schwartz recently acquired of Frederick W. Mercer. The building will be of artificial granite and tapestry brick and will be of one story. It will contain eight stores and be modern in every particular. Mr. Schwartz, who contemplates the outlay of $40,000 for the erection of the structure will have the building ready for occupancy Oct. 1st.

The New Britain police this evening requested the New London authorities to be on the lookout for an Essex coach, which was stolen in the former city this afternoon. The car bears registration 46652.

Miss Margaret Schackley, of 223 Williams street; Albert Hanna, United States Coast Guard destroyer Ericsson; Thomas Brownell, of New York; Walter Knight, Canoe Trumbull, Nicandro and Abraham Hatten, United States Coast Guard destroyer Fanning, patients at Lawrence-Memorial Associated hospital, were discharged today.

GROTON BARRACKS OFFICERS OUT OF STATE SERVICE

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 24.—Three state police officers have been dismissed from the service of the state, the dismissals of the officers resulting in an edict issued yesterday by Col. Robert Hurley, of the state police department. All three officers were stationed at the Groton barracks at one time and one of the officers resides at Pleasure Beach. The officers to be dismissed are William Kirschner, Pleasure Beach, and William E. Nielson and William Malbuisson. The officers, it is alleged, seized a quantity of liquor in a raid and then appropriated the booze for their own use. All three officers were formerly stationed at the Groton barracks. Kirschner has before been in trouble while serving as a state police officer; Malbuisson was stationed here two years ago, at which time he was engaged in obtaining evidence against places where liquor was reputed to be sold. He figured in a number of raids in New London and Waterford and immediately following the prosecution of the proprietor of places raided. Malbuisson was transferred to other barracks.

BOY STRUCK BY MACHINE HAS RUPTURED ARTERY

(Special to The Bulletin.)

NEW LONDON, July 24.—Walter Goula, a boy residing at 54 Cutler street, suffered serious injury this evening when struck by an automobile owned and operated by Mander Payer, 165 Howard street. The youth is now under treatment at Lawrence hospital suffering from a ruptured artery of the left leg. Goula was riding a bicycle easterly on Willetts avenue and when he reached the intersection of Montauk avenue, the automobile driven by Payer and proceeding westerly, started to make the turn to proceed southerly on Montauk avenue. As the machine emerged from Willetts into Montauk avenue, the cyclist was struck, being knocked from the wheel with considerable force. The boy was placed in the automobile and rushed to the hospital where he will be under treatment a number of days. Besides the injuries to his leg, the boy is suffering from bruises and scratches.

AUCTION OF SCHOONER HIDING BOOZE UNDER LUMBER

(Special to The Bulletin.)

